WIRELESS REPORTS THE LINER SIBERIA IN SERIOUS TROUBLE

Calls Suddenly Stop While Steamers Are Rushing to Her Aid.

Pacific Mail Boat May Have Sunk Near Formosa.

Over 500 Passengers on Board---Attack By Pirates Possible.

CRUISER REACHES SCENE.

Tokio, May 1. — The British cruiser Minotaur, proceeding under all steam to the succor of the Siberia, was reported here late tonight as having reached the scene of the accident. The Siberia communicated her distress to the Minotaur by wireless.

Tokio, May 1.—Wireless calls for assistance from the Pacific Mail steamer Siberia, heard on the Japanese coast today, indicated that she was in grave peril off the coast of Formosa. The liner left San Francisco April 7 for Manila. She carries seventy-one saloon passengers, including Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, wife of the governor general of the Philippines, and Mrs. J. B. Bentiers, wife of the new British consul to Manila.

A dispatch from Formosa hints that Chinese pirates may have had something to do with the disaster.

The exact nature of the accident has not yet been determined, nor have any details been received here up to a late hour last night.

Sinking or Ashore.

An early wireless report said the liner was "sinking," while a later message conveyed the information that she was "ashore" six miles off the east mainland of Formosa.

The Japanese government dispatched the steamer Kanto Maru from Formosa to the succor of the Siberia as soon as the news of her trouble was received.

The Siberia left Yokohama April 27 and Nagasaki April 29 for Manila. She had a passenger list of seventy-one persons in the first cabin, about fifty in the second and 500 in the steerage. She is in command of Capt. Zeeder, and carries a crew of about 200 men.

At a late hour last night a report was current in Tokio that Chinese pirates may have been connected with the accident to the liner. This fear was held at Tai-Pe-Fu, the capital of Formosa, whence it was conveyed in a cablegram.

Wireless Calls Stopped.

The gravest anxiety prevails, owing to the fact that the wireless for help from the Siberia failed. A. A. Williamson, the American consul at Tamsui, Formosa, telegraphed his fear this means that the vessel has gone down.

When the first wireless calls for

ORDERS KEROSENE AND GETS GASOLINE

Wisconsin Woman Puts Some in Stove and Explosion Kills Her.

Trippville, Wis., May 1.—Mrs. James Roberts, an aged resident, ordered a can of kerosene at a store here yesterday. Gasoline was sent her by mistake. Immediately after receiving it she poured a quantity into a stove. An explosion resulted and the woman was killed.

The matter is being investigated by the district attorney of Vernon county.

MAN ARRESTED FOR PATMONT MURDER

Danville, Ill., May 1.—On suspicion of being connected with the disappearance and death of Rev. Louis R. Patmont of Milwaukee, whose body was identified at Cleveland by a brother, "Tony" Bludges, a miner, was arrested at Westville at 1 o'clock this morning.

The arrest was made on information given to State's Attorney J. P. Lewman. The detectives refused to reveal their evidence further than to state that Bludges was one of the men hired to follow the minister about Westville during the local option campaign there.

Patmont's body will be brought to Danville and will be interred here, his family having consented to that arrangement at the request of the local ministerial association. It is proposed to raise a monument over his grave by popular subscription among the "drys" of the state.

THREE BROTHERS IN WHITE SLAVE PLOT

Kansas City, Mo., May 1.—Three brothers, John Thomas, Joseph Thomas and Clarence Thomas, and William Cairns, an 18-year-old boy, were last night found guilty here of violating the Mann white slave act. The four were charged with transporting Mabel Smith, 16 years old, from Unionville, Mo., to Centerville, Iowa.

Joseph Thomas, whose wife and children were in the courtroom, and Cairns were found guilty on two counts, one of which charged conspiracy, and their sentences may be from one to twenty years.

Clarence Thomas and Cairns were found guilty only on the conspiracy charge. The maximum penalty is two years.

All are subject to a maximum fine of $10,000.

AMONG PASSENGERS ON LINER SIBERIA

MRS. FRANCIS B. HARRISON, Wife of the Governor General of the Philippines.

WANTS STATE MEN OFFICERS

Representative Smith Would Prepare for Call for Volunteers.

Sends Governor List of Minnesotans Who Hold Army Commissions.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 1.—In a letter to Governor Eberhart, Representative Smith of Minneapolis urges the appointment of Minnesota men as regimental officers of Minnesota volunteers, in event the president issues a call.

Representative Smith has searched the army records and submits a list of Minnesota men holding commissions in the regular army, as follows:

Colonels—C. N. Morgan and W. G. Brown.

Lieutenant colonel—F. O. Johnson.

Majors—S. Rice, E. L. Butts, W. F. Clark and A. Johnson.

Captains—Jens Bugge, C. M. Bunker, A. B. Coxe, J. B. W. Corey, G. H. Cook, C. W. Castle, W. A. Carleton, S. M. Decker, C. R. Elliott, C. Game, L. R. Holbrook, H. P. Howard, R. E. Herring, J. R. R. Hanney, W. H. Johnson, R. I. McKenney, J. N. Munroe, A. S. Morgan, W. K. Naylor, J. C. Scherer, R. Smith and F. O. Whitlock.

First lieutenants—J. W. Everington, F. F. Jewett, J. H. McKinley, L. J. McNair, F. W. Manley, E. G. McNeil, C. H. Mason, L. D. Peplin, H. N. Preston, J. A. Shannon, W. Shippam, E. P. Thompson and J. B. Woolnough.

Second lieutenants—A. J. Betcher, E. H. Bertram, J. K. Brown, R. S. Brown, E. J. Carr, R. F. Cox, C. W. Elliott, O. A. Eastwood, F. A. Holmer, H. J. Lawes, E. A. Lathrop, O. D. Lange, G. R. Meyers, H. H. McGee, C. J. McConkey, F. C. Rogers, C. A. Shepherd, M. W. Sullivan, H. E. Taylor and C. H. Walsh.

NEVER RAN BEFORE.

North Dakotan to Make His First Try for Elective Office.

Fargo, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The official announcement of the candidacy of T. H. Tharalson for state treasurer has just been made. He is the present deputy and has held the position during both the terms of Gunder Olson. The latter is barred by the statutes from holding the office more than two consecutive terms. Mr. Tharalson never sought an elective office before. He was postmaster at Grafton prior to the acceptance of the present position and before that was in business in the Walsh county capital.

JOINT SANITARIUM.

Todd, Wadena and Morrison Counties to Build Institution.

Staples, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Commissioner C. A. Remillard was at Wadena Monday and met with the commissioners of Wadena county relative to the proposed building of a sanitarium for consumptives. It is proposed to have the three counties of Todd, Wadena and Morrison build one jointly. The Todd county commissioners had already acted favorably on the suggestion and the Wadena county commissioners at their meeting Monday were also in favor of it. The matter will be taken up with the Morrison county commissioners at their meeting next week.

AUTOMOBILE KILLS MAN WHO STOLE IT.

Bloomington, Ill., May 1.—A man who stole an automobile in front of a store last night was killed a few minutes later when he lost control of the machine which crashed into an electric light pole.

HIGH FEELING IN COLORADO

Many Avenues of Activity Are Opened in Coal Strike.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Resents Attacks Made Upon Him.

Denver, Colo., May 1.—Action of the special session of the Colorado legislature in regard to the coal miners' strike in this section, the disposition of the Federal troops in the southern strike zone, the decision of strikers at Trinidad relative to the surrender of arms, and possibility of further Federal intervention in the labor controversy here, were the absorbing features of the strike situation today.

Not an act of violence was reported from the strike regions yesterday, last night or early today. The coming of the Federal soldiers put an end, momentarily at least, to any outbreaks in Fremont, Las Animas and Huerfano counties, and the mobilization of state troops and home guards in Boulder and Weld counties in the northern zone, had a quieting influence there.

Conditions Critical.

Washington, May 1.—A war department bulletin issued today said that conditions at Walsenburg, in the Colorado mining district, where Capt. Smith is in command of United States army troops, were reported "critical," but that the work of restoring order in Trinidad and Canon City districts was going forward.

Storm Hinders Peace Work.

Trinidad, Colo., May 1.—At the hour set for the strikers' mass meeting to consider the question of surrendering their guns to the Federal troops, it looked doubtful if any meeting could be held. It was snowing hard after a day and a night of almost continuous rain. "General" John Brown, in command of the tent colony, said an effort would be made to arrange a meeting later.

At union headquarters at 10 o'clock it was announced the miners were awaiting a reply to a telegram sent to Washington last night by union representatives in Denver. After hearing from Washington, it was stated, a meeting would be held in Trinidad.

The committee of women representing the Women's Peace association of

NO HOPE FOR MINERS ENTOMBED AT ECCLES

Force of Explosion Is Believed to Have Killed All.

Eccles, W. Va., May 1.—Rescue crews last night assembled thirteen bodies at the foot of the shaft in mine No. 5 of the New River Coal company, and today continued their work of exploration in the hope of locating all of the 172 men who, it now seems certain, lost their lives in the explosion last Tuesday afternoon. Pumps were kept going during the night, and by dawn the mine was comparatively free of water. But the force of the explosion was so great that masses of earth and rock were dislodged and the galleries choked. It may be days before the dead will be recovered.

Hundreds of people continue to surround the village, and there is little work in the district, miners and their families congregating here to comfort friends who have suffered through the tragedy.

ROOSEVELT IS READY FOR START HOME

Anthony Fiala, Who Was With Him, Tells of Jungle Trip.

Natives Worn Out By Energy of Their White Leaders.

Colonel Is Well Except That He Suffers With Boils.

New York, May 1.—Cable advices received here today from Manaos, Brazil, where his expedition emerged yesterday from the interior, stated that Col. Theodore Roosevelt would sail today or tomorrow for New York. As no mention was made of the plans of the other members of the party, it is presumed here that several will accompany Mr. Roosevelt, and that Kermit Rosevelt will go direct to Madrid, Spain, where he is to be married shortly to the daughter of Ambassador Joseph E. Willard.

Told of Illness.

In messages received from Col. Roosevelt by friends and relatives here mention was made of his recent illness, but as the same advices also stated that he planned to start immediately for home no alarm was expressed as to his physical condition. It was believed that his indisposition was caused by an attack of jungle fever which would quickly disappear once he left the interior country. The hardships of the trip and the probable loss of supplies, including food which left the party on short rations, is given as another probable cause for Col. Roosevelt's illness.

Fiala in New York.

Anthony Fiala, the explorer, who was in charge of one of the Roosevelt expeditions in Brazil, arrived in New York today on the steamship Denis from Rio Janeiro. He described the experiences of the expedition, both be-

WAITRESSES GO ON STRIKE IN CHICAGO

Hull House Worker Helps to Call the Girls Out.

Chicago, May 1.—Although picketing during a recent strike at a downtown restaurant was stopped and held illegal by a court decision, fifty members of the Pastry Cooks and Confectioners' union were appointed today by officials of that organization to assist the Waitresses' union in picketing twenty restaurants where the waitresses went out on strike last night.

Thirty policemen who patrol the downtown district were given special instructions to prevent disturbances at the affected restaurants, and it was expected arrests would occur whenever picketing began. The present strike was called because the restaurants refused to sign a union agreement to pay $8 a week for six days' work.

Miss Ellen Gates Starr, one of the founders of the Hull House and a widely known philanthropist, aided Miss Carrie Alexander, president of the Waitresses' union, to call the girls out.

BATTLESHIP WILL BRING BODIES HOME

Those Killed at Vera Cruz Are to Be Sent on Montana.

Washington, May 1.—Admiral Badger reported to the navy department today that within two or three days he would send the battleship Montana to New York with bodies of sailors and marines killed at Vera Cruz. The vessel would sail, he said, as soon as it became certain that her services were no longer needed for refugee work. The bodies will be shipped from New York to the homes of relatives.

Piano Plant Burns.

Syracuse, N. Y., May 1.—Fire at Auburn early this morning gutted the plant of the Wegman Piano company with a loss estimated at between $100,000 and $130,000.

NEUTRALITY FOR TAMPICO

England Seeks Protection for Big Oil Properties There.

American Possession of Vera Cruz Pleases Inhabitants.

Washington, May 1.—Gravity of the situation at Tampico growing out of the fast accumulation of oil from the flowing wells in the interior, which constitute a great menace to the town itself, is aggravated by vast financial loss as a result of the owerflowing of the tanks. These things and interference with neutral commerce by the Constitutionalists, as exhibited in the firing upon the Ward line steamer Antilla at that port, prompted Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, to confer today with Assistant Secretary Osborne at the state department in a further effort to create a neutral zone in the oil field vicinity.

Would Protect Properties.

Chihuahua, Mex., May 1.—Gen. Carranza is determined to use every effort to protect the immense oily properties owned by foreigners, principally British, at Tampico, and he telegraphed the British ambassador at Washington to that effect today.

Americans Occupy Vera Cruz.

Vera Cruz, May 1.—With the occupation of Vera Cruz yesterday by American soldiers under Brig.-Gen. Funston an accomplished fact, and the return to their vessels in the harbor of the sailors and marines who took the port from the Mexicans, questions of the future are today beginning to engage the attention of American refugees and Mexican business men. The future policy of the Washington administration is being debated with much interest.

Americans and Mexicans alike lack anything in the nature of a definite statement on this subject, and they are all trying to interpret from the trend of events since the seizure.

1,500 AMERICANS IN MEXICO CITY

Consul Canada Makes Report to Washington Government.

Washington, May 1.—Consul Canada at Vera Cruz reported to the state department today that there still are 1,500 Americans in Mexico City, unable to get out because of interrupted railroad facilities. These are, for the most part, new arrivals in the Mexican capital from the surrounding country. They arrived just after the departure of the last train for Vera Cruz. Consul Canada has asked the Brazilian minister and Admiral Craddock, the British commander, to exert their efforts to restore railroad communication with the capital.

CARRANZA'S ATTITUDE IS UNCERTAIN

His Agreement to Armistice With Huerta Is Hoped for.

Washington Seeks Protection of Dr. Ryan, Reported Sentenced to Death.

Firing on Commercial Vessels By Rebels Opposed By Foreigners.

Washington, May 1.—After receiving a message, said to have come from the Huerta government, from the Spanish ambassador, Mr. Riano, the South American envoys seeking to mediate in the Mexican crisis entered upon their conference today with more apparent confidence than ever that their work would succeed.

Following their conference with Secretary Bryan last night, when they were informed that Gen. Huerta had consented to an armistice, the Brazilian, Argentine and Chilean diplomats worked diligently on the proposals for mediation to be submitted to this government and the Huerta regime as the next step in the negotiations.

Seek Truth About Ryan.

The state department today exerted every means to get information as to the report that Edward Ryan, an American Red Cross official, was being held in Mexico, sentenced to be executed. Secretary of State Bryan, just before a conference with President Wilson, sent urgent telegrams to Consul Canada at Vera Cruz and the military authorities there, asking for immediate reports on the Ryan incident.

The secretary had already requested the Spanish ambassador representing the Huerta government here, to look out for Dr. Ryan's safety.

Carranza's Course Uncertain.

With the declaration of a truce between Huerta and the United States government, interest centered today in whether Carranza, the rebel chief, would resolve himself into the keystone of a diplomatic arch designed to bridge the whole problem of the pacification of Mexico and its international complications.

Huerta, it was announced, had accepted proposals of the South American envoys that hostilities between his forces and those of the United States cease. Secretary Bryan had informed the mediators that the American gov-

REFUGEES LEAVING NEW ORLEANS, LA.

New Orleans, La., May 1.—Thirty-six refugees from Mexico, the first to be released from the quarantine station ninety miles down the Mississippi river, left here today for their homes in various parts of the United States. Twenty-one came from Progresso on the steamship Wyvisbrook, and fourteen were brought from Frontera on the Livingstone.

Nearly 700 refugees still are at the detention camp, but practically all will be released within the next forty-eight hours.

ILLINOIS STATE DEMOCRATS MEET.

Chicago, May 1.—Members of the Democratic state committee arrived here today for a meeting at which they expected to begin the work of organizing for the full election. State headquarters were opened in a hotel here yesterday and will be kept open until election day.

Two vacancies, both caused by death, were expected to be filled by the committee at its meeting today. The vacancies are in the Ninth congressional district, to succeed James Townsend, and in the Nineteenth district, to succeed James M. Gray of Decatur.

BUTTER AND EGGS FIRMER

Cost of Living Greatly Reduced By Slump in These Products.

Prices of Vegetables and Fruits Show Considerable Advance.

A stronger situation in butter and eggs is the feature of the Duluth produce market today.

After having been on the slump more or less ever since last October, dairy products are now firm, and it is predicted that prices will not vary much from their present basis till well on into the summer months at least.

Figures are unchanged, the Bridgeman-Russell company quoting the best creamery butter at 25@26 cents a pound; first creamery at 24@25 cents; imitation creamery at 20@21 cents, and dairy at 18@19 cents.

It is interesting to note that butter is now selling 8 cents a pound cheaper than a year ago. As attesting the cheapening in the price of the product that has come about through the reduction in the duty from 6 to 2½ cents a pound, statistics of the New York produce exchange show that during January, February and March $3,000,000 less was realized on sale of an equal quantity of butter as during the same period last year. This means that the cost of living was reduced to that extent in that product alone.

Egg Market Strong.

Fresh eggs are also unchanged at 19@20 cents. The eastern demand for eggs on this market is said to be so heavy that the local dealers are finding themselves unable to fill more than fifty per cent of the orders coming to hand. Quotations in New York on storage eggs are up a cent this week, and a further advance is thought likely within the next few days. This condition comes as a result of a falling off in receipts, both in this territory and through the east. Hens began to lay unusually early this spring and now they are beginning to let up.

On account of increased receipts cheese prices are weaker all through the list, and a further shading is regarded as probable.

Strawberr ySupplies Good.

Strawberries are the head-liner in the way of fruits. Supplies are coming mainly from Louisiana, but some Mississippi berries are also arriving. The quality of the fruit is regarded as exceptionally good and with the strong demand for it prices are firm on the same basis as a week ago.

The demand for apples is reported by the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company to be perhaps the heaviest ever experienced by dealers here at this season. Supplies are consequntly being rapidly cleaned up.

California navel orange stocks are being fast reduced and their price is advancing. A good sale is noted in grapefruit and its figure is also firm. Lemon quotations show an advancing tendency with an unusually large consumption reported for the season.

In vegetables, figures in tomatoes are high, comparatively speaking, on account of cold weather in Florida. The quality of the shipments coming to hand is, however, fully up to the average. Head lettuce is now being received in large lots by Duluth dealers. A strong demand is reported.

Potato Market Firm.

Due to the breaking up of the roads the market in potatoes is very firm, but that condition will, it is thought, be only temporary, as it is estimated that growers in Northern Minnesota have still considerable tubers on hand which must be marketed on the rush. Texas cabbage is selling upon a reasonable price basis and Texas onions are now beginning to take the place of old onions, which have started to sprout badly.

Poultry supplies are still limited mainly to the frozen article, receipts of live birds being so small that they are practically not a factor. Quotations are unchanged.

There has been no change, either, in the meat list. Good beef, lamb and veal are reported scarce, with small deliveries of livestock at packing points.

BLIND OPERATORS OF TELEPHONES

Several Are So Employed in Eastern Oklahoma Exchanges.

McCurtain, Okla., May 1.—Several private telephone exchanges in the eastern part of Oklahoma are operated by blind men, who perform the work as rapidly and unerringly as men with perfect vision. But McCurtain has a telephone exchange that is operated by a blind man who also attends to all of the other work of the exchange.

T. M. Warrell, 35 years old, who has been blind since he was 2 years of age, is a half-owner of the McCurtain exchange and attends to all of the outside work of the exchange. He is relief and night operator of the system. He keeps his own books, using the New point system, which he learned in the school for the blind in Little Rock, Ark., where he spent eight years of his boyhood.

In addition to keeping the books and acting as telephone operator, Mr. Warrell installs his own telephones, strings the wires, clears trouble on the lines and instruments and does all of the work ordinarily done by linemen with perfect vision.

In operating the switchboard Mr. Warrell can answer and complete the calls as quickly as though he could see. He clears the switchboard of trouble by first testing and locating the wires as nearly as possible. Then he follows the wires with his hand until the broken part is found and connected.

If the lines are crossed from the outside Mr. Warrell enlists the services of a small boy. True to small boy nature, there is always some youngster willing and ready to help, and the blind man and the boy trace the trouble until the youngster sees where the wires are crossed. Mr. Warrell then puts on his lineman's belt and spurs, climbs the pole and quickly clears the trouble.

The blind man has less complaint from the patrons of the exchange than many men who can see to operate a switchboard have. He is prompt and accurate and has a natural bent toward electricity and a love for his work, and he has never asked any favors because of his affliction.

LIQUOR THROUGH MAIL.

First Indictments Returned in Milwaukee and Accused Fined.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 1.—The first indictments ever returned and the first prosecutions ever effected for sending liquor through the mails, have taken place in the Federal court of Milwaukee.

Before Judge Geiger on Wednesday, Fred London, a saloon keeper; Bernard H. Bangert and Joe Jettson, Wausaukee, pleaded nolo contendere to this charge, with the privilege of later entering a plea. London was fined $100 and the others $50 each. John J. Karel represented the three men and said he did not appear as an attorney for the men, but as their friend.

He said he knew Londo and Bangert since he was a boy and he was positive that they had no intention to violate any law as he was of the opinion that there were few persons in the country who knew it was illegal to send liquor through the mails. Judge Karel declared there were but few attorneys who had knowledge of any such law. It was said the Federal grand jury argued the case for two days against these men, before United States District Attorney Goff succeeded in convincing the jurors that it was a violation of section 217 of the criminal code of the United States.

KANSAS ROORBACK IS NOW ABOLISHED.

Topeka, Kan., May 1.—The roorback, for years one of the favorite weapons in Kansas political campaigns and the undoing of many a promising candidate, is no more.

Through a warning issued by the attorney-general, the politicians are just discovering that a little joker was slipped into the so-called "Massachusetts ballot law" when it was passed by the late legislature, providing a jail penalty for persons who circulate malicious and false statements about candidates.

The law requires that any attack on a candidate, either political or personal, must bear the signature of the president and secretary of a political organization, or of the voter, who is responsible therefor, and who will be responsible for the statements made. The author of the anonymous circular may be punished by a six months' jail sentence.

For years it has been the custom in campaigns to get out anonymous circulars attacking candidates either on the day before or the day of an election, so that the person attacked has no opportunity to reply in defense.

MAN CUTS TOOTH AT AGE OF SEVENY-FOUR.

Findlay, Ohio, May 1.—Cutting teeth at the age of 74 is quite an unusual thing, but that is what Nathan Wirebaugh, a Fostoria janitor, has just accomplished.

While suffering with typhoid pneumonia he felt a soreness around his gums for several days and was surprised to know that when he recovered he had an extra tooth.

When he was 62 years old he cut a double tooth and ten years later another one.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—"Damaged Goods."
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

"DAMAGED GOODS."

Brieux Play Presented at Lyceum By Richard Bennett.

Nobody can quarrel with "Damaged Goods" as propaganda. It is a striking and effective lesson and timely theme.

Probably few will quarrel with it when viewed as a clinic. It is doubtless scientifically correct, but this feature is dealt with more competently in another column.

Viewed as drama one may find many things to criticise. One may question the dramatist's taste in the choice of a theme—not of a theme for propaganda, but for a play—even though the theme is held by some writers on dramatic subjects to be solely the business of the dramatist.

"Damaged Goods" lacks sustained interest. One knows from the first act that George Dupont will marry Henriette and that his children will inherit syphilis.

The treatment leaves nothing to the imagination of the audience. The facts are set forth as plainly and as boldly as a pamphleteer would array his statistics.

It lacks interest as a character study. The audience is not interested in the development of the character of any of the principals, but solely in the effects of the disease.

There is no dramatic conflict of wills and little action.

Brieux is not the first writer to discover syphilis as a theme. Moses wrote of "visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generations."

Ibsen handled the same theme from a dramatic standpoint in "Ghosts" and handled it much better from the dramatic point of view, although probably much less effectively if it is viewed as propaganda. Ibsen touched more upon the mental side of the awful inheritance, while Brieux held up to view chiefly the physical. But Mrs. Alving is a more memorable figure than Henriette; Oswald than George Dupont.

The final test of a play is effectiveness, not necessarily the popularity of the play, but whether or not the dramatist has conveyed to the audience what he wants to convey. If Monsieur Brieux sought only to convey the idea that syphilis is alarmingly prevalent, that it is highly contagious, and that it is hereditary, he succeeded. But a pamphlet or a tract might convey the same idea in just as forcible a manner.

If he sought to present dramatic action he failed.

There is no mystery to Brieux—or at least to "Damaged Goods." It inspires no feeling that the author has penetrated any new secrets of life, or climbed any higher than the auditor. It leaves only the feeling that he has compiled some statistics on known facts and has laid them out in orderly array for study and expressions of horror. The play has no power to stir the imagination; it fails to thrill with dramatic action; it leaves no permanent impression of its characters behind.

One does not know whether to admire Richard Bennett most as an actor or a propagandist. In the short curtain speech which he made at the end of the second act, he showed that his heart is in the work he is carrying on. He spoke as a "fanatic"—if you will—but as one who feels the importance of his subject and the urgent need for action, and every true propagandist is more or less a fanatic.

As an actor he commands nothing but the utmost respect and admiration. He has the rarest intelligence, beautiful, clear enunciation, and a real personality that grips the audience.

The same intelligence and good judgment that he shows in his own acting he has shown in the selection of his company, if he had the choosing to do, which is probable. Louis Bennison is an impressive figure as the doctor. He gives a wonderfully effective picture of a man who conscientiously tries to steer a just course and deal fairly with his patients and with society.

Olive Templeton is satisfying and effective as Henriette, and Maud Milton has a splendidly done character part as Madame Dupont. Adrienne Morrison, in everyday life Mrs. Bennett, is seen only in the last act in the part of "The Girl," but she makes the part a striking one.

In the hands of this wonderfully capable and well balanced company the propaganda is set forth most effectively, and one cannot help feeling the desire to see the players in drama, for it is doubtful if a stronger company has been seen at the Lyceum in the last two or three seasons.

The absence of an orchestra was not peculiar to the local engagement. An orchestra is never used with the play.

PHYSICIAN'S VIEWPOINT.

Dr. S. H. Boyer Reviews "Damaged Goods" for the Herald Readers.

Feeling that a physician's judgment on "Damaged Goods" would be of interest to the readers of The Herald, Dr. S. H. Boyer was requested to review last evening's performance, from the physician's viewpoint, which he kindly consented to do. His review follows:

(By Dr. S. H. Boyer.)

"Damaged Goods" pictures a phase of human life all too common in our midst. From a medical viewpoint the portrayal is set forth with well nigh perfect fidelity.

The author, Brieux, has wisely chosen to show the awful mental anguish and utter moral degradation resulting from syphilitic infection rather than to dwell especially upon the physical ravages of the disease.

The great point of the play is the suggestion that we teach our children the very serious results of sexual transgression, particularly in relation to marriage. If the physical effects of venereal disease had been set forth, the production would have failed of its purpose. And yet, every physician of any experience worthy of the name knows that men and women, young and old, must be enlightened as to the actual physical effects of these diseases before we can entertain any hope for the restraint of human animal passions. The human mind must have knowledge of the concrete before it can grasp the abstract. Therefore, while the play suggests the need of knowledge and shows the awful social results of lack of knowledge, it is left to the medical profession and parents to teach the youth of our land the actualities of these diseases. Unfortunately knowledge of disease does not insure moral understanding. If it did the way to cure would be simple. We are not born with morals; we develop morals, and this development reaches its full flower rather late in life. The budding morality of youth is far outweighed by the sturdy animal impulses surging through young blood.

The play carries a message to the world, though not set forth in so many lines, to begin to teach morals to our children very early in life. It is all very well to say the parents should require a clean bill of health before their children are allowed to enter upon the marriage contract, but in this country, generally speaking, parents have very little to say about whether or not their children shall marry and whom. Quite generally children have their own way in this respect. When our young women are taught to understand in detail the behavior of the diseases in question and their fearful physical results to themselves and their offspring, then perhaps we may hope that of their own volition they will require of the prospective suitors proof of physical and moral cleanliness.

The medical world knows that the fault rests at man's door and that therefore we must look to woman to compel men to walk strictly in the path of sexual morality.

The play is clean. It is a sermon discussing a moral question in a practical manner. It is well calculated to appeal to the thinking people of the country, and no doubt intentionally so, for it is through the thinking people only that any great movement for improvement can have its start and be sustained.

Amusement Notes.

Only one more program of vaudeville will be given at the Duluth Orpheum this season.

The regular vaudeville season of the Duluth theater will come to an end on Saturday, May 9. On Saturday, May 10, the first of a series of motion picture films will be run, and these will continue during the summer. The regular vaudeville season will begin on Aug. 23.

"The report has been current that the theater was going to close permanently," said Manager Billings. "There is absolutely no truth to it. It will not even close for one day when the change from vaudeville to pictures is made, and it will reopen on Aug. 23 with Orpheum vaudeville."

The bill for the closing week will be headlined by the Zancigs, who are said to have a wonderful exhibition of thought transference. Second on the bill will be Doris Wilson & Co., in a "singing surprise" called "Through the Looking Glass." The Gardiner Trio will offer a dance act, and the other acts on the bill will be as follows: Helen Gannon, whistling prima donna; Billy Rogers, musical maniac; the Holman brothers, in a comedy bar act; and Ganger's Dogs, a trained animal act.

This week's bill will continue until Saturday night, with the usual matinee tomorrow. It has proven a popular offering.

One of the best arranged and most highly entertaining bills of the season opened at the Empress yesterday afternoon and met with a hearty reception from three big audiences. Four acts of excellent vaudeville and three reels of equally good pictures make up the program for the last half of the week.

An act somewhat out of the ordinary and one that is uproariously received is that of Billy Kinkaid. One of his most amusing "stunts" is the catching of potatoes with a fork in his mouth, the tubers coming from any part of the audience and at any rate of speed. No matter how fast the tubers are whipped over the footlights the wily Kinkaid never misses a shot. His juggling of cannon balls is equally hair-raising. He throws the heavy balls high in the air and catches them on his back. He shows great skill and fine judgment in performing this difficult feat.

Berry and Wilhelmi entertain with impersonations and songs. Alice Berry is an attractive miss with a good voice and her song, "Do You Take This Woman for Your Lawful Wedded Wife," is a scream. For each turn of her act she appears in a different costume. During Miss Berry's costume changes, Mr. Wilhelmi gives impersonations of great musicians such as Sousa, Liszt, Creatore and others.

The Great Rosini and company appear in an act of extraordinary feats, among which are difficult manipulations of hoops. The "company" in this act is a dainty miss, who wins much applause.

Dick Gardner and Anna Revere close the vaudeville bill with an act full of laughs. Miss Revere sings several songs in a fetching manner and Mr. Gardner "pulls" a lot of comedy on acts that have preceded him in a very humorous manner. His line of talk is a sure cure for the blues.

Pictures open and close the show. A single reel subject, "When Algy Froze Up" is a Thanhouser film, presenting an old-fashioned winter scene. The two-reel picture, "The Smugglers of Sligo" closes the program. The beautiful scenery and fine photography of this film make it exceptionally attractive.

The present bill will continue at the Empress for the remainder of the week, but owing to the length of the show the two-reel film will be shown only at the matinees.

NORTH DAKOTANS PLANTING TREES.

Fargo, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The The Herald.)—Under a proclamation of Governor Hanna this is Arbor and Bird day in North Dakota. It is a legal holiday for banks and public offices and all the schools are celebrating the occasion with special programs and with tree planting, especially in rural districts. Thousands of trees are being set out by private people today and the occasion is being generally observed in all sections of North Dakota.

McClusky Postoffice Scorched.

McClusky, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The postoffice was scorched and the living apartments of Postmaster Callahan in the rear were damaged by a fire in the living rooms. Practically all the household furniture was ruined but none of the mail was damaged.

NORTH DAKOTANS GROWING ALFALFA.

Fargo, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The alfalfa put in North Dakota during the past year under the supervision of the representatives of the better farming movement in North Dakota has wintered exceptionally well. According to the reports received there were 843 fields put in during the past two years by co-operators of the movement, to say nothing of the hundreds of other fields put in by individual farmers. From the reports so far received and the inquiries regarding seed and other information, Director Cooper confidently anticipates at least a 200 per cent increase in acreage and the big percentage may be even larger than that.

OIL LAMP IS ONLY LIGHT

Tunnel on South Canal Pier Is Useless During Storm.

Lighthouse Keeper Explains Reason for Failure of Signals.

That all vessels approaching Duluth harbor during the fierce gale of the early part of the week were greatly endangered through inadequate lighting at the entry of the harbor was admitted by Charles Lederlie, keeper of the entry lights, last night.

Nothing but an oil lamp is provided by the United States government for the south pier, and the high waves made it impossible for a man to reach the lamps to put on the lights by the upper passage, and the tunnel was filled with water, cutting off access by that route. Had it not been for an electric lamp and electrical apparatus for lighting on the north pier, the entrance to the canal would have been in total darkness during the fierce storm Tuesday night.

In explaining the cause of the inadequate lighting during the storm, Mr. Lederlie said:

"The light on the south pier was put out shortly after 5 o'clock Tuesday morning. The storm gradually increased, and in a short time it was impossible for a man to get to the end of the pier to light the lamps. The high waves dashed over the approach and the tunnel was filled with water, cutting off the approach by that route. If there had been an electrical apparatus for lighting we could have turned on the light."

Being asked regarding the condition of the tunnel Mr. Lederlie said that it was in poor condition and had been for about two years. The walls he said could not keep out the water in a high sea as the blocks of the walls had large crevices between them allowing the tunnel to fill readily.

Mr. Lederlie admitted the grave danger in which vessels were subjected because of the inadequate lighting during the worst night of the storm. Several large vessels with heavy cargoes were overdue at this port, and the night was black as pitch because of the low hanging clouds, and the rain and sleet which fell.

SAY NOBLE SANK NEAR TWO HARBORS

The report of Capt. Millen, master of the steamer D. J. Morrell, bears out the report of Capt. Knapp of the Lakeport that the steamer Benjamin Noble sank a few miles this side of Two Harbors.

Capt. Millen reports that he saw two vessels Tuesday morning a short distance from Knife Island about 3 o'clock in the morning, one of them the Noble and the other the Norwalk. The latter reached port about 5 o'clock Tuesday, and the other disappeared while the crew of the Morrell were watching her.

Efforts of the life saving crew to locate the wreck of the Noble have been unsuccessful so far. Several small articles from the wreck were found yesterday afternoon off Lester river about five miles out in the lake. These articles include a panel of the cabin wall, a stanchion and some minor pieces of the boat equipment. Pillows and mattresses have been found near the harbor. Owing to the fact that the wreckage has been so widely strewn about the lake it is difficult to form any idea as to the position of the wreck by these signs.

LOST CAPTAIN POPULAR.

Master of Noble Was Known as "Captain Johnny."

Milwaukee, Wis., May 1.—Capt. John Elsenhardt of the ill-fated Benjamin Noble was a Milwaukee boy, raised on the Milwaukee docks and known to every Milwaukee dock man. He was familiarly known all over the lakes as "Johnny" and there was none who did not welcome his coming.

It was his first trip as captain, and he was commanding his first boat. He got his master papers six years ago, but he has worked as mate until this year.

It is significant, too, that there was a friendly rivalry between "Capt. Johnny" and one of his closest friends, Emmett Quackenbush, for master of the Benjamin Noble. They had grown up together on the Milwaukee docks. Many times they had sailed together before the mast. Quackenbush received his master papers five years ago. During the winter season when masters were being picked, although unknown to each other, both were candidates for captain of the steel coaler. "Capt. Johnny" won out and Quackenbush was reappointed first mate of the steamer J. S. Keefe.

Capt. Elsenhardt was 31 years old. He had lived with his sister, Margaret, at 150 Reed street. Since his marriage a year ago he has made his home at Escanaba, Mich.

His Second Wreck.

Once before he was in a bad wreck. That was several years ago when his boat went down off Manitou Island and he was cast adrift on a raft, the only man of the crew to be saved. He came from a family of sailors, his father and grandfather being men of the lakes. His father was a vessel master for years and was employed for a long time in the local shipyards.

ALL OVERDUE BOATS ARRIVE

All of the vessels due at the Head of the Lakes during the storm except the Noble, which went down, have arrived safely in port here.

The steamer Troy, which was several hours late, reached the harbor here safely today. The F. T. Heffelfinger, the Griffin, and Sinaloa arrived shortly after midnight. These boats were overdue nearly two days. The captains report a safe voyage as their vessels were in shelter for nearly 36 hours.

Schooner Is Safe.

Kingston, Ont., May 1.—The schooner William Jamieson and her crew are safe. The vessel was believed to have been lost on Lake Ontario during the heavy gale of Tuesday.

Announces Harbor Draft.

H. W. Brown, Duluth agent for the Pittsburg Steamship company, announces through Secretary G. A. Marr that the recommended draft of Conneaut harbor is twenty feet.

BASEBALL DECISIONS.

Arbitration Board Passes on Large List of Cases.

Auburn, N. Y., May 1.—Chairman John H. Farrell of the national board of baseball arbitration today made public the following decisions:

The Western association, embracing territory of Muskogee, Okla.; Oklahoma City and Tulsa, Okla.; Joplin, Mo., and Fort Smith, Ark., and McAlister, Okla., has qualified for membership in Class D. The Central Texas league, embracing territory of West Hillsboro, Italy, Waxahachie, Ennis and Corsicana, Tex., has qualified for membership in Class D. The franchise and players of the Clay Center club in Kansas state league have been transferred to Emporia.

Services of players awarded: Burke to Ottawa, Can.; McConnell to Muskegon, Mich.; Johnson to Hastings, Neb.

Claims allowed: Corns against Hamilton, Ont.; Manouk against Murry, Utah; Bevan against Portsmouth, Ohio.

Claims disallowed: Powell against Bloomington, Ill.

Applications granted: Fahey against Victoria, B. C., and Ross Helm.

MANY SEEKING GAMES.

Bemidji Baseball Club Has Received Several Challenges.

Bemidji, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Dailey, who was elected manager of the Athletic club baseball team to succeed Ralph Brandon, who resigned at the last meeting of the club, advise that several towns are writing for games and that Bemidji will have a busy season. Both Thief River Falls and International Falls are trying to get a game for a week from Sunday and it is probable that Bemidji may send a team to both places. A meeting will be held in the near future to thoroughly organize the team for the summer. A game will be played Sunday between the old Big Bemidji team of last summer and a team picked from the Athletic club.

GOVERNOR AT BEMIDJI.

Will Tell People Saturday What He Knows About Farming.

Bemidji, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Adolph O. Eberhart will come here Saturday and deliver an address Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock to the farmers and citizens in general on "Agriculture" in the high school assembly room. He comes to Bemidji in response to repeated efforts to have him speak to the farmers and the present visit is carrying out a promise made a year ago when he received such an enthusiastic reception at a farm meeting held in the high school that he said he would return this spring. Knute K. Roe, of the board of education extended the formal invitation and the governor readily accepted it.

PLAN PRESERVING NATURAL HIGHWAYS

Famous Pembina Trail and Roseau Ridge to Be Kept Open.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Organized efforts are being made to preserve for the use of the public the natural highways known as the Pembina trail and the Roseau ridge. To this end a conference was held yesterday in the Commercial clubrooms at Crookston. Representative men from all of the counties through which the roads pass were present at the gathering.

A committee appointed by the Crookston Automobile club had taken the matter up with the state highway commission, which body suggested that the committee proceed under the Dunn road law and get the county boards in the various counties to lay the roads out as state highways. The state highway commission could then designate them as such.

Early-Day Trails.

The Pembina trail and Roseau ridge roads were the gateways to Northern Minnesota, enabling settlers in the pioneer days to locate in these northern counties, which would have been almost impossible had it not been for these roads.

These roads, for the greater part, can be maintained without much expense to the taxpayers, while the building and maintaining of a similar road through some other section would cost the state from $500,000 to $1,000,000 in a few years.

Every one attending the meeting seemed to be heartily in favor of the proposition. All those who happened to be the owners of automobiles were especially inclined to favor the project as the roads as well as serving the country through which they pass would connect all Northern Minnesota by automobile road with the beautiful Lake of the Woods.

THIEF LAKE DITCH CONTRACT AWARDED

Iowa Concern to Do Work at Less Than Engineer's Estimate.

Thief River Falls, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The contract for digging judicial ditch No. 21, more commonly known as the Thief Lake ditch, was let at Bemidji on Tuesday afternoon. The Lana Construction company of Council Bluffs, Iowa, was awarded the contract, their bid of 9½ cents per yard being one-third lower than that of the Northwestern Drainage company of this city, whose bid of 12¾ cents was the next lowest. The bid of the successful company was considerably below the engineer's estimate on the work.

The part of system embraced in this contract drains the northern part of Thief river watershep and taps Thief lake, the source of the river. The main ditch and laterals will make a drainage system 218 miles in length and will necessitate the excavation and removal of about two and a quarter million cubic yards of earth.

To Cost $400,000.

The total cost of the ditch, with road work, culverts, bridges, engineer's fees and other expenses will come to about $400,000. The work, if finished at the price contracted, will be the cheapest ditch work ever done in this territory.

This drainage system will take several years to complete but when finished it will open up for settlement some of the richest agricultural land in the Northwest. It is estimated that about 750,000 acres of rich and fertile land will be rendered fit for cultivation. Thousands of homeseekers will have an opportunity to homestead or purchase at a very small figure land on which they can build up homes and which can be made a veritable garden, land of which any owner would be justified in feeling proud.

POLISH-AMERICAN PEOPLE TO CELEBRATE ON SUNDAY

Meeting at Auditorium Sunday to Celebrate 1791 Constitution.

Mayor Prince, Daniel W. Lawler and M. Kmieciak to Speak.

The Polish-American citizens of Duluth will celebrate the anniversary of Poland's constitution of 1791 at the Auditorium next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and have extended an invitation to all other liberty-loving citizens to attend the gathering. Mayor Prince will be present and will deliver a short address, while the principal speakers will be Daniel W. Lawler of St. Paul in English and M. Kmieciak of Chicago in Polish. In the evening a similar celebration will be held at the Sacred Heart auditorium at Superior.

The following article on this great historical event has been prepared by Anton Mallek of the high school of the Polish National alliance at Cambridge Springs, Pa.:

"One hundred and twenty-three years have passed since the adoption of the Polish constitution, the first of its kind in Europe, under which Poland would have flourished and prospered had it not been for the rapacity of her neighbors, Russia, Prussia and Austria.

"Many a reader shall wonder why it is that Poland lost her independence since her constitution predicted for her such a great future. To understand this, we must go back several centuries and study the conditions which then existed in Europe, and especially in those countries to which Poland owes her sad fate.

Russian Tyranny.

"Russia, which bounded Poland on the east, was bending under the tyrannical yoke of her atrocious rulers, whose cruelties were beyond description. The poor people were treated as beasts and thousands of men, women and children were exterminated at the pleasure of the ruler or the nobility. No better were the conditions in Prussia and Austria, the southwestern neighbors of Poland. Men were auctioned like so many cattle by the rulers to various monarchs who carried on wars and were short of soldiers. If we look carefully over the history of our Revolutionary war we will see that England purchased tens of thousands of these poor men to help her fight the American colonies.

"With such conditions in the neighboring countries, Poland, under her just kings, full of paternal care, was gradually developing into an ideal republic. The throne was elective, the king being chosen by the people. In his oath to the people undertaking the throne, he had to promise to protect the right of peasants as well as those of the nobility. This agreement between the king of Poland and his people was looked upon with hatred by the neighboring kings, whose policy was that the people are for the king and not the king for the people. Peasants in Poland had the protection of law, and all religious beliefs were tolerated. The Jews being persecuted in all countries were allowed to settle in Poland and enjoy the liberty which they could not have in other countries.

A Perfidious Alliance.

"It is no wonder that Russia, Prussia and Austria feared for their despotic power, which they would sooner or later lose, should Poland carry on her mission of justice and equality. They feared that their subjects would demand of them the same rights which the people in Poland had. Russia, together with Prussia and Austria, to protect herself against any such demands from her subjects, formed a conspiracy to check Poland's work of ideal civilization and dismember her.

"This perfidious alliance was formed between Katherine of Russia, Frederick of Prussia and Maria Theresa of Austria. They thought it would be an easy task to increase their own dominions at the expense of Poland. Their destructive work began with sending out their armies into Poland. The ambassadors which these three countries sent to Warsaw, the capital of Poland, meddled in the affairs of the state, and forced the Polish parliament to make laws which were favorable to their masters in St. Petersburg, Berlin and Vienna. Poor Poland! She was in pitiful circumstances; her king was powerless, and her parliament had to pass laws against her own sons and daughters. The Russian ambassador, Repnin, caused thousands of her best citizens to be exiled into cold Siberia, just because they fought against the usurpers.

Poland Partitioned.

"The first partition took place in 1772, and Poland lost one-third of her national territory which was divided between the three usurpers. The people were shocked at such an outrageous crime, but Poland, a single nation was helpless against the allied armies of the three brutal powers.

"After this calamity, when Poland had succeeded in re-establishing some order, she began to carry on her noble work. It was now that most of her famous institutions were formed. The great commission of education, the first of its kind in the world, was at the head of the country's school system and was doing excellent work. Schools and colleges were established and the desire for knowledge spread over the entire country.

"But it must be known that the usurpers kept a keen eye on all that was going on, and they were doing all in their power to check this noble work. When the war broke out between Russia and Turkey in 1787, Poland's parliament convened so that it might strengthen the national government and form a set of new laws. This was a suitable time, for Russia, being engaged in her war, was not able to meddle in Poland's affairs. After four years of hard work the parliament issued its great constitution which was proclaimed to the people on the third day of May, 1791. The adoption of the constitution produced great joy throughout the country; the people rejoiced, when they learned of the passing of this great act which was to bring peace as well as freedom and prosperity to the country.

Features of the Constitution.

"The chief resolutions of the constitution in short read as follows: 'The king is the head of the country; all religious beliefs are to be tolerated and are to have the protection of law; equality of men shall exist.' The government is to be divided into three departments; legislative, executive and judicial. The legislative department is in charge of the parliament composed of senate and the chamber of deputies. The executive department is in charge of the king with his council of ministers. The king appoints officers of the various departments, and he is the head of the army. The superior courts established in different parts of the country have in their charge the judicial department; from these courts however appeals may be made to the highest tribunal. The constitution made also a wise provision, that every twenty-five years it should be revised and amendments added.

"Such in brief was this great constitution which was unanimously adopted by Poland without shedding one drop of blood, while in France, the same kind of constitution, adopted for months later, cost her people rivers of blood which flowed in the great French Revolution.

"When the news of the adoption of Poland's constitution reached the different countries of Europe, the liberty loving people read the enactment with great interest. Pope Pius VI ordered a three-day thanksgiving services in Rome for the gift which God had sent Poland in the form of the constitution. Edmund Burke, the renowned British orator and statesman, in his speech on the Polish constitution, says: 'Poland may well be proud of her great constitution which will surely be a beginning of a new era not only for Poland, but for all countries of Europe.' In Holland a gold medal was struck in honor of the Poland constitution.

Another Partition.

"However great was this constitution it didn't last long. Upon closing her war with Turkey, Russia continued her destructive work in Poland. Filling the country with her soldiers, she started to rule there just as though the territory was her own. In 1793, with the aid of her two allies, another partition of Poland was perpetrated by Russia.

"For two more years Poland lead a life filled with humiliation and in 1795 with the third partition her name was erased from the map of Europe.

"Poor Poland! She had fallen from respect to scorn. But she did not sink under the suffering which had been dealt out to her. The Polish question still has a legal, a historical, a geographical, a national and a political basis. This question demands a place amongst the open questions of Europe and will continue to do so until it is solved according to right and justice.

"More than one hundred years has not deprived Poland of her hope in freedom. Within that time she has developed in all fields. In literature, science and art she has her representatives who are known to the whole world. Such a nation will not perish, but will arise like Phoenix from its ashes to a new and grander life."

Mother Gives Father Some Practical Advice

BY B. COMFORTABLE

"AINT no use talking, Pa, you men can surely learn a lesson from we women when it comes to comfort."

"WHAT DO YOU MEAN?" says Pa.

"Well, I never could see why you men insist on wearing those stiff collars that saw your neck off."

"All the fellows wear them," chimed the head of the house.

"THERE YOU GO again," says Ma. "Don't ever say anything about we women insisting on wearing certain clothes because they're the style. You men are worse than women."

"OH, WELL, a man has got to look right," says Pa.

"SURE," says Ma, "but why don't you wear one of those comfortable stylish looking Summit Town and Country Shirts, with soft attached standing collars? It will make you look right, and feel comfortable."

The Store Where Every Garment Is Sold With a Guarantee

Spring Outerwear that stands the test and satisfies, is our policy. The man or woman satisfied with less than the very best in outerwear, best in wear and best in fit, pays too little and gets too little. We play the game fair, the goods must be bought right and sold at the right price, not too much, but enough to assure satisfaction. Something for nothing, is a will-o'-the wisp; it can't be done. We seek trade from men and women not afraid of our judgment of styles and of values. If we get it we will hold it steadfast, because the money spent here will give value received, down to the very last cent. This we guarantee to you.

SHIPPING OF ORE BEGINS

Missabe Docks Receive First Trainload of New Season.

The hauling of ore to the Duluth, Missabe & Northern ore docks began yesterday afternoon. The first train from Proctor arrived shortly after noon.

The resumption of work at the dock gives employment to about 300 men who have been idle during the winter month. The season is not expected to be as busy as last year and the amount to be shipped from this dock will probably fall considerably short of the figures for 1913.

Predictions were recently made by the officials that the year 1915 will be the greatest in the history of the company. The new dock, now under construction will then be in operation and during that season, if the iron and steel market is fair, it is believed that the record shipments for the Head of the Lakes will be made.

ACCUSE MOTHER OF VIOLATING TRUST.

When Beccy Karon left Duluth last February for Harrisburg, Pa., she not only abandoned her 15-months-old baby but also violated the trust reposed in her by her relatives, according to the charges of L. Karon and Ben Karon in an action started in district court yesterday.

District Judge Dancer signed an order requiring the First National bank to show cause before the court on May 9 why two promissory notes for $50 and $75 issued in Beccy's favor on Feb. 1, 1914, but now in possession of the bank, should not be canceled.

The claim is made that the notes were executed to Beccy only upon the understanding that she would take care of her 15-months-old child, whose father was an invalid and unable to support his family. The two Karons, plaintiffs in the action, are doing business under the name of the L. Karon Iron & Metal company.

BIG NORWEGIAN GIFT.

North Dakota Organization Sends $20,000 to Norwegian County.

Epping, N. D., May 1.—Ole Ellingson, merchant and farmer of this place has left for Norway after twenty-six years absence and will leave New York on May 7 on the St. Paul, a liner chartered by the Sons of Norway and Halling-laget for this trip. The latter organization has gathered some $20,000 which they will present as a memorial gift to their people of Hallixdal, a county of Norway, upon the centennial of the independence of Norway.

Mr. Ellingson is a member of the presentation committee and special envoy.

TRINITY'S FIRST CLASS.

New Masonic Lodge Exemplifies Third Degree for First Time.

Trinity lodge, U. D., A. F. & A. M., gave its first exemplification of the third degree on a class of five candidates at its quarters in Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, last evening. The affair was preceded by a banquet at which covers were laid for 150.

Carl E. Lonegren, worshipful master of the new lodge, presided as toastmaster. Among the speakers of the evening were Congressman Clarence B. Miller, past master of Ionic lodge, No. 186; E. K. Coe, past master of Palestine lodge, No. 79; Chauncey C. Colton, senior warden of Ionic lodge, and Rev. W. E. Harmann.

Mr. Miller spoke on the growth of Masonry in Duluth and throughout the country and on the principles for which it stood. Mr. Colton took for his theme, "Friendly Rivalry Among Duluth Lodges." Mr. Coe talked on "Masonry as a Progressive Science," and Rev. W. E. Harmann responded to a toast on "Trinity's First Class." The Zenith quartet and Messrs. Bradbury and Wood furnished the musical part of the program.

The members of the first class of candidates were Rev. W. E. Harmann, R. Aplund, Arthur Sundeen, J. J. Palmer and Clarence Rankin.

Mrs. Hugo Swensen, 1910 West Second street, left yesterday for Ely, Minn., where she will spend a week visiting friends and relatives.

Peter and Andrew Ostergrin of Fargo, N. D., are spending a few days in this end of the city renewing former acquaintances.

The funeral of Mrs. Ida Dahl, 24 years old, wife of Andrew Dahl, 3229 Chestnut street, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church. Rev. C. G. Olson will officiate. Interment will be made in Park Hill cemetery.

Rev. E. H. Rasmussen will speak on "The Silence of God" at the revival meeting this evening at the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street.

RECOVERS FROM HOMESICKNESS

Immigrant Who Begged to Be Deported Would Remain in America a Little Longer.

Evert Leanderson, 27 years old, married and the father of a 4-year-old child, is homesick. He sobbed yesterday afternoon when he came to the local immigration office and told the officials in charge of his plight.

Leanderson came from Finland on April 11, landing at Halifax and in a week set out for Duluth. He secured a position about three miles from the city, but after working a short time, a chronic ailment in his leg began troubling him again and he was compelled to give up his work. The ailment is described as osteo-myletis.

A physician who examined Leanderson declared that the latter must go to Duluth for treatment. This Leanderson did and after arriving here his condition became worse and he was taken to the poor farm.

It was while Leanderson was at the poor farm that he became homesick. He thought of his wife and child in Finland and expressed a desire to return to them. He appealed to the immigration officials here and asked to be sent back to Finland. As Leanderson was becoming a public charge, the officials here decided the department had sufficient charges to bring before the authorities at Washington to insure Leanderson's deportation.

But yesterday afternoon Leanderson came to the immigration inspector again, saying that he did not think he ought to return to Finland just yet. He wants to make more money before going home to his family. He asked the officers here to table their plans in his behalf and to wait a short time, as he has obtained some work and is again able to go about.

The officials here are of the opinion that Leanderson will become homesick again within a week or two and will then appeal again to be deported. This cannot be done, however, unless he lives at the poor farm, so that the claim can be made that he is becoming a public charge.

Make your headquarters here. Meet your friends. All the comforts of home. It's the recognized center of Duluth, the transfer point for all street car lines.

You find our Boys' Specialists ever ready to show you goods, but you are never under obligation to buy. They never tire of waiting on children. It's their vocation.

Why wait for sales when you can now buy a good suit as cheap as $1.95, sizes 6 to 18? Not a poor suit bought just for sale purposes, but one that will give you double your money in wear.

Then we have suits that sell for $2.50 and $3.00. These make a dandy suit to finish out the school year and to serve afterwards for the vacation time when the boys want some good wearing garment to romp about—one that will hold its own under any condition. We will put one of those $3.50 suits of ours alongside of any suit that you see advertised Saturday specials four-something.

These Columbia $3.50 Suits are made up in as good style as any suit can be made for twice the money.

Our "Little Columbo" Suit for $4.90, with two pairs pants, cannot be beaten. We will stand back of every stitch in ever suit that goes out of this store. We aim to give style plus wear. Remember, these pants are lined. The linings are cut to fit the pants, not merely basted in, but finished.

CITY KILLS FIVE COWS IN APRIL

Five cows were condemned and killed during April, after being found by Dr. Robert Dixon, city veterinarian, to be afflicted with tuberculosis. This is the largest number which has been condemned in any one month since the testing of cows was begun by the health department.

Four of these were in one herd. One of the five was tested five years ago and found to be suspicious. The post mortem examination showed that the animal was in the advanced stages of the disease.

All of the cows in the city are being examined by the veterinarian. The tests will be made every year in connection with the health department's campaign for improved dairy conditions and a purer milk supply.

NAMES FOR FESTIVAL

Committee Has Received Twenty-Six Suggestions in Contest.

Today is the last day on which names will be received in the prize contest for the best name for the midsummer festival of 1915 in Duluth.

Up to noon today, A. K. Squier, chairman of the festival committee of the Retail Merchants' association, who is conducting the contest, announced that he had received twenty-six suggestions.

The contest will close tonight. Suggestions bearing a postmark of today will be considered by the committee. The name suggested must be written on the outside of a plain envelope inside of which is the name of the proposer. This should be sealed and enclosed in another envelope and mailed some time today to A. K. Squier, Columbia Clothing company.

The names suggested will be posted Monday night at the Commercial club at a meeting of the general committee on the festival. The various delegates to the meeting will vote on the names and the three names receiving the greatest number of votes will be considered by a board of judges which will pick one. A $10 prize has been offered by the American Exchange National bank to the person submitting the best name.

The names suggested to date are: Festival DeLuxe, Trans-Continental festival, Birch Bark festival, Duluth Fete 1915, Carnival of Pan-Puk-Kee'-wiss, Heatless July festival, Royal, Unique festival, Fete of the Voyageurs, Pageant of Gitchi Gummi, The Landing of Du Luth, Lovely Stars, The Jean Du Luth festival, Duluth 1915 festival, Duluth Midsummer festival, Festival of Gitchi Gummi, Duluth Midsummer festival and Pageant, Duluth Aerial celebration, Duluth Boosters' Best Ever Day, Midsummer Fantasy of Gitchi Gummi, the Du Du's, Kooloff karnival, Aquatic Frolic, the All-Duluth Call.

RIEDEL AND BRIGHAM LEAVE POLICE FORCE.

The resignation of Patrolman Riedel took effect last night and Telephone Operator Brigham retired from police service on a pension. The former was recommended for dismissal by the January grand jury, following an investigation of the police department, and he was allowed to tender his resignation to take effect on May 1. Operator Brigham has been on the force for twenty-two years and was recently granted a pension by the Police Relief association.

WOULD KNOW THE REASON

F. B. Spelman Begins Investigation of Local Lighthouse Conditions.

F. B. Spelman, chairman of the harbors and waterways committee of the Commercial club has begun an investigation to find out why provision is not made to have the range lights at the Duluth canal lighted during storms, why men cannot get out to the outer light, and why the house at the outer light is not provisioned for such emergencies so a man could stay out there during a northeaster. Mr. Spelman will endeavor to get the city commissioners and the members of the Rotary club to co-operate with the Commercial club's committee in this investigation. It was suggested in an interview with a leading marine man in The Herald on Wednesday evening.

Mr. Spelman has talked with many of the marine men of the city and has been much encouraged in the matter of taking light improvements up with the Federal authorities. However, Mr. Spelman is convinced that the lack of lights and fog-horn service had nothing to do with the loss of the steamer Benjamin Noble, for he accepts the statement of Capt. Millen of the steamer D. J. Morrell as true that he lost sight of the Noble just this side of Knife island at 3 o'clock on Tuesday morning and that in all probability she went down in that vicinity.

One suggestion that has been made to Mr. Spelman and which is receiving indorsement from the marine men to whom it is offered, is to have the outer light on the north pier green in color instead of white.

"I find," said Mr. Spelman, "a general belief among marine men that a captain would be less confused by city lights, especially in stormy weather were the light outside on the north pier green; and for the further reason that it is a starboard light, and masters of incoming ships would know what that meant. The outside light on the south pier is red. If the north light were green it would not make so much difference if the south light were burning or not. Of course all want electric lights established as soon as possible."

FORMER ALDERMAN WANTS GLOBE BAR

Charles R. Hoar, former alderman of the Sixth ward and ex-president of the old council, yesterday made application for a saloon license at 1524 West Superior street.

The license is that which was held by J. M. Branscombe until April 25. It expired on that date and was not renewed. The bar is in the Globe hotel, of which the applicant is the proprietor.

BLACK TO HEAD THE ELLENDALE NORMAL

Ellendale, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—R. M. Black, professor of history at the state science school in Wahpeton, has been elected president of the Ellendale normal and industrial school, to succeed W. E. Johnson, recently chosen as president of the normal at Aberdeen. The new president assumes his duties Aug. 1. He was county superintendent of Richland for several years, and is widely known among North Dakota educators.

Cupid Breaks Record.

Dan Cupid broke his April record for marriage licenses last month when he succeeded in leading ninety-three couples to the matrimonial altar in this city.

During the corresponding month of last year he registered eighty and in April, 1912, ninety licenses were taken out.

Woman's Realm

At the meeting of the Woman's Council this morning Mrs. C. E. Spring reported for the Housewives' league; Mrs. F. L. Barrows told of the free hospitals she visited in the Twin Cities, and Mrs. Rogers of Superior outlined the work proposed by the Woman's league of that city, an organization less than a month old.

Mrs. Spring told of the talks that had been given at meetings of the Housewives' league on weights and measures, the laws of public health, trading stamps, economic questions, the drama, and the free city and county hospital.

She advocated the patronage of bakeries, laundries and other industries connected with housekeeping, provided they are conducted upon scientific principles. By having some of the work done outside the homes, women will have more time to give to other matters and the maid question will be partially solved.

The Housewives' league is using its efforts to have a city ordinance passed that will insure the sanitary handling of food and the sanitary washing of dishes in restaurants, at soda fountains and other semi-public places. In many stores pastry and other foodstuffs are left uncovered on counters while the stores are being swept, it was claimed, and food is often covered with dirty mosquito netting that is little or no protection from germs. If an ordinance is passed controlling the care of food the women will do the inspecting, the speaker said.

Public Market.

In regard to the public market in the Armory, Mrs. Spring said there are no conveniences in the building. "The place must be made attractive, or at least comfortable, in order to induce the farmers to come," she said. She spoke of the work being done to promote agriculture in this part of the state, and of the experiment station of the University of Minnesota just outside of Duluth. "There are more truck gardens near the city than is generally known," she said. "By patronizing the men and women who bring their produce to this public market, one will help to make farm life attractive and profitable and consequently to keep young men and women on the farms."

Speaking of the food reforms that have been brought about by Dr. Harvey A. Wiley and of the dangerous acids, preservatives and coloring matters that have been used in the preparation of canned and bottled foods, Mrs. Spring said those who are living now represent the "survival of the fittest."

"Even if the public is offered more wholesome food than formerly, there is a great deal to be desired in the way of preparing this food," she continued. "It is the hope of the Housewives' league to establish economic courses, corresponding in a certain extent to short courses offered in home economics by the University of Minnesota. These courses would include instructions of balanced meals and food values."

Visits Hospitals.

Mrs. Barrows, chairman of the Woman's council committee on a free hospital for Duluth and St. Louis county, told of her visit to the Twin Cities, where she studied the free hospitals.

The City hospital of Minneapolis, she said, had 900 beds. The institution is over-crowded and a wing will be added this summer. The population of Minneapolis is only three times that of Duluth and the population of Hennepin county only twice that of St. Louis county. The University hospital of Minneapolis, connected with the University of Minnesota, is an exceptionally high-grade hospital and has 100 free beds, she said.

In St. Paul the beds in the hospital are free to all residents of the city and county, but when a person is financially able he is supposed to pay a nominal fee. No distinction is made between the patients who pay and those who do not and it is not known in which class a patient is. There are 600 beds in this hospital. At the time Mrs. Barrows visited it there were 175 patients and 125 nurses. This made one nurse to every five patients. In most hospitals the ratio of nurses to patients is one to four or five.

This county and city hospital in St. Paul was established twenty-seven years ago when the city had a population of only 45,000.

Persons who receive treatment at this institution are not considered charity patients as it is thought all residents of the city and county are entitled to treatment just as all children are entitled to education in the public schools.

Mrs. Barrows spoke of the lecture given by Father James Donahue, in Duluth last month. Father Donahue is city missionary of St. Paul. He advocated very strongly a free hospital for Duluth and St. Louis county. He has been said the private hospitals would oppose the installation of a free hospital here, but Mrs. Barrows pointed to the fact that Father Donahue favored such an institution as proof that there would be less opposition than is commonly supposed. She spoke of Father Donahue's advocating help from the state for the free hospital here, citing as precedent the state assistance given to tuberculosis sanitaria and to the home for crippled children in St. Paul.

A letter approving the proposed free city and county hospital has been circulated among the physicians of Duluth. About sixty-five have signed it and only two have refused.

As an example of what can be done by a small city in obtaining a free hospital, Mrs. Barrows told of the $50,000 hospital that is to be built in Waseca, that has a population of only 3,000 in a county of 13,000.

Doctors' Charity.

The new $1,000,000 hospital in Cincinnati has been pronounced the best in the world by Dr. William Welch of Johns Hopkins university, who is an authority on such matters, she said. It has been estimated the physicians of Cincinnati do $1,000,000 worth of charity practice a year, or, in other words, in four years the doctors of Cincinnati will do charity work to the amount of the cost of the hospital. "What the doctors in Cincinnati are doing, the doctors every place are doing, and they are doing it here in Duluth," Mrs. Barrows said.

Mrs. Rogers of Superior told of the committees appointed by the new Woman's league of that city.

As it was started at this time of the year the first work undertaken will be the cleaning up of the city, in cooperation with the health commissioner. It will also be the object of the new league to have women at trials of the juvenile court and in places of detention for women and girls.

Want Policewoman.

The last important event of the meeting this morning was the motion to have Mrs. Mary Walsh, at present the police matron, made a policewoman. Commissioner Hicken will be asked to put Mrs. Walsh in this position and to raise her salary accordingly and Chief of Police Troyer will be asked to recommend her for the place.

WILL SPEAK AT SUFFRAGE MEETING

MISS FLORENCE MONAHAN.

Miss Florence Monahan, who will speak at the suffrage meeting at the Y. W. C. A. auditorium this evening at 8 o'clock, has taken a course in public speaking at the University of Minnesota and was chosen as one of the best speakers to debate on the subject of woman suffrage with the regular debating team that went through the state on the University Extension course last spring. Miss Monahan debated on woman's suffrage at the Minnesota Woman's Suffrage association convention last fall and in the mock trial at Minneapolis this spring.

TEA SET FOR MISS WILSON.

Marriage to Secretary McAdoo Will Be in Blue Room.

Washington, May 1.—A silver tea service supplemented by a pair of silver candelabra, is the house of representatives' wedding present for Miss Eleanor Wilson, the president's youngest daughter. Her marriage to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo will take place on May 7 in the Blue room of the White House.

As the guest list has been limited to members of the two families, the cabinet and vice president, the White House decided not to use the large east room, which was the scene last December of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayres' wedding. President Cleveland was married in the Blue room, the central parlor of the three which connect the east room and state dining rooms.

The room, notable as the scene of many historic events, is covered in heavy, corded blue silk and is handsomely furnished in white, blue and gold.

St. Luke's Guild.

St. Luke's guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church met yesterday afternoon in the guild room of the church. The hostesses were Mrs. A. Page and Mrs. William Leonard. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. William Robinson, president; Mrs. Edward Thompson, vice president; Mrs. William Lewis, secretary; Mrs. Gus Johnson, treasurer.

Represented at Ely.

Mrs. Louis Dworshak, Miss Mary Gladys Reynolds and Miss Agnes Mae Johnson represented the Matinee Musicale in a program given today before the Mothers' club at Ely, Minn. Mrs. Dworshak opened the program with a piano solo, "Liebestraum" by Liszt. Her other numbers were the "Spinning Song" from the "Flying Dutchman" by Wagner-Liszt, "Impromptu," Op. 61, by Chopin, and "Cappriccio" by Mendelssohn. Miss Reynolds sang "Missanwy" by Foster, "An Open Secret" by Huntington Woodman, "At Dawning" by Cadman and a group of Schumann songs. Miss Johnson read "The Coming of the Prince" and a scene from "Polly of the Circus."

Luncheon for Guest.

In honor of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary King, of New Auburn, Wis., Mrs. George R. King of 104 North Twenty-eighth avenue west, entertained six guests at luncheon yesterday.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Sylvester McNaughton of the Wahldorf apartments went to St. Paul today. She will attend the recital at St. Joseph's academy to be given by her niece, Miss Fayette Bogert, who is known in Duluth.

Miss Rae Abraham of 2422 East Third street will go to Minneapolis this afternoon to spend a few days with relatives.

STATE FAIR WILL FEATURE ART

Galleries for $250,000 Worth of Subjects Will be Built This Summer; Unrivalled at Any Fair in Country.

Five new spacious art galleries for the accommodation of a quarter of a million dollars' worth of art subjects, are to be built at the Minnesota State fair grounds this summer, to be ready for the coming fair, Sept. 7-12, according to an announcement of Secretary J. C. Simpson today. The Minnesota State Art society is co-operating with the state fair management in the enterprise.

From now on, according to Maurice I. Flagg, director of the state art society, the annual state art exhibition will be held at the state fair grounds, and it is expected to become one of the leading features of the fair. In the future hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of valuable art subjects, including pictures by the most noted artists in the United States, and examples of sculpture, industrial art, handicraft and other phases of art, will be placed on exhibit at the Minnesota State fair.

Unequaled at Any Fair.

The galleries will be built directly east of the woman's building, and will have entrances and exits from that building. There will be nearly 10,000 feet of available wall space. The galleries will be well equipped, properly lighted, and furnished in such a way that there will be a most suitable setting for everything displayed. The addition will be practically fireproof. The attempt will be made to furnish everything in approved manner.

The exhibition, which is to be unequaled by anything ever attempted by any state fair in the United States, will be superior to any fine arts exhibition held west of New York, with the possible exception of Chicago and St. Louis.

The state art society will assume entire charge of the exhibition, and is planning to award $650 worth of cash prizes, as well as two gold medals. In this encouragement to Minnesota artists it is believed that marked impetus will be given to the cultivation of the fine arts in the Northwest. A jury of noted American artists will pass upon the art subjects at fair time and award the prizes. Whenever desired, a criticism of any exhibit will be made by the jury. Competent specialists will be placed in charge of the exhibit. In the evening it is planned to hold a series of art lectures of a popular nature.

Art of Many Forms.

In addition to the large loan collection of contemporary American artists there will be shown twenty-seven model farm home plans, thirty-five model farmyard landscape designs and fifty excellent plans for model village houses. This matter has been accumulated in recent architectural competitions by the state art society. A complete model of the "model farmhouse" will be placed on display, showing the house with proper painting and exterior finish, as well as landscape setting.

"The art display as it has been planned by the state fair management and the state art society," says Secretary Simpson, "will possess splendid educational value. Minnesota is the only state in the country that will assemble such an art exhibition. It is merely one other of the progressive measures that are being adopted to make the Minnesota State fair a great educational exposition. It will give hundreds of thousands of Minnesotans an opportunity to come into direct contact with the best art work to be found anywhere in the United States. It will be a splendid feature of our coming fair."

MINNESOTA AND WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Doubtful Whether Any Member of Congress From This State Will Vote Against Suffrage Measure.

Washington, May 1.—That Minnesota is marching steadily on toward suffrage, is the opinion expressed by members of the congressional committee of the National Suffrage association. They have formed that opinion on account of the reports that have been received from that state in regard to the May 2 demonstration. The suffragists of Minnesota seem to be a very active body and they are working earnestly to make the demonstration such a great event as will convince the people of the North Star state that they mean business.

Minnesota has granted suffrage to women now on school questions and it has worked to a good advantage, and the women of that state have exercised their rights as far as granted so satisfactorily that the belief is general that whenever an opportunity again affords Minnesota will join the suffrage column.

The temper of Minnesota can be gauged to a considerable extent by the men in congress. Both of the senators supported the suffrage amendment when it was voted upon in the senate, and there are several members of the house who are earnest suffragists. A few years ago it is doubtful if a single member of the Minnesota delegation would have supported a suffrage measure. Now it is doubtful whether any member of congress will vote against a suffrage measure.

The Minnesota men in congress would be perfectly willing to support the former resolution, but it is believed that they will be just as earnestly in favor of the Shafroth-Palmer resolution, which provides a method of getting suffrage submitted to the states and does not interfere with the rights of states, which has been the greatest obstacle encountered by the congressional committee in its work for Federal legislation.

OBSERVATIONS

—By PEGGY PEABODY—

Love of Handsome Clothes No Savagery.

Modern woman is still a savage, according to a prominent educator. Her savagery is attested by her love of gew-gaws and feathers and bright colors, states this college professor.

If woman betrays her savagery because of these things then it is easy to find ground on which to base a claim for the same barbarity on the part of man. The educator who terms woman a savage is inclined to set man above the savage because he goes about in somber garments.

One look at the loud checks, giddy hosiery and cravats affected by many men would give one reason to believe that man had a savage leaning in this direction as well. But there is even a graver charge to be laid at man's door. Maybe woman does love to adorn herself with furs and tiny dead birds, but men love to kill them for the pleasure of the chase, which is deeper savagery. This is not offered as an excuse for a refinement of the quality in women.

Through it all she has man's co-operation and more than half the time the conceit of some man. And what is the very first thing that a man with money to spare urges his wife to do if not to buy herself pretty dresses and hats. And doesn't he himself buy her all the pretty jewels his means will permit?

That we think too much of clothes and gew-gaws is a reflection that we well deserve. Thousands of women might more usefully occupy their minds than in agitating the question of clothes the live-long time. It sometimes seems to me that the constant thought of finery has kept light and silly people out of mischief.

Barring the extravagance and the endless striving after finery that shall eclipse another's, the consideration of beautiful and appropriate clothing is neither savage or worthless. Thought can be given to the subject by every woman with good results. We have, to be sure, too many over-dressed women reveling in the bizarre and the vulgar. However, it does not denote savage instincts to me, even when it makes me think of the Indian in full war paint and feathers.

I like to think that it is a reaching out for the beautiful in life, in which color plays an all-important part. I believe that woman's love of dress is in accord with her love of beauty, though she may not have reached the stage where she unerringly picks that which is truly beautiful. In time the question of gew-gaws will be adjusted and fewer mistakes will be made in the selection of her garments.

Progressive Dinner.

A group of young persons will give one of their progressive dinners tomorrow evening at the homes of Misses Charlene Bagley, Cordelia Collins, Elizabeth Horr, Agnes and Sue Alexander, Alice Cowen, Eleanor Mitchell and Vera Lindahl. Dancing will follow the dinner.

WARROAD WEDDINGS.

Both Were Held on Tuesday of This Week.

Warroad, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Josephine St. Antoine and Joseph Gallant, both of this city, were married at 9 o'clock a. m. at the Catholic church, Father Bessus officiating. A breakfast was served after the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, to which only the immediate relatives and friends were invited. Later in the evening a banquet was given at the Hotel Minnesota to a host of friends, and the couple were the recipients of many beautiful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Gallant will make their future home in Warroad.

At 1 o'clock p. m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Morris, their daughter, Constance Mary, was married to Howard Francis Steltz, Rev. Calvin Foster officiating. The bride wore white voile over cream messaline and was attended by Dora Steltz, while Walter Morris was best man. Only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony. The happy couple left at once for their farm near Warroad where they will make their future home.

FINDS ASSAILANT WITHOUT POLICE

Fred Hoffman Thinks He Has Man Who Held Him Up.

Fred Hoffman was robbed of a $25 watch and a pocketbook containing $10, by a highwayman late Wednesday evening, but instead of reporting the hold-up to the police, he went to Superior yesterday and after sleuthing about town all morning, went to police headquarters there and identified John Boris, 25 years old, who had been arrested there at noon as a suspect in a $1,000 grocery robbery, as the man who held him up in Duluth at the point of a revolver.

After investigating, the Superior police decided he had nothing to do with the grocery robbery and he was turned over to the Duluth police to answer a charge of robbery in the first degree. Detectives Schulte and Irvine were sent over and they brought Boris and Hoffman back to Duluth.

Boris, who was arraigned immediately after being brought to Duluth, asked for a hearing and his examination was set for 9 o'clock next Wednesday morning. No bail was allowed by the court.

Hoffman claims that he was walking along Michigan street, just east of Lake avenue, about 9 o'clock Wednesday evening, when he was held up by Boris at the point of a revolver. He believed, he said, that he had knowledge of the whereabouts of his assailant and straightway he went to Superior.

AFFIRMS SIX CENT VERDICT

James Cash Ordered to Execute Satisfaction of a Mortgage.

James Cash will be required to execute a satisfaction of a $1,400 mortgage executed to him in 1904 by Bridget L. Grimes and John M. Grimes, her husband, under the terms of a verdict which was returned by a jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court this morning. Nominal damages in the sum of 6 cents were awarded Mrs. Grimes and her husband, plaintiffs. A similar verdict in the same case was returned by a jury before Judge Dancer last July but the court granted a new trial.

The action is known as one of the Hartman-O'Donnell cases. It is an action in which Mrs. Grimes and her husband sought to compel Cash to deliver a satisfaction of a mortgage for $1,400 on the homestead of the plaintiffs located at 1721 Piedmont avenue. The mortgage was executed back in 1904 through the now defunct Hartman-O'Donnell agency. It was extended from time to time and on Aug. 1, 1912, Mrs. Grimes came to the office of the agency and paid the principal and back interest. Later she received from C. J. O'Donnell an instrument purporting to be a satisfaction of the mortgage.

Shortly after that O'Donnell managing agent for the company, became involved deeply in other speculations and left the city. It developed later that the purported mortgage was a forgery. Cash claimed that he had never received a cent of the money paid over to O'Donnell and refused to issue a bona fide satisfaction of the mortgage. Suit to compel him to do so was brought.

The main question left with the jury was whether C. J. O'Donnell, who handled the money, was acting as agent for Cash or for Mrs. Grimes. The jury found that he was acting as Cash's agent in the matter and under the terms of the verdict he must stand the loss.

It is not known whether the case will be appealed a second time or not.

Not Superstitious.
All Duluthians are not possessed of the superstition that "13" is unlucky.

For this morning Finance Commissioner Fred J. Voss received a request from a local resident that dog license tag No. 13 be saved for him. As no tags have yet been issued the applicant's wish will be granted.

Perhaps he is only doubtful as to the terrors and misfortunes alleged to be connected with those numerals and wants to "try it on the dog."

ASSESSORS BEGIN WORK

Twenty-six employes from the office of City Assessor J. Allyn Scott started out this morning to make the personal property valuation for 1914.

Except for those who will assess lumber, coal and flour, saloons and moneys and credits, each deputy has been assigned to a separate district, for which he will be held responsible. The new form contains sixty-three items, or nearly twice as many as the old, the change having been made by the last legislature. This will about treble the amount of work for the assessor's department, as the returns must be entered in much greater detail than formerly.

The real estate valuation has been completed, having been under way for months. All that remains is to enter the values officially on the books. The last legislature also necessitated a complete revaluation of all buildings and property in the city.

CREAM LAW IS HELD INVALID

State Supreme Court Says It Interferes With Interstate Trade.

St. Paul, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Today the so-called Johnston sixty-five mile cream law was held unconstitutional by the Minnesota supreme court, in an opinion written by Chief Justice Calvin L. Brown, on the ground that it is an unreasonable interference with and prohibition of interstate commerce.

The centralizers have been fighting the law ever since its enactment, but today is the first time the merits of the act have been passed on by the courts. The centralizers asserted they would be put out of business by the law.

The law provides that all cream shipped for a distance of more than sixty-five miles over any railroad in this state must be carried in a refrigerator car, or pasteurized. The Chicago Great Western road, to make a test case, shipped a can of cream from St. Paul to Austin, ninety-eight miles, without complying with the law. A fine of $15 was imposed in the municipal court here, and the railroad Appealed.

"Purpose Not Clear."
Chief Justice Brown, in his opinion, says the purpose of the statute is not clear.

"Just what public interest was intended to be protected, or what evil remedied, is not apparent," he asserted. "It is clear, however, that it cannot be construed as having any reference to public health, or in the interest of pure food. It takes no account of the condition or quality of the cream the shipment of which it prohibits, and cream of any kind, regardless of its condition as to purity, may be shipped without restriction in refrigerator cars.

"A dozen cans of the most wholesome and a dozen of the most putrid cream may be transported in the same refrigerator car, but the statute need not be violated. So the feature of public health must be dismissed as having no reference to the foundation of the statute."

Covers Interstate Trade.
The court says the statute is not limited to shipments originating and terminating within the state, but to any shipment, wherever it may have originated, which extends into or through the state for the prohibited distance. It thus would prohibit some shipments of cream originating in adjoining states.

It also applies to all shipments originating in this state to points in other states where the distance in Minnesota is more than sixty-five miles.

In addition it applies to all railroads having lines leading from St. Paul to Duluth which pass through Wisconsin, thus preventing the shipment of cream to Duluth if the point of shipment originated sixty-five miles from the state boundary.

"The statute," says the court in referring to these applications of its terms, "will bear no other construction, and as so construed is an interference with interstate commerce. It cannot without violence be construed as applicable only to shipments originating and terminating within this state, though we are not to be understood as holding that such a limitation would render the act free from constitutional objections."

BIDS OPENED ON TWO CITY JOBS

Bids were opened by the division of public works this morning for the construction of the Duluth Heights sewer system and the grading and graveling of the Kenwood road.

Rogers & McLean were low on the sewer job, their figure being $41,432.80, or about $8,500 less than the estimate prepared by the engineering department.

Gollinger & Mackay were low on the Kenwood job, their bid being $6,017, as compared with the engineer's estimate of $7,238.

SALOON MEN GET PERMITS

Permits for alteration in thirteen saloons were issued by Building Inspector Samuel M. Kielley this morning. The changes are being made in order that the rooms may comply with that section of the Hicken code which decrees that they cannot be more than six feet wider in the rear than in the front.

The majority of the saloons taking out permits today are located on Superior and Michigan streets. One is on Lake avenue south and the other at West Duluth. Several other similar permits have been issued in the last few weeks. The average expenditure is $200 each.

DULUTH MAN AMONG MEXICO REFUGEES

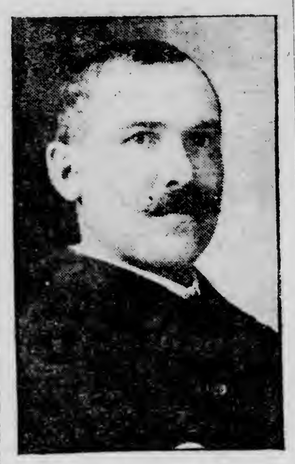
Baltimore, Md., May 1.—John Uno Sebenius, chief engineer for the Oliver Iron Mining company of Duluth, Minn., who fled from mobs of enraged Mexicans in Tampico, Mexico, and was later taken aboard the battleship Utah, with 200 other refugees, has arrived here on the British tank steamer Escalona. When he took passage on the ship on April 21, he said the American plants, clubs and hotels were being besieged by Mexicans, and American forces were taking a hand in the fighting.

"On April 3 I left Havana for Vera Cruz on the Ward liner, 'Morro Castle,'" said Mr. Sebenius. "I arrived at that city on April 9 before the port had been taken by our marines. When I landed I found the feeling was strong against Americans. Near the city were the battleships Utah and Florida.

"I had difficulty in transacting my business in the city, so closely was I watched. I left the city on the battleship Utah on Friday, April 10 at noon. At 5 o'clock on that afternoon 200 refugees were brought to the Utah and taken aboard. They, as well as myself, were compelled to remain aboard the battleship, which was anchored in the Panuco river, just outside of Tampico, until the following Tuesday, when we were able to make a landing at Tampico.

"The coal piers and railroad cars were burning. We set sail on April 21 for this city. At that time we understood aboard the ship that Mexicans had attacked the two principal American hotels, the Southern and Imperial in Tampico.

"I want to say that unless the United States intervenes it will soon lose prestige in Mexico."



JOHN UNO SEBENIUS.

PLAN DEFENSE OF MEXICAN CAPITAL

Summary of One Day's Events in Huerta's Chief Stronghold.

Mexico City, May 1.—A plan for organizing a civil guard for the defense of the Federal capital has been submitted to the minister of the interior by the city council and approved by him as well as by Provisional President Huerta.

A committee of members of the Americans' colony called on the Brazilian minister yesterday to perfect plans for co-operating with him. The arms remaining at the American embassy after the recent seizure by the Mexican government have not been removed, as the Brazilian minister protested against such action. The American committee requested the Brazilian minister to thank the Mexican foreign minister for the protection afforded to American citizens remaining here.

A crowd of 8,000 pilgrims yesterday morning, knelt before the shrine of the patron saint of Mexico, the Virgin of Guadalupe, and prayed for peace.

The government has issued a list of rebel leaders in the north who, it was alleged, had announced their adhesion to the government in the event of the invasion of Mexico. It was said they would bring with them 10,000 men.

Dispatches from Jalapa assert that Mexican soldiers have fired upon American army aviators reconnoitering in the vicinity of Tejera. The dispatch adds that numerous American aerial scouting expeditions have been observed at several inland points.

Another dispatch, which bears the date Carrizzal, Vera Cruz, gives the alleged details of a skirmish near Santa Fe in which it is declared that a party of American scouts encountered an outpost of Mexicans, and after half an hour's firing, the Americans retreated, carrying two wounded with them.

AMERICAN WOMAN SAW VERA CRUZ FIGHT.

St. Louis, Mo., May 1.—The story of how Mexican snipers at Vera Cruz, during the battle of American marines and bluejackets, fired from the roof of a house while an American woman and her two children huddled in the basement of the same building was told here by Mrs. Eman B. Beck, wife of the president of Mexico City Banking company. Mrs. Beck, with a party of refugees from Mexico, passed through St. Louis on her way to Franklin, Ind.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Beck and her two daughters left Mexico City for Vera Cruz, and in the latter city took up a temporary residence a few blocks from the spot where the American marines landed.

"When the fighting began, said Mrs. Beck, "my two children and I hid in a basement room and remained there twenty-four hours while 'snipers' hauled a machine gun to the roof of our house. It was a terrible period for us, as we knew not at what moment they might vent their hostility upon us."

"BIG STEP TOWARD PAN-AMERICANISM"

Argentine Paper So Describes Acceptance of Mediation Offer.

Buenos Aires, May 1.—Commenting on the mediation now proceeding between the United States and Mexico, La Razon says:

"The acceptance by the United States of the mediation offered by Argentina, Brazil and Chile signifies a great step taken by President Wilson and the Democratic party toward Pan-Americanism."

The newspaper adds:

"We believe the partisans of Theodore Roosevelt desired war, and that President Wilson saw the importance of the historic moment and thus ratified Pan-Americanism."

MAKE ARMY FUNDS AVAILABLE AT ONCE.

Washington, May 1.—A joint resolution to make immediately available the entire $101,000,000 army appropriation bill, just passed by both houses of congress, was introduced yesterday, at President Wilson's request, by Chairman Hay of the house committee on military affairs. The measure is designed to allow the use of any or all of the funds provided in the big supply bill, originally designed to meet only the needs of the army for the fiscal year beginning July 1, next, to meet the present emergency in Mexico.

It has been suggested that the same course may be followed by the naval affairs committee, though Chairman Padgett does not favor such action unless the president requests it.

AMMUNITION FOR REBELS INTERCEPTED.

Galveston, Texas, May 1.—One million rounds of small arms ammunition, consigned to Constitutionalist forces along the northern border of Mexico, has been stopped here and will be returned to the manufacturers.

Company D, signal corps, part of the reinforced Fifth brigade, sailed for Vera Cruz late yesterday on the steamer Esperanza.

Non-American refugees, who claim they were brought here by the United States against their will, formed an organization last night to secure their return to Mexico.

REFUGEES TELL OF INSULTS TO FLAG.

Guatemala City, May 1.—A large number of refugees of all nationalities from Salina Cruz and the Isthmus of Tehauntepec arrived Wednesday on board the English steamer Acajutla at San Jose, a small Guatemalan port on the Pacific.

Fugitives who have crossed the Mexican frontier into Guatemala from the Mexican town of Tapachula, report that riots have occurred there during which the American flag was grossly insulted.

Some of the refugees declare that attempts to massacre foreigners regardless of nationality were avoided only by the prompt action of the Mexican military commander of the town of Tapachula, who placed the foreigners in prison and guarded them from the mob.

Several large estates owned by foreign capitalists, were abandoned by their managers who fled for their lives into Guatemala.

REGULARS WILL REPLACE MILITIA.

Washington, May 1.—Secretary Garrison is preparing to substitute regulars for the Texas state troops now stationed at Brownesville, Tex. Heavy demands made upon the army by the border patrol and the Vera Cruz expedition probably will make it necessary to draw the force from the coast artillery.

The secretary suggested to Governor Colquitt the impracticability of the Federal and state forces seeking to operate in the same territory under different commands, and the govehnor has agreed to withdraw the militia when regulars arrive.

JAPANESE MANNING GUNS FOR MEXICANS.

Calexico, Cal., May 1.—Samuel Vestbinder, an American rancher, was chased across the line six miles west of here yesterday by three Mexican rurales, who followed him onto American soil and discharged their revolvers at him, according to the rancher's story.

A traveling salesman who entered Mexicali brought back the report that Japanese are manning the Mexican field guns.

TEXAS TO BE IN SERVICE MAY 11.

New York, May 1.—Orders have been received at the Brooklyn navy yards for the dreadnought Texas to be in readiness for sailing on May 11. The Texas is one of the vessels named in Rear Admiral Winslow's newly created special service squadron. She was placed in drydock yesterday on the same tide on which the battleship Wyoming was taken out.

Work also is being rushed on the gunboats Machias, Marietta and Isla De Luzon.

GOVERNOR IS PANNED.

Speakers for Lee Score State Executive at Staples.

Staples, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—William E. Lee, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, was unable to be present at the meeting held here in Sharkey's hall Wednesday evening in his behalf, but his affairs were well looked after by W. J. Nolan and Rudolph Lee the first of whom scored the present state executive unmercilessly.

Mr. Nolan was caustic in reference to Governor Eberhart's attitude on primary law while the law in process of formation in the legislature, charging that at every opportunity he opposed the law. Nolan also charged the governor with being in collusion with the liquor interests and public service corporations of the big cities. He discussed the governor's vetoes of the Minnette and Nolan bills, charging that the vetoes were inspired by special interests. He said the people should vote for Lee because he stands for business administration, retrenchment and results, open markets, scientific farming, majority nominations and elections, majority rule instead of boss rule, public service instead of political service, just labor legislation, strict law enforcement, initiative, referendum, county option, effective civil service, conservation and state development, woman's suffrage referendum.

BOY IS HELD FOR MISUSING MAILS

Spokane, Wash., May 1.—George M. Bartlet, 20 years old, is in jail here awaiting arraignment in the Federal court on a charge of misuse of the mails in an attempt to obtain $1,000 from August A. Paulsen, millionaire mine owner. Bartlet was arrested after he had obtained a package which he believed contained $1,000 of Paulsen's money from a messenger boy who called at Paulsen's home at Bartlet's request.

PENNSYLVANIA ARTIST WINNER.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 1.—Andrew Carnegie was the principal speaker at the eighteenth annual Founders' day celebration of Carnegie institute yesterday. The artists' prize winning paintings and the amounts of the prizes in the international exhibition of 1914, a Founders' day event, follow:

First, "Village in Winter," the winner, by Edward W. Redfield of Centerbridge, Pa., $1,500. Second, "The String Quartet," by Richard Jack of London, Eng., $1,000. Third, "Cliff Dwellers," by George W. Bellows of New York city, $500.

CLEVELAND GOES INTO EASTERN TIME.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 1.—Clevelanders generally moved their clocks forward one hour last night, in compliance with the ordinance recently passed by the city council adopting eastern time for the city. Practically every business concern has agreed to abide by the ordinance, and railroad and interurban lines entering the city are arranging their time tables to suit the new schedule.

Youngstown, Ohio, also began to operate under Eastern time last night.

Mayor Shoots at Holdup.

Hastings, Minn., May 1.—A highwayman wearing a mask and carrying a revolver, attempted to hold up Mayor Frank W. Finch, as the latter was entering his home late Wednesday night. The mayor sent a bullet whizzing in close proximity to the bandit's cranium and put him to flight.

DOMINION TO FINANCE ROAD

Canadian Northern Gets Cash to Complete Line to Coast.

Puts Up 55 Per Cent of Stock to Secure Government.

According to a proposal just laid before its supporters in a caucus the Canadian government will guarantee the bonds of the Canadian Northern railroad for upwards of $40,000,000 to enable the completion of the road to the Pacific coast.

For security, its builders, Mackenzie & Mann, will be called upon to transfer to the government 40 per cent of the $77,000,000 capital stock of the company. An additional 15 per cent stock will be placed in a holding company and in case of default by the railroad it would also be subject to transfer. In a nutshell the agreement provides for a guarantee upon terms that will enable the government to take over the line and assume its operation in the event of default in its obligations by the company.

The Canadian Northern tracks will be joined in British Columbia about September and before the end of the year it is expected that a freight service through the coast will be established.

Excellent Trade Conditions.

The line through British Columbia goes by the way of Yellow Head pass and thence through the valleys in a southwesterly direction to Vancouver. It has the easiest of all transcontinental grades. Going westward, the Canadian Northern can pick up sixty carloads of grain on the prairie with one locomotive and that one locomotive can take it through clear to the coast without any help at grades. The heaviest grade against westbound traffic is four-tenths of 1 per cent or less than twenty-one feet to the mile. For 400 miles east from Vancouver the heaviest grade is also four-tenths of 1 per cent. Just before reaching the summit there is a stretch of eastbound track of sixty miles in which the grades vary from four-tenths to seven-tenths to the mile.

Inquiry has been made as to why the Canadian Northern does not avail itself of about $45,000,000 of bonds which it already has authority to issue instead of seeking fresh guarantees from the Dominion government. The reason is that these guarantees now in force relate to branch lines and the bonds cannot be issued until those branches are constructed. It would not pay to construct those branches at this time. They will be built in the course of the next few years and the bonds guaranteed for them will be issued as the lines are constructed.

The Canadian Northern has left about 800,000 acres out of the 4,000,000 acres received in the prairie provinces as a bonus for construction. It has also about 2,000,000 acres in Northern Ontario. This land is covered with forest, but is supposed to be good wheat land, although it would take years to clear it up. About 500,000 acres in Northern Quebec also belong to the company. The Canadian Northern has, from time to time, raised as much as $24,000,000 for construction by pledging its lands. Of this $17,000,000 was raised last autumn, at the time land grant bonds were issued. Securities issued against the lands are liquidated by the company as the lands are sold.

THROUGH LINE TO ALASKA

Traffic Arrangements Being Made That Will Furnish It.

Direct railway communication from Chicago to Alaska for Duluthians is an early possibility. It is reported by R. E. Mansfield, United States consul at Vancouver, B. C., that plans are being made for a traffic arrangement between the Great Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific railroad, under which trains will be run from Chicago to St. Paul, and from there to the Canadian border over the Hill road, where connection will be made with the Grand Trunk Pacific, which is now completing its lines in British Columbia.

The extension of the new Canadian transcontinental road connecting with the railroads in the United States will run from Regina, Sask., to Northgate, a port of entry on the international boundary. Later a branch will be built north from the main line in British Columbia through the Yukon, via Dawson, connecting with the proposed American railways in Alaska.

It is said that the line will pass through some of the finest country in British Columbia and the Yukon, furnishing transportation facilities for a large section of undeveloped country, rich in varied natural resources.

RAILROAD NOTES

W. R. Stephenson, for a number of years the traveling agent of the Lehigh Valley road, was in the city yesterday on his last trip. Mr. Stephenson is about to enter the employ of a large wholesale house in St. Paul. J. H. Reagon, formerly contracting freight agent of the Burlington in St. Paul, will take his place, making the rounds of the local railroad offices yesterday with Mr. Stephenson.

It was announced today that Glen B. Van Buren, employed as rate clerk of the traffic commission of the Duluth Commercial club, will leave that position and accept a place with the American Carbolite company.

Herbert Cross of Superior, at present the cashier of the Superior local freight office of the Great Northern, will succeed Van Buren.

Beginning tomorrow the city freight offices of Duluth will close at 1 o'clock on Saturdays.

Storm Knocked Wires.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because their wires have been so badly disrupted by this week's sleet storm, the telegraph companies were compelled to abandon service into several towns and cities, telegrams being forwarded by mail as a result.

Devils Lake, all of Wednesday, was without communication, and messages directed to that city, were mailed from Grand Forks and Fargo relay points.

VERA CRUZ IS FREE FROM PESTILENCE

No Serious Illness Among Americans—Baseball League Planned.

Vera Cruz, May 1.—In turning over the health service of Vera Cruz to Surgeon Guiteras of the United States public health service yesterday, Fleet Surgeon L. W. Ppratling, who had been medical inspector since the American occupation disposed of rumors of a possible danger of pestilence. He reported less than twenty cases of smallpox in the city, only two of which were not in the pesthouse or the hospital before the Americans landed. He said there were no cases of spinal meningitis and no other serious illness.

Among the sailors there had been no sickness except heat exhaustion of a trivial nature, and not even one malarial patient has been reported by the navy doctors among the men, although the danger of this will not entirely disappear until the bluejackets have been on board ship for several days.

For the present the men of the fleet are to be denied shore liberty, as they will have much work to do in cleaning their equipment and the doctors are desirous that they be given a change in the cool air of the outer harbor.

Plans Baseball League.

When liberty is granted them, Lieut. Alfred M. Cohen of the Arkansas, an athletic officer who has been acting as ordinance officer on Rear Admiral Fletcher's staff, hopes to start a baseball league and will issue challenges to army teams. This may result in giving Vera Cruz a championship series as its first introduction to the American national sport.

Consul William W. Canada has received further cheering reports as to the few scattered American refugees. Ten Americans are believed to be making their way down the river above Alvorado to Southern Vera Cruz. The consul has tried to arrange with the British officials to send a launch to pick them up, as it is feared that the sending of an American boat might lead to reports that a further landing was in progress, and complicate the work of getting out other Americans.

TAKES SEAT ON STATE RAILROAD COMMISSION

O. P. B. JACOBSON.

St. Paul, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new member of the state railroad and warehouse commission, O. P. B. Jacobson of Fergus Falls, took office today, succeeding C. F. Staples, for many years a member of the commission, but recently appointed to the advisory rate board of the interstate commerce commission. Governor Eberhart appointed Mr. Jacobson from the state board of appeals, of which he was a member for three years. He is a candidate for the Republican nomination to succeed himself on the commission.

He was appointed a member of the board of appeals on account of his wide experience in grain matters.

Mr. Jacobson was born in Norway fifty-six years ago, and comes from an old family of ship owners in the eastern part of that country. After being graduated from college he became a sailor, and after going through the school of navigation, he sailed over the oceans of the world as a master's mate.

In the fall of 1884 he came to Fergus Falls, Minn., later becoming a commercial traveler, and afterwards a wheat buyer for the Farmers' Elevator at Fergus Falls, Minn. In 1908 he became a publisher of the old and well known Norwegian weekly, Fergus Falls Ugeblad, and was editor-in-chief of said paper until he was appointed a member of the board of grain appeals.

"HOME GARDEN" WEEK IN DULUTH

"Home Garden week" in Duluth will be May 4 to May 9.

During the week Prof. R. S. Mackintosh, horticultural specialist of the university farm, will be in the city and will give a course of instruction at the Y. M. C. A.

This course is designed to give practical information to those who want to cultivate a small plot of ground either for pleasure or profit and also to give information as to the best means of beautifying home surroundings, including the best methods of treatment of lawn, shrubs and trees.

Prof. Mackintosh will speak twice a day all next week at the Y. M. C. A. and any one interested in this work can get more detailed information by calling at the Y. M. C. A.

Some of the Neighborhood clubs of the city are considering attending this course, also many teachers of the public schools.

Grand Forks' Burglary.

NO DULUTH-SUPERIOR BATTLE IMPENDING.

We shall wish for the Superior Telegram a little clearer vision of the trilling controversy over the matter of bridging the St. Louis river.

We shall hope that it will not continue to think that The Herald, because it favors the Fond du Lac bridge and does not believe that a much needed road should be twisted absurdly out of its course to go over the steel plant bridge, harbors any ill will to Superior.

We shall hope that the Telegram will shortly be able to see that the construction of a direct highway from Duluth by way of the new steel plant and the Fond du Lac bridge to the farms of near-by Minnesota is one thing, and that the building of an approach to the steel plant bridge is another and very different thing.

What St. Louis county and Duluth are now engaged in is carrying out a very important plan for a road that will hook up near-by Minnesota farms with the rich market at the steel plant and in Duluth by the shortest practicable route.

To carry out this plan, the Fond du Lac bridge is necessary. The steel plant bridge will not do because it is entirely out of the way, and never was intended for such a purpose.

The proposal to build an approach to the steel plant bridge is another project entirely, and it is utterly unrelated to this one. With this approach St. Louis county has nothing whatever to do. When it is built, Duluth must build it: and Duluth will build it when it is needed and not before.

The Herald will not oppose the building of this approach when it is needed, merely because any set of real estate owners is against it.

The Herald will not advocate the building of this approach before it is needed, merely because another lot of real estate dealers believe it would help their exploitations.

St. Louis county now is engaged in building a direct road from Duluth and the steel plant to the farms of Carlton county, and it needs the Fond du Lac bridge for that purpose. It does not need and cannot use the steel plant bridge in its place.

The steel plant bridge approach is a bridge we shall cross when we come to it.

In the meantime, the Telegram should take something for a mild attack of hysteria caused by a bogey which does not exist.

Moreover, it will be wise to avoid trying to pull chestnuts out of hot fires for Duluth real estate exploiters.

This is the day when the term "movies" may apply to other people than picture show characters.

WHY IT WAS IMPOSSIBLE TO RECOGNIZE HUERTA.

Here and there you can run across the corner-store statesman who still declares that the president made a great mistake in not recognizing Huerta in the first place. The type is more numerous and respectable than you might think.

Of course that was one way to handle the situation. Some people no doubt would have handled it that way. We could have recognized Huerta, shut our eyes to the blood-stains on his title, forgotten the treachery by which he gained his power, averted our faces from the struggle in Mexico, and gone about our business. That is, we could have done these things if international complications had not speedily arisen so that we would have had to intervene or let some other power do it for us.

Henry Lane Wilson, the Taft ambassador to Mexico, recommended this course, you will recall. He has been going about the country since his dismissal saying it over and over again.

But it is unlikely that he will be heard from again now that the actual recommendations he made to President Wilson more than a year ago have been divulged. Their character explains why so many senators who might have been expected to agree with him have consistently failed to do so.

Boiled down, Henry Lane Wilson's recommendations were that this country recognize Huerta on six conditions. Only two of these are now important—the fifth and sixth.

The fifth condition was that Huerta should furnish evidence of his ability to restore peace and order south of the twenty-sixth parallel—that is, barely north of Torreon and Monterey. This is confession of his inability to harmonize all Mexico.

The sixth was that Huerta should grant permission to this country to send its troops over the border to restore order in Mexican territory north of the twenty-sixth parallel—that is, in the enormous territory controlled by the Constitutionalists.

What the unspeakable Wilson proposed, therefore, was not a mere recognition of Huerta, but a PARTNERSHIP with him! We were not merely to recognize him, but we were to send our troops in to conquer the Constitutionalists and crush the rebellion in the interests of Huerta.

It was only on such terms as these that Henry Lane Wilson, Huerta's friend, the man who admits having helped him to his bloodstained throne, proposed American recognition of Huerta.

Yet Henry Lane Wilson and all his followers who advocated recognition have never once, in the year that has passed since these recommendations reached the president, even hinted that there was to be anything less simple than plain recognition!

The recognition of Huerta which the corner-store statesman is still championing, then, meant a partnership with Huerta, a partnership with treachery and tyranny, a sharing of blood-guilt, a bloody crushing of the rebellion of the landless and disinherited Mexican patriots by American arms!

It will be strange indeed, now that the public knows what President Wilson knew when he rejected this infamous proposal, if we hear much more talk about recognizing Huerta.

Couldn't it all be settled by offering Huerta, Villa, Zapata and Carranza a vaudeville job as The Greaser Quartet?

THE NEW COLLECTOR AND THE OLD.

President Wilson yesterday sent to the senate the appointment of Harris Bennett of Duluth to be collector of customs for the district of Duluth and Superior.

The president is to be congratulated on this appointment. Mr. Bennett, though a young man, has lived in Duluth for twenty-five years, is perhaps as widely known as any resident of the city, and has a host of friends. He is active, well equipped mentally, and has a reputation for capacity and integrity that is without a stain. No appointment ever made in Duluth has been based on so large and impressive a set of indorsements as that which went into the treasury department with Mr. Bennett's recommendation. No man deserves better of the Democratic party, and it is rarely that political deserts and personal fitness are so clearly combined in one man.

When Mr. Bennett steps into the custom house, L. M. Willcuts, who has been collector of the port of Duluth for seventeen years, will step out. And that, even though the place will be capably filled, will be a loss. Mr. Willcuts has conducted the duties of his office with high ability, poise and good sense; and he has, moreover, carried these qualities into his citizenship. Fortunately, a change in collectors as the fortune of political war does not mean that Duluth will lose the services of this competent official and good citizen.

The Russian war department is planning on ordering three hundred and twenty-six ordinary aeroplanes and ten of the "Ilya murometz" type. Whatever those ten may be like, they would appear to be corkers, to say the least.

NOT ALL THE SUCKERS ARE MINNOWS.

Those who have invested a cargo of hopes in a glittering prospect, dreaming of sudden riches, only to have the prospect vanish and the cargo go ashore on some pirate isle, are many.

Many are those who despair of the slow methods of thrift and seek riches by the royal road of speculation. Many are those who despise a safe five or six per cent and lose a hundred per cent in a wild snatch for fifty per cent or five hundred.

And Duluth, sad to say, has its full share—more than its share, some say—of the disappointment that follows in about nine hundred thousand, nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of a million.

But it is some comfort to such sufferers to know that it is not the small fry alone that invest good money in worthless stock certificates, not valuable even for wallpaper.

D. O. Mills of New York and San Francisco died recently leaving something like forty million dollars.

The appraisers, in going over the estate, had to list as absolutely worthless 456,504 shares in twenty-one different corporations now dead or as good as dead.

And among these mementos of bad judgment is any amount of stock in worthless mining enterprises. The par value of these shares runs into millions. Their hoped-for value doubtless would aggregate riches beyond the most golden dreams. Their active value is—precisely what the present actual value is of a good many stocks into which Duluth people have put great hopes and much good money.

It is somewhat comforting, even if it is not a reimbursement, to know that not all the suckers are minnows.

Upton Sinclair's return to publicity stunts may even presage a successor to "The Jungle."

THE CASE FOR WORKINGMEN'S COMPENSATION.

If the ablest advocate of workingmen's compensation laws should put his best into a book, he could hardly make a better case for this modern system than this sentence by the chairman of the Wisconsin commission:

In 1910 it cost $450,000 to carry $150,000 to the injured workmen; in 1914 the injured workmen will receive $900,000 and the administration will cost less than $12,000.

There are, we understand, critics of the Minnesota workingmen's compensation law. Indeed, there are ugly rumors of more or less organized opposition to it—even talk of repeal.

There will be no repeal of that law—the wisest and best law Minnesota has adopted in many a year.

It was the best law on that subject it was possible to get at that session of the legislature.

It is not perfect—it would be miraculous indeed if so complex and important a law should spring into being in final and perfect form.

Practice will develop whatever deficiency oversight may have left. Wise counsel will devise amendments to supply these deficiencies.

Minnesota never will return to a system under which every dollar spent for the relief of injured workmen was split three ways—one-third for the ambulance-chaser, one-third in needless court costs, and one-third to the stricken worker.

Can't Representative Mann find something in the Baltimore platform that he can twist into a reference to the Mexican situation?

Villa

Editorial in the New York World.

Pancho Villa may have been a bandit and a cutthroat, as his enemies say, but he has kept faith with the United States. Everything he has said and done since this crisis began has tended to justify the confidence reposed in him by President Wilson.

Whatever the future may hold in its hand, the fact remains that the American people are at present under great obligations to Villa. He is the one strong, commanding military figure in Mexico, and he has exerted his influence to help this country carry out the demands made upon Huerta.

Villa was the first of the Mexican leaders on either side to give his unreserved approval to the mediation proposals. It was Villa who drew the poison from Carranza's mistranslated protest and made it harmless. A word from Villa would have turned 50,000 Constitutionalist troops against the United States the moment Vera Cruz was occupied; yet this so-called bandit has not only held his men in line but they have rendered praiseworthy services to this government.

It was a Constitutionalist army that rescued the American consul general at Monterey after he had been insulted, arrested and imprisoned by the Huerta forces. At Tampico the Constitutionalists renewed the attack upon the Federals when they found that American citizens were in danger. At Hermosillo, Consul Hostetter reports that the Constitutionalist commander is rendering every possible aid to Americans, even offering them financial assistance. No later than Sunday, Villa again publicly expressed his belief that the president of the United States has been "honest, sincere and patient in his dealings with my people, and I have every confidence in his honesty and his ability to bring about a permanent peace."

It is not Villa who is seizing American citizens and holding them as hostages. It is not Villa who is inflaming mobs against helpless noncombatant foreigners. That distinction is reserved for Huerta. Yet, strangely enough, even such critics of the administration as Gen. Tracy continue to complain because Mr. Wilson did not recognize Huerta, and some of the administration critics who have nothing at all to say in condemnation of Huerta's methods are as virulent as ever in their attacks upon Villa.

Villa may have done many things that cannot be defended; for anarchy is not likely to produce military leaders who are overnice in their methods of making warfare. But the man stands out as a strong, virile figure who commands the confidence of his followers in the highest degree and who seems capable of loyal and disinterested public service.

It must be plain to anybody of ordinary intelligence that Villa can simplify the American problem in Mexico or he can make it immeasurably more complicated. His friendship and influence may be worth thousands of troops to the United States in restoring order and re-establishing representative government in his unfortunate country.

Why, then, abuse him? Shall we be better off if Villa's friendship is alienated and his 50,000 armed veterans are turned against us?

The Understanding

From "The Things He Wrote To Her," by Richard Wightman, published by the Century company.

When you came into my life your girlhood lay behind you; you were a woman, fair and full and round, with a woman's heart and a woman's mind and a woman's point of view. Your lips, also, were the lips of a woman, and likewise your feelings and desires. There were numerous people in your world; you had seen different lands; you knew many things, and had been broadened and vitalized by experience. In other words, you had lived and longed to live more, and it was that, I think, which caught and held me.

You will remember that I have never asked you to tell me the story of those former days, never put a pencil in your hand and tried to get you to trace a map of your mental and affectional journeyings. This lack of curiosity on my part is due to my belief in a certain principle which I hold tenaciously and declare almost with fierceness—a woman is what she is, and must be considered apart from her environment and detached from all the former things in her life. For every woman, in order that she may be a woman, is dowered with sex, and sex is forever creating conditions which can never be satisfactorily explained before any minor judgment seat.

What I know of your life is what you have been pleased to tell me. You are the product of your yesterdays, and later will be the further product of your tomorrows. You hold your place in my life, not because of what you have been, but because of what you are, and what you may become. You need relate to me nothing. I desire neither apology nor explanation. I take you by and large and wager my all upon the quality of your womanhood, present and yet to be.

As for myself, this: There are things in every man's life which cannot be told, things which are made possible by the dross that was put into his making without his knowledge or consent, things whose telling would add not one whit to the happiness of his kind or the general good of the universe. And I am a man, with all that implies, and am glad of it, through and through. My past is like the common run, in that it is not all that it should have been, but it is my past, the best one I could make with the tools I had to work with, and I shall neither repudiate it nor wear myself thin regretting its imperfections. Whatever I know, it taught me, and I count my investment in its tuition the best I have ever made. It is better to aspire than to repine, and to be worthy of you, to have a place by your side in the lilt and onwardness of life, will be about the cleanest desire my heart can entertain.

And (I allmost forgot) what about those former days, yours and mine? I guess it would be well to seal the early volumes of our personal story and concern ourselves chiefly with the rest of the set.

Shall we strike hands and call it a bargain?

At the Arsenal at Springfield.

This is the Arsenal. From floor to ceiling,
Like a huge organ, rise the burnished arms;
But from their silent pipes no anthem pealing
Startles the villages with strange alarms.

Ah! what a sound will rise, how wild and dreary,
When the death-angel touches those swift keys!
What loud lament and dismal Miserere
Will mingle with their awful symphonies!

I hear even now the infinite fierce chorus,
The cries of agony, the endless groan,
Which, through the ages that have gone before us,
In long reverberations reach our own.

On helm and harness rings the Saxon hammer,
Through Cimbric forest roars the Norseman's song,
And loud, amid the universal clamor,
O'er distant deserts sounds the Tartar gong.

I hear the Florentine, who from his palace
Wheels out his battle-bell with dreadful din,
And Aztec priests upon their teocallis
Beat the wild war-drums made of serpent's skin;

The tumult of each sacked and burning village;
The shout that every prayer for mercy drowns;
The soldiers' revels in the midst of pillage;
The wail of famine in beleaguered towns;

The bursting shell, the gateway wrenched asunder,
The rattling musketry, the clashing blade;
And ever and anon, in tones of thunder
The diapason of the cannonade.

Is it, O man, with such discordant noises,
With such accursed instruments as these,
Thou drownest Nature's sweet and kindly voices,
And jarrest the celestial harmonies?

Were half the power that fills the world with terror,
Were half the wealth bestowed on camps and courts,
Given to redeem the human mind from error,
There were no need of arsenals or forts.

The warrior's name would be a name abhorred!
And every nation, that should lift again
Its hand against a brother, on its forehead
Would wear forevermore the curse of Cain!

Down the dark future, through long generations,
The echoing sounds grow fainter and then cease;
And like a bell, with solemn, sweet vibrations,
I hear once more the voice of Christ say, "Peace!"

Peace! and no longer from its brazen portals
The blast of War's great organ shakes the skies!
But beautiful as songs of the immortals,
The holy melodies of love arise.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Here is a little tale of political intrigue, the facts for which are furnished by Representative Martin B. Madden of Illinois and denied, in part, by Representative Timothy Ansberry of Ohio, who happens to be the hero of the story.

Ansberry was about to run for his third term in congress a few years ago, and he was fretful over the fact that there was a great prejudice in his district against a man remaining in congress for more than two consecutive terms.

He went about among his fellow-statesmen, seeking counsel, and in due course appealed to Morris Sheppard, now a senator from Texas, who is a young man of much political sapience.

"Well, let's see," mused Sheppard. "Now, as I understand it, you want a third term for congress and the rule out your way is against such a thing. Ah, yes; 'tis a serious case, but perhaps I can help you." And he began to knit his brows perplexedly, like a physician diagnosing a case of hives.

"Haven't you any rivers out that way?" asked Sheppard. "You know, there's nothing that will please a body of constituents more readily than to see a congressman showing a kind interest in a river."

"Oh, yes, we have a river," replied Ansberry, with pride; "it is called the Maumee, and they're talking of having it excavated some way to connect Lake Erie with Lake Michigan. In fact, there's an organization to boost that work along and—"

"There you have it," interrupted Sheppard. "I knew there must be a way."

"There I have what?" queried Tim.

"The way to get your third term. All you have to do is get yourself made president of that waterway association, and no one would think of voting against a man who is so prominently connected with a movement to improve a nice little river."

Several months now are supposed to have elapsed, and we take up the thread of our fascinating little story shortly after Tim, with the help of his fellow congressmen in several lake cities, is made president of the waterway association which proposed to improve the Maumee. Plans are afoot for the organization of a local chapter of the association in Tim's town. Tim presides at a big meeting, and the principal speaker is Martin Madden of Chicago, who now furnishes us with our data for this tale.

Madden speaks for a moment or two about waterway improvements in a general way, and then goes on to say that regardless of waterways all would be well with the district if the voters would simply keep an able person like Mr. Ansberry as their representative in congress—that they should take advantage of the opportunity to have such an excellent man in Washington.

There are several other speeches to follow, but when Madden has finished his remarks Tim gets up and addresses the people, so Madden says, substantially as follows:

"Gentlemen, that will close the exercises for this evening. If you will just pass out now in a quiet and orderly manner, without needless crowding," etc.

And the meeting disperses. Madden turns to Tim in astonishment when it was all over, and asks:

"What did you mean by breaking the thing up so soon? Why, there were three or four other speeches to be given, and you hadn't even elected local officers yet."

"Oh, well," explains Tim, "I had got all I wanted out of it, and it looks a little like rain, and I saw no need of keeping the good people away from their homes any longer."

Representative Claude Weaver of Oklahoma is an eloquent and scholarly talker, and in addition he talks with a great many gestures. They are characterisfic gestures and sometimes the atmosphere all about him is punched full of holes made by his two index fingers as his hands work in unison. The day after he spoke in regard to Panama canal tolls, Weaver asked another colleague: "Did you hear my speech?"

"No," replied the other man, "I was sitting too far away to hear it, but I distinctly saw it."

They were having a heated political convention out in Kansas, as Victor Murdock tells the story, and two men from rival delegations got into a serious personal dispute.

"Oh, you're crazy!" shouted one.

"I'm not crazy!" denied the other.

"But you are crazy!"

"I can prove I'm not crazy, and that's more'n you can do."

"Let's see you prove it, then."

Whereupon the man who was accused of being crazy pulled from an inside pocket his discharge papers from a nearby insane asylum.

Plant Trees.

Chicago Journal: A noted philanthropist once said: "If I knew that I should die tomorrow, I should plant a tree today." He did not mean that tree planting was the sort of action to be deferred as long as possible; he counted it rather a deed with which one might make a good farewell to earth—and who shall say that he was not right?

There is nothing more beautiful, more dignified, more valuable in the broadest sense of the word than a fine old tree. There are few things more lasting. The splendid cathedrals of the thirteenth century are kept in condition only by constant and loving repairs, but many an oak that marked the landscape when the cornerstone of Amiens was laid is alive still. New England settlers moved elms from the woods to their dooryards and roadsides almost three centuries ago—and the same trees are there today. The few "cedars of Lebanon" which still mark the site of forests from which the ships of Tarshish were built may number in their thinning ranks individuals which saw the march of Godfrey de Bouillon and the countermarch of Saladin.

Plant trees. Do not wait for the government to reforest some distant mountains. Reforest as much of your own holdings as you may. You have no better chance of satisfaction now and grateful remembrance later than may be found in planting trees.

"That's John Drew!"

Chicago Inter Ocean: John Drew doesn't object to telling a story on himself. Mr. Drew was standing in a theater lobby one night when he noticed that two pretty milliner's apprentices were observing him. In awed tones one announced to her companion: "That's John Drew."

Mr. Drew, aware that he was in the spotlight, preened himself and struck an attitude. But he wilted the next moment when he overheard the other girl exclaim:

"For Gawd's sake!"

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Press Comments on Current Events.

No Relation.

Princeton Union: Newspaper men are warned by the Fergus Falls Journal not to confound the recently appointed member of the state railroad and warehouse commission, O. P. B. Jacobson, with the Lac qui Parle statesman, Hon. J. F. Jacobson. The last mentioned Jacobson does not wear an administration collar.

And Just Reason for Pride.

Albert Lea Standard: President Wilson's notable triumph in the house of representatives in the fight for the repeal of canal tolls exemption is not only a signal victory for American honor and justice but it is also a stinging rebuke to the insidious and persistent ship subsidy advocates, who hide their true colors under arguments for the integrity of party platforms and demagogic appeals to racial and party passions. Minnesota has cause for self-congratulation in that every one of her representatives except Smith and Manahan stood by the president and that nearly all of the leading papers in the state, regardless of party, were earnest advocates of this policy.

And Personally Conducted Him on the Trip.

La Porte News: Governor Eberhart has addressed a letter to the governors of various other states asking them for their influence in securing the digging of a canal from Duluth to the Twin Cities. After election he will find that the voters have dug a canal from St. Paul to Salt Creek, and given him a free ticket of transportation.

Right You Are, Mrs. Stone!

Rush City Post: Platforms are easily made by prospective candidates. The question is, will they abide by them if successful? The voter should study the man behind before parting with his precious ballot. Talk is very cheap and a man's real character is revealed by his every day life. Oratory is not the only requisite necessary to a good public official.

An Impenetrable Mystery.

Mahnomen Pioneer: It has been figured out that with both Hammond and Lawler candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor there will be a falling off of the Eberhart vote. This may be so but the proposition looks illogical on the face of it. It has always been something of a mystery how so many Republicans could vote for Eberhart, let alone the Democrats.

The Tribune's a Great Joker.

Long Prairie Leader: If you do not think the Eberhart organization is badly worried, read the Minneapolis Tribune, recognized mouthpiece of the organization. After reading the wild surmises and noting the erratic and apparent floundering about for a "lead," it will be difficult to make the people of Minnesota believe that the machine leaders are not desperate. Unless the Eberhart managers, able and resourceful as the people know them to be, are not absolutely up against it, they would have never taken the chance of trifling with the intelligence of the voters as they did the other day when they had the Tribune run a scare head story to the effect that the brewery Democrats were trying to pull Lawler out of the race for the Democratic nomination so that that element could be free at the primaries to enter the Republican primaries and vote against Eberhart.

A Mighty Serious Proposition.

Waseca Herald: It is generally conceded that the extravagance of the present state administration is in a measure responsible for the high taxes this year. Real estate taxes must be paid by May 31. Are the men whose pocketbooks will be depleted on that date liable to be in a friendly mood towards Governor Eberhart when they vote at the primary election on June 16? Draw your own conclusion, gentle reader.

The Wilson Dam Is Safety

Letter from the New York banking house of Housman & Co.: Let us not hope to fool ourselves!

Men have never been stupid enough to try build a dam of mortar and stones so high that the water could not get over the top; but they have often built the dam of opposition so high that radical public sentiment has swept it away. A dam is a very important contrivance. It is a wonderful aid to industrial progress, and water that otherwise would go to waste is restrained and made to perform work to earn its release; but to attempt to stop it altogether is to lose the dam. It is so with opposition. That, too, is an aid to progress—moral and social progress—if it attempts only to restrain the current and utilize its power for good; but if it attempts to stop it, flood and all, it will be swept away.

We talk about radical legislation at Washington as if it were the cause of all our ills, and especially the cause of the absence of business from the stock exchange and the distrust people have of securities. We forget that the effects complained of might be owing, in part, or very largely, to causes nearer home—too much New Haven, too much Rock Island and too much Frisco. Surely these are things that have been calculated to hurt the business of the stock exchange and to create distrust in the minds of investors.

And when we talk of radical legislation, we talk principally of what we fear. Nothing very bad has yet happened to us. The threat of destructive measures is chronic; we have been hearing it always. It is only the water that goes over the top of the dam and makes the most noise. The necessary thing is that it should be able to go over.

As we see it, President Wilson is as much less radical as he is more intelligent than the average of his party. He is acting as a dam. He knows enough to let the angry water go over. If, on top of him, we pile opposition so high that the flood is held back, it will rise only higher and higher behind our obstructions and break through at last with wild force. It will rise in silence and we may fool ourselves through our ears. Silent water piling higher is very dangerous; radical public sentiment, thwarted and pent up, will be all the more unreasonable when at last it comes through.

We are unable to share in the desperately despondent view of politics now prevailing in finance. More important, we believe, is the progress that is making toward the rehabilitation of properties that have been financially wrecked, without the assistance of politicians, and the very rare promise of crops. The winter wheat outlook has never been so good before.

Feminine.

Puck: "Is there much competition in your office?" asked Miss Skittles.

"Sure," replied the facetious Miss Skids. "Between the mirror and the clock."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1894.

The great procession of the Commonweal army under Coxey to the capitol at Washington took place today. Before leaving Brightwood Heights, where they were encamped, Carl Browne put them through military evolutions of a strange character. All the men carried staves on which fluttered white flags with the motto: "Peace on Earth, Good Will Towards Men, But Death to Interest on Bonds." Gen. Coxey was arrested while trying to make a speech from the capitol steps, but was released later. Marshal Browne and Christopher Columbus Jones were placed under arrest for violation of the special act of congress against assemblages on the capitol grounds, and will be arraigned in police court tomorrow.

Senator Francis B. Stockbridge of Michigan died suddenly last evening at the residence of his son-in-law at Chicago.

Herndon O. Barlow of Duluth has been granted a patent for a vegetable slicer.

L. W. Rolleston has taken a position as cashier at the Spalding hotel. He comes from Moorhead, where he was connected with the Grand Pacific hotel for six months, and previous to that was with the Merchants at St. Paul.

The Great Western Manufacturing company at West Duluth has a new manager, George Watson, formerly of Milwaukee, where he was connected with the Bucyrus Steam Shovel and Dredge company.

The wedding of H. B. Wallace and Miss Lou A. Wilson, well-known West Duluth young people, will take place this month.

Saeger & Gunnis of West Duluth will start up their brickyard about May 15 with forty men.

Fred Holland, tester at the Great Western Electrical works, had one hand badly burned at the works yesterday.

Frank Hatton, editor of the Washington Post, died last evening. He was postmaster general in President Arthur's cabinet.

Orlando Smith of Duluth has invented an automatic brake for use on incline railways. He has prepared a model and taken it to Boston, where a company has offered a prize of $3,000 for the first practical invention of the kind.

It was warmer in Duluth yesterday, the temperature reaching 70 degs. in the afternoon, after hovering around 45 degs. all the month.

Cassius H. Bagley, who is with F. D. Day, has gone to Chicago to complete a course in the School of Optics.

Toning Up the Lake Cities.

New York World: Chicago dressmakers, modistes and milliners purpose to send forth on or about July 1 a "fashion steamer," carrying as its chief cargo a various assortment of fashion's latest masterpieces of Chicago production, and as its chief passenger list an array of models, choice Chicago beauties, to wear the garments, swing them with style, and induce the smart set in the cities and pleasure resorts around the lakes to get into the procession and help Chicago shine.

The plan in itself is not a novelty. Nothing is new in this world. Parisian fashioners of feminine garmentings have long since found it profitable to send forth ladies of form and grace to display the season's creations at Cairo, Monte Carlo, Longchamps, Chantilly, and even New York. Paris, however, has never risen to the Chicago height of combining all of these separated beauties and making an excursion of them with a steamer of their own and doubtless a brass band as well. That is where American bigness improves on Parisian genius, enlarging it to proportions that command admiration even from those who have no appreciation of art.

That the arrival of the steamer with the beautiful models will be well received by the authorities of all cities along the unsalted seas from Duluth to Buffalo is easy to foresee. Mayors, aldermen and members of chambers of commerce will be promptly present to extend a welcome. It is not so easy to forecast the attitude of the ladies toward the visiting fashionettes. Perhaps Milwaukee will adopt Chicago fashions; also, perhaps not. The experiment, however, is well worth making. It will make summer time happier on the Great Lakes.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the letter. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

ANSWER PROBLEM.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In your edition of April 28 we noticed the following problem published in the Open Court, submitted by T. F. F.: "If a ship is sailing due northeast at a rate of ten miles an hour, find the rate at which she is moving due north and also due east."

We herewith submit our solution:

By setting off two points, A and C, and then joining them with a line and calling that line A C, or the distance traveled by the boat in one hour, it would be equal to ten miles. By using this line as the base and dividing it equally by a perpendicular line, laid off to equal a half of A C, we have a right angle. Then by drawing the connecting line, or hypotenuse, we have a right angled triangle, of which the two equal sides are five miles.

The problem is then to find the length of this hypotenuse, which is done by the geometrical equation of the square of the hypotenuse being equal to the squares of the other two sides. Therefore, the square of five plus the square of five is equal to fifty. Taking the square root of fifty, we have 7 1-14 miles plus, or the rate the boat is traveling due east and by a similar triangle formed by an opposite perpendicular, we find the same rate due north.

CANNOT BE MADE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In regard to that "cribbage hand," have played the game for the last twenty-five years and feel safe to say that hands 19, 25, 26 and 27 cannot be made without using more than five cards. Respectfully yours,

TIME TO ACT.

To the Editor of The Herald:

My eyes are opened. I wonder if others in Duluth are as amazed as I! That the lighthouse keeper should ever be compelled to shut off the light that insures safety; that no underground or electrical connection should be possible; that vessels in sore distress should be unable to find the harbor when in the grip of our fearful storms; that the controlling powers, having authority to make public such conditions, knew and kept silence—this gave me pause.

And what are you going to do about it now, gentlemen? You who are nearest to the power or the purse that controls? Have we risked enough? It is easy to risk other people's lives. Have we lost enough? Some property has been sacrificed. Have we attracted enough outside attention to the astonishing facts?

Only in the face of certain death could our lighthouse keeper have attempted his duties under the conditions created for him. So Duluth had practically no range lights, no guide for mariners when it was most needed. We were quite disturbed by the storm. It was annoying to hear the restless wind scream and howl. It made us nervous and we turned in our warm beds and felt sorry for ourselves that we should be kept awake.

Outside, perhaps near enough to see the lights in our homes, twenty men fought the tempest and were conquered. "Darkness, oblivion like the wave has swept over them and no one may know the story of their end."

What are you going to do about it, citizens, you, whose will is law? Can you locate responsibility? Duluth has many excellent lawyers. Can you arrange matters on a better basis by legislation? If so, pray be up and doing. May God save us from lethargy and inaction when there is man's work to do and an imminent need! Respectfully,

AN OPEN COURTIER.

WANTS HOUSING CODE AMENDED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Several letters, objecting to the new housing code, have lately been written to the Open Court. By investigating the provisions of this ordinance a person will easily get persuaded that these comments are in a great measure justified.

We fully believe that this rule was established in good faith with the intention to do away with the former evil in regard to regulations on construction of buildings and the earnestness to do so the framers unintentionally overlooked some important points that should have been considered. It is not yet too late, however, to revise this housing rule so that it can be complied with. Although we realize that we want regulation, experience tells us that we want a code that is more compromising than the present one, one that is less complicated and that does not tend to work so much hardship on people who are making homes, a code that can reasonably be enforced and not be constantly violated of necessity.

Under the old government, people built houses to which they intended to make additions when they could afford to do so, but the housing code has put many of them in an awkward position because when they now need more space they are forbidden to make additions on account of either being too close to the line or something in the plan of the original structure that does not agree with the provisions. At the same time some of the provisions demand a certain number of cubic feet of space for each person while other provisions forbid to enlarge the space. All provisions demand compliance, and according to this, when the family increases, if the ordinance is not to be violated, the family will have to be divided and part of it be housed elsewhere.

The housing code has a more far-reaching and serious effect than many suppose. Some sections, one of them is section 75, place so much power in department whose duty it is to apply exercise this authority it would be disastrous to some, and a violation of the principle regarding the right to security in person and home. It can't be denied that this ordinance will have many bad effects, and till it is revised will cause much bitterness and bad feelings between the citizens and the departments whose duty it is to apply the same, and this department's position is most certainly not to be envied.

It is entirely meaningless to persist on maintaining this rule any longer in its unaltered condition and our commissioners should get busy and give it attention. Our city government, like any other government, is instituted to secure the inalienable rights of the people, not to establish rules that violate these rights. We are willing to co-operate with our administration in any effort for the betterment of our city and we will stand behind our commissioners on any proposition on laws founded on such principles as will seem most likely to effect the safety and happiness of the people of our city.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Paul, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The supreme court of Minnesota today rendered the following decisions:

Ramsey County.

State of Minnesota, respondent: vs. Chicago Great Western R. R. Co., appellant—

1. Chap. 433 Laws 1913, prohibiting the shipment of cream over any railroad in this state for a greater distance than sixty-five miles, held to apply to all railroad companies doing business in the state, and to shipments arising without and terminating within, as well as to those originating within and terminating without the state, and as such an unreasonable interference with and prohibition of interstate commerce and void.

Judgment reversed. BROWN, C. J.

Fillmore County.

State ex rel Thomas J. Meighen, appellant, vs. George E. Weatherill, county auditor, respondent—

1. Section 23, article 4, of the Constitution which provides that the legislature "shall have power" to reapportion the legislative districts at its first session after a state or Federal census, construed as imposing a duty upon the legislature to make such reapportionment, and if not made at the first session after such census, that it is competent for the legislature to do so at some subsequent session.

2. Precincts 8 and 9 of the ninth ward of the city of St. Paul, are by the terms of the act expressly placed in the first representative district of the Thirty-eighth senatorial district, and are therefore necessarily within and a part of that senatorial district.

3. Section 2, article 4, of the Constitution, providing that senatorial and representative districts shall be apportioned equally throughout the state according to the population thereof, does not require that each district contain the same number of inhabitants.

4. The legislature is vested with a wide discretion in forming such districts, with which the courts will not interfere except when there has been a clear and arbitrary departure from the requirement of equality.

5. A mere variance in the population of such districts is not alone suffcient to justify declaring the apportionment unconstitutional.

Order affirmed. BROWN, C. J.

Ramsey County.

Leonard Batroot, respondent, vs. St. Paul City Railway Company, appellant—

In this action to recover damages to an automobile caused in a collision with a street car, it is held that a finding that plaintiff was not guilty of contributory negligence is not sustained by the evidence.

Ordere reversed and new trial granted. BUNN. J.

Stearns County.

State of Minnesota, respondent, vs. Dr. A. J. Kaufman, appellant—

On a prosecution for the offense of carnal knowledge of a child, evidence of conduct on the part of defendant tending to destroy the child's modesty and physically to prepare her for coition, held admissable.

Evidence held sufficient to sustain the conviction.

Order affirmed. PHILIP E. BROWN, J.

Hennepin County.

Henry W. Benton, respondent, vs. County of Hennepin et al, appellant—

Revised Laws 1905, section 4365, as amended by Laws 1913, chapter 474, does not contemplate certification of questions to this court, but merely saves the right of appeal from an order overruling a demurrer upon the conditions prescribed thereby, the case being revisable here the same as prior to the amendment.

Under Laws 1911, chapter 254, a board of county commissioners can neither omit assessments of benefits upon property subject thereto under the act and obligate the county to pay one-half of the cost of the road, nor pay, in whole or in part, such assessments when made.

An order of a board of county commissioners establishing a state rural highway under this law is not affected by the amount to the county's credit in the state road-and bridge fund for the current year.

Order affirmed. PHILIP E. BROWN, J.

Hennepin County.

A. F. Chase & Company, respondents, vs. Gladys Kelly, appellant—

A contract for the sale of an automobile by plaintiff to defendant stipulated that the title should remain in plaintiff until the purchase price was paid in full according to certain promissory notes then given by defendant, and that if default was made in the payments the seller had right to take possession of the machine. After default plaintiff, having obtained possession, refused to deliver up the car to defendant until the overdue payments were made, and finally sued on the notes representing the balance of the unpaid purchase price. The defendant answered, admitted the execution of the notes, alleged neither payment nor failure of consideration, but set up a counter-claim for depriving her of the possession and use of the automobile for a long period prior to the commencement of the action. It is held; that since defendant was in default plaintiff's possession was not wrongful until it began suit, and therefore the court promtly limited recovery on the counter-claim to the time subsequent thereto.

No prejudicial error occurred in the reception of evidence, nor in denying defendant's request to amend the answer. HOLT, J.

Order affirmed.

Hennepin County.

H. E. Fryberger, et al., appellants, vs. Swan Anderson, et al., respondents—

Plaintiff's application to amend the findings of the trial court held properly refused. Decision in Fryberger vs. Anderson, 122 Minn., 97, as to the rights of the parties to this action, followed.

2. One of the trustees made application for an allowance for services as attorney for the trustees. The order denying the application is sustained. The trust agreement forbade the trustees to incur any expense in connection with the trust, except upon order of a judge of the district court or the consent of all the beneficiaries. No order of court was ever made, and under the evidence the court might fairly find that there was no express or implied assent of the beneficiaries. When an attorney is involved with others as a party to a law suit, and his interest in the litigation is large and in a measure antagonistic to that of the others, an agreement on their part to pay him for his services will not readily be implied.

3. Formal findings of fact are not required on an interlocutory motion for allowance of attorney's fees for trustees. HALLAM, J.

Order affirmed.

Hennepin County.

William C. Sinclair, as Sinclair Advertising company, respondent, vs. Investors Sydicate, appellant—

The trial court directed a verdict for defendant and subsequently granted a new trial on the ground that the case should have been submitted to the jury. Under the evidence it was a question for the jury whether the contract in controversy was made for and on behalf of defendant; and, if made on behalf of defendant, it was also a question for the jury whether the one so making it had apparent authority from defendant to do so; and, if made on behalf of defendant and under such apparent authority, it was likewise a question for the jury whether plaintiff entered into and performed it reying in good faith upon such authority.

Order aflirmed. TAYLOR, C.

CALLS LABOR CONVENTION

W. E. McEwen Sends Out Official Notification of Duluth Meeting.

W. E. McEwen, secretary-treasurer of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor, is today sending out the official call for the annual convention of that organization, to be held in Duluth July 20, 21 and 22.

It is expected that more than 500 delegates will attend the meetings in Duluth this summer, together with a large number of fraternal delegates from the state federations in Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, North Dakota and Missouri.

E. J. Hall, president of the state federation of labor, was in Duluth during this week and completed arrangements for the issuing of the call. Nothing further has been done by the officers of the federation, although officials are now negotiating with railroads in the Twin Cities for a special train to and from the convention.

A headquarters hotel will be selected within a few weeks and arrangements for accommodating the 500 delegates will also be made. A tentative program for the convention will also be announced. This will include an excursion ride to Two Harbors, a moonlight excursion, a trip to the steel plant, a boulevard drive and a banquet. A woman's committee is also to be appointed to arrange for the entertainment of the wives of the delegates.

The call sent out today announces that the credentials committee will meet in Duluth on Sunday, July 19, and will remain in session for two days.

CARPENTERS WANT SCALE INCREASED

Ask Builders' Exchange for Minimum Basis of Fifty Cents.

Members of the Duluth Carpenters' union are negotiating with the builders' exchange for a minimum wage scale of 50 cents an hour, the present scale being 45 cents an hour.

The matter was taken up this week by the scale committee of the union and although no settlement has been reached, it is believed that the carpenters and officials of the exchange will come to some satisfactory agreement. The labor committee from the builders' exchange is now considering the request for an increase and, it is expected, will announce its decision within a few days.

The members of the exchange labor committee declared at a meeting of the union this week that they have no power to act, although several members declared their willingness to increase the present scale to 47½ cents an hour. In regard to making 50 cents an hour the minimum scale, they said they are unable to act without the authority of the exchange.

The members of the union are confident of securing their desired increase in wages.

SOCIALISTS WILL OBSERVE MAY DAY

Big Celebration at Auditorium Preceded By Parade; All Branches Join.

Duluth Socialists will celebrate May day with a big mass meeting at the Auditorium tonight, preceded by a parade by the membership of all branches of the party in the city, which includes the English, Scandinavian, Finnish and Jewish.

May 1 is International Labor day and will be celebrated as such in practically every city in Europe and America.

The line of march will begin at the postoffice building, going west to Sixth avenue, thence to Superior street and to the Auditorium.

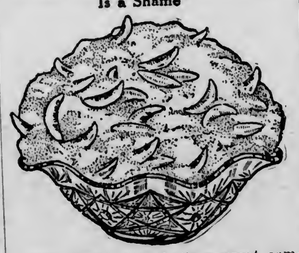
Prof. John D. Ohsol will deliver the principal address. Other speakers will be J. Sichten, who will speak in Jewish and W. Mossberg in Scandinavian. There will also be a speaker in the Finnish language.

It is thought there will be resolutions presented at the meeting protesting against acts committed in the mining district of Colorado, as well as defining the Socialist position with regard to the trouble in Mexcio.

The parade will begin sharply at 7:30 and the open meeting at the Auditorium is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Snow-Mellow

"What I'll Do To That Snow-Mellow Is a Shame"



Um!! Um!!—but that's a great combination—sliced oranges with Snow-Mellow. It's so creamy and delicious you could fairly make a meal of it. On coffee and chocolate, Snow-Mellow is fine; on shortcakes, pies and charlottes, it's a dream. Wherever whipped cream is good, whipped Snow-Mellow is better. It can be used with acid fruits that would curdle and sour whipped cream. Snow-Mellow makes wonderful cake filling and many dainty desserts. Twenty-eight original recipes and a patented beater go free with every box of Snow-Mellow. Every 25c box makes seven desserts, for four to six people. Buy Snow-Mellow at your grocer's—price 25c—or sent direct with free recipe book and beater, upon receipt of price, if you send your grocer's name, by Frank & Houren, Sales Agts., 623 South Wabash Ave., Chicago.

OLIVER COMPANY SETTLES CLAIMS

Will Pay Sums of $1,651 and $875 Under Compensation Act.

Frank Bosnich, administrator of the estate of John Nadilo, who was accidentally killed Feb. 3 at the North Uno mine, Hibbing, aged 22, will collect $1,551.16 from the Oliver Iron Mining company on a claim for wrongful death. The money will be divided between a father, who lives in Hibbing, and a mother, in Dalmatia, Austria. Settlement under the workmen's compensation act was approved in district court yesterday.

While employed Nov. 14 last at the Genoa mine, Andrew Barac, 56, Sparta, sustained a fracture and severe laceration of his right arm. A settlement for $875.09 offered by the Oliver Iron Mining company, was also approved in court yesterday.

TWO NEW FIRMS FILE ARTICLES

One Will Build and Buy Houses; Other Open Store.

The Suburban Home Building company, organized to engage in the selling, buying and building of houses, filed articles of incorporation yesterday afternoon with the register of deeds. The capital stock of the company is $50,000 and the incorporators and officers are Clara E. Spink, president; C. O. McClelland, vice president, and R. H. Fryberger, secretary-treasurer.

John A. Kennedy of Virginia, George W. Bliven of Chisholm and Vera Dahlstrom of Chisholm are incorporators of the Kennedy-Bliven company, which filed articles of incorporation yesterday with the register of deeds. The company is organized to engage in a wholesale and retail 5, 10 and 25-cent store at Chisholm.

PANAMA AND PEACE TREATIES HELD UP

Bryan Will Not Submit Them During Mexican Trouble.

Washington, May 1.—All efforts to obtain immediate ratification by the senate of the treaty with Colombia providing for the payment of $25,000,000 by the United States to end the ten-year dispute over the secession of Panama, and which gives that country's warships the free use of the Panama canal, have practically been abandoned by the administration pending the settlement of the difficulties with Mexico.

Secretary Bryan, it was understood, does not contemplate sending the treaty, which has already been signed by representatives of the Colombian state department to the senate at the present time. Many senators declare that opposition to ratification is so strong that the upper house's approval could hardly be obtained at this session.

Although the sentiment in the senate on the new peace treaties being negotiated by Secretary Bryan is not so well defined, it is believed that they also will be held in abeyance.

DAUGHTERS OF 1812 PLAN FLAG MEMORIAL.

Hartford, Conn., May 1.—A star spangled banner memorial, to be established by the Daughters of 1812 and to be presented to the nation when the Maryland chapter observes the centennial of the writing of the patriotic hymn in September, is proposed in a resolution introduced by Mrs. B. L. Whitney of Detroit, which was adopted by the associate council of the society in national session here.

LEHIGH VALLEY ANSWERS FILED.

New York, May 1.—The Lehigh Valley Railroad company and other defendants have filed their answer to the government's suit for the dissolution of the existing relations between the railroad company and the various coal producing companies.

The answer is a general denial to the allegations of a combination in restraint of trade or any infringements of the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law.

BENEFIT OF BREAKWATER

Capt. Alex McDougall Urges Pressing Need for Harbor Protection.

Shows Where Terrible Calamity to Fleet Is Possible Any Fall.

Capt. Alex McDougall, who was first and foremost a few years ago, in advocating the construction of a breakwater to protect the harbor entrance, is again advocating it; and this time with more force to the argument given by the storm of Tuesday and the consequent damage done. In talking to The Herald about it, the captain said:

"Tuesday's storm was caused by a 50-mile gale. The Matnafa gale was about 70 miles an hour. We have had many that were more than 70 miles per hour, and thick with snow. During such a gale any vessel within 50 miles of Duluth must find and enter the piers or go ashore.

Horrible Proof of Need.

"If those who helped to defeat the Duluth breakwater idea four years ago were at our entry Tuesday and saw the storm waves from Lake Superior in the jaws of the piers, they would be ashamed of the course they pursued to defeat that plan of a breakwater then in favor with the commission of engineers and vouched for by all the marine men of the port. If the knockers had kept hands off, the breakwater would now be in place, extending out from Twentieth avenue east one mile into the lake, so its outer end would be about one mile from the canal entrance, and shelter it, thus giving the assurance of safety to that which now stands as one of the most dangerous conditions on the Great Lakes, because of the lake formation and its bearing on the entrance to the Duluth-Superior harbor.

Northeast Storms.

"Our greatest storms come from the northeast and we get one of these every few years, generally in the fall and with snow. The worst feature of them is that the ship master cannot see but a short distance. But in such storms as that of Tuesday, if he is near the west end of Lake Superior he must go on before it to the end. Now let us imagine the great current that runs in and out of the entry at Duluth and Superior. This current, meeting the waves at the entry, makes such a chopped up sea that it is about impossible to handle a large ship in such a narrow entrance, and she is likely to go onto the piers at the entry.

A Possible Catastrophe.

"Now think of a great fleet—it may be 50 to 100 vessels—in shelter at the east end of the lake, from northwest storms and after it is over all start for Duluth and when about 100 miles out a northeast storm with snow comes up so that vessels are running before it and in order to find an entry, go cautiously along the north shore where they can see lights or hear fog whistles to guide them along to the Duluth entry. Being near the north shore it is easier to find Duluth than Superior which would bring their course six or more miles further from the north shore, and they naturally choose to try the Duluth entry. Thus they come on and one of them breaks up in trying to make the Duluth entry. All that follow may come on, there is no way to warn them, and they pile up on the first wreck. It is awful to think what is possible to happen here. If there were a breakwater as planned for, there would be shelter for the entrance for the canal and an outside harbor for anchorage until the storm would abate.

"Duluth should do its utmost to get a remedy for this great danger at as early a date as possible.

"The engineering department has been for three years dumping sand on the line of this proposed breakwater and has now reduced the cost of making such a breakwater very much; and it is hoped that vessel interests will awaken to this condition and help to get a reconsideration of the original plan and have the breakwater built and thus avert the possibility of such a great calamity as may occur any fall with the harbor in its present condition."

BROKE LAST YEAR; IS WORTH $83,000

Borrows $6, Goes to Alaska, Gets Three Good Claims.

Portland, Ore., May 1.—Dead broke less than a year ago and working at odd jobs cleaning basements and yards in this city and now worth $83,000, all of which was secured through his own efforts, is the experience of W. B. Connell, an Alaska miner.

To H. A. Davie, deputy city attorney of this city, is largely due much of his credit for the good fortune which has befallen the lucky miner. Connell came to Davis last July with the story that he knew Judge Davie, the local attorney's father, who was formerly a judge in British Columbia. He had a hard-luck story and pleaded for work. Davie gave him some odd jobs cleaning the yard and basement in his home, for which he paid the man $2.

After the work was completed the stranger asked for $6 for railway fare to Seattle, from which place he intended to go to Alaska. The man appeared to be honest, and he gave Connell $6.

That was the last heard of the man until a few days ago, when he received a letter written from the White Horse river, Yukon territory. Connell said that he had reached Alaska and had gone to the Chisana gold fields, and there had located on three claims.

"I have sold the three claims," writes Connell, "to a New York syndicate for $83,000; $12,000 cash, $40,000 in three months and the remainder in six months. So, taking everything into consideration, I have not done so awfully bad since last July, when I was flat broke. I shall certainly make it my business to visit Portland and see you and your family. I have a notion to quit the mining game, as $83,000 will keep me if I use it as it should be used.

"By the way, I have a couple of nuggets to send you and your wife and also one for your sister. I often thought of you and Mrs. Davie. She was very kind to me when I was cleaning out your basement. This is a real happening in a miner's life—broke one day and plenty of money the next."

Concluding his letter, Connell said the Chisana country was no place for a poor man, because all the claims were staked and prices of everything are "sky high."

The earliest attempt at sewing by machinery of which there is any authentic record was in 1775, in which year a machine was patented in England by Charles F. Weisenthal.

The National Union of Women Clerks, founded twenty-one years ago in Berlin, is one of the best organized unions in Germany, numbering more than twenty-five thousand members.

Famous Advertisements that Express the Sentiments of Thousands

They didn't have to make blue Ribbon known. It has been a popular favorite for years. But these advertisements did have to live up to the Blue Ribbon reputation. How different.

We could not do justice to a celebrated brewing standard by an ordinary line of talk, by bragging or by startling revelations of brewing secrets because there are none.

When reading any beer advertisement, a bottle of Blue Ribbon on the side will enlighten you considerably without words or pictures or exclamation marks.

A refined, cultured woman, after a sip of Blue Ribbon, had exclaimed in our hearing, "And I thought I didn't like beer." We knew the real hearty "Friend for Forty Years," in fact, several of him. We knew a lot of good, sane, substantial people who said good things about Blue Ribbon.

When we put them into this advertising—free of wordy claims and scientific excelsior—we found thousands the country over who duplicated these pleasant experiences with the beer that always comes in crystal-clear bottles to show its amber purity.

The advertisements told the simple truth. The first became famous in a day. All made thousands read between the lines the half-century-long story of Pabst perfection which sparkles up at you from every wholesome glass of Blue Ribbon.

CASE TAKEN BY "HOLMES"

Convicted Slayer May Be Freed By Conan Doyle's Deductions.

Made Such Impression That Rehearing Was Granted Prisoner.

London, May 1.—Sherlock Holmes is again on the trail. The great deducer has tackled a crime problem in real life quite as interesting as any he ever solved in fiction. But in the present instance he is endeavoring to unfasten the crime from the man, instead of following the more fascinating pursuit of fitting the man to the crime. If Oscar Slater should finally be released from Peterhead prison, where he is now undergoing a life sentence on the charge of murdering an old woman in Glasgow more than five years ago, he will owe his freedom to the creator of the wrinkle-browed, pipe-smoking, dope-taking sleuth of Baker street.

So impressed has been McKinnon Wood, secretary for Scotland, with the deductions made by Sir Conan Doyle, basely solely on the evidence brought out in the trial, that he has decided to open up a special inquiry into the Slater case. Already Doyle has succeeded in convincing most of the British public that the prisoner, whose neck was saved by a commutation of sentence only twenty-four hours before the time set for the hanging, had been the victim of gross miscarriage of justice.

At 7 o'clock on the night of Dec. 21, 1908, a man named Adams, residing in a ground floor flat in Queens terrace, Glasgow, heard a thud on the floor above, followed by faint knockings.

The second story flat was occupied by a wealthy but friendless maiden lady, Marion Gilchrist, 82 years old, who some time before had arranged with Adams that she would rap on the floor if she ever needed assistance. Adams rushed up the stairs and rang the doorbell vigorously, but got no response. While peering through the glass into the lighted hallway he was joined by Miss Gilchrist's maid, who had left the flat only ten minutes before to get the evening papers. As she opened the door a man stepped out of the bedrooms, nodded pleasantly to Adams and the girl and hastily descended the stairs. On reaching the dining room they found Miss Gilchrist's body lying on the floor, her skull battered in, as if with repeated blows of a hammer. Adams rushed out into the street but the stranger had disappeared.

Had $15,000 in Gems.

Of the $15,000 worth of jewelry which Miss Gilchrist kept in the flat, much of which was exposed on the dresser in her bedroom, only one diamond brooch was missing, but a box of private papers had been forced open and its contents left scattered about the floor. Two days later a messenger girl told the police that she had seen a man leave the street entry to Miss Gilchrist's flat about 7 o'clock. She gave a description differing materially from that given by Adams and the maid.

Christmas night the police learned that a German-Jew named Oscar Slater had been about town trying to sell a pawn ticket for a diamond brooch. In the meantime he had left for Liverpool, and the next day sailed for America on the Lusitania. On a cabled request from the Glasgow authorities he was arrested in New York. He protested his innocence vigorously and denied any knowledge of Miss Gilchrist. The maid and the messenger girl sent over for the extradition proceedings, notwithstanding their varying descriptions, "identified" him. Later, at the trial in Glasgow both their stories differed in essential points from those they first told. In the face of this flimsy identification and the strong alibi evidence adduced by the defense, Slater was convicted and sentenced to be hanged, nine of the Scotch jury voting "guilty," five "not proven," and one "not guilty"—a decision that in the English courts would have resulted in a new trial.

The Brooch Not Hers.

The most extraordinary feature of the case, however, was the development that the diamond brooch which Slater had pawned was not the one stolen from the murdered woman, and that he had pawned it several weeks before the murder had been committed. It is on this circumstance that Doyle mainly bases his belief in Slater's innocence. "Assuming for the moment that he was guilty," says Sir Arthur, "you are faced with the incredible coincidence that the police got hold of the right man by mistake." He argues further that had Slater been the murderer the last thing in the world he would have done would be to run around in Glasgow inviting suspicion by offering to sell a pawn ticket for a piece of jewelry, even if it were his own property, as it proved to be in this instance.

Also he points out that Slater did not leave Glasgow until four days after the crime and then in accordance with prearranged plans which he had taken no pains to conceal.

Many other features of the case, according to Doyle, cannot be explained on the theory that Slater was the murderer and that the motive was robbery.

But Conan Doyle is far more interested in clearing up the luckless Slater than he is in speculating as to the real murderer. "His conviction was nothing less than a scandal," he says, "and the public conscience should not rest until his innocence is completely established."

LINCOLN RELATIVE HIS EXACT BUILD

So Nearly Counterpart, Sculptor May Use Him for Model.

Tacoma, Wash., May 1.—If the trained eye of Sculptor Alonzo Victor Lewis is pleased the man in Tacoma who will pose for the statue of Abraham Lincoln, to be modeled here and placed at the entrance of the new Lincoln Park high school, will be a relative of the "great emancipator."

John Lincoln, 606 South I street, whose father was a second cousin of Lincoln, is said to be almost a perfect likeness of the famous president in size and shape.

Abraham Lincoln was six feet four inches. The Tacoma Lincoln is six feet three inches. The Tacoma Lincoln says his resemblance to his honored relative is noticed wherever he goes.

Abraham Lincoln was a second cousin to the father of John Lincoln, who was the older of the two. According to Mr. Lincoln his father and the president were "as two peas." He says that many persons in the early days often mistook his father for Abraham Lincoln. Mr. Lincoln's father was born in 1798. Abraham Lincoln was born in 1812.

The Tacoma Lincoln is 69 years old. He served four years on the northern side of the Civil war, enlisting as a boy. Mr. Lincoln has been a resident of Tacoma for many years and was formerly a city employe.

The school board has retained A. V. Lewis, sculptor, to model the form of Lincoln and the work will be done in Tacoma at a studio arranged in the State Historical society building, near the stadium.

THIS "SQUIRREL" PROVES POLECAT

Services of Policeman and Revolver Used in Emergency.

San Francisco, May 1.—A tilt with the United States army is nothing compared to that forced upon Policeman H. P. Lee of Berkeley when he was called upon to eject a newly adopted household pet from a linen closet in the home of B. P. Gardiner, No. 2955 Pine avenue, Claremont. Policeman Lee knows, for he has tried both.

The animal began visiting the Gardiner home some days before. It was mistaken for a squirrel and treated with kindness and delicacies. It made itself at home.

When the true facts became known an urgent message was sent to the police that the pet's presence was no longer desired, and Lee, the man who recently chased an escaped prisoner through the Presidio, went to the rescue.

Lee found the animal in a drawer of a linen closet. After boring a hole and injecting a little chloroform he took a chance, opened the drawer and fired a fatal shot.

The skunk killed, Lee turned in his report and made for a drug store, where he bought five separate and distinct brands of perfumery and deodorizers.

Sold and guaranteed in Duluth by Orpheum Pharmacy, Second avenue east and Superior street; Lyceum Pharmacy, and other leading dealers.

COMING FROM SOUTH AFRICA

Fifty Farmers to Visit Europe, Canada and United States.

Secretary of Tour Is Graduate of University of Minnesota.

Washington, May 1.—Vice-Consul Charles B. Henderson at Johannesburg has sent to the state department the following information regarding a foreign tour of South African farmers:

"I recently had an interview with Dr. William Macdonald with reference to the agricultural tour for South African farmers, which is to take place this year. I am informed that fifty farmers, who have been chosen by the agricultural unions of the provinces of the Cape, the Transvaal, Natal, Orange Free state, and Rhodesia, will leave South Africa on June 6. They will make a tour in England, where they will be entertained by agricultural associations. Thereafter they will proceed to Scotland, where they will be given a civic welcome by the lord provost and magistrates of the city of Edinburgh. They will then cross over to Holland, where they will be entertained by the Dutch government.

The American Itinerary.

"The delegates will then proceed to Canada and the United States. They will spend a month in Canada and a month to six weeks in the United States.

"The delegates will enter the United States at Vancouver, Wash. The following named cities are to be their route stopping places: Seattle, Wash.; Portland, Or.; Sacramento, San Francisco, Berkeley, and Riverside, Cal.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Minneapolis, Minn.; Madison, Wis.; Chicago; Lexington, Ky.; Atlanta, Ga.; Washington, D. C.; Ithaca, N. Y.; and New York City.

"All this tour is free of expense to these delegates, due to the generosity of the chairman of the Union-Castle Steamship company for free transportation from Cape Town to England and return, and a certain number of private gentlemen who have subscribed to the funds for the tour.

"Dr. Macdonald hopes that each of the cities mentioned in the United States will entertain the delegates free of charge for two days. He has already received promises to this effect from the university and city of Minneapolis, from Lexington and Atlanta, and he is now in communication with the other cities.

Benefit to American Trade.

"Dr. Macdonald points out that this great tour will have a material benefit in increasing the trade relations of the United States with British South Africa, because it will enable these fifty delegates, who are the most enterprising and progressive agriculturists in this country, to see the latest methods of American agriculture and to obtain the best American machines and agricultural implements.

"The patron of this agricultural tour is Gen. Louis Botha, prime minister of the Union of South Africa; the president of the tour is J. A. Neser, member of parliament; and the secretary is Dr. William Macdonald. Mr. Neser is president of the South African Dry Farming congress and has always taken a prominent interest in agricultural affairs in this country, while Dr. Macdonald has been editor of the government agricultural journal for the past ten years, resigning lately in order to devote himself to the larger question of land settlement in this country. Dr. Macdonald is a graduate of two American universities, viz. Cornell and Minnesota. Mr. Macdonald hopes that by the publicity given the cost of the railway transportation of the delegates while in the United States will be brought to a minimum.

"At present it is expected that the delegates will arrive in the United States about Sept. 1, 1914, and Dr. Macdonald would appreciate an early and definite answer from agricultural societies and American firms regarding any arrangements they are willing to undertake in the entertainment of the delegates, in order that he may make suitable arrangements in good time.

"This tour has elicited the greatest interest throughout the whole of South Africa and is viewed with great favor by the Union government and the government of Rhodesia."

"CONSCIENCE" MONEY SENT TO THEATER.

Seattle, Wash., May 1.—One dollar in excess of the correct amount of change received by some person in Seattle more than twelve years ago at the box office of the Seattle theater has been returned in a letter addressed to that playhouse. An unsigned note with the words "Wrong change received about twelve years ago" is the only clue to the identity of the person who returned the money.

"There is a dollar waiting at the box office for the person who duplicates this handwriting," Eric Mitchell said when he opened the letter. "I'm going to have this dollar bill framed and hang it in the lobby, together with the letter," he continued.

"I cannot say that we have any right to this dollar. J. P. Howe was lessee of this theater twelve years ago."

FIND MISSING BABY IN A BADGER HOLE.

Dacoma, Okla., May 1.—Mary Opal Cox, 2 years old, child of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cox, disappeared in the morning from her home, five miles northwest of Carmen. At noon searchers found her in a badger hole in the pasture about a quarter of a mile from the house. Only her hands and head were visible. She was unharmed.

DOES YOUR STOMACH CONTAIN A GLASSFUL OF ACID?

96 OUT OF 100 DYSPEPTICS HAVE DANGEROUS ACID IN THEIR STOMACHS, WHICH MUST BE NEUTRALIZED IF GOOD HEALTH IS TO BE MAINTAINED.

If you held a teaspoonful of hydrochloric acid in your mouth for only a second you would not be surprised at the burning and wonder what causes the burning and aching and why they suffer the discomfort after meals. To put wholesome food into an acid stomach only increases the discomfort, because the acid mixts with the fresh food and turns it sour, making a lot more acid. The acid condition causes food fermentation, which irritates, distends and inflames the tender stomach lining, and it is not surprising that specialists say acid stomachs are dangerous. This decidedly dangerous and uncomfortable condition can be overcome either by following a strict diet or, and this is far easier and more quickly effective, by taking a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a quarter glassful of water after meals to neutralize the acidity. The latter course is much more satisfactory because it corrects the acidity and banishes discomfort without any need for diet.—Advertisement.

HICKEN LAW IS IN FORCE

Saloon Keepers Make Provision for Meeting Its Demands.

Interiors Will Be Fully Exposed During Closed Hours.

This is the day on which saloon keepers of Duluth have to revise their methods of exposing the interior of their saloons during closing hours, and as a whole they are obeying. The so-called "Hicken ordinance" went into force at midnight. In effect it requires that during closed hours, both on week days and on Sundays, the saloons shall be so arranged that a full view of the interior may be obtained so that the police may be able to see whether or not the saloon is really closed or doing business "on the sly." It further provides that no saloon shall be more than six feet wider in the rear than in the front.

In a number of instances the latter provision is not enforced because sufficient provision has been made that will reveal the entire interior of the saloon without cutting out the customary cigar store or other place of business in front. Such exceptions have been made at the Holland hotel, where three windows are being cut into the saloon on Fifth avenue, giving an unobstructed view of the interior; at Benny Vail's saloon, corner of Lake avenue and Superior street, where the avenue entrance will be screened in and the door left unlocked, so that policemen or others may enter the screened box at any time and see the interior; at the Kaiserhoff, where a window has been cut on the Lake avenue side, and in several instances where a glass partition has been substituted for others between the cigar store and the saloon, the curtains to be open during closing hours.

There are several instances, and about as many heart-rending objections, where saloon keepers have been compelled to build a new partition along the side to come within the restricted width of the saloon, leaving a "dead" space on the side.

Only One Delinquent.

There is just one instance, so far as a tour of the saloons reveals, where there seems to exist any hesitation about meeting the demands of the ordinance. That is at the Spalding hotel. Manager Lee said yesterday that so far he does not propose to make any change in the front of the room in the hotel used as a saloon. He did not say that he does not intend to obey the law, which he pronounced as a good one, but said:

"No, I do not intend to do anything yet, at any rate. I do not understand what effect this ordinance has on hotels and I will wait and see."

The Spalding has a very handsome front, with a high decorative brick wall and stained glass windows. Should the hotel be compelled to change it is probable that a portion of this wall would have to be torn down and the windows replaced by plain glass ones.

As a whole the saloon keepers are not "kicking" about the new ordinance any longer. They have become reconciled and they are also pleased at the attitude Commissioner Hicken of the department of public safety and Chief of Police Troyer, who have shown them that there was no desire to persecute them or to cause them needless embarrassment; that the attitude of the department of public safety is merely to see that the laws are obeyed.

fore and after he separated from Col. Roosevelt and Kermit on Feb. 4. Fiala did not know until today, however, that the colonel had emerged safely from the jungle.

Telling of his 400-mile journey across country with Roosevelt, Fiala said:

"At times we were all forced to dismount from our horses and cut our way with knives through the dense undergrowth. The rainy season was on and some times we would travel for two days at a time without finding a dry spot big enough for a camp.

Kermit Tougher Than Father.

"When we reached Matto Grosso we rested for a couple of days and then all went hunting. In one party, which went for tiger cats, were Col. Roosevelt, Kermit, a Brazilian chief of police, a Brazilian colonel and several natives. Kermit, I believe, is made of coiled wire all bound up in bronze. He's tougher than his father, if such a thing is possible. The party started out early in the morning and pushed their way all day through swamps filled with crocodiles and snakes in pursuit of a tiger cat they had scared up.

"The Brazilians did the best they could and with the negro boys, kept up for several hours. But the pace set by the colonel, even in their own jungle, was too much for them. Late at night a boy returned to the camp and said that the colonel and Kermit were about two miles off in the jungle.

Carried Natives' Guns.

"When they finally came out their clothing was torn to shreds and their arms and legs were bleeding in many places. But they were carrying the Brazilians' guns and shoes. The Brazilians had quit and were lying on their backs in a dry place recuperating. The tiger cat got away.

"The principal difficulty every one in the party experienced was with the food. I lost over twenty pounds in three weeks and I think Col. Roosevelt lost some, too."

Reported to Museum.

Henry Field Osborne, president of the American Museum of Natural History, received the following cablegram from Col. Roosevelt:

"Hard but very successful trip. Cherrie is best man possible for such a trip. Miller doing admirably. They have collected 1,500 bird skins, all told and 500 mammals. We have also put on map river running frim north of 13th degree to south of 5th degree, the largest affluent of the Madeira, the upper part hitherto utterly unknown to anyone, and the lower part utterly unknown to chartographers. Inform Mrs. Cherrie. ROOSEVELT."

The message was dated Manaos, April 30. "Cherrie" is George K. Cherrie, attached to the staff of the museum and in charge of the bird collection of the expedition. "Miller" is Leo E. Miller, also attached to the museum and a man in charge of the collection of mammals. Miller left the Roosevelt party near the new river. He returned to Manaos two weeks ago.

Roosevelt Has Boils.

Manaos, Brazil, May 1.—Col. Roosevelt and the members of his expedition arrived here yesterday on board a steamer sent to meet them by the governor of the state of Amazonas. Col. Roosevelt was suffering from boils, but was not seriously affected, although they caused him much inconvenience. All the other members of the expedition were in excellent health.

Col. Roosevelt with Kermit Roosevelt and Col. Rondon, chief of the Braziliza mission which accompanied the expedition, took up their quarters at the international hotel. The former president said he would leave immediately for the United States.

The journey made by Col. Roosevelt and his companions was carried out under particularly favorable conditions. The party explored the River Castanna, which was renamed the River Roosevelt.

The river Duvida, or "River of Doubt," was found to be unquestionably the River Giparana. The party followed this river from the end of the telegraph line to its junction with the Madeira, a distance of about 630 miles.

The results of the expedition are considered here to be of splendid service to Brazil and to science.

In spite of his sufferings from the boils, Col. Roosevelt was in excellent spirits after his arrival.

Denver today secured affidavits of numerous strikers and their wives regarding the battle of Ludlow, April 20.

The body of George R. Hall, a defender of the Forbes mine, was found last night. Coroner Sipe expected to send a party for the body.

Rockefeller Center of Storm.

New York, May 1.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., it was said at his office today, feeling that he has been forced to bear the brunt of the criticism growing out of the mine strike in Colorado, hopes in the near future to devise some plan by which he may relieve the situation so far as the demonstrations against him are concerned. Just what he purposes to do was not made clear.

Mr. Rockefeller spent the day at his home in Pocantico Hills, transacting all his business over the telephone.

"Mourners" were again marching up and down in front of the Standard Oil building at 26 Broadway. A threat to keep a hearse on the scene did not materialize during the forenoon.

Among the marchers were Sarah Greenwood and Elizabeth Freeman, English suffragettes. Miss Freeman was released this morning from the Tombs prison against her will. With Upton Sinclair and another woman she had gone to a cell rather than pay a fine of $3 for disorderly conduct.

"Not His War."

Last night Mr. Rockefeller issued a statement characterizing as "infamous" any allusion to conditions in Colorado as "Rockefeller's war." The conflicts in Colorado were not between mine owners and strikers, he declared, but between the strikers and the state troops. The statement contained no reference to the "free silence" protest in this city.

A demonstration was held in front of the West Fifty-fourth street residences of John D. Rockefeller and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., last night by men who claimed to represent the Anti-Military league of New York.

help were heard the nearest ship was six hours away.

The Japanese navy department was inclined last night to discredit the reports regarding pirates and expressed the opinion that they were an outcome of the recent looting of a British steamer.

First Message Mutilated.

The first wireless message regarding the disaster was received direct from the Siberia early this morning at the Japanese wireless station at Oseaki, off the coast of Kinshiu island. It conveyed the information that the steamer had met with an accident and was in distress. This message was mutilated and no further definite information could be gleaned from it.

The plight of the Siberia was communicated by wireless also to the steamer Minnesota of the Great Northern Steamship company, which was making her way to Nagasaki, as well as to the British cruiser Minotaur.

The position of the Siberia is given by wireless as longitude 121.10 east, latitude 22.40 north. This location is about six miles to the east of the narrow cape which forms the southern extremity of Formosa island.

The Siberia left Nagasaki, bound for Manila by way of Hongkong, on April 29.

George W. Guthrie, the American ambassador to Japan, as soon as he heard of the condition of the Silberia, requested the Japanese foreign office to send a warship to her aid. He was informed that the government, having already learned of the accident, had sent the Kanto Maru from Formosa. The Kanto got under way shortly after 8 o'clock this morning.

Fear She Has Foundered.

Washington, May 1.—The state department here was informed today from Tansui, Formosa, of the Pacific Mail Line steamer Siberia's distress Consul Williamson sent this report:

"Formosa government informed Siberia signalled repeatedly for aid from latitude 22.40, longitude 121.10. Ceased this morning. Vessels sent from Karenko will take six hours to reach scene near Kasho island, six miles off Taito. Fear Siberia foundered."

George M. Egan, one of the Siberia's passengers, has recently been reinstated as governor of Batanes in the Philippine Islands and is on his way to his post. Arthur Hallberg is an aide in the coast and geodetic survey.

Another reported to the bureau here is Miss W. F. Bryant, who, it is understood, was en route to the Philippines to be married. The bureau is attempting to locate the home addresses of these passengers.

The steamship Siberia, Capt. Zeeder, belongs to the Pacific Mail Steamship line, and plies between San Francisco, Honolulu, Yokohama and Hong Kong. The Siberia left San Francisco on April 7 and was later reported from Yokohama, from which port she sailed on April 27.

The Siberia is of 5,655 tons burden and was built at Newport News, Va. She is supplied with wireless outfit and it is probable that the news of her serious situation was sent by this means to Nagasaki.

Known Passengers.

San Francisco, Cal., May 1.—The following passengers boarded the Siberia for the Orient:

For Manila—W. B. Beard, George M. Egan, Miss Eleanor Gillisey, Arthur Hallberg, Miss Amelia P. Klein, Howard Long, Mrs. Jane O. Palmer, Lieut. V. C. Reyes, O. C. Whitaker, Mrs. O. C. Whitaker.

For Hong Kong—J. Donald Demarest, Bruce D. Ellis, Mrs. Bruce D. Ellis, Danforth B. Ferguson, J. St. C. Hunt, Mrs. J. St. C. Hunt, John Hunt, Miss Lulah Hunt, Mrs. Grace C. Lawton, Francis H. Love, W. D. Whittemore, Mrs. W. D. Whittemore, Dr. Wong Him, Miss Catherine A. Wong Him.

For Honolulu—Mrs. D. L. Cherry, E. B. Kellam, Miss Adeliza Morton Murphy, Miss Frances D. Murphy, Mrs. L. B. Pierce, Henry Russell, Mrs. Henry Russell.

The following passengers boarded the Siberia at other points:

Yokohama—J. W. Dorris.

Kobe—Mrs. H. G. Guttridge, Miss Harriet Guttridge, O. H. Guttridge, Mrs. D. H. Greenebaum, Miss Katie Dukes, Mrs. M. Brenier.

Nagasaki—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Richardson.

Yokohama—Mrs. Francis B. Harrison.

At the passenger office of the Pacific Mail Steamship company it was said there was no record of Mrs. John B. Bentiers, wife of the British consul at Manila, mentioned in Tokio dispatches as having been aboard the Siberia.

Has Chinese Crew.

It was stated here that the Siberia, in accordance with government regulations, was equipped with life boats and rafts to accommodate all her passengers.

The vessel, like all the other Oriental liners, of the Pacific Mail company, is manned by a Chinese crew. All of the officers, however, are white. Capt. Zeeder is a veteran in the Oriental service.

Preacher and Governor.

New York, May 1.—Wiley B. Beard has been a teacher in the Phillipine public schools since Dec. 12, 1901.

George M. Egan is governor of Batanes province.

Lieut. V. C. Reyes is a member of the Philippine constabulary, and Howard Long is a division superintendent of schools. Orlo C. Whitaker is a captain of the Philippine constabulary.

Reported on Island.

Hongkong, May 1.—Information was received here today that the Siberia is ashore on Samasana island, off the Formosa coast.

The British cruiser Yarmouth left at once to assist the liner. Samasana island lies fifteen and a half miles east of Formosa coast line. It is a 1¾ miles long and one mile wide. The currents around the island are described as dangerous. The inhabitants are Chinese.

Fargo Clean-Up Days.

Fargo, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—May 11 to 16 are to be clean-up days in Fargo under orders of the city commission. Immediately after the second date the health officials will begin their annual inspection and there will be a penalty imposed against property owners who have disregarded the order.

whether the American occupation of Vera Cruz is to be permanent.

Ready to Give Support.

If once convinced that the American flag is to float over this city until tranquillity is restored throughout the republic, it is virtually certain that the Mexicans of Vera Cruz will give their heartiest support to the American civil government.

Today they admit frankly that they are enjoying more freedom from apprehension, more personal liberty and a larger measure of prosperity, owing to the influx of American money, than they have known in many years. Many even assert that they would cheerfully subscribe to any policy of the United States which would insure them a continuation of the present conditions and the extension of these conditions to the rest of the republic.

Some careful observers among the Mexicans, however, take a pessimistic view and do not believe that anything short of complete American occupation of Mexico would bring about these desired results. They point out that many factions are striving for power in various sections of the republic.

Many Scattered Factions.

The entire state of Morelos is absolutely controlled by the followers of Zapata, while the state of Guerrero is under the jurisdiction of the Figueroa brothers; furthermore, northern Mexico, much of the western coast and isolated points elsewhere, such as Tampico, are controlled or hemmed in by the supporters of Carranza and Villa. In the capital, Provisional President Huerta is in the saddle, but strong factions favoring Carranza, Felix Diaz or some other aspirant to the presidency are intriguing against Huerta and each other.

Zapato and the Figueroa brothers have been running things in the country they control without regard to any claims of a central power. Such states are virtually independent principalities within the borders of the distracted republic.

This statement of general conditions is made by Mexicans to support the idea that complete American occupation is the only thing that will bring lasting peace.

Doubt Mediation Success.

There is also an element of Mexicans and American refugees now in Vera Cruz who express doubt that the mediation undertaken by Argentina, Brazil and Chile or similar negotiations will bring about a stable coalition of the warring factions in the republic, or result in the re-establishment of order. They are of the opinion that personal jealousies would prevent the selection of any leader to represent them all, and they unhesitatingly declare that, in their opinion, ambition and not patriotism actuates a great majority of the Mexican factionists.

It is apparent that local opinion of the future is most conflicting. Another idea presented today by thoughtful Mexicans is that the only solution of the problem lies in a partial occupation of Mexico by the United States and the establishment under American protection of a government similar to the one formed in Nicaragua, which later would be succeeded by duly elected Mexican officials, the United States supervising the elections and vouching for their fairness. The idea is receiving considerable indorsement from a group of Mexican officials who have remained in the city.

Campaign of Education.

The American authorities, civil, naval and army, are making every effort to disseminate throughout the republic truthful pictures of the benevolent rule already established at Vera Cruz. There is reason to believe also that Washington is quietly working to this same end through military and civil agents sent here to talk things over with representative Mexicans. These agents have been selected for their knowledge of the Spanish language and their familiarity with Mexico and the Mexicans, and they are said to be making every effort to make plain the disinterested motives of the Washington administration, as well as its firm resolve that order be restored and a stable government erected.

Close study of the local situation leads to the belief that by delaying any contemplated extension of military operations, the Washington government feels there is a probability that armed resistance may be eliminated to a measureable degree, and countless lives saved.

This is thought to be the purpose of the effort to scatter broadcast through the territory toward Mexico City and send into the capital itself a full account, not only of the kindly treatment given Mexicans here, but also of the number, effectiveness and complete equipment of the army and navy forces now employed in Vera Cruz and their readiness for further use, if required.

See Huerta's Finish.

Mexican residents of Vera Cruz were free to express today their conviction that the continuation in power of Provisional President Huerta is a matter of only weeks at most. With the sources of large revenue cut off here and on the western coast and Tampico isolated and likely to fall into the hands of the Constitutionalists any day, they believe that Gen. Huerta would welcome a development in the situation which would afford him an opportunity to escape without loss of dignity.

This idea, however, is purely speculative, as no Mexican here claims to know anything of Gen. Huerta's plans or hopes. If Gen. Huerta should abdicate, or be ousted from office by Carranza and Villa, there is a strong belief in Vera Cruz that the United States probably would feel obliged to permit the Constitutionalists to make every effort to re-establish a government.

That the rebels are competent to do this, a majority of local Mexicans do not believe, and they are today expressing the hope that the United States will continue in possession of Vera Cruz. They fear that departure now would mean ultimate return in order to complete the work by advancing on Mexico City.

H. B. Wheeler has been appointed auditor under the new municipal government. Mr. Wheeler, who is engaged in business in Vera Cruz, came originally from Chicago.

MESSAGE FROM MEXICO ENCOURAGES MEDIATORS TO HOPE FOR SUCCESS

ernment "took it for granted there would be no hostilities during the mediation proceedings."

With that situation in hand, the mediators today looked for a reply to the armistice proposal sent to Carranza. Unless he entered into a truce with Huerta it was felt that the mediation attempt, for the present, necessarily would be confined to the adjustment of differences between Huerta and the United States to the exclusion of Mexico's pressing internal difficulties.

Seek to Save Dr. Ryan.

Unofficial reports that Dr. Edward Ryan, an American government employe looking after refugees, was to be executed as a spy in Mexico City, caused no hitch in the diplomats' efforts.

Vigorous representations were made in Dr. Ryan's behalf and officials here declared that accusations of spying against him were absurd.

Attack of Constitutionalists on the Ward liner Antilla under the Cuban flag at Tampico scarcely served to create a flutter in official circles. It was said that Rear Admiral Mayo would take no official note of the incident, although other foreign warships at the port might demand that the rebels refrain from interference with commerce.

Will Keep at Work.

The work of the mediators, it was learned in authoritative quarters, would proceed steadily, no matter what the final attitude of Carranza was on the question of armistice, although an adverse decision by him would necessarily restrict the intermediation to the main issue between the United States and Huerta. It was this main issue which was first undertaken by the mediators, and then enlarged with the hope of taking in the entire scope of Mexican affairs. The mediators are still hopeful that the entire subject, including the internal Mexican issue, may be brought within their deliberations. But if not, it is assumed they will proceed to the adjustment of the conflict growing out of the Tampico flag incident on which President Wilson's action was justified by congress, the landing of American forces at Vera Cruz, and other issues.

Meantime, while the exact scope of the mediation was in abeyance pending Carranza's decision on an armistice, the envoys continued their negotiations to secure some middle ground of agreement with all those who could be brought to accept it. Their morning session began toward 11 o'clock, with the expectation of afternoon and night sessions.

No Statement on Issues.

They were not prepared to make any statement on the main issues involved, or to what extent they have been broached to the United States or the Huerta regime. The principal aim of their diplomacy was to prevent an impasse by having unalterable conditions presented. It was authoritatively known this had been avoided up to the present time, and that the negotiations were proceeding steadily forward. The only question was as to their scope in case the fighting continued in Northern Mexico.

The Spanish ambassador, Mr. Riano, representative of the Huerta government in the United States, visited the Argentine legation at 11 o'clock today and held a conference with the Argentine minister, Mr. Naon. The ambassador is said to have delivered a message to the mediators from the Huerta authorities. No statement was made as to its contents.

Busted Higher'n a Kite!

Goodbye to the Old Fogy Idea That Tailor-Made Clothes Must Cost $25.00 and $30.00. Paste This in Your Bonnet, Fellows!

Why let an old mill-dewed legend steer you away from real clothes and a saving of $10. You don't have to pay $25 and $30 for a suit made to your order. I will make you the niftiest clothes, give you the snappiest, most facinating styles, the swellest, newest, $25 to $30 pure woolens and will charge you just $15. And if the suit doesn't warm your heart the very moment you put it on, you don't have to wear it.

Now that's some offer. And here's how I do it. I am a part of the great Glasgow Woolen Mills. Our woolens are figured in carload lots. They come direct from the looms to our 117 stores. Think of the saving we make on each suit length. Then we sell direct. We cut out the profits of middle men. And then again, we make thousands of suits in our big string of 117 stores, so we can take a small profit. Now that's the reason, boys, that I can give you a suit in the classiest Spring and Summer styles, made to your measure, from regular $25 and $30 fabrics, for only $15. And if you have the sense that heaven gave a goose, you'll come over here and make me back it up. It means a "10 Spot" saved, and just as good a suit. Come on over any way and look us over, George Mills, Mgr. The Glasgow Woolen Mills Store, 333 West Superior Street. I've got a pants offer that's a pippin, too. Regular $5, $6 and $7 trousers made to your measure going this week for $2.75. See them!

BALL PLAYERS STAR ON THEIR BIRTHDAYS

Frank J. Navin, owner of the Detroit Tigers, has had the suggestion made to him that whenever any of his players is to have a birthday the fact be announced in the papers in the city in which the Jenningsites are performing. The reason for this suggestion is that on July 4, 1912, the Detroit papers called attention to the fact that George Mullin would that day celebrate his 32nd birthday. Portly George, now with the Indianapolis Feds, proved some celebrator, for he not only blanked the Browns in runs, but denied them hits, too.

On the morning of April 18 last, a Detroit paper carried a story that Sam Crawford was celebrating his 34th birthday, it being pointed out in said story that "Wahoo Sam," on his birthday anniversaries, was not in the habit of batting heavily and that his average for the games he had played on April 18, from 1902 on, had been just .231. Sam, noting this fact, proceeded to bat at a .666 clip against the Naps, poling a single and a homer and boosting his birthday batting average from .231 to .276.

Another American League outfielder who celebrated his birthday on the same date as Sam Crawford and in a befitting manner was George Edward Lewis of the Red Sox. "Duffy" was 26 years old on April 18 last and he glorified the occasion by delivering the wallop that placed on the records the only run scored in the Boston-Philadelphia game.

An able athlete who generally sees to it that his birthday is made a day of gladness for his team is Christy Mathewson of the Giants, who would win an auto each year if Hugh Chalmers awarded one to the major league pitcher possessed of the best control. Matty's birthday is Aug. 12, and inspection of the records shows that "Big Six" does not ask for a rest on his natal anniversary, but is willing to go in and work on that day unless it be Sunday.

Only once has the Old Master consorted with Dame Defeat on his birthday. The year this happened was 1912, and then Christy the Crafty, acting in a relief capacity for a bombarded Boxman, could not subdue the Cardinals and they procured one run off him (winning one) after having gained seven counters off the man Matty had succeeded. Last year Matty pitched part of a game on his birthday against the Superbas and held safe a two-run lead, bequeathed him by Arthur Fromme.

On Aug. 12, 1912, when Mathewson was celebrating his 32nd birthday, he met with defeat, as before told. On Aug. 12, 1911, it was fortunate for "Big Six" that he was not asked to work, as the Giants failed to get a run off "Dut" Chalmers of the Phillies. Christy had an afternoon off on Aug. 12, 1910, but on Aug. 12, 1909, he shut the Cubs out with four safeties, and on Aug. 12, 1907, he conquered the Pirates and pitched the Giants into second place.

Matty will spend his 34th birthday in New York. The Cards then will be in Gotham and it will be interesting to see what they do to him or what he does to them.

AMATEUR LEAGUE TO HOLD MEETING

There will be a meeting of the baseball managers of the city this evening at the Kelley Hardware store. The object of the meeting is the starting of the Duluth Amateur Baseball league. As has been stated upon several occasions, the league has been organized for the good of the amateur game in the city and also for the object of assisting in the large task of developing a national amateur champion baseball team. There is no ulterior motive; the league has been organized to fill a demand.

It is imperative that those managers who desire to enter their teams in the league be present at the meeting of this evening. The season is advancing and the time is nearly here when the various teams of the city will take the field. Therefore all team managers who desire to enter the lists are asked to be present at the meeting.

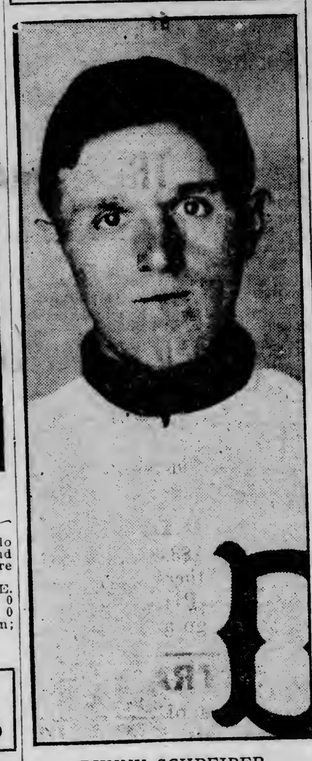
DULUTH STAR SENT BACK TO MINORS



BUNNY SCHREIBER.

Chicago, May 1.—Outfielder Schreiber, obtained from the St. Paul club of the American association last fall, was sold to the Lincoln club of the Western league yesterday by President C. A. Comiskey of the Chicago Americans. Schreiber played in the opening White Sox game here, but did not prove strong enough to hold the left field position.

WESTERGAARD READY TO MEET ALL COMERS, SAYS PILOT THORSON

Des Moines, Ia., May 1.—"Westergaard will meet Cutler, Americus or any other wrestler in the world," said Oscar Thorson, the manager of the gigantic Swedish champion today. "For some time there has been a question of the rightful supremacy of the American wrestlers. I am more than willing, am anxious, in fact, to send Jess against the best in the world. Westergaard is the first wrestler since the passing of Gotch as a title contender, who is big and strong enough and has the ability to meet any wrestler for the world's title. During the present season Westergaard has wrestled in the neighborhood of thirty-three matches and he has yet to lose a single fall. We have attempted to get Americus and he has sidestepped. It looks now as if we had Cutler pinned down to an agreement. If Cutler and Westergaard meet the followers of wrestling over the country will see that Westergaard is the greatest wrestler developed in America since the palmy days of Gotch, and a title contender able to meet the greatest of the foreigners on even terms."

FAKING STUDENTS ARE SUSPENDED

Chicago, May 1.—Four students of the Northwestern university dental department, Roy M. Kisner, Abraham Schmidt, Eugene Schmidt and Leo F. Rank, the first two regulars on the university ball club, were suspended last night on recommendation of Lewis Omer, athletic director.

Kisner and Abraham Schmidt admitted they had been playing under the names of sophomores who are eligible for conference competition. Kisner pitched against Minnesota Monday, appearing in the lineup as Rank and held Minnesota to one hit. Schmidt did not play in the Big Nine conference, but was on the lineup as Eugene Schmidt.

The four confessed and the university authorities telegraphed to the University of Indiana, canceling by forfeit the game scheduled for today. A meeting of the athletic committee was called for today when an investigation of the eligibility of all players will be made.

ORDEMAN AND POLE TO DECIDE THE TITLE.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 1.—Negotiations were closed today for a match between Henry Ordeman, the American heavyweight champion, and Stanislaus Zbyszko, the Pole, to decide the world's championship.

The contest will be to a finish and will be held at Nicollet ball park on the night of May 15.

OUIMET NOT PLAYING IN VERY GOOD FORM.

Sunningdale, Eng., May 1.—Harold H. Hilton, the English amateur golf champion, won the illustrated gold vase tournament here yesterday. His score for the 36-hole medal play was 151.

Francis Ouimet, the American open champion, who was paired with Hilton, turned in a card of 166, which gave him a tie for fourteenth place. Of the two other Americans who competed, Harold Weber finished with 171 and G. W. Inalee took 88 for the first round and did not complete the second.

Stanford's Tennis Players.

Stanford University, Cal., May 1.—R. Linsey Murray and Herbert L. Hahn have been chosen to represent Stanford against nine Eastern and Middle West universities in tennis this summer and to take part in the Longwood tournament.

JULIUS H. BARNES IS A BOOSTER FOR ROWING

The Man Who Is About to Step Down as President of Duluth Boat Club Has Supported Local Crews for Years--C. A. Duncan May Be the Next Executive.

BY BRUCE.

As reported six weeks ago on the sporting page of The Herald, Julius H. Barnes has stated that he will not again be a candidate for the presidency of the club, and as was intimated at that time, J. E. MacGregor, secretary of the boat club, as well as the curling club, will refuse to permit his name to be used as a candidate for re-election.

According to some of the rumors that have been discussed by the members of the club, Charles A. Duncan will be nominated as president of the boat club and James E. Ten Eyck will be elected as secretary of the club at the meeting that will be held at the main house on the evening of May 12.

For ten years Mr. Barnes has been at the head of the club and under his able direction the Duluth Boat club has grown from humble beginnings to one of the very largest boat clubs in the United States.

In the past Mr. Barnes has intimated to his friends of the club that he would like to turn the work over to some one else, but an overwhelming desire upon the part of the club membership to keep Mr. Barnes in office has resulted in his serving the club during its formative years and also in the years when it entered upon its greatest growth.

The Duluth Boat club has one of the largest membership lists of any boat club in the United States. It has the fastest crews in the world and in addition to its aquatic accomplishments the club has always taken a leading part in civic enterprises and has been a leader in movements that had for their purpose the welfare of Duluth.

It is announced by Mr. Barnes that though pressure of business cares will prevent him even considering the acceptance of the office of president for another year, he will retain a deep interest in the crews and will aid, as has been the case in the past, in the developing of this department of the club.

The Henley Trip.

At first when James E. Ten Eyck launched the all-aboard-for-Henley slogan, there were those who laughed at the idea. It was fine, a very laudable desire—but, oh, so difficult of accomplishment. It might be stated in connection with the passing of Julius H. Barnes as president of the Duluth Boat club, that he is one of the prime movers in the all-aboard-for-Henley movement.

At this time it is only meet and proper that some little token of appreciation be said in behalf of the efforts of Mr. Barnes to bring the Duluth crews to the front.

One of the greatest bowmen that Duluth ever produced, back in the dear days when the old club was beating the Larlines, the St. Paul, Winnipeg and Port Arthur clubs, Julius H. Barnes has ever, down through the years, exhibited the keenest interest in the development of the crews of the club.

Few realize the amount of time and the financial aid that have been given by the retiring president. In those dark and lean years, when the local crews were the butt of the jokes of the critics on float and bank, it required perseverance and real courage to turn out crews year after year.

It was at the suggestion of Mr. Barnes that Jimmy Ten Eyck came to Duluth, and it was through efforts financed by President Barnes with the aid of some of the influential members of the club that Duluth sent a crew to the National at Syracuse in 1911. The following year crews were sent to Peoria, when the rehabilitated crews of the local club first flashed across the rowing horizon of the United States.

The unprecedented victories on the Charles river at Boston last year are quite too recent to demand more than passing mention. Suffice it to say that the local crews accomplished a record that has never been made at any national regatta in the United States. This was the glorified reward of a man who has labored through the years for a winning crew, and there is not a member of the big organization who is not overjoyed at the thought that so remarkable a win should climax the final year of service of Julius H. Barnes as president of the Duluth Boat club.

And although Mr. Barnes is about to lay aside the duties that he has shouldered for the last ten years, it can be announced that he is one of the staunch supporters of the Henley idea and that he will assist in every way to send a Duluth crew or crews across the Atlantic in quest of the highest rowing prize in the history of the amateur game.

Mr. Barnes' letter of resignation follows:

"My Dear Fellow Members: The time has come for me to lay down the work that for ten years has been a pleasure and an inspiration. During that time, the Duluth Boat club has grown in size and resources; has advanced to a position of national fame and, best of all, has been a real factor in making Duluth attractive and livable. This must continue.

"During that time, the officers of the club have served with a faithfulness and a singleness of purpose that has been an inspiration to the president. This must continue.

"The ideals of furnishing every wholesome pleasure for young and old; of being content in athletic sports with nothing less than undisputed leadership; of standing as the ideal of great democratic meeting place of young people; these must continue.

"In advising you thus early of the necessity of being relieved of office at the coming annual election, I feel my years of service to the club entitle me to take counsel with the members, that the club may continue to advance. A change of president with all the appointive offices in his hands, may mean an entire change of policy and administration. I feel, therefore, that I may ask every member to give now some thought to the selection of officers for the coming year.

"The club has by no means reached the full measure of its possible activities. New and fresh enthusiasm, concentrated care and attention to details and the support of a loyal membership, may greatly improve its service to its members.

"The club is in good position to respond. Its rowing equipment is entirely new; arrangements have been made to relieve the club of the expense of its rowing coaching; its prestige in athletic sports of all kinds is high and deserved; a plan of administration has been worked out which should improve its service; the fever of objectionable dances has run itself out without injuring our club and been succeeded by the new and interesting dances that may well be encouraged and taught by our club.

"I shall recommend the employment of a capable teacher and the instruction of our membership in the dances, graceful in themselves and varied enough in figures to be interesting.

"Our city is growing rapidly. New people are coming to make this their home. The club should profit by this growth.

"It is really with deep regret, that for the last time in 10 years, I address you as your president.

"JULIUS H. BARNES."

The annual meeting of the club on May 12, will be held at 8 o'clock p. m. at the main house of the club on Park Point.

FIRST GAME MAY 6.

Fargo-Moorhead Fans Warming Up for Opening of Season.

Fargo, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Fargo-Moorhead team, with a double-header name, will have a double-header opening of the Northern league season here. Superior will be the opposing team. May 6 the first game will be on the Moorhead grounds and May 7 the scene of conflict will be transferred to the Fargo side. Governor Hanna has promised to be present and throw the first ball.

The downpour for the past five days prevented Manager Unglaub's warriors from getting much training, but as most men were in good condition before their arrival the management is not worrying.

PLANS ONE-GALLON TEST

Franklin Agent Will Determine Cost of Running Car.

Joseph T. Peacha, Jr., local agent for the Franklin automobile, will this afternoon make a test of this car with one gallon of gasoline. This test is being made by Franklin agents throughout the country and the mileage made will be averaged by the officials of the company to show just how far a Franklin car can go on one gallon of gasoline, in all kinds of weather, as it is expected every variety of weather will be encountered in the different parts of the country.

Mr. Peacha, Jr., will be accompanied by H. J. Mullin, secretary of the Duluth Automobile club, and A. B. Kapplin of the automobile department of The Herald. They will see that he conforms with the rules laid down by officials of the company and will send in the report after the test run is made.

Signs for Three Years.

Boston, Mass., May 1.—Chief Meyers, catcher of the New York Giants, has signed a three-year contract according to an announcement by Secretary John B. Foster. The contract included the present season. All the prominent members of the New York team are now said to be under long term contracts.

Crack Target Breaking.

Philadelphia, May 1.—Charles Newcomb of this city won the two-day tourney of the Keystone shooting association, which ended here yesterday by breaking 340 targets out of a possible 350. Ralph L. Spotts of New York, national amateur champion, was second, with 339 breaks. William Foord of Wilmington, was third, with a total of 333 targets broken.

Berkeley Will Send Men.

Berkeley, Cal., May 1.—The executive committee of the Associated Students of the University of California announced yesterday that it has been decided to send the 'varsity track team east to take part in the intercollegiate championships at Cambridge May 29 and 30.

College Baseball.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 1.—In a baseball game yesterday, the score was University of Minnesota, 3; Macalester college, 2.

How to Get Rid Of Skin Trouble

A Handsome Skin Book Free That Will Guide You.

So many people fuss in despair over stubborn skin afflictions that some rules laid down in connection with the use of S. S. S. for the blood will be of great value. These are outlined in a hand book, finely illustrated, of the many variations in skin troubles. It tells how to overcome them.

If you have been fighting some blood trouble, some skin disease, call it eczema, lupus, psoriasis, malaria, or what you will, ask at any drug store for a bottle of S. S. S. and you are then on the road to health. The action of this remarkable remedy is just as direct, just as positive, just as certain in its influence as that the sun rises in the East. It is one of those rare medical forces which act in the blood with the same degree of certainty that is found in all natural tendencies. The manner in which it dominates and controls the mysterious transference of rich, red, pure arterial blood for the diseased venous blood is marvelous.

There is scarcely a community anywhere but what has its living example of the wonderful curative effects of S. S. S. Get a bottle of this famous remedy today, and if your case is stubborn or peculiar, write to Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Co., 535 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Do not permit anyone to talk you into a substitute for S. S. S.

BASS ONLY FISH BARRED

Now Lawful to Catch All Other Varieties of Fish.

Game Wardens on Watch for Set Lines and Dynamite.

The 1914 season for all game fish except black, gray or Oswego bass, opened today.

The trout season opened April 15; the season for pike, muskellunge, crappies, perch, sturgeon, sunfish and catfish opens today, and the season for the several varieties of bass will open May 29.

Thus far the weather has been too wet and chilly for the thorough enjoyment of one of the finest of outdoor sports. Several excellent catches of brook trout have been reported, but they have been the exceptions rather than the rule. It is still considered somewhat early for good pike fishing, as the pike are still running and have not yet finished spawning, but within two weeks the wall-eyes will probably be taking the hook.

With the season coming into full swing the game wardens in this part of the state are out on the lakes, streams and rivers watching for law violators. For there are fish-hogs as well as other game-hogs, and if they were allowed to operate without interference they would soon have the waters stripped of the desirable and highly-prized members of the finny tribe through the use of nets, set lines and dynamite. Co-operating with the wardens are the true anglers who fish for the sake of the sport and are content with reasonable returns. The game and fish protective associations are also helping.

The state law makes it unlawful to fish with more than one line; to fish within fifty feet of a fishway; to ship (except as baggage) brook trout or bass; to deposit sawdust or refuse in waters planted by the state or where brook trout abound; to serve bass, wild trout (except lake trout) in hotels or restaurants; to take fish in any other manner than by angling with hook and line, except that pickerel, suckers, carp and bullheads may be speared.

The limit is twenty-five in one day, with no limit on sunfish, perch, pickerel and bullheads. No license is required of a resident for hook and line fishing, and a non-resident can secure a license for $1 from the state commission, a county auditor or a local game warden.

The limits as to size are as follows: Pike, fourteen inches in length or one pound, round weight; lake trout, two pounds, round weight, or whitefish, two and one-half pounds, round weight; black, gray or Oswego bass, nine inches in length; muskellunge, thirty inches in length; other fish, except rock bass, sunfish and bullheads, six inches in length.

Lowers His Own Record.

Chicago, May 1.—Harry J. Hebner of the Illinois Athletic club lowered his own record for the 150-yard back stroke in the national A. A. U. championships here last night. Hebner swam the distance in 1:45 4-5. His previous record was 1:53-3-5.

Buys White Sox Player.

Montreal, Que., May 1.—The Montreal International league club has purchased Halstein, a first baseman, outright from the Chicago Americans. He will be placed at first in place of Flynn who will be placed in the outfield, because of his batting. Halstein has been ordered to report to the Montreals Saturday in Providence.

LORD MURRAY ONLY ERRED IN JUDGMENT

House of Lords Committee Reports on Marconi Scandal.

London, May 1.—The committee of the house of lords appointed to investigate Lord Murray's dealings in American Marconi shares has issued its report, which finds that he committed "errors of judgment." There was, however, nothing in his conduct "which reflects on his personal honor."

The committee recommends "there should henceforth be an indelible rule to preclude those who hold any public office from entering upon any speculative transactions in stocks or shares under any circumstances."

Lord Murray, when he was chief Liberal whip in the house of commons, was said to have invested some of the funds of the Liberal party in Marconi shares.

Southern Pacific Railroad Answers Government Unmerging Suit.

Recites Conditions That Led to Supposition of Legality.

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 1.—The Southern Pacific company filed late yesterday in the United States district court its answer in the government suit to divorce the Central Pacific from the Southern Pacific.

The answer, after specifically denying all allegations that the Sherman anti-trust law has been violated, points out not only that the two lines were originally built, operated and developed as one road, but that, as far back as 1898, the United States government itself practically recognized the combination as wholesome.

It asserts that in the joint operation of these lines through trains have been run by the most direct or convenient route without reference to their ownership, and that any separation of the Central Pacific lines from those of the Southern Pacific cannot now be had without detriment to both properties, and without impairing and inconveniencing the public service and the communities through which the lines pass.

Historical Resume.

In a brief historical resume the answer declares:

First, that the lines of the Southern Pacific Railroad company were built as extensions and connections of the lines of the Central Pacific Railroad company, and by the same stockholders.

Second, that as the lines of the Southern Pacific Railroad company were completed, they were directly leased to the Central Pacific to be operated within its lines.

Third, that on April 1, 1895, the Southern Pacific Railroad company, to simplify the organization, took over, under lease for ninety-nine years, all the lines of both Central Pacific and Southern Pacific, and has since managed and developed them as one property, considering only efficiency of service to the public, without regard to corporate properties, such as terminals and branches.

Took Heavy Obligations.

Fourth, that, relying on the terms under which the Central Pacific's debt to the government of $58,000,000 was settled in 1898, the Southern Pacific company undertook heavy financial obligations, not only guaranteeing payment of this debt, but also guaranteeing the $100,000,000 4 per cent mortgage bond issue of the Central Pacific. In this connection, it is contended that the government could not consistently and with justice have accepted this settlement, of which it did have full knowledge as party thereto, if the arrangement involved a relation between the roads contrary to public policy.

Fifth, that as even as late as 1912, in the recent socalled Harriman unmerger suit, when the United States supreme court ordered the dissolution of the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific, the court, the highest tribunal in the land, found reason to disturb the relations between the Central Pacific and the Southern Pacific. The supreme court ordered the dissolution of the Union from the Southern Pacific, but as to the Central-Southern Pacific relations, said, "We find no reason to disturb the action of the court below." The court below had declined to disturb the Central-Southern Pacific relations, although the facts concerning it at the time were brought out.

Detriment and Injury.

Any separation of the Central Pacific lines from the Southern Pacific lines, it is asserted, cannot now be had except with great determent and injury.

The answer further sets forth the granting by the government of subsidy of the treasury and the interior and the attorney general constitute a commission with full power to settle this indebtedness by agreement between them and the railroads involved and with the written approval of the president of the United States.

The answer alleges:

"It was well understood by the congress at the time of the passage of this law that the said indebtedness of the Central Pacific Railroad company to the United States government amounted to at least $58,000,000, and according, therefore, to the terms of said law, the Central Pacific Railroad company was required to pay during each of the ten years allowed for payment of said debt the sum of $5,000,000 per annum.

Paid More Than Earnings.

"This sum exceeded many times over any possible net earnings of the Central Pacific Railroad company that could be applied to the payment of this debt, and it cannot be questioned that the congress intended and understood that this debt could only be paid by the employment of the credit and resources of the Southern Pacific company, and that compliance with the prescribed terms of the settlement necessarily involved participation therein by the Southern Pacific company, and the only motive or consideration which could induce the said Southern Pacific company to participate in the payment of the Central Pacific Railroad company's debt to the government was the existence of the aforesaid relations between it and that company and its desire to continue such relations and to make permanent its control of that part of its system.

"The defendants, therefore, allege that congress at this time enacted the said law of July 7, 1898, contemplated and expected such participation by the Southern Pacific company in the settlement provided for and had full power to arrange for such security for the payment of said indebtedness as to said commission might seem expedient."

The commission created by congress under the authority of this act made an agreement with the Central Pacific Railroad company for the payment of this debt in twenty semi-annual installments.

Given Wide Publicity.

Copies of the agreement and memoranda were given the widest publicity so that not only the private parties interested, but the president of the United States and all government officials, including members of congress, knew that by the terms of the readjustment the Southern Pacific company was to acquire the ownership of the entire capital stock of the Central Pacific Railway company and knew also of the lease and operation of the Central Pacific lines as a part of the Southern Pacific system, the things now complained of as being in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

In consequence, it is recited, the Southern Pacific company incurred the obligation of guaranteeing the $100,000,000 of the first refunding 4 per cent mortgage bonds of the Central Pacific Railway company, which are now outstanding, and of acquiring the $12,000,000 preferred stock and the $67,275,500 common stock of the Central Pacific Railway company. For this stock the Southern Pacific Railway company gave either cash or its equivalent in its own capital stock. Furthermore the United States government received $58,812,715.48 in payment of the Central Pacific debt, which it would not otherwise have been paid. In like manner, relying on the expectation and belief created and induced by the government as above, the Southern Pacific company has since incurred heavy financial obligations, details of these being given in the answer.

GOULDS TO SELL MISSOURI PACIFIC?

The Circumstantial Rumors Meet Neither Confirmation or Denial

New York, May 1.—Circumstantial rumors that control of the Missouri Pacific railroad, the backbone of the Gould system, is in process of transfer to important banking interests, have been revived, with some credence from the fact that expert engineers and accountants are believed to be making an exhaustive examination of the property.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co. are the bankers mentioned in connection with the reported change of control. Members of that firm declined to affirm or deny rumors connecting their name with the project, but it is known that they have long been anxious to take over financial responsibility of the road, should the Goulds express their willingness to relinquish their stock interest.

Representatives of the Gould family say that their interest in Missouri Pacific lies chiefly in the bonds of that road and allied lines. New low records for the stock and outstanding notes were recorded yesterday. There are $25,000,000 of three-year 5 per cent notes maturing on June 1, and up to a few weeks ago it was thought that payment of at least half the notes would be met on maturity. A hitch came in the final stage of the negotiations, however, from which time the various Gould securities have fallen to lower levels.

HAS SCHEME TO END HAY-PAUNCEFOTE PACT

Maryland Congressman Would Give Up Part of Alaska.

Washington, May 1.—Negotiations with Great Britain and Canada for transfer of Southeast Alaska to Canada, by sale or exchange, or both, with repeal of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty as one of the conditions of the transfer, is proposed in a resolution introduced by Representative Smith of Maryland.

SOCIALISTS ORGANIZE.

Gowan Finnish Association Would Improve Conditions.

Socialists at Gowan have organized the Gowan Finnish-Socialist association, the purpose of which is to promote the morals and education of its members and to propagate the doctrines of Socialism. Articles of incorporation were filed with the register of deeds yesterday.

Each member must be of good character and must pay an annual assessment of at least 25 cents. The officers: Mike Inkinen, president; Vilfrid Wiltanen, membership secretary; Karl Wittaanen, treasurer; Henry Paavola, organizer; John Kruusisto, secretary, and Nels Tolonen, vice secretary.

FRANK APPEALS TO THE PUBLIC.

Atlanta, Ga., May 1.—Declaring popular clamor alone responsible for his conviction, Leo M. Frank, the young factory superintendent under death sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan, has issued a second statement appealing for vindication in the eyes of the general public. A motion for a new trial for the condemned man is pending.

In a detailed analysis of testimony at his trial, Frank attempts to show that the story of James Conley, negro factory sweeper, who testified that the defendant had attacked and then killed the girl, was contradicted in various parts by eight white women witnesses.

HALBERT WILL BE CANDIDATE

Bull Moosers Decide to Run Him for Gopher Governor.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 1.—Hugh T. Halbert of St. Paul will be Progressive candidate for governor. This was decided at a meeting of the Roosevelt followers here last night. Mr. Halbert was the only man mentioned for the place and his choice was unanimous. He was in Chicago when the nomination was made and the following telegram was sent him:

"At a meeting of the committee appointed for that purpose, you were unanimously chosen to file as candidate for governor for the Progressive party.

"George S. Eddy, chairman.

"George G. Chapin, secretary."

The full list of other candidates for state offices, as announced at the meeting last Friday, was indorsed.

The Progressive campaign in Minnesota will open in earnest at once.

SUPPLIES BOUGHT FOR RURAL SCHOOLS

Purchase Includes 6,000 Books; Thirty-Two Will Get Diplomas.

Six thousand text books have been purchased by N. A. Young, county superintendent of schools, for use in the various rural schools under his control. In addition to this, an assortment of other articles of school stationery have been ordered representing an outlay in all of approximately $4,500. Additional supplies will be purchased from time to time during the year as needed.

County diplomas will be issued to thirty-two eighth grade pupils in the county schools who received sufficient credits in the recent state high school board examinations. The certificates will be sent out from the office of the county superintendent. Those who failed to pass will be given another chance when a second examination will be conducted, beginning May 25 and ending May 27.

Those to whom diplomas will be awarded are: Ruth Bauer, Sarah Bloomquist, William Coburn, Bernhard Erickson, Thyrs Erickson, Arthur Flank, Belle Fleming, Loretto Hazelcamp, John Hyry, William Johnson, Mamie Jylha, Ruth Kenny, Charles Korhonen, William Kruse, Edward Laiti, Salma Lahti, May Lindland, Mamie Lintula, Bernard Mattson, Marie Nicholson, Lillie Ongala, Frithjof Peterson, Esther Peterson, Lottie Preston, Ellen Renstrom, Rose Riley, Sidney Sariff, Anna Sowa, Mary Stenlund, Alexander Stewart, Hella Untinen and Anna Anderson.

REAL ESTATE ATTRACTS.

Korby Piano Company Changes Name and Business.

Selling real estate evidently holds out greater inducements than dealing in pianos. At least this is the way that the incorporators of the Korby Piano company have found it.

In amended articles of incorporation filed yesterday with Register of Deeds Cailigan, notice is given that the name of the company has been changed to the Central Lakes Development company. In the future, the principal business of the company will be to lease and acquire lands and engage in timber operations.

The capital stock of the company is $50,000 with shares at $10 each. The incorporators are: J. E. Cooley, president; I. E. Broman, vice president, and John Korby, secretary and treasurer.

CARNEGIE MARKED FOR ASSASSINATION

Ironmaster on List Prepared By Michael P. Mahoney.

New York, May 1.—That Andrew Carnegie had been marked by death by M. P. Mahoney, who attempted to kill Mayor Mitchel on April 17, but instead shot and wounded Corporation Counsel Polk was asserted by Dr. M. S. Gregory at the inquiry into Mahoney's sanity.

The witness said that the prisoner had told him of the plan to kill Carnegie and two other men whose names he refused to reveal. The doctor declared that Mahoney was suffering from pre-senile, illusitnary dementia.

REFUSE TO MERGE WITH THE I. W. W.

Lawrence, Mass., May 1.—The striking dye workers at the Pacific mills who are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor have refused to join forces with the strikers belonging to the Industrial Workers of the World. The latter had proposed a union in the belief that the strikers would have a better chance of getting their demands for increased wages.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

WILL HONOR BRAVE ONES

Bemidji Planing on Holding Elaborate Memorial Day Exercises.

State Insurance Commissioner Preus Will Be Among Speakers.

Bemidji, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. A. O. Preus, state fire insurance commissioner, will be one of the orators at the Memorial day exercises here on May 30.

Other speakers will be Dr. M. D. Fuller of this city, City Attorney P. J. Russell and others whose names will be announced later.

Every effort will be made by the committee of aldermen, S. C. Bailey, Rube Miller and John Moberg, to lift the burdens of the day from the shoulders of the old soldiers and Bemidji and vicinity will be more elaborate in her marks of respect this year than ever before.

At a meeting of the city's committee, attended by Supt. Dyer, representing the city schools, and William Schroeder of Robert H. Carr post, G. A. R., plans were outlined for the day's observance.

Parade in Morning.

At 10 a. m. a parade will be formed at the city hall and with the children of the public schools as an escort of honor and the entire procession led by the Bemidji band, the veterans will march about the downtown streets and then proceed in automobiles to the cemetery, the children and delegations from Bemidji lodge marching in advance of the boys and girls of '61.

At the cemetery the Grand Army men will carry out their usual Memorial day services and a salute will be fired over the graves of their fallen comrades. School children will sing and a prominent orator from the ranks of the old soldiers will speak. Music will also be furnished by the band under the direction of Director Remfrey.

In the afternoon exercises will be held in the city hall and Mr. Preus will speak at that time.

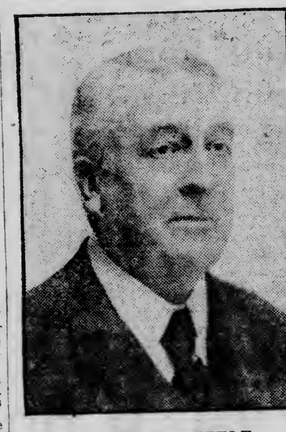
Rev. Mr. Fuller, one of the speakers of the day, who is temporarily supplying the Baptist pulpit, is a veteran of the Civil war. Dr. Fuller is a forceful speaker and the Grand Army men feel fortunate in prevailing upon him to make an address.

NEW BEMIDJI BUILDING.

Structure to Cost $20.000 to Be Erected This Year.

Bemidji, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—A $20,000 two-story, brick building with a 50-foot frontage and 91 feet deep will be erected this summer on the lots between The Sentinel and C. E. Battles buildings by the Model Manufacturing company. The building will have a full basement and will be equipped with modern machinery for the handling of ice cream, bakery and confectionery trade carried on by this progressive company. J. Harry Koors, who recently disposed of his interest in the Fitzsimmons-Baldwin company, will join his brother, Frank Koors, who has had active charge of the business for the past two years. Frank Koors returned from St. Paul Thursday morning, having gone there to close the deal for the purchase of the lots from the Bemidji Townsite company.

RICH NORTH DAKOTAN OUT FOR CONGRESSMAN



COL. W. P. TUTTLE.

Bismarck, N. D., May 1.—Colonel W. P. Tuttle, a millionaire farmer and speculator of Dawson, has declared his intention of being a Republican candidate for congress from the Second congressional district, which includes Bismarck.

The colonel has been touring the district for several weeks in his efforts to defeat Congressmon Young of Valley City, who is holding his first term.

Colonel Tuttle will establish political headquarters at Bismarck and will thoroughly cover the district with literature and speakers in his behalf. He says if elected his first attempt at Washington will be to secure a re-establishment of Fort Lincoln, the military post here that has been abandoned for nearly two years.

BAUDETTE IS TO BUILD NEW SCHOOL

Bonds Amounting to $36,000 Sold to Erect Structure.

Beaudette, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a special meeting of the school board yesterday the bids for the $36,000 bonds for building the new school were opened. There were five bids received. The contract was let to Spitzer-Rorick company of Toledo, Ohio, at a handsome premium.

Kirby T. Snyder of Minneapolis is the architect. The building will be similar to the one at St. Frances. The basement plans are 136x64, with the heating plant and manual training separate and in the rear. The gymnasium is 70x45 with shower baths for boys and girls. Tiolet rooms will be on each floor. The fan system for ventilation will be installed and the building will be lighted with electricity. Bubbling water founts will be on each floor. It will be a three-story structure. There will be special rooms for manual training, agriculture and domestic science.

BACK TO PENITENTIARY.

North Dakota Convict Allowed to Attend Funeral Returns.

Bismarck, N. D., May 1.—The regard for honor displayed by Denver Woods, serving thirteen years in the state prison here for murder, has aroused favorable comment. Woods has served nearly two years of his time, and some time ago his mother sent an appeal to the governor asking that her young son be pardoned as she feared she would not live long. It was impossible to grant the pardon, but when she was taken seriously ill a few days ago, the warden permitted Woods, without a guard, to return to his home at Baker, Mont. Woods' mother had died before he reached there, but he arrived in time to attend her funeral. True to his promise, he immediately returned to the prison to finish his term.

TOO MANY BULL CALVES.

Wisconsin Farmers Fear Incident Forecasts Evil Times.

Janesville, Wis., May 1.—Dairy farmers throughout Southern Wisconsin are disturbed because two-thirds of the calves born this spring are bull calves. This is considered remarkable and one which apparently cannot be explained. A teacher in the Janesville high school has found a report of a similar occurrence in Roman history when during one of Caesar's campaigns a great loss of life was predicted by priests of Mars because so many bull calves were born.

FINE IRONWOOD SCHOOL

To Cost $125,000 and Be Up to Date in Every Way.

Ironwood, Mich., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The cornerstone having been laid with appropriate ceremonies, a public schoolhouse that will be notable in size, architectural design and equipment is being built here. The structure will cost $125,000. It will be known as the Central school. The building will, it is asserted by members of the board of education, be excelled by no similar structure possessed by a smaller city of the state. It is hoped to have it ready for occupancy by Sept. 1.

FEARS OCEAN VOYAGE.

Crippled Copper Country Woman Afraid to Return to Finland.

Laurium, Mich., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Helpless, suffering from a broken back, able to move about only in an invalid chair, is the plight of Hilda Ala, injured by jumping from the third story of the Imperial hotel when that structure was destroyed by fire in March, 1913. She has been given an opportunity to return to her parents in Finland, to cross the sea accompanied by a nurse, but she prefers to remain among friends in the Copper country, fearing that the ocean trip would result in her death. The night of her injury she was removed to the Lake Linden hospital, where she since has been confined. For weeks her life hung in the balance. A few months ago she was placed in a chair. There is no ray of hope for her ever regaining the use of her limbs, but she seems content and has become resigned to her fate.

VETERAN OF TWO FOREIGN WARS.

Marquette, Mich., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—A veteran of two European wars, Jacob Urbach, formerly of Marquette, is dead at Omaha at the age of 71. He was a native of Germany. He served as a hussar in the Austro-German war of 1866 and also in the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-71. He was awarded a medal for bravery in each conflict. He passed through both wars without a wound.

FARMERS WANT ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

Williston, N. D., May 1:—(Special to The Herald.)—Farmers of the district lying north of here are intensely interested in the projected construction of an electric line from Williston to Rudser.

The line would be extended through Muddy valley to a distance of about sixty miles northward. This district is now without rail facilities, being dependent entirely upon Williston for market facilities and supplies, and causing long hauls that are proving decidedly expensive.

Farmers have taken up the movement and are subscribing liberally to the proposed company.

To Operate Vulcan Plant.

Vulcan, Mich., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Vulcan brick works, the property of the Turner estate and believed to be the only industrial plant of its kind in Upper Michigan, will be operated this season on a more extensive scale than at any time heretofore. A second machine is being installed. It is expected the output will exceed 3,000,000 bricks. Work will be given 100 men.

FEEDING SHEEP IS PROFITABLE

Ransom County, N. D., Farmer Makes Money Fattening Animals.

Lisbon, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—That feeding sheep from the Montana ranges and selling them to the South St. Paul markets can be made a source of profit if done in large numbers was demonstrated by W. E. Chisman of Ransom county. Last fall, through the better farming representative of this county, a trainload of sheep was brought here from Montana. Mr. Chisman secured six carloads of sheep and took them to a farm he owned along the river eleven miles from his home place. They were cared for by an inexperienced man and eighty head were lost through causes that would not have caused any damage had an experienced herder been in charge. The sheep cost $2.60 in Montana and that made a total charge of $3 delivered here. They were sold in three shipments, those of Dec. 8, bringing $4.15; Dec. 15, brought $4.25; Jan. 5, brought $4.75. The net profit was more than $1 per head.

This year Mr. Chisman is seeding with all his grain two pounds of rape seed. This will make a good forage with the stubble this fall. He intends to secure a much larger number this year than last and will bring a herder from Montana. The sheep are kept in a straw shed with straw banked up high on the north, east and west sides with the south sides open. The yards were down along the river and somewhat protected by the trees.

GOPHER LAND VALUES.

Returned Minnesotan Says They Are Warranted By Prices of Products.

Barnesville, Minn., May 1.—William Stewart, formerly of Clay county but now of Hood River, Or., is here on a visit. In speaking of Minnesota lands, which are selling at from $60 to $100 an acre, he believes they are cheaper now production and prices considered, than when he lived here years ago, when land sold at from $15 to $20 an acre. His reasons are that everything raised on the farm now is much higher and that scientific farming is making great strides. He can remember when he sold eggs in Barnesville for 4 cents a dozen and butter at 5 cents a pound.

STATE OFFICIALS AT INSTITUTIONS.

Fargo, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—A tour of inspection of different state charitable institutions is being made by Governor Hanna and the members of the board of control. The governor is deeply interested in the work and the improvement inaugurated by the present board. He is making a personal tour of the institutions that he may gain first-hand information as to their operations and their necessities. The officials left here last night for Grafton, where they will visit the Feeble-Minded institute, and will go from there to the blind asylum at Bathgate, the School for the Deaf at Devils Lake and the tuberculosis sanitarium at Dunseith.

WILL SETTLE UPON CUTOVER LANDS

Colony of Austrians Being Brought to Sawyer County.

Couderay, Wis., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some Austrians, representing about 200 families of their race have purchased a large tract of wild land near Bundy Spur, between Winter and Draper in Sawyer county.

It is all cutover hardwood land and the purchase is large enough to furnish each family with a small tract. Many of them will move onto the land at once and will go into stock raising and mixed farming, which this locality is best adapted for.

RED RIVER SWOLLEN.

Recent Rains Make Stream Higher Than in Several Years.

Fargo, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Heavy rains around Breckenridge, Wahpeton and further up the head waters of the Red river have caused that stream to be higher than at any time in the past four or five years. There is no danger of a flood, but the banks are quite full.

Deaf Mutes Wed.

Marquette, Mich., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—An unusual marriage ceremony was performed here when Ambrose Brisson and Miss Virginia St. Arnold were married at St. Peter's cathedral, the Rev. Father Mandorfield officiating. Both bridegroom and bride are deaf mutes. The ceremony was carried out in writing, the questions being placed before the couple on a sheet of paper and the answers being written in the designated places.

Marquette Patriots Organize.

Marquette, Mich., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local veterans of the Spanish-American war are organizing a provisional company of infantry, the services of which are to be offered to the government in the event of a conflict with Mexico. It is expected to recruit 100 men.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Wausau—Herbert H. Manson, collector of internal revenue of the western district of Wisconsin, died April 29 of erysipelas. He leaves a widow and one adopted child. In 1906 he was elected chairman of the Democratic state central committee. He was a delegate at large from Wisconsin to the Denver national convention in 1908. Mr. Manson retired from the chairmanship of the state Democratic committee in 1910 and was succeeded by Joseph E. Davies.

Grand Rapids — The Kaudy manufacturing plant which has been closed for the past year is in operation again. The stock and equipment was purchased by Mayor Joseph Cohen, who placed G. J. Kaudy, a former manager, in charge.

Milwaukee—Mrs. Lulu Hoey, widow of Harry Hoey, national guardsman, shot and killed accidentally in the Company F armory, last winter, has filed suit against the state of Wisconsin for $3,500 damages under the compensation act. She alleges carelessness in shooting in the gallery.

Janesville—The Lay Watterson Shoe company that has been manufacturing shoes for the Mexican Constitutionalist army, has sent one of its agents to its substations to dispose of all shoes on hand as soon as possible, fearing that the rebels will join with the Huerta government troops and it will be difficult to collect.

Sheboygan—The civics committee of the Sheboygan Women's club is offering 10 cents a hundred for all flies killed during the first two weeks in May. May 1 and 2 are to be city cleaning days, when the city will furnish teams to haul away all rubbish which is placed at the curb, and the members of the Boy Scouts will do the loading.

Prescott—Col. Daniel J. Dill, aged 85, who has just become president of a bank at Prescott, Wis., is well known throughout the state, and especially so in Grand Army, Loyal Legion and legislative circles. In 1861 he was a captain in the Sixth Wisconsin and the following year was made colonel of the Thirtieth.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Mandan, N. D.—Theodore Feland, county commissioner, while riding about his farm at Sims, this county, fell from his horse and sustained a broken arm, and badly injured back.

Fargo, N. D.—City Attorney Emerson H. Smith has resigned as city attorney on account of the pressure of other duties. He has served in this capacity since the opening of the administration of Mayor Sweet.

Dickinson, N. D.—Leslie Simpson, former state senator, is out in the open as a candidate for congressional honors from the Third district. Mr. Simpson opposes P. D. Norton for the honor.

Washburn, N. D.—Carl Klein of Washburn has announced his candidacy for commissioner of labor and agriculture on the Progressive ticket, while E. M. Nelson of Taylor, Richland county, announced himself for state treasurer on the same ticket yesterday.

Crookston—That Mrs. Loretta Atkins of Nethers Hill, Sask., came to her death by illness and exposure following over-exertion in an attempt to make a 25-mile walk in a driving rain and sleet storm, was the verdict of the coroner's jury reported Wednesday. Mrs. Atkins had walked fifteen miles when overcome. She laid down beside the highway, where she later was found dead.

All Clogged Up? Here's Quick Relief

A Simple Remedy to Correct Constipation Before It Becomes Chronic.

MR. H. W. FENSTERMAKER.

Very few people go through life without some time or other being troubled with constipation. Thousands injure themselves by the use of strong cathartics, salts, mineral waters, pills and similar things. They have temporary value in some cases, it is true, but the good effect is soon lost, and the more one takes of them the less effective they become.

A physic or purgative is seldom necessary, and much better and more permanent results can be obtained by using a scientific remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It does not hide behind a high sounding name, but is what it is represented to be, a mild laxative medicine. It is so mild that thousands of mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet it is so compounded, and contains such definite ingredients that it will have equally good effect when used by a person suffering from the worst chronic constipation. In fact, among the greatest endorsers of Syrup Pepsin are elderly people who have suffered for years and found nothing to benefit them until they took Syrup Pepsin.

It is a fact that millions of families have Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin constantly in the house, homes like those of Mr. H. W. Fenstermaker, Siegfried, Pa. He says he has had wonderful results from the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, that, in fact, he has never found a remedy so good, and he is glad to recommend it. The special value of this grand laxative tonic is that it is suited to the needs of every member of the family. It is pleasant-tasting, mild and non-griping. Unlike harsh physics, it works gradually and in a very brief time the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to do their work naturally again, when all medicines can be dispensed with.

You can obtain a bottle at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar. The latter size is usually bought by families who already know its value. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington Street, Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

BENNETT AN ENTHUSIAST

Actor Feels Country Is Awakening to Danger of Venereal Diseases.

Prudery Will Pass and Spade Will Be Called a Spade.

Richard Bennett is an enthusiast, a student—and perhaps a prophet.

He is a prophet in that he claims that the lapse of five years will behold people of this country calling a spade a spade, even though it is an ugly and misshapen spade, and that words that have been kept securely locked under the covers of medical books will be spoken right out in meeting.

As illustrating this Mr. Bennett remarked today, as he sat in one of the leather chairs of the Spalding lobby and waited to be motored out to the Country club:

"Helen Keller recently wrote a letter to the Kansas City Star. This letter was printed on the front page and dealt with the terrible plague, the horribly wasteful ravages of venereal diseases. Words were used on the front page in that reproduction of Miss Keller's letter that the editor of the Kansas City Star or any other paper of the United States would not have thought of using five years ago.

"Five years from now people will be using these forbidden names in conversation and they will be seen in print—for why? Simply because the day of the mealy-mouthed hypocrite, the moral coward, the puerile prude and those who declare that it is immoral and indecent to speak of facts that are appalling in their awfulness, is coming to a speedy end."

"And what about the lesson of 'Damaged Goods?'" Mr. Bennett was asked.

One of the most distinguished pychologists once remarked that blue eyes are not in the habit of flashing. Mr. Bennett has blue eyes, and when that question was asked they flashed.

"What do you think of it?" he demanded, and his remark was in the nature of an exclamation.

Greatest Lesson.

"It is the greatest lesson in the world. Perhaps it has not given me the greatest chance of my career—I care little for that; I have the satisfaction of knowing that I am preaching one of the greatest lessons in the history of moral movements, and I have the satisfaction of knowing that I am increasing my own self-respect.

"I have been condemned and flayed, one might almost say. But that makes little difference. The germ of the thing is that this play is teaching one of the greatest moral lessons of the century—one that is having its effect and influence on legislation and, more than that—on the people.

"You know that there are a lot of laws upon the statute books at the present time that are not enforced and are not even efficient. The greatest law is the will and belief of the people: it is to the intelligence, the morality and the common sense of the people of this country that the great lesson of Brieux is appealing."

Evidently Richard Bennett has made a profound study of facts and statistics connected with the subject material of "Damaged Goods." He can quote with unhesitating tongue figures, instances and effects.

Mr. Bennett believes that the prudery of the present must pass, and is passing. Doctors, he declared, can no longer evade the subject of one of the most potent agents of evil in the world.

"Investigations show," continued the actor, "that 50 per cent of the people suffering from various gland affections, eye affections and results more grave in their consequences, acquired these by inheritance from venereal diseases. These are facts, absolute and uncontrovertible. There is no use pleasing mock modesty—we must look this great problem directly in the face, and the lesson taught by Brieux is one of the greatest of modern times.

"Plays of ilk of 'The Traffic,' will draw immense audiences," says Mr. Bennett, "and these plays pander to the lowest instincts and engender false notions of society and breed vice and crime. 'Damaged Goods' is a lesson, a grave warning to every young man and every young woman, to every father and mother. It is a pioneer in the new view of facts, and its benefit is inestimable."

OLD SQUABBLE CAUSES TROUBLE

When Otto Locke, 24 years old, met Axel Ekman, 37 years old, in a West Superior street saloon yesterday afternoon, he accused the latter of having stabbed him in an affray about a year ago. Locke showed a scar on his forehead, which he claimed was inflicted by Ekman and immediately the two men started to renew their old squabble.

According to their stories in police court this morning, Locke struck Ekman and the latter responded by throwing a glass of beer in the former's face. Locke snatched the glass away from Ekman and struck the latter over the head with it. At this juncture Patrolman Connors arrived and placed the two men under arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct.

In police court Locke pleaded not guilty and later, being found guilty, was fined $5 and costs or sixty days on the work farm. Ekman pleaded guilty and sentence in his case was suspended.

MURDER CASE GOES TO JURY

Abraham Haddad Says He Fired in Self Defense.

Late this afternoon, the fate of Abraham Haddad, charged with the murder of George Gazarie in a pistol duel on Garfield avenue on the night of October 12 last, will rest with a jury. The taking of evidence in the case was completed this morning and before noon adjournment was taken. County Attorney Greene had finished his argument.

It is expected that James A. Wharton, attorney for the defense, will wind up his argument and that the case will be in the jury's hands before 3:30 o'clock. Haddad did not deny the shooting. He asserted that it was done in self-defense. There were no eye witnesses to the affair and Haddad claims that Gazarie made the advances and began shooting first.

The state's theory of the case is that Gazarie did not shoot until after he had been fired upon by Haddad. County Attorney Greene also argued to the jury that three of the four shots which Haddad claimed to have been fired in self-defense entered Gazarie's body from the back.

This is Haddad's second trial. At his first trial, he stopped proceedings by pleading guilty to a charge of murder in the third degree. The plea was taken, but when the young man came before the court for sentence he changed his mind and asked to take his chance with a jury again. The request was granted.

CASSELTON, N. D., HAS BIG MYSTERY

Casselton, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local authorities are mystified over finding the body of a young man in a box car face downward, with a revolver underneath and one finger on the trigger guard. A bullet had been shot through his heart and there were powder marks on his clothing.

It was thought to have been a case of suicide, but when a bullet was extricated it was of different calibre and shape to those remaining in the weapon. He is now thought to have been murdered. Only one cartridge had been fired from the revolver. There was nothing on the man's person to lead to his identity and only ten cents in money were found.

G. A. Rick of Reading, Pa., has a 50-acre farm for his 20,000 chickens.

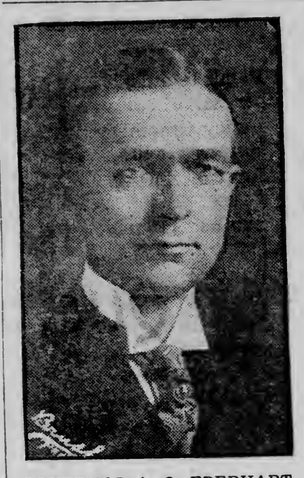
LECTURE ON THE PHILIPPINES AND ADVOCACY OF PEACE IN MEXICO IS FEATURE OF WEST DULUTH CLUB BANQUET

Miller Gives Intensely Interesting Talk on the Islands.

Governor Knows But One Duluthian He Would Have at Front.

Attorney H. C. Fulton Raps Speakers and the Guests With Friendly Sarcasm.

Banquet Most Enjoyable of Many Given By the Club.



GOVERNOR A. O. EBERHART.

CONGRESSMAN C. B. MILLER.

MAYOR W. I. PRINCE.

S. G. IVERSON.

H. W. LANNERS, Toastmaster.

The twelfth annual banquet of the West Duluth Commercial club came to a close at 12:15 o'clock this morning following one of the most interesting lectures that has ever been given in Duluth.

The lecture was given by Congressman Clarence B. Miller on the Philippines and was illustrated with colored pictures taken by himself while on the official inspection of the islands last year.

The banquet was a success in every way. More than 400 people crowded into the hall to hear the addresses following the banquet. Seats at the banquet table had been provided for 308 and every one of these was occupied and demands for at least fifty more made by belated patrons.

Congressman Miller gave the principal address of the evening. He touched on local conditions, saying that residents of West Duluth and the city at large were about to realize the results of their efforts in making Duluth the greatest city in the West. He said that where the residents are now numbered by the hundreds they will soon be counted by the thousands. He touched on housing and said that a community like West Duluth, where the majority were home owners, was to be congratulated, and that a home with a small green patch around it was a blessing to humanity.

The congressman told of his recent introduction of a special bill authorizing the construction of the bridge at Fond du Lac. "I introduced this bill with the full expectancy that within a few days it would become a law," he said. "The committee to which it was referred was composed of personal friends of mine. I expected no trouble whatever. When it was brought to the house the first opposition appeared. Your sister city across the bay said 'halt.'

"Real estate dealers had a special interest in the bill, and, instead of the Fond du Lac bridge, wanted approaches to the bridge at New Duluth. I say that the bill will go through. We may not get action as soon as expected, it may take a month or longer, but that bridge bill will be put through."

The Mexican Situation.

In touching on the Mexican situation the speaker said it was a cause of humanity. A form of republican government exists there, he said, that the people of the country, in trying to emulate the United States, had not fitted themselves for. No country, he said, could be governed by mob rule.

"We don't want a foot of Mexico. We don't want the smallest village or hamlet in Mexico, but what we do want is a staple form of government and we want it not only in Mexico, but in the entire Central America to the Panama canal. We are going to have it if we have to go there and set it up for them. Self government and representative government are not to had for the asking, but must be lived out. The mission of the American government is not only to govern this country, but also to teach others how to govern themselves. It is not necessary to obtain this government at the point of a bayonet. It may be had by exhibiting self-reliance and firmness."

The speaker referred to the building of the Panama canal is the greatest feat in the annals of the world. This canal he said would change the geography of the entire world and later the trade routes of both hemispheres. He said it was essential to this country to have a good form of government from the Rio Grande to the canal.

The Philippines.

Congressman Miller referred to the rule of Spain in the Philippines. He recited history of continual warfare between the armies of that country and the savages of the islands, and said that it had remained for the United States to go over there and establish peace among the natives. The Philippines, he asserted, have the richest soil of any country in the world. The islands with more than 8,000,000 people have now more than a quarter of the population civilized. He deplored the removal of men in authority and the replacement of them by natives. The men removed, he said, were among those affiliated with both parties and that there existed no American politics on the islands.

He referred to Manila as being one of the most beautiful cities in the world. "When the United States took hold of it Manila was a disease ridden hele," he said, "but, with American energy this has all been changed. Streets are paved, every aid to sanitation is installed and today its citizens are a picture of health."

In leading up to his illustrations of points of interest in the islands the speaker told of the work being done by Americans in civilizing the Moros, head hunters and other tribes in the various islands. He praised the work of these Americans as being missionaries in the art of teaching good government and said that the government now existing on the islands was the most efficient and economical kind.

The pictures showed the preliminary work that was done in educating the natives. Among these were pictures of artesian wells, which the congressman said, had reduced the death rate among the natives 50 per cent. One of the pictures was that of the leprosy colony. This disease he said had prior to American occupation been scattered throughout the entire islands, but now it was confined to one place and that only about 3,500 were afflicted. He predicted that within a short time the disease would be entirely eliminated.

Good Roads.

Good roads built under the supervision of Americans, school houses of concrete, organized games among the native children were among the other subjects shown. He said the natives were being educated in industry and taught that it was honorable to do manual work. He said the head hunters, whose prime object in life and only industry was to cut off the heads of other natives were being slowly shown that it was wrong to do this and shown other more useful occupations.

The speaking program was opened at 8:30 o'clock with a short address of welcome by P. H. Martin, president of the club. In a preliminary talk he said that he was proud of the work the club had done and that its membership consisted of the "best bunch of boosters" on earth. He said the club was actively engaged now in an attempt to get a "trail" that would connect the "City of West Duluth" with the suburbs to the east, as well as a connecting street car line with the western suburbs and the steel plant.

Lanners Toastmaster.

Judge Harry W. Lanners, toastmaster, in his opening talk said that this was his first offense in this capacity, but that now he intended getting into the class of such masters as Choate, Page, Chauncey Depew and Warren E. Greene.

Mayor W. I. Prince was the first speaker on the program. He said that the future holds out far greater significance to the people of Duluth than its citizens have any idea of. He gave figures showing its present industry and resources saying that it was the second greatest port in the point of tonnage in the world, was about to open one of the largest and most modern steel plants in the country, had ten great railway terminals, was nowhere excelled by its excellency of street car service, its bank clearings for 1913 had amounted to over a quarter billion dollars and that it had gained the respect of the entire country for its method of enforcing the law. He said that the officials of the city were ready at all times and asked for the cooperation of every club in the community to assist in the upbuilding of the city. Cooperation of these clubs was, he said, essential to good government.

Judge Lanners in introducing Governor Eberhart said the club could easily make an entire program on such a subject as the state of Minnesota. He referred to the recent execution of the four gangsters in New York which he termed 'legal murder' and said this state was to be congratulated in that it had abolished capital punishment.

An Editor a Fair Target.

Governor Adolph O. Eberhart said that when he was recently asked if he favored war in Mexico, he replied that he did not, and that he still maintained that view. He said he had a war on his own hands that was keeping him busy. He referred to his 'colonels' two of whom he said were sitting at the table, saying that he would not like to see them go to the front to face bullets, not that they would not make good soldiers, but that he needed them at present. He said that there was only one man in Duluth, whom he would appreciate seeing go to the front and that was the editor of the Duluth Herald. "Personally I like his qualities, but he has a habit of saying things through the papers that are not too pleasant," he said.

The governor told of the work being done by the state in providing education for its children. He praised the schools of Duluth for their efficiency.

He also touched on the abolishment of capital punishment for murderers, and said that since the law went into effect no more murders had been committed, but that the convictions had increased 50 per cent. He also referred to the abolishment of corporal punishment in the reform schools, saying that the young offenders were now being given more humane treatment, and that such a program had a telling effect on their minds.

Iverson on Conservation.

State Auditor Samuel G. Iverson said that the rest of the state looked upon Duluth as the city of model government. Its law enforcement feature, he said, was receiving the praise of the entire state and nation. He gave a short talk on the value of the state's mineral, timber and farming sections, and advocated the conservation of the state's resources for future generations.

Mr. Iverson told of his recent attendance at the National Drainage congress at Atlanta, Ga. Figures given there showed that 80,000,000 acres in the United States were swamp land. These were generally a menace to the health of the people of the nation. He told of the recommendations made for a system of drainage of these swamps and of the proposed national highways that would extend the breadth of the land. According to the plans of national highway advocates, he said 850 miles of these highways were planned for Minnesota. He said that recent decisions rendered by the supreme court were to the effect that congress could as legally authorize the money for this system of road building as it could for river and harbor improvement.

Distributes His Raps.

The address of the evening that brought forth the most laughter was given by H. C. Fulton, a local attorney. Mr. Fulton with biting sarcasm and humor scored candidates in general, newspapers, the men and even the women. He referred to the newspapers as 'one being without an ideal and the other without an idea.' He said it was too bad the governor had not arrived a day or too sooner as then he could have seen which way the wind blows, as all sailors are aware that the wind usually blows to the Lee side of the ship. In opening his talk he said he expected to make as much of a 'show of himself as the editor of the News Tribune did one night at the Armory. He said he had often been at banquet tables with candidates and non candidates but this was the first time he had sat with the 'eliminated and uneliminated.' He cast an insinuation at the congressional race and referred to Job of the Bible days who passed out of existence because of too many (Boyles)' boils.

The program also included a duet by Philip Gordon Brown and John R. Batchelor. Both also gave solo selections.

The supper served by the Ladies' Aid Society of the West Duluth Baptist church was voted the best that had ever been served to such a gathering in this end of the city. Among those who had charge of tables and assisted were:

Mrs. M. E. Allen, Mrs. G. Hunt, Mrs. J. F. Flack, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. E. Erickson, Mrs. S. Forbes, Mrs. A. L. Bishop, Mrs. T. B. Jones, Mrs. W. G. Little, Mrs. A. C. Ritchie, Mrs. A. E. Pearson, Mrs. H. H. Phelps, Mrs. C. R. Keyes, Mrs. J. T. Burntside, Mrs. C. R. Keyes, Mrs. W. A. Pond, Mrs. S. J. Nygren. Mrs. L. A. Root, Mrs. T. F. Olsen, Mrs. E. Aman, Mrs. F. E. Watson, Mrs. Charles Kauppi, Mrs. A. Boyd, Mrs. Deboer, Mrs. F. Ashley, Mrs. E. Zauft, Mrs. T. Brain, Mrs. L. R. Clark, Mrs. Walter Dunn, Mrs. H. W. Lanners, Mrs. C. M. Everett, Mrs. L. A. Root, Miss Mary Marnes, Miss Alice Martin, Miss Evelyn Dunn, Miss Harriet Brown, Miss Violet Siddell, Miss Fern Brooke, Miss Alta Jones, Miss Vivian Saylor, Miss Florence Hunt, Miss Ethel Little, Miss Katherine Keyes, Miss Hildegard Wohlen, Mrs. May M. Kage, Miss Jennie Hansen, Miss Nellie Ritchie, Miss Georgia Ross, Miss Edna Ross, Miss Beatrice Drake and Miss Ethel Dunstan.

Visited Schools.

During the afternoon yesterday, Governor Eberhart, accompanied by Mayor Prince and a delegation of the West Duluth Commercial club visited six of the West Duluth schools. Short talks was given the children by the officials. Those on the reception committee, who accompanied the governor and mayor, were P. H. Martin, L. A. Barnes, Andrew Myles, Thomas Olafson, H. H. Phelps, Charles Kauppi, John A. Eklund, A. G. Macauley, Charles G. Futter, W. B. Getchell, B. Blechl and Daniel O'Keefe.

Frank A. Brewer, who was scheduled as one of the speakers was out of the city yesterday and unable to be present at the banquet.

URGES CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN

Supt. Kreitter Talks to Women on "Beautifying Proctor."

Backyard cleaning, grass seeding, tree planting and making of gardens, were points touched upon by J. W. Kreitter, superintendent of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad, in an address on "Beautifying Proctor," before the Ladies' Aid Society of the Forbes Memorial M. E. church, yesterday afternoon. He advocated that every member of the aid society should constitute a committee to get in touch with the village officials, asking their cooperation in making the village beautiful.

"How can we beautify Proctor?" asked Mr. Kreitter. "I would say, spend a little money in the right direction and work, although work is the principal thing concerned. The essentials involved in beautifying Proctor are sanitary, clean yards, trees, grass plots, flowers, clean streets and sidewalks.

"There is no great obstacle to a clean yard. I made an inspection of a portion of Proctor, where the company's houses are located and found ash piles, tin cans and rubbish of every nature and the smell in some instances indicated anything but sanitary conditions, and I wondered how any man could permit such a condition to exist. Perhaps it was because the tenants were indifferent or shiftless or spent their time elsewhere less profitably. A half hour's work a day for a short time would change this condition. The women can, no doubt, assist originally by getting a box and deposit therein empty tin cans and other refuse instead of throwing them into the backyard. A man may be ever so clean, but unless he has the assistance of the wife and children in cleanliness, he will prove a failure.

"Every lot ought to have trees and an abundance of them are to be had in the neighborhood for the asking. There is nothing more beautiful than shade trees around or in front of a residence.

"Getting grass plots around the home is an easy matter. Just level the front yard, rake the earth, sow the seed, turn on the hose and the good Lord will do the rest. With an occasional flower bed in the lawns, can you imagine a prettier scene? Why should not everyone have flowers? Is there anything that will do more to beautify a community than the pretty flower beds tastily arranged in the front lawns casting their fragrance to the air. No person can arrange these more tastily than the women.

"We have one still more important and profitable subject to cover, namely gardening. This has been the one all-absorbing subject of every good sized village or city in the country. It has got into the home, school, church, into the business house and practically every commercial club. Why should not we add it to our list of means for beautifying Proctor. Have it take the place of the ash heaps, tin cans and other rubbish. A garden is a profitable investment for every family. It reduces the high cost of living. The good Lord helps those who helps themselves and all He asks of man or boy is to plow or spade the back yard, seed it with the seed of vegetables you most like and He will do the rest. Naturally it must require a little care but the biggest part of the job is done by nature.

"You have another duty to perform. Induce the merchants to clean up their back yard by burning up boxes and refuse. Have owners of vacant property in which are holes containing stagnant water, fill them up with dirt. Get them to clean up. Have them remove stumps and rotted logs from their property. Get the village authorities to keep clean the alleys and streets, drain or ditch them so that water will not stand in them, and compel cleanliness.

"Let us have one of the greatest 'clean up' days this spring that Proctor has ever experienced. Enlist the village officials, the school superintendent and the children. If possible have the next two Saturdays set aside as these days."

Mr. Kreitter also advocated garden contests in the schools and referred to the one now being held in the West end.

WEST DULUTH BOY SENTENCED

James D. O'Brien, former West Duluth boy, has just commenced a three-year sentence at the Alberta provincial penitentiary at Edmonton, Can. He was convicted of having stolen $526 from the safe of the Hotel Cecil on the night of Jan. 26, this year. The robbery is said to have taken place shortly before 3 o'clock in the morning while the proprietor was attending a banquet in a hall adjoining the hotel lobby.

O'Brien was arrested on Feb. 9 and charged with the offense. Being out of funds at the time, he was unable to procure the services of an attorney, and took the stand in his own defense. Accounts of the trial as given in the Edmonton paper state that he made a good plea, and cross-examined the witnesses for the crown in an experienced manner.

O'Brien was raised in West Duluth. When a boy he attended school at the Irving and Longfellow. He got into a number of scrapes locally and later served time in the reformatory. His last escapade in this locality took place during the strike on the Mesaba range, when he shot and wounded one of the strikers. He was discharged by a jury in district court on a showing of the defense that the shooting had been done in self-defense. O'Brien at that time was employed as guard by the special agency that had charge of the strike-breakers, and was guarding the property.

O'Brien's mother resided in West Duluth until recently.

BUILDING ACTIVITY

Building operations in Duluth are showing a steady and substantial increase each month and year, according to the records in the office of Building Inspector S. M. Kielley.

During April Inspector Kielley issued 210 permits for improvements estimated at $440,891, which is one of the heaviest Aprils on record in this city. During April a year ago 161 permits were issued for improvements estimated at $230,215.

During the first four months of 1913 permits were issued for improvements estimated at $2,229,725. One of these however, was for $1,500,000 for the new ore dock built by the Steel corporation in the West end. Eliminating that the amount was $729,725. The first four months of this year permits were issued for improvements estimated at $1,016,832, of which the largest was to the Berwind Fuel company for a foundation for a dock and three hoist bridges at the foot of Fiftieth avenue west.

Building Inspector Kielley declares that the figures disprove the assertions of those who object to the housing ordinance on the ground that it is hampering building operations in Duluth. He asserts that the number of dwellings erected has increased and that during the time the housing code has been in effect more dwellings have been built than for any similar period before that time.

A Gift From

is sure to please

Because the recipient immediately associates it with quality.

For years Hendrickson Jewelry company and quality have been synonymous in the minds of the people of Duluth.

And this is true no matter how inexpensive the gift may be.

Speaking of inexpensive gifts, you will be surprised at the number of moderate priced gifts in sterling which we are showing.

Selecting a graduation or wedding gift will be a pleasure here—it matters not how little or much you wish to spend—you are sure to find just what you want at a price to suit.

THOUGHT WAR WAS ON.

Washington, May 1.—An American brig was seized by Mexican Federal officers at Manzanillo, who thought that war had been declared, but was immediately released with apologies on the demand of the Raleigh, according to a report received at the navy department today from Admiral Howard, in command of the American fleet on the west coast of Mexico.

CANADIAN NORTHERN FREIGHT IS WRECKED

Virginia, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—An extra freight train on the Canadian Northern road was wrecked at Lydle station, about sixty miles north of here this morning and four cars of coal went into the ditch. The track was torn up so the regular train from the north was held at Fort Frances and an extra was made up here to run to Duluth, leaving at 11:30 a. m. So far as known here, there was no loss of life and it is expected the track will be cleared before night.

ASK CITY FOR MORE PAVING

A committee of the Park Point Improvement club called upon Commissioner Roderick Murchison, head of the works division, this morning to ask for further improvements in their suburb.

They requested that the paving of Minnesota avenue be continued below Twelfth street this season, which is as far as it will go, according to the present schedule. The works head said that this would have to be governed by the condition of the funds later in the season.

They wished to have steps taken to prevent sand from drifting into the street. This question has received considerable attention in the past but will be further investigated.

Another betterment wished was the placing of underground overhead wires. This will be done by the wire companies before the pavement is laid.

Complaint was made that teamsters are injuring walks by driving over them. This will be referred to the policeman who is stationed across the canal.

The Park Point sewer has been completed and is now being tested by the engineering department. The sewer is the first of its kind constructed in this city. Because of the lack of grade it is laid in sections, so that it resembles a jagged streak of lightning. The sewage is boosted from one section to another by automatic electric pumps and is discharged into the canal. The cost of the job was about $25,000.

DISSATISFIED WITH MATRIMONY

Mrs. Mary A. Patten withstood the taunts and abuse of a drunken husband for five years before she asserted her independence and left him, according to the story which is told in a divorce action filed today in district court against Charles E. Patten. Mrs. Patten is 26 and he is 32. They were married ten years ago and are parents of two children.

On Jan. 5, 1913, Mrs. Patten and the two children, Winifred, 9, and Charles, 5, left their home at Marquette, Mich., where Patten is employed as a crane engineer, and came to Duluth. She says that she could no longer stand his treatment. In her bill of complaint, Mrs. Patten alleges that he would come home late at night in an intoxicated condition, strike the children and threatened her with personal violence. She also claims that he consorted with lewd women.

On arriving in Duluth, Mrs. Patten placed the children in the St. James' Orphanage. She asks for their legal custody and an absolute divorce. She also asks for alimony.

Judge Cant today granted Selma Johnson, 31, a divorce from Otto Johnson, 37, on the grounds of drunkenness and desertion after having the case under advisement since the January term of court. The Johnsons were married in Finland on Nov. 16, 1899, and are parents of two children, Ellen, 13, and Arvid, 12, of whom the mother has been given custody.

The court found that Johnson had taken $1,100 which his wife had received as an inheritance and had invested it in certain real estate at Virginia, a portion of which he had later sold without his wife joining in the deed. In the deal he represented himself to be a single man.

The court decrees that Johnson repay his wife $1,100 and in addition give her alimony in the sum of $500. Until paid both sums will stand on the judgment books as a lien against Johnson's property.

Judge Dancer has granted a divorce to Elizabeth Manley Burke, 28, from Arthur J. Burke, 37, on the grounds of desertion and has awarded her a one-third interest in the family homestead at 4112 West Eighth street, this city. She was also awarded the custody of the two children, John 10, and Wilfred, 7. The Burkes were married in this city on April 15, 1901, and the alleged abandonment took place July, 1906.

TRADE BILL MADE PUBLIC

Washington, May 1.—The administration interstate trade bill as framed by a sub-committee of the senate interstate commerce committee for report to the full committee was made public today. Railroad representatives will be heard by the committee May 11 and 12, and others interested as opportunity offers.

The bill would provide for a commission of five, not more than three of one political party, at $10,000 a year. Each commissioner would be allowed $5,000 for a secretary. The commission would be authorized to "investigate the organization, business, financial condition, management and its relations to other corporations, of any corporations engaged in such commerce as congress has the power to regulate under the Constitution."

Require Reports.

The bill also would empower the commission to require annual or special reports from any corporation subject to the act; to make public its information, and to recommend needed legislation to congress. The bill specifically would provide that nothing in the act should interfere with the attorney general's enforcement of the anti-trust or interstate commerce laws.

The bill would empower the commission to call upon the district courts to enforce its orders against corporations; would prohibit interlocking directorates in competitive corporations, and prohibit holding companies, prescribing detailed procedure for the enforcement of these sections. It directs that all corporation stock must be fully paid for.

Makes Guilt Personal.

The bill makes guilt personal by making directors, officers and agents responsible for violations of the law by corporations, and providing a fine of $5,000 or one year's imprisonment as a penalty against each officer.

REJECT PLAN TO ARBITRATE

Denver, Colo., May 1.—Nineteen coal mine operating companies in Colorado—practically all within the state—have positively and drastically refused to consider a suggestion made by Chairman M. D. Foster of the house mines committee, that negotiations for settlement of the Colorado coal mine strike be entered upon, on the basis that the recognition of the union had been formally waived by the United Mine Workers of America.

This was announced after a telegram which Dr. Foster had sent to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in New York, calling upon him to settle the strike without recognizing the union, had been referred to the mining companies.

GOES TO MONTANA.

St. Cloud Reformatory Official Going to Miles City.

Helena, Mont., May 1.—C. A. Dorr, superintendent of the boys' reformatory at St. Cloud, Minn., for the past year and a half, has been selected as the successor of Superintendent George of the Miles City reform school.

Mr. Dorr met with the state officials here this week and accepted the position. He left for St. Cloud, and will return to Montana June 1, when he will assume his new duties.

The new superintendent has had wide experience in reformatory and industrial school work, and comes to Montana highly recommended for the position.

Vaterland's Trials Over.

Hamburg, Germany, May 1.—The new Hamburg-American liner Vaterland, the largest steamship in the world, has had her trials in Norwegian waters. She made 25.4 knots an hour against the wind and 26 knots with it. Her machinery developed an average of 90,000-horse-power.

LEGAL NOTICES.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That at a special meeting of the stockholders of Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Minnesota, duly called for the expressly stated purpose of increasing the authorized capital stock of the Company, increasing the amount of indebtedness or liability to which the Company might at any time be subject, as specified in the resolutions hereinafter set forth, and for the transaction of such other business as might come before the meeting, and held at room 806 Sellwood Building, in the City of Duluth and State of Minnesota, on the 28th day of March, 1914, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon thereof, at which said meeting all of the shares of the capital stock of the Company and all the holders of such shares were represented either in person or by proxy, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the vote of said shares and said shareholders present at said meeting as aforesaid, namely:

(a). "RESOLVED, That Article 3 of the original Certificate of Incorporation of Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse Company be amended to read as follows:

"The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000), and shall be paid in either in money or property, at such time and in such manner as the Board of Directors may direct.'"

(b). "RESOLVED, That Article 4 of the original Certificate of Incorporation of Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse Company, as amended by the stockholders of this Company at a special meeting held on the 28th day of September, 1912, which said amendment is evidenced by a Certificate of Amendment, recorded in the office of the Secretary of State of the State of Minnesota, on October 3, 1912, in Vol. W-3 of Incorporations, on page 24 thereof, and thereafter recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of St. Louis County, Minnesota, on October 4, 1912, in Book 15 of Miscellaneous Records, on page 98 thereof, be now amended to read as follows:

"The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject shall be Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000).'"

(c). "RESOLVED, That Article 7 of the original Certificate of Incorporation of Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse Company be amended to read as follows:

"The capital stock of this corporation shall be divided into five thousand (5,000) shares, which shall consist of three thousand (3,000) shares of common stock, each of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) per share, and two thousand (2,000) shares of preferred stock, each of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) per share. The holders of preferred stock shall not be entitled to any voting powers in this corporation, and all such preferred stock shall be subject to redemption at the option of the corporation at any time fixed by the By-Laws of the corporation for the payment of dividends or installments thereof on such preferred stock at the price of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) for each such share and the amount of dividends cumulated and unpaid thereon at the date of such redemption.'"

(d). "AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Vice President and Secretary of this Company be, and they hereby are, authorized and directed to execute, under the corporate seal of said Company, a certificate embracing the foregoing resolutions, and the whole thereof, and that such officers cause the same to be approved, filed, recorded and published, as required by law, for the purpose of rendering said resolutions effective as amendments to the said original Certificate of Incorporation of this Company as the same may have been heretofore amended."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Vice President and Secretary of said Corporation, the presiding and recording officers of said Corporation at the special stockholders' meeting of said Corporation hereinabove referred to, have caused these presents to be executed under the corporate seal of said corporation this 22nd day of April, 1914.

ALEXANDER McDOUGALL,
Vice President of Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse Company.
F. E. FREGEAU,
Secretary of Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse Company.
(Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse Company, Incorporated 1907, State of Minnesota.)
Signed, Sealed and Delivered in Presence of:
A. MILLER McDOUGALL.
JOSEPH SELLWOOD, JR.

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis ss.

On this 24th day of April, 1914, before me, a Notary Public within and for said County and State, personally appeared Alexander McDougall and F. E. Fregeau, who, being by me duly and severally sworn, did each for himself depose and say: that said Alexander McDougall and said F. E. Fregeau are the Vice President and Secretary respectively of Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse Company, the corporation named in the foregoing certificate; that they have read said certificate severally subscribed by them as such officers, and that the same is true and correct; that the seal affixed thereto is the corporate seal of said corporation; that such certificate is signed and sealed in behalf of said corporation by authority of a resolution of the stockholders and directors of said Company duly passed, and they severally acknowledge that they executed the same freely and voluntarily for the uses and purposes therein expressed and as the free act and deed of said corporation.

NOTICE—
State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis—
District Court, Eleventh Judicial District.
In the matter of the condemnation by the city of Duluth of the following described property, to-wit: Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 13 and 14, in block 4, of Banning & Ray's sub-division of Duluth, for the purpose of erecting thereon a public armory.
To G. Willis Peters and G. Willis Peters, trustee:

Notice is hereby given, That on the 16th day of May, 1914, before the above named court, at a special term of said court, to be held on said day at the Court House in the city of Duluth, at the opening of court on that day, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, the petition of the city of Duluth in the above entitled matter will be presented to said court.

Notice is further given, That the objects of said petition are to obtain from said court an order adjudging that the taking by the city of Duluth of the land hereinafter described, for the purpose of providing a site upon which to erect a public armory, is necessary and is such as is authorized by law; and appointing commissioners to ascertain the damages that will be occasioned to the owners of said land on account of such taking.

The land proposed to be taken is situated in the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, and is described as follows:

Lots one (1), two (2), three (3), four (4), thirteen (13) and fourteen (14, of block four (4), Banning & Ray's sub-division of Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the register of deeds in and for St. Louis county and state of Minnesota.

ON THE IRON RANGES

KEEWATIN IS TO HAVE NEW HOTEL

Work Commenced This Week on a $20,000 Structure.

Kewatin, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tomlinson & Egan, the contractors who built the new high school has been awarded the contract to erect a two-story brick hotel building for James Theodore, and work was commenced Thursday morning. The building will cost when completed and furnished, approximately $20,000 and will be modern in every particular. The building will be located on the east corner opposite the Bank building. It will have sixteen rooms, a bar, restaurant and the lobby will take up the first floor.

The village council Tuesday evening decided to engage an engineer to get out plans and specifications for the construction of a cement walk leading to the new school house, the paving of the main street and also one block on the side streets, and the installing of more sewers. The clerk was instructed to make application to the county board for a state auditor to go over the books in the clerk's office. The monthly pay roll was passed after which the meeting was adjourned. Forty men are now employed by the village fixing up the streets and opening up the street leading to the depot.

Water Is Struck.

Water was struck Monday night in the village well when a blast opened up a big vein. The water rose at the rate of sixteen feet per hour or twenty gallons per minute. The shaft is now to a depth of 208 feet and the water has a depth of 130 feet. The well has cost the village a little over $14,000, but is a cheap investment at that price now that water has been struck. There is some talk of cementing the shaft to protect the timbers and avoid possible cave-ins.

SCARLET FEVER IS NOT CHECKED

Additional Cases Have Been Reported in Two Harbors.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The scarlet fever epidemic which has been causing considerable anxiety here for the past two months has not as yet been entirely checked. There have been thirteen cases in addition to the fifty-six cases reported last week. Quite a number of the new cases have been developed in the homes previously quarantined, the disease having been transmitted from one member of the family to another before the nature of the previous case was known, or on account of the impossibility of providing absolute isolation of patients in some homes.

Following is the list of new cases reported to the city clerk during the past week:

Dean Johnson, aged 9; Ethel Sullivan, aged 12; Hilton Shier, aged 9; Mary Syr, aged 18; Walter Hagen, aged 12; Hazel Lundquist, aged 3; Lloyd Lundquist, aged 5; Arthur Waxlax, aged 3; Johanna Fossum, aged 2; Clarence Martina, aged 2; John Babib, aged 2; Walter Juth, aged 3; Clarence Erickson, aged 1, and Harold Johnson, aged 7.

Not to Close Schools.

The idea of closing the public schools has been abandoned for the reason that so doing would not aid in checking the epidemic but on the other hand might have a tendency to increase it as the children would, to a certain extent, be together anyway and be exposed more to the weather.

After a close and scientific investigation by Supt. Flynn of the city schools and the school nurse it was found to be almost certain that only one or two school children became exposed to the fever in the schools, and there is no positive proof that these one or two became exposed in the schoolroom.

MANY IDLE MEN ON THE MESABA

Woodsmen Especially Are Seeking Lodgings From Virginia Police.

Virginia, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The records of the police station show an average of about forty lodgers a night for the past few days.

Thirty-five found asylum at headquarters Wednesday night, and all records for lodgers were broken recently when sixty-three men were given lodging by the police.

Most of the men are woods laborers who have recently concluded a winter's work in the woods and have spent all of their earnings. Easily a third of Wednesday night's delegation came from Cusson. Duluth and Superior also contributed a liberal quota.

A careful record of each lodger is kept by the police, and the men are impressed with the fact that there is nothing like all the comforts of a home to be expected from the police for an indefinite period.

Different From Former Years.

The labor situation contrasted with that of a year ago shows a marked difference. Then, especially in the mining industry, laborers were in demand, and the labor shortage seriously crippled many operators, especially the underground properties requiring skilled miners.

Most of the itinerant laborers coming to the range head for Virginia, and usually all of them are able to secure employment here, but it is different this year.

At Hibbing a large number of idle men are also reported, due to the fact that mining activity is not up to past seasons at this time, and the outlook for heavy ore shipping is that it is still several weeks remote.

FARMERS' CLUB IS TO GIVE PRIZES

Lake County Organization Will Encourage Soil Tillers.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.) — The financial condition of the Lake County Farmers' club is better now than any time during the past two years. Two years ago the club owed one of the local banks $1,700 and this has been greatly reduced out of the net profits to $500.

The club has decided to off certain prizes to be awarded at the annual fair of the Lake County Agricultural society this year. The competition will be open to members of the club in good standing. These prizes are offered: $5 for the best bushel of oats; $5 for the best bushel of wheat; $5 for the best display of alfalfa timothy.

The club will also give $1 worth of flower and garden seeds to each member who is in good standing for the year 1914.

The seed sold by the farmers' club has been passed by the seed inspection department of the Wisconsin agricultural college and has proven to be first class in former years.

Charles Larson has been appointed sales agent for the club.

A carload of dynamite has been ordered by the club and will be sold to the farmers for clearing land.

ORE SHIPPING IS PICKING UP

Bad Weather Delayed Work on Iron Range This Week.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ore business on the Iron Range railroad has not increased as rapidly as was expected it would, largely on account of the severe weather, but it is expected that another week will find the daily receipts considerably more than they are at the present time.

Yesterday ten crews were started out of Two Harbors, but that number was increased to fourteen crews on ore before midnight.

Up to Wednesday of this week only 41,000 tons had been received here and three boats had been loaded and cleared.

All of the mines of the United States Steel corporation are loading into cars.

According to the best information that can be obtained at the present time it appears that the total shipments from this port this season will be somewhere between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000 tons, or several millions tons less than was shipped from here last season.

TOWER MAN CALLED.

James Rody, Formerly of Ludington, Mich., Is Summoned.

Tower, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—James Rody died here at 9 a. m. yesterday morning after a long illness. Mr. Rody came to Tower twelve years ago from Ludington, Mich., and entered in business sometime later.

He was 45 years old. He leaves a mother and sister at Ludington. No arrangements have been made for the funeral as no word has been received from relatives. He is a member of the local Eagle lodge.

A. W. Force, Jr., a photographer from Minneapolis, is at Pike river taking pictures of the spawn-taking operations there.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Chinese Seeking to Get Bonds for Their Fellow Countryman.

Virginia, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Lenertz, who for the past year has been meat inspector of the city of Virginia, severed his connection as a city employe yesterday to work for a few days for Max Simon, but will shortly leave for Southern Minnesota, where he goes to look up a business location.

Local Chinese are trying to secure a new bond for their countryman, John Lee, convicted of first degree assault, whose bondsmen, Joseph Backus and W. B. Pratt, were recently released from a bond allowing him liberty pending an appeal for a review of his case by the state supreme court.

James A. Sheeran, traveling agent for the Soo Line, was here yesterday on a trip over the ranges, the purpose of which is to interest the Commercial clubs of the range in sending delegates to the midsummer meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association to be held at Thief River Falls.

Adolph Keller left yesterday for Waterloo, Iowa, to buy a carload of draught horses to be sold on the Virginia market. During the past year Mr. Keller has sold in Virginia over 300 head of work horses and the demand still continues strong. Most of the animals go out to farmers and small logging operators.

WATER FOR NASHWAUK.

Expected Soon to Be Secured From the New Well.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 1.—(Specialto The Herald.)—Work on the village well is progressing rapidly and in a short time the village will be supplied from its new water source. The supply at present is very low, the old well furnishing but very little water.

The village has a few teams at work hauling gravel on the side streets, and as soon as the new township roller is ready for operation, it will be used to roll and harden the roads which at present are not in the best of condition, owing to the heavy rains.

BUCK LAKE ROAD.

Contract Will Be Let to Lowest Bidder May 26.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The proposed county road work connecting with the Buck lake road and running north as far as Bear river will be let to the lowest responsible bidder at the meeting of the county board to be held May 26. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the county surveyor or at the office of County Commissioner Shellman at Nashwauk. The proposed road will cost approximately $30,000 and will be the largest road contract ever let in this part of the county. The petition to legalize this road has been accepted by the county board, the time limit ending May 25. By advertising for bids to be opened on the 26th, work can be commenced on the road by the 1st of June.

JUNIORS AS ACTORS.

Will Present "The Guardian" in Grand Rapids High School.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—This evening the junior class of the Grand Rapids high school will give their junior class play, "The Guardian," a standard play, at the high school auditorium. The staging of the piece promises to be very successful, as the participants have given much time and attention to the proper rehearsals, and are exhibiting unusual talent. Following is the cast:

Daniel Voorhees Pike of Kokomo, Indiana, Wayne Gilbert; the Grand Duke Vasili, George Moores; the earl of Hawcastle, Edwin Farrell; the Hon. Almeric St. Aubyn, son of Lord Hawcastle, E. McCormick; Ivanoff, Clifford Maddy; Horace Granger-Simpson, Kenneth Sutherland; Ribiere, the grand duke's secretary, Victor Roeker; Mariano, hotel steward, Ernest Hepfel; Michele, a waiter, Clarence McLean; a valet, Lloyd Vipond; Ethel Granger-Simpson, Florence Craig; Comtesse de Champigny, Myrtle Johnston; Lady Creech, sister-in-law of Earl Hawcastle, Mary D'Aujou.

NEW CHISHOLM LODGE.

Knights of Romulus Established in That Village.

Chisholm, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dom Borgo of Calumet, Mich., organized a lodge Wednesday evening of Knights of Romulus, an Italian organization founded upon the Roman laws and principles and in compliance with the laws of Michigan. Mr. Borgo states that a large number of names will be added before he leaves here. The election of officers was as follows: Candido Zanoni, first proconsule; Louis Zeni (No. 1), second proconsule; Mario Paoli, patrono; B. Bassetti, questore; Emilio Marchesi, patrizio; Joseph Dapral, patrizio; Antonio Fogetti, patrizio; Louis Clementi, patrizio; Clemente Portillo, censore; Louis Zeni (No. 2), censore; Peter Ciochette, tribuno; Egichio Caradi, tribuno; Clemente Tramontin, edile curali; Nicola Slaviero, edile curali.

READY BY SEPT. 1.

That Is Hope on Addition to Chisholm High School.

Chisholm, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The school board met yesterday with Architect George Chapman of Minneapolis and went over the present condition of the new high school building now under construction. A few minor changes were made in some of the rooms. The wood work for the inside finish was chosen after much deliberation. The building should be ready for occupancy by Sept. 1, the contract for finishing calling for it to be finished by Aug. 1. The work is progressing very satisfactorily to date and allowing for the usual delays on buildings of this size and character it is hoped that it will be finished by Sept. 1, in time for the fall term. One of the best features of the new addition to the high school is its magnificent gymnasium, conceded to be among the very best in the state in public school buildings and with a ceiling twenty-seven feet high and a balcony that will seat any ordinary sized audience, the room promises to be exceptional.

"RAINBOW GEORGE" GOES

Vagrant Ordered Out of Chisholm Takes to Road.

Chisholm, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge William Masters sent four men to the county jail yesterday and ordered one to leave town or serve ninety days in jail. James Murphy and Charles Cunningham were each given forty days for breaking into the saloon of Gust Moline on Lower Lake street and helping themselves to a quantity of whisky. They removed a basement window and entered the saloon from the rear.

Gust Leander got forty days for being drunk and was taken with the other men to Duluth.

George Martin, familiarly known as "Rainbow George," was given ninety days for vagrancy and intoxication, with the alternative of leaving town within an hour and remaining out of town during the time of his sentence. He chose to leave town.

Eveleth Assessor Busy.

Eveleth, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—F. C. Cerveny, appointed city assessor by the council, has returned from Duluth where he received blanks and instructions. He started making the assessment today and expects to use all of the forty-five days which he is allowed as this is the year on which both real and personal property has to be relisted.

Gets Tower Junction Job.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—George A. Patterson, formerly a conductor on the iron range, has been appointed yardmaster at Tower Junction to succeed Fred Helm, who has been transferred to Endion yard.

STOP SNIFFLING

Use Hyomei—It Gives Quick Relief. Best Remedy for Head Colds, Bronchitis or Catarrh.

When you head is stuffed up from a cold or catarrh, causing you to suffer with dull headaches, watery eyes, constant sniffling, spasmodic coughing, or an itchng and burning sensation in the nostrils, you need a remedy that will give you the quickest and most effective relief possible—something that will go right to the spot and immediately clear the head and end your suffering.

Use Hyomei—it is just such a remedy—a treatment that is harmless, pleasant to use, and leaves no disagreeable after effects. No round-about method of stomach dosing. Simply pour a few drops of Hyomei into the inhaler that comes with every complete outfit—which can be had from any drug store—and breathe it. You will immediately feel its healing and health-restoring effect.

The antiseptic and germicidal oils that constitute Hyomei mix with the air you breathe so that this health-giving medication goes directly to the sore and inflamed mucous membrane lining the nose, throat and bronchial tubes—all rrritation is quickly stopped, the congestion relieved, and the delicate tissues healed and vitalized. You will feel better at once.

Boyce drug store sells Hyomei with agreement to refund the purchase price if you are not satisfied. This should be convincing proof that Hyomei is a dependable remedy. Ask for the complete outfit, $1.00 size.

SMALLPOX IN HIBBING SCHOOL

Pupils Will All Be Vaccinated If Desired at District's Expense.

Hibbing, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Owing to a mild case of smallpox discovered in the high school yesterday, when Miss Maud McArthur was suddenly taken ill, Superindent Blair, this morning, visited every room in the district, informed the students of the circumstances and told them that any child whose parents desired vaccination might have it done by the family physician and the expense would be borne by the board.

Condition Not Serious.

A short session of the school board was held last evening when the case was discovered and action agreed upon. The condition of Miss McArthur is not at all serious, in fact, the physicians were hardly certain until late last evening that it was smallpox, but the preventative measures are considered wise by the board.

"It would not be a bad plan for every resident of Hibbing while the agitation is on, to be vaccinated," said one of the members of the board of health, this morning. "It is an extremely wise precautionary measure."

FINE FARMING CHANCES.

Virginia Farm Teacher Lauds Soil Possibilities of That Section.

Virginia, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—"My last trip to the Farmstead and Homestead schools convinced me more thoroughly than ever that there is a great opportunity for agriculture in this part of the state," declared Prof. Johnsrud, director of the agricultural department of the Virginia public schools, to The Herald. "Farming in this section is going to be a leading occupation with dairying the prominent feature. Many of the farmers will have splendid gardens this year. The children are showing marked interest in the work."

According to word received by Prof. Johnsrud from Prof. T. L. Haecker, chief of the division of dairy and animal industry of the state agricultural college, the green grass which has been coaxed from the earth by the recent rains means a saving of approximately $1,500,000 a wek to the farmers of Minnesota.

Prof. Johnsrud said that this section of the state is not receiving too much moisture and that the rains of the past few days have taken much of the frost out of the ground and prepared it for planting of gardens with but a few days of merry sunshine.

WOOD IN OVERALLS.

Former Game Warden Goes to Work on Road Job.

Virginia, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Clad in overalls and jumper, George E. Wood of Hibbing, long a terror to the game and fish hogs of northern Minnesota, went to work yesterday on road construction in the township of Balkan.

His motion as game warden follows a several months' campaign and is variously claimed to be just and unjust according to the individual viewpoint. Rewards amounting to a considerable sum due Wood for convictions secured are still withheld on various pretexts by the state game and fish commission of the state of Minnesota. He goes to work to support his family, according to prominent members of the Virginia Gun club, who, while not personal friends, nor giving entire cognizance to some of the methods employed by Wood in securing convictions, quite agree with Dr. Hornaday that he is the best game warden in the United States.

ILL-WILL CHARGED.

Virginia Lawyers File Answer in Noted Buyck Suit.

Virginia, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alleging ill-will and spite in the action brought against them, N. B. Arnold and R. C. Pickering, local attorneys, have filed answer in district court in the case of the town of Buyck against the Bankers' Surety company through their attorney, Victor L. They admit having received $5,250 from the surety company, but point out that $3,000 of the amount was turned over to the town of Buyck, which they represented, and the remainder was deducted for their work in 1910. They allege they were acting with the authority of the town of Buyck.

IS RECRUITING UP.

Eveleth Militia Company Is Preparing for Eventualities.

Eveleth, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. J. C. Hartness of Company F, M. N. G., is building up his company in anticipation of possible orders for active service.

Men are being recruited to fill the vacancies. A few are still needed to bring the company up to full peace strength and they are being selected with care. Men willing to go to the front and to serve faithfully, if the militia does not see active service, are the kind wanted.

The company drilled at the Armory last night. Expectation of an immediate call for service was not so apparent as a week ago.

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF DANDRUFF

End Itching Scalp and Stop Falling Hair—At Once.

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to keep your hair looking rich, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy. EXPLANATORY NOTES.

WARMER

The day started out according to predictions—cloudy — but later the merry sunshine broke through and occasionally the city got a sunshine bath and luxuriated in it. The day is what safely be styled as "fine" and the temperature shows redeeming features. The prediction for tonight and tomorrow is for partly cloudy but warmer weather, with occasional showers.

A year ago today was fair. The sun rose this morning at 4:52 o'clock and will set this evening at 7:18 o'clock, giving fourteen hours and twenty-six minutes of sunshine for a May day, four minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Warmer weather prevails throughout the Northwest and rain has developed over the Rocky mountains, the Southwest, Minnesota and Northern Michigan. Light to heavy frosts occurred last night in Ohio valley states."

The company drilled at the Armory last night. Expectation of an immediate call for service was not so apparent as a week ago.

EVELETH PROGRAM.

Crescent Literary Society Entertains at High Auditorium.

Eveleth, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following program was given by the Crescent Literary society under the direction of Miss Stone at the high school auditorium:

Overture, "Poet and Peasant," high school orchestra; piano solo, "Mazurka de Concert," Eleanor Shea; "High School Journal," Esther Nagle; vocal solos, "Who Knows," "The Rosary," Inez Davey; selection, Schubert's "Serenade," high school orchestra; farce, "Shakespeare's Heroes Up-to-date; Ophelia, Florence Robb; Juliet, Hilda Franz; Portia, Sara Rabinowitz; Lady Macbeth, Signa Niemi.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Bayliss and daughter of Bessemer, Mich., were here this week visiting Willard Bayliss, who recently moved here from Chisholm to accept a position as assistant general superintendent of the Adams-Spruce district for the Oliver Iron Mining company.

L. G. Fuller, formerly a resident of this city, has returned from the Pacific coast and has gone to Halifax, N. S., to take charge of work on some expensive harbor improvements. His family is visiting Mikael Shea.

HOLDING INSTITUTE.

Farmers of Bear River Section Are Getting Pointers.

Bear River, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The farmers of this section are here in large numbers attending the Farmers' Institute being held by the Farmers' club in the Modern Woodmen hall today and tomorrow. There will be a dance and supper tomorrow evening.

The Institute is in charge of K. D. Van Wagenen, agricuutural agent, St. Louis county, assisted by A. B. Hostetter, Fred E. Ward, A. J. McGuire, M. J. Thompson, Prof. Corwin and others.

GILPATRICK NOW CLERK AT BIWABIK

Biwabik, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village board has appointed I. R. Gilpatrick clerk to succed the late J. E. Riley at a salary of $90 per month.

He will have charge of all the accounts and books of the water and light department, which were formerly handled by the First National bank.

The council also appointed Charles Mattson to the position of night watchman at a salary of $75 a month.

The contract for street sprinkling was given to Joseph Robinson.

The council discussed the automobile speed limit ordinance and decided to instruct the police to strictly enforce the law in this matter.

The curfew bell was ordered rung at 9 p. m. every evening in the future.

A saloon license was granted to A. J. Cooling.

IT WAS SUICIDE.

Eveleth, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—After looking into the death of Mrs. Frank Kosley, who was struck by a locomotive here Monday and killed, Deputy Coroner Helps concluded it was a case of suicide. The locomotive, used in switching on the Iron Range, was moving slowly at the time and its crew testified that the woman deliberately stepped in front of it. The engineer immediately applied the emergency brakes and pulled up within a few feet, but the two front wheels had already crushed the woman.

It is understood the woman was worried by family troubles.

Hibbing Woman's Funeral.

Hibbing, Minn., May 1.—Mrs. Albert Erickson of 435 Washington street, who died Tuesday night of tuberculosis at the Nopeming sanitarium, will be buried in Minneapolis on Saturday next.

She was the wife of Albert Erickson, walking boss for the Winston-Dear company. She leaves besides her husband, a daughter, age 4 and son 8, also three sisters, all of whom reside in Minneapolis.

CANCER HOSPITAL FOR NEW YORK CITY

Half Interest in Colorado Radium Mines to Be Given to It.

New York, May 1.—What will be the largest and best equipped cancer hospital in the world, with an ample supply of radium at its command and the benefit of years of research to draw on, will be established here, according to unofficial announcement, through cooperation between the General Memorial hospital and Cornell university medical college.

A fund of $1,000,000 independent of the value of the institution's buildings is already at hand, it was said. Of this amount $50,000 was given by Allan A. Ryan, son of Thomas F. Ryan. The authorities of the two parent institutions are reticent as to the identity of the donors.

Dr. James Douglas, copper millionaire and philanthropist is a prime mover in the project, it was stated, and has turned over to the General Memorial hospital a half interest in his Colorado radium mines, besides contributing to the fund.

Formal announcement of the plans for the cancer institution is expected to be made Saturday.

A WOMAN'S HEALTH

Every woman's health is peculiarly dependent upon the condition of her blood. How many women suffer with headache, pain in the back, poor appetite, weak digestion, a constant feeling of weariness, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, pallor and nervousness? If you have any of these symptoms, do not despair of getting better but begin now, today, to build up your blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. See how the nervous energy of the body is restored as the blood becomes pure and red and the entire system is strengthened to meet every demand upon it.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are useful for all women but they are particularly valuable to girls of school age who show symptoms of going into a decline, who become pale, nervous and languid. These pills aid in securing perfect development and health by strengthening the system and purifying and building up the blood. Thin blood during the growing years of a girl's life usually mean a flat-chested and hollow-cheeked woman hood. There can be neither health nor beauty without red blood which gives brightness to the eyes and color to cheeks and lips.

Write now to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for two helpful booklets, "Plain Talks to Women" and "Building Up the Blood."

TWO CURED BY STATE.

Children Recover Health and Return to Parents.

With less than a year's treatment at the state hospital for crippled and deformed children, 9-year-old Edward Mason and 20-months-old Mabel Kennedy have come out of the institution cured.

Both were brought back from St. Paul yesterday by Rudolph Shogran, assistant clerk of the county poor commission. In each case the children have been restored to their parents. When they were taken to the hospital, it was thought that each might have to go through life with crippled legs or feet.

HID IN CHICKEN COOP.

But North Dakota Cattle Thief Is Captured and Sent to Prison.

Jamestown, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald).—When A. G. Schultz of Berlin, attempted to escape arrest, being wanted for cattle stealing, he hid in a chicken coop, locking the door on the inside, but the officials who had been on the watch, arrested him.

Schultz appeared in district court here, and was sentenced to eighteen months in prison.

The defendant explained that he had taken the cattle to "even up" an account.

WANTS ITS SHARE.

Minnesota Seeks Inheritance Tax From Douglas Wilkins' Cash.

Mandan, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Difficulty is anticipated in settling up the estate of Douglas Wilkins, valued at $500,000, as Minnesota officials are attempting to enforce an inheritance tax against contracts for land sales, aggregating about $14,000, now in the safety deposit vaults of a Minneapolis bank.

The contracts involve Mercer county, N. D., lands and the attorneys for the estate maintain that Minnesota is without authority to tax them. The question probably will be threshed out in the courts.

MANY GOING TO BANQUET

St. Thomas Commercial Men Plan Big Dinner.

About forty members of the St. Thomas Commercial alumni from Duluth and the ranges will attend a banquet to be given at the Knights of Columbus hall, Smith avenue and Fifth street, St. Paul, Saturday, May 23 at 7:30 p. m.

The commercial alumni comprise those students who combined one or more commercial subjects with their classical course when at that college, as well as those who followed the regular curriculum in the department of commerce since the latter was organized.

A large number is expected at this banquet and the committee is making a big effort to have a record attendance.

Any member of the commercial alumni who has not received an announcement of the banquet may communicate with Rev. M. A. Ryan, secretary of the alumni, College of St. Thomas, St. Paul, Minn.

To Feed Federal Prisoners.

Bismarck, N. D., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—North Dakota's penitentiary may receive about 100 Federal prisoners, the state having offered the government to care for the convicts at 45 cents a day, the same rate that is charged by Minnesota.

SAYS SULPHUR IS SURE TO RELIEVE ITCHING ECZEMA

Get an Ounce of Bold-Sulphur Cream and Heal Skin Eruptions Right Up.

Any breaking out or irritation on the face, arms, legs or body when accompanied by itching, or when the skin is dry and feverish, can be readily overcome by applying a little bold-sulphur cream, says a noted dermatologist.

He informs us that bold-sulphur instantly allays the angry itching and irritation and soothes and heals the Eczema right up leaving the skin clear and smooth. Bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position for many years in the treatment of cutaneous disorders because of its parasite-destroying property. Nothing has ever been found to take its place in treating the irritable and inflammatory skin affections. While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to subdue the itching irritation and drive the Eczema away and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

Those troubled should obtain at any pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur cream which is applied to the affected parts in the same manner as an ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded, particularly in itching Eczema, proves very welcome.

MARKET OFF ON CROP NEWS

Wheat Breaks With Selling on Receipts of Bearish Crop Advices.

Flaxseed Advances Sharply on Liberal Buying By Crushers' Interests.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 1.—The market continued weak to the close. May wheat closed ½c off; July ⅝c off, and September ⅝c off at 87½c bid. May durum closed unchanged and July unchanged.

Oats closed unchanged at 36¼c on track and at 35½c for to arrive.

Rye closed ½c up at 56⅛@58½c, and barley unchanged at from 54 to 59c for the best grades.

At Winnipeg May oats closed at 35⅝c and July at 36½c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at 89¼c asked, and calls at 89⅞c asked.

After opening strong this morning on higher Liverpool cables and some improvement in inquiry, the wheat market turned easy on the appearance of further optimistic reports from over the winter wheat territory. Snow's report estimating the abandoned acreage at only 2.2 per cent, a condition of 93.7 per cent and an indicated crop of 613,000,000 bu led to some selling. Fair buying power was met within the May option, but weakness was marked in the July and September futures.

May wheat opened ⅛c up at 91⅝c and after advancing ¼c more, it receded ½c to fractionally below yesterday's close at the final hour. July opened ⅛c up at 92½c and wenkened ⅝c, and the September option opened ⅛c up at 88¾c and also sold off ⅝c. A good inquiry for durum again developed, with some export business put through in it. The market held strong, both options gaining ⅛c during the first three hours' trading. May durum was quoted at 87⅜c and July at 89c.

No deliveries of wheat on May contract were reported on the local board this morning. At Minneapolis over 400,000 bu were delivered, and at Chicago deliveries came to 613,000 bu of wheat 2,250,000 bu of corn and 1,315,000 bu of oats. The Armour interests were reported to be good buyers of May wheat at Chicago today, and it was intimated that practically all the stocks in contract elevators at that point are owned or controlled by them.

In view of the light receipts and good milling demand, the situation in last season's crop spring wheat is regarded as strong. Inspections here today were only 12 cars against 87 last year, while with Minneapolis millers scouring the country for supplies arrivals there came to 139 cars against 157 a year ago. Stocks there showed a decrease of 475,000 bu in the week.

Crushers After Flax.

Strength developed in flaxseed on steady bidding by crushers throughout the session and quotations gained substantially, final prices showing advances of 1⅞@1¾c.

Light receipts and higher cables were bullish factors in the session's trading. At Antwerp the seed closed unchanged; at Buenos Aires ⅝c up and at London ⅞c up.

May flax opened ⅛c at $1.54⅛ and it closed 1½c up at $1.55⅝ bid, July opened unchanged at $1.56¼ and closed 1⅜c up at $1.57½ asked, September 1⅜c up at $1.58 and closed 1¼c up at $1.58⅞ bid and the October option opened ⅜c up at $1.55⅜ and closed at $1.56⅜ nominally.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.34½ bid and July at $1.37⅜.

MARKET GOSSIP.

W. J. McCabe, president of the Duluth board of trade, returned this morning from Washington, where he attended the hearing on the Lever bill, proposing the Federal supervision of grain inspection. He averred that there is a growing feeling among congressmen in favor of Federal supervision. It is pointed out that all the machinery of the different state inspection bureaus would be available for Federal supervision, so that the change could be readily effected. The national grain dealers represented at the hearing also indorsed the proposal. Charles F. Macdonald, secretary of the board of trade, remained over in Washington for a day or two to attend further meetings of the committee.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat—Expectations of light world's shipments this week with an improved demand for Australian and firmer Russian offers stimulated a better cargo demand and with millers also buying, opening values were unchanged to ¼d higher. Following the opening, there was additional covering, and prices further advanced ⅛d to ⅜d with offers light. Later some profit-taking developed, but one the decline, support was good, as tenders were well absorbed and shorts covered. At 1:30 p. m. prices were ⅜d higher with the undertone firm.

"Corn opened unchanged and later July advanced ¼d on reduced stocks here, increased spot trade and private reports of reduced Argentine estimates. At 1:30 p. m. prices were unchanged to ¼d higher."

Danube shipments this week are estimated by Broomhall's agent at 3,500,000 bu. This compares with 3,912,000 bu last week.

Parker Paine had the following from Chicago: "A different phase was put on the wheat situation yesterday by several fresh features. First the pressure of liquidation appeared to be ended. Some of the heaviest leaders in the local trade were ready to take profits on short lines. Several of the biggest wire and elevator concerns were executing good-sized orders on the buying side of the new crops months on the rally. The best authorities claim that over 1,500,000 bu wheat were sold for export and in all positions yesterday. Meanwhile the growing crop prospect for winter and spring wheat is nearly perfect and this will hold buyers in check no doubt. It is certainly developing into a healthy situation for investors on the depressions caused by local short selling."

The steamer Buffalo which ran ashore near the Soo in the storm had a cargo of 2,100 tons of flour shipped from the Duluth-Superior Milling company's mills. It is expected the loss on the flour will be comparatively light as it was found necessary to lighter only 400 tons in releasing the boat. She was reported to be leaking so slightly that one pump was able to control the water.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Opens Firm, But Becomes Easier Later in the Session.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 1.—The local wheat market, opening firmer on stronger Liverpool prices, continued unsettled until nearly noon, when prices became easier and the market more active. A fair demand for the better grades of cash wheat was reported early in the day.

Wheat—May opened 89¼c; high, 89⅜c; low, 88¼c; closed 88¼c. July opened 90½c; high, 90¾c; low, 89½c; closed 89½c.

Cash: No. 1 hard, 93¼c; No. 1 northern, 90¼@92¼c; to arrive, 90¼@91¼c; choice to arrive, 92¼c; No. 2 northern, 85¼@90¼c; to arrive, 88⅜@89¾c; No. 3 wheat, 85¼@87½c.

Corn—No. 3 yellow, 63½@64c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 35½@36c.

Flax—$1.53@1.55⅝.

The flour trade was active today, mostly on old contracts, however. Prices unchanged. Shipments, 56,359 barrels.

Barley, 43@58½c. Rye, 56½@58c. Bran, unchanged.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Bulls Are Favored By Forecast and Wheat Prices Advance.

Chicago, May 1.—Wheat today advanced, especially May, in which the deliveries here proved to be comparatively meager and in which considerable tightness developed as a result.

A forecast that world shipments would be lighter this week tended to favor the bulls. On the other hand, the Oklahoma state crop report, although remarkably flattering, seemed to have been discounted beforehand. Opening prices were ⅛@¼c to ⅜c higher, and there was a subsequent additional gain.

Estimates that abandoned acreage was only 2.2 per cent and that the crop condition was 2 points higher than a month ago, brought about a setback in prices. The close was weak, ⅝@¾c net lower to ⅝c advance.

Doubt whether corn deliveries would be readily absorbed was quickly removed and the market accordingly climbed higher. Firmness in Southwestern centers helped the advance. Prices after opening ⅛@¼c lower to a like upturn, made a sudden sharp rise.

Later a big increase of the Argentine visible supply caused some reaction. The close was weak, ⅝c off to ¼c up, compared with last night.

Oats showed strength from the start. The chief influence was the prospect of large shipments from the Chicago elevators.

Provisions weakened owing to lack of support. Selling was chiefly for packers.

Wheat—No. 2 red, 95c; No. 3 red, 93¼@94c; No. 2 hard, 93¾c; No. 3 hard, 93c; No. 2 northern, 95@96c; No. 3 northern, 93@95c; No. 2 spring, 94½@95½c; No. 3 spring, 92¼@94½c.

Corn—No. 2, 65⅜@67¼c; No. 2 yellow, 67@67¼c; No. 3, 65¾@66¼c; No. 3 white, 67½c; No. 3 yellow, 66½c.

STRENGTH IN STOCKS

Prices Show Steady Improvement and Good Gains Made.

Late Rise Under Leadership of United States Steel.

New York, May 1.—The irregular tendency of early stock trading was overcome today by the gradual development of strength and prices were raised 1 to 2½ points. The movement was accelerated by covering of shorts who had been unable to break the market by the attack on Missouri Pacific. This stock recovered strongly after an early setback.

New York Central reflected the benefits expected from its proposed consolidation, rising to 92. Last week it sold below 87. The decree of the courts upholding the special dividend on Union Pacific caused a quiet upturn of 2½ points in that stock.

Bonds were strong.

Early transactions in stocks today barely affected the level of prices. The colorless character of the overnight Mexican news and the absence of any other developments affecting the speculative situation, caused traders to keep down their operations to small proportions.

Purchase of a block of 2,000 Missouri Pacific shares carried up the price 1¼ to 19¼, but it quickly dropped below 18. A few specialties made good gains, while steel and Canadian Pacific were heavy.

Speculation grew more active in the afternoon and there was a further substantial rise. Trading ventures on the long side were encouraged by accumulation of various stocks and the sustained strength of the bond market. New York city bonds ruled ½ to 1½ higher on the week.

The market closed strong today. Prices showed steady improvement with a general betterment in speculative and investment conditions. The advance halted for a time while the market absorbed profit-taking sales, but was resumed again toward the close under leadership of United States Steel.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE—
To William Miller:

You are hereby notified, That default has been made in the terms and conditions of that certain land contract entered into on the 25th day of August, 1910, by and between Hamilton H. Peyton, as party of the first part, and you, the said William Miller, party of the second part, wherein and whereby the said party of the first part agreed to sell, and you, the said William Miller, agreed to buy, the following described real estate, situate in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, namely:

Lots Three (3) and Four (4), in Block Four (4), Midway Park Addition to Proctor, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said St. Louis County.

You, the said William Miller, are further notified that said default consists in the failure of yourself, or anyone in your behalf, to pay those certain installments upon said contract, each amounting to Five Dollars ($5.00), which became due and payable to said party of the first part on the 16th day of August, 1911, and on the 16th day of each and every month thereafter up to and including the 16th day of April, 1914, which said installments aggregate the sum of One Hundred Sixty-five Dollars ($165.00), and in the further failure of yourself, or any one in your behalf, to pay the semi-annual interest due upon said contract, which, at the date hereof, amounts to Thirty-six Dollars ($36.00), on account of which default the said party of the first part, Hamilton H. Peyton, has a right, and does now elect, to terminate said contract.

Now, therefore, you, the said William Miller, will please take notice that the said contract hereinabove referred to will terminate thirty (30) days after the service of this notice upon you, unless prior thereto you shall comply with the terms and conditions of said contract hereinbefore mentioned, and pay the costs of this service. The amount claimed to be due upon said contract at the date hereof is the sum of Two Hundred One and no-100 Dollars ($201.00).

This notice is given according to the provisions of Section 8081 of the General Statutes of Minnesota for the year 1913.

Dated this 23rd day of April, 1914.

HAMILTON H. PEYTON.

D. H., April 24, May 1, 8, 1914.

ORDER TO EXAMINE FINAL ACCOUNT—
State of Minnesota,
County of St. Louis—ss.

In Probate Court. In the Matter of the Estate of Mabel W. Fuller, Decedent.

The petition of Frederick A. Russell as representative of the above named decedent, together with his final account of the administration of said estate, having been filed in this court, representing, among other things that he has fully administered said estate, and praying that said final account of said administration be examined, adjusted and allowed by the Court, and that the Court make and enter its final decree of distribution of the residue of the estate of said decedent to the persons entitled thereto, and for the discharge of the representative and the sureties on his bond. It is ordered, That said petition be heard, and said final account examined, adjusted, and if correct, allowed by the Court, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House, in the City of Duluth in said County, on Monday the 18th day of May, 1914, at ten o'clock, A. M., and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter are hereby cited and required at said time and place to show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted. Ordered further, That this order be served by publication in The Duluth Herald, according to law.

Dated at Duluth, Minn., April 22nd, 1914.

By the Court,
FRANCIS A. WATKINS,
Judge of Probate of Carlton County, acting Judge of Probate of St. Louis County, Minn.
Attest: A. R. MORTON,
Clerk of Probate.
Seal Probate Ct., St. Louis Co., Minn.

COLORADO CITIZENS ARE ORDERED TO GIVE UP ALL ARMS TO U. S.

Secretary of War Issues Order—Applies to Firms and People.

Three Men Burn to Death in Incendiary Fire in Saloon.

More Federal Troops Are Ordered Into Strike District.

Washington, May 2.—Under authority of the president, Secretary of War Garrison today issued a proclamation calling upon the people in the strike district of Colorado to surrender all arms and ammunition to the United States army officers now in charge at the various troubled localities.

Secretary Garrison's proclamation, addressed to Maj. Holbrook at Trinidad, is in the most sweeping terms, and demands the disarming of not only the strikers, but the mine guards.

Text of Proclamation.

The text of the proclamation is:

"Whereas, under existing circumstances the possession of arms and ammunition by persons not in the military service of the United States tends to provoke disorder and to excite domestic violence and hinders the restoration of normal conditions of peace and good order, I do, by the authority of the President of the United States, call upon and direct all persons not in the military service of the United States, who have arms or ammunition in their possession or under their control, to deliver them forthwith to the officer at the place herein designated. Receipts will be issued for all arms and ammunition so delivered.

No Exceptions Made.

"The above applies to individuals, firms, associations and corporations."

The officer in command at each place where troops are stationed is charged to post the proclamation.

Secretary Garrison's determination to issue the proclamation for the surrender of arms was reached after mature deliberation upon reports from Major Holbrook at Trinidad. It was pointed out that in directing the surrender of arms to the army commanders at the respective stations, the government assumes all responsibility for the protection of the property which individuals, associations, firms and corporations hitherto have been guarding on their own account. Emphasis was laid upon the fact that the sweeping terms of the proclamation calling all "not in military service of the United States" to surrender their arms applies only to localities where the United States troops are present.

As the trouble districts are widely scattered throughout Colorado, no army officer will be in supreme command of the military forces sent into the state. Secretary Garrison will issue his orders directly to the officers in command of the forces in the various localities. Late yesterday he or-

BIG DAY FOR SUFFRAGISTS

Demonstrations Held in Many Cities, Large and Small.

Hint of Discord Is Heard Over Chicago Preparations.

Chicago, May 2.—Thousands of women in many of the larger cities throughout the country today gave active expression of their desire for the extension of the right to vote, by joining in parades, attending mass meetings, and by word of mouth seeking to advance the cause of votes for women.

Chicago suffragists, with a marching column two miles long, claimed credit for the monster parade of the day.

New York women contented themselves with a series of open-air meetings in various public squares and a huge mass meeting in the evening.

Daffodils vs. Roses.

The staid streets of Philadelphia were enlivened by a parade of suffragists, most of whom carried bunches of daffodils, while anti-suffragists sported red roses in distinction from their marching sisters.

Pittsburg suffragists paraded and later attended a mass meeting. Kansas City women staged a motorcar parade and distributed hundreds of leaflets telling the need of women's votes.

Hundreds of smaller cities joined in the nation-wide celebration of the day.

Two solid miles of woman marchers, with bands to lead the way, and a division of woman cavalry, planned for the Chicago suffrage parade today, rain or shine. The organizers were determined that the part of this city in the nation-wide demonstration for woman suffrage should be worthy of the cause and an adequate expression of enthusiasm of women in the largest city in which they have the franchise.

Hint of Discord.

As the hour for the suffrage parade approached hints of discord were heard. It was declared that the refusal of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association officers to provide for a mass meeting and the passage of resolutions calling on congress to act on the suffrage

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 2.—In the opinion of legislative experts here, there will be no law enacted in this congress for Federal inspection of grain. This was indicated by the decisive vote against the McCumber bill in the senate yesterday, which came as a surprise both to the friends and opponents of the measure.

In the senate today, Mr. McCumber exhibited his soreness to all the world. He declared that his bill would not have been defeated if there had been a good number of senators present, and also that hereafter he would demand the presence of a quorum at all times when the senate was in session.

Keep on With Lever Bill.

Notwithstanding the action of the senate on the McCumber bill, the house committee on agriculture will continue its hearings on the Lever grain inspection bill, and the expectation is that it will be reported favorably to the house.

Whether the house will consider the measure this session, or even in this congress, depends in a large measure upon the length of the session and upon the urgency with which the administration's anti-trust legislation is pushed. The water power bill now has the right-of-way after the bills are sent to the senate and the time to be taken on that measure is uncertain. The program of the house beyond that has not been made up.

Snag in the Senate.

It is believed that the Lever bill cannot be put through the senate, even if the house adopts it. Representative Stevens of St. Paul expects to arrange for a hearing on the Lever bill for representatives of the Minnesota state railroad and warehouse commission some day next week. Representative Manahan is also trying to arrange for a hearing for representatives of the grain growers, who want the Lever bill passed. Chairman Henry of the rules committee said today that there had been a change in the intention to draft a bill for a country-wide inspection of grain and cotton exchanges, but he could not say when he would ask his committee to consider such a bill.

SEEK SOURCE OF $2,000,000

Commerce Commissioners Go Deeper Into New Haven Affairs.

Billard Official Does Not Recall Signing $3,000,000 Check.

Washington, May 2.—The interstate commerce commission today continued its efforts to discover where $2,000,000 came from that was used to organize the Billard company, the concern whose dealings with the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad have been developed in the commission's investigation of the affairs of the railroad.

The commission is endeavoring to determine whether the money with which the Billard company was organized came from the New Haven itself, and suggestions of a "conspiracy to defraud" have been freely made about the hearing room.

So far little light has been thrown on the organization of the Billard concern, but the commission expects to call John L. Billard, the chief organizer, and question him as to the financial backing which prompted the organization.

Mellen's Lawyer Missing.

New interest has been added to the investigation by the unsuccessful efforts of the commission to get John Hay, who has been mentioned as private counsel for Former President Mellen, and who in the opinion of Chief Counsel Folk is an important, if not an essential, witness, to testify. It was learned that Hay was at his office in New York Thursday, and that he later sailed for Europe. Mr. Folk is trying to ascertain whether his departure was before or after his name was brought into the proceedings by the production of confidential letters from Stevenson Taylor.

Samuel Hemingway, president of the Second National bank of New Haven, one of the recalcitrant witnesses of April 10, testified at length yesterday, but disclosed little. Mr. Heminway testified that the capital of the Billard company was $2,000,000. He said he did not know where the capital came from and that he knew nothing of the company's operations.

DENY BODY IS THAT OF ANTI-SALOON MAN

Two Detroit Men Say Patmont's Identification Is Mistake.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 2.—Dr. A. H. Klehm of Detroit and Rev. Claud F. Witty, pastor of a Detroit church, say that a body found by the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern tracks at Rockport, on April 6, and later identified as that of Rev. Lewis Patmont, is not Patmont's. This contradicts the statement of Oscar Patmont of Canton, Ohio, who said the body was that of his brother, Rev. Patmont.

Rev. Patmont, who lived at Milwaukee, disappeared from Westville, Ill., on April 1, after participation in an option campaign. As the body found here and identified as his bore marks of violence, the local police formed the theory that he had been murdered.

Danville police have been acquainted with the latest developments, which bear out the contention of private detectives employed by Danville "wet" interests that Patmont's disappearance was not due to violence.

BOOTH NOMINATION IS SENT TO SENATE.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 2.—President Wilson sent to the senate today the following nomination:

To be consul—Albert W. Pontiers of Minnesota, now consul at Nankin, at New Chang, China.

To be United States district judge for the District of Minnesota—William F. Booth of Minneapolis.

WRECK STORY DUE TO ERROR

The Japanese Government Starts Probe of Siberia Reports.

Wireless Operator's Failure to Get Full Message Blamed.

Tokio, May 2.—Great relief is felt here at the news from Manila that the Pacific Mail steamer Siberia, reported yesterday by wireless to have been in great peril off the coast of Formosa, is safe at Manila. Japanese authorities will investigate how the reports of yesterday were disseminated. Japan has recalled the warships she dispatched yesterday to the aid of the liner supposed to be in distress.

Operator's Mistake.

San Francisco, Cal., May 2.—How a wireless operator yesterday heard the steamship Persia sign her code signal "B. B. S." after giving her latitude and longtitude, and misread it into "M. B. S." after giving her latitude was explained today by those familiar with the international code which is used for wireless work.

The symbols for the two sets of letters are as follows:

M. B. S.
-- - ... ...
S. O. S.
... - - -

A steamer, in giving her longtitude and latitude, sends her own code name thereafter twice. It is considered more than probable that on the first sending some operator failed to receive the "M" and "B" and caught only the "S." Naturally alert at first letter of the distress signal, he caught the two dashes of the "M" as the Persia started sending her code name the second time, and overlooked the slight pause between these two dashes and the first dash of "B." Running the three together thus, he had:

S. O.
... - - -

and the final three dots of the "B" made the third "S."

The operator, having the location of the vessel and what he thought was "S. O. S.," relayed the call, believing it was sent by the steamer Siberia. The

EIGHTEEN BODIES TAKEN FROM MINE

U. S. Inspectors Still Think Some Men May Be Alive.

Eccles, W. Va., May 2.—Eighteen bodies had been recovered from the wrecked galleries of [illegible] No. 5 of the New River Collieries company when fresh rescue crews descended the shaft at dawn. Seventeen others had been located, and indications were they would be brought to the surface before nightfall.

Director Holmes of the U. S. bureau of mines had his forces so well organized that as soon as a corps of helmet men reaches the surface another is ready to take its place. Much of the mine has been explored, but there still remain some entries and rooms to which the entrance has not been forced. Until these have been reached the government men refuse to believe that all the miners were killed.

Air is now being forced into the mine, the pumps are kept working day and night and the next day or two should see the work of recovering bodies almost ended.

GERMAN WOMAN KILLED BY MOB IN MEXICO CITY

Dragged Through Streets With German Flag Pinned at Collar.

Crowd Is Said to Have Thought She Was an American.

Vera Cruz, May 2.—That Mrs. Clara Beckmeyer, a German woman, who, according to rumor, was mistaken for an American, was killed by a mob in the streets of Mexico City on April 27, is the news brought here today by refugees from the Federal capital.

No confirmation of the incident has been received here.

Mrs. Beckmeyer was a widow of three months. She wore at her collar a small, silk, German flag, but the mob, regarding this merely as a flimsy disguise of nationality, is said to have dragged her through the streets and so maltreated her that she died.

MASSACRE REPORTED AT KOLONIA, ALBANIA

Insurgents Killed Men, Women and Children, Say Reports.

Durazzo, Albania, May 2.—The Epirope insurgents, who have been fighting against the inclusion of Northern Epirus in the new state of Albania, have succeeded in capturing the town of Kolonia, to the southeast of Valona, according to dispatches received by the governor of Durazzo today.

The Epiropes attacked Kolonia with heavy guns and quick-firers, and the garrison, which had been weakened by the transfer of gendarmes to reinforce Koritsa, was unable to withstand the onslaught. The dispatches add that women and children were massacred and the town burned. The insurgents continue their advance.

Koritsa, in the vilayet of Monastir, is also threatened with attack.

NATIONAL FUNERAL FOR VERA CRUZ DEAD.

Washington, May 2.—Sailors and marines who were killed at the occupation of Vera Cruz will be honored with funeral services of a national character on the arrival of their bodies aboard the United States cruiser Montana at New York, the navy department announced today.

Orders were sent to Admiral Badger by Secretary Daniels today that the Montana might leave when ready and it was believed that she would get away by Monday, which would bring her into New York the first of the following week.

TONG WAR IS THREATENED

Murder of Immigration Officer at St. Louis First Blow.

Strife Expected to Spread to Chicago and New York.

St. Louis, Mo., May 2.—"Hop alley," the local Chinese quarter, extending over an area of five blocks in the downtown business section, was all aflutter with excitement today as a result of the murder of Haw Lin Shuck, a Chinese immigration officer of the United States, last night, and the subsequent prediction by Lee Bing, "mayor of the alley," that the shots which killed Shuck would inaugurate a tong war in St. Louis, Chicago and New York.

More than two score denizens of the alley, including the "mayor" and Helen Davis, known as "queen of the alley," were taken by the police, to be held pending investigation of the mysterious murder. The police are seeking an under-sized Chinaman said by leaders in the alley to have been sent here from Chicago or New York to put Shuck out of the way.

Identified By Roses.

The murder was executed with such precision as the police have not met with in many years. In accordance with custom among Chinese secret societies, Shuck was warned of sudden death by a piece of red glazed paper believed to have been thrust into his vest pocket a few minutes before the crime was committed.

A bunch of American beauty roses handed to him in the house from which he had just departed, is believed by

CHANGES AT MEXICO CITY CAUSE TALK

New Foreign Minister Regarded as Friend of Peace Plans.

South American Envoys Continue Efforts to End Dispute.

Dr. Ryan Released; Funston Solves Food Problem at Vera Cruz.

Washington, May 2.—Licentiate Esteva Ruiz has been appointed minister of foreign affairs in the Huerta cabinet, to succeed Jose Lopez Portillo y Rojas, resigned. The Spanish ambassador here was officially informed of the appointment by cable this morning. He communicated the new appointment to the mediators.

Portillo resigned late yesterday. No official statement has been given with regard to his resignation.

A proposition made by the foreign minister to send an official commission to Washington in an endeavor to arrange the difficulties between the United States and Mexico was rejected yesterday afternoon at a cabinet meeting.

Trade With U. S. Forbidden.

According to the Federal custom house rules, President Huerta has dictated an order prohibiting commerce with the United States and permitting the Federal commissioners in ports the right to reject the entrance of American steamers. All cargoees arriving from the United States will be confiscated by the government.

The Vera Cruz custom house has been declared closed to international traffic.

The government yesterday ordered a suspension of hostilities while the mediating powers are endeavoring to bring about the settlement of the trouble with the United States.

The Federal forces near Vera Cruz have been withdrawn to Atoyac, about forty miles from Vera Cruz.

Ruiz, the new foreign minister, was under secretary of Portillo. He has assisted in the mediation negotiations and it is authoritatively stated that the change will not affect the continued progress of the mediation plans. Ruiz had been referred to as probable Huerta commissioner in case the mediators proposed a commission representing all parties to the controversy.

The Spanish ambassador, Mr. Riano, carried the cable announcement of Ruiz's appointment to the Argentine legation. The mediators were at once called together and a conference be-

CARRANZA HOLDING AMERICAN IN JAIL

Washington Is Getting Impatient Over Idaho Man's Case.

Washington, May 2.—State department officials today waited with some show of impatience a reply from demands made upon Gen. Carranza, the Constitutionalist leader in Mexico, for the release or trial of James Byington of Boise, Idaho, who has been lying in a rebel jail at Cumpas, Sonora, for nine months on charges of selling ore from property of doubtful title.

Repeated representations have been made in his behalf to the Constitutionalist leader, but without result. Byington, it is reported, has been subjected to great hardships during his long imprisonment. The latest appeal in Byington's case came from Consul Simpich at Nogales, Sonora, and the state department immediately instructed Consul Letcher at Chihuahua to renew its previous insistence that the American be discharged or given an immediate hearing.

Officials here say they are without definite information concerning the evidence against Byington, but they do not believe the case is a strong one. They say there are no political charges against him.

MINE MANAGER IS FREED BY MEXICANS

Emery Ransom Demand "Settled," Says Consul Canada.

Washington, May 2.—A. B. Emery, manager of an English-owned mine, who was reported to have been held for ransom by Federals in Zacatecas, is safe in Mexico City, according to a dispatch to the state department today by Consul Canada at Vera Cruz. The consul reported that "the matter of ransom has been settled."

Whether Emery paid to obtain his release, or the demand for his ransom was waived, the consul's dispatch did not indicate. Canada said he had received his information from Emery's employes, just arrived in Vera Cruz, who said that Emery intended to stay in the capital for the present.

MAY DAY IS CELEBRATED

Socialists Declare War in Mexico Is for the Benefit of Capital.

Nearly 3,000 Members of Party Celebrate International Labor Day.

The local celebration of International Labor day by nearly 3,000 Socialists at the Armory last night was featured by the passage of a resolution protesting against the prosecution of a war in Mexico that will benefit the capitalist class while civil warfare is in progress in the United States.

Protest Against War.

The resolution brands as false and jingoistic the talk about flag insults and national honor and calls upon the national committee of the Socialist party to organize immediately a nation-wide protest against military operations in Mexico. It asserts that the American flag in Calumet has failed to protect women from the brutal assaults of gunmen and militia and has been trampled in the mud and dirt by the sworn defenders of law and order.

Preceding the mass meeting the Socialists paraded in strength through the downtown section of the city to the Armory, marching to the music of the Zenith City and Socialist bands. The audience sang "The Red Flag" at the opening.

William E. Towne acted as chairman, and in his introductory remarks he predicted a great future for the Socialist movement, scored a number of anti-Socialists and said that the meeting would mark another step in party progress. Prof. John Ohsol in his May day oration deplored the position of the United States relative to Mexico and strongly disapproved of annexation as, among other reasons, it would only add to the number of unemployed in this country. M. N. Morsburg spoke in Norweglan, August Kolenda in Polish, J. Sichter in Jewish and Lev Kaukki in Finnish.

Resolutions Read.

The text of the resolution passed was as follows:

"Whereas under the pretext that the United States flag has been insulted by the Mexican government under the Huerta regime and thereby the dignity and honor of the United States has been offended, and navies, armies and munitions of war are being rushed to the scene of the troubles brought about by the alleged insult, and

"Whereas the United States marines and bluejackets have under official orders entered and taken Vera Cruz, a Mexican sea port, with loss of life and bloodshed, and thereby brought about a state of war between these two countries, and

"Whereas the events leading up to and at present connected with this Mexican affair have all the earmarks of a prearranged scheme to advance and protect the interests of the capitalist class, therefore, be it resolved by the Socialist party of Duluth, Minnesota, in meeting assembled with citizens and working men to celebrate International Labor day, that we declare against this war and record our protest against the use of members of the working class to protect and aid the interests of the capitalist class. We protest against the killing and maiming of our fellow workers to avenge an alleged insult to the flag, when the American flag in Calumet has failed to protect women from the brutal assaults of gunmen and militia, and has been trampled in the mud and dirt by the sworn defenders of law and order. We protest against the military murder in Mexico when the rights and privileges of our fellow workers in Colorado have been swept aside and they are compelled to take up arms in their own defense. We protest against a prosecution of a war in Mexico that will benefit the capitalist class only, while civil warfare is in progress in the United States. We declare this Mexico interference to be solely in the interest of the capitalist class and declare that this incident is being seized upon by the Democratic politicians to further their political interests and to divert the minds of the people from the problems before the lawmakers in Washington.

Sympathy for Mexicans.

"We brand as false and jingoistic the rant about flag insults and national honor, declaring these to be but the methods commonly used to stampede the working class to the military slaughter pens. We declare that we, the members of the Socialist party, have no quarrel with the working class of Mexico, and in accordance with the spirit of this day, we extend to them across the gulf of bigoted nationalism and race prejudice, the hand of comradeship and fraternity, and be it

"Further resolved, That we call upon the national committee of the Socialist party to take steps immediately to organize a nation-wide protest against the military operations in Mexico, and we further resolve, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the president of the United States, the congressman from the Eighth district, to the daily papers, and to the state office of the Socialist party of the state of Minnesota."

RIGHT KIND OF CIRCULATION!

Premium and Contest Circulation have little value to the advertiser.

Miss Ida Clarke, advertising manager for Scott & Bowne, in her address before the Association of American Advertisers at Syracuse, N. Y., denounced premium and guessing contest circulation as being of little value to advertisers.

The Duluth Herald for over thirty years has been an inveterate foe to the premium or guessing contest method of artificially "boosting" circulation.

CERTIFIED ICE CREAM NOW ON MARKET

B. W. Johnson, who has been in charge of the ice cream department at the M. M. Gasser store for a number of years has entered business for himself, the Gasser store having discontinued manufacturing ice cream. Mr. Johnson today formally opened his new ice cream and confectionery store at 423 East Fourth street, where Certified Ice Cream, which is the name of the product, will be made. The people of Duluth who have been familiar with the famous ice cream that has been made by Mr. Johnson while he was in the employ of Gasser's, know of his ability to turn out the very best that has been on the market and now that he has decided to engage in the manufacture of ice cream himself he will continue to turn out the same high-class product that he has in the past.

AGITATORS STIR NEW YORK CROWDS

Socialists Invade Church Where Rockefeller Worships.

New York, May 2.—May day demonstrations by Socialists, I. W. W. anarchists and anti-Rockefeller agitators kept the police active in several parts of the city yesterday. A crowd of more than 10,000 persons poured into Union square after Socialist parades in the streets. The crowds became unruly, and the police formed flying wedges and cleared the square. During the disorder several persons were injured.

Chief Inspector Schmittberger, in charge of the police at the Union square meeting, stopped what threatened to become a wholesale clubbing of stampeding crowds. Uniformed officers drew their clubs, according to witnesses, and hurled women and children from their feet in a rush to get at the men.

Stopped the Clubbing.

Schmittberger grabbed the foremost patrolman by the collar and threw him back to his fellows. "Back to your station!" he shouted. "Down with your clubs! Stop this! Stop it at once!" His command brought excited policemen to a halt. The injured included two women, who were pinioned against an iron picket fence in a rush of men to escape the police.

The protest against John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s policy in the Colorado mine controversy was continued throughout the day in front of Mr. Rockefeller's offices at 26 Broadway.

Mr. Rockefeller did not appear at his offices, and it was stated that he was distressed by his ordeal and would remain in seclusion in his Pocantico Hills home in Westchester county.

Police Guard at Church.

Police guarded the Calvary Baptist church, which Mr. Rockefeller attends. There were rumors that an attempt would be made to disturb the Friday evening prayer meeting. There was no demonstration outside the church, but one of a number of Socialists who attended a business meeting held after the prayer service offered a resolution for the gathering to voto whether they "upheld" Mr. Rockefeller. No vote was taken.

The Socialists asked the pastor, Rev. Cornelius Woelfkin, whether he thought Christ would sustain Mr. Rockefeller. The pastor did not reply. The meeting had adjourned before the resolution was offered. At the request of an usher a police lieutenant advised the Socialists to leave the church, and they did so quietly.

Mr. Rockefeller conducts a Bible class each Sunday in this church.

THREE DULUTHIANS ON STEAMER SIBERIA

Three Duluthians are believed to have been aboard the steamer Siberia which was thought to have been lost, but which reported at Manila yesterday.

They were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Richardson and Frank Day.

In the list of passengers published in The Herald last evening were the names of "Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Richardson." Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Richardson here believe that there was an error in the initials and that the passengers referred to were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Richardson of Duluth. Frank Day of this city is with Mr. and Mrs. Richardson. They were reported to have booked passage from Nagasaki, where Mr. and Mrs. Richardson were believed to have been at this time, as nearly as could be determined from the last word received from them.

WOULD MAKE GARDENS OF ALL VACANT LOTS

It has been stated that there is enough unoccupied land in Duluth, which if properly tilled would produce sufficient foodstuffs for the entire population. Whether this is true or not, it is certain that there is a vast amount of land going to waste, some of which has already been turned over to certain communities for garden purposes.

Duluth next week will receive a visit from the horticultural expert of the university farm, who will outline how these waste places can be turned into health and wealth-producing places instead of remaining unsightly and health-menacing spots. He will give a lecture Monday evening in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, which will be open to the public. This will be followed by a practical course in home gardening, sessions of which will be held each afternoon and evening during the week.

Many of his advertisements have been commented upon by critics nt only in this country but abrond.

Mr. Franklin's work for the Freimuth store is expected to be a big asset. His originality in the makeup of his advertisements and their tone of integrity have been the features he has most sought after in his work.

NURSES NOT NECESSARY

School Board Turns Down Health Commissioner's Plan.

Health Matters in General Receive Attention of the Members.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of education last evening the plan advocated by Dr. H. E. Webster, health commissioner, to have ten nurses appointed to work with the health department, was turned down.

The directors felt that there was no necessity for such a staff at the present time for the reason that no epidemic exists. This was the result of a report of a special committee appointed to look into the matter and to investigate the system of medical inspection. The board members, in discussing the matter, declared themselves in favor of cooperating with the health department in every necessary way, especially the appointing of nurses when needed. However, the present lack of necessity, they felt, warranted them in refusing to grant the commissioner's request, feeling that the establishment of a nurse staff would be a needless extravagance.

The committee recommended improvements in medical inspection. It was suggested that the school principals check up the number of visits made by nurses to the homes of sick pupils. Director Colman expressed himself in favor of open-air schools for tubercular children, declaring that there are enough pupils afflicted with tubercular trouble in some manner or other to start a school now.

The matter of health in the schools seemed fated to receive a good deal of attention last night, for the resignation of Dr. C. H. Schroeder, as school physician, came up. It was accepted with regret for he has served five years most faithfully. His service will end with the close of the school year. No successor will be appointed much before the beginning of the next school year.

As a result of a discussion which arose last evening it is likely that playgrounds will be equipped at the various schools so that pupils may enjoy them this year. This will probably be acted on at the next meeting. Several of the members expressed themselves strongly in favor of such a plan. Miss Marguerite Culkin, city social center director, was granted the use of the Whittier school on Park Point as one of the city's social centers.

A number of routine matters were disposed of, but as there was no report from Supt. Denfeld, who is taking a vacation for the benefit of his health, much of the usual amount of work was curtailed.

DAWSON AGAIN HEADS SPALDING SERVICE

WILLIAM DAWSON.

The reinstatement of colored waiter service in the Hotel Spalding, under the direction of William Dawson, has found renewed favor with Duluthians and travelers. After a several months' experiment with white waiters, the hotel management discontinued this service and a return to the old order has been found more satisfactory. As head of the dining service, Mr. Dawson has placed the Spalding on a parity with that of the leading hotels of America.

BOYS COMPLETE EXPOSITION PLANS

Exhibits to Include Everything Boys Make or Do --Mayor to Speak.

Complete plans for the boys' exposition to be held at the Y. M. C. A. building next Friday and Saturday were perfected at a meeting of the boys' department last night. It was announced that the exposition, though under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., will be open to all the boys of the city.

Great Variety in Display.

It was decided to exhibit everything boys in Duluth make, do or collect. This will include displays of manual training, domestic science, arts and crafts, literature, commercial work and curios. There will also be a voting contest to decide on the most popular boy in Duluth. The winner, it was decided, will be given a free trip to Camp Miller this summer.

The exposition will be formally opened next Friday evening with an address by Mayor Prince. There will be a short program of music and talks by Y. M. C. A. officials, after which the exposition will be opened. The blue ribbons as prizes for the best exhibits will be awarded Saturday evening. The school winning the largest number of ribbons will receive a large handsome banner.

At the meeting last night there were boys present from every school in the city and after discussing the proposed plans, they elected the following officers: Lewis Wade, president; Earl De Moe, vice president, and Joe Forney, secretary. Representing the different schools will be the following:

Committees Named.

Be Prepared

"In times of peace prepare for war" is a maxim that is just as applicable to each individual as it is to each nation. Wars and disasters usually come suddenly and the man or nation who is best prepared to meet emergencies is the one who will win out. If you are earning a regular salary or your business is prosperous now is the time to be preparing for adverse conditions. Troubles are bound to come to all of us and but few escape financial troubles at some time or other during their lives. The only way to guard against them is to build up a reserve fund which can be used in case of emergency. Are you doing this? If not you should start a Savings Account at once and add to it regularly and consistently.

We pay 3% Compound Interest on Savings Accounts.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR "MODEL CITY" PAVING.

The Minnesota Steel company has awarded a contract to the Butler-Coons company of Hibbing for the laying of concrete paving for all the streets and alleys on the "model city" and the construction of concrete sidewalks for all the streets and leading to the houses.

President E. W. Coons of the company says that this work will be begun in about ten days and will be completed by the beginning of next January. He says it will involve an expenditure of $176,000.

Walter Buehler, second vice president of the firm, will be in direct supervision of the work. He says that he will employ about 100 men. P. McHardy is first vice president of the company and William Webb is secretary.

INJURED STEVEDORE SUES.

Suit for $20,464 damages was begun yesterday afternoon in district court by Theodore Milanitch, stevedore, against the Merchants' Mutual Transportation company and the American Interlake company.

Milanitch alleges that while he was assisting in unloading the steamer Chili, Sept. 5, 1913, a hoist rope broke and two bags of cement which were being lifted from the hold of the vessel fell and struck him. He says that one of his collarbones and several ribs were broken, resulting in a permanent injury to his lungs

He charges the shipowners with negligence.

RAILROADERS ENTERTAINED

Congressman Miller Gives Address on Railroads and Philippines.

Nearly 400 men of whom more than 200 were from Duluth and a few from Superior attended the meeting of the Proctor Railroad club held at the Odd Fellows hall at Proctor last night. Interesting lectures on the construction of the Panama canal by A. B. Minear, international junior Y. M. C. A. secretary; a lecture on the Philippines by Congressman Clarence B. Miller, and short talks by W. A. McGonagle, president of the D. M. & N. railroad, and E. E. Murphy, president of the local Yardmasters' association featured the program.

Miller Talks on Railroads.

Preparatory to giving his lecture on the Philippines, which was similar to that given the night before at the banquet of the West Duluth Commercial club, Congressman Miller gave a short talk on the railroad situation. Mr. Miller said that every one present was interested in the railroad business; that the prosperity of the entire country was reflected in the earnings of the railroad.

"The time is past when railroads are run by their officials on the policy of 'the public be damned,'" he said. "Railroads are now immense government problems and regulated by the interstate commerce commission."

Mr. Miller said he did not believe that railroads should be too greatly persecuted. He said that there was a possibility of the government going too far in its legislation against them. The railroads, he said, like other forms of business, should be entitled to earn dividends after they had paid a fair wage schedule to employes.

Mr. Miller followed the talk given by Mr. Minear. In opening his talk he praised the work of construction of the canal. It was American genius with every man on the job having the one idea in mind—to enable America to complete the work in record time.

Philippines Sanitary.

Mr. Miller said that another type of American genius has placed the Philippine islands in a healthful condition. He praised the soil of the islands as being the best in the world and said that while their population was estimated at 8,000,000 they were able, with proper care, to support ten times that number. He showed about 100 illustrations taken from the islands during his recent trip as special representative of congress to the Philippines.

Mr. Minear gave an interesting talk on the construction of the canal. His collections of pictures showing the canal in the various stages of construction, the measures taken by the government in making the place sanitary and the difficulties encountered in digging the ditch were very instructive. The Y. M. C. A., he said, had been one of the great factors in assisting to keep the men in good health.

J. W. Kreitter, superintendent of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, presided at the meeting. Mr. Murphy was introduced as the first speaker. He said that the object of the Yardmasters' association was to bring closer together the railroad men at the Head of the Lakes and that such meetings helped to cement a better and closer friendship between the men.

Promote Co-Operation.

Mr. McGonagle said that these meetings of the Railway club promoted more harmonious spirit among the men. He advocated more such meetings. In speaking of local conditions he intimated that the D., M. & N. railroad intended and was willing to do its share toward providing better sanitary conditions in Proctor and also assist in beautifying the village.

John Meehan, general yardmaster at Proctor, also gave a short talk on cooperation of yard men.

The program included selections by an orchestra, a violin and piano selection by Mikish and Anderson, who later appeared in the role of colored men, a concertina selection by Henry Anderson and quartet selections by Al Lauermann, Oscar Bergren, Charles Sherman and Neil Lauermann.

ANNIVERSARY OF ODD FELLOWS.

Anniversary services in honor of the ninety-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Odd Fellows will be held by West Duluth lodge, No. 68, I. O. O. F., tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Fifty-seventh avenue west and Elinor street. Rev. Wilfred L. Clarke will preach the sermon. An appropriate musical program has been arranged under the direction of Mrs. Stanley Butchart.

Accompanying the lodge will be Duluth lodge, No. 28, and Luluth Encampment, No. 36, and members of North Star, No. 14, and Canton, No. 5 of Superior.

Members of the order will meet at the I. O. O. F. hall at Central avenue and Cody street at 2:30 o'clock and march to the church in a body.

WORK FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

Sawmill Takes 210 Men From Ranks of the Idle.

While hundreds of men have been put to work with the opening of industries in this end of the city this spring, many seekers for employment were turned away when the West Duluth sawmill of the Alger-Smith Lumber company resumed operations this morning. About 300 men applied for work and about 210 of these found employment.

Within the last month it is estimated that nearly 1,000 men have been given employment by the various industries in the western end of the city. The ore docks of the D., M. & N. railroad this week put to work about 350 men, and the sawmill that opened this morning further reduced the number of unemployed.

In addition to these industries about 100 men were put to work early last month on the resumption of improvements at the "Model City" of the Minnesota Steel company. Next week when the Butler-Coons company of Hibbing, which recently was awarded the contract for all of the street paving and sidewalk laying in the village, begins work, it is estimated that about 200 more men will be given employment.

Recently additional men have been put to work at the carbolite plant, which is now completing improvements which will enlarge its plant by two-thirds of its present capacity. Larger forces have been added at the new coal docks and these will be increased still more when the coal begins to arrive in larger quantities.

According to lumbermen, the work in the mills will not be as plentiful as last year or former years. Doubt is held as to whether the West Duluth Alger-Smith mill will operate night shifts this year. At present the company is not able to get more than enough logs to run days. This is accounted for by bad logging conditions last winter. The company's Garfield avenue mill was compelled again to close down last night owing to a shortage of logs.

While as yet there are no preparations for the resumption of night shifts at these two mills, and no word has been given out as to whether the Virginia & Rainy Lake mill will operate this year, there is not a large number of men remaining out of employment. It is claimed that if it is decided to operate these mills at their normal capacity it might now be hard to find employes enough to run them.

SCHOOL ORATORS ARE SELECTED

JOHN DAVIS.

John Davis, "mayor" of the Duluth Industrial high school, and Miss Marion McLyman, both members of the senior class will represent the school in the interscholastic oratorical contest to be held the latter part of this month.

The winners were announced yesterday following a contest between fifteen students at the school.

FINDS WIFE DEAD ON HIS RETURN

Mrs. Catherine Keenan, 42 years old, wife of John Keenan, 5934 Grand avenue, was found dead in her bed at 1 o'clock this morning by her husband who returned at that time from attending a meeting of the Knights of Columbus uptown last evening. Death was due to heart trouble.

When Mr. Keenan entered the home he called to his wife and failing to receive an answer went to the bedroom, where he found his wife unconscious. He rushed out of the house to summon assistance. A doctor was called but he said that Mrs. Keenan had been dead about an hour.

Mrs. Keenan had returned shortly after 10 o'clock after having partaken of a light lunch with a neighbor. She had not complained of feeling ill and there was nothing to indicate that she was not in the best of health.

An autopsy was performed under the direction of the coroner at Fillatrault's undertaking rooms by Doctors McAuliffe and Forbes.

Mrs. Keenan leaves one daughter by a former marriage and one sister. They are Mrs. Hazel Meyer and Mrs. L. Mueller, both of Minneapolis. The arrangements for the funeral will not be completed until the daughter and sister arrive. They are expected early this afternoon.

Pioneer Dies.

Mrs. T. F. Olsen, 512 North Fifty-ninth avenue west, left this morning for Maple Plain, Minn., where she was called on account of the death of her grandmother, Mrs. Emmaline Budd.

Mrs. Budd was one of the pioneer residents of Hennepin county. With her husband, the late W. W. Budd they settled on the west shore of Lake Minnetonka just after the close of the Civil war.

Mrs. Budd was 86 years old. She was a grandaughter of Isaac Allen, a captian of a company of Virginia volunteers during the war of the revolution.

Banquet for Hockey Team.

Members of the senior class hockey team of the Duluth Industrial high school were guests of honor at a banquet spread by the juniors at the school last evening. Members of both classes attended the affair. S. A. Foster, principal of the school acted as toastmaster. Following a short speaking and musical program dancing was enjoyed.

Royal League Dance.

Pocahontas council, Royal League, will entertain Monday evening at the last of a series of dancing parties at the Dormedy's hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street.

The committee in charge Monday night will be Mrs. Thomas Brain, Mrs. Henry Fedl, Mrs. E. W. F. Boener, Mrs. M. J. Murray, Mrs. W. H. Richter, Mrs. George L. Hise, Mrs. H. J. Liberty, Mrs. F. M. Ashley and Mrs. E. J. Zauft.

West Duluth Briefs.

Patrolman Frank Shannon of the West Duluth police station returned to work yesterday after spending his annual vacation fishing on some of the streams in the northern part of the county.

Bernard Lee Buckley, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Buckley, 5828 West Eighth street, died yesterday. The funeral was held at 3:30 this afternoon from the residence with interment in Oneota cemetery.

William, the 1-year-old son of Mrs. Ellen Engberg died last night. The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home.

The congregation of the Swedish Mission church, Fifty-ninth avenue and Greene street, has planned to hold its annual spring festival in the church Thursday evening. A musical and literary program is being arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Murphy of Grand Marais, Minn., who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Brotherton, 627 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, left for their home this morning.

A fire in a carload of cinders back of the Carbolite works gave the hose cart of department No. 8 a run last evening. The damage was slight.

If you are looking for a good place to take your Sunday dinner, visit the Grand hotel and you will be satisfied.

For implements and farm wagons see W. A. Pond, 411 Central avenue.

On and after June 1 our redeemable coupon system will be discontinued. At that time all coupons should be presented for redemption. At the Grand Avenue Pharmacy.

Do not forget Sunday dinner. Special musical program, 35c. Hotel Grand.

Mr. and Mrs. George Groulx have returned to Bay City, Mich. They will make their home in this end of the city.

Employes of the steel plant have arranged to have a celebration this evening at the Grand hotel. Following a banquet dancing will be enjoyed in the large dining hall.

APPOINTMENT IS CONFIRMED

The appointment of Harris Bennett as collector of customs at the port of Duluth-Superior was yesterday afternoon confirmed by the senate, according to a dispatch received from Washington.

Mr. Bennett today went to the office of L. M. Wilcutts, and after meeting the employes in the various departments, held a conference with Mr. Wilcutts. Mr. Bennett said this noon that he will be at the office each day to acquaint himself with the work before receiving his official commission from Washington.

Mr. Bennett will obtain a surety bond of $7,500 within the next day or two and after this is approved at Washington, the local man will receive his commission, which is expected here in about ten days. He will assume his new duties immediately upon receipt of this commission.

Mr. Wilcutts said this noon that he has made no definite plans for the future and for a short time, at least, will rest at his home.

MRS. SUNDQUIST IS SUMMONED.

Mrs. Julia Sundquist, 40 years old, wife of Bernard Sundquist, who had lived in Duluth for the last twenty-three years, died at 2:10 o'clock this morning at her home, 1808 Piedmont avenue, after a short illness.

Besides a husband, Mrs. Sundquist is survived by one son, Clarence, an aged father, two sisters and three brothers. She was a member of the Maccabees and the Stadheim lodge.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon from the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. Interment will be at the Park Hill cemetery.

USES BIG STICK ON DAIRYMEN

Milk Inspector Gust Hedman is using the license provision for the selling of milk with a vengeance. He is utilizing the requirement as a club and is swinging it vigorously.

During April he held up forty-two applications for licenses, informing the dairymen and retailers affected that needed improvements will have to be made before their applications will be approved. Seven of these applicants are dairymen with comparatively large establishments and the others are small dairies with from one to four cows. All of them are said to be lacking in sanitation, ventilation, light or other important respects. Four new milk houses and three new barns are now being built. The number of licenses issued during the month was 158, but only half the dairymen have filed their applications.

The bacteria count and the butter fat average for April were the best of any month of this year. Of the forty-eight samples examined for bacteria but seven of them showed more than 100,000 per cent centimeter. Of the 132 samples tested for butterfat, 23 were below the required 3.5 per cent, but the average of all was 4.05 per cent.

The milk inspector reports that during the coming month the dairymen will be busy cleaning and improving their stables. The weather will be sufficiently warm to turn the cows into pasture and the whitewashing will begin. The inspector says that a special man should be available for this work, as some of the jobs done by the dairymen themselves are liable to be unsatisfactory.

GUNNER'S MATE WILL BE SENT TO NEW YORK.

Henry N. McClure, first-class gunner's mate, who has been assistant to Chief Quartermaster Erickson at the local navy recruiting station since May 9 last year, received an unofficial order this morning to prepare to leave Duluth at once for detail duty in New York and later at Newport, where he will be assigned to one of the battleships.

Mate McClure was given a year's shore leave last May and his term expires next Saturday, when he will leave with his family for Minneapolis and later for New York. He expects to receive an official order next week.

He is 26 years old and has already served nine years in the United States navy. Two weeks ago he received a service medal from the department at Washington for serving honorably during two enlistments. He lives with his family at 2707 West Second street.

FEWER POSITIONS FILLED

State Employment Office Reports Decreased Demand for Labor.

Owing to the fact that building activities and navigation started rather late this spring, the number of men and women given employment at the Duluth branch of the state free employment bureau fell short of the record made during the same month last year, according to the monthly report just issued today by Mrs. W. L. Atwood.

During April there were 420 women given employment, while during the same month in 1913, 613 women were cared for at the local office. This year but 255 men were given positions and last year 680 men were sent out. An interesting item is the fact that in April, 1913, there were 245 applications for male help that remained unfilled at the close of the month, while this year there were none.

Another reason given for the few applications for help is the fact that railroad construction is exceptionally light this year and few men are therefore needed in section gangs.

Regarding domestics, Mrs. Atwood said that the average demand and supply exists this year.

Among some of the positions filled during the month were carpenters, moulders, painters, woodsmen, cooks, housekeepers, kitchen girls, nurses, seamstresses, waitresses and second cooks.

When Electric Light Comes in "For Rent" Signs Quickly Come Down

MR. LANDLORD, do you find it harder each year to rent your building satisfactorily? Don't you notice that prospective tenants quickly remark the absence of Electric Light? Why let your building depreciate in rental value? Install Electric Light—now is the opportune time. Have your building wired this spring—make it a better asset for yourself and more attractive to good tenants.

The Cost of Wiring Your Building Is Less Than You Probably Think

Tenants want Electric Light—they know the rates are now very low—they appreciate the many exclusive advantages and conveniences afforded by electricity in the home. Electric Light can be installed without dirt or injury to decorations and you will be surprised to find how little it costs. LEGAL FIGHT FOR FORTUNE

First Hearing in Sellwood Will Case Set for Monday.

Opening guns in the legal battle which will be waged over the fortune left by the late Capt. Joseph Sellwood, prominent banker and mining man, whose death occurred in this city on Feb. 24 last, will be fired in probate court Monday afternoon when Judge S. W. Gilpin will conduct the first hearing on the three-cornered contest which will be waged over the will. The estate is variously estimated to be worth from $800,000 to $4,000,000.

Separate contests over the will were filed by the widow, Mrs. Martha M. Sellwood, and a daughter, Mrs. Ophelia S. Leithhead, April 6. The widow is seeking to have the will of the late Capt. Sellwood filed by his son, Richard M. Sellwood, set aside on the ground that an ante-nuptial agreement made with her husband and mentioned in the will was void since its effect was to deprive her of her statutory and dower rights. The daughter is basing her contest on the ground that the will does not express the real intent of her father. She charges that her brother, Richard M. Sellwood, and her sister, La Rue S. Mershon, brought undue influences to bear upon her father to defraut her of her rightful interest in the estate.

The will filed with the probate court following the death of her father, dated Jan. 21, 1914, made no provision for Mrs. Leithhead. The only reference made to her was that she had been given funds during the life of the testator which were considered sufficient. The claim is made that at the time this will was executed, another will was in existence which bequeathed to her one-third of the residuary estate.

Mrs. Leithhead asks the court for an order directing her sister and brother to produce the former will and if this cannot be done, then she seeks that the estate be administered as if her father had died intestate. Mrs. Leithhead is represented in the contest by Attorney A. L. Agatin and Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell. The widow's interests are being looked after by Fryberger, Fulton & Spear and Baldwin, Baldwin & Holmes represent Richard M. Sellwood and his sister, Mrs. Lau Rue S. Merchon.

NEWEST SWEET PARLOR IS STUDY IN BEAUTY

De Witt C. Southwick, probably the best known caterer in Duluth, who for twelve years has been proprietor of the fountain in Boyce's drug store, is responsible for the opening and management of Duluth's newest and most artistic parlor of sweets at 317 West Superior street.

Mr. Southwick has outdone stereotyped ideas of architecture in designing his new quarters. While simplicity has been the plan followed the richness in tone of the interior is impressive—so impressive and individual, in fact, that the keynote of distinctiveness is fully carried out.

The fountain stand and the background are done in rich mosaic tile, with artful figures interwoven in rich coloring. The design is by Kelly & Williams, architects. Hand-painted wall panels, quiet in tone and tinting, carry out the decorativ scheme in the serving lobby. White tile blocks and white marble slabs complete the air of cleanliness throughout. The handiwork of the builders is well shown in the compactness of the fountain, the parts of which are so fitted that there are no crevices to permit accumulations of dirt. The latest fountain appliances have been installed with the one idea of promoting better service.

Mr. Southwick has striven hard to create an atmosphere that bespeaks coolness and summer days and he has well succeeded. For twenty-two years he has catered exclusively to particular people, having been for ten years with Frank Roll in Superior before coming here. His long experience combined with his knowledge of his line assures his patrons of a service that spells quality.

WELFARE WORK BROADENING

The April reports of the various branches of the welfare department, submitted this morning by Manager Frank Hicks to Mayor W. I. Prince, show that its field is steadily broadening and its activities increasing.

During the month the free legal aid bureau collected and disbursed $845.26 free of charge. The number of cases handled was 148, listed under 41 different classifications. These included: Drunkenness, 28; claims for wages, 22; employment agencies, 16; divorce, 4; domestic relations, 3; garnishment, 3, and 35 other classifications with one to six or seven cases.

Five different probationers were arrested and brought into court for violating their parole by indulging in intoxicants. Four of them were given another chance and one was sent to the work farm. During the month sixteen new probationers were added to the list, bringing the total paroled since the bureau was started up to 176, of whom several were women.

During April, 223 calls were made in connection with the probation and free legal aid bureaus and 179 calls were made at the office by probationers. The amount collected for probationers was $111.05 and the sum disbursed was $108.05.

Thirty-five persons were cared for at the municipal lodging house during the month. There was but one voluntary applicant, the others having been sent there by various agencies about the city. Eleven were provided with employment and most of the others went to their homes or to relatives.

HADDAD IS FOUND GUILTY

Convicted of Manslaughter By Jury in District Court.

Must Serve From Five to Twenty Years—Resists Officers.

Abraham Haddad, who shot and killed George Gazarie, a fellow countryman, in a pistol duel on Garfield avenue on the evening of Oct. 12, 1913, must serve from five to twenty years in state's prison as punishment for the crime. A jury in Judge Fesler's division of the district court this morning convicted him of manslaughter. The court deferred sentence for a few days.

After Haddad had been taken from the court room to the office of the sheriff, he vigorously protested against returning to the jail until after he had seen his attorney. When a deputy sheriff attempted to take him along, Haddad resisted and showed fight. He was floored and handcuffed by Sheriff Meinlng and two deputies and later removed to the jail.

Haddad was brought to trial recently in Judge Fesler's court on a charge of murder in the first degree. The trial was concluded yesterday afternoon shortly before 3 o'clock, when the case was given to the jury. The jury debated on the case most of the night and reached an agreement this morning. The verdict was received by the court at 10:15 o'clock.

Changed His Mind.

Haddad was indicted for murder by the November, 1913, grand jury and was brought to trial at that term of court. During the progress of the first trial and after consulting with his attorney, John H. Norton, Haddad decided to change his plea of not guilty to the charge in the indictment to that of guilty to murder in the third degree. When brought before the court on Feb. 7 last, he again changed his mind and asked the court to allow him to stand trial. The request was granted. Attorney John H. Norton withdrew from the case and the court appointed James A. Wharton in his stead.

Haddad admitted the killing of Gazarie but maintained that it was done in self-defense. The shooting which took on the form of a pistol duel on the streets, was the climax of a fued of long standing between the two men. The evidence showed that they had met and quarreled on previous occasions and both were armed when they met on the night in question. Both men emptied their guns.

There were no actual eye-witnesses to the shooting and the question which arose with the jury was as to who started the shooting. Haddad claimed that the advances were made by Gazarie, who had threatened to take his life on former occasions. The state introduced evidence tending to prove that three of Gazarie's four wounds were inflicted from the back.

Shortly after the shooting, Haddad was captured following a running fight in which Joseph Haddad, a brother of the defendant, shot Police Capt. Fiskett through the wrist. Joe was arrested and when brought to trial last November was convicted of assault in the first degree. He is now serving time on the indeterminate plan at the St. Cloud reformatory.

County Attorney Warren E. Greene, who conducted the prosecution of Haddad, will move the case on for sentence as soon as possible. Haddad has been a prisoner at the county jail since his arrest on the night of the murder.

CITY BRIEFS

Business for City Council.

A petition has been filed with the city clerk asking for the construction of a sanitary sewer in Eighth alley between Eleventh and Thirteenth avenues east. It will be presented to the council Monday. At the same meeting Commissioner Murchison will ask that the salary of the assistant field engineer be raised from $130 to $140 per month, as he will have charge of the field crews of both the Eastern and Western ends of the city this season, with the assistance of an additional transitman.

Theater Programs Litter Street.

The exercise of a little thoughtfulness by [illegible]rons would be of great assi[illegible]e to the works division in keeping the streets and avenues clean, according to Commissioner Roderick Murchison, head of the works division. He explains that many of them carry their programs outdoors with them and immediately throw them on the pavement, where they are unsightly and cause extra work for the employes. He believes that if those who have moving picture theaters would throw a request on the screen to leave programs behind just before the end of each performance it would do much to better conditions in this respect.

Files for Legislature.

Patrick J. Greaney, merchant, postmaster, mayor and leading citizen of Greaney, Minn., will be a candidate for the legislature. He threw his hat in the ring yesterday when he filed with County Auditor Odin Halden for the office of representative from the Sixtieth district. The other candidates are Fred Bessette, Gheon; Charles R. Woods, Chisholm; J. H. McNiven, Chisholm, and Samuel C. Scott of Hibbing.

Pleads Guilty of Theft.

Fritz Neuman pleaded guilty in police court this morning to the charge of having stolen a $15 plow last Thursday from Charles C. Chartier. He was fined $40 and costs with the alternative of spending thirty days in the county jail. He was granted a stay until July 6.

Kept Shop Open Sunday.

George Mardorf, 45 years old, proprietor of the St. Louis hotel barber shop, was arrested this morning on a charge of keeping his shop open last Sunday. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $10 and costs. The complaint against Mardorf was made by Chief Troyer.

Fined for Assault.

Julius Brahms, 28 years old, who was arrested this morning on a charge of having assaulted S. Hoffman yesterday, pleaded guilty when arraigned before Judge Cutting and he paid a fine of $1 and costs to avoid a three-day sentence in the county jail.

Bicyclist Hurt.

Walter Selo, 26 years old, fell from his bicycle near Cascade park yesterday afternoon and was slightly injured about his head. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital in the police ambulance. Selo is married and lives at 16 East Eighth street.

No Arrests Made.

Not a single arrest was made by the police from 11 o'clock last night until noon today. One hundred and six men were given free lodging by the police last night.

Inspect Subway Route.

A number of city and Duluth, Missabe & Northern officials visited West Duluth this morning to again go over the route of the proposed Highland street subway. Mayor Prince said that no definite decision was reached as to its construction.

Assure Uniform Bids.

For the convenience of contractors and to secure uniformity of bids the city engineering department will hereafter prepare white prints of forms on which bids can be submitted. A number of these have been gotten out for the improvement of Vernon street from the west line of Bryant's addition to Grand Forks avenue and can be secured by the contractors at the city hall. The plan will be beneficial to both the contractors and the city.

Is Critically Ill.

The condition of Norman McDonald, of 1817 East Third street, who was operated on three weeks ago at Rochester, is this morning reported to be very serious, although he spent a comfortable night, according to a telegram received here this morning by members of his family. Mrs. McDonald and Mr. McDonald's two borthers are at his bedside. He has been removed from the hospital and is now at the Kahler hotel.

Wolf Bounties.

County Auditor Odin Halden issued warrants for the payment of $180 in wolf bounties during the month of April at the rate of $7.50 per animal. The amount paid out is small when compared with former years, due mostly to the fact that since September, 1913, the county bounty has been removed. Only the state bounty of $7.50 has been paid in each case since.

Blaze Does Little Damage.

The fire department was called out to 2122 East Fourth street about 9:40 o'clock this morning, when a report was received that a garage was on fire. When the department arrived at the scene, the blaze had already been extinguished. The damage was slight.

Had Busy Month.

Bakery Inspector Joseph Pratts made a large number of miscellaneous calls during April, according to the monthly report submitted today to Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health. These include: Bakeries, 23; basements, 97; boarding houses, 34; candy factories, 20; lunchrooms, 61; restaurants, 127; soda fountains, 45; stores, 133, and wagons, 40.

A UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY

The Grand Marais & Northwestern Railway Co., organized under the laws of Minnesota with 3,000 shares, par value, $100.00, is offering a limited amount of its capital stock for sale at par. Cook county has donated $100,000 30-year 5% bonds in aid of this railway company. Bonds are issued under date July 1st, 1913 and are held by the First National Bank of Duluth, Minnesota; each stockholder will participate in the above bond issue.

Enough tonnage in Cook and Lake counties awaits the building of this line to guarantee rich returns upon the investment. Many million tons of forest products and iron ore will seek an outlet via Grand Marais.

A study of the map will convince the most skeptical that this company has as bright a future as the Duluth & Iron Range or Mesaba roads had to begin with.

To aid in the completion of the first section of the road which has been under construction since December, 1913, a limited amount of stock is offered for sale at par $100 per share. Payments may be made at rate of 20% with order, balance 20% per month.

WILL GO TO HIGH COURT

Appeal Taken From Judge Fesler's Decision in "Piece Work" Case.

Question of Employers' Liability Under New Act Main Point Involved.

A decision will be obtained from the supreme court on the question of whether "piece workers" are independent contractors or are entitled to the benefits and protection of the workingmen's compensation act.

Charles E. Adams, who represents Stanley Boshko, a workman whose case was brought in district court to test this question, was yesterday served with a notice that an appeal would be taken from the recent order of Judge Bert Fesler who construed the new law so as to include "piece workers."

Attorney Adams argued that the "piece work" plan of employment was merely a method of fixing the wages of those working in that capacity and that they were entitled to the same compensation when injured as those hired at a stipulated wage. The contention was sustained by the court. The Boshko cause, the Virginia & Rainy Lake company was ordered to pay him $1,000 for the loss of an eye.

Persia, having given her location and name, proceeded without more ado. This explained why nothing more was heard from her.

A dispatch from Manila received last night said the Siberia steamed into the port after an uneventful voyage from Nagasaki, which port she left April 29. Capt. Zeeder of the Siberia said he believed the reports that his vessel was in distress arose over confusion in the call letters of the steamer Persia, with which vessel he had been in communication. These letters are "M. B. S.," and they doubtless were mistaken for "S. O. S." The marine wireless appeal for aid.

The wireless operator on board the Siberia added that atmospheric conditions had been bad, making difficult the sending of wireless messages.

The first erroneous reading of the wireless calls from the Persia evidently were made at the Osezakai wireless station in Japan. They were interpreted as setting forth that the steamer had met with an accident and was in distress. Other wireless reports were responsible for the belief that she was sinking.

On receiving the news the Japanese government dispatched cruisers and merchant ships from Formosa to where the Siberia was supposed to be; a British warship steamed at full speed to her assistance and the American naval authorities at Manila made hurried preparations to send help.

The belief that the Siberia was in any trouble was entirely dispelled last night with the receipt of dispatches from Manila saying that she was safe in that port.

by President Mellen to the Republican national commission and to various state committees amounted to $102,000, figured in the day's testimony as an enlivening incident. These payments, it was shown, did not appear on the New Haven's books, having been authorized by the New Haven directors out of "unexpended profits" from Mr. Mellen's sale of treasury stock of the company.

Julian M. Tomlinson, auditor of the New Haven, then testified about the contributions which he said President Mellen told him he had made out of his own funds, afterwards being reimbursed by the road. The witness recalled seeing a voucher, he said, of the Consolidated Railroad company, another New Haven subsidiary, showing a payment of $100,000 to Mr. Robbins, then general counsel for the New Haven.

Mr. Tomlinson also said he thought the books show a payment of $23,000 to John Hall McKay from the New England Navigation company.

"Dummy" For Billard.

Mr. Hemingway said he became a director of the Boston & Maine railroad in 1908, when Billard became a stockholder in the road, and resigned about the time he retired as treasurer of the Billard company.

"So you were a dummy for Mr. Billard?"

"Yes, if you want to put it that way."

"What was the Billard company created for?"

"I don't know, except it was to take over the debentures."

"You know there was a law in Massachusetts forbidding the New Haven from owning trolley lines in Western Massachusetts. Now, was not the Billard company formed to evade that law?"

"It might have been for that purpose."

The Billard company made no contributions to political parties, the witness said.

Remembers No $3,000,000.

Mr. Folk asked Mr. Hemingway if he had drawn a check for $3,000,000 in connection with the Metropolitan Steamship company.

"I do not remember it," was the reply. He said he did not recall any dealings with the steamship company.

Further questions along this line were objected to by Homer S. Cummings, attorney for John L. Billard, who said that Mr. Hemingway and the other officials of the Billard company who declined to answer questions put to them several weeks ago were within their rights.

Philip J. Doherty, of counsel for the commission, then asked the witness if he had attended a meeting in New York at which matters regarding getting control of steamers or wharves for the New Haven road were discussed. Mr. Hemingway replied that he could not recall any such meeting.

"Did you not sign twenty gold notes, numbered from 1 to 20, for $100,000 each?"

Forgot Twenty $100,000 Notes.

Mr. Hemingway's memory was not distinct on this point.

Mr. Doherty then followed a line of questioning tending to show that, Oct. 7, 1909, the New England Navigation company, a subsidiary of the New Haven, had bought from the Billard company the $2,000,000 in gold notes, paying for them in two checks in favor of John L. Billard for $1,000,000 each, one drawn on the Mercantile National bank of New York, and the other on the Manhattan company of New York. He claimed that it was this $2,000,000 that Billard paid into the company to capitalize it.

"So, really, the money that started the Billard company came from the New Haven," he insisted.

Mr. Hemingway could not recall, he said, all the details regarding the transactions.

WOMAN IN BAD CONDITION

Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

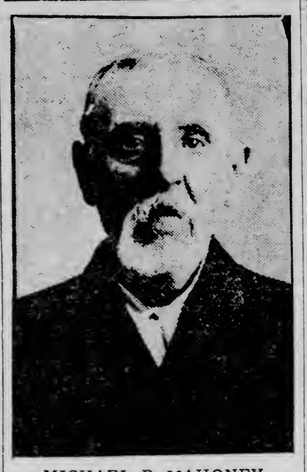
Montpelier, Vt. — "We have great faith in your remedies. I was very irregular and was tired and sleepy all the time, would have cold chills, and my hands and feet would bloat. My stomach bothered me, I had pain in my side and a bad headache most of the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me lots of good and I now feel fine. I am regular, my stomach is better and my pains have all left me. You can use my name if you ke. I am proud of what your remedies have done for me." — Mrs. MARY GAUTHIER, 21 Ridge St., Montpelier, Vt.

An Honest Dependable Medicine

It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for nearly forty years, and to-day hold a record for thousands upon thousands of actual cures, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

SENT TO MATTEAWAN FOR ATTACK ON MAYOR



MICHAEL P. MAHONEY.

New York, May 2.—Michael P. Mahoney, the aged man who shot Corporation Counsel Frank L. Polk on April 17 in an attempt to kill Mayor Mitchel, has been sent to the state hospital for the criminal insane at Matteawan by order of Judge Mulqueen of the court of general sessions. Alienists who examined Mahoney declared he was suffering from senile dementia.

the police to have identified the immigration agent to his slayer. Shuck was killed as he stepped from the alley with the flowers under his arm.

Six revolver shots rang out in rapid succession. The first two bullets extinguished the electric light at the corner. The last four passed through the region of Shuck's heart, within a few inches of each other. To make sure of the job, the assassin then drove a dagger into the already dead man's heart.

Found "Mayor" Beside Body.

When the police reached the scene the "mayor" of the alley, bending over the body with a flashlight in his hand, was the only Chinaman in sight. Other residents of the alley huddled in their dens until they were raided by the police.

Hundreds of white persons were attracted by the shots.

The motive for the murder, as advanced by Bing, was the desire of New York and Chicago tong men to establish in St. Louis, a branch of their society which was strongly opposed by Bing and Shuck. Bing told the police early this morning he had been notified by countrymen in Chicago that war on the St. Louis tong men had been declared by New York and Chicago Chinese who held a conference in Chicago during the last few days.

question had seriously displeased national suffrage officials.

Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, president of the Illinois association and grand marshal of the parade, insisted that the difference of opinion would not hamper the parade.

Plans of the suffragists beyond possibility of being upset by rivalry or other cause were:

First—The parade will be started at 5 p. m. to give workers a chance to assemble at the starting place.

Second—The line of march is only two miles along a smooth, lake breeze-swept boulevard.

Cap Only Regalia Required.

Third—The only regalia required or desired is a suffrage cap, white with gold stars and Illinois in gold letters, and a flag. Arrangements were made to supply the caps for 10 cents and the flags for 5 cents each.

Fourth, and according to the organizers, most important—The marchers will assemble by wards and not by clubs, social, political, church or other organizations. It was made plain that this was to avoid questions of precedence and all varieties of rivalry.

The parade is to be absolutely democratic. One woman is to be as good as another in the parade, and will march with the other women of her ward whether they belong to the same club or not.

Mrs. Trout Marshal.

The parade is to be headed by a squad of mounted police and a detail of cavalry followed by Grand Marshal Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association. Then come the aides. Such of them as represent political or other organizations will carry banners of their clubs. This array of triumphal banners is to be the only demonstration of the kind in the long line.

Women riders will bring up the rear. Every woman who can ride and who can get a horse has been urged to come mounted, and a cavalry brigade of more than 100 is expected to be reining in its steeds and impatiently waiting for the signal to wheel into line before 5 o'clock.

As in the other suffrage parades, men were urged to join the marchers and many responded. No headgears were provided for men marchers, but they will carry flags.

Stands for Spectators.

Much difficulty was found in making arrangements for the use of the boulevard and park. The commissioners finally, after declining to allow Grant park on the lake front in the downtown district to be used for a grand rally, permitted reviewing stands to be erected in the park, and ordered the boulevard cleared for the parade. Governor Dunne promised to review the marchers, with other distinguished persons.

Plans in New York.

New York, May 2.—With hundreds of workers in automobiles and on foot throughout the five boroughs of the Greater City, the suffragists of New York observed Suffrage day in open-air meetings in place of the annual parade. From a general meeting in Washington square, speakers and prominent members of the seven great suffrage organizations in New York scattered to different sections of the city, where they held neighborhood meetings.

All the organizations will meet again tonight at a mass meeting in Carnegie hall, to be held under the auspices of the Women's Political union. Mayor Mitchel will open the meeting by welcoming the delegates from all parts of the state.

Senator Shafroth of Colorado and Miss Katherine B. Davis, commissioner of correction, were among the speakers today.

Rochester, Buffalo, Troy and Syracuse held celebrations much on the order of that in New York city. There are sixty-five upstate towns among those whose plans are known that celebrated with parades or in other ways. In Geneva the suffragists distributed suffrage literature among the local storekeepers, to be sent out with their packages today.

Men March in Boston.

Boston, May 2.—Fair weather, following heavy rains which had beaten down the dust, gave agreeable marching conditions for the women suffrage parade here today. The 7,000 paraders included several hundred men. Among the visiting suffragists who accepted invitations to join in the march were Mrs. Bernard Shaw and Miss Lena Ashwell of England, and Mrs. Moritz Barth, representing the suffrage state of Colorado.

Officials of the state anti-suffrage society distributed thousands of red roses to be worn by their sympathizers during the progress of the parade.

Mass Meeting in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., May 2.—The feature of Detroit's participation in the country-wide suffrage demonstration today was a mass meeting to be held in the evening at the board of commerce auditorium. The program included a tableaux by members of the local equal suffrage league, each member typifying one of the suffrage states. Several hundred women were on the downtown streets today selling to pedestrians yellow badges, banners and other votes-for-women insignia.

In Indianapolis Streets.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 2.—A street demonstration by suffragettes, the first to be held in Indianapolis, marked the celebration of suffrage day here. The street meeting was held near the center of the business district at noon and attracted a large crowd. Dr. Amelia R. Keller, president of the Woman's Franchise League of Indiana, presided.

Another meeting was to be held at Irvington, a suburb, this afternoon, and a third meeting was planned for the North side tonight.

St. Louis Auto Parade.

St. Louis, Mo., May 2.—Sixty automobiles carrying 300 women and a few men formed the suffrage parade here this afternoon. The parade was followed by mass meetings at the courthouse and at Jefferson Memorial in Forest park. The principal speaker was Mrs. Ella S. Stewart, former president of the Chicago Political Equality club.

Lester Killing Felonious.

Walsenburg, Colo., May 2. —The coroner's jury returned its verdict in connection with the killing of Maj. P. P. Lester as follows:

"Maj. Lester was killed by a gunshot wound and internal hemorrhages. The killing was felonious and he was shot in the line of duty as a medical official and while wearing a Red Cross." Drs. Ira Lasmos and P. G. Mathews testified that the fatal shot entered high on the right breast, cutting the heavy blood vessels, and that the two other bullet wonds in the body were made after the death of the officer.

Three Burn to Death.

Denver, Colo., May 2.—Three men were burned to death early today in a fire that destroyed the Watts saloon and boarding house at the Oak Creek mine in Routt county, according to reports received at the governor's office.

The dead:
ROBERT DOGGETT.
JUDGE SNOW.
ONE UNIDENTIFIED MAN.

The governor had been unable to confirm a report that a woman and child, supposed to have been in the pack of the boarding house, had lost their lives.

Had Been Warned.

The governor's informant stated that Watts previously had received warning by telephone to close up or he would be burned out. His place was the "hangout" for nonunion men.

It was reported to the governor that oil had been poured over the front and back doors of the place and then ignited.

The Oak Creek miners did not go to work today but those at the Morrison mine, a neighboring property, continued operations. Miners are guarding the properties.

An appeal was made to the governor for troops, but owing to the remoteness of the Oak Creek district, it was not known how soon protection would be furnished.

Oak Creek is in Northwestern Colorado. A few months ago during outbreaks in the section, citizens formed a protective organization.

Operators Wire Foster.

In a telegram addressed to Martin D. Foster, chairman of the house committee on mines and mining, the presidents of twenty-one Colorado coal companies reiterated their willingness to agree to a settlement of the coal strike upon terms suggested by Governor Ammons in a letter of Nov. 27, 1913, which was laid before representatives of the operators and miners at a conference upon that date.

In the letter Governor Ammons urged that the point of recognition of the union be waived, but the miners be permitted to maintain their union. He urged further that the operators guarantee the employment of a check weighman; abolish the scrip system; observe the regulations of the eight-hour law; permit employes to trade where they chose; insure observance of the semi-monthly payday; observe to the letter all the provisions of the coal mine inspection law, and employ again all strikers whose places had not been filled and who had not been guilty of law violation during the strike.

The telegram includes the letter of Governor Ammons and says:

"The strikers refused to accept the terms of settlement proposed by the governor, and approved by the operators, and all the disorder and bloodshed in the state since Nov. 27 has been due to this attitude of the officers and members of the United Mine Workers of America. We still consider the plan of the governor legally and industrially sound and have never retracted our formal approval thereof."

"Mourners" March.

New York, May 2.—Although John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was miles away at his father's estate at Pocantico Hills, "mourners" continued their marching today in front of the Standard Oil building in Lower Broadway, as a protest against the strike in the Colorado coalfields, in which the Rockefellers are interested.

Upton Sinclair was conspicuous among the rachers. He was released from prison only last evening after having paid a fine imposed for disorderly conduct.

A warrant was issued today for the arrest of Marie Ganz, an orator of the Industrial Workers of the World. It is based upon affidavits setting forth her repeated threats against Mr. Rockefeller. A squad of detectives went out to find the woman.

ECZEMA ITCHED NIGHT AND DAY

Kept Spreading, Covered Face and Hands to Elbow. Couldn't Sleep or Rest. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured In a Week.

R. F. D. No. 1, Lawton, N. Dak.—"My little girl's eczema started with a sore in the back of her neck about as big as a ten-cent piece. It broke out in little pimples and they formed a circle. It itched night and day and she scratched it all the time and it kept spreading. It at last covered her face and hands up to her elbows. It itched and burned so she couldn't sleep nights or rest any time. It swelled her face all out of shape and her hands were swelled and she surely looked awfully as long as it was on her face. Her face and hands were as red as fire. Her clothing irritated her arms so I had to keep them wrapped with cloths all the time. She cried with it.

"She had the eczema about two weeks when I saw the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the paper and I thought I would send for some. I put them on right away and in a couple of days she began to get better and she could sleep. In a week she was cured." (Signed) Mrs. Emma Dibble, June 10, 1913.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexions, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, and cost so little, that it is almost criminal not to use them. Sold by dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book on the skin and scalp. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

☞Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

PORTILLO RESIGNS AND RUIZ TAKES HIS PLACE

gan, with the Spanish ambassador taking part.

No Affect on Negotiations.

The appointment of Ruiz and retirement of Portillo, the mediators stated, would in no way affect the negotiations. It was pointed out that the acceptance of the Huerta government, both of good offices and of the armistice, was in complete force, so that the retirement of Portillo was construed by the mediators as being merely the change of one man and not of great significance on the main issues of mediation.

Outside the mediation conference, the bearing of the Ruiz appointment caused widespread speculation. The fact that he had been mentioned as probable Huerta commissioner in case the mediators proposed a commission to settle the entire trouble, led to the belief that Ruiz would pursue the same friendly policy that Portillo had shown in the negotiations up to this time.

In some quarters it was felt that Huerta himself was directing affairs with a strong hand, and that Ruiz was more amenable to Huerta's direction than Portillo had been.

Next in Line to Huerta.

It was pointed out that, according to the Mexican Constitution, the minister of foreign affairs succeeds to the presidency in case of the president's retirement when there is no vice president, as is the case now in Mexico. Hence Portillo was next in line for the presidency and Ruiz is now in that position.

Senor Ruiz has been in the Mexican government service in various capacities for many years, but has never affiliated himself with any particular faction. His position has been analogous to that of an assistant secretary in the United States state department.

President Huerta late yesterday ordered the immediate release of Dr. Edward Ryan, an American Red Cross official, who was threatened with execution as a spy in Zacatecas. The release was ordered after urgent personal representations to President Huerta by William W. Canada, the American consul here.

Dr. Ryan Released.

Huerta telegraphed to Mr. Canada that he did not know that Dr. Ryan was to be put to death, but that he had ordered the Federal commander at Zacatecas to release him at once, and give him transportation to Mexico City. From the capital President Huerta promised to send him to Vera Cruz.

Representations in behalf of Dr. Ryan were also made by Sir Christopher Cradock, commander of the British naval squadron in Mexican waters, through Sir Lionel Carden, British minister, and by the Brazilion minister acting for the United States.

No Neutral Zone.

Undismayed by the refusal of Carranza, rebel chief, formally to agree to the establishment of a nutral zone in the rich oil field about Tampico, the South American envoys today resumed negotiations aiming at a settlement of the Mexican crisis. While Carranza's refusal was variously interpreted, yet administration officials here held it could not be considered as having any bearing upon the mediators' proposal that hostilities cease between Huerta and the Constitutionalists.

Although the envoys again were in communication with Carranza over proposal for suspension of hostilities between Huerta and the rebels pending negotiations, word yet was to be received from him today. Until he makes a definite reply the mediators will be unable to determine whether their efforts for the present must be confined to issues between Huerta and the United States government, or whether they may be broadened to include the entire Mexican situation.

Funston Finds Food.

Unofficial news from Vera Cruz that the food situation might soon become acute unless there was relief were partly offset today by a report from Gen. Funston that 900 tons of staple food supplies held in warehouses for speculative purposes would be commandeered and distributed to citizens, if necessary.

While no ill effects of the vitiating climate of Vera Cruz has been reported among the American soldiers and seamen, Surgeon-General Gorgas of the army today set on foot a movement to ward off the attack of disease threatened by the beginning of the rainy season. The main fight will be against the menace of the mosquito.

What Has Been Accomplished.

Summing up what the mediators had done up to this time, a well-posted authority said it represented more actually accomplished in a given time than had ever taken place in the history of mediation. He specified beginning April 26 and continuing six days, including yesterday:

"First, acceptance of good offices by the United States.

"Second, acceptance by Huerta.

"Third, acceptance by Carranza.

"Fourth, suspension of hostilities by the United States.

"Fifth, suspension of hostilities by Huerta."

These five accomplishments within six days were said to be without precedent in international bodies which had previously exercised good offices.

Will Protect Interests.

State department officials said today that with assurances from Gen. Carranza that he would protect the Tampico oil interests and negotiations on between the British ambassador here, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, and Gen. Huerta to obtain a like promise from the Federal forces, they felt that everything possible was being done to safeguard the valuable properties there. Gen. Carranza, in his refusal to agree to a neutral zone, informed the state department that he already controlled the oil fields and would safeguard the foreign interests there.

Almost 200 American refugees who fled from mining districts in Sonora, have returned to their former homes there. Consular reports received at the state department today said twenty Americans were back in El Tigre and about 150 had again taken up their employment at Nacozari.

Other reports tell of the safety of many refugees, for whom inquiries had been made at the state department.

Attacked By Cow.

Mora, Minn., May 2.—George H. Chamberlain is confined to his home suffering from injuries sustained last Sunday. Mr. Chamberlain went out into the woods in the afternoon to bring a cow and calf to the barn. The cow attacked Mr. Chamberlain and before she could be driven away she had knocked him to the ground, broke four ribs and otherwise caused bruises about his body.

Going After Wyoming Elk.

Mandan, N. D., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief Game Warden Reko of the Southern district is behind a movement to bring to the state a herd of elk from Wyoming, where many of them are perishing each winter.

Mr. Reko will put the matter up to the state game board when it meets in this city the latter part of May.

RECORD OATS CARGO TAKEN

Steamer Matthew Andrews Sets Mark for Number of Bushels.

Not Equal in Weight to Some Former Shipments of Wheat.

The steamer Matthew Andrews, Capt. Joe Lampoh, master, of the Kinsman Transit company of Cleveland, took out of Duluth early this morning the largest cargo of grain, measured by number of bushels, ever floated on fresh water.

She left the piers at 1 o'clock this morning carrying 606,000 bushels of oats for the Ames-Brooks company to Port Colborne, Ont. This is the largest number of bushels of any cargo ever shipped from this or any other fresh water port. This represents 9,696 tons.

The largest number of bushels of wheat ever shipped was 424,000 bushels on the De Graff in 1907, equalling 12,779 tons. This is net measure. The W. P. Snyder, Jr., on July 14, last year, carried 164,000 gross bushels of wheat out of this harbor, but that does not equal in net measure the performance of the De Graff.

The largest previous cargo of oats was carried last year by the Becker steamer James Laughlin, which took out of Fort William on Nov. 21 589,194 bushels of oats for Buffalo.

The largest mixed cargo ever carried on the Great Lakes was that of the W. L. Kerr, carried in 1908. She took from Duluth 462,060 bushels of wheat and oats. The W. L. King's record of 490,000 bushels of barley still stands as the record.

FIRST BOAT IS LOADED

Steamer Leopold Takes Ore Cargo at the Missabe Docks.

Almost Normal Crews Are Now Employed at West End Docks.

The steamer Leopold was the first steamer to take ore at the Missabe ore docks this year. She took on 6,000 tons at the West end docks and then went to the Allouez dock where 3,000 additional tons were added. She left the harbor at 3 o'clock this morning.

The West end ore docks are now a scene of activity. Almost the normal crew is now employed. Several steamers are expected to load at the docks during the coming week, and the Shenango, a large vessel belonging to the Shenango Steamship company of Cleveland, will arrive at the Missabe docks at 6 o'clock tonight and take on about 10,000 tons of ore. She will depart with her cargo as soon as it is loaded.

The Missabe agent says that the ore movement cannot be estimated at this time. There is no great rush of orders yet but the demand is fairly good. He says the movement this spring has started about ten days later than a year ago.

GLASS BLOCK HAS NEW PUBLICITY MANAGER

JOSEPH A. SICARD.

Joseph A. Sicard, who has been superintendent of the Glass Block Store for the last two years and who has had twenty-five years' experience in the merchandising field, has been appointed publicity man for the Glass Block Store and has already entered upon his new duties. Mr. Sicard is very well equipped to handle the duties of his new office as he enjoys a large acquaintance with the business men and the business methods at the Head of the Lakes. Mr. and Mrs. Sicard make their home at 121 East Fourth street.

New Iron Range Map.

The first map ever published showing the three iron ranges in detail has been issued by the Adept Map company, Wallace Wellbanks, manager. The drawing shows the extensive properties on the Vermillion, Mesaba and Cuyuna iron ranges and is complete in the most minute detail. The work is an elaborate one and required the efforts of two men for six months to finish. The map is three by nine feet in size and the scale used is three inches to the townsite. The work is strictly up to date and, according to Mr. Welbanks, will make a valuable reference for mining and realty men.

VOW ALLEGIANCE TO NEW COUNTRY

Judge Bert Fesler Admits Twenty-Nine Foreigners to Citizenship.

Twenty-nine foreign born residents renounced all allegiance to the European powers and took the oath of United States citizenship before Judge Bert Fesler in district court last evening.

OBITUARY

Herman Frasch of Cleveland, Ohio, died in Paris, May 1. Herman Frasch was a chemist and inventor, whose discoveries made him wealthy and are said to have profited the Standard Oil company, with which he was identified for many years, millions of dollars. German born, he came to America when 16 years old.

Joseph S. Mead, prominent for years in the glove business at Gloversville and Johnstown, N. Y., brother of Charles Mead of Milwaukee, is dead.

Sumner J. Collins, one of the best known of Milwaukee railroad men, died Thursday afternoon at his home in Chicago, after a brief illness. He was 67 years old.

Mr. Collins was a native of Oconomowoc, Wis., and for many years held the position of general manager of the Milwaukee road. Later he accepted the same office with the Wisconsin Central. Then he took over the management of the Southern road.

He was born in Milwaukee in 1848 and entered railway service as a telegraph operator in 1862. His rise in his profession was rapid. He recently retired from active service and made his home in Chicago. He is survived by two sons, Willis of Milwaukee, and Sidney of Pittsburg; two brothers, W. G. Collins of Seattle and W. W. Collins, California, and two sisters, Mrs. P. C. Eldredge, Milwaukee, and Miss Kate Collins, Oconomowoc.

IRONWOOD WEDDING.

Well Known Couple Married at Pretty Home Affair.

Ironwood, Mich., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—A very pretty home wedding was solemnized Thursday afternoon at 4:30, when Miss Maude Kemp became the bride of William Trudgeon. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Anna Kemp of the North Pabst location, and is very well-known having been employed at the People's Store for some time. The groom is the son of Joseph Trudgeon, Mansfield street, and has spent practically all of his life in this city. He is an old and trusted employ of Olson brothers.

The wedding was performed at the home of the bride's mother by the Rev. A. E. Healy, pastor of the First M. E. church, in the presence of about fifty relatives and near friends. The bride wore white silk crepe de chine. She carried a large shower boquet of bridal roses, lily of the valley and white sweet peas. Miss Georgia Champion acted as bride's maid and wore a becoming gown and pink silk mull. Herbert Kemp, brother of the bride, acted as groomsman.

Following the wedding ceremony a wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Trudgeon have gone to housekeeping on Curry street.

RED CROSS FUNDS SENT TO MONTEREY.

Washington, May 2.—American Red Cross headquarters here today placed $2,500 to the credit of Consul General Hanna at Monterey. Mr. Hanna having notified the department that funds were needed for relief of many Mexican wounded following the capture of Monterey by the Constitutionalists.

This is the second appropriation set aside by the Red Cross in three days for Mexican relief work, $5,000 having been cabled to the American authorities in Vera Cruz Wednesday night.

She Believes in the Doctor Who Cures

HEALTH BACK IS CAUSE

Mrs. T. S. Batterfeld of 1924 West Michigan street came in after a few weeks' absence and said: "Doctor, I did not come sooner because I did not need you. Her face plainly told the reason why. Two weeks ago she came in groaning with severe pains in the stomach and liver. Her physician had advised an operation. Electro Medical methods were employed, and in two weeks she had no more pain left. Her face fairly radiated peace and contentment. The cheeks were pink and the wrinkles of a few weeks ago had vanished from her face. She now writes the following letter:

Electro Medical Doctors,
26 West Superior Street,
Gentlemen:

I want to thank you for the good work you have done for me. My pain is gone entirely. It feels so good to be well once more. I had doctored for years with strong drugs and finally when the pain became unbearable I was told that only an operation would cure me. I thank my lucky star that I came to you, for your treatment helped me right away. I hope that the many sick people who suffer like I did will read this and take up the treatment which cures. THE FRENCH-ITALIAN HOUSE TO COST $4800.

The house presented this week, while it possesses certain characteristics of the French, it is decidedly an Italian type. The exterior is constructed of tile and covered with a smooth finish stucco. Particular attention is called to the method of getting access to the kitchen from the front. It is so arranged that to all appearances it is simply an archway hiding the kitchen entry. The interior arrangement is carefully laid out with a pergola in the rear, which would be an ideal plan for a lake front site. The house would cost to erect in the city of Duluth about $4,800.

You, Mr. Landlord

MAY REMOVE BAN ON NEW DANCES

High School Faculty Expected to Act at Monday Meeting.

It is probable that the ban on the new dances at Central High school informals will be removed by a vote of the faculty at a special meeting to be called by Principal Young next Monday afternoon.

This step is to be taken by the faculty following an agitation on the part of the high school students to have the ban removed and a special demonstration made last evening by members of the sophomore class. The dance was open only to the sophomore class and the new steps were executed by the youthful dancers for the benefit of the faculty, several members of which were present for the purpose of witnessing the new steps.

The pupils at Central High school are eager to dance the new steps at the class dances and the junior-senior prom, and for this reason the special demonstration was given last evening. Nearly every step was executed, including the tango, hesitation, maxixe, Argentine, Castle walk and many others.

Principal Young said after the dance last evening that he was in favor of the new dances and hopes the ban will be removed. Miss Effie White, advisor of the sophomore class, declared she favored the hesitation steps, but disliked the tango.

TWO NOMINATED TO NEW CONSULAR JOBS.

Washington, May 2.—President Wilson today made the following nominations:

To be consuls: Charles L. Williams of Ohio (now consul at Dalny), at Nanking, China; Adolph H. Williamson of the District of Columbia (now consul at Tansul), at Dalny, Manchuria.

SHRINE SPECIAL OPEN TO PUBLIC

Those Outside Order May Take in Atlanta Trip.

At a business meeting of Aad temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, held last evening at the Masonic temple, final arrangements were made for the pilgrimage to Atlanta, where the imperial council will meet. The Shriners will start on next Friday evening, going via Chicago, Cincinnati and Chattanooga.

An important change was made in the requirements last night in that anybody who wishes to make the trip, be he Shrirer or not—Mason or not, for that matter—may join the caravan's special train. Heretofore it has been understood that the special would be confined to Shriners only but that misunderstanding was wiped out last night and any fancied ban removed. It is believed that many will take the trip with the party that is going, which will consist of the four representatives from Aad to the imperial council, the Arab patrol, the drum corps and many other Shriners and their wives.

A motion was adopted to send to Atlanta Musical Director A. F. M. Custance at the temple's expense if he can get away from his duties in the city; and a resolution extending the thanks of the temple to Noble F. H. Hamm for the work he has done for the temple in originating designs for pamphlets, announcements and badges was unanimously adopted.

Peace Library for Berlin.

New York, May 2.—Announcement was made today that the Church Peace union, founded last February by Andrew Carnegie with an endowment of $2,000,000, had appropriated a part of the fund for the establishment of a peace library in Berlin.

GRAND RAPIDS NOTES.

Items Gleaned in the Itasca County Seat.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Benton returned the first of the week from Arnprior and Ottawa.

John Mulvihill, a former resident, was here in company with his bride, the first of the week. Mr. Mulvihill was married on April 20 in Ottawa, on April 20, to Miss Rena Poulin. Mr. and Mrs. Mulvihill left for Winnipeg, where they will make their home.

Mrs. John W. Mills left Thursday for Minneapolis, after the Mills' household goods which have been stored there ever since the family moved to this section over a year ago.

Mrs. R. A. McQuat, who was formerly music and drawing teacher in the local schools, has been engaged to finish the year as music and drawing instructor in the place of Miss Campbell, whose's health failed her.

Fred A. King, receiver of the United States Land office at Cass Lake, and a former resident of Grand Rapids, was here Tuesday and Wednesday on a railroad case.

James Ross was here Wednesday from his Vermilion country farm, picking up a few men to put to work on the Vermilion drive.

Jesse Oles sold his place on the south side of the river to Andrew C. Kent, and left Wednesday morning with his family for Mankato. He will make his future home there.

Elmer Smith, who has been making his home in his own place in the south east part of town, south of the river, has sold his place to Perry Haley, and has left for St. Louis, Mo.

Literary Club Elects.

The members of the Grand Rapids Literary club held their annual meeting Thursday evening. The club was entertained with readings from Carlyle's essays. Mrs. G. E. Hooper was the hostess of the evening. The officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. H. W. Stark; vice president, Mrs. T. J. Peach; secretary, Mrs. G. E. Hooper; treasurer, Mrs. C. C. McCarthy; program committee, Mrs. L. W. Huntley, Mrs. H. W. Stark, Mrs. F. R. Harrison, Mrs. C. C. McCarthy, Mrs. T. J. Peach. Announcement of the program for the coming year will be made at a later date.

Geo. W. Fisher of Warba, who was planning on moving to Montana, where his daughter, Miss Hulda, has taken a homestead, has decided to remain in Itasca county and will not move from his present home.

Miss Pauline Torby, who formerly attended school here, but who is now a trained nurse in Duluth, was a guest of Mrs. P. J. Billodeau during the past weeek, returning home Wednesday.

F. F. Becker and Luther Lindauer of Kaukauna, Wis., who are interested in the Itasca Paper Co. of this place, were here this week.

J. S. Lofberg has opened his cement plant north of town, and has given the contract to James Moen for getting out 2,000 cement blocks for buildings to be erected in Deer River.

Bert Weeks, who recently rented the Ogema hotel on Pokegama lake, for a term of three years, this week moved out to the place and is getting ready for summer business.

The Royal Neighbor Flower Fund society will meet on Tuesday, May 5, with Mrs. C. W. Enghausen in the Splithand country.

On Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Norman Magnusson entertained the Junior Bridge club at her home. A lunch was served at the close of the afternoon at which a number of the men were present.

MANY BIRDS KILLED.

Light on Top of Ladysmith, Wis., Tower Fatal Attraction.

Ladysmith, Wis., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new steel water tower for city pumping plant, which is 168 feet high, is completed and a 1,600-candle power electric light installed on the top of it. As a result, about a dozen different kinds of birds are found dead each morning, including woodpeckers, snipe and ducks. They are attracted by the strong light and are killed when striking the tank. The game warden is investigating the matter and may order the removal of the light.

Railroads

MUCH RAILROAD WORK EXPECTED.

Bismarck, N. D., May 2.—(Special to The Herald)—Despite unsettled conditions the indications are that North Dakota building operations, already planned, will be carried out.

The contract for the construction of the Makoti branch of the Soo railroad has been let to Peter Nelson of Minneapolis, and he has sub-let contracts for portions of the grading and steel laying.

ELLIOTT, N. D., TO GET MILWAUKEE ROAD.

Elliott, N. D., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Milwaukee road is coming to Elliott. A fifteen-mile extension will be constructed this summer from Harlem to this point. The surveys have been made and the sanction for the extension given by the head officials of the company. Eighteen years ago it was planned to build through here, then later to the international boundary and to Winnipeg. The road was completed to Harlem where the work stopped. It is stated that the line may be extended north from here in 1915, provided there are good crops this season.

NAMES ENGINEERS FOR ALASKA ROAD.

Washington, May 2.—Secretary Lane announced that President Wilson has appointed William C. Edes and Lieut. Frederick Mears as members of the Alaskan engineering commission, which is to have charge of the location of the railroads in Alaska under the recently enacted Alaskan railroad act.

FRISCO ROAD WILL SPEND $1,000,000.

Springfield, Mo., May 2.—Employment of 2,000 additional men on improvements on the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad was provided for by a $1,000,000 fund authorized by the receivers of the road, and the work will go forward immediately, according to announcement here by E. D. Levy, general manager of the railroad.

THE PHILIPPINES.

A gentleman passing through Duluth on his way home from the Philippines delivers here his judgment that the Filipinos are not fit for self-government, and that whether we like it or not we cannot in common decency let the islands go—yet.

Congressman Miller of this district, after a visit to the Philippines, delivers his judgment, in private and in a speech in congress, that the Filipinos are not capable of self-government, and that we can't in common decency let the islands go—yet.

Men in business in the Philippines, when they are approached, make the same declaration with great emphasis and some heat. They mostly are frank enough to say that they think we never should let the islands go.

We guess pretty nearly everybody is agreed that it would be bad to let the Philippines go tomorrow or next year.

Their civilized peoples are still in leading strings, and their barbarians are still in breech-clouts and war-clubs. And there seems to be a dreadful lot of barbarians.

So there is no present quarrel with those who tell us that the Philippines are not yet ripe for freedom.

It would be vastly more to the point, though, if we could separate carefully those who think we should always keep the Philippines and those who think merely that it is too soon to let them go. We fear that some of the former class are somewhat disingenuously masquerading as members of the latter class. Whether Congressman Miller is of that number he has not yet definitely divulged.

If we could make this classification, the thing to do would be to disregard utterly those who favor permanent occupation, because they preach an unthinkable doctrine, and then to pin down the other fellows with the question "WHEN?"

That's the really important thing we all want to know about—when shall we be able to get out of the Philippines?

For get out we must—make no mistake about that. We pledged it to the world, we pledged it to the Filipinos, we pledged it to ourselves.

But when? That's the thing to talk about, and to talk a good deal about.

Maybe we can't fix the exact day, or even the exact year; but we must permit nothing to confuse the idea that getting out is the only thing ahead for us in the Philippines, and the quicker the better.

In the meantime, if somebody would scuttle the whole archipelago and let it sink, it would be a great pity to lose so many Filipino, Moro and Igorrote lives—but a great blessing to the United States.

Up to date nobody has started a report that Prof. Taft's sore toe will prove a serious handicap to the Yale baseball team.

SHRUBBERY.

How do you define the boundaries of your home?

Do you circumscribe it by the four walls of your house, or by the four sides of your lot?

A real home is wider than the four walls of a house. It is limited only by the four sides of the lot the house stands on; and the grounds will be as neat, as attractive and as pleasant as the rooms inside the house.

One way to extend the scope of the home to its proper boundaries is by the use of shrubbery.

Associated with flower and vegetable gardens, there is nothing more decorative than shrubs.

From the house to the street there should be a sweep of trim lawn. At the sides there should be borders of shrubbery; and shrubs can be attractively arranged around the porch and steps. It is possible, by a wise choice of shrubs and by the use of herbaceous perennials and flowering bulbs, to have continuous bloom from May to October.

Lilacs, honeysuckle, mock orange, spireas, snowballs, Thunberg's barberry and other hardy shrubs offer a wide choice of color, height and season of bloom.

Compare, in your imagination, the appearance of a home lot bordered with shrubs and blooming flowers with that of a house set in the middle of a bare lawn with unbroken lines; and choose which you wish to be your home.

The expense is relatively small. It need not all be done at once. You can make your plan on paper for permanence, and then work it out little by little, year by year. And every shrub you add will increase the beauty of your place—and its value in case you wish to sell.

Louis D. Brandeis is simply applying to the railroads James J. Hill's assertions that the high cost of living is in fact the cost of high living.

FOR A FREE PRESS.

During the tense and disastrous strike at Paterson, New Jersey, the police arrested Alexander Scott, editor of the Weekly Issue, on a charge of "inciting hostility and opposition to government."

He was indicted, convicted and sentenced to a term of one to fifteen years in the state penitentiary.

There was severe criticism of this travesty on justice at the time, in which The Herald did its part. It appeared, from the published quotations from the editorials on which the prosecution was based, that Scott had done little more than uphold the cause of the strikers and criticize the authorities for using the machinery of law to advance the cause of the employers. All of which was fair argument from his viewpoint.

Well, the supreme court of New Jersey, speaking through Justice Kalisch, has just set aside the verdict and let Scott go free.

Incidentally, the court performed an office that ought not to be necessary, but that was necessary—it called attention anew to the vital importance of a free press.

Justice Kalisch said that the contention of the prosecution "would silence the public press and preclude it from bringing to the light of day the evil spots in the administration of municipal and state affairs and delinquency of public officers entrusted with the discharge of important public duties. * * * The indictment is palpably without any legal force. The trial judge should either have quashed it or directed a verdict of acquittal."

A free press is a bulwark of popular liberties. It cannot be made less free without danger to democracy. The doctrine of the Scott conviction would have menaced the liberty of the press and the liberties of a free people. The Kalisch ruling sets things right again.

Yet the worst enemy to a free press is a press which distorts liberty into license.

The doctrine of a free press must stand; but its foundations are menaced by the abuses of a vicious and irresponsible press.

When Hearst, for instance, works to inflame the spirits of anarchy and assassination against President Wilson because he refuses to be dominated by Hearst, it is a greater menace to a free press than all the machinations of a privileged class.

The indecent crew of scurrilous sheets which fatten on the attempt to revive the moribund body of religious bigotry in this country is a menace to a free press when it abuses freedom by turning it into license.

Yet much as we should like to, we cannot suppress the New York American or even the Menace, because to do so would be to establish precedents that would return to plague us in later years.

We can only defend the freedom of the press, hope that the people will wisely choose between the true and the false, and trust that the fires of human hatred and religious intolerance lighted by those who abuse their priceless privilege of freedom will soon die out for lack of fuel.

Who's the press agent for the steamer Siberia?

CAPITALIZING A GREAT DULUTH ASSET.

If a canny individual or almost any corporation had an asset as great as Duluth has in its splendid summer climate and the wonder-country of lakes and streams and woods that lies about it, that asset would be quickly capitalized and set at work earning dividends on the stock and interest on the bonds.

Why, therefore, should Duluth not capitalize this great asset and put it at work earning dividends?

Let us suppose a little.

Suppose that Duluth fixed upon a week each year, say the week beginning on the last Monday in July, and poured into it all the Larks-o'-the-Lakes, all the Venetian Fetes, all the doings by land and water it has ever had or ever dreamed and a lot more, with a great spectacle in costume, of the Landing of Daniel Greysolon, the Sieur Duluth, as its centerpiece. Suppose, for the edification of visitors from the effete east, a band of Chippewas were given a week's outing on Minnesota point, and kept togged out in a picturesque camp. Suppose that all the ingenuity with which Duluth swarms were set at the tasking of devising a solid week's program and carrying it out, of inventing costumes and properties and spectacles and parades and floats.

Suppose the air were filled with fireworks by night and band music by day and night. Suppose that Duluth set itself the task of getting up the finest week's series of spectacles and diversions ever given anywhere.

Suppose that this annual midsummer Fete of the Voyageurs were advertised far and wide, in railroad folders, newspapers, magazines, summer vacation literature, everywhere.

Suppose that the advertising campaign carried with it to the world attractive descriptions of the innumerable summer pleasures to be found within striking distance of Duluth—of the thousands of wooded lakes, of the boating, bathing, fishing, hunting, of the ideally splendid summer climate with its glorious days and its cool nights, of the scores of advantages Northern Minnesota has over any other summer resort region on earth.

Suppose the pleasure seekers and seekers after new sights and new sensations were told that after seeing the Landing of Duluth and the Fete of the Voyageurs they could take a boat to Isle Royale or a train to Lake Vermilion, Cass Lake, Lake Bemidji, the Lake of the Woods, the splendid bass lakes of Itasca county, the muskellunge lakes of Hubbard county, or any of the thousand other places of pleasure and interest that lie within striking distance of Duluth; or that they could settle down here in Duluth for a day or a week or a month or a lifetime and be comfortable and happy and good.

Suppose, in short, that by a midsummer festival—the only one in existence, it would be, because elsewhere it is too hot at midsummer to think of anything but panting in the shade—that would make Duluth more famous than the Mardi Gras made New Orleans—suppose that by such festival Duluth should call the world's attention to the fact that it is the depot and outfitting point for the world's greatest summer resort region.

Suppose that, after a year or two of this, thousands and increasing thousands should get the habit of coming this way. Suppose that in the thousands that came there were hundreds, or even tens, with money to invest in just such a promising and enterprising place as Duluth. Suppose that there were tens or hundreds or thousands who, finding that Duluth is a place where the human mechanism is capable of its maximum efficiency twelve months in the year, and that its summer and winter climate both are conducive to the highest degree of health and enjoyment, should make up their minds to come here to live.

Suppose that hotels and merchants should profit enormously by outfitting and otherwise serving these throngs that would be attracted here by capitalizing Duluth's great asset of summer climate and summer pleasuring possibilities.

Suppose these things happened—wouldn't it be worth while?

Isn't it worth doing? THEN LET'S DO IT!

It would cost money? Yes, and Duluth has it.

It would take enterprise? Duluth has plenty of it.

It would take hard work and ingenuity? Duluth can furnish them.

It's worth while. Duluth can do it. SHALL IT?

The above editorial from The Herald of February 9 is reprinted by request because of the first meeting Monday evening of the great festival committee, representing thirty-five organizations, which will plan and carry out the Midsummer Festival of 1915.

WOMAN'S DAY.

This is Woman's Day.

No, not this age of tangoing and turkey-trotting and home-mortgaging-for-automobile-buying, but this very calendar day—Saturday, May 2, 1914.

It is Woman's Day because the advocates of "votes for women" have fixed it and dedicated it and decreed it.

So really it is not so much Woman's Day—every day is woman's day, God bless her!—as Votes for Woman Day.

We don't know just what the program is. We haven't been informed or given a place on it. We are merely doing our duty as we see it by recognizing the day and saying something about it. And we are very glad to, with or without invitation. Any day set apart for woman is a very important event; and far be it from us to fail to recognize it.

And just what we should say on this day—except all honor to woman, and may she live long and prosper and get married and have children and wage a faithful and effective battle against the high cost of living and be happy ever after—we are not quite certain, either.

Yet one more thing we shall say: Let "votes for women" come as speedily as it may, in every state of these United States.

We are for it not because we expect it to work out the millenium as by hocus-pocus, but because we know it to be right and fair and just.

We are for it because without it democracy is a mockery—for a restriction of sex on the ballot is no more democratic than a restriction of class or property-holding.

We are for it because woman is as much interested in the vital affairs of society which must be treated through the ballot as man is, and because she is as well fitted to pass upon these affairs and to help elect the officers who shall handle them.

We are for it because we believe in a government by and for the people, and because, thank heaven, we are not so restricted in our vision as to doubt for a moment that women are people.

Col. Roosevelt is said to be suffering from boils. Perhaps it is only one form of the breaking out of his opinions on current events.

NEEDLESS CONFUSION.

The political and economic situation in this country would be a lot clearer if it were not for the confusing outcries of those who object to legislative interference with anything and those who think legislation will cure everything.

The Bull Moose party will soon be home again.

THE LAWMAKER'S RESPONSIBILITY.

In his argument for his proposed prohibition amendment to the Federal Constitution, Representative Hobson made this point: "We do not propose to argue the merits of the question. Our position is that the issue simply is whether or not congress will give the various states the right to pass upon the matter."

That's a familiar argument. It is made at every session of the legislature by the supporters of every proposal to amend the state Constitution. Doubtless it is made in congress by the proponents of every suggested change in the Federal Constitution.

And it's rather subtle, too; many fall before it.

"What!" they exclaim when anybody opposes their plan, whatever it is, "do you dare to set yourself higher than the will of the people? Do you dare to deny the right of the people to pass upon this question? We are not here urging prohibition (or a seven-senators bill, or whatever it is); you are not called upon to express an opinion on that issue. You simply must decide whether or not you will let the PEE-PULL vote on the question."

Now that sounds reasonable enough, but it is specious reasoning.

It involves requiring a congressman or legislator to drop all his own personal responsibility, and to evade decision himself by throwing the burden upon the people.

Carried out to its logical conclusion, it would mean that no lawmaker would dare stand in the way of submitting any proposition for a change in the fundamental law, no matter how hare-brained and absurd it might be, and no matter how much it might clutter up the ballot.

While those who make this specious argument are right when they declare that it is not the business of a representative to do the people's thinking for them, they are wrong when their argument goes to the length of making a lawmaker merely a mindless rubber stamp for the fantasies of every crank and making the lawmaker's function merely an automatic recording mechanism.

Whether or not, for instance, public affairs ought at this time to be cluttered up by hurling the issue of national prohibition into the arena is a matter that every senator and congressman ought to decide on its merits.

He should not mechanically vote to submit this amendment merely because Hobson wants him to or merely because Hobson says he has no right to vote against it.

Prohibition will become an issue in the states fast enough legitimately without its being brought to a head prematurely by the proposal for national prohibition.

Prohibition prohibits where the people want prohibition in numbers overwhelming enough to compel the enforcement of prohibition laws.

Elsewhere it is a farce.

If prohibition ever is to become national, it will be so because it works up from the local unit to the state, and thence to the nation.

It cannot be forced down from above before public sentiment is ready for it.

In certain sections, a broad smile may indicate either that the sweet peas are all in or that the hen has come off.

MARVELOUS!

We see by the Mexico City papers of recent dates that England, France and Germany have declared war against the United States because of its meanness to Huerta; that the negroes of the South have arisen and joined the Mexican army against the United States; that the united Federal and Constitutionalist armies have invaded the United States and recaptured a good deal of Texas; etc., etc.

Goodness gracious! But that man Hearst is an enterprising and ubiquitous cuss!

And tennis and golf—they will soon have to be reckoned up.

THE ONLY ROAD TO WEALTH.

How do people "get rich?"

By having money to invest in profitable business enterprises.

How do they get the money to invest?

By spending less than they earn.

This is not counting the exceptions who inherit money or steal it or win it by a lucky long shot. Few can hope to get money in these ways.

In the long run the recipe for wealth, the only royal road to riches, is the simplest rule you can imagine: just spend less than you earn.

Below, in primer form, is the soundest possible instruction in getting rich—if you wish to get rich. It is from a booklet put out by a successful bank:

How do people make money?
Through their labor and the products of labor.
How do people save money?
By spending less than they earn.
What is the secret of money making? The real secret is the saving of money, for saving money is the first step toward making money.
What is essential to saving money? Making a start, no matter how small. Every penny saved helps to save another.
Is it the duty of every one to save money? Yes. By doing this one need never be dependent upon others for food or clothing and in time of sickness saved money will be a great comfort.
Why should children save money? Because it teaches them the value of money; its care and uses.
Why should parents save? In addition to always having ready money for emergencies, by this means the children may be educated or later started in business.
What is the lesson for all? To save for the benefit the habit brings; to save for the children; for business propriety; for old age; for individual comfort, and for the happiness of dependent ones.

Thrift is wealth. Thriftlessness is poverty.

You can be thriftless on ten thousand a year. You can be thrifty on five hundred a year.

Give two young men an equal start—young men of equal capacity and equal resources. Let one of them determine to venture his money in long chances promising big profits. Let the other determine to spend less than he earns and invest his savings carefully. Start them, let them go, and come back in twenty years.

The thrifty man will be prosperous, if not rich, and contented.

The plunger will be broke, a physical wreck, and miserable.

You don't need to take imaginary instances. You can see them all around you.

There is but one secret about getting money. It's keeping it—spending less than you earn.

Those Mexicans who arrested Consul Hanna showed their lack of literary training by not setting him at the window to bind shoes.

Just the same, these stories of adventures in Mexico are not being lost on the writers of the next installment of sensational fiction.

An Episcopal bishop who had to enter the rectory at Appleton, Wis., by means of a window, was mistaken for a burglar. Which probably will be classed as a clerical error.

The Revenge of Neglected Things

Albion Fellows Bacon in The Survey.

We may as well face the fact that so long as we and our children are at large in a community, we shall be in danger from all the evils that are also at large in that community, and, though we may be able to exclude from our homes the moth, the housefly, the agent and the burglar, we cannot exclude germs. They ride in on the trails of our gowns, they are tracked in on our shoes. They come in food and drink, in washes, in clothing, in wares. They come by messengers and carriers and servants, as do the influences of evil.

We need not go to the slums if we do not wish. They will come to us, and, wreaking upon us the Revenge of Neglected Things, they will avenge the poor.

Yet it is not vengeance the poor are wanting. They only want help, and they do not dream how much we could give them, besides alms. They stand afar off, and look at us, beseeching, too timid to knock at our forbidding portals. But the White Death, who has been their bed-fellow, is not abashed by any grandeur, or stopped by any bar. He comes straight from the filthy hovel to our homes, and peers in upon us through the windows, while we feast and laugh. He pushes open the door, and strides in, and sitting down at our very fireside, looks into the faces of our best beloved, so that they cry out and die!

The revenge of the slums falls not only upon the individual, but upon the city, in all its interests and activities.

It falls upon the city in losses of lives and money, taxes paid for pauperism, for crime, for the cost of disease.

It falls upon the civic organizations that ignore the slums, by the blight of their very ugliness and meanness, which frightens renters and buyers from the neighborhood, and injures all adjacent property.

It falls upon them, too, by breeding a class of citizens that are a dead weight to civic progress.

It falls upon the business interests by killing or weakening valuable working men, whose loss is felt in traffic, trade and manufacture.

It falls upon the churches, by raising up those who defeat and defy them, by lowering the whole moral tone of the community, and increasing the resistance to the powers of good.

These are the ways in which we are scourged by the slums, and until we learn our lesson, we must continue to suffer as well as the poor.

The Little Dime Beadle

Chicago Evening Post: In the New York Sun appears a poem by H. S. Keller called "The Little Dime Beadle." Here is the first stanza:

Books come and books go; some are great, some are not;
Some have bindings of show and are quickly forgot.
Some are big, some are small;
Like an army strayed
On the bookseller's wall,
All on fine dress parade,
But the book I loved best isn't in the array—
The Dime Beadle I hid in the hay.

Those of us who have reached an age from which our memories cast long shadows remember the joys of the perusal of Beadle's Dime Novels. It is true that we had to hide when we read them, for the word of the fathers of the land had been set against them. The fathers did not understand. There was not a line of harm in a hundred of those yellow-covered boyhood delights. "Owl Face, the Pawnee," "The Steam Man of the Prairies," and all the rest having place in the long list were real literature, even if it had to be enjoyed in the hayloft or under the willows down by the creek.

The Beadle Dime Novels of long ago were as moral as the Ten Commandments. There was not an oath or a suggestive word to be found in their thousands upon thousands of printed pages. They were so much better than the thieves' truck which boys in recent years have been reading that the wonder is how father and mother ever could have entered objection to them. The Dime Beadles were loved and read, and loved and read again. They did more good than harm, and the sorrow is that they have been replaced by stuff that ought to come under the ban of the postmaster general.

The Woman-at-Arms.

I ride to a tourney with sordid things;
They grant no quarter, but what care I?
My casque is crested with iron wings,
And love, for a sword, at my stirrup swings,
And shrill in my ear Truth's trumpet sings:
"Though they slay you, you shall not die!"
I have bartered and begged, I have cheated and lied;
But now, however the battle betide,
Uncowed by the clamor, I ride, ride, ride!

Who will may splinter the shopmen's panes:
Such deeds as these be no deeds of mine.
Not by tumult nor wrong do I measure my gains,
But where gentleness triumphs and violence wanes,
With foot in the stirrup and hand on the reins
You may see my buckler shine.
I have been wanton and queen and bride,
I have veiled my soul for my body's pride,
Now, mighty in armor, I ride, ride, ride!

I ride to the battle with lust and greed.
Why marvel ye then at a woman in arms?
I am sprung from the loins of a martial breed—
Heir to the lances at Runnymede,
Cromwell's courage and Ireton's speed
And Yorktown's blood-soaked farms.
Mother o' God that was crucified,
Mother o' men that have dreamed and died—
Like the sons I have borne, I will ride, ride, ride!

I ride to the battle for children's wrongs;
For the goal that is barred by the lances' gleam.
Flame springs in the heart that yearns and longs,
And a faith to conquer the mocking throngs—
There's a ring of swords in my cradle songs;
Spears flash through my brooding dream.
I who have wept for the life denied,
Who have quenched the flame that I could not hide—
It is done! Henceforth, I will ride, ride, ride!

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

The Touchstone.

During the Middle Ages alchemists sought a substance called the philosopher's stone to which were attributed magical properties. It was supposed to have the power of converting lead, silver, or any of the baser metals into gold. Although the search was prolonged and arduous, although many brilliant men gave their whole lives to the quest, the stone was not found, nor is it likely ever to be.

There is a touchstone in the moral world, however, which can be found and which fulfils all expectations. It actually transmutes the base elements of human nature into pure gold—and the name of it is love. Henry Drummond once wrote a remarkable little essay on what he called, "The Greatest Thing in the World." The title has quite justified itself to millions of men and women who share the conviction of Jesus of Nazareth, Paul the apostle, and of myriad beautiful souls who have lived since, that of all the forces with which our lives are conversant, love is supreme.

When the evangelist sought a definition of God Himself he could do no better than to name this regal quality. Seeking to comprehend the divine nature he thought not of power, justice, wisdom, cunning, nor of a score of other qualities the world has held in respect, but of love. "God is love," he said. Love among men is but the reflection of that divine image in which we are fashioned, a trace of the presence of Him who is Father of our spirits.

It takes but half an eye to see that naught but love will ever make of this world a real brotherhood. Nothing else will ever cause men to live together in peace and harmony. Selfishness is in essence anti-social, the principle leading to isolation. It drives men into warring camps. Love is in essence the social quality, the principle leading to association and brotherhood. The absence of love would mean for the race a retreat back into barbarism, while the presence of it helps make this earth an Eden like the heaven above.

The jealousy, bitterness and discontent of life pass away when love enters the field. You can do a great many things under its inspiration that before were so hard as to be practically impossible. A profound principle is wrapped up in a very simple stanza:

I met a slender little maid, a rosy burden bearing;
"Is it not heavy, dear?" I said as past me she was hurrying.
She looked at me with grave, sweet eyes, this fragile little mother,
And answered as in swift surprise:
"Oh, no, sir, it's my brother."

It is not hard to serve those we love. Affection eases every burden and transforms duty into delight.

The law of love is the sole condition of an abiding social order. Under its sway the employer will not grind down his employes nor the man at the bench cheat the man who hires him. In my own sincere desire for my neighbor's welfare I will neither oppress, rob, nor villify him; and he will mete out to me the same kindly treatment.

Love is not to be identified with any mere sentiment, whim or passion. It may include these things at times, but is always infinitely more than any of them. To love my neighbor does not imply that I must cherish for him a tender passion, find him at all times a congenial comrade, share the same pleasures or think the same thoughts. No one is commanded to change his native tastes. Love is the sincere desire and purpose first, last and all the time to seek the welfare of those about us, nor is there any other force named among men that will ever subdue our meanness, eradicate our selfishness, and bring about the age of gold.

THE OLD FLAG AND AN APPROPRIATION

By SAVOYARD

Washington, May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. Curzy was a gallant soldier in the patriot army of the Revolution of '76, and of his exploits at Monmouth he related it this way, when slightly in his cups in his old age and reminiscent of his deeds of daring on fields of battle:

"Although in the light horse, I fought that day on foot. I slashed with my saber outs one and two, and a head went off here and a limb went off there until the blood actually ran into my shoes. A pile of dead bodies surrounded me. I was excited and still slashing away, when I felt a touch on my shoulder. I looked up and there was Washington. I shall never forget the solemnity of his demeanor, the benignity of his countenance, and the gravity of his speech. He gazed at me sadly a moment without speaking, and then he mildly said: 'Young man, restrain your impetuosity. In the name of God, I beseech you, do not make a slaughter house of the field of battle.'"

The speeches against the repeal of the ship subsidy would indicate that Capt. Curzy is numerous in the land—his tribe has increased and many of them have turned statesman and serve in the national legislature.

With Col. Henry Watterson's permission I would draw it this way: Your jingo in congress wraps himself in the American flag, marches with martial tread down to the footlights, fires off two hoss pistols, and yells, "England be damned!" We hear such stuff as this: "It is our canal, and we may do what we please with it regardless of all other tongues and peoples."

Then why don't you do it? Why don't you contend for a law forbidding all alien vessels from passing through the canal? Why don't you make it an exclusively American ditch? If you are going to violate the nation's solemn covenant, why not smash it all to flinders?

But why direct all the cussing at England? Germany is just as dissatisfied with our disregard of the treaty as England is. But all the oxen in Texas could not drag out of any jingo in congress from Champ Clark to little Campbell of Kansas, from Victor Murdock to Knowlands of California, from Jim Mann to Mondell of Warren's sheep walk one word of defiance to Germany. There is the German vote, and it would not do to monkey with that. All the other nations of the globe are opposed to our action and in their eyes we are dishonored. Read the great speech of Mr. Lodge. Here is a pregnant passage from it: "It is not well for any country, no matter how powerful, to be an outlaw among the nations." And here is another from that remarkable address:

"We are regarded by other nations with distrust, and in some cases with dislike. Rightly or wrongly, they have come to believe that we are not to be trusted; that we make our international relations the sport of politics and treat them as if they were in no wise different from questions of domestic relations."

All England did was to call attention to our solemn treaty, and the jingoes say that if we recede and comply with the treaty we allow ourselves to be bullied, and Champ Clark talks about "meeting the world in arms" and blowing up the canal with dynamite and kindred rot!

But if there were no England and no treaty this subsidy ought to be repealed. It is a taxation of all the people to bestow a subsidy on a bloated and opulent monopoly. Now about all the ship trust will carry through the canal is coal from the Atlantic to the Pacific, sugar from our island possessions to the Atlantic, and lumber from the Pacific to the Atlantic, articles the railroads cannot carry because of distance and cost.

Well, not long ago a citizen of Richmond, Va., who owns a coal mine, put a cargo of coal on one of the vessels of this ship trust and sent it to San Francisco. The freight was enormous—all the traffic would bear—and on that venture the ship monopoly made more out of that coal mine than its owner. This man had some curiosity and set about an investigation and found that an English ship, had the law allowed, would have carried that cargo of coal for one-third of the rate this American monopoly charged him.

And for 125 years this coastwise shipping monopoly has thus had American domestic commerce by the throat. But for this monopoly the cotton of Mississippi would reach the loom of Massachusetts for one-third of the freight charge the ship trust now exacts. And this remorseless and insatiate, opulent and odious monopoly, to swell its dividends on its watered stocks, must get a subsidy from a Democratic congress!

If Champ Clark and Oscar Underwood, Claude Kitchin and James Vardaman, Victor Murdock and Albert Cummins and the other advocates of special privilege by subsidy would really benefit the American people, let them repeal this graft and open the coastwise trade of the United States to foreign craft. Why not? Any foreign ship can enter the coastwise trade of England. You can load an American ship at Montreal and unload it at Liverpool; you can load an American ship at Glasgow, Scotland, and unload it at London, England. There's millions in it. England wants goods carried from seller to buyer at cheapest freight rate. We insist on highest freight rate.

But we are puny, weak, feeble, and cannot allow that, and to sustain the monopoly every bale of cotton from the South that reaches New England must pay a tax in the way of extravagant freight to this insatiate monster! And then it is proposed to subsidize it with money from the public treasury!

And they do it in the name of patriotism and the flag!

The New Banking Law Explained.

OPERATION OF THE BANK ACT. By Thomas Conway, Jr., Ph. D., and Ernest Minor Patterson, Ph. D. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott company. $2 net.

This timely and valuable book provides a careful and thorough analysis of the new banking and currency system, and full detailed information and deductions that will sufficiently answer practically all of the multitude of questions that will arise concerning it.

The passage of this act by congress has presented many new and important problems to bankers and business men. It will radically change banking methods, and will work important changes in the responsibilities and problems of bank officers and directors.

Naturally, all bankers—as well as business men whose dealings with banks are large—will wish to inform themselves fully not only as to the provisions of the new law, but the innumerable business and financial questions that will arise under its workings. Bank officers must acquaint themselves with the changes in banking methods that will be brought about, in order that they may intelligently handle their business when the change takes place.

This book presents clearly the leading features of the new system and their practical significance. It is not a mere repetition, codification or cross index of the new act, though it is that also, but a critical study of its aims and of the effect it will have upon each class of banks in this country and upon the business public. The volume is the result of six months' hard and effective work. It aims to be a statement of fact and a careful analysis of conditions upon the basis of the facts which were made available in the senate and house hearings on the bill, together with all the other information which is available upon the banking problems of the country.

The final chapters, in which are carefully weighed the problems now confronting bankers, are particularly timely and important. Messrs. Conway and Patterson have done the country good service.

A Human Document.

PRISONS AND PRISONERS. Personal experiences. By Lady Constance Lytton and Jane Warton, spinster. New York: George H. Doran company. $1 net.

This work is not a collaboration, for Lady Constance Lytton and Jane Warton, spinsters, are one and the same. Lady Constance, who is a granddaughter of Lord Bulwer-Lytton, the great novelist, joined the ranks of the suffragettes and got into prison. Finding that her rank protected her, thenceforth she disguised herself as Jane Warton.

The book is a rather remarkable human document. The author was an invalid for many years, a woman of shy and retiring habit, and society and publicity in any form were her greatest aversions. Yet she became a militant suffragist, with all the mingling with the throng and all the exaggerated publicity that involved. It almost convinces one that there must be something more than passing in a cause that would work such a miracle.

Lady Constance is not only an ardent suffragette, by rather recent conversion, but she is keenly interested in social problems and particularly in a study of prisons. And she tells interestingly about her experiences in getting into prison and being in prison. But the chief interest of the book is in the first-hand information it offers for a psychological study of a "militant's" mental processes. It puts the strange affair of English militancy before us more clearly than ever before, and the effect is rather startling. It leaves a conviction that something more than mere hysteria must animate this desperate fight for the ballot, which, if men were waging it, we should all admire. Hunger strikes, forced feeding—it's all here.

Federal Taxation Experiments.

UNITED STATES INTERNAL TAX HISTORY FROM 1861 TO 1871. By Harry Edwin Smith, Ph. D. Hart Schaffner & Marx prize economic essay for 1912. Boston and New York: Houghton Mifflin company. $1.50 net.

The title of this essay is likely to mislead as to the importance and interest—and timeliness of this volume. The subject seems circumscribed, and the period also, except to those who realize the importance of the taxation experiments brought about by the stern necessitites of war time. The discussion of these experiments leads into a wide and important field, and involves much history. In the 300 pages of the book—not counting many pages of tables—a good deal of important history and speculation is covered.

Part of the tax experiments of that period are as follows:

1—Direct property taxes; collected with difficulty, much not collected at all, and finally reimbursed as one way of disposing of a post-bellum treasury surplus.

1—Income tax. This tax started in at 3 per cent on all incomes from $600 to $10,000 and 5 per cent in incomes above the latter figure; later was 5 per cent on incomes from $600 to $5,000, 7½ per cent from $5,000 to $10,000, and 10 per cent on incomes above $10,000; and finally became 10 per cent on all incomes above $5,000. It tapered off after the war and was dropped in 1872. It was a distinct success as a fiscal measure; and its application developed some important facts, including the fact that publicity of income tax returns is mischievous. This has been avoided in the present income tax law.

3—Inheritance tax. This was graduated according to degree of kinship, at rates from three-quarters of 1 per cent to 5 per cent. These rates were increased later, and the law was repealed in 1870. It was not productive either of much revenue or much disturbance.

4—Corporation and bank taxes.

5—Stamp taxes on legal documents, medicines, perfumery and cosmetics, matches, playing cards, bank checks, telegrams, photographs, etc. Part of these taxes were repealed in 1872, and the remainder in 1883. This system produced large revenue and little complaint, though it was a nuisance that was borne for patriotic reasons.

6—Occupation license taxes on thirty-three trades, businesses and professions. Another good revenue-producer, especially from the liquor business, and its collection was attended by little friction.

7—Taxes on liquors, applied in 1862 for the first time since 1817, and never dropped since.

8—Taxes on manufactured products, including tobacco, which is still taxed.

9—Taxes on carriages, watches, planos, billiard tables, etc.

A Brilliant and Harrowing Tale of Tangoing Society.

WHAT WILL PEOPLE SAY? By Rupert Hughes. New York: Harper & Bros. $1.35 net.

Rarely do we encounter a more brilliantly and startlingly vivid tale than this.

Lieut. Harvey Forbes, surveying New York after a long stay in the Philippines, was struck by the Babylonish note in the ostentatious luxury and display he observed with startled eyes. The beautiful women in their splendid garb seemed more naked to him than the Igorrotes he had been accustomed to seeing. And he reflected that the men who toiled and robbed and lied for the money to supply this display must be paid in something. What did the women pay? he asked himself.

Modern Babylon and its shrieking display, as they appeared to this freshminded observer, are very strikingly portrayed. Some of the women "had eyes like grappling hooks. Their glances were invitations so pressingly urged that they inspired opposition. * * * It was not in these tavern-like hearts that Forbes would seek shelter. He wanted to find some attractive, some decently difficult woman to make friends with, make love to. He was heart-free, and impatient for companionship." Meanwhile we see a kaleidoscope of fashion through a true but cynical lens.

We plunge immediately into high society—turkey-trotting, few-clothes-wearing, cigarette-smoking, cocktail-drinking, money-scattering society—into the hectic whirl of the tango madness. And it is all stripped to the bare skin in the telling. Forbes "had watched the Moros, the Igorrotes, the Samoans, the Nautch girls of Chicago, and the meaning of this turmoil was the same. * * * Mingled with women of manifest respectability were youth of precocious salacity, shop-girls of their own bodies, and repulsive veterans from the barracks of evil." It is a mixed company of mingled thighs, performing feverishly a gutter dance to syncopated gutter music.

For his sins, Forbes, a poor man, must fall in love with the most beautiful, most expensive, most extreme of this society mob—Persis Cabot.

There is much smart talk, much of it really clever, some of it trivial—which is truer realism, and obviously intended to be. The most awe-inspiring picture is that of the tangoing old women—they who hate to grow too old to be suspected—who dread worse than anything the unfashionable repute of Potiphar's wife, acquired by senility alone.

The character of our company may be judged by this, if you remember that its people are rich and famous and of high standing: "Nowadays a man rarely ever murmurs the formula: 'Do you object to smoke?' He is apter to say: 'Do you carry your own, or will you try mine?'"

Persis' father was teetering on the brink of ruin, and so she was engaged to Willie Enslee, a rich and pathetic little runt. Yet she let Forbes go on—she let herself go on. She did not know he was poor. She did not find it out till love swept them together. Then, of course, she gave him up, though "tears rained down in her heart."

It was inevitable, of course. Even then she would have clung to him if her father's bankruptcy had not arrived, and only "little Willie" could save him and her. And even after her engagement to Enslee was announced, she met Forbes in secret and they were all but swept into the abyss of passion inspired by proximity and opportunity. As she sank, even in the moment of surrender a cry to him for help appealed to his gallantry, and he saved her from herself and from himself—for awhile.

And so they were married—Persis and Willie—and went in Willie's yacht to a honeymoon of boredom and disgust. She had sold herself, and found the bargain bad beyond endurance. It is no satisfaction to the reader to find it so, and there isn't the slightest temptation to call her conqueror a lucky man.

The author manages to get us through all this without taking away our respect for Persis, or awakening anger against her. She was rather less appealing when she met Forbes and offered him her torn and bleeding heart and even her bartered body. It degenerates into a liaison—an adultery headed straight for inevitable tragedy, toward the discovery that the "convention" against adultery is "the wisdom of the ages." It is very tragic, very tense, very harrowing.

In this stark and agonizing story human nature, as it will, bursts the bonds of convention; and society, as it never will, revenges itself crushingly. And the reader's shame and anger is not for the sinners, but for the false conditions of life that helped to make them sinners. Realizing that perhaps this sympathy is misplaced, we doubt very much if this is a moral book. But it certainly is a rarely "gripping" one.

A Noble Story.

THE STORY OF PHAEDRUS. How we got the greatest book in the world. By Newell Dwight Hillis. Illustrated and illuminated by George Willis Bardwell. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.25 net.

"No one knows," says Dr. Hillis, "at whose hands the world has received its most precious treasure" (the Gospels). Thirty or forty years had passed after the Crucifixion, and the persecuted twelve apostles all had lain down their lives, when the work of gathering the Memorabilia of Christ began. Who did this splendid service no man knows—theologians call him "Q."

In this book Dr. Hillis makes into a noble story the fancy that the collector of the Memorabilia was one Phaedrus, a young Greek who had been sold into slavery at Ephesus. Phaedrus was taken by Simonides, a Christian slave, to the house of Nicias, a Greek merchant, in a chest in whose house the Gospels were later found, to participate in a Christmas service. Before he had gained the light, he seized an opportunity to steal the gold and silver service and the papyrus rolls on which the words of Christ were inscribed, and fled by ship to Rome. On the way he fell in with Zilnines, a Roman lawyer and a striking and appealing character, who took him to his home.

There Phaedrus read the papyrus, and the message of Christ pierced to his heart. He repented of his misdeed, and longed only to redeem it by service. He chose as his service the collection of every possible scrap of authentic information about the life and words of Christ, and this mission he fulfilled, though great perils and severe hardships attended his wandering feet. His mission done, he met a martyr's death in the arena at Alexandria. It is a pretty fancy, and it has been worked out by Dr. Hillis with reverence and power.

A Good Western Tale.

OVERLAND RED. Anonymous. Pictures by Anton Fischer. Boston & New York: Houghton Mifflin company. $1.35 net.

"Overland Red," otherwise Jack Summers, ex-sheriff of Abilene and present tramp, is considerable of a creation. He has been a cowboy, and he is a poet and a philosopher, with a ready tongue, a warm heart, and courage and resourcefulness to burn. The story that has been woven around him is not quite so good as he is, but it is a moving tale nevertheless—a diverting compound of character painting, Western drama, moving picture scenario and novel. The descriptions are uncommonly vivid, and are more absorbing even than the story itself.

When the story opens—after a dramatic prologue concerning the death of a mysterious unknown who has located a gold mine which he intends for his daughter—Overland Red and his pal, "Collie," a lad whom he has picked up, befriended and loved, are on their travels, evading the law officers and seeking the unknown's gold mine. They are encountered by Louise Lacharme, a beautiful ranch girl, who helps Overland Red escape when a deputy sheriff, representing those who are hoping to get the secret of the gold mine from Red, attempts to capture him. Collie stays at the Moonstone rancho, becomes a cowboy, and develops into quite a lad—enough to fall in love with Louise. Meanwhile Red finds the gold mine, and his enemies find Red. There is much liveliness of incident, including plenty of shooting, before the story winds interestingly to its finish.

The author has preferred to remain unknown, but it is stated that his name will be announced some months after the publication of the book.

A Story of the Desert.

HALIEFA. By George K. Baker. New York: The Neale Publishing company. $1 net.

It is something of a relief, after wading through some of the "stuff" that is put out these days and labeled "literature," to find in the flotsam and jetsam of stories, a book that one feels like reading again. That is the kind of a book that George K. Baker has turned out in "Haliefa." This young author has not only constructed a story that holds the reader but he does not use up a couple of hundred pages to tell it. The story, though brief, is well told and fascinating. The publishers claim that it contains properties suggestive of Kipling. That does not seem to be the impression the reader gets. It is more suggestive of Sir Gilbert Parker, of his stories of Dicky Donovan—Donovan Pasha.

The story is surrounded by the hynotic atmosphere of Egypt, where its scenes are laid, and the author possesses much of Parker's power to make one feel the spell of the desert and the allurement of the harem.

This is a love story, but it's different. The love of Haliefa for Stephen Blair, a young British officer, who, after his quick-forgetting English fashion, loved her also, is touching and very human. Her sacrifice to save her lover from her master is a fitting but pathetic conclusion and is, perhaps, true to the fatalistic temperament of her kind. In all, the story is one that holds and bears rereading; and it is uniformly strong throughout.

A Battle Story.

PILOT KNOB, THE THERMOPYLAE OF THE WEST. By Cyrus A. Peterson and Joseph Mills Hanson. New York: The Neale Publishing company. $2.15.

This history of the great battle of Pilot Knob, which took place on Sept. 27, 1864, one of the great contests of the civil war, and the subsequent retreat, is written wholly from a Union point of view, and unlike a whole lot of historical war stories, is free from the usual amount of dreary statistics, explanations of strategic moves, reasons for them and criticisms of them. It is a real story of a great battle, and abounds in narratives of personal experience. The authors have undoubtedly taken great pains to see as many of the officers who took part in that battle as possible. The interviews with these men, who were actual actors in the great drama of warfare, are graphic and thrilling. The accumulation of data, notes, memoranda and correspondence, together with the interviews with survivors, must have taken a very great deal of time and labor. The result is a battle story that is interesting and which gives new light to an old situation.

A Tale of Mystery.

THE PERSIAN TASSEL. By Olivia Smith Cornelius. New York: The Neale Publishing company. $1.20 net.

The author has given a new twist to the mystery story. One good thing about it is that the reader is not afflicted with a detective to mix up things for the purpose of showing his cleverness at unraveling them again. The only thing on that order is done by Clark Powell, enamored of Janet Negley, whose stepfather, an eccentric, has been killed, and Powell's only tracing work is done in the fear that the lady of his choice is a murderer. His fear is based on the fact that in the dead man's hand was found a Persian tassel like that worn on an Oriental housegown sometimes worn by Janet. The unraveling comes simply enough. About the worst criticism that can be made on the book is that perhaps the lovemaking is a trifle too fulsome; but that, of course, depends upon the reader's temperament. Some might think it just too dear for anything.

The story is well written and is entertaining throughout.

Firing the Devil.

THE DEVIL'S DISCHARGE. By Willard French. New York. The Neale Publishing company. $1.00 net.

Discharging the devil and his spirits from this modern life, Colonel French, aided by his scientific mind and knowledge of medicine, gives us new spirits, all made by science.

"The Devil's Discharge," is not only an interesting narrative on science, but it possesses the mysticism of the East and carries with it a thrilling tale of romance and love. In this story Colonel French shows that while ghosts of the past are evaporating constantly in their own mists, science is giving birth to others and these are by far more weird.

Colonel French fought in the Civil war, is a trained soldier and an able war correspondent. But in this story he introduces himself as a writer of fiction. His story is somewhat different and should prove popular because of its odd features.

Story of Adventure.

THE SCUTTLERS. By Clyde C. Westover, author of "The Romance of the Gentle Will," "The Dragon's Daughter," etc. New York: The Neale Publishing company. $1.20 net.

This want ad in a newspaper at the opening of the story begins a tale of adventure across the seas and a narrative of action:

WANTED—Fearless man, with some knowledge of foreign lands, for a dangerous undertaking. Address, Box 5018, Chronicle.

It starts out interestingly, and it takes the reader over the seas, into the wilderness and finally brings him back to civilization, keeping him engrossed so that the journey is hardly at all tiring.

WITH HOOKS OF STEEL. By William T. Townes. New York: The Neale Publishing company. $1.20 net.

This is a rousing story of life in the Virginias, with their types and sports of the days a half century ago, when racing was a gentleman's game and when the friendship that bound a master and his slave was as strong as iron bands. It is a virile story of virile people, and the descriptive scenes are well done. The plot moves quickly and is striking.

Among the Magazines.

Probably the last writer from America who had the privilege of visiting Mistral, the Provencal poet, who died recently, was Richard Le Gallienne. In his article in Harper's Magazine for May, Mr. Le Gallienne tells of his pleasant visit to the poet. In writing of the curious little community on Tangier Island in Chesapeake bay, J. W. Church tells of the one time when the islanders became interested in politics and how the minister controlled the vote. In the letters of Madame de Hegermann-Lindencrone we are given a new view of Ibsen as he was when we visited Rome in 1881. Madame de Hegermann-Lindencrone was evidently not impressed with the famous dramatist. She first met him at a supper given for the son of the king of Sweden. Other interesting articles, illustrated with photographs, are "Across the Venezuelan Llanos," by Charles Wellington Furlong; "The Real Dry-Farmer," by J. Russell Smith. The fiction of the month is up to the usual high standard of Harper's.

The Metropolitan for May contains the second of John Reed's articles, "The Battle of La Cadena." Reed is at the front with Gen. Villa, and his articles are wonderful word pictures of the situation in Mexico. "The Elberfeld Horses," by Maurice Maeterlinck is the first installment of an interesting two-part article, and tells about the training of horses to spell, count and do sums in arithmetic. "A Way Out," by Lincoln Steffens, is his concluding article on political corruption in New England. The number contains the usual departments and pictorial features, and short stories by Richard Harding Davis, Booth Tarkington, Mary Roberts Rinehart, Will Payne and Inez Haynes Gillmore.

Theodore Roosevelt, in the May Scribner, describes the second stage of his journey as "A Hunter-Naturalist in the Brazilian Wilderness." This was a side trip which he took up a little branch of the Paraguay called the Taquary, where they visited a great modern ranch, grazinz 30,000 cattle, and made it a point of departure for a jaguar hunt. The jaguar is the fiercest beast in South America—much larger than our panther or cougar. He describes its pursuit with dogs through marshes and into the jungle. "The Light Cavalry of the Seas," by Lieut. Commander D. Pratt Mannix of the United States navy, describes the torpedo flotilla of the Atlantic fleet by the commander of one of the boats. The duty of these destroyers is practically the same as that performed by light cavalry on land; they are the "eyes of the fleet." In that part of the Canadian Northwest around Mount Robson which the new Grand Trunk Pacific has made accessible there is "A New Field for Mountaineering," described by Elizabeth Parker, a member of the Alpine club of Canada. The information and the descriptions given in this article are the result of a number of years' work by this club under the direction of President A. O. Wheeler. George L. Woodberry ends his African experiences with an account of Tripoli, including a drive to the oasis. Throughout these pages he has reproduced Africa, "the land of magic," in the language of a poet.

An idyl of New York life, by James Lane Allen, author of "The Kentucky Cardinal," etc., opens the May Century Magazine. This long story is called "A Cathedral Singer," and marks the return of Mr. Allen to the field of fiction. Other authors of the seven stories in this number are Ruth McEnery Stuart and L. Frank Tooker. A detached and thorough study of the present administration is given in "An Englishman's Review of President Wilson's First Year," by A. Maurice Low, for many years Washington correspondent of the London Morning Post. The art features of the number include pages from "Rodin's Notebook," with various photographs and scenes from the great French sculptor's life. There are illustrations in full colors by Arthur Rackham and by Thomas Shields Clarke, and several "Century Colortones," engraved by H. Davidson. The cover, reproduced in full colors, is an architectural mosaic design by Howard Greenley. "Shakspere and Balzac" is a study by George Moore, author of "Esther Waters." Music is treated in Pierre V. R. Key's article, "Opera Far and By the People," and in James Huneker's "Music of Today and Tomorrow."

One of the most important contributions to the May American Magazine is a remarkable character sketch of Woodrow Wilson written by Ray Stannard Baker, who has been called "the greatest reporter in the world." Other highly interesting articles are: "Experiences of An Airman," by Augustus Post; "They Who Knock at Our Gates," a splendid article on immigration by Mary Antin, a brilliant young Russian Jewess; "The Auto Game in Homeburg," a humorous piece about automobiling, by George Fitch, the famous Illinois comic writer; "The Business of Being a Burglar," an actual thief's account of his adventures; and "A Husband's Story," in which a man who has been married twenty-five years begins an account of the trials and perils and successes of marriage. Fiction is contributed by Marjorie Benton Cooke, Hugh S. Fullerton, Elmer E. Ferris, and Gene Harrison. Humorous sketches are contributed by Kin Hubbard, Stephen Leacock, James Montgomery Flagg, and E. W. Howe. The theatrical and "Interesting People" departments are full of good things, and the prize-winning letters are published in the contest entitled "The Person Who Looks Like Me." In these letters remarkable cases of double identity are reported.

With Mexico to the south of us, Americans will read with especial interest the leading paper in the Atlantic for May, which is a consideration of "Disorderly States," by Henry Jones Ford, professor of politics at Princeton in succession to Woodrow Wilson. Prof. Ford's contention is that an orderly government adapted to the people makes an orderly people adapted to the government, rather than the reverse. To his cogent and very suggestive argument, the second paper in the number makes a capital foil. "Our Instinctive Idiocies," by Seymour Deming, embraces a joyous collection of the characteristic sayings of the comfortable classes when vexed by intrusive news of want and disorder among the poor. "A Defense of Jay" is a characteristically happy essay by Robert Haven Schauffler. Avard Longly Bishop discusses "The Promotion of Foreign Commerce," while George C. Whipple contributes a highly interesting survey of the new theories, discoveries and accomplishments in "The Broadening Science of Sanitation." A second Adventure in American Diplomacy by Frederick Trevor Hill, gives in dramatic form "The Inside History of the Louisiana Purchase." David Starr Jordan contributes a very careful study of the result of the conquest of Alsace-Lorraine fifty years after. A pleasant paper on nature-study is "A Suit Against Science," by Herbert Ravenel Sass.

DRIVES 32.7 MILES ON ONE GALLON

Franklin "Six-Thirty" Makes High Economy Record in Trial.

Thirty-two and seven-tenths miles on one gallon of gasoline was the economy record made yesterday afternoon by a Franklin Six-Thirty. This high economy mark was reached in Duluth by the local Franklin dealer, who with Franklin dealers in all parts of the United States and Canada made an official one-gallon test on the same day. The Interstate Auto company is the local agent for the Franklin car.

The tests were all made in a Franklin "Six-Thirty" car in the same way and at the same time. The preparations made on the cars consisted of disconnecting the regular gasoline tank and attaching a one-gallon can to the side of the lamp bracket. A certified gallon measure was used to measure the gasoline placed in the tank before the run was started.

At 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the test was started in Duluth by Joseph T. Peacha, Jr., manager of the Interstate Auto company. The car was driven by Theodore Furlund and the driver was accompanied by H. J. Mullin, secretary of the Duluth Automobile club, and A. B. Kapplin of the automobile department of The Herald. The observers took the speedometer reading before and after the run and the record of thirty-two and seven-tenths miles was later sworn to before a notary public and then telegraphed to the officials of the Franklin company at Rochester, N. Y.

The car started from Twenty-fifth avenue east and Fourth street and the course led to Fourth avenue west and return. Six round trips and a fraction were made before the engine finally sputtered its last and came to a dead stop.

This national test is the first of its kind ever held in this country and hundreds of Duluthians watched with interest the Franklin car making its trips up and down Fourth street yesterday afternoon. The car was followed during the entire run by Mr. Peacha, Jr., in another automobile.

WILL BUY MORE CARS.

Hudson Manager Will Make Trip to Detroit.

Fred S. Kleyn, manager of the Kleyn Auto company, Northwestern distributers for the Hudson car, left last evening for Detroit for the purpose of increasing his allotment of Hudson cars.

While away Mr. Kleyn will also visit at the Federal truck factory and the Buick factory at Flint, Mich., in order to secure early shipments of these two cars for local distribution.

DULUTH INVENTOR MAKES NEW WHEEL

Resilient Auto Wheels Company Forming to Manufacture It.

In its issue of the 4th inst., the Commercial and Financial World of New York gave a good deal of space to the invention of a Duluth man Arthur Jutila, and to the sale of stock in the company which is being formed to manufacture and distribute the invention, which is a resilient wheel for autos. It is claimed for this wheel that it will probably revolutionize to a considerable extent the manufacture of autos insofar as their spring system is used. The Commercial and Financial World says:

"The invention of the resilient automobile wheel ought to be of interest in connection with the automobile industry in the future. It has been in operation for some time and is at present being demonstrated at Duluth, Minnesota. The Resilient Auto Wheels Co., of that city, a Minnesota corporation, is organized for the purpose of manufacturing this new device. The wheel is constructed so that the same resiliency formerly obtained in the pneumatic tire is now secured within the wheel itself, thus making possible the use of a solid rubber tire, which is estimated to outlast from four to five of the pneumatic tires. The wheel can be manufactured and sold at a cost of an ordinary pneumatic tire. It is pretty well admitted that the pneumatic tire is the only serious objection that remains against the automobile. The cost and maintenance of the pneumatic tire are undoubtedly the greatest expense in the up-keep of a car. During the last ten years the inventive geniuses of the world have directed their attention and energy towards the solution of this last problem.

"It is not at all unexpected to receive news of this accomplishment when we stop to inquire what has been achieved along inventive lines in the past. This invention has already created a nation wide interest in automobile and manufacturing centers.

"The Resilient Auto Wheels Co., as soon as necessary capital has been secured, intends to place the wheel on the market without any delay."

GIVEN A REAL TEST.

Haynes Cars Undergo Rigid Workout, Says Turner.

"Most people have a very vague idea as to what really constitutes the test of an automobile; in fact, the word has a different meaning in almost every factory," said M. W. Turner, distributer for the Haynes, America's first car, in this territory. "With the Haynes company it means a great deal. From the time the raw material comes into the factory until the finished car is ready for shipment, tests are continually being made. The steel must be tough and strong, the castings must be free from imperfections, and every finished part must stand the test of a rigid inspection before being used.

"After the motor has been assembled and filled with oil, it is bolted to a testing block and turned by an electric motor for six hours; then every part is tightened and adjusted and the motor is run under its own power for a period of ten hours, after which it is rigidly inspected and installed in the chassis.

"The road testers then examine and oil every part of the chassis. They adjust the brakes, tighten all screws, nuts and electrical connections, and take it out on the road. They first test the brakes and try each of the gears, then they test the minimum and fast speed on high gear and tune the carburetor to a still finer adjustment. They drive the car on various grades. It must, without apparent effort, climb hills that the average owner will never encounter. All parts must work in union before the road tester has completed his task.

"After this, the chassis is again inspected and delivered to the chief tester, a man who must have a natural instinctive ability to locate and remedy the most minute and unnoticeable irregularity. It is his duty to bring the car as a whole up to the highest degree of efficiency. He does not rely entirely on the 'O. K.' of the road tester but tries the car himself before sending it to the final assembly.

"Then after the body has been fitted and the car is ready for shipment, he inspects it once more to make sure that everything is up to the Haynes standard—the culmination of twenty-one years successful automobile building."

ENTRY LIST FULL.

Thirty Cars Now Entered for Big Race at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 2.—With the entry of three Great Western cars, the list of contestants in the next 500-mile race on the Indianapolis motor speedway today reached thirty, the limit number that will be allowed to start the contest. This is nine more than were registered at this time last year, proving that a revival of the automobile racing game on a magnificent scale is in order.

Sponsors for the machines are Johnny Jenkins, an Indianapolis motor expert who graduated honorably from the prize ring, having a four-round draw in San Francisco with one Willis Britt, to his credit, D. A Jenkins, his brother, and Edward A. Myers, an official in the Pittsburg motors concern, whose power plant is being used. Jenkins himself will drive one of the cars, and Ray Prize, a local boy, the other. The man for the third has not been selected as yet.

In construction the Great Westerns present many unusual features, chief of which is the Carter piston valve motor they employ, an extremely novel design of recent invention. Its distinguishing characteristic is the entire absence of the ordinary valve gear, with its attendant complexities. An engine speed of 4,500 revolutions per minute has been attained, it is stated, without any of the vibration or loss of power attendant upon the usual types.

In size the cars are rather insignificant, having but a 106-inch wheel base. Their engines, however, at least two of them, closely approach the speedway limit, measuring 444 cubic inches, with a bore and stroke of 4.2 by 8. The third machine is the baby of the outfit, mounting a power plant of only 254 cubic inches, with a bore and stroke of 3.7 by 5.7. Underslung frame construction is employed throughout.

Should any more racers enter the Indianapolis contest, the holding of elimination trials to determine the thirty fastest cars is assured. This will make the period preceding the contest almost as fascinating as the race itself the followers of each, machine pulling for it to stay in the game. A lively time is expected.

The total field to date is as follows: Burman, Burman and one other; Peugeot, Boillot, Goux, and Duray; Delage, Guyot and Thomas; Sunbeam, Chassagne and Grant; Mercedes, De Palma and Mulford; Excelsior, Christiaens; Stutz, Oldfield, Cooper and Anderson; Mercer, Bragg, Pullen, and Wishart; Marmon, Mamson; Maxwell, Tetzlaff, Carlson, and one other; King, Klein; Gray Fox, Wilcox; Beaver Bullet, Keene; Stafford, Callahan; Metropol, Horan; and Great Western, Jenkins, Price, and one other.

USE OF GASOLINE.

Local Expert Gives Advice to Automobile Owners.

The following advice in the use of gasoline is given by a local expert for the benefit of automobile owners:

"Better results and economy by proper feeding: If the exhaust from your engine appears smoky it is invariably produced by one of the following causes—Excessive lubrication; using an oil not adapted to your engine, or improper mixture of gasoline and air. To overcome these difficulties, see that proper lubricating oil is used, fed in right manner, and reduce your gasoline feed. If you feed too much gasoline you get a flame but do not get an explosion. There is no power in a flame. Too much gasoline blocks up the sparker, your engine becomes dirty (i. e., will gather soot on the insside of the cylinder and combustion chamber), losing power.

"Locating trouble after gasoline feed is properly adjusted: When your gasoline feed is properly adjusted and the engine does not receive an impulse on each explosion stroke, your battery is evidently exhausted and is not making a large enough spark to ignite the vapor. Sometimes a battery will keep an engine in motion but will not run it up to the speed, as it is not strong enough to build up a spark, except on each alternate explosion stroke. This results in a waste of gasoline. Always keep your batteries strong, as such repairs are cheaper than gasoline.

"Combustion, proper and improper: Combustion is burning, and requires carbon and oxygen. The carbon is what you are burning. Oxygen is in the air. The less air, the less oxygen, and the slower the burning. The result is less power. The more air the more rapid the burning, which is explosion. When you get six parts of air (oxygen) to one part gasoline vapor (carbon) you get an explosion. You can burn gasoline in your engine without getting an explosion.

"Power and economy in using gasoline: A pound of gasoline contains 21,390 British Thermal units (units of heat and power). Engine gasoline weighs more pounds to the gallon than 74 to 76 gasoline, consequently has more power to the gallon. Therefore engine gasoline, properly fed and mixed with air, will give more vapor and more power to the gallon than 74 to 76 gasoline, thus requiring a smaller quantity of engine gasoline to furnish a given amount of power. Gasoline gas, or vapor, unmixed with air, will not explode. It will burn, but must be mixed with six parts air to make an explosision. The power is in the explosion."

IMPRESSIVE FIGURES ON OVERLAND FACTORY

Though the figures in themselves are impressive, few people who are unfamiliar with the magnitude of the industry can appreciate what an annual production 50,000 automobiles really means. The total makes a fine mouth-filling set of figures to handle, but it is not until a comparison is made with something which they are familiar that the average layman realizes the vast volume of effort such a business entails. In this respect the monthly car movement report made by the traffic department of the Willys Overland company of Toledo, makers of the Overland automobile, is an enlightening document.

Taking the figures for March, in which there were 26 working days, the report shows that a total of 2,358 railroad cars, incoming and outgoing, were handled at the Overland plant. This is an average of more than 90 cars per day, or more than one loaded car every 7 minutes of a 10-hour day. Of the total number of cars moved, 748 were inbound, bringing raw materials and parts, and 1,610 were outbound, carrying finished Overland cars for every part of the civilized world. As each outbound car has a capacity of at least 3 complete automobiles and some are loaded with as many as 6, the figures show an output of well over 5,000 Overlands in 26 days.

Railroad officials declare that a city of 10,000 to 20,000 inhabitants which would use 20 carloads of freight per day would be a marvel of industrial and business thrift, and that would mean only 520 cars for the whole city in a 26-day month. The Overland inbound freight for March shows a total of more than 43 per cent greater business. If this freight could be hauled in a single train it would stretch nearly 7½ miles across country and 17 of the largest freight engines would be required to handle the cars. The combined incoming and outgoing business would make a train more than 22 miles and a capacity load for 53 of the biggest "mogul" locomotives.

The description of the loads carried by the incoming cars also furnishes an interesting view of the motor car industry. Among the articles listed on the report are coal, fuel oil, cylinder oil, gasoline, sand, fire brick, lumber, machinery, hair, wheels, springs, electrict starting motors, batteries, magnetos, paint, white cotton, bow sockets, rims and rings, tires, tubing, several varieties of steels and other metals, leather, rubber matting, wadding and linoleum. And when one stops to consider that these materials never come in less than carload lots and some times, as in the case of forge steel, in shipments that require a whole train, the automobile business takes on very respectable proportions.

HAYNES $1785 — Big, Roomy, Powerful — HAYNES $1985

Is the Haynes "Four"

Here's a car that will appeal to you, if you are in the market for an economical "four." The motor, built in the Haynes factory, is of the same quality as the Haynes "Six."

Unlike other fours, the Haynes "Four" is practically free from vibration; in fact, we can prove to your satisfaction that it is as flexible and smooth-running as the average six. Its ample cylinder dimensions, 4½x5½, provide a reserve power which gives unusual pick-up ability and makes it exceptionally well adapted for use in mountainous sections of the country, where endurance and hill-climbing ability are prime considerations. The

The Franklin Six-Thirty Makes

32 7-10 Miles On One Gallon of Gasoline

Official test made by Theo. O. Furlund and observed and sworn to before a Notary Public by H. J. Mullen, Secretary of the Duluth Auto Club, and A. B. Kapplin of the Automobile Department of The Herald.

This is the Duluth record in the Great National Economy Contest being run by all Franklin dealers, in all sections of the United States and Canada, on the morning of May 1st, regardless of weather or road conditions.

This official record made in a stock Franklin Six-Thirty touring car over the course from Twenty-fifth avenue east on Fourth street to Fourth avenue west on same street, making six round trips and a fraction.

Watch for the results of all dealers in the National Advertisements and in this paper. The grand average gives a true record of what is possible in the great economy car—the Franklin Six-Thirty.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

Two well-known competitions were recently held under the auspices of the Transvaal Automobile club—one being for the club's standard cup and the other for the Lezard Shield—for amateur drivers only.

In the competition for the cup, the course was from Johannesburg to Vereeniging and back, a distance of seventy-eight miles, and a Model T Ford owned by B. J. Penney, the Ford representative in Johannesburg, was returned an easy winner by the wide margin of 44 points. The car did a non-stop run. The total weight carried, including that of the car itself, was 2,610 pounds, and the gasoline, or petrol, as it is called there, worked out at the rate of thirty-eight miles to the English gallon.

In the Lezard Shield event, a Model T Ford was driven by a youth who, up to within a few days of the race, had never driven a motor car, and although the Ford was second by a small margin of points, the fact that a mere novice could drive a non-stop run such a competition as this, and make 38.36 miles a gallon speaks more for the car than the mere running of an ordinary race.

A short time previous to this, a Ford car, driven by Mr. Penney, won the well known Schlesinger cup.

of Binghamton, N. Y. Two hundred thousand miles in five years means 40,000 miles a year and if the car were driven every one of the 365 days for each of the five years without the interruption of a day it would have to go more than 109 miles a day continuously to achieve this record. Moreover the record is a remarkable one because the nature of the business necessitated the use of the car nearly twenty-four hours a day, over all manner of roads, good, bad and indifferent, and in all kinds of weather. The average motorist, while he may roll up a big mileage in one day, does not make more than 5,000 to 7,000 miles a year.

These are not all of the remarkable facts connected with this car and its record. It has been used principally for taxicab and parcel service and four different drivers are now engaged in running it on different shifts. No less than twenty-five green men have been broken in and taught to operate the car, yet the working parts of the car are, with few exceptions, the originals and all of the original springs, with the exception of one, are to be found where they were installed by the manufacturer. In spite of green drivers and hard usage not one of the gears has been usage by a new one. It was found necessary to replace the engine bearings only once, and this was due to the fact that they were burned out by allowing the lubricator to run dry.

Automobiles have been put to many unusual uses in everyday business life and in "the pursuit of happiness," but it has remained for Richard C. Travers, a well-known moving picture actor, to provide the unique motor car pleasure vehicle. Mr. Traverse created a great deal of excitement during the recent cold spell in Chicago with his Overland car, which he had redesigned and reconstructed until it was a sort of combined aeroplane-iceboat.

Having lived many years within the Arctic circle, Mr. Travers naturally turned to cold weather sports while in the Western metropolis. The long stretches of ice on Lake Michigan attracted him, and after much study of his motor car and mechanical contrivances for cross-country travel, he evolved what he christened the "Overlandseaski." The wheels had been removed from the car and their places taken by a pair of specially constructed skis. A special train of gears connected the drive-shaft to an aeroplane propeller mounted above the rear seat. When the engine was started this propeller was turned at great speed and the reconstructed car was driven across the ice faster than it had ever been run on land. Mr. Travers entertained many of his friends with dashes up and down the lake shore, and the strange-looking "Overlandseaski" became the most popular vehicle in Chicago.

Entries for the Detroit to Indianapolis cyclecar tour have already been made in large numbers. The Cricket Cyclecar company has entered one car through O. C. Hutchinson, sales manager. The Malcolm Jones Cyclecar company has entered two cars. The Economycar has been entered by the International Cyclecar company through Fred K. Parke and will make a special trip to Detroit to start. The Scripps-Booth Cyclecar company will start two cars, and Norman A. Pabst, Michigan distributer or the Scripps-Booth company, will start one, while two users of this car will be in the lists including Mr. Carmichael of the Auto Trimming company. The Mercury Cyclecar company has entered one car and will probably send two. The Imp will be in the line through the Detroit agents. The Chicago Cyclecar club has secured a large number of entries and will meet the Detroiters at South Bend. The Hoosier club will escort the tourists into Indianapolis.

The development of the Kissel Motor Car company, since the date of its organization eight years ago, has been little short of marvelous and the recent completion of 60,000 square feet of additions to its big plant at Hartford, Wis., places its facilities abreast of the most complete automobile concerns in America.

Eight years ago this industry was started in a little 50 by 100-foot building, a space which would not today suffice for a respectable garage. Step by step, as the needs of the business demanded, facilities were increased until today the Kissels can boast of a plant that is measured in acres. Few automobile manufacturers make so many of the parts entering into their product.

The Kissel Hartford plant includes iron, steel and aluminum foundries, heat treating ovens, machine shops, motor testing department, tin shops, wood shops, sand blast, upholstery department, paint shops and final assembly department.

The company manufactures its own motors, axles, clutches, crank shafts, bodies and tops, besides many of the minor parts of the car. In this model plant, three pleasure cars and six truck styles are built, the former including the 40 "Four," the 48 "Six," and the 60 "Six" chassis on which twelve different body designs are mounted. The trucks are in six capacity sizes, 1,500 pounds, 1, 1½, 2½, 3½ and 6 tons, and are used for every business purpose.

The Kissel Motor Car company first produced a four-cylinder pleasure car in 1906, its first "Six" appeared in 1908, and its first truck in 1909. Its selling organization extends to nearly all parts of the civilized world.

"Professional chauffeurs have a right to rise up and protest against longer being made 'the goat' of the theatrical jokesmith," says J. T. Peacha, Jr., local agent for the KisselKar.

"Every charge from graft to sabotage has been laid against this hard working class of men, not seriously of course, but none the less offensively.

"The men guilty of the practice are not particular how they get laughs and they have harped on the chauffeur because it seems 'to go' with the crowd.

"I do not believe that there is a class of employes who average better for sobriety, loyalty and honesty than chauffeurs. They are generally teetotalers, know no hours when their services are needed and save their employers expense through their knowledge of cars and their keep. Of course there are exceptions, as in every class, but the kind I describe is typical."

Testimonial letters are generally regarded as more or less of an old story to automobile manufacturers, but one recently sent to the Willys-Overland company of Toledo, Ohio, by a fellow townsman, attracted more than usual interest. The letter called attention to the excellent service rendered by a Willys utility three-quarter ton truck during a recent extremely heavy snowstrom which all but crippled Toledo's transportation facilities. It was written by J. M. Murphy of the Citizen's Ice company and reads, in part, as follows:

"Saturday, Jan. 31, during the heavy snowstorm, our Willys utility truck delivered ice to 126 customers scattered from Oakwood avenue to Stop 7 in West Toledo; and from Vermont avenue to Ottawa park. It made fifty-three miles and delivered four loads of 1,600 pounds each. All special delivery calls had been taken care of and the truck was in the garage at 5:15."

During this month the wise motorist is making ready for an enjoyable spring and summer season of automobiling, according to M. W. Turner, distributor for the Haynes Automobile company in this territory, who made the following statement in regard to whether or not a car should be overhauled every season:

"There is now and always has been considerable question as to whether or not a car should be overhauled once a season. If the car has traveled a great number of miles over bad roads during the preceding season there is no question but that it should receive attention. On the other hand if it has been driven carefully only a few hours a day this procedure may not be necessary; in fact, a good car operated under such conditions will run indefinitely with but very little attention.

"In all cases, however, the car should be tested for compression, all wiring and electrical connections should be examined, the carburetor and strainer should be drained, the brakes should be inspected, the battery should be tested and all bolts and nuts should be tightened at intervals."

The prosperity and rapid development of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, has been a great stimulus to the growth of the community where the automobile plant is located on the bank of the Detroit river above Walkerville. A year ago this community was incorporated as Ford village and dignified with a postoffice and all other appurtenances pertaining to a regular town. At that time there were a little more than 1,000 people in the village. A recent official census discloses the fact that there are now more than 2,000 inhabitants of Ford.

Doubling the population in one year is pretty rapid progress and the village officials are entertaining visions of a real city which is to spring up within the next few years. In line with the progress and growth of Ford the council is planning for a new town hall, which will be erected at an early date. A site has been chosen and $12,000 will be paid for it. The plans for the town hall contemplate an expenditure of $28,000.

A unique demonstration of the thoroughness of manufacturing policies and methods was recently made by a dealer in Louisville, Ky. The dealer in question wished to prove the durability of his car and to do this in a convincing, spectacular manner, publicly dismantled a Cadillac that had run 50,000 miles without ever having been overhauled.

A force of mechanics removed all the parts from the chassis and put them on exhibition on a large stand so that they could be examined just as they came from a period of steady service which might readily be considered more than the entire life of the average automobile. The nearly perfect state of these parts, many of which could not be distinguished from new ones even on the closest examination, caused something of a sensation and one of the spectators purchased the car on the spot, thus proving the effectiveness of this manner of demonstrating durability of material and accuracy of manufacture.

CITY ENGINEERS STUDYING THE ACTION OF FROST ON PAVEMENTS

HOW FROST HEAVES PAVING.

EXPANSION JOINT OPENED.

City Engineer John Wilson and his assistant, O. E. Brownell, are making careful observations of various pavements in the city to ascertain the effect upon them of frost and traffic.

Last week they took a number of pictures of granitoid pavements which show how they were heaved by the action of frost this spring. In several places a hand could easily be inserted under the straight edge of a board laid across two sections at the expansion joint. These were on East Seventh street between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh avenues. At another spot the ends of the fingers of a hand could be placed where the heaving had opened the expansion joint.

The engineering officials state that these sections may settle and that in any event it is better to have the sections heave at expansion joints rather than to have the slab itself crack. The latter condition exists on Twenty-fifth avenue east between Fifth and Sixth streets, where a large, irregular fissure is plainly visible.

The Seventh street pavement has expansion joints down the center and between the edge of the pavement and the curb on either side and others at right angles every twenty-five feet. Under the pavement is a gravel cushion and the engineering department is questioning if this is as good as no cushion. It appears that where there is gravel the heaving has been worse than where there is none, and it is stated that this may be due to the fact that more water goes under the pavement, because of the gravel than would otherwise be possible. Comparisons in this respect were made between Seventh street, which has a gravel cushion, and Sixth street, where a similar pavement is laid on the clay. It was also noticed that the concrete on Sixth street, which has but a quarter of the expansion joints that Seventh street has, cracked in various places, while that on Seventh street did not, although there seemed to have been more heaving on Seventh street than on Sixth street.

Observations which are being made of other streets and avenues will be combined with photographs and statistics, which will be of value in determining the value and endurance qualities of different knds of materials.

PRIZES FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Mill City Attorney Offers $100 for Winners in Essay Contest.

Rome G. Frown, a prominent Minneapolis attorney, has offered $100 in prizes for the best arguments to be written and submitted by undergraduates of Minnesota high schools against the adoption of a constitutional amendment providing for the recall of public officials.

The winner of the first prize will receive $40; second prize, $25; third prize, $20; fourth prize, $10, and fifth prize, $5. The contest is open to any undergraduate duly enrolled, April 1, 1914, in any high school in the state.

Rules of the contest may be had by addressing Rome G. Brown, 1006 Metropolitan Life building, Minneapolis. A similar set of prizes will be offered to the undergraduates of the Minnesota law schools.

BILL POSTERS MUST OBEY ORDINANCE

Written Consent of Owners of Private Property Is Necessary.

Politicians are threatened with the loss of what, through long tolerance, has come to be looked upon as one of their inalienable rights, the tacking of election posters on fences, telephone and telegraph poles, the sides of buildings, or wherever space can be found to place them.

By the same token the people are to be deprived of the doubtful privilege of seeing the faces of those who would be their faithful servants, staring at them from all sides whenever they venture upon the public thoroughfares.

The city authorities announce they are going to enforce the ordinance regulating bill posters and the posting and scattering of bills. Bills and posters may be placed only on private fences and buildings after the written consent of the owner has been obtained. The penalty for violation is a fine of not to exceed $100 or imprisonment for not more than eighty-five days.

THE PARADOX VALLEY OF COLORADO

The world has seen many great discoveries and many astounding results developed from them, but within the last few years there has been added to the long list of the world's developments the location of a large amount of radium, in what is known as the Paradox Valley, of Colorado. This deposit field is declared to be by Dr. Charles L. Parsons of the United States bureau of mines "the richest radium-bearing field in the world."

This announcement is of so vital importance to humanity at large that some of the details regarding radium ores ought to be more clearly understood. There are very few readers of this paper who do not have some dear one who is suffering from cancer, of which radium is the avowed enemy.

Until within the last year most of the radium used to treat cancer had been confined to the European hospital clinics. The ore has been so exceedingly scarce, however, and so expensive, that it was entirely unprocurable in sufficient amount to successfully combat cancer in the United States.

By clinical experience it has been found that any quantity less than 70 milligrams, when used in the treatment of cancer, did not establish a cure. It remained, therefore, to develop the great radium deposit in Paradox Valley of Colorado. Dr. Parsons of the United States mining bureau states that these deposits of radium exist as a very low grade ore. The ultimate effort in the obtaining of radium is to so have it reduced and refined as to produce a chemical salt known as radium chloride. It is in this form that the radium can be utilized to successfully combat cancer.

Heretofore the mining interests controlling the radium ore fields of the United States have made more money selling to the European markets than to the United States industry. The ore is mined and sold on contracts. Monthly shipments amounting to $30,000 have been sent regularly for several years to the European markets.

The miners who have been prospecting in Paradox Valley say that the radium ore lies in pockets, and that the pockets are not always exposed or do not always happen to be near the surface of any eroded drives of the various canyons. It costs about $50 to mine every ton of the ore, and the miners receive from European merchants at Hamburg, Germany, a price of about $100 for every ton of ore containing 2 per cent of uranium oxide. When the radium has been properly extracted and refined from this large amount of ore, it costs at the rate of $120 a milligram for its production, and by the time one gram of radium chloride has been properly refined and purified the cost of this cancer cure has amounted to the neighborhood of $100,000. While the value and cents, and the relative virtues of radium in the treatment of cancer should be considered as of first importance, yet these necessary phases of the radium situation are interesting.

The great virtue of radium is that it has the peculiar power to throw off thousands of tiny emanations. These emanations in some way start up an increased vibration and vitality of the tissue cells of the patient, just as do the ultra-violet rays thrown off from the X-ray machine.

It will be a most wonderful thing indeed if the sandy desert wastes on the hillsides of Paradox Valley will eventually enable the American physician to secure sufficient radium to successfully grapple with our national cancer problem.

STOMACH FEELS AS IF BEING DRAWN TOGETHER.

J. H. C., Jr., asks:

"How can I treat an inflammation of my stomach? I am bothered with it considerably. I have a tendency to expectorate a whitish colored matter frequently. My stomach feels as though it were being drawn together."

What you term "inflammation of the stomach" is probably nothing more than a mild form of indigestion. Oftentimes when any particular kind of food morsel disagrees with one's stomach it produces a severe chain of unpleasant symptoms which, however, can be made to disappear with a little patient treatment. First of all, let me ask Do you like the food you are eating? If you are trying food for which you do not care, it will not be as well digested as the food you eat for which you have a particular fondness or relish. The question of individual like or dislike certainly will have to do with helping or retarding your dyspeptic tendency. Procure the previous article, "Digesting Walnuts, Peanuts and Raw Onions." Study the principles laid down in that article for the treatment of stomach ailments and apply them in so far as they will be suitable in your case.

THE ELECTRIC NEEDLE WILL REMOVE HAIR THE BEST.

An Ohio lady asks if superfluous hair removed by the electric needle will ever come back.

No. Not if the roots of the hair are properly treated. If any hair does grow again after the electric needle has been applied, it indicates that the treatment has not been sufficiently thorough or the operator has lacked the necessary skill. I would not advise the application of strong chemicals to dissolve superfluous hair.

M'CUMBER GRAIN BILL IS DEFEATED

Measure Has Been Before That Body More Than a Year.

Washington, May 2.—By a vote of 37 to 20, the senate defeated the bill of Senator McCumber providing for Federal inspection and grading of grain entering into interstate commerce designed to secure uniformity in classification of grain. The bill has been before the senate for more than a year and has been the subject of much discussion in the last few weeks.

MODERN ROBIN HOOD ROBS TAX GATHERERS.

Bagdad, May 2.—A modern Robin Hood, who selects tax gatherers as his victims, is operating near Nejef. Thevali has been out in the Nejef and Kerbela districts collecting taxes from the tribes and recently lie sent by post to Bagdad 4,000 liras of the amount he had collected. Between Nejef and Kerbela, the post guarded by one gendarme only, was attacked apparently by adherents of the tribes from whom the taxes were collected. The money was taken from the mail bags and returned to the people. The vali has again resumed his task and is said to have recovered 3,000 liras of the lost taxes and guarantees for the remainder.

IOWA NORMAL ORATORS WIN.

Cedar Falls, Iowa, May 2.—Representatives from the normal schools of five different states took part in the interstate oratorical contest here last night at the Iowa state teachers' college. W. W. Paddy of Cedar Falls, Iowa, won first place; Moses R. Staker of Normal, Ill., second; Carl H. Skinner of Emporia, Kan., third; John F. Kuehn of Oshkosh, Wis., fourth.

The judges were Prof. F. M. Rarig, University of Minnesota; Principal R. L. Reif, Keokuk, Iowa; Prof. J. W. Dickman, Fayette, Iowa; Prof. R. B. Dennis, Evanston, Ill., and Prof. Albert Kelster, Mount Vernon, Iowa.

NURSE'S ASSAILANT GETS 99-YEAR TERM.

Kansas City, Mo., May 2.—Maurice Lewkowitz must serve ninety-nine years in the penitentiary for the part he is alleged to have taken in an attack upon Mrs. Gertrude Shidler, a nurse here, the afternoon of March 9 last. A jury so decided, when it found him guilty of the charge.

The state alleged Lewkowitz lured Mrs. Shidler to a downtown room, where he was joined by five other men. Vic Guerinser and Oscar Harrison already have been found guilty. Guerinser was sentenced to hang and Harrison was given twenty years in the penitentiary.

RAILROADS WASTEFUL

Louis D. Brandeis Reiterates Charge in Eastern Rate Case.

Denounces Carriers' Proposal as Unsound and Illegal.

Washington, May 2.—Louis D. Brandeis, special counsel for the interstate commerce commission in the five per cent advance rate case, concluded his argument yesterday in elaborating his conclusions that net and operating revenues of Eastern railroads are not adequate to afford the roads "assured prosperity" or for "the welfare of the community."

In announcing his conclusions, after exhaustive examination of the testimony, Mr. Brandeis said:

"On the whole, the net income and net operating revenues of the railroads in official classification territory are smaller than is consistent with their assured prosperity and the welfare of the community; and this is notably true of the Central Freight association and other Eastern lines. In view of this fact, it is desirable that steps should be taken as promptly as reasonably may be to increase this net revenue.

Carriers' Plan Unsound.

"That the method proposed by the carriers for increasing this net revenue is essentially unsound; that it is, except as to a small part of the tariffs which have been submitted, contrary to law, and would be, if approved, invalid and exceeding the powers vested by the congress in this commission, and as to the small part to which it would be legal to approve them, it would be unwise to the carriers and to the community to approve them.

"That there is nothing in the conditions of the carriers which should prevent the adoption of those methods of increasing their revenues which are conformable and in accordance with their interests and those of the community; and that there exists and have been indicated in this record a definite means of increasing the revenues without resort to these unsound, largely illegal and horizontal increases in rates."

Efficiency Needed.

In his argument Mr. Brandeis harked back to his statement in the advance rate case of 1910, that the solution of the entire problem lies almost entirely in "scientific management," which "by conservation of effort and resources should be effectual to overcome any and all increases in costs of raw material and labor."

Just before Mr. Brandeis submitted his conclusions, Clifford Thorne of Iowa, representing eight Middle Western states in opposition to the proposed advance, had completed an elaborate argument in which he maintained that the carriers have been making more gross and more net income during the last four years than in any previous four years in their history. He maintained that not only were the railroads receiving adequate revenues and making a fair return on their stock, but that their credit was as good or better than that of other industries, as proved by their ability to dispose of securities during the last four years.

"For Congress Only."

W. A. Glasgow, counsel for cement and coke producers, said that such an advance of freight rates as proposed was a matter of public policy, and could be dealt with only by the congress; and that the commission had no powers to sanction a horizontal advance.

Judge Henderson of the Iowa railway commission urged against the proposed increase. He insisted there had been no evidence offered by the carriers that the present rates are unrasonable.

BURNS THREATENED BY MOB IN GEORGIA

Friends of Mary Phagan Attack Detective at Marietta.

Marietta, Ga., May 2.—William J. Burns, the detective, was the center of an angry demonstration when he came here late yesterday, presumably in connection with the case of Leon M. Frank, the factory superintendent under sentence of death for the murder of 14-year-old Mary Phagan.

One man in a large crowd that surrounded Burns when his identity was discovered, struck the detective in the face. Others threatened Burns with violence if he made any move to resist the man. The detective escaped to a hotel while C. W. Burke, a detective who accompanied him here, summoned deputy sheriffs. No arrests were made.

This was the home of the slain factory girl, and many of her relatives still live here. The detective's declaration that Frank was not guilty and that James Conley, a negro factory sweeper convicted as an accessory after the murder, alone was responsible for the crime, has aroused intense feeling here. Burns returned to Atlanta last night.

ASK FOR STRIKE IN MINES IN OHIO.

Columia, Ohio, May 2.—Asking that a general strike be called at all bituminous mines in Ohio, the executive board of the Ohio district of the United Mine Workers of America, in session here, has drafted a letter to President J. P. White of the mine workers' international organization.

The international executive board will meet in Indianapolis next Monday and action on the request of the Ohio board is expected at that time.

Treasury Condition.

Washington, May 2.—The condition of the United States treasury at the beginning of business May 1, was:

Net balance in general fund, $80,237,516. Total receipts, April 30, $1,839,639; total payments, April 30, $3,054,385. The deficit this fiscal year is $34,347,488 against a surplus of $8,718,045 last year, exclusive of Panama canal and public debts transactions.

Baby of Future is Considered

Much thought has been given in late years to the subject of maternity. In the cities there are maternity hospitals equipped with modern methods. But most women prefer their own homes and in the towns and villages must prefer them. And since this is true we know from the great many splendid letters written on the subject that our "Mother's Friend" is a great help to expectant mothers. They write of the wonderful relief, how it seemed to allow the muscles to expand without undue strain and what a splendid influence it was on the nervous system. Such helps as "Mother's Friend" and the broader knowledge of them should have a helpful influence upon babies of the future.

In a little book for such women these points are more thoroughly brought out and a copy will be mailed to anyone who will send us their name and address.

"Mother's Friend" is sold in all drug stores and highly recommended for its timely usefulness, its safeness and the real help it affords. Ask for it at the store and write us for the book. Bradfield Regulator Co., 311 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

MARSHALING THE SPORT THOUGHT UPON THE SUMMER SPORT HUERTA

New Instructors and New Producers of New Ideas Are Needed In the Present Boxing Game—Peerless Leader Blume Pleased With White Sox—Far and Near Gossip of the Sport Field.

BY BRUCE.

THE years speed and leave memories in their wake. In the path of reminiscence looms the memory of the sterling boxers that came from Australia some two decades ago and left the imprint of their feats upon the American boxing game. Fitzsimmons, Hall, Creedon, Tracey and the great Peter Jackson, not to mention that marvelous and magical wielder of the mitts, Young Griffo.

At that time there was a distinct school of boxing in the antipodes. All of the men coming from the other side of the world were masters of their craft. They knew leads, counters, hooks and ducks as the great engineer knows every throb and every sway of his engine.

Out of this school grew young Jim Corbett, American born it is true, but with the brains and the persistence to take what the invading brood offered and improve upon it. Corbett marked the highest development of the boxing game in this country; he was the greatest scientific boxer of his time and the greatest boxer of all time.

There are few great boxers left in the game. Two stand out preeminently—Mike Gibbons and Packey McFarland. Why are there not more? There are more boxers than ever before in the history of the sport.

The answer is not difficult to reach. Half of the beginners of today have never learned how to put up their hands. Some of these boys are sent into the ring without the knowledge of how to lead, counter and block. A good left hand is a rarity.

There are few great boxing instructors left. Foley has passed, and the deft mark of his unerring knowledge of the finer points of the game was handed down past the day of Jim Corbett; many of the teachings of Mace have been forgotten.

We need some more great instructors, some more great invaders to leave the imprint of their greatness upon the adaptable mind of the American glovemen, and we need more attention to the details of the art of boxing, for in some parts the fine art of the game has almost been forgotten.

Concerning the White Sox.

HARRY A. BLUME, the Peerless Laundry leader of the Duluth Baseball association, writes from the romantic and bucolic environs of Oshkosh—hot and cold running water in the hotel rooms and lace curtains on the parlor window—that the 1914 outlay in the shape of a baseball team looks very nifty to him.

In sizing the team up in the glowing light of prophecy, Herr Blume declares that Brackett in centerfield is going like a house surreptitiously sprinkled with gasoline and then set on fire. McGuff at first is said to have solved the initial sack problem and caused wholesome surcease of wrinkled-browed worry. Wolfe at shortstop looks good and Brennan at the uncompromising corner of the diamond is coming along nicely.

The pitchers are as yet a problem. One of the reasons for the doubt attached to said pitchers is the weather. When in doubt blame the weather; the weather man is used to curses. But the weather has prevented the workouts of the rubber slab bund and until such time as old Sol comes forth in glory and stimulating warmth, there will be small chance to get a real satisfying lamp at the candidates for mound berths.

Mark Freer of the 1913 Winnipeg team has been speared and the Orator writes that he has several deals sitting over the fire. It is early yet to judge, but the first rosy glimpses of the president of the association have evidently satisfied him with the prospects of a real contender, for he writeth encouraging words.

Doc Miller Gets Going.

FROM down Mobile way, where the magnolias bloom and an occasional Southerner from behind a thick hedge fence picks off some individual who said something or other about his great grandfather, come glowing reports of the baseball conduct of our Elmer Miller, equine surgeon, canine administrator and ground covering fielder.

At the time of going to press Doc was hovering in the general territory of right field for the Mobile outfit and each day has been heaving 'em out at the bags with consistent regularity, and has been perniciously active in the pilfering of hassocks, and then in addition to the excellent baseball qualities heretofore mentioned, has been hitting the pill on the nose.

When it comes to the more or less simple knack of going back to the vicinity of the fence and pulling the ball down over your shoulder while traveling over the well-cultivated green sward, this Miller is quite in a class with himself. There are few in the big leagues whose arms have more carrying power or more accuracy than the wing of Doc. If the former White Sox can punish the pill, listen, Agnes, he is destined for the Olympian heights of the grandest game in the world.

"Glorified rounders"—oh h—!

Comparisons Are Odious.

THE Federal folk have been making much of the fact that openings in Baltimore, St. Louis, Chicago and that dear and maltreated Kansas City were attended by undulating crowds and much enthusiasm. Eclat, not to mention ebullition of feelings and exuberance combined to make the state of mind of the Federal cash supply brigade one of extreme felicitation to say the least. One might say more upon the subject, but enough for the time being.

Let us only add that the opening of the National and Federal leagues occurred upon a simultaneous day in Pittsburg, where millionaires are made and stogies manufactured.

Well, to bring this discourse to an end, let it be said that some 19,000 patricians and plebeians meandered out to the National league opening day festivities, while the actual count at the Fed park showed that the baseball party contained some 426 people on hand and foot.

This is merely a small incident, especially small when the number of spectators at the Federal league park is considered, and we only mentioned it for the simple reason that the Federal enthusiasts overlooked it.

The Greatest Four.

ON this page of this enterprising and widely read family journal (see circulation manager) we are running the picture of the fastest four in the world. This is the four that won at Winnipeg some short semesters, as rowing time is computed, ago, and won at St. Paul one semester agone and also won twice at the national meet at Boston the same season. This crew would have won more races at Boston had there been any more to win.

Is this four going to Henley?
Yes, this four is going to Henley.
Will the four win at Henley?
Yes, the four will win at Henley.
Will Duluth be proud of the fact?
Oh, yes, teacher, Duluth will bubble over with enthusiasm.

P. S.—This four was trained but never coddled by James E. Ten Eyck.

The members of this four occasionally play a harmless game of dominoes or old-fashioned hearts, but never smoke, drink, swear or attend parties that will keep them out late at night.

How Times Have Changed.

A Simp stood at the ball park gate,
His face aghast, accused of fate.
A geek passed by in raiment rich,
And casually said, "My turn to pitch."
The man outside there by the gate,
He owns the park—the sad magnate.
His roll is gone, flown all his reds—
He bid his pile against the Feds.
"The players now have got the kale,"
You hear the weeping magnate wail.

DOES RUSHING BUSINESS

New Booking Agency Is Scheduling Many Baseball Games.

The Kelley Baseball Booking agency of this city is doing a rushing business. The agency is filling a long-felt want and is being besieged by team managers in the various parts of the Northwest who are after games.

Negotiations are being carried on with Brainerd, Spooner and Crosby at the present time and in addition the following games have been scheduled through the booking agency:

Duluth Heights vs. Twin Ports, Thirty-second avenue, 10:45 a. m.; Sorenson Shoe vs. Fitwell, Fifty-second avenue west, 1 p. m.; Steel Plants vs. Kelley Hardware, Thirty-second avenue west, 3 p. m.; Y. M. S. vs. Cloquet at Cloquet.

May 10—Big Duluths vs. Cloquet at Cloquet; Sorenson Shoe vs. Steel Plant, Thirty-second avenue west at 3 p. m.

"M" WEARERS TO ORGANIZE

Varsity Men Would Promote Better Athletic Spirit in State.

Hoodoo Follows Baseball Team; Handball Tourney Finished.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—An organization of all wearers of the "M" now in college is being formed to stimulate a greater interest in competitive athletics, and both active and alumni wearers of the "M," feel that an organization of those who take an active part in competitive athletics should be formed that they may work in co-operation to introduce a new spirit into Minnesota sports. Such clubs are not uncommon at other schools, where their influence has produced great results. This innovation Minnesota would do much to awaken a wider interest in all branches of athletics. Leonard Frank, for three years in football, basket ball and track, has now prepared a petition which he hopes will be signed by all "M" men now in college.

Handball Tourney Finished.

The university championship handball tournament, which was begun last week was concluded Monday afternoon, when Aronson and Peterson defeated Monahan and Schutt by 2 to 11 and 21 to 15. In the single matches, Sam Aronson, a junior miner defeated P. E. Klopsteg, an instructor in the physics department, for the singles' championship, in two fast games 21 to 8 and 21 to 12. The tournament aroused considerable interest and promises to be an annual event.

The results of the outdoor all-university track meet were gratifying to Coach Leonard Frank despite the small number of the competitors. He had expected 100 men to compete, but was disappointed in that but fifty took part. Some of the events lacked interest, because there were few entries, but on the whole, the competition was fast and exciting. John Martin, a freshman, starred by winning two firsts and two seconds in the hurdles and dashes. Lindeberg and Spink of the varsity each captured a first. The work of Wallace in the mile was specially commendable, for although this is his first year of competition, he is making fast time. Two Minnesota records were shattered. In an exhibition two-mile race, Fred Watson lowered the university record by 3 3-5 seconds, when he covered the eight laps in 9:51. His time for the first mile was 4:48. The work of Fournier, of football fame, loomed up in the hammer, when he heaved the weight 131 feet, making a new record. The interfraternity relay race was won by Phi Delta Theta, in the fast time of 1:27 against a small field.

Baseball Team Hoodooed.

Thus far a hoodoo has followed the baseball team in its conference schedule. After leading the game with Illinois for seven innings, the varsity baseball team was tied in the eighth and beaten in the ninth by a 4 to 3 score at Champaign. The game was fast and very closely contested until the ninth inning when Roen's support failed him, and Illinois came home with the deciding run. The team left for Evanston, Ill., where they were beaten by the speedy Northwestern team by a score of 6 to 2 in six innings, the game being called on account of rain. On Tuesday afternoon, the team played the last game of its first trip and was again beaten by Chicago by a score of 5 to 2. On Thursday afternoon, the team partially redeemed itself by a victory of 3 to 2 over Macalester on Northrop field. In the event of fine weather, a large crowd is expected at the Chicago game this afternoon at Minneapolis.

William McAlmon of the university football squad, may be the next football coach of North Dakota university, his name is now being considered by the board of athletic control.

OBJECTS TO WHITE VS. BLACK FIGHTS.

London, Eng., May 2.—Because the home office indicated to the promoter its strong dislike of matches between white and negro pugilists, the projected fight between "Gunboat" Smith and Sam Langford, set for June 30, has been declared off.

FOREIGNERS ENTERING SPEEDWAY CONTEST.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 2.—Thirty-seven cars, of which eleven are of foreign make, had been nominated for the fourth annual 500-mile automobile race at the local speedway on May 30, when the entry list closed last night.

France, winner of last year's contest, has six entries this year. England, Italy, Germany and Belgium will also be represented.

Among the famous drivers who have entered are Goux, who won last year; Joe Dawson, who finished first in 1911; Burman, Oldfield, Anderson, Cooper, Brasse, Tetzlaff, De Palma, Mulford, Chassagne, Christiaens, Guyot, Boillot and Grant.

CUTLER IS MATCHED TO MEET WESTERGAARD HERE

Famous Chicago Heavyweight Wrestler and the Gigantic Des Moines Swede Will Meet in Finish Match at Auditorium May 12.

Harry E. Pierce, the well-known theatrical manager of this city, returned from Chicago yesterday with the announcement that he had secured the consent of Charles Cutler to wrestle Jess Westergaard a finish match in this city on the evening of Tuesday, May 12, for the American heavyweight championship.

This is the contest that the Globe Athletic club of Chicago had practically cinched until local promoters interested themselves in the venture and succeeded, as the announcement of the big contest indicates, in securing one of the biggest matches that has been made in the last year.

For months there has been a dispute waged as to the supremacy of these two giants of the mat. When here last winter Manager Oscar Thorson claimed that his man Westergaard was eager for the opportunity to show the followers of the game that he was the undisputed master of all the American-trained wrestlers.

While Cutler was here, en route to Chicago from the Northwest, he made the statement that his defeat of Fristensky and the gigantic Hovlik of Iowa, as well as a long string of other opponents, had convinced him that he was in the best condition of his life.

Shortly after this, Cutler was taken ill. He quickly recovered from his illness and has been in training for over three weeks for the contest that will be fought out at the Auditorium arena.

Westergaard Favors Duluth.

It required persuasion and financial inducements of extraordinary nature to gain the consent of Cutler to wrestle here. The former Minnesota boy held out for Chicago until the very last. It was the desire of Westergaard to wrestle the contest here that has made it possible for the Zenith City to land one of the real contests of the year.

To prevent any possible injury to either of the big mat warriors, the ring at the Auditorium will be reinforced and the strands of ropes on the posts increased. The arena will be roped in in such a manner that it will be next to impossible for either of the wrestlers to be hurled through the side of the ring.

In the face of the dope there is little to choose between the two contenders for the American title. Westergaard will climb in the Auditorium ring at the weight figure of 225 pounds, and Cutler is expected to scale at 228 ringside.

From the standpoint of speed and science there is little difference in the two men. Cutler was the sparring partner of Jack Johnson for two years, and during this time the big Chicagoan learned a lot of speedy and effective footwork. For another year he worked out on the mat daily with Yussiff Mahmout, and it was from the wonderful Bulgarian that Charley learned the real science of the mat.

In the last two years Westergaard has probably made more mat progress than any wrestler in the game. Jess got his real start when he helped prepare Frank Gotch for the Hackenschmidt match. His improvement since then has been really marvelous. The big Des Moines Swede stands today as one of the real great wrestlers of the world.

From every angle considered the contest should be a grand one; in fact, about the very best that has been brought to the Head of the Lakes since the game has thrived here, Karl Lehto will meet some good man in the windup.

GREAT YEAR FOR BOWLERS

Final Standings of Major League Show Ability of Pin Men.

The final standings of the bowling teams of the Major league and the individual players demonstrate the quality of the play that has marked the season that came to an end during the week.

Whitney, the leader in the individual averages, rolled twenty-two games during the season over the 200 mark, which is rolling some.

Otterson hung up the remarkable record of 657 for three games and also hauled down the high score for one game of 267.

A glance at the final scores of the season will show the followers of the pin game that the local players have made a steady advance and, furthermore, that the season just brought to an end has marked greater progress in the game than any year in the previous history of the pin sport.

Following are the complete final standings of the Major league for the season:

BIG SHOOT TO BE HELD HERE

The Northwestern Gun club of this city will hold a championship shoot for the best marksmen of the Northwest at the club grounds, Sunday, June 14.

It was announced today that in addition to the entrance fees the club will donate a substantial purse. The money is hung up by the club for the purpose of bringing to Duluth some of the cracks of the country, who will go after the special prizes that will be hung up by the club.

The June meet will, according to present plans, be the largest ever held at the Head of the Lakes and should bring to the targets some of the wizards of the gun.

There will be a shoot at the club grounds tomorrow, weather permitting.

SOX SQUAD IS DIVIDED

Regulars Will Play Appleton and Yannigans at Oshkosh Sunday.

Oshkosh, Wis., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Commander O'Brien has split his White Sox and will send the regulars to Appleton and keep the yannigans here. By dividing his troupe the Orator figures that he can give his men more work, and it is work that the members of the squad need.

Mark Freer, cast adrift by Curtis of Winnipeg, has caught on with the Sox. The newcomer hit at a .225 gait for the Peggers and outfielded at the rate of .912. Freer is said to be fast on the bases and a generally valuable man.

O'Brien announced today that he had some deals hanging fire that if consummated would bring several more players to the roster of the White Sox. Just what players he is angling for the White Hose leader refused to state.

"I open away from Duluth," said O'Brien, "and if we come home with a percentage of .500 or better I will be very well satisfied with my team. The boys look good, but as the team stands today the members of the squad are woefully in need of work. The bad weather has prevented us getting a line on the different candidates for the team."

Following is the lineup of the two teams, the regulars and yannigans, that will play Oshkosh and Appleton tomorrow:

Regulars—Brennan, 3b; Young, 1b; Swanson, ss; O'Brien, zb; Westhalm, lf-p; Grina, cf-p; Sweeley, c; Cunningham, rf-p; Leathey, p-cf; Blancke, p.

Yannigans—Brackett, cf; Detrick, 3b; Phillips, lf; McGuff, 1b; Edmunds, 2b; Goff, c; Stanley, rf; Woods, p; Schrenk, p.

CUP DEFENSE YACHT STARTS TRIAL RACES

Resolute Begins Demonstration, Sailing Under Excellent Conditions—Lipton's New Boat Said to Be Wonder.

Bristol, R. I., May 2.—Clear skies and light airs gave the new cup defense yacht Resolute excellent conditions for her initial sailing trials today.

The tars were early on deck, spreading out the running rigging and hauling the big mainsails out on the booms.

A number of the after-deck crew of the Resolute came down last night and spent the night on the tender Cape Cod with Manager R. W. Emmons, II., and his amateur helmsman, Charles Francis Adams, II. Nathaniel Herreshoff, the designer, also was on board.

London, May 2.—Shamrock IV., Sir Thomas Lipton's new challenger for the American cup, described by those who have seen her as the most wonderful boat of her kind ever built, is to be launched on May 25. Her trial races will begin the first week in June and continue until the middle of July, principally on the Solent.

The new challenger is said to be entirely original in design and to combine many new and novel features.

CUBAN EDITORS IN SWORD DUEL.

Havana, May 2.—Dr. Carlos Garrido, editor of La Prensa, and Antonio Iraizos, editor of La Noche, fought a duel with swords here yesterday. Senor Iraizos was seriously wounded in the chest. The dispute which led to the encounter arose from the points of view maintained by these two newspapers concerning the trial of Ernesto Asbert, former governor of the province of Havana, for the murder of Chief of Police Armando Riva in 1912.

OLD CORNELL HAS MADE GREAT ROWING RECORD

The Ithacans Lead All American Colleges in the Number of Points Scored in the Big Intercollegiate Races.

Pittsburg, May 2.—That the record of the Cornell university crews is phenomenal nearly every one who is at all interested in college rowing knows, but there are few who realize just how marked that superiority is. The Intercollegiate Rowing association was organized in 1895 and held its first regatta in Poughkeepsie in that year. In all fifty-two races have been held by this association since its inception, and Cornell has been victorious in thirty-four. In other words, although ten colleges have rowed under the auspices of the Intercollegiate association at one time or another, Cornell has won two-thirds of all the victories.

The analysis of this record is the more interesting at the present time because of the revelation by Charles E. Courtney, the veteran Cornell coach and the one man who more than any other is responsible for Cornell's wonderful rowing victories, of the way in which he discovered the principles of the stroke which since 1895 has been the earmark of all Cornell crews. Since the change in the stroke Cornell has stamped its name on collegiate rowing records so indelibly that it will be years before it is superseded.

The consistency with which Cornell crews have shown the way to all other crews is best illustrated by the fact that in the fifty-two races in which it has rowed since the discovery of the new stroke the Cornelian has flashed to the front thirty-four times, has been second eleven times, third five times, fourth once and fifth once. Not one of Cornell's closest rivals has a record which can compare with this.

Syracuse in total number of races won stands next, with eight victories; then comes the University of Pennsylvania, with six; Wisconsin, with two, and Columbia, with two. Four other crews have won just a trifle more than half as many races as Cornell, and five others which have rowed at Poughkeepsie at one time or another failed to win at all.

By tabulating the records of all the Cornell crews that have rowed at Poughkeepsie, and including also the race of 1898, which was rowed at Saratoga, it is found that the Cornell varsity eight has maintained an average position at the finish of 1.53, while the four has been 1.53 and the freshman eight 1.55, or a grand average of 1.54.

The relative average positions of the varsity eights in the nineteen races at Poughkeepsie is shown by the following table:

Crew—	W.	2	3	4	5	6	7	A. P.
Cornell	12	4	3	..	..	..	..	1.53
Columbia	1	6	5	6	3	1	..	3.26
Pennsylvania	3	2	5	4	3	2	..	3.42
Syracuse	3	1	2	3	4	..	1	3.54
Wisconsin	..	5	2	1	3	2	..	3.68
Georgetown	..	1	1	1	2	3	..	4.62

Harvard, Annapolis, Washington and Stanford have each rowed once. Harvard was second in 1896, Annapolis third in 1907, Stanford sixth in 1912 and Washington third in 1913.

Columbia and Wisconsin have figured as the contenders more often than any of the other crews, and it is because of Columbia's remarkable string of second places, added to under the coaching of Jim Rice, that the Morning Heights crew stands so high. Columbia won the varsity race in 1895, its first and only victory. It is a coincidence that Cornell, Columbia and Pennsylvania, the three colleges to organize the Intercollegiate association, stand at the top in the records of the varsity races.

Fours and Freshmen.

It goes without saying that Cornell leads in the number of races won in the varsity fours with a string of 10 victories, three second places, one third and one fourth. Syracuse is next, with three firsts, four seconds, one third and one sixth. The others in order are Columbia, four seconds, seven thirds and three fourths; Wisconsin, four thirds, two fourths and one fifth; Georgetown, one fifth, and Washington, one fifth. By bringing in the hypothetical average again, Cornell has a position of 1.33; Syracuse of 2.22; Columbia, 2.99; Pennsylvania, .3; Wisconsin, .4.

In the freshman race Cornell's superiority is demonstrated again. The Ithacans have to their credit twelve first places, four seconds, one third and one fifth. Syracuse shows the way to the others with two victories, five seconds, four thirds and two fourths. Then comes Wisconsin, with two victories, three seconds, two thirds, two fourths and two fifths; Columbia, with one victory, four seconds, four thirds, six fourths and three fifths, and Pennsylvania with one victory, one second, six thirds, four fourths and four fifths. Harvard's freshman crew was second in 1896. The average positions among the freshmen therefore is: Cornell, 1.55; Syracuse, 2.46; Wisconsin, 2.91; Columbia, 3.22; Pennsylvania, 3.50.

The relative standings of all the crews in all the races gives the following result in table form:

Crew.	W.	2	3	4	5	6	7	A.P.
Cornell	34	11	5	1	1	.	.	1.53
Syracuse	8	10	7	4	4	1	1	2.80
Columbia	2	14	14	15	5	1	.	3.19
Pennsyl'ia.	6	7	17	13	7	2	.	3.27
Wisconsin.	2	8	5	8	5	2	.	3.40
Georget'n	.	1	1	1	2	4	.	4.77

Harvard won 2 seconds, Annapolis 1 third, Washington 1 third and Stanford 1 sixth. This table and the one above do not include the records of the Cornell-Harvard-Yale race rowed at Poughkeepsie one week before the regular intercollegiate regatta.

How Courtney Found Stroke.

The story of how Courtney evolved the Cornell stroke is an interesting one, the more so because it tends to disprove the oft-repeated assertion that Courtney developed the present-day stroke after the trip which the Cornell crew took to England in 1895, when it rowed a very high stroke and was badly beaten. In Courtney's own words the stroke was worked out before the Cornell eight went to England, having had its inception in the crew room at Cornell in 1894, where it was worked out by Courtney and Thomas Hall, captain and stroke of the Cornell crew in 1894.

This is how Courtney tells the story:

"I had suspected for a long time that we were not getting all the power out of the stroke that we ought to. One day I talked with Tom Hall about it and asked him if there wasn't some machine in Sibley college that could be used to show us just how the power was being applied in the pull of the oar. He said there was, the dynamometer, and he borrowed it. We rigged it on one side of the rowing machine in the crew room. It had a recording pan, which marked a curve on a sheet of paper as the power it measured increased or fell off.

"Right there I learned more in 15 minutes about rowing than I had in 15 years before. We found that there was a break in the middle of the pull, caused by a pause in the body swing at the moment the side was started. We had been starting the leg drive after beginning the pull with the arms. The curve made by the recording pen went up and then down and then up again, showing clearly a loss of power just before the middle of the stroke. We experimented and found that we must start the leg drive and the body swing together at the very catch of the oar and carry them through together. In that way we got a single regular curve on the paper, like a wide letter U upside down, showing that we were getting the maximum power in the middle of the stroke, where it ought to be.

CHANGE IN POSITIONS HAS MADE SOME REAL STARS

Wagner, Lajoie, Collins and Wallace Are Among Luminaries of Baseball Who Have Been Switched With Great Benefit.

Philadelphia, May 2.—The de luxe work of Bobby Byrne, a former third baseman, at second base on the Phils' inner works, has been a spring sensation. Yet it is nothing new for a capable infielder to make good after being transferred to a new point on the infield.

Hans Wagner, who for many years has been the shortstop and prop of the Pittsburg team, never started his career in that position, writes James C. Isaminger in the North American. When he joined the Louisville team back in 1897 he was an outfielder. Subsequently he was switched to second base and first base.

In 1901 he had his first experience as shortstop in Pittsburg and in that season and the next he roved from short, first to the outfield. It was not until 1903 that the portfolio was turned over to the flying Dutchman as a fixed post, and he adorned the job as no other shortstop ever did.

Wagner is still good enough to play the position, and as long as he is able to use two legs he probably will be found at the spot.

Nap Lajoie, who is Wagner's twin in fame, is still covering second base for Cleveland and is the same graceful performer as he was in years gone by. But Larry never started as a second baseman. When he joined the Phils in 1893 he was a first baseman. He played thirty-nine games that season. The next year he played both first base and an outfield position.

It was in 1898 that Lajoie was told to guard the keystone sack, and he has been following that occupation virtually ever since. In 1911 Lajoie went back to first base again, but Cleveland soon found it was a costly experiment, as the switch weakened the team at second. Lajoie is again absorbing grounders at the midway station this season and, like Wagner, has a lien on the position.

Wallace's Shifts.

Rhody Wallace is still good enough to intercept base hits on the St. Louis American league team's shortstop field. He is the last survivor of a great Brown race that included Powell, Burkett, Stone, Howell, Brown, Hemphill and several others.

Wallace began his major league career eighteen years ago, the year Lajoie broke in. He wasn't a shortstop then, not even an infielder. He was a member of the Cleveland team's pitching staff. Cleveland in those days was in the National league. Its manager was Pat Tebeau, a leader of much force and ability.

One season "Chippy" McCarr, the veteran third baseman of the team, had a lame arm, and as Tebeau was short of material he had to press a pitcher into action. He needed Young and Cuppy for regular work on the mound, so he had to choose from one of his younger curvers. He picked Wallace, and it was the greatest stroke of fortune he ever made, for in a month Wallace was heralded the wonder of baseball.

Harry Weldon, sporting editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, one of the best known of the old school of sporting writers, dubbed him "Wonderful Wallace," and the name stuck to him for years.

Later in his career Wallace was switched for the second time. He was sent to shortstop, and once again he was equal to the change, for in his new position he won even greater fame than as a third baseman. Wallace is not as nimble as he used to be, and last season he was on the bench most of the time while the Browns experimented with youths.

Branch Rickey soon found, however, that he couldn't find anybody as dependable as Wallace, and this spring he restored his old post to him. "And he's there to stay," declared Rickey.

Swap of Mackmen.

Eddie Collins, the king of second basemen, at first never thought he was destined to shine in the position. He started with Connie Mack as a shortstop and it is only truth to say that he did not exactly make fans forget Hans Wagner.

He was also tried in left field with varying success. It was not until 1909, the season that Shibe park opened, that Collins found his true forte. Mack made one of the shrewdest moves of his life when he sent young Collins from right field to second base and Danny Murphy from second base to right field.

Collins became the best second baseman in the country, and Murphy, who was going back as an infielder, had a new lease of life as an outfielder. Dan played topnotch ball until he broke his ankle at the White Sox park in 1912.

Charley Herzog is trying a new position this season, in addition to the managerial post that he is filling for the first time. According to reports from Cincinnati, Charles is making good in Joe Tinker's old patch. Herzog has been a third baseman most of the time in these days in New York and Boston.

Larry Gardner has made good in two infield positions. When he came out with the Boston team, it was as a second baseman. He covered the position with distinction, but in 1912 he was moved to third base, where he repeated the success.

Dick Egan, late of Cincinnati and now a member of the Brooklyn team, is another rover. His position has always been second base, but when the joined the Dodgers he found that second base was filled and shortstop vacant. Manager Robinson, of course, assigned him to the short field, where he has been doing exceedingly well.

Heine Zimmerman has been a second baseman and third baseman for the Cubs, and this season he is trying to extend his versatility to shortstop.

PERSONALITY IN FIGURES

When Business Falls Off, Try Changing Your Telephone Number.

New York Sun: Is your business falling off?

Try changing your telephone number. Perhaps your clients of your customers can't remember it. Perhaps they can't say it so it will be understood.

Certain employes of the New York Telephone company make the study of numbers a part of their day's work. And it pays both the company and the client.

There are always a few fussy folks who are hard to suit in telephone numbers. They want them made to their personal order, like their clothes. The company is only too glad to do this when it is possible, but mostly it isn't. The company has to divide its thousands of clients into groups, arranging them so as to give the quickest and most nearly accurate service possible to all. In the busy exchanges every girl has to act daily as the medium of a thousand conversations. If personal fancies dictated the arrangement of the numbers, this would be impossible.

A few subscribers object to the number "18" in any combination, but not nearly so many as one would expect to find. Others want their telephone numbers to be the same as house or office addresses. Of course there is about one chance in a thousand that this can be arranged. A good many ask for numbers without giving any reason—they simply have "a feeling" that those are good numbers.

And the majority of new subscribers are wise enough to leave the number itself to the company. The commonest form of request is, "Give me a good number." Now, a "good" number is one that is easy to remember and hard to misunderstand. A number with a repeated figure in it seems to have some advantages, especially if the two like figures are separated, as in 6164. But such details must always be arranged within the more important general rules.

An old, well-known number is a business asset highly valued by most firms. Sometimes a subscriber's trade will expand so that he keeps adding one, two or three numbers till there are ten or a dozen in his switchboard. It is very desirable that these should be in consecutive order at the company's exchange. Every such row is tied together by a line underneath so that the operator can choose a free wire quickly from the whole group. But in cases where it is impossible to place the original number in such a line, the firm will often retain the first for incoming business and have some of the later ones changed to make a consecutive group. Certain numbers have been held in this way for twenty years or more. They are cherished like the original doorplate or sign put up by the founder.

MANY TEAMS COME INTO DULUTH AMATEUR LEAGUE

BY BRUCE.

At a meeting of the Duluth Amateur Baseball association, held last evening at the Kelley Hardware company's store, the B class division of the league was completed by the securing of six of the fastest of the next to the best baseball teams of the city for that branch of the league.

The Sorensons, Steel Plants, Fitwell Intermediates, Arnolds, Kelley Hardwares and Lakesides will make up this division of the league.

One of the features of the league promises to be a high school division, with the high schools of the Head of the Lakes competing for the championship of Duluth and Superior. Coach Schilling of Duluth is enthusiastic over the idea and has stated that he will take immediate steps toward the organization of the high schools.

The best teams of the city will form the Class A division of the league. The Fitwells, the Woodlands, Y. M. S., the Moose, the Big Duluths and possibly the Elks' lodge team will play in this division.

With the success of the league practically assured, the officers of it are endeavoring to get all of the teams of the city lined up. In addition to the two higher divisions it is planned to have the smaller teams of the city come under the banner of the governing body. It is especially desired that the smaller teams of Duluth ally themselves with the league, and it was announced last evening that in the event of the graded school league entering the field the league would be glad of the opportunity of assisting in its organization.

It might be stated here with benefit to all of the managers of the city that the object of the Duluth Amateur Baseball association, as it is the aim and purpose of all of the amateur baseball associations in the various cities of the country that have come in under the national league, is simply to place amateur baseball upon an organized basis.

It is the desire of the league officials to arbitrate disputes, provide competent umpires, deal fairly with all teams and assist in every way in the promotion of the game, as well as secure parks and donations from the city. When this idea of the league has been thoroughly germinated it would be well for those mangers of Duluth teams wishing better ball under more advanteous conditions to cooperate in bringing about this much desired result.

HOLDING TRACK MEET.

Missouri University and Iowa State College in Contest.

Columbia, Mo., May 2.—With the outdoor strength of both teams uncertain, the University of Missouri and the Iowa State college met in a dual track meet here today. The constituents of each team declared the cool wave lessened its chances of victory.

Coach Ned Merriam of the Ames school, brought nineteen cinder path men here in an effort to defeat the Missouri Tigers. This morning Floy, the local pole vaulter, was in poor condition, not having fully recovered from a fever he recently suffered, but he declared he would enter the contest.

Missouri counted on Capt. Thatcher to score in the weight events. Ames felt equally certain that Wilson and Kaiser, the Iowan sprinters, would take the middle distance events.

The program included: 100, 220, 440, 880 yards, mile and two mile runs, high hurdles, low hurdles, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, shot put, discus throw, mile and half mile relays.

A new lightship, with a 40,000-candle power light (the largest in the world) and an improved foghorn device, has been placed at Mersey bar, near Liverpool, Eng.

Rents in Hong-Kong have advanced 25 per cent since the Chinese revolution.

CANOE UPSETS; ONE DROWNED

John Skerjanz of Ely Loses Life in White Iron Lake.

His Companion Manages to Swim to Shore After Accident.

Ely, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Skerjanz was drowned while fishing yesterday afternoon in White Iron lake, about six miles east of here. He and John Seliskar of Ely were fishing from a canoe when it is thought both had a fish at the same time and in drawing them in the canoe was upset and both thrown into the water.

Seliskar swam ashore. Skerjanz swam about sixty feet when he went down and his companion was unable to rescue him.

Injury Prevented Swimming.

About eight years ago Skerjanz was shot accidentally through the shoulder and has been somewhat lamed, so yesterday he was unable to save himself.

The accident took place near the bridge at 3 o'clock and the body was recovered late in the evening. Skerjanz was about 27 years of age and leaves three brothers in Wisconsin. Funeral arrangements await word from the brothers.

MANKATOANS BUY ITASCA PROPERTY

Deer River, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Last Wednesday a deal was closed by E. E. Tankersley, the local land dealer, for 480 acres of land scattered through five townships, north of here. The purchasers were Daniel Leins and Charles Engel of Mankato. They will move here shortly with their farm outfits and occupy some of the choicest selections. The balance of the land will be occupied by friends and relatives residing at Mankato.

Mrs. J. D. MacDonald and son, Kenneth, went to Superior Monday to remain several weeks on a visit.

The great amount of freight received at this station has made it necessary for the Great Northern road to build a house track at the depot for the better handling of freight at the warehouse. The work of laying the track is now going on.

C. P. De Bolt of Jessie Lake was in town this week preparing to close up his farm business, and Mrs. De Bolt will move to Long Prairie, while Mr. De Bolt will remain in Deer River for the season.

Deputy U. S. Marshal George Mallory was transacting official business in this village Thursday.

William Hoffstead, solicitor for The Herald, was here Thursday and Friday increasing his list of readers.

Want Steel Tank.

The village council last night called for bids for the construction of a steel tank for the cistern at the pumping station. The tank is to be twenty-two feet deep.

The Deer River Lumber company's sawmill, employing 260 men, will start up for the season's run next week.

A slight change in the running time of the day trains on the Great Northern, to go into effect Sunday, will leave but half an hour between the east and west trains here.

BUHL NEWS NOTES.

Senior Class Play Participants Go to Virginia for Pointers.

Buhl, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The cast of the senior class play, "Dan Cupid, Head Coach," to be given at the local high school auditorium May 22 under the direction of Miss Cora Dorsey, will attend the production of this play to be given by the senior students of the Virginia high school. The object in doing this is to give the local Thespians an opportunity to make a more careful study of the play.

The senior and junior classes of the high school tendered a farewell party at the high school Wednesday evening for Miss Anna Rian, a student who is leaving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Rian, for an extended trip and visit to Norway.

The address given by W. J. Boyle, candidate for congress from this district, at the village hall brought out a large crowd and proved very interesting.

Mrs. G. Hoyle of Butte, Mont., arrived Monday and with Mr. Hoyle and their son are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kinsman. Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle may make Buhl their future home.

F. A. Nichols, wire chief for the telephone company of Duluth, was in the village Monday.

E. L. Johnson of Duluth called on business acquaintances here Wednesday.

Mrs. Dan Kinsman, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. G. Hoyle, were shoppers at Hibbing Wednesday.

Frederick Bordleau of Hibbing was here Wednesday in the interests of the telephone company.

Mark Elliott of Virginia was in the village and vicinity Tuesday looking after his interests.

S. S. Williamson is in the village looking after business matters.

Village Attorney Thad Bean was a business visitor at Hibbing Thursday.

Walter Fa France of Chisholm was in the village Thursday.

ELECTED VILLAGE CLERK AT BIWABIK

IRAN ROSS GILPATRICK.

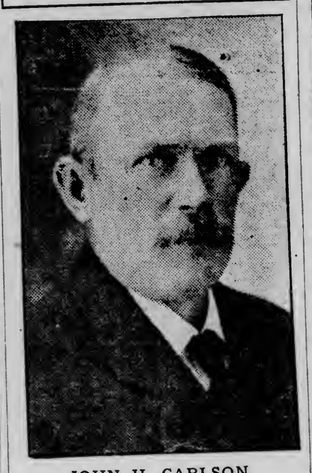
Biwabik, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Iran Ross Gilpatrick, who was elected village clerk by the village council Thursday night, to succeed the late J. E. Riley, has lived here since Sept. 1, 1901, and was assistant postmaster and postmaster for twelve years, being succeeded in the latter position Jan 1, last by Judge H. H. Salmon. The council also appointed Thomas Mattson night watchman and gave Joseph Robinson the scavenger and street sprinkling work.

Mayor Richards said that he had just been assured by the St. Louis Power company that the erection of the pole line from Gilbert to Biwabik will be started at once.

The council decided to at once begin the proceedings necessary for the construction of cement sidewalks in the residence sections of the village.

It was decided to instruct both the day and night police to be more active in enforcing a number of laws.

NASHWAUK MAN WILL SEEK SHERIFF'S JOB



JOHN H. CARLSON.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—John H. Carlson of this village will be a candidate for sheriff of Itasca county and will file next week. Mr. Carlson has been prominent in political circles in the county and in the village of Nashwauk for the past ten years. He has been village clerk for four successive terms, is now serving his second term as village trustee and resigned a month ago as secretary of the Nashwauk water and light commission. Mr. Carlson is at present engaged in sinking a shaft for the water and light commission and expects to complete this job in a few days when he will get into the political game. Mr. Carlson is also an agricultural enthusiast and owns two farms, one near Alborn and another is located one mile south of Nashwauk. As Sheriff T. T. Riley was elected from Nashwauk it is believed that Mr. Carlson will make a creditable showing against his opponents, Charles Gunderson and Mike Stapleton.

RANGE PROBATION OFFICER'S REPORT

Hibbing, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The report of C. E. Everett, range probation officer for the quarter ending April 30, shows an increase in the number on parole in both the district and juvenile courts.

In the district court there were eighteen on parole at the beginning of the quarter; seven were received, one absconded, one was discharged and two had their paroles revoked leaving twenty at the end of the quarter. In juvenile court there were thirty-six on parole at the beginning of the quarter and thirty-seven at the end.

There were ten delinquent petitions filed, involving ten children and eight dependent petitions involving twenty-two children.

The disposition of cases show that eight were placed on parole, one committed to the state school for girls at Sauk Center, one to Red Wing, where the boys' school is located, six to the public school at Owatonna, three to the Children's home at Duluth and six discharged from parole. There are four cases pending from the quarters work and eighteen from previous reports.

Five Mothers Pensioned.

The number of mothers granted pensions totalled five affecting fourteen children with $6.92 as the average per child. There was one pension revoked, the father having been discharged from the insane asylum. This affected five children at an average of $7.50 per child. One pension was increased affecting two children and making an increase per child of $2.50.

The leading offenses charged in district court were one for selling liquor to minors; two for grand larceny first degree and four for assault in the third degree. In juvenile court six were charged with improper relations, three with being incorrigible, one with truancy and twenty-two as dependants.

The cases prosecuted in range court were two for selling liquor to minors; one for selling tobacco to minors. Mr. Everett was called to Buhl once and to Chisholm once to appear in justice court cases.

RANGE MUNICIPAL MEET.

Buhl to Be Host to New Organization Next Friday Evening.

Buhl, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Invitations have been sent out to the various officials of the range villages requesting their attendance at the initial meeting of the proposed League of Mesaba Range Municipalities to be held at the village hall next Friday afternoon and evening. President W. J. Doyle and the other members of his official family are putting forth every effort to give the visitors a royal welcome and reception while they are here. Among other things planned, is a fine supper to be served in the village hall by the ladies of the Buhl Catholic Church Aid society.

ALUMNI WILL MEET AT CHISHOLM.

Hibbing, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorney D. T. Collins, one of the enthusiastic alumni of the University of Minnesota, has received a letter from F. E. Downing, secretary of the Chisholm committee announcing that the alumni meeting this year will be held on May 29 at Chisholm. A banquet is to be served the visitors.

Telephone Girl Hurt.

Buhl, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Margaret Cummings, night telephone operator, while going downstairs from the telephone office, tripped and fell the entire distance to the first floor, sustaining several wrenches and sprains that will necessitate her remaining at home for several days. Violet Harris of Chisholm is in charge of the office during Miss Cummings' absence.

Hibbing Social Notes.

Hibbing, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church are holding their monthly bake sale at the Island Farm creamery this afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. R. W. Weeding entertained the Scandinavian whist club at her home in Alice. The rooms were prettily decorated with potted plants and ferns. Four tables of cards were played the honors going to Mrs. Hans Hanson, Mrs. Yachie and Mrs. Jake Messner. At 5 o'clock a luncheon was served.

Mrs. George Lamson and sister, Miss Lorena Hatto, went to Duluth for a short visit as the guests of friends.

Mrs. James Geary and son, Marcus, motored to Virginia yesterday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wagy.

CLAIMS PLAINTIFF WAS CONTRACTOR

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Court adjourned here Thursday evening until May 10 after a two months' grind, during which practically all the calendar was cleaned up.

An interesting case tried before Judge Wright was that of George Robstad, a tie-maker, to recover the amounts prescribed by the compensation act for injuries he received, from the Minnesota Cedar & Tie company of Deer River, by whom he was employed as a piece-maker.

Robstad had been employed by the company for about six weeks when he accidentally cut the big toe of his left foot. Blood poisoning set in. He requested the company to remit to him the amount allowed him under the compensation act and the company refused on the grounds that he was an independent contractor, working on piece work at so much per piece, and that in so doing he was carrying his own risk. The court took the matter under advisement and has requested the attorneys to submit briefs.

Another like case, that of Henry Hyvonen against the Minnesota Cedar & Logging company, was up for trial, but the plaintiff could not prove that he was employed by the defendant company and the matter was dismissed upon motion of the plaintiff's counsel.

GRANT MINE IS SHIPPING ORE.

Buhl, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Grant mine started the 1914 shipping season on Tuesday and is shipping a fair number of cars daily. It is believed that shipments will be increased shortly.

Married in Oregon.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—It has just been learned that D. S. Troutt, an Iron Range conductor, was married a short time ago in Grandview, Or., to Miss Elizabeth Wilson of that city. The couple are at present in Galatea, Mont., where Mr. Troutt took up a homestead a short time ago. They are expected to come to Two Harbors very soon, when Mr. Troutt will resume his duties for the summer with the company.

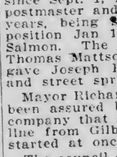
COLDER



Summer weather struck Duluth today and many men went not only without overcoats but without vests. None tempted fate by wearing straw hats, but a good many felt like it. Dick Cullen appeared in a bright red cap and German socks after an absence of months, and some blame the sudden change in temperature on this. Cooler weather is promised, and Sunday may be showery.

Rain fell a year ago today. The sun rose this morning at 4:50 and will set this evening at 7:19, giving fourteen hours and twenty-nine minutes of sunshine, three minutes more than yesterday. The fifteen-hour day will be reached on the 13th.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four hours light to heavy rains fell over Nebraska, South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Northern Texas, Western Oklahoma and Kansas. Heavy rain occurred at Dodge City, Kan. The temperature has risen in nearly all districts.

General Forecasts.

Chicago May 2.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 a. m. Sunday:

Wisconsin—Generally fair in east, unsettled in west portion tonight and Sunday, probably showers; slowly rising temperature.

Minnesota—Unsettled weather tonight and Sunday, probably showers.

Iowa—Unsettled weather tonight and Sunday, probably showers; warmer tonight and in east portion Sunday.

North and South Dakota—Generally fair in extreme west, unsettled in east and central portions tonight and Sunday, with probably showers.

Montana—Generally fair tonight and Sunday; cooler in north and west portions tonight.

Lower Michigan—Fair and warmer tonight; Sunday increasing cloudiness.

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight; warmer in east and south portions; Sunday increasing cloudiness.

PARENTS' DAY PROGRAMS

Eveleth, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yesterday was parents' day at the Lincoln school and Lincoln annex and a large number of visitors were entertained.

THREE COURSES OPEN TO HIBBING

Hibbing, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The ruling of Judge Dancer in district court yesterday in the action involving Hibbing's acquirying the state and Arthur Mining company's land south of the village for waterworks purposes to the effect that the village cannot acquire the property by condemnation because it is operating under the 1885 village act and not the 1905 act was discussed by the council last night and it was decided to take other steps to acquire the property. There are three courses open: Try and settle with the state and mining company; appoint a justice of the peace to have proceedings started or to vote on reincorporating the village under the 1905 act before taking further steps.

The ruling has tied up the matter of going ahead with the big waterwork plan and the village council is anxious to do something forthwith.

It developed at the meeting that additional work must be done on what is known as the McDonnald sewer ditch because of the overflow from the Penobscot creek interfering with the ditch.

To Interview Railroad.

Village Recorder C. D. Haley and Councilman Gusselman left last night for St. Paul where today they will interview the officials of the Northern Pacific road on the village acquiring about half a block of land belonging to the company at First avenue and Mahoning street for a joint village and school athletic ground.

It just developed the railroad owns the land and the scheme is to acquire it and turn it into a bi-athletic field for ball playing and school sports.

EVELETH PLANS ON PARK WORK

Eveleth, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—This city has $20,000 to spend this summer in improving its park system which includes a fine natural park lying on both side of the Miller trunk road between Ely lake and St. Mary's lake, Central park, North End park and the ball grounds.

During the winter dead timber and brush was removed from the natural park, which is two miles from the city, and further improvements will be made this year.

Park Overseer James Spurrier has a crew of men at work grading Central park. A landscape engineer was employed last year to prepare plans for laying out the parks and his directions are being followed this spring.

Four thousand trees, shrubs and plants will be used at the parks this summer. Considerable work has been done in previous years and the city will have a park system of which it can be proud when improvements now under way are completed.

TWO HARBORS CLEANUP.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The board of health has notified all owners and occupants of buildings and premises in the city that pursuant to ordinance No. 95, providing for more effective sanitary regulations and for the removal of garbage and all refuse matter, all premises within the city must be placed in a thoroughly sanitary condition without further notice, before May 10. Any one failing to promptly remove all garbage and refuse of any description from their premises will be subject to prosecution and to a fine not exceeding $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for 90 days.

The board of health states that no exceptions will be made to the requirements of this section of the city ordinance, except as to the keeping of kitchen waste in water-tight metallic cans, provided with air-tight covers; and these must be emptied at frequent intervals.

PREPARE FOR PRIMARY.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Socialists have named all their candidates for Lake county offices before the primary election June 16, and the Non-Partisans have filed all but one or two candidates. The following is the Non-Partisan ticket so far named: County auditor, John P. Paulson, re-election; treasurer, S. C. Holden, re-election; register of deeds, James C. Towne, re-election; sheriff, Emil Nelson, re-election; probate judge, Henry C. At the present time the Socialists hold but one county office, of county attorney. Nelson Hillman, also a Socialist, has been the representative from this district for the past four years.

DULUTHIANS PLEASE.

Ely, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the most successful concerts given here for many years was given last evening by Miss Gladys Reynolds, soprano; Mrs. Louis Dworshak, pianist, and Miss Agnes Mae Johnson, reader, all from Duluth, when the following program was rendered: "Liebestraum," Mrs. Dworshak; "Spinning Song" from "The Flyshak; "Spinning Song" from "The Flying Dutchman," Mrs. Dworshak; reading, "The Substitute," Agnes Mae Johnson; "I Hear a Thrush at Eve," Miss Reynolds; "Du Bist Wie Eine Blume," Miss Reynolds; "Widmung," Miss Reynolds; "Impromptu," Opus 51, Mrs. Dworshak; "Rondo Capriccioso," Mrs. Dworshak; reading, a scene from "Polly of the Circus," Miss Johnson; "Mifanwy," Miss Reynolds; "I Hear You Calling Me," Miss Reynolds; "An Open Secret," Miss Reynolds.

ELY WOMAN PASSES.

Ely, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. James Nankervis died yesterday about noon. For the past seven weeks Mrs. Nankervis had been confined to her home with blood poisoning and for the past two weeks but little hope had been held out for her recovery. Mrs. Nankervis had made her home here for a number of years, where Mr. Nankervis has been in the employ of the Oliver Mining company, for the past few years being mining captain at the Pioneer mine.

She leaves besides the immediate family here, consisting of the husband, two daughters and a son, three sisters and a brother, all residents of the Mesaba range, and a sister in England.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon fro mthe Methodist church at 2:30.

BRIDE FROM ITALY.

Eveleth, Minn., May 2. —(Special to The Herald.)—A romance begun in Italy concluded here when Miss Cesarino De Paulis became the bride of Prospero Santilla. The bride arrived in the city at 10:30 a. m. and the wedding took place at 4 p. m. at 724 Hayes street. Municipal Judge Moylan officiated.

Santilla came to this country several years ago, promising faithfully to send for his sweetheart when circumstances would permit. Neither forgot their promises and this spring she was called across the ocean to become his bride.

UNLICENSED DOGS ARE TO BE SHOT.

Eveleth, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Babich was ordered out with a rifle yesterday by Chief of Police Finnegan to begin making away with unlicensed dogs. Licenses issued a year ago expired May 1 and less than fifty have been renewed.

Warnings have been issued that dogs must bear tags and the officer is under instructions to shoot no dogs when the owner can be located unless there is a refusal to procure licenses so there will be no ruthless slaying of pets.

Andrew Isaacson was given thirty days in the county jail for vagrancy.

STAGELAND

Lyceum

After the remarkable Sunday afternoon performance of "Damaged Goods" before members of the United States congress in Washington last spring, Congressman Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, wrote to Richard Bennett, the star and producer, saying: "The play is timely and in view of the conditions which exist throughout the country and throughout the civilized world at the present time, it assumes a tremendous importance. I sincerely hope it can be given in every large city in the country and it would be of great service to the present and to future generations if it could be given also in the smaller towns."

Mr. Bennett and his original New York company of co-workers will be seen at the Lyceum theater for the last time tonight.

In a bright, and clean musical play, "Marlette," Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, the most talked of woman in the world, will be seen at the Lyceum soon, supported by a big company of artists, under the direction of Emil Agoust of the Alhambra theater, London. Mrs. Thaw comes direct from the tremendous sensation she created at the London Hippodrome and Hammerstein's Victoria theater, New York.

This will be the only opportunity to see Mrs. Thaw as she is shortly to return to London, the scene of her first triumphs, and from there make a tour of the continent for several years.

In addition to "Mariette" a number of American and European divertisements are introduced that are said to be unusual.

Walter S. Baldwin, who is at the head of the syndicate which is to present a series of plays at the Lyceum theater, is one of the best known and most successful theatrical producers in America and he has probably introduced more dramatic novelties to the theater-going public than any other man. Negotiations have been in progress for several seasons between C. A. Marshall of the Lyceum theater and Mr. Baldwin which it was hoped would result in the visit here for a summer season of Mr. Baldwin's chief company. These negotiations have always failed until this year. An arrangement has been entered into, however, under which local theater-goers will not only receive the best of the Baldwin scenic productions but will get some of the most prominent players in stock work in America together with the very best plays obtainable and notwithstanding the expense involved, Mr. Baldwin has successfully contracted with the leading theatrical producers of New York for plays and productions that have been reigning success in that and other cities, for presentation here.

For the opening week starting Sunday matinee, May 17, the New York Hudson theater success, "The Spendthrift," will be the vehicle used to introduce the Baldwin players to the people of Duluth. For the week of May 24, "Alias, Jimmy Valentine;" week May 31, "Madame X;" week June 7, "The Fortune Hunter;" week June 14, "The Man From Home;" week June 21, "The Easiest Way." One can readily see by this excellent list of plays selected for the first six weeks that the engagement promises to be a most notable one, especially when the plays are to be enacted by a company of first-class actors and each production mounted with new and appropriate scenery, elegant stage settings, elaborate electrical and mechanical effects, superb appointments as well as beautiful gowns and handsome costumes. Matinees will be given Sunday, Wednesdays and Saturday of each week.

The work on the new drop curtain for the Lyceum theater is nearing completion and it is expected that it will be installed and in working order one week prior to the opening of the newly decorated Lyceum theater. The scene is Scottish, showing Stirling castle from the Allos road and the famous field of Bannockburn. Stirling is one of the oldest royal burghs in Scotland and is celebrated for the beauty and grandeur of its situation; it occupies a most romantic and beautiful position in the center of Scotland on the narrow neck of land formed by the Firth of Forth and the western hills, causing it to be from the earliest times, a place of great importance. The border framing the picture of the curtain, is to be conventional in design in soft tones of gray to harmonize with the old rose and gray of the interior decorations of the theater.

The interior aspect of the theater is to be entirely changed. The decorations will be as bright and light as it is possible to make them, giving a cheerful atmosphere to the entire auditorium.

The entire work is under the charge of O. W. Wegner, chief artist of the Lyceum Scenic Studio of Duluth.

Orpheum

Next week will be the last week of the regular vaudeville season at the Duluth Orpheum theater.

On Saturday night, May 9, the last performance of vaudeville will be given, and on Sunday, May 10, the theater will be reopened with special films of motion pictures as the attraction. The motion pictures will continue during the summer months until the vaudeville season resumes on Sunday, Aug. 23.

"For months past," said Manager Billings, "and in fact ever since the Duluth theater was first opened there have been reports that it was going to close. I do not know why these reports have been so persistent, but during the last few weeks they have been cropping up again. I would like to deny once for all that the Orpheum is going to close permanently. I have probably made that denial to 100 people in the last six weeks. There is absolutely no truth to the report. The Duluth theater has made money during the season just closing, and it has been the best season to date. Even if we had lost money the lease would still compel the circuit to keep this theater running. The rumors have not hurt us, but they have been so persistent that it has become annoying."

For the last vaudeville bill of the season Orpheum patrons will see one of the best known mind reading performances in the amusement field. It is presented by the Zancigs, who call themselves "two minds with but a single thought." Their work has attracted so much attention that they have been summoned to give special performances before such noted people as the present king and queen of England, the late King Edward VII, the Kaiserine of Germany, William T. Stead, Hon. A. J. Balfour and dozens of other famous statemen and scientists. Their performance consists of thought transmission, and it is said to be astounding.

Second on the bill will be Doris Wilson and company in the original conception "Through the Looking Glass." The company consists of two women and a man, and the act might be called a singing surprise. Miss Wilson and her two sisters look so much alike that they are invariably taken for triplets, and there is a surprise in the act based upon this likeness.

The Gardiner Trio, presenting their society and novelty dances will be third on the closing bill. The trio consists of two young women and a man, and they offer a dancing act that has been very popular over the circuit this season.

Helen Gannon is known as the whistling prima donna, and is said to have a remarkably good voice in addition to her whistling ability. She whistles like a bird, and during her act imitates many kinds of birds. She is reputed to be one of the most beautiful women of the circuit at the present time, and has been one of the most successful of the soloists who have toured the circuit.

Billy Rogers is a musical mimic. He is said to be able to reproduce the exact tones of almost every musical instrument, and also the noises made by various birds and animals. He also possesses a baritone voice, and opens the act with a solo, followed by a concert in which he imitates a cornet, a flute, a mandolin, a banjo and musical glasses.

The two Holman Brothers will offer a comedy bar act. One of the brothers provides the comedy and the other the "straight" work. The act is said to be a very lively turn, with plenty of good comedy.

Gangers' Dogs will offer the seventh act on the bill. The Orpheum has not had a trained animal act in several weeks, and the dogs are expected to make the closing week an attractive one for the children.

The Hearst-Selig Pictural Review and Director Bradbury's Orpheum orchestra will complete the bill, which will continue all week with a daily matinee.

DORIS WILSON
At the Orpheum Next Week.

AT EMPRESS

Few plays have been written, containing more wholesome comedy, and intense interest, than "Human Hearts." These elements are so neatly, and happily blended, that they serve to build a drama that is sure to appeal to all amusement lovers.

Every character is pictured, and drawn from the realities of life, and each is extremely striking when produced on the stage. This play will be seen at the Empress theater for four days starting with matinee performance Sunday, May 3.

A promising vaudeville bill of four acts and three reels of pictures will be offered to Empress theater patrons for three days beginning with the matinee Thursday, May 7. The headline act will be Walter Terry and the Fiji girls in a riotous comedy entitled, "Cannibal Isle." "Cannibal Isle" is a singing and dancing act. The songs are of the very popular kind and the dances range from jigs to the ballroom's latest craze. Walter Terry is a comedian and his jokes and actions are expected to keep the audience in good humor throughout the entire act which will run about thirty minutes. There are six girls with this act. A "single" heralded far and near is Al Abbott, billed as "The Prince of Song" and he lives up to his billing from reports received on his act. He has a line of new and old songs but the feature of his act is his manner of putting his songs over. Thompson and Berry offer a singing and talking skit full of laughs and bright comedy. This pair are said to be able entertainers, and to have a great outlay of fashionable wardrobe making many changes during the act. Their work is of high class and they do not resort to low comedy for laughs. Their patter is rapid and witty. Rand's Musical Dogs will round out the vaudeville acts. The dogs are well trained and do their many feats at the simple raising of their master's head.

The feature film for this vaudeville program is "The Silent Witness" a Broncho drama of modern office life in which the dictaphone plays an important part.

AT THE REX

"The Girl of Mystery" or "Lucille Love" in the second series of this absorbing love story will open at the Rex Theater with Lucille deserting the hydroplane in mid ocean and making a sensational landing upon the steamship. Grace Cunard, as the spy, passes through dangers that would seem impossible to the average brave man.

A stirring tale of adventure with a real Treasure Island flavor is the fourth episode of "The Perils of Pauline" to be shown at the Rex Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Our Mutual Girl" finds herself "without a decent new thing to wear" so, of course, must visit Lord & Taylor's new shop on Fifth avenue and select a few new evening gowns. And the saucy one meets the world renowned musician, America's most famous conductor-composer and she also plays the leading part in a pretty little romance. Chapter XV at the Rex Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday has an unusual interest and appeal.

Daniel Frohman's Famous Players will be at the Rex Thursday, Friday and Saturday, in "The Brute". There is nothing very ladylike in this title, yet it is said to have the force and punch that make one think. Malcolm Williams, one of the foremost character delineators of the American stage, makes his initial appearance in motion pictures in the title role of "The Brute" a tense modern drama of a strong man's triumph and the clash of wills between a strong man and a weak woman, the climax of which hangs in the balance until he exerts his full physical strength towards the subjugation of the woman.

A special musical program is promised including fine selections on the pipe organ.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

"When Dreams Come True" will close its present season early in May to reopen in September, when the show will head for the Pacific coast.

"The Garden of Allah" has shut up shop after a season that is said to have been most gratifying from a financial point of view. Next season it will play through the South on its way to the Golden Gate.

"Potash and Perlmutter" registered an emphatic success in London. It is claimed to have scored to a greater degree than any American production since "The Belle of New York. A second company is being contemplated to tour the seashore and summer resorts of England.

Vera Michelena is to sing the principal role in the new "Follies."

The Longacre theater has been ordered sold under the hammer by the New York supreme court. The house has been operated by H. H. Frazee ever since it was opened last fall. Starting in with a failure, it next housed "Adele," which was very much to the good. At present another successful venture, "Pair of Sixes," is playing there. The court's order was the result of foreclosure proceedings brought by creditors against the Frazee Realty company.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state at Dover, Del., recently by the Marcus Loew Western circuit. The capitalization is $5,000,000. This is the concern that will operate the Sullivan & Considine circuit, which it has recently taken over.

William A. Brady's "Way Down East" wound up its season of twenty-nine weeks a week ago last night, showing a handsome profit. It played to $60,000 in five weeks in Boston. Plans and bookings for next season have already been made by this old-timer.

* * *

Among the many things which are being rumored on Broadway is a report to the effect that George Tyler will take the Broadway theater, New York, under his wings next season. Marcus Loew holds the least at present, but it will expire the first of next month.

Last Monday Elsie Janis made her debut in London in a new musical revue, called "The Passing Show."

Ethel May Davis has made a jump from musical comedy into straight drama. She was last seen in "Her Little Highness," and has been engaged by Cohan and Harris for "It Pays to Advertise," a new show which is to be tried out at Atlantic City this week.

The first Actors' Fund day has proven to be a success. Extra matinees were given for the benefit of the fund at New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago with gratifying financial results.

Eva Tanguay has a different version of the trouble at Sharon recently, when she was reported to have roasted the audience to a faro-you-well while on one of her tantrums. In the first place she denies having been guilty of any roasting of the audience at all. She says that she was merely angry because so many were admitted to the performance in question without even going through the motions of extracting the necessary coin from their pockets or of showing a properly authenticated pass. She might have added that this state of affairs invalidated her song about "Getting Your Money Just the Same."

"Experience," a morality play in eight scenes, by George V. Hobart, has been secured by William Elliott. It will be a feature in the coming Lambs' gambol.

The coming American tour of the divine Sarah, it is stated, will be the beginning of a trip around the world. She has already been engaged to appear at the Imperial opera house in Tokio after having favored this country with her lately announced farewell tour. Trips to Australia and South Africa are said to be planned after the engagement at the Japanese capital. Bernhardt is in her 69th year.

"Fra Diavolo" is the latest opera that had undergone the necessary clipping and rearranging to make it fit into vaudeville programs. It has been boiled down to a thirty-minute performance.

William A. Brady has been trying out a new play adapted from the French. It is called "The Elder Son," and is said to have been very successful in the original version.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, it is stated, will drop the last part of her handle after her present tour and will thereafter be known only as Evelyn Nesbit. It is said that in her next show she will not only show herself to the public, as has been the case during the present season, but will also sing.

The week of May 11 will witness an unusual event in New York when the Lloyd sisters, Alice and Marie, will oppose each other as headliners at the Palace and Hammerstein's.

The new play, "The Garden of Paradise," by Edward Sheldon, which will be produced by the Liebler company next season, is stated to be the most ambitious stage spectacle which this firm has as yet attempted. It is claimed that the play calls for eleven scenes of a spectacular grandeur hitherto unattempted. According to advance announcements, Sheldon, whose previous efforts include "Salvation Nell," "The Boss" and "The Nigger," has gone beyond himself in his newest endeavor. It is also stated that the play is full of poetic inspiration and of high value as regards literary expression. The claim is made that it will cost $250,000 to stage the production. It will be put on at the Broadway theater, New York, which has been leased by the Liebler company. Important changes in the construction of the stage will be necessitated by the production of "The Garden of Paradise."

There has been considerable amount of speculation on the Rialto as to he future policy of Hammerstein's new opera house since he was legally enjoined from producing opera in New York for a period of six years. The theater is generally conceded to be one of the finest in existence.

The twelfth annual spring season of the Aborn English Grand Opera companies will open on Monday, May 4, when two of these organizations will begin long engagements at Buffalo and Pittsburg. Another of the Aborn organizations will inaugurate its spring season the following Monday in Baltimore, and two more will open at Brooklyn and Washington on Monday, May 18. There will be five of these organizations running at the same time in cities mentioned, each one numbering about 100 persons in its cast, orchestra, chorus and staff. As usual, only the leading artists will travel from one city to another over the circuit, while the chorus, orchestra and staff of each company will remain located in one city as long as the season lasts.

It is stated that Edward Bloom will send "Hanky Panky" out again next season. Either Montgomery and Moore or Max Rogers will be at the head of the cast. As Bloom will name the show "Hanky Panky of 1914" it is being assumed that he is planning a regular series of "Hanky Panky" shows similar to the Ziegfeld "Follies."

"Peg o' My Heart" is still continuing to eke out its existence quite comfortably. Week before last the aggregate haul of the five companies presenting this popular attraction was $52,730.

According to present intentions "Help Wanted" will go on tour next week.

* * *

"Pretty Mrs. Smith," featuring Kitty Gordon, which last night closed a successful run of six weeks at the Hub, will soon open at Chicago for a season that is expected to last through the summer.

AT THE SUNBEAM

Through an arrangement between Dr. D. W. Riesland and Manager Parker of the Sunbeam theater the film entitled "The Pale of Prejudice" that deals with the wonderful results that are obtained by mechanical methods will be shown at the Sunbeam theater Monday and Tuesday. This is the same film that was shown at the Orpheum theater a few months ago, and Dr. Riesland will make the picture doubly interesting by giving a lecture at the noon day performance and also at both of the evening shows. This story has to deal with a young physician who is engaged to the governor's daughter. The young doctor, after finding that drugs have failed in the curing of some of his patients, becomes interested in the science of chiropractic and learns the work. The governor, upon learning of this, forces the daughter to break the engagement, considering it a disgrace to have the young man pursue this work. At this point the daughter becomes very ill and the best medical talent tell the father that she can live only a short time. The young doctor, seizing an opportunity, forces his way into the girl's room and at the point of a gun adjusts the girl's spine, thereby removing pressure upon the nerves, after which she falls into a sleep. The governor calls the police who arrest the physician as he emerges from the room. In the meantime the girl improves and the father intervenes and takes the young man away from the police before the patrol arrives. The doctor not only saves the girl's life but wins her hand and they lived a happy married life ever after.

TENOSYNOVITIS IS LATEST DISEASE

In Other Words, If Your Tootsies Are On the Blink Cut Out Capering In the Tango.

Appendicitis is now out of style but if your tibialos anticus is tenosynovitic you are fashionable and should take a rest cure.

In other words the latest fashionable ailment in New York is the "tango foot." If you awake some morning with a dull pain in the "outer aspect in the leg in its lower third," your tibialos anticus is tenosynovitic. This is the declaration made the other day by Dr. Gustaf F. Boehme, Jr., in diagnosing the case of a prominent New York society girl.

"The strain of the modern dance," said Dr. Boehme, Jr., is constantly on the extensor longus digitorum and the extensor proprius hallucis, all of which produces the dreadful extensor tenosynovitic."

Do you get him?

And, worst of all, Dr. Boehme, Jr., prescribes the most horrible and dreadful remedy. It is "simply cessation from dancing."

SCHEME TO EVADE THE EXTRA DUTY

English Exporters Send Foreign Goods Under English Labels.

Dunedin, N. Z., May 2.—New Zealand has begun a vigorous campaign against the practice of certain British exporters of sending foreign goods to this country under English labels. The charge is made that British merchants buy large quantities of cheap foreign goods and ship them to New Zealand and other colonies as British manufactures.

Minister of Customs Fisher in a recent speech said that he had positive proof that foreign goods were imported into England and repacked and shipped as British merchandise to evade the extra duty that New Zealand places on all foreign manufactures. New Zealand wished to purchase British goods, according to the minister, rather than foreign merchandise, and he pledged himself to do everything in his power to prevent the unscrupulous British merchant from cheating the colonial public.

It is said that this form of contraband trade is especially rife among exporters of textile goods. Many of the shipments which arrive ostensibly from Lancashire never saw the inside of the mills there, but have been so skilfully remarked and repacked that the fraud might never be detected unless they should fall into the hands of experts, who know the English weave.

EFFORT IN ITALY TO COMBAT ILLITERACY.

Rome, May 2.—Measures have been taken this spring to combat the illiteracy of the population in the mountainous regions of Romana Campagnia with renewed vigor. The so-called ambulent schools, which are moved from place to place and which are held in the open air before the huts of the shepherds, will be increased in number. One of these schools is at an altitude of over 15,000 feet. The teachers, usually women, reside at the nearest village, which is often a great distance away. Many of these hard-working people drive out from Rome many times a week in rough carts, at a great sacrifice of strength and comfort, but they declare they are sufficiently rewarded by the enthusiasm shown by their pupils.

POTASH MINES MAY BE DEVELOPED IN ITALY

Zurich, Switzerland, May 2.—Kleiber, a chemist in the service of the Swiss government, analyzed during a recent visit to Pompeii and Herculaneum the Vesuvian ashes and debris, and found that they contain large percentages of potash, suitable for the manufacture of fertilizer. The potash syndicate, established by the German government, has almost a monopoly of potash. The Italian government, learning of Dr. Kleiber's discoveries, has communicated with him upon the possibility of developing potash mines in the vicinity of Vesuvius. He is looking into the matter. The largest market outside Germany for potash fertilizer is the United States.

A BARREN FIELD.

Indianapolis News: A veteran, talking to his great-grandson, a lad of 8 years, remarked: "Nearly a generation and a half ago my head was grazed by a bullet at the battle of Chickamauga." The little boy looked at the old man's head thoughtfully and said: "There isn't much grazing there now, is there, sir?"

Italians, who are naturally superstitious, wear as a mascot a piece of pink coral, this being supposed to ward off the evil eye.

MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY

Initiation By Inter-fraternity Council Postponed to Second Semester.

Medical College May Be Affiliated With the Mayo Clinic.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The inter-fraternity council, at its meeting on April 25, voted to postpone its annual initiations to the second semester. This action was taken after careful consideration, and a comparison with practices at other institutions. It marks a distinct and most important advance in the policy of fraternities at Minnesota. Rushing rules remain as they formerly stood. Prof. A. F. Swift, president of the inter-fraternity council, said Thursday without a doubt there are few institutions in which the fraternities have shown their capability at managing their own affairs as well as here. At a time when the question of student self-government is being agitated, this action of the fraternities, resulting from their own initiative and not from outside pressure, is full of significance and must be of interest to the community at large.

A loss of 100 grams of platinum, or a theft of from $500 to $700 of that precious metal was first made known to Dean Frankforter of the college of chemistry when Earl Pettijohn, instructor in qualitative analysis, announced that a number of crucibles were missing from the laboratory Wednesday. The thief had broken into the building on Tuesday, apparently, and opened the drawer in which the vessels were kept. The loss of so much platinum at a time of increasing scarcity and value is a severe one for the chemistry department.

From the interest shown in the Men's union benefit performance of "The Professor's Love Story," to be given next Thursday evening, May 7, at the Princess theater by the Masquers, it is evident that a large sum will be turned into the treasury of the Men's union. President Vincent and wife, Dr. Burton and wife, and all the deans and their wives will act as patrons and patronesses.

Two proposed innovations of unusual importance to the university medical college will engage the board of regents at its meeting May 7. Establishment of a connection with the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minn., whereby facilities for post-graduate study will be afforded to medical students, and the creation of a department of public health as a part of the college will be considered. Both projects are features in the movement for enlarging the efficiency of the institution. The proposed affiliation with the Mayo clinic was considered at a meeting in Rochester Saturday night, attended by Doctors Mayo and members of their hospital staff and President Vincent of the university, Dean Lyon of the medical college and other members of the administrative board of the school. Dr. William Mayo, as a regent of the university, offered the advantages of the Mayo hospital and clinic to the purposes of the university.

Two 3-inch field guns, two caissons and two limbers were received at the armory this week by Company F, the university battery, for use by this battery in artillery practice. The military department has been besieged the last few days by students anxious to see the front. The regimental officers have ordered Capt. Rhinow to enlist the full war strength of 186 men in his company. The university students will be ready to leave for the front if there is a call for the state militia.

At last the college of law has awakened from its lethargy and has given its first banquet in five or six years. The occasion for this celebration was the winning of the intramural basket ball championship by their team. The banquet was thrown open to all the students and all the faculty in their college, resulting in a very large attendance. Halten Hoffman acted as toastmaster and Dean Vance and several students responded to toasts.

The women of Minnesota are showing unusual interest this year in athletics and are especially interested in such things as swimming, basket ball, tennis and horseback riding. The swimming meet which was to have come off on Thursday of this week has been postponed until May 7, owing to the condition of the pools. The presentation of seals by the Women's Athletic association will be made on May 21 during chapel. At this time seals will be awarded to the women who have won special merit in the realm of sport. But few seals will be awarded this year, however, as it takes considerable time and efficiency to win them. This is the first time in the history of Minnesota for women to be so honored by the Women's Athletic association. The Horseback Riding club, consisting of thirteen horsewomen, take their lessons in riding every Thursday, when they start from the Battery B stables at Fort Snelling.

A third all-university convocation was held Thursday noon at the armory, its purpose being to place before the students the plans of the Minnesota union and the proposed honor system. Prof. E. M. Morgan of the law faculty, Donald Pomeroy, a student, and Registrar E. B. Pierce gave the students an idea of the work already done by the Men's union, and announced that a campaign to raise $20,000 would be placed in charge of the various class presidents. Following the speeches on the union, Harvey Hoshour and Althea Heitsmith explained the details of the honor system as proposed for Minnesota. It is planned to submit the honor system for the approval of the students at a special election.

HIAWATHA AND MINNEHAHA.

HIAWATHA RETURNING WITH HIS BRIDE.

PAU-PUN-KEE-WIS.

The annual pageant held at the Soo, which introduces each year many beautiful and picturesque spectacles, will be looked forward to by Duluthians this year as never before, because of the Midsummer festival to be held in this city in 1915.

The region of the Great Lakes was once one of the greatest hunting grounds for Indians in the New World, and in the Soo pageant the beautiful legends of the Indians as portrayed in Longfellow's poem, "Hiawatha" and those of other authors form picturesque features of the program

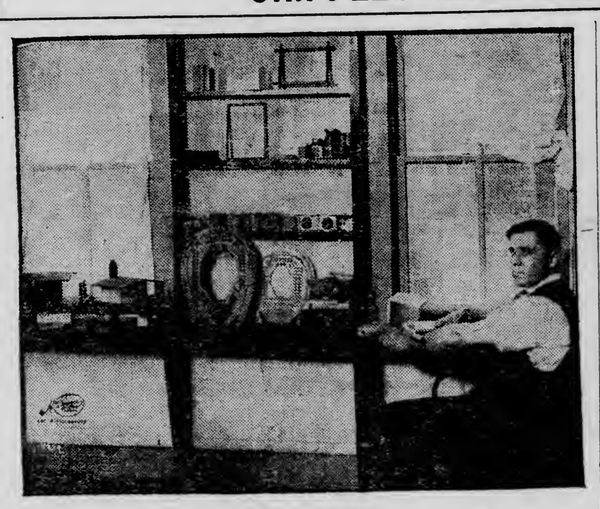
The lake region has a much more abundant store of legendary material than is show in the mardi gras, and it has so far never been featured adequately to give it the significance that it should receive.

The pictures above show some of the most important features of the Soo pageant given on the Desbarats Islands at the mouth of St. Mary's river. The picture at the left shows Hiawatha and Minnehaha as portrayed by Ojibway Indians in the legendary drama. The scenes of Longfellow's noted poem are presented in masterly style.

The picture in the middle shows the return of Hiawatha and his bride, the Laughing Water, to the lodge of Old Nokomis.

The dignified Indian at the right is Pau-Pan-kee-wis, who has made himself famous in long and dance specialties, built upon the foundation laid by Longfellow. His costume follows the description in the poem.

BY SHEER NERVE AND PLUCK TWO UNFORTUNATE CRIPPLES HAVE BECOME SELF SUPPORTING CITIZENS



JOSEPH TERRY
At Work in His Shop—He Has Been Unable to Walk for Six Years.

—Photos by McKenzie.

WILLIAM WESTHOLM,
Cripple, Who Saved Enough Money Selling Papers to Start in Business.

REMARKABLE and rather heroic has been the struggle for existence of Joseph Terry and William Westholm, two cripples, who have become fast friends and companions while drifting along together on life's sea.

The battle to keep the wolf of want from their door will not be fought single-handed in the future. They have cast their lot together in a small business enterprise and if they make it go—and they probably will—neither will be an object of charity from now on.

The story of the last few years of their lives is a long story of privation and suffering.

Terry has not walked a step for nearly six years and his companion, Westholm, is suffering from the effects of a paralytic stroke on his left side. He is able to get around without a crutch, however.

The two men recently conceived the idea of working out their own salvation by starting in business together. Last week they rented a small store building at 219 East Superior street and have installed a small stock of cigars and confections.

Each has had a sideline of his own which will be continued in connection with the business. Terry is very adept in woodcraft and is devoting his spare time at the store in carving bird houses, picture frames and other novelties. Westholm is a newsboy and every afternoon, rain or shine, he may be found selling Heralds at his regular stand at the Oak hall building, Second avenue west and Superior street.

Terry has been deprived of the use of his legs for nearly six years. He manages to get around by using a sort of a four-legged frame. He was injured while employed by A. Booth & Co., a firm which went bankrupt while he was in the hospital, with the result that he never received a penny compensation for his pain, suffering and disability. The company reorganized under a new name and Terry's attorneys advised him that it would be impossible for him to recover anything through the courts.

Lost Use of Legs.

Terry was hurt when the rope attached to a fish car broke while the car was running down a gang plank from a fishing boat to the dock. Terry, who was riding in front, jumped off and attempted to stop the car. The strain was too much and the muscles and nerves in his spine was affected. The experience cost him the use of both of his legs. He never stood on them after that.

For months he lay helpless in the hospital. When he came to realize that he would never walk again, he had spent all of his money in hospital bills and he found himself obliged to go to the county hospital at the county poor farm. After leaving that institution he returned to the city and was looked after by friends.

The Associated Charities became interested in his case and helped him from time to time. Miss Agnes Wells, a teacher at the high school, also took an interest in the welfare of the unfortunate man and among other things gave him a book which contained some valuable instructions as to how to carve articles out of wood for a livelihood.

Terry was quite handy in wood carving and decided to improve his idle hours. Up to this time it had been a case of passing the time away. After Miss Wells became interested in his case, Terry made a number of articles which found a ready market. He stated yesterday that he had nineteen unfilled orders for birdhouses. He now has a workshop in the rear of the store.

Terry is 32 years old. He has no relatives living in this part of the country. Two sisters reside in Maine and he has two brothers, but has no idea as to the whereabouts of either. Terry spent his boyhood on the lakes as a fisherman. He has made Duluth his headquarters for the last fourteen years.

Westholm's story is also interesting. Up to three years ago he was employed by one of the local coal companies as a laborer on the docks. After a hard day's work one night, a blood vessel burst in his brain, bringing on a stroke of paralysis, completely disabling him on the left side. It affected even the left portion of his tongue and vocal organs and caused a defect in his speech.

Westholm, after getting out of the hospital, found he could walk with the aid of a crutch and earned enough money selling papers, not only to take care of himself since his affliction, but also to save enough to start himself and Terry in business. Westholm is 34 years old. His relatives live at Moose Lake, Minn.

MOTORING NEAR DULUTH HAS ITS DRAWBACKS

ON THE CALVARY ROAD.

Touring some of the county highways leading into Duluth with an automobile is neither profitable nor pleasureable these days.

Soft spring weather has made many of the main traveled thoroughfares almost impassable and it is with difficulty that a machine can get through in many instances.

Calvary road, the highway between the end of the Woodland car line and Calvary cemetery, furnishes an excellent example.

D. W. Cusick, who operates a bus line between Woodland and the cemetery, has found that motoring over the road is attended with difficulty. The above picture shows his car sunk in mire to the hubs. It was taken this week.

According to Mr. Cusick the road has several soft spots which need repairing at once.

LEFT IN SOLITARY GRANDEUR

Fond du Lac One Neighborhood Not Represented on Festival Committee—May Boycott Rhode Island Reds.

Only one part of the city is now without representation on the midsummer festival committee. That is Fond du Lac.

Members of the committee are talking of organizing a "Rhode Island Red" club and asking it to elect Judge W. L. Windom, Cameron Hewitt and Judge William Cant as representatives to the festival committee. A "Comutters' club" has also been suggested. If no action of this kind is taken Fond du Lac will not be represented.

Woodland is now in line. The Woodland Literary club "seen its duty and done it." Woodland shared with Fond du Lac the distinction of not being represented on the committee and the literary club named Elmer Fuller, W. P. Roe and Miss Hammel to represent it.

This leaves Fond du Lac in solitary grandeur, the one neighborhood that has not jumped aboard the festival band wagon. A united onslaught is planned on Fond du Lac. There is talk of secret colonization. A sortie might be planned by moonlight and the ice houses along the river bank be colonized with citizens who could form a club, elect officers, adopt a constitution and before they were discovered and the two judges served an injunction, name delegates to the midsummer festival committee.

Another plan is to declare a city-wide boycott on Rhode Island Reds and Guernsey cows unless a committee is named. One bold member of the committee suggested turning loose a colony of garter snakes in Chamber's grove to ruin the picnic business of the picturesque summer resort if Fond du Lac persists in its program of watchful waiting.

MANY BUYING SEED.

Farmers Around Barnum Putting in Extensive Crops.

Barnum, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some idea of the crop for this year may be gained from the statement made by one of Barnum's merchants, who has sold nearly $800 worth of seed for grain and vegetables already this spring. He believed that the three other firms had done almost as well and much seed has been ordered direct from the seed houses by the farmers.

The May Strand Magazine is rich in fiction—the stories being by such well-known writers as W. B. Maxwell, Austin Philips, Edward Cecil, Ivan Turgenev, May Edington, Armiger Barclay and others. Edmund Payne, the English comedian, relates some amusing "Experiences," while Arthur J. Ireland gives a vivid account—illustrated with unique photographs—of Capt. Spelterini's remarkable ballooning experiences. Capt. Spelterini has made 560 balloon journeys (during which time he has carried 1,200 passengers and never lost one), crossed the Alps ten times, flown over Vesuvius twice (while it was in full eruption) and made ascents to tremendous altitudes in Russia, Germany, France, Italy, Turkey, Egypt, South Africa and other countries.

The Wide World for May opens with a graphic description of a "South Sea Boar Hunt"—generally regarded as the most exciting sport in the world. The hunters are armed with cutlasses only, so that when a man makes a false thrust it is not unlikely that he receives a rip from the boar's tusks with tragic consequences. Two articles of travel entitled "A Cycling Tour Through Central Africa" and "A Lady's Ramble in Inca-Land," are both interestingly written and lavishly illustrated. "The Lost Secret," which is the story of a vanished gold mine, will appeal to all lovers of the romantic. How you may enjoy Alpine mountain climbing to your heart's content for a matter of a hundred dollars is told by Malcolm Savage Treacher in his article "in the Ice-World of the Dauphiny."

"The Heart of a Woman," by Dale Drummond, opening novelette in Young's Magazine for May, is a vivid introspection wherein a wife who has driven her husband from her by indifference and coldness, learns in his absence that she really cares. "The Master Hand," by Reginald Wright Kauffman, is a triangle story in which a passing love affair causes a tragedy. "The Legacy," by Forrestine C. Hooker, is a story so realistic in theme that the reader seems almost to live the grotesque experience which is thrust upon the hero as a test prior to his receiving a legacy. A startlingly graphic story of army life is depicted in "The Affair at Malingit," which shows how a young officer fights, almost single-handed, for the lives of his wife and himself.

For the first time in several years Ainslee's for May begins a serial story. It was too good to reject, and too long for a novelette. Its title is "John Tremaine, Thief," and its author Marie Van Vorst. Its setting is Virginia, and its charm and interest, its romance and characterizations, are strong and compelling. But those of Ainslee's readers who look forward with expectancy to the complete novelette that it always prints will not be disappointed, for there is a smashing one by William Slavens McNutt, "Bob Corrigan's Phantom Ship."

If an invention is dangerous to the community, has the inventor any moral right to put it on the market, even if there is a fortune at stake? J. J. Bell presents a problem in a thoughtful story called "A Fortune in Bergonite," in the May month-end number of the Popular Magazine.

* * *

In the leading article of the Engineering Magazine for May, Prof. Edward D. Jones, confident that administration of manufacturing and operating companies is developing, under modern conditions, into a new profession, has sought its older principles by a remarkable historical study of the work of the great scientists of all ages in order to find methods applicable to business conditions. Thus sources of knowledge from the tactics of great leaders become available which are non-existent in the case of the "captain of industry" or the "Napoleon of finance," who work largely behind closed doors.

The noblest manifestation of human development is the humanitarian spirit which characterizes most of the movements of the present era. H. H. Windsor's editorials—epitomes of progress—in the May number of Popular Mechanics Magazine discuss several subjects in which this humanitarian tendency is especially marked. "Prisons as Schools" suggests a vivid picture of the evolution of penal institutions from places of torture to media of educational correction; "Safety First" tells what the proverbial "ounce of prevention" has really accomplished in the interests of society, and "Movies a Civilizer" describes the gradual uplifting of the masses of the "tough district of New York's East Side," by the means of moving pictures. The May magazine contains, all told, 327 articles and 335 illustrations. The most interesting portions of Rudyard Kipling's recent address, in which he prophesied the development of aerial navigation, are quoted, and a page view shows the new United States naval aeronautic station at Pensacola, Fla.

The May Outing is full of useful information for the vacationist. Every automobilist should read "How to Overhaul Your Motor Car" by Stillman Taylor. It's written for the man who wants to do the work himself in all details—full directions are given as to what should be done and how. The second installment of Stewart Edward White's "In Back of Beyond" giving an account of his recent trip in German East Africa, appears in this issue. It's the big sporting and colorful story of the year. "For the Camper," in this article Horace Kephart deals with the subject of tents for mountaineering, map cases, cabin windows, edible wild plants, etc.

"The Brambie Bush," which begins in the May month-end number of Women's Stories, gives promise of being one of the biggest things Nalbro Bartley has done, and one of the magazine's noteworthy successes. In much of the year's fiction there has been a sorry lack of simplicity and girlishness about the heroines. They grow sophisticated with alarming rapidity; they seem rubbed off at the edges by the situations in which they are involved. It looks as if Kaly Dial would prove a refreshing change from this type.

This month of May is the sixteenth anniversary of the United States as a world power. "America" in April, 1897, did not mean what America means in April, 1914. Just what that change involves is the general topic of several articles in the World's Work for May. These articles are devoted to a timely taking account of national stock, not with a look backward so much as a fair facing of the present with whatever it may hold of development along seemingly destined lines. From a military standpoint Gen. Wood and Secretary Garrison answer this inquiry; Secretary Daniels and one of the foremost authorities in the active service answer it from a naval point of view. Park Commissioner Cabot Ward of New York, who was for six years in the insular government's service, brings his experience in Porto Rico and in other countries of Latin America to bear on a frank Porto Rican balance sheet, and Mrs. Harriet Chalmers Adams, who has just returned from an extended trip on horseback and by boat throughout Philippine America, gives her impressions of how west is meeting east in the islands. William Bayard Hale, with his first-hand knowledge of the beginnings of the Huerta regime in Mexico City and of the character of the rebel chiefs in the north, writes in his vigorous and plain-spoken way of Mexican affairs.

Duluth enjoyed "balanced rations" in a social way this week with dancing, club meetings, the kindergarten May festival, a suffrage meeting, a dramatic conference and as one of the final functions, a the dansant. For the second time this spring a dramatic conference was enjoyed when Richard Bennett of the "Damaged Goods" company spoke to the members of the Drama league and their friends yesterday. The league which promoted this new form of education made possible the Maeterlinck conference last week. Both the Drama league and the recently organized Duluth Drama Study club will hold business meetings this week in preparation for the work they will do in their chosen lines.

The approach of spring is promoting an interest in home gardens and the anti-fly campaign. Now the club season is practically over those women who consider beauty and health will lay down their books and take up trowels and swatters. Another proof that winter is about over is the fact that those who have been spending the cold months in warmer climates are returning to Duluth.

KINDERGARTEN CHILDREN PRESENT MAY DAY FESTIVAL

The kindergarten children of the city presented an attractive program at Central high school last evening when they took part in a May day festival. The stage was decorated effectively with apple blossoms and the pink flowered May tree added to the dainty color scheme.

The pageant was based upon old English folk lore, the tree being used instead of the conventional May pole. The children gave their dances and drills with charm and grace. Some of the little maids wore white frocks with sashes of pink or apple blossoms and others wore pink dresses. Most of the boys wore white.

Clara Richardson, the May queen, was attended by Alice Dahl, Orll Ames, Anna Ratkovich and Ruth Wallin of the Jackson school. The heralds from the Emerson school were Alfred Knucky, William De Santo, Claude De Santo and Frank Fiskett. John McCarter of the fifth grade of the Salter school headed the heralds from the Salter, who were William McCarter, Jr., Douglas Brown, William Gill, Jr., and Theodore Wilke.

Under the direction of Dwight W. Heistand, the high school orchestra played the intermezzo from "Cavaleria Rusticana" by Mascagni and the "Priests' March" from "Athalia" by Mendelssohn.

Mrs. Milton Fish read "Mammy's Little Boy."

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Evasion of Truth Is Sometimes Necessary.

I know a prominent business man who says there is no necessity of lying. He declares that in the whole history of his career as a breadwinner he never had to lie to anyone or to deceive anyone to his or her injury. But he naively adds: "I didn't always tell the whole truth"—which is a round-about admission after all, that he did resort to subterfuge.

Queer notion, this one, that prevails among many folk who count themselves honest. Numerous are the definitions of the word "truth" as gleaned from the minds of men and women. Astonishingly liberal is the average person's conception of a lie when the individual is telling it. But how it narrows down when some one else tells it or attempts to do so.

Some people hold, though how they can is past my understanding, that, so long as they do not lie directly, any amount of equivocation is wholly justifiable. And so, unless one has the temerity or the far-sightedness to demand the truth in so many words—and many have not—I find countless folk credit themselves with being truth-tellers who are the merest shams and quibblers.

Evading the truth is the easiest way of telling a lie and the meanest. At least, it appeals to many people as being the easiest way, but if one cannot tell the truth, one might better tell a lie. Those who only tell half the truth, or who avoid it, are kept in the uneasy predicament of dodging the real issue most of the time by those curious ones who would know whereof they have suspicions.

There is nothing like the truth for easing one's conscience and the curiosity of the other fellow. I doubt, however, that a lie told point blank is any more harmful than the quarters and halves of truths told by people who mean well, in the interest of some one's feelings or to shield themselves or another.

Yet I am not an ardent advocate of truth and truth alone, as much as I dislike a mean lie, an evasion calculated to influence the person as the truth would not, or fragments of the truth selected and told to make the best of what is in reality bad business. I don't like a lie or a half-truth when the truth will confer a benefit upon another and possibly be a detriment to the one who tells it.

In One of Her Costume Dances.

Miss Emily Schupp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schupp, who formerly lived in Duluth, made her debut as a dancer April 24, at the Princess theater in New York. Miss Schupp goes by the stage name of "Lada." She is a niece of Mrs. Henry Nesbitt of 210 Thirteenth avenue east.

Miss Schupp has studied in Russia, Germany, England, Norway, Sweden, Italy, Hungary and Switzerland.

A critic said that to judge from the impression she made on her audience and from the expressions of spontaneous delight heard on every side it ought not to be long before her stage name, if not her real name, is known to every lover of the poetry of motion in New York. Her dancing has been said to combine characteristics of Ruth St. Denis, Isadore Duncan and Anna Pavlowa, with a youthful buoyancy, freedom of movement and gesture and an unconventionality hard to describe. The same critic said she revealed not only technical skill, but a fine sense of rhythm, vivacity, temperment, charm and grace.

The program chosen for her debut performed on a few instruments in the wings of the stage, with Mme. Ivan Narodny as vocal soloist comprised an old Russian folk dance, a Hungarian dance by Brahms, a ballade dance by Gliere, entitled "Lada." McDowell's "Shadow Dance," Sibelius' "Valse Triste," Liszt's "Rhapsody No. 2," Moussorgsky's "Trepak" and Champignon's and Schubert's "Biedermeyer."

In the Hungarian Rhapsody and the Russian folk dance Miss Schupp wore effective costumes.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES

A special feature of the Monday morning chapel exercises was an informal piano recital given by Miss Faith Helen Rogers of Superior. Her numbers were received with great enthusiasm and her kindness in appearing before the school was highly appreciated by both the faculty and the students.

Plans for the summer session, which will begin Monday, June 15, are now completed. The program of recitations includes all subjects required in the state examination for both first and second grade certificates, and as many others as the demand may warrant and the facilities of the school will permit. Those who desire other subjects are requested to submit the names of such subjects to the office before the opening of the term. Otherwise they will not be considered. A special course for the teachers of the rural schools of St. Louis county will be provided.

Monday afternoon the members of the sophomore class and their counsellor, Miss Genieve Taylor, went on a "tramp" to Lakeside. Here they visited the United States fish hatcheries.

* * *

Mrs. W. A. Owens has organized a class in china painting. The course is open to all students of the school and is held on Friday afternoon at Washburn hall. About twenty-five students have enrolled in the class.

Tuesday evening Mrs. Florada, Miss Porter, Miss Strong and Dr. Raymond Phelan of the University of Minnesota were the guests of Mrs. Milne and Miss Glendon at dinner. Before the study hour Dr. Phelan spoke to the girls on "The Teacher's Relation to the Community."

* * *

Members of the domestic science class served a luncheon Wednesday to the following guests: Miss Nichols, Miss Raymond, Miss Ely and Miss Glendon.

Tuesday evening Katharine Burke entertained at a fudge party. Those present were: Esther Sletten, Della Stanaway, Nellie Erwin, Rose Danberg and Ruth Danberg.

Miss Faith Rogers was the guest of the girls of the halls at dinner Wednesday. During the evening she gave several piano numbers.

Tuesday evening Winnifred Beck and Marian Carlson were hostess at a spread. Their guests were: Vernice Govett, Elizabeth Leary, Bina Bent and Luggenia Jeffrey.

Margaret Gleason and Veronica O'Hara are the week-end guests of Ruth Monger at Sunset lake.

Friday Mr. and Mrs. Nutter of Ely were the guests of Esther Sletten at Torrance hall.

Miss Gina Nelson of Moose Lake visited Martha Mobeck at Torrance hall, Monday.

Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Milne entertained those members of the junior class who expect to teach next year. Her guests were: Hilda Schleunes, Maldi Takkunen, Cora Trudeau, Florence Milavetz, Alma Woock, Agnes Kinsman, Gina Finstad, Lillian Carpenter, Mamie Granholm, Esther Paulson, Elma Nitardy, Oddhild Erickson and Della Stanaway.

Betty Ericson has moved to Torrance hall, where she will live for the remainder of the term.

Addrienne Wakefield of Washburn hall is spending Saturday and Sunday at her home in Grand Rapids.

Miss Taylor spent the latter part of the week in St. Paul, where she attended the National Music Teachers, conference. Miss Picken of the primary department took charge of her folk-dancing class Friday.

* * *

For the past week Mrs. E. B. Hill of Colfax, Wis., has been the guest of her sister, Miss Effie Burch, supervisor of drawing.

On Monday, Lelah Aiken left for her home at Grand Rapids on account of illness.

Millicent Roskilly of Virginia returned to school Monday after a week's absence, caused by the serious illness of her father.

Friday evening a suffrage program was given in the assembly hall of the Y. W. C. A. by members of the Suffrage club of the Superior normal school. The students of the Duluth normal school were guests of the club. After the program, a very enjoyable social hour was spent.

* * *

A number of the Normal school students attended "An Old English May Pageant" given at the central high school Friday evening.

LEAGUE TO AID YOUNG MUSICIANS

New Society Is Proving of Assistance to Deserving Students and Others Seeking Engagements.

THERE was organized recently in New York the Music League of America—mention of which was made in The Herald recently, and it is already proving its worth. It will assist musicians to obtain engagements, recommending them to clubs, schools and organizations without prejudice or favoritism.

The men and women back of the movement are not seeking financial profit. They expect the league to pay expenses in the course of time, but beyond this, financial success is not courted. They will not only select musicians who have ability to fill engagements but will also establish permanent arrangements for obtaining professional appearances for them. Although the league has just been started, $10,000 worth of engagements have come unsolicited from individuals, musical organizations, clubs, colleges, private schools and seminaries.

A fair way will be employed in choosing musicians who are to be helped to engagements. The plan adopted is this: A musician is given a hearing by a committee of seven judges whose majority ruling is final in acceptance and rejections. On each committee there are five judges of admitted standing as professionals and two judges who are amateurs of proportionate ability in their own field. As there is a large membership of judges the committees will be changed constantly. This arrangement will work no hardship to those who serve as judges and will prevent criticism that might come if there were a permanent committee that might learn to know the applicants.

A person who wishes to secure the assistance of the league in obtaining engagements writes to headquarters, stating reasons for the belief she is deserving of a hearing. If the letter gives evidence the writer is intelligent and seemingly entitled to be heard, she is notified to be present at the next regular meeting. On the day appointed the candidate presents herself to Miss Marie Kieckhoefer, the corresponding secretary, whose office is at Aeolian hall in New York. She is assigned a number according to her arrival at the hall. When it is time for her "try-out" she is called by her number to go upon the stage.

The committee is seated in the center of the auditorium, surrounded by screens that hide from view the one who is being tried. If the subject in question is a vocalist, the points considered by the judges are quality and power, evenness throughout the scale, excellence in medium, lower and upper registers, method of production, purity of intonation, enunciation, pronunciation, musicianship and interpretation. If the audition is for a pianist or a violinist the same general standard of measurement is applied.

It has been decided a candidate shall be classed as A, B, C or D. Class A represents those who are admirably equipped in every way and are worth engaging for important musical undertakings at a single fee of several hundred dollars. Doubtless there will be few persons in this class. Those in class B will be worth from $75 to $150 for each engagement, according to the distance to be traveled and the expenses thereby entailed. Class C musicians will be those whose services are worth from $25 to $50 for a single engagement. Class D represents exceptionally talented young musicians who appear to have futures and need help. No financial provision has been made for those in this class. No official statement has been given out regarding this point, but it is possible exceptional cases will be taken up by the officers and recommendations offered that will fit individual members.

The officers of the Music League of America are Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer, president; Mesdames Willard D. Straight, Otto H. Kahn and Linzee Blagden, vice presidents; Dave Hennan Morris, secretary, and Alvin W. Krech, treasurer. Mrs. Havemeyer is a practical musician as well as a very powerful friends of the art. Mrs. Straight, who was Dorothy Whitney, sister of Harry Payne Whitney, although not distinguished in the executive side of music, has excellent ability for the office she holds. Mrs. Kahn is considered one of the keenest of amateur music critics and thoroughly versed in the progress as well as the essentials of music.

SUFFRAGE DAY OBSERVED HERE

No Parade Held in Duluth, But Interesting Program is Presented at the Y. W. C. A.

A SUFFRAGE program was given last evening in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium, for which Miss Mary Walsh was the hostess. It was part of the nation-wide observance of Suffrage day, today. The stage was decorated attractively in yellow and white, with "Votes for Women" pennants and with the slogan in large black letters on a white background. Each guest was given a jonquil to carry out the suffrage color scheme. The program was held in place of the parade which was a feature of the celebration in other cities.

Dr. Mary McCoy, president of the Duluth Women's Suffrage association, was in charge of the program, the first part of which was given by members of the suffrage organization of the Superior Normal school. The numbers given by the visiting young women were:

Piano duet.....
Miss Grace Cooper and Miss Regina Extram.

Vocal solo.....
Miss Hazel Cameron.

Speech—"The Suffrage Movement in Wisconsin".....
Miss E. Becker.

Reading—"The Sweet Little Anti"...
Miss Margaret McDonald.

Violin solo.....
Miss Katherine Drury.

Readings—"Aunt Jane of Kentucky" and "A Mother's Prayer".....
Miss Anna Mae Perry.

Vocal solo.....
Miss Marita McFee.

Mrs. Mary Scott Johnson, president of the Superior Women's Suffrage association, invited those present to attend the suffrage program at Superior this evening.

Miss Rebecca Freimuth and Charles Miller gave their suffrage scene.

Miss Monahan Speaks.

The principal feature of the evening was the talk by Miss Florence Monahan of Minneapolis, who will speak at Superior this evening. She was chosen by the managers of the Minneapolis suffrage parade to represent one of the suffrage states today and to carry a banner. When the call came from Superior for a speaker a substiture had to be found to carry the banner.

Miss Monahan told of the plans for the suffrage parade in Minneapolis, where women arranged to march by clubs and by professions. A large delegation of men joined the women who were to parade.

She spoke of the recent elections held in Chicago and told some amusing incidents connected with it. A woman may not register or vote there unless her husband is an American citizen. One foreigner who was opposed to women having a voice in the government took his naturalization papers to work with him registration day. When he came home in the evening his wife got hold of the papers and announcing, "I go for milk," went to register. Her long absence caused her liege lord to become suspicious. He learned his wife had registered, and according to her, "Now he look down his nose all the time."

In answer to the question, "What good does suffrage do anyway?" Miss Monahan mentioned the regulation of child labor, minimum wages, the mother's pension law and police women.

She told of the passage of a law lowering the working age of children from 12 to 10 years, and she said the kind of men who lower the working age from 12 to 10 are those who oppose woman suffrage. The mother's pension law originated in Australia, a suffrage country. Miss Monahan told of the difficulty in obtaining appropriations in Minnesota when those who present the petitions have no votes. When women want appropriations for worthy purposes the treasury is in a terrible condition, but when voters ask for appropriations the coffers become well filled very suddenly, she said.

ACTOR ENTERTAINS 350 YOUNG WOMEN AT A THEATER PARTY

Employes of Patrick Factory Attend Lyceum as Richard Bennett's Guests—Drama League Reception.

FULLY 350 young women employed by the F. A. Patrick company at its mills in the West end were invited to attend the performance of "Damaged Goods" at the Lyceum last evening, as guests of Richard Bennett producer of the Brieux play.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett have been entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Patrick during their stay in the city, and visited the West end mills. Mr. Bennett was so much impressed with the value of the teachings of the play he is presenting that he invited all of the young women to attend the performance last evening. Nearly every employe was present, and the party filled the family circle at the Lyceum.

Mr. Bennett with his wife attended a reception given in their honor yesterday afternoon at the Spalding by the Drama league. After being introduced by Mrs. B. R. Holden, Mr. Bennett made a short address, in which he highly indorsed "Damaged Goods," and commended the Drama league for its broad-mindedness and courage in standing for the best ideals and purposes set forth in the play. He said in part:

Women Saved Play.

"If it had not been for the women's clubs of New York, the National Federation of Women's Clubs, the intelligence, courage and sometimes the curiosity of the women, there would have been no "Damaged Goods" produced in America. This production is one of the direct issues of the feminist movement. Brieux's play and Brieux's meaning are righteous, just and godly. In Chicago, where the teaching of sex hygiene was attempted in the public schools and defeated, there were more friends for the movement after its defeat than before. It awakened interest in the homes where interest must be awakened.

"The Drama league is making such strides that it all seems too good to be true. It represents the best intelligence and life in every city where it has been installed. And I am glad it has the courage to sanction such plays as 'Damaged Goods.' For a long time I have felt within myself that I must cease to be a mere munmer of mush and I have taken up the purpose play. I have been called everything from the lowest to the highest—I have even been dubbed John the Baptist. But I have no sympathy with the John the Baptist type. I have no use for a man with a message who cries in the wilderness. Messages call for crowds—people.

Welcomes Girls.

"There were scarcely enough in last night's audience in Duluth to start a nucleus for discussion. Tonight, I hope, will be better. I went through this wonderful woolen mill today with my friend, F. A. Patrick—and I am proud to call such a public-spirited man my friend. I managed with the sanction of the theater representatives to invite all those girls to the performance tonight. I hope I may be creating friends for 'Damaged Goods.'"

Mr. Bennett said that if 500 years ago there had been as much vigilance preventing the spread of venereal disease as there is now in remedying it, there would have been no necessity for the hospitals and lunatic asyplums that harbor its sufferers. He began to speak about his next play, Brieux's "Maternity," and stopped talking just as his audience thought he had only fairly begun.

The Drama league will have its annual meeting and election of officers Tuesday at 10 a. m. in the library club room.

Yesterday closed the work of the month of April and the report cards will be given out on Monday afternoon.

A Dainty Toilet Article.

Every lady who desires to keep up her attractive appearance while at the theater, attending receptions, when shopping, while traveling, and on all occasions, should carry in her purse a booklet of Gouraud's Oriental Beauty Leaves. This is a dainty little booklet of exquisitely perfumed powdered leaves, which are easily removed and applied to the skin. It is invaluable when the face becomes moist and flushed, and is far superior to a powder puff, as it does not spill and soil the clothes.

It removes dirt, soot and grease from the face, imparting a cool, delicate bloom to the complexion. Sent anywhere on receipt of 5 cents in stamps or coin.

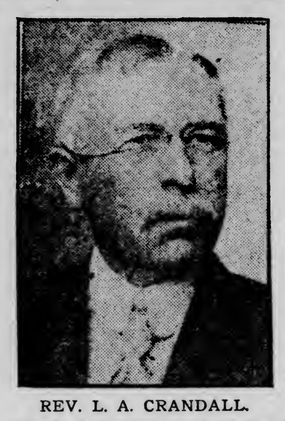
FRENCH CANTONS OF SWITZERLAND KICK.

Berne, Switzerland, May 2.—The French cantons of Switzerland are protesting against the so-called "Germanization" of the republic. The government blue books are now printed in German only. The municipality of Berne has ordered the removal of French names of streets, which until now, have had at the intersections the names in both French and German. The French names of several railway stations of the state lines have recently been dropped and the German designations kept. The French newspapers here affirm that Pan-German societies at Crefeld and at Berlin have subsidized German teachers so that they have been able to take positions in Swiss schools at salaries too small for their maintenance alone.

Repairing Wires.

Jamestown, N. D., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Linemen have been recruited from all over the northwest to repair the damage done throughout this section by Wednesday's storm. Two crews of men came here from Chicago, and another from Winnipeg. A ton of ice, it is estimated, clung to the thirty wires strung along the Northern Pacific right-of-way.

BAPTISTS IN EUROPE WILL BE HIS THEME



REV. L. A. CRANDALL.

Rev. L. A. Crandall, D. D., pastor of Trinity Baptist church of Minneapolis, will give an address on Monday evening at the First Baptist church under auspices of the Duluth Baptist union. His subject will be "The Baptists in Europe." It is said that in his trips to the old world he has made a thorough study of conditions and will tell about them in his address.

It is believed by the members of the Duluth Baptist union that with the coming influx of foreigners when the steel plant opens and other industries spring up here, that the churches of the city will have novel conditions to cope with, and Dr. Crandall, as a result of his investigation of European conditions is looked upon as capable of giving valuable advice.

WHEN DISASTER COMES

Crude Relief Methods Now Replaced By Scientific Plans.

By Ernest P. Bicknell, National Director, American Red Cross.

(Exclusive Service the Survey Press Bureau.)

Recall only a few of the disasters of recent years—the Galveston flood, the San Francisco earthquake and fire, the Messina earthquake, the Monongah, Cherry, Dawson and other mine disasters, the wrecks of the Titanic and the Volturno, the Washington Place fire, the Baltimore fire, the Michigan and Minnesota forest fires, the Mississippi river flood of 1912, the flood in the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, in 1913, the Omaha tornado—with their destruction of thousands of lives, their direct injury to the person or property of more than 1,500,000 men, women and children, and their annihilation of property worth more than a thousand million dollars.

And though the disasters mentioned are among the greatest, scores of others have called for the sympathy and help of the people of the United States. Since Jan. 1, 1905, the American Red Cross has provided assistance for victims of sixty disasters, and in so doing has expended, in money and supplies, over $12,000,000.

A community is likely to suffer from more than one or two great disasters in a lifetime, and when these have occurred, all hands have turned out to form a temporary relief organization and get the task over as quickly as possible, with a minimum of attention to principles involved, or to the comparative value of this method or that, in the restoration of normal conditions and the rehabilitation of individuals. The method of procedure was somewhat analogous to the old systems of rough-and-ready surgery or dentistry.

It was not until the American Red Cross, after its reorganization in 1905, began systematically to study and direct disaster relief operations, that principles and methods applicable to relief work of this character received serious attention. One of the earlier steps was an arrangement by which charity organization societies in the larger cities agreed to lend trained social workers to the Red Cross for service in disaster relief.

No general statement concerning disaster relief is complete which omits reference to the vital part performed by the people of the communities suffering from disaster. Not alone the first work of relief following a disaster, but a great part of the entire relief administration from beginning to end must usually fall upon volunteers drawn from the community itself.

The first step in organization, no matter what the nature of the disaster may be, is to form a central committee, to which should be given complete control of all relief operations of whatever character. In order that this central committee may command the respect and confidence of the community, it should be composed of representatives of all the strong philanthropic organizations and of the business, professional and wage-earning elements of the population. If the disaster has affected chiefly people of a single nationality or religion, it is well to give especially generous representation upon the central committee to the class most affected.

Representatives of the Red Cross or others experienced in emergency relief work, introduce system in investigation—keeping records and accounts, and laying out and executing plans which have for their purpose provision for each needy family, of the kind and amount of assistance best adapted to meet its particular circumstances.

A bureau of records or registration should be established at the very first. The name, address, number of members in the family, with their ages, and some principal facts in regard to the losses sustained may be recorded in a moment. Persons without previous experience in such work too often feel that the taking of this record is a cause of unjustifiable delay. It is often referred to as "red tape." As a matter of fact, experience has demonstrated that confusion, delay and unintelligent action are an almost invariable result of a failure to make the simple record described at the first possible opportunity.

As a man's chief interest following a disaster is to restore his home or other property, it is natural that he will exert his maximum of energy and industry in relief operations if he can be set at the rehabilitation of his own affairs. This principle should be recognized whenever practicable.

Methods which a committee may adopt in one instance may be inapplicable in another. Much depends upon the character of the disaster.

For example, a mine disaster does not destroy the home or property of a man, but destroys the man himself. The problem then becomes one of the proper care of the widow and her children. In the case of a flood, the waters may not subside for a considerable period, and the problem then becomes one of providing temporary shelter. In the case of a cyclone or fire, destruction is quickly accomplished, and the work of clearing away and rebuilding can begin within a few hours. A disaster which not alone destroys a man's home, but also takes away his employment is doubly serious and brings into the work of a relief committee many difficulties and complications.

Every disaster brings its own peculiar problems. An unusual problem occurred following the great storm in Key West, Florida, in 1909. Many of the sufferers were fishermen, whose loss consisted in the destruction of their boats. This loss entirely deprived them of a means of livelihood. The Red Cross solved the problem by employing them to rebuild their own boats. They were paid daily wages and were thus enabled to provide for themselves and families. As soon as the boats were completed, the daily wages ceased and the fishermen resumed their usual occupation. The principle involved in this instance is capable of a wider application in emergency relief operations.

Because of steadily increasing demands upon the Red Cross, the national director is now to have four assistants in charge of the Atlantic, Central, Mountain and Pacific divisions into which the country has been divided for administrative purposes.

The directors of divisions will ordinarily devote themselves to the organization of chapters of the Red Cross in the more important cities and towns, and to the promotion of continuing educational work, which is intended, through instruction in first aid, elementary hygiene, home care of the sick, and nursing in country and town, to reduce the number of accidents in industry and commerce, to minimize their disabling effect, and to improve standards of health, hygiene and sanitation among those to whom these subjects have not been presented in an effective manner. On the occasion of great disasters, the directors of divisions will represent the Red Cross in the organization and direction of relief operations.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

MRS. RUSSELL IS PRESIDENT

Moorhead Woman Chosen to Head Ninth District Women's Clubs.

Gathering of Federated Clubs, Just Held at Crookston, Success.

Crookston, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Crookston meeting of the Ninth District Federation of Women's clubs came to a close last evening with an address on "Art," by Allan Albert at the Carnegie library.

The federation meeting was referred to by Mrs. John McGrath of Barnesville, the recording secretary, as "one of the best if not the very best meeting ever held by the Ninth District Federation."

The closing day's program was a very strong one. In the morning reports were given from the art committee by Mrs. T. S. Armstrong and, as the state art exhibit is here, this was a feature report. Mrs. J. H. Stair reported for the handicraft committee and Mrs. W. R. Richards of Moorhead gave a very interesting report from the committee on civics. The address of Mrs. Hamlin on "Conservation" was excellent and Mrs. B. F. Tenney of Ada reported on the same subject. Mrs. A. A. Ayers gave a very interesting report for the public health committee and the report on "Social Hygiene" was made by Mrs. John McGrath of Barnesville.

Mrs. Edgar Sharp of Moorhead read the paper on "Outdoor Recreation," prepared by Mrs. T. I. Lewis of the same city.

The closing in the afternoon was a feature address by Rev. Paul B. Albert of Crookston on "Modern Psychology and the Child," which created great interest. "Meat Inspection" was discussed by Mrs. E. E. Stevens of Grand Forks, who informed the ladies that Minnesota was getting all the meat that would not pass inspection in North Dakota, where they had an effective inspection law. The "Woman Citizen" was discussed ably by Mrs. Hamlin of St. Paul, who outlined the larger sphere of action of the woman of today and the necessity of the women to rise to the occasion.

Officers Elected.

The last thing before adjournment yesterday afternoon was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Russell, Moorhead; vice president, Mrs. A. A. Miller, Crookston; recording secretary, Mrs. John McGrath, Barnesville; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harris, Moorhead; treasurer, Mrs. S. Rosenthal, Crookston.

The following standing committees were named by the president:

Civics—Mrs. L. E. Sprague, Breckinridge; Mrs. W. R. Richards, Moorhead; Mrs. A. J. Bredvold, Ada.

Conservation—Mrs. B. F. Tenney, Ada; Mrs. S. D. Ensign, Detroit; Mrs. C. H. Zealand, Crookston.

Public Health—Mrs. John McGrath, Barnesville; Mrs. A. A. Ayres, Warren; Mrs. Outrum, Detroit.

An invitation was extended by the secretary of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association for the ladies to attend the Moorhead convention June 25 and 26, at which a special program will be presented for the ladies in addition to elaborate entertainment provided by the ladies of Moorhead. By resolution the federation accepted the invitation and promised to co-operate with the Valley Development association in every way, both at the convention and in future work.

LESS WHEAT AND MORE CORN SOWN

Wheat Acreage of North Dakota Will Be Less This Year.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—From 50 to 80 per cent of the wheat was sown in North Dakota previous to the heavy rains of this week, according to to reports received from all sections.

Except in teh extreme western regions, a decrease is reported in the wheat acreage. The corn acreage will increase about 200 to 300 per cent; the alfalfa acreage will be increased about 200 per cent, while the oats, barley and flax acreages probably will remain about the same as at present.

Soil Drying Up Early.

Next week the farmers will begin to resume operations. Favorable drying weather has prevailed during the last three days, there being a marked rise in the temperature, with warm, drying south winds.

In the southwestern counties, the wheat acreage sown is about 75 per cent of the total that will be sown.

Quits Government Service.

Rayfield, Wis., May 2.—Frank Dolsen, formerly assistant lightkeeper on Sand Island and who was transferred to the lighthouse at Chassell, Mich., two years ago recently resigned from the lighthouse service. Mr. Dolsen and family have moved to Mellen, where he will be employed in the water power plant there which is being managed by Louis Dufrane.

BOYS INTERESTED IN GROWING CORN

Red River Valley Youths Taking to Various Contests Planned.

Crookston, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—T. A. Erickson, with the extension division of the University Farm school, has just completed work in Pennington and Marshall counties in aiding the boys' acre corn contest, with big entries in both counties. He has also worked in portions of Becker and covered Clay county, working with the county superintendent of schools, the high school agricultural men and county agents. In the ten counties from Clay and Becker north, included in the Minnesota Red River Valley development, there are over 1,000 boys enrolled, and this number will probably exceed 1,200 before the entries are closed.

This is an increase over last year of over 25 per cent.

Additional Prizes.

To add to the state prizes, the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association today hung up an additional $100 in cash and $50 worth of other premiums, and the farm school here hung up an additional $25 in cash for the acre yield, which, with the county prizes, gives the boys a great series of premiums for their efforts. The corn contest in the northern zone this year will be a tremendous success as indicated by the number of entries.

Mr. Erickson states that Pennington county will also have 200 boys in the Soo railroad potato contest, each boy getting a half bushel of seed free, the Soo furnishing half the seed and the Thief River Falls Commercial club the other half. This promises to be a great contest also.

County Supt. of Schools Thorson is handling the corn contest in Polk county and will have over 200 entries, Supt. Wolfe and Agricultural Agent Hunter of the East Grand Forks schools having the banner corn club with a membership of fifty-six.

YEGGMEN'S CACHE INJURES TWO MEN

Goes Off When Pile of North Dakota Ties Is Moved.

McLeod, N. D., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.) — Yeggmen, evidently from Winnipeg, concealed nitroglycerin, a fuse and a candle in an old pile of Soo ties here. It was evidently done in 1912, as the package was wrapped in a Winnipeg paper of that year. Ole Thompson is short three fingers on one hand and a Greek laborer had one eye blown out, as a result of the plant of explosives. The two men were tearing down the tie pile when they discovered the nitroglycerin. They exploded it with the foregoing results. It is thought a plan had been made to rob the local bank and something developed that changed it.

BUSY BEAVERS ARE FARMER'S NEMESIS

Build Dam, Backing Up Water and Floating Off New Barn.

Escanaba, Mich., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.) — Henry Blondeau, a Maple Ridge township farmer, came to the county seat here this week to get a license to kill fifteen beavers, thereby hangs a tale, dealing with the industry of those animals in erecting a dam on a stream near Mr. Blondeau's new barn that successfully dammed the stream and caused a lake that floated away Mr. Blondeau's new barn. The dam was the third the industrious animals erected on Mr. Blondeau's farm and when the barn began to float on the improvised lake he threw up his hands and came to town for the permit to slay the animals.

To Dynamite Dam.

The first thing he is going to do is to dynamite that new dam and then he is going to try and get the full fifteen pelts allowed by law.

He will have until May 14 to kill them and if he does not manage it by that time the game law prohibits beaver shooting after this date, he will probably put in an application for a marine engineer's certificate and try growing water lilies and fish.

INTEREST IN ART.

State Exhibit Made at Crookston Proves Popular.

Crookston, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state art exhibit closes in Crookston today and for two weeks has been the center of attraction. Wonderful interest has been aroused, many of the people of this section never before having had the privilege of seeing such a great collection. People have attended from throughout this section and the keenest interest displayed. Maurice I. Flagg, art director, and Allan Albert of Minneapolis gave addresses and the exhibit will have a most beneficial effect in arousing interest in the artistic along practical lines.

Special interest was taken in the farm home and village home plans, both ladies and men devoting much time to their inspection.

The attendance passed the 6,000 mark, and Director Flagg was highly gratified over the interest shown, clearly demonstrating the popular hunger for such things, the love for which often lies dormant till aroused by such an exhibit, and this was certainly true here.

ISHPEMING SUICIDE.

Mrs. Marcia Nicholls Orem Shoots Self While Despondent.

Ishpeming, Mich., May 2.—Despondent over continued ill-health, Mrs. Marcia Nicholls Orem, aged 30, wife of Thor Orem and a former local school teacher, shot herself with a .22-caliber rifle while lying in bed Thursday morning, the bullet entering the right side, slightly below the shoulder and taking an upward course, causing almost instant death.

Mr. Orem was in the kitchen at the time, and Mrs. Nicholls, mother of Mrs. Orem, was downstairs, but neither heard the report of the rifle, as it was muffled by the bed clothes. Mrs. Nicholls returned to her daughter's room a few minutes later, and found her dead.

Besides her mother, Mrs. Nicholls, and her husband, Mrs. Orem is survived by two small children. One is about 3 years of age, and the other is a child of only a few months. She also leaves three brothers, two of whom live in Ishpeming. The funeral was held from the home.

PURE SEED MEETING.

Governor Speaks at Well Attended Moose Lake Gathering.

Moose Lake, Minn., May 2.—The Majestic theater was crowded yesterday when the pure seed convention was held with farmers from various portions of Carlton county in attendance and Governor Eberhart as the chief speaker. C. Fossum was chairman, while C. F. Mahnke, a local editor, introduced the governor, who spoke on the development of Northern Minnesota and claimed considerable had been accomplished to that end by laws passed during his administration. An interesting and instructive talk was given by Supt. Mark Thompson of the Duluth experimental farm.

W. L. Oswald of the seed laboratory at the university farm explained fully the pure seed law and advised the planting of pure seed upon the farm.

County Agent H. F. Plughoeft spoke on the growing of better crops and their value to the farmer and the entire community.

A resolution was passed indorsing the Garmen No. 3 as one of the varieties of potatoes to be grown in this section.

Governor Eberhart was entertained at luncheon at the Rex hotel by the Moose Lake Commercial Agricultural club, and after his address was taken in an automobile around the district.

SAW LIGHTNING PULVERIZE POLE.

Williston, N. D., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—A big bolt of flame, as large as a man's head, leaving a brilliant blaze of light in its wake, was seen by W. O. Dollar of this place, who was driving across the country recently during a thunder storm. He saw the bolt strike a telephone post. There was a puff of smoke and the pole was ground to powder and the wires melted into little bits.

BIG SALARY SLASH.

Minot City Commission Is Trying to Reduce Expenses.

Minot, N. D., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minot city commission and the board of directors of the Minot Association of Commerce met in an effort to adjust differences over an ordinance that provides for total reductions in the salaries of city officials of $7,100.

The salaries of city commissioners are reduced $600 to $100 annually, and many big slashes are made in the ordinance, which was originally proposed by the Association of Commerce.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETS.

Series of Gatherings in Different North Dakota Counties.

Jamestown, N. D., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—A series of county Sunday school conventions will be held throughout, according to Walter A. Snow, general secretary. The campaign will be one of the most active that has been staged in the state for several years, and numerous prominent speakers will be present at the several gatherings.

The county convention will began at Steele county, Finley, May 2 and 3; and end at Dickey county, Oakes, Oct. 28 and 29.

RISKS LIFE TO SAVE.

Transient Laborer Plunges Into River Trying to Save Woman.

Fargo, N. D., May 2.—A transient laborer who gave the name of Thomas Corkedy leaped fully clothed into the icy Red river Thursday evening and struggled vainly in an effort to rescue Mrs. Rose Hill, who had deliberately waded into the stream to drown herself. The woman was swept rapidly past Corkedy by the current, and when he saw he could not reach her, he swam ashore and fell exhausted.

Mrs. Hill, wife of a crippled veteran of the Civil war, became mentally unbalanced as a result of constant ministering to an invalid daughter.

FATHER IS FINED $25.

Failure to Send Children to School Results in Conviction.

Walker, Minn., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Modock was found guilty in district court of not sending his children to school and was fined $25 and costs. Mr. Modock was first arrested upon complaint filed in a justice court and upon being found guilty appealed the case to the district court. The case was given a jury trial. The verdict rendered is expected to have a wholesome effect on school attendance all over Cass county.

ILLINOIS U WINS.

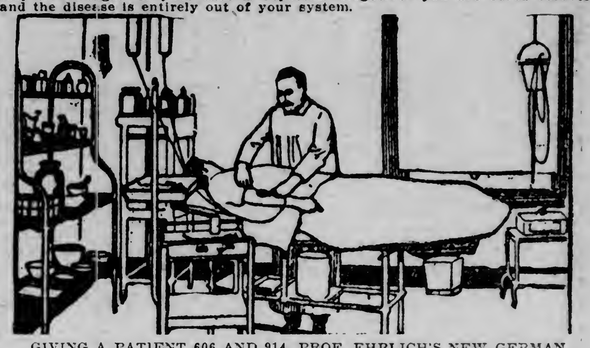
Previous to the last four months Mr. Bernard has been a butcher for Mr. Fassbender for four years. Mr. Bernard will take possession immediately.

Blood Disorders!

In all cases of Blood Poison it is only necessary for patients to remain in our office just long enough to receive the infusion, after which they can go to their hotel, business or home with a feeling of relief, such as sufferers never dream of. We invite you, dear reader, to come and investigate. We assure you of satisfactory results. The painful and other distressing symptoms disappear, never to return again. After you have received this treatment directly into your blood, we will have a test made of your blood condition after the infusion in order that you may know absolutely and positively for all time that every vestige of the poison is entirely eliminated from your system. Such tests we never make ourselves, but have it done in a Bacteriological Laboratory in Chicago. If your case is reported "Negative" you are cured forever, and the disease is entirely out of your system.



GIVING A PATIENT 606 AND 914, PROF. EHRLICH'S NEW GERMAN REMEDY FOR BLOOD POISON, DIRECTLY INTO THE BLOOD.

NO NEED FOR HOT SPRINGS any more; you get the best cure right in Duluth. Save your expensive fares, those outrageous hotel bills and other grafts. Thomas A. Edison, the great "electrical wizard," says: "The German discovery for the cure of blood disorders is the most important achievement of the year 1911—and that most of us have the disease and do not know it."

We guarantee a painless and safe treatment, giving the genuine German Remedy according to the great German professor's latest instructions, till completely cured. All consultations free. Hours, 9 to 8; Sundays, 10 to 1.

WE TREAT MEN ONLY AND CURE ALL MEN'S DISEASES.

MARKET HAS AN UPTURN

Wheat Advances on Bullish Situation in Old Crop Stocks.

Flaxseed Closes Up With Higher Cables and Buying By Crushers.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 2.—After showing fractional weakness at the opening today, on lower Liverpool cables and reports of further good rains in sections of Kansas, the wheat market became strong at the close under the impetus of buying attributed largely to short covering, after the declines of the previous three days.

May wheat opened unchanged at 91c and closed ½c up. The July option opened unchanged at 91¾c and closed ⅜c up, and September opened ⅜c up at 87¾c and gained ¼c more.

Trading in durum was confined to one or two sales in the May option. It opened ⅛c up at 87⅝c and closed ¼c better. The July option closed ⅛c up, nominally at 89¼c.

A strong demand developed for oats, and their quotations advanced ½c, to 36¾c for on the track, and 36c for to arrive. Rye closed unchanged at 56½@58½c, and barley unchanged at from 54 to 59c for choice stuff.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed at 36⅝c and July at 37⅛c.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at 89⅛@89¼c bid and calls at 89¾c.

Remaining stocks of last season's wheat are said to be in strong hands and with increased Eastern demand developing operators regard the market situation in the grain as bullish in spite of the brilliant crop prospects in this country. Local operators report that export business is being worked every day in all grades of wheat.

The grain cargoes that were held in store at Duluth through the winter have gone down the lakes, the last steamer clearing today. Wheat stocks in the elevators here are now down to 10,909,000 bu, a decrease of 1,800,000 bu in the six days. Supplies of all grains were reduced 2,387,000 bu in the week, bringing them down to 16,824,000 bu.

The market at Chicago was sustained through heavy buying of the July wheat option by the Armour interests. That tended to creat uneasiness among the shorts.

Crop news was increasingly satisfactory from every quarter. The recent good rains in the Southwest have relieved all anxiety on the score of drouth. The official state estimate for Nebraska, issued today, gave the condition on May 1 at 101 per cent, an improvement of 2 per cent from April 1.

Good Bulge in Flax.

Flaxseed was again strong on the development of good buying by crushers brought about through higher cables and a bulge at Winnipeg. Trading was in small lots, but was in good volume in the agregate.

Antwerp closed 3⅛c up; Buenos Aires ⅝c up, and London 7¢ up today.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.55¾ and closed 1⅝c up at $1.57¼; July opened unchanged at $1.57½ and closed 1⅛c up at $1.58⅝; September opened ¼c up at $1.59 and closed 1⅞c up at $1.60½, and October closed nominally at $1.57¾.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.36 bid and July at $1.39½.

MARKET GOSSIP.

The Minneapolis cash market was strong, with good local and outside milling demand. One northern blue stem sold at from 2½@4c over May, and velvet chaff, 2@2½c premium. The flour demand was still limited, but shipping directions improved and bids from abroad were better. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold these at from 90½c to 92½c, and No. 2 northern at from 88½c to 90½c.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool—"Wheat—Weakness in American yesterday and flattering American crop advices caused some pressure at the opening here and values were unchanged to ¼@⅜d lower, with support in May. Following the opening, there was some disposition to support and prices advanced ⅛d. Expectations of light world's shipments, Continental demand for Australian cargoes and general improvement in the demand here, with a better inquiry from millers, helped to hold prices steady. At the close the undertone was steady unchanged to ¾d lower with pressure in October.

The Nebraska state report as wired to Baker, shows the May condition of wheat 101 as against 99 per cent in April. The acreage is 105 per cent of last year. April reports of damage to wheat have not been confirmed. Oats are in excellent condition, and there is a slight increase in acreage.

"Corn opened ¼d higher and later further advanced ⅜d with the undertone firm. Strength in Buenos Ayres, reduced Argentine estimates and Plata offers 3d higher, with decreasing local stocks here, stimulated shorts to cover. At the close, prices were ½d higher."

Lecount wired from Chicago: "The winter wheat territory that I have seen recently is absolutely perfect. It could not be any better. The recent general rains have relieved all anxiety in regards to possible drouth damage for some time. The spring wheat country is also very promising since the heavy rains. Seeding wheat and oats is nearly completed in South Dakota and Southern Minnesota, and if the weather remains favorable it will be finished in our Northwest in a few days. While this is a little late for wheat and oats seeding, the crop has a good chance to mature even though sown at this time.

Parker Paine had the following from Stuart Logan, Chicago: "It looks as if the futuro effect of free Argentine corn has been fuly discounted and I believe the next big factor that is going to exert its influence on our market is the actual scarcity of supplies, due to last year's shortage."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Is Easy Owing to Favorable Crop Weather.

Chicago, May 2.—Extremely favorable weather for the growing crop made the wheat market today easy. In particular the fact that moisture deficiency southwest was being overcome had a bearish influence. Besides cables were lower and the Nebraska state report showed 2 per cent gain in condition as compared with a month ago. Opening prices were the same as last night to ⅝c down, but the declines gradually disappeared.

In the late trading the fact that lake charters for wheat from here the last two days have amounted to 750,000 bu acted as a check on sellers. There were reports, too, that the crop outlook had become poor in Northwestern Ohio and Northeastern Indiana. Closing prices were steady at a shade to ½@⅝c net higher.

Scarcity of offerings made corn advance. Strength of prices was increased to some extent by rising quotations at Liverpool and Buenos Aires. The market here after opening a shade off to ⅜c up tended to harden all around.

Assertions that Chicago stocks would exhibit a decrease of 1,000,000 bu for the week gave the market an additional swing higher. The close was nervous at a gain of ½@⅞c net.

Oats showed independent firmness. Good-sized shipments from Chicago were the incentive.

Provisions sagged owing to lack of demand. First sales were a shade to 5c lower and there was a subsequent further setback.

FALLING OFF IN STOCKS

Prices Decline Slowly Under Realizing Sales—Close Is Heavy.

Heaviness Most Pronounced in the Coal and Copper Groups.

New York, May 2.—In view of the extent of yesterday's buoyant rise and the custom among speculators of taking profits at the end of the week, the stock market held up well during the early trading today. Recessions were limited to fractions except in the cases of Smelting, Mexican Petroleum and Canadian, which dropped back a point or more each. The only stocks to advance were a few of the specialties, Can and Texas company were a point higher.

The market closed heavy. Speculative buying halted and prices declined slowly under realizing sales, but few issues lost more than a point. Heaviness was most pronounced in the coal and copper groups, which were affected by the labor troubles in the bituminous field and less satisfactory conditions in the copper industry. Missouri Pacific moved up to 20, but was supplied freely and reacted 1¼.

Bonds were irregular. Liquidation of Rock Island bonds was continued. The collateral 4's lost 2⅝ and the debentures 5's 1½.

QUIET TRADING IN COPPER STOCKS

Closing Prices Are Lower—Some Liquidation in Greene-Cananea.

There was the usual quiet Saturday market in mining stocks at Boston. With the appearance of selling in a few issues, quotations showed moderate declines at the close.

Greene-Cananea was the feature, absorbing a large proportion of the session's trading, and selling off $1.75 to a close of $30.

Butte & Superior closed 62 cents off at $34.38; Butte & Ballaklava 25 cents off at $2.25; Alaska Gold, 50 cents off at $26.50; Granby 25 cents off at $80.25; North Butte 38 cents off at $26.12; Shattuck 50 cents down at $24; and Amalgamated Copper $1 off at $72.50.

In the Duluth curb list, Calumet & Corbin sold at 26 cents and Keating at $1.56.

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following closing letter from Boston: "The market had to absorb some week-end profit-taking sales today, but held up well considering the advances during the week. No liquidation of importance took place, and the bear account is growing larger. Heavy sales of copper have been made during the past two days around 14¼ cents and the present condition of the market is reported excellent. After this reaction in the market is over we look for the advance to continue."

Commenting on the present situation in mining stocks, Skilling's Mining and Market Letter today says:

"It is doubtful if anything except a good trading market position for mining securities will be witnessed until after the railroad freight rate advance matter is disposed of. The Mexican situation is calculated to depress the general list of stocks, but probably has no direct bearing on the copper stock division, barring those shares represented by mines in Mexico. A war would be calculated to improve the price of copper metal. Copper shares are rather depressed in sympathy with general stock market conditions, as far as the Mexican situation is concerned. Beyond any doubt the most important pending factor at this time is the railroad rate matter. Favorable action by the commission would give impulse to the iron and steel and the lumber industry, and tend to hearten everybody that has money to invest or labor to sell. The copper metal position is very strong. Electrolytic is quoted at 14.27½ cents, which is extremely low when the statistical position of the metal is considered."

Cuyuna Iron Range

The Iron property of Ver-Mes-Cuyuna Mining & Development company is situated in the very heart of the Cuyuna iron range. A year's drilling has proved up a large body of ore. The over-burden is the lightest yet encountered on the range. Mining will be cheap: The location is ideal and there are no transportation problems.

Results already secured at this mine fully warrant and demand further development work. To strengthen the company's treasury for that purpose, 25,000 shares of stock are offered for subscription at par, $1.00 a share.

This is the first stock offered the public since the company's organization was completed. It is a rare chance. Investigation is invited. Get some of this offering before it is all taken. Prospectus and any information desired on request.

NO LACK OF MOISTURE

Rains in Northwest Hold Out Promise of a Bumper Crop.

Most optimistic crop forecasts are contained in the latest report issued by the Van Dusen-Harrington company covering the progress of seeding operations in the three Northwestern states. The report follows:

"The last week has been one of continued and heavy rains in practically all sections of the three Northwestern states. All districts now have an abundance of moisture both in the surface soil and in the sub soil. This removes all possibility of anxiety on this account. It has, however, caused some talk of too much moisture having been received in some portion of the states, notably in the northern end of the Red River valley. While it is true that a great deal of rain has fallen there and seeding has been delayed somewhat in that territory on that account, no damage has been done, and seeding has not been unduly delayed. Wheat seeding can be done until May 20. Several warm drying days will be required before it will be possible for the farmers to resume their field work both in the Red River valley and in North Dakota.

"Minnesota: Seeding was practically completed in Minnesota before the last rains excepting in the extreme southeastern and northwestern portions of the state. Our advices tend to indicate that in the localities where seeding is completed there is a slight decrease in the acreage of barley and an increase in the corn and oats acreage with little change in wheat.

"South Dakota: Seeding is completed in South Dakota unless the more recent rains will induce farmers to put in more seed than they originally intended to this year. In the Jim River valley there is some reduction in the seeded acreage this year due to the unpromising conditions existing at the beginning of the season. The reduction will, of course, be in the wheat acreage as this is essentially wheat territory and in this district the falling off may amount to as much as 5 per cent of last year's acreage. Farmers are, however, preparing to put in more corn than ever before and the last rains will perhaps induce many to put in more small grain than they had intended.

"North Dakota: Seeding in this state was not so far advanced when the heavy rains came as in South Dakota and Minnesota but we believe it would be safe to say that 50 per cent of the wheat seeding is now accomplished. Nothing further can be accomplished in the line of field work until the surface soil has had an opportunity to dry out somewhat. No figures as to probable acreage are as yet available."

STATEMENT OF NEW YORK BANKS

New York, May 2.—The statement of the actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows that they hold $36,486,350 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is an increase of $6,232,150 from last week. The statement:

Actual condition: Loans, $2,137,380,000; decrease, $10,546,000. Specie, $427,609,000; increase, $7,351,000. Legal tenders, $73,357,000; decrease, $2,341,000. Net deposits, $2,039,443,000; decrease, $10,317,000. Circulation, $42,141,000; increase, $83,000. Banks' cash reserve in vault, $439,778,000. Trust companies' cash in vault, $70,190,000. Aggregate cash reserve, $509,968,000. Excess lawful reserve, $36,186,550; increase, $6,232,150. Trust companies' reserve with clearing house members carrying 25 per cent cash reserve, $99,339,000.

Summary of state banks and trust companies in Greater New York not included in clearing house statement: Loans, $507,581,400; increase, $2,719,100. Specie, $57,775,700; decrease, $1,528,700. Legal tenders, $7,931,000; decrease, $28,400. Total deposits, $586,039,100; increase, $4,353,400.

TRADE REVIEW

New York, May 2.—Dun's Review says today: "While some betterment is discernible in certain branches of trade, in others a further moderate recession in activity is manifest. Fundamental conditions are sound and the agricultural outlook augurs well for the future, yet hesitancy is general in anticipation of forward requirements.

Complaints are still heard, especially in the East, of the restraining influences of unsettled weather which checks a full retail distribution of seasonable merchandise and also hampers out-door work. Although expansion in building operations is to be expected at this period of the year, nearly all wholesale lines, dependent upon new construction are at present quiet. Absence of any important contracts for structural material has resulted in price concessions and sentiment in iron and steel is not improved.

"Failures this week numbered 308 in the United States against 293 last year and 53 in Canada compared with 34 a year ago."

New York, N. Y., May 1st, 1914.

Calumet-Corbin Stockholders, care Duluth Herald, Duluth, Minn.:

Syndicate will start operations early coming week. In market picking up all loose Calumet-Corbin stock. Good strong crowd with plenty of money back of them. Stock sure to see substantial rise next few days. I want all our friends take advantage before upturn starts. Can never buy it again so cheaply. (Signed) BERNARD NOON.

May 2nd, 1914.

This is the final step in the negotiations started some five months ago and spells SUCCESS in great big letters. Every stockholder should write to J. H. Bridge, 505 Fidelity Building, 97 Cedar Street, New York, and get one of the circulars the syndicate is sending out. Keep yourself posted on this Calumet-Corbin. It is a rare opportunity to make big money on a very limited investment, and every detail has been so safely negotiated that nothing but success seems inevitable. Caution in stock trades is always the first necessity, but Calumet-Corbin will stand the closest inspection. It has the property with the ore reserves, it has the management and the money and it is now in hands that will make it take its rightful position in the open market of the country.

We have tried our very best to keep the stockholders advised of every move and if they have followed these advices they have profited by the same. Our candid opinion is the stock is a better buy Monday at 30c than it was when this move started Dec. 3rd at 5c.

HEAD OF KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS WILL VISIT DULUTH LODGES

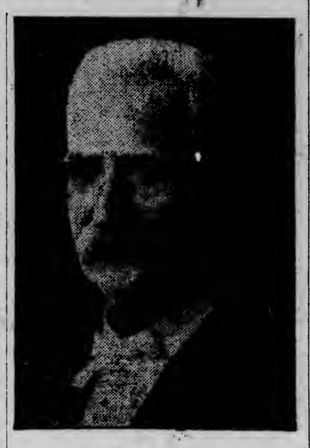
The Knights of Pythias of Duluth Superior and the ranges on the evening of May 8 will receive a visit from the supreme chancellor of the order, Thomas Carling.

The supreme chancellor is a Southerner, and sand to be one of the ablest men in the order.

The Pythians of this part of the state are congratulating themselves on having the pleasure of seeing and meeting "Uncle Tom" as he is familiarly called by all who know him. In coming to Duluth it was necessary for him to forgo a visit to either St. Paul or Minneapolis. He will arrive here on Friday evening, May 8, at about 7 o'clock and will be met by a committee composed of the chancellor commanders of the four Duluth lodges, together with the chancellor commander of the Superior lodge and others.

After dinner he will be escorted to the Knights of Pythias hall at 118 West Superior street, where an open meeting will be held in his honor. This meting is open to all Knights of Pythias and their wives and friends, and it is expected that there will be the largest attendance of Pythians that has assembled in Duluth for years.

At the Castle Hall of North Star lodge an informal program will be given. Louis Dworshak will give a solo and Miss Larson of the West end will also sing, and will respond to a Southern melody that will be rendered especially for the benefit of the supreme chancellor. A male quartet composed of Louis Dworshak, Dr. F. W. Spicer, A. H. Smith and R. J. Cool, and known as the "Pythian Quartet," has kindly consented to give a selection. Other Duluth talent is being secured. Grand Vice Chancellor B. F. Fowler of Two Harbors, will preside at the meeting and addresses will be made by the supreme chancellor and by Grand Chancellor Atwood of Minnesota.



THOMAS CARLING,
Supreme Chancellor of Pythians.

It is the intention of the general committee to entertain the supreme chancellor and the grand chancellor on Saturday morning by showing them about the city and the steel plant.

Past Supreme Representative James L. Cromwell is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

SEARCH FOR NOBLE IS DISCONTINUED

All efforts to locate the wreck of the steamer Benjamin Noble and her lost crew of twenty men have been given up for the present by the United States life-savers. Crews have been at work constantly for the last three days, and a thorough search has been made over the lake between Duluth and Two Harbors and along the south shore. The search was discontinued last night. Should anything develop to warrant further activities, the crews will be put to work again.

The results of the search so far have failed to locate the position of the wreck, and no bodies have been found. It is believed that most of them are in the sunken hulk, and little hope is entertained that they will ever be discovered or come to the surface.

BOYLE NAMES HIS CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE.

Senator James P. Boyle, candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman from the Eighth district, today appointed his personal campaign committee.

The members of the committee are: Frank R. Randall, Dr. S. H. Boyer, Clarence R. Magney, and John A. Boyle of Duluth; Victor L. Power of Hibbing, and Dr. E. P. Christianson of Two Harbors.

Mr. Randall will act as chairman, John A. Boyle, Senator Boyle's brother, will act as secretary and headquarters in Parlor E at the St. Louis will be in charge of the secretary.

SEEK NEW TRIAL IN MADAME GAIN CASE.

In district court this afternoon, Judge Cant is listening to arguments on a motion for a new trial in the case of the state against Mary Le Flohic, alias Madame Gain, who is under conviction on a charge of keeping a house of ill fame. John H. Norton appears in court in the woman's behalf and Mason M. Forbes, assistant county attorney, is opposing the motion.

The motion for a new trial is based on the alleged failure of the state to bring the defendant to a speedy trial, as provided for by law. It is claimed that the prosecution did not bring the woman to trial at the next term of court following that in which the indictment was returned, Attorney Norton holding that a "mistrial" is not a trial as contemplated by the statute.

The woman was found guilty on a charge of keeping the Clifton hotel, 323 West First street, as a place of ill fame between June 24 and July 5. The prosecution was conducted under the statute which fixes a penitentiary sentence as punishment.

It is expected that Judge Cant will take the matter under advisement.

POLICE CHANGES AND PROMOTIONS

R. A. Dunham of New Duluth was yesterday appointed patrolman on the Duluth police force by Chief Troyer and he assumed his new duties at the New Duluth station last night. He fills the vacancy left by the resignation of Patrolman Riedel, who left the force Thursday night.

Patrolman Anderson of the West Duluth station, who has been at New Duluth since Jan. 7, last, when Patrolman Mooney was killed while making an arrest at Gary, returned to West Duluth last night, resuming his duties there. Patrolman Lading, who has filled the temporary vacancy left by Patrolman Anderson, is now on street duty again, working from headquarters.

Only two more changes are contemplated by the police officials for the very near future, these being the promotion of Sergt. Holmstrom of the West end station to the lieutenancy, effective June 1, and the filling of his present position by Patrolman Hunter, who will be promoted to the sergeantcy at that time. These changes are to be made upon the retirement of Lieut. Drennen, who leaves the force on a pension granted him several weeks ago.

LEGAL NOTICES.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That at a special meeting of the stockholders of Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Minnesota, duly called for the expressly stated purpose of increasing the authorized capital stock of the Company, increasing the amount of indebtedness or liability to which the Company might at any time be subject, as specified in the resolutions hereinafter set forth, and for the transaction of such other business as might come before the meeting, and held at room 806 Sellwood Building, in the City of Duluth and State of Minnesota, on the 28th day of March, 1914, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon thereof, at which said meeting all of the shares of the capital stock of the Company and all the holders of such shares were represented either in person or by proxy, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the vote of said shares and said shareholders present at said meeting as aforesaid, namely:

(a). "RESOLVED, That Article 3 of the original Certificate of Incorporation of Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse Company be amended to read as follows:

'The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000), and shall be paid in either in money or property, at such time and in such manner as the Board of Directors may direct.'"

(b). "RESOLVED, That Article 4 of the original Certificate of Incorporation of Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse Company, as amended by the stockholders of this Company at a special meeting held on the 28th day of September, 1912, which said amendment is evidenced by a Certificate of Amendment, recorded in the office of the Secretary of State of the State of Minnesota, on October 3, 1912, in Vol. W-3 of Incorporations, on page 24 thereof, and thereafter recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of St. Louis County, Minnesota, on October 4, 1912, in Book 15 of Miscellaneous Records, on page 98 thereof, be now amended to read as follows:

'The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall at any time be subject shall be Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000).'"

(c). "RESOLVED, That Article 7 of the original Certificate of Incorporation of Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse Company be amended to read as follows:

'The capital stock of this corporation shall be divided into five thousand (5,000) shares, which shall consist of three thousand (3,000) shares of common stock, each of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) per share, and two thousand (2,000) shares of preferred stock, each of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) per share. The holders of preferred stock shall not be entitled to any voting powers in this corporation, and all such preferred stock shall be subject to redemption at the option of the corporation at any time fixed by the By-Laws of the corporation for the payment of dividends or installments thereof on such preferred stock at the price of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) for each such share and the amount of dividends cumulated and unpaid thereon at the date of such redemption.'"

(d). "AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Vice President and Secretary of this Company be, and they hereby are, authorized and directed to execute, under the corporate seal of said Company, a certificate embracing the foregoing resolutions, and the whole thereof, and that such officers cause the same to be approved, filed, recorded and published, as required by law, for the purpose of rendering said resolutions effective as amendments to the said original Certificate of Incorporation of this Company as the same may have been heretofore amended."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Vice President and Secretary of said Corporation, the presiding and recording officers of said Corporation at the special stockholders' meeting of said Corporation hereinabove referred to, have caused these presents to be executed under the corporate seal of said corporation this 22nd day of April, 1914.

MANGAN COMPANY MAY SINK SHAFT ON CUYUNA PROPERTY

Fair Ore Struck By Lenox Company on the Putman Farm.

Armour No. 2 and Kennedy Mines the Only Shippers So Far.

Brainerd, Minn., May 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Reports are current on the range that the Mangan Iron & Steel company, of which A. F. Gross of Duluth is president, may put down a shaft on their property in section 3, township 46, range 29, adjoining the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine. Mr. Gross, who makes his headquarters while on the range in Crosby, could not be found at the time to substantiate the report, which, if true, will do much to benefit the town of Crosby and the north range.

E. B. Gaylord of Crosby recently placed a drill for the Lenox Iron Mining company of Duluth at the Putman farm, located about a mile south of Lenox on the south range. The first hole down struck fair ore, there being seventy feet of surface.

The Cuyuna Central Iron company is reported to have just placed a drill on section 28, township 47, range 29, on the Flynn property.

The Armour No. 2 mine of the Rogers-Brown Ore company, and the Kennedy mine of the company are hoisting from shaft to cars and shipping. These represent the range shipments. The pit mines have not shipped to date. The Thompson mine of the Inland Steel company, the Pennington mine, and the Rowe mine are engaged in stripping and getting their properties in shape for shipments. The Rowe mine is installing new electrical equipment.

Wilcox Sinking Shaft.

The Wilcox mine of the Canadian-Cuyuna Ore company, situated at Woodrow, has its shaft down forty-five feet. Forty men are working three shifts. A three-compartment timber shaft reinforced with cement is being put down. At Woodrow townsite stumps are being cleared from the streets and lots. Northern Pacific railway surveyers have run the lines for a spur track leading from Loerch to the town and the mine. The spur runs on the quarter line on the east side of the town. The Dower Lumber company has installed yards in Woodrow.

The Adams mine is stockpiling. On the banks of the shaft rests an electric pump ready to be used when needed. The Cuyuna Range Power company, anticipating heavy pumpage here, closed a contract to install an electrical pump as an addition to the company's steam equipment. The shaft which offered the most difficulties in the way of sinking and on which the Foundation company of New York lost money, has now developed into the dryest. The Barrows mine at Barrows is accumulating a large stockpile and will ship extensively this season. Paydays at the mine have recently been double those of former months.

The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine and the Cuyuna-Duluth mine are getting out stockpiles of rich ore. The manganiferous deposits at the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs are of an especially high value. W. H. Locker and E. J. W. Donahue were chosen by the stockholders of the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs company, and T. W. Stevenson of Minneapolis and C. B. Rowley of Brainerd by the Cuyuna-Duluth stockholders, and these four, with four chosen by Eastern interests, will form the board of directors of the American Manganese Manufacturing company which, capitalized at $12,000,000, unites the two mines and an Eastern furnace company in a large corporation equipped with all necessary raw material and the means of manufacturing same, being dependent now only on labor and transportation.

Grading Finished.

McCullough & Cheney of Minneapolis, railway contractors, have finished their grading on the Cuyuna Northern railway extension from the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine to the Duluth-Brainerd mine and have now removed their equipment to Brainerd, where they are putting in a bridge fill in Northeast Brainerd.

The Longyear Exploration company, whose superintendent, F. W. Donovan, resides in Brainerd, has three drills at work near Loerch, a short distance from the new town of Woodrow. The Zenith Exploration company of Duluth, drilling for the Cuyuna Central Iron company, has in hand exploration work on the Hunter property in the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 27, township 47, range 29. Fine ore is being showed up.

The Brainerd-Cuyuna mine, in the city limits of Brainerd, is driving 40-foot steel piling through the quicksand and expects to soon have shaft No. 2 down to the ledge. Near by is shaft No. 1, which flooded, and it is expected that work in the second one will unwater the first. Pending the acquisition of title the drilling of the George W. Holland lands beneath the city of Brainerd is being held in abeyance. At the county poor farm the Longyear Exploration company is working on the second hole. The first hole struck no ore.

Changes in Interests.

R. G. Patton has sold to E. L. Gilbert the southeast quarter of section 20, township 138, range 27, the west half of the southwest quarter of section 21, township 138, range 27, and the south half of the southeast quarter of section 24, township 138, range 27, the consideration for the quit claim being $800.

A transfer covering considerable property was that of the Felthouse Land company to Merritt A. Goodell and embracing lot 6 of section 2, township 137, range 27; lots 3 and 4, the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 10, township 137, range 27; the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 14, township 137, range 27; lots 4, 5 and 7, the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 17, township 137, range 27; the north half of the northeast quarter, the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter, the fractional west half of the northwest quarter and lot 3 of section 19, township 137, range 27; the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter, the northhalf of the northwest quarter of section 22, township 137, range 27; the west half of the northwest quarter of section 23, township 137, range 27; the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter and the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 34, township 138, range 27; the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter, the north half of the northwest quarter, the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter and the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 36, township 138, range 27.

The Minnesota Farm Land company have sold to Merritt A. Goodell an undivided one-half in the minerals in the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 7, township 138, range 27; the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter and lots 3 and 5 of section 25, township 138, range 27; the east half of the northeast quarter and the south half of the southwest quarter of section 35, township 138, range 27.

James A. Stetson of Deerwood has sold to Otto J. Borer of the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter, the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter, the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter, the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 6, township 45, range 28, and he in turn quit-claimed it to William D. Washburn, Jr., of Minneapolis. Katharine S. Bennett has sold to Edward T. Chapman an undivided one-tenth interest in the minerals in the same description. Hugo Schwartzkopf and Martha A. Welsh of Brainerd have each sold an undivided half interest to the Lenox Development company in the west half of the northeast quarter and part of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter and the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter and lots 5, 7, 8 and 9 and part of lot 6, in section 10, township 43, range 32.

John Wahl Acquires Interests.

F. W. Erickson and others have sold to John Wahl of Duluth an undivided three-quarters interest in 1, 2, 3 and 4, the east half of the northeast quarter and the southwest quarter of section 9, township 44, range 31. August Paskewitz has sold to Henry Martin the southwest quarter of section 23, township 44, range 29, and the west half of southwest quarter of section 26, township 44, range 29, the consideration being $3,600.

Joseph W. Mullin has sold to Kay Todd of St. Paul an undivided thirty-second interest in and part of the east half of the northeast quarter, the east half of the southeast quarter, the northwest quarter and the west half of the southwest quarter of section 5, township 46, range 29. He also conveyed to Mr. Todd an undivided one-sixteenth interest in and to part of the north half, the east half of the southeast quarter, the north half, the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 19, township 46, range 29. Kay Todd conveyed to the St. Paul Holding company an undivided sixteenth interest in and part of the north half of the northeast quarter, the east half of the southeast quarter, the northwest quarter and the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 15, township 46, range 29. Kay Todd conveyed to the St. Paul Cuyuna Iron company an undivided sixteenth interest in and part of the south half of the northeast quarter, the north half of the southwest quarter of section 19, township 46, range 29.

The R. L. Martin Timber company has quitclaimed to the Cuyuna Fee Mining company an undivided twenty-fifth interest in lots 3 and 4, the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 4, township 46, range 29. The Tower Mining and Development company has quitclaimed to the Cuyuna Fee Mining company an undivided three-quarter interest in the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter, the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter, the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 4, township 46, range 29. These people conveyed what interests they had in lots 3 and 4, the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 4, township 46, range 29 by quitclaims to the Cuyuna Fee Mining company, the grantors being John C. Campbell, W. G. Dolan, O. W. Erickson, Andrew Gowan estate, Charles McDermott, John Long, J. A. McDevitt, M. R. McGee, William O'Brien, Thomas York, Duluth Timber Supply company.

The Park Region Land company has sold to the Iowa-Minnesota Land company the north half of the southeast quarter and the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 17, township 138, range 28. J. H. Stewart has sold to William M. Stone an undivided quarter interest in lots 1 and 2 of section 3, township 46, range 29.

KINSEY COMPANY BONDS COCHISE

Option to Purchase Approved By Meeting of Stockholders.

Bisbee, Ariz., May 2.—At a special meeting of stockholders of the Cochise the stockholders voted the option to purchase requested under the offer made by the Kinsey Mining & Leasing company.

There were represented in the meeting over 34,000 shares of the outstanding 50,200 shares of the company. The shares represented voted for the bond, giving an easy two-thirds majority. Of the total stock outstanding but 155 shares voted against accepting the Kinsey proposition.

I. N. Kinsey, president of the Kinsey Mining & Leasing company was present at the meeting and formally submitted his proposal, calling for the payment of $365,000 for the property, or at the rate of $7.50 per share. Mr. Kinsey subsequently received a certified copy of the minutes of the meeting, accepting his offer, and immediately thereafter announced that he had steps under way with several large interests for the furtherance of his plans for taking over the property and bringing it under development.

The shares in the Cochise which were not represented in the meeting are mostly held by persons who have left the district and are now located elsewhere. There is considered to be no doubt, from the general tenor of expressions in the meetings that this stock will come in with a practical unanimity of indorsement of the Kinsey deal. However the more than two-thirds tender of approval at the meeting is sufficient for the transaction of the deal.

BULLWHACKER'S MILL TO START

Many Obstacles Were Encountered and Have Been Overcome.

Butte, Mont., May 2.—The Bullwhacker mill is practically ready to start up and it is expected that in the course of a very few days everything will be in running order. In the course of conversation yesterday Mr. Webster stated that they had found it advisable to make some further changes of minor importance, but that they were in a position to start up at once. This will only take about a week's time.

Mr. Webster said: "Like all new mills, we have encountered various problems in starting up. It has been necessary to spend quite a little time in the solution of these problems, but we now have things pretty well worked out. None of these problems was of serious nature, but just involved matters of detail. The question of separating the copper solution from the slimes has been very successfully worked out by means of filtration. We have just installed a large Kelly filter press and have run a series of tests upon filtering the slimes. The results were very good and showed that practically all of the copper solution in the slimes was removed by filtration in the Kelly press. We will thus be enabled to run the filtered solution direct from the Kelly press into our electrolytic cells."

CONTRACT LET FOR ADDITION TO THE BUTTE-DULUTH PLANT

New Cell House Will More Than Treble the Capacity.

Six Mines of Anaconda Undergoing Repairs But Output Normal.

Butte, Mont., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—A $100,000 addition to the Butte-Duluth plant has been decided on the contract let, the machinery and material ordered and teams are already at work with scrapers hauling out the dirt and excavating for the foundations. Supt. Sherwood no sooner received the wire from Capt. Wolvin at Duluth to go ahead than he proceeded with his usual dispatch to get everything going.

The new addition is to be a 100-cell electrolytic plant. The present cell house has but forty cells and can handle the output of the crushing plant up to 300 tons.

With the new cell house the capacity will be more than trebled and bring the entire plant up to the 1,000-ton per day capacity. The new building will be located just to the north of the old cell house and will parallel it between it and the street car tracks.

The only reason for holding back has been the question of funds, and as soon as they were in sight, the orders were placed. The plans have already been drawn and estimates and prices secured.

Improvements have been going forward rapidly at the plant in the past six weeks. The Dorr thickener is up and ready for operation and the foundations for the new leaching machines are all in, the framework is up and the machines are on the ground. This battery of leaching machines with double the capacity of the old will be in place and ready for operations within two weeks.

The 1,000-ton crushing plant is complete and the machinery is being rapidly gotten ready for operation there.

New Generator Shipped.

Word has been received from Schenectady, N. Y., that the new generator has been shipped from there by fast freight. This will generate a direct current for the cell houses and will be a big improvement on the old coil.

The new power line the Montana Power company to the plant is completed and the transformer station is finished. It contains three 150 K. V. A. transformers. The lightning arresters and switch board equipment are all in place and this part of the new plant is practically finished.

In the new cell house will be a new style of cathode bar put into use and also a new style of anode bar. Supt. Sherwood has been experimenting for some time with these and states that the efficiency of these new ones over the old will give 26 per cent greater efficiency. This will be due to the direct flow of the solution through the cell sheets being placed with the flow instead of against it.

March Output at Plant.

Since Mr. Sherwood took charge on Dec. 18, the plant has shown steady improvement in results and these are what count most with the average person interested from an investment standpoint. During the month of March 75,000 pounds of electrolytic copper was produced as against 62,000 pounds in February.

The production of cement copper which is collected by the scrap iron process was 30,000 pounds in March as against 40,000 pounds in February.

In spite of the increase of electrolytic copper produced, the expense account for March was about the same as for February.

The tonnage handled was 3,613 tons or a little over 100 tons per day and the recoveries were 84.3 per cent. The copper ran about 2 per cent.

Mr. Sherwood looks forward to the operation of the thousand-ton plant for the purpose of showing the big increase in the earning capacity of the plant. He stimates that at the present time they have available by the open cut method of mining about 15,000,000 tons of ore or a supply that will last fifty years for the thousand-ton plant.

Anaconda's Shipments.

The mines of the Anaconda company are shipping on an average of 11,000 tons a day to the smelters, which is around the normal output. Several of the mines are employing more than the usual number of men in order that the production may be maintained around the figures stated, as there are six mines down at the present time undergoing repairs of various kinds.

Butte & Superior.

The monthly report of the Butte & Superior company was filed the other day with the clerk of the Federal court in accordance with the order of the court made at the time notice of appeal was given in the decision against the company in regard to an alleged infringement of the process in use at the concentrator. The report was the fifth issued in compliance with the order and was for the month of March. It shows that 23,480.26 tons of ore were treated as against 27,074.802 tons in February. The concentrator recovery was 6,546.865 tons of concentrated in February. The analysis and assay return of heads in the oil flotation plant for March were 13.0091 per cent zinc; .5834 per cent lead; .1660 per cent copper; 2.0912 per cent iron; 1.5328 per cent manganese; 71.1402 per cent insolubles; 7.6204 ounces of silver to the ton and .0183 ounces of gold to the ton. The cost per ton of the concentrates recovered in March was $4.862 and in February, $4.340. The value per ton of the concentrates recovered in March was $24.292 and in February, $25.617.

Boston & Montana.

The building of the proposed railroad by the Boston & Montana Development is now an assured fact, according to Former Lieutenant Governor W. R. Allen, who is looking after affairs in this state. Mr. Allen says that an English company has contracted to build the road and that practically all the money required to go ahead with the work has been guaranteed, a large portion of it coming from England. The proposed new railroad besides running through the rich mining properties of the Boston & Montana Development company will prove of great value to the ranchers in the Madison valley, one of the richest agricultural and cattle districts in all the West. The construction work on the railroad will be started in a short time as the road has all been surveyed and the maps and plans have been prepared. The mines of the company in the Elkhorn district are regarded as among the richest in the entire country. Thirty years ago the district produced ore of such a high grade that it could be sent to Swansea, Wales, and good profit received. The lack of railroad facilities and capital have been the drawbacks in recent years to an extensive development of the properties.

Crystal Group Purchased.

The Crystal group of mining claims located in the Basin district, a short distance east of this city, have been purchased by New York and Boston capitalists, who propose to operate the same on an extensive scale. The property consists of five patented claims with ore bodies exposed on the surface for a distance of some 2,000 feet. Commercial ore has been found in every opening on the surface. There is a tunnel on the Crystal claim for 900 feet, and it is stated that the workings are in ore for practically the whole distance, the ore body having a width of 40 feet. For the past eighteen months A. C. Ray of Basin had a lease on the property, and in that time, according to his own showing, his production was 107,000 pounds of copper, 18,400 ounces of silver and 384 ounces of gold. The new company has been organized under the name of the Montana & Boston Mining company, with a capital of 40,000 shares at a par value of $25 a share. The officers elected are: George W. Angle, president, New York; A. C. Ray of Basin, Montana, vice president and general manager; Joseph F. Minion, Boston, treasurer; C. P. Brennan, Butte, secretary. The directors are: J. G. Weld, Boston; Joseph F. Minion, Boston; George W. Angle, New York; C. P. Drennan, Butte; A. C. Ray, Basin.

The new management proposes to carry on extensive developments, and with that object in view has already placed at work three shifts of men. The idea is to drive a new tunnel to intersect the ore body 200 feet lower than the present tunnel, giving a total depth from the surface of 400 feet. This work completed, it is proposed to erect a mill of 200 tons capacity to treat the lower grade ores. Water and lumber are on the ground and electric power can be connected up with the big power line near by at a very small cost.

Freimuth and White Talk.

I. Freimuth, president of the Butte-Ballaklava company and also of the Butte-Zenith City, along with William White, vice president of the Butte-Zenith City, who were in the city for several days looking over the two properties, have returned to Duluth. They stated that both properties were making a satisfactory showing. In regard to the Butte-Ballaklava, it was stated that there was every prospect inside of another month of the production being increased to at least 200 tons a day. Mr. Freimuth, however, explained that a good deal depended on the result of the opening of the Jessie vein on the 1,600 foot level. While it was expected to show up better on the 1,200-foot level, if it only proves as rich, the shipments can be easily increased. There is yet about 40 feet to go before the Jessie vein is encountered. As to the Butte-Zenith City, it was announced that the crosscutting for the Paint vein had proceeded about 100 feet and there was about 50 feet more to go. After this is opened, crosscutting will be commenced north and south of the shaft, and from the surface showings some fine ore was expected.

Butte Main Range.

No actual movement has yet been made as to raising the funds for the opening up of the Butte Main Range property, but the directors have informally discussed the subject, and in the course of a few days some definite action is expected to be taken.

Coal Properties Leased.

A. F. Pillsbury of Minneapolis has leased the Bridger coal mining property to W. F. Pinkey, together with the light and water plants. Mr. Pinkey proposes to make some extensive improvements to the properties, and by fall he expects to have the coal mine operating to capacity.

PLANS OF MERGER OF INTERNATIONAL

Smelting Company Unable to Carry Out Plans of Extension.

Butte, Mont., May 2.—A special meeting of the stockholders of the International Smelting & Refining company is to be called at once to take action on the offer of the Anaconda company to take over the property of that corporation on a basis of stock exchange three and three-tenths shares of Anaconda for one share of International Smelting.

The International Smelting & Refining company is building its lead plant at Tooele, Utah, and its lead refinery at East Chicago, Ind., and in accumulating stocks of ore and metals in process has incurred a debt of approximately $9,000,000. It is under contract to build a smelting plant at Miami, Ariz., for treatment of Inspiration Consolidated Copper company and Miami Copper company concentrates, and under this contract it will be necessary to have that smelter ready for operation early in 1915. Building of this smelting plant and furnishing of necessary money to carry on its business would increase the indebtedness of the company to approximately $11,500,000, and it was the intention of international directors to issue stock to its shareholders to take up the debt and provide the new money required; but from a canvass of the large shareholders of the company, it was ascertained that the unfavorable money and market conditions for securities it would not be advisable to offer this amount of stock at this time.

Negotiations were opened with the Anaconda Copper company with a view of arriving at a basis of sale to that company of all the business and assets of the International company. The Anaconda company furnishes a large part of the business of the International company in the refining of its copper at the Raritan copper works in New Jersey, under a contract with the International company, which will expire in two and a half years. The Anaconda company has ample capital and credit to extend the smelting and refining business already established by the International company. The negotiations were carried on for several months and resulted in the offer to purchase outlined above.

It is stated that it is the intention of the Anaconda company to engage in the smelting and refining of ores wherever an attractive opportunity is offered.

GREAT NORTHERN ORE PROPERTIES

Should Have Cash Assets of $9,000,000 By End of 1914.

The lease between Great Northern Ore and United States Steel will terminate at the end of the current calendar year. By that time Great Northern Ore should have slightly more than $9,000,000 available cash assets, or $6 per share on the 1,500,000 outstanding ore certificates. This fund will be available for working capital in case the trustees decide to mine ore for the market on the company's own account.

During the current year the Steel company pays for a minimum of 6,000,000 tons at a royalty, including freight, of $1.88 per ton on the basis of 59 per cent. Last year the grade of ore averaged 59.62 per cent.

Assuming that the Steel company pays for no more than 6,000,000 tons and that expenses will be about the same as in 1913, the net income of the ore properties will be about $1,900,000 for 1914, before the payment of any dividends to the trustees. This will be sufficient to pay the same 50-cent dividend as was paid last year.

VISIONS OF CURTAILMENT

Season's Outlook for Iron Ore Industry Shrouded in Doubt.

Large Stockpiles in All Districts and Sales Not Reported.

Doubt hangs over the season's outlook for the Lake Superior iron industry. Mining men are yet to be advised of sales of ore and they are beginning to view the future dubiously. There are visions of a possible general curtailment. Latterly there have been some retrenchments. In all districts there are large stockpiles.

Due entirely to market conditions the United States Steel corporation has reduced forces in the Ironwood district of the Gogebic range one-third. Of the 2,000 miners at work, 600 to 700 have been discharged. On the Mesaba range the same company has suspended night shift operations at several properties. The Cambria Steel company has dispensed with the services of 200 men at its mines at Norway and Vulcan, Menominee range, and has curtailed production at its Marquette range property at Republic. Pickands, Mather & Co. and other important interests are employing reduced forces. In few instances has there been the expansion of operations usually noted at the opening of the shipping season. The Lake Superior Iron & Chemical company is closing its furnace at Newberry for sixty days or more. During this period repairs will be made to the stack.

Some Will Ship Briskly.

Whatever the extent of the curtailment it will not apply to all the mines. Some will ship briskly. Among these will be the Rogers, Chicagon and Hiawatha properties of Rogers, Brown & Co., in the Iron river district of the Menominee. Much of the product will be used in the company's own furnaces. The Davidson Ore company is shipping vigorously from its Davidson mine at Iron River. The Homer is expected to register a large production. This is the best of the Wickwire Steel company's Iron river properties. Although conservatively operated, there is as yet no indication of any especial activity at the properties of Pickands, Mather & Co. These interests, identified with which is the Lackawanna Steel company, control the greater part of the ore yet found in the Iron river country. Chief among these Pickands-Mather deposits are those at the Caspian, Baltic, Fogarty and Bengal mines. Corrigan, McKinney & Co. are shipping from the Tully and Baker at Iron River. The outgo is small, however. The deposit at the Baker is proving larger than expected. The Spring Valley Iron company is operating the Zimmerman mine on a re-stricted basis. A force of 115 men is employed.

Jones Furnace at Marquette.

John T. Jones, metallurgist of Iron Mountain, announces that he has concluded arrangements whereby he and the capitalists who are interested with him, including J. M. Longyear of Brookline, Mass., Henry L. Higginson, of the firm of Lee, Higginson & Co., of Boston, and Seth T. Gano of Boston will erect a Jones step-process furnace at Marquette for the treatment of low-grade ores. The plant will have a daily capacity of about 100 tons. Mr. Jones believes his experiments with the reduction of low grade ores have been so perfected that his furnace will be commercially practicable, and the plant to be erected at Marquette is expected to demonstrate this so conclusively that within a few years the mining districts will be dotted with Jones furnaces engaged in treating ores that are now considered unworkable.

The experimentation carried on by Mr. Jones has extended over a long period of years and a wide expanse of country. A few years ago he superintended the erection of a furnace at the Kloman mine, near Republic, Marquette range. The Kloman is a low grade property and it was hoped that the furnace would make possible the utilization of its ores. But the process was not sufficiently perfected and the plant was not successfully operated. Of late months Mr. Jones has been operating at Salt Lake, Utah, a furnace that shows some departures from the Kloman type and has been successful.

Exploring New Land.

For years regarded as a promising district in which to prospect for iron, the Menominee range area between Crystal Falls and Fortune lake has, nevertheless, been neglected. Lands in the district are at last being given a test. The work is being conducted by Prof. F. I. Carpenter of Chicago and is centered in the Alfred Anderson property, the mineral rights of which the Carpenter interests purchased some years ago. A diamond traction of the locality is strong, and now that one prospector has entered the field it will not be surprising were others to follow suit. The newly established town of Alpha, southeast of Crystal Falls and which owes its existence to the big mining developments upon which the Longyear interests and Pickands Mather & Co. have embarked in the vicinity, will obtain considerable proportions this season. The erection of thirty dwellings was recently completed by the mining companies and others are in course of construction, as are a brick school building, a hotel and several business houses. Ground for a bank building will be broken shortly. The Judson and Balkan mines at Alpha, ore from which may start moving this season will eventually, it is believed, be the largest shippers in the Menominee country.

A novelty in the Lake Superior region is a steel headframe for diamond drills. A structure of the kind has been erected at an exploration of the Cleveland Cliffs iron company at Negaunee, Marquette range. The steel headframe takes the place of the old-style wooden tripod used from time immemorial. It will make possible the sinking of holes to greater depths. Leading mining companies in the region are now using lungmotors instead of pulmotors in their safty equipment. The lungmotor has been decided to be the better device.

MAY BUILD OWN CONCENTRATOR

Giroux's Smelting Contract With Nevada Consolidated to End.

The Giroux Mining company will cease producing copper, temporarily, at least, upon the expiration on June 5 of its smelting contract with the Steptoe Valley smelter of Nevada Consolidated. Development work will then be pushed on this and other subsidiaries of the Consolidated Copper Mines company, to determine if conditions warrant the construction of a concentrating plant.

GOOD VALUES IN FOOTWALL

Tests By Wolverine Increase Life of the Mine One-Third.

Costs Being Reduced By Two Improvements at Copper Range.

Houghton, Mich., May 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Wolverine has for about two years been testing its footwall in many places and has found all through the old workings there are good values. It was the success at the South Kearsarge of the Osceola Consolidated, the next mine to the south, that led to this work. There the life of the mine has been prolonged for at least four to six years, as the values have been good and constant and are supplying by far the greater portion of the mine's production. This rock is bunchy in its mineralization and there are sometimes stretches of fifty feet that are barren, buth the bunches of the metal run high in grade, so that the average is very profitable. This should at least lengthen the life of the Wolverine one-third. Of last year's production about one-third came from this source. Two drifts supplied each 1,000 tons for one month, and that rate could be kept up for a year.

The normal production is being maintained, it running from forty to forty-eight cars, that is 1,100 to 1,320 tons daily, but the average is around forty-three cars, or 1,200 tons, which is about all the two stamps can take care of. A statement has been going the rounds of the press that the daily production was 1,700 tons, but that is figured on the basis of forty-ton cars, the usual tonnage here, while the capacity of the Mohawk and Wolverine cars is 27.5 tons.

Copper Range.

Copper Range Consolidated is making two improvements that will make a favorable showing on the cost sheets. The regular diameter of the drill "steel" or drill proper of the Leyner-Ingersoll drilling machines is one and one-eighth inches. A test of over a year has given the result of an increase of safely 15 per cent in the footage, or number of feet made by the drills, by the use of steel one-quarter on an inch less in diameter. The seven-eighths-inch "steel" shows no signs of losing its life or becoming "fatigued," as the miners say. Of course the gain in speed is made by the smaller amount of surface to be cut with the same amount of power. The same amount of ground is being broken down, as an explosive of greater power is used. The second improvement, the using of the waste sand, or tailings, conveyed from the mills by the rock cars, which ordinarily return empty, and dropped through shafts or pipes into the stopes for filling in place of "poor" rock cut out from the walls, is as success as a cost-saver and is being extended throughout the three mines. This method has not been long enough in use to obtain exact figures of the reduction in costs, but it is known to be quite a considerable amount. The Baltic lode, on which these mines are working, varies ordinarily in width from sixteen to sixty feet, the impregnation of the trap with copper in some instances making it over 100 feet, and as it would require a forest of timber to keep up the ground above and as there is so much waste rock which is more economically sorted out underground.

General Manager F. W. Denton a few years ago planned out the "dry" walling system. "Dry" walls of waste rock are built up on each side of the 8-foot wide drifts and are capped over by heavy timber with a strong lagging, openings being left at regular intervals for shoots for the rock. These are later walled up of waste rock in circular form and are 4 feet in diameter. As the stoping is carried up on the lode the space below is filled up with the waste rock sometimes within 35 feet of the floor of the level above. This filling is with or without the mineralized rock, which is gradually drawn off through the shoots, also used as a platform for the men to work on. When the supply of waste rock is inadequate "poor" rock is cut out from the walls, which is expensive. The cost of the sand, the substitute for the "poor" rock, is quite light, being only those of the additional steam required to haul back loaded cars, or shafts or pipes for its distribution and the cost of handling it underground.

The first and decisive trial was made at the shaft "B," the southernmost at the Champion, raises being made in the shaft pillar from the third and fourth levels. From the last named level the sand is trammed to old shoots to be distributed through the mine. At top of the stopes about 40 feet of rock was cut through to the surface and below to the tenth level, a series of old shoots that happened to be in line, which can be tapped at the different levels, was utilized. At No. 2 Baltic, a pipe is being carried down the pipeway of the shaft to the twelfth level, and the sand is trammed at the various levels and dumped into bins cut in the floor of the level above the stopes, where the sand is to be deposited. Beneath these bins are vertical iron pipes running down into horizontal pipes extending along the top of the stopes and from back of the connection between the two compressed air blows the sand as far as desired.

Copper Range Consolidated's daily production is now averaging about 4,650 tons.

Baltic.

The Baltic is continuing its disclosure of good copper at the twenty-seventh level of shaft No. 3 on the southern drift and has just cut into copper by the sinking of the shaft at the twenty-eighth level. This is very favorable as on the levels above the shoots have not appeared at the shaft, but at some little distance on either side. The other shafts are keeping up their good average.

Houghton.

Houghton Copper has drifted on the tenth level, which it has just reached by the winze, about 45 feet, finding commercial copper on both sides of the shaft. One drill is being operated on each drift and one in the northern drift of the sixth level, where but little copper is encountered. A drift on the tenth level will be cut over went to find the famous West Superior vein in a short time.

Tamarack.

Tamarack, it is thought, will be reopened very shortly, the reason being given that there are many good men among the strikers who have not been able to find work since the calling off of the strike, as most of the mines had by that time secured almost all the men that they needed.

New Arcadian.

New Arcadian reached the lode on the 600-foot level at the distance of only about 135 feet from the shaft, 15 less than at the 850-foot level. The rock revealed a fair grade of copper. Drifting will be begun right away in both directions. On the 750-foot level the northern drift is just now in ground that is not so rich as for the past two weeks, but the southern, which was in leaner ground, is now in an excellent grade. This sounds good to a Lake Superior man familiar with our good lodes, because although they all have their leaner stretches, it is the average that is considered and this lode has averaged very high so far. The gage of the track has been widened and the hoisting changed over to the new engine. President Shields has received many notes of appreciation of his circular statements of the mine's condition, that have been sent to the stockholders. Counting the unpaid assessments that have been arriving in gradually increasing numbers since the "find" of the new lode there is now $42,000 on hand, enough to run the mine at the present rate of expenditure for a year.

South Lake.

South Lake has now reached the depth of 590 feet, leaving only 10 more to be covered before reaching the 600-foot level, where the long crosscut of 1,000 feet will be started to the South Lake lodes. As soon as this start is made the crosscut at the No. 3 so-called Evergreen lode will be finished and drifts commenced at once. Shipping should begin within three of four weeks time. Shipments will be made to the Franklin mill very soon thereafter as the rock from the crushers and dump will go directly into cars. The crosscut showed 40 feet of high-grade rock without reaching the hanging wall.

Indiana.

Indiana began pumping last week and now three or four men, all that can be used, are replacing the old pipe for the drills with new. Mining operations will be commenced in about a week's time.

North Lake.

North Lake began pumping out the shaft which was 345 feet deep last Tuesday. As soon as the necessary repairs are made sinking will be resumed.

Isle Royale.

Isle Royale is building a barn for the mules on the twenty-sixth level of No. 2 shaft. Two mules were bought before the strike and have been used on the surface. Others will be purchased before long. This method of haulage has been very successful at the Ahmeek, causing quite a reduction in the costs. There is no difficulty in keeping the mules in the best condition.

Franklin.

Franklin made a test of 500 tons of its rock last Sunday at the Centennial-Allouez mill. The improvement that appeared a month ago on the northern drift is still continuing, and beginning with last Saturday there is a betterment of grade in the southern drift. Instead of cutting out a drift only 7 feet high causing the miners to wait and get the broken down rock out of the way before they set up the drills again, the management started drift stoping with a height of 15 feet on the dip of the lode so that the miners will have double the present distance to go. The present drill test probably will give higher results than the preceding. These mill tests will be made weekly for a time.

North Kearsarge.

North Kearrarge has stopped bailing for a time and has commenced to finish the concrete work that protects the shaft through the old workings below the twelfth level. This will take three weeks or so and then the hoisting will begin, and mining operations resumed.

Hancock.

Hancock will make its seventh shipment of about 52 cars mostly of the 50-ton size May 1.

STRIPPING AT TRADERS MINE

Contract for Stripping East End Let to Hoose & Person.

Iron Mountain, Mich., May 2.—Supt. Frank Carbis of the Antoine Ore company has been advised by General Manager Webb of Duluth that the contract for stripping the east end of the Traders' mine had been awarded to the Hoose & Person Construction company of this city.

It is a steam shovel proposition, and the company will work under instructions to complete the job as soon as possible. The contract calls for the removal of 20,000 yards of earth, more or less.

At the point to be stripped the overburden has an average depth of about thirty feet.

Supt. Carbis was also instructed to prepare the property for a resumption of mining operations. He now has machinists at work preparing the pumps to unwater the big pit. This work will require several weeks. It is hoped to start active mining operations in about two weeks at the least.

The ore requisition is for 100,000 tons. In mining this tonnage during the season of navigation a force of about 150 men will be employed.

CALF RAISING.

Heredity, Care and Feed Needed to Produce Big Milkers.

BY A. A. BORLAND,
Vermont State Agricultural College.

To insure strong, vigorous calves begin caring for them before birth by giving the mother palatable and nutritious food, rich in protein and ash. Clover hay, corn silage and from two to four pounds of grain mixture made of two parts (by weight) of oats, two parts wheat bran and one part linseed oil meal form an excellent ration for this purpose. Give grain sparingly for a few days before and after calving.

It is important a calf receive the first, or colostrum, milk of the dam, being rich in mineral matter, with laxative properties necessary to prevent digestive disorders. Remove the calf from its dam within three days from birth, as the sooner it is removed the more easily it is taught to drink from the pail.

The first two weeks feed the calf three times daily, giving eight to ten pounds of milk per day the first week and ten to twelve pounds per day the second week. The third week whole milk may be substituted by skim milk and a grain supplement, so by the end of the fourth week it has been entirely eliminated. The amount of skim milk may gradually be increased to sixteen or eighteen pounds daily. Grain is best fed dry, beginning with a handful after feeding milk. When the calf is a month old and being fed entirely on skim milk, hay and grain, the amount of grain may be one-half pound daily, at the end of two months one pound daily and at the end of three months two pounds daily, and no further increase is necessary for six months. A good mixture is three parts (by weight) of cornmeal, three parts ground oats, three parts wheat bran and one part linseed oil meal.

Substitutes for Skim Milk.

If the skim milk is limited various substitutes may be used after the calf is 30 days old. The Cornell station found dried skim milk powder gave the best results, and Schumacher's calf meal and Blatchford's calf meal gave good results, strong calves having been raised by their use without milk.

In raising calves, indigestion or scours are often troublesome and are traced to one or more of the following causes: Too much milk, cold milk, sour milk, unclean pails or unclean surroundings. The best remedy is to remove the cause. When a severe case appears reduce the feed at once and give three ounces of castor oil in a pint of milk, to be followed in four to six hours by a teaspoonful of a mixture of one part salol and two parts subnitrate of bismuth three times daily until the calf improves.

SPRAY AGAIN IN MAY.

Perfect Fruit Admits No Insects.

By E. K. PARKINSON.

The warm, bright days of early spring bring to life the insect world, and the annual campaign of destruction begins as soon as the first leaves appear. This is, then, one of the most critical times, and the spraying which is done in May and June will count for much in a steady war against these pests. The first spraying is done with copper sulphate, but when the blossoms have formed the apple trees should be sprayed again with a solution of bordeaux and paris green (never spray fruit trees while in blossom) to kill the insects that were not on hand when the first spraying was done. The bordeaux may be purchased already mixed and paris green added in the proportion of one pound to 150 gallons of bordeaux. See that the agitator in the sprayer works freely and does the work thoroughly, and a pair of automobile goggles will be found very useful in protecting the eyes while spraying.

The next spraying should be after the blossoms have fallen (but while the little apples are still standing upright), using the same solution, and this is the most important treatment in the fight against the codling moth.

Other Fruits to Be Sprayed.

Spray the following fruits just after the blossoms have fallen and use, for cherries, bordeaux to prevent rot; pears, bordeaux and paris green; quinces, bordeaux for leaf and fruit spot; grapes (spray when flowers open), bordeaux for fungi; plums should receive the same treatment; gooseberries and currants, bordeaux and paris green, and these should be sprayed at the first sight of worms; peaches, bordeaux to prevent rot and mildew, and these should be sprayed just before the flowers open.

In spraying bear in mind that birds will suffer if poisons are used in greater strength than is absolutely required, for, while a poisoned worm will not, as a rule, kill a full grown bird, it may kill the fledglings. Keep the bark of the fruit tree well scraped, thus destroying the breeding places of many pests, and in trying to get rid of tent caterpillars do not burn the nests, for it very seriously injures the trees, but look instead for the ring-like egg clusters, which may be seen in early spring on the small twigs, and cut off and burn them. After young caterpillars hatch out they soon begin to weave a tent, to which they retreat at night and in stormy weather, and it is then the nests should be either cut off and burned or gathered by hand and destroyed. If given proper protection the birds themselves will do wonders toward keeping down these insect pests and should therefore always be encouraged in every way possible.

COLONY HOUSES FOR POULTRY.

Especially Handy on Leased Land.

BY J. W. KELLER.

After the brooder before the laying house, what then? The colony house is the answer. Chicks are generally ready to leave the brooder at about six weeks of age—that is, when fully feathered. They are then able to take care of themselves during the daytime, and, except on cold, rainy days, the question of artificial heat is not vital.

There are several types of colony houses, but all should have the following features: Perfectly dry, freedom from drafts, well ventilated, easy to clean and move (this latter should be done every season), and, lastly, they should be attractive, but inexpensive.

Don't crowd the chicks in the colony house. Remember, they will be almost grown before they are moved again. Have perches removable, and do not allow the chicks to roost until their bones have hardened up considerably, or they may have crooked breast bones. When roosts are given, have them at least two inches wide.

Can Be Made or Bought.

For small flocks suitable colony houses may be made from large store boxes by covering the top and three sides with tar paper, the other side being made of cellar window wire extending six inches down from the top, which should ordinarily be left uncovered, but there should be a curtain to drop over it in bad weather. The balance of the side should be hinged so it can be thrown open during the day, admitting sunshine and fresh air."

The "A" shaped colony house is quite a favorite, as it combines roof and two sides in one piece. It has also the added virtue of being cheap, but is not so easily cleaned as some of the others.

Most colony houses average about six by eight feet in size, with shed roof and a large wire covered window with curtain in front. This type should be built on skids, so that they can be easily dragged to new ground with the aid of a horse, and, if tightly built, houses of this sort can be used for layers and also breeders in the winter by the addition of nests, hoppers, etc.

A word about placing the house. Choose well drained ground that is covered with a heavy, sweet sod. An old orchard is almost ideal, as the trees furnish shade during the hot summer days. Clean away any brush piles or thickets which might harbor vermin, and if the same ground must be used year after year lime it, plow it down each fall and sow with some suitable crop which will afford green pasture for the growing birds.

WHAT EVERY GARDEN NEEDS.

By E. O. MORTON.

Perhaps the first essential for a successful garden is to plan it on paper in detail before starting so as to waste no valuable space. Thus if a horse is to be used for cultivating make the garden long and narrow. If, on the other hand, the work is to be done by hand the rows should be nearer together and the garden may be either square or rectangular.

Provide plenty of manure; that falling, use fertilizer, part applied when plowing and part in the rows as the plants need it. Those who have no cold frame sashes will find the little single plant frames a great help in starting the melons, cucumbers, early annual flower seeds, beans, etc. These cost about $8.50 for ten and come knocked down, with the bolt holes all bored, so that it only takes a few moments with a wrench to put them together. An added advantage of these small frames is that insects may be kept from the young plants until they are strong enough to withstand their attacks.

Tools and Results.

As to tools, there are a few that are indispensable and a few more that add to the joy of gardening. The necessary ones include a heart shaped hoe, a small garden hoe, a spading fork, spade, long handled shovel, rake, garden reel and 100 feet of line and a dibber. The tools which make work easy are the wheel hoe with all its accessories, weeders, plows, rakes, seeder marker and cultivators, the knapsack sprayer and a large watering pot with a fine nozzle. The wheel hoe becomes almost human when guided by an intelligent hand and does away with hand hoeing entirely. A few moments spent each pleasant day in the garden (for a family of five) will produce astonishing results.

As a rule, children are particularly interested in growing crops and have repeatedly proved their interest in making gardens bloom, as, for example, the governmental agricultural experiments with girls and boys amply assure us. In England, of course, the garden becomes all absorbing from February until November, and the writer recalls a little garden, 50 by 100 feet, cared for by a man who owned a small hotel, and from this productive plot he supplied salads, early potatoes, strawberries, peas, beans, tomatoes, and flowers to his guests. More than this, the garden became through his loving care quite a feature of the hotel and new arrivals would be heard asking if they were in time for the "strawberries" of the "peas" or whatever it might be, which the season and the wonderful garden had to offer.

ing the stable at noon, and again at night.

"A variety of feed is important to the hard-worked horse. A grain mixture of nine parts of oats and one part of bran, by weight, is an excellent combination. The horse should be fed from four to seven quarts of this mixture three times a day, the amount depending upon the size of the horse and the character of his work. In addition, two or three ears of corn can be fed. On idle days the ration should be cut down about one-third in bulk and the grain mixture changed to seven parts of oats and three parts of bran, with but little or no corn.

"It pays to use the curry comb and brush. The work horse is never groomed too much. As far as possible all dirt should be removed from the inner side of the harness and collar. At the beginning of the season the shoulders should be toughened by being bathed each evening with cold water. Farm work horses need not be shod except during the dry, warm weather, but their feet should be rounded by means of a rasp and kept from splitting or getting out of shape.

PREPARING SEED BED.

The soil is the home of all crop growth, and much depends upon the preparation of that home for the crop that is to be grown. The preparation of the seed bed will vary somewhat with the character of the crop and the quality of the soil in which it is to be grown; but in all cases it must be remembered that if a seed is to germinate readily, it needs air, warmth and moisture, and that if a plant is to thrive and have a vigorous root development, it needs a mellow, yet compact, seed bed, in which the soil particles are neither baked together nor in an open or lumpy condition, but are sufficiently packed together to allow a free movement of moisture in the soil, and which can still supply the needed amount of air. When prepared in this way, and thoroughly united with the subsoil below, such a seed bed offers, under favorable conditions, a most excellent opportunity for root development and continued growth.

LOOK FOR SEED LABEL.

By W. L. OSWALD,
In Charge of Seed Laboratory, University Farm, St. Paul.

All agricultural seeds, according to the new seed law, must be labeled. The best way to enforce this law is to have the buyers of seed insist on a label. The market for unlabeled seed will then disappear. All farmers should protect themselves by always insisting on the label when they buy seed. Farmers should not buy seed labeled "Uncleaned Seed" unless they have absolute confidence in the person from whom they buy the seed.

HATCHING CHICKS.

BY C. E. BROWN,
Poultryman, Northwest Experiment Station, Crookston, Minn.

Chicks hatched in April or May give the best results. Those hatched later than this do not usually grow so well, owing to the warmer weather and the lack of worms and of nice, juicy grass and they do not have the time to develop for early winter laying. If they are hatched earlier than the first of April, it costs more to rear them; and the eggs, as a rule, are high in price and less likely to be fertile. They require warmer coops; and it also takes a great deal more time to look after the little ones. There is danger of the very early pullets moulting just as winter sets in, thereby spoiling all prospects of an early winter egg yield. When they are hatched in April and May everything is in their favor. They thrive and grow, and make much stronger and better birds.

When incubator chickens are from 8 to 10 weeks old, we give them a free range, and feed them from hoppers, which are filled once a week. These hoppers have two compartments, one for the meal mixture and the other for the cracked grains. Some poultrymen water their chicks only once a week. They use a good-sized barrel, fill it with water, and haul it to a shady place where it will keep cool. The barrel is fitted with a tap, which is set so as to let the water drop into a pan just fast enough to keep up the supply without waste. This plan is followed till the time for rounding up the chicks for the winter.

BEGUN OVER FIVE CENTURIES AGO

Work on Cathedral in Italian Town Just Been Completed.

Florence, Italy, May 2.—The picturesque little town of Arezzo, on the way from Florence to Perugia, is about to celebrate the completion of its cathedral which was begun over five centuries ago.

In striking contract with the rapidity with which great structures are erected in America, there are many buildings in Italy which were begun many centuries ago which never have been finished, and never will be since such an attempt might spoil the artistic harmony of the whole, gained through centuries of wind, weather and changing tastes. Instances of such unsuccessful attempts have recently been seen at Florence and Milan where where new facades have been added to the old cathedrals. They were greeted by derision by the citizens who described them as sugar decorations on a wedding cake.

The architects have had more luck at Arezzo and what was already a fine specimen of Italian Gothic architecture, whose corner stone was laid in 1277, is now complete. The celebration will take place in May, and a number of art loving foreigners are expected to be attracted to the ancient town, which was the birthplace of Cilnius Maecenas, the patron of Virgil and Horace.

AUSTRALIA TRYING TO OBTAIN SETTLERS.

Sydney, N. S. W., May 2.—Director of Immigration Hunter for the states of New South Wales and Victoria expects to leave soon for England in furtherance of an energetic immigration policy planned by the two states. He will also invade Northern Europe in his campaign to attract settlers for Australia. He is sure that the Northern Europe would make a fine settler and these states are prepared to welcome them by the thousands.

As a part of the immigration campaign 1,000 boys will be placed in apprenticeship to New South Wales farmers this year with the idea of training them to become permanent settlers. If the experiment proves as successful as did a similar plan in New Zealand, the number of boys will be increased every year. No trouble is anticipated in getting the boys, as it is known that 100,000 lads can be secured in England if their fare is advanced.

MORE SNOW THAN FOR FIFTY YEARS PAST.

Geneva, May 2.—Reports from St. Bernard Monastery as late as April 10 said that snow was fourteen and one-half feet deep in the region around the hospice. Snow fell twenty-four days in March without intermission. An avalanche came down the mountain recently and struck the monastery but its thick walls, centuries old, withstood the assault. Not for fifty years has so much snow fallen and so many avalanches descended the St. Bernard as during this winter.

ROCK AND DIRT STILL MOVING DOWN SLIDE INTO CULEBRA CUT

Engineers at Last Gaining Upon Nature at the Panama Canal But Are Anxious as the Rainy Season Approaches.

Panama, May 2.—Rock and dirt are still moving down the Cucaracha slide into the Culebra cut, but the engineers who have been fighting the treacherous slides in this vicinity are at last gaining upon nature. Fears that the opening of the canal, set for January, 1915, would have to be postponed indefinitely, have been growing less each day, for the dredges and steam shovels have been taking out the dirt and rock much faster than it slid into the canal.

The Culebra slide, just to the south of the Cucaracha trouble, is entirely at rest and it is hoped it will remain so, but the canal engineers will watch this treacherous hillside with some anxiety as the rainy season approaches. Breaks already are showing far back from the canal prism and these may indicate a movement which might any day precipitate tons of crushed rock and dirt into the canal for the tireless dredges and steam shovels to remove. The coming wet season will be likely to loosen anything ready to slide.

Working Day and Night.

Dredging and hydraulic operations in the cut continue day and night. Back of Gold Hill the hydraulic pumps are washing away vast quantities of loose soil, greatly relieving the pressure which has forced so much of the dirt into the canal prism. At the toe of the slide the dredges have been busily engaged in removing the dirt out of the channel itself while far up the side of the slide other hydraulic operations are tearing at the very heart of the hill.

Within a short time two new large dipper dredges will be engaged. These are the largest yet built of this type. One already has been received on the isthmus and is almost ready for operation. At the same time the dredge "Corozal" will begin deepening the channel, which now averages about twenty-five feet, to the required forty-five feet.

This deepening of the channel, the engineers believe, will be a tedious operation, for the weight on the hillsides at Gold, Culebra and Contractors Hills is constantly forcing the bottom of the canal upward. It is anticipated that this will continue until the weight on the hill sides has been sufficiently lessened.

According to figures just compiled there have been removed from the canal prism between Gamboa and Pedro Miguel, which includes the entire Culebra Cut area, a total of 27,000,000 cubic yards of dirt with a probable 6,000,000 cubic yards remaining to be excavated.

Labor Trouble Averted.

The recent announcement of Col. George W. Goethals, governor of the Panama Canal Zone, that there would be no immediate reduction of the wage scale averted what threatened to become a serious labor difficulty. The unions represented on the isthmus met and formed the Metal Trades council and obtained strike sanction from their parent bodies to be prepared for any emergency that might arise. No further action, however, is contemplated by the unions, it is generally believed.

Landscape Gardening.

Work has begun on landscape gardening in the vicinity of Gatun locks and dam. The top of the dam is being graded for tropical plants. The work is being done by H. H. Reed, supervisor of the Fourth division. It is planned to beautify the grounds surrounding all the locks just as fast as the construction work has been completed.

The navigable reaches of the canal will be allowed to grow up in their natural tropical verdure, confined within certain limits. Already in many places the canal looks more like a natural water course than one constructed by the hands of men.

At Cristobal it is proposed to build a tropical park along the land ends of the wharves of the Panama railway.

Selling Discarded Machinery.

Discarded canal machinery is being sold to several private corporations in South and Central America. Venezuela has had a commission on the isthmus which purchased considerable dredging machinery with which to deepen several harbors. A number of the large dredges that dug their way through Culebra cut have been sent to Porto Rico, where they are soon to be engaged in harbor work. Many of the locomotives that hauled the soil cars out of the cut have been sold to South American concerns. Because of their wide gauge they are not suitable for railways in the United States.

CENTER OF JEWISH KNOWLEDGE PLANNED

Madrid, May 2.—The development of a center of Jewish knowledge in Madrid is being undertaken by the Spanish government in the hope that it may bring about a return to Spain of some of the Shephardic or Spaniole Jews living in the east of Europe. They take an aristocratic pride in their purity of blood and long pedigree, ranking high in Jewish communities wherever they may have settled. They have never lost the use of the Spanish tongue and still profess love and veneration for Spain. A commission of influential Jews resident in Tangier recently visited Madrid and had an audience of the king. They represented some 25,000 Jews scattered throughout Morocco.

Dr. A. S. Yahuda of the School of Rabbinical studies at Berlin, has been invited to give a series of lectures in the consular and diplomatic school at Madrid, and it is possible that he may ultimately fill a chair of rabbinical studies at the Madrid university to be established for him.

TO BE INSTRUCTOR FOR PANAMA POLICE.

PANAMA, May 2.—George A. Helfert, former governor of the territory of Zamboanga in the Philippines, has arrived in Panama to assume his duties as instructor to the police of the republic. There are now about 800 men in the force which polices the city of Panama and Colon and other inhabited sections. It is said to be the plan of President Porras to have Mr. Helfert organize a force on the order of the Philippine constabulary whose duties will be the policing of the interior of the republic. These are to be both mounted and unmounted and will be armed with a high-powered carbine.

ON SPRAYING FRUIT TREES

Lime, Sulphur, Bordeaux and Arsenical Compounds the Mainstays of the Orchard Owner Who Would Produce First Price Fruit.

Weekly Kansas City Star: There are two sides to every question, except that of spraying fruit trees. There's only one side to the spraying question. If you want good fruit and good yields from your trees, spray to kill the insect and fungus pests. If you don't want good fruit—that another question, not another side of the question, a matter of wormy, rotten, blotched and unmarketable products. The following directions for spraying fruit trees are given by W. L. Howard of the Missouri College of Agriculture and are applicable most anywhere. In fact, calendars for spraying vary but little and if you have one from your nearest agricultural college, experiment station or a reliable business house, it's safe to follow it.

For apples, spray immediately after the majority of blossoms have fallen, using commercial lime sulphur, one and one-half gallons to forty-eight and one-half gallons of water. Before filling the barrel with water add three pounds of arsenate of lead paste to poison the insects. Stir the paste thoroughly in a bucket of water before pouring into the sprayer, as otherwise it will sink to the bottom of the barrel in a lump. This is to prevent apple scab and the codling moth and curculio, the two worst insects of the apple.

A Second Spraying Necessary.

Two or three weeks after the apple blossoms fall spray again for the purpose of poisoning the curculio and codling moth insects and preventing apple scab, apple blotch, black rot and other disease. Use commercial lime sulphur one and one-half gallons to forty-eight and one-half gallons of water with two and one-half pounds arsenate lead paste. Or, spray with Bordeaux mixture (three pounds copper sulphate, three pounds lime, fifty gallons of water).

The Missouri college recommends a spraying previous to these two for the control of scale and scab disease. That includes the lime-sulphur mixture or Bordeaux and should be applied just before the blossoms unfold. It is likely, however, the spraying at blossom falling time would perform the same work. Where there is danger of bitter rot, as in South Missouri, Mr. Howard advises a spraying six weeks after the blossoms fall, of Bordeaux, 4-4-50 or 5-5-50 and, and if there are signs of a late brood of codling moth, add to and one-half pounds of arsenate of lead. The lime-sulphur compound is not considered effective against bitter rot.

Brown Rot on Peaches.

Spray peaches a few days after the blooming period, when the calyx tube or "shuck" is just dropping off from the little peaches. Spray with arsenate of lead paste two pounds, lime four pounds, water fifty gallons. Slake the lime, mix the arsenate with water and pour in. Then add water to make fifty gallons.

Peaches are sprayed to prevent the brown rot which destroys the fruit near ripening time. To aid in preventing the rot, it is necessary to poison the curculio insect, which is responsible for spreading the disease.

If a second spraying seems necessary three weeks after the first application use arsenate of lead paste one and a half pounds, the Scott self-boiled lime sulphur 8-8-50. This kind of lime sulphur cannot be bought, so it must be made at home. Shake eight pounds of lime in a box or large vessel. When it begins to simmer from its own heat stir in eight pounds of fine sulphur. Stop the simmering or boiling at the end of eight or ten minutes by pouring on cold water. Strain the mixture into a barrel and add water to bring up to 50 gallons. This mixture does not keep well.

To Save the Cherries.

To control the leaf spot and powdery mildew on cherries and to poison the curculio insect, which punctures the fruit, spray cherries as soon as the calyx tube is off the young fruit. Use arsenate of lead paste, two pounds, Bordeaux mixture 2-3-50, self-boiled lime sulphur 7-7-50 or commercial lime sulphur one and one-fourth gallons with water enough to make up 50 gallons of the solution.

The worst enemy of the grape in Missouri is the black rot. If the soil is fertile and the vines healthy it is easy to grow perfect grapes (that is, grapes free from rot and worms) by covering the clusters with one or 2-pound paper sacks. The sacks may be bought at the grocery store for about $1 a thousand. The sacks must be put on as soon as the fruit is formed. If rot gets started the sacks are no protection. The sacks are pinned on or fastened by wrapping around the mouth with short pieces of wire. Half acre vineyards or larger should be protected by spraying.

A Little More Grape Spraying.

When the third leaf has appeared on the young shoots, spray with Bordeaux mixture made by using five pounds of copper sulphate, five pounds lime and 50 gallons water. Spraying is most effective when done just before a rain. If the season is wet and warm, the black rot will be hard to control. In the grape districts of the north the growers expect to spray four times at intervals of two weeks. Possibly two or three applications will be sufficient in Missouri, but much depends upon whether the disease has been had in former years, and whether the dried bunches which died from the rot have been removed from the vineyard. Careful annual pruning is a great help in controlling the rot and also two other diseases which attack the fruit and leaves.

As to spraying outfits; a barrel sprayer will spray from five to ten acres of orchard and costs, complete, $12 to $30. A bucket sprayer is useful for whitewashing or spraying a dozen trees or less. It costs $3.50 to $8. The small hand compressed air and Knapsack outfits are used for spraying potatoes, nursery trees, berries and vineyards. They cost from $5 to $15. All sprayers should have brass working parts which are not injured by acids.

FOOD FOR CHICKS.

By N. E. Chapman,
Poultry Specialist, University Farm, St. Paul.

Chicks should not be fed until at least 86 hours old. Fresh water and fine grit must be supplied. The first feed may be a hard-boiled-egg mixture with stale bread, bread soaked in sweet milk, but squeezed dry, or commercial chick feed. Young chicks should be fed every two hours during the first week, but only what they will eat up quickly. Fine charcoal and grit should be supplied in a hopper, as instinct leads the chicks to eat these.

When the chicks are old enough to leave the box, roosts may be put in the coop if it is of sufficient size to hold the brood. A yard or creep should be furnished that will keep out the grown stock and allow the chicks to feed by themselves. Hoppers filled with a dry mash of equal parts of wheat bran, wheat middlings, cornmeal, and sifted ground oats will aid in keeping the chicks growing and getting new feathers. The grain fed, i. e., cracked corn and cracked wheat or chick feed may be supplied in hoppers and with drinking fountain for water and milk the time required in caring for the several flocks may be thereby greatly reduced.

Sweet or sour milk and cottage cheese are great aids in supplying a growing ration while the chicks are small. The use of these animal products of the farm will save the expense of beef scraps which most poultrymen are compelled to buy. When the chicks are half-grown they will find worms, grasshoppers and bugs, if given range by moving their roosting coops or colony houses about the grounds.

In the use of incubators and brooders one must strictly follow the directions of the manufacturer. As the instructions for operating vary somewhat with different machines, no definite directions will be given. In general, fill the lamp daily and keep the wick clean. After testing out on the seventh day, turn the eggs twice and cool them once, daily until the eighteenth day. Do not open after that date until the brood comes off.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

By LE ROY CADY,
Associate Horticulturist, University Farm, St. Paul.

There is still time to do pruning and top-working.

Pansies, zinnias, asters, and petunias make good flower beds.

Dahlias and cannas should be started for setting out later.

Peas, beets, carrots, Swiss chard, and radishes may be planted the last of April.

Sweet alyssum, golden feather, and lobelia are good annuals for borders.

Sweet peas, asters, calendula, pansies, stocks, and cosmos are excellent for cut flowers.

If the weather is warm and settled, plant a little Golden Bantam sweet corn now.

Muskmelons may be started in paper pots or strawberry boxes about five weeks before they can be set in the field.

About 2,500 or 3,000 acres of sweet peas are grown in California for seed alone. They will, on an average, yield about 800 pounds per acre.

Kohl rabbi is one of the garden vegetables that should be more widely grown. It is much like the turnip in quality, although easier to grow.

The wild cucumber, gourd, scarlet runner bean, and morning glory are excellent quick-growing vines for covering unsightly fences and stumps.

Nasturtiums, portulaca, California poppies, and bachelor buttons will do well on almost any soil so long as there is plenty of sunshine.

Start an asparagus bed this spring. A small plot of well-enriched land will produce a nice lot of asparagus. Conover's Colossal and Palmetto are good varieties.

PLANTING TREES.

BY LE ROY CADY,
Associate Horticulturist, University Farm, St. Paul.

Dig a hole somewhat larger than is absolutely necessary to hold the roots and be sure to spread all roots well. Twisted or bunched roots are likely to decay easily. It is well to cut off the ends of the larger roots with a sharp knife, especially if they have been bruised. Set the tree or plant in the middle of the hole. It may be leaned slightly toward the direction from which the wind comes. Fill in about four inches with the richest top soil obtainable. If the tree is set in sandy or poor soil, it is always a good plan to take out considerable soil from the hole and fill with good rich soil. Trees or other plants will not do well on sand. They must have plenty of plant food.

After the tree is set and about four inches of soil thrown in over the roots, tramp the soil well so that it is firm about the small feeding roots. This is perhaps the most important point to remember in setting a tree or plant of any sort. Water may be added, although it is better to put it in the hole a few hours before the tree is set. Fill in with moist soil and keep tramping it until the top layer is put on. The last four or five inches should not be tramped very much, since we want a dust blanket to help hold the mosture in the soil. It is well to leave a dish or hollow about the tree to catch and hold the water from the rains.

If the position is exposed to high winds, it is usually a good plan to drive a stake into the ground and tie the tree to it to prevent the wind from blowing the top and loosening the root system.

Sometimes it is desirable to mulch the soil with several inches of strawy litter, but as a rule, cultivation is preferable. Mulch should be applied to the depth of about six or seven inches when the ground freezes in autumn.

HOW TO KEEP PLANTS FROM LOSS BY FROST.

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside a contributor, writing under the title, "Forestalling the Frost," says that on the border between the North and South an annual battle between the forces of winter and spring takes place. He describes the losses that have been sustained through destruction of plants by frost and then tells, as follows, how at the end of April and in the early part of May plants may be protected from the cold:

"The tops of plants must be kept dry, protected from dew, plenty of air allowed to circulate near the ground. I failed last year to do this and had a big loss which I described to a friend of mine who was a gardening expert, in reply to which he said:

"'It had been better for you to leave your plants unprotected than to turn things over them, leaving close, dead, stagnant air around the plants. They will sweat and freeze before plants not covered at all.' I knew this to be true, for of plants not covered perhaps 25 per cent pulled through.

"He used a lot of boards or shingles, perhaps four or five inches wide, sharpened. He pushed two in the ground, one on each side of the plant, with tops together, and then he stuck down one on each side so as to leave an open space at corners for air. He explained that the loss of the two plants was due to the carelessness or some member of his family leaving the shingles open at the top. Said he, 'My son's garden joins mine, and he lost all his plants. He had them covered with cans, buckets, etc.'

"Another man to whom I related this corroborated it by an experience of him own, whereby he saved his early beans by doing what he could with the time and means at his disposal. He had a few rows of early beans that were large and fine. He had not much time, but he gathered up some bricks and set them on edge along at short intervals across the rows. On these he laid some broad boards he chanced to have, making a canopy-like covering over each row, the sides being open and unprotected. He says he saved them all, while neighbors who covered stuff very carefully lost nearly all.

"The lesson is obvious. It does not matter much the means employed so you cover the tops of plants, leaving a free circulation of air, thus keeping the foliage dry. Tender plants so treated stood a temperature of 28 degs. without injury. The covering should not be removed till the sun is well up."

GOOD TREATMENT MAKES HORSE WORK.

Madison, Wis., May 2.—Do you know how much time it takes to get a work horse in shape for steady field work after being idle during the winter months?

Three weeks is the minimum, according to James G. Fuller of the College of Agriculture, University of Wisconsin.

"Whatever the type of work to be done, do not put him into harness work without preparation," said Mr. Fuller, in speaking of the rations which should be fed to work horses in spring. After being kept over winter on a maintenance ration consisting of corn stover, hay, straw and a limited amount of grain, work horses should be placed gradually on a ration of energy-producing feeds."

"Regular care and intelligent feeding are the essential features in successfully handling the work horse. If possible, give him a drink the first thing in the morning, and follow this with the grain ration and a limited amount of hay. Let him have another drink on the way out of the stable to work, and, if not too warm, on entering the stable at noon, and again at night.

"A variety of feed is important to the hard-worked horse. A grain mixture of nine parts of oats and one part of bran, by weight, is an excellent combination. The horse should be fed from four to seven quarts of this mixture three times a day, the amount depending upon the size of the horse and the character of his work. In addition, two or three ears of corn can be fed. On idle days the ration should be cut down about one-third in bulk and the grain mixture changed to seven parts of oats and three parts of bran, with but little or no corn.

"It pays to use the curry comb and brush. The work horse is never groomed too much. As far as possible all dirt should be removed from the inner side of the harness and collar. At the beginning of the season the shoulders should be toughened by being bathed each evening with cold water. Farm work horses need not be shod except during the dry, warm weather, but their feet should be rounded by means of a rasp and kept from splitting or getting out of shape.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

GOOD INQUIRY FOR RESIDENCE PROPERTIES IS WEEK'S FEATURE

Many Fine New Homes Will Be Built During the Summer.

Realty Men Eager for Better Road Facilities to Steel Plant.

Despite the unfavorable weather conditions a good inquiry for residence properties was met with by realty operators during the week and a fair showing was made in the number of transactions actually closed up. A feature commented upon was the interest being taken in high-class residential sites, foreshadowing the building of a number of handsome homes during the present season.

Dealers specializing in West end and West Duluth properties were also busy, and while there was some slackening down in the steel plant districts, it was attributed to the recent heavy rains and snows having made it an almost impossible proposition to show prospective buyers over the ground. The lack of a good road out to the steel plant available for driving over in all kinds of weather is the subject of general complaint. The present road from West Duluth has been practically impassable during the last few days, leaving the railroad as the only means of going out to and coming from the plant with any degree of certainty. The pressing need of improving the road is being urged upon the city commissioners.

Need Road to Suburbs.

Said A. W. Eschelbow, president of the Gary Land company, in discussing the subject today: "I consider it almost criminal carelessness on the part of the city that 5,000 people living at Gary and the other steel plant districts should be left without a decent road from here. Something should be done at as soon as possible or the growth of the new districts will be seriously affected."

An interesting realty transaction of the week came in the purchase by Arthur P. Barnes of a lot at the southeast corner of Hawthorne street (or Thirty-first avenue east) and Second street, Congdon Park, at a consideration of $3,500. The lot is about 165 feet square and is beautifully located. It is the intention of Mr. Barnes to build a handsome home on the property during the present season. The purchaser in this transaction was represented by the Field-Frey company and William C. Sargent acted for the Hartman Building company, the owner of Congdon Park.

Mr. Sargent, who is exclusive agent for this property, reports the receipt of many inquiries from parties who are being attracted by its location, building restrictions, etc. He averred that he has several other sales in prospect.

W. C. Agnew has plans in preparation for a home to be built on a lot recently purchased by him there. It is also intimated that Francis H. De Groot, who bought a lot on the Vermilion road two years ago, will build as soon as the contract for improving that thoroughfare is let by the city.

Members of the Duluth Real Estate exchange, who are standing sponsors for the development and sale of Waverly Park, comprising the thirty-six acres bought two months ago in behalf of the International Realty associates, are making every effort to get the property in splendid shape for sale early next month. Some elaborate advertising matter is in preparation, and from the advance inquiry being received, it is expected the property will have been disposed of within a week from the time the plan for it is opened.

A crew of men has been clearing out the underbrush and cutting out the useless trees and is still at work piling and burning brush and cleaning up the property generally.

A large crew is engaged in digging trenches and putting in sewers in the three streets west of the Snively boulevard. As soon as the sewers are in they will start grading these streets.

Another contractor has started the grading of the Snively boulevard. This street is eighty feet wide. It is a part of the park system, and will have a park in the center twenty-two feet wide, with two sixteen-foot roadways. It will be boulevarded on each side.

In addition to the work now being done, the city has agreed to pave Victoria street along the south side of Waverly park from Woodland avenue to Thirty-fourth avenue east (Vermilion road). Plans and specifications are all ready for this work and the public works department expects to advertise at once for bids.

Gratifying inquiry for building lots and acreages was advised by the L. A. Larsen company, resulting in the following sales being put through during the week: To J. Anderson, a lot on Sixth street and Fortieth avenue west; to E. Berg, a lot on Tenth avenue east and Tenth street; to Jacob Gimpel, a lot on Thirty-fourth avenue west and Traverse street; to William Kiznell, a lot on Fifty-sixth avenue west; to Harry Upton, a five-acre tract near Woodland; to Percy Monson, five acres at Lakewood park, and to Dr. D. L. Tilderquist, two lots at West Sixth street and Thirtieth avenue west.

The Hoopes-Kohagen company sold two lots on East Sixth street; a number of lots in its Park drive division near Chester park, and a forty-acre farm at Midway.

The A. A. Fider company sold for Ernest F. Pearson to L. P. Greene, house, No. 1023 East Ninth street at $3,600.

Charles P. Craig & Co., agents for the Highland company, are preparing for an active selling campaign in its 700-acre tract over Duluth Heights. During the last two years, three streets have been opened in the addition, and it is planned to extend the water mains and sewers, and to open other streets this year. G. L. Burlew has been appointed resident agent for the company and contracts are being let for an office building and house to be occupied by him on the Heights.

The Alliance Real Estate company sold two lots at Princeton Place, Hunter's Park, and also a building lot at Glenwood Park, during the week.

The Ebert-Walker company have had a busy week. The following land sales were made to outside parties merely for investment: 120 acres in sections 29, 30 and 31, 62-4, sold for Ray W. Fenton; 120 acres in section 19, 61-4, sold for James G. Lawson; 120 acres in section 19, 61-4, and section 13, 61-5, sold for Hattie P. Lawson; 120 acres in section 29, 61-4, sold for Ray C. Johns; 120 acres in section 30, 61-4, and section 25, 61-5, sold for Etha M. Knowlton; 160 acres in section 19, 61-4, sold for William C. Johnson; 160 acres in section 20, 62-4, sold for Edna E. Carpenter, and 120 acres in section 28, 61-4, sold for John R. Wells.

Forty acres near Arnold were sold to August Sabrowski by the same office. Mr. Sabrowski will build on the land at once and improve it for a truck farm.

The company besides sold for J. H. Schlaman to a Duluth business man, a house and 5 acres located on Sunset lake, to be used for a summer home.

The following real estate transfers were recorded during the week with the register of deeds:

NEW REAL ESTATE FIRM WILL FEATURE STEEL PLANT LOTS

C. J. KINZEL.

FRED W. BURKE.

The latest entrants into the Duluth realty field are C. J. Kinzel and Fred W. Burke, who will trade under the title of Kinzel & Burke. They have leased offices in the Lyceum building, formerly occupied by the Carnegie Coal company, and will specialize at the outset in steel plant lots. They will also handle general city and outlying properties.

Both members of the firm have had extended experiences in the real estate business. Mr. Kinzel was connected with the office of W. M. Prindle & Co., for five years, and he was also with the Wahl-Messer Realty company. He spent the last winter in Indiana and Illinois selling steel plant lots.

Mr. Burke was for a time interested in realty operations in the Canadian West, but latterly he has been interesting himself in Duluth, feeling that a greater scope of development is open here than perhaps at any other point.

BUILDING RECORDS ARE THREATENED THIS YEAR

First Four Months Far Surpass Same Period of 1913.

Berwind Fuel Company Begins Erection of Mammoth Coal Dock.

As had been foreshadowed early in the year, Duluth's coterie of coal docks is to be supplemented in the erection of a mammoth affair by the Berwind Fuel company at the foot of Fiftieth avenue west. The structure is estimated to cost approximately $1,200,000, and it will have a coal handling capacity of about 2,000,000 tons in the season. A permit for $232,500 to cover the foundation and three hoist bridges, was issued at the building inspector's yesterday, and it is understood the work will be proceeded with immediately.

The remarkable development of the West is strongly emphasized in the coal tonnage handled from the Head of the Lakes, resulting in the capacity of the docks here being nearly doubled within a five-year period. It is intimated that announcement of the building of a substantial extension to still another coal plant at a cost of over $750,000 may be made within the next few weeks.

Including the one for the coal docks, forty-six permits were issued at the building inspector's office this week for which the cost of improvements involved was placed at $288,255.

Shortage of Houses.

In the lot were permits for alterations to twelve saloon fronts to comply with the provisions of the Hicken ordinance which became effective at the first of the month. Apart from these, practically all the permits issued covered the construction of new houses. That condition is thought to fully bear out the contention that housing accommodation in the city now falls far short of requirements, necessitating the inauguration of an extended building campaign in that class of work.

City building permits, issued for April, made a gratifying showing, numbering 210 with the cost of improvements placed at $410,851. This compares with 161 permits for $280,345 in April last year. For the four months of this year, 445 permits were issued, involving an aggregate cost of $1,059,971. Eliminating the $1,500,000 taken out by the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad for its new iron ore dock, the value of the permits issued during the same period a year ago was $729,725.

Taking into account the number of plans now in hands of architects and likely to go out for figures in the near future, it is regarded as assured that the value of new construction during the present month will run up into large figures.

The Lounsberry-McLeod company is now employing over 300 men in carrying through its contract for the building of 170 houses in the Minnesota Steel company's model town, and it is expected the force will be increased within the next couple of weeks. The company proposes to complete its job early next September.

* * *

Otto Johnson, contractor for the hotel building for Joseph Oreckowsky, to go up on Superior street between Sixth and Seventh avenues west, has begun work on the job. It will be a three-story brick structure, affording space for ninety-five rooms. The plans were prepared by Wangenstein & Gilluson, architects.

* * *

A double frame house to cost about $15,000 is to be built for Mrs. Margaret P. Jeffries at Dingwall street and Twenty-first avenue east. It is to have a stone foundation and will be modern throughout. The general contract has been let to Appleby Bros. The plans were prepared by F. G. German, architect.

* * *

A residence section that is building up rapidly is Kenilworth park. Twenty modern homes have been built there during the past year and W. M. Prindle & Co., agents for the property, feel assured that the present season will also be an exceptionally active one. Houses are at present under erection there for Horace Brown, Lewis Walton and Percy Fulton. A house recently completed was sold yesterday to Edwin Smith.

EXETER FARMERS ORGANIZE CLUB

Unexpectedly Large Response to Invitation to Begin Co-operation.

Nearly fifty farmers residing in the Exeter farm division, just beyond Lester park, gathered at the offices of the Alliance Real Estate company last evening and organized the Exeter Farmers' club, appointed committees to cooperate with local city officials and corporations, and elected officers for the year.

Notice for the meeting were sent out last Monday by officials of the realty company and the large response of last evening surprised those in charge. Those present were very enthusiastic, and after discussing several local questions, committees were appointed to appear before the school board regarding the establishing of a school in the vicinity of Exeter division, another to obtain electric lights in the suburb, telephones and road improvements.

The officers named for this year are A. Youngstrand, president; M. Momb, vice president, and E. Nephew, secretary-treasurer. The club will meet every other week at the Alliance company's office at Exeter.

GETTING FARM LAND BUYERS TODAY

is largely a matter of going after them right. They seldom come offering to buy, but must be especially interested.

Persistent advertising, properly written, will bring you buyers, providing the ad is placed in a medium that is widely read by people who want to buy farms and have the money to buy with.

Duluth Herald farm ads bring splendid results because the Saturday Herald's 30,000 circulation reaches the classes who are able to buy farm lands, and who know that The Herald offers them the best selections.

Rates are low—1c a word a day or 72c an inch.

THREE-CORNERED BATTLE OVER DIVISION OF ESTATE OF JOSEPH SELLWOOD BEGUN

LAST WILL OF BANKER IS CONTESTED

Daughter Who Was Ignored in Will Seeks Share of the Estate.

Claims Undue Influence Was Used By Brother and Sister.

Widow Would Set Aside the Ante-Nuptial Agreement.

Capt. Joseph Sellwood's last will and testament disposing of an estate variously estimated to be worth from $900,000 to $4,000,000 is the subject of a three-cornered contest which was begun in probate court before Judge S. W. Gilpin at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Today's hearing, the first skirmish in the fight, promises to be the beginning of a long and hard fought battle in the courts in which an array of local counsel will participate.

This afternoon the case was continued by order of the court to 2 o'clock on the afternoon of June 9. This continuance resulted from the state certificate issued by Dr. Charles L. Codding, who is attending Mrs. Charles Merschon, one of the defendants in the suit, which stated that Mrs. Merschon is suffering from a very severe attack of nervous prostration and that it would be utterly impossible for her to appear at this time; that her chances of ever recovering at all would be lessened were she made to appear in the case.

The only witnesses examined in the case today were John Monaghan and Bert Maxlner, who witnessed the signing of the will.

Capt. Joseph Sellwood, Duluth banker and mining man, died on Feb. 24 last, leaving a large estate, the exact value of which has not yet been determined. Shortly after his death, Richard M. Sellwood, his son, and daughter, La Rue S. Mershon, filed a purported will with the probate court. On April 6, two contests were filed against the will, one by his widow, Martha M. Sellwood, and the other by his daughter, Mrs. Ophelia S. Leithhead.

The widow is objecting to the will on the ground that an ante-nutial agreement made with her husband and mentioned in the will was void since its effect was to deprive her of her statutory rights as a wife. In the will, it was provided that in accordance with the ante-nuptial agreement, she should receive the homestead property and certain lots in block 56, Endion division as long as she remained his widow and that she be paid the income from $100,000 in lieu of her claims for dower interest.

ENGLAND'S DEFICIT PUT AT $26,650,000

London, May 4.—David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, introduced his sixth budget in the house of commons today with the announcement that he had to meet an estimated deficit in 1914,-1915 of $26,-650,000.

The nation's total revenue he estimated at $1,003,375,000, while he placed the expenditures at $1,029,925,000.

U. S. TROOPS KEEP ORDER

Colorado Is Quiet for the First Time in Three Years.

Governor Ammons Breaks Down Under Stress of Work.

Denver, Colo., May 4.—Heavy patrols of Federal troops scattered throughout the coal strike zones of Colorado, today gave state officials a sense of security which they had not felt since the inception of the industrial strife. With the coming of the troops and their establishment at various centers of disorders, practically all of the Colorado National Guardsmen were withdrawn today, and peace officers gave over the task of preserving order to the Federal soldiers.

In Boulder county, for the first time in three years, Sheriff Buster has no force of deputies engaged solely in work at the infected districts. In every other portion of the state peace and quiet prevailed.

PLAN HONORS FOR SICKLES

Late Civil War Commander May Be Buried in Arlington.

Aged General and Wife Reconciled Shortly Before His Death.

New York, May 4.—While the funeral arrangements for Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, who died last night, had not been finally completed today, it was said the old soldier, last of the brigade commanders of the Civil war, would be buried with military honors. He may be buried in Arlington beside the military leaders of the nation.

Gen. Sickles' end came peacefully at 10 minutes after 9 last night in his home at No. 23 Fifth avenue. With him were his son, Stanton, and his wife, from whom he has been estranged for twenty-nine years. A reconciliation was effected only last Thursday, and since then Mrs. Sickles had been nursing the aged veteran.

Ill for Several Years.

Gen. Sickles had not been in good health for years. Last March he suffered a hemorrhage which left him partly paralyzed. The stroke was soon after the death of his housekeeper, Miss Eleanor Earle Wilmerding. Twice last week the general suffered

MRS. HENRY HUTT ROBBED OF JEWELS

Former Wife of Artist Loses $10,000 While at Dinner.

New York, May 4.—The police today were asked to recover jewels valued at $10,000 belonging to Mrs. Henry Hutt, formerly wife of Henry Hutt, the artist, which were taken from her West end avenue apartment by a burglar last Thursday. The theft was committed while Mrs. Hutt and son were at dinner. The stolen jewels consisted of a gold watch, a diamond necklace, several jeweled bracelets and numerous rings and pins.

FORT BLISS CAMP REFUGEES MOVED

El Paso, Tex., May 4.—The 3,000 men of the Mexican Federal army, accompanied by 1,900 women and children, who have been interned at Fort Bliss since they crossed the international border after suffering defeat by the rebels at Ojinago, were entrained today for Fort Wingate, N. M.

FOUR BIG TASKS TO BE DONE BEFORE THE CONGRESS ADJOURNS

Trust, Trade, Stock and Rural Credit Bills Must Pass.

Underwood Makes the Announcement After Talk With Wilson.

Washington, May 4.—After a conference with President Wilson today, Majority Leader Underwood announced that an agreement had been reached to put through the Clayton omnibus anti-trust bill, the Covington interstate trade commission bill, and a bill to regulate the issuances of stock securities, as well as a rural credits measure, before congress adjourns.

Mr. Underwood announced he would call a Democratic caucus to ratify the program which he arranged with the president, and that it was the aim of the president and himself to have congress adjourn by July 1.

Appropriation Bill, Too.

"The president thinks it is absolutely necessary," he said, "to pass trust legislation consisting of the Clay omnibus bill, the Covington interstate trade commission bill, and a bill to come from the interstate commerce committee for the regulation of stock securities. Also we will put through a rural credit bill and the appropriation bill before adjournment.

"The president was very desirous of pressing the presidential primary bill, and that was on the original program; but Judge Rucker, chairman of the committee on elections, has been ill and that has delayed the subject so that it is not a definite part of the program, but the president is still hopeful that we may be able to take it up.

"I expect to call a caucus soon to endeavor to get the program ratified and we expect to drive it through both houses of congress by the first of July."

R. D. WRENN KILLS MAN WITH MOTOR

Three Others Are Injured When Automobile Runs Into Crowd.

Tuxedo Park, N. Y. (1st), May 4.—A big touring car, driven and owned by Robert D. Wrenn, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, ran down a group of persons at the entrance of Tuxedo park late last night, killing one man and injuring two men and a woman.

The man killed was Herbert Loveday, organist and choir master of St. Mary's Episcopal church here. Charles Spreckley, sexton of the church, was seriously injured and his wife's arm was broken. She also sustained internal injuries. Spreckley was also hurt internally and his leg was broken. Alexander Norris was less seriously hurt.

News of the accident did not become generally known until today. A coroner's investigation into the tragedy has been ordered.

Replace Texas Militia.

Washington, May 4.—Five companies of coast artillery have been ordered to border patrol duty at Brownsville, Texas, by Secretary Garrison to replace Texas militiamen now on duty there.

D. EMILIO RABASA,
Mexican Jurist Who Will Head His Delegation.

HUERTA NAMES MEN TO REPRESENT HIM IN PEACE PARLEYS

RABASA AND GALINDO ARE HIS CHOICES

Third Man Will Be Chosen; Washington May Pick Lind.

Carranza Wants More Assurances as to Nature of Move.

Tense Situation in Mexico City Worries the Mediators.

Washington, May 4.—Gen. Huerta has informed the South American mediators that D. Emilio Rabasa, a Mexican jurist, and Augustine Garra Galindo, under-secretary of justice, have been selected as delegates to confer with the mediators, and that a third name will be submitted tomorrow.

In making announcement of the Huerta delegates after a conference with the mediators, Secretary Bryan said that the American representative had not yet been chosen. John Lind and U. S. Solicitor Lansing are among those suggested.

Mr. Rabasa is a close friend of Gen. Huerta and it is believed here that he was his personal choice. He once had been chosen by Huerta to be ambassador to the United States in case this government had recognized the Huerta regime.

May Send Casasus.

As the announcement from Gen. Huerta indicates that a third delegate is to be named to represent him, it was thought here that either Joaquin D. Casasus or Manuel D. Zamacona would be the other representative. Joaquin D. Casasus is a former Mexican ambassador to the United States. He has been ordered to proceed to Washington from Carlsbad, where he has been taking the cure. The nature of his mission was not made public.

It was learned from an authoritative

MEXICANS DEMAND AMERICANS MOVE

Funston Refuses to Surrender the Waterworks at Vera Cruz.

Washington, May 4.—Another fruitless demand by Mexican soldiers for surrender of the water works just outside of Vera Cruz was reported to the war department today by Gen. Funston. The report said that Mexican officers called upon an American outpost to surrender, but made no vigorous effort to enforce their demands. The Mexicans retired and no shots were fired.

Gen. Funston has asked for instructions as to contemplated steps.

Yesterday a similar demand was made with a threat to attack the United States forces, but only a few scattered shots were fired by the Mexicans.

ANTI-AMERICAN TALK IN BELGIUM

Demonstration Is Held Before the Mexican Legation.

Brussels, Belgium, May 4.—Under the auspices of the local Hispano-American committee, there was a demonstration in this city today in favor of Mexico and against the United States. Several hundred persons, chiefly students from the universities of Brussels, Liegge and Louvain, took part. The demonstrators marched with flags to the Mexican legation, where speeches were made on the subject of American aggressions in Mexico.

Carlos Pereyra, the Mexican minister, appeared before the crowd and said in reply that the community of sentiments of the Latin-American countries, in the face of foreign aggression, meant the integrity of these states.

"A collective moral force is stronger than armies," he declared.

BITTER MESSAGES ON THE WEST COAST

Admiral Howard's Report Says Nothing of Ship Blown Up.

Washington, May 4.—Constitutionalists and Huerta leaders at Manzanillo, Mexico, have been exchanging very bitter messages, according to a report to the navy department today from Rear Admiral Howard, who has read several of the letters.

Admiral Howard said all was quiet at Manzanillo. He made no mention of the reported blowing up of the Mexican liner, Luella.

RICHARD OLNEY IS CHOSEN TO HEAD NEW RESERVE BOARD

STORM KILLS THREE IN ILLINOIS AND IOWA

Buildings Are Demolished and Many Persons Narrowly Escape.

Galena, Ill., May 4.—Albert Studier, a young farmer of Guilford township, near here, was possibly fatally hurt by being struck by the wreckage of a barn blown down last night. The storm demolished several houses and barns on farms near Galena and overturned tents of many picnickers on the Mississippi river banks. The waters of creeks and ponds rose so rapidly that a number of campers narrowly escaped drowning. Hail and rain accompanied the wind.

Two Deaths in Iowa.

Clinton, Iowa, May 4.—Hale and Olin, two Iowa villages, were cut off from communication today by last night's storm, which also wrecked houses and barns in Wyoming, Iowa.

Word came from Comanche that Earl Jurgenson, a young farmer, died there from injuries sustained when a tree fell on him.

John Mader was fishing on the Mississippi river when the storm broke. His boat was swamped and he was drowned.

Is Expected to Accept Position Offered By President.

Paul Warburg of New York Picked as One Member.

Washington, May 4.—President Wilson has selected Richard Olney, former secretary of state in the Cleveland administration, to be governor of the Federal reserve board, and Paul Warburg of New York to be a member of the board.

Think Olney Will Accept.

Although the president has offered the governorship to Mr. Olney, word of his acceptance was being awaited today, but friends here were inclined to believe he would not decline.

Mr. Olney was offered the ambassadorship to Great Britain by President Wilson early last year, but expressed an unwillingness to leave the country because of his business interests. He is being strongly urged by friends of the president to accept this place, which the president has spoken of as of equal importance to a place on the bench of the supreme court of the United States.

Although M. Olney is 78 years old, he is active and has had a long experience in the business world and finance which the president and his advisers believe would especially be adapted for the head of the reserve board.

Expect Southern Banker.

Mr. Warburg, who was connected with Kuhn, Loeb & Co., has been offered membership on the board and has accepted. Formal announcement of

DISCUSS GENERAL MINING STRIKE

Officers of United Mine Workers Meet at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 4.—The question of calling a general strike in the mining industry of the country will be taken up at a meeting of the international officers of the United Mine Workers of America and the executive board, to be held here today. At the offices of the organization it was said that petitions had been received from all parts of the country asking that a general strike be called.

The twenty-nine members of the executive board are here and reports will be made by each as to conditions in his respective locality. It was announced at the headquarters of the organization that a statement would likely be given out during the day.

President John P. White of the mine workers' organization will preside at the conference.

HOLDUP NOT PROVEN.

But John Fisher Draws Work Farm Sentence for Assault.

John Fisher, 28 years old, who was arrested yesterday morning by Sergeant Youngberg as a suspect in the hold-up case reported to the police by Charles Novick, was this morning arraigned on a charge of assault in the third degree. He pleaded guilty and was fined $40 and costs or thirty days on the work farm.

Novick came to police headquarters shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday morning and reported that he had been held up and robbed of $2 by Fisher in the alley between Seventh and Eighth avenues west, while John Hill and Charles Mohn, companions of the latter were watching. Fisher go through his pockets. Sergt. Youngberg accompanied Novick and the latter pointed out the three men to the officer, who arrested them as suspects.

In police court this morning Fisher pleaded guilty to the charge of having assaulted Novick, but denied the hold-up charge. The complaint against him was changed and he was then fined $40 and costs or thirty days on the work farm. Both Hill and Mohn were given their liberty.

PERFECT OUTLOOK IN AGRICULTURE

Bumper Crops Will Result in Large Activity in Business.

Chicago, May 4.—Herbert Myrick, president of Farm and Home, is a recognized authority whose natural conservation makes his views of the summer and fall all the more remarkable.

"My judgment, after personally touring many states, getting special reports from all sections, and weighing carefully every factor in the agricultural, industrial and financial situation," says Editor Myrick, "is epitomized in my editorial summary covering the situation up to the first week in May.

"Summer almost here, finds agricultural conditions more perfect than at this date in years. The reserves of moisture in soil and subsoil are larger and more universally distributed throughout the country than at this time since similar conditions in 1896 resulted in the bumper crops which ushered in the good times that followed.

"Now, as then, stocks of goods on merchants' shelves are small, people have liquidated their indebtedness, money is easy, winter wheat is in more than perfect condition, a full acreage is being planted to other crops.

"With ample reserves of moisture, frequent cultivation will insure even against drouth. The great crops now in prospect, together with a reasonable degree of pease at home and abroad, indicate healthy improvement in business from now until harvest, to be followed by renewed activity in commerce and industry. Indeed, the business prosperity which should follow anything like a full harvest may exceed all expectations."

POLICEMEN HAVE BASEBALL TEAM

Members of the Duluth police force have again organized their ball team for the season and challenge the firemen and postal employes. They met Saturday evening at police headquarters and after selecting their old standby, Sergeant Butchart, as manager, they appointed Patrolman Oscar Olson as captain of the team for the year.

It is planned to begin practicing immediately, Sergeant Butchart, said this morning.

Those who have already signed the team roster and who have declared their willingness to defend the honor of the police department on the diamond, are the following: Patrolmen L. A. Root, L. D. Root, Callahan, Gamache, McLean, Lutz, Grieger, Dinkel, Englert, Harwood, Boland, Cavanaugh, Wood, Perry, Harry Toewe, Nelson and O. Olson.

COOKING UTENSILS IN BABY'S CASKET.

Ray, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The discovery of a baby's casket, half buried in mud, exposed by the rains, threw police officials of this section into a pickle before the casket was opened and found to contain a complete outfit of cooking utensils used by ordinary tramps.

PURE WATER ON THE TRAINS

State Health Department Investigates the Sources of Supply.

Old Common Cup Banished; Water Itself Must Be Pure.

The health of the people traveling in and out of Duluth is being safeguarded as never before, in the matter of sanitary conditions surrounding the drinking water upon all of the trains.

Not only have the railroads been forced to do away with the common drinking cup, which was often the medium of the transfer of various diseases, but the source of the water supply of the railroads has been inspected by the state board of health, and in seventeen cases the railroads have been made to change the conditions surrounding the securing of water carried on trains.

All of the railroads operating in the state were asked to submit a list of the locations from which they received the water used in the water tanks of the passenger trains. H. A. Whittaker of the laboratory division was assigned to the work and has made a through and comprehensive study of various lakes or streams and also of the sanitary conditions surrounding them, so that the travelers upon the railroads of Minnesota, no matter how fastidious or apprehensive, may rest assured that the water they are drinking in their own little sanitary cups is of the very purest.

The railroads of Minnesota touching Duluth are listed in the report as getting their drinking water from localities as follows:

Canadian Northern— Duluth, Virginia.

Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha—Currie, Duluth, Elmore, Mankato, Pipestone, St. James, Stillwater, Worthington.

Duluth & Iron Range—Biwabik, Duluth, Ely, Eveleth, Two Harbors.

Duluth, Missabe & Northern—Coleraine, Duluth, Mitchell, Mountain Iron, Rainy Junction, Virginia.

Duluth & Northeastern—Knife River.

Great Northern.—Barnesville, Bemidji, Breckenridge, Browns Valley, Crookston, Duluth, Grand Rapids, Morris, Sandstone, Virginia, Willmar.

Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie—Duluth, Glenwood.

Northern Pacific—Brainerd, Duluth, East Grand Forks, Little Falls, Morris, Pokegama Springs, Rush City, Staples, White Bear, Wyoming.

RIBENACK FILES FOR LEGISLATURE

Decides to Become Candidate—Clears Political Atmosphere.

Representative Edward R. Ribenack filed today for the nomination for the house of representatives from the Fifty-eighth district.

This will be very pleasing news to the entire district, for Mr. Ribenack has served two terms in the house with effect and even distinction. Mr. Ribenack has become one of the strong and effective men of the legislature and, it is generally admitted, wields a very large influence in both houses at the state capitol. He served in the legislature of 1911 and again in that of 1913.

He had much to do with the extra representation which this part of the state is receiving as a result of the reapportionment; and was a leader in other things which have proved and are proving to be of great benefit to the northeastern part of the state. Mr. Ribenack, however, does not confine his activities to sections, but is regarded as a state-wide man who looks out for the interests of the state as a whole while pursuing his duties in the state house.

No doubt is felt about his re-election.

ST. PAUL BOY DIES.

Wound Inflicted By Angry Playmate Proves Fatal.

St. Paul, Minn., May 4.—Howard Murphy, the 13-year-old son of J. P. Murphy, Osceola avenue and Oxford street, who was shot with a revolver by a playmate, Conrad Ertz, 10 years old, Monday evening, died Friday night at St. Luke's hospital. His playmates tied Ertz to a tree. When they released him he fired a revolver at them in anger. The bullet struck Howard Murphy in the head.

BUS LINE TO THE STEEL PLANT

Two Auto Trucks Will Make Regular Trips Every Hour.

As soon as the road conditions will permit, Edward Johnson will again operate the automobile bus between the end of the Grand avenue car line and Gary and New Duluth.

This year Mr. Johnson plans to operate two large automobile busses for the Steel Plant line and it is expected the line will even prove more popular during the coming summer months. The busses will begin at 6 o'clock every morning, running continuously each hour until midnight.

The two automobiles each seat twenty-four people besides the driver.

FEAR FOUL PLAY.

Body Found Supposed to Be That of Trapper Who Disappeared.

International Falls, Minn., May 4.—The body which was recovered from the Rainy river Friday was in such bad condition that Undertaker Green found it necessary to bury it during the afternoon. The remains are thought to have been those of Simon Fahey of Fort Frances, who has been missing for three months. He spent the winter trapping and when last seen is said to have had a valuable fox hide. He is not known to have disposed of the fur and this fact has given rise to a suspicion of foul play, if the body was that of Fahey, a fact which it was hard to establish on account of its condition.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

THE mayor of one large Western city induced the Retail Merchants' association to appoint a city beautiful committee, which will devote its energy in co-operating with the city officials to beautify the city. The first step was a visit to all the public schools, during which the committee's plan of giving prizes to children for the planting of flowers in back yards and on vacant property throughout the city was explained. Several thousand packages of seeds were procured by the committee and were given to the children without cost. The chairman of the committee said that a great many of the vacant lots in the city were allowed to grow up in weeds, making them unsightly. The children who planted flowers cut the weeds. A series of prizes from $1 to $10 was awarded for the best flower beds and gardens in the different parts of the cities.

The West End Commercial club has taken the lead in this respect in Duluth. The results last year surpassed the expectations, scores of back yards and vacant lots in the suburb being devoted to vegetable and flower gardens. These would otherwise have received no attention. The contest will be conducted on an even bigger scale this year and The Herald has added some prizes. The West Duluth Commercial club has been considering a similar move but thus far no official action has been taken. Homecrofting has been developing rapidly in all parts of the city, but the offer of more prizes for which all children of the community could compete would give it an additional and helpful impetus.

COMRADES FOR SIXTY YEARS

Death Finally Separates Two Aged Sisters in Duluth.

Together for threescore years, beginning with the time they came over from Germany, Julia Schiller and her sister, Johanna Schiller, were never separated for more than a few days at a time until 8 o'clock last evening, when Julia Schiller died in their small cottage at 292 South First avenue east, at the age of 81 years.

Leaving their fatherland together, Julia and Johanna Schiller came to this country when young girls. They planned to work in this country and not be dependent on their parents in Germany. Together they worked and lived in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and finally in Duluth.

About twenty-five years ago they both came to Duluth and made their home in a small cottage on South First avenue east. By washing clothes they managed to eke out a living. They were never separated for any length of time and were constantly together from the time they left Germany.

Several weeks ago Julia Schiller caught a cold and failed to properly attend to it. The cold developed into pneumonia and at 8 o'clock last evening she passed away. The younger sister, who is 79 years old, is heartbroken. She was this morning compelled to call on some friends for assistance and they gathered at the Crawford undertaking rooms and made the arrangements for the funeral.

A short service will be held at the undertaking parlors at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Rev. Paul T. Bratzel of St. Paul's German Evangelical church officiating. Interment will be at the Park Hill cemetery.

Brainerd Park Urged.

Brainerd, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Booster club adopted resolutions urging the city to acquire for park purposes the Jerry Howe mill property, as the fourteen acres of river frontage are known. The club has also favored a reduction of phone charges between Crosby and Brainerd and other range towns. On the committee to examine into telephone rates, local and long distance, are George H. Gardner, A. L. Hoffman and W. H. Crowell.

SCHOOLS PICK STRONGEST TEAMS

Four High Schools in Wallace Cup Contest on Friday Night.

The fifth annual oratorical and reading contest for the trophy donated five years ago by Dr. C. J. Wallace of Duluth will take place at the Blaine high school, Superior, next Friday evening between representatives of the four high schools of the Head of the Lakes, and it promises to be one of the most exciting of the series.

This year the representatives of the four schools will be as follows:

Duluth Central—Irving Grover in oratory and Dorothy Patton in reading.

Irving—John Davis in oratory and Marion McLennan for reading.

Blaine—Clarence Hughes in oratory and Clara Williams in reading.

Nelson Dewey—Frazie McIver for oratory and Gretchen Schmittzer for reading.

The Duluth schools have chosen Supt. Vaughn of the Chisholm schools for judge, the Superior schools have chosen Prof. A. Garms of the department of oratory of Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis., and these two have decided upon the superintendent of the Ashland schools as the third judge.

Central high of Duluth has won the cup twice, the Blaine school of Superior has won it twice and the others have failed to win so far. The school winning the cup a majority of ten times will hold it permanently.

This year the Superior schools propose to make a strong bid for victory. Last year the Blaine school won, and this year is putting up its best team, for its representatives are those who took first place in the recent district contest. The team of the Nelson Dewey school took second place in the same contest; and both teams are said to be stars.

MOTOR BOATS ON TRIAL TRIPS

Owners Getting Their Craft Ready for the Coming Season.

Motor boat enthusiasts were out in full force yesterday getting their boats in shape for the summer season. A number of boat owners took short trial runs but were driven back on account of the rain.

Motor boating on St. Louis river will be more popular than ever this year, according to one of the owners. Several new boats will make their appearance this year on the bay. During the winter it is said that at least eight young men have placed orders for new boats of a high horse power.

Plans are being made for a series of races to be pulled off this summer. It is expected that the first of these will take place early in June.

PLEAD GUILTY TO BURGLARY CHARGE

John Budnick, Claude Schrandt, William Hartman and Francis Baudin, four West Duluth young men, who were arrested April 26 on a charge of attempted burglary, pleaded guilty to the offense when arraigned before Judge Dancer in district court this afternoon. The young men were caught by Officer David Perry while they were in the act of breaking the lock on the door of C. Chilstrand's grocery store, Fifty-ninth avenue west and Raleigh street.

WILL GIVE LECTURE AT SOCIAL CENTER

"Playgrounds for Children and Open School During the Summer," will be the subject of an address to be given at the social center meeting at the Irving school Thursday evening. H. F. Burt, superintendent of the Superior Mission will give the talk.

The lecture is one of a series planned by directors of the social center activity in West Duluth. Several of these lectures will be given including addresses on home gardening, in the near future.

MRS. CECELIA PETERSON DIES

Mrs. Cecelia Peterson, 75 years old, 605 North Fifty-seventh avenue west, died at 11 o'clock last evening following a short illness. Mrs. Peterson has been a resident of West Duluth for the last fifteen years.

She leaves four sons and one daughter. They are: John, Charles and James Peterson of West Duluth, Swan Peterson of San Francisco, Cal., and Mrs. M. S. Sandberg of Los Angeles, Cal.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the residence and at 2 o'clock from the Elim Swedish Lutheran church, Fifty-sixth avenue and Elinor street. Interment will be in Oneota cemetery. Rev. John A. Krantz will officiate.

NEW BUSINESS BLOCK ON CENTRAL AVENUE

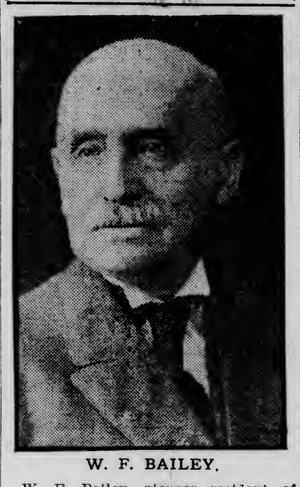
Excavating for the new building to be erected by A. Fieldman at 314 North Central avenue will be begun next week. The small buildings which have occupied the lot for the last twenty years are being removed.

Mr. Fieldman intends erecting a two-story brick building, with a 25-foot front and 115 feet deep. The building will have a full basement. It will cost about $12,000 when completed.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The West Duluth Women's Christian Temperance union will be entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gray, 721 North Fifty-eighth avenue West. Mrs. Mabel Merritt will be leader and the subject will be "Mothers' Day." The hostess will be assisted by Mrs. T. F. Olsen, Mrs. W. H. Keeler and Mrs. A. G. Macaulay.

DULUTH PIONEER SERIOUSLY ILL



W. F. BAILEY.

W. F. Bailey, pioneer resident of West Duluth, who two years ago moved to St. Paul, is reported to be seriously ill at his home. Heart trouble is said to be the cause of his illness.

Mr. Bailey was one of the early settlers in West Duluth. For many years he was at the head of the Duluth Brass foundry and took a prominent part in business affairs in this end of the city. He retired from business about four years ago. Shortly afterwards he was appointed a member of the Duluth library board and served on it until he left the city.

Mr. Bailey is a member of J. H. Culver post, G. A. R. He served through the Civil war in an Iowa regiment.

Mrs. Lewis H. Merritt, 2105 East Second street, his only daughter living in Duluth, received a message this morning asking her to come to her father's bedside at once. She left for St. Paul this afternoon. He has two other daughters, Alice M., and Phoebe J., in St. Paul, and one son, Carl T. Bailey, living at Glen Ferry, Idaho.

West Duluth Briefs.

The West Duluth Book club will be entertained tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. R. Clark, 5608 West Eighth street. Mrs. R. Y. Dunn will read Ibsen's play "Ghosts." Mrs. Robert Weddell will be leader for the afternoon.

Pocahontas council, Royal league, will entertain at the last of a series of dancing parties this evening at Dormedy's hall. Di Marco's orchestra will render the music for the occasion.

Zenith camp No. 1027, Royal Neighbors, has planned an entertainment to be given at the Great Eastern hall Friday evening.

The Dr. Bacon Missionary society of the West Duluth Baptist church will be entertained this evening at the home of Miss Hattie Brown, 603 South Seventy-first avenue west.

OBITUARY

The Duke of Argyll, son-in-law of the late Queen Victoria, and when marquis of Lorne, former governor general of Canada, died tonight at East Cowes, Isle of Wight, May 2, aged 69.

DUKE OF ARGYLL

Lady Alfred Paget, widow of the late Gen. Lord Alfred Paget, died in London, May 3. She was the mother of Lieut. Sir Arthur Paget, commander of the British Ireland troops.

Mrs. Theodore A. Havemeyer, formerly of New York and Newport, R. I., is dead in Switzerland. Her daughter, Mrs. Henry Godfrey, of New York was at her bedside. After the death of her husband some years ago, Mrs. Havemeyer went to Switzerland to live. She had planned to come to the United States this summer to visit her daughters, Mrs. Cameron M. R. Winslow, wife of Rear Admiral Winslow of Newport; Mrs. Edward Clarkson Potter and Mrs. William B. Duncan, Jr., of New York and her sons, Theodore A., Jr., Frederick and H. O. Havemeyer, all of New York.

Prof. Newton Horace Winchell, famous geologist and archeologist, died Sunday in the Northwestern hospital, Minneapolis, where he had been operated on the day before for tumor of the bladder. He had been in apparently perfect health up to Wednesday. Preliminary arrangements for the funeral include services at the home and interment at Lakewood cemetery. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Charlotte S. Winchell; two sons, Horace V. Winchell of Minneapolis, now in Germany, and Prof. Alexander N. Winchell, head of the department of geology and mineralogy, University of Wisconsin; three daughters, Mrs. Ima W. Stacy of Minneapolis; Mrs. U. S. Grant of Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. D. Draper Dayton of Minneapolis; a sister, Mrs. A. W. Johnson of Hartford, Conn., and a brother, S. R. Winchell of Oak Park, Ill.

Newton Horace Winchell left many monuments of scientific value, the most important being the "Geology of Minnesota," in six large quarto volumes, and "The Aborigines of Minnesota." He was a member of numerous scientific bodies in America and Europe and contributed liberally to the modern knowledge of geology, mineralogy, archaeology and botany.

Mr. Winchell was born Dec. 17, 1833, at North East, Dutchess county, N. Y. He received his bachelor's degree at the University of Michigan in 1866 and his master's degree three years later from the same school. While still in college he married Miss Charlotte Sophia Imus of Galesburg, Mich., Aug. 24, 1864.

Beginning in 1869 he was successively assistant state geologist of Michigan a year, assistant state geologist of Ohio two years, state geologist of Minnesota twenty-eight years and during that period also professor of geology in the University of Minnesota, retiring from both positions in 1900. Since 1906 Mr. Winchell had been archaeologist of the Minnesota Historical society.

LECTURE ON GARDENING.

Prof. Mackintosh Will Open Course at Y. M. C. A.

Prof. R. S. Mackintosh, horticultural expert of the agricultural college of the University of Minnesota, will speak at the Young Men's Christian association tonight at 8 o'clock on garden topics. This lecture will be the first in the home garden course and is open to the public.

Prof. Mackintosh will tell gardeners how to make a little patch of ground produce double what it now produces. He will also discuss seeds and the treatment of various kinds of soil.

MANY IDLE MEN IN CITY

Late Spring and Heavy Rains Delay All Lines of Activity.

Movement of Lumber and Ore Slow; Railroad Work Not Begun.

Fully 1,000 idle men are besieging the labor agencies along Michigan street, according to employment agents. Delay in almost all lines of activity, due to the late spring and heavy rains in the northern part of Minnesota and Wisconsin, is given as the cause. Weather conditions have not been so unfavorable in years, it is said.

"Navigation is opening up slowly, few summer camps are being opened in the woods, little railroad or construction work has been begun, and so the laborer is in the 'watchful waiting' position at present," said an employment agent today. "A week of favorable weather, bright skies and high temperature would set the wheels of business into activity, and the city would be cleared of idle men in a few days. In the meantime few orders for men are coming from any source.

"The lumber mills outside of Duluth are not operating as they should at this season. The short output of logs last winter and the light shipments this spring have caused the lumber business to ease down. The mills will have little difficulty in sawing all the logs on hand in a few months, and it is doubtful if they will operate at full capacity. The shipment of lumber and ore on the Great Lakes has barely begun, and orders are slow to come in for those commodities. Railroad work should begin at any time if the weather is favorable, and activities on the lakes should increase rapidly."

The number of lodgers at the police station, however, indicates that the opening of navigation has greatly relieved the situation. A week ago there were more than 100 lodgers each night. The number at present is less than half that. The Bethel has been crowded for some time, and is still well filled with men lacking the price of a bed and a meal.

But the majority of the idle men in the city are not "broke," and still have sufficient funds to hold them over until more work is available. Most of the men who came in from the woods had plenty of money when they reached Duluth, and will be able to take care of themselves if they conserve their funds. More favorable developments are looked for at any time.

PREUS FILES FOR STATE AUDITORSHIP

J. A. O. Preus filed today for the Republican nomination for state auditor. Although Mr. Preus, who is now state insurance commissioner, has been an active candidate for several months for the state auditorship, he has not until today gone through the necessary formalities of filing. Why, is not known, but some have thought that Mr. Preus had his "hat in the ring" with a string tied to it.

J. A. O. PREUS.

However, the exigencies of the machine have reached such a stage at this time, it is believed, that the popular state insurance commissioner's candidacy is an absolute necessity to hold some of the fast waning strength of the Eberhart-Smith faction. Hence the eleventh hour action of today.

FORMER DULUTHIAN TOOK HIS OWN LIFE

Further information obtained by Chief Troyer this morning discloses the fact that John G. Adams, who was found dead in a rooming house at Spokane, Wash., last week and who is believed to have formerly resided in Duluth, came to his death by committing suicide.

Chief Troyer received a communication this morning from Hazen & Jager, undertakers in the Washington city, who have taken the body in charge. They are eager to locate relatives of the dead man and state in their letter that from information they have obtained, a sister is believed to be residing in Duluth. They inquire as to her whereabouts and ask the local police to locate her.

The communication states that Adams was well known here as a timber man and that he lived at West Duluth for many years. He was 60 years old and is described as being five feet ten inches in height and weighing 180 pounds. He had lived in Spokane for several years and was in charge of logging crews.

It is believed that the dead man's sister is now married and is residing in this city. They were both born in New York, the letter states, and came together to Duluth.

FACETIOUS LETTER TO THE COUNCIL

Some author so modest that he hides behind a nom de plume, has addressed to the city council a typewritten communication which seems intended as an ironical take-off on the administration's saloon policy.

About the most original feature about it is the signature, "Gee I. Lovegold." The communication is as follows:

"The undersigned hereby applies for a license to operate a 'thieving room' on the ground floor of any building on Superior street, where arrangements can be made with the owner for the purpose of stealing all the money possible between the hours of 5 o'clock a. m. and 11 o'clock p. m. This application is made in view of the fact that if I do not steal, somebody will; that all the laws prohibiting stealing have been broken; it is impossible to enforce them, but that I will not steal on Sunday, nor on general or special election days and that I will get two good citizens from the city of Duluth to guarantee that I am of 'good moral character.' I will also guarantee not to steal from minors or idiots, or incompetent persons, and will, for the privilege aforesaid, give $1,000 of the profits which I expect to make out of this partnership with the city. If this application is in accordance with the rules and regulations of the commission, I trust that I will receive favorable action."

REFUSES WHOLESALE ARRESTS AT LUDLOW

District Attorney Turns Down Demand of Coal Operators.

Trinidad, Colo., May 4.—District Attorney J. J. Hendrick today said that he had been asked by representatives of the Southern Colorado Coal Mine owners to call on Maj. W. A. Holbrook, commanding the Federal forces in Colorado, and request him to arrest every man in the San Rafael tent colony of the strikers on a charge of murder, growing out of the Forbes battle. Mr. Hendricks said he had refused to accede to the request of the operators.

POSTMASTERS MUST NOT BOOM STAMPS

One Who Conspired to Swell Sales Is Held to Be Guilty.

Washington, May 4.—Postmasters who conspire to swell their postage stamp sales to increase their salary are subject to conviction for crime, under the decision today of the supreme court which held that Harold Foster, former postmaster at Brookfield, Mass., had been legally indicted for a conspiracy.

Foster was charged with conspiracy with certain New York citizens to have the latter buy their stamps of him. The trial court dismissed the indictment and the supreme court held that the lower court erred.

Sheyenne on Rampage.

Kindred, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Forcing a hole underneath the mill dam through the quicksand, the Sheyenne has broken through its confines and made a new underground current that will wreck the dam. The owners of the mill have spent several hundred dollars in an effort to head off the break by forcing flax straw and rocks into the underground passage way.

The Store of Quality Progress and Service

WITH large resources, a progressive management, courteous treatment, prompt attention and fair prices for reliable quality, we believe this store is entitled to be considered a safe place to buy furniture and home furnishings. Our facilities are just as much at the service of the individual of moderate means as to the man or woman whose "pennies do not have to be counted." We consider our duty and responsibility the same in either case. Advice and suggestion is as freely and gladly given to one as to the other, because this is the store of quality, progress and service for "all the people all the time."

LIVING IN SENSES IMPOVERISHES SOUL

Shack In the Woods Sufficient for Soul That Has Found Itself, Says Pastor.

"The Spiritual Interpretation of Life" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. Mr. Gebauer, First Unitarian church, yesterday.

"But after all more important in life than the events themselves is the soul which experiences them," said the speaker. "Outward happenings play an important role in our existence, but they need not determine the state of life itself. The soul indeed is to be pitied that merely lives in the things of outward sight that has no spiritual vision. It is a mere playball in the hands of circumstance; it bounds up and down in a useless play of emotions. Such men have no joy in themselves and are dependent for a little passing pleasurable excitement on the things which have no real life. Even when they picture to themselves the state of perfect bliss, it is done in terms of sense and Jerusalem is paved by them with golden cobble stones and inclosed with jasper walls.

"Herein is the reason that Jesus thought that a rich man would hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven. He well saw that the search after wealth is most apt to dull the spiritual vision, to destroy the soul life. And when we thus see a poor soul concerned altogether with the things which have no true life, then we realize the foolishness of giving away our divinest treasure for the things which are but temporal. Yet at the same time we too become aware that we all more or less hunger after that which is not bread and thirst for that which satisfies not. We may well see ourselves in the man who built his house upon the sand of circumstances. And the challenge comes to us to live in what alone can give highest joy and deepest satisfaction. The trouble with most of us is, that we do not live in ourselves, that like some good women we are always away from home, from our spiritual self and have never learned to know the exhaustless wealth of life and joy that rests in ourselves. The soul which has found itself needs no mansion to have joy, but in a shack in the woods we may live the serene and divine life.

"In the fostering of that inner life we may learn from the despised Hindoo, whom we would convert to a Christianity of everlasting unrest and ceaseless chasing after unrealities. No, no matter what good there may be in the outward things of life, life itself is only in the spirit, and when in the spirit we feel our oneness with the universe, then alone we have bread to eat that satisfies. The outward things then only suggest reality to us, we are no longer the slaves of circumstance. Even death itself ceases to have reality to the soul. What if we die today or tomorrow or next day? The soul that knows itself knows itself immortal. A good many of you went last Sunday to hear a wise man tell you where the dead are, and perhaps you know it now as well as he. I confess that I do not know where they are, but this I know, that the soul hid in God cannot die, and that wherever it be, on any sea or land, it is in heaven. Whoever lives in divine thought, be it now and here, or be it in the beyond, lives in the kingdom of heaven. And for such the resurrection means simply the call to the higher life in God, in the eternal good. Dead and buried is the soul alone which exists in the things that die.

"We sometimes say that our fathers made too much of the life beyond and too little of this life. I should rather say that they were mistaken in thinking of that life in terms of sense, that they merely saw a gorgeous heaven to be. But they were right in exalting the other life, the higher life. We, too, should learn to fix our mind upon the things beyond, a beyond though, which is ever in the reach of our spirit."

SELFISHNESS IS PASTOR'S THEME

Rev. Bruce Black Talks on Prodigal Son's Elder Brother.

Taking for his subject, "The Prodigal Son," Rev. Bruce Black, pastor of the Union church, delivered a forceful sermon yesterday morning at the K. P. hall.

He said, in part: "I speak to you today, not of the prodigal son who returned, but to call your attention to the son who remained at home. I have no doubt he was a model boy, had always been obedient to his father, was perhaps a student, but the deadliest of all sins was in his makeup as shown by his anger over the feast prepared for the long lost boy. I am glad that he was not on the reception committee, instead of his father. He probably would have received his brother with courteous politeness, possibly sarcasm, which would have driven the penitent boy out again, never to return and increased his civil career ten fold.

"As you look around you, you will find the element of selfishness in all classes. Many of our most liberal spenders today are the most selfish of men. Just think, if you will, of that prominent physician in the east, who spent all he had to help the poor, but who lived such a double life that his own wife was heart-broken. Pure selfishness, on his part, satisfying his own evil desires. Let us pattern our life after the great example, who, when even on the cross prayed, 'Father forgive them, for they know not what they do,' showing the most sublime spirit of unselfishness ever known."

Railroads

OLD YARDMASTER QUITS RAILROAD

Jerry Glunt, Long Northern Pacific Brainerd Roadmaster, Retires.

Brainerd, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jerry M. Glunt, local yardmaster serving on the Lake Superior division of the Northern Pacific railway, has retired after thirty years' continuous service with the road. He was born in Pittsburg, Pa., in 1842. When the Civil war started he enlisted in Knapp's battery, Independent battery E, and served with distinction three years. He was department commander at Staples several terms. He ran his first yard in Pittsburg in 1867, working for the Panhandle. Then he took charge of the night yard at Columbus, Ohio, and lost a thumb there in 1873. From there he went to Council Bluffs, Iowa, working for the Burlington. He was later assigned to the night mill yards in Minneapolis. He entered the employ of the Northern Pacific in 1884 at Dickinson, N. D., as yardmaster and later took charge of the Mandan, N. D., yards in 1885. He came to Brainerd in 1888 and was transferred to Staples in 1891. In October, 1903, he returned to Brainerd and has worked here continuously.

BUDD IS PROMOTED.

Great Northern Chief Engineer Now Assistant to President.

St. Paul, Minn., May 4.—Ralph Budd, chief engineer of the Great Northern Railway Co., has been made assistant to the president, Louis W. Hill. Mr. Budd will be succeeded by A. H. Hogeland, consulting engineer.

His appointment as assistant to Mr. Hill is thought to have considerable significance. In railway circles it is common talk that Mr. Budd will eventually head the Great Northern.

BY RAIL COMMISSION.

Three Meetings By North Dakota Organization This Week.

Fargo, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three meeting will be held this week by the North Dakota Railway commission. Tomorrow at Bismarck the traveling men will protest against the withdrawal of the excess baggage rates by the railway companies. Thursday the question of a new Milwaukee depot at Ellendale will be taken up. The most important meeting will be on express rates at Grand Forks Saturday. At present North Dakota pays a much larger rate than either Minnesota or North Dakota and the people insist on an equalization on charges.

STUDENTS ISSUE A BIG CITY DAILY

A unique departure in journalism was tried out by the Tacoma Daily News when one of the editions of that paper was edited and written by the students of the school of journalism of the University of Washington.

It will be of interest to Duluthians to learn that Frank Kane, a former Duluth boy, whose parents reside here, is the professor of journalism of the University of Washington, and that the work of getting out the edition of the Tacoma Daily News was done under his direction.

Student editorial writers, editors, reporters and copy readers were turned loose on the job, and judging from the appearance of the paper Prof. Kane has instructed his pupils along progressive and up-to-date lines of newspaper work.

LITTLE ACTIVITY IN LUMBER BUSINESS

J. W. Irwin, proprietor of the St. Louis hotel, has returned after a business trip to Louisiana and several other parts of the lumbering districts of the South.

"Business in the whole timber territory is very quiet," said Mr. Irwin. "For one thing there is no market, and with no market it is very easy to explain why the entire lumber industry should be very quiet. The absence of a steady dependable market is again very easy to explain. The railroads are the largest customers of the lumbermen as well as of other selling agents. The railroads of the country are on a strike—and that is the answer to the query of the lumber business.

"Until the rate controversy is settled it does not appear as if the railroads would be in the field for very much raw material. With the greatest customers of the lumber operators eliminated from the buying field for the time being, the market is a sagging one and the prices are bearish."

Would-be Suicide Crazy.

Minot, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. W. E. Kitley of Sawyer, this county, and formerly of Minneapolis, who attempted suicide ten days ago by slashing arteries in his wrists, was taken to the state asylum for the insane.

May Deport Bootlegger.

Towner, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Agnnie Black, a Russian, recently arrived in this country, may be deported. He quickly learned to violate the prohibition law and was arrested on a charge of bootlegging. He entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced by Judge Burr to serve six months in the state prison at Bismarck. Because of his recent residence in the United States an effort will be made to deport him.

GAIN CASE TO HIGH COURT

District Judge Refuses to Set Aside Conviction of Notorious Woman.

Distruct Judge Cant has refused to set aside the conviction of Mary Le Flohic, alias Madame Gain, on a charge of having kept the Clifton, now Elgin hotel, 321 West First street, as a house of ill-fame between June 24 and July 5, 1913. Unless the state supreme court reverses the order of Judge Cant denying her motion for a new trial, the notorious woman of Duluth's former half-world must either serve a prison term or pay a heavy fine as punishment for the offense.

Judge Cant, after listening to arguments for and against a new trial, denied the motion Saturday afternoon. In order to allow John H. Norton, her attorney, to perfect an appeal to the supreme court, an additional stay was granted. It is understood that the case will be appealed.

The grounds for a new trial were based on the alleged failure of the state to bring the woman to trial at the next term of court following her indictment, and on producing insufficient evidence to warrant a verdict of guilty. Attorney Norton contended that the delay in bringing the woman to trial deprived her of a speedy hearing, as guaranteed by the Constitution. It was also argued that other errors of law had occurred at the trial which were duly excepted to at the time.

The woman was indicted at the September term of court and was brought to trial at the November term. The jury disagreed and the court entered a mistrial. The case was brought on for trial a second time at the January, 1914, term and a verdict of guilty was returned by the jury. Attorney Norton's contention is that the mistrial was not a trial within the meaning of the statute, and that another jury should have been drawn at the November term to try her case.

Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, who directed the prosecution of the woman, appeared in opposition to the granting of the motion. He stated that the first continuance of the case, from the September to the November term, was requested by B. M. Goldberg, who at that time was acting as counsel for the defendant. After the disagreement at the November term the case was continued, he asserted, because of the apparent difficulty in obtaining a jury composed of men who had not formed an opinion of her guilt owing to widespread publicity of the first trial.

The court sustained the contention of the assistant county attorney and held that the grounds for continuance were sufficient.

270 VOTES OUT OF 300 FRAUDULENT

Four New York Election Officials Arrested for Frauds.

New York, May 4.—Four election officials were arrested here Sunday on indictments for alleged frauds in connection with the special election of April 7, at which the voters of the state, according to the official canvass, decided to hold a constitutional convention next year.

District Attorney Whitman announced that he would carry his investigation of alleged election frauds into every district within his jurisdiction. Evidence, he said, pointed to a conspiracy to stuff the ballot boxes in favor of the constitutional convention proposition.

All the men arrested served in the district that contains the residence of Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall. The statement given out at the district attorney's office called attention to this fact, but made no accusation against any party organization.

The evidence upon which the four election officials were indicted indicated that of the 300 votes cast in the Sixth election district, 270 were fraudulent. There was not a vote against the proposition.

Three of the men are Republicans and one a Democrat. The election inspectors are indicted for a felony, punishable by three years in prison or a $3,000 fine, or both.

FOUR DEAD IN TWO MOTOR ACCIDENTS.

Jersey City, N. J., May 4.—Three persons were killed and three injured when an automobile turned turtle over a fourteen foot embankment on the Bellevue turnpike, beyond North Arlington late Saturday night.

In another automobile smash-up in this city Saturday, Assistant Engineer Hudson Lovell of the Jersey City fire department, speeding to a fire, was killed.

The dead in the Bellevue turnpike accident are Samuel Willis, 50 years old, a tobacco dealer, his son, Walter, 18, and Mrs. Mary Walsh, all of this city. The driver lost control of the machine.

GONZALESE NEW COSTA RICA CHIEF.

Washington, May 4.—Costa Rican Minister Calvo announces that Alfredo Gonzalese, the first dignate or vice president, has been chosen by the Costa Rican congress as president of the republic. The new administration will be inaugurated May 8 for a term of four years.

EDITOR SPENDS TWO DAYS IN JAIL.

Halifax, N. S., May 4.—W. R. McCurdy, news editor of the Halifax Herald and Evening Mail, has ended a sentence of forty-eight hours' imprisonment at the county jail which had been imposed upon him by the provincial legislature. The sentence was the first of its kind in a quarter century.

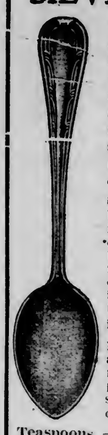
Editor McCurdy was brought to the bar of the house of assembly, sitting as the highest court of the province, to give the name of the author of a letter published by the Mail on April 16. This letter which referred to a bill for tramways privileges was construed by government members of the legislature as an insult to that body.

The editor refused to reveal the name of the author, on the ground that it would be a violation of journalistic ethics. The verdict against him was reached on a straight party vote.

J. P. MORGAN'S SON TO MARRY.

Boston, May 4.—Announcement of the engagement of Junius Spencer Morgan, son of J. Pierpont Morgan of New York, to Miss Louise Converse, daughter of Frederick Shepperd Converse of this city, was made by the young woman's parents.

SILVERWARE



"The King George," as per illustration, is a new pattern just received. It is "different" than most stores have heretofore shown. A design not so fancy that it is hard to clean, but enough to give it grace and beauty. GOOD MEN ARE NEEDED FOR THE LEGISLATURE

Thursday Is Last Day for Filing; Few Seem to Desire to Serve; St. Louis County Has Plenty of Openings; Eberhart-Smith Machine Will Try the Governor on a Stumping Tour; Congressional Situation Promises a Lively Campaign; Block's Entrance to Auditorship Race Puzzling.

There seems to be an unaccountable shyness on the part of valuable men in some of the St. Louis county districts to get into the legislative game and the time is close when filings will have to be in.

Next Thursday is the last day for legislative, congressional and state filings, and yet the list up this way is very shy. There has not been in years such a dearth of candidates and there has not also been in years a time when good men were wanted so badly.

The campaign, started some months ago by The Herald, for economy and efficiency in state government, has swept the commonwealth like a prairie fire and everywhere good men are filing with that for their motto and slogan—except in St. Louis county, the home of the demand.

In short, everybody's doing it—backing away. Numerous men have been urged to get into the game but are still "considering."

The time for considering is now practically over and they must decide one way or the other. It is hoped that the best of them will be prevailed upon by their friends to enter the race in order that the increased representation which the county has been given by the recent reapportionment of the state may prove to be of some good. Below is a complete list of those who have filed for the legislature in this county's districts, including John Goodfill of Two Harbors, who has filed for the house in the Fifty-seventh, which includes Lake and Cook counties. Mr. Woodfill is a Socialist. B. F. Fowler of Two Harbors is contemplating filing, but has not yet determined. Following is the list:

Fifty-seventh district — Senator, Charles E. Adams, A. G. McKnight; representative, Lake and Cook counties, John Woodfill; representative, St. Louis county, W. J. North, Ray E. Hunt.

Fifty-eighth district—Senator, T. M. Pugh, Richard Jones; representative (two places to fill), C. L. Hood.

Fifty-ninth district—Senator, George M. Peterson, P. G. Phillips; representative (two places to fill), W. L. Bernard, E. N. Nelson, E. R. Grignon.

Sixtieth district—Senator, John A. Healy of Hibbing, William Brown of Chisholm; representative (two places to fill), J. H. McNiven of Chisholm, Samuel C. Scott of Hibbing, Fred Bessette of Gheen, Charles R. Woods of Chisholm, Patrick J. Greaney of Greaney.

Sixty-first district—Senator, O. H. Griggs of Virginia; representative (two places to fill), Charles T Murphy of Aurora, James W. Osborne of Ely, Solomon Sax of Eveleth, John H. Gill of Virginia.

John Woodfill in the Fifty-seventh district, Richard Jones in the Fifty-eighth and P. G. Phillips in the Sixtieth are Socialists.

Only forty-four more days remain until the primary election of June 16, and these, it is presumed, will be forty-four days of the most active campaigning. So far it has been rather tame, except for the attacks on Governor Eberhart by Candidate Lee—attacks which have not been replied to so far, by the way. No doubt the last day of filing—Thursday of this week—will mark the beginning of the real campaign, for then it will be known who will be opposed.

In the matter of the governorship it is likely that this week will see the machine in the Republican party doing its best to stem the tide that has been flowing toward William E. Lee. There is no denying that the machine is frightened. No such opposition as has developed was expected. If the anti-machine people were frank it is believed that they would admit that they are fully as surprised as the machine side. Mr. Lee is getting the crowds and there is no denying that he is delivering telling blows against the Eberhart-Smith administration and its failure to make good.

Senator Ole Sageng made a speech the other day that was an awful jolt to the machine forces. He denounced the governor's attitude in the matter of economy and efficiency as—were the senator addicted to the vernacular—a lot of "bunk." He pointed out that his appointment of a commission to revise the government of the state was an admission of weakness and incapacity and also an admission that not until he was frightened into it would he take steps to improve conditions even had he been on his job long enough to know that matters were not being conducted aright. It is written that the Ottertail senator's remarks have made a deep impression around the state. They should at least, it is added.

At any rate it is proposed by the machine, after long and deep consultation and meditation, to have the governor make an active speaking campaign. The governor's itinerary—intrastate, not interstate, this time—will begin next Saturday. The cause of the delay in reaching this determination—so comes the news from St. Paul—is that his weakness on meeting questions on the questions of the day, such, for instance, as the matter of economy and efficiency, initiative and referendum, etc., has caused some of his adherents to fear for him on the stump. This is bound to open up the question of reckless expenditures in departments controlled by him. But conditions have become so desperate that it has been determined to toss the governor before the people and let him meet the issues the best he can. The machine does not care for Eberhart any more than anybody else, but it seeks to save itself. Hence he is put out to be the target of any political dead cat that is thrown at the machine itself. It is also whispered about the state capitol that more attention is being given by the machine to the control of the legislature than ever, in view of the danger of Eberhart not being able to win out.

It is conceded that Congressman Hammond will be the Democratic nominee for the governorship. The Lawler forces, within the last few days, issued a statement, in which the chief part is a "holler," because the protesting Hennepin delegation to the Democratic state conference of March 31, was not seated alone. That is all they have to say; and it might as well be left unsaid, for if that is their only claim to the Democratic support for Dan Lawler there is no claim. Had that delegation been seated and the Purdy delegation been unseated there would have been no difference in the result—the Hennepin delegation would have been alone in voting against Congressman Hammond's indorsement and its wail would be lost in the roar of enthusiasm that swelled in the St. Paul auditorium that day.

It is also becoming more deeply impressed on the minds of the people of the state that no matter who is the Republican nominee he will have his present opposition to fight and that after Jan. 1 it will be Governor Hammond. In the meantime Congressman Hammond is staying on the job at Washington, supporting the president and looking after the congressional interests of his constituency and his state, taking no part in this campaign. He said, in the beginning, that he would not, that he has too much to look after, and that he would not attempt to neglect it to get into a campaign here. And he is keeping his word.

* * *

But it is well to remember the remark made to The Herald by Manager Clure of Mr. Lee's campaign, while he was in the city last week:

"With Hammond and Lee nominated, the rest of us can go fishing; the state will be safe."

* * *

Congressman C. B. Miller has returned from Washington and will remain in this district until the close of the campaign. From now on he will fight off whatever inroads Senator Boyle has made on his bailiwick, and it is presumed that up to the June primaries the campaign will not only become one of gum-shoeing but of oratory, for both are good speakers. It seems that only four of Minnesota's congressional delegation are likely to have easy sailing, so far as the primaries are concerned. Those are Sydney Anderson, C. R. Wavis, A. J. Volstead and Halvor Steenerson.

Concerning the candidacy for congress of Andrew Nelson, the choice of the recent Eighth district Democratic conference, the Minneapolis Journal says:

Eighth district Democrats have induced Andrew Nelson of Duluth to become a candidate for congress. He is an attorney of high standing and a former school man, having served in John Lind's regime as assistant state superintendent. He has refused on former occasions to run for office, but evidently feels that the contest between Clarence B. Miller and James P. Boyle in the Republican ranks will give a Democrat a chance this fall.

To use a much hackneyed phrase, "like a bolt out of a clear sky" came the announcement, the other day, that Julius H. Block of Duluth, former state treasurer, had filed for the Republican nomination for state auditor. Without comment this long time, it was thought that Mr. Block had passed out of the political limelight. But here he stepped in again just when everybody had supposed that the fight was all settled down to Henry Rines and J. A. O. Preus. And there are those that say that Mr. Block looms as large politically as he does physically which is certainly some looming. Mr. Block simply says that he is going to win. The day after he filed he came back to Duluth and told The Herald:

"Some of the so-called knowing ones in the Twin Cities are figuring as to who I will cut into the most—Rines or Preus. I will not cut in, but I will cut them out. Could these knowing ones become aware of those who have been, for months, urging me to enter the race, and the strong backing I have pledged, they would cease wondering who I will cut into and would begin figuring my majority."

Of course every candidate is expected to talk like that, but at the same time it is generally admitted that when he was in politics and running for state treasurer, he was about the grandest little coraller of votes that one could wish to see. Of course, though, that was in other times than these, and there are no eggs in last year's bird's nests.

O. P. B. Jacobson, appointed to the state railroad and warehouse commission to succeed C. F. Staples, took his new job last Friday. As has been announced he is a candidate to succeed himself, and is opposed by J. F. Rosenwald of Lac qui Parle county and James S. Arneson.

The only Democratic candidate so far is L. A. Smith of Truman, a farmer, who has made a special study of the subjects of transportation, marketing and grading of grain and has served as president of the Farmers' Grain Dealers' association of Minnesota for four terms. He is said to be very popular with the farmers and decidedly acceptable to them.

I. A. Caswell, candidate to succeed himself as clerk of the state supreme court, seems certain to have the chair held he deserves.

Many people throughout the state, and many in this part of it, will be glad to learn that S. B. Nelson of Luverne has consented to run for the senate. Mr. Nelson gave good service on the state equalization board for three years and it is believed that he will be a most valuable man in a legislature that is being pledged to see to it that more efficiency and economy are given to state affairs. The following, coming from the Luverne Herald, is all the more significant in view of the fact that the Herald is one of the most uncompromising Republican newspapers in the state and Mr. Nelson is a Democratic leader:

Luverne Herald: The announcement of the candidacy of Samuel B. Nelson for state senator for the legislative district of Rock and Nobles counties will undoubtedly be received with marked favor by all who know Mr. Nelson. This is true because of his eminent qualifications for the office to which he aspires—qualifications that not only include high character and sterling integrity, but ability that will command the respect of all with whom he comes in contact.

No better man than Mr. Nelson could be selected for the office he seeks, and if he is elected, the people of this district will find in him a representative of whom they may justly feel proud.

Stillwater Gazette: The Cambridge North Star says Manahan has decided that he won't go to congress from the new Tenth district. The farmers had agreed among themselves upon the same plan—they beat him to it.

And, without question, the state as a whole will see to it that he does not rattle around in the attorney general's chair. His rank failure as a congressman marks him as the false alarm friend of the people that many long ago suspected him to be.

* * *

Canby News: At this distance it looks like Governor Eberhart will lose out at the Republican primaries in June. And if he wins against Lee he will lose the election to Hammond in November. In either case the man and his job is lost as far as he is concerned.

Poor cuss! Up against it either way. But so is Lee, for that matter.

Bagley Herald: Walter J. Smith, present state treasurer, has filed for re-election. It is generally conceded the state over that Mr. Smith has made good as an exact and proficient accountant of the state's financial affairs. The voters, knowing that they have a good guardian holding the financial strings of the state purse, and one free from blemishes, will surely hesitate before they swap him off for another.

There does not seem to be the slightest danger. Talk of opposition to him is taken as the latest and best joke of the year.

* * *

Anoka Union: Jim Manahan wants office so badly that he shouldn't get any.

THIS WEEK'S WEATHER

Washington, May 4.—Showers during the first half of the week over most of the country from the Mississippi to the Atlantic, with temperatures above the seasonal average and showers and thunderstorms in the far west during the latter part of the week, forcasted by the weather bureau.

"The indications are that the temperatures will average about the normal generally in the eastern and southern states and the great central valleys," said the bulletin, "and near or slightly below normal over the Rocky Mountain region and on the Pacific slope. The precipitation duringg the week will be local, but fairly well distributed over the great central valleys, the region of the Great Lakes, and the eastern and southern states.

"An area of low barometric pressure that now covers the plains states will move slowly eastward and reach the Atlantic states Tuesday or Wednesday; this depression will be attended by showers the first half of the week over much of the country from the Mississippi valley to the Atlantic coast and in the Gulf states.

"Another disturbance will appear in the far west Wednesday or Thursday and prevail over the middle west near the close of the week and it will be attended by showers and thunder storms.

BRITON DIES DURING VISIT TO AMERICA.

Toronto, Ont., May 4.—On his way to Toronto to address the Canadian Brotherhood here the Rev. Sylvester Horne, Liberal member of British house of commons and president of the British Brotherhood, fell dead on the deck of the Niagara steamer Corona Saturday night, at his wife's feet. His visit to America was to deliver lectures at Yale university, which were concluded last week. At Buffalo he complained of not feeling well, but visited the Falls. Mrs. Horne will sail for England on Tuesday, taking the body with her. Mr. Horne was born in 1865 in Sussex, England.

TO BE HEAD DEPUTY.

Reported North Dakotan Will Soon Be Promoted.

Fargo, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is reported that John Gammons, stenographer for Justice Goss of the state supreme court, will be chief deputy United States marshal within a few weeks. He has been appointed to one of the minor deputyships by Marshal Doyle and after the coming session of United States court, will be advanced to the chief office position to succeed Gilbert Sout, who has served in that capacity for several years. On the promotion of Gammons another minor deputy will be named. Stout is the only one of the former deputies still connected with the office.

ED. GRANEY'S WIFE KILLS HERSELF.

San Francisco, Cal., May 4.—Mrs. Agnes E. Graney, wife of Edward Graney, boxing promotor and referee, ended her life at her home here Sunday by shooting. For two years Mrs. Graney had been in the care of a physician. She was 36 years old.

FRENCH DEFEAT MOORISH TRIBES.

Fez, Morocco, May 4.—A desperate battle between the French troops and followers of the native pretender to the Moroccan throne resulted Sunday in the deefat of the Moors, who suffered enormous losses. The French lost nine killed and twenty-five wounded.

Early in the morning the French troops, consisting of a column composed of all arms, attacked the natives in a mountain stronghold, which they carried at the point of the bayonet. The Moorish camp was destroyed.

SCARLET FEVER IS PREVALENT

Big Increase in Number of Cases Reported in State.

Scarlet fever is very prevalent in Minnesota, according to the report for March just issued by the state board of health. The number of cases in Duluth for the first quarter of 1914 was 141 as compared with 65 for the first quarter of 1913.

The division was notified of 1,357 scarlet fever cases in 188 sanitary districts of Minnesota in 65 counties, in March this year, as against 536 cases in 76 sanitary districts in 42 counties in March of 1913. The increase this year in the number of cases and of sanitary districts is attributed, in part, to more complete reporting by physicians and greater activity of health officers.

A comparison is made of scarlet fever cases reported from Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth for the first quarters of this and last years, as follows:

1913.	Jan.	Feb.	Mar.
Minneapolis	98	151	262
St. Paul	28	35	66
Duluth	14	24	27
1914.	Jan.	Feb.	Mar.
Minneapolis	204	229	322
St. Paul	296	226	399
Duluth	39	59	66

Twice as Many Cases.

"No comparison," the report reads, "can be made to show increase of cases in relation to population and territory concerned, outside the three cities, since many more and many different districts reported scarlet fever for this period in 1914 than did in 1913. The total number of cases from all other districts was 365 in 1913 against 1,226 in 1914. Roughly speaking, about twice as many cases occurred per district, and about twice as many districts were affected."

The report renews emphasis on the state board's advocacy of well-conducted isolation hospitals to cope with contagious disease epidemics. "Cases are occurring," it states, "under conditions generally favorable to the spread of scarlet fever. Relatively few cases are isolated. In the rural districts and the smaller cities there are no isolation hospitals; all cases must be cared for in the home or wherever discovered, as a rule.

"In the few places where there are isolation hospitals, the facilities are inadequate. Transients taken sick in hotels and other public places must be removed to the hospitals. Therefore, many resident cases must be left at home even though proper isolation may be impossible there.

Secondary Cases.

"The result is that the disease spreads to the susceptible persons exposed. If the family is in quarantine when the secondary cases develop, the public should not be endangered. However, had the first case been removed promptly, the family exposure would have been minimized and very probably no second cases would have developed."

Nestlé's Food

Give your baby your breast milk as long as you can. But remember that the wisest mother sometimes does not give her baby enough—when her own breast milk is growing weak. And the loving mother sometimes gives her baby cow's milk—heavy—weighted with sickness and trouble.

For know—all you wiser mothers—that many of our dairies are dirty, that the State of New York says that one cow in three carries consumption—know that your baby gets bowel trouble and stomach troubles and sometimes even consumption from the milk of such cows.

Nestlé's carries health and strength and blood and bone and muscle to little growing babies—gives them strength to cut their teeth easily. Nestlé's is nearer to mother's milk than any other food. In NESTLE'S the curd of the milk is soft and fleecy as in mother's milk. Nestlé's is made from the best cow's milk, milk from clean, healthy cows, in sanitary inspected dairies. Then to it are added other food elements your baby needs, and that cow's milk does not contain.

FIVE THOUSAND MORE FARMERS

Estimated 25,000 Immigrants Came to Minnesota Last Year

St. Paul, Minn., May 4.—Minnesota has approximately 5,000 more farmers this year than she had last, according to figures compiled by Fred D. Sherman, commissioner of immigration. Taking these 5,000 farmers and calculating on the usual basis of five to each family, it means that 25,000 immigrants have come to Minnesota during the past year.

These figures are arrived at by a system of correspondence with land dealers all over the state. Thirty days ago Mr. Sherman sent letters to 3,000 land dealers in Minnesota asking them to give him the names of parties to whom they had sold Minnesota land in other states who had moved to Minnesota and were occupying their farms. To these letters 445 have replied, which when totaled show that 2,853 living in other states have bought Minnesota land and moved here. The states contributing to this immigration are as follows in order named: Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, South Dakota and Indiana; and the balance scattering from practically every state in the Union. According to returns every county in the state has received some new farmers. Of the number received Pine county tops the list with 162 reported in; Cass county comes next with 117; Swift county, 116; Beltrami, 107; Watonwan, 93; Wilkin, 65, and the lowest county gives a report of ten new farmers.

Woman's Realm

A large number of Duluth women are planning to attend one or more of the sessions of the convention of the Federated Women's clubs of the Eighth district, held at Cloquet tomorrow and Wednesday. The following is a list of the Duluth clubs which will be registered through their accredited delegates:

From the Twentieth Century club will go the president, Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst, Mrs. John H. Norton and Mrs. C. H. Merritt, with Mrs. Culbertson, Mrs. J. E. Samuelson and Mrs. H. H. Phelps as alternates. Mrs. Brocklehurst will make the official report.

The Lester Park Literary society is sending Mrs. A. C. Vaughn and Mrs. M. R. Bush and one alternate, Mrs. Walter Butchart. Mrs. David Williams will be in attendance also and will give the official report of the organization.

The Garden Flower society will be represented by Mrs. David Williams, who will give the report, and by Mrs. J. A. P. Neal. The president, Mrs. R. P. Boyington, will be in attendance part of the time.

The Saturday club, the oldest Duluth club now federated, will be represented by Mrs. H. J. Grannis, the president, and Mrs. Julia Barnes, with Mrs. A. Nichols and Mrs. John A. Keyes as alternates. Mrs. Grannis will make the official report.

Delegates from the Duluth Drama Study club will be Mrs. R. Spiegel, Mrs. J. C. H. Engel, Mrs. M. Cook, Mrs. J. E. Samuelson and Mrs. J. H. Norton.

Mrs. H. A. Barnes, the president, will give the report for the Mothers' club of Bryant school. This club is the outgrowth of work of the Twentieth Century club that provided rest rooms, reading rooms and gymnasiums that made possible the social center work carried on by Miss Katherine King and Miss Marguerite Culkin.

Mrs. Otto Gafvert, the president, will represent the Linnaea society that works to prevent tuberculosis and to care for sufferers from the disease.

The delegate from the Woman's Rotary club will be the president, Miss L. Erwin.

Two Duluth women are among the state officials, Mrs. Peter L. De Voist, who is vice president at large, and Mrs. F. L. Barrows, who is state treasurer.

Five Duluth women will be on the program. Miss Katherine King will read a paper on "Child Conservation." The discussion of this subject will be led by Mrs. F. L. Barrows. Mrs. Frank O'Donnell's subject will be "The Influence of Women on French Literature." Mrs. O'Donnell's paper was given before the Saturday club and their guests and a request was made that it be given again at the convention. Miss Marguerite Culkin, in the official capacity as head of the social center movement of Duluth, will speak of "Social Center Work in the Small City." Mrs. P. L. De Voist will speak on "State Work."

Mrs. S. R. Holden, president of the Duluth center of the Drama League of America, has been invited to speak of the work of this organization.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Last Vaudeville Bill of the Season in Duluth Theater.

Yesterday afternoon the last vaudeville bill of the current season, opened at the Duluth Orpheum. Next week motion pictures will be shown at the local playhouse and they will continue until Aug. 23, when the vaudeville will be resumed.

The new bill is headlined by a remarkable "mind reading" or "thought transference" act, presented by the Zancigs, a man and a woman. These two performers have been before the public many years. Their act is an amazing one, and the spectator cannot but be convinced that it is a legitimate instance of "mind reading." No other explanation seems possible. The man walks through the audience while the woman stands on the stage. Members of the audience hand the man various articles, and instantly the woman names them. She reads numbers on tickets and watches, which it would be impossible for her to see or for her partner to convey to her by any apparatus or by any system of signals. She reads initials on rings, names on business card, and even reproduces on the blackboard pictures which members of the audience draw on the back of a card and hand to the man. A similiar exhibition was seen here about two years ago, a young Indian girl being the subject.

The rest of the bill is lively, clean and entertaining vaudeville. The Gardner Trio, two young women and a youth, offer a very dainty exhibition of the new dances. Vaudeville audiences have had their fill of the new dances, but these young people make such a graceful and attractive appearance, and their steps are so well executed, that they scored one of the hits of the bill.

Doris Wilson and company, the company consisting of two young women and a man, have a singing novelty which they call "Through the Looking Glass." The feature of the act is the work of the "reflection" of Miss Wilson, who sings a solo before a looking glass. The "reflection" later steps out and joins her in a song and dance turn. It is a lively entertainment.

Two good "single" acts are included in the bill. Miss Helen Gannon, who is billed as "the whistling prima donna," gives a remarkable exhibition of whistling, and "Billy" Rogers scored what was probably the biggest applause hit of the bill, with his imitations of musical instruments, and other common noises heard every day.

The opening act is an entertaining little turn offered by Gagnier's trained dogs, and the Holman Brothers, two performers, bring the bill to a close with a very lively and hilarious act on the horizontal bars.

The pictures this week are most timely. One reel shows scenes on board an American battleship. The sailors are shown in their daily drills and exercises, and the big six-inch guns are shown in action, shooting at a target. As the big guns swing around and apparently are aimed directly at the audience, it gives some impression of what the citizens of Vera Cruz might have felt with the American fleet in action.

Another interesting picture, which is timely because of the work of aeroplanes in the Mexican war, shows Glenn L. Martin preparing to drop bombs from an aeroplane.

AT THE EMPRESS.

"Human Hearts" Opens an Engagement of Four Days.

Depicting life in the small village, where everyone is supposed to be human and brotherly, Hal Reid not only presents a beautiful pastoral story in "Human Hearts," which opened a four-day engagement at the Empress theater yesterday afternoon, but also teaches a moral, based on the theory that "the truth will always out."

Tom Logan, the honest blacksmith, is accused of murdering his own father, and through a miscarriage of justice, is sent to prison, where he is mercilessly abused by the attendants and where he endures unbearable humiliation. Everything ends happily, however, but not until Tom Logan and the other characters go through some thrilling situations.

"Human Hearts" has an absorbing love story and plenty of good, rich comedy, supplied by a number of interesting types, which are supposed to be typical of the small country town. The characters are capably handled by members of the company, special mention being due Karl L. Way as Tom Logan, and Miss Dorothy La Vern as Logan's wife.

An interesting motion picture opens the production, which will continue until Wednesday evening, with the regular daily matinees.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Many Men Responsible for Extravagant Wives.

Deserving of sympathy the man may be, who has an extravagant wife, nevertheless he is not blameless. As the money-maker and provider, he, if anyone, has an opportunity to nip extravagance in the bud. That he doesn't put his foot down when expenditures exceed all bounds, shows lack of character or else that his vanity leads him astray.

Debt and dishonor mean little to some men as compared with their determination to provide wife and children with luxuries exceeding those of neighbors and friends. This is the keynote of much of the extravagance in families whose heads wear a hang-dog expression all the time and are forever speaking sarcastically of woman and her lack of comprehension.

There are many men the very personification of generosity where a wife or daughter is concerned. Does Mrs. A have a vanity bag? Then wife must have one just as good or better. Does daughter's chum go to riding school? Then daughter must go, too. I know a dozen men earning enough to keep their families in comfort, who are beset by their own love of luxury and display where their women-folk are concerned.

I remember when a certain young couple were married. It is nearly eight years now. People prophesied at the time that the young man's extravagant ideas would end disastrously. He was smart and he earned a good deal of money, consequently there was nothing too good for his wife. He had tasted of the luxuries of the world. She hadn't. Aided by her husband she quickly blossomed into an extravagant wife.

He had large ideas at the outset of his wedded life, but she soon left him miles behind. He doesn't attempt to keep up with her. She dresses like a fashion plate. He is satisfied with one or two cheap suits a year. Sometimes the handwriting on the wall makes itself very plain to him.

His men friends are very sorry for him. They blame his wife. It is true that she is a heartless, selfish spendthrift. But, like many another extravagant wife and daughter, she is, in part at least, the result of a husband's or father's indulgence and his desire that she shall outshine all the other women of her acquaintance. Most men have considerable responsibility for this failing in their women folk, I believe.

Detroit Jewel Gas Range Week

This week has been set aside for the Spring Opening of DETROIT JEWEL GAS APPLIANCES. We are the accredited representatives in Duluth for the Detroit Stove Works (of Detroit, Michigan) who have for twenty years specialized on GAS APPLIANCES, and today their product STANDS UNEQUALED. The 1914 line is particularly adapted to meeting the demands of those seeking the best grade and more advanced type of gas ranges. We especially invite you to come sometime during the week and make a careful inspection of the DETROIT JEWEL GAS RANGES as displayed in our HOUSEFURNISHING DEPT.

Non-Ox Metal—
for use wherever sheet metal is required; has four times the rust resisting qualities of ordinary steel.

Double Walls—are a feature of Detroit Jewel Gas Ranges, insuring best results and freedom from excessive kitchen heat.

Patented Ovens
The baking superority of the Detroit Jewel Ranges is due to the patented oven construction and the double return flues over the oven, insuring perfect heat distribution.

THE economy practiced in the use of Ivory Soap for the toilet simply is a matter of paying 5 cents for a six-ounce cake of soap instead of 8 cents, 10 cents or 25 cents for a smaller cake of soap that cannot be a particle better.

It is simply a matter of knowing from experience that Ivory Soap is as mild and as pure as soap can be; that it agrees with the skin as well as any "complexion" soap; that it is the most pleasant and refreshing soap that ever entered a bathroom.

There is more satisfaction in practicing Ivory Soap economy than in indulging toilet soap extravagance.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CANAL TOLLS.

Col. Henry Watterson is a perennial delight and fount of limpid English and vigorous thought, and though we cannot join him when he starts on his lonely march to Panama with a view to making conquest of all that lies between, we can cheer him to the echo—and hereby do—when he puts the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth about the canal tolls controversy in these words:

> For our part we can see nothing in the act remitting the tolls in favor of the coastwise shipping trust—a prosperous monopoly—but subsidy pure and simple; in the approval given this by the national Democratic platform only a piece of sharp practice worked upon the committee and the convention amid the confusion and excitement of the closing hours; and in the opposition to its repeal something very like selfish demagogism, more or less cowardly and dishonest.

We are glad that the member of congress from this district voted with the president on this issue.

We are glad of the confident expectation, and proud, too, but not surprised, that Senator Nelson of this state will vote for national honor and the integrity of the nation's pledged word.

We are sorrier than we can say that the junior senator, Mr. Clapp, has chosen another course.

Maybe Huerta's willingness to let the mediators get to work was inspired by the knowledge that the colonel is about due to come out of the jungle.

SIGNIFICANT.

A very unhappy thing for the cause of whisky has happened.

The Chicago newspapers somewhere got hold of an offer by a Kentucky association of distillers to sell a list of fifty thousand names of distillery patrons to the Keeley Institute, with this rather startling epigram in the letter: "Our customers are your patients."

How many of those fifty thousand distillery patrons, do you reckon, rank themselves in the lists of those who "can drink or leave it alone, as they please?"

Liquor cures fatten on the miseries of those who "can drink or leave it alone."

One could hardly blame Porfirio Diaz if he refused to take Mexico back on the ground that it is damaged goods.

THE PORTER AND THE PULLMAN COMPANY.

It is more or less widely known that it isn't the porter who really benefits when we tip him in the morning as he applies the brush and points to our slicked-up shoes. It is the Pullman company that profits by this combination of grudging generosity and servility, not the porter. And that knowledge is what makes the generosity a grudged one.

So there will be many who will find satisfaction in the fact that the California state railroad commission has rebuked the Pullman company with vigor for this petty and contemptible grafting on the public.

The commission points out that porters get but $27.50 per month, and so are forced to rely on tips for their wages, and that porters on first-class service get lower wages than those on tourist service, showing that the company figures on tips as a part of its revenue. The company is given thirty days to reform its practices, and if it fails, the commission promises an investigation of its affairs to the end that if rates are not high enough to enable it to pay decent wages, they can be raised, and if they are high enough the company can be compelled to pay the wages of its employes instead of throwing that burden on the public.

Says the commission: "If it be found that its rates are generous and that this company is not poor, but merely mean, and that the American public, dealing not only justly but generously with this institution, which in its turn deals unjustly and niggardly with its employes, then the American public certainly would be justified in at least dispensing with the generosity and limiting this company, conducting itself as it is, to the barest amount that the cold considerations of justice warrant it in securing.

"The Pullman company attempted to make this commission believe that the wages it pays its employes are proper, and that it did not expect its employes to secure money from the public. It is hard for us to determine which should be criticized the more, the attitude of the company in its action in this regard or its suppositions that it could make this commission believe a thing which everyone knows is not true.

"It may be all right for persons to reward particularly good service with some gratuity—upon this we don't pass—but the Pullman company forces its patrons to be generous or not get service.

"It certainly is a sad commentary on modern business that a company so rich and powerful as this one should feel inclined to stoop to the disreputable practice which it feels called upon to resort to."

The Pullman company, we think, had this coming. Everybody should take what satisfaction he may in the fact that a state railroad commission has officially rebuked this rich corporation for abusing public generosity as it does. Probably that satisfaction is all anybody will get out of it, for we haven't the faintest hope that the California railroad commission, or all the railroad commissions put together, will be able to bring a single blush of shame to the face of the Pullman company—not to speak of abolishing the tipping practice.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy is on his way back to Washington. If he starts half as much as John Lind did when he came back, he'll have to go some.

FEWER ELECTIONS WOULD DO.

"Forty-seven of the forty-eight states," says the Lincoln State Journal, "have succeeded in getting away from the nuisance of annual state elections. Massachusetts remains the one state that will insist on electing a governor and a full set of officers every November."

And the next step, surely, will be four-year terms for all officers—with the recall as a safety appliance—and four-year intervals of blessed peace between elections.

Minnesota already has placed all its county offices except judge of probate—the term of which is fixed by an out-of-date Constitution—on a four-year basis. Several of its state officers have four-year terms. What is to prevent their all being made four-year terms, including the legislature—the senate is already on a four-year basis—and having state elections only in presidential election years?

A man fit to be made governor or secretary of state for two years surely ought to be fit to be made governor or secretary of state for four years.

Given the recall to guard against bad results from bad choices, and the state would be at least as well off with four-year terms and quadrennial elections as it is now with two-year terms and biennial elections.

There is complaint that the people do not give the attention they should to public affairs. One reason why they don't is that they are weary of too frequent elections, and bewildered by the swiftly flitting intervals between campaigns.

Give Minnesota the short ballot, under which only the governor, lieutenant governor and legislature would be elected and the rest appointed, a small legislature composed of a single body, and four-year terms with four-year rests between compaigns; and its business would proceed more smoothly, at smaller cost and with greater safety to the public interest.

John D. Rockfeller, Jr., says the war in Colorado is not his war. Has it occurred to him that perhaps he might be able to make a peace out there that he really could claim?

SAVING THE BABIES.

Babies used to die like flies during the hot summer months in the cities, large and small. They do yet in many cities.

So appalling was the infant death rate that steps were taken to curb it. In New York Nathan Straus established milk depots, so the heat-stricken babies could get pure food. Parents were taught how to feed and care for their babies the year around, but especially during the summer plague of heat.

Similar work has been done in Duluth by the Scottish Rite Masons and the death rate figures have proved that their splendid efforts have saved many child lives.

In New York, according to a table just issued by the New York health department, the saving of human life that has resulted from this work is very striking. It is appalling when it makes one think of the loss through neglect before the work was taken up.

For instance, the death rate of children under five years of age during June, July and August has been brought down from 135.2 per thousand in 1892 to 38.8 in 1913. The death rate for the full year has been brought down from 96.5 to 37.3.

These figures, like the equally creditable figures in Duluth, show what can be done to avert needless waste of human life when somebody sets his hand to it.

If M. Joseph Caillaux is as good a shot as his wife, that duel he has proposed may turn out to be a pretty serious affair.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Never in the history of Minnesota was there a time when the need of strong men in the legislature was so great as it is now.

And never in the history of St. Louis county has there been a time when the need of sending its strongest men to the legislature was so great.

In the political column of The Herald tonight appears the present list of candidates in each of the five local districts.

The voters in each of these districts should look the names over, and then determine whether the available field is the best that can be brought out.

If so, well and good.

If not, then better men should be induced to become candidates.

The time is short. The last day for filing notices of candidacies for the legislature is Thursday. When the county auditor's office closes on that day, the lists will be closed. No independent candidates can get into the field later, for legislative candidacies are on a non-partisan basis, and all are presumably independent.

This is of the utmost importance. It is important to the state of Minnesota, to St. Louis county, to Duluth and to every community in Northeastern Minnesota.

Every one of the five districts into which St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties are divided should send to the senate and house the best men it can draw into the field. If by neglect and public indifference an inferior delegation goes to St. Paul, there may be a heavy bill to pay for that neglect and indifference.

The five districts, each of which elects a senator and two representatives are as follows:

Fifty-seventh—The First and Second wards of Duluth, the townships of Lakewood, Normanna, Ault and Duluth, and Lake and Cook counties. Lake and Cook counties elect one of the two house members, and the St. Louis county part of the district elects the other. The whole district participates in the election of a senator.

Fifty-eighth—The Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth wards of Duluth and two tiers of townships bounded on the north by the lines between townships 56 and 57, on the east by the line between ranges 13 and 14, and on the west by the line between ranges 15 and 16.

Fifty-ninth—The Seventh and Eighth wards of Duluth, Proctor, Midway and the remainder of St. Louis county south of the line between townships 56 and 57 and west of the line between ranges 15 and 16.

Sixtieth—All of St. Louis county west of the line between ranges 17 and 18 and north of the line between townships 56 and 57. This is the Western Mesaba or Hibbing-Chisholm district.

Sixty-first—The remainder of St. Louis county east of the line between ranges 17 and 18 and north of the line between townships 56 and 57. This is the Virginia-Eveleth-Ely-Tower district.

St. Louis county fought with the rest of Northern Minnesota for fair representation in the legislature; so its delegation will consist of five senators and ten representatives instead of three senators and six representatives, as before.

St. Louis county should not waste the fruits of that long fight by neglect of the CHARACTER of its representation in the legislature; for character is more important than numbers.

The Root of the Mexican Crisis

Editorial in the San Francisco Bulletin.

The force behind the Mexican revolution is the desire of the Mexican peons to get the land out of the hands of feudal lords and put it into the hands of farmers who will live on it and work it. Northern Mexico, where the revolution has been strongest, is a land of vast estates, like that of the Tarasas. The land is, in many places, very rich. There are valleys whose possibilities for raising food and supporting a great population rival those of the San Joaquin or Sacramento, whose soil has hardly been scratched.

The peons, descendants of the original owners of all the land in Mexico, are dispossessed, exploited and half-starved. Thousands of them, in the administration of Porfiro Diaz, were driven off their small holdings in order to make room for huge, useless estates, and hundreds were brutally murdered by troops sent to herd them off the land. With riches enough to support a high civilization, Mexico has been kept in a state of complete barbarism.

It might be supposed that where Mexico came in touch with the United States, at the border and in the estates which have come to be held by Americans, that a "civilizing" influence would be exerted.

But no amelioration has taken place. The American exploitation of Northern Mexico has been quite as vicious as the Mexican exploitation of the same territory, and it has been more businesslike. American interests went into Northern Mexico for money, and their policy there, in most cases, has been to make money, right or wrong. That is their policy now. They are willing to sacrifice the lives of thousands of American soldiers because they think the sacrifice will bring them money. Lives cost them nothing. National disaster costs them nothing in proportion to their shameful and unearned profits.

These interests are responsible for the agitation for war which has been carried on in this country ever since the Madero revolution. They are guilty of the present agitation. They were so powerful, and they won over so much mistaken support that they were able to force the hands of President Wilson. They are responsible. No one else who realizes what war means wants war, if we except the men of the fighting machines whom we have trained to fight, and who are, therefore, eager to fight.

"It is a sweet and glorious thing," says the old Latin proverb, "to die for one's country." But it is not a sweet and glorious thing to die in a criminal war carried on by a betrayed nation against another betrayed nation for the bloody profits of greedy speculators. It is not a sweet and glorious thing to die to elevate a Hearst into a billionaire.

This view of war is not poetry. War never is poetry. War is hell let loose upon earth. But these facts are facts that cannot be gainsayed. If this country wars on Mexico, now or later on, it does so because our people have been tricked and fooled into doing it.

About the Parson

Grit: "And what, my dear boy," asked the minister, "do you intend to be when you grow up?"

"A farmer, sir."

"Very good, indeed—to supply the natural food—most good."

"And you?" turning to the second.

"Please sir, a schoolmaster."

"Even better. Filling the mind of the rising generation with mental food—yes, even better."

"And you?" turning to the third.

"A preacher, sir."

"The best of all, my dear little boy; for filling the soul with spiritual food is far worthier than either filling the mind or body. And why do you wish to become a minister?"

"'Cos we always have duck for dinner when the parson comes," replied the boy.

The Pathfinder: "Brother Lastly," said the spokesman, "I have an unpleasant duty to perform. There is a report that you have said that one of the best and most worthy members of our congregation is unable to attend service often on account of not having good enough clothes. We have come to ask the name of that member. We don't know of any such person, and a report of that kind is likely to reflect upon us as a congregation that does not look after its poor but worthy members. Will you tell me who it is?"

"Certainly, brethren," replied the Rev. Mr. Lastly, with a brave attempt to be cheerful; "it's my wife."

Chicago Ledger: They were on their way home from church, where the pastor had preached a sermon on the work of the old year and the promise of the new. "That is what I call a finished sermon," said Mrs. Jones to her husband.

"Yes," was the reply, "but I thought it never would be."

Tit-Bits: A bachelor minister, when about to call in a village district, stated quite frankly:

"In these visits I shall, of course, embrace the servants."

The Nevermore.

Look in my face; my name is Might-have-been;
I am also called No-more, Too-late, Farewell;
Unto thine ear I hold the dead-sea shell
Cast up thy Life's foam-fretted feet between;
Unto thine eyes the glass where that is seen
Which had Life's form and Love's, but by my spell
Is now a shaken shadow intolerable,
Of ultimate things unuttered the frail screen.

Mark me, how still I am! But should there dart
One moment through my soul the soft surprise
Of that winged Peace which lulls the breath of sighs,
Then shalt thou see me smile, and turn apart
Thy visage to mine ambush at thy heart
Sleepless with cold commemorative eyes.

—Dante Gabriel Rosetti.

Mr. Rockefeller's Patriotism.

Chicago Evening Post: In a crisis of foreign war John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has received from the president of the United States a call to meet the strikers in Colorado so as to avert the need of weakening our armies by the dispatch of Federal troops. It is virtually a call to go to the front. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., refuses it.

One-third Off.

Judge: "When Miss Willings married old Moneybags, she gave her age as 25. I feel sure she is older than that."

"Oh, I suppose she allowed one-third off for cash!"

A Dog: Nothing More

Editorial in the San Francisco Bulletin.

Like Mirabeau, he is the friend of humanity. He looks out upon the world with naive, trusting eyes, nosing for good everywhere, and continually surprised when he does not find it. This may be partly because he is young. Old dogs, like old men, grow cynical. But this one's age, if his gentle brown eyes are any index of the character inside, however frosty, will still be kindly. He cannot but be ingenuous and optimistic to the last.

He is the most faithful and consistent of created beings. If you gain access to his friendship once you are in favor forever. If you have not seen him for a long time he may forget you, but if you make some familiar sign he will halt, prick back his ears, cock his intelligent countenance in your direction, wag his tail good humoredly, then begin to quiver with suppressed emotion and at once come rollicking up to meet you. In manner he is impetuous, disdaining the delicacies of the drawing room and loving the heartiness of out-of-doors. He suggests blue shirts and sombreros, the smell of campfires, the sights and odors of a thousand free days on the open road, the joys of a hundred robust idylls of the open country.

If you do not look out he will plant his muddy paws upon your immaculate coat and frisk dust upon you with his agitated tail as rapidly as ten negro porters could frisk it off again. If you reprove him or thump him with your fist he will be grieved, but he will not understand. What, may he ask, is a little dust between friends? What are clothes? Do they make a man a better companion? Do they sweeten his heart and dress up his soul? You will not make him understand why a little clean dust—the good dust that your food and his comes out of, first or last; the good, peaceful dust that you and he alike will go back to some time—upon a mere external thing like clothes should make you cruel. You can teach him that hearty, wholesome manners are taboo, and he will retire under the house to meditate, his tail drooping and a puzzled sadness in every line of his body, but not all his meditation will show him where the fault lies.

He is a democrat. He does not love or respect the pomps and vanities of the world. His ancestors formed their characters on bare Scotch hills in the company of dour shepherds who feared nothing under heaven, made obeisance to none, and defied the armies of kings for the subtle turn of a phrase. You may be well assured nothing will gain his respect save the sound inner qualities that a dog sees more quickly than men. He does not care whether the world calls you a sinner or a saint; he knows what you are.

When all the world turns bitter as gall, and the human beings you loved have forsaken you, and the causes you loved are all ruined and lost, he will still come bounding down to the gate, with joyous tail in air, to welcome you home.

They've Given Pa a Raise.

Say, you ought to hear ma singin'—
She's as happy as a lark,
And her smile stays on from mornin'
till a long time after dark;
She's been buyin' rugs and gettin' a
new costly switch to wear,
And she takes a cab whenever she goes
callin' anywhere.
She has bought herself a dimund, and
you ought to see it blaze;
Ma's as cheerful as a robin—they have given pa a raise.

Sister's busy gettin' dresses that'll cost
an awful pile,
And the hats that she's been buyin' are
the very latest style;
She's to go abroad this summer with some people named the Cooks.
Is she happy? Well, I guess so! You can see it by her looks.
She goes hummin' songs and dancin'
and in forty thousand ways
Lets us know that she is cheerful since
they've given pa a raise.

Pa still works the same as ever, and
he's smokin' stogies yet;
Wears the suit he got last summer,
and I guess he's still in debt.
Anyhow, he starts off early and comes
home fagged out at night,
And his forehead's gettin' wrinkled and his hair is turnin's white.
Can't, somehow, help feelin' sorry as I
sit and watch him gaze
With a vacant look at nothin'. Yes,
they've given pa a raise.

How We Make Headway.

Louisville Courier-Journal: A writer for the Unpopular Review, a New York publication, writes, under the heading, "A Sociological Nightmare," the following description of the seething mass of uplifters:

> And what a mob it is! Men and women who call themselves "progressives" without being able to read a pedometer; anarchists who, with less sense than bulls, mistake a red flag for a new gospel; propagandists of peace who have no respect for rest; advocates of postruma who actually resent being called quacks; women who rejoice in being "hikers;" philanthropists who are doing their foolish best to make the under dog a mad one; lecturers who convert their lungs into cash; fashionable women who open their drawing rooms to cranks, and their heads to whims—but why attempt an impossible description?

A mad world, indeed, but a little one in the midst of peace, sanity, courageous endeavor, satisfactory achievement. Some one has described the world as a bundle of hay "and all men as asses, each tugging a different way." Many of the howlers, the heelers, the screamers, the spielers, are propagandists for the living there is in it. Somewhat more contemptible are those who are courting nothing more than self-advertising and the killing of idle hours by tossing fire-brands at powder mills. Happily, the proportion of the vicious is small in comparison with the proportion to which a day's work is more inspiring than a red flag.

In the history of the world the lunatics, the hypocrites and the harmless idiots who can be led by either class have never marshaled a majority. Military revolutions have been fought upon real issues, and, in the main, have resulted in real progress. The social evolution has been toward the light. The ill-founded social unrest of the ill-informed thunders in the street, but its lightning is summer lightning, and the established order is not riven by it. Social betterment comes slowly, not as a result of the howling in the street, but in spite of it, proceeding from the acts of sensible, normal, hard-working class, who make a living in the arts, industries, the professions, and make politics and lawmaking an avocation.

A Fighting Chance.

Judge: Miss Passee—Oh, Mr. Plunks, are you married or unmarried?

Mr. Plunks—Married, generally. But if you would call every day, you might strike me some time when I wasn't.

The Proper Term.

Judge: "What's that?" cried the new doctor in the mining camp. "You say you have 'shooting pains' in your back. Why, you're wounded, man!"

"That's what I said—'shooting pains,'" said Piute Pete.

Wanted—A Real Man for State Executive

Views of the state press on a much needed change.

It Amounts to a Eulogy.

Coleraine Optic: W. S. Hammond is the Democratic candidate for governor. He has been congressman from Minnesota for several terms and his vote on all propositions has nearly always been right. In matters where there was a chance to benefit the public it seems that he has always voted to give the little fellow the best of the bargain, and that's saying a whole lot for the average modern politician.

Two Good Men Up.

Minneapolis Journal: The Democrats of Minnesota are to be congratulated for their wise decision to support Winfield S. Hammond for governor. There will thus be before the people in the primary two candidates for whom citizens may vote with clear conscience—William E. Lee, Republican, and Winfield S. Hammond, Democrat.

Both are representative men. Each represents the better side, the higher aspirations of his own party.

It will not be enough to redeem the state government by the election of Lee or Hammond to the governorship. The voters must also make sure of the legislature, and especially the senate.

Also Their Votes.

St. Peter Herald: Congressman Hammond has formally filed as the Democratic candidate for governor of Minnesota. He has a splendid record as a man and as a public servant. His candidacy will command the respect of all the people.

Ultimate Redemption Offered.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: The voters have come to know, too, that the longer Eberhart is permitted to remain in office the worse will become conditions—there is no hope for a betterment with Eberhart to carry the bundles for his bosses.

While Lee is looked upon as but little better—being a chronic office-seeker and 'way behind the progressive times in many ways—he offers a substitute to the Republicans, and it is freely predicted that he will win the nomination from Eberhart.

The prediction is followed up by another to the effect that Lee will be snowed under by Hammond in November and that then Minnesota will have a governor its citizens will not have to apologize for—and also Minnesota will then cease to be the butt of the national joke Eberhart has made of the state.

There Are Intellectual Limitations, You Know.

Princeton Union: Governor Eberhart is loud in his praise of the primary election law but is silent as the grave on the initiative and referendum.

Important If True.

Browns Valley Tribune: William E. Lee is conducting a personal speaking campaign and is making many friends wherever he appears. He does not hesitate in telling his hearers just what he will do when he is elected governor, and he has a reputation for doing just what he says he will do.

Introspection Would Help.

Fertile Journal: The gift mentioned by Burns of seeing ourselves as others see us has evidently not been bestowed upon Eberhart for in one of his speeches recently he says:

"There is not a more dangerous man to the commonwealth than a man who sacrifices principle for expediency and reverts to flagrant political manipulation under the guise of being a political reformer."

Give It a Good Word

New York Evening World: Early effects of the currency act on business are bound to be influenced by the way business chooses to receive the new law. Any indications that bankers are ready to look at it in the best light, passing over minor criticisms, are reassuring.

A practical, sympathetic discussion of the act before a gathering of business men was recently offered by Newton D. Alling, vice president of the National Nassau bank of this city, who believes that it will be of the greatest benefit in relieving the business and banking world of sudden bumps and jerks, such as were bound to occur so long as New York, St. Louis and Chicago remained the only reserve cities. "These three cities carry over half the reserve of all other banks, and as Chicago and St. Louis banks carry large balances in New York banks, New York suffers the brunt of any serious strain."

By providing the regional reserve banks which may rediscount for other banks, and supplement loaning power, when necessary, by issuing notes against business paper, the new law gives banking conditions in the various sections of the country a better chance to steady themselves in emergencies by gradual, elastic and local adjustments, without creating wide disturbances.

Instead of being told suddenly that there is no money to be had, business men and merchants will learn that, owing to a gradually rising interest rate, they are to proceed with more caution as to extensions and new commitments. Instead of a surfeit of money being poured into New York in one season to encourage expansion and speculation on Wall Street, only to be suddenly withdrawn with all the attendant effects of a panic, the apparent supply of money will always be about the same and credits will not display those sudden periods of contraction which have been experienced in the past thirty years.

Mr. Alling is hopeful that the day will come when "the bankers, big and little, will rejoice that there was a man in the White House with the determination and understanding to see the bill through at this critical juncture."

Meanwhile one thing is certain. The more promptly bankers and business men pledge themselves to give the new act every chance, the sooner will it settle the question of its success.

Lower Education.

Chicago News: Of a certain bishop the following anecdote is told:

While presiding over a conference a speaker began a tirade against the universities and education, expressing thankfulness that he had never been corrupted by contact with a college.

After proceeding for a few minutes the bishop interrupted with the question:

"Do I understand that Mr. X—— is thankful for his ignorance?"

"Well, yes," was the answer; "you can put it that way if you like."

"Well, all I have to say," said the prelate, in sweet and musical tones, "all I have to say is that Mr. X—— has much to be thankful for."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1894.

The Mesaba range strike keeps thickening and, unless settled soon, promises to be one that will keep the authorities busy. Affairs became so complicated that Sheriff Sharvy telegraphed to Governor Nelson for permission to call out the militia. Permission was granted, and yesterday Company A of Duluth, under Capt. Bidwell, went to Virginia, accompanied by Adjt.-Gen. Muehlberg. Company A took fifty-six men. Sheriff Sharvy, with six deputies, accompanied them. President Stuart Bates of Virginia had asked for help, as about 500 miners had congregated there and threatened to loot the stores if their demands were not acceded to. The magazine at one of the mines was broken into and forty kegs of powder stolen. The Mountain Iron miners, 200 in number, voted to go back to work if given protection. Work was resumed today at Mountain Iron and at the Oliver mine on Drake & Stratton's stripping contract.

Charles J. Peterson, stamp clerk at the Duluth postoffice, is ill with typhoid fever.

A riot occurred at the Painter works of the McClure Coke company at Scottdale, Pa., this morning, and fifteen persons were shot. The works were attacked by striking Huns, many shots were exchanged and a number of the strikers and women were wounded. Sanford White, the mine superintendent, was brutally beaten and kicked and his recovery is considered doubtful. Bookkeeper Roddy was also seriously injured.

The Latest Thriller.

New York World: Has mere flying become so tame an affair that during the coming months at popular resorts crowds must be entertained by aviators looping the loop? It looks so.

When Pegoud in France first tried his daredevil stunt he demonstrated that the aeroplane under extraordinary conditions could be kept under complete control and in a stable position. It was a fact worth knowing. But neither he nor any of his imitators has ever proved that anything was to be gained by flying head down. It was a showman's trick pure and simple.

What people who gape at that sort of circus performance in the clouds seem to want is the thrill of watching a man deliberately take the risk of being killed for hire. The spectacle racks their nerves and makes their hearts flutter or stand still, but while they gasp at the sight they are not really grateful to the man who had planned to give them "a horrid sensation." Probably not one in 10,000 stops to think of the cruelty of the scene.

If a man were to advertise that at a certain hour he would blow himself to pieces with dynamite, he might fill a field. Of course the police would not permit it. But human nature is so largely compounded of inhumanity that it takes a morbid delight in witnessing what it knows to be horrible. It is this unceasing desire on the part of the public to be thrilled that keeps our purveyors of amusement forever racking their brains for something always more startling and sensational, for which multitudes of persons of average decency will pay money.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CANAL TOLLS.

Col. Henry Watterson is a perennial delight and fount of limpid English and vigorous thought, and though we cannot join him when he starts on his lonely march to Panama with a view to making conquest of all that lies between, we can cheer him to the echo—and hereby do—when he puts the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth about the canal tolls controversy in these words:

> For our part we can see nothing in the act remitting the tolls in favor of the coastwise shipping trust—a prosperous monopoly—but subsidy pure and simple; in the approval given this by the national Democratic platform only a piece of smart practice worked upon the committee and the convention amid the confusion and excitement of the closing hours; and in the opposition to its repeal something very like selfish demagogism, more or less cowardly and dishonest.

We are glad that the member of congress from this district voted with the president on this issue.

We are glad of the confident expectation, and proud, too, but not surprised, that Senator Nelson of this state will vote for national honor and the integrity of the nation's pledged word.

We are sorrier than we can say that the junior senator, Mr. Clapp, has chosen another course.

Maybe Huerta's willingness to let the mediators get to work was inspired by the knowledge that the colonel is about due to come out of the jungle.

SIGNIFICANT.

A very unhappy thing for the cause of whisky has happened.

The Chicago newspapers somewhere got hold of an offer by a Kentucky association of distillers to sell a list of fifty thousand names of distillery patrons to the Keeley Institute, with this rather startling epigram in the letter: "Our customers are your patients."

How many of those fifty thousand distillery patrons, do you reckon, rank themselves in the lists of those who "can drink or leave it alone, as they please?"

Liquor cures fatten on the miseries of those who "can drink or leave it alone."

One could hardly blame Porfirio Diaz if he refused to take Mexico back on the ground that it is damaged goods.

THE PORTER AND THE PULLMAN COMPANY.

It is more or less widely known that it isn't the porter who really benefits when we tip him in the morning as he applies the brush and points to our slicked-up shoes. It is the Pullman company that profits by this combination of grudging generosity and servility, not the porter. And that knowledge is what makes the generosity a grudged one.

So there will be many who will find satisfaction in the fact that the California state railroad commission has rebuked the Pullman company with vigor for this petty and contemptible grafting on the public.

The commission points out that porters get but $27.50 per month, and so are forced to rely on tips for their wages, and that porters on first-class service get lower wages than those on tourist service, showing that the company figures on tips as a part of its revenue. The company is given thirty days to reform its practices, and if it fails, the commission promises an investigation of its affairs to the end that if rates are not high enough to enable it to pay decent wages, they can be raised, and if they are high enough the company can be compelled to pay the wages of its employes instead of throwing that burden on the public.

Says the commission: "If it be found that its rates are generous and that this company is not poor, but merely mean, and that the American public, dealing not only justly but generously with this institution, which in its turn deals unjustly and niggardly with its employes, then the American public certainly would be justified in at least dispensing with the generosity and limiting this company, conducting itself as it is, to the barest amount that the cold considerations of justice warrant it in securing.

"The Pullman company attempted to make this commission believe that the wages it pays its employes are proper, and that it did not expect its employes to secure money from the public. It is hard for us to determine which should be criticized the more, the attitude of the company in its action in this regard or its suppositions that it could make this commission believe a thing which everyone knows is not true.

"It may be all right for persons to reward particularly good service with some gratuity—upon this we don't pass—but the Pullman company forces its patrons to be generous or not get service.

"It certainly is a sad commentary on modern business that a company so rich and powerful as this one should feel inclined to stoop to the disreputable practice which it feels called upon to resort to."

The Pullman company, we think, had this coming. Everybody should take what satisfaction he may in the fact that a state railroad commission has officially rebuked this rich corporation for abusing public generosity as it does. Probably that satisfaction is all anybody will get out of it, for we haven't the faintest hope that the California railroad commission, or all the railroad commissions put together, will be able to bring a single blush of shame to the face of the Pullman company—not to speak of abolishing the tipping practice.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy is on his way back to Washington. If he starts half as much as John Lind did when he came back, he'll have to go some.

FEWER ELECTIONS WOULD DO.

"Forty-seven of the forty-eight states," says the Lincoln State Journal, "have succeeded in getting away from the nuisance of annual state elections. Massachusetts remains the one state that will insist on electing a governor and a full set of officers every November."

And the next step, surely, will be four-year terms for all officers—with the recall as a safety appliance—and four-year intervals of blessed peace between elections.

Minnesota already has placed all its county offices except judge of probate—the term of which is fixed by an out-of-date Constitution—on a four-year basis. Several of its state officers have four-year terms. What is to prevent their all being made four-year terms, including the legislature—the senate is already on a four-year basis—and having state elections only in presidential election years?

A man fit to be made governor or secretary of state for two years surely ought to be fit to be made governor or secretary of state for four years.

Given the recall to guard against bad results from bad choices, and the state would be at least as well off with four-year terms and quadrennial elections as it is now with two-year terms and biennial elections.

There is complaint that the people do not give the attention they should to public affairs. One reason why they don't is that they are weary of too frequent elections, and bewildered by the swiftly flitting intervals between campaigns.

Give Minnesota the short ballot, under which only the governor, lieutenant governor and legislature would be elected and the rest appointed, a small legislature composed of a single body, and four-year terms with four-year rests between compaigns; and its business would proceed more smoothly, at smaller cost and with greater safety to the public interest.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., says the war in Colorado is not his war. Has it occurred to him that perhaps he might be able to make a peace out there that he really could claim?

SAVING THE BABIES.

Babies used to die like flies during the hot summer months in the cities, large and small. They do yet in many cities.

So appalling was the infant death rate that steps were taken to curb it. In New York Nathan Straus established milk depots, so the heat-stricken babies could get pure food. Parents were taught how to feed and care for their babies the year around, but especially during the summer plague of heat.

Similar work has been done in Duluth by the Scottish Rite Masons and the death rate figures have proved that their splendid efforts have saved many child lives.

In New York, according to a table just issued by the New York health department, the saving of human life that has resulted from this work is very striking. It is appalling when it makes one think of the loss through neglect before the work was taken up.

For instance, the death rate of children under five years of age during June, July and August has been brought down from 135.2 per thousand in 1892 to 38.8 in 1913. The death rate for the full year has been brought down from 96.5 to 37.3.

These figures, like the equally creditable figures in Duluth, show what can be done to avert needless waste of human life when somebody sets his hand to it.

If M. Joseph Caillaux is as good a shot as his wife, that duel he has proposed may turn out to be a pretty serious affair.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Never in the history of Minnesota was there a time when the need of strong men in the legislature was so great as it is now.

And never in the history of St. Louis county has there been a time when the need of sending its strongest men to the legislature was so great.

In the political column of The Herald tonight appears the present list of candidates in each of the five local districts.

The voters in each of these districts should look the names over, and then determine whether the available field is the best that can be brought out.

If so, well and good.

If not, then better men should be induced to become candidates.

The time is short. The last day for filing notices of candidacies for the legislature is Thursday. When the county auditor's office closes on that day, the lists will be closed. No independent candidates can get into the field later, for legislative candidacies are on a non-partisan basis, and all are presumably independent.

This is of the utmost importance. It is important to the state of Minnesota, to St. Louis county, to Duluth and to every community in Northeastern Minnesota.

Every one of the five districts into which St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties are divided should send to the senate and house the best men it can draw into the field. If by neglect and public indifference an inferior delegation goes to St. Paul, there may be a heavy bill to pay for that neglect and indifference.

The five districts, each of which elects a senator and two representatives are as follows:

Fifty-seventh—The First and Second wards of Duluth, the townships of Lakewood, Normanna, Ault and Duluth, and Lake and Cook counties. Lake and Cook counties elect one of the two house members, and the St. Louis county part of the district elects the other. The whole district participates in the election of a senator.

Fifty-eighth—The Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth wards of Duluth and two tiers of townships bounded on the north by the lines between townships 56 and 57, on the east by the line between ranges 13 and 14, and on the west by the line between ranges 15 and 16.

Fifty-ninth—The Seventh and Eighth wards of Duluth, Proctor, Midway and the remainder of St. Louis county south of the line between townships 56 and 57 and west of the line between ranges 15 and 16.

Sixtieth—All of St. Louis county west of the line between ranges 17 and 18 and north of the line between townships 56 and 57. This is the Western Mesaba or Hibbing-Chisholm district.

Sixty-first—The remainder of St. Louis county east of the line between ranges 17 and 18 and north of the line between townships 56 and 57. This is the Virginia-Eveleth-Ely-Tower district.

St. Louis county fought with the rest of Northern Minnesota for fair representation in the legislature; so its delegation will consist of five senators and ten representatives instead of three senators and six representatives, as before.

St. Louis county should not waste the fruits of that long fight by neglect of the CHARACTER of its representation in the legislature; for character is more important than numbers.

The Root of the Mexican Crisis

Editorial in the San Francisco Bulletin.

The force behind the Mexican revolution is the desire of the Mexican peons to get the land out of the hands of feudal lords and put it into the hands of farmers who will live on it and work it. Northern Mexico, where the revolution has been strongest, is a land of vast estates, like that of the Terrazas. The land is, in many places, very rich. There are valleys whose possibilities for raising food and supporting a great population rival those of the San Joaquin or Sacramento, whose soil has hardly been scratched.

The peons, descendants of the original owners of all the land in Mexico, are dispossessed, exploited and half-starved. Thousands of them, in the administration of Porfiro Diaz, were driven off their small holdings in order to make room for huge, useless estates, and hundreds were brutally murdered by troops sent to herd them off the land. With riches enough to support a high civilization, Mexico has been kept in a state of complete barbarism.

It might be supposed that where Mexico came in touch with the United States, at the border and in the estates which have come to be held by Americans, that a "civilizing" influence would be exerted.

But no amelioration has taken place. The American exploitation of Northern Mexico has been quite as vicious as the Mexican exploitation of the same territory, and it has been more businesslike. American interests went into Northern Mexico for money, and their policy there, in most cases, has been to make money, right or wrong. That is their policy now. They are willing to sacrifice the lives of thousands of American soldiers because they think the sacrifice will bring them money. Lives cost them nothing. National disaster costs them nothing in proportion to their shameful and unearned profits.

These interests are responsible for the agitation for war which has been carried on in this country ever since the Madero revolution. They are guilty of the present agitation. They were so powerful, and they won over so much mistaken support that they were able to force the hands of President Wilson. They are responsible. No one else who realizes what war means wants war, if we except the men of the fighting machines whom we have trained to fight, and who are, therefore, eager to fight.

"It is a sweet and glorious thing," says the old Latin proverb, "to die for one's country." But it is not a sweet and glorious thing to die in a criminal war carried on by a betrayed nation against another betrayed nation for the bloody profits of greedy speculators. It is not a sweet and glorious thing to die to elevate a Hearst into a billionaire.

This view of war is not poetry. War never is poetry. War is hell let loose upon earth. But these facts are facts that cannot be gainsayed. If this country wars on Mexico, now or later on, it does so because our people have been tricked and fooled into doing it.

About the Parson

Grit: "And what, my dear boy," asked the minister, "do you intend to be when you grow up?"

"A farmer, sir."

"Very good, indeed—to supply the natural food—most good."

"And you?" turning to the second.

"Please sir, a schoolmaster."

"Even better. Filling the mind of the rising generation with mental food—yes, even better."

"And you?" turning to the third.

"A preacher, sir."

"The best of all, my dear little boy; for filling the soul with spiritual food is far worthier than either filling the mind or body. And why do you wish to become a minister?"

"'Cos we always have duck for dinner when the parson comes," replied the boy.

The Pathfinder: "Brother Lastly," said the spokesman, "I have an unpleasant duty to perform. There is a report that you have said that one of the best and most worthy members of our congregation is unable to attend service often on account of not having good enough clothes. We have come to ask the name of that member. We don't know of any such person, and a report of that kind is likely to reflect upon us as a congregation that does not look after its poor but worthy members. Will you tell me who it is?"

"Certainly, brethren," replied the Rev. Mr. Lastly, with a brave attempt to be cheerful; "it's my wife."

Chicago Ledger: They were on their way home from church, where the pastor had preached a sermon on the work of the old year and the promise of the new. "That is what I call a finished sermon," said Mrs. Jones to her husband.

"Yes," was the reply, "but I thought it never would be."

Tit-Bits: A bachelor minister, when about to call in a village district, stated quite frankly:

"In these visits I shall, of course, embrace the servants."

The Nevermore.

Look in my face; my name is Might-have-been;
I am also called No-more, Too-late, Farewell;
Unto thine ear I hold the dead-sea shell
Cast up thy Life's foam-fretted feet between;
Unto thine eyes the glass where that is seen
Which had Life's form and Love's, but by my spell
Is now a shaken shadow intolerable,
Of ultimate things unuttered the frail screen.

Mark me, how still I am! But should there dart
One moment through my soul the soft surprise
Of that winged Peace which lulls the breath of sighs,
Then shalt thou see me smile, and turn apart
Thy visage to mine ambush at thy heart
Sleepless with cold commemorative eyes.

—Dante Gabriel Rosetti.

Mr. Rockefeller's Patriotism.

Chicago Evening Post: In a crisis of foreign war John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has received from the president of the United States a call to meet the strikers in Colorado so as to avert the need of weakening our armies by the dispatch of Federal troops. It is virtually a call to go to the front. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., refuses it.

One-third Off.

Judge: "When Miss Willings married old Moneybags, she gave her age as 25. I feel sure she is older than that."

"Oh, I suppose she allowed one-third off for cash!"

A Dog: Nothing More

Editorial in the San Francisco Bulletin.

Like Mirabeau, he is the friend of humanity. He looks out upon the world with naive, trusting eyes, nosing for good everywhere, and continually surprised when he does not find it. This may be partly because he is young. Old dogs, like old men, grow cynical. But this one's age, if his gentle brown eyes are any index of the character inside, however frosty, will still be kindly. He cannot but be ingenuous and optimistic to the last.

He is the most faithful and consistent of created beings. If you gain access to his friendship once you are in favor forever. If you have not seen him for a long time he may forget you, but if you make some familiar sign he will halt, prick back his ears, cock his intelligent countenance in your direction, wag his tail good humoredly, then begin to quiver with suppressed emotion and at once come rollicking up to meet you. In manner he is impetuous, disdaining the delicacies of the drawing room and loving the heartiness of out-of-doors. He suggests blue shirts and sombreros, the smell of campfires, the sights and odors of a thousand free days on the open road, the joys of a hundred robust idylls of the open country.

If you do not look out he will plant his muddy paws upon your immaculate coat and frisk dust upon you with his agitated tail as rapidly as ten negro porters could frisk it off again. If you reprove him or thump him with your fist he will be grieved, but he will not understand. What, may he ask, is a little dust between friends? What are clothes? Do they make a man a better companion? Do they sweeten his heart and dress up his soul? You will not make him understand why a little clean dust—the good dust that your food and his comes out of, first or last; the good, peaceful dust that you and he alike will go back to some time—upon a mere external thing like clothes should make you cruel. You can teach him that hearty, wholesome manners are taboo, and he will retire under the house to meditate, his tail drooping and a puzzled sadness in every line of his body, but not all his meditation will show him where the fault lies.

He is a democrat. He does not love or respect the pomps and vanities of the world. His ancestors formed their characters on bare Scotch hills in the company of dour shepherds who feared nothing under heaven, made obeisance to none, and defied the armies of kings for the subtle turn of a phrase. You may be well assured nothing will gain his respect save the sound inner qualities that a dog sees more quickly than men. He does not care whether the world calls you a sinner or a saint; he knows what you are.

When all the world turns bitter as gall, and the human beings you loved have forsaken you, and the causes you loved are all ruined and lost, he will still come bounding down to the gate, with joyous tail in air, to welcome you home.

They've Given Pa a Raise.

Say, you ought to hear ma singin'—
she's as happy as a lark,
And her smile stays on from mornin'
till a long time after dark;
She's been buyin' rugs and gettin' a
new costly switch to wear,
And she takes a cab whenever she goes
callin' anywhere.
She has bought herself a dimund, and
you ought to see it blaze;
Ma's as cheerful as a robin—they have given pa a raise.

Sister's busy gettin' dresses that'll cost
an awful pile,
And the hats that she's been buyin' are
the very latest style;
She's to go abroad this summer with
some people named the Cooks.
Is she happy? Well, I guess so! You can see it by her looks.
She goes hummin' songs and dancin'
and in forty thousand ways
Lets us know that she is cheerful since
they've given pa a raise.

Pa still works the same as ever, and
he's smokin' stogies yet;
Wears the suit he got last summer,
and I guess he's still in debt.
Anyhow, he starts off early and comes
home fagged out at night,
And his forehead's gettin' wrinkled and
his hair is turnin's white.
Can't, somehow, help feelin' sorry as I
sit and watch him gaze
With a vacant look at nothin'. Yes,
they've given pa a raise.

How We Make Headway.

Louisville Courier-Journal: A writer for the Unpopular Review, a New York publication, writes, under the heading, "A Sociological Nightmare," the following description of the seething mass of uplifters:

> And what a mob it is! Men and women who call themselves "progressive" without being able to read a pedometer; anarchists who, with less sense than bulls, mistake a red flag for a new gospel; propagandists of peace who have no respect for rest; advocates of nostrums who actually resent being called quacks; women who profess in being "likers;" philanthropists who are doing their foolish best to make the under dog a mad one; lecturers who convert their lungs into cash; fashionable women who open their drawing rooms to cranks, and their heads to whims—but why attempt an impossible description?

A mad world, indeed, but a little one in the midst of peace, sanity, courageous endeavor, satisfactory achievement. Some one has described the world as a bundle of hay "and all men as asses, each tugging a different way." Many of the howlers, the heelers, the screamers, the spielers, are propagandists for the living there is in it. Somewhat more contemptible are those who are courting nothing more than self-advertising and the killing of idle hours by tossing fire-brands at powder mills. Happily, the proportion of the vicious is small in comparison with the proportion to which a day's work is more inspiring than a red flag.

In the history of the world the lunatics, the hypocrites and the harmless idiots who can be led by either class have never marshaled a majority. Military revolutions have been fought upon real issues, and, in the main, have resulted in real progress. The social evolution has been toward the light. The ill-founded social unrest of the ill-informed thunderers in the street, but its lightning is summer lightning, and the established order is not riven by it. Social betterment comes slowly, not as a result of the howling in the street, but in spite of it, proceeding from the acts of sensible, normal, hard-working class, who make a living in the arts, industries, the professions, and make politics and law-making an avocation.

A Fighting Chance.

Judge: Miss Passee—Oh, Mr. Plunks, are you married or unmarried?

Mr. Plunks—Married, generally. But if you would call every day, you might strike me some time when I wasn't.

The Proper Term.

Judge: "What's that?" cried the new doctor in the mining camp. "You say you have 'shooting pains' in your back. Why, you're wounded, man!"

"That's what I said—'shooting pains,'" said Piute Pete.

Wanted—A Real Man for State Executive

Views of the state press on a much needed change.

It Amounts to a Eulogy.

Coleraine Optic: W. S. Hammond is the Democratic candidate for governor. He has been congressman from Minnesota for several terms and his vote on all propositions has nearly always been right. In matters where there was a chance to benefit the public it seems that he has always voted to give the little fellow the best of the bargain, and that's saying a whole lot for the average modern politician.

Two Good Men Up.

Minneapolis Journal: The Democrats of Minnesota are to be congratulated for their wise decision to support Winfield S. Hammond for governor. There will thus be before the people in the primary two candidates for whom citizens may vote with clear conscience—William E. Lee, Republican, and Winfield S. Hammond, Democrat.

Both are representative men. Each represents the better side, the higher aspirations of his own party.

It will not be enough to redeem the state government by the election of Lee or Hammond to the governorship. The voters must also make sure of the legislature, and especially the senate.

Also Their Votes.

St. Peter Herald: Congressman Hammond has formally filed as the Democratic candidate for governor of Minnesota. He has a splendid record as a man and as a public servant. His candidacy will command the respect of all the people.

Ultimate Redemption Offered.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: The voters have come to know, too, that the longer Eberhart is permitted to remain in office the worse will become conditions—there is no hope for a betterment with Eberhart to carry the burdies for his bosses.

While Lee is looked upon as but little better—being a chronic office-seeker and 'way behind the progressive times in many ways—he offers a substitute to the Republicans, and it is freely predicted that he will win the nomination from Eberhart.

The prediction is followed up by another to the effect that Lee will be snowed under by Hammond in November and that then Minnesota will have a governor its citizens will not have to apologize for—and also Minnesota will then cease to be the butt of the national joke Eberhart has made of the state.

There Are Intellectual Limitations, You Know.

Princeton Union: Governor Eberhart is loud in his praise of the primary election law but is silent as the grave on the initiative and referendum.

Important If True.

Browns Valley Tribune: William E. Lee is conducting a personal speaking campaign and is making many friends wherever he appears. He does not hesitate in telling his hearers just what he will do when he is elected governor, and he has a reputation for doing just what he says he will do.

Introspection Would Help.

Fertile Journal: The gift mentioned by Burns of seeing ourselves as others see us has evidently not been bestowed upon Eberhart for in one of his speeches recently he says:

"There is not a more dangerous man to the commonwealth than a man who sacrifices principle for expediency and reverts to flagrant political manipulation under the guise of being a political reformer."

Give It a Good Word

New York Evening World: Early effects of the currency act on business are bound to be influenced by the way business chooses to receive the new law. Any indications that bankers are ready to look at it in the best light, passing over minor criticisms, are reassuring.

A practical, sympathetic discussion of the act before a gathering of business men was recently offered by Newton D. Alling, vice president of the National Nassau bank of this city, who believes that it will be of the greatest benefit in relieving the business and banking world of sudden bumps and jerks, such as were bound to occur so long as New York, St. Louis and Chicago remained the only reserve cities. "These three cities carry over half the reserve of all other banks, and as Chicago and St. Louis banks carry large balances in New York banks, New York suffers the brunt of any serious strain."

By providing the regional reserve banks which may rediscount for other banks, and supplement loaning power, when necessary, by issuing notes against business paper, the new law gives banking conditions in the various sections of the country a better chance to steady themselves in emergencies by gradual, elastic and local adjustments, without creating wide disturbances.

Instead of being told suddenly that there is no money to be had, business men and merchants will learn that, owing to a gradually rising interest rate, they are to proceed with more caution as to extensions and new commitments. Instead of a surfeit of money being poured into New York in one season to encourage expansion and speculation on Wall Street, only to be suddenly withdrawn with all the attendant effects of a panic, the apparent supply of money will always be about the same and credits will not display those sudden periods of contraction which have been experienced in the past thirty years.

Mr. Alling is hopeful that the day will come when "the bankers, big and little, will rejoice that there was a man in the White House with the determination and understanding to see the bill through at this critical juncture."

Meanwhile one thing is certain. The more promptly bankers and business men pledge themselves to give the new act every chance, the sooner will it settle the question of its success.

Lower Education.

Chicago News: Of a certain bishop the following anecdote is told:

While presiding over a conference a speaker began a tirade against the universities and education, expressing thankfulness that he had never been corrupted by contact with a college.

After proceeding for a few minutes the bishop interrupted with the question:

"Do I understand that Mr. X—— is thankful for his ignorance?"

"Well, yes," was the answer; "you can put it that way if you like."

"Well, all I have to say," said the prelate, in sweet and musical tones, "all I have to say is that Mr. X—— has much to be thankful for."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1894.

The Mesaba range strike keeps thickening and, unless settled soon, promises to be one that will keep the authorities busy. Affairs became so complicated that Sheriff Sharvy telegraphed to Governor Nelson for permission to call out the militia. Permission was granted, and yesterday Company A of Duluth, under Capt. Bidwell, went to Virginia, accompanied by Adjt.-Gen. Muehlberg. Company A took fifty-six men. Sheriff Sharvy, with six deputies, accompanied them. President Stuart Bates of Virginia had asked for help, as about 500 miners had congregated there and threatened to loot the stores if their demands were not acceded to. The magazine at one of the mines was broken into and forty kegs of powder stolen. The Mountain Iron miners, 200 in number, voted to go back to work if given protection. Work was resumed today at Mountain Iron and at the Oliver mine on Drake & Stratton's stripping contract.

The Latest Thriller.

New York World: Has mere flying become so tame an affair that during the coming months at popular resorts crowds must be entertained by aviators looping the loop? It looks so.

When Pegoud in France first tried his daredevil stunt he demonstrated that the aeroplane under extraordinary conditions could be kept under complete control and in a stable position. It was a fact worth knowing. But neither he nor any of his imitators has ever proved that anything was to be gained by flying head down. It was a showman's trick pure and simple.

What people who gape at that sort of circus performance in the clouds seem to want is the thrill of watching a man deliberately take the risk of being killed for hire. The spectacle racks their nerves and makes their hearts flutter or stand still, but while they gasp at the sight they are not really grateful to the man who had planned to give them "a horrid sensation." Probably not one in 10,000 stops to think of the cruelty of the scene.

If a man were to advertise that at a certain hour he would blow himself to pieces with dynamite, he might fill a field. Of course the police would not permit it. But human nature is so largely compounded of inhumanity that it takes a morbid delight in witnessing what it knows to be horrible. It is this unceasing desire on the part of the public to be thrilled that keeps our purveyors of amusement forever racking their brains for something always more startling and sensational, for which multitudes of persons of average decency will pay money.

THE FARMERS AND THE ARMORY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you please give space in your paper for a few remarks in regard to the farmers and the Armory? It amuses me to hear one and another talk about the market. I think it would be very foolish for the city to dump stuff on the street to make room for the farmers' products. I have seen cities provide for a market place for farmers, but those farmers were a benefit to the city. They brought their products in and sold them at wholesale prices to the retailers, not retail prices to the consumers. They expect to get as much for their products as the man who pays big rent and hires a lot of help, all living in the city and paying taxes. By encouraging the farmers of this class you are harming the city. I think they have been well treated in former years. They were allowed space, it was kept clean, they were provided with fuel, their benches set up and their rubbish hauled away, but I would suggest this way of dividing the Armory at least for this year. That is, to let the farmers have that space that the militia calls a rifle range. I do not believe it is any good to them. It is only about forty feet. If the enemy comes within forty feet, they ought to be able to hit without practice. It is rarely used, well illuminated, and the best part of the Armory for the farmers. Thanking you for space,

A TAXPAYER.

ANSWERS ONE AND GIVES ANOTHER.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In answer to the problem of the Englishmen and Irishmen, I would say the captain placed them in the following arrangement: The fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, tenth, twelfth, fourteenth, fifteenth, eighteenth, twentieth, twenty-second, twenty-fourth, twenty-fifth, twenty-ninth and thirtieth men were Irishmen.

I respectfully submit this problem for publication:

A frog was at the end of a 20-foot log. He jumped ten feet the first time. Then he jumped five feet, then two and a half, etc. The question is how many jumps did he take to clear the log, or jump the twenty feet. Yours respectfully,

HAS ANY READER A COPY OF THIS?

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have been considerably interested in observing certain poetic effusions which you have at request, from time to time, published, especially some of the old pieces. I think it would greatly please your readers if you would publish a poem entitled "When the Cows Are Coming Home." It was published three or four years ago in the Scrap Book magazine. Truly yours,

NAMES FOR FESTIVAL.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I wish to submit the following suggestions in the way of a name for the 1915 carnival, not for fame nor applause but just to boost the common cause:

Wassail Week.
Fun Festival.
Midsummer Revel.
Carnival Capers.
Duluth Land and Water Meet.
Fun Week.
Delights of Duluth.
Annual Jubilee.
Gateway Gayeties.
Nautilus—perhaps too suggestive of shell games.
Oretown Orgies—might make an Henglishman think it was in Superior.
Hickenville Huskings.
Princetown Prancings.
Merrittville Merrymeeting.
Murchison Street Fete.
June Joys.
July Jollities.
August Orgies.

WOULD HAVE ROCKEFELLER "SALUTE THE FLAG."

To the Editor of The Herald:

Rockefeller is the real boss of Colorado. Solely because of his arrogant attitude, the state has been plunged into a state of war, and Rockefeller alone is responsible for the necessity of declaring martial law. There is "nothing to arbitrate."

Yet apologists for the present system will insist that the government would have no right to take charge of the mines in that or any other state and operate them for the public good. Confiscation! Boob! We must respect the sacred rights of property.

The mayor of Cincinnati some time ago "confiscated" the ice plants of the city, when the companies refused to arbitrate the differences with their employes, resulting in a settlement of the strike within a few days. And the country applauded.

Officially, Washington says there does not exist a state of war in Mexico, yet the news dispatches tells us that the food situation at Vera Cruz has become acute, and that Gen. Funston "reports that 900 tons of staple food supplies held in warehouses for speculative purposes would be commandeered and distributed to citizens, if necessary."

Funston is acting upon the same principle that prompted the mayor of Cincinnati to act as he did—public necessity.

Perhaps a hint from President Wilson to Mr. Rockefeller, calling attention to these two incidents, and an overt act on the part of the administration would have a healthful effect, and compel Rockefeller, as Huerta, to salute the flag. Yours truly,

TITCH HIGGINS.

INTEREST RATES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Your Saturday editorial on thrift under the caption, "The Only Road to Wealth," was both excellent and timely. A newspaper, even at the risk of being charged with sermonizing, owes a certain ethical duty to the public and articles of that type show a laudable appreciation of that duty. The editorial, however, suggests to my mind a question: Why is it that none of the Duluth banks pay more than 3 per cent on savings deposits, while all the Minneapolis banks and trust companies pay 3½ per cent or 4 per cent? None of them pay as low as 3 per cent. Banking rates to the borrower are as high here as in Minneapolis, if not higher. Savings accounts are largely held by workingmen and people in modest circumstances. Why should Duluth banks swell their "undivided profits" account at the expense of those depositors? Is that doing it for Duluth? Like "Togo," I inquire for to know,

SWEDEN AND NORWAY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Is Sweden a kingdom in Norway? A certain cyclopedia says "Sweden is a kingdom in Norway." That will certainly be a revelation to a number of Norwegians who are going home to celebrate their independence of Sweden in 1905 to find out that Sweden is now covering them up double thick, as, geographically, Sweden is nearly twice as large as Norway. Thanking you for the space, yours truly,

STORM WARNINGS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Referring to your able editorial in tonight's Herald regarding the loss of the steamer Noble and your efforts to fix the blame for the catastrophe.

Will you kindly advise through your Open Court whether vessel men and the public were warned by the weather bureau of the approach of the storm and what signals were displayed at the weather bureau Monday? It seems to me that there should be some cooperation between the weather bureau and the lighthouse keeper. Thanking you, I am, yours truly,

A. W. MUNROE.

Chisholm, Minn., April 30.

Storm warnings were hoisted in Duluth at 10 p. m. on April 27. Small craft warnings were issued at 3 p. m. the same day, and that morning the weather bureau forecasted strong northeast winds.—The Editor.

SAYS SUICIDE WAS HUSBAND OF EIGHT

Steward of London Club Has Opened American's Mail.

London, May 4.—According to the manager of the club of which he was a member, Henry C. Fitzgerald, known also as "Maj." Fitzgerald, who shot himself at the Charing Cross hotel last Thursday and died shortly afterwards from his wound, had eight wives in America. While Fitzgerald was on a trip, according to the club manager, he instructed the manager to open his letters.

Among Fitzgerald's correspondence, the club manager said, were appeals from eight different women, all of them signing themselves as Fitzgerald's wives and asking him to return and provide for their support. One letter from Louisiana begged Fitzgerald to return. It declared that the woman who wrote it could no longer keep secret her marriage. Another letter contained a message from a son who asked when his father would return home.

Still another missive stated that the woman who signed it as Fitzgerald's wife was starving. The manager said also that a detective from Scotland Yard called at the club and told him that as the result of a communication he had received the ambassador of a European power was making inquiries concerning Fitzgerald because he had proposed to a princess of an imperial family whom he had told he was the next heir to the dukedom of Leinster.

IMMIGRATION TIDE RISING

Vice President of Great Northern Gives Some Striking Statistics.

Has Brought 1,011 Cars of Settlers' Effects to Minnesota This Year.

The remarkable agricultural development that is under way in the territory tributary to Duluth in a trade way is attested in the success attending the campaigns being carried on by the railroads in promoting its settlement.

According to official figures issued by the Great Northern railroad, that road brought in along its lines in Northern Minnesota during 1912, 1913 and up to March 31, 1914, 9355 families; into North Dakota 2,282 families and into Montana 4,578 families. At an average of five persons to the family that would mean 46,775 people brought into this state; 11,410 into North Dakota and 22,885 into Montana by that road alone.

These settlers brought in with them 37,420 head of livestock, attesting the fact that they were well equipped to carve out new homes for themselves in this territory.

Referring to the results of the Great Northern's development campaign, W. P. Kenney, vice president of the road, gives some interesting statistics in a letter to The Herald, replying to a request for such figures.

Cars of settlers moveables brought into these three states last year, figured as follows:

	1912	1913
Minnesota	1,160	1,571
North Dakota	317	409
Montana	470	962

This Year's Record.

From Jan. 1 to March 31, this year, 1,011 cars of settlers' effects were brought into Minnesota; 187 into North Dakota, and 399 into Montana. For points in Northern Minnesota, the increase for 1913 over 1912, was 35 per cent, while for Montana the increase was over 100 per cent, and for North Dakota 29 per cent. The first three months of this year also showed a substantial increase over the same period in 1913.

This flow of settlers came from all sections of the United States and largely as a result of the exhibition cars sent out by the road.

"We have given the state of Minnesota wide publicity through the exhibition cars which have been going through the Eastern and Central states and the one car for the state of Minnesota, which we donated to the state immigration department," says Mr. Kenney. "These cars were filled with products and the territory which the cars were to make was carefully selected with a view of reaching the people most likely to be interested in the opportunities offered and where the land values were high, etc. These cars were thoroughly advertised through the local newspapers at each town, by means of hand bills and window cards, and personal invitations which were mailed out to farmers on the rural route. A hall was engaged whenever available where stereopticon lectures were put on each evening. The cars were so thoroughly advertised that their coming was an event in the small towns throughout the Central and Eastern states, and as a rule were packed from early morning until late at night with interested sightseers.

"We also have a large force of immigration agents, with representatives in Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and the New England states, who are making a campaign the year around to secure settlers for the states tributary to our lines. All of our representatives are equipped with stereopticon lanterns and a complete set of colored slides and photographic albums, and halls are rented and lectures put on at whatever points the interest seems to be sufficient to justify the expense.

Personal Solicitation.

"There is nothing, to our mind, that will accomplish as much for the Northwest as immigration as this personal solicitation, the actual exhibition of the farm products and illustrated lectures. I believe the heavy increase in the immigration into the state of Minnesota is due largely to the wide publicity which has been given to its resources throughout the older settled states. It is true that it is impossible to at once reap the full returns of an advertising compaign, such as we have been carrying on for a number of years, but through this campaign of education it has been possible to counteract much of the prejudice which has been held against the state by people who were uninformed as to its actual resources and climatic conditions, and the state will continue to receive the benefits, for years to come, the way of thousands of substantial homeseekers and their families.

"The jobbing business of Duluth is one of the most substantial, if not the greatest business organization in the city, and its development is a matter of great interest, not only to the parties directly interested, but to the entire population of Duluth. There is nothing that will accomplish so much for the growth and development of Duluth jobbing business and its manufacturing interests as the settlement of the territory that can be considered its tributary market, and these people, located in Northern Minnesota, North Dakota and Minnesota, are directly tributary to your market, and become, almost at once on their arrival at their new homes, consumers of your products and consequently producers of revenue to your manufacturers and jobbers.

"We have taken a great deal of pride in our ability to encourage settlement in the successful way that we have been able to do. You understand that the number of cars of immigrant movables we mention as coming into Northern Minnesota means Northern Minnesota along our railroad only, and the same is true of North Dakota and Montana."

OPENING GUN FOR FESTIVAL

General Committee Will Hold First Meeting to Arrange Preliminaries.

The general committee, which will have charge of the 1915 midsummer festival, and which consists of committees from thirty-four civic, fraternal and commercial organizations, will hold its first business meeting at the Commercial club this evening.

Most of the evening will likely be spent in perfecting a working organization and discussing preliminary plans for the mammoth undertaking. Officers will be elected as one of the first moves. These will probably consist of a president, several vice presidents, a secretary and treasurer. Various sub-committees will be selected to have charge of various branches of the festival. They will include committees on advertising, finance, accommodations for visitors, transportation, sight-seeing, etc. Outlining this part of the program will take considerable time and study, as upon the officers and committees will largely depend the ultimate success of the midsummer celebration. This probably cannot be accomplished at the first meeting, but will be developed in detail as the general committee proceeds further with its plans.

Much attention will be given to the selection of a name. The American Exchange National bank has offered a prize of $10 for the most appropriate title and about thirty responses have been received. These will be posted on a large bulletin board and will be voted upon by the members of the general committee. The three receiving the greatest number of votes will be submitted to a committee which will make the final selection. The prize-winning name will not necessarily be chosen for the festival.

DULUTH PIONEER IS SUMMONED

Mrs. William Deichsel Lived Here Twenty-Nine Years.

Mrs. William Deichsel, 63 years old, a resident of Duluth for the last twenty-nine years and one of the best known members of the German colony in Duluth, died shortly after noon yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles F. Ottinger, 1217 East Fourth street, following a brief illness.

She was born on Nov. 2, 1850, at Hollau, Germany, and came to Duluth from Berlin in 1885. Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charles F. Ottinger and Mrs. Otto Haller, and one son, Richard Deichsel, all of Duluth. A brother, Charles Mauke, of Chicago, also survives her.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the residence of Mrs. Ottinger and at 2:30 o'clock from St. Paul's German Evangelical church, Tenth avenue east and Third street. Interment will be at the Forest Hill cemetery.

EKLUND WILL BE RECEIVER

U. S. & Dominion Life Insurance Company Will End Existence.

Bonds Purchased for $100,000 Worth 25 to 40 Cents on Dollar.

Appointment of John A. Eklund of West Duluth as receiver for the United States & Dominion Life Insurance company was made by Judge Bert Fesler in district court Saturday afternoon on the petition of James A. Wharton, a local attorney, who presented a petition from a majority of the stockholders. Eklund's bond was fixed at $2,000.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders it was decided to have a receiver appointed to take charge of the company's affairs and wind up its corporate existence. The corporation has never been engaged in actual business and at no time has been on a firm financial basis.

Julius H. Block, former state treasurer and a candidate this year for state auditor, as president of the company negotiated the purchase of certain railroad bonds to be deposited with the secretary of state as collateral for its good faith in operating in Minnesota, a requirement of all insurance companies. The bonds which were purchased at par for $100,000 were found to be worth between 25 and 40 cents on the dollar and were not accepted as collateral by the secretary of state.

While President Block and his associates were attempting to raise more funds to put the company on its feet, creditors swarmed in with their claims and the company became involved in a multiplicity of lawsuits, a number of which are now pending.

SUGAR CONTROL IN DIABETES

"Pharmacology has not provided any drug which acts directly upon the sugar forming processes of the liver. Opium exerts an influence but there are so many drawbacks its use is restricted."—Dr. Von Noorden, Vienna Authority.

Let us face this issue squarely—the ability of Fulton's Diabetic Compound to reduce sugar in many cases of Diabetes in people over fifty is a FACT IN PHYSICS, to prove which we will send sugar formula that will disclose the percentage from week to week.

Chemistry knows no favorites. The presence of sugar is a fact and its disappearance is a fact. Theory plays no part. How can there be a question about the reality of a FACT IN PHYSICS that is being demonstrated daily by the weights and measures of analytical chemistry?

We have a letter before us from a physician whom the Medical Register shows to be a Professor in an Eastern Medical College. He writes as follows: "I have used it in two cases (Diabetes) in my practice with practically complete results . . . and have recommended it to fellow practitioners who have also been successful."

The thirst often begins to abate and strength to increase before the sugar shows much decline; thus patients often know the case is responding before the tests show it. Formula for sugar reagent and literature mailed on request. John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco. For sale at druggists.

BIG GROWTH IS EXPECTED

Dakota Banker Says Duluth Is Entering Upon Great Future.

Steel Plant Draws Attention of Business Interests Everywhere.

Reports that Duluth is entering upon a period of growth and development as never before experienced here since the early boom days are spreading far and wide. The new steel plant, rate victories and other advantages, the fruit of which, is about ready to be harvested, is arousing great interest in real estate as well as in all other lines of business.

Charles L. Hyde, president of the American Exchange bank of Pierre, S. D., and a capitalist of wide experience and travel, and a man who has been interested in Duluth property for years, was in Duluth Saturday on his return from an extensive trip East and South. He says Duluth is drawing the attention of business interests wherever he has been. Mr. Hyde says:

Big Growth Looked For.

"People away from here seem to be learning of the big steel plant now being put in here, and are just waking up to what this means in future years for this locality.

"This big steel plant is only the beginning of big things; your people here do not seem to realize what is certain to follow the opening of this great industry. Manufacturers cannot use iron ore in their business, but they do use either raw commercial iron or steel in great quantities, in the majority of things now manufactured extensively for use in the Northwest. There are hundreds of articles now used in vast quantities, in these newer states, that can not now be profitably manufactured here in Duluth, which in two or three years from now can and will be created and sold from this point. This will have become the legitimate and most profitable location for much of the industry now located east of Chicago. Capital for manufacturing is unsentimental and often unpatriotic, but nothing is more sensitive to the legitimate safety of the sure margin for profit.

East Is Interested.

"Many wise men in the East are convinced that the new tariff, will to some extent, embarrass certain lines of manufacturing in the East, and that portion of our country close to the Atlantic ocean. This is certain to drive money and people further West. Few can now realize what this means as affecting Duluth and Superior, but as certain as the law of gravitation, it does mean that the great future for these places, seen in years gone by, by the men of great vision, is now at hand; it is pressing upon us, let us welcome and encourage it.

"Real estate here is almost ridiculously and unbelievably cheap when compared with most other places of greatly less size and prospect. Business frontage has sold within the last few months at $1,500 to $2,000 per foot in such small cities as Sioux Falls; Warren, Ohio; Parkersburg, West Virginia, and other similar places of less than 20,000 population.

"The vast region between Duluth and Spokane is the richest undeveloped portion of our country, and it is also the region to be the least affected by the late tariff legislation. This is Duluth's exclusive territory, and many millions of new people will find homes therein during the next few years.

Sees Million Inhabitants.

"Regardless of what your competitors, or even your local wise men may say, I do not hesitate to state that many are now living here who will see more than a million people living within twenty miles of Duluth's business center."

Mr. Hyde is known by his friends as one who has called the turn correctly in the past. Fifteen years ago he invested heavily at Winnipeg, and told them there to get ready for a great boom; recently he has been selling in Canada and investing largely in Superior and Duluth. He still insists that Winnipeg is the Chicago of Canada, but is just as certain that Duluth is the Duluth of the world, and is to see greater relative advancement during the next ten years than any other city of the American continent.

LIGHTNING FIRES HOMEWOOD CLUB

Chicago Suburb Is Scene of Fire Damage of $125,000.

Chicago, May 4.—Lightning struck the clubhouse of the Homewood Country club at Swarthmore south of here last night causing a fire which destroyed the building. The loss was estimated from $125,000 to $150,000. Numerous members who made their homes at the club escaped with difficulty.

The Woman's Western Golf championship tournament was scheduled for the Homewood club in August.

The building was a frame one and the flames spread rapidly. A few members were compelled to jump from the roof of a porch. Others climbed down pillars.

Twenty maids employed at the club became panic stricken and appeared at windows screaming for help. Members obtained two ladders and rescued all of the women, several of whom were overcome by smoke.

INTERVENTION IN MEXICO

J. Uno Sebenius Believes It Must Come, But Hopes for Peace.

United States Has Forces Ready to Cope With Any Situation.

John Uno Sebenius, chief engineer of the Oliver Iron Mining company, believes that intervention by the United States in Mexico must come, but hopes for a peaceful solution of the trouble. Mr. Sebenius, who arrived in Duluth Saturday night, escaped from the Hotel Imperial, Tampico, to the battleship Utah on April 20 after being warned that an attack on Americans was to be made by a Mexican mob.

In an interview here today Mr. Sebenius expressed the opinion that the antipathy to Americans in Tampico and Mexico City is caused chiefly by the fact that the sympathy of this country lies with the rebel forces of Villa and Carranza. Mr. Sebenius arrived at Tampico on April 10, and was a witness of several pitched battles between the Federals and rebel forces.

"Cleanup" Needed.

"Americans in Mexico feel that a cleanup must come eventually," said Mr. Sebenius, "and that the sooner the better. They feel that such a step would be a humanitarian interference, inasmuch as the Mexican people seem to be totally incapable of governing themselves.

"Americans are losing prestige among the Mexicans and the people of other nationalities living there. Sneering remarks could be heard on all sides while I was there. The natives actually seemed to think the United States was afraid to take any action.

"While I feel that a cleanup is most urgently needed, I have great faith in the good judgment of the men now trying to solve the problem, and I know that if it cannot be solved without intervention, the United States has an army and navy near at hand to cope with any possible situation.

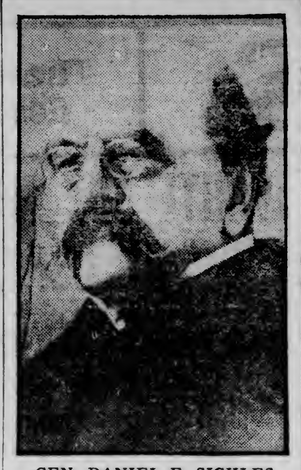
"Any one who was in Tampico or Vera Cruz had ample opportunity to compare our men and ships with those of the other nations, and there is no question but that ours are infinitely better than those of any other country.

Rebels Are Brave.

"The rebels undoubtedly are valiant. I saw them, under the fire of Mexican gunboats less than forty yards away, take a switch engine into a railroad yard and make away with a train of Federal supplies, laughing and smoking cigarettes all the while. However, it seemed they had little reason for nervousness, since not a single shot from the gunboats hit either engine or cars."

Mr. Sebenius left Tampico on March 30 and was in Vera Cruz the day the four marines were arrested, this incident having been the cause of the demand for a salute of the American flag and the subsequent order for the taking of Vera Cruz because of Huerta's refusal to comply with the request. From Vera Cruz the American went to Tampico on April 10 and was at the Imperial hotel with a large number of Americans, when word was communicated to them that a mob attack was to be made by Mexicans on all the Americans on April 20.

Together with 257 other Americans, Mr. Sebenius sought refuge on the battleship Utah, which is stationed in the Tampico harbor and several days later he obtained passage on the tank steamer Escanola for Baltimore, where he arrived last Thursday. He arrived in Duluth Saturday evening.



GEN. DANIEL E. SICKLES

hemorrhages, and following the last seizure on Saturday night he lapsed into unconsciousness and remained in that state except for brief intervals until his death. When conscious in his last hours, however, he could not speak.

Last Gettysburg Commander.

Gen. Daniel Edgar Sickles was the last of the great commanders who fought the battle of Gettysburg. For a decade he was a fighter by profession —all his life he was a fighter by nature.

The gruff old warrior, with one leg shot away in battle, his massive head resembling Bismarck's, was a picturesque figure as he hobbled along on crutches during the last half century of his turbulent life.

His indomitable fighting spirit remained to the last. Born in New York city in 1825, Sickles, at the age of 22, fought the Whigs as a Democrat in the New York legislature. At 28 he displayed his fighting spirit as corporation attorney of New York. It was he who secured for his city its great Central park. At this time his military career began as major of the Twelfth regiment, National Guard, New York.

Before he was 32 years old, Maj. Sickles had served as secretary of the legation at London under Minister James Buchanan; he had won a state senatorship through a bitter campaign, and he was seated in the Thirty-fifth congress at Washington.

Shot Wife's Friend.

It was at this time that an event occurred which became the sensation of the day. Sickles had begun his second term as congressman in 1859, when the national capital was stirred by the news that the young representative from New York had shot and killed Philip Barton Key, the United States district attorney for the District of Columbia. Sickles declared that Key had misled Mrs. Sickles, who was Therese Bagioli, daughter of an Italian music teacher. The trial lasted twenty days, ending in the acquittal of Sickles on the ground of the "unwritten law." He then took his erring wife back.

"I am not aware of any statute or code of morals," said Sickles to his critics, "which makes it infamous to forgive a woman. I can now see in the almost universal denunciation with which she is followed to my threshold the misery and peril from which I have rescued the mother of my daughter. I shall strive to prove to all that an erring wife and mother may be forgiven and redeemed."

Mrs. Sickles died of a broken heart a few years later.

At the outbreak of the Civil war, the young fighting politician, then 36 years old, went to Lincoln to offer his services.

Raised Excelsior Brigade.

"You have been a leader in New York Democratic politics," said the president. "If you kept your end up at that game, surely you'll do to take command of men in the field. Raise your regiments and you shall be brigadier general in command."

Sickles raised the famous Excelsior brigade in New York, equipping the five regiments at his own expense, taking command of one of its regiments as colonel. Lincoln kept his word, and in 1861 raised him to brigadier general. His fighting spirit early won him his spurs. On the peninsula and at Antietam he distinguished himself as a soldier and leader. At Chancellorsville he led a division. At Gettysburg he led the Third corps, lost a leg, and became a national hero. At 37 years of age he had risen from a colonel to major-general of volunteers.

After the war his fighting spirit led him into the regular army, and he became first brigadier and then major-general. He continued active service until 1869, when he was appointed minister to Spain by President Grant.

"Yankee King of Spain."

At the court of Spain, Sickles' vigorous personality made him a dominating figure. Four years of brilliant diplomacy brought him the epithet of "The Yankee King of Spain." Here he contracted his second marriage, with the beautiful and distinguished Senorita Creagh. This romance was followed by an estrangement which was to last more than a quarter of a century. In addition to this domestic trouble, came his interference in the marriage plans of his daughter to a penniless Spanish nobleman. Father and daughter separated in bitterness, the latter to return to the United States to die without reconciliation.

Returning alone to New York, Gen. Sickles again entered politics. He served as sheriff of New York and at 67 he was re-elected to congress.

Gen. Sickles' life drew to a close with frequent romantic situations. He faced bankruptcy proceedings in his last years, though he had early in life received a large share of his father's $3,000,000 estate; but his estranged wife and son came to his aid on several occasions.

His last days were spent surrounded by war relics and attended by his faithful negro servant Frazier Mosely.

Barred From Army Order.

Though the guest of honor for many years at gatherings of Civil war veterans, he was recently refused admission to a New York organization of Civil war veterans on the ground of "military unskillfulness and reckless sacrifices of the lives of his men." Congress, which in 1897 awarded him a medal of honor for bravery, four years ago refused to grant him a lieutenant generalship.

SAYS SULPHUR DRIVES ECZEMA FROM THE SKIN

Use Like Cold Cream to Instantly Stop Itching and Clear the Skin.

Sulphur, says a renowned dermatologist, just common bold-sulphur made into a thick cream will soothe and heal the skin when irritated and b oken out with Eczema or any form of eruption. The moment it is applied all itching ceases and after two or three applications the Eczema disappears, leaving the skin clear and smooth.

He tells Eczema sufferers to get from any good pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it to the irritated parts the same as you would any cold cream.

For many years common bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the practice of dermatology and cutaneous affections by reason of its parasite-destroying property. It is not only parasiticidal, but also anti-pruritic and antiseptic and remarkably healing in all irritable and inflammatory conditions of the skin. While not always effecting a permanent cure it never fails to instantly subdue the angry itching and irritation and heal the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

his selection, as well as the other three members of the board besides the governor, is expected to be made within the next two or three days, as offers are being made to the men whom the president has selected. It is understood that a Southern banker is to be one of the three, but no intimation has come as yet as to his identy.

Official Washington as well as banking circles generally are awaiting the announcement of the full personnel of the Federal reserve board with intense interest, as it formally will set in motion the new currency law, which was signed Dec. 23 last. With the selection of the twelve regional reserve banks, the organization of the board has been the most vital step in the operation of the new currency law.

At Work in Another Month.

The banks are being organized, and the expectation of officials is that within another month the entire system will be in full swing, although there are certain transitions which will occupy a greater length of time.

The complete board will consist of seven members at salaries of $12,000 a year. The secretary of the treasury and the comptroller of the currency are ex-officio members and the five other members are to be appointed by the president. The law stipulates that the members should be appointed with reference to the "geographical, commercial and financial divisions of the country."

With Mr. Olney representing New England and Mr. Warburg New York, it was expected that the other members to be selected would represent the South, the Middle West and the Far West. The appointees will serve ten years.

Has 147 to Choose From.

Senator Owen, who piloted the currency bill through the senate, conferred with the president today about selections for the board. He said that he did not discuss individuals, but rather talked over the general banking viewpoint he believed should be held by the men to be selected. Senator Owen said that the remaining appointments would be made from a list of 147 men now before the president. These were taken after consideration of a much larger list.

Smiled and Said Nothing.

Boston, Mass., May 4.—Richard Olney smiled when informed today that President Wilson had selected him for governor of the Federal reserve board, but declined to comment on the announcement or to indicate whether he would accept.

Mr. Olney is in his 79th year, and though vigorous and active, was influenced by his advanced years as well as by his business interests to decline a diplomatic office tendered him a year ago.

U. S. TROOPS KEEP ORDER

ica announced today that all arms in the possession of strikers in Huerfano county would be turned over to Capt. C. C. Smith on Wednesday.

Governor Suffers Breakdown.

Denver, Colo., May 4.—Mentally and physically exhausted by the horrors of the last two weeks in the strike zone, Governor E. M. Ammons took to his bed last night. He broke down as he was trying to prepare his message for the special session of the legislature, which convened today to consider legislation in connection with the strike. During a consultation with party leaders he was visibly affected and tears streamed from his eyes.

As a consequence it was announced early today that the governor would ask both branches of the legislature to meet in joint session and he then was to ask them to enact a measure permitting the issuance of bonds to pay the expenses incurred by the state in maintaining the militia in the strike zone, a debt which now has reached more than $1,000,000. The lawmakers were to be asked to enact a law prescribing arbitration and means of enforcing the dictum of the arbiters in future cases of labor strife.

Lay Blame for Fire.

Trinidad, Colo., May 4.—The fire which destroyed the Ludlow tent colony April 20, was started by militia or mine guards or both, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury.

Mourning Picket Continues.

New York, May 4.—Silent picketing by crepe-sleeved men and women who held John D. Rockefelle rand John D. Rockefeller, Jr., responsible for conditions in the Colorado mine war, was continued today in front of the Standard Oil building here and outside the gates of the Rockefeller estate at Pocantico Hills. The younger Rockefeller did not come to his offices today.

Upton Sinclair, who first conceived the idea of picketing Rockefeller's office, today sent a telegram to Walter Lanfersiek, national secretary of the Socialist party in Chicago, asking that "mourning pickets" be placed before every branch office of the Standard Oil company in the United States.

Italian Paper Displeased.

Rome, May 4.—The Giornale d'Italia, comments today on what it characterizes as the "insufficient" answer of Secretary Bryan in the matter of the standing of Italians in the Colorado strike zone. The paper makes reference to the "massacre of Italians in Colorado," and demands satisfaction from the American government, whose lack of precautions, it says, caused the conflict.

THREE-CORNERED BATTLE OVER ESTATE

to have the will set aside and declared void on the grounds that it does not, as she claims, express the real intent of her father. The instrument made no provision for her, stating that the testator had amply provided her with funds during his lifetime and that he considered this sufficient.

Former Will.

Mrs. Leithhead alleges that under the terms of a prior will which was executed some time between Dec. 25, 1911 and April, 1913, she was given a full one-third of the residuary estate and that she supposed that this will was in effect at the time of her father's death.

Conspiracy on the part of her brother, Richard M. Sellwood and sister, La Rue S. Mershon, to defraud her of her rights is charged in her petition to have the will set aside. She claims that they "well knowing that their father was weak and ill, confederated and conspired together to fraudulently influence and poison his mind" as against her and other relatives and to influence him to give them practically all of his estate. She claims that they used undue influence on their father so as to disinherit her.

Mrs. Leithhead alleges that the prior will, in which she was provided for on an equal basis with her brothers and sisters, was fraudulently destroyed or is being withheld. She asks the court to refuse to admit the will of Jan. 21 and to require R. M. Sellwood and La Rue S. Mershon to bring in the lost will. If this is not done, she asks that the estate be administered as if there had been no will at all.

This morning R. M. Sellwood and La Rue S. Mershon, who were named as legatees and executors under the will of Jan. 21, filed a protest with the probate court against the allowance of the so-called lost will mentioned by Mrs. Leithhead, which is alleged by her to have been executed by Capt. Sellwood some time between Dec. 25, 1911, and April, 1913.

The protest is based on three grounds. First, it is alleged that they have no knowledge as to whether it was executed in accordance with the laws of the state. Second, it is claimed that the will of Jan. 21 was the last will and testament and had been filed with the court as such. Third, it is alleged that prior to Jan. 21 last, Capt. Sellwood had expressed his intention of revoking the will referred to and pursuant to that intention had done so.

It is expected that the first witnesses to be placed on the stand in the preliminary fight this afternoon will be the witnesses to the instrument. They were John Monaghan and Bert W. Maxiner. The attorneys who are connected with the case are Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell and A. L. Agatin for Mrs. Leithhead; Fryberger, Fulton & Spear for the widow, Mrs. Martha M. Sellwood, and Baldwin, Baldwin & Holmes and Harris & Pearson for Richard M. Sellwood and Mrs. Mershon.

source that Carranza had sent a further telegram to the mediators inquiring as to their request for the appointment of a Carranza delegate, the extent of his functions, and whether this would be limited to the controversy between the United States and Huerta, beyond which Carranza has shown no signs of negotiating.

Fear Untoward Incidents.

Meantime the mediators chiefly were concerned in not having any untoward warfare by advance posts and skirmishers to cause complications in the negotiations.

Besides the actual steps they have taken, they view their largest work thus far as being a suspension of a condition of war, and the time this has given to consider the possibility of finding some middle ground of adjustment. They were reasonably hopeful that an open rupture and warfare was put off, except for the movement of the Carranza forces.

The tense situation at Mexico City also gave some concern, as it was realized a crisis might come from that quarter at any time. But with these two dangers avoided for the present—warfare and a possible catastrophe at Mexico City—the mediators were determined to go steadily forward in shaping the procedure for their meeting with the delegates from the three parties.

Sessions Informal.

Their sessions continued to be most informal, no vote having been taken up to this time, and all decisions having been reached by unanimous agreement. They began late this morning, having been together until nearly 1 a. m. this morning.

In circles close to the Huerta representatives, the news of Carranza's flat refusal to agreement to an armistice was not taken as final. It was pointed out that it would have been surprising if the Constitutionalists had accepted the armistice on the eve of getting possession of Saltillo. Once in possession of that Federal stronghold, the attitude of the Constitutionalists toward the armistice might be modified.

Gen. Huerta's reported utterance that he will never resign is not taken seriously in Huertista circles here. He is said to be sincerely desirous of bringing the whole controversy to a speedy end.

Where Is Dr. Ryan.

A dispatch from Mexico City says that Dr. Edward Ryan, the American condemned to be executed at Zacatecas a few days ago, was to have arrived there Saturday, but until last evening he had not reached the capital. The Mexican department did not give any reason for the delay, but declared that Dr. Ryan, under a strong escort of Mexican troops, had passed through Aguas Calientes.

The minister of war had officially notified the Brazilian minister to Mexico that Dr. Ryan would be delivered into the care of the Brazilian legation, which is in charge of the interests of the United States during the absence of its diplomatic representative. Provisional President Huerta, in reply to inquiries, gave assurance that Dr. Ryan would be sent to Vera Cruz.

Carranza Declines Armistice.

The text of Gen. Carranza's telegram declining the armistice follows:

"I again direct myself to you for the purpose of answering your respectful message relative to the armistice, calling your attention to the fact that the international conflict with the United States was intentionally provoked by Huerta, and for the solution of this I hurriedly accepted, in principle only, the good offices of Brazil, Argentina and Chile, and which act is independent of our internal strife for liberty and law; and I consider it inconvenient for the rebel cause that I represent to suspend hostilities and military movements, because said suspension would only accrue to the benefit of Huerta in the civil war now going on in Mexico between the usurper Huerta and the Constitutionalist army under my command.

Sovereign Citizenship in Arms.

"The sovereign citizenship is in arms with all activity to re-establish as soon as possible the constitutional order which will produce peace.

"By virtue of the above, I state to you that I cannot accept the armistice which you propose.

"Consider my act solely as one who is acting with the determination of doing only what he considers best for the interests of his native country."

CONFEDERATES TO RETURN WAR FLAG

Governor Cox Will Receive It at Jacksonville Meeting

Jacksonville, Fla., May 4.—With every detail of preparation complete, Jacksonville today is ready to welcome the United Confederate Veterans, the Sons of Confederate Veterans and members of the Confederate Southern Memorial association, which organizations meet here in annual convention this week. Thousands of visitors are expected.

The first meeting will be held Tuesday night and the reunion will close Friday with the veterans' parade and the yearly ball in their honor. Heretofore the aging veterans have braved a long hot march through crowded streets, but this year the thinning ranks will ride in automobiles and trailing ambulances will be dispensed with.

At Wednesday night's social session a battle flag captured from an Ohio regiment by Confederates will be returned to the state of Ohio. Governor Cox of Ohio will formally accept the flag from the Alabama division, United Confederate Veterans.

United States troops and war vessels that had expected to participate in the reunion will be eliminated on account of the Mexican situation.

PRESIDENT WILL MEET FUNERAL SHIP

Plans to Be at Brooklyn When the Montana Arrives.

Washington, May 4.—President Wilson plans to go to Brooklyn Monday and meet the Montana, which is bringing to the United States the bodies of the men killed at Vera Cruz. This statement was made early today by Secretary Daniels after a conference with the president.

In case public business makes it impossible for President Wilson to leave Washington he will send a personal representative with a letter from him to welcome the funeral ship.

BEARS MARKS OF VERA CRUZ FIGHT

Ward Steamer Guantama Reaches New York With Refugees.

New York, May 4.—The Ward line steamer Guantanamo arrived today from Tampico, Vera Cruz and Havana with twenty refugees from Mexico—eighteen from Tampico and two from Vera Cruz. Most of them are women and children.

The Guantanamo was at Vera Cruz during the recent fighting and for a time was in line of fire while the United States forces were landing. About sixty bullets passed through the chart house and other structures. None of the ship's company was injured.

VALPARAISO, CHILE, HAS SERIOUS FIRE

Fifty Lives Are Lost in Commercial Part of the City.

Valparaiso, Chile, May 4.—More than fifty lives were lost early today in a fire in the commercial section of this city. Several buildings were destroyed. Their flimsy construction rendered the efforts of the fire fighters virtually useless.

KANAWHA MINERS MAY RESUME WORK.

Charleston, W. Va., May 4.—Reports from the Kanawha coal field today indicated that many of the miners who struck last week would obey the orders of the district officers of the United Mine Workers and return to work until the international officers can pass upon their contention that they have a right to strike.

In the country east of this city, however, the situation was not so bright.

HOLDUP MEN MURDER BROOKLYN OFFICER

New York, May 4.—Policeman William J. Kelly was mortally wounded by two holdup men in Brooklyn early today after they had shot and killed a Greek restaurant keeper named Basibosis. The Greek was shot when he refused the demands of the men for money, and Kelly was shot when he pursued the murderer.

Christopher Dunn, 24 years old, was arrested charged with participation in the crime. A companion escaped.

Kelly is the third policeman shot by gunmen in Brooklyn streets in the last two weeks.

FRANCIS JOSEPH RESTS BUT POORLY.

Vienna, May 4.—Emperor Francis Joseph is suffering a recurrence of the fits of coughing which recently taxed him so severely.

An official bulletin issued today regarding the condition of the royal patient, says:

"The second half of his majesty's rest was again disturbed but his general condition is nevertheless, satisfactory."

Just Between You and Me

By BRUCE

WHAT chance has Chance? It is too early to prognosticate. Thanks for sparing us. Oh that's all right. But the fact of the matter is that the Peerless Leader has the erstwhile lowly Yanks going at the greatest speed that any New York American league team has shown for ages—and—oh it is early yet—if the Yanks can keep up the pace of the present there is bound to be one great surprise, extending from the Bronx to the Spalding barber shop.

Bow-legged Frank Chase is one of the most persistent slave drivers in the game. When he went to New York he found the ranks of the team disrupted by factional bickering and the lackadaisical methods that as a rule prevail on a losing baseball team. In one short year Chance has swept the malcontents from the squad, has recruited almost an entirely new team and has shown the fans of the American league circuit some of the best baseball of the year.

Hal Chase, one of the greatest of all first basemen, some say the second great one since the days of Comiskey, was let out for the sole and very simple reason that he was a trouble maker. Other changes, quite too numerous to mention, have been made, and the work of the man who gave four pennants and two world's championships to Chicago can justly be considered in the light of one of the real accomplishments of recent baseball history.

The Northern League.

MOST of the veterans of last year have like the brown arabs of the dusty desert, folded their tents and hit the silent trail far away from the fairy tinkle of Northern league interest. There will be few of the members of last year's teams on deck when the gonfalon gallop is sent away from the barrier.

Duluth will face the starting post with practically a new team. Grand Forks will have for the most part, new players. Winnipeg has had more or less of a house cleaning, and Fort William has got rid of some of the dead material of last season, and the Cantillon troupers at Fargo-Moorhead will be made out of new and unbleached baseball cloth.

The very fact that the league will be made up of new players for the most part should add interest to the going and add new interest to the game. Fans here hope for a fast and scrappy team, one that will be in the hunt all the way—and more than every thing else—a team that will be in the game all of the time.

Thanks, Darby.

Cutler and Westergaard.

THE forfeit money of Charley Cutler reached this city Saturday and was deposited in one of the local banks. The posting of a substantial check for the appearance of the Chicagoan removes all doubt that the two big mat gladiators will fight out the American championship at the Auditorium on the lurid and large evening of May 12.

For the last three weeks Cutler has been working with the members of the large mat colony of Chicago to reach prime condition for the contest with Westergaard. Before the match with Fristensky Cutler was in grand condition. The operation to his bad knee has apparently left it as good as ever, and a Duluthian who was present at the meeting at the Coliseum the night Charley put the rollers under the championship claims of the gigantic Bohemian, is authority for the statement that Cutler looked like a real world's champion.

Against Westergaard, with his 225 pounds of bone and sinew, the oncoming Cutler will have the grandest opportunity of his entire career to show the wrestling world just how substantial are his claims for the world's championship.

Cutler has been beaten in gruelling battles by Gotch and Zbyszko, though he won one handicap match from the Pole; and now comes the long awaited trial of prowess between the big Des Moines Swede and the man who for the past season has been carefully groomed for the world's championship.

Just Suppose, Eh.

JUST suppose that the Tigers should win in the American league and the Pittsburg Pirates should come through and take the ancient privilege away from the Giants—and further supposing—just a minute—that in the world's series between the two teams the games should be drawn out to the limit, as was the case in 1909—would some of the fans arise in their wrath and fall clothes and declare that the world's series was fixed?

Billy Murray May Come.

THE Abrams are in receipt of a message from the manager of Billy Murray, the sensational Pacific coast middleweight, and as a result of negotiations that are proceeding at the present time the man who is said to have surprised the followers of the boxing game by his showing against Clabby, may be matched with some middleweight before the Twin Ports club.

This Murray person is a Portuguese and his rise in the fight world has been in the nature of the bright little meteor. He started from the lowly meadow-like depths of the pugilistic world and is at the present time basking upon the mountain—and it is a precipitous and thorny climb up the side of the mountain.

New cards are always welcome to the followers of the boxing game and the advent of Murray on the other side of the bay should provide one of the best fight cards of the season.

Cubs 6; Cardinals 1.

Chicago, May 4.—Cheney held St. Louis to three scattered hits yesterday, while Chicago batted both Hageman and Niehaus opportunely and won 6 to 1. Good of Chicago made four hits, including three doubles and received a base on balls in five times up. The visitors saved themselve a shut-out in the ninth inning when Dressen got a base on Zimmerman's error, and scored on a single coupled with a passed ball and a sacrifice fly. Manager O'Day switched his lineup and the experiment worked to good advantage.

Saturday's Results.

Milwaukee, 10; Columbus, 1.
Minneapolis, 5; Louisville, 1.
St. Paul, 5; Indianapolis, 4.

Chicago, May 4.—Clark's Milwaukee champions fought their way to first place in the American association race last week by winning every one of the five games weather did not prevent.

Louisville, which had forged to the front in the preceding week, slipped into a tie with the Brewers by letting Indianapolis win one game of a double-header, and as rain stopped the Colonels on Tuesday while Milwaukee won, and they lost to Minneapolis Saturday, they dropped behind, although they made a clean sweep of the St. Paul series.

Louisville and Milwaukee meet in a four-game series the latter part of this week.

Hoosiers 5; Saints 4.

St. Paul, Minn., May 4.—Opportune hits by Indianapolis batsmen in the last three innings gave the visitors five runs, enabling them to defeat St. Paul, 5 to 4, here yesterday. Rain fell intermittently during the entire game.

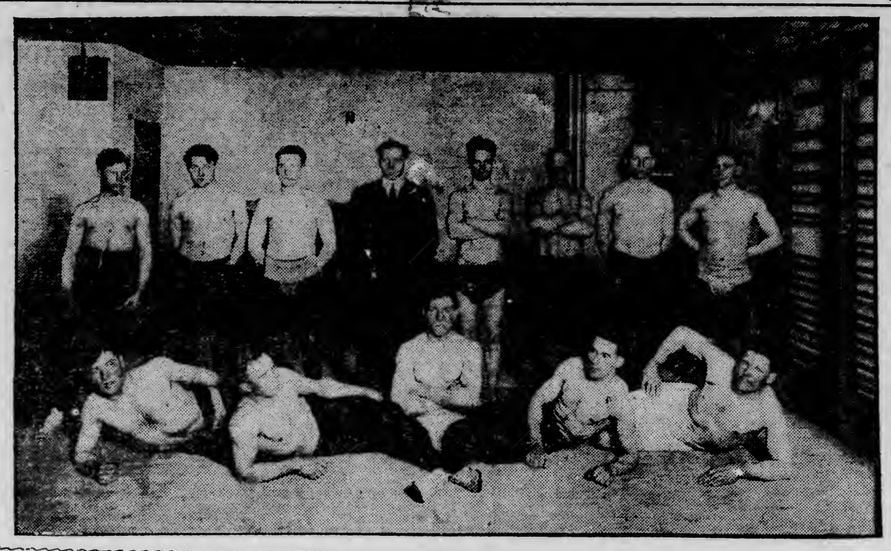
THE Y. M. C. A. CHAMPION WRESTLERS



FRANK M'GRAW VISITS DULUTH

Former White Sox Star Came Near Leaving Game for Good.

Frank McGraw was in the city yesterday. The former White Sox star came to Duluth with the idea of taking a position that has been offered him. After giving the job the once over, the McGraw one packed the suitcase again and today left to join the Grand Forks squad.

"Eddie Wheeler has a nice bunch of ball players," said McGraw. "Wheeler may play third or he may decide to play utility roles. The arm of the former big leaguer is not the best in the world and for that reason he may decide to merely fill in.

"Our outfield will be one of the best in the league. Most of the youngsters are showing up in fine form and if the pitchers come up to expectations the Flickertes will bear watching from the start off."

Frank declares that he is right this season and the appearance of the player O'Brien traded for Edmunds bears out this statement. When right, this same McGraw is one of the best ball players in the league, a cleanup hitter and one of the surest fielders in the Northern.

Playing out in the left field patch last season McGraw looked bad on some of the ground balls that went that way. It should be said that the left field of the local grounds is in such bad shape that it is a matter of extreme difficulty to play at all; and that with the holes and uneven ground it is almost impossible to judge a ground ball accurately.

WHITE SOX WIN SATURDAY'S GAME

Regulars With Leathy Slabbing Defeat Appleton 3 to 2.

Appleton, Wis., May 4.—The regulars of the White Sox squad won from the Appleton team in the game of Saturday by the score of 3 to 2. Leathy was on the mound for the visitors and held the locals to six hits. The visitors twirler pitched nice ball all the way through and looks like a real find for the Sox.

With no errors by the members of either team, the game was a remarkable one for the training season, bringing out some of the best baseball imaginable.

Score:	R.	H.	E.

MENIECE SIGNS UP.

Not With White Sox But With Woodland Semi-Pros.

Manager Mitchell of the Woodland baseball team, one of the fastest of the semi-professional teams of the city, announced Saturday that Sam Meniece, the heavy-hitting former hero of the White Sox has been signed to play first base during the season. The acquisition of Meniece will mean that the Woodlands will present one of the strongest lineups in the Northwest. Manager Mitchell announces that he has a large number of games booked and expects to meet the crack teams of the range district during the season.

MEETING CALLED FOR LONGVIEW TENNIS MEN.

There will be a meeting of the members of the Longview Tennis club at room 510 Sellwood building tomorrow noon. As this is the first meeting of the season, and the plans for the opening of the season are to be outlined, it is important that there be a large attendance.

Plans for one of the most active seasons in the history of the East end organizations are being made. The tournament of the coming season promises to be one of the best ever held in the city.

KOLEHMAINEN WINS.

Takes Modified Marathon But in Slower Time Than Before.

New York, May 4.—Hannes Kolehmainen, the Finnish runner attached to the Irish-American Athletic club, won the fourth running of the modified Marathon conducted by the New York Evening Mail on Saturday. His time for the distance—13 miles, 200 yards—was 1 hour 9 minutes and one-fifth seconds.

Gaston Strobino of Paterson, N. J., unattached, was second; time, 1 hour, 11 minutes, 28 seconds. Harry J. Smith, Bronx Church House, finished third; time, 1 hour, 12 minutes, 55 1-5 seconds. More than a thousand runners participated in the race, which started in the Bronx and finished at the city hall. Kolehmainen took last year's event in 1 hour, 5 minutes, 15 3-5 seconds.

SMALL LEAGUES MAY LOSE OUT

New York, May 4.—The real problem brought about by the Federal league does not affect the major leagues, nor even those leagues just below the majors, which are classed as AA and A organizations. These leagues, with the majors, have supplied practically all the talent with which the Feds are making their start in baseball, but it will be the leagues of lower classification that will be relied upon to furnish the annual crop of budding stars. Class B organizations and those ranking next in strength are now facing a situation that may spell disaster.

If the Federals follow out the plan they propose and grab young players, by dealing with the player personally instead of the club owner, distress signals will be flying in several minor leagues next fall. The selling of players to leagues of higher classification has saved many a minor league club owner from bankruptcy. Year after year clubs which have failed to pay expenses at the gate have finished with a balance because above class B there have been seven leagues of higher rating. This made a total of fifty-six clubs out gunning for promising youngsters and ready to pay good prics for the same, secure in the knowledge that these players would be delivered to them. But a change has come over the entire situation.

As long as the Feds are in the field as an independent organization there can be no certainty that the minor league stars will stick to organized ball.

Off-Day Games.

Baltimore, Md., May 4.—The Baltimore Internationals won from the Philadelphia Americans yesterday, 8 to 7. A wild throw by Sturgis let in the winning run. Score: R. H. E.

Town Dry; No Races.

Decatur, Ill., May 4.—Decatur has withdrawn from the Great Western racing circuit and its dates, Aug. 17 to 21, probably will go to Peoria. It is said that backers of races here refused to conduct them because the town went "dry" at the recent election.

Irrigates the Blood Knocks Rheumatism

A Remedy That Flushes the Blood from Head to Foot.

To get rid of rheumatism requires that the blood be completely flushed—not a mere makeshift as by salts and pain killers. The long record of S. S. S. is important to know. It has found its way into every section of the nation. It is the most widely used and most widely talked-of remedy there is for all blood troubles. And it is a known fact that rheumatism is primarily a blood trouble.

It is conceded by the closest students of the subject that rheumatism is caused in most cases by an acid condition of the blood and aggravated by the remedies commonly used for relief. In other cases rheumatism is the result of nerve depression; in still others it is the effect of some vitiated blood condition, having been treated with mercury, iodides, arsenic, and other poisonous mineral drugs.

The recoveries of all these types of rheumatism by the use of S. S. S. is a wonderful tribute to the natural efficacy of this remarkable medicine, for it is assimilated just as naturally, just as specifically, and just as well ordained as the most acceptable, most palatable and most readily digested food. Do not fail to get a bottle of S. S. S. today, but insist upon S. S. S. Don't accept a substitute. You will be astonished at the results. If your rheumatism is of such a nature that you would like to consult a great specialist confidentially, write to the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Co., 530 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

WHITE SOX BADLY BEATEN BY OSHKOSH CHAMPIONS

Last Year's Pennant Winners of W.-I. League Defeat Darby O'Brien's Colts By the Count of 7 to 1.

Oshkosh, Wis., May 4.—Oshkosh defeated the Duluth White Sox by the decisive score of 7 to 1 in the game of yesterday. Goodbred and Hoffman were on the slab for the champions of the W-I, while Monty Woods, the roly poly southpaw of the visitors, pitched the entire game for the visitors.

A total of eleven hits was gathered from the slants of Woods, but in only one inning, the third, were the locals able to bunch their bingles. The errors of the White Sox, contributed to the scores of the locals, though the hitting of the Killian people was hard and timely.

With both Goodbred and Hoffman pitching the kind of baseball that is generally seen in mid season, there was little chance for the visitors. The locals began scoring in the first round and early piled up a lead that was never even threatened.

The pitching of Goodbred was one of the features of the contest. For the four rounds that he was on the slab the visitors did not gain the semblance of a hit and went runless. Frank Hoffman pitched the final five innings and held his former teammates to a double and two singles.

The lonesome run of the visitors was scored in the seventh round. Wolf singled and a minute later was snapped off first by a quick throw upon the part of Hoffman. McGuff doubled to left and crossed the pan when Kernan missed a high fly.

In the second round the home team scored its first run on a pass, a sacrifice and a clean hit. In the third Kernan hit and scored on two errors. Two hits and two passes counting the other two runs in this round. Four hits, including a double, counting two runs in the seventh, and a hit through the box and a fluke triple scored the final Oshkosh run in the eighth round.

McGuff Looks Strong.

In the games that have been played here the large McGuff has loomed up as one of the stars of the visitors. The youngster has handled himself like a veteran at the initial sack and his hitting has been as good as that of any of the other members of the foreign squad.

Brackett in the outfield has been one of the real stellar lights of the visitors. The Sox pitchers are not in real form as yet by any means and it looks as if it will require some real work before they will be ready for effective mound duty.

POUGHKEEPSIE TO HAVE BEST REGATTA IN YEARS

Every College Crew Promises to Be Stronger Than Last Year.

New York, May 4.—With the assurance that the University of Washington will journey East to compete at Poughkeepsie, it is no exaggeration to say that the outlook favors the most interesting rowing competition which has been witnessed on the Hudson in a decade.

It looks pretty hard to pick even the first and second division of the nations. Like Little Willie's apple core, it now looks as though there weren't going to be no second division. There is not a college, with the possible exception of Columbia, where rowing enthusiasm is not on an improved plan over that which prevailed in 1913.

The coming of the University of Washington to Poughkeepsie will insure the focusing of national attention on the Hudson river regatta. After the Leland Stanford crew made its pilgrimage East two years ago, the general opinion of local critics was that Western oarsmen, like Far Western track performers, always made their records in home territory. The Stanford outfit knew about as much of the technique of propelling an eight-oared shell as the average inhabitant of the Arizona desert does about watermanship. They were big huskies—that's all.

Spring a Surprise.

It was the poor showing of the Leland Stanford eight more than any other factor which made Washington a disregarded factor in the race last June. Consequently the splendid showing of the Westerners in finishing third came as a surprise. If they had stuck with the leaders and kept in touch with Syracuse throughout the race, starting their spurt a bit sooner, it was the opinion of some critics that the finish might have been different.

The assurance that the University of Washington is planning to send representatives East seems to justify the opinion that the regatta this spring will be closely fought out. It looks as though the varsity competition would be more open than it has been recently. The victory of Syracuse last year has stimulated enthusiasm at that university, and the financial stress which handicapped Ten Eyck's plans in 1913 is no longer worrying him. He has a good nucleus of veterans and some fine new material. Last year's victory came as a surprise to most Syracusans. There were only a few hundred of graduates of the university in the observation trains. This year alumni will come en masse, hoping to see the victory repeated.

Defeats come to Charles E. Courtney so seldom that the novel experience must serve to give him a new interest in life. He has made a lot of fun this winter telling graduates how the athletes at Ithaca ought not to be allowed to sacrifice themselves in the matters of the curriculum because of worrying over athletics. Yet the fact is that there has never been a more worried delegation than the old man's present crew squad. He has the finest material which has been available at Ithaca in years, and if Gilman is eligible, a stroke who in nerve, form and physical capacity looks as good as any man who has ever set the pace in a Cornell boat. It will be a fast eight which comes home ahead of the Ithacans.

Nickalls Stirs Up Penn.

The rowing atmosphere at Pennsylvania is in sharp contrast to that which prevailed a year ago. Ellis Ward, grand old man of the rowing game that he was, but laden with the burden of many recent Quaker defeats, is no longer in charge. Vivian Nickalls, the English crack, who has taken his place, has succeeded in firing the sparks of Pennsylvania rowing enthusiasm. At Philadelphia they are putting a degree of optimism into the rowing work which makes it easy to believe that Pennsylvania will be up with the leaders.

College Football.

Philadelphia, May 4.—Saturday's results: Pennsylvania, 2; Princeton, 1.

Ithaca, N. Y., May 4.—Saturday's results: Cornell freshmen, 7; Columbia freshmen, 3.

American Horse Wins.

Paris, May 4.—Herman B. Duryea of New York yesterday won the Prix Noailles, a produce stake of $6,000 run at the Longchamps race course, with his Durbar.

DAMAGE DECISION UP TO PHYSICIAN

If He Has Aorta Enlargement Perovich Will Get Compensation.

If, upon examination, Paul Perovich is found to be suffering from an enlargement of the aorta, he is entitled to $4,000 damages from the Iroquois Iron company, payable at $10 a week. This is according to a decision which Judge Bert Fesler made in district court Saturday afternoon following a hearing on a contested claim under the workingmen's compensation act.

Perovich was struck on the breast by a heavy timber while employed in the Armour mine near Ironton, Nov. 13, 1913. He claims that the blow resulted in aneurism of the heart. The mining company is contesting the claim on the ground that the accident was not the cause of the ailment. After hearing the evidence, Judge Fesler indicated that the company might, if it so desired, have Jerovich examined by a Duluth physician. If he is found to be suffering from the ailment complained of, settlement will be necessary under the terms of the new law.

Judge Fesler continued the hearing on the contested claim of Lucija Cetinich against the Oliver Iron Mining company to May 29. The claimant's husband, George Cetinich, was killed in a cave-in at the North Uno mine Feb. 3, last. The company denies liability for the accident and refuses to pay the death claim unless ordered by the court to do so.

Carrington Has Day Current.

Carrington, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A day electric service has at last been inaugurated here and dozens of establishments are adding motors to operate machinery. They have heretofore been compelled to use gasoline engines and the improvement is greatly appreciated.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR "HANDSOME JACK."

Chicago, May 4.—Sentence of life imprisonment for the murder of Mrs. Emma Kraft, a Cincinnati widow, was imposed upon John B. Koetters by Judge McDonald in the criminal court.

"You are doomed to spend the rest of your years behind the bars," said the court, "and I hope that during your dismal years you will repent this crime."

"I can't, your honor," interrupted Koetters, "I can't do it. I can't repent a crime I never committed."

"I didn't do it," he muttered as he was being taken back to jail; "the testimony against me was perjured."

Koetters was found guilty of killing Mrs. Kraft with a hammer in a Chicago hotel in November, 1912. She was infatuated with him and had given him money.

CORONER'S COUSINS KILLED BY TRAIN.

Chicago, May 4.—Rose Hoffman, 6 years old, and her sister, Irene, 3 years old, were killed and their mother, Mrs. Bessie Hoffman, cousin of Peter M. Hoffman, coroner of Cook county, was fatally injured when the carriage in which they were returning from church Sunday was struck by a fast train on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road near Glenview, a suburb.

The collision wrapped the three bodies in the canvas covering of the carriage and they were carried on the pilot for a quarter of a mile until the train stoped at Golf station.

Coroner Hoffman has been a prime mover in a crusade to avoid grade crossing accidents.

HOLD MEMORIAL FOR LATE CONGRESSMAN.

Washington, May 4.—The house held a brief memorial session Sunday in tribute to the late Representative Irvin S. Pepper of Davenport, Iowa. Speaker Clark made the principal address. Republican Leader Mann, Representative Sherwood of Ohio, Representative Vollmer, who succeeded Pepper, Representative Towner of Iowa and others spoke.

GIVES VIEWS ON THE RESURRECTION

Rev. A. L. Smith Preaches on Fate of Just and Unjust.

Rev. A. L. Smith of Milwaukee gave an interesting lecture on "The Resurrection of the Just and Unjust" at Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, yesterday afternoon. The speaker maintained that there was no doubt but that the "dead are dead" and will remain so until the resurrection day. He said there would be two classes of people judged and these would be the followers of the church, who would be in the "just class and the others, including the heathgen, who would be in the "unjust" class.

The lecturer then pointed out what he believed to be the only hope of life as laid down in the scriptures—the resurrection. The grave, according to the speaker, has for centuries been gradually swallowing up mankind; death has been working in the human race to such an extent that the average length of life has been reduced to approximately thirty-five years. The source of this great river of death was shown to lie in the fallen Adam, and the victory over the grave to lie in Christ, who took Adam's place, paying the penalty for his sin—death—which is legally to free Adam and his race. In God's appointed time, all will be released from the prison-house of death, and be brought forth to life.

That the scriptures do not set forth the puerile idea of a twenty-four-hour resurrection day, was one of the striking points of the lecture. So short a space of time would be quite inadequate for the wonderful work to be accomplished. The speaker declared that according to the Bible, 1,000 years are appointed for the individual judgment and resurrection of the whole world, and that the Apostle Peter clearly indicates this. This entire day will be devoted to the awakening, instruction and gradual resurrection or restoration of the human race to the full life and perfection once enjoyed by Father Adam before he fell a victim to the process of dying.

The speaker explained the heathen question by drawing a distinction between the resurrection of the just and that of the unjust. All who have died approved by God on account of their faith in the ransom which He has provided are said to have been justified by faith. All others, including the millions of heathen who have never heard of Christ, will come up in the resurrection of the unjust. In the first-class will come the church, all the saints who throughout this gospel age have fought "the good fight of faith," following in the Master's footsteps. These shall have part in the first resurrection, the chief resurrection, to divine life.

The resurrection of the unjust was shown to include all others who have not sinned wilfully against full light, including the heathen, both at home and abroad. These have never had the mists sufficiently rolled away to see and appreciate God in the true light, and to understand His plan of salvation, and they will come forth from the grave to learn of their privilege of salvation through Christ. If they gladly accept it and live in harmony with the laws of justice, they shall attain unto eternal life as human beings in the perfected earth. If they reject, they shall be deprived of the wonderful boon of everlasting life, which they do not properly appreciate and would only abuse were they to have it. These with Satan and his angels, will go into the second death, eternal death, the speaker said.

ORPHEUS SOCIETY PLANS PROGRAM

Lecture on Philippines By Congressman Miller Will Be Feature.

The Orpheus Singing society has planned an interesting literary and musical program for Thursday evening, May 14, to be given at the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. In addition to several musical numbers to be given by the entire chorus, an illustrated lecture on the Philippines will be given by Congressman Clarence B. Miller.

The lecture will be on the work done by the United States in civilizing the natives in the islands. The lecture has been given at West Duluth and at Proctor before large crowds.

Congressman Miller visited every part of the islands. He has a collection of about 500 photographs which have been prepared for the stereopticon, all of which have been colored to represent actual scenery in the Philippines.

The entertainment will be the final one given by the society before its departure for Minneapolis, where it will take part in the sangerfest of Swedish Singers of America. The Orpheus society will take a leading part in the program to be given in the Mill City during the sangerfest week.

DULUTH CLAIMS VERA CRUZ VICTIMS

Local Boy Wounded; Haggerty, Killed, Has Relative Here.

The battle at Vera Cruz has struck home to people of Duluth. Daniel Aloysius Haggerty of Cambridge, Mass., the first man in the marine service to be killed on the landing in the Mexican city, was a first cousin of Mrs. Judson Evans, 417 North Twenty-first avenue west.

Haggerty went ashore with the first marines from the battleship Florida under the command of Capt. W. R. Rush.

Another to suffer from the Mexicans' fire was John McMillan, former West Duluth boy. McMillan was seriously wounded but is reported to be recovering. He was the son of Mrs. Francis McMillan, former resident of Bay View Heights.

Surprised By Friends.

Mrs. O. Peterson, 2027 West Second street, was pleasantly surprised by a number of her friends Saturday afternoon in honor of her birthday anniversary. Music featured the entertainment. The guests were: Mesdames Tronsdal, J. Anderson, A. Anderson, E. Wallin, L. Grenner, G. Peterson, F. Peterson, B. Anderson, C. Hanson, S. Shurson, S. Agre, O. Linquist, C. Abrahamson, J. Olson, P. Wallen, G. Dyson, J. Beck, V. Westerdahl, G. Westman, G. Carlson, M. Murdy, and Misses Helen Johnson and Lydia Wenberg.

AMERICANS WARNED FROM MEXICO CITY

Consul Canada's Message Is Transmitted By Brazilian There.

Mexico City, May 4.—Another warning was received yesterday by the Brazilian minister from Consul William W. Canada, at Vera Cruz, who advised the remaining Americans in the Federal capital to leave without delay. In referring to this the Brazilian minister said to the Associated Press:

"I met Gen. Huerta casually this morning and received from him repeated assurances that both he personally and his ministers would do everything that I asked to secure the safety and complete protection and comfort of the Americans remaining in this country.

"When I referred to the request I had made this morning to the department of foreign relations for a special train for Americans desiring to leave the Federal capitol, Gen. Huerta at once gave orders for the necessary arrangements to be made, and the train will leave this city for Coatzacoalcos at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Under Brazilian Flag.

"Gen. Huerta told me in particular that the train would carry the requisite number of sleeping cars for the women and children of the party, and would run under the protection of the Brazilian flag and with an adequate military escort to guard the passengers.

"The Brazilian consul and vice consul will accompany the train on behalf of the Brazilian legation."

Business interests are suffering from lack of mail facilities, and in consequence of this the Brazilian and Spanish ministers have arranged with the war department for an emergency service.

It is stated that two or more Mexican delegates are to be appointed to represent the Federal government at the mediation conference, and that their names will be announced shortly. The general feeling here in regard to the conference is pessimistic.

BRINGING BODIES FROM VERA CRUZ.

Vera Cruz, Mex., May 4.—The bodies of seventeen American bluejackets and marines who fell victims to the Mexican snipers in the street fighting during the operations accompanying the occupation of Vera Cruz by the United States fleet, started on their way to New York yesterday on board the armored cruiser Montana.

Solemn honors were paid by the great assemblage of United States war vessels as the Montana passed slowly out of the harbor, and these were joined in by the vessels of the British and Spanish fleets which represent their countries in Mexican waters.

YOU CAN'T BRUSH OR WASH OUT DANDRUFF

The Simplest and Quickest Way Is To Dissolve It.

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

U. S. AND NORWEGIAN CONSULS DRIVEN OUT

Official Who Fled From Manzanillo Reports to Washington.

Washington, May 4.—American Consul Stadden of Manzanillo, who arrived at San Diego, Cal., Friday, aboard the German steamer Marie with 259 refugees, reported to the state department Sunday that Mexicans, on the day of his departure, had taken American flags from the American consulate, trampled on them and burned them. He and his fellow Americans had been given forty-eight hours to leave Mexico, dating from noon, April 22.

Adolph Steff, the Norwegian consul at Manzanillo, was forced to flee to save his life, and boarded the Marie as a refugee, after placing the archives of the consulate on the steamer Leonora, a Mexican vessel owned in San Francisco.

Saved By Europeans.

Consul Stadden said that the treatment given the Americans was "horrible." Had it not been for the good offices of the British and German consuls, he said, many Americans in the Colima district would have been "slaughtered." Some Americans arriving at Manzanillo from the interior were forced to pay 1,000 pesos each to the military authorities. The consul praised the efforts of the skipper of the Marie, Capt. J. Davidson, to protect American citizens.

Consul Stadden added that after April 22 he was not allowed to use the telegraph.

"There are in the Guadalajara district," said his report, "fifty Americans who are not able to get out and who surely will be mobbed the moment an American war vessel enters Manzanillo harbor, which has been mined.

Forced to Leave Records.

"The Federals are prepared to abandon the town and blow up the Armaria bridge. American flags have been taken out of the consulate, trampled on and burned by a mob. I was forced to leave, not being allowed to wait for Americans from the interior, and not being permitted to take the files and records."

Besides the American refugees the steamer Marie brought back 290 Chinamen from Hongkong who were not allowed to land at Manzanillo.

AMERICAN'S BODY IS TAKEN FROM MEXICO.

Laredo, Tex., May 4.—The body of Porfirio Laurel, an American ranchman who disappeared last November, was recovered Sunday from a grave near Nuevo Laredo, Mex. Laurel had been arrested by Mexican Federals who persistently denied reports of his execution and until the body was exhumed the mystery of the Texan's absence was unexplained.

WOMEN SHOULD TAKE WARNING

If the statement made at a New York Assembly of women, that healthy American women are so rare that they are almost extinct, is true, it is time for the women of America to take warning and look to their health. It may be headaches, backaches, dragging down pains, nervousness, mental depression, that are telltale symptoms of some organic derangement for which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—a simple remedy made from roots and herbs—is a specific and may be relied upon to restore women to a healthy normal condition.

BISHOP DIES DURING MEXICAN PARADE.

Mexico City, May 4.—Right Rev. Manuel Rivera, Roman Catholic bishop of Queretaro, died suddenly Sunday while driving in an anti-American parade.

AUXILIARY STAFF WILL AID G. A. R.

Planning at Ironwood to Make Memorial Day Memorable.

Ironwood, Mich., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The officers and executive committee of the citizen's staff has completed plans for the final organization of the auxiliary staff to the G. A. R. by drafting a set of by-laws and a constitutiona which will be submitted for ratification tomorrow evening when a general meeting of all persons interested in the movement has been called to meet at the Commercial clubrooms at 8 o'clock. The following is the list of officers and committees together with the general arrangements to be carried out on Memorial day.

President of the day—Dr. H. E. Fox; marshal, J. W. Oxman; committee on speaking, Judge Buck, J. V. Brennan; decoration of graves, W. R. Corps, Fred Brewer, F. J. Alexander, H. E. Hoffman; flags and carriages, F. J. Alexander, Joseph Davis; printing, B. C. Hayes, J. V. Brennan, C. E. Bennett; old soldiers' banquet, Judge Buck; evening entertainment, Women's Relief corps.

It was decided that the members of the G. A. R., W. R. C., Sons of Veterans, Spanish war veterans and Citizen's staff attend service at the First M. E. church, on Sunday, May 24, at 10:30 a. m. Memorial day will be observed here as usual, the services being held at Riverside cemetery in the forenoon if the weather permits.

The Citizens' staff is being organized in Gogebic county for the purpose of assisting the members of the G. A. R., in carrying out the patriotic work which that body has promoted for so many years. The G. A. R. is becoming rapidly depleted and unless other organizations take up the work the time will come when the interest and patriotic influence exerted by this body of noble men must cease to exist. Judge Curtis Buck is the leader of the movement in Gogebic county.

Yonkum Loses by Fire.

New York, May 4.—Fire Sunday did $40,000 damage to building on the country estate of Benjamin F. Yoakum, railroad man and financier, near Amityville, L. I., and for a time threatened to destroy the handsome residence on the place. Firemen from nearby towns saved the dwelling.

FIREMEN WILL DO BLACK FACE STUNT

Gilbert Fire-Fighters Propose to Raise Money for Expenses.

Gilbert, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Oliver fire department for the Genoa and Gilbert mines held their annual election of officers Sunday and re-elected R. E. Brown chief for the ensuing year. W. J. Brown was elected assistant chief and John Sheean secretary treasurer. Plans for the coming season were discussed and the members were enthusiastic over the prospects. A minstrel show was planned to raise funds to pay the expenses of the team at the tournament at Buhl this summer and the following committee was named to make arrangements for the show: W. J. Brown, A. J. Trudeau, Tim Sheean and Clarence Martin.

The show will be put on in the near future and with the local talent available and the interest displayed it is expected that it will eclipse anything of the kind attempted in this vicinity for some time. The boys had some fire team last year at the tournament in Gilbert and hope to be represented by a better one this year at Buhl. The local teams, the Gilbert village team, the Schley team and the Elba team, are all making great preparations and will all be represented at Buhl with strong teams.

EVELETH MINES SHIPPING ORE

More Shovels Are Soon Expected to Be Placed at Work.

Eveleth, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The mines in the Eveleth district are now shipping ore and conditions have improved somewhat, although many men are still idle, as only about half the usual number are being employed in the underground workings.

At the Leonidas three shovels are at work making cuts for trackage. Two of the shovels are in ore and it is being shipped. At the Adams pit one shovel is working. The ore from the underground workings at the Fayal and Adams is being loaded direct into cars when hoisted from the shafts.

To Start More Shovels.

It is reported that more shovels will be put on this week and that additional men will be employed. Beadish reports and predictions that the Mesaba will ship only half of its usual tonnage this season are not taken seriously here and it is expected that the shipments will be normal.

SALARY BOOST FOR VIRGINIA EMPLOYES

City Council Expected to Do Some Raising Tuesday Night.

Virginia, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the meeting of the city council tomorrow evening it is expected the local lawmakers will adopt the salary increases decided upon by the council in executive session.

The city attorney's salary will remain at $200 a month, as will the city engineer's. The city clerk gets a raise from $175 a month to $200, while his deputy's pay is increased from $90 to $100. Judge Carey's pay was fixed at $225 a month instead of $200 as before. He asked for $260. His clerk will receive $85, instead of $75. She asked for $100 a month.

Street Commissioner Benefits.

The assistant city engineer's pay remains at $125 a month, while the street commissioner is given a $10 a month increase. He formerly received $115. The treasurer's pay is boosted from $71.50 to $100. The deputy health officer's pay has been boosted from $85 to $125 a month.

CHISHOLM NINE PLAYS SUNDAY.

Chisholm, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. James Leighty had his ball team out for a practice game Sunday and lined them up against a picked team of former players. The weather conditions were unfavorable, but they managed to finish the game.

Crullers or Fried Cakes

Never Greasy

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Everyone likes fried cakes or crullers. Here's a very superior recipe. Follow directions closely—success is certain. 44

K C Crullers or Fried Cakes

Three cups sifted flour; 1½ level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; ½ teaspoonful mace or nutmeg; ½ teaspoonful salt; 2 eggs, beaten light; ½ cup granulated sugar; 3 tablespoonfuls melted butter; ½ cup skimmed milk.

Sift together, three times, the flour, KC baking powder, mace and salt. Add the sugar, butter and milk to the beaten eggs and stir into the dry ingredients to make a stiff dough. Knead slightly; then cut with fried cake cutter. Drop into a deep kettle filled with hot fat; drain on soft paper or colander and roll in powdered sugar.

To fry have fat at smoking point, turn crullers several times while frying to insure all parts being equally light and thoroughly cooked.

By all means, send for the K C Cook's Book—it's free and it contains 90 just such appetizing recipes. Send the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans to the JAQUES MFG. CO., Chicago, and write name and address plainly.

DULUTHIAN IS TO SPEAK AT EVELETH

J. W. KREITTER

Eveleth, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. W. Kreitter of Duluth, superintendent of the Missabe railway, will speak tonight at a meeting of the Commercial club, on "Municipal Improvements."

The score was 10 to 2 in favor of Capt. Leighty's colts. Cork Whaling Benson and one or two new men played. Harry Ghase pitched and showed up in good form. Emil Kriz was behind the bat. The stick work was good, the boys connecting up with the ball with ease.

SEEKING DAMAGES FROM TEA DEALERS

Virginian Claims False Arrest Was Worth $1,000.

Virginia, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A district court jury and Judge Hughes today are listening to the evidence in the case of Charles Worth vs. the Jewell Tea company in which the plaintiff seeks $1,000 damages for false arrest. He alleges the defendants by whom he was employed on the Mesaba range had him arrested on an embezzlement charge which was afterwards dismissed.

Out on Parole.

Judge Hughes has released Franklin J. Fessenden, who pleaded guilty to grand larceny, on parole, for one year.

Sentences were passed on others as follows: Paul Matich, convicted of grand larceny in the second degree; Nick Ivancovich, convicted of assault in the second degree; Cosma Smith, found guilty of a statutory offense, and Mike Nocich, convicted of robbery in the second degree were each given indeterminate sentences in the penitentiary.

CHISHOLM AFTER NEXT CLUB MEET

Delegates to Cloquet Will Ask for 1915 Gathering.

Chisholm, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Frank Austin and Mrs. Willian Conley will leave tomorrow for Cloquet to represent Chisholm at the Eighth District Minnesota Women's club gathering. Mrs. Austin will respond to the address of welcome and will invite the clubs to come to Chisholm in 1915 and will tell of the conveniences and hospitality that can be expected of the Chisholm ladies, should the convention decide to come here.

Mrs. Conley will report on the Ladies' Art and Study club's doings of the past year.

The Chisholm ladies believe that the clubs desire to come here next year, as other clubs in the Eighth district have already been favored with the convention. The new municipal library here, which is about completed, will afford a very attractive place in which to hold the meeting.

MAY MANAGE VILLAGE PLANTS DIFFERENTLY

Hibbing Water and Light Board Figuring on Making Changes.

Hibbing, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new system of management for the water and light department with an inside and outside superintendent is being considered by the board and will probably be acted upon at the meeting Tuesday evening.

It is believed that under the present system and with the immense amount of work that is being done it is impossible to get all of the details properly attended to. There should be, in the opinion of the board, a superintendent to look after the power plant alone and one to supervise the outside and construction work.

More White Way.

There will be several miles of white way to put in this spring, the usual extensions and repairs on the regular village service and the additional work imposed by the wiring of all the suburbs. With a new power plant in sight the work will not decrease and the addition of the water system will also come under the present department.

No details as to the change have been made public but it is anticipated will be taken under consideration tomorrow evening, though no final disposition is expected that soon.

GOODLAND WOMAN DIES.

Funeral Will Be Held at Chisholm on Tuesday.

Chisholm, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of Mrs. E. M. Swenby, mother of Christ Swenby and Louis Swenby was brought here from Goodland where she died Saturday. Mrs. Swenby was 88 years and death was due to old age and an attack of branchitis. The funeral will be held from the home of her son, Louis, on Tuesday with interment in the Hibbing cemetery.

The 1-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts who died Saturday will be buried in the Chisholm cemetery Tuesday. Rev. Ralph C. Jones officiated.

Egener Beaudette, an aged Civil war veteran and grandfather to "Pal" Brown, died at the homestead ten miles north of here Thursday and was buried there Saturday. A number of Chisholm friends were present at the funeral. Rev. Ralph C. Jones preached. Mr. Beaudette was by his own request buried at the homestead where he has lived so many years. He was a pioneer of this section of the state leaving Superior where he then resided a number of years ago coming to the iron range where he has since lived. He is survived by a wife who at the age of 74 is one year his senior. Mrs. William Brown, mother of Pal Brown is a daughter of Mr. Beaudette and lives in Chisholm.

MAY MAKE ELECTRICITY.

Hibbing Considering Going Into That Branch of Work.

Hibbing, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The purchase or condemnation of lots along North street and the erection of a new power plant on the site of the present one is the latest scheme that is being discussed by the members of the water and light commission in their effort to provide an adequate system for the village.

If it is found that the village can produce its own electricity cheaper than it is now purchasing the current from the St. Louis Power company the officials are apparently all in favor of letting the contract.

The latest plan is to acquire fifty or 100 feet more near the present plant and to construct a modern and up-to-date generating system, including an adequate condensing plant with a steam heat service. The figures that were presented at a recent meeting of the board by L. A. Larson of Duluth are convincing and it is believed that the cost could be still further reduced by having the plant in the heart of the city and thereby cutting down on the most expensive item, the cost of the steam pipe.

BERT WHEELER SPEAKS.

Duluthian Tells Coleraine Something of the Drink Problem Evil.

Coleraine, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The second of the sacred concerts was given Sunday afternoon at the village auditorium under the direction of the choir of the Methodist church. An excellent musical program was rendered, consisting of anthems by the large chorus choir, double male quartet, duets and solos. Bert N. Wheeler of Duluth was the speaker and he gave a strong address, taking for his subject "The Economic and Moral Aspects of the Drink Problem."

SOCIALISTS DENOUNCE.

Hold Mass Meeting at Virginia With Tom Lewis Chief Speaker.

Virginia, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald)—The "invasion" of Mexica came in for stinging criticism at the hands of a mass meeting of Socialists held here Sunday after Tom Lewis, the Socialistic candidate for governor, had aired his views. The resolutions claimed that the fighting in Mexico would be in the interest of capital and not labor.

PLAY "THE GUARDIAN."

Grand Rapids Juniors Acquit Themselves Creditably.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Under the direction of Miss Harriet Arthur, assisted by Miss Mary Strickler, the junior class of the Grand Rapids high school, Saturday night presented "The Guardian," a drama of today of four acts, with scenes laid in Southern Italy, including a cast of thirteen.

Wayne Gilbert as Daniel Voorhees, the Hoosier lawyer, was well received and played the part to perfection. He was very pleasantly supported by Florence Craig as Miss Simpson, an American girl, in the leading role. Frank McCormick was superb in his portrayal of the Hon. Almeric St. Aubyn, the young Englishman, and furnished most of the fun of the evening. Mary D'Anjou and Myrtle Johnston, as ladies of the royal family, were well received, as were Edwin Farrell and Kenneth Sutherland. The cast included: Wayne Gilbert, George Mooers, Edwin Farrell, Frank McCormick, Clifford Maddy, Kenneth Sutherland, Victor Roecker, Ernest Hepfel, Clarence McLean, Lloyd Vipond, Florence Craig, Myrtle Johnston and Mary D'Anjou.

The play was given at the high school auditorium, with a seating capacity of 400 or more.

MEMORIAL DAY PLANS.

Processions to Include Everybody Proposed at Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A Memorial day celebration will be discussed at a meeting of local citizens Friday, May 15. Heretofore, it has been the custom to have the school children and lodges join in a procession to the scene of the day's ceremonies with the old soldiers. This year it is the desire of those who have usually been left to have charge to see if a procession including all the people cannot march to the place where the speaking and rites for the dead soldiers are to take place.

C. C. Peterson, secretary of the Booster club, has issued an appeal to the people to attend the meeting.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action; clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system.

They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, you will know them by their olive color.

Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio. All druggists.

GILBERT CLASS PLAY.

"As You Like It," By Seniors, Gives Much Satisfaction.

Gilbert, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The performance of "As You Like It" at the high school auditorium Friday night by the senior class was well attended and the efforts of the students were much appreciated. The play was given under the direction of Miss Magdaline Feyereisen and the musical part of the program under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Humphreys.

The following students took part in the play: Hjalmer Line, Ellis Sames, Arthur Hill, Clarence Martin, Tom Nolan, Edwin Moe, Henry Binney, Flur Sullivan, Harry Thomas, William Binney, Tim Shean, Alfred Rock, John Paatalo, Frank Erchul, Ole Olson, Donald Farmer, Mary Burns, Frieda Bergen, Goldie Finn and Ina Beldo.

SAVE WOMAN'S LIFE.

Rushed to Virginia From Brett Lake With Hemorrhage.

Virginia, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prompt action in getting Mrs. Ida Jurink, living at Brett lake, to a local hospital probably saved her life, as she was suffering from a hemorrhage that demanded an immediate operation. An ambulance met the woman and those accompanying her at the Canadian Northern depot and she was rushed to McIntyre's hospital, where the surgeons were all ready. She was quickly placed under an anaesthetic and an operation performed. The surgeons say today she is doing nicely.

Hibbing Couple Wed.

Hibbing, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Hilda Ostenoa and Axel Lundeen were quietly married Saturday afternoon at the Swedish Lutheran church, by Rev. J. B. Idstrom. The bride wore white silk taffeta and carried lilies of the valley, and was attended by Mrs. Louis Ruyman who wore white silk crepe de chine and carried white roses. The groom was attended by the bride's brother, Thomas Ostenoa. Mr. and Mrs. Lundeen left for a short visit at the home of the former's parents in Atwater, Minn, when they will go to Chicago and will be at home in Hibbing after May 20.

TWO HARBORS FANS WANT NEW DIAMOND

Meeting of Ball Bugs Tuesday Night to Discuss Subject.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A baseball meeting will be held in the Commercial clubrooms tomorrow evening to discuss the securing of a new site for a baseball park closer to the city than the old park. A committee was named a few weeks ago to investigate a certain piece of land close to the city which the baseball fans decided was favorable for a park site. The committee will report tomorrow evening.

As hearly every one of last year's champion team will be in the line-up this season, local fans expect a very successful season. The boys have had several tryouts this spring and they all look good. Following is a list of the players and their positions on the team: Harry McDonald, catcher; Barney Griffin and Roberts, pitchers; John Wodward, first base; Harry Johnson, second base; Victor Westin, third base; Alex Johnson, shortstop; Bud Ginter, field; John Lambert, captain, field; C. Gustafson, field.

ANGORA MAN KILLED.

Angora, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Oscar Salter, aged 57, a blacksmith, residing near here, who fell from a bridge and was fatally injured Friday, was held here Sunday. He died soon after the fall.

Greenfield Farmers Thrive.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. J. Corwin, local agricultural instructor, whose duties take him to all parts of the district, made a trip to the Hill City country and he was surprised at the progress which the farmers in the Greenfield section, just inside of Itasca county, have made.

Pleased With Chisholm.

Chisholm, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—John and Thomas Ryan of Minneapolis are here looking over the town with a view to entering into business if a suitable location can be found. They have visited all of the range towns and are at present stopping here. They are well impressed with Chisholm.

Returns to Chisholm.

Iron Mountain, Mich., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Tramontin, who has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Felix Valente, of the Chapin location for the last three weeks, left Saturday for his home at Chisholm, Minn.

Biwabik Building Burns.

Biwabik, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire yesterday afternoon destroyed a building belonging to Maurice Lindgren and occupied by four families, the total loss being about $3,500. The volunteer fire-fighters by hard work saved adjoining buildings.

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat, Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. Agent, Wirth's Red Cross Drug store, 13 West Superior street.

RAIN

The weather man on Saturday said "showers for Sunday. He prophesied mildly. The finest downpour of the spring occurred and everybody, except a few who wished to show off their new glad-rags, was glad for it meant taking a big lot of frost out of the ground and bringing the springing of grass and the budding of trees that much nearer. The rain was straight down with no wind and was a real drencher. In the afternoon a little thunder and lightning accompanied it. Today is gray and damp with indications of more rain and the prediction is that way for tonight and tomorrow, together with slightly warmer weather.

A year ago today was fair, chilly and windy. The sun rose today at 4:47 a. m. and will set this evening at 7:22, giving fourteen hours and thirty-five minutes of sunshine, six minutes more than Saturday and three minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four to forty-eight hours light to heavy rains fell throughout the lake region, the central valleys and Northwestern states. Snow was falling this morning over Western Montana. Moderate temperatures are the rule except that chilly to freezing weather prevails over Western Montana, Northwestern Wyoming, Idaho and Alberta.

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 4.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Wisconsin—Unsettled weather tonight and Tuesday; probably thunder showers.

Minnesota and Iowa — Unsettled weather tonight and Tuesday; probably showers.

North Dakota—Mostly cloudy tonight and Tuesday; cooler tonight.

South Dakota—Mostly cloudy tonight and Tuesday; cooler in west portion tonight.

Montana—Cloudy tonight with cooler in east portion; Tuesday fair.

Upper Michigan and Lower Michigan—Cloudy tonight and Tuesday; probably showers.

GOOD HEALTH

Mental work calls an unusual supply of blood to the brain; the process of digestion calls the blood to the stomach. Brain work immediately after a hearty meal often causes indigestion because the brain has first call on a supply of blood that should be helping the stomach.

Wherever, in the economy of the body, work is to be done there is a demand for bright, red blood. Thin blood or blood dark with impurities will not do because it is the oxygen carried by the blood that does the work and oxygen-bearing blood is bright and red. This life-sustaining oxygen is taken up by the blood from the air which meets in the lungs. Hence the great need of fresh air every hour of the day and night. But fresh air is useless if the blood cannot take up the oxygen which it gives. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enable the blood to take up more oxygen because they increase the part of the blood that carries the oxygen. This corrects the lassitude, palpitation of the heart, shaky nerves and the pallor that are the results of thin, impure blood.

You must have pure, rich blood to enjoy complete health. A booklet, "Building Up the Blood" will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

MONTH OF APRIL COLD AND WET

Lake Gale and Excess of Snow and Rain Are Features.

The month of April this year was considerably colder than the same period last year, and considerably more snow and rain fell than usual. The excess of snow was three inches.

The month was featured by several weather disturbances of an unusual nature, according to the monthly report of the United States weather bureau. Quite a severe cold wave occurred on the tenth. The northeastern gale on April 27 and 28 was the most severe in years in the upper lake region. Wind velocities of from forty to fifty miles an hour were the rule from 8:30 p. m. on the twenty-seventh to 8:30 p. m. on the twenty-eighth. The highest seas in years are reported.

The harbor ice disappeared rapidly after the eleventh and was practically gone after the eighteenth. Local navigation was officially opened on April 20, when the America departed for north shore ports.

The highest temperature was 67 degrees on the fifteenth and the lowest was 9 degrees on the eighth. The greatest daily range was 36 degrees on the fifteenth. The highest temperature for this month since 1870 was 82 degrees on the fourteenth in 1908. The lowest was 3 degrees on the first in 1911. The mean temperature was 38.4.

The total precipation was 2.90 inches, total snowfall, 7.5 inches. The greatest precipitation in twenty-four hours was 1.12 inches on the twenty-seventh and twenty-eighth.

The prevailing direction of the wind was northeast. There were nine clear days, partly cloudy, nine; cloudy, twelve.

FINDS BRAINED DOG CANNOT LIVE LONG

Vivisectionist Also Discovers Rabbits Will Die Without Sleep.

New York, May 4.—Dr. George W. Crile of Cleveland, Ohio, addressing the annual meeting of the Medical Society of the State of New York, said he had succeeded in keeping a body of a dog alive for eighteen hours after the grain had been removed. He added that he had discovered that the brain and the liver exercised control over the body in a somewhat similar manner. During the course of his experiments death ensued eighteen hours after the brain of an animal had been removed.

Dr. Crile said that during the course of experiments dealing with what he has termed the kinetic system of the body, he had kept rabbits awake for 100 hours. Some of the rabbits died, however, before the 100-hour period was finished.

DULUTH GIRL DIES.

Miss Amy Peterson Succumbs After Illness of Six Months.

Miss Amy Garda Peterson, 20 years old, born in this city and a graduate of the local schools, died at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Peterson, 1011 East Ninth street, after an illness of six months.

She was very well-known among the younger people of the city and was an active member of the Luther league of the First Swedish Lutheran church. Besides her parents, she is survived by four brothers, Phillip, Henry, Leonard and Ernest, all of Duluth.

The funeral will be held at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the family residence and at 2 o'clock from the First Swedish Lutheran church, Sixth avenue east and Third street. Rev. Carl O. Swan will officiate and interment will be at the Park Hill cemetery.

Cotton Traders Meet.

Augusta, Ga., May 4.—The conference called by the Augusta Cotton exchange and Board of Trade for the purpose of improving rules governing the cotton trade for the benefit of the legitimate trader, began here today. About fifty exchanges will be represented and the conference will continue for two days.

TRIBUTE TO GREAT MEN

Poland's Heroes Are Remembered at Independence Day Gathering.

Nearly 2,000 Citizens of Duluth Gather at the Auditorium.

With expressions of loyalty both to the fatherland and the Stars and Stripes, nearly 2,000 Polish citizens of Duluth celebrated Polish Independence day at the Auditorium yesterday.

Daniel W. Lawler, former mayor of St. Paul, was the chief speaker and paid an eloquent tribute to the Polish heroes who fought for the liberty of the United States as well as for their own country. Mr. Lawler has spoken to the Polish people of Duluth on similar occasions and was received with enthusiasm yesterday. Among the other speakers were Mayor W. J. Prince, M. Kmieciak and Rev. K. Sokolinoski. There were musical numbers by the Polish National band and the Paderewski choir. Because of the rain it was impossible for the Polish-Americans to march in parade from their hall to the Auditorium.

In the opening address Mayor Prince commended the Polish citizens of Duluth for their high standard of citizenship, and urged them to do everything in their power to make Duluth worthy of them and their struggle for political freedom.

Tribute to Kosciuszko.

Mr. Lawler's address brought forth great applause when he extolled the name of Kosciuszko, who fought for America's independence, and who later fell fighting for the liberty of his own land. He also referred to Pulaski, who died fighting in the American revolution. His address was eloquent and covered the most stirring incidents of Poland's struggle for liberty. He spoke, in part, as follows:

"One hundred and twenty-three years ago the national parliament of Poland adopted the so-called 'Constitution of May 3rd,' the greatest enunciation of political freedom next to the American Declaration of Independence, ever given to the world by the mind of man. It declared the right of a people to govern itself, free from the tyrannical meddling of any other people.

Pleads for Cause.

"While Poland has not yet achieved the independence promised by that wonderful enactment, the memory of the deeds of your fathers must be a spur to you which will carry your cause to ultimate success.

"As Poland gave the lifeblood and brains of these great patriots to help the American people to gain its freedom, so may we hope that America, through its Polish citizens, shall give to the world the genius which shall rescue Poland from its bondage."

METHODISTS WILL DECIDE ON SCHOOL

Vanderbilt University Problem Confronts the Southern Church.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 4.—More than 300 ministers and laymen are expected to attend the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, which will convene here Wednesday. The conference will adjourn May 28.

Interest centers chiefly in the action to be taken with regard to Vanderbilt university, which the supreme court of Tennessee has held not to be the property or under jurisdiction of the church. Whether a new college will be built or some other school selected as the representative educational institution of the church will be threshed out.

The question of equal suffrage for women and greater power for laity of the church also will be considered.

Another matter to be settled is whether permanent places of residence of the bishops should be determined by the conference. At present bishops are permitted to choose their own place of residence.

Here Is Good News for Stomach Victims

Some very remarkable results are being obtained by treating stomach, liver and intestinal troubles with pure vegetable oils, which exert a cleansing, soothing and purifying action upon the lower bowels, removing the obstructions of poisonous fecal matter and gases and preventing their absorption by the blood. This done, the food is allowed free passage from the stomach, fermentation ceases and stomach troubles quickly disappear.

George H. Mayr, for twenty years a leading Chicago druggist, cured himself and many of his friends of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles of years' standing by this treatment, and so successful was the remedy he devised that it has since been placed in the hands of druggists all over the country, who have sold thousands of bottles.

Though absolutely harmless, the effect of the medicine is sufficient to convince any one of its remarkable effectiveness, and within 24 hours the sufferer feels like a new person. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by all druggists.

BANKERS TO DO INSURING

North Dakotans Find Patronizing Casualty Companies Too Expensive.

Propose to Organize a Burglary Protective Insurance Company.

Bismarck, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota Bankers' association will organize a burglary protective insurance company, a committee of the association having already planned preliminaries to such organization.

The fact that North Dakota bankers paid out a total of $17,162.42 in protective insurance during the past year and that the losses paid by the casualty companies aggregated only $256.11, is responsible for the step that has been taken by the association.

That the average of premium payments and losses established during the last year is typical of the condition for several years past, is the contention of the bankers who are backing the insurance company. Application will be made to the insurance commissioner for a charter within a few days.

BURDICK FOR GRONNA.

Announcement Sends Cold Chill Down Miller Supporters' Spines.

Rugby, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—U. L. Burdick, Progressive Republican candidate for governor, is supporting A. J. Gronna in the United States senatorial fight, and making a statement to that effect in response to the question, put to him while he was here in promoting his own candidacy.

To the friends of Andy Miller, many of whom are aligned with Burdick, the stand of the gubernatorial candidate is somewhat embarrassing, but it is not generally believed that it will have any material effect upon Burdick's support.

Both Gronna and Andy Miller are Progressive Republicans.

DYNAMITE VICTIM.

Farmer Near Halstad, Minn., Killed Blowing Up Stumps.

Halstad, Minn., May 4.—John Blomseth, aged 45, a well known farmer was killed by the explosion of a charge of dynamite while destroying stumps on his farm with dynamite.

He had placed a charge under a stump and retired to a place of safety for the explosion. For some reason the explosion was delayed and after waiting some time Blomseth went forward to make an investigation. Just as he got to the stump the charge exploded and he received its full force.

He was blown a distance of fifteen feet and was terribly injured. His chest was broken by the force of the explosion and one of his ribs pierced his heart. He lived but a few minutes. He is survived by his wife and three children.

FINDS CHARRED BODY.

Hay Raker Near Jamestown, N. D., Makes Discovery.

Jamestown, N. D., May 4.—What is supposed to be the charred body of Mrs. George Rippley, who mysteriously disappeared last November, was discovered upon the farm of George Spangler, fifteen miles southwest of here.

The 10-year-old son of the owner of the farm, while raking up a pile of hay, was attracted to an object near the edge of a burned hay stack. He notified his father, who advised the coroner at Jamestown. It proved to be the body of a human being.

Little remained of the body but the charred torso, the legs and arms having been burned away. The head and skull had been partly consumed, but several of the teeth were found, which were in a good state of preservation.

FEAR MOB VIOLENCE.

So West Salem, Wis., Slayer Is Lodged in La Crosse Jail.

La Crosse, Wis., May 4.—Walter Jones, charged with shooting and killing William Voeck at West Salem, Wis., late Saturday night, was brought here Sunday and lodged in jail because of the threatening attitude of West Salem citizens.

Jones left West Salem last July before a warrant for his arrest, charging him with assaulting his wife, could be served. He returned Saturday and was arrested. While in charge of a deputy sheriff, Jones met Voeck and Samuel Selmar on the street, and drawing a revolver, fired three times at them. Voeck fell dead, but Selmar escaped injury. Jones, the police say, said he fired at the men because he had been informed he would be mobbed if he returned to West Salem and he feared Voeck and Selmar were after him.

CASS COUNTY LEADS.

First in North Dakota in Automobile Licenses Issued.

Fargo, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cass county again leads in the distribution of auto licenses by Secretary of States Hall. The total amount apportioned is over $25,000, of which Cass has secured about one-tenth, leading all other counties in both auto and motorcycles. There are 929 of the former and seventy-two of the latter. Grand Forks is next with 597 autos. Bottineau is second in motorcycles with sixty. The funds are to be expended for county roads under the direction of the board of county commissioners. There are yet a number of machines unlicensed.

THREE FIRE CASES.

Actions Involving Damages for Fires Near Barrows Started.

Brainerd, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Among cases to come up for trial during the May term of district court are three involving damages suffered from careless setting of fires, damages being claimed from the Virginia Ore Mining company at Barrows. Albert E. Allen claims $1,000 damages; William E. Corkrey, $600, and William A. Eastling, $1,100. Charlotte E. Neal, in her suit against the Brainerd Ice company, alleges the ice house is in danger of collapsing, that it is damaging her lots nearby and she asks $1,000 damages. Jeremiah Griffin has sued the Brainerd Improvement company and an insurance company, alleging $5,000 damages when he fell down stairs which he says were wet and slippery and poorly lighted and that he broke his left leg and sustained other injuries. Nels Hegstad has sued the Northern Pacific railway, claiming sparks from locomotives set fire to his house, etc., and caused a loss of $2,000.

CONGRESSMAN YOUNG WILL REMAIN ON JOB

GEORGE M. YOUNG.

Valley City, May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Congressman George M. Young of this district, candidate for re-election who lives here, has filed his official campaign statement in conformity with the state law. He announces among other thinggs he will remain on the job in Washington.

"I would like to return to North Dakota to make a personal campaign for renomination," the congressman says, "but I do not feel justified in leaving my congressional duties at this time when questions of unusual and supreme importance are before congress, involving not only great problems of domestic concern to our nation, but foreign questions of grave import. I cannot in good conscience leave the people's business here to go home to look after my own. So I shall remain here while there is need for it. If conditions change at Washington I hope it may be possible to spend some time in North Dakota at the close of the campaign. But I must depend, in very large measure, upon the support, the assistance of those who believe in me and the things for which I stand. To them I appeal, and believing my record made during this my first term in congress will meet with the approval of the people I await their verdict with confidence.

NORTH DAKOTANS TAKING TO CORN.

Fargo, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will be an immense increase in the corn acreage in North Dakota this year, according to the advices received at the office of the North Dakota Farming association. In many localities farmers will double their acreage. In others farmers, who have not heretofore grown the crop will this year plant some. The field agents of the better farming movement accomplished a great work last fall in inducing the farmers to save large quantities of high-grade seed. In some counties seed corn Sundays were held in which the ministers preached on the value of the crop. In others there were seed corn weeks in which the farmers selected the best ears.

C. H. Warner Flies.

Aitkin, Minn., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Having withdrawn as candidate for senator in the interest of Fred D. Vibert of Cloquet, Former Representative C. H. Warner of Aitkin today filed for the nomination for representative.

JUMPS ON RUSTY SIDEWALK NAIL

While working on a well digging machine a Minnesota man jumped upon a rusty sidewalk spike. The nail drove part of his black woolen sock far up into his foot. He removed as much of the sock as he could, put on Allen's Ulcerine Salve, and kept right on with his work. The salve drew out parts of the sock and all other poisons and in a week his foot was healed up.

This salve is one of the oldest remedies in America and since 1869 it has been known as the only salve powerful enough to cure chronic ulcers and old sores of long standing.

Allen's Ulcerine Salve acts by drawing out the poisons and healing the sore from the bottom up. It is so powerful that it heals new cuts and sores in one-third the time that common salves and liniments take. And it heals scalds and burns without a scar. Sold by the Spencer Pharmacy company and other leading druggists.

CHICAGOAN GOES HOME IN CASKET

Drowns at Minot, N. D., While on His Way to Windy City.

Mino, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hal Reynolds of Spokane, Wash., was drowned in the Mouse river here Saturday while canoeing. His body was taken to Chicago, where his parents live and had expected him after several years' absence.

Mrs. Reynolds and her husband were visiting here with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Selby for a few days, en route to Chicago from Spokane.

RED RIVER VALLEY GETS MORE RAIN.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—More rain fell over the northern Red River valley Saturday evening, and with misty weather prevailing Sunday, there is little chance that seeding operations can be resumed before Wednesday over much of the state.

The rain extended to Devils Lake, and northward to the boundary line.

WOMEN PETITION MAN'S REINSTATEMENT.

Larimore, N. D., May 4.—Special to The Herald.)—About 150 women have petitioned Mayor Martin Nelson to reinstate Richard Fadden as police chief. Mr. Fadden was recently removed by Mayor Nelson, who appointed W. N. Phillips.

Citizens of Larimore have not taken kindly to the change, and in addition to the big petition signed by the women, another petition, equally as large, was signed and presented by the men.

HAD MUCH SNUFF.

Ten Packages Found on Body of Man Killed at Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Beyond the fact that the man killed by a Great Northern train here Friday night was a snuff chewer, officials have been unable to learn anything concerning him. In his pockets were found ten packages of snuff. Information leads them to the belief that he was a Devils Lake resident, and inquiry is being made there.

FOREST RANGER HAS NEW LAUNCH.

Grand Marais, Minn., May 4.—Deputy Ranger Kasper has received a new 30-foot gasoline launch for use in the service along the shore in place of the Ranger, which will be taken to Ely to be placed in service on the lakes in that vicinity. The new boat is considerably larger than the Ranger and is propelled by a 12-horse power engine.

The General says:

"My three big roofing and building paper mills are the most complete in the world"

Large scale production, modern and scientific manufacturing methods, unexcelled shipping facilities—these are some of the factors that determine the cost and quality of any manufactured article. This is the reason for our success and the success of our dealers on

Certain-teed

Quality Cert-ified Roofing Durability Guaran-teed

At each of our three mills we manufacture the following complete lines of roofing and building papers, etc.:

Certain-teed Roofing—extra quality—for use where long and efficient service is required—reasonable in price—made in rolls—1, 2 and 3-ply; guaranteed 5, 10 and 15 years—for factories, farm buildings, stores, warehouses, etc.

Certain-teed Construction Roof—excellent as a built-up form of roofing.

Certain-teed Asphalt Shingles—for residences or any steep roof—have the general appearance of slate—guaranteed 15 years.

Certain-teed Insulating Paper—acid and waterproof—odorless—for cold storage and refrigerator works.

Certain-teed Asphalt Felts—for built-up roofs and waterproofing purposes — do not dry out as tarred felts do.

Certain-teed 20X Waterproof Liner—saturated in Certain-teed Cement — cold storage and sheathiug purposes.

Certain-teed Roofing Cement—for roofing and waterproofing purposes.

Certain-teed Roof Coating—renews life in old roofs—contains no coal tar.

Standard Quality Roofing—a standard grade product guaranteed equal to other manufacturers' standard grades—our prices are lower.

Competition Quality—made for a price proposition—not the cheapest that can be made, but the cheapest that ought to be made. Nothing better for the price.

Slate Surface Shingles—red and green—not recommended for durability as surfacing comes off in a few years—artistic when new—Certain-teed Asphalt Shingles are more satisfactory.

Tarred Felt—No. 1, 2 and 3—slater's felt, stringed felt, dry saturated felt.

Rosin-sized Sheathing—red and gray—for general sheathing purposes.

Blue Plaster Board—for lining inside of walls, etc.

Deadening Felt—used between walls and floors and under carpets.

Coal Tar and Pitch.

SPECIAL—Certain-teed PLASTIC CEMENT—of semi-hard consistency and is applied with a putty knife—for repairing leaks and holes in metal, felt, and the tile roofs, flashing, repairing gutters and water troughs; in fact has a hundred uses around a house. IRON ORE PRICES ARE FIXED ON 1912 BASIS

Iron ore prices for the present season have been fixed on the same basis as in 1912, meaning a reduction of from 55 to 65 cents a ton, according to advices received at Duluth from Cleveland today. This means that $3.75 a ton will be paid for old range bessemer ore; $3 for old range non-bessemer, and $2.85 for Mesaba non-bessemer.

It is expected that a cut of 5 cents a ton all around will be made in vessel carrying charges from Lake Superior ports to the lower lakes.

With the ore figures finally settled it is thought that substantial contracts will be entered into within the next few days. Considerable tonnage is reported to have been already booked.

AMERICANS SAFE IN MEXICO CITY

Washington, May 4.—The Brazilian minister in Mexico City notified the state department today that Americans there are in no way harrassed by the government and that in the few instances where arrests have been made relief has been obtained upon representations by Senor Cardoza. He added that Americans in the capital were in no danger.

Reports that Americans had been killed in San Pedro, Chiahas, were denied at the state department today in a formal statement.

AGED WOMAN'S WILL CONTESTED

Son Claims His Niece Used "Undue Influence."

After a lapse of several weeks, taking of testimony has been resumed in the lawsuit which is pending between John F. Anderson and his niece, Minnie Athele Pearson, before Judge Bert Fesler. The action is one in which the plaintiff, John F. Anderson, son of Annie C. Anderson, a West end widow, who died Christmas day, 1912, is claiming that prior to his mother's death his niece, the defendant, used undue influence on her and secured her signature to a deed which gave her the entire property.

The widow at the time was possessed of a valuable 50-foot frontage and three-story building at 1705 West Superior street. Anderson is seeking to have the deed set aside and the property divided in accordance with a will which had been left by the widow. Under the will the property left by the widow was to be divided equally between the son and granddaughter. Mrs. Anderson was 87 years old at the time of her death. It is claimed by Anderson that she was not competent to attend to her business affairs at the time she attached her mark to the deed. Miss Pearson took the stand for cross-examination this morning. It is expected that the case will be submitted this afternoon.

RINES CONFIDENT OF WINNING OUT

Henry Rines of Mora, speaker of the recent state house of representatives, and now a candidate for the Republican nomination for state auditor, is in the city today, partly on business and also for the purpose of looking over the political situation.

Mr. Rines, who is supported by an astonishingly large number of state newspapers, feels more than satisfied with the way his candidacy is being accepted and supported in all parts of the state, and feels more than satisfied with the way his candidacy is being accepted and supported in all parts of the state, and feels that victory on June 16 is practically assured.

SEVENTY WITNESSES AGAINST BECKER

Rose, Webber and Vallon Will Be Principal Ones Heard

New York, May 4.—For the second trial of Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, on a charge of having instigated the murder of Herman Rosenthal, District Attorney Charles S. Whitman will call seventy witnesses. The trial will begin Wednesday. Many new faces, it is said, will be seen in the witness chair, and several witnesses prominent in the first trial will not appear.

As at the first trial, the state's case will be made around the story of Jack Rose, which corroborated "Bridgie" Webber and Harry Vallon. The other member of the quartet made famous in the previous trial is Sam Schepps, but the ruling of the court of appeals in granting Becker a new trial discredited his testimony and made it valueless at the coming trial.

One Sensation Missing.

The sensational feature of the first Becker trial, too, will be missing. The death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison on Easter Monday of the four gunmen convicted of the actual killing of Rosenthal removed them from the scene and prevented a repetition of the drama enacted when they were led into the courtroom to be identified by witnesses as the murderers.

For the defense, Martin T. Manton persists in a policy of silence as to his plans. It is said, however, that Becker is anxious to take the stand in his own behalf and that Manton may permit him to do so.

It is expected that several days will be occupied securing a jury. The trial will occupy three weeks or a month.

MEDIATORS FORM "COURT OF HONOR"

Washington, May 4.—A general understanding today was that the South American mediators had decided to limit their activities at this time to a settlement of the Tampico incident solely, and that the appointment of the Huerta delegates was made on that basis.

This would constitute the mediators an international court of honor to decide on whether the United States was entitled to reparation for the "insult to the flag" at Tampico, and what form that reparation should take. After that point had been settled they would be confronted by the question of indemnity which probably would be claimed by the United States for its Vera Cruz expedition and other expenses incident to the present difficulties.

STOCKING STREAMS.

Northern Wisconsin Trout Breeding Places Being Supplied.

Ashland, Wis., May 4.—More brook trout and bass and pike will be distributed in the streams of the Northern Wisconsin this spring than has been the case any time within the past ten years. Nearly every small stream and lake in the Chequamegon bay region will be restocked.

Moquah received the first consignment last week. Fish creek was restocked at Ashland Junction, April 21, Miller's creek at Highbridge, April 23, the Brunschweiler at Marengo and a stream at Glidden on the 24th. Other places which will be stocked with trout are Eileen, Nash, Benoit, Drummond, Iron river, White river near Oshland, Ino, Delta, Grand View and Sanborn, 552 cans all told.

The following places will be stocked with bass and pikes: Lakes adjacent to Ashland, Delta, Spider, Drummond, Sweden, Topside, 236 cans of bass and pike.

BIG SUM INVOLVED.

St. Cloud, Minn., May 4.—Judge J. A. Roeser will go to International Falls this week to preside over one of the most important cases in the annals of the district court of that section. All three judges of the district were disqualified from presiding over the case on affidavits of prejudice which were filed, and the St. Cloud jurist was selected to fill the place.

The suit is that of Haupt vs. the Minnesota & Ontario Power company, and it is said that several hundred thousand dollars are involved, although little information concerning it has been received here.

It is likely that Judge McClenahan of Brainerd will come here to open the district court of Stearns county a week from today, as the hearing of the case at International Falls will require a considerable length of time.

PULL WALDO FROM ROCKS

Wrecked Steamer Is Towed Into the Portage Ship Canal.

Concrete Bottom Built Into Ship By the Wrecking Crew.

Calumet, Mich., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer Waldo of Detroit, which was wrecked on Gull Rock, Manitou Island, last fall, while bound down with iron ore, was released yesterday by the wrecker Favorite, Capt. Cunning, and towed into the Portage ship canal this morning.

The Waldo with temporary patches is in good condition. Wrecking operations were begun last fall, but ceased in February, resuming again last month. The Waldo was given up by the owners to underwriters last fall. The saving of the steamer is considered an extraordinary piece of work. A concrete bottom was built into the ship which is of steel. The Waldo is likely to be taken to the Detroit drydock.

LACK OF LIGHT NOT THE CAUSE

Owner of Steamer Noble Investigates Loss of His Vessel.

That the sinking of the steamer Benjamin Noble and her crew of twenty men and big cargo was in no way due to the inefficient lighting and signal service at the entrance of Duluth harbor during the recent storm is the conclusion reached by J. A. Francombe of Detroit after an investigation of all reports regarding the wreck today.

He has decided that the wreck was caused by the foundering of the vessel near Knife Island, a few miles this side of Two Harbors, on the night of April 27.

Mr. Francombe bases his conclusions largely on the report of the captain of the steamer Morrell, who stated after arriving in Duluth, that he passed the Noble and the Norfolk near Knife Island, and that he saw the lights of the Noble go down shortly after passing the two vessels. Both the Norwalk and the Morrell reached the Duluth port in safety and found the lights burning that night.

Mr. Francombe says that it was not until the night of the 28th that the lighting was inefficient and as he believes the ship went down on the night before, he does not lay the loss of his vessel to the fact that part of the lights were not burning on the 28th.

Mr. Francombe, however, did not excuse the condition of affairs that existed on the 28th, and says that a government investigation will be made. He said that he talked with Congressman Miller yesterday and that the latter assured him that there would be a complete report made to the officials at Washington and that a thorough investigation could be expected.

LOADING AT MARQUETTE.

Steamer Taylor Taking First Ore at That Port This Season.

Marquette, Mich., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.):—The steamer J. F. Taylor, owned by the Algoma Steel Co., arrived Saturday and is loading with ore at the South Shore dock. The Taylor is the first ore carrier to load here this season, and will take on a cargo of about 5,500 tons from the American mine.

It will be impossible to finish loading the Taylor before today or Tuesday, as the shipments of ore from the American mine are coming slowly. Capt. R. H. Boyle, one of the Algoma's veterans, is in charge of the boat.

The steamer Harvard of the U. S. Steel fleet reached port yesterday. She has approximately 7,200 tons capacity and will load Buffalo-Cameo, and Bedford ores.

FIRST CORPORATION BOATS AFTER ORE

The steamer W. J. Olcott of the Pittsburg Steamship company, which arrived yesterday, marked the opening of the season for the shipment of ore by corporation boats. The Olcott was preceded by the Samuel Morse, which came in with coal and departed with ore. The Olcott was the first of the season to come light for ore. The Olcott is now loading a cargo at the Missabe docks.

REES GETS OFF SHOAL WITH HER OWN POWER.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 4. — The steamer W. D. Rees, which ran aground on Seneca shoal, eight miles off this harbor, Monday, worked off the reef under her own steam Saturday and came into port undamaged.

STEAMER L. C. WALDO RELEASED AND AT SOO

Houghton, Mich., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—After two weeks' work this spring, Capt. Albert Cummings of the Great Lakes Dock & Dredge company's wrecker Favorite, succeeded in floating the stranded L. C. Waldo, which went aground on Manitou Island last September.

The steamer was brought into the upper canal and beached at 3 a. m. today. Temporary repairs will be made before starting for Eastern drydocks.

Superior

SUPERIOR HAS A TRAFFIC COP

Superior residents are being given a new form of education. The new education is along traffic lines.

No longer may a person in that city cross the street in that careless free matter-of-fact way from corner to corner, but instead it is now necessary to do it along "square" lines.

A big cop—his name was said to be Mike Mangan—stood in the center of the intersection of Tower and Belknap street, Saturday to give the Superior resident the first taste of the new traffic ordinance. He stopped each to inform them that from now on they would have to "cut square corners or take the penalty."

The new ordinance was given its first tryout Saturday at this crossing. Broadway will be the next spot where a traffic policeman will be stationed.

FIND BODY HANGING TO RAFTERS IN SHANTY

The body of an unidentified man was found Saturday hanging to the rafters of shanty owned by Fred Kranz near the South Shore tracks on Grand avenue. The body was found by Robert Smith.

All efforts to identify the man have so far proved futile. Several clews have been run down, but so far no one has been found who knew him. The body was taken to Downs' undertaking rooms. The man was apparently 35 years old, appears to be of Polish descent and wore fairly good clothes.

Will Decide on Paving.

Tower avenue property owners will meet in the council chamber of the city hall this afternoon for the purpose of selecting the material for paving the thoroughfare from Sixteenth to Twenty-eighth streets. It is expected that there will be considerable difference of opinion as to the material to be selected.

Killed in Well.

Edward Higging, former resident of Superior, was instantly killed Saturday while working in a well at Bain, Minn. A heavy piece of pipe fell on him, breaking his neck. The body will be brought to Superior tonight and the funeral arrangements will be made tomorrow morning.

Smith New Vicar General.

Rev. Fr. C. F. Smith of Rice Lake, Wis., will become vicar general of the Superior Catholic diocese on June 1, according to announcement made this morning. He will take the place recently made vacant by the resignation of Rev. J. B. Scheyer from that post. The latter resigned on account of ill health.

TOWNSEND ATTACKS TOLLS REPEAL BILL

Washington, May 4.—A vigorous attack on the bill to repeal the toll exemption clause of the Panama canal act was made in the senate today by Senator Townsend of Michigan. He declared that the passage of the repeal bill would mean voting the United States guilty of perfidity and dishonor in its original decision to exempt American ships.

He characterized as "cowardice" the attitude of those who favored the repeal because foreign nations had challenged the right of the United States to exempt its coastwise shipping from tolls.

MEXICANS SHOOT AT U. S. CAVALRYMEN

El Paso, May 4.—Two troopers of the Twelfth cavalry patrolling the border east of El Paso were fired on by three Mexicans last night on the other side of the Rio Grande, according to reports today. The Americans did not return the fire.

BANKER CLARK RETIRES.

Sells North Dakota Interests to Live in New York State.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sidney L. Clark, long prominent in banking in this section is disposing of all his interests and will make his home in Jamestown, N. Y.

Buildings Locked Up.

Minot, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ten buildings, several of them valuable business properties, will be padlocked this week by Sheriff Kelley, for one year, by authority of an injunctions issued by Judge Leighton, on the application of State's Attorney Nestos because the buildings had been used for blindpigging and as resorts of questionable character.

WHEAT FIRM TO THE CLOSE

Market Gains Moderately on Strength at Chicago and Short Covering.

Flaxseed Advances With Higher Cables and Buying By Crushers.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 4.—The market held firm up to the close. May wheat closed ¼c up; July ½c up, and September ½c up at 88¼c. May durum closed unchanged, and July ¼c off.

Oats closed unchanged at 36¾c on the track, and at 36c for to arrive. Rye closed unchanged at 56½@58½c, and barley unchanged at from 54c to 59c for choice grain.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at 89⅝@89¾c asked, and calls at 90@90⅛c.

The wheat market showed stirength today in sympathy with Chicago where heavy short covering demand and export sales aggregating 8,000,000 bu. during the last few days, were reported. Armour was said to be a liberal buyer of September wheat on that market. His operations were believed to be on foreign account.

Liverpool was also firm on lighter world's shipments and an improved general demand.

Receipts at Duluth were light last week, amounting to only 26,000 bu. of all grains. Shipments aggregated 3,713,000 bu, and taking into account the sending down the lakes of the supplies afloat, stocks at the elevators here, decreased 5,688,216 bu during the week. Wheat stocks showed a reduction of 3,924,531 bu., bringing them down to 10,233,779 bu.

Reports regarding the winter crop prospects were all of a bearish nature, telling of uniformly high condition in every quarter. Traders, however, expressed some uneasiness over the additional delay in seeding operations that will be brought about through the heavy rains of yesterday over Minnesota and North Dakota, and that was partially responsible for the firmness shown in spring wheat quotations.

American primary receipts showed a large falling off from last year. They amounted to only 653,000 bu. today compared with 1,214,000 bu. a year ago. Receipts at Duluth were 37 cars against 78 last year, and at Minneapolis they were down to 185 cars against 385 cars last year.

May wheat opened ¼c up at 91¾c; and it gained ¼c more up to the final hour. July opened unchanged at 91¾c, and gained ⅜c. The September option opened ¼c up at 88c, and advanced ½c more. Nothing whatever was done in May durum during the first three hours of the session. The July option was traded in at 89¼c, a fractional gain from Saturday.

Flaxseed Turns Stronger.

Good inquiry for flaxseed was again in evidence today and while the volume of business put through was light, quotations scored fair advances. Final prices showed gains of ⅞@1c with the close at the top.

With the Winnipeg market closed, strong cables were the main factor in the situation. Antwerp closed ⅝c up; Buenos Aires 1¼c up and London ⅞c up.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.57¼ and closed ⅞c up at $1.58½. July opened ⅝c up at $1.59 and closed ⅞c up at $1.59½. September opened unchanged at $1.60¼ and closed ⅞c up at $1.61¼ bid. The October option opened unchanged at $1.57¾ and closed 1c up at $1.58¾.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool—"The market met with good support and shorts covering with offers light and values ⅛ to ¼d higher. There was firmness in the Continental markets and good takings by the Continent of American wheat with light Russian shipments and small world's shipments. During the morning there was some disposition for profits, which resulted in a small decline, but on the decline support was in evidence with strength in corn assisting. At 1:30 p. m. prices were ¼ to ¼d higher.

"Corn opened ¼ to ¼d lower on better weather in Argentina, but later shorts covered and prices advanced ½d with offers light. At 1:30 p. m. prices were ¼ to ⅜d higher."

"There was never such a wheat prospect in this country," said James A. Patton of Chicago in the course of an interview. "Practically no acreage has been abandoned and there were never more favorable weather conditions. If the present promise is harvested I expect to see wheat sell at 70 cents in Chicago.

"If promise is realized we would have about 350,000,000 bu of wheat to export and in the event that Canada supplies 200,000,000 bu, which is not unreasonable, North America could supply the important nations of the world. This would make a hard problem for other large exporting countries outside of North America.

"In my opinion nothing short of disaster, such as is now unforeseen and unlikely, can prevent the United States from harvesting an enormous wheat crop."

Canadian oats continue to be a heavy weight on the American market. Fort William cleared 2,352,000 bu between April 20 and April 25. This amount was in addition to the large stock of bonded Canadian oats previously available in American markets, chiefly lake ports. The combined Canadian and American visible supply last Monday was 27,045,000 bu against 19,467,000 a year ago.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Opens Strong, But Trading Is Light.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 4.—Lighter receipts, a fair cash demand and higher cables caused a strong wheat market at the opening here today. Trading in the options was very light throughout the forenoon. Reports from grain experts in the field say the ground in all parts of the spring wheat district was never in better condition at this time of the year for a big crop. It is generally understood by traders and brokers that seeding of spring wheat is practically completed. Wheat—May opened 88⅞c; high, 89¼c; low, 88⅞c; closed 89¼c. July opened 89⅝c; high, 90¼c; low, 89⅝c; closed 89⅞c.

Cash: No. 1 hard, 94¼c; No. 1 northern, 91¼@93¼c; to arrive, 91⅛@92¼c; choice to arrive, 92⅞c; No. 2 northern, 89¼@91¼c; to arrive, 89⅜@90⅜c; No. 3 wheat, 87¼@89¼c.

Flax, $1.55½@1.58⅛.

Flour was reported in good demand today, millers booking many new orders and filling old orders. Prices unchanged. Shipments, 55,331 barrels.

Barley, 44@58c. Rye, 57@58c.

Bran unchanged.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Prices Are Boosted By Covering By Shorts.

Chicago, May 4.—Efforts of shorts to stop their losses in May wheat led to a sharp advance today in that option and caused other futures to score a considerable gain. Offerings of May were decidedly scarce. Higher cables counted in favor of the bulls. The opening was ¼c to 1⅜@1½c up and the market continued strong, but not all of the bulge was held.

Good buying here on foreign account and a big decrease in the domestic visible supply total helped to sustain the advance. The close was easy at a gain of ⅝@⅞c to ⅞@⅞c net.

In the corn crowd, persistent buying both of May and of deferred futures by leading houses made quotations climb. The immediate incentive was news that rains had returned in Argentina, and were causing delay and damage. Prices started ⅛@⅜c higher, and subsequently went still further.

Withdrawal of Argentine offers for May delivery tended to prevent any important reaction. The close was steady, ⅜c to ½@⅝c net higher.

Oats hardened with corn. Trade, though, was not large.

Provisions although dull developed firmness from the outset. The chief reason was the upturn in prices for grain and hogs.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Bullish Operations Are Resumed Confidently and Prices Rise.

Market Falls Back After Buying Movement Is Exhausted.

New York, May 4.—The upward tendency of the market, although evident soon after the opening, was impeded for a time by speculative profit-taking. In the forenoon there was a general advance following the announcement of the president's appointment to the Federal reserve board. The street was well pleased with the selections on which traders based a bullish movement.

Advice from the west reported that a good volume of business was moving over the railroads, strengthening the favorable impression made by the March financial returns. News from abroad was less encouraging and London sold stocks here, but these offerings were absorbed without difficulty. On the upturn all of the leading shares gained a point or so.

Bonds were steady.

Early movements of stocks today were narrower and irregular. Only a small amount of orders came in over the week-end, and with no change of moment in conditions here or abroad to give traders a lead, they did little. London prices were barely changed, except for a renewed decline in Canadian Pacific. There was a corresponding dip in that stock here, but otherwise the list gave no signs of weakness. Active buying of Missouri Pacific was resumed and the quotation was forced up 1⅜. The whole list stiffened after half an hour's trading, several stocks gaining a point.

After noon dealings contracted greatly, but the market's strength was unimpaired. Bullish speculation was helped by further reports of excellent crop conditions and by the fall in call and time money rates. While London sold 15,000 shares the effect of this was more than counterbalanced by the buying of local commission houses.

The market closed easy. Bullish operations were resumed with confidence today and prices were advanced 1 to 2 points before reacting. Exhaustion of the vigorous buying movement and selling by traders caused the market to fall back ½ to 1 point before the close.

BROKERS SUSPEND.

Cramp, Mitchell & Co. of Philadelphia Quit Business.

Philadelphia, May 4.—The failure of Cramp, Mitchell & Co., bankers and brokers, was announced on the Philadelphia stock exchange today with liabilities given as $3,600,000 and the assets $3,100,000.

It had been known for some time that the firm was having difficulty, owing to severe losses on underwriting operations.

The firm was composed of Theodore W. Cramp and Howard E. Mitchell. The latter, who has been ill for some time, was the board member. A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the United States court here and immediately granted, Charles W. Packard, president of one of the city's largest financial institutions, being appointed temporary receiver.

The involuntary petition was filed by three customers of the firm, whose claims aggregated $874.

A statement from the firm accompanied the petition. The statement admitted that the members of Cramp, Mitchell & Co., individually and as a firm, were unable to meet their debts. The statement added that the firm had about 300 open accounts.

STRONG TONE TO THE COPPERS

Butte & Superior was the feature in mining stocks trading at Boston today. The issue advanced $3 a share to $37.38 on the announcement that the circuit court had reversed the decision of the Montana court in the Hyde flotation process.

Greene-Cananea was also heavily traded in on the improved situation in Mexico, advancing $2.25 to a close of $32.25. Alaska Gold closed 25 cents up at $26.75; Calumet & Arizona 25 cents up at $66.50; North Butte unchanged at $26.25; Shattuck unchanged at $24, and Amalgamated Copper 50 cents up at $73.

In the Duluth curb list Calumet & Corbin was traded in at 28 cents and Alex Scott at $5.

At St. Louis, lead closed strong at $3.80@3.85 and spelter strong at $4.95. Paine, Webber & Co. had the following from Calumet today: "Results from mine development and diamond drilling in the ashbed lode on the Phoenix property show rock of good quality and the Calumet-Keweenaw company being the principal stockholder of the Phoenix Consolidated Copper company, we have to provide our portion of the expense incurred. Development by diamond drills on other lands owned or controlled by the company in the ashbed lode is disclosing valuable copper rock, and this work is now so well advanced that we will probably secure sufficient information of this character to suspend diamond drilling upon completion of the twelve additional drill holes. The work of sinking one or more shafts and opening the lode where pay copper rock is found will be vigorously prosecuted. To provide funds, an assessment has been called of $1 per share, due June 1, 1914."

The Anaconda, for the year ended Dec. 31, showed a surplus equal to $2.61 per share, against $3.66 the previous year.

GIRL MURDERED AND HER MOTHER SHOT

Marionville, Mo., May 4.—Miss Ethel Griffy, 18 years old, was shot and killed, and her mother, Mrs. W. B. Griffy, probably fatally shot here last night. Authorities believe the shooting was done by a former sweetheart of Miss Griffy, jealous because she had allowed another admirer to accompany her to church. A posse started early today in search of the slayer, who fled into the woods, south of town.

SETTLEMENT FOR LOSS OF SIGHT

PURCHASES AND SALES

Commission Will Consider Establishing a Purchasing Department.

Sale of Two Pieces of City Property Also Up.

The sale of two pieces of city property and the new purchasing ordinance are thus far the principal subjects which will engage the attention of the city council at its regular meeting this afternoon.

The properties are the house and lot owned by the water and light department on South street between Fourteenth and Fifteenth avenues east and the Lakeside town hall and lot.

The Endion Lumber company recently submitted an offer of $1,950 for the former. Commissioner Merritt moved that the bid be rejected at the last meeting of the council but the council split on the question, Commissioner Merritt being supported by Commissioner Murchison and Mayor Prince and Commissioner Voss taking the opposite side. Commissioner Hicken was absent. Commissioner Merritt asserted that he could get a better price and at the meeting today will submit an offer of $2,500, accompanied by a check for $250. The offer is being made by Thomas Knudson, an employe of the department who is now occupying the property. It is understood that another offer will be presented by the Duluth Builders Supply company. Commissioner Voss and Mayor Prince held that all had had an equal opportunity to bid at the time the sale was authorized and it was a matter of good faith on the part of the city to accept the bid of the lumber company. The outcome at this afternoon's meeting, when the full commission will be present, is uncertain.

An offer of $2,000 was received for the town hall in response to the bids. Another of $1,400 was received. The opinion has been expressed that these bids are too low and it is unlikely that either of them will be accepted.

Purchasing Ordinance.

The probability is that the purchasing ordinance, which makes the city clerk purchasing agent and provides for the beginning of a store system, will be passed, as Mayor Prince and Commissioners Voss and Hicken have expressed themselves as favorable to it.

Commissioner Merritt will ask that the council fix a date for a hearing on the housing code. He states that the ordinance has been subjected to much complaint and that the complaints should be threshed out in order that they may be corrected if they are well founded. The commissioner says that the objections have been from two principal sources, one being the landlord class which wants to get the greatest revenue for the least expenditure and the other being the small home-owners. He declares that he has no brief to hold for the former, but that he wishes to safe-guard the welfare of the latter.

Commissioner Merritt will introduce an ordinance appropriating $6,000 from the utility fund for the construction of dwellings, for the engineers in charge of the pumping stations of the Woodland system, Thirty-fourth avenue east and Fourteenth street, and of the Orphanage system, Minneapolis avenue and Mankato street. He points out that the engineers of the pumping stations at Lakewood, Fifteenth avenue east and Sixth street and Forty-sixth avenue west and Third street, now live in close proximity and that all pumping stations should be made uniform in this respect as early as possible.

Girl Killed on Trestle.

Fort Scott, Kas., May 4.—While fishing from a railway bridge near here Sunday, Miss Mary Slickhammer, aged 18, was instantly killed and her mother fatally injured by being struck by an engine.

Women Pick Rugby, N. D.

Devils Lake, N. D., May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rugby was selected by the Devils Lake District Federation of Women's Clubs as the next meeting place, at the annual convention which ended here Saturday evening. Mrs. R. H. Fairfield of Gardena was re-elected president.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SHERIFF'S EXECUTION SALE—

Under and by virtue of an Execution issued out of and under the seal of the District Court of the State of Minnesota, in and for the Eleventh Judicial District, and County of St. Louis, on the 3rd day of April, 1914, upon a Judgment rendered and docketed in said Court and County in an action therein, wherein Wrights Health Underwear Co., a corporation, was Plaintiff, and Lionel A. Sherwin in business as Northern Manufacturing Co., was Defendant, in favor of said Plaintiff and against said Defendant, for the sum of Six Hundred Eight-two and three-hundredths (682.03) Dollars, and 70 cents increased costs, which said judgment was on the 21st day of November, 1911, assigned to National Surety Company, a corporation, and on April 2, 1914, a partial satisfaction of said judgment to the amount of $166.57 was filed in the office of the Clerk of the District Court in and for St. Louis County, Minnesota, which said execution for the residue of said judgment and interest has to me, as sheriff of said St. Louis County, been duly directed and delivered, I have levied upon and will sell at public auction to the highest cash bidder, at the Sheriff's Office in the Court House, in the City of Duluth, in said County of St. Louis, on Wednesday, the 27th day of May, 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, all the right, title and interest that the above named judgment debtor had in and to the real estate hereinafter described on the 17th day of October, 1911, that being the date of rendition of said judgment, or any interest therein which said judgment debtor may have since that day acquired. The description of the property being as follows, to-wit:

Lot numbered Ten (10) in Block numbered Ninety-seven (97), Portland Division of Duluth, in St. Louis County, Minnesota, according to the recorded plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for St. Louis County, Minnesota.

Dated, Duluth, Minn., April 8th, 1914.

Sale of School and Other State Lands

State of Minnesota, State Auditor's Office.
St. Paul, April 1, 1914.

Notice is hereby given that on May 20, 1914, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the office of the County Auditor at Duluth, St. Louis County, in the state of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the state by reason of the non-payment of interest.

Terms: Fifteen per cent of the purchase price and interest on the unpaid balance from date of sale to June 1st, 1915, must be paid at the time of sale. The balance of purchase money is payable in whole or in part on or before forty years from date of sale; the rate of interest on the unpaid balance is four per cent per annum, payable in advance on June 1st of each year; provided, the principal remains unpaid for ten years; but if the principal is paid within ten years from date of sale, the rate of interest will be computed at five per cent per annum.

Appraised value of timber, if any, must also be paid at the time of sale. Lands on which the interest is delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale to an actual purchaser.

All mineral rights are reserved by the laws of the state.

Not more than 320 acres can be sold or contracted to be sold to any one purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority. Appraisers' reports, showing quality and kind of soil, are on file in this office.

Lists of lands to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor or the State Commissioner of Immigration at St. Paul, and of the County Auditor at above address.

SAMUEL G. IVERSON,
State Auditor.

REACHES EVERY ONE INTERESTED IN POULTRY...

The Duluth Herald is the recognized poultry medium. It is the official paper of the people interested in Poultry and Pet Stock.

Circulation Greatest—Rates Lowest

The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in Minnesota, outside the Twin Cities. Its rates for classified advertising are less per thousand circulation than those of any other paper in Minnesota. Best results are gained from ads when definite information is given. When information is lacking the presumption is that desirable features are lacking. Information as to contract rates and the probable amount of space your ad would take, gladly given.

Witnesses to Both Wills Cross-Examined in Probate Court.

Main Issues Will Not Be Fought Out Until June 9.

Joseph Sellwood's "lost will" which his daughter, Mrs. Ophelia Leithhead, is seeking to have probated instead of a subsequent will executed during the last illness of the well known banker and mining magnate, turned up in probate court today. It furnished the only startling feature of the morning's hearing in the contest which is being waged among the relatives for the Sellwood fortune.

Today's and yesterday's hearing is preliminary. The main issues in the contest will be fought out at a later hearing which will be begun during the second week in June. It was agreed among the attorneys yesterday that owing to the illness of Mrs. La Rue S. Mershon, daughter of the late Capt. Sellwood, and one of the chief legatees under the last will, that the case might be continued for hearing until June 9. It was stipulated, however, that formal proof of the execution of the will of Jan. 21, 1914, and the "lost will" under date of Feb. 13, 1913, might be made at this time to save time.

Only Two Witnesses.

In accordance with this procedure, only two witnesses were called. They were Bert W. Maxeiner and John Monaghan, who were witnesses to both wills. The hearing on the proof of execution of the later will was heard first. It is on this will that the main fight will be made. Mrs. Leithhead is contesting on the grounds that

NORMAN LIND TELLS OF HIS ADVENTURES

Minnesotan Recounts Escape From Angry Mobs at Tampico.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 5.—Norman Lind, son of John Lind, reached Washington yesterday from Mexico and today he is telling his friends of his adventures in Tampico, where he went from Vera Cruz after his father had gone to Washington.

"When news of the capture of Vera Cruz reached Tampico, thousands of people crowded the streets," said Mr. Lind. "Many of the towns people were armed, and they began shooting and yelling for Americans. About thirty Americans, including myself, finally made our way to the tops of some buildings, where we concealed ourselves.

"The houses were riddled with bullets, we did not return the fire, and that is probably the only thing that saved us. We were prepared to give a good account of ourselves if we had been compelled to fight, but did not act on the offensive."

The next day Mr. Lind made his way to the waterfront and boarded a British gunboat. He was transferred to a tank steamer that took him to the battleship Connecticut, on which he went to Galveston. Mr. Lind expects to stay here with his father until Ex-Governor Lind is prepared to go to the northwest.

ROB O'SHAUGHNESSY ON WAY TO COAST

Mexicans Stole Practically All of Charge's Baggage.

New Orleans, La., May 5.—Mexicans did not even except Nelson O'Shaughnessy, former American charge at Mexico City, in preying upon American property after the fall of Vera Cruz. Practically all of the baggage of Mr. and Mrs. O'Shaughnessy was stolen from the special train Huerta provided for the charge and his party to transport them to Vera Cruz after he had been handed his passports.

The former charge arrived today on the gunboat Yankton and early in the day he and Mrs. O'Shaughnessy began a shopping tour to replenish their wardrobes. The party will leave tonight for Washington.

When shown a dispatch from Vera Cruz saying that he had submitted to Washington a list of names of Mexicans who might act as a council to take charge of the government in case of the downfall of Gen. Huerta, Mr. O'Shaughnessy said he knew nothing about it. He refused to discuss the Mexican situation in any of its phases.

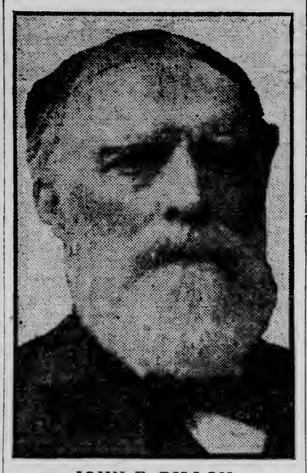
NAME OF BURNING STEAMER NOT KNOWN

Boston, Mass., May 5.—Further details regarding the burning steamer sighted 300 miles south of Cape Race yesterday by the steamer Seydlitz, from Bremen for New York, were anxiously awaited in shipping circles today. The meager wireless dispatches sent last night by the Seydlitz and by the Sable Island radio station indicated that it had been impossible to learn the name of the vessel, but that another steamer apparently had heard her call for help Sunday night.

As the Seydlitz could see no sign of life on board, it was hoped that the crew had been taken off by some other vessel.

The difficulty of obtaining news by wireless concerning the burning ship was increased by the fact that the radio station at Cape Race, which was disabled in an early spring blizzard, at present has a very limited range.

NOTED CORPORATION ATTORNEY IS DEAD



JOHN F. DILLON.

New york, May 5.—John Forrest Dillon, former judge of the supreme court of Iowa, and more recently general counsel for the Missouri Pacific railway and the Western Union Telegraph company, died at his home today after a protracted illness. He was 83 years old.

Judge Dillon, who was born in Northampton, N. Y., was graduated from the medical department of the University of Iowa, but after practicing medicine for six months he took up the study of law and was admitted to the bar in 1852. He was state prosecuting attorney from 1852 to 1858; judge of the Seventh judicial district of Iowa from 1858 to 1863; judge of the supreme court of Iowa from 1863 to 1867, and judge of the United States court of the Eighth judicial district from 1867 to 1879. He resigned and then became professor of real estate and equity jurisprudence in Columbia law school from 1879 until 1882, when he resumed the practice of law.

Judge Dillon soon became noted as an authority on corporation law and was the author of numerous law books and of many articles on legal subjects. When the Merritt family of Duluth sued John D. Rockefeller in connection with the loans made by Rockefeller to the Merritts, as a result of which he came into control of their Mesaba range mining properties and the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad, Judge Dillon was retained as counsel for the Merritts.

OLNEY WILL NOT SERVE

Declines to Head New Federal Reserve System Board.

Warburg or Harding May Be Chosen for Governor.

Boston, May 5.—Richard Olney has addressed a letter to President Wilson formally declining the appointment as governor of the Federal reserve board of the new banking system.

Five Men Chosen.

Washington, May 5.—President Wilson had selected five men who, together with the secretary of the treasury, W. G. McAdoo, and the comptroller of the currency, John Skelton Williams, were to compose the Federal reserve board. Formal announcement will not be made for another day or two.

The men to whom the president offered places were:

Richard Olney of Boston, Mass., former secretary of state under President Cleveland, to be governor of the board.

NORDICA SHOWING SOME IMPROVEMENT

Singer Has Been Reported Critically Ill at Batavia, Java.

Batavia, Java, May 5.—Mme. Lillian Nordica, the operatic singer, who has been seriously ill here for some weeks, showed slight improvement today.

Mme. Lillian Nordica and her company left New York on a tour of the world last April. They were on board the Dutch steamer Tasman Dec. 28, when that vessel went ashore in the Gulf of Papua, near Thursday island.

Several days later the Tasman was pulled off and made her way to Thursday island. Mme. Nordica was suffering from nervous prostration as a result of her experience. Subsequently she developed pneumonia and remained under a physician's care at Thursday island until April 1, when she left for Batavia on the steamer Houtman.

She took passage for Batavia against the advice of her doctor and recent reports have described her condition as very grave.

COLORADOANS MAY NOT GIVE UP FIREARMS

Strikers Are Said to Have Reversed Their Decision.

Operators Will Not Try to Run Unguarded Mines.

Legislature Must Provide for $1,000,000 Military Debt.

Denver, Col., May 5.—The question of disarmament of all factions in the Colorado coal strike zones today became the most important development of the industrial situation. Reports had it that the strikers in Huerfano county had reversed their decision to deliver up their arms, and it was reported from Pueblo that strikers had succeeded in smuggling arms and ammunition through there to some unknown place.

The strike breakers in the northern coal fields, centering in Boulder county, yesterday openly declared they would work no longer if the mine guards were disarmed, unless the Federal troops were stationed on mine property to protect them.

The operators have taken the position that they will deliver their arms to the Federal troops when their property is given protection.

Big Military Debt.

The Colorado legislature will provide a means of meeting the state military indebtedness of approximately $1,000,000 before a lengthy recess or final adjournment is taken. This was the consensus of opinion expressed by house and senate leaders at the con-

ST. PAUL ELECTING FIRST COMMISSION

Greatest Interest Centers Around Mayoralty Contest.

St. Paul, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although there were no party lines in today's municipal election, which was the first under the commission form of government, the heated campaign of the last six weeks had stirred to a high pitch of interest the mayoralty contest, and the vote probably will be the highest ever cast in a local election.

Louis Nash, a member of the board of county commissioners, was opposed by Winn Powers, a publisher, in the race for mayor. Nash received the united support of the local daily English newspapers. Late in the campaign Powers started a weekly newspaper devoted to politics, declaring that no other newspaper would place him before the public in a fair and honest manner. Both candidates conducted lively campaigns, making as many as six speeches each in a day.

Election booths were guarded by city and private detectives in an effort to apprehend repeaters and other illegal voters.

Mayor Keller was not a candidate for re-election.

HIRAM DURYEA, AGED MILLIONAIRE, KILLED BY HIS SON CHESTER

Is Shot Seven Times While Sleeping at Brooklyn Home.

Younger Man Has Been Acting Strangely for Days.

Admission to Hospital Was Refused for Lack of Violence.

New York, May 5.—Hiram Duryea, 81 years old, retired millionaire starch manufacturer and Civil war veteran, was murdered early today in his home in the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn by his son, Chester Duryea. Seven shots were fired by the son into his father's body, causing instant death.

The murder occurred on the porch at the rear of the Duryea home, where both father and son were in the habit of sleeping. About 1 o'clock this morning Chester Duryea, who is 43 years old, slipped from his cot into the house, where he kept a number of rifles, revolvers and shotguns for hunting purposes. He selected an automatic pistol and a magazine rifle, both of which he loaded, and returned to the open-air porch. Standing within a few feet of his sleeping father, he first fired from the rifle and then emptied the revolver.

Would Give No Reason.

Chester Duryea would give no reason for killing his father when taken into custody. For the last few days, servants told the police, he had been acting strangely, and they had feared a return of a previous breakdown. In 1909, when he showed signs of mental trouble, his father sought to have him removed to Bellevue hospital for observation, but as he was not violent this request was refused.

In a cell in a Brooklyn police station Chester Duryea talked incoherently of the events leading up to the shooting, and gave evidence of being insane. While talking he dug his finger nails into the palms of his hands until they bled.

Had "Spiritual Message."

He said he shot his father when he received a "spiritual message from George Washington." In a saner, calmer tone he added:

"I was the best friend my father had and he was my best friend. I loved him dearly. If he were here now he could explain the whole matter. I really don't know why I shot him.

"I had made up my mind before shooting father that as soon as he was dead I would turn the automatic pistol upon myself and end my own life. I fully intended doing that while I was firing at my father. After it was over, though, an impulse came over me and I decided not to kill myself. I wish I had carried out my original intention."

DRYS WIN ON ONE ILLINOIS APPEAL.

Bloomington, Ill., May 5.—Judge Hall in the county court today decided in favor of the drys in the election contest in Bloomington township outside of the city. The constitutionality of the woman's vote was not passed upon. Contests on other grounds over the vote in Bloomington city are pending in both county and circuit courts.

SQUIRREL TIES UP FORTY MILE RAILWAY

Bites Copper Wire Carrying 13,500 Volt Current.

Beloit, Wis., May 5.—Forty miles of interurban railroad was put out of commission for two hours this forenoon when a squirrel nibbled through the insulation of the high tension wires here, burning out fuses and stopping all cars between Janesville and Cherry Valley, Ill., of the Rockford interurban railway system.

Employes at the local powerhouse heard the loud report that followed when his squirrelship bit into the copper wire carrying 13,500 volts of alternating current.

The squirrel was electrocuted.

WISCONSIN FARMER IS KILLED BY BULL

Leaves Sickbed to Care for Animal That Others Fear.

Warrens, Wis., May 5.—August Birkholtz, a farmer, arose from his sickbed yesterday to care for a bull, of which the rest of the family stood in fear. His wife and children stood at the barn door while he went in. The bull attacked him, knocking him down and trampling him to death.

The screams of the family brought help and the bull was driven back, but the man was dead.

Thirteen Americans Held Prisoners at Metlaloyuca.

TWO OF WOUNDED SAILORS SUCCUMB.

Washington, May 5.—Two of the sailors wounded at the occupation of Vera Cruz died today. They were Harry Pulliam, fireman, and Clarence R. Hirshberger, seaman, both of the battleship Utah.

Washington, May 5. — Information came from Vera Cruz to the war department today that the Mexican Federal troops have mined the railroad tracks from Vera Cruz to Mexico City in preparation for the utter destruction of the railroad in the event that the American forces attempt a march on the capital.

No confirmation has been received of reports that the San Francisco bridge of the inter-oceanic railroad had been damaged.

Mines Half Mile Apart.

The mines are reported to be located half a mile apart and Mexican soldiers have been detailed to touch off the fuses should hostilities eventuate.

These preparations and the throwing up of defenses, which are daily making the position of the Mexican Federal troops stronger, are known to be a source of worry to Gen. Funston, and it is understood that he would

MOBILIZATION OF MILITIA ARRANGED

Washington, May 5.—Instructions to militia organizations throughout the country, governing a possible mobilization of the National Guard, were mailed to all militia officers by the war department today. The instructions cover particularly the financial operations incident to mobilization, and the methods of securing railroad transportation.

Under the regulations the local United States disbursing officers throughout the country would be supplied with funds to move the militia, by the various department quartermasters.

VILLA REFUSES TO JOIN HUERTA FORCES

Torreon, May 4, via El Paso, Tex., May 5.—The answer of Gen. Francisco Villa to a request from Federal Gen. Maas, in command of the Saltillo garrison, that Villa join the Federals in avenging the American occupation of Vera Cruz, was delivered to the Federal messengers today.

Gen. Villa refused absolutely to ally himself or his men with the Federals, and declared that the Huertistas had provoked foreign intervention for their own ends.

Gen. Maas' letter to Villa announced that in addition to occupying Vera Cruz, the port of Salina Cruz has been seized by the United States forces April 23.

Vera Cruz, Mex., May 5.—Refugees arriving here from Mexico City today bring conflicting reports concerning the purposes of Provisional President Huerta. Some say that realizing the hopelessness of the situation, he has agreed to retire from the presidency, fixing Thursday of this week as the date of his withdrawal.

Other reports from the capital declare that Huerta instead of yielding, has determined to play out the game. He is fully aware that mediation will mean time if it does not lead to an amicable adjustment of the difficulties.

Carranza Eliminated.

Washington, May 5.—With the virtual elimination of the Constitutionalists from proceedings aimed at a general settlement of Mexico's ills, the South American envoys today began to compose differences between Huerta and the United States government that led to the seizure of Vera Cruz.

Short Cabinet Meeting.

For the first time since the occupation of Vera Cruz, the regular session of the cabinet today lasted less than an hour. After the conference, cabinet members said that there was practically no discussion of the Mexican situation and that the time was devoted to parliamental routine.

Carranza's elimination, at least for the present, was determined upon by the three mediators. They informed him that because of his refusal to agree to a truce with Huerta, they canceled their proposal that he name a representative to co-operate in mediation negotiations. Relations with the rebel chief were not arbitrarily broken off. The mediators left open to him the opportunity to open the proceedings whenever he was ready to fix an armistice.

While the abrupt turn in the diplomatic drama led many observers to believe that all present chance of general mediation was lost, yet suggestions were heard that Carranza might change his mind after his troops were in possession of Saltillo, the next rebel goal.

May Have Plan Ready.

With the announcement by the state department of delegates appointed to act in an advisory capacity with the envoys, it was believed they would be ready to outline their scheme for mediation of the Tampico deadlock and other alleged offenses against the dig-

WASHINGTON ANXIOUS OVER CONSUL'S FATE

Washington, May 5.—Alarmed by unofficial reports that Acting American Consul John R. Silliman at San Luis Potosi, Mex., has been a prisoner of Gen. Maas, Mexican Federal commander, for two weeks, the state department today sent urgent telegrams of inquiry concerning him, addressed to the Brazilian minister in Mexico City, Consul Miller at Tampico and Consul Hanna at Monterey.

Silliman's regular post was Saltillo, but he was transferred to San Luis Potosi in the present emergency.

Threatened With Death.

Vera Cruz, May 5.—News reached here yesterday that John R. Silliman, acting American consul at San Luis Potosi, has been a prisoner in the hands of Gen. Joaquin Maas, the Federal commander, for eleven days and has been threatened every night with execution.

The information about Mr. Silliman's predicament was brought here by two American newspaper correspondents who have gone to Mexico recently on the invitation of Provisional President Huerta. They went to the north to watch the field operations of the Federal army, and after they had witnessed the defeat of the Federal troops at San Pedro were taken back to San Luis Potosi and imprisoned, but were afterwards released.

BOOTH CONFIRMED FOR U. S. JUDGESHIP

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 5.—Just before adjournment last night, the senate confirmed the nomination of Wilbur F. Booth of Minneapolis to be United States judge for the district of Minnesota, to succeed the late Judge Charles A. Willard. Judge Booth's confirmation was hastened by Senator Nelson, who reported it from the committee on judiciary and asked for immediate action. Senator Nelson's motion to confirm the Minneapolis man was adopted unanimously.

WILL ASK CITY TO COVER CREEK

Fifth Ward Club Will Also Discuss Other Improvements.

The Fifth Ward Improvement club will hold its regular meeting this evening at the Emerson school, Eleventh avenue west and Third street. A number of matters pertaining to the district will be taken up for discussion.

The principal subject will be that of requesting the city to take steps this summer to have Buckingham creek covered above Superior street. The creek is said to be used as an open sewer by many of the residents and it is said that by so doing it has become a menace to the health of the community. The club will ask that the city cover the creek between Superior and Fourth street.

HOME GARDENS.

Roe and Hostetter Will Give First of Series of Lectures.

A. B. Hostetter, agricultural expert for the Duluth Commercial club, and C. E. Roe will be the principal speakers this evening at the first of a series of school lectures on home gardening to be held at the Monroe school, Twenty-sixth avenue west and First street. The lecture is one of a series planned for the school children who have recently entered the contest of the West End Commercial club.

Mr. Hostetter will speak on the planting of vegetables and their care. Mr. Roe will talk on preparing the soil and how to make backyard gardening profitable. The meeting will be open to the public.

In addition to the speaking program, Miss Minnie Milne, principal of the school, has planned a short musical program.

RALLY OF WORKERS FOR PROHIBITION

Good Templar Lodges at Head of Lakes Plan Mass Meeting.

A temperance rally which, it is hoped, will start a state-wide campaign for prohibition, will be held at Sloan's hall under the auspices of the North Star lodge, No. 11, I. O. G. T., on May 14. Every I. O. G. T. lodge at the Head of the Lakes will take part in the rally.

Several good speakers will be present. Plans will be made to extend the work of the Good Templar lodges in this city as well as in surrounding towns and villages.

The five good templar lodges of Duluth have a membership of nearly 1,000. The Proctor lodge and two Superior lodges will also be represented.

"Temperance people will be a strong factor in the state campaign this fall," said Gust Hjerpe, a member of the committee on arrangements and past chief templar of the North Star lodge. "Rally meetings similar to the one we intend holding will be held from time to time this summer. We are getting a large amount of new blood into our organization, which is an indication that the people are beginning to see that they need state-wide prohibition."

Revival Services.

The revival services at the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, will be continued every evening this week. This evening Rev. E. H. Rasmussen will speak on "The Power of Sin." Songs illustrated with a stereopticon will also be given.

SHERMAN FUNERAL THURSDAY.

Popular Young Man Is Victim of Typhoid Fever.

The funeral of Lambert Sherman, who died yesterday of typhoid fever, will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the undertaking rooms of Olson & Crawford, 2118 West First street. Interment will be in Park Hill cemetery.

The young man, who would have reached his majority had he lived until June 7, was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman of 2423 West Seventh street and their friends are doing everything possible to assuage the grief the aged couple are suffering. The young man has been employed for eight years in the offices of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road in the Wolvin building and was quite popular there.

Entertain for Church Society.

Mrs. H. J. Webber and Mrs. H. S. Amos will entertain on Wednesday afternoon at St. Clement's church for the benefit of the Tabernacle society of the church. This will be an afternoon tea.

West End Briefs.

Mrs. J. W. Ekblad, 2301 West Third street, is expected to return home this week from a visit with relatives in Kansas.

The Mothers' club of the Bryant school will hold its annual election of officers on May 14.

Beta council, No. 2, entertained at a social following a short business session at the Columbia hall last night.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Second Presbyterian church, 1516 West Superior street, will meet in the church parlors tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Trinity English Lutheran church is planning to entertain the latter part of this month at a May festival. It will be held in the new church, Twenty-seventh avenue west and Third street. The date will be set at the next meeting of the society.

SHE WOULD KILL ROCKEFELLER, JR.

Marie Ganz Is So Quoted in Her Trial in New York.

New York, May 5.—"Yesterday I was at the office of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and if I could have got him I would have shot him down like a dog."

In these words Marie Ganz voiced her protest against Mr. Rockefeller, according to the testimony of Irving L. Ettinger, a police headquarters stenographer, at the trial of Miss Ganz on a charge of disorderly conduct. The woman was arrested last week after she had made several fruitless attempts to see Mr. Rockefeller in connection with the Colorado mine workers' strike, and had addressed open-air meetings.

Ettinger testified to two other alleged excerpts from the defendant's speeches. One was:

"If he is not going to stop the slaughter in Colorado, he can run to his father's house and hide, because at the first chance I will get him with a bullet."

The other was: "Do not make your protestations in kind words or in language. Use dynamite!"

Several detectives testified for the prosecution, and adjournment was taken until this afternoon. If found guilty, Miss Ganz will be liable to a maximum penalty of six months in the workhouse.

SMELL TAINT ON ALL ROCKEFELLER MONEY

Some Senators Would Refuse His Aid in Federal Work.

Washington, May 5.—A determined fight was launched in the senate yesterday to prevent the government from accepting Rockefeller money to aid in farm demonstration and boll weevil extermination work. Senator Lane declared that the money of John D. Rockefeller was "covered with the blood and tears of women and children shot down in the Colorado strike."

The debate was on an amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill, which was pending when the senate adjourned for the day. This amendment, reported by the agriculture committee, proposed an appropriation of $600,000, double the amount provided in the house bill, for farm demonstrations and boll weevil work, with a clause prohibiting contributions to the fund by individuals or corporations. At present the general education board, to which Mr. Rockefeller has given millions of dollars, pays a portion of the salaries of 600 government employes engaged in this work.

Williams Scores Waters-Pierce.

Senator Vardaman of Mississippi suggested amending the committee amendments so as to admit corporations in the cotton states to contribute. This brought from Senator John Sharp Williams the assertion that "the Waters-Pierce Oil company in Texas is no more respectable than Standard Oil."

Senator Kenyon insisted that the Federal government had no right to go into a partnership with Rockefeller.

Senator Martin said he would be willing to have half the Rockefeller fortune spent in building up Virginia. If Rockefeller had gotten his money wrongly, he added, there was a law to punish him; but he should not be prevented from doing good with the money he already possessed.

This was in answer to Senator Lane's remark that "some folks believe the curse of God is on every dollar he possesses."

TRI-COUNTY MEET AT GRAFTON, N. D.

Educators of Three Counties to Gather There on Thursday.

Grafton, N. D., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual meeting of the Tri-County Educational association, comprising Grand Forks, Walsh and Pembina counties, will begin here Thursday and continue till Friday evening.

W. E. Larson, rural school commissioner of Minnesota, will be the principal out of the state speaker.

Thursday afternoon an address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor A. W. McConville, with the response by J. S. Bjornson of Grand Forks. The annual address of the president, F. L. Whitney, will be a feature on the same program. Mrs. J. Russell of Grafton, W. A. Broyles of Park River, W. L. Stockwell of Fargo, and Dean Joseph Kennedy of Grand Forks, are the other speakers on the same program. That evening Mr. Larson of Wisconsin will speak.

Friday's program includes Superintendent E. J. Taylor, Thomas Hillyer, president of the Mayville normal school; N. C. Macdonald, inspector of rural schools of North Dakota; L. G. Mustain of Pembina, Miss Bertha Newlander of Grafton, Miss Helen M. Davies of Grand Forks, M. H. Aygarn of Park River, and J. S. Bjornson of Grand Forks, as the speakers.

ORGANIZING RESERVE BANKS

Subscriptions to Twelve Federal Institutions Are Being Received.

Local Financiers Are Hopeful Over the Crop Outlook.

Substantial progress is being made in carrying through the organization details in connection with the new federal reserve banking system.

Up till yesterday paid in subscriptions to the twelve federal reserve banks in the cities named were as follows: Boston, $8,252,700; New York, $16,281,400; Philadelphia, $10,351,400; Cleveland, $4,943,200; Richmond, $4,279,300; Atlanta, $3,049,800; Chicago, $9,375,000; St. Louis, $4,035,100; Minneapolis, $3,059,400; Kansas City, $3,191,500; Dallas, $3,014,000; San Francisco, $4,693,300. Total, $77,546,500.

Duluth bankers are awaiting the next step in the proceedings, the naming of five banks by the government to take up the routine of organizing in Northern Minnesota. Announcement as to that is expected within the next few days, and the subscriptions of the local institutions will then be forwarded.

Good Crop Outlook.

Local financial men express themselves as gratified with the reports they are receiving from over the northwest regarding the early crop outlook. While it is admitted that seeding is late in some sections, especially in the Red River valley, where excessive moisture has delayed farmers in getting upon their land, they cannot see any reason for uneasiness, there being still abundant time to assure a wheat crop. According to news from many of the districts, mixed farming will be taken up on a more extensive scale than ever this season in Western Minnesota and North Dakota.

Bankers in other cities appear to be equally hopeful. The National City bank of Chicago, in its May circular, says:

"Rate decision is awaited with keen interest because a large body of the population has reached the conclusion that there cannot be industrial revival without an increase in the freight rates. Indications are that the roads will get better returns for services.

"Outlook for winter wheat never was better and weather conditions are all that could be desired.

"The public still manifests a disposition to invest in nothing but highest grade municipal bonds and securities of savings bank type. It looks now as if there would be very heavy offerings of bonds by railroads after freight rate decision."

LUMBER HANDLERS ELECT OFFICERS.

J. G. O'Neal was elected president of Lumber Handlers' union, No. 12, International Longshoremen's association, at the annual election in Gilley's hall. Other officers elected are: vice president, George Bothwell; recording secretary, Cal. Ammerman; secretary and treasurer, Charles Toplinn; marshal, George Gonyea; inspector, John Norman; trustees, Alphonse St. Jacques, Charles Lindberg and J. P. Ultican.

Mr. O'Neal was appointed delegate of the union to the national convention which will be held at Milwaukee in July.

Only Way to Have Control Over State's Expenditures.

Five Great Departments and Civil Service Rules Also.

St. Paul, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Going back to the beginning, the state's expenses have been increasing enormously. And to have any control over expenditures, a budget—one budget instead of sixty—is necessary.

To frame a budget—one budget instead of sixty—there must be one government instead of sixty. To form such a government all the activities of the state must be grouped into not more than a dozen departments—half a dozen is better—under which all these threads may be tied together. If you are going to have a real government for the state, the head of the government, the governor, must be able to put his finger on any one of the departments. No man has that many fingers.

The way the efficiency commission has it planned, there will be five great departments. That will enable the governor in the future to use his right hand for welcoming visitors and his left hand to keep in touch with the business of the state. Each director of a department will have under him a group of duties large enough to keep him busy, but not too many to keep in touch with them all. When you have such an organization, intelligent estimates can be made on which the legislature can act intelligently. That is the budget system.

Civil Service Necessary.

One other condition necessarily goes with that. You can't have efficient government when the whole crew is shifted every time a new man is elected governor. As far as possible the working heads of the departments should be retained as long as they do good work. The men who are general managers of the departments ought to be in close sympathy with the governor and should be appointed by him without any check except perhaps confirmation by the senate. They ought to be the men he wants. But to make sure there will not be an alamand left, civil service regulations should protect the men under these directors—and the girls. And not only that, they should provide for the promotion of those who earn it.

That in a nutshell is the plan of the efficiency commission. Organization, a budget depending on it, and civil service methods to protect efficiency in the service. When you get that, if it is found that appropriations are increasing, the responsibility can be fixed. If there is extravagance under such an organization, it can be checked. As it is now, we know that taxes are increasing but we don't even know whether there is extravagance or not. We only suspect it and we haven't a ghost of an idea where to cut down expenses by way of preventing the extravagances.

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF EPISCOPAL DIOCESE

Rev. F. C. Coolbaugh of Hibbing today issued the announcement of the annual convention of the Diocese of Duluth which is to be held in Trinity Cathedral beginning June 3. Mr. Coolbaugh is secretary.

The announcement in part is as follows:

"The nineteenth annual convention of the diocese of Duluth will be held in Trinity cathedral, Wednesday, June 3.

"On the evening of Tuesday, June 2, an informal meeting of the convention will be held.

"At 8 p. m., evening prayer will be said in the cathedral, and the bishop will deliver a portion of his address. Immediately after the service, the convention will be called to order, and nominations will be made for the standing committee and the provincial council.

"Wednesday at 10 a. m., the holy communion will be celebrated to be followed by the sessions of the convention. Luncheon will be served in Trinity hall at 12:30 p. m., and at 2 p. m., the business of the convention will be resumed, and if necessary at 5 p. m., it will adjourn until the following day.

"At 8 p. m., the annual meeting of the Sunday school commission will be held.

"On Thursday, June 4, at 10 a. m., the bishop of Duluth will hold an ordination in St. Paul's church at which the members of the woman's auxillary, and of the diocesan convention are cordially invited to be present.

"At 1 p. m., the annual meeting of the woman's auxiliary will be held in Trinity cathedral.

"On Thursday evening from 8 to 10 p. m., a reception will be held at the Episcopal residence for the members of the convention and the churchmen of Duluth."

INCREASED FAITH IN ZENITH CITY

Representative Harrison of Washington County on Annual Pilgrimage.

Representative Henry H. Harrison of Washington county is in the city looking over his property interests here and paying his taxes. This is an annual pilgrimage to Duluth that Mr. Harrison makes, and each year increases his faith in the city, he says.

"I have been convinced and declaring for thirty years," he said, "that Duluth will be a great city, and her growth justifies my faith. Now that freight rates are being adjusted so that she has a fair deal there is no telling to what she may increase."

Mr. Harrison was a notable figure in the legislature of 1913 and was considered a strong man there. He one day made a ringing speech in defense of the Democracy in which he declared that Democrats are not "barnacles," and that and his attack on Former State Treasurer Julius H. Block's business methods, placed him as a fighter of the first water.

Mr. Harrison says that he has been importuned to run again and has consented. He was elected last time by a majority of 2, but hopes to increase that at the coming election. He indorses the work of the economy and efficiency commission and declares that he will support its recommendations in the house if re-elected.

URGES WIFE TO BRACE UP

Court Puts Ban on Liquor If Mother Would Keep Children.

Unless Agnes Mierzwinski, 22-year-old wife of Mikolaj Mierzwinski, and mother of two children, quits drinking and braces up, she will be stripped of her rights as a wife and mother. Such was the warning given her by Judge Dancer in district court this morning when he continued the contested divorce action in which Mierzwinski is seeking a separation from his wife on the grounds that she is hopelessly addicted to the use of intoxicants.

"Mrs. Mierzwinski," admonished the court, "if you want to keep any of those children, you have got to brace up. The idea of a woman, the mother of two children, going around getting drunk. I am continuing this case to the September term to find out what you are going to do."

Mierzwinski brought suit for divorce several months ago and the case was heard before Judge Fesler. Mrs. Mierzwinski filed a counter complaint asking for a divorce on the grounds of cruelty. The case was continued in the hope that a reconciliation might be effected. Another continuance was ordered by Judge Dancer this morning for the same reason.

Judge Dancer ordered Mierzwinski to pay his wife $10 a month temporary allmony and $20 suit money.

CITY BRIEFS

Accused of Stealing Hay.
J. J. Allie, who was arrested last month on a charge of stealing a ton of hay from J. A. Forsman and Fred Chelstrom, is today being tried before a municipal court jury. Forsman claims that Allie stole the hay from his farm in township 49, on May 26 last. Allie denies his guilt and when arraigned following his arrest asked for a jury trial.

Edmond Ingalls Has Moved
His law offices from the Torrey building to 510 Alworth building.

Capt. Pressnell Improved.
Capt. Thomas H. Pressnell, deputy clerk of the United States court, who has been ill at home, 3 Munger terrace, the last four weeks, is very much improved today and from present indications will be at his desk in the Federal building within a few days.

Art Pictures at Low Cost.
Decker's, cor. 2nd Ave. W. and 1st St.

Steals Superior Auto.
Harold Le Roy, 25 years old, was arrested by Patrolman Wood yesterday afternoon for the Superior police, charged with stealing an automobile. Detective McDonald of the Superior department came over and took Le Roy and the machine back with him.

M. I. Stewart Co.
Complete line office supplies. Phones 114

Settles Bill; Released.
Mike Miller, 27 years old, who was arrested by Patrolman Ricketts yesterday afternoon on a charge of being a fugitive from Hibbing, where he was accused of having failed to pay his board bill, gave the police a check for $26.50 and he was last evening released.

Removed.
Dr. Nixon, the dentist, has removed his office from the New Jersey building to rooms 209-10 Glencoe building, corner of Third avenue west and First street, the old Kitchi-Gammi building.

Lodging List Reduced.
Only forty-four men were given free lodging at police headquarters last evening. The police are of the opinion that the reduction in the lodging list the last few days is indicative of an exodus of unemployed men who have been hanging about the city.

Had "Touchy" Feelings.
Because Ed Oslund called him a "nigger," Ben Weston, 25 years old, bootblack at the Walk-Over shoe store, struck the former in the face. He was arrested and pleading guilty on a charge of assault in the third degree was fined $5 and costs or five days in the county jail. He paid his fine.

Will Stand Trial.
John McKenney, 30 years old, who was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of assault in the third degree, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in police court this morning and his trial was set for 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. McKenney is a teamster at the Scott-Graff mill.

Removal Notice.
A. E. McManus and John E. Manthey have moved their law offices from 511 and 512 Sellwood building to 912-14-15 Torrey building.

New Motor Rigs Here.
The two new combination motor rigs reached the city this morning and are now at fire headquarters. Each is a combined gasoline pumper, chemical and hose. The same engine that drives the machine furnishes power for the pumps, which have a capacity of 700 gallons a minute. They will probably be tested Thursday morning under the direction of the demonstrator of the American La France Engine company, from whom they were purchased.

Follows Sister to Grave.
Marie Anglin, 20 years old, died this morning at the home of her parents, 113 Wicklow street, following a short illness. The death is the second in the family inside of a month, a younger sister having died early last month. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Chiropractic Specialist,
Dr. Konkkler, 504-5 Columbia Bldg.

Guilty of Blind-Pigging.
Luther Dawson, colored, who was arrested on April 25 on a charge of keeping an unlicensed drinking place at 21 West Michigan street, this morning changed his plea to guilty and he was fined $100 or sixty days in the county jail. He paid his fine. Dawson operates a saloon at the above place, but he was arrested in a rear room, where the police claimed he was selling liquor after 11 o'clock.

Had Opium.
William Sing, Chinaman, who was arrested on April 27 on a charge of having opium in his possession, was this morning found guilty and fined $100 or 85 days in the county jail. Upon motion of his attorney, John J. Norton, the court granted a stay of thirty days. Mr. Norton gave notice of an appeal that he will make in the meantime. Sing operates a small store at 715½ West Superior street, in the rear of which he was arrested by the police.

Moves Barber Shop.
Lawrence Ignaziak has moved his barber shop from 118 East Superior street to 104 East Superior street.

Lawler Case to Grand Jury.
Charles Patrick Lawler, who killed his sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Lawler, at the Astoria hotel on April 10, will not be arraigned in police court on a charge of murder in the first degree. The grand jury is in session today and it is probable an indictment will be returned before action is taken in the lower court. Lawler's examination has been continued several times on account of his illness and is now set for next Friday afternoon.

Present for Brigham.
Members of the police department are today arranging to present a traveling bag as a gift of the force to Arthur T. Brigham, who resigned from the force last Friday on a pension. Brigham was a telephone operator at headquarters up to the time he retired last week.

Breaks Parole; Arrested.
For violating his parole of six months, Charles H. Dewing will have to spend the next sixty days on the work farm. He was found guilty on Jan. 3 of having failed to support his family, but on his promise to refrain from drinking and support his family, the court suspended sentence and placed him on parole. Last evening he was arrested on a charge of drunkenness and this morning the court revoked the parole and ordered the original execution of the sentence.

Change at Commercial Club.
Glenn B. Van Buren, assistant to Traffic Commissioner G. Roy Hall of the Commercial club, has resigned and in a few days will take up his new duties with the American Carbolite company. He has been succeeded by Herbert Cross, who has been with the Great Northern road for a number of years and who, it is believed, will be of great assistance to Mr. Hall.

Arranging for Detrotters' Visit.
J. A. Strassberg, chairman of the excursion committee of the Detroit board of commerce is in the city arranging for the June visit of the members of the board to Duluth. From 500 to 700 will be in the party. They will come up on one of the big lake steamers and will be here on June 9 from 9 o'clock in the morning till 5 in the evening. Col. Eva, secretary of the Commercial club, is spending a large part of the day with Mr. Strassberg and a tentative program will be mapped out before he leaves the city.

More Space Needed.
The volume of business in the building inspector's office has become so heavy that additional office space has been found necessary. Building Inspector Kielley has moved hos desk into the offqice of the city clerk, the two rooms being connected by a door which gives easy access from one to the other.

Must Observe Saloon Hours.
Cigar stores in front of saloons without being entirely shut off from them, will have to remain closed the same hours as the saloons. There are one or two such places in the city, and are construed as being part of the saloon. This will not apply to cigar stores which have no connection with saloons.

Arnold School Closed.
The school at Arnold has been closed by the health authorities because several cases of scarlet fever have been discovered among the pupils. The rooms, their furnishings and the books are being thoroughly fumigated, and it is expected that regular sessions will be resumed shortly.

"LOST" WILL DIVIDED THE SELLWOOD ESTATE EQUALLY

Children Shared Alike After Certain Bequests Were Paid.

Although the "lost will" of the late Joseph Sellwood bears across its last page a revocation of uncertain date, purported to have been placed there by the late magnate, an attempt will be made nevertheless by Mrs. Leithhead, daughter, to have the instrument probated as his last will instead of a subsequent will of Jan. 21, this year.

The revocation which is written across the face of the last page of the will bears the notation "Revoked Jan. 21, 1913." Over the word "Jan." has been written the word "Feb." in smaller letters. This will itself was executed Feb. 13, 1913, and some difficulty is being presented in reconciling the date of the revocation with the date of execution.

The will follows:

"I, Joseph Sellwood of the City of Duluth, County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, do hereby publish and declare this as my last Will and Testament in manner and form following:

"Having entered into a contract with Martha E. Triggs on April 4th, 1910, prior to our marriage, whereby I agreed to give her the use of my home and lots 1, 2 and 3 in Block 56, Endion Division, of the City of Duluth, with all of its furnishings as long as she may live and remain my widow. And also agreed to set aside for her certain securities which I may die possessed, the income from which is to be paid her quarterly as near as can be, as long as she may live and remain my widow, in consideration of which she agrees to accept in lieu of her dower or courtesy. And agree to release and waive all rights in my estate which she might be entitled to if said anti-nuptial contract was not made. Consequently, she has no interest in my estate except as contained in said contract, a copy of which is hereto attached. At her death above named securities shall be equally divided between my three children.

"First—I direct that the contract with her be carried out fully with my wife, Martha E. Sellwood, formerly Martha E. Triggs.

"Second—I direct that all my debts and funeral expenses be paid as soon after my death as can conveniently be done.

"Third—I give and bequeath to my grandchildren, Richard M. Sellwood, Jr., Joseph G. Sellwood and Francis Sellwood, each $1,000, to be invested by their guardian and paid over to them with accrued earnings when they are 21 years old.

"Fourth—I give and bequeath to each of my grandchildren, Leslie S. Leithhead and Jim Leithhead, $50,000 in stocks or bonds or bills receivable, of which I may be possessed at the time of my death, to be reinvested by their mother for them, one-half of the income she may retain for their support and education until they are 21 years old. At that time all of the income shall be paid to them as is collected, until they are 30 years old, when it shall be turned over to them. My reason for giving the Leithhead children more than my other grandchildren is because they have no one to support them except their mother, while R. M. Sellwood is rich and well able to care for his children.

"Fifth—I give and bequeath to my nephew, Joseph Sellwood, Jr., the house that he now lives in on lot 4, block 56, Endion division and $10,000 in stocks or bonds or bills receivable of which I may be possessed at my death.

"Sixth—I give to my son, Richard M. Sellwood, my diamond ring and oil painting of myself and direct that my ring shall not be made over or worn by any one else as long as he may live. Then it shall be given to his son, R. M. Sellwood, Jr.

"Seventh—I give and bequeath to my niece, Lucy Sellwood of Camborne, Cornwall, England, $1,000 to be paid her as soon as convenient after my death.

"Eighth—I give and bequeath all the rest and residue of my property, real and personal and mixed, wherever it may be found or situated at the time of my death to my son, Richard M. Sellwood, one-third to my daughter, Ophelia S. Leithhead, one-third to my daughter, La Rue S. Mershon, one-third to be divided equally, if they see fit. If not divided, each shall receive one-third of the income from the same.

"Ninth—I hereby authorize and empower my executors hereinafter named to sell and dispose of any of the real estate of which I may be possessed at my death at public or private sale and at such terms and conditions as they may deem proper and to execute, acknowledge and deliver all proper writings, deeds of conveyance and transfers therefor.

"Tenth—I nominate and appoint my son, Richard M. Sellwood, (my daughter, Ophelia S. Leithhead), my daughter, La Rue S. Mershon, all of Duluth, Minnesota, executors of this my last will and testament and request that neither of them shall be requested to give bonds for the performance of their duties. I further request that proper books be kept for all transactions of the business of my estate.

"Eleventh—I hereby revoke all former wills and testamentary dispositions heretofore made by me. In witness hereof I have hereto subscribed my name and affixed my seal at Sellwood building, Duluth, Minn., this thirteenth day of February, 1913, in the presence of John Monaghan and B. W. Maxeiner, whom I have requested to become witnesses hereof.

"JOSEPH SELLWOOD.

"The foregoing instrument was subscribed, sealed, published and declared by Joseph Sellwood as and for his last will and testament in the presence of each other and we at his request at the time and in his presence and in the presence of each other subscribed our names, residences, as attending witnesses, this thirteenth day of February, 1913.

"John Monaghan, 2221 East Fourth street.

"B. W. Maxeiner, 625 East Fourth street."

* These four words are crossed out in pencil.

 Section eleven was marked revoked Jan. 21, 1913, signed by Joseph Sellwood, in ink, over the entire paragraph.

DRAMA LEAGUE HOLDS MEETING

The annual meeting of the Drama league was held this morning at the library clubroom. A general summary of the year's work was given, and officers were elected for the ensuing year.

The treasurer's report showed an encouraging increase in the sum in the club's treasury. Plans for the league's work for the coming year were discussed. From a membership of ninety-nine in May, 1913, it has increased to 176 in May, 1914. A number of plays have been read and discussed during the year, and many more have been planned for study by the league in the year just beginning.

The play, "Rackety Rackety House," will be put on by the league some time in July. It is admitted by local managers that the play-going average in Duluth has markedly increased since the organization of the Drama league. Out of twenty-eight presentations showing in Duluth the last year, six were musical comedies, five artist recitals, and ten were bulletined plays. It was entirely through the efforts of the league that George Arliss in the play, "Disraeli," was brought to Duluth. To the league is given the credit of being first to advance the idea of the pageant and masque which it is now planned to give here during the summer of 1915. Almost two years ago the league brought Percy Mackaye here to look over the ground and local features, and give his opinion as to the advisability of planning a pageant. St. Louis, it is pointed out, has gone far afield in search of talent to assist in giving her pageant and masque fittingly, and Drama league members hope to call upon genius other than local, not only in writing, but in staging the pageant here in 1915.

The officers elected by the league for the ensuing year are as follows:

President, Mrs. S. R. Holden.

Vice presidents, Mrs. F. A. Patrick, Mrs. A. W. Hartman, Mrs. C. H. Munger, Mrs. E. W. Bohannon, Mrs. J. H. Dight, J. Ashley Tomlinson and W. N. Ryerson.

Secretary, Mrs. J. E. Rockwell.

Assistant secretary, Miss Lee.

Treasurer, Mrs. Homer Collins.

Historian, Mrs. Luther Harris.

Membership committee, Mrs. Homer Collins, Mrs. Richard Sellwood, Mrs. R. M. Baldwin, George Morgan and W. N. Ryerson.

IRON WORKER IS ARRESTED AGAIN.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 5.—Among five arrests here in connection with battling between union and non-union structural iron workers employed on a Euclid avenue building, was that of George (Nipper) Anderson, Cleveland structural iron worker, now free under bail while his sentence in Federal court at Indianapolis for complicity in the McNamara dynamite conspiracies is being appealed.

Superior FARMER ATTACKS FAMILY WITH HOE

Matt Putz, a farmer living three and a half miles from Solon Springs, was brought to Superior this morning by Deputy Sheriff Charles Brown and Marshal J. E. Lord of Solon Springs charged with having attempted to kill his wife and 20-year-old son. He was arraigned in police court this morning and pleaded not guilty. Hearing was set for Thursday morning.

Putz is alleged to have first assaulted his wife by striking her a vicious blow across the head with a hoe. The son interfered and received a blow from the hoe across the face, cutting a wide gash in the face. A physician who was called to attend the boy, said that the lad was in a serious condition and probably would not survive.

Following the assault on the wife and son, Putz is alleged to have started on a hunt for his other eight children. The treatment accorded their mother and brother had caused the other eight children to take to the woods. The oldest ran to town for help, while the younger ones hid among the ushes.

Dies at Hospital.

Arthur Albright, who was picked up at the union depot Sunday suffering from a hemorrhage, died at St. Mary's hospital at 11 o'clock last night. Albright was formerly a bartender at the St. Charles hotel. The man had gone to the depot to wait for the arrival of relatives when stricken. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

GRANTS APPEAL IN KILLIFER CASE

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 5.—Judge Sessions of the United States circuit court of appeals announced here today that he had granted an appeal in the Federal Baseball league's case relative to Player Killifer, which was decided against it at Grand Rapids several weeks ago. It also was announced that the hearing probably would take place in this city sometime in the fall.

Catcher Killifer of the Philadelphia National league team, signed a contract and decided to play with the Chicago Federal League club. Later he reconsidered his action and jumped back to the Philadelphia club and the Federal league brought suit in the United States court at Grand Rapids in an effort to enjoin him from playing with the Philadelphia club.

In deciding the case, Judge Sessions in a lengthy opinion denied the application of the Chicago Federal League club for an injunction on the ground that the Chicago club did not come into court "with clean hands." The reserve clause, however, was held not valid, but Killifer was allowed to return to the Philadelphia Nationals after being severely scored by Judge Sessions.

Mammoth Purchase and Anniversary Sale of 700 Stunning Suits and Coats at Less Than Cost of Materials and Making

In the many years of Freimuth progressive merchandising, we cap the climax in value-giving as we reach OUR THIRTY-FIRST BIRTHDAY WITH UNPRECEDENTED OFFERINGS IN WOMEN'S APPAREL.

GOOD FORTUNE favored our buyer, Mr. Kaltenback, while in Eastern Markets last week, in search for special lots of high-grade merchandise for the Great Anniversary Sale. He came East just at a time when manufacturers have reached the dull period—between-seasons, when wheels slacken, stocks accumulate and profits cease. Taking advantage of this condition of trade, our buyer bought hundreds of beautiful garments of a character and quality that Duluth women will simply rave over—beautiful in design, cloth, trimming, and that will create a sensation at the prices marked.

You'll share in this enthusiasm when you see the suits and coats and marvel at the low prices. They are divided into SIX big groups for quick and convenient choosing. The cut below illustrates a few of the many styles in the collection.

No Approvals, No Exchanges During This Sale.

The Homecroft Corner

Conducted By C. E. Roe.

Questions sent to Mr. Roe or to The Herald will be answered.

GARDENERS' CALENDAR.

Look to it that the garden is well drained.
Trim your trees and currant bushes.
Uncover roses and trim them.
Transplant hardy perennials as soon as the ground is dry enough.
Plant early peas.

Little planting can be done in the open until it has stopped raining and our gardens have had a day or two in which to dry a little, but it is an excellent time to determine just where drains are needed.

Few plants will thrive where the soil is constantly wet, even though they may require plenty of water during the growing season. Standing water will work greater injury to most plants than any amount of dry weather.

Trees, currant bushes and shrubs may be pruned at any time during the next two weeks.

The covering should be taken from roses and other shrubs. In order to get the best results from roses about one-half of the old wood should be removed and a liberal supply of well rotted stable manure dug in around the roots.

Wherever hardy perennials show signs of starting they may be safely moved at this time. In digging, leave a good ball of earth around the roots and thoroughly spade and pulverize the ground in the new location. While fresh manure should be avoided near the roots of all plants, a liberal amount of compost thoroughly incorporated will be found beneficial. No class of plants afford greater satisfaction for general planting than the best of our hardy perennials, and we have an infinite variety from which to choose, among the most desirable are the following: Peonies, German and Siberian iris, lilium elegans, tiger lilies, Oriental poppies, columbines, coreopsis, achilea, the delphiniums, bleeding hearts, coltonia and the Shasta daisy. All of these are absolutely hardy and the variety is great enough to afford a choice to meet the requirements of any given location.

Early garden peas should be planted now. The double row system is the best one to use for two reasons—it saves room in the garden and the two rows help to support each other. The two rows should be from six to eight inches apart and seed should be planted about two inches deep.

Spots where shade trees, fruit trees or shrubbery are to be planted should be selected now and the ground put in readiness so that there need be no delays when ready to plant. Do not use fresh manure in soil where these things are to be planted and where old manure is used, mix very thoroughly with the soil. Stable manure may be used as a mulch after trees are set if kept several inches from trunks of trees.

This is the ideal time for pruning trees and shrubs. Be careful to use a sharp knife so as to make a smooth, clean cut. Where a large limb is removed, paint the wound with white lead to prevent bleeding and to keep out the water. Never leave a projecting stub where a limb is removed, but carefully pare down to the tree trunk.

Currants and gooseberries give a much heavier crop and much better fruit when pruned. It is a good plan to remove some of the old wood and some of the new each year.

WIDOW ACCEPTS $5,000 FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH.

June 20 has been set by Judge Bert Fesler of the district court as the day for a final hearing on the final distribution of the wrongful death funds belonging to the estate of Stephen J. McCloskey, who was killed Feb. 13 while in the employ of the Northern Pacific Railroad company. McCloskey was attempting to board a train in the Duluth yards when he slipped and fell under the cars. His widow, Ella McCloskey, has accepted $5,000 from the company in settlement of her claim for damages. Besides the widow, McCloskey left one son, aged 9. The family lived at Forestville, Wis.

RAIL TRAFFIC IS GROWING

Big Influx of Settlers Encourages Officials in Duluth.

Railroad traffic from this point is beginning to show improvement, according to local freight officials. It is believed that with the large acreage going undercrop under the best possible soil conditions, the early agricultural outlook over the Northwest could not well be improved upon.

The influx of settlers into Northern Minnesota and Montana is said to be on a more extended scale this spring than in any previous year, judging by the cars of effects being handled by the various roads.

The movement of forest products is continuing in some volume and forwardings of general merchandise from this point are being well maintained.

Satisfaction is expressed in railroad circles over the St. Paul road's satisfactory March revenue report just issued. It is shown that the road did a larger gross business last March than in any other March in its history. After providing for all expenses, a balance of $1,644,068 was left for dividends on the system's preferred and common stocks or $500,000 above proportionate requirements.

It is now intimated that in view of the development taking place over their territories and the outlook for a continuance of that condition of affairs, two or three of the strongest Western railroads will not join in the proposed petition to the interstate commerce commission for a 10 per cent advance in freight rates on the ground that they could not justify any demand for higher rates and that their participation in such request would merely weaken the arguments of the other roads that need relief.

DYSPEPSIA OVERCOME

Tone Up the Stomach With Hood's Sarsaparilla.

When you have dyspepsia your life is miserable. You have a bad taste in your mouth, a tenderness at the pit of your stomach, a feeling of puffy fullness, headache, heartburn, and sometimes nausea.

Dyspepsia is difficult digestion—that is what the word means—and the only way to get rid of it is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system. Hood's Sarsaparilla, sold by all druggists, is the one medicine which acts on the stomach through the blood and also directly. Its beneficial effects are felt at once. Improvement begins immediately.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, makes the rich red blood that is needed for perfect digestion, and builds up the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's, for no other medicine can take its place.

FINED $10,000 AND GIVEN TWO YEARS

Jelke Gets Limit for Oleo Frauds—Employes Also Sentenced.

Chicago, May 5.—John F. Jelke, millionaire manufacture of oleomargarine, who was recently convicted with seven of his employes of having violated the Federal revenue laws, stood before Judge Geiger in the United States district court yesterday, awaiting sentence and asking justice for himself and clemency for his associates.

Jelke was fined $10,000 and sentenced to two years in the Leavenworth penitentiary, the maximum penalty. His codefendants were fined $2,500 each. Execution of all the sentences was stayed by the court for thirty days to permit an appeal.

Called to the bar of the court, Jelke was asked if he had anything to say before sentence was imposed.

Takes Responsibility.

"I have been in business in this country for more than twenty years," was the reply of the chief defendant. "I have had an honorable career. I do not ask anything for myself but what is justice. For the other defendants I ask clemency, as I take the entire responsibility of the case on myself."

Pronouncement of his fine and order of imprisonment followed after a short pause in which all in the court room gazed at the millionaire at the bar pleading for mercy for his employes and accepting his fate without a murmur.

Before sentence was imposed, counsel for the defendant argued for a new trial and the Federal prosecutor called the attention of the court to the many small dealers who had been heavily fined and imprisoned for the same offense as that charged against John F. Jelke and his associates.

Released on Bonds.

None of the seven fined with Jelke had anything to say when they were sentenced.

The seven were released on bonds pending the filing of a writ of error in their appeal. Mr. Jelke's bond was fixed at $20,000 and that of the other defendants at $5,000 each.

LOST PRISONER BUT CAPTURED UNDERWEAR

Officer Montgomery lost his prisoner after making an arrest late last evening, but he got a suit of woman's underwear for his trouble. The union suit is being held at headquarters for the owner, if she dares come and get it.

The patrolman was walking along his beat near Second alley, between First and Second avenue east, when he saw a young man come out of the alley with something dangling from under his arm. Patrolman Montgomery caught up with the man and seeing the suit of underwear, which had been taken from a clothes line in the alley, arrested the man on a charge of larceny.

While the two were walking toward the station, the prisoner made a dash for liberty and escaped, leaving Patrolman Montgomery with the underwear. He brought the suit to headquarters, where he has been made the butt of jokes all morning.

SIXTY MEMBERS IN GARDENING CLASS

A class of 60 took up gardening work at the Y. M. C. A. under the instruction of Prof. H. F. Mackintosh of the agricultural college of the University of Minnesota.

Prof. Mackintosh spoke yesterday to the members on the general beneficial effects of gardening upon home conditions. He will speak again today at 4:30 o'clock and at 8 o'clock and outline various phases of the work.

DOLLAR DINNER PLANNED

Senator Boyle's Adherents Will Have Banquet May 25.

The Boyle-for-Congress club, at a meeting held last evening, determined to hold a "dollar dinner" at the St. Louis hotel on the evening of May 25. The chief speakers will be Senator James P. Boyle, to further whose candidacy the club has been formed, and Mayor Victor L. Power of Hibbing. Others will be on the toastlist as well. Committees to make arrangements were named as follows:

Menu and decorations, J. A. Boyle and Edward Hubnky; program, O. B. Bjorge, C. R. Magney and Stanley Lamb; publicity, A. P. Dills, J. F. Frost, Hans Wahl, Axel Youngstrand and F. A. Ossara; tickets O. B. Bjorge, Joseph Brennan, Thomas Joyce and John Shea.

CRUISER SENT TO SANTO DOMINGO.

Washington, May 5.—The armored cruiser Washington, en route to Vera Cruz, was intercepted yesterday at Key West and ordered to the northern coast of the Dominican republic, where there is a panic among foreign residents in consequence of President Boras' bombardment of the insurgent city of Puerto Plata.

The fighting has been going on for a week and the situation is causing grave concern among officials here.

Commander Graham of the gunboat Petrel, off Puerto Plata, has been trying to have the combatants agree to a neutral zone. It was said here that if the demand was not agreed to it probably would be enforced by the American naval commanders.

SIX PRISONERS DISPOSED OF

Two Discharged, Three Paroled and One Sent to Reformatory.

Charges of assault in the second degree which were preferred against Claude and Charles Smith, logging contractors, were dismissed by Judge Dancer yesterday afternoon on the motion of County Attorney Greene. The county attorney represented to the court that the evidence was insufficient to convict. The Smiths are accused of having threatened Culver Thurber with a loaded revolver March 4.

After receiving pleas of guilty from John Budnick, 23, Superior, and Francis Baudin, 17, William Hartman, 18, and Clyde Schrandt, 17, of West Duluth on the joint charge of attempted burglary in the third degree, Judge Dancer sentenced the quartet to the state reformatory at St. Cloud. Except in Baudin's case, the sentences were suspended and the young men paroled. Baudin, the court was informed, had been involved in previous trouble and had been given ample opportunity to mend his ways.

The four young men were arrested Sunday morning, April 26, by Officer Perry, who caught them in an attempt to break into the grocery store of Charles Chilstrand, 201 South Fifty-ninth avenue west.

The DOCTOR'S HELPS
By Donald McCaskey, M. D.

HOW YOU CAN CURE YOUR INDIGESTION.

D. A. N. asks:

"What can I do? I am a great sufferer from intestinal indigestion and have been ill from it for some years. Can it be cured? If so, what would you advise me to do, and what medicine to take?"

The very best medicine you can take is one-half a glassful of castor oil once a week. If there is no organic disease in your intestines, you can readily be cured, and very promptly, too. It will be essential, however, for you to keep your system thoroughly cleaned out weekly, for the next four or five months at least. The castor oil can be readily fixed up in some simple syrup, such as sarsaparilla or wild cherry, and mixed with seltzer water or ordinary carbonated soda water. The point is to get a half glassful into your stomach to thoroughly cleanse and lubricate your weakened and poisoned bowels. The castor oil cannot hurt you at all. It is as harmless as water. The great mistake that people make in using it is they do not take enough. They fear that a large quantity will work injury to them. This is utterly impossible. After a certain small amount of the oil is absorbed and stimulates the bowels to action, the rest of the oil passes off merely as a bulk, the same as ordinary water. As to your diet, you will have to be governed entirely by what agrees with you. If, for instance, you have a heavily coated tongue, foul breath and are constipated, the general principle upon which you could proceed would be to live off the grains, such as the various preparations of wheat. Each of these preparations should be well baked—in fact, charred—before eating. Bran is a very beneficial food in many instances, particularly for the phosphates which are contained in it. You should eat graham bread, and be governed in your selection of other food entirely by your degree of comfort and strength. Oftentimes a patient with intestinal indigestion needs sleep more than any other medicine. Occasionally buttermilk is highly effective. A great deal must depend upon your age, your daily habits and the general physical vigor you now possess. Let me repeat that if there is no organic disease, such as a cancer or any tubercular development, your indigestion can absolutely be cured. Let me again emphasize that your best medicine is castor oil in mammoth doses once a week. If after three months you are not decidedly relieved, and begin to pick up, you should by all means consult your local physician and utilize the advantages of his trained experience. You should also profit by the common-sense conclusions of your own experience supplementary to those of your physician.

YES, YOUR HEART WILL GET STRONG IF GIVEN A CHANCE.

A telegraph operator, suffering from pain at the heart, writes as follows: "I consulted my doctor, who examined my heart and said the muscle was weak and overworked, that it was a nervous heart and probably a little rheumatic. He prescribed some dope for the rheumatism, which I have been taking for three weeks, but it doesn't seem to make any difference. He said he would not give me any medicine for my heart; it would come all right of itself by abstaining from tobacco and alcohol. What I wish to know is, that if the muscle of the heart is weak, is it not customary to prescribe for such weakness? I am treated by a company doctor, who gets a deduction of so much money per month from each employe's pay of the railroad, and I want your opinion on these two questions: First, is my heart likely to get strong if given a chance? Is it possible to get clear of rheumatism?"

Yes, your heart can get strong of itself if it is given the proper chance. For the very reason that your physician urged you to abstain from tobacco and alcohol, it is likewise important that you keep your system absolutely pure internally from decomposing food. When the foods you eat are not thoroughly digested, they putrefy and manufacture poison, just the same as do alcohol and tobacco. These poisons act as an irritating substance against the heart, first directly through the blood and by means of disarranging the blood pressure. When the blood pressure is increased from a poisonous condition of the system, the heart is compelled to overwork itself. It is this same poison which, when it oversaturates the system, brings about the rheumatic twinges of which you speak.

It is not only possible, but it is absolutely certain, that you can get clear of rheumatism as well as permit your heart to grow strong.

Do this: ADOPT THE CALOMEL AND CASTOR OIL SYSTEM OF TREATMENT FOR THE NEXT TWO MONTHS. Utilize this treatment once each week, and live absolutely upon nothing but fruit, vegetables, nuts and the various preparations of wheat. If you do not put any meat, cheese, milk or eggs into your system, there will be no chance for the nitrogenous elements in these foods to putrefy and generate poison. If at the end of eight weeks you do not feel decidedly improved, you need closer medical attention than it is possible to give you through these Doctor's Helps articles. Go to your physician, therefore, and take this letter with you. He is on the ground, and must know what is best for your particular needs after he has examined your heart, your blood pressure, your kidneys and the other parts of your bodily machinery.

"DIDN'T BELIEVE UNCLE SAM HAD TROOPS LIKE THOSE"

Vera Cruz, via Galveston, Texas, May 5.—The first fruits of the lessons of the Spanish war have been made evident by the military occupation of Vera Cruz by American forces. This tropical town still rings with praise of the conduct of the bluejackets in the street fighting of April 21.

The appearance, the equipment, the whole military effect of the landing forces was a surprise. No native believed the United States "had troops like that."

The gallant deeds of the bluejackets in the street fighting of April 21 and 22 probably never will all be recorded. Heroism was too common to be noted these days. On the roof of the Terminal hotel, near the water front, Ensign Edward O. McDonnell of the battleship Florida was stationed with a machine gun, sputtering its leaden hail through the streets while the jackies came up from the landing under fire.

Boy Stuck to Post.

One by one the snipers picked off McDonnell's men and they went down until more than three-fourths of his crew and force was gone. He would have been justified in abandoning his position as untenable after losing half his force, but he stuck to the gun himself with the able men remaining.

"That's what only a boy out of the naval academy did," said Capt. Harry McL. P. Huse, Rear Admiral Fletcher's chief of staff, in relating the story. "The jackies are only boys; the average age is 21. I am told that some of the Mexicans said, 'if this is the way these boys shot, what will happen when the men come down?'"

Differences in Aim.

The walls about the fighting zone attest to the steady aim of the American marksmen. Mexican bullets cracked the electric light globes twenty feet up, shot out second story windows and chipped the quaint old cornices; but looking on the walls breast high, head high, stomach high, one finds the smooth, round perforations from the steel-jacketed bullets of the American rifles.

Three bluejackets at the end of a street were conducting a long range duel with three snipers at the other end. Three shots banged out a few seconds apart. "Bullseye," announced the first jackie, "bullseye" said the second, "bullseye chorused the third and three snipers went hurtling off balconies and through the air to the street below.

Such stories might be told by the hour.

Woman Killed Eight.

Vera Cruz, May 5.—A woman said to have killed eight American bluejackets and marines by sniping them in the streets during the first days of the American occupation was given into the custody of the military authorities last night. A Mexican had informed army officials of her whereabouts, upon which her house was searched and a quantity of arms found. She is to be tried by a military court on charge of murder.

DR. RYAN SAFE.

Huerta Will Give Him Into Care of Brazilian Minister.

Mexico City, May 5.—Dr. Edward Ryan, the American who had been recently condemned to death at Zacatecas, has arrived here. Dr. Ryan was taken from the train by the strong guard of soldiers which accompanied him and conducted to the national palace. He had been expected to reach here on Saturday and the delay in his arrival caused some anxiety.

At the national palace it was stated that Dr. Ryan would be handed over to the care of the Brazilian minister, who is looking after the interests of the United States, and who would later put him on board a refugee train for the coast on the way to the United States.

CONGO NATIVES KILL WHITE MEN.

Antwerp, Belgium, May 5.—Confirmation of a report of a native revolt in the Portuguese Congo and the killing of twenty white men, including some Protestant and Catholic missionaries, has been received here. Many other missionaries have fled from the affected district, according to dispatches from Boma, Belgian Congo. The natives are led by a chief from San Salvadore.

GLYNN URGES SHORT SESSION.

Albany, N. Y., May 5.—"Trim appropriations to the bone and adjourn within a week" summarizes the chief points in the message Governor Glynn sent to the legislature last night when it convened in extraordinary session to consider financial legislation. The governor made it clear that under no circumstances would he approve of expenditures in excess of the state revenues this year.

RECREATION HALLS ON PIER AT CHICAGO.

Chicago, May 5.—Plans for building a mammoth recreation center at the end of a 3,000-foot pier in Chicago's outer harbor were submitted to Mayor Harrison yesterday by the harbor and subway commission. The plan calls for the erection of a free observation tower on the pier, the building of a large dance hall and wide pavilions overlooking the lake. The recreation center, under the plan proposed, is to be connected with the city by a street car line accessible to cars of all the present surface lines.

Watch Carefully the Child's Diet

Start Them Off Right With a Good Laxative and Then Watch Their Food

Mothers are often unconsciously very careless about the diet of their children, forcing all to eat the same foods. The fact is that all foods do not agree alike with different persons. Hence, avoid what seems to constipate the child or to give it indigestion, and urge it to take more of what is quickly digested.

If the child shows a tendency to constipation it should immediately be given a mild laxative to help the bowels. By this is not meant a physic or purgative, for these should never be given to children, nor anything like salts, pills, etc. What the child requires is simply a small dose of the gentlest of medicines, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which, in the opinion of thousands of watchful mothers, is the ideal remedy for any child showing a tendency to constipation. So many things can happen to a constipated child that care is necessary. Cold, piles, headaches, sleeplessness, and many other annoyances that children should not have can usually be traced to constipation.

Many of America's foremost families are never without Syrup Pepsin, because one can never tell when some member of the family may need it, and all can use it. Thousands endorse it, among them Mrs. M. E. Patten, Valley Junction, Iowa, who is never without it in the house. Mrs. Patten says that Syrup Pepsin has done wonders for her boy Ralph, who was constipated from birth but is now doing fine. Naturally she is enthusiastic about it and wants other mothers to use it. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size being bought by those who already know its value, and it contains proportionately more.

Everyone likes Syrup Pepsin as it is very pleasant to the taste. It is also mild and non-griping and free from injurious ingredients.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

OPPOSITION WITHDRAWN

City's New Purchasing System and Store Room Established.

Property Owners on Victoria Street Protest Against Paving.

The city council had a quiet session yesterday afternoon, transacting with little discussion only such business as had been scheduled.

The ordinance introduced by Finance Commissioner Fred J. Voss, providing for a purchasing agent and a store room, was adopted without debate. Commissioner Merritt voted against it on the roll call, but before adjournment directed City Clerk C. S. Palmer to change his vote, explaining that he did not desire to be alone in opposing the measure.

The ordinance designates the city clerk as purchasing agent and limits his purchases to office stationery and supplies, blank books, printed forms and janitor supplies. A room in the basement will be used as a store room for these supplies. The announced intention of the council is to later enlarge the purchasing system to include all materials and supplies used by the city. As required by the charter, the ordinance will lay over thirty days before it becomes effective.

All bids received for the purchase of the house and lot of the water and light plant on South street between Fourteenth and Fifteenth avenues and the townhall and lot at Lakeside, were rejected. Two new offers were received for the former, Thomas Knutson, an employe of the water and light plant who now occupies the property, bidding $2,500, and P. M. Olson of the Duluth Builders Supply company bidding $2,600.

Protest on Paving.

A petition was received asking that the contract for paving Victoria street between Woodland avenue and the Hartley road with asphalt on a concrete base be abandoned. Attorney J. A. Wharton appeared for the petitioners. He represented that it is a side street and that such an expensive improvement is unnecessary. He added that the city's share is about $3,500 and that this money can be used elsewhere to greater advantage. The contract was let last year to P. McDonnell and later taken over by the National Surety company. Attorney H. A. Carmichael appeared for the bonding company and said that his clients were willing that the work be discontinued. The petition was referred to Commissioner Murchison, head of the works division.

An ordinance appropriating $1,800 for the erection of comfort stations in Chester, Lincoln and Fairmont parks was introduced by Mayor Prince. These will be built this season. One was placed at Lester park last year.

Commissioner Merritt's ordinance appropriating $6,000 for the erection of residences for the engineers of the pumping stations for the Woodland and orphanage systems was given its first reading. The first is at Thirty-fourth avenue east and Fourth street and the other near Minneapolis avenue and Mankato street.

The council passed a resolution authorizing Manager D. A. Reed and Engineer E. W. Kelly of the water and light department to attend the annual American Waterworks convention, which will meet at Philadelphia the week of May 10. Each will be allowed $100.

Saloon for Suburb.

A lengthy petition was presented asking the council to grant Danculovich and Lubratovich a saloon license at 1313 Commonwealth avenue, at Gary. No action was taken and at the next council meeting it is not unlikely that a resolution will be passed giving it as the sense of the commission that no further saloon licenses be granted in that part of the city this year.

A. J. Erickson made application for the renewal of his saloon license at 19 South Sixty-third avenue west. This is one of the licenses, the renewal of which Commissioner W. A. Hicken, head of the safety division, announced that he would oppose.

Upon motion of Commissioner Hicken the application of Edward C. McArthur for a license to operate an employment agency at 305 West Michigan street was denied. The policy of the commission thus far has been to prevent an increase in the number of employment agencies.

No one appeared to protest against the ordinance designating blocks 109 and 110, West Duluth, Sixth division, as a residence section, and it was advanced to its second reading. Mayor Prince explained that the plans for establishing a home for crippled children in that vicinity have been abandoned, for which reason no one had any objection to the restriction of those blocks.

Much Licensed Man.

G. Carino, 607 West Superior street, is a much licensed man. The council yesterday afternoon granted him licenses for a second-hand store, for a pool and billiard hall and to sell cigarettes. A large number of other miscellaneous licenses were granted.

H. W. Cheadle, C. F. Colman and W. J. Holmes filed notices of appeal from the assessment levied for the construction of the Polk street outlet sewer. They were referred to the legal department.

Commissioner Voss' resolution establishing the form for extended assessment certificates was passed.

The salary of the second assistant field engineer was raised from $130 to $140 a month. He will hereafter have charge of the field crews in both the eastern and western ends of the city.

C. O. White was awarded the contract for hauling water and gas pipe during the season on his low bid of $1,382.

Ordinances appropriating $300 for the purchase of electric light globes and $150 for the lithographing of 500 registered bond forms were passed.

A sanitary sewer was ordered in Eighth alley between Eleventh and Thirteenth avenues east.

Resinol will stop that itch

The moment that Resinol Ointment touches itching skin the itching stops and healing begins. DRAMA STUDY CLUB.

Annual Meeting and Election of Officers.

At the meeting of the Duluth Drama Study club yesterday afternoon a constitution and by-laws were adopted and the program for next year's work was presented and accepted.

Mrs. R. Spiegel, chairman of the program committee presented the following synopsis of work:

American playwrights—twenty minutes' talk by Mrs. John H. Norton; reading of Percy Mackaye's "Tomorrow," Mrs. E. W. Kaltenbach, leader; English, talk by Miss Frances Earhart; reading of George Bernard Shaw's "Man and Superman," Mrs. B. E. LaLonde, leader; German, talk by Mrs. E. L. Kimball; reading of Schoenherr's "Glaubens Helmat", Russian, talk by Mrs. M. Cook; reading of "Anathema" (Leonidas Andryse), Mrs. Koenigsberg; Scandinavian, Ibsen's "Lady From the Sea," Mrs. Goldberg, leader; French, talk by Mrs. W. N. Merriam; reading of Maeterlinck's "Sister Beatrice," "Ariadne" and "Barbe Bleue," Mrs. W. G. Lattue, leader. Dramatic afternoons will be conducted by Mrs. Kaake, Mrs. Ash, Miss Snesgreen, Mrs. Engel and Mrs. Spiegel.

Meetings will be held the second and fourth Fridays of each month. The first meeting next season will be fourth Friday of September. Those holding membership tickets will be admitted to all the privileges of the club to the close of the financial year. Dramatic afternoons will be restricted to those holding membership tickets.

The following committees were appointed yesterday: Committee on plays, Mrs. R. Spiegel, Mrs. F. Moondshine, Mrs. H. L. Harter, Mrs. John Norton, Mrs. Neil B. Morrison; committee on juvenile work, Mrs. J. E. Samuelson, Mrs. C. E. Oberg, Miss Lena Fleer; committee on 1915 pageant, Mrs. W. A. Kaake, Mrs. F. Moondshine, Mrs. W. N. Merriam.

The officers of the club are: President, Mrs. W. A. Kaake; secretary, Miss Lena Fleer; treasurer, Mrs. M. Cook and chairman, Mrs. J. C. H. Engel. The executive board, composed of the officers of the club, will meet soon to decide on the date for a reception.

At yesterday's meeting Mrs. R. P. Boyington gave a talk on flower gardens and the desirability of spending a great deal of time out of doors.

There will be a debate on "Woman Suffrage" at the Glen Avon Presbyterian church May 15. For this occasion the ladies' guild of the church will be the hostesses and members of the Duluth Drama Study class will be the debaters. Miss Frances Earhart and Dr. Mary McCoy will present the suffrage side and Mrs. J. C. H. Engel and Mrs. R. Spiegel will try to put aside their firm convictions for part of one evening and give arguments for the "antis." In addition to the debate, the program will include a humorous reading by Mrs. W. A. Kaake and there will be other features.

COLLEGIATE ALUMNAE.

Interesting Program Arranged for Next Season.

At the meeting of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. A. Dancer, 2511 East Superior street, the following officers were elected for next year: L. W. Kline, president; Mrs. W. W. Sanford, first vice president; Miss Dorothy Olcott, second vice president; Mrs. Augustin Mathers, secretary and treasurer; Miss Elizabeth Congdon, chairman of the membership committee.

An interesting program has been arranged for next season. It will consist largely of discussions by the members and social functions. The annual luncheon will be given at the Glass Block tea room in October. In November there will be a paper on "Present Tendencies in Women's Education" and a Saturday luncheon at the tea room. At the January meeting the subject will be "Is the Woman's College Preferable to the Co-educational or the Co-ordinated College?" A musicale will be given in January. For February the subject will be "A Study of the Condition of the Working Girl in Duluth in Factory, Department Store and Domestic Service." There will also be a Saturday luncheon at the same room. At the regular meeting in March there will be the discussion of "Feminism" and a studio reception. In April current events of interest to college women will be discussed and there may be a discussion of some new volume of current literature. In May "Birds" will be the subject for the informal meeting, with perhaps a trip to the woods. The annual reception will be held in May.

CLUB WOMEN OF EIGHTH DISTRICT OPEN THEIR ANNUAL CONVENTION AT CLOQUET

"Child Conservation" Is the Keynote of the Meeting—Many Duluth Women on the Program—President of State Federation in Attendance.

Cloquet, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The members of the Women's Friday club of Cloquet are putting forth every possible effort to make their guests, the visiting club women of the Eighth district, who assembled here today, welcome in the city.

They have been at work for more than two months perfecting plans for the comfort of their guests.

The club women of the Eighth district owe the Women's Friday club of Cloquet a debt of gratitude for inviting the convention to this city, as the Eighth district was without a place of meeting. Sandstone extended an invitation at the meeting at Virginia last year, but was later put into the new Tenth Congressional district, leaving the Eighth district without a place of meeting. The Cloquet women very generously come forward and offered their hospitality.

About sixty visitors and delegates were present at today's session. Unusual interest is manifested throughout the district in the convention, more visitors than usual attending. A large delegation is here from Duluth.

Mrs. Fred Vibert of Cloquet is general chairman of all local convention committees. The chairman of the finance committee is Mrs. Hugo Schlenk; chairman of the entertainment and greeting committee, Mrs. C. L. Dixon; chairman of press committee, Mrs. C. D. Ohman; chairman of credential committee, Mrs. Charles Canfield; chairman of reception committee, Mrs. L. W. Foster.

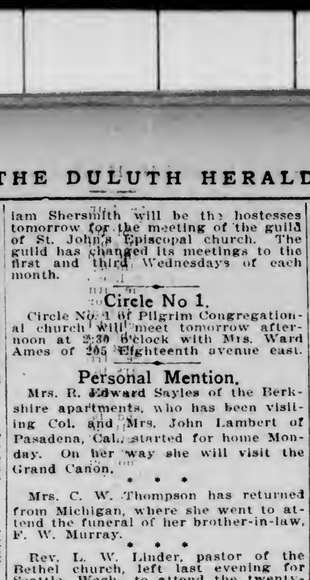
All of the meetings were held in the auditorium of the Masonic temple. A luncheon was served at noon in the domestic science room of the high school to about 100 women. The tables were beautifully decorated with cut flowers and the luncheon was enjoyed by everyone. The delegates were met at the station by the local committee and were taken in automobiles to the high school for the luncheon.

"Child Welfare."

The invocation was given by Rev. C. W. Ramshaw of Cloquet. Mrs. John Sheean, president of the Women's Friday club, welcomed the delegates and visitors to the city. Mrs. F. L. Austin of Chisholm responded. The keynote of the convention is "Child Welfare." Every topic presented bears in some way on that main topic. Miss Katherine King, who has done so much for the children of the Bryant school in Duluth, opened the convention with a talk on "Child Conservation." Mrs. C. L. Atwood of St. Cloud spoke on the "New Community Spirit." Mrs. Atwood is intensely interested in social center work, and believes that every school in every community should be open at all times for the benefit of all the people. Mrs. O'Donnell of Duluth, who is scheduled to speak Wednesday morning, found that she could not be present on Wednesday morning, and was given a place on the afternoon program today, and talked on the "Vocational Training for Girls." Mrs. W. W. MacMillan of Hibbing presented the topic "Medical Inspection of Schools." Mrs. Havens of Cloquet spoke on the "Child's Birthright." Miss Agnes L. Peterson, head of the women's department of the state department of labor, spoke on "Child Labor and Delinquency." Mrs. P. L. De Voist brought before the convention the work of the state federation. Some folk dances were given by pupils of the public school, under the direction of Miss M. Gladys Buck. This evening a reception will be given and a lecture by Dr. John Henry Gray of the department of economics, University of Minnesota.

The day programs are open to every one. The evening program is open to club members, visitors and invited guests.

MRS. PETER OLESON of Cloquet, Who Is Taking Prominent Part in Entertainment of Guests.



MRS. C. L. ATWOOD of St. Cloud, President of State Federation of Women's Clubs.

New Clubs in District.

Some new clubs have entered the Eighth district since the last convention at Virginia, among them being a good live mothers' club from Ely, which has done good civic work. This club will present a Lyceum course in Ely next winter. The Community club of Big Falls is a recent addition to the federation, and is doing wonderful civic work in that city. The Nemadji club is also a recent addition to the federation and very welcome. A Mothers' club has recently been formed at Moose Lake and one at Grand Rapids, which are expected to join the federation soon. There is also one at Deer River. This Deer River club is also working along civic lines. A Woman's club from Hill City has also entered the Eighth district federation recently and will have delegates at the convention.

Miss Stearns, representing the state library commission, was present, and Mrs. C. L. Atwood, state president, who is very popular among the women of Minnesota, was also one of the welcome guests. This is Mrs. Atwood's first visit to the Eighth district as president of the Minnesota federation, although she has visited the district before during university week in several cities.

Miss King's Paper.

At the meeting this afternoon, Miss Katherine King read a paper on "Child Conservation." The discussion of the subject was led by Mrs. F. L. Barrows. In part, Miss King's paper was as follows:

"It gives me great pleasure to be with you this afternoon to speak to you for a little while about the work of the world of the present day.

"I come to you today to make a plea for a doctrine as old as the intelligence of mane a doctrine whose vital truth everyone recognizes and no one disputes; a doctrine too simple to need any argument or demonstration; a doctrine fundamental to the welfare and progress of the human race, and yet a doctrine whose application to the big problem of the hour is only beginning to be understood.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure,' is one of our common proverbs, but to take out of this wise saying its essential truth and create out of it an every day working policy is the work of the present day and the present generation. It takes courage, wisdom and determination.

"Standpatters."

"The world is largely made up of 'standpatters.'" At heart we are mostly a great body of conservatives, not because of convictions, but because it is so much easier to let things go on than to change them. It is so much more comfortable to keep hands off, to disclaim any personal responsibility and say the world has been turning quite a while on the old plan and will probably be able to keep on turning for a while longer, even if things aren't quite as they should be.

"It has been just this that made it so extremely difficult to carry through any far-reaching reform, even when the majority of people agreed that the reform was most imperative.

"Prevention."

"The closing years of the Nineteenth Century and the opening of the Twentieth have witnessed a great change in people's attitudes. 'Prevention' is fast becoming the watch word of the hour.

"Let us glance at the report of the bureau of the census on benevolent institutions in this country in 1910 and see what it cost us not to prevent, but to take care of results of conditions that should have been prevented. There are 998 institutions for the care of children in this country, their aggregate running expenses amounting to $11,859,746 a year. In addition there are 162 societies engaged in protecting and caring for children, costing nearly $2,000,000 to run. In addition to these there are 110 institutions for the care of the blind and deaf, each costing over $40,000 a year to conduct. The aggregate cost amounts to more than $22,000,000. Isn't there some way by which a good part of this sum could be turned into the channels of prevention, and the necessity of these institutions minimized?

"Much of this is due to prenatal causes which are preventable. This doctrine is being taken into account, as seen in the passing of laws regulating the hours of labor for women and children, where it is recognized that fatigue is the greatest drawback to efficiency; and in laws forbidding the employment of children at night and in special occupations, such as messenger service. Already there are notably gratifying results in efficiency and health.

"Infant and child life form an immeasurable part of family life. Anything that serves to raise the standard of family life reacts with especial force upon the child, and anything that makes better conditions for child life reciprocally improves the family.

The Fly Campaign.

"Take for example the campaign against flies. All over the United States the cry has gone out against the common fly as a menace to the health of the baby by infecting the milk the baby is to drink. We set about to keep the fly out; we screen the houses and exterminate the insect by every means in our power. The baby has clean milk, and incidentally the whole family has cleaner food to eat, the house is cleaner and the sleep of the whole household is more restful. This is only one of the manifold examples that might be cited.

Infant Mortality.

"According to the best estimate which can be made it is believed that 300,000 babies die in this country every year before they have lived one year. This is a number almost large enough to people a city the size of Minneapolis. Suppose the entire population of Minneapolis be wiped out this year by illness. Fancy what would happen through the rest of the country. Men would not lose a day's time to begin to study the cause of such a dreadful waste of human life, but when these deaths are scattered over the country they cause little general comment.

"This is not the worst aspect of the story. The best authorities believe one-half of them perish needlessly. That is, 150,000 babies die of preventable causes, a number equal to the population of a city twice the size of Duluth. These comparisons will give you some idea of the problem which confronts every state, city, association and individual engaged in any work for the conservation of children.

"If we have time in discussing this matter of infant mortality you will very likely be confronted with the question, 'Why should we try to save the babies of poverty? Are they not better off dead? What has life to offer them?'

Right to Live.

"You may be right as far as individual babies are concerned; possibly death may be regarded by some as preferable to life in its worst form, but who is to decide which babies are to die and which live? Lincoln lived a miserable childhood amid the most sordid conditions, and yet no one will say that he might better have died in infancy. Every child born has a right to life, and not only that, but to the best possible chance to work out his own life under the best surroundings we can give him.

"The moral well being depends to no small extent upon physical well being. Social health, good habits and sound normal actions grow quite readily in a healthy normal child, while perverted and diseased habits of thought and action go hand in hand with unsoundness.

"It costs the citizens of the United

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

There Should Be More Happy Married Couples.

I read recently about an old couple who had rounded out 50 years of married life without one unkind word having passed between them. They are just as happy, just as much in love and contented as they were fifty years ago. The old gentleman expressed the hope that the old-fashioned spectacle of a couple retaining deep affection for one another all these years might prove of benefit to some of the young men and women marrying today.

It seems hardly possible that two married persons could live their entire lives without having occasional differences of opinion. It takes two very tolerant people to trot in double harness without now and then attempting to pull in opposite directions. But you do see this sometimes, but it is for the most part an "old-fashioned spectacle."

It is one of the most beautiful and comforting sights in the world, however, and it is something to make every young man and woman take notice. Is it worth a wife's love and respect to be known for a few years as a good sport and a good spender of what rightfully belongs to your wife and children? There are men who would rather have the cheap applause and the so-called good will of a lot of ill-chosen companions than the consciousness of having provided for their families.

It does not dawn upon them that the care of a wife and family and the preservation of a home are things that will pay dividends later in life. A good husband, if he has a good wife, cannot be too devoted to her interests, for hers are naturally his and every year they become more inseparately intertwined.

And a woman might ask herself, "Is it worth the price of fine clothes and luxuries and extravagant whims, to discourage a willing husband to the point where he feels that he is nothing more than a provider and that he must be a good one to retain his wife's love, or that what she calls love?"

There should be more in life for a woman than clothes, matinee tickets and maids and expensive apartments. The best men and women have found it in working for one another. These may not always live for fifty years without having one unkind word pass between them, but they will live so that all their lives each will be a sort of comfort and happiness to the other and so that in their latter years they find themselves still sweethearts and more deeply in love than they ever supposed it possible to be.

States $1,100,000,000 each year for police, courts of justice, prisons, charities and corrections and similar forms of self-protection against evils already allowed to exist.

"Only $600,000,000 is spent annually for schools, churches and other constructive agencies. In other words, $500,000,000 more is spent to keep up the human failures than is used to develop the human assets.

"If the American people would apply their recognized business clear-sightedness to invest an additional $500,000,000, or a part of it, each year for constructive and preventive work, the enormous waste in carrying along human failures would be reduced to reasonable bounds. The business of life needs to be placed on the basis of efficiency. A continued or even increasing outlay of $1,100,000,000 under the heading of losses on the debit side of the ledger spells ruin for the nation."

Preventive Measures.

Miss King named among the preventive measures carried on in this country the campaigns against tuberculosis, hookworm and trachoma; the fight against child labor and babysaving campaigns. Among the constructive agencies for the betterment of the race she enumerated efforts to secure playgrounds, park spaces, recreation centers, public baths, vacation homes, clubs and classes, welfare leagues and civic improvement leagues.

"The real hope for the best and most far-sighted welfare work," Miss King said, "lies in the intelligent training of young men and women to a sense of the responsibilities of fatherhood and motherhood and a civic responsibility."

She gave statistics to show drinking parents weaken their children and the death rate among children is higher in the families of those who drink than those who abstain, and said five times as many feeble-minded as normal children have both parents alcoholic; also that defective children increase with the alcoholism of fathers. Among the defects of such children are epilepsy, feeble-mindedness and St. Vitus dance. "Alcoholism and defects of brain and nerves go hand in hand," the speaker said.

Miss King summed up the situation the nation must face by saying, "The individual homes cannot handle the problem. If society cannot handle it, it cannot be handled."

Mrs. O'Donnell's Paper.

Mrs. Frank O'Donnell's paper was on "Vocational Training for Girls." She took for her subject what Laura Drake Gill, president of the College for Women at Sewanee, Tenn., calls her creed. Miss Gill's creed is:

"Every woman needs a skilled occupation, developed to the degree of possible self support.

"She needs this commercially as an insurance against possible reverses.

"She needs it socially for a comprehending sympathy with the world's workers.

"She needs it intellectually for a constructive habit which makes knowledge effective.

"She needs it ethically for a courageous willingness to do her share of the world's work."

Mrs. O'Donnell said the time has passed when parents think they have done their duty to their daughters if they have sent them through high school and possibly to college or a finishing school, for this is the theoretical side only of an education. "We are told," she said, "that education is that training which has for its aim a preparation for complete living. Is a girl who has not been taught to earn her living, should occasion arise, prepared to completely live?"

The speaker held that vocational training, fostering as it does a spirit of independence, is one solution for unhappy marriages. A woman who can earn her living is not liable to marry for a home or the money her husband can give her. As she can earn enough to provide necessities and some times luxuries, the matter of a living need not enter into her thoughts and she waits until the right man comes along. Such a union is like a partnership and the man may feel his money is safe with a woman who knows the value of dollars from having earned them. Mrs. O'Donnell thought vocational training for women, entailing, as it does, a knowledge of business, would make unnecessary a great deal of the talk about allowances for wives.

All Need Vocations.

The speaker said, "every normal woman needs a vocation and with it she needs an avocation as a sort of safety valve. The vocation may be an employment which she thoroughly enjoys, or it may be a work into which she was forced by adverse circumstances. The avocation should be the work she loves the best. As a general rule the avocation should be chosen which is farthest removed from the vocation; that is, if the vocation calls for the constant use of the brain and nerves, the avocation should be technical—some out of doors work is best. But if the vocation is largely mechanical some brain work should constitute the avocation. Oftentimes the pursuing of an avocation leads to the adoption of the same at a later period as a vocation."

Mrs. O'Donnell said formerly school teaching seemed the path of the least resistance for girls, it being thought femininity was lost in business. Now practically every line of work is open to women. Contrary to the belief that vocational training is narrowing, she said that such training from the most simple trade to the most difficult of the arts and professions is wide enough for the development of all tastes and capacity.

"Do not choose any one line because someone else has chosen it and made good in it," was her advice. "You might not fit there at all. You can not afford to be a square peg in a round hole. Nobody else ever stood in your particular place nor can any one ever stand in one identical. Do not try to shift into the place occupied by another.

"Sincerity of purpose, habits of industry, punctuality in performing work, alertness in seizing opportunities, zeal in performing the task assigned and a willingness to do more than the required task, are the qualifications of the successful worker in every vocation."

Efficiency.

Efficiency is natural to some women, Mrs. O'Donnell said, but by others it is acquired by hard work. Personal appearance and dignity were two other qualities she mentioned as important in the life of a woman who works. "The office is no place for cast-off finery or the latest Paris styles," she said, adding: "Have party dresses, dinner dresses and office dresses but do not mix them.

"The average American man," according to Mrs. O'Donnell, "is courteous to women, even in business, and in every instance will accord to her the respect to which she is entitled; whether she receives it in large or small measure rests with herself."

That industrial training and the emancipation of women are going to have a lasting effect on home life was the view held by the speaker. "Neither will it in any way unfit a girl for home life," she said, "for the tendency of such training is to fit the girl to be a home keeper in the true sense of the word. It teaches her self reliance and business methods, two absolute essentials for a home keeper."

As woman is a restless creature, Mrs. O'Donnell thinks if her talents are trained for a particular vocation while she is young she will have an outlet for her energies and will have a spirit of comradeship and equality established with man.

"All women whom the world delights to honor have been workers, sometimes of necessity and sometimes because of the love of working or to develop some special talent which thus used has given delight to hundreds of persons," Mrs. O'Donnell said.

In conclusion the speaker quoted Caryle who said, "All true work is sacred; in all true work, were it but true hand labor, there is something of divineness."

Mrs. De Voist's Paper.

Mrs. P. L. De Voist, whose subject was "State Work," said:

"We are working in the twentieth year of our organization as a state federation. Our state is divided for work into clubs, according to the lines drawn for our congressional districts. Since our last session of the state legislature we have one new district, now making ten. By this change we lose the clubs at Sandstone and Aitkin, these going into the new Tenth district. Over these districts we have ten splendid vice presidents. Proof of this is our growth this year for about thirty new clubs have joined our state federation since our last annual meeting at Brainerd, giving us now about 17,000 members in the federated clubs of Minnesota.

"We draw from the clubs of the several districts for women to serve on the various committees. Our vice presidents are asked to name women for these places who are willing to work. We are asked to arrange our committees to harmonize with those of the general federation, as they lead, step by step, in the great work of education.

"It is no memory of the long ago; to many of us it seems but yesterday when our club women began to grow accustomed to the sound of their own voices as they read some paper prepared. We look at our growth with interest. We see our birth, our childhood, and we are now quite 'women grown' in club work, and it is among the very choicest of life's memories that we have some achievements won.

"We see women opening the doors and windows of their souls and then come pouring in light and sunshine from other minds and souls. We look back to the banding together of women for service, the extent of which they faintly realized, pledging themselves to work for a common cause, the cause of womanhood throughout the world. Our clubs began to reach out into the new life for women. They stepped first into the educational field, and now for the first time, club women begin to see great fields ripe for harvest. Education, no longer for self, but for service, begins to take hold of the federation.

"May I say right here, our first state president, Miss Margaret J. Evans of Northfield, was a prominent factor in shaping federation work.

Step By Step.

"We have reached out step by step from literature and education to the various branches of art, civics, home economics, music, public health, scholarships, legislation, constitution, civil service, conservation, forestry, waterways, public parks, country life, mothers' clubs, our state fair, industrial and social conditions.

"Statistics tell us children under 16 years of age constitute about one-third of the population of the United States. The health and happiness, the education and training for life of the next generation are of the utmost importance. The movement for the study of the prevention of infant mortality, the popularization of child hygiene, the rapid extension of public and private agencies for conserving the life and health of children are striking developments of recent years in the field of child welfare.

Reformatory for Women.

"We look in at the home environment of childhood and labor and at recreation at school. It needs us step by step to needed legislation for human welfare, separate home schools for boys and girls, mothers' pensions and a minimum wage law. We pledge ourselves to work for a much needed state reformatory for women, we combine our efforts for some way to teach the young that fatherhood is as high and as holy as motherhood and try to revive an old fashioned reverence for chastity.

"The women's club movement has led us until we realize we may soon have a more effective weapon in the use of the ballot. We find our committees strongly banded together pledged to do the state work. We meet semi-annually, working for better conditions everywhere. We are also working for a state and general federation endowment fund. I hope many will feel the need and help this great cause."

"PASADENA'S 'GOLDENEST' WEDDING"

Leading Citizens of Nation Invited to Witness Ceremony Which United Former Duluthian to Descendant of English Kings.

One of the most elaborate weddings to occur in Southern California in years took place at St. John's Episcopal church in Los Angeles in which Hulett Clinton Merritt, Jr., formerly of Duluth, and Miss Sallie Hilliard Polk were the principals. In outlining the family connections of the bride and groom, the pages of heraldry are drawn from copiously and Southern California has probably never had a wedding in which the bride and bridegroom and guests could boast of such brilliant lineage and connections. In speaking of "Pasadena's goldenest weddding," the Daily News of that city says:

"Although the actual ceremony occurred in Los Angeles, it was in Pasadena that the arrangements have been made. Never in the history of the city has there been such an elaborate guest list, linking continents and social circles of many cities in which the families of the principals have moved. More than 1,200 persons were invited to the wedding, and in the guest list were numerous money kings and captains of industry with whom the Merritts have been associated and acquainted.

Descendant of Kings.

"Miss Polk is the daughter of Mrs. Ishmaela Maria Polk of Los Angeles, and Mr. Merritt, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hulett Clinton Merritt, Sr., of Terrace Drive, Pasadena. Miss Polk can trace her ancestry back to the royal Stuarts of England. She is the great granddaughter of Gen. Thomas Polk of North Carolina, who read the famous Mecklenberg Declaration of Independence in May, 1776. She is the grand niece of President James Knox Polk and is a niece of Baroness de Cherette of France and a descendent of the Lan Franco family which controls the shipping interests of Genoa, Italy. She is also a descendant of the Spanish don, Sepulveda.

"Mr. Merritt is a descendant of Thomas Merritt, who led the French Huguenots in their pilgrimage from France through Holland into England and was knighted by King Charles for his bravery. He is related to Gen. Wesley Merritt of the United States army, is a descendant of Sir James Wright, the last royal governor of Georgia, a descendant of Richard Wright, one of the three founders of Methodism in America. His father, Hulett C. Merritt, is leading member of the Merritt-Rockefeller syndicate of Minnesota, owners of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad and great iron mines of the Meaba range, ore docks, steamship lines which formed the foundation for the organization of the United States Steel corporation.

"Lee Benoist of New Orleans, who acted as best man, is a descendant of the ancient nobility of France and has numerous other prominent family connections.

"Dr. Granville McGowan, godfather of Miss Polk, gave the bride away and Mrs. George Trowbridge Heckley, her cousin, was matron of honor. Miss Kathleen Tottenham was maid of honor and Miss Rosaline Eunice Merritt and Mrs. Raymond Boileau Mixsell were bridesmaids.

"Those invited included a large number of people of prominence, among them being: Mr. and Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, Baron and Baroness von Bissing of Berlin, Capt. John M. Bowyer, commander of the U. S. steamship Illinois, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Church of Duluth, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Davidson of Duluth, Marquis and Marquise Antoine de Charette, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Uno Sebinius of Duluth, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Towne of Brooklyn, N. Y.; A. D. Thomson, Duluth; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Tomlinson, Duluth; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Washburn, Duluth; Baron William Vincent-Shotton, Yaye-Kiosque, Esplande Point Terminus Smyrna, Asiatic Turkey; R. S. Vanderbilt; Mr. and Mrs. John G. Williams, Duluth; Mr. and Mrs. Dwight E. Woodbridge, Duluth; Mr. and Mrs. J. Adam Bede and many others."

Amusement Notes.

The old adage about a whistling girl and a crowing hen may be true, according to Miss Helen Gannon, the "whistling prima donna" at the Duluth Orpheum this week, but according to Miss Gannon the whistling girl will never suffer from diseases of the lungs.

"Whistling is the best exercise for the lungs I know of," said Miss Gannon. "It compels deep breathing exercises, and any girl or woman who would whistle half an hour a day in the open air would have strong lungs.

Helen Gannon

MISS HELEN GANNON.

"The chief quarrel I have with it is that it is impossible to be both a singer and a whistler. I started out ambitiously to be a prima donna. I found the profession rather crowded to say the least, so I thought, of my old trick of whistling, at which I had been proficient since I was a little girl. It was easier to get engagements as a whistler than as a singer, but the more I whistled, the harder I found it to sing, and as I developed my whistling I lost my voice. My teachers have told me it is impossible for me to continue as a singer if I continue whistling, but my whistling is going to take me on a tour of Europe this summer, so I guess the singing will have to go."

Karl L. Way, who is now playing at the Empress theater in the comedy drama, "Human Hearts," has grown quite enthusiastic over the humor of the Southern negro and has been making a collection of stories illustrative of their peculiarities.

A late one that came to him concerns a colored maid who had been in the employ of a Southern woman for a number of years. One day the girl approached her mistress with a request that the latter take charge of her savings.

"Ah's gwine ter be married," she explained, "an' we's gwine on a honeymoon trip fer two weeks."

"But," protested her mistress, "don't you think you'd better take that money and give it to your husband. You may need it on your trip."

"What?" exclaimed the horrified darky. "Does you suppose Ah'd trus my money to a strange nigger?"

"Human Hearts" will remain at the Empress until Wednesday night.

ANOTHER SALOON WILL BE DROPPED

The revocation of saloon licenses in Duluth for law violation has become so common that such occurrences are losing the great interest which once attached to such an occurrence. Under previous administrations such an action was almost unheard of, but under the commission it has become quite common.

The next saloon slated for the discard is that run by Luther Dawson, colored, at 21 West Michigan street. Dawson was recently arrested and convicted of selling liquor after hours. It had a bar in the rooms back of the saloon, and is said to have done quite a prosperous business there during the hours the law states the lid shall be screwed down tight.

Commissioner Hicken said this morning that he will introduce a resolution at the council meeting next Monday afternoon citing Dawson to appear before the commission to show cause why his license should not be revoked. And judging from the history of the last year, that means that Dawson will be out of the saloon business in a very short time. His license has until Aug. 5 to run, but the probability is that the last quarter will never be used.

CONSIDER BANK PLANS.

Mayor Prince Will Attend Meeting in Minneapolis.

Mayor W. I. Prince will attend the meeting to be held at Minneapolis at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to consider further plans for the establishment of the regional reserve bank in this district, which will be located in that city. The meeting will be attended by five representatives of the parts of states included in this district. These are Minnesota, Montana, the two Dakotas and the northern sections of Wisconsin and Michigan. An effort will be made to secure a Northern Minnesota man as one of the board of directors. Mayor Prince is interested chiefly because he has a bank at Bessemer, Mich., which is included in this district.

ASSESSORS ARE CALLING

This is the time of year when all personal possessions become insignificant—scarcely worth mentioning.

For the deputy assessors are about the city with pencils and imposing lists, whereon they are supposed to record the true value of all one owns, in order that citizens may have the privilege of doing their share towards the maintenance of the government, city, county and state. All are supposed to give them correct answers to the numerous questions which they propound with the rapidity of a machine gun. "Supposed" is used advisedly, for long experience of assessors has shown that it fits the case.

When Values Shrink.

When the deputy comes around, highly prized possessions shrink and shrink. The way the values collapse in many instances reminds the assessor of the way a balloon behaves when a hole is punched through the side.

Household goods and utensils, as well as wearing apparel, are almost invariably old and nearly worn out. To hear some describe them they might have come over in the ark and that the clothing and dry goods stores hadn't made a sale since year before last, at the very latest. From some characterizations the deputies are led to declare that Duluthians are wearing ancient styles or garments which are nearly in tatters.

Books, pictures, bric-a-brac and works of art are only so much trash or cheap imitations. The sewing machines are nearly ready for the scrap heap; the watches and clocks are useless; diamonds aren't owned or are but paste; gold and silver plate are not gold and silver at all, and pianos and musical instruments are rattle boxes or very nearly played out.

Spavined Horses.

Horses are spavined, or have the heaves; as for blooded stock "there ain't no such animal;" farm tools and machinery are falling to pieces, and chickens which won blue ribbons are almost as rare as carrier pigeons. And so on down the list.

Owners of automobiles and motor trucks seldom try to make their machines older than they are, for the year in which they were made can easily be ascertained. Lumber, coal and merchandise are in sight and experienced men have been detailed to fix these values.

Not all, perhaps not the majority of people, go to the extremes mentioned, but many of them do, as the numerous deputies volubly testify when they return to the assessor's office in the evening to turn over their reports to Chief Deputy W. K. Fowler. Mr. Fowler says that the crew is probably the best which has ever been engaged in this line in Duluth the men are doing excellent work. The are making from fifty to seventy-five visits a day and there seems to be no question but what the outside work will be encountered in the office, where the work has been about trebled because of the added requirements of the new state law.

W. J. Stephens again has charge of moneys and credits, which are in a separate cluss. On these the tax is 3 mills on each dollar, or 30 cents for each $100. This was done to induce people to list holdings of this nature, which they heretofore concealed because they would not pay the full rate on them, which in many instances was almost equivalent to confiscation of the revenue or interest being received. Last year the moneys and credits amounted to nearly $14,500,000 and it is anticipated that the total this year will equal or exceed that sum.

BOY CHASTISED AT SCHOOL; VANISHES

Arthur De Moe, 15-year-old son of Henry De Moe, 1325 West Second street, is reported by his father as missing. The father notified police headquarters shortly after midnight last night.

The boy was chastised while at the Adams school yesterday morning and leaving at 10 o'clock, has not been seen since. He is described as being 5 feet, 1 inch in height and weighing about 125 pounds. He wore a blue serge suit and black shoes.

MANY TRAIN CREWS ARE HAULING ORE

Chisholm, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Beginning today the Great Northern railroad put on fourteen crews on a seven-day and seven-night shift, hauling ore from the Leonard, Chisholm, Monroe, Tener mines to Kelley Lake. It is anticipated a maximum of 1200 cars daily will be hauled, but the maximum will not be reached for a few days until crews get to working smoothly. These mines have large stockpiles, which have been accumulating for several years, and under the Hill lease all ore must be moved by Jan. 1 next.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY BEING ENJOYED BY KRANICH & BACH

The above picture is of the factory of Kranich & Bach, for 50 years successful piano manufacturers. Every appliance known to modern protective science for the protection and comfort and health of their employes is installed in this Model Factory.

As a fitting climax to 50 years of successful business, Kranich and Bach are having a Nation-wide Golden Anniversary Sale. They want this anniversary to be the biggest selling occasion in the history of their business. And to make this possible, they have made a reduction of $50.00 in the retail price on every one of their pianos sold in the United States during this sale period.

Smith & Allen Company, 309-311 West First street, have been exclusive representatives of Kranich & Bach since their opening here in Duluth, a year and a half ago. At Smith & Allen Company's warerooms can be found a complete line of the Kranich & Bach pianos. And as Smith & Allen Company are one of Kranich & Bach's exclusive representatives, the people of Duluth and vicinity can secure the reduction of $50 on any Kranich & Bach piano they may select. The Anniversary period extends to May 15th. $50 taken from the price of a high-grade piano should attract many.

OF DULUTH, FOR DULUTH, BY DULUTH.

In his admirable outline of the possibilities of the festival and pageant plan before the first meeting of the general committee last evening, T. W. Hugo placed strong emphasis on the necessity that this be a Duluth project in conception and execution from first to last, and added:

> If we cannot run this affair ourselves without the aid of the ubiquitous, itinerant, professional director, then let us fail. If we cannot produce a celebration which shall typify Duluth that is in no sense a copy of any other city's celebration, and make it so essentially Duluthian that no other city can copy it, then we had better not go any farther with this movement.

Truer word never was said. Duluth can do it, and Duluth will do it—and the completed picture will be a picture of Duluth in history and in actuality, conceived by Duluth brains, financed by Duluth money, carried out by Duluth enterprise and acted by Duluth citizens.

The committee, with a splendid attendance and a remarkable degree of interest and appreciation, made a good start last night. It did all it ought to do at its first meeting, and it did it well.

The Duluth midsummer festival and pageant, to begin the summer of 1915, is under way, and there will be no let-up until the curtain goes up on its opening scenes on a sunny day in next July.

Success to it! The Herald pledges it its heartiest co-operation, and feels confident that it can also pledge the heartiest co-operation and support of the entire community.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CANAL TOLLS.

Congressman Kent of California is the only member of congress whose sole party label is "independent;" and in the following judgment of the canal tolls issue he surely speaks the independent thought of the nation:

> This free tolls matter is to my mind nothing less than a subsidy, a subsidy masquerading under all sorts of nonsenses miscalled patriotism; nonsense wrapped in flags and punctured by squeals of the lion in torture and squeals of the eagle in triumph.

No reports have yet been received that Dewey day was celebrated in Mexico City.

RAILROADS AND THEIR TAXATION.

In his talk before the interstate commerce commission against an increase in railroad freight rates, Mr. Brandeis answered the railroad complaint that their taxes have increased 111 per cent in ten years by saying that "the ratio of railroad taxes to gross revenues is still small."

This, the New York Times says, "puts the railways in a class by themselves regarding taxation." The Times doesn't think much of the argument.

Probably the Times does not know—or has forgotten—that railroads have been in a class by themselves in Minnesota for many years so far as taxation is concerned, because here they have been taxed a pro rata of their gross earnings for more than half a century.

Moreover, it was the railroads themselves that selected this method of taxation, and their friends who made it into law—who put it, indeed, into the Constitution so that it cannot be changed without a vote of the people.

Of course it was a mistake to do this, from the public viewpoint; and the gross earnings system of taxation has been retained more because it was a settled habit than from any good public reason why it should be retained.

Very likely, however, the railroads are very much less concerned in retaining the gross earnings system now when the tax rate is five per cent than it was when it was first fixed at two per cent, with a provision for making it three per cent when the railroads were more prosperous.

Indeed, the railroads took the stand that the state was tied to the three per cent rate by a contract which it could not revoke, and when after a fight lasting many years the people voted to increase the rate to four per cent, the railroads carried it to the supreme court of the United States. This tribunal rendered a decision so sweeping that when in 1912 the people increased the rate to five per cent the railroads did not even try to test the raise in court.

Even though the railroads are manifestly less eager for the gross earnings tax system now that it has developed such a capacity for expansion than they were when they believed they had a contract for a very low rate of taxation, they are likely to be even less eager in the future, for there is nothing to prevent further increases. And while it is not likely that another increase will be made soon, comparison of railroad taxes with taxes on other revenue-producing property will show that even now the railroads are getting off pretty lightly.

The fact is that while Minnesota and two or three other states have by the gross earnings system put railroad property in a class by itself for taxation purposes, it would be fairer all around, and better for the state, if railroads were taxed according to their valuation, just as other property is taxed.

The Mexicans will do well not to be misled by the first three letters of Gen. Funston's name.

THE FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD.

President Wilson is reported to have told his friends that he considers the membership of the Federal reserve board as important as the membership of the supreme court of the United States. He does not overestimate its importance.

It is encouraging to note, therefore, that those who are aware of the importance of this body, and who are familiar with several or all of the persons named to membership in it, think very well indeed of the president's selections, and augur financial and industrial and commercial good from the character of the appointments just announced.

A nation's financial system is its commercial and industrial life blood, and its functions are as important to the social body as those of the circulatory system are to the human body.

What the nation needed was a body composed of men experienced enough and capable enough to handle efficiently the new financial system born in the Wilson administration, men who can make this system yield to the utmost its possibilities of good to the public welfare, and yet men who will acknowledge no allegiance to any special privilege or any financial class, but will have as their one high purpose the common good.

That's the kind of a Federal reserve board President Wilson has spent months in seeking. It looks now very much as though that were precisely the kind of Federal reserve board he had secured.

Congress hopes to adjourn by July first. Must be there is no double-header scheduled in Washington for the Fourth.

BUT IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

It is heartening to know that the loss of the twenty lives that went out with the sinking of the steamer Noble last week was not due to the fact that the pier lights were dark and the fog signal was silent.

Yet it does not diminish in the slightest degree the dreadful fact that loss of life and property might very easily have been caused by the complete collapse of the safety signal system at Duluth.

Nor does it reduce in any way the need of a complete investigation that will show just why the system did break down, and that will prevent its ever breaking down again.

Even the moving picture men have tough luck once in a while. That big French duel ended with neither party hurt.

Formal Mourning Passing.

From the Columbus, Ohio, State Journal: The notice of the death of an eminent man in London contained these words: "His wife and family will respect his urgent desire that no outward sign of mourning should be worn." In referring to this notice the London Times says: "The practice of wearing mourning has long been sliding into disuse, and probably the next twenty years will see it abandoned altogether, at any rate, among the wealthier people."

According to the London paper, all badges of woe are disappearing from funerals. The black rosets on the horses' bridles and the crepe on the hats and sleeves are seen seldom. So it is with black-edged writing paper and black-edged cards. It is all going, because mourning is not needed, either for memory or respect. Here are two paragraphs from the Times article:

> Those whose sympathy we value will give it us, without our advertising for it; it will seem all but indecent to go about the world demanding sympathy of strangers.
> And if we believe that those who have left us have still the power to observe our doings we must believe that it is our hearts, not our clothes, that they will read.

All of which may seem a little unfeeling, and yet it is only to give an idea of the changes that are going on in the world of mourning.

A Mexicanized State

Editorial in the New York World.

The present degradation of the state of Colorado has been brought about by itself. It has permitted the great mining companies to usurp government. They rule whole counties. They control the commonwealth.

In the official government report of the testimony taken by a committee of the national house of representatives, Congressman Evans of Montana, who is familiar with conditions on the Rockefeller and other properties, said of a typical mining town:

> The company owns all the property surrounding the town. The town is incorporated. It has a mayor, usually the superintendent of the mine, and a town council, consisting of other employees of the mine. It has a road running up the canon—these towns all being situated in canons. This road, having been there for many years, is abandoned by the board of county commissioners as a public highway, and thereby becomes only a private road. On that road a gate is established, so that every one who goes into that incorporated town or out of it must get a pass or permission of some kind. * * *
> The mayor of one of these towns testified that there was a man living in the town who owned his own house and he had his family there, and this man agitated too much about a union and the superintendent and mayor ordered the man to go "down the canon," and he went. * * *.
> I myself had to get a pass to enter one of the incorporated towns of the state of Colorado situated upon property of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, and I had to get a pass to get out.

It appears further from Mr. Evans's statement that during the two years and three months preceding April 1, 1912, there were 232 violent deaths in Las Animas county, 180 of them being due to mine accidents; that there is no record of coroners' inquests in 202 of these cases, and that in no instance has a mining company been held for negligence.

Besides owning all the land, houses and highways and holding all the public offices, the mining companies maintain armed forces. If their labor is docile, everything goes well, according to the Rockefeller theory. If, grown desperate at length by the increasing burdens of this bondage, labor attempts to organize or to strike for its own betterment, it is evicted, driven "down the canon," forced to live in wretched camps and abandoned to disease and death.

The bloodshed that has resulted from these unspeakable tyrannies in behalf of the richest man in the world has been largely due to the sham government of the state. It is worse than a sham government, for it has neglected the weak and taken sides with the strong. It has interfered only to make matters worse. Never yet has it moved wisely and courageously in support of its own dignity or to establish justice.

These are the reasons why a section of the United States army has been detached to restore peace in a Mexicanized American state. The work under way in Colorado is even more important that that which is in contemplation at Vera Cruz.

The Treaty and the Soo

New York World: In respect to traffic, the greatest canal system in the world is at Sault Ste. Marie.

The tonnage that passes through the "Soo" locks is four times greater than the tonnage that passes through Suez. It is a greater traffic than the Panama canal will handle during the life of any living man.

There are two canals at the "Soo." One of them is owned by the United States and one by Canada. Each is open to ships of the other country on equal terms. We levy no charges against Canadian ships and Canada levies no charges against American ships.

Most of this immense trade is under the American flag and the American canal is wholly inadequate to handle it. More American traffic goes through the Canadian canal than through the American canal.

In 1913 only 6 per cent of the freight tonnage that went through the Canadian canal was carried in Canadian ships, 94 per cent of it being American.

In that year 37,747,457 tons of American freight went through the Canadian canal and 37,022,201 tons went through the American canal. In the previous year 35,579,294 tons of American freight went through the Canadian canal as against approximately 32,000,000 tons of American freight that went through the American canal.

The total American coastwise traffic through the Canadian canal at the "Soo" is about thirty-five times the estimated American coastwise traffic through the Panama canal. Moreover it is an immensely more important traffic. It is no exaggeration to say that the industrial prosperity of the American people depends more upon the coastwise traffic of the Great Lakes than upon any other one element.

In addition as much American traffic passes through the Welland canal on equal terms with Canadian traffic as the total estimated coastwise traffic through the Panama canal.

When we undertake to violate the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and discriminate against Canada at Panama we are inviting Canada to retaliate and deal to American coastwise traffic the deadliest blow it ever received in time of peace.

Senator O'Gorman and other parochial Americans in the East seem to think there is no American coastwise traffic except that of the Atlantic and Pacific. They should learn a little more about their own country. When we start a canal war with Canada for the benefit of the Philadelphia and San Francisco subsidy grabbers, we have everything to lose and nothing to gain.

Even if the Hay-Pauncefote treaty did not exist every consideration of justice and intelligent trade development would counsel us to deal as fairly with Canada at Panama as Canada deals with us at the "Soo" and through the Welland locks.

The Friends That Love Us Always.

The friends that love us always,
In the good times and the bad;
The friends that love us always
Are the friends that keep us glad.
The friends that cling in tempest
As they do in calms are those
That have made the paths of hardship
Seem the paths of song and rose.

The friends that love us always,
When we go their way or not,
Are the friends that hearts remember
When the others are forgot.
The friends that stick the closest
When the troubles grow the worst;
The friends that love us always
Just the way they did at first.

They are the crowning jewels
Of the coronets we weave
In the dreams of tender moments
When the troubles start to leave;
And we lisp their names forever
And we see their faces clear;
The friends that love us always,
In the sun or shadows, dear.

The Beneficent Garden

From the Indianapolis News.

In the spring, while a young man's fancy is lightly turning to thoughts of love—a very good place to turn and a very proper manner of turning—the fancies of the rest of us are seriously turning to thoughts of houses and gardens, of wheelbarrows, paint, rose bushes, dandelion knives, sweet peas and ordinary peas, corn, beans, raspberries and so on and so on, forever and ever. There is a theory, you may be familiar with it, that the easiest and pleasantest way to live is to have an apartment in the winter and an automobile in the summer. It does sound easy and pleasant, but we are a peculiar people and do not enjoy things that are merely easy and pleasant. Nobody ever had any fun doing anything that was just as easy. That is one of the reasons we have to have houses and gardens. The first best thing about a house and garden is that they are not easy.

The second best thing about a house and garden, and it is just as good as the first best thing, is that they are not pleasant until we make them so. We have a hand in them ourselves. We can see miles of beautiful things from an automobile, but we have not made any of them and they are not ours. At home, if we have a home, we can make something beautiful, and if we are not satisfied we can take it to pieces and make it over again. When the garden idea, which is the idea of creation, gets into our systems, we are lost forever to the pleasures of those things which are easy and pleasant.

The third best thing about a house and garden, and the third thing is just as good as the first or second thing, is the house and garden. Everything about them, from the rain on the roof to the ash can at the back gate, is comfortable and beautiful, and different from the rest of the world. And so those who have not a house and garden are looking for one. They are reading advertisements and wandering about crawling into new houses and discussing every bit of real estate in sight. Even the people who have automobiles go scurrying about town observing and commenting upon the houses they pass. Those who have houses and gardens are as much interested as anybody in other people's houses, but it is a different interest, assured and self-satisfied, because everybody's house and garden is a little nicer in his estimation than any other house and garden.

Our pride, our love of beauty, our taste for fresh vegetables, our need of exercise, our enjoyment of competition and our sense of ownership are all satisfied in our garden. And there is something else. No matter who we are or what we have accomplished, we are never quite the person we thought we were going to be, and we have never accomplished all the things we expected to accomplish. We may be a little hurt at the way life has treated us or the way we have treated life. This thing, which is mostly a selfish vanity, disappears in the garden. A garden is an honest thing, a thing that keeps promises and fulfills ambitions.

The Greatness of the Universe

Jean Paul Richter: God called up a man into the vestibule of heaven, saying: "Come thou hither and see the glory of My house." And to the servants that stood around His throne He said: "Take him and undress him from the robes of flesh, cleanse his vision and put new breath into his nostrils; only touch not with any change his human heart—the heart that weeps and trembles."

It was done; and, with a mighty angel for his guide, the man stood ready for his infinite voyage; and from the terraces of heaven, without sound of farewell, at once they wheeled into endless space. Sometimes, with solemn flight of angel wings, they fled through Saharas of darkness, through wildernesses of death that divided the worlds of life; sometimes they swept along frontiers that were quickening under prophetic motion.

Then from a distance that is counted only in heaven, light dawned for a time through a sleepy film; by unutterable pace the light swept to them, they, by unutterable pace, to the light.

In a moment the rushing of planets was upon them; in a moment the blazing of suns was around them.

Then came eternities of twilight that revealed, but were not revealed. On the right hand and on the left towered mighty constellations; here were triumphal gates whose magnificent archways rose in altitude by spans that seemed ghostly from infinitude. Without measure were the architraves, past number were the archways, beyond memory the gates.

Within were stairs that scaled the eternities below; above was below—below was above to the man stripped of gravitating body—depth was swallowed up in height insurmountable, height was swallowed up in depth unfathomable.

Suddenly, as they thus rode from finite to infinite—suddenly, as they thus tilted over abysmal worlds—a mighty cry arose, that systems more mysterious, that constellations more glorious, that worlds more billowy, other heights and other depths were coming, were nearing, were at hand!

Then the man sighed and stopped, shuddered and wept. His over-burdened heart uttered itself in tears and he said:

"Angel, I will go no further. For the spirit of man acheth with this infinity. Insufferable is the glory of the universe. Let me lie down in the grave and hide myself from the persecution of the infinite, for end there is none!"

And from all the listening stars that shone around issued a choral voice: "The man speaks truly; end there is none that even yet we have heard of. End there is none!"

The angel solemnly demanded: "Is there no end, and is this the sorrow that kills you?" But no voice answered, that he may answer himself. Then the angel threw his glorious hands toward the heaven of heavens, saying: "End there is none in the universe of God. Lo! also there was no beginning."

The English Laws on Finding.

London Times: Judge Atherley Jones stopped a case against a man and his son charged with "stealing by finding" a rug which the younger defendant picked up after it had blown off a motor car. The judge, in directing the jury to return a verdict of not guilty, said that the law with regard to finding property, although there was a popular superstition that finding was keeping, was very clear. If a person found an article it was his duty to preserve it, and, if he had any reason to suppose that it belonged to a certain person it became his duty to go to that person to make inquiries in order to ascertain. But otherwise there was no actual duty upon him to take it to a police station. It was probably a prudent course, but the police had no greater right to the article than the person who found it.

Henry Watterson On Canal Tolls Question

Henry Watterson in the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Take the tolls question. The act of exemption was a subsidy, pure and simple. It was tribute to a monopoly. Treaties apart, would a Democrat in congress have dared directly to vote this?

The cry of "Truckling to England" is of a piece with the cry of "Bullying Ulster," which the Tories in England are hurling at the Home Rulers because they propose to have Ulster obey the law of the land like the rest of Ireland. It is as if, in paying a debt, one should be charged with "truckling" to his creditor. It is too senseless to fool a human being who does not want to be fooled. That at the moment when the Liberal British government is trying to do justice to Ireland it should be raised by the Irish in America—thus making themselves a part of the alliance of the Tories and the Orangemen in Ulster against their own Home Rule friends and comrades—raises the old specter of "disunited, therefore blighted," which for 300 years enslaved the bravest and sweetest of God's creatures. On that side it is positively pitiful.

But it has another side. Coming into world politics as a world power, shall any foreign-born segment of the people undertake to predetermine what we may or may not do? I am the oldest if not the last survivor of what was the Old Guard of Irish Americans. I grew up under the spell of the "48" men led by Mitchel and Meagher, with whom my relations were intimate and affectionate. I was with Parnell through the great Home Rule fight of 1886. If I have ever been a fanatic, it was upon the question of justice to Ireland. But, before all else, I am an American, and must not allow my Irish sympathies to color my sense of patriotic duty. I resent the intrusion of racial lines into our foreign policies and relations; but in a matter like the tolls question, the attempt to protect the grab of the coastwise shipping trust looks very like the old money-making scheme of the professional mercenaries who, under the Irish banner, went into politics thirty years ago for what they could get of the rake-off. Mr. Blaine had been nursing this element assiduously and long, his mother, the daughter of an Irish Catholic. At the critical moment a blundering preacher with three words destroyed the work of a life time. Our dear Champ Clark and my good friend Oscar Underwood, before giving too much ear to "the rich Irish brogue," would do well to study the career of the "Plumed Knight," nor fail to read a chapter out of the interesting memoirs of Gen. Winfield Scott.

Meanwhile, this warning to the Irish people of America—if they should make themselves overactive and zealous in the attempt at organized participation in American politics, they will run the serious hazard of generating an anti-foreign feeling in comparison with which the know-nothingism of other days would seem to be trivial. Those who are old enough to recall what know-nothingism was—in Louisville, those who are not old enough to remember Bloody Monday—may well pray God never to see the like again. No wise or true Irishman but must realize that the "truckling to England" suggestion is a boomerang which, without rhyme or reason in itself, may yet produce far-reaching results.

Never a president showed himself finer than Woodrow Wilson when, wrapping the flag around him, he marched down to the capitol and read the riot act to the braves in congress. I cannot doubt that he has the better sense of the country behind him. He may before he gets through with it overdo the one-man-power role. Caesar did this to his mortal cost. Cromwell did it to the cost of his good name. It is not always easy to draw the line betwixt leadership and autocracy. I rather think Jackson struck the line betwixt wind and water.

Thus far I follow Woodrow Wilson admiringly. I like to see him make the boys hop, skip and jump around the playground. The time may come when I, too, may call a halt—so far but no further." I hope not. I want to see a successful Democratic administration. But a Democratic administration must be a Democrat. It must not be a Federalist disguised as a Democrat, an imperialist putting on airs and graces and dealing in the language of Democracy.

The Wilsonian character is yet too undeveloped to offer much forecast. But the Wilsonian studies ought to restrain the ambitious over-reaching tyrannous disposition, while the responsibilities of government are likely to expand—have perhaps already enlarged—the dimensions and perspectives of the schoolroom.

Doing Right Is Not Surrender

Farm, Stock and Home: Those patriots, many being inspired by the Steel trust, Standard Oil and the shipping combine, who howl and snap at President Wilson's heels because he has surrendered to England by advocating the repeal of free tolls, will do well to turn back to the Mason and Slidell affair of 1861. Mason and Slidell, it will be remembered, were Confederate states commissioners, dispatched to England and France on state business. The English ship on which they were was stopped in mid-ocean by the United States frigate San Jacinto and Mason and Slidell taken off and brought in as prisoners of war. England demanded the return of Mason and Slidell and an apology from the United States. The demand was made strongly and offensively. It was backed by a clear and unmistakable threat of war. The sentiment of the country, of many congressmen, of members of Lincoln's cabinet, was for war. Seward, secretary of state, wrote a reply that, if it had ever been sent, would have brought England's navy to our shores. That it was not sent, that congress and the country was brought to sober second thought was due to the calm, clear, common sense of Lincoln. Alone he stood for the immediate reparation of the mistake of the commander of the San Jacinto. He told his countrymen that they were in the wrong. That England was within her rights. Yet Lincoln was abused, ridiculed for his "surrender to England."

Correcting a wrong course of action is never surrender. It is ability to do this that marks the civilized man from the savage. How far would mankind have progressed from the stone age if every one had persisted in carrying out his own individual way, irrespective of its effects for good or evil on the rest of his fellowmen?

The Aftermath.

New York World: The Mexican crisis calls attention to the fact that there are still 1,442 Mexican war pensioners on the roll of the United States and 5,123 widows. That is a reminder of a war fought more than three score years ago and it is eloquent in its suggestions.

Wanted—A Real Man for State Executive

Views of the state press on a much needed change.

Or More Profitable.

Slayton Herald: The sudden change of mind of our worthy and respected congressman, W. S. Hammond, seems to have made a hit with the people generally. And why not? Hammond has a record second to none and has shown his ability as a leader. Minnesota could not do a thing more proud than to seat Mr. Hammond in the governor's chair.

Lee and Hammond.

Deerwood Times: Democracy has great chances before it in Minnesota this year. Its strongest opposition this year, as in other years, will come from the Republican ranks, and the Republican ranks are split by the desire to defeat the Eberhart contingent. Democracy needs to be careful. With a united strength behind its candidate it should have little or no difficulty in making a strong campaign, if it cannot elect its candidate. 'Tis true, and the voter should realize the fact now, that the final result will be the outcome of a contest between either Lee or Eberhart, and either Lawler or Hammond—and the chances are that it will be Lee and Hammond who will contest for the office at the November election.

Any Change Would Be Welcome.

Isanti News: The election of W. E. Lee for governor would give the state a business administration, and he can be depended upon to stay on the job. It would be a welcome stay.

And Will Use the Chance.

St. Peter Herald: In Representative W. S. Hammond the Democratic party will have a candidate for governor for whom it need make no apologies nor excuses. He is a clean man with a clean record. He is qualified to bring about Minnesota's political redemption.

But He's Shifty on His Feet.

Luverne Journal: Governor Eberhart, in announcing his candidacy for a fourth term, says that he "stands on his record." To an ordinary observer that would seem to be a pretty uncertain thing to stand on—or run on either. Sort of reminds one of "Eliza on the ice"—except that this year our tangoing, song-writing governor is not as certain of getting "across" as Eliza was.

They Ought to Anyway.

Austin Transcript: Governor Eberhart has decided to run for governor again and his political fate is sealed. The time has come when the people in overwhelming majority will rise at the primaries to stamp out corrupt machine methods planned by brewery-inspired gangsters. Eberhart's dream of United States senator and other impossible ambitions now go a-glimmering.

Some Roast!

Albert Lea Standard: It is not because Mr. Eberhart does not favor progressive state measures and reforms—even to a sentimental song now and then—and, too, the latest and most popular dances, but that he is incapable of filling the stature of governor. He has not the caliber and character of mind to fill the office and devote it to the position of dignity, influence and uplift it should occupy. He is of frivolous ability and effort and notoriously fails to command the due respect and confidence of the people. He truly presents a weak and pitiable spectacle, whereas he might well command a great and beneficent influence in the progress and uplift of the state and its citizenship. His ambitious candidacy is regretable, it impedes the way to the election of a man of the noblest and most fitting qualities and throws the great office into the dirt and scramble of cheap politicians and the arena of special privilege and sinister influences in state and local affairs.

Some Discrepancy.

Philadelphia Telegraph: Here is one that was told by Congressman Howard Sutherland of Virginia the other evening, when one of the party remarked that it is a wise citizen who makes sure of the scenery before he butts in.

Some time ago there came a ring at the home of the esteemed Jones, and on opening the door Mrs. Jones saw a dilapidated specimen of mankind standing on the front porch.

"Excuse me, Mrs. Jones," remarked the specimen, "Mr. Jones told me to come around here and get his blue suit and take it to the tailor's to be pressed."

"That's funny," reflectively remarked Mrs. Jones. "Do you mean to say that Mr. Jones told you to get his blue suit?"

"Yes, ma'am," was the easy rejoinder of the hobo, "not more than an hour ago."

"Of course you may be right," said Mrs. Jones, as she gently and firmly closed the door, "but my husband is in Chicago and has that blue suit on."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1894.

The first bloodshed in connection with the Mesaba miners' strike occurred yesterday, when Marshal Al Free of Mountain Iron shot Sam Mattson, a Finlander, who died this morning. Mattson had been threatening the men at the camp all day. Free attempted to arrest him, when Mattson drew a revolver and fired at him. Free jumped to one side and shot him. Company H of West Duluth has arrived at Mountain Iron.

War Extras and Faking.

New York Evening Post: For his own peace of mind and for the best interests of the community the citizen will do well to guard his nerves against the lurid and screaming headline and the fake extra. The Spanish-American war first popularized the now familiar bloated typography and red ink. It would be doing injustice to our native ingenuity to suppose that in the case of prolonged hostilities Mr. Hearst's typefounders will not find a way to surpass all previous efforts. And all the more because Mr. Hearst's mission as a reporter of war is not more important than his self-assumed mission as a maker of war. Having already annexed the country from the Rio Grande to the Panama canal, it is not to be supposed that he will tolerate any hitch in the actual occupation of this region, if flaming scareheads and rumored treacheries, assassinations and massacres can be of any use. Undoubtedly a time of great anxiety is ahead of us, but it serves no purpose to feed the imagination on the wild alarms of red-hot special editions. At the present juncture a citizen can do useful service to his country by reading his newspaper carefully, sifting fact from apparent fable.

Working Men Ask Questions to the Point.

Lincoln Steffens in Harper's Weekly: It has been a pleasant part of my unpleasant business to address gatherings of university men and "mobs" of working men, and I have noticed that the questions put to me in a university club are "easy," whereas those thrown at me in a labor union are hard, like brickbats. They are searching, fundamental and land with the fearful momentum of knowledge. My subjects are politics and government, business, finance, economics and philosophy. No matter what my theme, however, I have to be on my mettle at Cooper Union, whereas at a college or before an uptown audience, cross-examination is play; not even a fine sport; it's a joke. And other university men will testify to the same effect. Prof. William H. Taft, for example. He addressed Cooper Union once and he has often talked at college meetings. Ask him which is the more comfortable. The difference is essential.

A democratic audience has the beginnings of culture; an aristocratic audience has the ends of education.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

RAPS W. J. BURNS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

On my return to the city my attention has been called to the articles which have appeared in the press, in which William J. Burns characterizes all private detectives as crooks. I agree with Mr. Burns that there are some licensed private detectives who ought to be in jail, but I believe there are honest, upright men in the detective business as well as in any other, though they may not be of the "brass band" variety. In my opinion, one's clients are the best judge of his integrity and honesty, and not the principal of a rival detective agency. Mr. Burns may be judging others by himself; at any rate, it might be well for him to be a little more explicit in his remarks, if he can be, and stop this "four-flushing" game of his. The private detectives of the old school, of which I am a member, did not employ brass bands and press agents, but were content to go about their investigations in a quiet, confidential way and did not unnecessarily expose their clients in an effort to advertise themselves. CHARLES SCHNEIDER.

ORIGIN OF SLANG.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Is the expression, "Ish ka bibble" really Yiddish or is it merely slang?

J. L.

Duluth, May 2.

It is Western slang of Yiddish or rather of German origin. It is believed to have originated in Seattle. The phrase is thought to be a corruption of "Nicht gefiedelt," which means literally "not fiddled." It has long been used by Germans of East Prussia and by Jews in the sense of "I don't care. —The Editor.

ONE FOR HIGH SCHOOL GEOMETRY STUDENTS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have read with much interest, in the last few days, in the Open Court of The Herald a number of problems and have one here that I would like to have published:

What are the cubical contents of a round tank, the sides of which are straight and perpendicular, that measures fifteen feet in diameter across the top and bottom and sixteen feet high? And what are the cubical contents of a round tank, the sides of which are straight and slant, that measures sixteen feet across the bottom and fourteen feet across the top and sixteen feet high? Is there any difference in the cubical contents of those two tanks? If so, how much? I would like to see published, also, the equations used to obtain the answer. Thanking you in advance for the publication of this, I am,

TWISTING THE LION'S TAIL

By SAVOYARD

Washington, May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—A long time ago the term "Manifest Destiny" was the cry of what was known in our political nomenclature as "Young America." It was this "Young America" that Charles Dickens so deservedly and so mercilessly satirized in what most readers regard his greatest work—"Martin Chuzzlewit." Stephen A. Douglas was the leader of "Young America" and after him the chief of the clan was James G. Blaine. It was the ambition of "Young America" to make ours "an ocean-bound republic." That is the way the "Little Giant" of Illinois put it. We were to begin by seizing Cuba and annexing Canada. Then we were to lick "the world in arms," as Champ Clark would say, and all the land and adjacent islands of the continent of North America were to be under the flag.

* * *

But a dispute about the negro came on to be heard and the country got all the fighting it could stomach for a while and "Young America" retired from politics until James G. Blaine merged it into "Pan-America," and his proposal was the federation of everything in the Western hemisphere between the Arctic circle and Cape Horn.

* * *

By the way, what a magnificent specimen of "Young America" we find in the Hon. Philip P. Campbell of Kansas, though he was born a subject of the British crown. Hear him:

"The old American eagle lined its nest with the mane of the British lion. Does the young American eagle tremble with fear when the British lion only growls?"

That is a sample of the Carmagnoles fired at President Wilson. Now if you don't know what a Carmagnole is, read Macauley's "Essay on Berere." Then you will know and you'll never forget it. Champ Clark dearly loves Carmagnoles and repeats them occasionally. Some of the speaker's are rather gaudy; many hopelessly commonplace.

Philip Campbell is a very audacious chap to go fooling with the British lion. He might call to memory some of John James Ingalls' bouts with the old brute and occasion some painful and odious comparisons to make manifest his inferiority to that remarkable man as a jingo. But then Ingalls twisted the British lion's tail, while Campbell monkeys with his mane.

You see it was this way. Grover Cleveland was president and there was a dispute over the subject of "bait" between the Yankees and the Newfoundlanders and the row was about the violation of a treaty. There are fine fishing grounds near Newfoundland, but the Yankees had no right to fish within a marine league of the shore. The Newfoundlanders had all the bait the fish would bite at. Under the treaty the Yankees were to get all the bait they were ready to pay for, though not to fish within the three-mile limit. But the Yankees fished within the three-mile limit and the Newfoundlanders refused to sell them more bait.

Now here was the very old horned and hooved devil to pay. The jingoes in the senate—Ben Harrison was one of 'em—declared that Grover Cleveland had been bullied by England, and if Ingalls and the others told the truth there were a whole sack full of our eagle's feathers scattered about the lion's den—and it was the old eagle, too. Campbell should investigate. It might turn him from silly and ridiculous Carmagnoles.

You just ought to have heard Ingalls! There never was as patriotic a man as he said he was in that speech, unless it is the Hon. Knowland of California, Jones of Washington, Champ Clark, Tammany Hall, Hearst, Penrose, Foraker, Alden Smith, Bristow, Campbell and that set! Why, Ingalls, so magnificent was his patriotism, would not have marched through Coventry with 'em. The way he did punish the old lion was actually "scan'lus." He took the old beast by the tail and whirled him round his head like the cowboy with a lariat, and old Hannibal Hamlin actually fled the realm in terror. And how he did score Grover for his abject, vile, ignoble surrender to England! O, it was a Carmagnole as was a Carmagnole! Don't you try to match it, Phil.

The British lion, then as now, didn't care a cuss about it, and old Grover cared even less. A joint commission was raised and the thing was settled amicably and nobody was killed or crippled over it. It ought to be the law that a comic publication be printed in colors, mostly yaller. The jingo speeches on the tolls question—from Champ Clark to Campbell—from Mann to Mondell, from Jones of Washington to Murdock of Kansas, ought to be arrayed in gorgeous attire—brilliant orange.

And that recalls—our later Republican jingoes are lauding that same Grover Cleveland to the skies in the present debate, and it is possible that Champ Clark has modified his opinion since he said from his seat in congress that the election of Grover Cleveland to the presidency of our republic was the greatest calamity that has overtaken mankind since the fall of Adam. You see Grover bullied England in the Venezuela case and that paid for the feathers the lion snatched out of the eagle in the Mason and Slidell affair.

Now, what was Ingalls driving at? He wanted the Yankees to fetch in more fish so that the East would eat less of the beef and bacon that Kansas produced. And here is Standpat Campbell, Progressive Republican Bristow—whatever that is—and plain Progressive Murdock, all from Kansas, and all insisting on taxing the corn fields of Kansas to bestow a subsidy on the shipyards of the only perfectly absolute trust our country has ever known.

Behold, my son, statecraft as she is writ is the vocabulary of the jingo—Kansas jingo!

STEEL PLANT SUBURBS

BEGIN WORK OF LAYING MAINS

Water Connections for Suburb of Gary By Aug. 1.

Citizens of Gary were highly pleased to learn yesterday that the work of having the water mains extended to the suburb was being begun. Teams began yesterday afternoon hauling pipes for the main and distributing them along Commonwealth avenue.

The water mains now extend north on Commonwealth avenue to a point near the Kulaszeviez building. From this point it is intended to extend them through the principal settlement in Gary and also on a number of the side streets.

It is generally believed that before Aug. 1 a part of Gary at least will have water service.

CRITICIZE JOB OF "REPAIRING"

Citizens Say Gravel Contains Too Much Clay, Making Mudholes.

That the city officers are using poor judgment in choosing the material being placed on Commonwealth avenue fir filling in holes made by wear and wet weather, is the opinion of some of the prominent citizens of the suburb. The gravel being dumped into the street is said to be of a very poor quality and about half clay.

This material, claim those who use the street for teaming, does not provide a hard surface and every time it rains, the wheels of the rigs sink several inches into the stuff. They say it is all right for dry weather, but in a climate like Duluth's it should not be used.

"The department is making poor work of it said Otto Krueger, former alderman from the suburb yesterday. "This gravel is half clay and dumping it on Commonwealth avenue, part of which was at one time a fine macadamized road, only makes it worse. The city is losing sight of the fact that close at hand there is any quantity of good rock which could be had from the side of the hill, that would make a solid and lasting highway.

"At present this gravel is being hauled from Fond du Lac, and each of the four teams cannot make more than two trips per day. With the cost that is necessary to pay for loading and hauling each load when dumped will cost about $3, and we have a road that was worse than when they started."

OLD BRIDGE IS A USELESS MENACE

New Duluth Citizens Would Have Abandoned Structure Removed.

Members of the New Duluth Commercial club intend asking the government to have the old Duluth & Winnipeg drawbridge removed from the center of the St. Louis river channel. The request will be based on the contention that the bridge is a continual menace to river traffic, and they cite the recent swinging of the bridge as an argument for the removal.

"The bridge will be a continual menace to all boats as long as it is allowed to remain where it is," said U. C. Tower yesterday. "New Duluth will in the future become the head of navigation for large boats on St. Louis river and bay. If these large boats are to come up the river, then we must make the river safe.

"The recent storm which swung the bridge may be repeated during the summer. Then the bridge may blow down instead of sumply swing out. If that occurs, it will block the channel for all navigation to New Duluth and Fond du Lac.

"If the concern which now claims ownership of the bridge, if any does, will not do it, then I would advise that the government do the work and remove this dangerous obstacle."

MAY BID FOR ENCAMPMENT

Duluth and Superior Posts May Invite G. A. R. for 1915.

Midsummer Festival and Ideal Weather Would Draw Many.

Whether or not Duluth and Superior will make a bid for the 1915 national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will be decided upon at a joint meeting of the Willis A. Gorman and Joshua B. Culver posts of this city and the Alonzo Palmer post of Superior at a meeting to be held at Memorial hall, courthouse, Saturday evening.

The idea of bringing the national encampment to the Head of the Lakes was given support at a recent meeting of the Superior veterans. They voted to confer with the members of the Duluth posts as to the advisability of attempting to land the convention for next year. The conference will be held Saturday night. If the idea meets with favor among the local veterans, it is believed that a joint committee will be appointed to map out tentative plans to secure the encampment.

The national encampment would bring many thousand people to the Head of the Lakes and would be invaluable to Duluth and Superior from an advertising standpoint.

The proposed midsummer festival to be held here during the summer of 1915 would go a long way toward persuading the members of the Grand Army to decide upon Duluth as the place for their annual encampment. A trip to the Head of the Lakes for the old soldiers would be ideal and the festival would offer an attraction that would induce many to go to Duluth who would otherwise stay at home. One of the greatest handicaps to national encampments during the last few years has been the infirmity of the old soldiers who are all now getting well along in years. Heat prostrations during the parade have been common. The ideal summer climate of Duluth would obviate the heat question, and the veterans could spend a week or more in the city and return home feeling strengthened and refreshed.

ANNUAL BANQUET.

New Duluth Commercial Club Will Entertain 150 Guests.

The New Duluth Commercial club will hold its annual banquet on Thursday evening, May 14, at the Kulaszewicz hall. Plans are being made to entertain 150 guests.

The general committee, headed by F. W. Damkroeger, president of the club, and R. L. Taylor, its secretary, is preparing the program for the evening. Arrangements have already been made for a special train leaving the union depot at 6:45 and West Duluth at 7 o'clock. It is expected that about seventy-five men from uptown will attend.

A program of several interesting addresses is being arranged. Members of the committee said that the program will probably be announced early next week.

HONOR DEFENDERS IN VERA CRUZ FIGHT.

Mexico City, May 5.—The Federal government has created a new military decoration to be known as that of the "Second North American Invasion." The defenders of Vera Cruz when the American bluejackets and marines landed there are to be rewarded with this decoration, it is stated.

HOTEL CLERK RESIGNS; ILL HEALTH THE CAUSE

Peck Grivot, who for the last seven months has been employed as clerk at the Spalding hotel, will leave the service of that hostelry today on account of ill-health, and will take a vacation of several months in the West.

Mr. Grivot is a hotel man of wide experience, having been employed at the hotels of Chicago, Kansas City, and other cities in the South and East. While at the Spalding he has been noted for his efficiency and gentlemanly bearing, and Duluth is losing one of its best hotel men.

Mr. Grivot will leave Thursday morning for Denver, Colo., where he will remain for a time and from there he will go to a ranch for a summer's outing.

Cumberland Man Dies.

Cumberland, Wis., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Former Alderman John Chisholm was stricken with apoplexy on the street Sunday and died Monday.

KILLED IN MONTANA.

Brother of Duluth Woman Is Victim of Railroad Injuries.

Rochester, Minn., May 5.—The funeral of Frank M. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tal Williams of this city, who died last week at Deer Lodge, Mont., from injuries received on the Milwaukee railroad, was held yesterday afternoon from the home.

Mr. Williams was a Rochester young man, having been born here 36 years ago the 22nd of April. Mr. Williams worked on a railroad for fifteen years, first on the Northwestern, then on the Great Northern, as an engineer. He left Rochester about twelve years ago.

He is survived by his parents, a wife and one child, four sisters and three brothers: Miss L. E. Williams of Duluth, Mrs. E. L. Eldred of Montevideo, Mrs. John Bush of Wells, Blanche of this city, Tad of Spokane, Harold of Willmar, and Russell of Redfield, S. D.

EASY WAY TO IMPROVE YOUR HEALTH

From "Spring Remedies"

"Sickness and ill health almost invariably come from impurities in the blood which, at the approach of warm weather, cause spring fever, loss of energy and vitality, sallowness, pimples, poor appetites and other evidences of a deranged system.

"At small expense these disorders can easily be corrected by taking a good, reliable tonic. For the restoration of energy and good health, and positive relief from spring ailments, no better remedy can be found than this valuable tonic: Get an ounce of kardene and one-half pint alcohol at any drug store and mix with one-half cup sugar. When dissolved add hot water to make a quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and in a short time you will be surprised at the splendid health-restoring qualities of this old-fashioned remedy. It is the best system cleanser, blood purifying tonic known."

Three Filings for the Legislature Made In One Night.

Borgen Wants Renomination —Randall Seeks Senatorial Honors.

There were three filings yesterday for legislative honors in the Fifty-eighth district. The first was that of E. R. Ribenack, already mentioned yesterday in The Herald, who filed for a renomination to the house of representatives. Later in the day Anton Borgen, Mr. Ribenack's colleague in the last house, filed for a renomination, and yesterday afternoon J. R. Randall filed for the senate. Mr. Randall was a house member some time ago. His advent into the senatorial contest makes a three-cornered fight, the other two aspirants being Senator T. M. Pugh and Richard Jones.

Mr. Borgen has served as representative in the legislatures of 1909, 1911 and 1913, and has been a very effective member. He has fathered or supported many measures that have proved valuable to St. Louis county and has fearlessly fought measures which he believed to embody extravagance or unnecessary expenditures. A reduction of taxes, if found possible, will be his platform for the coming campaign. Mr. Borgen is an old resident of the city and has been in business here for years. He is a Republican in politics, but, of course, under the new law, he runs as a non-partisan.

Nine candidates are now in the race for the office of county commissioner from the Second district two names having been added to the list yesterday. They were Robert H. McQuade of French River and Martin Dillon of 528 East Fourteenth street.

COLORADOANS MAY NOT GIVE UP FIREARMS

clusion of a long joint executive session at which the subjects contained in the governor's call were discussed.

It was understood that the only vote taken was on a proposal to pay the militia, name an investigating committee to inquire into conditions in the strike zone, and take a recess of thirty or sixty days. This was defeated by a practically unanimous vote, and the joint executive session was dissolved without formulating a definite plan of procedure.

Supporters of the administration expressed elation over the developments of the first day of the extra session, and predicted there would be no attempt made to get a resolution proposing the impeachment of Governor Ammons through the house.

For Speedy Payment.

Discussion in the executive session, it was said, almost unanimously favored speedy action in providing payment of the bills incurred during the military occupation of the strike districts by the militia. This, it appeared, was likely to be the first task undertaken.

On the other questions in the call sentiment did not seem to be so well crystalized. Those included a law submitting to the people at the next elections a constitutional amendment to empower the legislature to enact a compulsory arbitration law, to establish a state constabulary, to give the governor authority to close saloons and to regulate and prohibit the sale, gift, or purchase of firearms and ammunition, except by proper authorities, in times of internal disorder.

Governor Ammons was compelled to abandon the idea of preparing a formal message by reason of physical and nervous exhaustion. As he walked down the aisle of the house chamber on the arm of Representative Mrs. Lee of the notification committee, there were many half audible expressions of concern at the governor, a haggard and careworn face.

Col. Lockett in Charge.

Trinidad, Colo., May 5.—Col. James Lockhart, commanding the Eleventh United States cavalry, arrived here this morning to take command of the Federal forces in the Colorado strike field. He was driven at once to army headquarters, where he conferred with Maj. W. A. Holbrook on the strike situation.

STORIES OF HUERTA'S PLANS DIFFER—SOME SAY HE WILL RESIGN

nity of the American government in Federal territory.

Huerta's position was declared to be increasingly precarious. Zapata, the Southern rebel, according to reports in Vera Cruz, threatened to attack the Federal capital today.

Velasco, one of Huerta's chiefs in operations around Torreon, was said to have declared he never would direct another battle against the Constitutionalists. He was dissatisfied with the support Huerta accorded him in battles against the Carranza invasion.

Plots in the army against Huerta were growing, it was asserted. In many quarters a sudden change in the situation in Mexico City would not be unexpected.

French Consuls Acting.

The influx of Americans into Mexico City from outlying districts continued today and arrangements for their transportation to East coast ports were hurried. Appeals of isolated groups of Americans for military escorts were received by Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister in Mexico City, who was co-operating with the Brazilian minister for their relief. The United States consuls in Progresso, Puerto Mexico, Frontera and Carmen were ordered to turn over their interests to French consular officials. That was one of the features of the program of preparations for eventualities.

When the South American mediators on the Mexican trouble resumed their sessions today, the field of their work was for the first time definitely defined as between the United States and Huerta, and not as between Huerta and Carranza, although it was still hoped this might be brought in later so as to include the whole range of Mexican affairs.

Private engagements of some of the mediators kept the sessions from opening until toward midday.

The text of the note from the mediating envoys sent yesterday to Gen. Carranza, withdrawing the invitation for a Constitutionalist representative to come to Washington to participate in the mediation, was as follows:

Note to Carranza.

"We have received your telegram in which you are kind enough to tell us that you deem it inconvenient for the Constitutionalist cause to suspend hostilities against Huerta, on the ground that such suspension would accrue only to the benefit of Huerta, and in which you declare that the international conflict between Mexico and the United States, for whose solution you accepted our good offices, is independent of the internal strife in that country.

"We consider this unexpected statement as inconsistent with the idea which caused us to offer our good offices. We think, indeed, that all the difficulties which have contributed toward the present situation in Mexico bear either directly or indirectly on the solution of the pending conflict between Mexico and the United States. Consequently, we think that these difficulties should be made the subject of consideration of the negotiations for whose successful conduct we have deemed it indispensable to suspend hostilities.

Invitation "Inopportune."

"Should you not deem it so we would be compelled, in that case, to withdraw, as inopportune, our invitation for the appointment of representatives of the Constitutionalists in such negotiations.

"We beg to assure you of our highest consideration."

The foregoing note was sent in reply to one from Gen. Carranza outlining his refusal to enter into agreement to suspend hostilities against Huerta.

A second message has been received by the mediators from Carranza, in which he specifically asks them to make definite the terms and scope of the negotiations before he proceeds to appoint representatives. No reply was sent to this telegram, as the attitude of the mediators was embodied in the former note.

The appointment of a United States representative, as requested by the mediators, was the next step, and it was thought this would be settled as a result of the regular cabinet meeting today. Before 11 o'clock members of the cabinet had reached the White House executive offices.

Wilson Early at Desk.

President Wilson was at his desk an hour earlier than usual and received reports from the war and navy departments regarding conditions at Vera Cruz and the Mexican border. He also talked with Secretary Bryan on the diplomatic branches of the situation.

Chief interest, so far as the cabinet was concerned, centered in the mediation negotiations and who would be selected by this government as delegates to confer with the Latin-American envoys. Secretary Bryan reiterated, before the cabinet met, that the American representatives had not yet been named. There were reports, however, that the mediators would be informed of the decision of the United States as to its advisory delegates later today.

Representatives here of Gen. Carranza declined to comment on the last communication from the mediators to the Constitutionalist chief, beyond saying that they do not intend by their action to prejudice in any way the settlement of the difficulties which brought about hostilities between Huerta and the United States, their hope being in this respect mediation would be successful and avert war.

Want Unhindered Campaign.

The Constitutionalists are reported to be desirous that the United States and Huerta might solve their differences so that the campaign southward toward Mexico City could continue unembarrassed by any international conflict. They take the position that as they are continually threatening the overthrow of the Huerta government, they should not stop in the midst of the stream.

The language of the note from the mediators leaves it open for Carranza to send a representative here to confer with the three South American envoys at any time in the future that he is willing to suspend hostilities. Some observers think that should Saltillo be taken by the Constitutionalists, the Huerta government might make overtures to the rebels which the latter might receive through the mediators. Persons here in the confidence of Gen. Carranza say, however, that the only first step toward peace he would accept would be an announcement from Huerta of his intention to resign.

It is considered possible that while the Constitutionalists have been eliminated from the mediation proceedings for the time being, the three South American envoys might be the avenue of communication between the Mexico City government and the Constitutionalists for the bringing about of an armistice and the discussion of peace terms.

welcome orders to start for the Mexican capital at once.

Admiral Mayo, at Tampico, has informed the navy department that he would have no trouble in taking Tampico with his present forces and it was learned today that he has more than once hinted in his dispatches that it would be advisable to take such action. He has now under his command in addition to his flagship, the Des Moines, two cruisers and a torpedo boat fleet of nine.

Admiral Badger reported to the navy department today the receipt of word from the torpedo boat destroyer Drayton at Tuxpam that Territorial Minister Hacinda there had ordered customs officers not to clear or enter any vessels from or to American ports. This order, it was further reported, had been given to all ports in the state of Vera Cruz.

Americans Detained.

The Drayton also reported that thirteen Americans had been detained against their will at Metlaloyaca, in the state of Puebla, about sixty miles from Tuxpam. This information was given to the British consul at Tuxpam by American refugees, who said the Mexican authorities gave as their reason for holding the Americans a desire to assure their safety. The British consul has wired the governor of Puebla requesting their release.

Admiral Badger also reports that he is forming a special service squadron under Admiral Winslow. He did not indicate what ships would be employed for this purpose. The Tacoma and the Des Moines, it was stated, would remain under Admiral Mayo at Tampico for the present.

Firing at Tampico.

Firing continues daily at Tampico between Constitutionalists and Federal forces, according to a report transmitted from Admiral Mayo by Admiral Badger today. Heavy guns were heard yesterday morning. The steamer Canaguey, which has arrived at Vera Cruz from Tampico reports that Mexican Federal forces at the latter port were reinforced by 1,500 men last week.

Overnight advices to the war department from Vera Cruz were summarized in this statement by Secretary Garrison today:

"The latest message received from General Funston came during the night. In it he reports no change in conditions. He visited the Tejar pumping station yesterday. He reports that he is arranging for a proper defense of the pumping station without extending our lines."

Dewey at White House.

Admiral Dewey, president of the general board of the navy, and Secretary of State Bryan began a conference with President Wilson shortly after the cabinet adjourned today. It still was in progress when the president's lunch hour arrived. Nothing has been learned as to its purpose, but the Mexican situation was believed to have been under consideration.

Adolph Caspar Miller of San Francisco, now assistant to Secretary Lane of the interior department, formerly a member of the faculty of Leland Stanford university is an economist and authority on finance.

The nominations will be sent to the senate in a few days. As yet Mr. Harding has not indicated whether he will accept.

Upon the new board will devolve the task of setting in motion the banking system of the country through the twelve regional reserve banks already selected. Also, they will constitute the governing board, which is given wide powers to regulate the twelve banks and the issuance of currency.

The president had told his friends that he regarded the membership of the board equally as important as that of the supreme court of the United States.

In view of Mr. Olney's declining, it is believed Mr. Harding or Mr. Warburg may be chosen to head the board.

Subscriptions of stock in Federal reserve banks were received yesterday by the treasury department from 362 additional national banks, the total number of subscriber banks now being 5,330, of a membership in the system of 7,497. The total amount of subscriptions to date is $87,677,200. The remaining national banks have only three days in which to make their subscriptions.

NEW EVIDENCE FOR BEUM PRESENTED.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 5.—Additional evidence in the case of Charles Beum of Minneapolis, one of the men convicted of dynamiting who has applied for executive clemency, was filed at the department of justice by Representative Hammond. The United States attorney at Indianapolis, where Beum was tried, has been asked to submit a statement of the case. When this is received the attorney general will make a recommendation to the president.

FILES FOR RE-ELECTION TO THE SUPREME BENCH

JUSTICE GEORGE L. BUNN.

St. Paul, Minn., May 5.—Justice George L. Bunn filed today for re-election as associate justice of the supreme court of Minnesota.

Justice Bunn for many years was judge of the district court of Ramsey county and was one of the most popular judges St. Paul has had. He was appointed to the supreme court upon the death of Judge Jaggard in February, 1911, and still is an associate justice upon that bench. His standing among lawyers is high, and during his incumbency the supreme court, by extra sessions, has disposed of all pending cases.

Judicial elections in this state are non-partisan.

EIGHT KILLED IN PANAMA EXPLOSION

Government Magazine Explodes—Firemen Among the Victims.

Panama, May 5.—An explosion this morning at the government of Panama dynamite magazine resulted in the killing of eight persons. Nineteen others were seriously injured. The property was destroyed.

The explosion was caused by a brush fire, which made its way to the interior of the building. Six of the dead and most of the wounded are firemen, who had been summoned to combat the flames. A man and a woman who were watching the blaze from a distance were torn to pieces.

The concussion of the explosion shook the city. In addition to obliterating the magazine, the explosion caused considerable property damage in the neighborhood.

JOSEPH SELLWOOD'S FORMER WILL FOUND

she was left out of the later instrument by reason of undue influence which was brought to bear upon her father by her brother, Richard M. Sellwood, and sister, La Rue S. Mershon, who are chief legatees under the last will. If this will is held to be invalid, it is understood that the former will, which Mrs. Leithhead is seeking to have admitted to probate will be contested by her brother and sister. To make a long story short, two wills have shown up and both are being contested. The contest on the will of Jan. 21, 1914, will be heard first.

Bert W. Maxeiner, 26, employed as bookkeeper in the office of Henry Turrish, and John Monaghan, 27, a stenographer in the office of the late Joseph Sellwood and his son, Richard M. Sellwood, who witnessed the signature of Mr. Sellwood to his will, gave their testimony in the case yesterday afternoon and this morning.

Made Draft of Will.

Monaghan stated in effect that on the morning of Jan. 20, 1914, he was requested by Capt. Sellwood to come to the Sellwood residence in the East end to take a draft of the will. He took notes from Capt. Sellwood and returned to the office and made a typewritten draft of them. After work that evening, on his way home, he stopped in at the home of his employer and left the typewritten transcript with him.

On the following morning, Monaghan again visited the Sellwood home and was present at a conference between Mr. Sellwood and his attorney, C. O. Baldwin, he stated. At that time, he testified, some minor changes were made in the form of the instrument and it was handed back to him with instructions to redraft the will in accordance with the changes which had been indicated. Mr. Monaghan stated that he did so and after 5 o'clock that evening, in pursuance to instructions from Capt. Sellwood, took Mr. Maxeiner with him to the Sellwood residence for the purpose of witnessing the signature.

Mr. Monaghan also testified that he and Mr. Maxeiner were the only persons present in the room with Capt. Sellwood when he affixed his signature to the paper. Each stated that when they first came into the room, his daughter, Mrs. Mershon was there, but that when the instrument was executed she had withdrawn.

Of Sound Mind.

The witnesses stated that to the best of their knowledge Capt. Sellwood was of sound mind at the time he signed the instrument. They testified that he was sitting in a chair near a table and that after he had carefully read the paper over he asked Mrs. Mershon to get him a pen and ink. She did so and withdrew from the room.

Mr. Maxeiner testified that although he had witnessed the signature to the will he knew nothing of its contents, although Mr. Monaghan had it with him when they rode out together on the car to the Sellwood residence on the day in question. Both testified that while they were at the Sellwood residence they met Rev. John W. Hoffman, pastor of the First M. E. church, but stated that so far as they knew he did not go upstairs to see Capt. Sellwood, as he came in after they did and left the house at the same time they did.

Mr. Monaghan was closely examined as to his relations with Richard M. Sellwood at the time he was preparing the draft to the will. He stated that, although he was away from the office on four occasions during the two days in question, he did not inform R. M. Sellwood, who was in charge of the office, as to what he was doing. It was also brought out on cross examination of the witness that he had not divulged the contents of the will to Joseph Sellwood, Jr., a nephew of the decedent, who was employed in the same office and who was mentioned as a legatee.

Asked why he had not mentioned the matter to either R. M. Sellwood or Joseph Sellwood, Jr., Mr. Monaghan stated that he considered the matter a confidential one. "I considered that it was Mr. Sellwood's business and I do not make a practice of telling other people's business," he said. "If he wanted to tell them he could have done so himself."

Mr. Monaghan testified on cross-examination that he was aware of the fact that at the time Mr. Sellwood executed his last will that he was ill. He admitted that he noticed that his hands were swollen.

At the morning session of court Mr. Maxeiner and Mr. Monaghan were called as witnesses to prove the execution of the "lost will" of Feb. 13, 1913. They stated that it had been executed in the Sellwood office on the day in question.

COLUMBUS VOTES ON NEW CHARTER

Advanced Ideas in City Government Among the Provisions.

Columbus, Ohio, May 5.—Only a light vote was being polled in this city early today in the special election to determine whether Columbus will adopt the new charter, which proposes a modified form of the commission plan of government. If adopted, the new charter would contain the short ballot; the recall; a common council composed of seven members instead of nineteen members as heretofore; terms of office for city officials of four years instead of two; all officers to be selected from non-partisan ballots; preferential voting for councilmen.

The mayor would remain elective, as would the auditor; but the treasurer would be appointed by the mayor.

Varicose Veins Cured

CONFINED TO HIS HOME FOR WEEKS

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits brought on Varicose veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up. My family physician told me an operation was the only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several doctors, but soon found out that all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He told me to go to the Progressive Medical Doctors at No. 1 West Superior Street. He had been cured himself by them and he knew they were square, and knew men's diseases better than other doctors. They applied their Nature Method and at first my progress was somewhat discouraging. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."—H. H.

DULUTH'S MIDSUMMER CARNIVAL FESTIVAL FORMALLY LAUNCHED

COMMITTEE MEETS FOR FIRST TIME

Fully 100 Citizens Representing All Public Organizations Assemble.

Committees on Name, Constitution and Organization Are Appointed.

T. W. Hugo Outlines Plans for Pageant—Unique Advertising Project.

Duluth, last evening, launched its first civic festival and pageant, which will be given probably during the last week in July next year, and which will celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of the proclamation of the Treaty of La Point in 1855, ceding the Duluth territory to the United States.

From present indications this celebration will rank with the best of those given each year in various cities throughout the country, such as the Mardi Gras of New Orleans, the Rose Festival of Portland and the Veiled Prophets of St. Louis.

Fully 100 Duluthians, men and women, gathered at the Commercial club last evening in answer to the call of the committee representing the Duluth Retail Merchants' association, which was the first organization to start the ball rolling for the 1915 festival. Those present at the meeting represented the numerous organizations that have entered into the pageant plans and have promised to take part in the preparations.

The meeting was called to order by Arthur K. Squier, chairman of the Retail Merchants' committee, who gave a short talk, outlining the tentative plans and explaining similar festivals held each year in various parts of the country. These included the Mardi Gras at New Orleans, the Rose Festival at Portland and the Veiled Prophets at St. Louis. A. C. Pearson, a member of the Merchants' committee, was named temporary secretary by Mr. Squier.

Inspired by Herald.

In his talk, Mr. Squier declared he received his inspiration for a 1915 pageant from an editorial that appeared in The Herald on Feb. 9 last and that he immediately brought the matter before his organization. He was supported, he said, by the other members and a committee was then appointed to advance the idea to the other clubs and societies in Duluth.

During the course of his talk, Mr. Squier announced that in all probability the naval fleet of the Great Lakes could be induced to come to this city in 1915 for the maneuvers that year. This would bring 3,600 members of the naval militia, he said, to the pageant and celebration. Other conventions would undoubtedly come to this city, Mr. Squier added, and there is every indication that at least 100,000 people could be brought here for the pageant and festival.

"This is the first time in this history of Duluth," concluded Mr. Squier, "that a movement has ever had the entire support of the city. We should try not to merely represent our respective organizations, but to work for the whole of Duluth. Work, boost and try to make the 1915 festival of Duluth the biggest success of anything ever attempted in this city."

Mr. Hugo's Outline.

Following Mr. Squier a paper was read by T. W. Hugo, who was given a hearty reception at its close. Mr. Hugo outlined his plans for the pageant and its various features. His complete address, which is published in another column of The Herald tonight, it was announced last evening would be published by the pageant committee because of the benefit the members and other citizens may derive from the ideas suggested by Mr. Hugo.

"Duluth Triumphant."

Mr. Hugo suggests the title, "Duluth Triumphant," and proposes a series of allegorical representations of Duluth, its early history, the landing of Greysolon du Lhut at Park Point, an Indian village, the signing of the treaty at La Point on Jan. 10, 1855, early life on the Great Lakes and in Duluth, lumber camps, iron mines and the final tableau, "Duluth Triumphant," showing Duluth as it is today.

Mrs. S. R. Holden of the Duluth Drama league gave a short talk, declaring that the aim of the Drama league, which originated the pageant idea for Duluth, followed very closely the suggestions made by Mr. Hugo.

Nominating Committee.

Mr. Squier, upon a motion that prevailed requesting him to appoint a nominating committee of five, named T. W. Hugo, chairman of the committee, and Bentley P. Neff, Mrs. E. A. Silberstein, John Stevenson and J. E. Rockwell as the other members. The committee will consider prominent Duluthians for the positions of president, three vice presidents, a secretary and treasurer and a governing board not to exceed ten members. They will present their ticket at the next meeting to be held next Monday evening, when permanent officers for the 1915 pageant will be elected.

Another committee appointed is the organization committee, which will prepare a tentative plan of organizing, thus relieving the members of the general body from this detail. The members of the committee are J. B. Crane, chairman; Dan Mahoney, E. J. Filiatrault, Judge Bert Fesler and Dr. Maurice Lefkovits. A third committee, consisting of Judge Fesler, chairman, Mrs. N. F. Hugo, Mrs. S. R. Holden, J. E. Rockwell and Felix Seligman, will present suitable names for the pageant and also decide on the winners for the $20 in prize money offered by the American Exchange National bank for the best names offered by residents of Duluth. One contest closed on May 1, while a second contest was announced by Dan Mahoney of the bank at the meeting last evening, to close on May 10. A second prize of $10 will be awarded for the best name offered this week, he said.

Not Bound By Contest.

Announcement was also made at the meeting last evening that the pageant committee reserves the right to reject any name offered, including the prize winners, and to make any selection desired.

Mr. Squier read a communication from the Country club, in which the secretary states that although the club has never co-operated in a pageant or celebration, the directors have decided to extend the courtesies of the institution to all visitors in the city during the celebration who desire to play golf.

Aeroplane Advertising.

A letter was read from the Rotary club announcing the proposed aerial flight from Duluth through the Panama canal, and asking the support of the pageant committee. The matter, however, was tabled for the present, until an organization could be perfected and officers named.

E. J. Filiatrault, who is in charge of the proposed aerial flight through the canal, gave a short talk, explaining the plans.

"The aero-yacht to be used," said Mr. Filiatrault, "will be modeled after the Glenn L. Martin type of craft and will seat two passengers, the driver and a publicity man. The machine will be covered with Duluth signs and will also announce the 1915 pageant for this city. The aeroplane will follow a straight water route from Duluth to Buffalo, down the St. Lawrence river, down the Atlantic coast to the Gulf of Mexico, through the Panama canal and up the Pacific coast to San Francisco. We then plan to remove the pontoons from the aeroplane and replacing them with wheels, make a flight overland, back to Duluth.

"It is my plan to start the flight early in July, thus arriving in San Francisco some time in October. During this time, at least 10,000,000 people will have seen the flight in all the newspapers of the country. The Associated Press will follow the course of the aeroplane from city to city, while the local papers in every town, where the machine visits, will have complete accounts of it. Magazines and periodicals will all contain pictures and feature stories of the flight, giving this city the best advertising it can possibly secure. In my opinion it is the greatest and most novel advertising medium Duluth could ever obtain."

Mr. Filiatrault's talk was warmly applauded.

"DULUTH TRIUMPHANT"

T. W. Hugo Outlines Plan for the Proposed Historical Pageant of Duluth.

MESSAGE FROM T. W. HUGO.

"So far as possible it will be the intention to use nothing but Duluth material, handled by Duluth men and women and directed by Duluth skill and brains. If we cannot accomplish this ourselves without the help of ubiquitous itinerary experts we ought not to have any celebration. We would not deserve it. This pageant should show what Duluth, and no other place, what Duluthians and no other persons (excepting in the case of Indians and their native products) can produce and demonstrate that our citizens possess that degree of character we are idealizing."

Outlining a tentative plan for the pageant to be introduced during the 1915 festival, T. W. Hugo greatly impressed the members of the Duluth festival committee at their meeting at the Commercial club last evening, when he read a paper on "Duluth Triumphant."

In his paper Mr. Hugo made many interesting suggestions for the program of tableau and floats to be introduced during the celebration. These follow in chronological order the history of Duluth, from the time the first white man set foot on Park Point until the summer of 1915. It is probable that many of these suggestions will be adopted by the pageant committee in preparing a working plan.

Mr. Hugo's address follows in full:

"The general idea of a plan to fitly celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of the proclamation of the treaty at La Pointe, which ceded the Duluth territory to the United States in 1855, is to consist of a series of allegorical representations of events and scenes connected with the history of Duluth from its earliest times down to the time when it can be said that it has overcome the obstacles which have been encountered and now stands Duluth triumphant.

"Those allegorical representations to be made to fit either a street parade or a series of tableaux which can be presented under cover. As nearly as possible they are to be historically and chronologically correct and the whole will 'point a moral and adorn a tale,' otherwise it will be hodge-podge or a burlesque, beginning nowhere and ending in the same uncertain place. Each representation must tell a definite story and co-ordinate with the others; it must be spectacular enough to be attractive, artistic enough to warrant frequent study, be comparatively inexpensive, be within the comprehension and ability of the ordinary person, be suited to our tastes and ideas as citizens of Duluth and Duluth conditions of climatology and topography.

"I have selected as the title 'Duluth Triumphant.' The fitness of the title will better appear as the tableaux are explained. To avoid serious misunderstandings when the man is referred to the name it is spelled Du Lhut, and when the city is referred to, Duluth.

Historical Tableaux.

"The tableaux tell the story of the progress of Duluth and bring up to the present the old characters and some of the old incidents which are now and in the future to be merged in the modern Duluth; the man Du Lhut makes his obeisance to the new Duluth and from henceforward follows after in the dim clouds of legend and ancient history, his work has been performed, his memory honored and the old voyageur, the trumpets and plumes, the Indian and the Frenchman of the old regime give place to the modern working man, the modernity of dress and customs, the active, busy business man and the home.

"In planning the tableaux representing 'Duluth Triumphant,' I have not emphasized its wealth, its business, its resources or its situation or material advantages, but the character of its citizens, the true and only permanent evidence of its pre-eminence, and this character, depending on the supreme basic principle of the immortal trinity of man, woman and child; in fact the home; such a grouping represents the triumph. To attain its highest development, this character must be accorded the benefits of a stable and conservative government and enjoy the blessings of liberty in its fullest sense; a government wherein humanity is the unit, where the laws are a record of the surrender of the inalienable rights of that unit for the common good, and they must therefore be responsive to human needs, a government in which the strong must protect and assist the weaker, a government which must encourage the hopes, the aspirations, the ambitions of all good men working for the betterment of their kind; a liberty which will not be considered a license to be illiberal, but with freedom of speech, of conscience, of action, only governed by the rights, safety and happiness of all others.

Salient Points.

"Now, having given you the motif of the story to be told, let me in a brief review bring again to your attention the salient points to be brought out, because, to be efficient, a tableaux must speak out clear and loud and not contain more than one lesson. We want to bring out the old Du Lhut times; the signing of the treaty, sixty years ago by which this portion of the country was thrown open to settlement; the development of Duluth along all distinctive lines, its gradual growth to the condition when we say it has triumphed over its difficulties and offers to its citizens and the world those advantages which will develop the character of its citizens to that stage described above.

"We will now briefly suggest a series of tableaux which will fitly and plainly depict those events, ideas and conclusions, merely saying that the details will be worked out later and the simplest portions of the work. Sketches of each will be made and full descriptions made of coloring, costumes and a general scenario prepared, so that each tableau may be prepared independently and separately from any or all of the others. There will be a chief of staff and he will have a lieutenant in charge of each separate tableau. To preserve the unity the designer must be the final arbiter and commander-in-chief, in the background. Many of the costumes have been already designed and as far as possible it will be the intention to use nothing but Duluth material, handled by Duluth men and women and directed by Duluth skill and brains. If we cannot accomplish this ourselves without the help of the ubiquitous itinerant expert we ought not to have any celebration, we would not deserve it. This pageant should show what Duluth, and no other place, Duluthians and no other persons (except in the case of Indians and their native products), can produce and demonstrate that our citizens possess that degree of character we are idealizing. Duluth, this to be made as camp, representing the lumber business.

Fifth Float, Second Section.

"Representation of an iron mine, representing that industry.

Sixth Group or Float, Second Section.

"Different nationalities in characteristic costumes, the melting pot.

First Float, "C," Second Section.

"The little red schoolhouse, or a backwoods school, representing the beginnings of the public school educational system.

First Float, Third Section.

"Duluth triumphant tableau, represented by a man and a woman in modern dress, with a child playing around with a dog, the family; back of them are Uncle Sam and Miss Columbia, representing the government, while back of them and elevated somewhat is Liberty, enlightening the world.

Second Float, Third Section.

"This and other floats will represent the condition of Duluth at the present time and may be as many as convenient, but nothing of a burlesque or coarse character to be introduced, and no advertisements of any description which will detract from the dignity or decorum of the whole; in fact, there should be none at all.

"The parade comes to some level place, where a grandstand is erected. When the trumpeters and cavalcade arrive at a designated spot in front of the grandstand that group rides straight ahead till it reaches the stand, then turns and faces about; the first float turns off to the right, the second to the left, the third to the right, etc., taking ground in form of a semi-circle in front of and facing the cavalcade and the stand. When the Duluth triumphant float arrives at the spot designated it halts and any float behind it halts. Du Lhut having in the meantime joined the cavalcade, advances towards the Duluth triumphant float, escorted by the cavalcade, salutes the group on it, the French flag is lowered from the pole on Du Lhut's float, and the Stars and Stripes hoisted. After what verbal ceremonies are decided on are completed Du Lhut and the cavalcade step to one side the Duluth triumphant float moves forward, escorted by mounted police and a band, all the floats in section three fall in and after the second section has passed them, all saluting and having the salute returned, the cavalcade falls in, followed by the other floats of the first section and all continue the parade to the place of breaking up.

"I have not attempted to describe the nature of the tableaux or floats in section third, because they are the simplest portion of the work and no person can tell fifteen months ahead just what particular factors should be featured at the end of that time; the portion which will take the time and thought are comprised under sections one or two or first and second. Section third will represent the condition of Duluth in 1915; educational, social, humanitarian, material, commercial.

"I am of the opinion that with earnest efforts on the part of all interested and the co-operation of those able to be of use in the presentation of the tableaux that money could be raised by the presentation of those tableaux at the Lyceum or curling rink or some suitable place, with a musical program in conjunction, a musical number between each in order to give time to get the tableaux ready.

Indians.

"As it appears to me that our Indian friends will be of great assistance to us and be a source of attraction unequaled it will be well to secure the assistance of some person who has their respect and esteem, and I have thought of the Rev. Frank Pequette (himself a full-blood and proud of it), stationed at Nett lake; he is interested in Duluth and will be just the person to help us out in this respect; if his duties will permit I am sure he will be willing.

"After reading this plan I am confident that with a reasonable amount of money carefully handled and spent, the unselfish co-operation of the citizens of Duluth as so far mentioned, the elimination of the foreign advertising grafter, the securing, for the benefit of the association of all the resources attendant upon the enterprise, the absolute censorship of all advertising matter and official notices so that we will rather understate than bombastically flaunt pipe dreams to gull the public, living up to everything we declare is to be presented and giving an honest 100 cents for every dollar we require our friends to pay, seeing that decent, comfortable, reasonably priced quarters are provided for everybody and permitting no extortion or overcharges, the festival can be made an unbounded success.

Be Prepared

"In times of peace prepare for war" is a maxim that is just as applicable to each individual as it is to each nation. Wars and disasters usually come suddenly and the man or nation who is best prepared to meet emergencies is the one who will win out. If you are earning a regular salary or your business is prosperous now is the time to be preparing for adverse conditions. Troubles are bound to come to all of us and but few escape financial troubles at some time or other during their lives. The only way to guard against them is to build up a reserve fund which can be used in case of emergency. Are you doing this? If not you should start a Savings Account at once and add to it regularly and consistently.

We pay 3% Compound Interest on Savings Accounts.

"Complexion Secrets Of An Actress"

In a recently issued volume bearing the above title, the author says: "Continuous use of grease, paints, rouge and the like, had ruined my complexion. My skin was colorless, wrinkled, coarse and punctured with large pores. In England I heard of the virtues of mercolized wax; my first experience with this marvelous substance convinced me it was more valuable than all cosmetics combined. Now whenever my complexion begins to go wrong I get an ounce of mercolized wax at the nearest drug store, spread on a thin layer of it before retiring, washing it off next morning. The wax, after a few such treatments, seems literally to absorb the worn-out cuticle, when a brighter, healthier, younger-looking skin appears.

"For the wrinkles and enlarged pores I began using a solution of saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in a half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this every day for awhile soon relieved the condition most wonderfully." —Advertisement.

Callouses, Positive Cure Also Corns and Sore Feet

This information will be welcomed by the thousands of victims of daily foot torture. Don't waste time. Try it at once no matter how many patent medicines you have used: This treatment, well known to foot doctors, will do the work. "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts." The effects are marvelous. All pain goes instantly and the feet feel simply delightful. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off; bunions, aching feet, sweaty, smelling feet, get immediate relief. Use this treatment a week and your foot troubles will be a thing of the past. Calocide works through the pores and removes the cause. Get a twenty-five cent box from any druggist. Calocide prepared only by Medical Formula Co. of Dayton, Ohio.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

$1,000,000 MARK PASSED

Huge Sum Paid Annually By Wisconsin to Injured Workmen.

During Month of April State Commission Handled 1,058 Cases.

Madison, Wis., May 5.—Payments of compensation to Wisconsin workmen injured through industrial accidents passed the $1,000,000 a year mark in April. This is shown in the tabulations of the industrial commission just completed for the month.

The tabulations show that the commission fully disposed of 1,058 accident cases in which compensation was paid to injured workmen or their dependants. This was equivalent to thirty-nine per working day. The amount of compensation paid to employes was $67,175.61.

Total Relief $100,762.

The expense for medical hospital and surgical services which is also paid by the employers, amounted to approximately $33,587.80, making the total relief furnished to injured men, $100,762.41. This was at the rate of $3,368.41 per day, or $1,209,148.92 per annum. The expense of the commission for administering the law during April was less than $900. This makes the administration cost considerably less than 1 per cent.

Runs Amuck With Gun.

Beach, N. D., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Running amuck with a shotgun and suffering from a bad case of intoxication, Joe Raven, a former drayman, endeavored to shoot his wife. She claims he fired at her twice. She ran from the house and thinking she had entered a restaurant he broke down two doors and entered the building, being later disarmed. He charged her with infidelity.

FORMER INSANE PATIENT SUING

Wants $30,000 at Eau Claire for Being Sent to Asylum.

Eau Claire, Wis., May 5.—For damages from his being confined in the asylum at Winnebago, where he was committed in November, 1911, Frank C. Moore has started three actions for $10,000 each in the Federal court.

The first action is against County Judge George Blum and his bondsmen. One is against ex-Sheriff Louis Cleghorn, and the third is against Drs. George E. Curtis and Roy E. Mitchell.

The suits appear to have been brought upon the theory that the law under which Mr. Moore was adjudged insane is unconstitutional and that the judgt in issuing the commitment and the sheriff in executing it, disregarded certain rights of Mr. Moore and that the report of the examining physicians was inaccurate, in that Mr. Moore was not in fact insane at the time of the examination.

Moore was committed in November, 1911, and was confined in the Winnebago asylum until May, 1912, when he was released on parole.

The summons in the action was dated Thursday, April 30. It is understood that Attorney V. W. James will represent the defendants.

SHRINERS TAKE INDIANS.

Montana Contingent to Atlanta Carry Redskins South.

Helena, Mont., May 5.—Members of Algeria temple nobles of the Mystic shrine who live here and elsewhere in the state are taking a delegation of Indians along to the big Shriners' convention in Atlanta. The Indians left Flathead county today by special train, by permission of the government, and will be joined by Montana Shriners, acting as body guard to the paleface Shriners.

This contingent will join the Minnesota Shriners at Minneapolis, May 9 when, aboard one special train the pilgrims of the Northwest will start to Atlanta.

CLOTHING BURNED OFF.

Yarnell, Wis., Child Probably Fatally Burned Toasting Bread.

Couderay, Wis., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The 5-year-old daughter of Emil Schael of Yarnell, near here, was so badly burned that the doctors say she cannot recover.

The mother left the little girl by the kitchen range toasting bread while she went across the street to help her brother unpack some goods for his store, and upon returning, found the child writhing in agony upon the floor with all her clothing burned off.

MAHNOMEN'S NEW SCHOOL.

High School Costing About $30,000 Appropriately Dedicated.

Mahnomen, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mahnomen's new high school building was formally dedicated Friday with appropriate exercises. The state educational department was represented by S. A. Challman, commissioner of school buildings, and P. C. Tonning, assistant superintendent of public instructions. J. H. Hay of Thief River Falls, superintendent of schools of that city, spoke at the afternoon meeting.

Mr. Tonning called the building the last word in schoolhouse construction. The building was erected during the summer and fall of 1913, costing about $30,000. It was first used after the holiday vacation. It is thoroughly modern in every respect, has rooms for the teaching of agriculture, domestic science and manual training. It is equipped with the latest and most improved sanitary devices, has water and sewer connections. The school board constructed six blocks of sewer in order to take care of the waste.

CAUGHT IN MONTANA.

Alleged North Dakota Horse Thief Who Broke Jail Taken.

Bowman, N. D., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mike Chernisow who broke jail here a year ago after pleading guilty to stealing a herd of cattle belonging to P. B. Peters, and successfully defied arrest, has just been captured in Forsyth, Mont. After he escaped here the sheriff heard Chernisow was in Montana under names of Black and Rowe and flooded that state with circulars. He learned that his man had been arrested at Forsyth on a charge of stealing a horse. As soon as the Montana officials get through with the prisoner he will be returned to this state, in which he had served a prison sentence for a former crime.

FOR HEAD BANKER.

Akeley Man Groomed for High Position in Modern Woodmen.

Akeley, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bert Rodman, cashier of the State bank of Akeley, and a delegate to the state convention of Modern Woodmen of America at Stillwater, representing Hubbard county, will doubtless become a candidate for head banker of the M. W. A., and his name will be presented at the state meeting for indorsement. Mr. Rodman has been prominently identified with the order for many years. For several weeks past many prominent Minnesota Woodmen have been urging him to allow his name to be presented, but he has refused to be a candidate, up to this time. Much interest is manifested in the forthcoming meeting throughout the Northwest.

Admits Two Crimes.

Dickinson, N. D., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arrested on a charge of selling a mortgaged horse, Gaspar Wagner not only admitted that crime but also the theft of three suits of clothes and other articles from the clothing store where he had been employed. Wagner thought his arrest was on a charge of stealing the clothing and confessed that before he knew on what charge his arrest had been caused.

MOTT FLOUR MILL WORK STARTS SOON.

Mott, N. D., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—A crew of men will soon arrive here to build the 300-barrel flour mill which S. Stewart of Morris, Minn., will erect. He is also the owner of the electric light plant here and announces that he will give the people a day service three days of each week just as soon as motors can be installed.

MUCH MINOT BUILDING.

Expected $750,000 Will Be Expended There This Year.

Minot, N. D., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three-quarters of a million dollars will be expended in new buildings here this year.

The Federal building, costing $200,000, is the biggest single project and work has been commenced on it.

The new St. Joseph hospital, costing $115,000; a new Standard Oil company building, costing $40,000; a new ward school building, costing $45,000; steel and concrete viaduct, costing $50,000; opera house, costing $35,000; cold storage plant, costing $15,000, an added story to the Leland hotel, costing $20,000, are the other large construction projects either already under way or contracted for. In addition to these, about $100,000 will be expended for new dwellings.

FIANCEE'S TROUBLES.

Crosses and Recrosses Ocean Trying to Join North Dakotan.

Mott, N. D., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Phillip Magstadt, who lives near here, has appealed to the North Dakota congressional delegation to help him get his affianced wife Christina Muller of Russia into the country so they can marry. She is a sister of his late wife and was induced by letter to come to America to take his sister's place in Magstadt's family. Her troubles began as soon as she left Russia. She was held at Bremen by the German officials for some time until released on cable orders. Proofs, identification and everything were sent by Magstadt to Ellis Island, N. Y., but instead his bride was shipped from Germany to Baltimore. There being no proof there a message was sent here and it took four days for the prospective bridegroom to straighten out the trouble. When he did he learned the United States officials at Baltimore had deported his bride to Germany.

CUMBERLAND WINNERS.

Miss Miller Best at Declaiming and Clarence Wold at Oratory.

Cumberland, Wis., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the Namakagon league declamatory and oratorical contest held here, Miss Maud Miller of this city won first place in the declamatory contest with her rendition of "A Few Bars in the Key of C," and Clarence Wold of Hayward won first place in the oratorical contest with "Antonio Maceo" as his subject. Miss Miller will represent the league in the contest at River Falls and Mr. Wold will represent the league in the oratorical contest at New Richmond.

Old Railroad Man Dies.

Brainerd, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—James Nelis, aged 65 for twenty-four years yard foreman in Northern Pacific track work, died of pneumonia and leaves a wife, a son, John Nells, night chief dispatcher of Glendive, Mont., and a son, J. F. Nells, switchman of Brainerd. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning in Minneapolis, his former home.

Gave Girl's Name Wrong.

Mandan, N. D., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—George Arch, charged with perjury in obtaining a license to wed "Mary E. Anderson, aged 19," when the girl was Gertrude Adams, aged 15, was arrested.

They were not married and the girl was sent back to her parents, who swore out a warrant against Arch.

Mandan Police Head Removed.

Mandan, N. D., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Reynolds, chief of police for the past four years has been removed by the board of city commissioners, which appointed M. Knoll, night captain, to the position.

Jamestown Debaters Win.

Jamestown, N. D., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jamestown college won the annual debate against the Valley City normal team, by a two to one decision.

The question of restricting immigration was debated. Jamestown debaters were Miss Edna LaMoure, William and Louis Orlady, while the normal debaters were Miss Helen Outram, Delbert Roger and Alexas Aas.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Green Bay—The old courthouse site in this city, directly across the road from the city hall, may be purchased from Brown county as a site for the central fire department and the station now located on Washington street sold for a business site.

Racine—The eugenic marriage law is balking Dan Cupid in Racine county. County Clerk Hay reports a falling off in marriage licenses this year as compared with last. Not more than two-thirds as many licenses have been issued. Many couples journey to Waukegan to wed.

Grand Rapids—The friends of Attorney D. D. Conway of this city are urging his appointment to the office of deputy revenue collector of the Eastern district of Wisconsin, to succeed H. H. Manson, deceased. Mr. Conway is being indorsed by local Democrats throughout the state for the position.

Milwaukee — Milwaukee's railroads must procrastinate no longer in the matter of South side track elevation. Unless the Northwestern and St. Paul roads have finished raising their tracks above the street level by Dec. 31, 1914, as specified in the railroad commission's first order of two years ago, they will be subjected to heavy penalty.

Beaver Dam—Miss Clara Zastrow, aged 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Zastrow of the town of Calamas, shot herself at the home of her sister, Mrs. William Waddell, here. Miss Zastrow, it is said, quarreled with her sweetheart, a man named Hughes, living in Calamas. She will probably die.

Eau Claire—For the four months ending April 30, 1914, a total of sixty-three marriage licenses were issued by County Clerk Nygaard as against seventy-seven for the corresponding period in 1913, a decrease of fourteen on a rather small total. During the month of April, this year, twenty-one licenses were issued, while in April, 1913, thirty-two licenses were issued.

Manitowoc—The Rev. P. E. Thorsen, former pastor here, has accepted an appointment as missionary, and will sail for China, his field of labors.

Elm Grove—The Elm Grove cheese factory, erected near Kaukauna, has begun operation and is receiving about 4,000 pounds of milk daily.

La Crosse—John B. Benson of Houston, Minn., battled with death in the swift current of the La Crosse river for fifteen minutes before being rescued, as the result of pursuing his hat when the wind blew it from his head. Benson plunged headlong down a steep bank into the river. He was rescued by Andrew Hirt, who threw a rope to him from a railroad bridge.

Ashland—Frank Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darvy Mantle of this city, is now holding the position of private secretary to the general superintendent of the Great Northern railroad.

La Crosse—Richard Schermerhorn, an aged recluse, was found dead in his bed May 4 after neighbors had failed to see him for two days. The condition of the body indicated he had been dead three or four days. He was 83.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Marquette—An overheated shaft box on a pulley operating one of the pumps in the sodium acetate plant of the Pioneer Iron company's furnace at North Marquette caused, early Monday, a fire resulting in a damage of some hundreds of dollars. The approximate amount of the damage could not be estimated.

Negaunee—Miss Margaret Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Perkins of this city, will be married on Thursday, May 14, to Joseph Henry Williams of Ironwood. The Perkins family were formerly residents of Ironwood, but have made their home here for the past few years.

Ishpeming—Miles Butler of Duluth, a brother of E. J. Butler, spent Saturday in Ishpeming on his way to Chicago on a business trip.

Calumet—The steeple of the Norwegian Lutheran church, corner of Seventh and Elm streets, Red Jacket, which was struck and badly damaged by lightning a short time ago, is being repaired.

Houghton—A party of engineers connected with the federal survey of the railroads of the United States is in Houghton securing the data for the survey regarding the property of the South Shore and Mineral range in this village. In a short time the party will move to other points on the road.

Calumet—A small boy on Friday, the first fishing day of the season, caught a 22-inch trout in the dam back of No. 6 shaft of the Mohawk mine.

Houghton—Charles E. Townsend, junior United States senator from Michigan, has advised Secretary Price of the Copper Country Commercial club that he will accept the invitation of the club to address it on the occasion of its first anniversary celebration in June.

Calumet—The Italian Mutual Benefit society has reopened the Italian hall for the season. The hall has been renovated and redecorated and was placed in excellent condition for the season.

Houghton — The Copper County Chautauqua association will inaugurate an innovation in its program for next July when a copper country chorus of 100 voices will open the session with the great oratorio, "The Creation," under the direction of Miss Alice B. Camper.

Baraga—The special car of the Michigan Fish commission arrived here last week with a consignment of 30,000 trout fish fry for planting in the several streams west of Baraga. The brook trout fry were taken out to various streams by John Michaels, John Cochran and John McCall of Houghton.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Hettinger, N. D.—Secretary T. A. Peterson of the Yellowstone Trail association of North Dakota, has proclaimed May 22 as "Trial Day," and an invitation has been extended to Governor L. B. Hanna of North Dakota to join in the observance of the day here.

Bismarck, N. D.—With 10,771 registrations of motor vehicles in the state, Secretary of State Thomas Hall estimates that about half the machines in the state have been registered so far.

Mandan, N. D.—Mrs. Philli Barth, aged about 70 years, died at her home in Northeast Mandan, following a prolonged illness. She had been making her home there for a number of years and is survived by her husband, four sons and two daughters: Matt, Thomas and Michael of St. Anthony; John of St. Vincent; Mrs. George Thole of this city and Mrs. Martin Belier of St. Anthony.

Minot, N. D.—Deputy Game Warden Banks of York reports that a man had been caught shooting chickens out of season near there and has been sentenced to pay a stiff fine.

Bismarck, N. D. — Attorney General Miller has received word that the United States supreme court has advanced the North Dakota coal rate cases and they will be heard Oct. 13. It is believed that the cases will be disposed of during Mr. Miller's term.

Fort Rice, N. D.—Mrs. J. K. Wead, a pioneer resident of Fort Rice, died at her home after a long illness, at the advanced age of 80 years.

Edgeley, N. D.—There is agitation along the Southwestern branch of the Northern Pacific for a double train service between here and Fargo. At present the trains leave Fargo in the morning and return in the evening. This is all right for the traveling men to make these towns but different for residents along the line to go to Fargo and back.

Bismarck, N. D.—The Bickford case will come up for hearing before the supreme court on May 13, when the matter will be argued regarding constitutional points in the case.

Mott, N. D.—Charged with passing worthless checks in Hettinger, Lewis Baakey, sometimes known as Lewis Butler, was detained here till the checks were made good. He was en route to Fargo in an auto with his grandmother when stopped here on a telephone call from Hettinger.

Alexander, N. D.—Richard Dickinson, colored, is under arrest here and held to the district court on a charge of stealing a fancy saddle from Claude Murray. There have been repeated thefts in this vicinity and he is now suspected of some other offenses.

Manning, N. D.—Charged with undue intimacy with two young sisters of his wife, Isadore Blodske has been sentenced to the state prison for five years.

Rolla, N. D.—The business men of Rolla held a mass meeting at which addresses were made by representatives of the Lake Region Development league. It is undecided whether Rolette county shall make an independent fight for new settlers or combine with several other counties in the broader lake region movement.

New Rockford, N. D.—Andrew Gibb, traveling solicitor for an Eastern concern, is under arrest here charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Mrs. C. R. Wattles of Cheyenne, N. D., alleges that Gibb contracted for the sale of a certain territory to her, as her exclusive field for the sale of the company's product after selling it to another.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Women of the Second District Federation of Women's Clubs will present a golf course to the North Dakota tuberculosis sanitarium.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

St. Peter—Gustavus Adolphus college held a celebration over having completed an endowment fund of $250,000. About a year ago J. J. Hill and C. A. Smith of Berkeley, Cal., offered to give $50,000 each to the college if the school would raise $150,000 by May 1 of this year. The $150,000 was raised and enough more to pay the expenses of the campaign.

Stillwater—John Oliver died May 2 at his home in the town of Lakeland, aged 91. John Oliver was born in Massachusetts in the year 1823; he came West when a young man of 24 years and settled in Lakeland, where he had lived ever since. He is survived by his wife and four daughters, Mrs. Clara McKean of Lakeland; Mrs. Thomas Secrest, at the old home; Miss Emma May Oliver, Rochester Minn., and Mrs. Gratia Rose of Brainerd.

St. Cloud—Andrew Anderson, pioneer resident of this section, died May 2, after a short illness, death being due to cerebal hemorrhage. He was 88 years of age, having observed his anniversary only the day before.

Thief River Falls—Condemnation proceedings have been started in district court by the Minnesota Northwestern Electric company to acquire six miles of right-of-way in order to complete the first twenty miles of road lying between this city and the township of Cloverleaf.

Moorhead—Iver Thompson of this city has filed for the nomination as sheriff, and will make the race at the coming primaries on June 16. Mr. Thompson made the race four years ago.

Deerwood—C. O. Kallman of St. Paul bought at par and accrued interest, $10,000 sewer bonds and $15,000 water works bonds of the village of Deerwood, the bonds carrying 5½ per cent interest.

Litchfield — Commissioner Winkler of the dairy and food department has authorized the use of the state brand for butter and cheese to the Litchfield creamery of Becker county. This is the first creamery in the state to take advantage of the brand which was adopted by the last legislature.

Brainerd—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Corse, who passed away at Backus, was held at Vtrndale on Sunday. She was the mother of E. S. Houghton of this city.

DE WITT VAN COURT used to teach boxing in the antediluvian days. Mr. Van Court declares that Freddy Welsh can outpoint Willie Ritchie over the twenty-round route. The primer, the Bible and our maiden aunts are among those truth telling agencies declaring that age demands respect—therefore we kowtow to the opine of the grizzled boxing inspector of the Pacific coast and sally forth from the port of more or less doubt with the venture that maybe after all there is some egregious chance that the man from Wales will everlastingly lam the daylights out of the champion lightweight of the universe—a large and lonesome proposition.

And, William, while upon the subject of the aforementioned lightweight champion of the world, pray let us proceed further with some discussion of his character and financial ability.

It is stated in some of the select boxing circles of the country that the contest for the twentieth of this vernal month, between Willie Ritchie and Charley White, has been called off. Why? Tarry whilst we hasten to explain and expound.

They do say that Willie asked for his customary $10,000 for the usual half hour of work, and that this was granted. In addition to this guarantee, which the ordinary man would consider fair pay, as pay goes since the tariff has been removed, the champ asks for an option upon 40 per cent of the gross. This was granted.

And then in addition to the already large amount that he was assured of receiving, the greatest financial fighter of the age asked that he be given 40 per cent of White's end of the purse. In amazement we ask: "Can you beat it?"

Little characteristics like this make some of us wish that most any healthy youngster with an ingrown wallop and a pleasant disposition and a fondness for philosophy instead of the sordid and gross medium of the marts of trade, would hie into view and slam that scheming dome from the graceful shoulders of the incumbent of the throne that was once occupied by so great a fighter as the late Josephus Gans.

Duluth Lands Some Match.

WITH Chicago, one of our commercial competitors, and Omaha and dear and often misunderstood Kansas City angling for the largest contest that has been made this season, little old Duluth once more comes to the front and grabs off the plum of the entire wrestling season, for the contest that will bring together Cutler and Westergaard ranks as about the classiest mat proposition that could be conceived.

Looking back over the mat activities of this town it must be said that Duluth has been the locale of some of the classy contests that have been wrestled in the United States during the last five years.

Looming large among the matches wrestled here are the Beell-Yokel match, the Yokel-Miller contest, and the Zbyszko-Westergaard match. From the point of the men being evenly matched, and from the further point that the two men are both laying claims to the American championship, the match that will be decided at the Auditorium on the evening of the twelfth looks like about the largest plum that has been secured for this town.

Both Cutler and Westergaard have been seen here. Cutler is a former Bemidji boy and got his early athletic reputation in this city and the city over the bay. One of the early appearances of the gigantic Cutler, just a raw lumberjack from the north woods, was against the Gerry Kid in a fight that was staged in Superior. Cutler was beaten and it was some time after this that he gravitated into the game of grapple.

Westergaard has wrestled three matches here. Upon his first appearance he easily defeated Ole Sampson. His next two contests were with the mighty Zbyszko, and it was the work of the big Des Moines Swede against the heavier Pole that has stamped him in the opinion of his hundreds of local followers as one of the very greatest in the game.

In his dressing room at the Lyceum theater one evening Frank A. Gotch told the writer that in a wrestling sense Cutler was stronger than George Hackenschmidt.

"Charley is one of the very strongest in the world," said Gotch, "and if he gets his man going in the first half hour, it's good night."

Westergaard is enduring, game and versed in all of the fine points of the game. Cutler will probably try to make a quick and decisive ending of the battle, for it is generally admitted by the followers of the game that in the matter of endurance the tall Swede has it on his more chunky rival.

The Scientific Duelists.

RELAYED wire word from the coast informs us of the mental itching of Freddy Welsh to once more tango merrily with Packey McFarland.

As French duels are generally harmless and eminently satisfactory, so should be another meeting between the Welsh stabber and the Stockyards sidestepper.

Mr. Welsh uses his left with faultless precision and comes about as near being perpetual motion with his portside wing as any of the 49,000 inventions that have been made by men out of work during the past several decades.

As it is known in the corners of cigar stores and our best barber shops, Mr. McFarland is one of those faultless and graceful boxing lads, possessing a well educated left and one of the best pair of feet that the ring has produced since the halcyon and glorious days of James J. Corbett.

These dexterous and dainty exponents of the purely scientific side of the game met once in Milwaukee. Welsh was fouled, but in extenuation it should be stated that McFarland was young and not so well versed in the game.

Once again the two slender youths met in Los Angeles and James J. Jeffries lazily refereed, rolling cigarettes between the rounds. The bout went twenty-five rounds and the decision was called a draw.

Before the exclusive, dress-suited national sporting club of England the boys met for the third time, and again the battle was declared a draw. Mr. McFarland caustically calling attention to the fact that the referee was a man with strong leaning toward the things that belonged to Britain. "Britain's sons shall never die," or lines to that effect.

However, as another meeting would harm no one—not even the boxers—there is no reason in the world for anyone to oppose it, unless it could possibly be the promoters.

WHITE SOX WIN FINAL

Darby's Colts Take Game From Appleton By 7 to 6 Count.

Appleton, Wis., May 5.—The Duluth White Sox, with cub recruit George Cunningham and Doc Stanley performing on the mound, won the final game of the training season with the Appleton team, the score being 7 to 6.

The game was one of the cleanest ever played here, but one error marking the play. The visitors played air tight baseball behind the two hurlers, not an error marking the score sheet of the opposition.

Cunningham twirled an effective and steady game today, the score being 5 to 2 in favor of the invaders when the former Sturgeon Lake hurler gave way to Stanley. In his work in the final practice game of the year the youngster looked like a real pitcher and a mound man who should hold his own in the Northern league company.

Wolf and McGuff and Brockett starred in the get away game. The rangy center fielder went back in the fifth round and pulled down a fly that was ticketed for safe territory.

Before looking up the time table of the departing train O'Brien handed releases to Westholm, Swanson, Goff, Schrenk and Brennan. The Dook is very well satisfied with the remainder of his men.

The score:			R.	H.	E.

World's Swimming Record.

New York, May 5.—A world's record—3 minutes, 52 4-5 seconds—for the 400-yard four-men relay swim in a 25-yard tank was made last night by the Illinois Athletic club of Chicago at the Amateur Athletic union swimming championships at the New York Athletic club. The members of the winning team and the time each man made for his 100 yards are: A. C. Raithel, 58 3-5 seconds; W. R. Vosburgh, 59 1-5; Perry McGillivray, 57; H. J. Hebner, 58.

"A GREAT BALL TEAM," SAYS PRESIDENT BLUME

Peerless Leader Declares White Sox Look Like Live Bunch.

McGuff, Leahy, Wolf and Phillips Touted as Stars.

BY BRUCE.

President Harry A. Blume of the Duluth Baseball association returned to the city today from the historic subject of long success, Oshkosh, where he has been giving the members of the Duluth White Sox squad the once over.

"Fine!" is the verdict of the genial president of the association.

McGuff will play first, O'Brien second, Wolf at short, Detrich third, with Phillips, Brackett and Freer in the garden, probably Blancke in the box and Sweeley behind the pad, in the opening game of the season at Winona tomorrow.

Grina, Doc Stanley, George Cunningham, Leahey, Henry Clay Blancke and Monty Woods will make up the pitching staff.

Young will be let out and Westholm has already drawn the yellow ticket of leave.

"Despite the fact that he stands almost as high as the Alworth building, this young McGuff is a real ball player," said President Blume in regard to the youngster who has been opening the eyes of the natives of Oshkosh by the manner in which he has been playing the initial bag.

"Believe me, this Wolf at shortstop is a real live ball player. I honestly believe he is going to make the fans forget about Schreiber. That is just how good he looks to me. Detrich will guard the far corner of the diamond; we have let Brennan go.

"Cunningham is going to make good. We may use him some in the outfield, for the youngster is one of the best hitters in the squad, and he is fast, too, despite the fact that he weighs 200 pounds.

"Jerry Phillips has won a place in the outfield. The kid has been hitting the ball hard and looks like a nifty fielder. With Freer and Brackett it looks as if the outfield will be very well taken care of.

Catchers Look Great.

"Sweeley is going better than ever. With Edmunds our backstopping department will be well taken care of. As far as catchers go, there is no team in the league that has anything on us.

"The reason why Oshkosh dug the rowels into us was because we were switching back and forth between Appleton and Oshkosh and O'Brien was giving this and that man a trial. Don't judge the White Sox from the results of the games with the champions of the W-I league. At that Killian has some team."

President Blume says that the present squad will be carried until the team reaches here on May 18, when the White Sox and the Red Sox of Superior meet in the local opener.

"Last season we lost Friedley, a pitcher who proved one of the finds of the W-I league," said Blume. "This year there will be nothing like that if I can prevent it. It is cheaper in the end to bear the additional expense of carrying extra players until you discover once for all whether they possess ability."

Following the game of yesterday with the Appleton team the members of the White Sox team, like the Arabs, folded their suits and silently stole away in the evening.

The Sox and the champions of the 1813 Northern gonfalon chase, the Winona Pirates, led by that ancient and yet daring and intrepid leader, Lefty Davis, will make the maiden effort of the season.

It will be practically two weeks before the fans here will catch their first sight of the Sox. It is the hope of the Orator to bring his team home with a standing of .500 per cent and in the event of his accomplishing this task he has stated that he will be eminently satisfied with the first trip of the season.

All Teams Are Ready.

All of the teams of the Northern await the bell for tomorrow's opening. Duluth starts with the pennant champs of last year and the rejuvenated Virginia team under the able management of Kid Taylor will open the season with the Grand Forks team on the latter's ground. Fort William will ring up the curtain at Winnipeg and the Superior aggregation will leave the barrier at Moorhead opposing the team of those loving brothers, the Cantillons.

Because of the large number of new players in the league and because of the further fact that several new managers will be tried out it is very difficult to get a line on the players. Until all of the precincts are heard from, Winona will be the favorite, as the Davis aggregation has been installed the choice in the winter books.

Superior looks formidable and the fans are hoping that the Irish Orator has gathered a real ball team—one that will be in the gallop all the way, and a team that will play baseball every minute of the time it is upon the field.

BATTLESTONE WANTS TO FIGHT KID COFFEY.

Dave Battlestone, a featherweight fighter with a hankering to meet the best boys of his weight in this part of the country, today answered the challenge of Kid Coffey, declaring that he would make 125 pounds and meet the boy who is making his home in St. Paul at the present time.

Battlestone has been at the Head of the Lakes for some time with the in-

Giants Defeat Dodgers.

New York, May 5.—After batting Mathewson for three earned runs in the fourth yesterday, scoring on Cutshow's single, Daubert's home run, Wheat's triple and Stengel's double, the Brooklyn team fell to pieces in the next two innings and New York won, 4 to 3. After running down Snodgrass for the second out in the fifth inning McCarty threw the ball into the field, Stock and Meyers scoring. New York scored its winning run in the sixth on Murn's single, Reulbach's fumble on Fletcher, and Merkle's double. Score:

Brooklyn	0	0	0
New York	4	5	0

Batteries—Ruelbach and McCarty; Mathewson and Meyers. Umpires—Orth and Byron.

Braves Cheat Phillies.

Boston, Mass., May 5.—Hard hitting by Boston overcame a five-run lead which Philadelphia obtained in the first inning, and the Braves won yesterday 10 to 7. Rudolph was wild in the opening inning, issuing three bases on balls, which, with two errors, two doubles and as many singles, gave Philadelphia five runs. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	7	13	6
Boston	10	15	3

Batteries—Alexander, Oeschger and Killifer; Rudolph and Cowdy. Umpires—Rigler and Emslie.

Cardinals Best Cubs.

Chicago, May 5.—St. Louis defeated Chicago 6 to 1 in the final game of the series yesterday. The contest was a pitching duel between Lavender and Robinson until the eighth inning, when Pierce took the mound after Lavender was taken out to allow a pinch hitter to perform for him. The fielding of Williams was a feature. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	6	9	3
Chicago	1	7	0

Batteries — Robinson and Snyder; Lavender, Pierce, Zabel and Bresnahan. Umpires—Eason and Quigley

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Browns 1: White Sox 0.

St. Louis, Mo., May 5.—Shotten's two-base blow after two were out in the sixth inning followed by Austin's single gave St. Louis one run, enough to win from Chicago 1 to 0 here yesterday afternoon. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	0	5	0
St. Louis	1	5	0

Batteries—Benz, Jasper and Schalk, Sullivan; Baumgardner and Rumler. Umpires—Chill and Sheridan.

Red Sox 9: Athletics 1.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 5.—Boston outplayed the home team at all points yesterday and won the game by 9 to 1.

Yankees 8; Senators 2.

Washington, May 5.—Washington could do little with Keating yesterday while Cashion and Engel were wild and ineffective, so New York took the second game of the series without difficulty, 8 to 2. Williams and Shanks made home runs. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
New York	8	10	2
Washington	2	5	3

Batteries—Keating and Sweeney; Cashion, Ayers, Engel and Ainsmith. Umpires—Connolly and Dineen.

Tigers 9; Naps 7.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 5.—Hard hitting featured yesterday's game, which Detroit won 9 to 7. After Detroit had gained a big lead, Cleveland tied the game up in the sixth inning by a fine batting rally. Detroit won out in the ninth after two had been retired when Crawford singled. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Detroit	9	15	1
Cleveland	7	13	3

Batteries — Dubuc, Reynolds and Stanage; James, Kahler, Mitchell and Carisch, Bassler. Umpires—Hildebrand and O'Loughlin.

AMERICAN ASSN.

Columbus Beats Champs.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 5.—Cook was a complete puzzle to the champions yesterday while the visitors bunched their hits off both Young and Braun, Columbus winning by a score of 7 to 0. A home run by Hinchman in the ninth inning with two on and two out furnished the feature. Tom Jones was forced to retire in the sixth because of an injury to his hand, received in practice. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Milwaukee	0	5	1
Columbus	7	13	1

Batteries — Young Braun and Hughes; Cook and Smith. Umpires—Owens and Connolly.

Hoosiers Nose Out Saints.

St. Paul, Minn., May 5.—La Roy held St. Paul to five hits yesterday and won his own game in the tenth with a sacrifice fly that scored Reilly with the winning run. Gardner also pitched a good game, but in the sixth a pass to Allen and a wild pitch with a single and out in between gave the visitors their first tally. Hinchman's error in the tenth paved the way to the final tally. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Indianapolis	2	6	0
St. Paul	1	5	1

Batteries—La Roy and Blackburn; Gardner and Glenn. Umpires—Murray and Johnston.

Colonels 8; Millers 3.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 5.—After holding Minneapolis to two hits in six innings yesterday, Toney blew up in the seventh long enough for the locals to escape a shutout. Louisville won the game by a score of 8 to 3. Fiene of Minneapolis was hit hard. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Louisville	8	12	2
Minneapolis	3	6	2

Batteries — Toney and Clemons; Fiene and Rondeau. Umpires—Westervelt and O'Brien.

Kaws Win Hard Battle.

Kansas City, Mo., May 5.—Wortman's grounder, which struck Shortstop Duncan on the leg and rolled far into the field, scored Mattick and Brief in the fourteenth inning and gave Kansas City a 3-to-2 victory over Cleveland. Kansas City made six double plays, frequently cutting off runs.

Sensational fielding made the game a nothing-to-nothing affair until the ninth inning. In the ninth each side put across one run after two men were out. Doubles by Willie and Southworth scored for Cleveland while three singles in a row—by Compton, Mattick and Brief—brought in the local counts. Score:

	R.	H.	E.

Kansas City—	2	14	2

Batteries—Brenton and Devoght; Allison and Gelbel. Umpires—Johnstone and Irwin.

FEDERAL LEAGUE

Tinkers 4; Bisons 0.

Chicago, May 5.—Only three Buffalo men got as far as second base and none got beyond it yesterday, while Chicago war clubs pounded out another victory, this time 4 to 0. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Buffalo	0	6	1
Chicago	4	5	1

Batteries—Moore, Houser, Anderson and Blair; Prendergast, Watson and Wilson.

Kansas City 6; Pittsburg 5.

Kansas City, Mo., May 5.—Three home runs over the left field fence marked yesterday's game between Kansas City and the Pittsburg Federals, which the locals won 6 to 5. Outfielder Kruger of Kansas City injured his ankle sliding into home plate in the eighth and was forced to leave the game. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	5	6	1
Kansas City	6	11	0

Batteries — Knetzer, Walker and Berry; Henning and Easterly.

Baltimore Shuts Out St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., May 5.—Baltimore shut out St. Louis yesterday afternoon 3 to 0 in a contest in which the last two scores were made in the last inning. Score:

Baltimore	3	8	0
St. Louis	0	4	1

Batteries—Quinn and Jacklitsmh; Groom and Hartley.

McGOORTY RACING TO DEATH BED OF MOTHER.

Oshkosh, Wis., May 5.—Eddie McGoorty, claimant of the middleweight championship, is in a race with death from Australia to his home here, which he bought for his parents with profits of pugilism. His mother is dying.

Having been an invalid for months, Mrs. McGoorty's reduced powers of resistance were unable to withstand the shock of her husband's incarceration yesterday in a state asylum for the insane near here.

The elder McGoorty, twenty years ago, was the best rough and tumble fighter of this section, and was a wrestler of considerable ability. His last contest was with Evan Lewis, when the "strangler" was working the county fairs of the Northwest as a ringer.

PROTESTS GAME.

Cincinnati Claims Pittsburg Has No Right to Sunday's Decision.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 5.—A formal protest of the game between the Cincinnati and Pittsburg teams here Sunday was mailed yesterday to President John Tener of the National league by Manager Herzog of the Cincinnati team.

Herzog alleges that in the eleventh inning of the game, as a third strike was being delivered to Miller, Cincinnati batsman, a ball that had previously been knocked out of the lot was thrown back onto the field and hit Miller on the leg. He stepped back, Herzog claims, just as the pitched ball went over the plate and was called out on strikes.

First Delegate Sails.

New York, May 5.—The first of the American delegates to the International Athletic Federation and Olympiade games conferences will sail today. Everett C. Brown of Chicago left here for Lyons, France. James F. Sullivan, Joseph MacCabe and other representatives of the Amateur Athletic union and American Olympic committee will sail for the two conferences on May 23.

Last year the Pennsylvania railroad carried 101,755,061 passengers with only four fatalities.

UNION BOAT CLUB CREW TO COMPETE AT HENLEY

New York, May 5.—Amateur rowing clubs and college oarsmen are greatly interested in the training progress of the Union Boat club eight of Boston, which has been entered for the Grand Challenge cup at the Henley, England, regatta, to be held July 2-4. The crew and subsitutes, consisting mainly of former Harvard university oarsmen, are rapidly rounding into rowing form. The crew was composed at present contains some of the heaviest, strongest and most finished oarsmen to win varsity letters in recent Harvard eights.

To Sail June 16.

The oarsmen substitutes and coaches are scheduled to sail for Liverpool June 16 and will arrive at Henley about June 24. This will give them seven days on which to complete their training and become familiar with the course, which is far different from the American courses upon which they have been accustomed to row.

It has been learned from the past experiences of athletic teams and crews competing in England that a stay of two or three weeks abroad takes the edge off the physical condition of American athletes. The climatic conditions are such that it is better to fix the date of arrival several months before the competition or plan to arrive at the scene of contest within a few days of the event.

American Crews Unfortunate.

This has been the experience of American oarsmen during the last forty years, for as far back as 1878 Americans began to cast longing eyes at the famous trophies competed for annually at Henley. In that year G. W. Lee entered for the Diamond Sculls and was defeated by a narrow margin after an exciting race over the one-mile 550-yard course, which is but 110 feet wide at its best reaches. The same year the famous Columbia university four won the visitors' challenge cup for fours. In 1892 J. J. K. Ooms of Holland won the Diamond Sculls, being the first foreigner to capture the historic rowing trophy.

Cornell Has Tried Twice.

In 1881 Cornell entered a four for the Steward's cup and was defeated. The Ithaca oarsmen tried again in 1895, entering an eight for the Grand challenge, with no better result. The next year Yale tried for this trophy and was defeated by the Leander eight of that year. Six years later the University of Pennsylvania crew met a similar fate.

Harvard Men in Crew.

While the Union Boat club eight is a Boston rowing club entry, it is composed of former Harvard oarsmen, which is, however, quite different from the entry of a Harvard crew at Henley.

Harvard has never entered a varsity crew at Henley, although the Crimson oarsmen have twice met the crews of the famous English universities.

SCORERS SHOULD BE CAREFUL OF RULE REGARDING NEW HIT

Amateur scorers out at Athletic park this summer should bear in mind that there is a distinct difference in the scoring of the so-called Cincinnati hit this season. Last season if the fielder tried to get a forced runner on a hit and failed, the batsman was called safe under the Cincinnati ruling. This season the batsman is not given credit with a hit even if the forced runner is safe, but he can be given a hit on a hit that retires a runner if, in the opinion of the scorer, the fielder could not have got the ball to first in time to retire the batsman.

Here is the new rule:

"When a fielder after handling a batted ball elects to try to retire a base runner instead of the batter, the play is known as a 'fielder's choice.' In case the runner is retired or would be retired but for an error, the batter shall be charged with a time at bat, but no hit. If the runner is not retired, and no error is made, the batter shall be charged with a time at bat, but no hit, provided he swung at the ball, and shall be credited with a sacrifice hit, provided he bunted the ball; if, however, in the judgment of the scorer the batter could not have been retired at first base by perfect fielding, he shall be credited with a hit."

RECKLESS AUTOISTS KILL AN IOWA MAN.

Mason City, Iowa, May 5.—George Megas is dead and A. Vloahod is near death as the result of an attempt alleged to have been made by an unidentified automobile party to see how close their car could be steered toward several men standing by a roadside here without striking any of them. Megas was knocked down and instantly killed.

VELASCO MAY JOIN REBELS

Defender of Torreon Lays Defeats to Failure of Support.

Head of Huerta's Army in North Threatens Revolt.

Vera Cruz, May 5.—The outbreak of another military revolt in Mexico headed by Gen. Jose Refugio Velasco, who was recently driven out of Torreon by Francisco Villa, would not cause any great surprise in the Federal capital, according to conservative observers among the refugees who arrived here yesterday.

Gen. Velasco is said to be grievously discontented concerning the failure of the government in Mexico City to support him properly in the defense of Torreon, and he is declared to have stated that he would never again lead a column of troops against the rebels.

The fall of Torreon and the subsequent disaster to the Federal troops are asserted by Gen. Velasco to have been entirely due to the failure of the war department to heed his appeal for small arm ammunition at a time when he said it was perfectly feasible for it to have reached him.

Plotting in the Army.

It is asserted that there is much plotting among the Federal army officers, many of whom are declared to be dissatisfied with Gen. Huerta and his conduct of military affairs.

Gen. Javier de Moure and Gen. Carlos Garcia Hidalgo, who were sent to the relief of Gen. Velasco at Torreon, are reported to have been found by Gen. Velasco hiding under freight cars during the heavy fighting at San Pedro de Las Colonias, after the fall of Torreon, and to have been upbraided by him for their cowardice.

Another officer who reported that his station had been captured was shot dead by Gen. Velasco when he learned that the position had been abandoned without sufficient cause. Another officer who was charged with cowardice in the face of the enemy committed suicide while Gen. Velasco was rebuking him.

Left Without Ammunition.

In spite of his other difficulties, Gen. Velasco declared he could have won the battle at Torreon if the war department had not failed to keep him supplied with ammunition.

Of the 6,000 troops with which he started out, Gen. Velasco succeeded in reaching Saltillo with 1,200. Many had deserted, but his casualties had been very great. Altogether, he says, he withstood eighty-three attacks by the rebels.

Gen. Genevo de La O, the most important of Emiliano Zapata's commanders, has, according to refugees, cast in his lot with Gen. Huerta. With 1,000 of his men he has taken up quarters in the barracks at Cuernavaca alongside the Federal regulars.

During the first excitement in Mexico City over the American occupation of Vera Cruz many of the better element of the population enlisted in the regular army. On the first day 8,000 are said to have been enrolled, and among them were eighty-six members of the Jockey club, who had long been criticized by the native press for their apathy regarding the progress of the revolution.

Disappointed in Army Service.

The enthusiasm among the populace soon abated when it was found that some of those enrolled had been sent north to fight against Villa, while the government withheld arms from all except those sent against the rebels.

Refugees spoke in complimentary tones regarding the conduct of Eduardo Iturbide, governor of the Federal district, who has been untiring in his efforts to secure the safety of Americans.

Local Spanish newspapers in Vera Cruz now come out boldly against Gen. Huerta and are publishing portraits of the late President Madero, whom they call a national hero.

Many countryfolk are moving in toward Vera Cruz so as to obtain the protection of the American soldiers.

THREATEN YANKEES WITH BURNING OIL

Rebels Forbid Warships Entering the River at Tampico.

Vera Cruz, May 5.—The Constitutionalists at Tampico have notified Rear Admiral Mayo, commander of the American warships stationed there, that if any of his vessels attempted to enter the Panuco river the oil reservoirs above the city would be emptied and the oil ignited which would mean certain destruction to the town.

This situation was reported by the commander of the United States torpedo boat destroyer Jenkins, which arrived at Vera Cruz yesterday from Tampico. Both the Federals and the rebels are reported to have planted mines in Tampico harbor.

It is generally thought here that Admiral Mayo will await the capture of the city by the rebels through the slow process of starving out the Federals.

WANT ROOSEVELT TO RULE MEXICO

Volunteers Offer Advice to the Mediation Board.

Washington, May 5.—There have been some amusing features to lighten the serious aspects of the Mexican mediation proceedings. The mediators have been receiving a great number of letters approving their course and offering advice.

One letter urged that Theodore Roosevelt was the man to set up a provisional government in Mexico, backed by North, South and Central America, and that the Spanish republics should induce him to undertake the provisional direction of affairs at Mexico City.

Another contribution has been in the form of Mexican sombreros of vast dimensions, for the mediators. The donor attached a card stating that the sombreros were to the "illustrious mediators" from the friends of Villa.

LIBERAL RULING ON EMBARGO ON ARMS.

El Paso, Tex., May 5.—Additional instructions received along the border by customs and army officials place a much more liberal construction on the embargo on arms. The ban has been lifted on everything with the exception of guns, ammunition, explosives and aeroplanes.

This ruling will allow the entry into Mexico under proper invoice of uniforms, shoes, saddlehorses, fuel oils, coal, coke and other articles hitherto on the embargo list.

The entry of coal, coke, fuel oils and other supplies used in the operation of mining property will afford relief to thousands of Mexicans in the mining camps of Sonora and Chihuahua, whose condition has been an acute source of worry to the Constitutionalist officials.

BLAMES AMERICANS FOR LATIN TROUBLES

Ainey of Pennsylvania Wants Probe of War Causes.

Washington, May 5.—A resolution directing the house foreign affairs committee to investigate whether persons, associations or corporations domiciled in or allowing allegiance to the United States have been or are now fomenting, inciting, encouraging or financing any rebellion or other belligerent disorder in Mexico, was introduced by Representative Ainey of Pennsylvania, a member of the committee.

Mr. Ainey said that but for American brains and money there would have been but few wars in Central and South America.

THE GOOD JUDGE AND THE "COPPER"

TAKE a small chew of "Right-Cut"—and see for yourself that a nibble of real tobacco is better than a big wad of the old kind.

Pure, sappy, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough. "Finest flavor ever," old-time tobacco users say. Different from the old kind. Richer, more satisfying.

And a ready chew. The full fine flavor comes along easy and naturally without grinding. You take less than a quarter your old size chew—and it lasts you longer

A Storm May Contribute To Danger

DON'T walk toward the middle of the street holding an open umbrella so as to obstruct your view. It is better to face the snow, sleet or rain without protection of an umbrella than to risk stepping in front of a moving street car or automobile—the automobile may be able to dodge you, but remember a "street car can't dodge," and the very storm that makes an umbrella necessary makes it more difficult to stop the car quickly. Think of safety first.

ON THE IRON RANGES

UNION DEPOT IS HOPED FOR

Eveleth Commercial Club Agitates Building of Joint Terminal.

Concrete Highway to Duluth and Other Improvements Are Agitated.

Eveleth, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club held a long session last night at the armory club rooms with the best attendance seen in some time. Many matters were taken up and it was near midnight before the meeting ended.

Supt. Kreitter of the Missabe railway was unable to be present, but sent a paper on the subject, "Beautifying Eveleth," which was much appreciated and the club gave Mr. Kreitter a vote of thanks.

A union depot to be used by the Missabe and the Iron Range railways was discussed and a committee appointed, consisting of Mayor J. J. Gleason, Senator James P. Boyle and A. N. Peterson, to take the matter up with the railway officials. The Iron Range now has a location which is hard to reach and is unsightly, and it is proposed to have a union station at the site of the present Iron Range, if possible.

L. L. Greening, Charles McNamara and Edward H. Hatch were appointed on a committee to prepare a Memorial day program. Daniel W. Lawler of St. Paul has already been procured as a speaker.

A communication from D. M. Neil, president of the Minnesota Federation of Commercial clubs, asking the local club to express a preference for a director to be appointed for the Minneapolis reserve bank was referred to G. A. Whitman, C. B. Hoel and Jacob Saari with power to act.

The drafting of a resolution offering all possible help to the mining companies to relieve the present condition of the ore market was discussed. The matter was finally laid over to the next meeting.

Concrete Road to Duluth.

Club members expressed themselves as in favor of doing everything possible to promote a concrete highway from this city to Duluth. Charles Jesmore, A. E. Pfremmer and Solomon Sax were appointed as a committee to see the Fayal town board and make a request that the road from this city to St. Mary's lake be concreted this year as the beginning of such a road.

Jacob Saari, B. O. Greening and A. G. Kingsten were named to meet with the Virginia club and take up the matter of building a concrete highway between the two cities.

A boycott on commercial travelers who do not stop at the local hotels was proposed. Many drummers are here only a short time, or induce their customers to go to Virginia to inspect samples. Secretary George A. Perham was instructed to write all business men asking them to request traveling men to patronize the Eveleth hotels.

Edward H. Hatch proposed improving the appearance of the streets by placing of the sidewalks next the curb and the boulevard between the walks and the property line. This plan may be tried by the council on some of the new streets.

The proposition of raising funds for a Minnesota exhibit at the San Francisco exposition was dropped.

Charles Jesmore, A. E. Pfremmer and B. O. Greening were appointed a committee to see to the placing of guide posts on the roads leading to Eveleth. The posts are to give road directions and mileage.

Jacob Saari, Edward H. Hatch and Sam Ellis were appointed a committee to give the support of the club to the local Eagles lodge in securing the next annual convention.

Want Rats Driven Out.

A motion was carried that the council take some action to prevent the increase of the number of rats in the city. The rodents are no great menace at present, but it is predicted that the number will increase rapidly unless action is taken to kill them off.

The secretary was instructed to take up the matter of better telegraph service to Virginia.

Dr. More, A. E. Pfremmer and Edward H. Hatch were named on a committee to investigate the county range hospital matter. A plan advanced for each town to care for its own charges apparently met with approval.

PUBLIC LIBRARY TO REMAIN SHUT

State Board of Health Against Opening Two Harbors Concern.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Patrons of the public library have made several requests during the past week to the mayor and other city officials to have the library, which has been closed for several weeks on account of the scarlet fever epidemic, reopened. While some of the officials were in favor of opening it, others were not. Mayor Towl communicated with Mr. Bracken of the state board of health as to the advisability of opening the library and got an answer in the negative, dated May 2, as follows:

"Relative to your telephone message yesterday, bearing upon the opening of the public library, it seems to me that, if there is an epidemic of scarlet fever in your city, it would be unwise to open the public library because the continuation may be due largely to some mild or unrecognized cases, or carriers, and these are the very ones that might cause danger through the handling of books.

"It may seem strange to some people that we should recommend that the library be kept closed and the schools opened, but the fact of the matter is that, in keeping the schools opened you have an opportunity to keep the children under close observation, which advantage would be lost if the schools were closed; but in keeping the library closed you prevent the distribution of the books to people who are mildly sick.

"I trust you will see the reasonableness of keeping the library closed a little longer."

New Cases Reported.

New cases reported to the council last night are: Harold Johnson, aged 9; Ralph Abernatty, aged 7; E. Abernatty, aged 9; Perry Bolen, aged 13; Lillian Keller, aged 9; Chester Mason, aged 1; Clarence Martinska, aged 2; Clarence Erickson, aged 8. Walter Guth, aged 3; Hazel Lundquist, aged 3; Lloyd Lundquist, 5; Arthur Waxlax, aged 3; Johanna Fossum, aged 2; Dorothy Coursolle, aged 5 years.

NEW BUILDINGS AT GRAND RAPIDS

Hughes Block and Montreal Hotel Will Be Rebuilt.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two new business blocks will be erected here the coming summer. Henry Hughes will build a two-story brick building, 75 by 90 feet on the site of his building destroyed by fire May 6, 1911. Part of the new building will be occupied by Mr. Hughes with his store, and he has prospective tenants for the ground floor rooms, while he does not anticipate any difficulty in renting the second floor rooms.

To Build New Hotel.

Sam Patelle has just had plans drawn for a brick hotel building 50 by 80, three stories, to take the place of the old Montreal hotel which was destroyed by fire a year ago last winter. Mr. Patelle is planning on erecting a modern hotel building for the accommodation of farmers, laboring people and transients. Mr. Patelle is also planning on putting up a large feed barn where the farmers can put up their teams, and will make a special bid for the farming community trade.

WINTON MILL STARTS.

About 450 Men Will Be Employed During Sawing Season.

Winton, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The big sawmill of the St. Croix Lumber & Manufacturing company started operations for the season this morning, and will run day and night shifts. Many logs are close to the mill and sufficient are in the near-by lakes to insure the St. Croix people a long season's cut. Needed repairs have been made to the sawmill and the lath, box board and picket departments have been gone over thoroughly, so everything is in good shape, to insure a busy time. About 450 men will be employed throughout the season. Manager Thomas S. Whitten predicts a busy summer, and states that lumber shipments will be carried on on a large scale during the summer and fall months.

MINNEWAS WORK.

Oliver Mining Company Doing Considerable at Virginia Property.

Virginia, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Oliver Iron Mining company is erecting a shaft house at the Minnewas mine about one mile south of Virginia. A dry house and boiler house will also be built. The shaft has been sunk about 140 feet and drifting has been commenced. About twenty men are employed at present.

KILLING PARTRIDGES

Gets Mesaba Range Austrian Miner Into Serious Difficulty.

Hibbing, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mike Herdie, an Austrian miner, arrested at Six Mile lake by George Wood for killing partridge out of season, was taken before Judge Masters at Chisholm and fined $107.50 or 108 days in the county jail. Herdie was caught red handed by Wood just after killing the birds.

Complaints are being received here relative to the fish dynamiting that is going on at nearby lakes. At Day lake practically all of the fish have been killed by the heavy charges. This lake has been stocked three years in succession and an application is in again this year for fry. At the lake near Wilpin dynamiters were at work yesterday and the shores are strewn with little pickerel and crappies. There is need for immediate action and the gun clubs will probably be asked to consider the question.

SAY CHILD ATE TEA LEAD POISON.

Chisholm, May 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of the young child of Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts was held yesterday, interment being made in the Chisholm cemetery. The child's death is said to have resulted from poison by eating tea lead. Rev. Ralph C. Jones conducted the funeral services which were held from the Methodist church.

POLICE HEAD IS REMOVED

Virginia Chief of Police Ousted for Not Enforcing Law.

Police Commission Gets Evidence Lid Is Not Enforced.

Virginia, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief of Police Rice was summarily removed by the police and fire commission last night for failure, it is stated, to put in force the recent orders of the commission to enforce the law governing saloons. Owen Gateley, a veteran on the force, was appointed chief for sixty days on trial and if he enforces the law as the commission want it enforced he will be permanently retained.

Ever since the commission recently issued orders that there must be a stricter enforcement of the law against saloons being open after 11 p. m. and on Sundays there have been reports the lid was not fitting as tightly as the commission ordered. Chief Rice claimed he was enforcing the law.

Sleuth Turns Trick.

The commission decided to do a little detective work unknown to the chief so last Sunday they had a detective disguised as a lumberjack visit various places where it was said drinks were served. He told the commission that in one saloon he bought a bottle of whisky and at two others he had drinks served. The commission on hearing his report called on Chief Rice to resign forthwith. His resignation was not on hand when the commission met last night and he was accordingly removed and Mr. Gateley appointed. The latter is the oldest man on the force in point of service. He says the lid will go on tight tonight at 11 and every night thereafter and that next Sunday Virginia will be as dry as a bone. If, at the end of sixty days he proves he can close up the town he will get a permanent appointment. The fire commissioners propose to take the closing matter in hand from now on.

Anna Fish was appointed police matron at $65 per month.

No action was taken on the reinstatement of Patrolman Arthur Mattson.

Six bids for a motor driven fire truck were received but no action was taken, the bids being laid over until the next meeting.

SLASHES HIS THROAT.

Two Harbors Dock Worker Will Probably Succeed at Suicide.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Andrew Kizisto is at the point of death in the Budd hospital as a result of slashing his throat with a razor last night in his room on South avenue. The reason is not known, but officials believe that the man was demented. Physicians do not think that he will live the day out. He was found dying in his room by Nestor Koskinen, proprietor of the rooming house.

Kizisto is about 30 years old, single, and has a brother living here. He came to the city a day or two ago from a section on the Iron Range road, where he has been working. During the past few summers he has worked on the ore docks here and it was for the purpose of securing employment there that he quit his work on the section and came to the city. He was not a drinking man, his friends claim.

MACHINIST DIES.

Bright's Disease Claims Peter Oman, Two Harbors Pioneer.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Andrew Oman, aged 48 years, died at his home here of Bright's disease.

Mr. Oman lived here for the past twenty years. Besides a wife and three small children, he leaves three brothers: Leon Oman of this city, Victor and Gus Oman of Bingham Canyon, Utah. The two brothers in the West are expected to arrive here for the funeral.

He has been employed by the Iron Range road as a machinist in the local shops for a number of years and was a member of the Machinist order.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon from the Swedish Methodist church and Rev. Johnson will officiate. Interment will be made in the Two Harbors cemetery.

The funeral services will be in charge of the Woodmen.

GOES ON STAGE TO OBTAIN WIFE.

Racine, Wis., May 5.—Charles Reimer, living near Virginia, Minn., will appear on the stage of a local theater every night this week, making known his quest for a wife. On Saturday night the women who are willing to take a chance will appear on the stage with him and the audience will vote one of them to him.

Already six prospective housekeepers have entered the contest. Reimer's letter to an editor here says:

"I want you to help me out. I own a small boarding house in a town by Virginia, Minn. I am a widower and I ask you please let me know if you can find a good wife at Racine. All the girls think about here is dancing tango like and spending money on dress. I don't care if the girl is homely if she can cook and take care of the boarding house."

START ROAD WORK.

Contractors Begin Big Job in Hill City Locality.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—McWilliams & Lake of Nashwauk who will build the portion of the Hill City road south from the McKinley school house to the Aitkin county line, have commenced to establish camps preparatory to starting work on the road. The camps are in a set of old farm buildings near the John H. Carlson place, and are located so that the contractors can work both ways from the camps and cover the largest portion of the road. The piece of road covered by the contract comprises about sixteen miles, and the contract price is $13,986. About fifty men and twelve car more teams will be employed, and it is anticipated that the work will require the largest part of the summer to complete.

VIRGINIA NOTES.

Virginia, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. W. H. Nichols of the Troy mine at Eveleth is looking after the mining operations at the Minorca mine during the illness of Capt. Joseph Roskilly. Capt. Roskilly is still at the Lenont hospital where he was operated on for appendicitis April 19.

The New Rex theater will open about May 15.

Mike Nocick, convicted of larceny, was placed on parole by Judge Martin Hughes yesterday.

Henrietta Splude, 8 years old, and Saunder Alexson, 10 years old, were taken to the state hospital for crippled children at St. Paul today. The Splude child will be treated for a dislocated hip and the other child for a deformity which followed infantile paralysis.

HIBBING PERSONALS.

Hibbing, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moodie who have been the guests of friends in Bemidji the past few days, stopped off here for a short visit on their way home to Virginia.

Mrs. Bertha Betz of Grand Rapids who has been a guest at the home of Mrs. Kate Brooks for the past two weeks, has returned home.

Philip Michaud of Duluth was a guest of M. J. Kramer Sunday.

Goes to Philadelphia.

Chisholm, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Superintendent of Water Works C. J. Sullivan, left for Philadelphia to attend the national water works convention.

Aged Luverne Minister Dies.

Luverne, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. V. E. Raymond, aged 83 years, for many years a resident of this county, died here of old age. A son and a daughter survive him. He was a minister of the Methodist church.

Clears His Land.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hirman Brooks, a Grand Rapids boy, last fall bought a forty of land from W. M. West on the south side of Pokegama lake near the West farm. Mr. Brooks took the land without a bit of clearing, and today has seven acres brushed and cut and burned and ready to take the stumps out. Mr. Brooks has established his residence on the land, and is well pleased with the outlook.

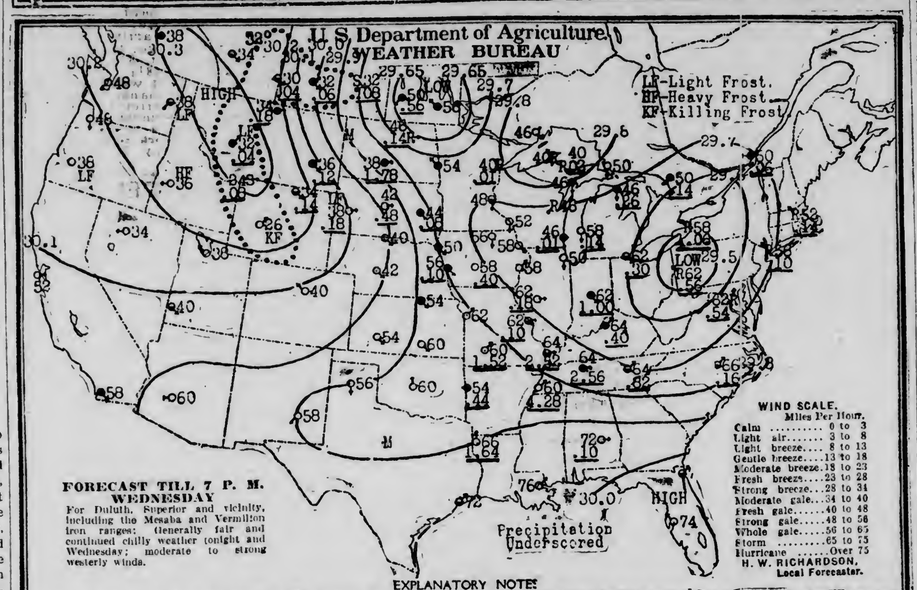
OLD PEOPLE INVITED.

Ely M. E. Church Wants All 60 or Over to Come Out.

Ely, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—On June 7, every person over 60 years of age is invited to be a guest of honor at the Methodist church. At the board meeting last evening a committe consisting of R. K. Toms, C. L. Mergenthaler and E. F. Stidd was appointed to arrange for this meeting. Floral tokens of the day will be presented the guests of honor, and the plans as suggested were to have the guests brought to the church and returned to their home. A special musical program will be given consisting of old hymns, the favorites of fifty years ago, and every arrangement will be made for their comfort and enjoyment of the day.

The annual junior-senior party at the Ely high school will be given on Friday evening of this week. La Brosse's orchestra has een secured for the evening.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER



FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. WEDNESDAY

For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Generally fair and continued chilly weather tonight and Wednesday; moderate to strong westerly winds.

EXPLANATORY NOTE:

Observations taken at 9 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature; drawn only for zero, freezing, 90°, and 100°. ○ clear; ◒ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. First figures, temperature; second, precipitation of .01 inch or more for past 24 hours; third, maximum wind velocity.

FAIR

Relief is in sight. The rain was not so bad but the foggy drizzling conditions of today are anything but pleasant. But now Mr. Richardson says that the weather will be fair tonight and tomorrow but will be chilly. A glimpse of the sun will help a good deal though.

A year ago today was fair. The sun rose this morning at 4:45 and will set this evening at 7:23, giving fourteen hours and thirty-eight minutes of sunshine, three minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Light to heavy rains fell during Monday or last night over the Lake region, Atlantic states, Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri valleys and Western Canada. Snow fell over portions of Wyoming and Montana. Colder weather prevails in the Rocky mountain region and the Northwest. Light to killing frosts occurred last night in Wyoming, Idaho, Western Montana and Eastern Washington."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, May 5.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Wisconsin—Unsettled tonight with cooler in west portion; probably frost in west portion tonight; Wednesday fair and cool.

Minnesota—Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; colder tonight with frost.

Iowa—Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; colder tonight with probably frost.

North and South Dakota—Fair tonight and Wednesday; colder tonight with frost; rising temperature Wednesday.

Montana—Fair tonight and Wednesday; frost tonight; rising temperature Wednesday.

Lower Michigan—Cloudy tonight and Wednesday, probably showers in north portion; cooler in south portion tonight.

Upper Michigan—Cloudy tonight and Wednesday, probably showers.

WORTH GETS $500 ON SECOND TRIAL

District Court Jury Awards Plaintiff Half First Verdict.

Virginia, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Worth was awarded $500 verdict against the Jewell Tea company by a district court jury today. He sued for $1,000 for malicious prosecution. Last year he sued for $2,500 and secured a verdict against the concern for $1,000. A new trial was granted and he sued for $1,000. The case began last week and went to the jury about noon yesterday. A sealed verdict was returned late last night and read in open court today. Worth was employed as a collector by the concern and was arrested on a charge of embezzling. The case was dropped and then he sued for malicious prosecution.

Sues Lumber Concern.

The personal injury suit of Mike Touhmey who is suing the Virginia & Rainy Lake company for $3,850 for injuries sustained while working in a logging camp was begun yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff alleges that his knee was injured, ribs fractured and three teeth knocked out and that he has been incapacitated for work.

DIFFER OVER TRUCK.

Two Harbors Aldermen Cannot Agree on Buying Motor Affair.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Heated arguments took place at the council meeting last evening when endeavoring to decide upon the auto truck that the city would purchase for hauling coal and gravel for city use. The members are divided as to what sized truck should be purchased and after a long discussion the matter was laid over for another week. Last night the vote was exactly the same on a six-ton car as before. The members of the council that want a three-ton car declare that for all round work the small truck will be the better one of the two and will be considerably cheaper.

Coal Loader Refused.

It was decided not to keep the new coal loader which was received here a short time ago because it was not considered practical, there being not enough weight on the driving wheel to make it do the work. It will be returned to the factory.

There has been some talk recently of grading Ninth avenue. One of the property owners appeared before the council to find out what terms the city would extend for the payment by the property owners of the work. There is doubt whether or not the work will be done this year as many of the property owners are not in favor of the grading this season. A petition will be circulated soon and until this reaches the council no definite steps will be taken.

MINES CAR AT HIBBING.

Government Demonstration of Rescue Work Being Made There.

Hibbing, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The United States bureau of mines rescue demonstration car which is visiting the Mesaba range arrived here from Virginia yesterday and instructions are being given mine employes in first aid.

On Thursday evening there will be a meeting at the Oliver club, at which the classes that have been receiving first aid instruction from local doctors will be given a lecture and demonstrations by the men in charge of the car.

The bureau plans before the car leaves the range for a public demonstration of the work, probably at Virginia, according to W. W. Sullivan, who is in charge of the car.

HIBBING PAIR TO WED IN OHIO.

Hibbing, Minn., May 5.—Albert C. Schirmer has gone to Oberlin, Ohio, where tomorrow evening he will be married to Miss Lucile Cuyler at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Cuyler will be attended by her sister, Miss Linda Cuyler, and Mr. Schirmer by his brother, William Schirmer. Miss Cuyler was physical training teacher in the public schools here for eighteen months.

The groom has been engaged in the plumbing business here for nine years.

Mr. Schirmer and his bride will make a trip through the West and will be at home to their friends in Hibbing after July 1.

BURGLARY AT ELBA.

Elba, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Burglars broke into the trunk of Andrew Rousti while he was asleep in the Finnish boarding house here Sunday night and took $260 which he was keeping for others, acting as their banker. He says that the thief overlooked about $2,000 Rousti was also keeping.

Vote Celebration Money.

Mountain Iron, Minn., May 5.—The village council voted $500 for a Fourth of July celebration here and also voted to advertise for bids for building a concrete bridge in the western end of the village. The council voted to put in a storm sewer for three blocks along Mesaba avenue.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our sincere appreciation for all the many acts of kindness shown to us during the recent illness and death of our beloved wife, sister and daughter, Mrs. James Prout. Especially do we wish to thank the Christian Endeavor society, the office boys at the Pioneer mine, and others for the floral tributes.

JAMES PROUT AND FAMILY.
Ely, Minn., May 4, 1914.

Bury Drowned Man.

Ely, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of John Skerjanz, who was drowned last Friday in White Iron lake while fishing, was held from the Catholic church here yesterday afternoon, the Rev. Father Buh reading mass. Two Slovenic fraternities of which the deceased was a member, attended the funeral in a body.

Grand Rapids Woman Better.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. McCormick, mother of Miss A. J. McGuire of the state farm, who has been very ill the last few days of gastritis, is now reported better.

To Consider Grett Request.

Virginia, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club at its meeting Thursday night will take up the request of farmers living near Grett station on the Canadian Northern, north of here, that better train facilities be accorded that point as all trains do not stop there.

THOUSANDS SEARCH FOR CHILD'S SLAYER

Pennsylvania Girl Hacked to Pieces and Playmate Assaulted.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 5.—Tired and worn after a night of ceaseless search for the man who murdered little Florence Dove and assaulted Elizabeth Kleneck at North Braddock late yesterday, county detectives, policemen and several thousand heavily armed steel workers from the Braddock mills returned to their homes early today. Others took their places, and the hunt was continued in the hills on both sides of the Monongahela river and in the industrial towns of the valley.

Ten men were taken during the night, but four of them were released. The others will be examined by magistrates today. All are closely guarded for fear of lynching.

Florence Dove, 8 years old, and Elizabeth Kleneck, aged 9, were attacked while picking violets by an unidentified man who hacked the body of the Dove child to pieces with a razor. The Kleneck child is probably fatally injured.

The scene of the crime is within half a mile of the place where, on Thanksgiving day, 1913, the body of Lillian Schadle, aged 13, was found in the Tall Hollow reservoir, tied in a bag.

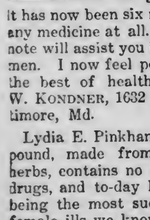
COURT AT BRAINERD.

Judge Wright Presiding and Grand Jury Is at Work.

Brainerd, Minn., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The May term of the district court opened today. A grand jury was sworn. There was a preliminary call of the calendar. Judge B. F. Wright is presiding. On Wednesday citizenship papers presented by twenty-two petitioners will be acted on. Thursday morning the petit jury roll will be called and the trial of civil cases will be taken up.

THIS WOMAN'S SICKNESS

Quickly Yielded To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.



Baltimore, Md. — "I am more than glad to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I suffered dreadful pains and was very irregular. I became alarmed and sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly until I was without a cramp or pain and felt like another person, and it has now been six months since I took any medicine at all. I hope my little note will assist you in helping other women. I now feel perfectly well and in the best of health." — Mrs. AUGUST W. KONDNER, 1632 Hollins Street, Baltimore, Md.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Mother's Friend Before Baby Arrives

During several weeks of expectancy there is a splendid external embrocation in our "Mother's Friend" in which thousands of women have the most unbounded confidence. They have used it and know. They tell of its wonderful influence to ease the abdominal muscles and how they avoided those dreaded stretching pains that are so much talked about. This safe external application is gently used over the skin to render it amenable to the natural stretching which it undergoes. The myriad of nerve threads just beneath the skin is thus relieved of unnecessary pain-producing causes and great physical relief is the result as expressed by a host of happy mothers who write from experience.

It is a subject that all women should be familiar with as "Mother's Friend" has been in use many years, and is recommended by grandmothers who in their earlier days learned to rely upon this splendid aid to women.

You can obtain "Mother's Friend" at almost any drug store. Get a bottle to-day and then write for our little book so useful to expectant mothers.

A TONIC FOR THE NERVES

Nervous people who have not yet developed a disease that can be recognized and treated by the medical profession have the greatest trouble in finding relief. Irritation, headache, sleeplessness, nervous dyspepsia, all these discomforts make life miserable but are endured rather than run a doctor's bill without definite hope of recovery.

Every such sufferer should know the danger of such a condition of the nervous system. Nervous debility and even paralysis may easily result if the tone of the nerves is not restored.

The one big fact that brings hope and relief is that the nerves can be restored by building up the blood. It cannot be too often repeated that only through the blood can nourishment and medicine reach the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red and quickly restore vitality and energy to a weak nervous system. A nervous person who gives these pills a trial is almost certain to see good results and, what is more, the benefit will be lasting because the trouble is attacked at its root. Thin blood makes weak nerves. Building up the blood restores the nerve force.

Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today and write the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a free copy of "Diseases of the Nervous System."

CASH WHEAT HAS ADVANCE

Market Sells Higher With Good Export Demand Reported.

Flaxseed Weakens With Lower Cables After Strength at Opening.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 5.—The market eased off slightly at the close. May wheat closed ½c up; July ¼c up and September ¼c off at 88¾c. May durum closed ¾c up and July ¼c up.

Oats closed ⅝c up at 37¼c for on the track and 36⅜c for to arrive.

Rye closed unchanged at 56½@56¾c and barley unchanged at 54@59c for choice stuff.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed at 37¼c and July at 37½c.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at 89½@89¾c and calls at 90½c.

The strong cash situation and export inquiry, were factors in bringing about a bullish condition in the wheat market during today's session. Liverpool cables were also higher as a result of a decrease of 3,160,000 bu reported in the European visible supply in the week, bringing it down to 73,808,000 bu, as compared with 87,500,000 bu a year ago. Leading Duluth houses interested in the export trade, consider it may be taken for granted that supplies of old wheat in this country will be reduced to a minimum before the marketing of the new crop begins. They look for increasing inquiry from foreigners on the markets in this country from now on in view of the fact that available supplies from Argentina and other quarters are becoming fairly well cleaned up.

The market at Chicago was up today on the strength and tightness in the May option. Armour was reported to be again a heavy buyer of September wheat there.

Winnipeg exporters reported the working of substantial business. Dealers up there say that there is a good cash demand for wheat on that market, and that holdings are in strong hands. Predictions are made up there that the Winnipeg July option will sell 10c over the Chicago July.

Winter wheat crop conditions in this country continue ideal, and it is predicted that the forthcoming government report will be an exceedingly bearish document.

Primary receipts continue light, being reported today at 275,000 bu, compared with 851,000 bu last year. Inspections at Duluth for the day were 57 cars compared with 214 cars a year ago. With heavy outgo, stocks at the local elevators are being rapidly reduced. Wheat supplies here are now 9,906,000 bu, and stores of all grains in the houses are down to 15,563,000 bu. This will be further substantially reduced when grain taken by several boats recently loaded is reported out of store.

May wheat opened 1¼c up at 92c, and gained ½c more up to the final hour. The July option opened ¼c up at 92¾c and gained a shade more. September opened ¼c up at 88½c and held there.

There was a strong demand for durum. The May option opened ½c up at 88c and gained ½c more. The July option opened ½c up at 89½c, and weakened fractionally.

Flaxseed Has Reaction.

While trading in flaxseed was quiet, quotations were irregularly above yesterday's close at the start on steady inquiry from crushers' interests. Some offerings appeared late and final prices were ¼@½c off.

Buenos Aires closed ¼c off, London ⅝d off and Antwerp unchanged.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.58¼ and it closed ½c off at $1.57⅝ bid. July opened unchanged at $1.59½ and closed ¾c off at $1.59⅛ bid. September opened ⅛c up at $1.61¼ and closed ¼c off at $1.60⅞ bid and the October option closed ½c off at $1.58¼ bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.36⅞ and July at $1.40.

Foreign crop summary:

United Kingdom—Weather is mild with showers which are beneficial.

France—Continued complaints are recorded from the north, northeast and central. The favorable outlook is maintained.

Germany—Both winter and springe crop need rain.

Russia—The extreme southwest is droughty, but elsewhere mostly favorable.

Roumania—The recent rain was insufficient, but the crops are in good condition.

Hungary—The crop outlook is unsatisfactory.

Italy—Some districts in the south and on the island report drought, otherwise the outlook is favorable.

India—Holders of wheat are very firm, but fair sales are being made at the advance.

European visible wheat supply is 73,808,000 bu against 76,965,000 bu last week, a decrease of 3,160,000 bu.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat—Steady American cables yesterday and firmer and fewer Manitoba offers, together with good Continental takings of coast cargoes, prompted the shorts to cover, and opening values were ¼d to ½d higher. Following the opening, there was some disposition for profits on favorable American crop advices, but support was again in evidence and steadiness obtained. The European visible is expected to show a liberal decrease and a firm demand is noted for all Australian offers. The strength in corn helped the advance.

Corn—Opened ⅝d to ¾d higher and immediately following the opening, there was a further advance in July of ¼d. Strength in America, the strong situation in Buenos Ayres and a scarcity of Plate offers, caused the shorts to cover excitedly. During the morning, there was a further advance of ¼@½d with July leading on the strong situation both here and in Argentina. Toward mid-day there was some realizing and prices declined. by

A wire from Winnipeg received by Parker Paine said: "There is a good cash demand for wheat and very little is coming out. Deliveries went into strong hands. It is hard to buy cash wheat. We favor the long side in old crop futures. Exporters are doing business every day. We think our July will go to 10 cents over Chicago July."

About 64 per cent of the world's corn acreage is found in the United States. Last year's area of 106,000,000 acres is duplicated nowhere else in the world. Argentine exports usually, ranging from 100,000,000 to 200,000,000 bushels a year, in 1911, were less than 5,000,000 bushels. The crop there is far more uncertain than that of the United States, Austria-Hungary or Mexico. The latter country yields about 190,000,000 bushels in ordinary years. The possibilities of Mexican area is gradually being extended farther north with the spread of livestock farming, especially cattle growing.

Duluth elevator men aver that farmers' deliveries at interior points are now a negligible quantity. It is understood, however, that a small proportion of grain still remains in growers' hands at some points, and it is expected that if prices remain at around their present basis, the bulk of it will be marketed during the present month, after seeding operations are over.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Firm Cables and Much Rain Make Wheat Stronger.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 5.—The wheat market opened stronger today on firmer cables and reports of an over-abundance of moisture in the northwest. A good cash demand tended to add strength in the mid-forenoon, but prices eased off again temporarily. The options were inactive a greater part of the day.

Wheat—May opened 89¾c; high, 89⅝c; low, 89¼c; closed, 89¼c. July opened 90⅛c; high, 90½c; low, 89¾c; closed, 89¾c.

BUTTE & SUPERIOR HEAVILY TRADED IN

Butte & Superior absorbed a large proportion of the trading in mining stocks at Boston. There were liberal realizing sales throughout the session after yesterday's advance of $3 and on the net result the stock closed $1.12 off at $36.50.

Greene-Cananea came next in order in volume of business, closing fractionally up at $31.87. Granby closed 50 cents off at $80; North Butte a fraction up at $26.12; Calumet & Arizona 38 cents off at $65.12; Alaska Gold 38 cents up at $26.87; and Amalgamated Copper 38 cents off at $72.75.

There was better business in the Duluth curb list. Alex Scott sold at $5; Denn-Arizona at $8.25; Keating at $1.56, and Calumet & Corbin at 27 cents.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

Prices Decline During the Opening and Closing Hours.

Market Strong During the Interim But Close Is Heavy.

New York, May 5.—Absence of bullish influence and the extent of the recent rise put a damper on speculation for the long account and the course of the market was downward most of the morning.

Hill shares led the decline. Northern Pacific lost 2 points on a report, later denied, that a new stock issue was to be put out. The popular stocks felt the effect of profit-taking and there was also a marked falling off in outside buying. With the upward movement checked short selling was resumed but the average decline was small.

Appearance of scale buying orders in the standard issues late in the forenoon caused a rally which was assisted by an upturn in Missouri Pacific on buying based on the belief that announcement of new financial support for the road will be made soon. By noon the market was restored to a level with yesterday's close.

Bonds were steady.

The strong tone of yesterday's market was lacking when trading began today. There were no buying orders of consequence in hand and initial quotations were about on a level with the preceding close. When it became evident that no attempt was being made to bring about a resumption of the advance, traders offered stocks more freely and the market receded slowly. A few issues showed losses of a point after half an hour's trading.

The market flattened out in the afternoon. Fluctations were narrow with an upward tendency. Foreign operations were again on the selling side, but in reduced volume. Lower crude oil prices and dividend reductions by pipe line companies weakened oil shares on the curb, which dropped 5 to 15 points.

The market closed heavy. Irregular movements attended today's dealings with prices declining in the opening and closing hours. During the interim the market was strong. Delay in Missouri Pacific financing plan caused late selling and prices ended near the lowest.

ADDRESS REAL ESTATE DEALERS

The Duluth Real Estate Exchange held its regular monthly meeting and luncheon at the Commercial club this noon, and listened to two addresses which the members consider among the best they have heard in some time. One was by Thomas Ingersoll of Minneapolis, executive secretary of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges, and the other was by John M. McCabe, a leading real estate man of Superior.

Mr. Ingersoll spoke of the organization of which he is an officer and of the International Realty Associates, which is an outgrowth of the former. It so happens that both of these organizations acknowledge Duluth as their birthplace, and Mr. Ingersoll said that as a result Duluth has become one of the best advertised cities among real estate men in the country, and also Duluth real estate stands high in the estimation of the dealers everywhere.

Mr. McCabe spoke of the systematic advertising which the real estate men of Superior are pursuing and of the excellent results that are being obtained from it. Real estate men here, as a result of Mr. McCabe's talk, may adopt something similar.

The next meeting will be the annual one and will take place on the first Tuesday in June. Tentative plans to have it in the form of an annual dinner and business meeting were made today and will be developed later. The election of officers will take place on the same day.

HEARS LAST SUMMONS

Norman McDonald Passes Away Following an Operation.

Norman McDonald, member of the Cole & McDonald Exploration company of this city, died at 11 o'clock this morning at Rochester, Minn., following an operation performed a month ago. For the last ten days he had been at the Kahler House at Rochester.

At his bedside were his wife and his brothers, Murdock, of Virginia and D. B. McDonald of Duluth. He leaves also two sons, Norman, aged 9, and Bruce, aged 7, and another brother, Angus McDonald of Kincardine, Can.

Mr. McDonald was 48 years old. He was a prominent Mason and a member of the Shriners. He resided at 1817 East Third street.

Relatives will bring the body to this city for burial. It is expected that the body will arrive either tomorrow or Thursday morning. Arrangements for the funeral will not be completed until after the arrival of the body.

Mr. McDonald was one of the most widely liked and respected men in the mining business in Northern Minnesota. He came to this country about twenty years ago from Bruce county, Ont., arriving with hardly a dollar left in his pockets. By sheer hard work, persistence and good judgment he acquired a fortune in diamond drilling work. He will be sincerely mourned by hundreds of men on the ranges and in Duluth who had learned to look upon him as a friend.

SAYS PARTNER BROKE CONTRACT

A dispute involving the question of whether or not John Costin, Jr., broke a contract with William T. James when he acquired a lease to the Chandler mine, located in section 28, 63-12, is being aired in Judge Ensign's division of the district court today.

James claims that after the Chandler Iron company abandoned operations at the Chandler mine back in 1909, he took steps to secure a lease from the fee holders, Hiram W. Sebley, Henry M. Bradley and the Toledo Investment company.

During the month of September, 1909, he alleges, he spoke of the proposition to the defendant, John Costin, Jr., mining man. Later it was agreed that the propcsition of securing a lease from the fee holders should be undertaken by Costin singlehanded, it is claimed, with the understanding that if he should be successful, they would go halves on the expenses and profits.

During the following month, James alleges, Costin did secure a lease to the property and later assigned it to the Chandler Mining company, a holding corporation. It is claimed that Costin owned the majority of the stock in the company and that later refused to share his profits with James.

WILL FORCE PAYMENT

Approximately $4,200 is due the city for services received by various patients at the city contagious hospital at Fourteenth avenue west and Third street.

The health department officials state that most of this has accumulated in the last two years and a determined effort is going to be made to collect the unpaid bills. One of the chief difficulties is that many persons labor under the impression that because it is a city hospital they do not have to pay for the accommodations and treatment received there.

Such is not the case, and if collections cannot be made in the ordinary manner, the bills will be turned over to the leg

LOSE MONEY COLLECTING

Water Department Must Pay Its Agents Higher Percentage.

West Duluth Agent Quits—West End Branch May Follow.

The branch office of the water and light department at Spencer's pharmacy will probably be discontinued, according to A. A. Lindgren, manager of the store, who has had charge of the collections for the department in this end of the city. The large amount of work connected with the collections, risk of handling the money and several other reasons, including that of small compensation, are given by Mr. Lindgren as reasons for getting rid of the work.

"We have been handling more than $1,000 for the department every month for a compensation amounting to 1 per cent," said Mr. Lindgren. "This pay is too small to compensate for the extra work. When it is taken into consideration that the risk of short changing one's self, the natural risk of handling the money, the work incidental with tabulating and listing each collection, it is almost impossible to do the job at such a low price without putting ourselves to great inconvenience.

"The water and light department is not a charitable institution, nor should it expect charity from its citizens. It is annoying to that when it asks merchants of the city to collect its bills on a 1 per cent basis when it costs 3 cents to do the same work in its office uptown.

"It is essential that the department have a collection office in this end of the city. Whether or not such an office is maintained by the central office direct is a matter for Commissioner Merritt to decide. The department will either have to do this or else pay higher for the service."

The Spencer pharmacy is not the only branch office which is contemplating dropping the work. John J. Moe's store in the West end is also considering the proposition, according to Alfred Moe. Final action by that store may be decided on within the next two or three days.

CIGARETTE DEALER IS ARRESTED

John Blotti, proprietor of a confectionery store at 108 Central avenue, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a warrant charging him with selling cigarettes to minors. The warrant was sworn to by Lieut. Charles E. Wilcox.

According to the police lieutenant, Blotti has been selling cigarettes to many of the boys living in the southern end of West Duluth. The lieutenant said he had the names of many of the boys, although only one was mentioned in the warrant.

Blotti was brought before Judge Lanners of the West Duluth police court and pleaded not guilty. The defendant wanted the services of an attorney and he was given a few days in which to prepare a defense. The trial will probably take place before the end of the week.

ROBERT SCOTT IN SHOOTING ACCIDENT

Robert Scott, son of City Assessor J. Allyn Scott, is being brought home from Arlington, Ill., where on Sunday he was seriously injured in a shooting accident. The nature of the shooting is still unknown but from the wounds it is believed that the injuries were caused by an accidental discharge of the gun while cleaning it.

The young man was struck in the wrist and also in the leg. His parents were notified of the injury Sunday night and yesterday morning Mr. Scott left for Arlington to bring his son home. Advices received from there are to the effect that the young man will likely recover in about six weeks.

Robert Scott is 20 years old. He was a member of the present senior class of the Duluth Industrial high school and left here two months ago to get actual farming knowledge on a farm of a relative near Arlington, prior to making application to enter the Minnesota state agricultural college. He had intended spending the summer on the farm and return next fall to complete his high school education, later entering the agricultural school.

Mr. Scott and his son are expected to arrive home this evening or tomorrow.

MRS. GRAM DEAD.

Result of Fall Causes Passing of Young Wife.

Mrs. Freda Gram, 22 years old, wife of John Gram, 5509 Grand avenue, died at the Duluth hospital at 2:30 o'clock this morning following an illness of five weeks. An injury, internally sustained by a fall in her home, was the cause of death.

Mrs. Gram leaves an infant daughter besides her husband. She is also survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Bentson, four brothers and one sister, all of whom except the sister are living in the city. The sister is expected to arrive from Minneapolis tonight, after which funeral arrangements will be made.

Alumni Will Meet.

The alumni association of the Merritt school, Fortieth avenue west and Sixth street, will hold its first meeting of the spring, in the school, Friday evening. Plans will be made for the annual banquet given by the association in honor of the graduating class.

K. O. T. M. Review.

West Duluth Tent No. 2, K. O. T. M., will hold its regular review this evening at the West Duluth Commercial clubrooms. Several new members will be initiated and some important business will be taken up.

The lodge recently moved its headquarters from Dormedy hall to the Commercial clubrooms. The meeting nights were also changed from the second and fourth Mondays to the first and third Tuesdays.

West Duluth Briefs.

The Young People's Society of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Wadena street, will entertain this evening at a social and literary meeting in the church parlors.

Pocahontas Lodge No. 319, Royal League, entertained last evening at the last of a series of dancing parties at Dormedy's hall.

Watch repairing. Hurst, West Duluth.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Merritt Memorial M. E. church was entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. J. Zauft, 5810 Wadena street. Plans were completed for the annual supper to be held by the women in the church on Thursday evening.

Mrs. L. R. Clark, 5608 West Eighth street, entertained this afternoon for the members of the West Duluth Book club. Mrs. T. F. Wieland assisted the hostess. Mrs. Robert Y. Dunn read Ibsen's play, "Ghosts." Mrs. Robert Wedel was in charge of the program.

The funeral for Mrs. Cecelia Peterson, 75 years old, 605 North Fifty-seventh avenue west, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the residence and at 2 o'clock from the Elim Swedish Lutheran church. Interment will be in Oneota cemetery. Rev. J. A. Krantz will officiate.

TWO BOATS ON THE ROCKS

America Runs Ashore in Fog—All Her Passengers Taken Off.

Steamer Poe Grounds Within Fifty Feet of Passenger Boat.

While creeping along in the fog between 10 and 11 o'clock this morning, the steamer America ran her nose on the rocks of Fisherman's Point, about a mile and a half the other side of Two Harbors, and ten minutes later the steamer O. M. Poe of the Pittsburg fleet, poked her nose on the rocks scarcely fifty feet away from the America.

The passengers on the America thought the Poe was coming to their assistance, and did not warn her.

Both boats are hard aground, and considerable damage was done to them, but owing to the fact that little wind is blowing, they are in no immediate danger.

The tug Edna G of Two Harbors was sent to the assistance of the America, and took off the forty-two passengers, bringing them back to Two Harbors. They will return to Duluth on the train this evening. The Easton was immediately put into commission and started out to the rescue of the America.

Fisherman's point is a rocky promontory.

The steamer Myron grounded near the Interstate bridge in the harbor this morning. The tug Record of the Union Towing & Wrecking company released her.

The Myron was light for lumber en route to Two Harbors. She had passed through the Interstate bridge and was just making the turn on this side when she grounded. The tug Record was sent out immediately and soon had her afloat.

The Myron is a small steamer owned and managed by Capt. O. C. Blodgett of Duluth. She is 186 feet in length and has a gross tonnage of 676 tons.

All vessels on Lake Superior as far east as the Soo were delayed by the fog which set in early last night and continued throughout the day. According to the United States weather bureau the fog is one of the densest that has ever been experienced on the Great Lakes. Fog horns were kept blowing almost constantly to warn vesselmen of danger.

No hope was given out at the weather bureau that the fog would lift today. The wind has come constantly from the northeast bearing a fine mist and rain. Should the wind change to the west, as is expected, the fog will lift tonight.

BAKER ASHORE ON SAWTOOTH REEF.

Calumet, Mich., May 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer George S. Baker, Capt. George A. Bell, owned by the Pittsburg Steamship company and carrying 10,500 tons of iron ore from Ashland to Erie, went on Sawtooth reef, east of Eagle river, Keweenaw point, in a dense fog at 1 o'clock this morning. It is near where the Moreland was wrecked three years ago.

The bottom of the Baker is badly torn and lightering of her entire cargo will be necessary before she can be released. The crew of twenty-five were all saved.

The accident is said by the boat's officers to be due to the great deviation of the compass.

The Baker is 605 feet long and 58 feet beam.

Draft Increased.

H. W. Brown, Duluth agent for the Pittsburg Steamship company, announces that the Poe lock draft has been increased to 18 feet and 6 inches.

WILL ADD STORY TO M'KAY HOTEL

This morning W. A. McKay, one of the proprietors of the McKay hotel, took out a permit for the construction of an additional story to the hotel at a cost of about $25,000. The building is now three stories high.

Mr. McKay said this noon that the additional floor is being built because of the increase in business the last few years and the large transient trade during the summer months. He plans to begin construction work immediately, so that the additional floor will be ready for occupancy by Aug. 1 next.

In addition to building a fourth story, which will contain fifty rooms, Mr. McKay plans to improve the entire building, with the installation of a steel elevator, and telephones in every room in the building. A new feature for local hotels will be the installation of wall beds in a large number of rooms.

The McKay hotel has been in operation since 1900.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE—

Default having been made in the payment of a certain mortgage executed by John A. Ramberg and Elizabeth E. Ramberg, his wife, mortgagors, to H. N. Johnson, mortgagee, dated May 1st, 1907, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for St. Louis County, Minnesota, on May 2nd, 1908, at one o'clock P. M., in book 247 of Mortgages on page 277, upon which said mortgage there is claimed to be due on the date of this notice the sum of one thousand sixty-five and 53-100 dollars ($1,065.53);

Which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by the said H. N. Johnson, mortgagee, to Waite H. Squier, by written assignment, dated May 2nd, 1907, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on the 30th day of January, 1911, at one o'clock P. M., in book 186 of Mortgages on page 611.

No action or proceeding at law, or otherwise, has been instituted to recover said mortgage debt, or any part thereof.

Notice is hereby given, That by virtue of the power of sale contained therein said mortgage will be foreclosed by the sale of the premises therein described, which are situated in St. Louis County, Minnesota, and described as follows, to-wit: Lot sixteen (16) in Block One hundred twelve (112), London Addition to Duluth, to pay said debt, taxes, if any, and fifty dollars ($50.00) attorney's fees, as stipulated in said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the costs and disbursements allowed by law; which said sale will be made by the Sheriff of St. Louis County, Minnesota, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Duluth in said county and state on the 23rd day of May, 1914, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

Dated April 7th, 1914.

NEWS

Did you ever stop to consider that the letters in the word NEWS stand for the initials of the four points of the compass.

What the news does is literally to put you in touch with the four quarters of the whole world every day in the year and almost every hour of the day.

The advertising has come to be an essential part of the news. It covers the entire compass of the business world.

It tells of the currents of trade.

It tells where things are made, what they are for, and what the cost.

It deals with facts—facts that concern the well being of the people.

Take it from the standpoint of actual helpfulness—and there is, on the whole, little news in the newspaper that is as important as the advertising.

ACRE TRACTS.

FACTS ABOUT LAKEWOOD PARK GARDENS.

To start with, the price is $100 less per acre than is asked for other acre tracts within city limits.

No other tracts have transportation facilities like Lakewood Park Gardens. Four trains daily stop within stone's throw of tracts; auto road to every tract; phone, electric light and city water can be had. Tracts lie well, gently sloping towards the lake; good soil, easily cleared, no stone. The Congdon boulevard, which is now a certainty (thousands of dollars having been spent to date), adjoins this property.

One acre, 2½ or 5 acres can be bought on easy terms.

MYSTERY OF FIRE AT SEA SOLVED; PART OF MISSING CREW SAVED

Burning Steamer Proves to Have Been the Columbian.

Two Lifeboats Picked Up; Third and Nineteen Men Lost.

Some of Survivors Drift on Ocean Over Fifty Hours.

Sable Island, N. S., May 6.—Capt. McDonald and thirteen members of the crew of the British steamer Columbia, burned at sea, were saved by the steamer Manhattan. A wireless dispatch to this effect was received from the Manhattan by the Marconi station here early today.

The rescue was made early this morning 41.19 north latitude and 59.35 west longitude.

Yesterday the Cunard liner Franconia picked up one of the Columbian's boats containing thirteen men and the body of Chief Steward Matthews, so that twenty-seven in all have been rescued alive. The other missing boat, for which the Manhattan and other steamers still are searching, contains the first and second officers and seventeen men.

Caught Fire Sunday Night.

The steamer Columbian, bound from Antwerp for New York, caught fire at sea Sunday night. According to wireless advices from the Franconia, which rescued the first boat of survivors, the flames spread quickly and were followed by explosions which necessitated the hasty abandoning of the steamer by the crew.

The men got away in three boats, but in their haste were illy prepared for a battle with the seas in open boats. The first survivors when picked up had been adrift for thirty-six hours, and suffered severely. Capt. McDonald's boat, picked up early today by the Manhattan, was adrift for more than fifty hours before help reached them.

Men on Franconia.

Those aboard the Franconia are:

James Drahan, wireless operator; Antone Fise, carpenter; Ivar Iverson, boatswain's mate; Unguse Prinze; Jens Jensen; A. Belnick, quartermaster; Gustav Schriborm, donkey man; Thomas Conner, Juri Lei and Arthur Brantik, able seamen; Antonio Cordi-

CONGRESS MAY TAKE REST BY JULY 10

Kern, Hoke Smith and O'Gorman Call at White House.

Washington, May 6.—Probable adjournment of congress by July 10 was predicted today by Senator Kern, Democratic leader of the senate, after a White House conference at which the president and Senators Kern, Hoke, Smith and O'Gorman discussed the legislative program.

Senator Kern said he believed the Panama canal tolls repeal bill should be disposed of within two weeks, and that the administration anti-trust program would be completed before adjournment. He was hopeful the rural credits bill would be reached.

"We are not going to stay here all summer; you may be sure of that," said Senator Kern.

Upon returning to the capitol, Senator O'Gorman said that every effort would be made to arrange legislation to allow adjournment early in July.

FALLS FIVE FLOORS; IMPALED ON PICKETS

Wife of Mexican Diplomat Is Killed in New York.

New York, May 6.—Mrs. Louise Etchageray, wife of Louis Etchageray, Mexican minister to Costa Rica, fell from a window on the fifth floor of an apartment house in One Hundred Twenty-first street today and was impaled on a picket fence in front of the building. She was rushed to a hospital, where she died. Her husband now is in Costa Rica.

Mrs. Etchageray was a German by birth and was 29 years old.

Mrs. Etchageray lived with her 15-months'-old daughter and a woman companion. She had been ill for some time and was in the care of a trained nurse. Her husband's absence, friends say, had made her despondent.

DANIELS DROPS WAR TO HELP THE Y. M. C. A.

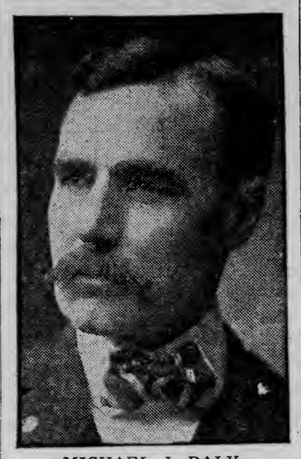
Washington, May 6.—Official Washington discovered today that Secretary Daniels of the navy had laid aside the Mexican situation temporarily, and quietly slipped out of town. The secretary left behind war plans and the rumors of war, to help the Young Men's Christian association of Canton, Ohio, raise a $300,000 fund for a new building. He will return to Washington tomorrow morning.

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt took charge of the department in the secretary's absence.

WISCONSIN HOME RULE MEN GATHER.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 6.—Delegates are arriving from all parts of the state to attend a conference late today of the Home Rule league, a state nonpartisan political organization. The object of the league, it is said, is to put a nonpartisan ticket in the field for state offices that will work for the reduction of state expenses and abolishment of state commissions.

IS NOMINATED TO BE PERHAM POSTMASTER



MICHAEL J. DALY.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 6.—President Wilson sent to the senate today the nomination of Michael J. Daly to be postmaster at Perham, Minn. Mr. Daly was a member of the Minnesota state senate during the sessions of 1899 and 1901.

Clemens H. Fortman was today nominated to be postmaster at Helena, Mont.

OLNEY IS TOO BUSY TO ACT

Letter Declining Governorship of Reserve Board Is Received.

President Has Not Yet Decided on New Nominee.

Washington, May 6.—President Wilson today received Richard Olney's letter in which the former secretary of state declined the appointment as governor of the Federal reserve board. Mr. Olney's letter, dated Boston, May 4, follows:

"My dear Mr. President—I feel honored quite beyond words by your letter of the 30th ult.—by the important offer and by the friendly expressions of confidence which accompany the offer.

"But the act of congress which very properly requires each member of the Federal reserve board to give his entire time to his work in an insuperable obstacle to my acceptance of the offer. In the course of a long life I have in various instances assumed duties and undertaken trusts which, from their personal nature, could not properly be devolved upon others.

Regrets Inability.

"If the conclusion I have come to is a disappointment to you, I greatly regret it. But you can hardly be sorrier than I am, that I am able to do so little in aid of an administration whose first year of achievement makes it one of the most notable the country has ever known.

"Trusting you will not suffer your health and strength to be impaired by the strain of unusual difficulties now attending the duties of your great office, I am, sincerely yours,

"RICHARD OLNEY."

The president has not yet selected anyone to substitute for Mr. Olney on the board, and is not likely to make a choice for several days, as he is again canvassing the field of available men.

It was said by persons close to the president that in all likelihood a New England man would be chosen, so that the geographical representation on the board might be symmetrical.

Hamlin Mentioned.

C. S. Hamlin, now assistant secretary of the treasury, who comes from Boston, had been mentioned for the place among others, but there is no definite choice as yet.

It is unlikely that the governorship of the board will go to the New Englander, but that one of the four men already selected for the board will be its governor. Either W. P. G. Harding of Birmingham, Ala., or Paul M. Warburg of New York may be selected to head the board.

GIRL RETURNS TO ANSWER FOR CRIME

Helene Young Starts From Chicago to Los Angeles.

Chicago, May 6.—Miss Helene Young, accused of having cashed forged checks in Los Angeles, started back to the California city today in the custody of Mrs. D. T. Anderson, a Los Angeles police woman.

The young women several months ago was given permission by Circuit Judge Gibbons to remain in Chicago to care for her sister, Mrs. Laura Hall. Miss Young pleaded that she had passed the checks to get money to bring her sister to Chicago for treatment. The sister died from cancer last week and Miss Young surrendered herself to the sheriff.

BECKER AGAIN FACES COURT

Motion to Get Change of Venue Denied By Judge.

Whitman Appears Bent on Emphasizing Graft Scandals.

New York, May 6.—The second trial of Charles Becker, former police lieutenant and head of the "strong arm" squad, charged with the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, began today in the criminal court building.

Four men—gunmen, so-called—recently paid for the murder with their lives; but Becker, the alleged instigator, was saved by the ruling of the court of appeals.

Admission to the court room was by ticket only and hundreds were turned away at the doors. It was 10:30 when Justice Seabury ascended the bench. Shortly afterward Becker was brought in.

Bourke Cochran, of counsel for the defense, immediately asked the court that District Attorney Whitman be judged in contempt for "having made statements tending to prejudice the public" against Becker. The motion was denied for the time being, but the court agreed to hear arguments on it later.

Denied Change of Venue.

Mr. Cockran then asked for a change of venue. Again he censured the district attorney for talking about the case "for the benefit of the newspapers," attacking particularly statements attributed to the district attorney concerning perjury committed in the eleventh hour attempt to save the gunmen.

Mr. Cockran presented affidavits from newspaper men and others to the effect that an alleged confession of Carl Dressner, recently quoted as having admitted that he committed perjury in the gunmen matter, did not come from Dressner himself, but was

POWERS IS ELECTED MAYOR OF ST. PAUL

Gets Plurality of 2,500 Votes Over Louis Nash.

St. Paul, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Winn Powers, the "people's candidate," who was elected mayor of St. Paul over Louis Nash, member of the board of county commissioners, at yesterday's municipal election, the first under the commission charter, received a plurality of more than 2,500 votes, unofficial returns showed today.

W. C. Handy was re-elected city comptroller, and the following councilmanic candidates were successful:

S. A. Farnsworth, O. E. Keller, Anthony Yoerg, Henry McColl, M. N. Goss and J. J. O'Leary.

Powers' victory over Nash came as one of the greatest surprises in the history of local politics, as Nash had received the united support of the English newspapers, of numerous societies and of the Citizens' committee, which has waged a war against the liberal element. Powers was supported by the so-called Murphy-O'Connor Democratic organization that for many years played an active part in local politics, but that was defeated four years ago.

FUNSTON WILL EXTEND HIS LINES ABOUT VERA CRUZ AND FORTIFY

LIPPITT AND STONE CLASH

Rhode Island Senator Assails Government's Policy in Mexico.

Missourian Defends Administration and Approves Vera Cruz Action.

Washington, May 6.—Vigorous criticism of the administration's Mexican policy and a heated debate over the Vera Cruz situation marked the effort of Senator Lippitt of Rhode Island, today to secure action in the senate on his resolution asking President Wilson if he is supporting Pancho Villa for the next ruler of Mexico. Chairman Stone of the foreign relations committee defended the administration.

The resolution was laid on the table without a record vote.

"The suspicion that our government is aiding, abetting or even condoning the villainous Villa is so sickening that I have long refused to believe it," said Senator Lippitt, "but the reports that the administration is supporting Villa have continued so long that I have introduced my resolution."

Says Actions Belie Words.

After quoting President Wilson's declarations in his message to congress about observing strict neutrality between the factions of Mexico, Senator Lippitt said that the government's actions were much in contradiction to those expressions.

Senator Lippitt spoke of the Vera Cruz incident and the loss of Mexican

NEW HAVEN PROBE IS TAKEN UP ONCE MORE

Financing of Billard Company to Be Looked Into.

Washington, May 6.—The interstate commerce commission today resumed investigation of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad. Affairs of the Billard company and its relations, financial and otherwise, with the New Haven, were the particular subjects of inquiry.

Chief Counsel Folk was prepared to direct his energies toward discovering the origin of the funds which financed the Billard company. He had elicited that $2,000,000 had been supplied for the organization of the Billard concern and desired to determine whether that sum was furnished by the New Haven road or its officers.

Samuel Hemingway, who directed financial affairs of the Billard company as its treasurer when it was organized; John L. Billard, who organized the company, and others connected with the concern were scheduled as witnesses when the inquiry was reopened. It was expected that as the investigation developed, Former President Mellen and other New Haven officials would be called.

RACING WITH VILLA TO CAPTURE HUERTA

GEN. EMILIO ZAPATA, Commander of Mexican Rebels, Who Are Rivals of the Constitutionalists.

VILLA WILL ATTACK TWO CITIES AT ONCE

Saltillo and San Luis Potosi Both Are to Be Assailed.

Torreon, May 6.—Preparations under way have made it evident that the plan of campaign of Gen. Villa against the Federals provides for a simultaneous attack on Saltillo and San Luis Potosi. He himself has decided to lead the attack on Saltillo, while Gen. Maclovio Herrera and Gen. Benavides will lead a strong force against San Luis Potosi.

The attack of San Luis Potosi will have the effect of practically isolating the Saltillo garrison. Should the Federals under Gen. J. Maas be unable to hold Saltillo nothing would remain for them but surrender or death by hunger and thirst if they were cut off from San Luis Potosi by an attacking force there. The country between the two points is almost barren and if the railroad were cut to the south, as Villa undoubtedly intends, but a few fugitives would have a chance of making their way through the terrific stretch of desert on horseback or on foot.

There are approximately 10,000 men in the garrison at Saltillo now and about 6,000 in San Luis Potosi. It is believed here that the loading of troops reported to have taken place at Saltillo was for the purpose of reinforcing the San Luis Potosi garrison in expectation of a simultaneous attack.

CARRANZA IS DROPPED

Mediators Will Proceed Without His Being Represented.

Mexican Conferences Will Be Held on Canadian Soil.

Washington, May 6.—Mediation in the Mexican crisis will proceed without representation from the Constitutionalist forces in the revolution-torn republic.

This definite announcement was made today by one of the South American envoys after the mediators had conferred at the state department with Secretary Bryan.

The secretary reiterated that this government had not yet outlined a basis on which to mediate, and that the United States merely had accepted the good offices of the South American envoys.

The mediators were perfecting plans today for removal of the conference to Niagara Falls, Canada, on May 18. The mediators will leave here Thursday, May 14, to arrange preliminaries for their opening sessions on the following Monday. The party, including secretaries, stenographers and other officials, will number about fifteen, not including the United States and Huerta delegates.

Envoys Meet Lane.

The envoys continued their sessions today, expecting to advance on various branches of the work pending the opening of the conference at Niagara Falls. Secretary Lane was an early caller at the Argentine legation, where the negotiations are proceeding. He would say nothing of his visit, but it was recalled that the president had

BRITISH ULTIMATUM SENT TO HAITIENS

Demands Indemnity for Destruction of Briton's Sawmill.

Port Au Prince, Haiti, May 6.—The British diplomatic representative at Port Au Prince today delivered an ultimatum to the Haitien government demanding the immediate payment of an indemnity of $62,000 to a British subject in compensation for the destruction by fire of his sawmill during the Leconte revolution. The ultimatum expires at 6 o'clock this evening.

The British demand is supported by the presence here of the British cruiser Suffolk. The payment of this sum of money to the British subject in question, a man named Peters, previously had been ordered by a court of arbitration.

Immediately after the presentation of the British demand the members of the chamber of deputies and the senate met in joint session. The deliberations were marked by great excitement. Senator Cauvin bitterly reproached the cabinet for not being able to meet the situation.

There are no funds in hand with which to make the payment demanded.

ABANDONED NAVAL TUG POTOMAC SAFE

Craft Is Remanned and Will Be Brought to Port.

Curling, Nfld., May 6.—The United States naval tug Potomac, which was abandoned in the ice floes of the Gulf of St Lawrence during the winter, was remanned today by her engineer, the United States consular agent and a party of Newfoundlanders. It is expected the vessel will be brought to port safely.

FIRST CARGO READY FOR PANAMA CANAL.

Colon, May 6.—The first cargo which will go through the Panama canal arrived at Cristobal on the steamer Dakotan yesterday. This freight, which consists of sugar, will be sent through the canal on barges shortly.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

HOUSE.

Miscellaneous bills on the calendar considered.

Interstate commerce committee resumed discussion of railroad capitalization control bill.

Secretary Lane, before public lands committee, advocated Ferris bill regulating water powers on public domain.

Judiciary sub-committee resumed hearing on impeachment charges against Justice Wright of District of Columbia supreme court.

Secretary of war sumbitted request for immediate appropriation of $25,000 for sanitary care of military posts and equipment of Panama canal zone.

SENATE.

Senator Lippitt urged adoption of resolution asking president to explain reports that he supports Gen. Villa.

ATTACK BY MEXICANS IS NOT CERTAIN

Diplomatic Dispatches From Mexico Tell of Crisis.

Huerta May Be Unable to Withstand Zapata Attack.

Dictator's Hold Upon His Own Soldiers Is Weakening.

Washington, May 6.—Orders have gone from the war department to Gen. Funston, it was learned today, authorizing him to extend his lines about Vera Cruz as far as "in his judgment it is necessary."

This, it was explained, gives the American commander virtually a free hand in dealing with the situation at Vera Cruz, and it was said that the American lines would at once be extended and heavy fortifications thrown up.

Gen. Funston at Vera Cruz reported to the war department today that he had no definite information regarding movements of Mexican troops, and said he thought it probable that such concentration as the Mexican forces had made was only for the purpose of defending the lines of railroad to Mexico City, in case the United States troops should advance. Mexican natives reported that the track of the Inter-oceanic railroad was being torn up.

A late dispatch from Gen. Funston stated that food is not getting into Vera Cruz from the interior of Mexico, but that it was being brought from shore villages and the towns from the north and from Tejar on the south.

Huerta's Hold Weakening.

In diplomatic circles, dispatches have been received stating that fear of an attack on Mexico City by Gen. Zapata's forces causes considerable alarm. Huerta's hold upon his soldiers, dispatches state, is weakening, and possibility of opposition to the Zapata movement, it is declared, is decreasing. Zapata has said he would get to Mexico City before Villa.

May 5, the patriotic holiday, is reported to have passed with none of the

ARMY SURGEONS READY FOR DUTY

Order to Prepare for Service Is Sent By Gorgas.

St. Louis, Mo., May 6.—Twenty local physicians and surgeons, who are first lieutenants in the medical reserve corps of the army, have been ordered by Surgeon Genfl Gorgas to hold themselves in readiness for active duty.

REBELS TAKE WAR TO STATE OF VERA CRUZ

Admiral Badger Reports Sharp Attack on the Federals.

Washington, May 6.—Admiral Badger reported to the navy department today that Constitutionalist forces made a sharp attack yesterday upon Mexican Federals in the northwestern portion of the province of Vera Cruz and to the west of Tampico. There was no decisive result, so far as he could learn, the report stated.

Admiral Badger's report said further that Admiral Mayo informed him of persistent rumors current about Tampico that Gen. Villa was on his way with reinforcements for the Constitutionalists and intended to "take and burn the city." Admiral Mayo stated that he did not put the slightest faith in the truce supposed to have been arranged between the Constitutionalists and Federalists at Tampico. There had been no trouble recently in the oil well district, he added.

THANK GERMANY FOR AIDING AMERICANS.

Berlin, May 6.—James W. Gerard, United States ambassador at Berlin, today received instructions from the state department at Washington to make a formal expression of thanks to the German government for the energetic assistance given by the commander and crew of the German cruiser Dresden in rescuing American refugees at Tampico.

URGES MEN TO GIVE UP ARMS

U.S. Army Officer Addresses the Colorado Coal Strikers.

Witness at Forbes Inquest Tells of Death Threats.

Trinidad, Colo., May 6.—Earnestly pleading with a heterogeneous group of nationalities, only a small percentage of whom could understand his sharply spoken English words, Maj. Holbrook of the Fifth United States cavalry today urged 200 strikers in mass meeting at Camp San Rafael to deliver over their arms and ammunition to the United States authorities. After he had gone the group divided and heard interpreters repeat in some form the remarks of Maj. Holbrook.

The matter of disarmament, it was announced by William Diamond, union leader, would not be put to a referendum vote of the miners, but would be left to the inclination of the individual strikers, who, he said, owned the weapons in their possession.

Includes Police Officers.

Maj. Holbrook informed the strikers that the proclamation for disarmament included everybody except those in actual service of the United States. He said even the sheriff and police of Trinidad would not be allowed to carry weapons of any sort.

Maj. Holbrook, speaking for Col. Lockett, in command of the Federal troops in this section of Colorado, promised the strikers that the mine guards would be disarmed first of all, within the next two or three days, and then the United States would call in strikers to give up their arms. Upon mention of disarmament of the mine guards, the strikers, led by the English-speaking ones, applauded vigorously and began to pay closer attention to the major.

"Take their machine guns first," was the cry from the strikers.

Strikers' Attitude Important.

With many of the arms of the mine guards already in possession of the United States troops and with the guns at various other mines stacked in the offices ready to be turned over, the attitude of the strikers on the subject of disarmament today became of paramount importance. United States troops are now in charge of Forbes, Aguilar, Walsenburg and Trinidad. More troops are expected.

A story of being captured by strikers, threatened with death and finally released was told before the coroner's jury at Forbes yesterday by Andrew Babich, one of the defenders of the Forbes mine in the battle of April 29.

Babich said he and five other men, were caputred near the mine stable by a party of strikers consisting of a Mexican, an Italian and four Greeks. They were led up into the hills, he declared, and one striker levelled a rifle at his head and was about to shoot when another striker rushed between them.

All Searched and Robbed.

Later all six were freed, and the army of miners, estimated by the witness at from 150 to 200, started off in the direction of Trinidad.

Rabich swore that before the captives were freed all were searched and robbed. One man, he said, lost $45.

W. E. Lane, operator of the machine gun in the battle, said after the gun became disabled he retreated over the hills to Majestic to seek aid for the camp.

K. E. Coder, the postmaster, testified regarding his experience in the battle. He told of taking his wife and children to the stone ice house and later into the mine tunnel.

The inquest over the slain in the Forbes battle was resumed here this afternoon.

NEW TRIAL DENIED IN LEO FRANK'S CASE

Court Announces He Will Sign Bill of Exceptions.

Atlanta, Ga., May 6.—Judge Ben H. Hill of the Fulton county superior court today denied the extraordinary motion for a new trial for Leo M. Frank, the young factory superintendent, under sentence of death here for the murder in April, last year, of Mary Phagan, a factory girl.

In denying the motion Judge Hill announced that he would sign a bill of exceptions, thus allowing the ruling to be appealed to the state supreme court.

STEENERSON WANTS OFFICE

Congressman's Brother Files as Republican for Lieutenant Governor.

Miller Files, and Edes of Duluth Seeks State Senatorship.

St. Paul, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Elias Steenerson of Minneapolis furnished a political surprise today when he filed with Secretary of State Schmahl as a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. It was thought Lieut.-Governor J. A. A. Burnquist of St. Paul would have no opposition at the primaries.

The new candidate is a brother of Congressman Halvor Steenerson of the Ninth district, and formerly was postmaster at Crookston. He was prominently identified with the progressive movement in Minnesota two years, with the organizers of the Equity Co-operative Grain exchange.

In his announcement Steenerson says he has for many years advocated legislation in the line of improvement of terminal markets.

"It is with pleasure I observe that several of the candidates for governor have placed themselves on record as favorable to such legislation," says his announcement. "It appears, however, that our lieutenant governor is silent. An official who exercises so potent an influence on legislating policies ought to be right on the marketing proposition."

Named Committees.

During the last session Lieut. Governor Burnquist named the senate committee to investigate the Minneapolis grain terminals and it is said his selections did not please George Loftus of Minneapolis, Equity Exchange official.

Congressman Clarence B. Miller of Duluth, filed for renomination on the Republican ticket today from the Eighth district. He is opposed by State Senator James P. Boyle of Eveleth, and the fight promises to be one of the most interesting in the state.

Two Socialists filed for congress: M. O. Brattland of Ada in the Ninth district, and Joseph R. Hollister of Mankato in the second.

Other Filings.

Others filing today were: W. E. Nielsen, Finlayson, representative in legislature, Fifty-sixth district, Pine and Chisago counties.

Joseph Gunn, Breckenridge, state senator, Forty-ninth district, Clay and Wilkin counties.

L. E. Potter, Springfield, state senator, Fourteenth district, Brown and Redwood counties.

A. K. Strand, Ada, representative in legislature, Sixty-fourth district, Norman and Mahnomen counties.

H. H. Witherstine, Rochester, congress, First district, Democratic.

T. T. Ofsthun, Glenwood, state senate, Forty-seventh district, Pope and Douglas counties.

James W. Woodfill, Two Harbors, representative in legislature, Fifty-seventh district, Lake and Cook counties.

Edes for State Senate.

E. N. Edes, Duluth, state senator, Fifty-seventh district.

Jean A. Flittie, Mankato, Democrat, congress, Second district.

Harry S. Swenson, Minneapolis, Democrat, congress, Tenth district.

Rufus T. Morton, Princeton, representative, Fifty-fifth district, Mille Lacs, Sherburne and Kanabec counties.

NEW ROADS ESTABLISHED

County Board Transacts Large Amount of Routine Business.

Few matters of importance received consideration at the hands of the county board at its regular monthly meeting today, but a large amount of routine work was disposed of. The usual bills were passed and the usual number of road matters taken up.

The board officially established as county highways nine new roads in the Fifth, Sixth and Seventh districts. The county auditor was authorized to advertise for bids for twelve miles of new road in the Sixth district. The bids will be opened at the June meeting of the commissioners.

Four organized school districts, numbered 44, 59, 61 and 78, were dissolved by the board, the usual recommendations having been received from the county superintendent of schools and county board of education. The territory embraced in the various districts will not be under the direct supervision of the county superintendent of schools. It will be a part of the unorganized school district.

The board at its morning session received a copy of a resolution passed by a recent grand jury at Virginia recommending a number of changes and improvements to be made in connection with the branch courthouse, sheriff's office and jail at Virginia. Action was deferred on the matter.

The board this afternoon will pass on the application of the Alborn Telephone company for permission to use certain of the county highways in the Alborn farming district for a right-of-way for a rural telephone line. Some opposition has arisen and there is some doubt as to whether the desired grant will be made at this time or not.

Only one application for a liquor license was received by the board. H. B. Chase and W. G. Martin are seeking permission to open a saloon in township 69-21, unorganized territory. The matter will be passed upon at the afternoon session.

SAARI WILL NOT RUN FOR CONGRESS

John Saari has decided not to make the run for congress on the Bull Moose ticket. He was importuned to become a candidate when he refused to run on that ticket for the office of secretary of state. Mr. Saari said today that business reasons prevent him from making the run for any office; that since he has become established in Duluth he has found his hands full taking care of his business affairs and cannot afford the time to devote to the campaign.

O. H. Higbee, who has already filed for the congressional nomination of the Bull Moose party, is not a Duluth man as the dispatches had it, but is a resident of Chisholm.

COURT DENIES APPLICATION

Refuses Request of Minority Stockholders to Develop Mine.

Without deciding the constitutionality of the state law which provides that a minority of the fee owners of a mining property may under certain conditions, force a development of the mine against the wishes of the majority by making application to the court, Judge Dancer this morning filed an order denying John B. Dow and other joint owners the right to proceed under the law.

The decision was in the case of J. B. Dow et al against John Brennan, John Jenswold, T. J. Wash and other joint owners of a mining tract on the Vermilion range. Dow and others of the fee owners who are in the minority desired to develop the property against the wishes of the Brennan faction, who were in the majority. The defense claimed first that the act was unconstitutional and second that sufficient ore had not been shown up to warrant the court in ordering the property developed.

The court sustained the contention that sufficient ore had not been shown up, but avoided the question of constitutionality of the law. The order of the court was that the costs of the proceedings should be taxed against the Dow faction. Another suit is pending in which the Brennan faction is seeking a partition and sale of the property.

WOULD DISSOLVE PARTNERSHIP

Claiming that a partnership agreement which he had with Chester D. Tripp had been broken, and asking that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the partnership, H. J. Kruse today started suit in district court. The transaction involves a mining land deal in Crow Wing county.

Kruse claims that in June, 1910, he was the owner of the surface rights of a tract of land in section 11, 46-29, Crow Wing county. The mineral rights belonged at that time to the Pine Tree Timber company, but were later assigned to the Crow Wing Lumber company, which is made a defendant to the action.

Kruse claims that he turned over the property to Tripp with the understanding that in case he should make a deal with the owners of the mineral rights for the sale of the surface rights, he was to receive half of the proceeds. A deal was subsequently made whereby Tripp was to receive 10 cents royalty.

Kruse alleges that Tripp has failed to make an accounting and asks that he be adjudged half owner of the royalty contract which Tripp has with the Crow Wing Lumber company, to whom the mineral rights held by the Pine Tree Timber company have been assigned.

The court is also asked to restrain the company from paying Tripp any royalties until the matter is settled. Several thousands of dollars in royalties are due May 20, 1914, he stated.

SIDNEY ANDERSON WILL BE OPPOSED

Dr. Witherstine of Rochester Indorsed By Democrats for Congress.

Dr. H. H. Witherstine of Rochester, Minn., well known here and throughout the state, was unanimously indorsed by a Democratic conference held at Rochester on Monday for congress from the First district, and has filed with the secretary of state.

Dr. Witherstine is very popular throughout the First and in fact wherever he is known in the state, and, it is believed will give Congressman Sidney Anderson a hard fight. Congressman Anderson has lost considerable ground of late, and it is claimed that it was only lack of the desire on the part of many available Republicans in the First that he is not opposed in the prinaries. His recent grandstand play in congress of resigning from a committee because the Democrats controlled it, as would be natural in a Democratic congress, made the congressman the laughing stock not only of congress, but of the state of Minnesota, and made him the butt of newspaper comment the state over and in his own district in particular.

Dr. Witherstine, on the contrary, is most highly thought of. He served with distinction in the state senate and served the city of Rochester capably as mayor. The Rochester Post and Record, a Republican paper, says of the doctor in connection with his indorsement by the Democrats:

"Dr. Witherstine is one of Rochester's highly esteemed citizens, and has taken a prominent part in local, county and state politics serving this county with credit to himself as senator, and serving the city with much ability as mayor. His candidacy will be watched with interest by his many friends."

AMERICA NOT YET RELEASED

Passenger Steamer Still on the Rocks Near Two Harbors.

Hole Punched in Bottom, But Pumps Are Handling Water.

The freight and passenger steamer America, which struck upon the rocks a mile and a half northeast of Two Harbors yesterday forenoon, is still fast aground with two tugs working to draw her loose. Quite a large hole was punched in her bottom and it is claimed that the pumps of the vessel have been kept constantly at work to keep the water from putting out the fires in her engines. It is expected that the boat will be freed this afternoon and that she will be able to continue her trip to Duluth without waiting for extensive repairs.

The steamer Poe, which grounded about 100 feet distance from the America a few minutes later, was released yesterday afternoon.

Louis P. Hogstad, division superintendent for the Booth lines, made a trip to Two Harbors and another today to look after the America. He informed The Herald over the telephone today that the vessel would be released sometime this afternoon and continue her trip to Duluth.

"I wish to say, especially," said Mr. Hogstad, "that the fires in the engines were not put out by the water leaking into the vessel. The pumps have been worked by the engines of the America all the time, and there has been no danger of the fires being put out through leakage. The vessel was punctured but not severely enough to cause very serious damage."

Mr. Hogstad said that the tug Maxwell and the scow Interstate were aiding the America, and that the Easton, belonging to the Booth line, was nearby.

The fog greatly handicapped navigation on Lake Superior all day yesterday, but lifted during the night. Vessels waiting in the harbor weighed anchor during the night and left port.

JETTISONING ORE FROM THE BAKER

Dumping 10,500 Tons Into the Lake—Steamer in Bad Position.

Calumet, Mich., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The wrecking tugs Favorite and Helm of the Great Lakes Towing & Wrecking company this morning began the work of jettisoning the cargo of 10,500 tons of iron ore carried by the steamer George P. Baker, which climbed half way over Sawtooth reef at Eagle river, in a dense fog early yesterday.

The cargo is being taken out by clamshell dippers and dumped into the lake. It is expected it will take a week of steady work to lighter the steamer sufficiently to take her off the reef. Her bottom is badly torn. The Eagle Harbor life-saving crew stood by last night and today to rescue the crew of the Baker, as the steamer is in a bad position and the lake is rough.

WINTER FLEET DELAYED HERE

Four Large Vessels Have Not Yet Left Duluth Port.

Four large vessels of the Duluth winter fleet are still at this port. These are the Cuyler Adams, Erling, Heinlock and F. C. Ball. These boats, however, are about ready to depart from the shipyards, where they are now docked.

The fleet has been unusually slow in putting out this spring, due to the fact that orders for ore, lumber and other commodities have not been as brisk as usual. At the opening of navigation there were but thirty-six large vessels here, about one-half the number that wintered here a year ago.

The recent severe storm on the lakes and the presence of ice in the lakes up to so late a time were factors in delaying the departure of the boats.

CITY FORTUNATE IN HAVING GOOD MARKETS.

Duluth is exceptionally fortunate in its meat markets, if the report of Meat Inspector Leo Bernhardt is a criterion.

The report gives the scores of eighty markets in the city. Of these fifty-eight are given a percentage of 90 or over and of them many have scores of 97 and 98 per cent. No market has a score of under 75 per cent.

During the month the meat inspector condemned two tierces of sauerkraut, one small quarter of beef and one immature veal.

SPENDING MONEY FOR TRIP ABROAD

Postal Savings Accounts Show Results of Exodus to Norway.

The centennial celebration at Norway this month is making its inroads on many savings accounts in Duluth, judging from the April report of the postal savings banks, issued yesterday afternoon.

During the last month a large number of the depositors have withdrawn a part of their deposits, saying that they are going to Norway during May and that on this account they will need nearly all of their savings. The report for April is proof of this, as the total deposits fell far below April of last year and are not even up to the average of the other three months this year.

As about 200 Duluthians will attend the centennial celebration at Norway this year, it can readily be seen what an inroad the festival will make on savings. The postal bank evidenced this condition immediately, because of the exceptionally large number of Norwegian depositors on the lists.

Another reason given for the reduction in deposits is the fact that a depositor cannot bank more than $100 a month. Many applicants leave without depositing a cent, when informed of this rule, and consequently the bank loses from $2,000 to $3,000 a month.

FARM SOLD FOR ALIMONY

Question of Liens Against Homestead Being Considered by Court.

Whether a homestead may be lost through the non-payment of alimony is a question which has been put up to Judge Bert Fesler of the district court, who yesterday took under advisement a case in ejectment brought by Hilda Marie Kellonen against her divorced husband, John Erick Kellonen, alias John Maki. The case was tried before Judge Fesler yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Kellonen, 65, was granted a divorce from her husband, aged 55, two years ago and the court at that time made an order decreeing that he should pay her certain alimony. Kellonen allowed the alimony payments to lag and finally quit paying altogether. Under the order of the court, the unpaid alimony constituted a lien against a homestead of 160 acres in 50-19, this county. The land was later sold by the sheriff and was bid in by Mrs. Kellonen for $268.12, Jan. 4, 1913, at the expiration of one year when his right to redeem had expired. Kellonen refused to vacate the property and suit to eject him was begun.

Kellonen deserted his wife twenty-three years ago in Finland after they had lived together since 1883. He came to America and changed his name to Maki, settling in St. Louis county. At the trial of the divorce action, she claimed that after she had located him she wrote letters to him for seventeen years entreating him to allow her to join him. She finally scraped enough money together to come across, but when she attempted to join him he turned her down, she claimed.

WILL DESTROYED IN COURTHOUSE FIRE.

Although the will of John P. Winchell, who died eleven years ago at Brunswick, Me., was lost in a fire which destroyed the records of the Cumberland county (Me.) probate court, Jennie F. Winchell, 70, his widow, is seeking possession of the Winchell estate in this county under the terms of the instrument.

At the time of his death, March 30, 1903, Winchell owned a half interest in lots 13 and 14, block 154, Portland division in this city. Winchell was survived by a widow, two sons and one daughter. It is alleged, however, that he left all of his property to his widow.

The will was filed with Cumberland county probate court but before the affairs of the estate were settled, it was destroyed in a fire which burned the probate court records. The fire occurred on Jan. 24, 1908.

In probate court here today, Mrs. Winchell filed a petition for an order determining the descent of land to her in accordance with the terms of the will. A certified copy of what the will purports to be accompanies the petition.

NOTABLE MEN WITH DETROIT VISITORS

Speaker Clark, Thomas A. Edison and Others Coming on June Excursion.

When the members of the Detroit Board of Commerce arrive in Duluth on Saturday, June 20, they will have a number of notable guests on board the City of Detroit III, on which they will take their trip. If things do not miscarry, Henry Ford, the famous auto manufacturer, who visited here last summer, will be on board and have as his guests, Thomas A. Edison and John Burroughs.

J. A. Strassburg, chairman of the excursion committee, who was here yesterday, says that Speaker Champ Clark of the national house of representatives is figured on as being one of the guests of the party. Samuel G. Blythe, the noted political writer and author also expects to accompany the Detroit crowd on this trip. Besides this visit, Duluth will entertain many more guests during the coming summer. Following are some of the conventions that will be held here:

Minnesota Live Stock Breeders' association, June 25.

Northern Wisconsin and Northeastern Minnesota Guernsey Breeders' association, June 26.

Northwest Laundrymen's association.

National Association of Building Owners and Managers, July 14 to 17.

State Federation of Labor, July 19 and 20.

I. S. W. A., July 29 to 31.

State Denial society, Aug. 6 and 7.

American Peat society, Aug. 20 to 22.

DECREASE IN LITIGATION

Results of Compensation Act Are Shown in May Calendar.

Only Fifty-six Personal Injury Suits Are Listed for Trial.

Decreases in personal injury litigation throughout the state, which have been brought about through the new workingmen's compensation act, are reflected in many ways, but perhaps no more noticeably than in the calendar of civil cases for trial at the May term of the district court which opened this morning.

Out of the 330 cases for trial at the May term, only fifty-six are personal injury cases. This is a comparatively small number as compared with other terms. For instance, at the September term of court there were 291 cases for trial and out of this number eighty-two were personal injury claims.

Since the new law became operative, Oct. 1, 1913, practically all claims for personal injuries have been settled out of court. In this county, 1,136 settlements have been made and approved by the court. It is true that personal injury actions are filed from time to time, but in each instance the cause of action on which suit is brought accrued before the workingmen's compensation law became operative.

Judge Bert Fesler presided at the opening session of the May term this morning. At the call of the calendar, 300 cases were marked for trial, twenty-two causes of actions were stricken and eight were continued to the September term.

The divorce mill will begin grinding tomorrow and the district court judges will be kept busy for the next few days listening to tales of matrimonial trouble. About sixty divorce actions are listed for trial at this term of court.

VIOLATING LIQUOR LAW

Wholesale Dealers Must Quit Selling in Small Quantities.

Wholesale liquor dealers in Duluth must quit selling in quantities of less than five gallons or pay $1,000 for a city saloon license.

Notifications to this effect are being sent to the wholesalers today by direction of Commissioner William A. Hicken, head of the safety division.

The safety commissioner states that reports are constantly reaching him that the wholesalers are violating the law in this respect. That this would not be allowed was announced some time ago by the safety commissioner, but apparently the regulations in this respect are not being obeyed. Under their Federal license the wholesalers cannot sell any intoxicants in quantities less than five gallons.

Commissioner Hicken explains that this is an injustice to retailers who are paying the city $1,000 a year, each, for the privilege of retailing intoxicants. He asserts that it is unfair competition and is putting them at a disadvantage. He adds that a new firm in the city has paid $1,000 for a license and that under it the company can sell package goods in any quantity. He says that if the others wish to do the same kind of business they must pay the price. Even if they take out a saloon license they cannot operate a saloon, the permit giving them only the right to sell packages of less than five gallons. This was the understanding at the time the license was issued to the firm referred to and the others will be held to the same agreement if they wish to take out city liquor licenses.

NO EXPERT FEES IN ORDINARY CASES

Testimony on Castor Oil Treatment Not Worth $25 a Day.

Physicians are not entitled to fees as expert witnesses in the district court except in unusual or extraordinary cases. The rule which was made some time ago was invoked yesterday by Judge Cant in the case of Dr. A. E. Walker against Rudolph Morck.

The case was tried in March. Dr. Walker was given a verdict of $25 for professional services performed at the instance of Morck. In a counter-claim Morck sued for $3,000 damages for the death of his child, alleged to have been due to overdoses of castor oil prescribed by the physician.

Four local physicians testified on behalf of Dr. Walker regarding the treatment he had given the child. Dr. Walker recently presented the names of Dr. A. A. Deslauriers, Dr. John J. Eklund, Dr. Frank A. Grawn and Dr. I. J. Murphy as witnesses, and asked that they be allowed $25 a day as expert witnesses, and that $125 be taxed against the defendant. Dr. Deslauriers attended two days.

The court, in disallowing the fees, said: "In a conference held some years ago the judges of this district determined that as a matter of social policy it was best not to allow the taxation of expert witness fees in ordinary cases, and that rule has been very generally adhered to since that time. In deference to that rule and that practice such costs are disallowed here."

INDORSEMENTS FOR THE FESTIVAL STILL COMING

I would suggest .....

as a name for the Duluth Midsummer Festival.

Signature .....

Address .....

Fill out this blank and mail to the Festival Editor of The Herald before May 10. The American Exchange National bank will give a $10 prize for the best name suggested.

This is a new contest and distinct from the former one which closed May 1.

Aerie No. 9, Fraternal Order of Eagles, at its last meeting unanimously indorsed the Midsummer Festival project and appointed a committee to co-operate with the general committee composed of representatives from various other organizations of Duluth. The Eagles make the thirty-seventh organization that has pledged its support to the festival.

The aerie named three of its strongest members to make up the committee. These are Worthy President V. M. Grady, chairman; Secretary E. A. Pierce, and Past Worthy President John Gonska.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

A GREAT many cities are studying the problems of how far a city can go in providing for its citizens without being a charity organization or adopting Socialistic doctrines.

The school board of New York city has a plan to serve noon lunches at cost. A school lunch committee of New York city, made up of private citizens, has for five years conducted school lunches as an experiment, and, convinced that it has established the value and feasibility of conducting such lunches, now asks the board of education to take over the work. The committee reports that the receipts from the penny-an-article lunches cover the cost of the food. It further tells how the study of home conditions has shown the needs of such lunches and advances other reasons as well, for maintaining them. More than eighty principals have asked to have lunches served to their pupils, and the campaign is meeting with support from numerous civic, social and educational cources.

School lunches have been tried out in Duluth in a comparatively limited way and have been found to be a success. For several years lunches have been served at cost in the high school and in the last year this has been extended to one or two of the other schools. It is believed that the results obtained will mean that the system will be further extended in Duluth.

BEGIN CAMPAIGN FOR NEW SCHOOL

Park Point Club Would Replace Old Radisson Building.

Members of the Park Point Improvement club will begin a campaign for the erection of a new school to take the place of the Radisson. Plans were formulated at a meeting of the club held last evening in the Mission church and the matter will be taken up shortly with the school board.

Various improvements proposed for Park Point were discussed at the meeting last evening, although no official action in any special instance was taken during the meeting. A committee was appointed to make an investigation of the new sewer contract, about which there has been considerable agitation the last few weeks.

STILL "WAITING" IN STEEL TRADE

Big Crop and Rate Decision Would Result in Heavy Buying.

Operations at the iron and steel plants in the leading centers are estimated to be on a basis of sixty-five per cent this week.

The placing of new business is still being held down to a minimum. In view of the glowing wheat crop prospects through the Middle West and in the Southwest, manufacturers are now looking for substantial improvement in the volume of new bookings within the next four or five weeks, provided the agricultural situation remains as it is. The decision of the interstate commerce commission in the Eastern railroads' rate case is also due to be announced early next month, and should it be in favor of the roads, a sharp expansion in orders from the transportation companies is regarded as certain to materialize.

Authorities in the steel trade now contend that stiff buying kept down to an irreducible minimum ever since early last fall, stocks of all materials are unusually light in all quarters, and that the deferred buying movement when it materializes is likely to be on an extensive scale.

French Boxing Federation Recognizes Big Negro's Claim to Title.

Paris, May 6.—The French Boxing federation, the principal authority in ring contests in France, which for a time refused to recognize "Jack" Johnson as the heavyweight champion of the world, today accepted his claim to the title.

The management of the fight between Johnson and Frank Moran of Pittsburg, which will take place on June 27, has been assumed by Theodore Vienne, a prominent member of the boxing federation. He signed a contract last night to stage the match, succeeding Emile Maitrot, who retired.

The plans for the Velodrome d'River, where the bout will be held, provide for 26,000 seats and standing room for 4,000.

London, May 6.—In the final round of the British amateur court tennis championship, played at Queen's club yesterday, E. M. Baerlein, the ex-champion, defeated Joshua Crane, Jr., of Boston in the first set by six games to two. Baerlein won the second and third sets and the British amateur title.

NASTY SCANDAL IN NORTHWESTERN'S TEAM

Chicago, May 6.—MacEmerson McCosh, captain of the Northwestern university baseball team, star of the football team last fall, was dismissed from the university yesterday by a unanimous vote of the faculty.

The action followed the dismissal of Coach Dennis Grady and was taken when an investigation by the faculty showed that both had knowledge that Roy M. Kisner and Abraham Schmidt, two dental school freshmen, were in the line-up under the names of Leo Rank and Eugene Schmidt in the game against the University of Minnesota a week ago.

"EXTRA" VICTIM ASKS POLICE AID

Was Indignant After Buying Copy of "The Telegram" Tuesday Night.

Some unsophisticated Dulukthian last evening purchased a Superior Telegram "extra," and after reading the headlines called up police headquarters and wanted to know if the police would not arrest the publishers and newsboys of that paper on a charge of selling something under false pretenses.

The "Extra" in question announced that "Huerta Declares War," and this man bought a paper, paying a nickel for the publication. He then called up Robert Donaldson, telephone operator at the central station, and asked if there was not some recourse in a case of this kind.

"I can't find a single thing about a war," said the indignant citizen over the telephone, "and I certainly hate to be robbed in this way. It isn't the nickel, but the principle of the thing. I would like to have the police arrest these men for selling something under false pretenses."

Donaldson said this morning that the man refused to give his name and also to come to headquarters and prosecute the publishers of the paper. So the matter was dropped, for the present, at least.

CITIZENS TAKE LAW IN OWN HANDS

Arrest One for Carrying Concealed Weapon; Another for Drunkenness.

Three Duluth citizens took the law in their own hands last night and arrested Matt Juhannah, alias Matt Johnson, 31 years old, on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, and Oscar Hannula, alias Oscar Nelson, 27 years old, on a charge of drunkenness.

Both Juhannah and Hannula were in the saloon at 1040 Garfield avenue last evening at about 10:30 o'clock, when the former, it is said, walked to the front of the saloon and pulling a revolver out of his pocket, fired into the floor. There was no warning given to the others in the room, but luckily no one was injured.

At this juncture Joseph Sayon, William Budd and Thomas McNabb, all residents of Garfield avenue, took the law into their on hands and catching Juhannah in front of the saloon, arrested him and his companion, Hannula. They held the two until the police arrived and took the pair to headquarters, where they were locked up for the night.

In police court this morning Juhannah pleaded guilty to the charge of carrying concealed weapons, and Judge Cutting deferred sentence until 2 o'clock this afternoon, when Hannula will be brought to trial on a charge of drunkenness. He pleaded not guilty when brought in police court this morning.

MAY SUE CHISHOLM SALOON KEEPER.

For the purpose of bringing a cause of action against Frank Medvid, Chisholm saloonkeeper, and his bondsmen, the American Surety company, for the alleged illegal sale of liquor which is claimed to have caused the intoxication and death of her husband, Mary Dolinar, 34, a resident of Austria, through her attorney, today petitioned the probate court to issue letters of administration to Louis Belaj of Virginia.

Belaj holds a power of attorney from the widow and will represent her interest in litigation which may follow in the district court. The exact nature of the suit against the Chisholm saloon keeper and his sureties is not disclosed. Egidy Dolinar, whose estate is being probated, died Oct. 13, 1912.

SENATORS TALK OF SAFETY AT SEA.

Washington, May 6.—The senate foreign relations committee today began consideration of the convention adopted by the recent London conference on safety of life at sea, but after two hours' discussion failed to reach a conclusion, and decided to postpone any attempt to act until next week. The main point in discussion was the requirement for lifeboats on passenger vessels.

A SURE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

Stops Falling Hair and Itching Scalp—At Once.

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need) apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.

Amusements

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—"Human Hearts."

Amusement Notes.

That any two persons may become proficient in "mind reading" or "thought transference" is the claim of Prof. Zancig, who with his wife is amazing Orpheum audiences this week. "Practice" is the recipe. Here is what Prof. Zancig says about it:

"Thousands of times we have been questioned about our mysterious power: 'How did you discover that you had it?' 'What first induced you to use it?' etc., etc. Well, we will tell you. We discovered that we had it by noticing something that many of you must also have noticed, for it frequently happens among friends. Have you never remarked that two of you will sometimes ask the same question, or speak the same thing, at the same moment? My wife and myself have had this experience. The recipe for developing this faculty is short and simple—'practice.' A pianist or a violinist, for instance, must devote hours upon hours to daily practice or his ambition may end in smoke. There are thousands of pianists and violinists, but the Paderewskis and the Paganinis are not so plentiful. You know the old adage: 'Practice makes the master,' and practice is the secret of our success. It has so attuned our mental chords that we can now transmit to each other all our thoughts and all the pictures that may be mirrored on our minds. You now have the secret—the key to the mystery that has so puzzled the testers and tangled the wits of the scientists."

"Human Hearts" will close its engagement at the Empress tonight with the two performances. This play has many novel features. It teaches while it entertains. The moral of "Truth will out" is plainly demonstrated in this exciting story of the rugged people in the Arkansas hills. The comedy situations are many and offer ample opportunity for rich and witty lines. The Sherman company is presenting the piece in a very able manner.

For the last half of this week the Empress has booked a four-act vaudeville bill and three reels of pictures. Heading the bill is Walter Terry and his Fiji Girls in the riotous comedy of song and dance "Cannibal Isle." Walter Terry is said to be a very capable comedian, while the girls can sing and dance. Thompson and Berry will offer a singing and talking sketch of big time proportions, while Rand's Musical Dogs will entertain with their tricks and difficult feats, and Al Abbott, billed as "The Prince of Song," will be the fourth act. The two-reel subject feature film, "The Silent Witness," will round out the program.

Theater-goers are awaiting the coming of Don Clark, Duluth's own comedian. Don Clark, known throughout Duluth, will be seen at the Empress next Sunday at the head of his own company in the musical comedy sensation, "At Saratoga Springs," which he has produced, staged and is now managing. Mr. Clark claims "At Saratoga Springs" is one of the best "whirly-girly" shows now playing the Empress circuit.

THE BIGGEST INDUSTRY OF ITS KIND IN THE WORLD

Everybody knows about Ivory Soap, but very few people realize what a tremendous demand there is for it from coast to coast and even in all other parts of the world.

The original factory at Ivorydale, a suburb of Cincinnati, has grown until it is a town of itself. There is building after building, oil tanks without number, interlacing railroad tracks, great freight trains departing with case after case of Ivory, other trains of tank cars unloading their contents day and night. Indeed one needs but a bird's eye view of this great plant to realize that here is one of the world's giant industries.

But it is hard to believe that two other plants of equal magnitude are needed to supply the demand for this company's product. That is the truth of the matter, however. At Kansas City and at Port Ivory, New York, are factories that are equally impressive, and, like the Ivorydale plant, they are taxed to their capacities to supply the trade in the territory which looks to them for Ivory Soap.

To paraphrase Lincoln's saying, a good product like Ivory Soap seems to please not only some of the people all the time and all of the people some of the time, but all the people all the time.

TELLS ABOUT JUNGLE TRIP

Col. Roosevelt Gives Brief Account of His Experiences.

Says Kermit Was Nearly Drowned in an Accident.

Para, Brazil, May 6.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, in an interview with the Associated Press on board the steamer Dunstan, on which he arrived yesterday from Manaos, gave many interesting details of his exploring trip through the wilds of Brazil. He said:

"The expedition has proved a signal success. It was undertaken originally for the American Museum of Natural History.

"During our trip George K. Cherry and Leo C. Miller, the naturalists, collected over 2,100 birds and mammals and a few reptiles, batrachians and fish, chiefly from regions not hitherto traversed by any collector, and many representing species hitherto unknown to science.

"The most important part of our trip was geographical. In the exploration of an unknown river we have put on the map a river nearly 1,000 miles long, the existence of which is not hinted at in published maps.

New River on Map.

"The upper part of its course was utterly unknown to anybody except the wild Indians along its banks, while the lower part was known to a few rubber men only. The river takes its rise in the high uplands of the western part of the state of Matto Grosso, just north of the thirteenth parallel of south latitude and between longitude 59 and 60 west of Greenwich.

"We embarked in latitude 12 deg. 1 min. south and longitude 60 deg. 15 min. west. We were sixty days in canoes.

"In latitude 10 deg. 58 min. south we struck the mouth of a big affluent flowing from the right, and in latitude 9 deg. 49 min. south we came to the mouth of another big affluent flowing from the left.

"The Duvida river, in point of volume, is like the Rhone and Elbe or the Hudson, but is too much broken up by rapids to be navigable except in the lower parts.

Kermit Nearly Drowned.

"We were, during six weeks, at steady labor slogging our way, on an average making not more than a couple of miles a day. The last part of this time we were living on half rations.

"Of the seven canoes with which we started, five were lost in the rapids. One of our men was drowned and two others, including Kermit, narrowly escaped death by drowning.

"Under the strain one man went mad. He finally murdered one of his comrades and fled into the wilderness.

"We saw no Indians, but twice heard them. While Col. Rondon, the chief of the Brazilian mission, was out hunting alone his dog was killed by arrows. The dog's death probably saved Col. Rondon's life.

"I had a severe bout of fever, and while working around a canoe in the rapids bruised my leg, which developed into a bad abscess; but I am now practically all right."

FRANK'S LAWYERS DENY STATE CHARGE.

Atlanta, Ga., May 6.—Denial of the state's charge that improper means had been used in obtaining evidence tending to show that Leo M. Frank, the factory superintendent, was innocent of the murder of 14-year-old Mary Phagan, was made by counsel for the defendant at a hearing in superior court on an extraordinary motion for a new trial for Frank.

The state introduced an affidavit by Anna Carter, a negro woman, charging that the woman was asked to put poison in the food of James Conley, the negro factory sweeper. The woman and Conley were fellow prisoners in the county jail. Conley was the chief witness against Frank and was convicted as an accessory.

TWO LEADERS LIVING.

Gen. Sickles Not Last of Civil War High Officers.

Washington, May 6.—The death of Gen. Daniel Sickles does not take the last of the corps commanders of the Civil war. There are two others living, Maj. Gen. Granville M. Dodge of Council Bluffs, Iowa, and Maj. Gen. Peter Osterhuuse, who returned to Germany many years ago, where he is now living, past 90 years of age. The old general was a visitor in Milwaukee twelve years ago. It was during his stay in this country at that time that congress enabled President McKinley to place the gallant old general upon the retired list of the regular army as a brigadier general.

FINLEY IS FINED.

Ohio Democratic Leader Admits Breaking Civil Service Law.

Columbus, Ohio, May 6.—William L. Finley, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, pleaded guilty in criminal court late yesterday to an indictment charging violation of the new state civil service law and was fined $50 and costs.

On the recommendation of Prosecutor E. C. Turner of Franklin county, who said the purpose of the prosecution had been served, similar indictments against Emery W. Lattanner, state superintendent of banks, A. V. Abernethy, secretary of the state tax commission, and M. A. Goller, chief clerk in the state banking department, were nolled.

The indictments, which were returned a few weeks ago, grew out of charges that Democratic state officials and politicians had solicited funds from civil service employes for the maintenance of the Democratic state press bureau.

SAYS ASQUITH MET LAW AND CARSON.

London, May 6.—Premier Asquith, according to the Daily Mail, conferred with Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition in the house of commons, and Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, yesterday, with the object of initiating negotiations concerning a compromise on the question of home rule for Ireland.

CRUCIFIED 250 MOHAMMEDANS.

Durazzo, Albania, May 6.—Two hundred and fifty Mohammedan Albanians, captured by the Epirote invaders at Harmova, were crucified in the Orthodox church at Kodra, according to information received by the Albanian government. The Epirotes are said to have set fire to the church afterward and allowed the bodies to burn.

Woman's Realm

Cloquet, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—At this morning's meeting of the Federation of Women's clubs of the Eighth Congressional district, held at Cloquet, Mrs. Peter Olesen of Cloquet, was elected district president, and Mrs. P. A. Gill of Virginia, district secretary and treasurer. The next district meeting of the federation will be held at Chisholm next year.

Resolutions were passed thanking Cloquet for the hospitality extended to the visitors and thanking the domestic science department of the Cloquet high school for the luncheon served the delegates and other visiting club women yesterday.

Resolutions were also passed indorsing medical inspection in schools and favoring a city and county hospital for Duluth and a county hospital for the range district.

Miss Marguerite Culkin of Duluth, read a paper on "Social Center Work in the Small City." After the reading of Miss Culkin's paper, Mrs. Olesen said if money makes social center work possible the range should lead in that activity in the state, because of the great wealth of the range school districts.

Mrs. E. N. Simons of Virginia ,spoke on "Making Homes Social Centers for Boys and Girls."

There was a nexhibition of baby garments made from old garments by the wife of a homesteader near Big Falls, Minn. This woman walks two miles to attend meetings of the mothers' club.

Tuesday's Session.

Yesterday's session was a most successful one. There were about seventy visitors and guests in attendance in addition to the Cloquet women present.

Mrs. Olesen, the vice president of the Eighth district, expressed herself as delighted with the large delegation that came from Duluth and the range towns. The utmost cordiality and good spirit were shown and the Cloquet women extended every imaginable courtesy to their guests.

The luncheon, which was served to 100 women at the domestic science room at the high school, was most dainty in every way. Many of the women could not believe that girls of high school age could prepare such delicious food. This luncheon was served under the direction of Miss Clara A. Clausen, domestic science teacher in the Cloquet schools. The tables were tastily decorated. There was no hurry or confusion in serving and the 100 women were served as easily as one might imagine twenty or thirty would be served.

The program was replete with good things. The meeting was called to order by the vice president of the district, Mrs. Olesen. The words of welcome were given by Mrs. Sheean of Cloquet; the invocation by Rev. C. W. Ramshaw.

Mrs. Austin of Chisholm responded to the invitation and asked for the Eighth district meeting in the spring of 1915. This invitation was referred to the business section and was taken up this morning.

Mrs. De Voist of Duluth spoke on state work, outlining somewhat the work of the state committees.

Mrs. Atwood, state president of women's clubs, gave a most interesting address, and outlined a great work which the women of the State Federation should follow out.

Modesty in Dress.

She told them to be modest in matters of dress, to work for a big community spirit, with all interested in the welfare of every citizen, and showed how the community spirit which unites all people of the community, is growing more and more in the United States.

Mrs. Atwood has a most attractive personality and combines a spirit of leadership with womanly refinement.

Mrs. MacMillan of Hibbing gave one of the most interesting talks that was given on "Medical Inspection of Schools," and pointed out clearly the need of medical inspection in every school. She spoke of the good work that is being done in Hibbing and Cloquet along the lines of medical inspection. Mrs. Havens of Cloquet made a hit at the convention with her paper, "The Child's Birthright," and brought very clearly before the women the importance of every child being well born.

Miss King of Duluth spoke on "Child Conservation." Her motto was "an ounce of prevention is worth more than a pound of cure," and urged the doing away with all influences that make for the destruction of youth.

Miss Fauley gave a vocal solo which was much appreciated.

Mrs. McCarthy of Grand Rapids gave her time to Mrs. O'Donnel of Duluth, who was to have appeared on Wednesday's program, but could not be in Cloquet on that day. Mrs. McCarthy took Mrs. O'Donnell's place today and gave her talk on "County Sanitarums." Miss Agnes Peterson, head of the women's and children's bureau of the state department of labor, spoke on "Child Labor and Delinquency." Miss Peterson's paper was much appreciated and very helpful to the club women.

Miss Stearns of the state library commission spoke for a few minutes to the club women, representing the state library commission.

Some folk dances were put on by the children of the Cloquet schools, which were much appreciated by the visitors.

The resolution committee, appointed by Mrs. Olesen, consisted of Mrs. Culbertson, Duluth, chairman; Mrs. Lamont, Virginia; Mrs. Abrahamson, Hill City; Mrs. Lerch, Hibbing, and Mrs. Brocklehurst of Duluth. The credential committee: Mrs. Canfield, Cloquet, chairman; Mrs. Whitman, Eveleth, and Mrs. Merritt, Duluth.

The hostesses and guests are as follows:

Mrs. S. L. Coy, hostess; Prof. J. H. Gray, University of Minnesota; Mrs. J. T. Culbertson, Duluth.

Mrs. W. G. Dolan, hostess; Mrs. C. C. McCarthy, Grand Rapids; Mrs. W. G. Peach, Grand Rapids.

"UNCLE JOE'S" NIECE IS DANGER AT FRENCH LICK SPRINGS HOTEL

MILDRED CANNON.

Mildred Cannon is the pretty niece of "Uncle Joe" Cannon, the 78-year-old veteran of congress, who has just sailed for Bermuda. Before taking ship, "Uncle Joe" said that he proposed to tango all the way to Hamilton. It is to be seen by this that Mildred Cannon has come naturally by her taste for dancing and it is not surprising that she is a professional dancer now at the big hotel at French Lick Springs. It was reported recently that her father strongly disapproved of her choice of a profession. Her mother is with her at French Lick Springs.

COUNCIL OF WOMEN MEETS

Attempts Are Made to Depose Its President, the Countess of Aberdeen.

Rome, May 6.—The second day's meeting of the International Council of Women, now being held in Rome under the presidency of the Countess of Aberdeen, developed an effort to depose the countess from this position, which she has held for twenty years.

Mrs. May Wright Sewall, an American delegate from Maine, distributed to the delegates a book entitled "The Genesis of the International Council of Women," which was the subject of heated discussion at the morning session. The purpose of the book, it was declared, was to bring about the removal of the countess from the presidency of the organization.

Mrs. Sewall is at the head of a faction favoring "rotation" in the presidency. She maintains that the principle of the organization cannot be international if one nationality always is represented in the chief office. She declares that twenty years under the countess of Aberdeen gradually has transferred the international council into a purely English organization.

The countess did not refer to this factional disturbance in her inaugural address. She laid particular emphasis on the impetus obtained by the woman's movement throughout the world.

"Women," said the countess, "being true to the Golden Rule, comprehend the needs of humanity better than men. The wider interpretation of the Golden Rule means that charity, instead of limiting its activity to the giving of alms, should undertake the prevention of crime, pauperism and degeneracy, and the raising of the submerged classes to a condition of safe respect.

"The care of the sick should go beyond present day limitations, and enter the field of preventing disease and promoting the health of body, mind and soul. Especial stress should be laid on the duty of parents. Children have a right to be well. If disease, crime, ignorance and vicious indulgence operate against their good health, the parents must be educated to a higher conception of their obligations.

"The sessions of the council held in America will be ever memorable to those who experienced the warmth of the reception by their sisters on the American continent. The American meetings gave us all a new understanding of the real significance of the International Council of Women."

ADOPTING A "GRANDMOTHER"

Chicagoans Evolve New Plan of Solving the Domestic Help Problem, and It Works Well.

"Excuse me," said the clerk, butting into the conversation recklessly. "Excuse me, but would you mind if I asked you if I heard that statement right?"

"Certainly. What statement?" asked the taller Chicagoan who was standing in the lobby talking with a Windy City acquaintance whom he had happened to meet in a Duluth hotel.

"Why—er—," the clerk stammered. "I—I thought I heard you say that your grandmother had left you—"

"Yes, I did," admitted the guest.

"And that you had got to get another," finished the clerk desperately.

"Yes, I did," repeated the guest. "What about it?"

"Nothing, only—it's got me!" confessed the clerk in a dazed fashion.

"Not at all," the guest replied while his companion grinned broadly. "It's nothing to wonder at. It just happens to be one of the misfortunes of life."

"But—another?" queried the clerk.

Then the Chicagoan explained.

"You see," he said, "adopting a grandmother' is a common thing in Chicago nowadays, and it's really a very good practice. For instance, supposing Jones' wife needs some help with the housework, but Jones' salary isn't such that he can afford to pay a maid. What is Mrs. Jones to do? Until recently she was obliged to overwork every day until she got too sick to do any work at all. Then Jones mortgaged his life insurance to hire a doctor and a nurse and a maid, and in a few weeks, if they were lucky, Mrs. Jones was ready to begin all over again. And so on for year after year.

"Now they do it differently. Jones puts an advertisement in the paper: 'Wanted—To adopt a grandmother,' and gives his address and any other particulars he cares to. Some woman, usually a widow but not always, who has some small means but not enough to support her and who isn't strong enough or hasn't the training to earn a regular wage—such a woman answers the advertisement, and she and Mrs. Jones meet and talk the thing over. Then, if they manage to agree, the Joneses 'adopt' this woman into the family as a 'grandmother.' She helps with the housework and stays with the children some times when Mrs. Jones wants to go out for an afternoon or evening.

"The 'grandmother's' work of course is light, for she gets no pay for it except her room and board. But she is treated as one of the family and is thus given a pleasant home and still has her little income, whatever it may be, for her own personal use. Our 'grandmother' who has just left us has been with us three years a half, and we were sorry to lose her. The reason, she is leaving is that she has been called to Oregon by a sister whose husband died recently. She was a very likable woman, about 50 or 55 years old, and she seemed to enjoy being with us.

"Oh, yes, there are a good many families in Chicago that have 'adopted grandmothers.' It is a splendid arrangement for both sides, and the system is taking hold remarkably fast."

LINNAEA SOCIETY.

Members Have Aided Many Sufferers From Tuberculosis.

At the annual meeting of the Linnaea society held yesterday the following officers were elected: Mrs. O. Gafvert, president; Mrs. George Brown, first vice president; Mrs. A. Broman, second vice president; Mrs. Hugo Swenson, secretary; Mrs. Charles Ehling, treasurer; Mrs. A. F. Fredin, financial secretary; Mrs. I. Bergstrom, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Harold Fegraeus, the secretary, reported that the society had assisted a score of persons by giving food, clothing, sick room necessities and financial support. It has also paid for the maintenance of tuberculosis sufferers at Nopeming and at their homes. For six months a monthly donation was made for two widows, one with six children, the other with four.

At present there are sixty-six paid up memberships in the society and there is a baalnce in the treasury of $581.41.

The hospital visiting committee has made several visits to the tuberculosis hospital at the county farm and to Nopeming. They reported on conditions to the society and to the Woman's council, being asked by that body to take charge of this part of the work.

The flower committee sent flowers to the tuberculosis hospital at Christmas and Easter, to patients in their own homes and to members of the society when they were ill.

Plans for the annual tag day, May 16, were completed. The proceeds will be used for tuberculosis sufferers in the city.

The hostesses for the social meeting yesterday were Mrs. P. C. Smith, Mrs. Albert Swenson and Mrs. P. Sjoselius.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Many Fathers Show Too Little Interest in Children.

The changed status of the head of the family was dwelt upon recently with apparent regret that he was becoming less and less the father in his sense of authority in the home. The article intimated strongly that woman's greater equality with man was increasingly responsible for pater - familias' diminishing supremacy in the domestic sphere.

In homes where you do not hear the father's name mentioned except it is necessary, you may safely assume that he does not enter into their interests with the right spirit. But when you hear his name with frequency and easy freedom, then you can rest assured that he is a good father, and that he will never lack filial affection and respect.

The authority that some fathers have exercised, particularly in the past, has been that inspired by fear. Some people regret that this is passing, but I can't say that I do. I believe that respect for parents instilled through love and comradeship is better, and that if we cultivate this side of our relations with our children we shall have nothing to deplore in after years. The father in too many homes today constitutes either a stern tribune or an indifferent personality.

I know many fathers who never inquire into the pastimes of their children or attempt any friendly conversation with them. Probably they would tell you that they were intent upon making a living for their offspring. Perhaps they would pridefully point out that they made a very good home. Therefore, they had little time for companionship with their children.

Perhaps it isn't fair to fathers as a class to state that when they are thus separated from their children, they are content to have it so, but it looks that way in most cases. I have been sorry for some of these fathers in later years when with leisure to exercise more fatherly interests, reciprocity was impossible from the children.

But no one can live a lifetime one way and near the close expect to gather flowers of love and companionship, the seeds of which one has never sown. And so it is with the father who doesn't want to be bothered with his children or who is better pleased to have them stand in awe of him rather than in the relation of companions, united by sympathy and understanding.

FLAG DAY.

Red, White and Blue Society Will Raise Funds.

There will be a parade on Flag day of the Red, White and Blue society June 12. Forty-eight girls will represent the states in the Union, the names of the states being affixed to their red, white and blue sashes. It is possible the territories will be represented in the parade. A boy dressed as Uncle Sam and a girl dressed as Columbia will lead the line. Greysolon du Lhut, the explorer for whom the city was named, will be represented. A bandmaster has promised patriotic music for the occasion.

The members of the society will sell silk flags. The proceeds of the sale will be used to equip the children's ward of the proposed city and county hospital if that much needed institution becomes a reality. Mayor Prince has recognized the Red, White and Blue society's Flag day. The affair is under the direction of Mrs. Josef Lonegren.

NEW STEPS WILL BE PERMITTED

High School Faculty Approves of Modern Dances When Properly Executed.

If danced correctly, the new ballroom steps will be allowed at the Central high school dances in the future, according to an announcement made yesterday afternoon by Principal Leonard Young.

The announcement of the principal followed a conference held earlier in the afternoon by members of the faculty, who were present at the Sophomore class dance last Friday evening. At that time the Sophomores executed the new steps for the benefit of the teachers and their decision yesterday afternoon is significant of their unanimous approval of the latest ballroom steps. The teachers present at the conference were: Misses Margaret E. Taylor, Effie White, Agnes Merrill, Ethel Rockwood, Wilhelmina Case, Dwight Heistand and Principal Young.

Principal Young said yesterday afternoon that the new steps will be allowed at the class dance next Friday evening, when members of the faculty will see that no objectional features are introduced. If the students dance them properly, the head of Central high school declared that no objection would be raised again by members of the faculty.

POLITICS AND THE JUDICIARY.

The fact that in this year's primary and general elections there is a vacancy to be filled on the supreme bench of the state, and three to be filled on the local district bench, makes it timely to remark that Minnesota has never done anything finer or more progressive than to take its judgeships out of politics.

Both supreme court and district court judgeship candidacies, thanks to this enlightened wisdom, are thus placed beyong the reach of sordid partisanship so far as the election machinery goes; and it should be the pride and duty of every citizen to see that they are kept out of its reach in practice.

Whether a candidate for a place on the supreme or district bench belongs to this party or that, is affiliated with this party faction or another, or belongs to or is affiliated with no party or faction at all, are matters that ought not to count at all in the minds of the voters—excepting as candidates themselves, by seeking to make partisanship a vehicle to carry them into office, may invite the rebuke of defeat.

Theoretically, judgeships and partisan politics are absolutely divorced in Minnesota. It should be so actually as well as theoretically; and we believe that it is so and will remain so.

Legislator Teasdale of Wisconsin says Racine is so clean it needs no vice investigation. One would think the committee would like to go there for a change.

"TAINTED MONEY" AGAIN.

Do dollars acquire beneficence or malignity according to the methods by which their possessors gained them?

The senate is agitated over that question, which has been raised and discussed from time to time but never settled.

A fight has been launched in the senate against permitting the use of Rockefeller money to aid in farm demonstration and boll weevil extermination work. Mr. Rockefeller's general education board is now contributing pretty liberally to the support of six hundred government employes engaged in this work, and the plan is to increase the government appropriations so that Rockefeller will no longer have to chip in.

That's rather a good idea, anyway. It's much better, as a general proposition, to have the public handle its own business. It isn't comfortable to have individuals so much better equipped financially than government, and it's rather uncertain business, having to depend on private generosity for libraries and boll weevil fighting and the like.

Still, some private individuals ARE better furnished financially than government. They have the money, and while it was a great mistake to let so much of the nation's substance become congested in a few hands, maybe it is well enough to scatter some of it by putting it to public uses.

It would be more soundly satisfactory to the public, however, if this money were taken less as a charity and more as a due. A complacent public and a supine government let the Rockefellers and Carnegies corner money, and it is in no sense a charity when they return some of it in this way. They OWE it—and they owe a great deal more than they are paying.

If pretty stiff inheritance taxes, that would take away from the superrich all but a reasonable amount, were applied, and the tax money spent in building libraries and fighting boll weevils and such, the public could keep its self-respect to better advantage than it can when it is pestered with the generosity of very rich men who like to have the people on terms of patronage.

Some of the senators were pretty severe. Senator Lane said that the money of John D. Rockefeller was "covered with the blood and tears of women and children shot down in the Colorado strike." That's a terrible accusation. And if we were Mr. Rockefeller we should feel dreadfully uneasy that there is so much to it. Of course Mr. Rockefeller didn't order the militia and mine guards to fire on the tent colony when women and children were killed. Yet those who did the shooting of women and children, according to the judgment of a coroner's jury, WERE DOING MR. ROCKEFELLER'S SERVICE when they fired.

If money can become tainted, this money must be pretty mussy, and about as distasteful as money can get to be.

On the whole, we suspect that money itself can neither be tainted nor holy. Any given dollar doubtless has passed through all kinds of hands, and been tainted and redeemed, redeemed and tainted, over and over again. There can hardly be any dollar that has not been in unworthy hands. But, too, there can hardly be any dollar that has not also been in very good hands; though this not so certain as the other.

The question of tainted money is not so important as the question of public respect that is involved in having Mr. Rockefeller do for the public as a charity what the public ought to be doing for itself as a routine of duty.

That Billard company man who forgot all about having signed a check for three million dollars is likely to have some trouble to find many sympathizers.

THE ST. PAUL ELECTION.

St. Paul had its first election under the commission plan of government yesterday, and what happened reminds us of a story.

When Senator Work's bill authorizing Minnesota cities to adopt the commission plan was before the senate, one of the St. Paul senators is said to have dropped in on Richard T. O'Connor, "The Cardinal," to ask his advice.

"Tell it to me," said O'Connor.

And the senator related that the plan was to put a small commission in place of the old system of a mayor and a large council.

"D-d-do you elect 'em?" asked the Cardinal.

"Yes," said the senator.

"Then g-g-go to it," was the O'Connor's laconic reply. So St. Paul's vote was cast for the commission plan bill, which became a law.

If the argument of the opposition that Winn Powers was the O'Connor candidate for mayor was true, then yesterday's election fully justified the Cardinal's confidence, for Mr. Powers was elected mayor over Louis Nash pretty easily, despite the fact that the latter had the support of all the newspapers and all the "uplift" organizations.

Whether or not the charge that St. Paul is governed by the O'Connor organization is true we cannot profess to know; but on the whole, with occasional bad exceptions, St. Paul is pretty well governed. Mr. Powers seems to be rather a capable sort, and probably will give St. Paul a creditable administration. At any rate, he will give it the kind of administration it voted for and wants.

In case of a pinch, some of those men who have returned from the Balkan wars ought to make reasonably good army material.

THIRTY-TWO WORDS.

The bill for the repeal of the canal tolls exemption has been amended by the senate committee. The following sentence has been added to it:

> Provided, that neither the passage of this act, nor anything therein contained, shall be construed or held as waiving, impairing, or affecting any treaty or other right possessed by the United States.

As the bill contains nothing "waiving, impairing or otherwise affecting" any right possessed by the United States, the chief and only effect of this amendment is to add thirty-two words to the measure.

As words are inexpensive, we can afford this if it salves the supersensitive consciences of any of the senators.

The Soo canal having carried more than three times as much tonnage last year as the Suez canal, philologists may feel justified in regarding the ending "ez" as another diminutive.

THE NEW ORDER OF THINGS.

Yesterday bills proposing constitutional amendments for woman suffrage and national prohibition were reported out of the house committee and are therefore now before congress for action.

Very likely neither of these measures will pass, at this session at any rate; but yesterday's action is very important nevertheless, because it illustrates the new order of things in congress and emphasizes the change that has come about.

It is very embarrassing to pretty nearly every member of congress to have those bills on the calendar. That means that in all probability they will come up for a vote, and so every congressman will have to go on record. And then it will be a case of "damned if they do and damned if they don't." If they vote against national prohibition, for instance, the anti-saloon forces will declare the brewers bought them. If they vote for national prohibition, the liquor interests and a great many besides will declare either that they are harebrained cranks or weaklings whom cranks lead by the nose.

Most congressmen would be grateful if such measures could be quietly smothered in committee.

And that's the way it used to be done, in the good old days of Cannon and Payne.

Now, in these piping times of Democratic control, every important measure is entitled to and gets its day in court. Such matters are passed upon, and record votes taken, in the full light of day.

And that is the way it ought to be. It's the democratic way, the only safe way if government is really to be popular.

Mayo and Funston are mighty eager for action. More thoughtful people are thinking more of the aftermath—of the shadow cast by military glory.

A War Every Three Years

Kansas City Star: In spite of the progress of civilization man remains a fighting animal. Peace societies begin to think they are making progress toward taming his instincts, and they are confronted by another war. Here is a partial list of the wars of the Northern hemisphere in the last sixty years, exclusive of the minor revolts in Northern South America, in Central America and the West Indies and in Africa:

Crimean war, 1854-6.
Sepoy mutiny, 1857.
Italy and France against Austria, 1859.
Civil war in America, 1860-5.
Mexico invaded by Austria and allies, 1861-7.
Prussia and Austria against Denmark, 1864.
Seven Weeks war, Austro-Prussian, 1866.
Franco-Prussian, 1870.
Russo-Turkish, 1877-8.
Servo-Bulgarian, 1885.
Japanese-Chinese, 1894-5.
Greco-Turkish, 1897.
Spanish-American, 1898.
Filipino-American, 1899.
China against the allies, 1900.
Boer war, 1899-1902.
Russo-Japanese, 1904.
Balkan states against Turkey, 1912.
Balkan states against Bulgaria, 1913.
Mexican war, 1914.

This, as has been said, is only a partial list. England has had several small wars, including the important conquest of the Sudan, which are not included, and there have been numerous minor disturbances of one sort and another. But the list includes twenty fair-sized wars, or one every three years.

There has been no falling off in recent years. Take the last two decades, for instance, and there have been ten wars, one every two years.

Perhaps there is some encouraging lesson for the peace societies to be drawn from this fairly bloody record. Perhaps it means that wars are vanishing from the earth. But it would take a pretty incorrigible optimist to read this prediction in the history of the last half century.

Apparently the world isn't going to be able to get on for some time to come without fighting.

The Poet Priest Sings of "Peg."

Kansas City Star: Father Tierney, the "poet priest" of Trenton, Mo., after coming to Kansas City to see "Peg o' My Heart," writes the following letter and poem to The Star:

"Peg o' My Heart" is fresh in the minds of the good people of Kansas City. May I offer you a little Irish love lyric, a song of the Gael which throbs with love and sweetness and commemorates "Peg o' My Heart?"

PEG O' MY HEART.

There's joy in the heart of me,
Peg o' my heart,
'Tis the rale Irish part of me,
Peg o' my heart;
Night, sweet with dreams of thee,
Day's music seems of thee,
The moon tells her beams of thee,
Peg o' my heart.

Love for thee sings of thee,
Peg o' my heart,
Prayers of thee strengthen me,
Peg o' my heart;
None takes the place of thee,
Dreams of the face of thee,
Waken God's grace in me,
Peg o' my heart.

God save thee, soul of me,
Peg o' my heart,
Blood of the pulse of me,
Peg o' my heart;
God's mirrored trinity,
Faith, hope, divinity,
Throb in the soul of me,
Peg o' my heart.

Love for thee blesses me,
Peg o' my heart,
Smiles of thee, tears of thee,
Peg o' my heart,
Bring me so near to thee,
Binding thee, dear, to me,
Closer each year to thee,
Peg o' my heart.

I, too, am a child with thee,
Peg o' my heart,
God has been mild with me,
Peg o' my heart;
The birds' sweetest melody
Chimes with the knell o' thee
Hours while I tell of thee,
Peg o' my heart.

Sound Manhood Wanted.

Washington Star: The army, navy and marine corps standard of physical manhood is one to which comparatively few Americans measure up. This fact should turn people's minds to the question of good, wholesome living, which means clean eating and plenty of clean exercise. Because of the martial uproar recruiting offices of the army and navy have been besieged by applicants for an enlistment. It is reported that at a recruiting office in New York city one day last week 200 applicants were given physical examinations and of these only twenty-five were enlisted. There are two ways of considering this condition. One is that the military physical standard is very high and the other that the general physical average is very low. The truth lies between these extremes. However, there is in it a hint that boys should take such care of themselves that they shall grow up into sound and strong men, and that men should take such care of themselves as to preserve their strength and vigor.

Bad Associations.

Puck: Willis (in the cemetery)—This can't be Hardupp's grave. The inscription reads "Mrs. Hardupp."

Gillis—Yes, you see he had his tombstone, like his other things, put in his wife's name.

Exaggerated Eco.

Chicago News: When a female lecturer gets off that old saw about an honest man being the noblest work of God, every man in the audience imagines that he is blushing.

What the Consumer Pays

Editorial in the Indianapolis News.

That the producer receives only a small part of the price which the consumer pays is made apparent in a review of the milk situation. According to government statistics, the average price which the dairyman received in 1912 for each quart of milk was 3.565 cents. The average price which the consumer paid for each quart of milk was 8.5 cents. The difference went to the middlemen. A study of the statistics shows that milk is cheapest in the Central Western cities, among them being Indianapolis. In this city we pay 8 cents or more for a quart of milk. In Milwaukee the price is only 7 cents, and in St. Paul it is 7.75 cents. The price of milk is highest in the Southern cities, ranging from 10 cents a quart in New Orleans, Birmingham and Galveston to 12.5 cents in Jacksonville. Western cities pay as high as 10 cents; none pays lower than 8.33. The New York price is 9 cents, and in Pittsburg and Richmond the price is 10 cents.

The difference in the price of eggs and butter, meat, potatoes, fruits and vegetables is in many cases more noticeable. Cost of production has not risen so high, proportionately, as cost of distribution. It is the repetition of shipment, the number of dealers, the addition of commissions that count. A movement already is reported under way to increase the retail price of ice. The furnace fires have barely cooled, and frosty weather is still possible, but this makes no difference to the ice retailer. Before the summer prices of coal are announced the ice retailer feels it necessary to prepare for an advance on the last year's price of 30 cents a hundred pounds. Has the cost of ice increased to such a degree as to make this advance necessary? Has there been no improvement in ice manufacturing systems, as there has in the manufacture of gas, electricity, etc? Or was last winter, which saw an abundance of ice, too "mild?"

Plainly, there is an "unspoken" conspiracy ever present to make the consumer pay all the costs and commissions, too. In New York recently one of the milk companies announced that the price paid to producers would be cut on account of "possible tariff invasions." Yet the price to the consumer was not reduced proportionately. The milk company officials said that the cut was "too small for the consumer to consider." We suppose that the consumer ought to be grateful, in this instance, that the retail price was not increased. The whole question comes back to the subject of wholesale terminal markets and improved transportation systems. In a complex civilization middlemen are necessary. But unjust commissions, delays and other losses can be reduced. Not until energetic efforts are made to improve the marketing and carrying systems will the consumer and producer find price conditions fair.

Detachment and Fitness

Des Moines Register and Leader: In this modern age it is common to emphasize extravagantly the necessity for contact with the world, the desirability for social intercourse, the demand for the person who knows how to "mix." Such a capacity for human contact is certainly valuable. Its need is forced upon us daily by the growing complexity of our material world.

But there is such a thing as overdoing this brilliant social versatility, this response to the call for constant association, this absorbing of ourselves into the more or less superficial life about us. To be sure, no one can deny the call of comradeship, of friends and charity and actual, perhaps daily, encounter with the world of men and women.

Yet along with our continual giving and taking with those about us should come a large measure of inspirational supply from the forces within ourselves. If this is not true, we become in a degree mere echoes of the things we see and hear. We lack the personal balance, the original deduction, the individual point of view.

So for the best efficency a certain amount of detachment seems desirable. For the process of selection which makes one life significant in itself, there must be occasional rest and recuperation from the continual siege of social demands. It is a delicate balance, a matter of personal choice, but somehow this grace for resuscitation should be acquired.

Some men seem able to reach individual standards in the rush of perpetual activity, but for the most part the one who stands out from the crowd, who has the mark of original thought and feeling upon him, has learned to shut out a few of the distracting influences, has simplified and clarified his habits so that he has a chance for independent reactions and conceptions. Not the detachment that means moody withdrawal or indolent ease, but that which stands for occasional inner concentration makes for the sanest efficiency and fitness.

What Made Them Do It?

Kansas City Star: Back of the fighting in Colorado there are conditions of privation and suffering on the part of several thousand men, women and children. The act of striking, of quitting work, meant living in tents on wind-swept mountain sides with not enough to eat. As George Creel asks pertinently, "What made them do it?" It is idle to say or think that "cussedness," or a desire to "loaf," or imagined grievances lead great groups of men and women to impose suffering upon themselves and their children.

"What made them do it?"

It is remarkable that we have not yet made any sort of adequate provision either for answering that question or for controlling conditions so that they will not need to "do it."

In spite of what Mr. Roosevelt induced or forced the owners in the anthracite district to agree to, the owners in the Colorado district take now the same position precisely that the anthracite owners took before Mr. Roosevelt induced or forced them to take a different attitude.

Mr. Rockefeller, Jr., has a perfect legal right to stand pat and let the frightful violence and anarchy go on. Well, then, where does the fault lie? With Rockefeller, or with the legal right? What is the use of finding fault with Mr. Rockefeller? Why should we leave such questions as the Colorado situation presents to the "conscience" or point of view of one man or group of men? Why not turn attention to the legal right, which does not rest with Mr. Rockefeller, but with society?

Voice of the Consumer.

Youth's Companion: The attorney for the gas company was making a popular address.

"Think of the good the gas company has done!" he cried. "If I were permitted a pun, I would say, in the words of the immortal poet: 'Honor the Light Brigade.'"

Voice of a consumer from the audience: "Oh, what a charge they made."

The New Volunteer Army Law

Editorial in the Springfield Republican.

A long step toward military efficiency is taken in the enactment of the volunteer army law, which was signed by the president on Saturday. The house passed it early in the winter, and at that time, when hostilities in Mexico seemed by no means imminent, the Republican indorsed the measure as a necessary military reform too long delayed. What it accomplishes is the working co-ordination of regulars and volunteers in time of war on a modern basis. And volunteers always have and probably always will furnish by far the largest numerical ingredient in the armies of the United States during hostilities.

The Spanish war brought about decided improvements in the country's military system. This new law remedies especially the defects with which the independent militia of the several states have burdened a national mobilization. A state militia cannot be used in foreign territory; it has officers of its own; it has a term of enlistment of its own. But the militia is the only military body in the United States, aside from the regular army. The new law provides for the wholesale enlistment of militia in the Federal service; a whole militia regiment can volunteer in a body, and, in volunteering, militiamen will enlist for three years or until peace is declared. Once in the Federal service, a volunteer regiment will maintain its existence and its ranks will be continually recruited in the field from recruit depots to make up its losses. This reform is most excellent, since it will remedy the serious military evil of the sudden disappearance of whole regiments from the army at the end of the term of enlistment, often a short term—an experience so familiar in the Civil war. In the Mexican war of 1848, Gen. Scott lost several thousands of soldiers while on his march from Vera Cruz to Mexico City from this very cause.

The militia regiments once in the Federal service will now also be under the Federal control in respect to officers. The president's power will be absolute to appoint new officers, displacing old ones originally appointed by the governors of states, although the understanding is that no officers coming from the militia with the volunteer regiments will be superseded except for inefficiency. Provision is made for the easy passage of regular army officers to the highest places in command of volunteers, and thus that old scandal of "political generals," so notorious in American military history, should be minimized, if not wholly eliminated.

There are many improvements in detail effected by the new law, and one of these changes still to be noted is the repeal of the old requirement that no volunteers in a state should be called for until all of the state militia has gone to the front. Hereafter, volunteers may be recruited for any arm of the state militia as it is depleted by the passage of organizations into Federal service. It is expected that the new law will prevent the payment of bounties, as it will certainly do away with the short-term service evil, and drafting should be rendered far less probable when long term enlistments by a large number of men are made advisable at the beginning of trouble.

Volunteer regiments other than those coming from the National Guard, of course, are provided for. As in the Philippine insurrection, such regiments would never have any connection whatever with state governments. Volunteers of this sort would undoubtedly be necessary in case of big military business outside the limits of the United States. At present, the United States regular army, in and about the continent, has available for service some 65,000 men, including 13,000 coast artillerymen. The paper strength of the National Guard today is about 132,000 men. If both regulars and militia were brought up to full war strength, they would aggregate 350,000. But soldiers must be kept at home under all conditions and the government's call for volunteers, aside from the militia, might reach 150,000 men.

Volunteer soldiers of the United States will not only be better organized, equipped and officered than ever before at the opening of war; they will also have the benefit of a health and medical service equal probably to any in the world. For the experience of the Spanish war in the tropics and the building of the Panama canal have placed our army medical officers at the head of their profession. It is obvious that the country today is many times better prepared for war than it was when the Maine was destroyed in 1898.

Socialists and the Flag

New York World: What do Socialists expect to gain by offensive references to the flag? Most of them favor peace and despise jingoes, which is to their credit, but how are they to make progress politically if they affront the very sentiments of nationality upon which they must depend for success?

Because demagogues and self-seekers misuse the flag is no reason why those who fight demagogues and self-seekers should revile it. The flag stands for something that all honest men may respect. It represents freedom and justice associated with sacrifice. If it sometimes has protected wrong, it has oftener signalized the triumph of right. It should always and everywhere be recognized as the common symbol of Americans of every shade of political belief whose aims are worthy, even if fantastic.

The New York Socialists who sneer at the flag are not street brawlers or anarchists. They are men of education and position. Some of them have been candidates for office. There is not a single authoritative utterance of their party indicating that it is an unpatriotic or revolutionary organization.

If Socialism cannot win with the flag, it is certain that it cannot win without the flag.

No Harm Possible.

Life: Nobody should regret that women have the vote in California.

California, and the coast generally, is our chief national sanitarium, full of patients who are imperfectly capable of self-support, self-control and self-direction. Women, many of them very capable and devoted, have long been in actual charge of these sufferers. They might as well manage their politics as well as the rest of their affairs. The coast states will be no more whimsical or irresponsible with women voting than they have been hitherto. They can't be.

Efficiency.

Ladies' Home Journal: "I hope," said one wife to another, "that you never nag your husband."

"Only when he is beating the rugs," said the second one. "When he is thoroughly irritated he makes a much better job of it."

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Press Comments on Current Events.

And Hobbs Denies Saying It, at That.

Fergus Falls Wheelock's Weekly: Franklin Hobbs says Governor Eberhart is worth $100,000 a year to the state as a press agent. But we aren't electing a press agent this year. We are electing a governor. If we need a press agent we better choose Private Secretary George Authler, who would come cheaper and do better work.

On the Jump Anyway.

Fairmont Sentinel: W. E. Lee is putting up a strong fight and out here in the country it looks as if he had the administration on the run.

It's Not Such a Little Joke.

Red Lake Falls Gazette: Governor Eberhart has issued a two-column letter to the public explaining that the big issue of the primary campaign is whether the people shall elect him and have the primary election law or defeat him and lose the law. That's using much space to spring one little joke.

Sour-Castle!

Isanti News: We learn with regret that if our present governor had not by accident attained that office, the primary election law would not have been enacted, Minnesota would not be blessed with the most healthy climate, the appointive state office-holders would not have to work so hard before election to hold their jobs, the public utility idea would not have been dropped like a hot poker, and we might have had a governor without sufficient sense to know that all he had to do was to draw the salary and let others do the work.

Ed Will Attend to That.

Cambridge North Star: The Progressives have a new ground for complaint against the administration. The governor was home recently, but Ed Smith was out of the state, and for that reason the opening of the campaign was somewhat delayed. We move that the traveling manager be now disciplined.

He'll Get Plenty.

Biwabik Times: A newspaper paragraph is going the rounds that the supreme court has decided that Rines is eligible to run for the office of state auditor. We have yet to hear a man question Mr. Rines' eligibility, his fitness or his integrity. He publishes a newspaper at Mora and was speaker of the house in the last legislature. That ought to be enough to get him a good vote in this section of the state.

His Support Unbought and Unpurchasable.

Princeton Union: Henry Rines is making his fight for the Republican nomination for state auditor singlehanded. His opponent, Mr. Preus, who is secretary of the Republican state central committee, has the entire party machinery at his disposal, besides he has the backing of the state administration—which means the active support of a couple of thousand office-holders. But Mr. Rines has the unbought and unpurchasable support of the plain every day people of the state, and they are a decided majority of the whole, hence he is a sure winner.

The Sower.

Now a Sower walking slow
Across the earth from east to west;
His hair was white as mountain snow,
His head drooped forward on his breast.

With shriveled hand he flung his seed,
Nor ever turned to look behind;
Of sight or sound he took no heed—
It seemed he was both deaf and blind.

His dim face showed no soul beneath,
Yet in my heart I felt a stir,
As if I looked upon the sheath
That once had clasped Excalibur.

I heard, as still the seed he cast,
How crooning to himself he sung,
"I sow again the holy Past,
The happy days when I was young.

"Then all was wheat without a tare,
Then all was righteous, fair and true;
And I am he whose thoughtful care
Shall plant the old world on the new.

"The fruitful germs I scatter free
With busy hand, while all men sleep,
In Europe now, from sea to sea,
The nations bless me as they reap."

Then I look back along his path,
And heard the clash of steel on steel,
Where man faced man in deadly wrath,
While clanged the tocsin's hurrying peal.

The sky with burning towns flared red,
Nearer the noise of fighting rolled,
And brothers' blood by brothers shed
Crept curdling over pavements cold.

Then marked I how each germ of truth
Which through the dotard's fingers ran
Was mated with a dragon's tooth
Whence there sprang up an armed man.

I shouted, but he could not hear;
Made signs, but these he could not see;
And still, without a doubt or fear,
Broadcast he scattered anarchy.

Long to my straining ears the blast
Brought faintly back the words he sung:
"I sow again the holy Past—
The happy days when I was young."

—James Russell Lowell.

What Surprised Him.

Washington Star: "That ball game was most interesting," said the man from abroad.

"What feature of the occasion impressed you most?"

"The crowd. I don't recall having seen such a large assemblage of people with nobody dancing the tango."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1894.

John Hughes, proprietor of the Tremont hotel at West Duluth, will move this week to Marinette, Wis., where he will go into business.

F. W. Norquist has taken the position on the police force at West Duluth vacated by the removal of Officer McKenzie to Duluth.

Rev. W. W. Dawley will preach the baccalaureate sermon at the commencement exercises of the Duluth high school. Charles A. Towne has been selected as commencement day orator. There was a new arrival yesterday in the science department in the shape of eighteen large frogs from Indiana. The science teacher says he has not decided yet whether they shall enter as members of the faculty or as students.

A few evenings ago, John Christie, the senior member of the printing firm of Christie & Collier, was so rash as to go over to West Superior. He is now repenting at his leisure, for while over there he got tangled up in a defective sidewalk, and when he was extricated one leg was found broken.

The Duluth Boat club will hold its annual ball at the Spalding on May 11. James C. Hunter, H. F. Williamson and A. G. McKinley are in charge of arrangements. The floor committee will consist of H. F. Williamson, Arthur McKinley, T. W. Hoopes, O. C. Hartman, E. C. Jones, W. C. Sargent, J. C. Hunter and C. S. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bullitt, Jr., will occupy the Whiteman house on London road.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Newell of Sauk Center will make their home in Duluth.

Miss Anna Manthey, who has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. J. L. Hort for several weeks, has returned to her home at Ashland, Wis.

At the annual meeting of the Ladies' Relief society, the old board of officers was re-elected, as follows: President, Mrs. A. M. Miller; vice presidents, Mrs. Clinton Markell and Mrs. D. C. Prescott; secretary, Mrs. David Buchanan; assistant secretary, Mrs. E. E. Collins; treasurer, Mrs. Ward Ames; directresses, Mrs. C. M. Vance, Mrs. C. F. Johnson, Mrs. J. H. La Vaque, Mrs. L. P. Totman and Mrs. M. J. Hawkesworth.

The fourth prize in the recent competition for a new state capitol building for Washington state has been awarded to German & de Waard of Duluth and W. E. Brown of Chicago. There were 188 sets of drawings in the competition. The building is to cost $1,000,000.

A Chapter of Which We Can Be Proud.

Baltimore Sun: Whether war with Mexico is halted on the threshold or whether it sweeps on and over the whole of that country, we think the preliminary chapter which has already been written is, in some aspects, the finest in our military history. It is the finest in the wonderful example it has furnished of national self-control and patience; in the almost universal recognition of the higher law of moral right and moral duty; in the earnest desire, not only on the part of the adminstration, but of the masses of the people to search our own consciences and hearts and to proceed with absolutely clean hands and pure motives. The question with the great majority of Americans has been, not what we can do, but what we ought to do; not what international law and diplomatic usage require, but what the great code of ethics and civilization demands. It has been a splendid spectacle, this debate with ourselves, this genuine and earnest longing to be right and to do right. The president touched the chord, and the popular response to it was inspiring in its revelation of the dominance of a great moral feeling throughout the country. Whatever happens, whatever we are forced to do, we can be proud of this initial chapter in the Mexican trouble. And the very grounds on which it is made the subject of sneers and derision on the part of old-school diplomats are the very ones which constitute its glory and its honor.

HARBOR LIGHTS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I understand that the citizens whose influence may count most in this matter of the harbor lights and safe navigation are the members of the harbor committee of the Commercial club. Are those gentlemen taking any steps to remedy conditions? It is ancient and modern history that carelessness is followed by accident, accident by horrified exclamations and both by forgetfulness. Is this to be repeated once more?

Why should our representative citizens make efforts to have freight rates reduced if ship owners stand in jeopardy every hour?

If steps are being taken for the immediate remedy of present deplorable conditions, may the public not be informed through your valuable paper of the progress made?

Duluth is a wide awake, progressive city, with a site and a future second to none and the administration of its government and affairs make excessive demand. But among the many duties of our lawmakers this one of supplying proper shipping facilities stands first—"There is no primer business." AN OPEN COURTIER.

Duluth, May 4.

The harbor committee of the Commercial club has been active, and it will see to it that the matter is properly investigated.—The Editor.

THAT BRIDGE QUESTION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Having read a number of articles relating to the proposed bridge across the St. Louis river at Fond du Lac, I made inquiry immediately and found very few who really knew anything about it. I am informed that it is to be a 700-foot span steel bridge, and will cost about $25,000. As the river is navigable to this point and even further, the government will undoubtedly require a swing or drawbridge, just as the steel company's bridge has. Now add this extra cost, which undoubtedly will be more than one-half of the total cost of the whole bridge, as the draw would be 300 feet wide, besides cost of maintenance and operation, and you will have a bridge that will cost not less than $75,000. This seems to me to be a useless expenditure just now.

Now the plan, as you can plainly see, is to ignore the cities of Carlton and Superior, and have the farmers drive through the steel plant district and into Duluth. All of this inconsistency, I am willing to overlook, provided that the Minnesota lower deck approach of the steel company's bridge at New Duluth would be completed and made accessible. This is a real necessity and a real benefit.

It is true that Superior wants access to the steel plant, and it is also true that there are some Duluth men who think otherwise, and so the approach has been held up. Last night's Herald editorial stated that it was a Superior real estate proposition, but to me it looks more like a "hog-it-all" Minnesota proposition. The permit that was granted to the steel company states that the approaches are to be made accessible.

I am in favor of building the Fond du Lac route when it becomes necessary, as the Rice Lake, Pike Lake, Hermantown, Swan Lake and other roads, leading to farms much nearer than the Carlton county farms, can be widened and need repairs. Besides, the farmer living a quarter to one mile off the main road needs a good road also. Having had some experience as a farmer and at road making, I feel that I have a fair knowledge of how to encourage farmers, give them roads and help develop the country.

C. E. LOVETT.

Duluth, May 5.

"Out of the clover and blue-eyed grass
He turned them into the river lane;
One after another he let them pass,
Then fastened the meadow bars again.

"Under the willows and over the hill,
He patiently followed their sober pace;
The merry whistle for once was still,
And something shadowed the sunny face.

Only a boy! and his father had said
He never could let his youngest go;
Two already were lying dead
Under the feet of the trampling foe.

But after the evening work was done,
And the frogs were loud in the meadow swamp,
Over his shoulder he slung his gun
And stealthily followed the foot-path damp,

Across the clover and through the wheat
With resolute heart and purpose grim,
Though cold was the dew on his hurrying feet,
And the blind bat's flitting startled him.

Thrice since then had the lanes been white,
And the orchards sweet with apple bloom;
And now, when the cows came back at night,
The feeble father drove them home.

The news had come to the lonely farm
That three were lying where two had lain;
And the old man's tremulous, palsied arm
Could never lean on a son's again.

The summer day grew cool and late,
He went for the cows when the work was done;
But down the lane, as he opened the gate,
He saw them coming one by one.

Brindle, Ebony, Speckle and Bess,
Shaking their horns in the evening wind;
Chopping the buttercups out of the grass,
But who was it following close behind?

Loosely swung in the idle air
The empty sleeve of army blue;
And worn and pale, from the crisping hair,
Looked out a face that the father knew.

For Southern prisons will sometimes yawn,
And yield their dead unto life again;
And the day that comes with a cloudy dawn
In golden glory at last may come.

The great tears sprang to their meeting eyes;
For the heart must speak when the lips are dumb;
And under the silent evening skies
Together they followed the cattle home.

FROG PROBLEMS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In answer to the frog problem, I would say that he clears the log in nine jumps.

WHEN THE COWS COME HOME.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I inclose poem which W. D. Edson asked for in Monday evening's Herald, "When the Cows Come Home." I am interested in the many beautiful poems published in your paper from time to time. MRS. S. M. LESTER, 1421 East Fourth street.

Duluth, May 5.

I love the beautiful evening
When the sunset clouds are gold;
When the barn fowls seek a shelter
And the young lambs seek their fold;
When the four-o'clocks are open,
And the swallows homeward come;
When the horses cease their labors,
And the cows come home.

When the supper's almost ready,
And Johnny is asleep,
And I beside the cradle
My pleasant vigil keep;
Sitting beside the window
Watching for "Pa" to come,
While the soft bells gently tinkle
As the cows come home.

When the sunset and the twilight
In mingling hues are blent,
I can sit and watch the shadows
With my full heart all content;
And I wish for nothing brighter,
And I long no more to roam
When the twilight's peace comes o'er me,
And the cows come home.

I see their shadows lengthen
As they slowly cross the field,
And I know the food is wholesome
Which their generous udders yield.
More than the tropic's fruitage
Than marble hall or dome,
Are the blessings that surround me
When the cows come home.

Aged Woman, After Disastrous Matrimonial Experience, Weds Again.

Mrs. Armine Laviolette, 68, Is Bride of Amabel Jolibois, 70.

Although Mrs. Armine Laviolette, 68 and gray, passed through one matrimonial experience which recently brought her into the divorce court, she has again fallen before the dart of Dan Cupid.

Yesterday afternoon, a marriage license was issued to Mrs. Laviolette and Amabel Jolibois, 70. Both reside in the Adolph farming district in the town of Solway. Jolibois is a widower with children.

Cammille Laviolette, 52, the woman's first husband, committed suicide last August after his wife had started suit for divorce against him.

Mrs. Laviolette sued for a separation on the grounds of cruelty, charging among other things that her husband had driven her from the house and compelled her to sleep in the barn, that he had struck her, smashed dishes, threatened to kill her and expressed a desire to get her out of the way in order that he might have a younger wife.

Laviolette in answering, denied every charge of cruelty and stated that he considered it to be the best interests of both that they live together again. He even offered to fit up a home for her in the city if she would return and keep house for him.

Shortly after the divorce proceedings were started, Laviolette is believed to have committed suicide. He was found dead Aug. 2 at his home on a farm in the town of Solway under circumstances which seemed to indicate that he came to his death by his own hand. Carbolic acid and paris green were found by the coroner to have caused his death.

After his death, a will was filed by the widow with the probate court, bequeathing her the entire estate except for a $25 bequest which the instrument provided should be set aside for Mrs. Anna Lowe, a daughter of Laviolette by a former marriage. Laviolette made the will on Feb. 17, 1912. The estate consists of a 60-acre farm about two miles north of Adolph in the town of Solway and a house and lot on West Helm street, this city. The real estate is valued at $2,500 and the personal property $200.

LABOR CANDIDATES ARE TO BE NUMEROUS.

London, May 6.—The Labor party has decided to place at least 100 candidates in the field at the next general election. Already 93 candidates have been decided upon by conferences convened under the constitution of the party. Of these, 38 seats are now held by Laborites, 38 by Liberals and 17 by Unionists. Forty-nine of these involve three-cornered contests, which, as Mr. Asquith said in his speech at Ladybank, generally go against the coalition, the split vote enabling the Unionists to get in. Five of these three-cornered contests are due to Liberal attacks on seats now held by the Labor party, and in the remaining 44 the Labor candidate is, so far, only opposed by a Unionist.

Apart from the official Labor party, there are already 22 Independent Socialist candidates in the field, forcing three-cornered fights in 18 constituencies now held by Liberals and 4 by Unionists.

A MEETING OF THE NORTH-EASTERN MINNESOTA GAME AND FISH PROTECTION ASSN.

Will be held in the Assembly room of the Commercial club, Thursday, May 7, at 8 o'clock p. m. All interested in hunting, fishing and game protection are invited to attend. Matters of interest to all lovers of outdoors will be considered.

DAMAGE CLAIMS BEING SETTLED

Workingmen's Compensation Act Taken Advantage of By Several.

Hilda Olsen has accepted $5,500 from the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway company in full settlement of her claim for the death of her husband, Nels Olsen, Sept. 2, 1913. In district court yesterday Judge Fesler signed an order setting May 9 as a day for the final hearing on the distribution of the fund.

Olsen was employed as a carpenter on the Missabe ore docks. He was struck and instantly killed by a southbound train as he stepped from a parallel track to get out of the way of a northbound train. The widow sued for $7,500 but the case was settled out of court. Samuel A. Anderson of St. Paul, her attorney, has presented a claim for $1,000 fees in connection with the case.

Eveline M. Honey, 19, widow of William Honey of Virginia, who was accidentally killed Feb. 26 at the Alpena mine, will receive $7.80 for 300 weeks or $2,340 for the support of herself and a 14-months-old daughter. A settlement on this basis, made under the terms of the workingman's compensation act, was approved in district court yesterday.

John C. Bryant of Ely has accepted $247.50 from the Oliver Iron Mining company for his claim against the company for a damaged thumb. While working in one of the company's mines March 16 he met with an accident which left the first joint of his right thumb disabled. Under terms which were approved yesterday by the district court the company will pay him at the rate of $8.25 a week for a period of thirty weeks.

POPE WILL RECEIVE LADY ABERDEEN.

Rome, May 6.—Arrangements are being made for the reception by the pope of the countess of Aberdeen and a number of the leading delegates to the quinquennial assembly of the International Council of Women, now in session here. The inaugural address of the countess of Aberdeen, the president, was distributed yesterday. It emphasizes the great impetus obtained by the women's movement.

ITCHING ECZEMA IS DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Use Like Cold Cream to Subdue Irritation and Clear the Skin.

Constant or intermittent irritation producing itching and red, angry Eczema patches on the skin is readily relieved with bold-sulphur cream. The moment it is applied the itching stops and the healing begins, says a noted dermatologist.

It effects such prompt relief, even in aggravated Eczema that it is a never ending source of amazement to physicians.

For many years bold-sulphur cream has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties. It is not only parasiticidal but also antipruritic and antiseptic and nothing has ever been found to take its place in overcoming irritable and inflammatory affections of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure, yet in every instance it instantly stops the agonizing itching; subdues the irritation and heals the inflamed raw skin right up and it is often years later before any Eczema eruption again appears.

Those troubled should get from any pharmacist an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it directly upon the affected skin like you would any ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly when the Eczema is accompanied with itching.

MAKES CANADIANS BRITISH SUBJECTS

Bill to That End Is Introduced at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Ont., May 6.—A bill under which foreigners naturalized in Canada will be recognized as British subjects in all parts of the British empire, was introduced in the Dominion parliament yesterday by the Canadian government. Similar legislation has been introduced in the British, Australian, New Zealand and Newfoundland parliaments and in the legislatures of the other self-governing units in the empire.

Naturalization had heretofore been effective only in that part of the empire where it was granted. The British foreign office has been engaged for fifteen years in the task of relieving this condition.

Five years' residence is required for naturalization under the new bill. Canada has required only three years up to the present.

MINNEAPOLIS MAN INJURED IN WRECK.

Decatur, Ill., May 6.—Two trackworkers were killed and about thirty passengers injured early last night when the diner and rear Pullman of the Wabash continental limited turned over while entering this city. A split switch is blamed for the wreck.

Several passenger are reported seriously injured and may die. Among the seriously hurt is J. Sher of Minneapolis.

Steel coaches saved the lives of thirty or more passengers.

SOCIALISTS NOT BAITERS OF RICH

New York County Committee Condemns Annoyance of Rockefeller.

New York, May 6.—"Spectacular actions and rankling speeches, indulged in by so-called Socialists are disavowed, and persons indulging in loose talk of a sensational insurrection, and the like," are emphatically and unreservedly repudiated in resolutions adopted by the executive committee of the Socialist party of New York county.

The committee, although it does not mention the name of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., expresses implied disapproval of recent demonstrations directed against him individually, declaring that a violent outburst of resentment against individual capitalists would give the authorities a pretext for drastic measures of repression throughout the country, bringing disaster upon the organized working class of the nation.

In warning members and friends of the party against "irresponsible freelance agitators and capitalist spies and provocators," the committee further cautions individuals against supposing that the Socialist party would lend moral or material support to anyone who falls into the hands of the law because of acts of violent aggression or vengeance.

Most hearty co-operation is pledged to the assistance and defense, "now and in the months to come," to the Colorado miners, "who took arms only when forced to do so in self-protection."

GIVES LECTURE ON GARDENING

A. B. Hostetter Talks to Children and Adults at Monroe School.

A. B. Hostetter gave an interesting lecture last night before a gathering of children and their parents at the Monroe school, Twenty-sixth avenue west and First street. The lecture was illustrated with a number of stereopticon slides showing what had been accomplished in gardening in various parts of the city as well as on near-by farms.

Mr. Hostetter first explained how to prepare the soil and then the fallacy of planting too much of any one kind of vegetable. He pointed out that each should plant more varieties and told about how much would be necessary to supply a family with fresh vegetables during the summer.

The speaker also touched on the health value of gardening. He said that no other pursuit is as conducive to health as work in a garden. He declared that it develops a sunshiny disposition and is also of great educational value.

The lecture was one of a series planned under the auspices of the garden committee of the West End Commercial club. More than 100 children of the Monroe school have entered this contest and nearly all of them were present at the lecture. The program also included musical selections by Mrs. J. J. Daniels and Mrs. Thorwall.

FARMERS PLAN IMPROVEMENTS

Hermantown Club Elects Officers—Membership Has Grown Rapidly.

James R. Grady was elected president of the Farmers' and Producers' club of Hermantown at its annual election held at the town hall of Hermantown last night. In addition to the election of officers the members of the club discussed plans of activities for the coming year.

The other officers elected are: William Janzig, vice president; Gustaf Lueck, secretary, and Charles T. Wittich, treasurer.

While the club is less than two years old it has made great strides in membership, according to the report of the secretary. It has now about forty-five members, which includes practically all of the progressive farmers of the district.

A definite plan of campaign for improvements to roads, building up of market trade and other subjects will be made at the next meeting of the club, which will take place on May 19. Plans will also be made for an open meeting to be held in June or early in July at which representative members of the Commercial club of Duluth will be invited to attend.

Lodge Anniversary.

The twentieth anniversary of the founding of Duluth camp, No. 2341, M. W. A., will be celebrated by the members at the Woodmen hall this evening. A program of music and short talks, followed by dancing has been arranged.

The speaking program will include an address by Congressman Clarence B. Miller and a short talk by Charles E. Dice. The committee in charge is headed by J. C. Anderson, Capt. C. J. Quade and members of the degree team.

LITTLE NAVY MEN LOSE IN THE HOUSE

"One Battleship" Plan Is Voted Down—Underwood and Mann for It.

Washington, May 6.—"Little navy" men in the house lost their fight yesterday against the two-battleship construction program in the annual navy appropriation bill. An amendment by Representative Buchanan of Illinois to provide for one ship was defeated 148 to 91, while a motion by Representative Witherspoon of Mississippi to eliminate all provision for battleships was swamped 152 to 41.

Democratic Leader Underwood and Republican Leader Mann with several other prominent figures in the house, voted with the one-ship advocates. Consideration of the bill will be resumed Thursday.

In the debate leading up to the naval program sparring, the house adopted an amendment to the bill appropriating $400,000 for the purchase of sites for high power wireless telegraph stations to be located in Panama, California, Hawaii, Samoa, Guam and the Philippines, all the sites to cost not exceeding $1,000,000.

During the debate, Representative Madden of Illinois said that "if there should be war between this country and Mexico every citizen in the United States will stand by President Wilson."

Representative Witherspoon of Mississippi characterized the expenditure of $7,800,000 for two battleships as "damnable graft."

Representative Hobson of Alabama favored an amendment for construction of a super-dreadnought.

DEBATE SUFFRAGE IN HOUSE OF LORDS

Selborne, Curzon and Baron Newton Speak on the Subject.

London, May 6.—Woman's suffrage was discussed in the house of lords yesterday when the earl of Selborne moved the second reading of a bill giving the parliamentary franchise to women already possessing votes at local government elections. He said it was estimated roughly that 1,000,000 women would benefit by passage of the bill. He asserted that the vast majority of women were opposed to militancy, and said the idea that men and women voters would divide on sex lines was a delusion. The demand for votes made by women who paid taxes, he added, was founded on justice.

Earl Curzon of Kedleton moved the rejection of the bill, not merely because it would introduce a great social revolution, but would be injurious to the interests of women. Such a measure, he argued, would have a mischievous effect upon the relations of the sexes and would weaken the prestige and influence of Great Britain throughout the world.

Baron Newton argued that militancy was women's blind revenge upon society for the manner in which she had been treated by the Liberal party.

NO TAINTED MONEY FOR BOLL WEEVIL

Senate Prohibits Mixing of Federal and Rockefeller Funds.

Washington, May 6.—Without enough opposing votes to procure a roll call, the senate put into the agricultural appropriation bill a provision that no funds provided for farm demonstration and cotton boll weevil work should be used in connection with contributions by the general education board or other like associations.

The general education board was endowed with $42,000,000 by John D. Rockefeller, and has contributed in recent years $250,000 annually to help pay the salaries of government employes engaged in farm demonstrations and boll weevil work in the South.

NON-PARTISAN JUDICIARY VALID.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 6.—Judge W. H. McHenry of the district court practically upheld the constitutionality of the non-partisan judiciary when he granted a temporary mandatory injunction compelling W. S. IS LITTLE KING IN TALENT, OR.

Former Duluthian Prospering on the Pacific Coast.

That Albert Ames, former secretary of the Duluth Boat club, is now one of the leading citizens of the little city of Talent, Or., is the news brought by Dr. W. R. Bagley of that city, who is in Duluth for a short visit. Dr. Bagley is also a former Duluthian.

"Albert is into everything out there, and seems to be thoroughly enjoying it," said Dr. Bagley. "Many Duluthians have asked me what he is doing. I answer that he is a capitalist, running the band, is a leader in amateur sports and conducting the publicity work for the district. I don't believe Albert will ever get out on a ranch. They are keeping him too busy, and he is doing splendidly. He has made a great many friends, just as he did in Duluth.

ROAD TO PROCTOR IS IMPASSABLE

Team Traffic to Bay View Heights Stopped By Mud.

Team traffic between Bay View Heights and Proctor has been entirely cut off. Heavy rains are said to have made the condition of the only road such that it is impossible for even a light rig to pass over the highway in safety.

According to F. B. Mitchell, cashier of the Proctor State bank, it is proposed to get officials of Duluth to cooperate with those of Proctor in placing the highway again in condition. A large part of the highway lies within the limits of Duluth and this part of the roadway will be the part that the Proctor people will ask the Duluth officials to fix.

"For the last eleven days there has been no traffic over the road," said Mr. Mitchell. Teams have been unable to get through without becoming mired. One rig which was lightly loaded went into the mire up to the hubs and required the services of two teams to drag it out."

Many of the largest wholesale houses and mercantile establishments of Duluth and West Duluth maintain a daily or twice a week delivery to Proctor. These have been unable to send their rigs to the village during the last few days, but have had to send them by a longer route through the farming country in order to reach the place.

Mr. Mitchell said it was intended to get all of these various firms interested in getting the public works department to improve the road and similar action is to be taken with village officials in Proctor.

While the impassable part of the road is said to exist between Bay View Heights and the pumphouse at Proctor, parts of the road on the hillside are also in bad shape. Many of the rigs that make the hill are taking the new road which skirts Keine's creek.

Given Birthday Party.

Miss Agnes Olson, 505 South Sixty-fifth avenue west, was pleasantly surprised last evening by a number of her friends in remembrance of her birthday. Games and music featured the evening's entertainment. The guests were: Misses Clara Thorsen, Mabel Holtrud, Freda Holtrud, Esther Thorsdahl, Lillian Thorsen, M. Freeman, Cornelius, Mamie Simonson, Helga Berglund, Jennie Olson of Duluth; Gerda Hanson of Glenwood, Minn., and Messrs. Skoog, Arthur Olson, Roy Holtrud, Clifford Thorsen, Arnold Thorsen, Roy Vangan, Helmar Berglund, Morris Thorsen, George Olson, Herbert and Roy Olson.

Emil Nygard Dies.

Emil Nygard, 23 years old, of Palmers, Minn., who formerly resided at 6115 Warden street, died last night at the Duluth hospital after a short illness of peritonitis. He leaves a widow and one brother, William of Munger. The body is at Richter's undertaking rooms where funeral arrangements will probably be made this afternoon. Nygard was a member of the West Duluth lodge, I. O. O. F.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Mark of 622 Kennedy street, St. Paul, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ray, to Harry S. Krelof of West Duluth. The wedding will take place in the early fall. Mr. Krelof is a young business man of West Duluth and quite well known.

Annual Supper.

At a meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Merritt Memorial M. E. church held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. J. Zauft, 5810 Wadena street, final plans were made for serving the annual supper in the church, Forty-sixth avenue and Halifax street, tomorrow evening. Committees to have charge were appointed.

The reception committee will be Rev. W. Grant Fritz, pastor of the church; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Randall and F. H. Warren, Mrs. Harry Merritt, Mrs. A. L. Merritt and Mrs. B. M. Sampson will be in charge of the novelty tables; Mrs. E. Ward, Mrs. W. Pollock and Mrs. E. McAuley will be in charge of the kitchen.

Those in charge of the tables will be Mrs. John Morgan, Mrs. John Stewart, Mrs. Charles Boyden, Mrs. L. H. Merritt, Mrs. L. L. Gilpin, Mrs. O. M. Holmes, Mrs. C W. Swanstrom, Mrs. Fred Knight, Mrs. B. N. Wheeler, Mrs. Joseph Gibson, Mrs. R. J. Grundy, Mrs. G. L. Robbins and Mrs. Cornelius.

BAPTISTS MAY CALL A PASTOR.

The annual business meeting of the West Duluth Baptist church, Fifty-ninth and Grand avenues will be held tomorrow evening in the church. Officers will be elected and reports of various societies of the church given.

It is also expected that an official call may be extended to a pastor for the church. During the last seven months the church has been without a pastor, Rev. H. A. Stoughton leaving late last fall owing to the ill health of members of his family.

"The Child and the Garden."

Mrs. R. P. Boyington will speak on "The Child and the Garden" at a meeting of the Mothers' club of the Merritt school, on Fortieth avenue west and Sixth street, Friday afternoon. The meeting will be held at 3 o'clock. Children of the upper grades interested in gardening will be allowed to attend the lecture. A short program is also arranged for the meeting by pupils of the seventh grade under the direction of Miss Grace Heydon.

BOYS' CABINET HAS ACTIVE MONTH

Plans Are Made for Annual Banquet and Other Activities.

The regular monthly meeting of the boys' department, Y. M. C. A., was held at the home of Dr. Robert Yost last evening. The monthly reports showed April to have been an active month in all branches of the club work.

The date for the annual banquet has been set for Friday, May 15, and the banquet committee has arranged for the following list of toasts: Richard Cullum, toastmaster; President Edwin Schriver, "The Best Boys' Club in the State;" Charles McLennan, first president of the boys' department cabinet, "Eleven Years Ago;" "A Boys' Interest," Douglas Walker; "Boys Wanted," E. W. Peck, Minneapolis; "Boys' Department Spirit," Irving Grover; "Camp Miller," Warren Moore; "Duluth Central High School," Rollin Hawkes; "New Boys' Building," Watson S. Moore; "Summer Activities," Charles Le Richeaux.

On account of the clubroom not being big enough to hold all who want to attend, the committee last night decided to hold it in the big gymnasium. Warren Moore and Douglas Walker will head a committee on decoration. Another feature of the banquet will be the awarding of the hustler emblems and cup. The committee of women who will have charge of the banquet, will meet next week.

On Tuesday, June 2, a farewell party will be given to the cabinet members who will resign on account of going to college. A committee was appointed to arrange for the affair.

The social and outing committee has arranged for the following attractive Friday night programs: Friday, May 15, annual banquet; May 22, play, "Dizzy's Dilemma," by members of the Sunday club committee; Friday, May 29, "Fooling Father," a play by the social committee, and June 5, the annual auto ride. Regular work in all branches of the club will be continued until the close of school. Following that the special program of outdoor activities will be put into operation.

Takes St. Cloud Job.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. W. Fischer of this city has been appointed manager of the branch store of the J. H. Reuttell company of Grand Forks and Crookston, just established at St. Cloud. He will take charge of the store next week.

CITY BRIEFS

Women's Exchange.
C. N. Hamilton, who has been located over Stone's book store for the last several years as manufacturer's agent for women's dress goods, hosiery and underwear, has opened up a new store at 315 East Superior street. Mr. Hamilton is now ready to take orders for suits, underwear and raincoats to measure as well as dress goods, hosiery and underwear, which are handled through the women's exchange that is a part of his new store.

Dr. Nixon, Dentist, Has Moved.
Dr. R. E. Nixon, the dentist, has moved to his new offices, 209-210 Glencoe building, corner Third avenue west and First street, old Kitchi Gammi building, opposite Wolvin building.

Receipts From Garbage.
The April report of Mrs. Jeanette Baldwin, inspector of the health department, shows that the city was paid $237.65 for garbage collections during the month. In addition to that the report states that a credit of $7 should be given for garbage which was collected free of charge for the Gospel mission on Lake avenue and another of $4.50 for dead dogs and cats which were hauled away.

Conference of Employes.
The employes of the city division of public works who are in charge of various branches of work, including the foremen of the several districts, will meet with Commissioner Murchison at his office at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. No definite program has been arranged but the general activities of the division will be discussed. This will be the second conference of employes which has been held this season. Their purpose is to familiarize the men with what is being done in order that their efficiency may be increased.

Will Test New Apparatus.
The two new combination chemical, hose and gasoline pumper motors which have been purchased by the fire department will be tested at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The tests will be witnessed by city officials, a number of insurance men and probably the fire chiefs of Superior and the Twin Cities.

Forgery Suspect Released.
Harold Martinson, 56 years old, who was arrested late last evening by Patrolman Le Beau as a forgery suspect, was released by the police early this morning. An investigation held after his arrest disclosed his innocence and he was given his liberty.

Will Ask Pension System.
The employes of the water and light department will ask the city council to establish a pension system, as recommended by a committee of the organization recently formed by the employes which was submitted at a meeting held last evening in the council chambers. It is asserted that the plan has been adopted with considerable success in other cities.

Neglected to Disinfect.
Dr. H. M. Bracken, secretary of the state board of health, is investigating a report made to him this week of a case of smallpox at a lumber camp at Fairbanks, where another man was permitted to occupy the bunk and bunkhouse used by the victim, without first disinfecting the building. The complaint stated that the smallpox victim was brought to Duluth and that the camp conditions are entirely insanitary.

Sentence Suspended.
Watil Christianson, 21 years old, who was arrested last night on a charge of being drunk a second time, drew a suspended sentence in police court this morning. He pleaded guilty when brought before Judge Cutting, but promised to refrain from liquor in the future.

Alumni Will Hold Smoker.
The Northern Minnesota Alumni association will hold an informal smoker and meeting this evening in the Spalding hotel grillroom. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

STATE WHOLESALE GROCERS MEET

Annual Session of Bureau Is Held at Commercial Club.

The Minnesota Wholesale Grocers' bureau held its annual meeting at the Commercial club this morning and about twenty wholesale grocers from different parts of the state were here, the guests of the Duluth members. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, H. K. Huntoon of Stillwater; vice president, Cyrus Beall of Fergus Falls, and treasurer, T. H. Green of Minneapolis. The secretary is appointed.

The meetings of the bureau are held frequently and at different cities of the state. This happened to be the annual meeting. The bureau does not hold long sessions but its members get together frequently and exchange ideas as to plans for getting trade, the best methods of reaching the best trade channels, etc.

The Duluth members entertained those from outside at luncheon at the club today, and practically all of the visitors left for their homes this afternoon.

Infanticide Sentenced.
Manning, N. D., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The discovery of the body of an infant, buried on the farm of John Mechler, of which no report had been made to officials, led to the arrest of Isadore Blotzsky, and his confession to the charge of assault, with a five-year sentence being imposed by Judge Crawford.

VERDICT FOR WIDOW STANDS

Unless the supreme court reverses an order filed by District Judge Dancer this morning, Bertha Gronlund, widow of Henry O. Gronlund, will recover $4,187.50 damages from the Cudahy Packing company and Arthur Mosberg, driver in its employ, on a wrongful death claim.

Judge Dancer today denied the motion of the packing company and the defendant, Mosberg, for a new trial. The case was tried at the January term of the district court and a verdict in Mrs. Gronlund's favor for the amount stated was returned.

Gronlund came to his death from injuries which he received Nov. 9, 1912, while driving a wagon along Michigan street under the Lake avenue viaduct. His wagon collided with a rig belonging to the Cudahy Packing company, which is alleged to have been driven at an unlawful rate of speed. At the point where the accident occurred, a large pile of debris blocked a part of the street. It had been placed there by George H. Lounsberry, contractor, who was engaged at the time in the construction of the Fidelity building. Lounsberry was made a joint defendant in the action but the jury absolved the contractor from any liability.

ARGUE STATE LIQUOR LAW

Frank Kellogg and Lyndon Smith Opponents in Court.

Validity of Half-Mile Limit Is to Be Decided.

St. Paul, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, official trust-buster of the Roosevelt administration and Nemesis of the Standard Oil company, appeared in the state supreme court today to argue a case involving the interpretation of the state liquor laws.

Joseph Miller and Christ E. Sinn are licensed liquor dealers in the village of Triumph, Martin county, and their places of business are within one-half mile of the corporate limits of the village of Monteray, which voted dry at the last election.

It is against the law to sell intoxicants within one-half mile of a town which has voted out saloons. As a result, Miller and Sinn were arrested. Both applied for habeas corpus writs to test the constitutionality of the law. These were denied, and the petitioners appealed.

Affects Other Cities.

The question is considered of much importance, because if literally applied the law practically would wipe out all the saloons of Mankato, which are within half a mile of North Mankato, a dry town, and also would affect other municipalities in the same manner.

Mr. Kellog contended that in so far as the law applies to the village of Triumph it is unconstitutional, because it disfranchises the citizens of that place, denies them the equal protection of the laws, and takes the property of the petitioners without due process of law.

Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith, for the state, argued that no right guaranteed to the people of Triumph by the Constitution is infringed by the operation of this law.

GRAND JURY IS CONVENED

Thirty Criminal Cases Including Two Murder Charges on Docket.

About thirty criminal cases will be considered by the May grand jury which convened at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon before Judge Bert Fesler. After receiving instructions at the hands of Judge Fesler, the jury retired to take up its work. Mason M. Forbes, first assistant county attorney, is attending the jury.

Two of the cases to be investigated involve the charge of murder. In addition, there is the usual grist of larcenies, burglaries, robberies and assaults. It is expected that the jury will be occupied the remainder of the week.

Those who were subpoenaed for grand jurors at this term were:

George Brown, 1503 West Second street, Duluth; Fletcher Benham, 414 Third avenue, Hibbing; Harry G. Burnham, 404 Washington street, Hibbing; Peter Gilligan, 89 Penobscot location, Hibbing; Arthur H. Gow, 325 Pine street, Hibbing; Bert H. Ivens, 5105 East Dodge street, Duluth; George F. Kennedy, 1006 East Third street, Duluth; George H. Lent, 520 Third avenue, Hibbing; Daniel McDonald, 1119 North Fifty-ninth avenue west, Duluth; William McArthur, 3826 West Sixth street, Duluth; Stanley H. McCrea, 1429 Jefferson street, Duluth; D. J. OHIO COAL STRIKE IS NOT PROBABLE

Statement Is Made By W. O. Green at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, May 6.—There probably will be no general strike of coal miners in Ohio, as requested by a committee of Ohio miners which appeared yesterday before the international executive board of the United Mine Workers of America. This statement was made by William O. Green, secretary-treasurer, when shown a dispatch from Columbus, stating that the operators had offered to renew negotiations.

Bodies of 154 Recovered.

Eccles, W. Va., May 6.—Bodies of 154 of the 172 men who lost their lives a week ago by an explosion in mine No 5 of the New River Colleries company, had been recovered tonight.

GONE OUT OR JUST SMOLDERING?

—From Des Moines Register and Leader.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Contributors New York Press: I always keep my coffee pot clean and fresh by cleaning it in the following manner once a week: Put a tablespoonful of washing soda into the pot, fill it nearly full of water and let it boil for a little while. Then rinse very thoroughly with hot water.

To clean white felt and make it look like new, the following method is excellent: Make a soft paste with magnesia and milk. Cover the article thickly with the mixture, applying it with a brush, leaving this on until the next day, then brush off with a perfectly clean hard brush.

Black kid or suede gloves that wear white at the ends, treated in the following manner, can be made to look like new: Mix a little good black ink with half a teaspoonful of olive oil and apply to the faded parts with a feather. Let the gloves dry thoroughly before wearing them.

To remove the smell of paint in a room, place a pail full of cold water in the room and keep changing it constantly. This will help to purify the room as well as remove the odor of paint.

To clean silver and make it bright, put a quantity of sour milk in a shallow pan and place the articles in it, letting them remain there until they become bright. When this is finished, wash them in warm water which contains a few drops of ammonia.

DIPLOMAT'S WIFE HAS RARE BEAUTY

—Copyright by the Bain News Service.

MRS. J. L. DE SAULLES.

When our new minister to Uruguay goes to his post in the near future, he will take with him his beautiful wife, Mrs. De Saulles was a Chilean. Her name was Blanca Errazuriz and she was the daughter of one of the wealthiest men in Chile. Mrs. De Saulles is probably the prettiest woman of the diplomatic corps of the United States.

HOW A CIGAR ACTED AS WITNESS

The Trend Magazine: A man was traveling in France. He was occupying a first-class compartment and was smoking an excellent cigar.

At a certain station a woman was admitted to the compartment who was very elegantly attired. The man continued to smoke his cigar without any violation of conventions and manifested toward the woman a courteous and respectful indifference. This seemed not to please her, and she began to make efforts to attract his attention. He appeared not to notice them, and she then attempted to engage him in conversation. He courteously resisted the advances and remained in his place, calmly smoking his cigar.

The train moved on for a considerable distance. The woman continued to make efforts to attract the man's attention and used all the wiles of her sex to accomplish her purposes. He, however, was skillful at resistance and consistently refused to converse with her. The woman's pride was aroused and she determined that she would wreak vengeance upon her uncongenial companion. Calculating in her mind as to what she might do to accomplish this purpose, she decided upon a bold plan.

While the train was moving along at a moderate speed she gave forth several loud screams. The nearest guard soon entered the compartment and found her lying on a seat. When asked what had occurred to her she accused the man sharing the compartment with having struck and insulted her.

The guard immediately called in the officials of the train and the woman told them a story of advances being made to her by her fellow traveler, who, she asserted, had attempted to engage her in conversation repeatedly until she had been forced to insist that he desist, and that he thereupon had struck her and had insulted her. The officials became indignant and started to lay hands on the man, intending to arrest him and to turn him over to the police authorities at the next station.

The man had sat calmly during this time without speaking a word, but when the guards started to arrest him he stretched forth a hand calmly with a restraining gesture and said:

"Listen to me but for a moment. When that lady entered this compartment I had just begun to smoke this cigar. I have been smoking it ever since she came in. It has not been out of my mouth or out of my hand. Look at it," and, taking the cigar in his hand, he held it before him. "It is two-thirds smoked, and yet the ashes are intact. Now, gentlemen, if I had struck this lady as she asserts, the ashes would not have clung to the cigar, but would have been scattered throughout the compartment."

Then he told how the woman had attempted to engage him in conversation and how he had courteously resisted her advances, until she had aroused the officials by her screams and had pretened to be struck. The officials accepted the man's statement, had the woman placed under arrest, and at the next station she was turned over to police officers, who, upon making an investigation, discovered that she was an adventuress.

The man continued his journey in peace, grateful that he had been saved from the wiles of a wicked woman through the faithfulness of a good cigar.

PROPERTY MAN'S REVENGE.

Indianapolis News: Joseph Jefferson once discharged his property man, Bagley. Bagley got drunk and that night paid his way to the gallery to see Jefferson present "Rip Van Winkle." The angry frau had just driven poor, destitute Rip from the cottage, when Rip turned and, with a world of pathos, asked: "Den haf I no interest in dis house?" The house was deathly still, the audience half in tears, when Bagley's cracked voice responded: "Only 80 per cent, Joey—only 80 per cent."

The BIG DULUTH
WILLIAMSON & MENDENHALL

ENDS FAMILY QUARREL.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 6.—Seven years ago Monday Mrs. Rosa Berkovitz accidentally cut the right ear of her husband, Morris, while trimming his hair.

The cut caused a quarrel. More differences arose until the original cause was forgotten. Last January Mrs. Berkovitz filed suit for divorce, claiming cruel and inhuman treatment.

Monday, at Tenth street and North avenue, Berkovitz shot and instantly killed his wife. He committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. Three children became orphans.

Mrs. Berkovitz was shot while waiting for a car to take her to the home of her brother. She had received a false message, sent by her husband a few minutes before, that her brother's child was ill.

When she had reached the corner, Berkovitz ran up, placed the muzzle of an automatic pistol against her neck and fired. The bullet pierced the spine. Death was instantaneous.

BURLINGTON NIGHT POLICEMEN STRIKE.

Burlington, Iowa, May 6.—The Burlington night force of policemen went on a strike last night because Jacob Rupp, the former night captain, was replaced by Charles Bohn. The strikers were indefinitely suspended and their cases will come before the police commission on a charge of insubordination.

ASK AMENDMENTS IN THE LEVER BILL.

Augusta, Ga., May 6.—Several changes in the "Lever United States cotton futures bill," pending in the national house of representatives, were recommended in resolutions adopted by the executive committee of the national cotton conference, in session here. The committee adopted a resolution favoring the introduction in congress of a pure cotton law and requesting Mr. Lever, or other proper person, to introduce in congress a bill requiring all ginners to tag bollies as such under a penalty of a fine.

Changes suggested by the committee in the Lever bill include a reduction in tax of 25 cents a contract to 5 cents a contract. This, it was stated, would make the tax fall upon the dealer and not the producer.

The committee also desires the application of the bill amended so as to apply to both resident and transient traders in the United States.

BRYAN SIGNS ITALIAN TREATY.

Washington, May 6.—Secretary Bryan and Marquis Cusani Confalonieri, Italian ambassador, have signed a treaty providing that any questions between the United States and Italy which cannot be settled by diplomacy shall be submitted for investigation to an international committee of five members.

Saved on School Books.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local board of education, which took over the handling of text books a year ago, saved $942 to the school children of the city during the first year, according to E. F. Burchard, secretary of the board.

Archbishop Invited.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Archbishop John Ireland of St. Paul has been invited as one of the speakers at the banquet to be given here at the annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical society.

FUNERAL WILL BE HELD THURSDAY

Services for Norman McDonald in Charge of Knights Templar.

The body of Norman McDonald, 48 years old, 1817 East Third street, who died at the Kahler house at Rochester shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday morning, following an operation of a month ago, arrived in Duluth this morning and was removed to the Stewart undertaking rooms.

The funeral will be held at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the residence, with interment at the Forest Hill cemetery. Duluth commandery No. 18, Knights Templar, of which he was a member, will have charge of the services. Members of the family have requested that no floral offerings be sent.

At his bedside when he died were Mrs. McDonald and his brothers, Murdoch McDonald of Virginia and D. B. McDonald of Duluth. Two sons, Norman, aged 9, and Bruce, aged 7, and another brother also survive him.

BECKER AGAIN FACES COURT

given out by Mr. Whitman, with the suggestion that the story be made to read as if it had been given to the newspaper men by Dressner from his cell in the Tombs.

Justice Seabury denied the motion for a change of venue, saying that the grounds were not sufficient. He added that all motions for adjournment or postponement would be denied, and the examination of talesmen was begun.

Judge Seabury, after listening to Mr. Cockran's argument that the district attorney should be adjudged guilty of contempt of court for having talked freely about the case before it was brought to trial, stated that it was his opinion that perjury charges and the district attorney's statements about them were distinct and completely divorced from the actual trial of Becker. He therefore denied the motion.

Recess was taken until 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Becker Present.

Mrs. Becker, after remaining in the back of the room for some time, joined her husband at the counsel table. She was dressed in black. John Becker, the defendant's brother and a policeman, also was present.

There were early indications that Mr. Whitman intends to go fully into the graft phase of the case. Among the names of prospective witnesses for the state as called out by the clerk were Rhinelander Waldo, former commissioner of police; Winfield Sheehan, his secretary; all the heads of the department as constituted at present; the wife of "Lefty Louie" Rosenberg, the dead gunman, and an assortment of gamblers and characters in the Tenderloin.

MYSTERY OF FIRE AT SEA SOLVED

Tells of Rescue.

Boston, May 6.—The Cunard line today received a report from Capt. Miller of the Franconia regarding the rescue of a part of the crew of the steamer Columbian, which was burned at sea. The wireless message, dated today, was as follows:

"Received wireless from steamer Georgic 11:24 a. m., May 4, 'Seydlitz passed in 41.27 N., 59.07 W., a large steamer burning all over. Hull high out of water, foremast and funnel gone, no people on board.'

"At the same time came a wireless from Sable Island requesting me to endeavor to identify steamer. At 1:15 p. m. I received from the Associated Press, Boston: 'Great alarm over Seydlitz report of big ocean liner afire. Rescues by Franconia. Please send dispatch.'

"At that time rumor of rescue was not true.

"On receipt of Georgic's message I changed my course to cross position of burning steamer, arriving there at 3 p. m. Could discern no trace of wreck, but decided to encircle position at six miles and at 3:30 p. m. sighted a boat on starboard bow. Being already prepared, the occupants thereof were taken on board in a few minutes. The boat contained thirteen men and a corpse lying awash in the bottom of the boat.

Dead Man's Trousers As Signal.

"The survivors had used trouser legs from corpse on end of boathook for distress signal. Survivors were in a state of extreme exhaustion and mental collapse. Some had been burned by fire.

"They had been adrift forty hours. Six were put under doctors' care in hospital and others were given brandy and soup, bathed in hot water and put to bed. They immediately fell asleep. Little information obtained from them.

"The carpenter says the ship was the Columbian, sailing from Antwerp, 12,000 tons register. He was asleep and heard the alarm of fire and was coming along the deck when an explosion occurred amidships under his feet, which blew him overboard. He was picked up by a boat.

"A lamp trimmer's son states that his father was coming forward calling for him when the deck blew up and the lamp trimmer fell into the burning hold.

"A quartermaster says that Capt. McDonald and several others were getting a third boat out when a big explosion took place. He does not know whether the captain and his boat were saved. The second officer got away with about twenty-four men, ten minutes before the boat was picked up.

Cause of Fire Unknown.

"All agree the fire started at midnight Sunday from a cause unknown. In half an hour the whole ship forward and amidships was in flames with constant violent explosions. The wireless apparatus was wrecked.

"We are carrying to Boston the body of chief steward, who was frightfully injured by explosion, and died on Tuesday midday. Our doctor certified that death was due to shock and exposure.

"After picking up the boat we made another detour, searching for other boats, and deeply regret could not find them, but many other steamers hastening to scene of disaster and trust will rescue them. Have Marconied all ships to look out for two missing boats."

Solves Sea Mystery.

New York, May 6.—The steamer Columbian, which the Cunard liner Franconia reported burned at sea, sailed from London on April 16 for Antwerp and thence on April 23 for New York. She was last reported by wireless 810 miles east of Sandy Hook at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The rescue of a portion of her crew solved the mystery surrounding the identity of the steamer which had been on fire in the westbound trans-Atlantic steamer lane south of Sable island for forty-eight hours.

The Columbian was a cargo vessel and is not believed to have had any passengers on board. She was of 5,088 tons gross registry, 442 feet long, 45 feet beam and 31 feet deep. She was built by Harland & Wolff at Belfast in 1890 and was owned by F. Leyland & Co., Ltd., of Liverpool. The Leyland lined is controlled by the International Mercantile Marine company, with offices in this city.

Borrowed for the Trip.

The Columbian was running under charter of the Phoenix line, with offices at Antwerp, having been borrowed from the Leyland line for this one voyage.

A. Mackay Pentz, a member of the firm of Sanderson & Son, the local agents of the Phoenix line, estimated the number of the Columbian's crew at between forty-five and fifty. Of these the Franconia reported having saved thirteen alive and the body of another, while nineteen were said to be in the boat still adrift, making a total of thirty-three.

There were no passengers, Mr. Pentz said. The steamer had a miscellaneous cargo. He estimated its value at between $200,000 and $300,000.

CARRANZA IS DROPPED

consulted him and Secretary Bryan on phases of the mediation and the names of American delegates.

It was authoritatively stated that reports that the mediators were trying to get Carranza to reconsider his attitude and come into conference were not correct.

The language of the announcement that Niagara Falls, Can., had been chosen for the scene of the exchanges was interpreted by some observers as indicating that the envoys had not abandoned hope of attempting to compose the entire Mexican problem.

Observers who reached Vera Cruz from the Federal capital declared Huerta had done little to indicate he expected an American advance, or intended to offer serious resistance if that happened. However, numerous reports stated the Federals were mining railway tracks between the capital and the east coast. Huerta was said to recognize the menace of Villa's army in the north and the chance of a Zapatista attack from the south. Bombs for use against both those leaders were being turned out in the Federal arsenals.

Must Reckon With Zapata.

Zapata's reported threat to attack Mexico City yesterday did not materialize. It served, however, to renew interest in the possibility that Zapata may emerge as a figure to be reckoned with in future happenings. Some observers declare that even if the Constitutionalists conquer Huerta's Federals, they still would be compelled to face an army of Zapatistas.

FUNSTON WILL EXTEND HIS LINES ABOUT VERA CRUZ AND FORTIFY

anticipated anti-foreign disorders in Mexico.

Admiral Howard reported today from the west coast of Mexico that "relations with the Mexican authorities are more cordial than would be expected under the conditions." All ships of the American fleet, he said, "had been ordered to avoid hostile acts and jeopardizing lives."

Careful of Movements.

Up to noon few dispatches had been received from Vera Cruz by the war and navy departments. It was explained that changes in the placing of the American troops would not include any movement that could be considered as an advance from Vera Cruz.

Many reports reach here from various sources to the effect that the Mexicans already are destroying the railroads and bridges, but the department has received no confirmation of these reports up to this time.

Persistent reports from Tampico of preparations for a decisive conflict between the Constitutionalists and Federalists attract attention of the American officers here and at Vera Cruz.

Fired on Gunboat.

Admiral Howard reports from Mazatlan that the Constitutionalists entrenched on Piedra island fired continuously all day yesterday with rifles and field guns on the Mexican Federal gunboat Morelos, lying in the harbor, and that the fire was returned by Federalists from batteries on shore.

LIPPITT AND STONE CLASH

lives as showing the length to which the administration had gone to keep munitions of war from getting into Huerta's hands.

Senator Stone took Senator Lippitt to task and the Rhode Island senator responded that Senator Stone was placing his words in a false light.

"Oh, I know what the senator meant," continued Senator Stone. "He meant to charge the president with the death of 200 innocent Mexicans—think of it!—innocent Mexicans at Vera Cruz!

"Innocent Mexicans."

"The Rhode Island senator seems to regard those Mexican snipers who were firing on our boys in violation of all the rules of warfare as 'innocent Mexicans.' Why, all the country approves of what the president did at Vera Cruz, with the possible exception of the senator from Rhode Island.

"I neither condone Villa's acts, nor do I agree with the Rhode Island senator, who seems to approve of the acts of Huerta, a man guilty of treason and whose hands are red with the blood of his chieftain.

The Vera Cruz Action.

"The senator says we were hasty at Vera Cruz because a German vessel was approaching, laden with arms and munitions of war for Huerta. I stand here to approve what was done. The president was taking the only means to enforce the ultimatum and make Huerta apologize for what he had done.

"The senator from Rhode Island advises the administration that it should have kept quiet and remained inactive until rapid firing cannon, field guns and mauser rifles, with millions of rounds of ammunition, had been delivered into the hands of the men who would fire at our flag and our soldiers when they landed at Vera Cruz."

THURSDAY LAST DAY FOR FILING

All But County Candidates Must Be Listed By Then.

Tomorrow will be the last day on which state, congressional or legislative candidates may file. Candidates for county offices have twenty days longer.

There will, doubtless, be some eleventh hour filings but it is believed that practically all of those who intend to take a chance in the primaries of June 16 have signified that desire.

The Sixtieth legislative district gives promise of furnishing some excitement between now and primary day. There are now six Richmonds in the field, the latest of them filing with the county auditor yesterday afternoon. His name is D. T. Collins and he is an attorney of Hibbing.

Another filing that took place yesterday—but in St. Paul—was that of William E. Towne of Duluth, who is the Socialists' candidate for congress in the Eighth district.

PRESIDENT FORGETS HUERTA AT CIRCUS

Feeds Elephants Peanuts and Laughs at the Clowns.

Washington, May 6.—President Wilson threw aside the cares of office last night and went to the circus. Armed with a bag of peanuts for the elephants, he forgot the Mexican question and the administration's legislative program, while he laughed at the antics of clowns and marveled at acrobatic stunts beneath the big tent. With the president were his daughter, Miss Margaret; Miss Helen Bones, Dr. Cary Grayson, U. S. N., Senator Hughes of New Jersey, Secretary Tumulty, Thomas Pence and Otto Carmichael.

VILLA REMOVES AN UNFRIENDLY OFFICIAL

Orders Gen. Chao to the Front for Active Service.

El Paso, Tex., May 6.—Gen. Manuel Chao has been removed as Constitutionalist governor of Chihuahua by Gen. Francisco Villa. The removal, it was said, was the result of an intrigue against Villa by Chao in an effort to have the conqueror of Torreon replaced as general-in-chief of the army.

Trinidad Rodriguez has been named governor of Chihuahua, and Gen. Chao has been ordered to report at the front beyond Torreon for active service in the field.

Silvestro Terrazas, who has been secretary of state for Chihuahua and a close friend of Chao, was removed at the same time and has been succeeded by Augustin Labanstadt, formerly inspector of police for Governor Abram Gonzales.

Chao and Terrazas, who is not connected with the rich Federal family of that name, are regarded as being closely aligned with Gen. Carranza, while their successors are friends of Villa.

Constitutionalist representatives here deny that the removal of Chao indicated a strained relation between Carranza and Villa, but say that on the other hand it indicates that the relations between them are so close that not even personal friendship of Carranza for Chao could produce a break.

DENY GERMANS WERE KILLED IN MEXICO

Washington, May 6.—Reports that Otto Muller, a German citizen, had been murdered by Yaqui Indians are denied by Constitutionalist officials, American Consul Simpich reported to the state department.

The reported killing of a German woman named Clara Beckmeyer during an anti-American demonstration in Mexico City also was characterized as without foundation by reports to the department.

Rear Admiral Badger has arranged to send the steamer Esperanza from Vera Cruz to Puerto Mexico to meet a train bearing refugees from Mexico City. The train did not leave as intended late Monday night, because of a lack of cars, but probably will start late today.

REFUSE TO JOIN HUERTA'S FORCES.

Chihuahua, Mex., May 6.—Gen. Obregon, commander of the division of the northwest of the rebel army; Gen. Pablo Gonzales, commander of the northeast division; Gen. Panfilo Natora, commanding the central division; Gen. Caballero, commanding the besieging forces at Tampico, and others have refused proposals that they unite with the Federal troops to repel an American invasion.

REBEL ARTILLERY REACHES TAMPICO.

Washington, May 6.—Constitutionalist representatives here have been advised of the arrival of their artillery at Tampico. This has been awaited before beginning a general attack on the Federal garrison there.

REBELS EAGER TO MARCH ON CAPITAL.

Torreon, Mex., May 6.—Fifteen thousand Constitutionalist soldiers, many of them veterans, a large percentage mounted and all well armed, cheered and demanded to be led on to Mexico City as they passed in review yesterday before Gen. Francisco Villa. Gen. Villa seized upon the opportunity afforded by the national holiday, Cinco de Mayo, to review his forces now being prepared for the campaigns against Saltillo and San Luis Potosi.

It was noticeable that the horses of the Constitutionalist cavalry, which had undergone great hardships in the fighting before Torreon, were in excellent condition.

CONSUL BONNEY AT MEXICO CITY.

Washington, May 6.—American Consul W. L. Bonney from San Luis Potosi and his wife arrived at Mexico City yesterday, according to a dispatch to the state department from the Brazilian ambassador. No official word had come to the department concerning Acting Consul Silliman, reported to be under arrest and threatened with execution by Federal authorities at San Luis Potosi.

LET CONTRACT FOR NEW RURAL SCHOOL.

On his bid of $2,340 yesterday, John Knuti was awarded the contract for the construction of school No. 45 of the unorganized district which will be located eight miles west of Angora. Bids were opened yesterday afternoon at the monthly meeting of the county board of education. The building will be a two-room structure and will provide living apartments for the teacher.

In addition to letting the contract for the new school house, the board authorized the employment of twenty-seven teachers for the unorganized schools. The dissolution of school district No. 14, in the town of New Independence, seven miles east of Alborn, was also approved. Other routine matters were disposed of.

YOUNG NIXON FINED $200 FOR ASSAULT.

New Haven, Conn., May 6.—Stanhope W. Nixon, until recently a prominent Yale student and a son of Lewis Nixon of New York, was found guilty in the city court of a technical charge of breach of the peace in connection with the assault upon Edward W. Everit, chief engineer of a telephone company, on Oct. 21 last. Judge O'Meara imposed a fine of $200 and costs. Notices of an appeal were filed.

Nixon went on the stand in his own behalf and was a frank witness. He said on the night in question he had been drinking with other students and his mind was a blank as to what had occurred. He declared that his statement to detectives was in no sense a confession, as he could not remember what happened.

BOOK TRADE EXPO OPEN.

Washington and Chicago Libraries Are Represented at Leipsic.

Leipsic, Saxony, May 6.—The International Book Trade and Graphic Arts exposition was opened here today by King Frederick August of Saxony. The exposition is the largest and most complete of its kind ever held. The grounds contain 100 acres, and the main building covers five acres. There are twenty other buildings devoted to exhibition purposes. The exposition is given in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Royal Academy of Graphic Arts and the book trade at Leipsic.

Foreign nations have taken a very lively interest. In the American exhibit the government printing office at Washington, the Chicago public library and some other American libraries are represented. The main building is given up to the German book trade, and it fully illustrates all the industrial and manufacturing processes of printing and bookmaking.

One of the curiosities of the exposition is a paper mill 200 years old for making hand paper. In contrast to it is a series of the most modern machinery of the printing trade that begins with the pine logs and ends with the finished newspaper.

Acid Stomachs Are Dangerous

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist.

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause greatest distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

HIGH SCHOOLS WILL CONTEST

Interscholastic Gatherings at Grand Forks May 13 and 14.

Track Meet, Debating Contest and Other Things Planned.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual conference of the North Dakota Scholastic association will be held here May 13 and 14, in connection with the annual interscholastic field and track meet; the state debating contest, the state declamation contest and the annual meeting of the North Dakota Athletic league.

The annual May festival of the university will be staged on the evening of May 13, 200 girls taking part. Miss Esther Hultgren will then be crowned "queen of the May."

In the debating final, Hatton and Rolla will compete Friday evening.

Many High Schools Entered.

Seventeen high schools already have been entered in the declamation contest, and it is expected that eight or ten more will be added.

Entries in the field and track meet will close next Saturday. About eighteen schools will participate in those events. The preliminaries will be held the first day, and the finals the second day.

In the conference of high school faculty, men and women of the state, the principal features are the reports of the state high school inspector, the high school examiner, the committee on syllabus for general science course, and an address by H. L. Miller of the university high school, Madison, Wis.

Discussions of various subjects will be participated in by P. S. Berg of Dickinson, E. R. Edwards of Jamestown, C. C. Root of Bismarck, Herbert P. Ide of Cando, A. D. Hall of Anamoose, F. L. Whitney of Grafton.

CROW WING COURT.

Various Proceedings Before Judge Wright at Brainerd.

Brainerd, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—District court opened, Judge B. F. Wright presiding. The grand jury elected W. E. Erickson, foreman. Schall and Brown and D. J. Severance of Crosby, appearing for George Payne, asked that the case of Payne, accused of kidnaping be taken up for trial. The case of John Brennan of Superior, vs. Thomas Keating, a mine owner of Deerwood, for several thousand dollars attorney's fees, will be heard on May 11. The case of John H. Hill of Ironton against three mining companies, the Armour No. 2, the Cuyuna-Duluth, the Armour No. 1, claiming that the north road leading to Ironton was being caved in and petitioning it be stopped or a new road provided, was heard on demurrer and the attorney for the plaintiff was given time to file additional briefs.

Sunday School League.

Brainerd, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Churches of the city have formed an Inter-Sunday School Baseball league and have announced a schedule for the months of May and June. In the league are Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, Lutheran, Congregational and other churches.

COLLECTOR RECOVERS LOST VALUABLE PAPERS

A. M. KIME.

Mott, N. D., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. M. Kime, a collector for the Rumely Products company, lost a grip containing $10,000 in notes, and found it and the paper, ten days later, in another town, fifty miles distant.

Mr. Kime deposited the grip and its valuable contents in a local hotel. When he came to claim his property, it was missing. Search was at once instituted, but it was not for two weeks that the missing grip and its contents were found, reposing peacefully in the lobby of a hotel at Hettinger, N. D.

Officials have attempted to determine how the grip reached Hettinger, but so far they have failed to do so. There appears to be no clew to the identity of the persons stealing the notes.

Mr. Kime is a former University of North Dakota student, where he was prominent in oratory and debating circles.

WELL WATER FOR MOISTENING SOIL

Irrigation From Wells Proposed in Western North Dakota.

Fargo, N. D., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lands in Western North Dakota may be irrigated from wells, if the investigations proposed by Director Cooper of the United States experiment station here and the members of the board of trustees show the plan is feasible.

J. F. Brodie of Dickinson presented the matter to a meeting of the board of trustees at the agricultural college here. He called attention to the irrigation systems now being used with wells as the source of water supply in Oklahoma, Oregon, California and other sections of the United States. In many of these places the water costs from 6 to 9 cents per 1,000 gallons to get it to the surface. That cost might be prohibitive in North Dakota where the climatic conditions would preclude as many crops as in some other states, but with the millions of tons of lignite coal to furnish the power and the shallow wells in the western part of this state it is contended that the cost of getting the water to the surface would be much less.

Could Burn Lignite.

With the cheap fuel and the accessibility of the lignite coal everywhere in the western section of the state the power could be cheaply produced. Instead of having individual plants, however, it is very probable that if the plan is adopted a big central electric plant will be constructed near some of the better veins of coal and electric power generated and transmitted to the farms where it can be used much more conveniently and cheaply than by employing a man to operate a steam engine.

HELLSTROM IN RACE.

North Dakotan Is Again Going After the Governorship.

Bismarck, N. D., May 6.—F. O. Helstrom has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor. He was warden of the state penitentiary under Governor Burke. Two years ago he obtained the nomination, defeating George P. Jones of La Moure. In his formal announcement he indorses the primary, is in favor of the initiative and referendum and also comes out against resubmission.

TONKA PIONEER DIES.

"Captain Brooks," Character at Mill City Resort, Is Summoned.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 6.—One of the pioneers of Minnesota and Lake Minnetonka, John Boardman Brooks, affectionately known as Capt. Brooks, died Monday night at Northwestern hospital after a lingering illness. The funeral will be tomorrow at 4 at Lakewood chapel.

"Capt." Brooks had lived at Maplewood, near Wayzata, since 1882. He was a boatbuilder who designed and built many of the earlier racing yachts, and he retained his interest and skill in handling boats to the end of his life. He was a great traveler until within a few years, and made many long journeys by boat in all parts of the United States.

Born in 1832 at New Haven, Conn., "Capt." Brooks was graduated from Yale in 1851. He came to Minnesota in 1857, and filed on some government land. He remained about two years and voted on the admission of Minnesota to the Union.

BRAINERD CITY JOBS ARE FILLED.

Brainerd, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The council elected W. H. Crowell, city attorney; V. N. Roderick, city clerk; C. D. Peacock, city engineer; Jacob Paine, street commissioner; Tom Martin, sanitary policeman; Otto Reinhardt, weighmaster; H. McGinn, fire chief. The salary of the city clerk was raised to $1,200 a year and that of the city engineer to $2,000 a year.

DAM BLOWN UP; FARMERS SUSPECTED.

Eau Claire, Wis., May 6.—The big reservoir dam on Big Bear creek near Haugen, was blown up with dynamite late Monday night, letting out a great amount of stored water but otherwise doing no particular damage. The guilty persons are not known, but there has been much ill feeling among farmers and others in that section because the dam has kept the water so high that farm lands and portions of public highways have been flooded. It is thought some disaffected persons blew up the dam.

New Mill City School Head.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 6.—Dr. Frank E. Spaulding, who was elected by the board of education to be superintendent of Minneapolis public schools for a period of three years, beginning Aug. 1, has accepted the position, succeeding Dr. C. M. Jordan, the present superintendent, whose term expires June 30.

MAKING HOG SERUM.

North Dakota Agricultural College Preparing for Hog Cholera.

Fargo, N. D., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—To be prepared for even a hog cholera epidemic of the proportion of 1913 the veterinary department of the agricultural college is now manufacturing serum in large quantities. The present capacity is about a quarter of a million cubic centimeters per month. Dr. H. P. Hoskins has been in charge of the work. He will be assisted from now on by H. K. Kamp of the University of Ohio and it is hoped to increase the capacity to a half million cubic centimeters of serum each month.

TAYLOR WILL REBUILD.

North Dakota Town to Rise on Ashes of Ruined Buildings.

Taylor, N. D., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Taylor's burned district will be rebuilt at once and with concrete and brick this time instead of frame buildings. Especial attention will be given to making the new structures as nearly fireproof as possible by the construction of heavy fire walls. The Merchants' State bank, one of the string of twenty-nine of which A. J. Peterson of Minnesota is president, has secured temporary quarters till its new home can be erected. The total fire loss on all buildings was about $120,000 and the insurance ran to about two-thirds that amount. The adjustments will soon be completed.

FADDEN REAPPOINTED.

Storm Center of Larimore, N. D., Job Back to Work.

Larimore, N. D. May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The reinstatement of "Dick" Fadden as chief of police and of N. J. Powell as city auditor were the first official acts of A. Bridgwater, appointed mayor of Larimore as the successor of Martin Nelson, resigned because of protests raised at his removal of those two officials from their places.

Fadden has served as police chief continuously for twenty years, while Powell has been city auditor for a great many years.

WILL BUILD NEW ARDOCH SCHOOL.

Ardoch, N. D., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The contract for the erection of a modern school building here was let yesterday to K. C. Hunter of Grand Forks in competition with six other bidders.

The new building will replace the structure burned several months ago. It will be of brick construction and thoroughly modern.

HONOR SUPERIOR MAN.

W. H. Webb Elected President of Northern Wisconsin D. A.

Wausau, Wis., May 6.—The greater development of Northern Wisconsin and general co-operation among all the communities of this section are the Keynotes of the organization of the Northern Wisconsin Development association which is meeting here with many representative men in attendance.

In the election of officers W. H. Webb of Superior, chairman of the committee on organization, was elected president and A. G. Schmidt of this city, secretary.

The constitution of the organization was adopted unanimously. It is built along lines of co-operation with Southern Wisconsin. The advancement of the people of the northern part of the state, especially along the lines of education, is sought by the association as expressed by the constitution. One of the results to be accomplished will be establishment of the rural credits scheme, by which farmers can secure blooded stock on easy payments.

A legislation committee will be appointed today by President Webb from the delegates present.

The question of the changing the Minneapolis regional bank district so that Northern Wisconsin will be placed with Southern Wisconsin in the Chicago district was the main topic of discussion today.

Prominent Milwaukee bankers, including E. C. Zimmerman, J. W. P. Lombard, William Bigelow, J. H. Puelicher and George Bartlett, addressed the delegates on the subject. This afternoon, delegates will be shown about the city by the Wausau Automobile club.

THIEF RIVER FALLS BOASTS FINE DEPOT.

Thief River Falls, May 6.—The new Soo Line depot, costing about $80,000, has been formally opened. It is a beautiful brick structure with up-to-date accommodations for passengers and excels any depot in the northern territory. Last fall the old depot was moved one block north along the tracks, where it has been used as usual for the general passenger business, while the new structure was in course of construction.

Fargo Retailers Cooperate.

Fargo, N. D., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—A closer organization will be formed by the retailers of Fargo as a result of a special meeting at the Commercial club. A better system of controlling credits and of safeguarding against the deadbeats will be adopted and many other matters of interest to the dealers will be taken up. It is thought practically every retailer in the city will line up in the organization.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Milwaukee—Oscar F. Zinn, member of the executive board of the National Wholesale Liquor Dealers' association, will leave Milwaukee on Sunday for the annual meeting of the association in Washington, D. C., May, 12, 13, 14.

Madison—Mothers' day will be unofficially observed in Wisconsin on May 10. The day has not been officially recognized here by proclamation or otherwise.

Monroe—The body of an unidentified man was found on the tracks south of this city shortly after the passing of an Illinois Central passenger train.

Neenah—English Lutherans of this city are planning for the building of a new church. The estimated cost will be about $25,000.

Oconto—Loss estimated at $650 was caused when wires became crossed and all the fire alarm boxes in the city were burned out. Emergency arrangements have been made for the protection of the city until the purchase of new boxes.

Washburn—Over 200 men have been given employment here by the reopening of two big sawmills. Indications are that work will be unusually plentiful here this summer as these and other industries, including the dynamite plant and the coal docks, will run at full capacity.

Jefferson—The district declamatory contest will be held at Jefferson Friday night. Two contestants from the schools at Fort Atkinson, Edgerton, Stoughton, Whitewater and Jefferson will take part.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Marquette — After Health Officer Main, Mayor Begole and Former Milk Inspector Deadman had made an inspection of about twenty dairies in the outskirts of the city, they came to the conclusion that a new milk ordinance is necessary. Accordingly Dr. Main is working on a new ordinance.

Newberry—John Hunter of Newberry is a candidate for representative to succeed W. R. Burns of Munising, who is not a candidate for renomination.

Hancock—Mother Superior of the St. Patrick's convent announces that the dates for the class day exercises and the commencement exercises for the members of the graduating class have been set for June 16 and 18 respectively.

Calumet—Work preparatory to the reopening of No. 5 shaft Tamarack and No. 3 shaft North Tamarack was started Monday and will be pushed as rapidly as possible. It is expected several days will elapse before these shafts, which have been idle ever since the beginning of the strike on July 23, will be ready for active mining operations.

Ishpeming—Leif Erickson, formerly a collector for the Consolidated Fuel & Lumber company, is now traveling for the company. His territory covers most of the upper peninsula.

Houghton—Deputy Jack Chellew returned Monday morning from Duluth with John Kuiyala, who is wanted for seduction. Kuiyala has been wanted for the past year, and until Saturday the officers were unsuccessful in their attempts to locate him. They have been on his trail for nine months.

Laurium—Harry Epiett, who recently resigned as choirmaster of the Laurium M. E. church, will leave shortly for England to attend the fiftieth anniversary of his parents' wedding.

Marquette—Herman Priebe, arraigned before Justice Byrne for a second offense of reckless driving, was assessed $20 and the costs. Some weeks ago Priebe was brought before the justice and was fined $10 and the costs.

Negaunee—Levine Bros. has let a contract to L. E. Chausse for remodeling the building on Iron street now occupied by their store. The improvements will call for an outlay of several thousand dollars.

Ishpeming—Deputy Sheriff Charles Davigne of Champion brought Nick Mahaney to the Ishpeming jail and a formal charge of attempted arson has been made against him. The trial has been deferred until his partner, who has evaded the officers, is caught.

Gwinn—A class of eight students will be graduated from the Gwinn high school at the close of this semester in June. The class is one of the largest that has ever been graduated here, and is equal in number to the class of last year. Its personnel is Walberg Hanson, Signi Lindquist, Lillian Larson, Kate Trebilcock, Victor Laundry, Alger Lindberg, Harry Johnson and Richard Herwes.

Marquette—Chief of Police McIntosh and his officers have during the past week killed eleven dogs, for which no license fee had been paid. As a result, those who value their pets are now securing tags for them from the city clerk.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Custer, S. D.—Strychnine obtained in some unknown way caused the death at Pringle, near here, of Floyd, the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Raver, and Ray, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mullenbrink of the same place.

Deadwood, S. D.—Announcement is made by Forest Supervisor Kelleter that 20,000 tres will be planted this season on what is known as the Roubaix burn, devastated some years ago by a forest fire. The trees are to be planted at the rate of 680 to the acre.

Bismarck, N. D.—For the first time since 1890, a boat will make the trip from Bismarck to Fort Benton, a distance of 800 miles. The boat will transport a large mining outfit to Bertman, Mont. Navigation on the Missouri river is open and a busy season is expected.

Minot, N. D.—Dr. David Sandy of Ambrose, who has been confined to St. Joseph's hospital for the past three weeks with a brain affection, is reported to be in a very low condition, and hopes have almost been given up for his recovery.

Bismarck, N. D.—Reports received from every portion of the state indicate an optimistic spirit of the people of North Dakota over the prospects for a good crop this coming season. Few localities report anything other than the best possible condition, and that despite the lateness of the season.

Steele, N. D.—H. A. Wehlitz, a merchant here, has sold $800 worth of seed corn this spring. There is still a big demand for more seed.

Center, N. D.—The Knights of Pythias have instituted a lodge here. Grand Chancellor Jorgen Howard of Bismarck, had charge of the work, and was assisted by Land Commissioner Henry, Deputy State Treasurer Tharalson, and Private Secretary Zeigler, also of Bismarck.

Fargo, N. D.—Dick Vawter, a representative of the Redpath-Vawter Chautauqua system, has just visited Fargo to open the assembly. He delivered the season tickets to the local committee and left some attractive advertising material.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Prof. Grosvenor, head of the department of international law at Amherst college, Amherst, Mass., will deliver the annual university commencement address this year.

Jamestown, N. D.—Charges that H. H. Wheelock, A. W. Schroeder and C. H. Barder, officials of the Medina State bank, which recently failed, consented to the acceptance of deposits after they knew the institution to be insolvent, are made in complaints filed with State's Attorney R. D. Chase by William Wellhauser, a depositor.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Miss Dora Gladen, formerly secretary of the Y. W. C. A. of Grand Forks, a refugee from Mexico, arrived in New Orleans last Friday and is now bound for Chula Vista, Cal., where she will visit her mother, also formerly of Grand Forks.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Devils Lake will be represented at the Imperial Council of Shriners at Atlanta, Ga., next week by E. A. Watt, an official delegate from Kem temple, and Blanding Fisher. They will join the St. Paul delegation May 7.

Valley City, N. D.—At the last meeting of the Episcopal Guild the following members were elected to offices in the guild: Mrs. Beachem, president; Mrs. W. W. Smith, vice president; and Mrs. Edward Mayland, secretary; Mrs. Storey, treasurer.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Roseau—J. E. Lindberg, a retired merchant and a pioneer in Roseau county and until a few years ago a well known business man here, died May 3. He retired because of failing health. Nine children survive.

Moorhead—Sever O. Holte, a widely known business man of Moorhead, died May 3, after a lingering illness from tuberculosis. Mr. Holte was born in Norway and came to the United United States in 1867, when 3 years old. He came to Clay county in 1881. The deceased leaves a widow and seven children.

Crookston—The Northwestern Commercial schools association, which met here, adjourned after accepting the invitation to the Grand Forks Commercial club to hold its annual convention there next year. The officers elected were: J. C. Sathre, Crookston, president; F. L. Watkins, secretary; Robert Hughes, Grand Forks, vice president, and E. M. Sathre, Bemidji, treasurer. The executive committee consists of H. H. Aaker, Fargo; G. F. Thacker, Grand Forks, and S. O. Mithun, Crookston.

Moorhead—The committee of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association, composed of President Leslie Welter, Secretary N. S. Davies, S. G. Comstock, Moorhead; C. G. Selvig, Crookston, and Thomas H. Canfield, Lake Park, is in the Twin Cities boosting for the big June meeting of the association to be held in Moorhead.

Mankato—E. E. Gresham, agent for the Omaha road at St. Peter, died Sunday after several weeks' illness of hardening of the liver. Mr. Gresham entered the service of the Omaha company on April 7, 1892, and for several years was telegrapher at that place. When a vacancy occurred in the agency there he was appointed.

International Falls—Joseph Gurichuck, a Russian, stole a gum machine from its stand on the street Saturday night and for the act drew a thirty-day sentence at the county jail.

St. Cloud—William A. Boerger and Ben E. Schoener have filed with County Auditor Thomey for the respective offices of county superintendent of schools and sheriff of Stearns county.

Brainerd—Rev. James Steenson of Minneapolis, general missionary of the American Sunday School union, is in the city working with Rev. Walter Smith in the interests of the Sunday schools of this district.

Stillwater—Mrs. Dora Nadler died at the family home in the town of Stillwater May 5, aged 80 years. The family came to this city 62 years ago and for many years lived at Houlton, Wis. Surviving and living on the home farm is the son, H. C. Nadler. The husband of Mrs. Nadler died on March 21.

Rochester—At a meeting of the Olmstead County Farmers' association Thursday, June 25, was named as the probable date for the annual picnic of the farmers. These officers were chosen: President, George Burnham; vice president, J. F. Spencer, and secretary, J. C. Quimby.

SOME housekeepers try Ivory Soap for fine laundry work and have such success with it that they begin to use it for the bath and toilet.

Others using Ivory Soap for the toilet find it so mild and pure that they try it for cleaning articles which ordinarily they would not think of touching with soap and water.

No matter which way you begin to use Ivory Soap its mildness, purity, freedom from alkali and all-round quality will show you quickly the desirability of using it for all fine cleansing both of persons and things.

The point is, Ivory is such a high grade soap that it knows no limitations.

Your Manly Strength "Nature" Book Free

MY FREE OFFER TO MY MEN AND YOUNG MEN READERS.

My free offer is as follows: There are in existence today numerous creditable books relating to the much discussed sex science, and they range in price from $2 to $5, while my offer as given below is a free one.

I publish a little private compendium of 72 pages, pocket size, containing 8,000 words and 20 half-tone photo reproductions, which thoroughly covers the subject of sex, but only in its relation to manhood or vital manly strength, its legitimate uses, its wanton abuses, its loss and the causes thereof, its possible self-restoration and its permanent preservation. These are the vital phases of the sex subject which I find to be of most interest to all men, young or elderly, single or married, and I have therefore put into this little self-help book the very best that I can offer relating to that particular personal and private advice and information, which my 30 years' practical experience in this field has taught me men most seek, and through which they can get the most real benefit in respect to their own vigor and vital health. This, reader, is the book, and my offer is to send it by mail, absolutely and entirely free of charge, in a perfectly plain, sealed envelope, to any man of young man anywhere who writes for it (see coupon below), and there is not a particle of obligation of any kind whatsoever involved in making this gift offer to you. Over a million of these books have been thus sent to men all over the world who wrote for them.

The reason why I can offer this illustrated sex book free is that in one part I include a description of a little mechanical vitalizer of my own invention, which is for use by those of my readers who need some outside aid in the restoration of their manly vigor. However, that is a matter for each person to decide for himself. The book is complete and entirely independent of anything it says with respect to the vitalizer. Therefore please use free coupon and get the book by return mail. You will find it a valuable adviser in many respects. SANDEN, Author.

HE WINS—MANHOOD COUNTS.

Vital manhood and an abundant manly vigor is the greatest human asset of our day. Every man is entitled to be perfectly strong, vigorous and capable, just as nature intended he should, and if through the medium of my book I can show you how you yourself may become as vital, manly and forceful as the best man of your acquaintance, then I have merely given you a clear understanding of what nature is herself constantly endeavoring to tell and show you.

As to my vitalizer, it may or may not be necessary in your own case, but if you want to use it after reading the description, I will gladly make some liberal proposition so you may get one to try. This vitalizer, weighing only several ounces, is worn all night. It generates a soft, easy flowing FORCE which I call vitality. This FORCE enters your system at the small of the back, flowing thence through the kidneys, liver, stomach, bladder and organs, and diffusing itself to every part of the body. Over 300,000 Sanden vitalizers are now in use or have recently been used. It keeps up its gentle action while you sleep. Men everywhere have said it makes them feel better and stronger almost at once, that it often takes pain out of the back in a few hours, and 60 to 90 days' time is sufficient to restore normal vigor. With special attachments my vitalizer is used by women as well as men for rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, etc.

If you live in or near this city, would be pleased to have you call. Hours, 9 to 6; Sundays, 10 to 1.

However, whether or not you ever use the vitalizer, at least you want the free book, so kindly fill in the coupon and the book will go to you, sealed, by return mail.

The Herald Sporting Gossip Is Reliable

Just Between You and Me

By BRUCE

THEY are off today, Bill, in the Northern. Eight teams are at the barriers, ready to start the race that will be fought through until the fourth day of browning September. It should be a fine race; one of the best that any of the various leagues in this section of the country have ever contested.

This season the fans of this city know less about the White Sox than has been the case in any of the previous getaways. This fact is accounted for by the fact that practically all of the veterans of the team have been swept away and in their places are to be found new faces.

Darby O'Brien will be back at the second sack. Like the brook Mr. Tennyson wrote of, the Irish Orator goes on the interminable lengths. To the left and right of him, and in fact all around him, will be found the forms of the new players that have come to take the places of our departed friends of the diamond.

Under the crafty and able leadership of Lefty Davis the chances of Winona should be considered very good, and this, too, in face of the fact that the Pirates have the shortest home schedule of any team in the league.

With a weather eye to the box office, the magnates of the Northern judiciously arranged the schedule so that Winnipeg, the Atlas supporting the other teams of the league on its broad shoulders, should play most of the season at home.

Last year the metropolis of the Western Dominion drew more than any other three cities of the league, and this highly important fact was not for one wavering instant lost sight of by the alert schedule framers.

So, therefore, it should be remembered that the Peggers will have a large and fair-haired advantage in that there will be a long season at home, where the busy turnstiles play the sweetest music in the weary and down trodden world. You nasty dollar, you.

To our humble way of thinking Superior is going to be in the running, and from the facts wafted this way it would not be in the least surprising to see Virginia under the pilotship of Kid Taylor, jump out strong and be fighting up in the first division all of the way.

Winona, Superior and Virginia loom strong, with Duluth, Grand Forks, Fort William, Winnipeg and the Fargo-Moorhead combination in the unknown class.

The Cantillons are pretty certain to plant a representative team at the North Dakota metropolis, and it is generally believed that under the guiding hand of a baseball man of the experience of Eddie Wheeler, that Grand Forks will have a better team than the aggregation of 1913.

Winnipeg should have a more consistent season than the one of a year ago, and the faithful here are strong and steadfast in the belief that the 1914 Duluth White Sox will be peppery and hustlers all the way through.

Pal Brown in Town.

PAL BROWN was in our fair city yesterday. The lad from the range came down to transact some business and also to get in touch with the light promoters of the Head of the Lakes. During the day Brown held a long conference with the Abrams boys and out of it may grow the long projected match with French Joe Mandot.

Friends of the Minnesota lad want to see him again in a contest with one of the top-notchers. Mandot is at the present writing going the fighting pace that some two years ago caused the Southerner to be looked upon as the coming lightweight champion of the world.

It is said that Brown will take some sparring partners back to the homestead and will train into condition for his next contest to be fought on the other side of the bay.

Zby Is at Kansas City.

A LETTER from J. H. Herman yesterday brought the news that the big Pole is at the city of the ragfng Kaw, and that he is getting in condition for the contest with Ordemann and also for one large match that the squat mastodon of the mat will have before he sails for his native land.

And speaking of Zby, who, when all has been said, is one of the real cards of the wrestling game, it might be stated that the present tour of the country may be the last made by the great Pole. Zbyszko has prospered and is the owner of land and a huge hotel on the other side of the water. He may give up the game for good at the expiration of the present season.

Possibly the final match of the season may be one between the winner of the forthcoming Cutler-Westergaard battle—and it should be some match.

He Is a Regular Fellow.

AT the start of the baseball season it is not in the least out of the way to offer a slight token of appreciation to Peerless Laundry Leader Harry A. Blume, who has succeeded to the throne and become the little white father of local baseball. Mr. Blume stepped into the presidency of the International league at a time when baseball locally was in a chaotic condition. The reins of baseball were tangled, and it required a firm and well balanced driver in the seat.

Without baseball experience of even the most mild and innocent sort, Mr. Blume took hold and by shrewd business sense and the application of that rare thing called common sense, has accomplished much not only in the International league of the past, but in the Northern league of the future and with the local club. Harry A. Blume has never hesitated to spend his own money. He is in baseball for the love of the game, and it might be stated that he is dollars out as the result of his devotion to the sport. The incumbent of the club presidency has never hesitated to spend money when and where he thought it would benefit the team, and at all times in the past he has had the interest of the game at heart.

WILL SHOOT AT GREEN BAY, WIS.

Green Bay, Wis., May 6.—The Western handicap, one of the chief events for trap shooters in the United States, will be held in Green Bay on Aug. 4, 5 and 6. Announcement of the dates has just been made by the Interstate Association for the Promotion of Trap Shooting.

Johnson Shuts Out Yankees.

Washington, May 6.—Johnson shutout New York yesterday, allowing only four hits. Not a Yankee reached first base until the seventh inning. The fielding of the visitors was very ragged in the early stages of the game, but they executed a triple play in the third inning which shut off several runs. With the bases full Morgan hit to Maisel, who threw to Sweeney, forcing Gandil at the plate. Sweeney then threw to Williams, putting out Morgan. Williams hurled the ball to Maisel, who tagged Ainsmith. Neither pitcher gave a base on balls.

Score: R. H. E.
Washington ....0 0 2 2 0 0 2 0 x—6 10 2

Batteries—McHale and Sweeney; Johnson and Ainsmith. Umpires—Dineen and Connolly.

Both Teams in Form.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 6.—The fielding of Turner and Cobb, the pitching of Hagerman, the hitting of Lajoie, were the features of yesterday's game which Cleveland won from Detroit 4 to 2.

In the sixth inning Cobb ran in back of second base and made a wonderful diving catch of Graney's pop fly. In the ninth inning with Detroit threatening a rally Turner started a fast double play on Morarity's hard grounder, and a moment later robbed Stanage of a hit by fast work. Covaleskie pitched splendidly after the first inning.

Reb Must Have Been Peeved.

St. Louis, Mo., May 6.—"Reb" Russell, who was beaten by St. Louis Saturday returned to the mound for Chicago yesterday afternoon and turned the tables, Chicago winning 8 to 1. Manager Rickey used eighteen players in an endeavor to check the visitors.

Score: R. H. E.
Chicago .....1 4 0 2 0 0 0 0 1—8 13 1
St. Louis .....0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—1 6 4

AMERICAN ASSN.

Millers Lose in Eleventh.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 6.—A double, a pass in the eleventh gave Louisville two runs and a 4 to 2 victory over Minneapolis yesterday. The visitors tied the count in the fifth and from then until the eleventh Lake and Northrup pitched excellent ball. The local management furnished music at the game. There will be a band at the park each ladies' day this season.

Score: R. H. E.
Minneapolis .1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 9 0

Batteries—Northrup and Clemons, Severoid; Lake and Smith, Rondeau. Umpires—Westervelt and O'Brien.

Saints Pounded Hard.

St. Paul, Minn., May 6.—Indianapolis batted Works, who was wild and ineffective, out of the box in two innings and then pounded Reiger for enough hits to win easily 9 to 3. The visitors made four doubles, one triple and a home run off the two local twirlers. Costly errors also aided Indianapolis.

Score: R. H. E.
Indianapolis ....1 3 2 0 0 1 0 0 2—9 11 0
St. Paul.....0 0 2 0 0 0 0 1 0—3 9 3

Batteries—Harrington and Blackburn; Works, Reiger and Glenn. Umpires—Murray and Johnson.

Breaks Pitching Duel.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 6.—With the bases loaded in the seventh inning yesterday Barbeau doubled to deep left cleaning the bases and winning the last game of the series for Milwaukee 3 to 1. Up to the seventh the game was a pitching duel between Dougherty and Scheneberg. Both men were wild, but were invincible in the pinches, outside of the seventh when all the runs were made. Barbeau played a wonderful game at short. The score: R. H. E.
Milwaukee .....0 0 0 0 0 0 3 0 x—3 6 1

Batteries—Dougherty and Hughes; Scheneberg and Smith. Umpires—Owens and Connolly.

Combination Wins for Kaws.

Kansas City, Mo., May 6.—Roth's double, a wild pitch and a double by Compton in the eighth inning enabled Kansas City to win yesterday 5 to 4 after Cleveland had tied the score in the eighth inning on Kirke's single, Willie's triple and Stump's single. Ritchie, who started the game for Kansas City, was replaced by Morgan in the eighth when Cleveland started hitting. Morgan held the visitors safe.

Score: R. H. E.
Cleveland .....0 0 0 0 2 0 0 2 0—4 9 1
Kansas City....0 0 0 1 0 3 0 1 x—5 7 1

FEDERAL LEAGUE

Wins in Twelfth.

Chicago, May 6.—Buffalo won the first extra inning game in Chicago this season yesterday, defeating Chicago 5 to 2. The winning runs came in the twelfth. Score. R. H. E.
Chicago ....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 1 0—2 8 5

Batteries—Krapp and Blair, Allen; Lange, Watson and Wilson.

Cullop's Winning Pitching.

Kansas City, Mo., May 6.—Cullop's effective pitching enabled Kansas City to defeat Pittsburg yesterday 3 to 2. The visitors were unable to hit safely until the sixth inning, when a single by Holly followed by a triple by Lennox scored one run. Cullop allowed two more hits in the ninth, one being a home run by Lennox. The locals scored all their runs by bunching hits in the fourth inning. Score: R. H. E.
Pittsburg .....0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1—2 4 2
Kansas City ....0 0 0 3 0 0 0 0 x—3 9 1

Batteries—Dickson and Berry; Cullop and Easterly. Umpires—Mannassau and Bush.

Weakens in Eighth, Loses.

St. Louis, Mo., May 6.—Willett, after pitching good ball for St. Louis during seven innings, weakened in the eighth and made possible Baltimore's score of five runs in that inning, giving them the game over the local team by 8 to 6. Score: R. H. E.
St. Louis .....2 0 0 0 1 0 2 1 0—6 11 1
Baltimore .....0 0 0 1 0 2 0 5 0—8 12 2

Batteries — Willett and Herbert, Chapman; Wilhelm and E. Smith, Jacklitsch.

FARGO GUN CLUB NOW REORGANIZED.

Fargo, N. D., May 6.—The Fargo Gun club has been reorganized. A tournament will probably be held here July 3 and 4. E. C. Cooper is the new president, N. L. Hubbard is vice president and A. N. Cooper is secretary and treasurer, with John Hammerlik as field captain.

WOODLANDS WILL MEET HIBBING

Crack Duluth Semi-Professional Club Will Begin Schedule.

On next Sunday, May 10, Athletic park will be the scene of the first baseball game of he season when the crack Hibbing team will open an engagement with the Duluth Woodlands.

Negotiations with this strong Mesaba range team have been pending for some time, the matter being finally closed today. Inasmuch as the Duluth White Sox do not open their regular season here until Monday, May 18, local followers of the national pastime who are getting anxious and impatient to witness an exhibition of their favorite sport will be privileged to see what promises to be a good contest in the meeting of these two teams.

In prevailing upon the Hibbingites to appear before the Duluth fans, the Woodlands have succeeded in securing one of the very strongest independent teams in the Northwest to open the local season on the league grounds. Several well known former league players are in business on the range and play regularly with this strong aggregation.

Judge Brady, the well known baseball enthusiast, is again managing the Hibbing team which, as can be inferred, is composed of the best material that could be obtained and the management has spared no expense in collecting the fastest players that were available. Always a good live ball town, Hibbing has demanded the very best team that could be obtained to represent it and in this they have usually succeeded. The reputation and the record of last year's team were first class and that this standard of excellence will be maintained this season seems assured.

In meeting the Woodlands the Hibbing team will find a team composed of the best semi-pro talent at the Head of the Lakes. Headed by big Sam Meniece, last year's White Sox star first baseman, who last week signed up with them, Frank Summers, another former Duluth league player, and Capt. Carl Hon, whose sensational pitching brought the team into the limelight last season, the Woodlands will present the strongest lineup that probably could be assembled in the Zenith City.

Not only will a large attendance of Duluth fans be out to see the game, but a good sized delegation of boosters from the range town will accompany their team to see the contest.

THE COMMERCIALS ARE IN THE FIELD

City Teams Will Play Under Duluth Amateur League Auspices.

The Commercial league organized for the season at a meeting held last evening at the Mesaba block. The Board of Trades, Northern Shoe company team, F. A. Patricks, Wolvins, Stone-Ordean-Wells and John Morrell teams will be in the league, which it was announced would play under the auspices of the Duluth Amateur Baseball association.

Ray W. Fenton was elected as president of the league, Roy Foote vice president and George L. Hargraves as secretary and treasurer.

It is expected that the schedule of the new league will open June 6, and it is also expected that the present season will be the best ever enjoyed by the Commercial league, which in the past has been one of the best of the city circuits.

Some of the crack players of the city are enrolled with the various teams, and it was also reported at the meeting of last evening that every team in the league will present a stronger lineup than the one of the previous year.

written notice to the player, should he be incapacitated by injury for a period of fifteen days, and the other including the clause which permits the discharge of a player by giving him ten days' notice—known as the ten-day clause. Because it contains these clauses Johnson contended in the affidavit that the contract was invalid.

In addition, the pitcher charged the Cincinnati club with illegally and unjustly fining him for not being in condition, though tonsilitis and grip incurred when he was forced to play exhibition games in wet weather were responsible for his lack of condition.

Moreover, the alleged "misrepresentation" of the president of the Cincinnati club in predicting the early break up of the Federal league was held by Johnson as making the contract of no effect.

Contradicting the Cincinnati club, Johnson declared he was given only $500 advance money instead of $750, and said that he has returned to the club the $375.50 due it when he left it to join the Kansas City Federals.

W.-I. LEAGUE OPENS.

Ninth Season Is Begun With Games in Four Cities.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 6.—The ninth season of the Wisconsin-Illinois baseball league was inaugurated today, the Green Bay team opening at Marinette-Menominee, Racine at Oshkosh, Wausau at Appleton and Madison at Rockford.

In order to give the other cities, Green Bay, Wausau, Madison and Racine the advantage of the earliest possible opening, the clubs will swing to those cities tomorrow.

One change has been made in the arrangement of the circuit since last year. Marinette-Menominee have the club controlled by the Milwaukee American association team which was played in Milwaukee and Fond du Lac during parts of last season. Wausau was eliminated from the league by the board of directors during the winter, the franchise being transferred to Freeport, but within the last few weeks, after threatened legal proceedings, the franchise again reverted to Wausau.

The managers of the various clubs reported their players in good condition.

WESTERGAARD IS FAVORITE IN COMING MAT BATTLE

Many of the Local Followers of the Game Pick Des Moines Swede to Defeat Cutler--- Karl Lehto Will Appear.

Sentiment in Duluth favors Jess Westergaard as the winner of the American championship wrestling contest of next Tuesday evening.

Whether it is the popularity of the big Swede that figures in this belief that he will prove the victor in the approaching bout with Cutler, it is difficult to say. The fact remains, however, that the majority of the fans are of the opinion that Westergaard will overcome the big Chicago man.

In figuring the contest from the dope there is little to choose between the two men. Those who are pinning their faith upon the prowess of Westergard seem to overlook the remarkable wrestling that has been done by Cutler during the present season.

At the opening of the present season Strangler Ed Lewis was touted as one of the most promising heavyweights produced since the days of Gotch. Cutler easily took the measure of Lewis and then won five matches in quick and apparently easy succession.

Fristensky was brought on and the dope galloped freely with the belief that Cutler would be beaten by the invader. It was in this contest that all of the dope was upset, and upset so completely as to leave the fans gasping, for Cutler dumped the foreigner in the quick time of four and two minutes, and exhibited a wrestling form so remarkable as to cause the followers of the game to declare that there was no doubt that in the form he exhibited the night he defeated Fristensky, Cutler could take the measure of any man in America.

Of Gotch Type.

Cutler is a wrestler of the Gotch order. He generally beats an opponent very quickly. Westergaard is stoical by nature and more deliberate in his methods of wrestling. The big Swede is cool and unruffled and wears his man down by administering a thorough and decisive beating.

Like the few remaining great wrestlers of the game Westergaard has wrestled matches where men resorted to everything in the extended repertoire of roughness. Jess has wrestled in cellars and on street corners, and like Beell and the others of the older school, can take a mat gruelling in order to win in the end.

The Des Moines man, like the shorter Fred Beell, is the possessor of one of the most deadly headlocks in the game. If he fastens this nasty punisher on the head of opponent Cutler it will require all of the experience and all of the massive strength of Cutler to break the hold.

His Deadly Crotch Hold.

From the wizardry of the late Youssiff Mahmout, Cutler learned the smooth execution of the combination half Nelson and crotch hold. It was this hold that laid Ordeman low and it was this effective combination, long the favorite of Frank A. Gotch, despite the popular fallacy of the toe hold belief, that brought about the unexpected and crushing defeat of Fristensky.

Westergaard has not lost a fall this season and the tall Swede has gone through some thirty-three matches in various parts of the country. In the lists of the season's matches, Cutler also stands undefeated. Matched in weight better than any two of the aspirants of the title that have met in the past, apparently equally qualified in speed and mat science, the dope in the case gives little edge to either man in the coming battle.

Karl Lehto, the ever popular Finnish idol, will oppose Marty Cutler, the brother of the American champion, and the bout is exciting the interest of the Flunish followers of the game.

Short in stature, wonderfully strong and fast, Lehto is one of the toughest light heavyweights of the country. Karl has wrestled all of the big ones and has seldom met any man of his own weight. The Finns expect Karl to defeat Cutler in the finish match, and as Marty is one of the real tough boys of the vast Chicago mat district, the battle is attracting a large amount of local interest.

"LADIES'" TEAM WANTS A GAME IN DULUTH.

The baseball booking agency of the Kelley Hardware company is building better than it knew. When it opened it expected to schedule games for the crack amateur and semi-professional teams of this section of the country. Yesterday in the mail came a challenge from the "ladies' team" of Hammond, Ind., and the officials of the local booking agency are earnestly requested to book a game for the feminine aggregation with any of the local teams. The manager of the doves declares that Manager Smith of the Kelley agency need not in the least hesitate about selecting a strong team for her nine, as she adds that they can travel some. The dear girls may be brought here next month to play against one of the fast local teams at Athletic park.

LODGES WILL HAVE BASEBALL LEAGUE

The Fraternal Order of Eagles will enter the baseball arena this summer. At the last meeting of Aerie No. 79, official action to this effect was taken, and a committee of three was appointed to make necessary arrangements to organize a club and launch a series of games. The committee is composed of Walter Gonska, Louis Menieller and Frank Schaffer.

It is proposed to organize a Fraternal Order league in this city and possibly take in Superior. Six organizations have already expressed themselves favorable to the proposed enterprise. Mr. Schaffer, who is well known to Duluth fans, will be manager of the club. The membership of the club will be composed of Eagles only.

MOTOR CYCLISTS WILL HOLD MEET

There will be a meeting this evening at the Kelley Hardware company of the motorcycle riders of the city. It is requested that every owner of a machine in the city be present, as the Duluth Motorcycle club will be organized and plans will be discussed for the rebuilding of the half-mile track at the old fair grounds, where it is expected that a series of races will be held this summer.

According to the discussion of the plans of those behind the club, the old track will be regraded, levelled and the grounds fenced and possibly a grandstand constructed. It is expected that the riders of the surrounding towns will compete with the local riders in making the meets an unqualified success.

MIKE GIBBONS GIVES A FINE EXHIBITION.

New York, May 6.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul outpointed Johnny Howard of Bayonne, N. J., in every round but the third of a ten-round bout in Brooklyn last night. Gibbons gave an exhibition of good boxing and foot work. The weights were: Gibbons, 152; Howard, 160½.

TEAMS RELEASE PLAYERS.

Detroit and Minneapoils Do a Little Agricultural Work.

Detroit, Mich., May 6.—Catcher Frank Gibson of the Detroit American league baseball team yesterday was released to the Nashville club. Pitcher Comstock, purchased by Detroit last fall from Minneapolis, left last night for Toronto, where he will join the Providence International league team. He will be recalled if needed by the Tigers.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 6.—Two members of the Minneapolis American association baseball team were released yesterday. Pitcher George Mogridge goes to the Des Moines club of the Western league and James Manes left last night for Fargo to join the Northern league team of that city.

OBJECT TO NEW BRIDGE

Proposed Structure at Fond du Lac Draws Fire of Superiorites.

Various Organizations Make Protest Before U. S. Engineer Peek.

Protest against the construction of the bridge across the St. Louis river at Fond du Lac as proposed by St. Louis county was made before Maj. E. D. Peek, United States engineer, by representatives of the Superior Commercial club, the Automobile club, the Douglas county commissioners and other organizations of Superior at a meeting yesterday. A petition signed by 150 farmers of east Carlton and Douglas counties asking that the bridge be not built was presented by B. C. Cooke, chairman of the Commercial club rivers and harbors committee.

The protest in Superior was caused by the application of St. Louis county to be allowed to build a bridge across the stream at Fond du Lac for the purpose of connecting St. Louis county with the highways of Carlton county and thereby forming connections with the highways leading to the Twin Cities.

Protest Through Lenroot.

This protest was voiced by Congressman Lenroot to the committee in congress that had charge of Congressman Miller's bill. For the purpose of obtaining an unbiased report on the situation the matter was placed before Maj. Peek by the board of army engineers. The Superior delegation presented its grievances to Maj. Peek upon receiving an invitation from the engineers' office here. Before placing his report before the Federal officials at Washington Maj. Peek will probably give a hearing to the St. Louis county officials and others interested in the measure.

Among the various objections raised by the Superior men, the chief one was that there is no need of a structure at Fond du Lac as the bridge at the steel plant would be adequate for all purposes if the approach on the Minnesota side were filled in. The farmers of Eastern Carlton county do not want the bridge at the proposed site, it is claimed. It is also maintained that the St. Louis county board, despite the fact that it has appropriated $35,000 for the construction of the bridge, has indicated that there is no intention of building the bridge, but that such action was taken merely to delay the building of the approach to the steel plant bridge. It is also maintained that the route of the proposed bridge is impractical because of several hills which would have to be encountered, while the route of the steel plant bridge, although considerably longer, has no such obstacles in the way.

Would Withdraw Objections.

The delegation declared that it was a waste of money to allow a half-million dollar bridge to stand idle in so far as traffic was concerned when all that was necessary was an approach on the Minnesota side. The Superior men asserted yesterday that if the city of Duluth or St. Louis county would build this approach, they would withdraw their objections to the new bridge. They say that such an approach would cost about $35,000, the amount appropriated by the county for the new bridge.

Maj. Peek has requested Charles E. Adams, special counsel for St. Louis county, to file with him the maps, statements and other data that Congressman Miller placed before the congressional committee. Maj. Peek will invite St. Louis county to send its representatives to him within a few days to present their arguments.

The Superior committee was composed of B. C. Cooke, T. J. Roth, E. Rossiter, A. J. Wentzel, L. E. Waterman, P. G. Stratton, C. A. Ehrhart, B. J. Van Vleck, W. A. Whitney and C. Morisset.

COLOMBIANS ACT ON CANAL TREATY

Agreement Passes First Reading in Senate at Bogota.

Bogota, Colombia, May 5.—The treaty between Colombia and the United States, settling the long standing dispute over Panama, passed its first reading in the Colombia senate today.

The Colombian-American Panama treaty was presented to the Colombian congress May 3 for ratification. It was signed in April by representatives of the Colombia state department and T. A. Thomson, the American minister at Bogota. The convention has not yet been sent to the senate at Washington.

BEGIN THE ALASKAN SURVEY THIS MONTH

Washington, May 5:—President Wilson, on recommendation of Secretary Lane, has apointed Thomas Riggs, Jr., as the third member of the Alaskan railroad commission. Mr. Riggs is an engineer of the coast and geodetic survey and was one of the chief engineers of the Alaskan-Canadian boundary. He made a survey extending from the Pacific to the Arctic ocean.

The entire commission, consisting of William C. Edes, Lieut. Frederick Mears and Mr. Riggs, with a party of assistants, will leave later this month for Alaska to begin surveys of the routes for the government railroad.

MARKING OF BOUNDARY

Work in Progress on Alaskan Frontier for Seven Years.

Survey Is Straightest in World for Length Encompassed.

Sitka, Alaska, May 6.—Scarring a broad line across 600 miles of wilderness in the Far North, in order that the possessions of the United States and Canada may have a distinct separation at every point, will be completed during the coming open season. The work has been in progress since 1907, under the direction of Thomas Riggs, Jr., civil engineer, representing the United States Alaskan boundary commission, and T. D. Craig, representing a similar commission of Canada.

Although the United States and Canada have been neighbors in the Far North for over half a century, the exact dividing line between their possessions, especially as to the northern portion, was, previous to this survey, indefinite and conflicting. Many disputes arising, the two governments decided, finally, through their commissions, that an absolute survey, clearly established and marked for all time, should be made along the 141st meridian, from the Mount St. Elias Alps, on the Pacific, to the Arctic ocean, a distance of approximately 600 miles.

The United States surveying party consisted of from sixty to eighty men each season since the work was undertaken. Chief Engineer Riggs, himself a young college man, selected his aids from the hardiest classes—cowboys, forest rangers, prospectors, timber cruisers and frontiersmen, with a liberal sprinkling of engineers. New expeditions were organized each spring, although many of the men who started at the beginning have remained in the service up to the present time. It was the custom, too, to leave a few men in the North each winter to care for equipment and supplies.

Like a Gigantic Avenue.

The actual visible results of the six or seven years of efforts are a 20-foot vista, cut, like a gigantic avenue or lane, through all timber and brush districts, together with monuments set at intervisible points, from three to four miles apart.

The monuments erected are of two types, depending upon the importance of the locality. At prominent stream crossings and main points of travel the line-marker consists of a five-foot aluminum-bronze shaft, weighing 300 pounds, set in 2,000 pounds of concrete. At less important points the monument is smaller, being designated as a cone, cast of the same material, and requiring only 1,500 pounds of concrete for the base. There are approximately 200 of these monuments along the 600 miles of boundary. The work of conveying the heavy materials for their construction, mostly on pack-animals, sometimes on the shoulders of the men themselves, was very slow and laborious.

This survey is declared by engineers to be the straightest in the world for the length encompassed. In speaking of it, one of the engineers said:

Followed the Needle.

"The start was made from one of the desolate peaks of the Mount St. Elias Alps, on the southern extremity. There we laid our course straight for the Northern Lights, and thereafter swerved not so much as a hairbreadth—peaks, gulches, bottomless swamps, wherever the needle pointed, there we went, one day cutting our way through brush and tangles, the next building a track across marshes or crawling over rocks and through crevasses."

Small steamers plying the Yukon and Porcupine rivers, co-operated with the expedition, but they were able to reach with supplies only a small portion of the actual route. South of the Yukon is a vast region, over 250 miles in extent, over which all supplies had to be transported, for the most part on the backs of horses and mules, the commissary wagons being rendered useless by the terrible mud which follows the escape of frost from the soil in that region.

As might be expected, the greatest difficulties were encountered beyond the Arctic Circle. Following the rough scaling of the southern portion of the survey, the joint expeditions established their base at Rampart house, an ancient Hudson Bay station, on the Porcupine, whence several dashes were made before the Arctic Ocean was finally reached.

Indians Amazed By Horses.

When the steamers landed the topographers and their equipment at Rampart House, the native Indians were amazed at the drove of what they first took to be huge dogs, but later decided must be a variety of hornless caribou. Inquiry developed the fact that they had never before seen nor heard of the horse.

Almost at the water-line of the Arctic Ocean one of the larger of the monuments stands today, marking the international division. The final lap required to place it there was over a region fairly bristling with natural difficulties, although only about 100 miles across. The course led over the treacherous lakes and swamps of the Old Crow country, over the American mountains, the Davidson and British ranges, thence down the long slope to the coast. On this dash, wild animals raided the caches and menaced the surveyors; ravenous mosquitoes settled upon them in hordes, day and night; phantom lakes, mountains and cities lured and confused them, and over all blazed the summer sun of the Arctics, twenty-four hours each day.

The farthest north monument was placed in October, two years ago. Since then the line has been traversed several times for the purpose of closing up the different divisions, and the work is not yet complete. Each year a large force of men will be employed, during the open season, to brush-out the avenue and keep the monuments in repair.

MOVEMENT TO CANADA DWINDLES

Fewer Immigrants Passing Through Duluth to the Dominion.

Railroad officials are responsible for the statement that the travel through Duluth this season has been considerably less than that of last, and that the prospects are that during the coming summer months the travel passing through the Duluth passenger gateway enroute to the Canadian Northwest, will fall far short of the passenger travel of last summer.

One of the favorite routes is from Montreal to the western parts of the dominion via the Duluth passenger gateway. Last season and the season previous scores of trainloads of settlers bound for the new land of Canada passed through here.

The immigration to the United States is considerably lessened this year, according to the statement of steamship authorities, and it is declared that several of the large immigrant ships have been taken out of service for the time being.

Officials of the Omaha railroad declare that there has been very little immigrant travel through this gateway so far this season.

How To Drive Out All Blood Impurities

The Searching Effect of a Most Remarkable Remedy. It's Power For Health Unfolds the Most Amazing Facts

In Just Three Minutes You are on the Way to Blood Health

Countless people who suffered with some form of blood trouble have marveled at their recovery after using S. S. S.

This famous blood purifier, known wherever civilization has set its foot, has an action in the blood that makes it truly a wonder and a safeguard in this day of dangerous drugs. To begin with S. S. S. is purely vegetable, yet it accomplishes all that has been claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic and a host of other mineral and poisonous substances.

When we look at the bulk of an adult human body it is amazing to realize that in its maze of main arteries and network of capillaries there is in circulation a volume of blood equal to only three quarts.

Now, this will help us to realize how quickly we may reach and effectively purify the blood supply with even a small quantity of S. S. S.

In twenty seconds a drop of blood traverses the entire system and the whole volume of blood in the body has completed its journey throughout the body in an average of three minutes. This shows the tremendous activity of S. S. S., for it is a perfectly assimilable product, becomes a part of the blood plasma as quickly as ourishing food, and begins its antidotal activity just as soon as it enters the blood.

A given part of the blood is in the capillaries but one and a half seconds but in this limited time the oxygen and nutritive matter are given to the tissues along with the purifying activity of S. S. S. And no matter how severely the blood has become impregnated with some form of impurity you may be sure S. S. S. will drive it out. Nor is this fact of more importance than to know that in thus ridding the blood of disease, the ingredients comprising S. S. S. are themselves eliminated just as soon as they have done their duty in the cells of the tissues.

Nature put some marvelous healing elements into the products from which is extracted S. S. S. These are readily assimilated, they get right into the blood and actually bathe all these tissues with a most wonderful healing influence.

It is a well-known fact that the body strives to throw out through the skin in the form of perspiration an excess of salts and acids that accumulate in the blood. When you take a hot bath you know how the sweat stings if it drops into the eyes. This same effect goes on at various different spots on the skin and if not given assistance results in sores, rash, salt rheum, terrible itching and a general plague of the skin. Now, the action of S. S. S. is just as if you were continually perspiring only there is no visible evidence of the fact. The remedy enters the blood through the intestines and in a few seconds is hard at work. It follows the law of circulation by which, having served its purpose, it seeks an outlet and at once is caught in the myriad of small blood vessels that reach the skin pores all over the body.

A wonderful work is now going on; instead of these poisons collecting in the form of crusts and irritating, itching eczema, they dry up and new blood elements, made possible by S. S. S. form new skin and eruptions are completely banished. It is remarkable how quickly this results. Get a bottle of S. S. S. of any druggist.

Don't accept a substitute. Beware of those "just as good" impositions. And if your blood is in such condition that you would like the personal opinion of an authority, write to the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Co., 622 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

NORTHWESTERN MEN GO TO SEE THE POPE

Bishops and Priests in the Party of Cardinal Gibbons.

New York, May 5.—The North German Lloyd liner Princess Irene sailed for Naples today with Cardinal Gibbons, with a number of bishops and priests in his party. The cardinal goes to Rome to visit the pope.

In the cardinal's immediate party were Rt. Rev. Monsignor Shahan, Rt. Rev. D. J. O'Connell and Rev. Louis R. Stickney, secretary to the cardinal, all of Baltimore. There were in addition, the following bishops and priests, who are also making a visit to the vatican: Rt. Rev. J. J. Fox and Rev. J. A. Geissler of Green Bay, Wis.; Rt. Rev. James Schwebach, D. D., of La Crosse, Wis.; Rt. Rev. A. Ph. Kremer of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Rev. William Reding of Grand Rapids and Rev. C. Saile of Antigo, Wis.

OREGON GOVERNOR CLOSES CLUBHOUSE

Sends Militia to Shut What He Declares Is Immoral Resort.

Salem, Or., May 6.—Governor West issued a proclamation yesterday putting the Friars club, which operates what is known as the Milwaukie tavern at Milwaukie, Or., under martial law, and ordered a squad of militiamen to proceed to the tavern and close it. The soldiers were instructed to appropriate and to put under lock and key all automobiles which might arrive on the scene with guests for the club.

"Under the guise of a club," said Governor West, "a resort is maintained where men and women and young girls congregate, carousing and indulging in debauchery."

In 1912 the governor proclaimed this same tavern under martial law and had it closed by a squad of militiamen.

WILSON APPLAUDED BY REPUBLICANS

Colorado Central Committee Cheers Mexican Policy; Work Gets Office.

Denver, Colo., May 6.—The Republican state central committee here cheered and applauded the address of Frank C. Goudy, approving the Mexican policy of President Wilson and supporting the law and order program of Governor E. M. Ammons in the Colorado coal strike. The meeting was largely attended.

Dr. Hubert Work of Pueblo was chosen national committeeman from Colorado to succeed Former Senator Simon Guggenheim. The committee indorsed the proposal of the national committee for the reappointment of delegates to the national conventions and fixed Aug. 4 as the date for the state assembly to select party candidates for the primary election.

RAYMOND BELMONT'S WIFE GETS DIVORCE.

New York, May 6.—Ethel Lorraine Belmont has won her separation suit against Raymond Belmont, son of August Belmont, the financier. Alimony at the rate of $100 a month was allowed. Young Belmont now is abroad.

5,918,000 gallons Polarine sold last year
1,536,232 gallons more than in 1912

The constantly increasing use of POLARINE by thousands of motorists is indisputable evidence of its lubricating efficiency.

It affords perfect lubrication to all makes and types of motor cars, motor trucks, motorcycles and motor boats.

POLARINE maintains the correct lubricating body at any motor speed or temperature.

Polarine
FRICTION REDUCING MOTOR OIL

POLARINE remains liquid at zero. POLARINE differs from all other makes of motor oils, in that it furnishes perfect lubrication to friction surfaces at extremes of temperature.

These essential characteristics obviate the necessity of changing oil for summer and winter lubrication—also the necessity of mixing kerosene, graphite and other injurious products with unsuitable and poor cold-test oil for the purpose of making it feed in winter weather.

EVELETH GOING AFTER RAT PEST

City Council Is Considering Eradicating Troublesome Rodents.

Eveleth, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—War was declared on rats by the city council last night. A communication from the Commercial club called the attention of the council to the facts that the rodents are becoming numerous. Various means of exterminating the pests were discussed and it was finally decided to hold a mass meeting next Monday evening for the express purpose of deciding on some plan to get rid of rats before there is a further increase. A bounty of 5 cents each was suggested by Mayor J. J. Gleason.

West Duluthian Gets Contract.

Gust Riner of West Duluth was awarded a contract for the construction of a 2,500-foot extension to the main sewer outlet. His bid of $4,139.85 was only $47.15 below the bid of the Lawrence-McCann company of this city.

An ordinance providing for the licensing of pool halls and bowling alleys, prohibiting minors from playing and providing for midnight closing was given its first reading.

The city clerk was instructed to readvertise for bids for the hauling of two boilers to the pumping station and the installation of same. Bids received two weeks ago were rejected. The condition of the roads at that time was such that contractors were afraid to take the job of moving the sixteen-ton boilers.

The appointment of John Rodda, John Graban and Matt Jarvanen as cow herders was approved. Commissioner Owens opposed the appointments. Cattle are allowed to run at large and Mayor Clemson states that it is necessary to keep them out of the city, especially at night.

The appointment of William Chappel as night turnkey at the city jail was approved.

GETS $33 DAMAGES FOR BURNED HAY

District Court Jury Returns Verdict After Short Time.

Virginia, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—After deliberating a short time a district court jury today returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the case of Roland A. McDonald vs. W. O. Snyder for $33 for hay alleged to have been burned through carelessness of the defendant while burning off land.

Seeks Damages.

Richard Terrill, father of Russell Terrill, the 12-year-old Eveleth boy who died recently from injuries sustained in December, 1912, when he was struck by a sleigh belonging to the Virginia Brewing company, today filed suit in the district court against the brewing company to recover $5,895 for the boy's death. The suit was begun before the boy died and is now renewed.

The Timothy-Elmon Mercantile company of Superior has begun an action in district court to collect $2,240 from T. S. and Marie Bangs, the money alleged to be due on a promissory note. The personal injury suit of Mike Touhney against the Virginia & Rainy Lake company was settled out of court. Tourney was suing for $3,850.

TWO SCHEMES ARE BEING CONSIDERED

Hibbing Council Has Two Propositions for Proposed Building.

Hibbing, Minn., May 6.—The committee appointed to investigate sites for the proposed joint district and municipal court and jail made two recommendations to the council last evening. One favored the purchase of the lots on Second avenue now occupied by the Itasca warehouse and the other the lots on Third avenue and Lincoln street owned by Peter McHardy and M. E. Pearce. No estimates were given as to the price and the recorder was instructed to ascertain what these properties could be purchased for.

If the price is found to be too high the village will either condemn or look around for another site. No arguments for either site were contained in the recommendations which were returned by Rupert Swinnerton, acting for the committee.

The proposed building is to have ample room for the district court room and the officers of the court, with offices and room for the municipal court and a large and commodious jail. The police patrol will probably be housed in the new building so as to be handy in case of calls. The recent grand jury recommended that new quarters be found for the district court and the state officials have called attention to the fact that the present jail is not light enough to come within the state law governing lockups.

Woman Humane Officer.

Mrs. D. McCauley was appointed village humane officer at a salary of $35 per month, following a recommendation made by the newly appointed board of health. Mrs. McCauley will investigate all applications for aid and report to the board, who in turn will make their recommendations to the council.

Dogs running at large in the village must not only be tagged but must be muzzled, according to orders by the village council. Those that have not complied with the ordinance will be taken up and shot following due notice.

TWO SUPERINTENDENTS.

Division of Hibbing Water and Light Department Made.

Hibbing, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The water and light department is to have two superintendents and a division of the work is to be made.

At the meeting of the board last evening, after considerable discussion, C. B. Waymire, at present employed by one of the mining companies as shovel operator, was appointed superintendent of the plant itself at a salary of $150. Mr. Smith, the new member of the board made the motion recommending the change in system, and though Mr. Ryder expressed his belief that the appointment should be laid on the table for a week until the recommendations of Mr. Waymire could be further investigated and that the qualifications of some of the men now employed in the plant for the position should be ascertained, the motion carried.

Albert Norman, who has made an excellent record with the plant considering the amount of work that he has had to do and the ground necessarily covered, was made superintendent of the outside construction at the same salary of $150.

There are at present more than forty men employed by the department in the construction and plant work and with the additional labor that will be caused by the installation of the white way, the work of the superintendents will be heavy during the summer months.

NASHWAUK IS TO CELEBRATE FOURTH

Village Council Also Decides Upon Other Things to Be Done.

Nashwauk, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council decided Monday night that this village should have a big celebration of the Fourth of July and will aid the undertaking in every way. The Nashwauk band, which has ordered new uniforms and expects to figure prominently in the celebration, started the ball rolling.

J. P. Lanto was given the scavenger contract. It was decided to buy a street sprinkler from Hibbing. The question of buying a chemical engine was discussed and the matter went over. Charles Tahtine was given John Carlson's liquor license.

Peterson Must Explain.

The liquor license application of Albert Peterson brought about considerable discussion and Mr. Peterson must come before the council at a special meeting and give reasons why he should be allowed to conduct business as complaints have been made as to his conduct not being up to standard. Bids for a four-foot sidewalk will also be let, to be built to the depot. A walk to that point has been talked about for several years and the council unanimously voted on the construction of same.

A three-quarter inch shut-off nozzle will be purchased for the fire department. The council received a special invitation to attend a special meeting of the Range Municipal league to be held at Buhl Friday evening and it was accepted. The usual grist of bills were passed upon and the meeting adjourned.

NEW ORGAN IN FIRST RECITAL

Melody Maker in Virginia Church Is to Be Given Test.

Virginia, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The splendid new organ in the Cleveland Avenue Presbyterian church, constructed at a cost of $2,000 and used the first time last Easter, and will figure prominently in an organ and piano recital to be given at the church tomorrow (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock. It will be the first organ recital ever given on the Mesabba range. The chorus has been practicing for weeks.

The following will participate: Organist and director, J. H. Hande; soloists, Mrs. F. L. Parsons, soprano; Miss Agnes Pretzke, contralto; F. R. Hall, tenor; Lee Pemberton, bass and chorus. The program to be given tomorrow night is in two parts and follows: Organ (a) "Arioso," Delibes; (b) "Madrigal," Simonetti; soprano solo, "Habenera," from Carmen, Bizet; organ, "Themes From Faust," Gounod; soprano solo (a) "The Dandellons," Lemmel; (b) "Goodnight Beloved," Prothroe; (c) "Cradle Song," Lehmann; organ (a) "Theme and Variations," Faulkes; (b) "Pilgrims Chorus," Wagner; oratorio, "The Holy City," A. R. Gaul; introduction, organ; chorus, quartet and tenor solo, "No Shadows Yonder;" air, tenor, "My Soul Is Athirst for God, Yea, Even for the Living God;" trio, "At Eventide It Shall Be Light;" chorus, "They that Sow In Tears Shall Reap in Joy;" air, soprano, "Eye Hath Not Seen, Ear Hath Not Heard;" in[illegible]o, organ; air, bass, "A New He[illegible] and a New Earth;" choral sanc[illegible], "Holy, Holy, Holy, Is the Lord of Hosts;" chorus, for double choir, "Let the Heavens Rejoice;" air, tenor, "To the Lord Our God Belong Mercies and Forgiveness;" air, contralto, "Come Ye Blessed of My Father;" quartet, "The Fining Pot Is for Silver, the Furnace for Gold;" air, soprano, "These Are They Which Come Out of Great Tribulation;" duet, "They Shall Hunger no More;" quartet and chorus, "List, the Cherubic Host;" solo, bass, "And I Heard the Voice of Harpers;" chorus and quartet, "Great and Marvelous Are Thy Works, Lord God."

NAMES DELEGATES TO BUHL MEETING

Virginia Council Also Disposes of Various Other Matters.

Virginia, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council last night appointed Alderman Walsh and Murray delegates to the meeting of the Range Municipal league to be held at Buhl next Friday. Liquor licenses were granted to Cesar Mondavi, C. J. Campbell, Matt Dorosia, Otto Nelson, Warner Carlson and Gearld brothers.

A petition was received from residents of Chestnut and Spruce streets, and Mesaba avenue asking for a municipal steam heating service. The matter was referred to a special committee, composed of Alderman Heritage, Mattson and McGee.

City Timekeeper.

John Janesti was appointed city timekeeper, and Fred Engels meat inspector for the ensuing year.

There was an informal discussion of various improvements planned by the council this year, but no formal action was taken because of the absence of Mayor Boylan.

There was also some comment among members of the action of the police commission in removing Police Chief Richard Rice and appointing Owen Gateley, acting chief, in the effort to enforce the liquor laws in better shape. A noticeable change was already noted about saloons in the city last night, all closing promptly. Chief Rice claims he did everything he could to enforce the law. Public sentiment is reported divided on the question here, not a few feeling that the closed town idea is right providing all other towns on the range also are compelled to obey the law and close saloons all day Sundays, something it is claimed is not done in every place. Then, it is contended, that despite reports to the contrary the blind pigs are still more or less pernicious in their activity on the range.

FISH IN MISSISSIPPI.

Grand Rapids Fishermen Report Some Good Catches.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grand Rapids fishermen turned out en masse Sunday to enjoy the first fishing in the Mississippi this season. Below the paper mill dam here in town hundreds of people lined the shores and at Pokegama dam, three miles above Grand Rapids, automobiles and other vehicles lined the road for almost a quarter of a mile and the shores were black with people. Many good catches are reported and there were none who went away disappointed. C. A. Goodholm, a Duluth pressman who is employed in one of the local printing offices, sent to his home in Duluth about twenty pounds of fresh dressed pike, taken from the Mississippi at Pokegama dam.

RANGE DOCTORS MEET.

Organization to Be Perfected at Virginia Next Monday Evening.

Virginia, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will be a meeting of Mesaba range physicians here next Monday evening when an effort will be made to form an organization for the mutual benefit of members. Dr. C. H. Lenont of this city, Dr. J. C. Farmer of Aurora and other well-known practioners of the range are behind the movement. It is expected that fifty or sixty will be in attendance. Local doctors will give the visitors some sort of an entertainment.

"DICK" SUNDBERG DIES.

Pioneer Mesaba Range Printer Is Called at Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. R. Sundberg, better known as "Dick" Sundberg, pioneer printer of the Mesaba range and well known in most of the printshops and editorial rooms of Northern Minnesota papers gave up a long struggle against the inevitable and passed away last night in a local hospital from a complication of diseases. Mr. Sundberg had been in failing health for several years and his struggle against grim disease was the wonder of everyone who knew him as he never allowed his physical infirmity to interfere with his pleasant disposition. A widow and two children survive. The funeral arrangements will be perfected and learning whether a brother living in Michigan can arrive here.

Dick Sundberg was 38 and learned the printer's trade on the Marquette Mining Journal. He came to Minnesota about fifteen years ago and worked on the Walker Pioneer and other papers in that section, then went to Duluth and Superior, where he worked before coming to the Mesaba range. On the Mesaba he worked for many of the newspapers and was known in about every printshop in this section. He had been writing for Duluth and other papers up to the time of his last and fatal illness.

GRAND RAPIDS NOTES.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Leo Richardson of Deer River this week moved here. Mr. Richardson is an engineer.

W. J. Doyle, village president, and John Pasich, chief of the fire department of Buhl, were here yesterday boosting for the 1914 tournament of the Iron Range Firemen's Tournament association, which will be held in Buhl next summer.

Emil Litchke, a harness maker, left Monday for Germany to spend a couple of months visiting his childhood home. Mr. Litchke ran away from the old country when a young man to avoid serving in the army.

WANTS ELECTRIC PLANT.

Hibbing Council Going to Get Plans and Figures on Work.

Hibbing, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. J. Ryder of the water and light board, who is to be in St. Paul on business this week, was last night empowered to consult with Engineer Jackson, who has prepared several sets of plans and specifications for the village on water and light probems, relative to the possibility of constructing an up-to-date electric light plant in the village.

The board desires to use the site of the present plant with such additional room as will be necessary.

A previous report of Mr. Jackson's stated that it would be useless to attempt to put up a plant on the present site unless more room was secured and the municipal heating phase did not enter into his previous figures. If possible the board desires a heating plant that will take care of a portion, at least, of the business district.

Mr. Jackson will be asked to submit a supplementary report that will be taken up by the board at an early meeting. It is not at all unlikely that before final action is taken reports will be before the board on consideration from three or four leading engineers, two already being in and an application from the third having been filed.

BENEDICT ARRESTED.

Proctor Man Returns With Bride and Faces Serious Charge.

Virginia, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deputy Sheriff Little went over to Mitchell last night and arrested Harry C. Barttrum of Proctor, aged 26, on a warrant secured by a local girl, charging a statutory crime. Barttrum was arrested as he returned from Southern Minnesota with his bride to whom he was married a few days ago. It is alleged the accused "kept company" with the complaining witness prior to going to Southern Minnesota to wed.

SUES FIRE CHIEF.

Eveleth Fireman Alleges Paying $20 to Secure Job.

Virginia, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The papers have been filed in district court in an action brought by James De Paul, a former member of the Eveleth fire department, naming Chief Nellon as the defendant and charging that he accepted $20 from De Paul to approve him as a member of the Eveleth fire department.

De Paul became a member of the Eveleth fire department, according to the complaint, on Feb. 2, 1914, and on March 5 he was informed by Nellon that if he paid him $20 he would approve his appointment as a member of the fire department. De Paul alleges he paid the money, and that thereafter, on April 16, he was discharged from the department.

Luke Burns is attorney for De Paul. Chief Nellon is expected to file an answer which will be a general denial. It will allege that De Paul was disgruntled over his discharge from the department and that the charges are wholly false.

LOSES POKER DEBT.

Eveleth Judge Rules Against Plaintiff in Suit.

Eveleth, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Efforts of Milia Jeckovich to recover $220 in municipal court yesterday morning, which he alleged was won from him in a poker game, were unsuccessful.

Attorney J. C. McGilvery, who appeared for the defendants, Doca Kovacevich and Dujo Masiach, objected to the introduction of evidence of a game played at a boarding house, as the complaint alleged that the money was won in the back room of a saloon. Special Judge Carey sustained the objection, and Attorney McMahon of Virginia, representing the plaintiff, moved for the dismissal of the action.

Mrs. Rowe was fined $5 and costs for drunk and disorderly conduct.

To Wire Rapids School.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. N. Dalcour, a local electrician, was awarded the contract for the electrical work in the new addition to the high school building. The job consists of wiring all the new building for lights, electric program bells, clocks and fire alarm system. The contract price was $663.50 and there was only one other bid, from a Duluth firm.

UNFINISHED CONTRACT.

Report Made to Hibbing Council on P. McDonnell's Failure.

Hibbing, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—That P. McDonnell of Duluth could not complete his sewer ditch contract this season and that he had violated his contract by tardiness in getting started was the claim made to the village council last evening in a letter received from A. P. Silliman, supervisor of the work. The council was asked to take some action so that the work could be completed this year. The letter was referred to a committee with instructions to report at the next meeting.

Petitions from residents of Oakdale and Grant avenues in the Western addition at Alice and along certain streets in Brooklyn for sidewalks were referred to the street and alley committee.

TO BOOST BOYLE.

Evelethians Form Club to Help Their Fellow Townsman.

Eveleth, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—A Boyle for Congress club has been organized here with the following as officers: President, A. E. Pfremmer; vice president, C. B. Hoel; secretary, Abe Feldman; treasurer, J. C. Hartness.

The following resolution was passed:

"Whereas, James P. Boyle of our city has ably and intelligently represented the old Forty-ninth district in the state legislature and has been instrumental in bringing about the enactment of laws of interest and benefit to the people of Northern Minnesota, and,

"Whereas, He is progressive in his thinking, stands for popular government and believes private monopoly and special privileges are intolerable, and,

"Whereas, We believe that because of his well known abilities, his long and varied experience in public life and his knowledge of the needs and importance of our district in national affairs, he is eminently and peculiarly qualified for the office which he seeks; be it therefor

"Resolved, That we, the members of the Eveleth Boyle for Congress club, organized for the sole purpose of furthering his candidacy, give our best efforts to bring about his nomination and election."

RICE WANTS TO KNOW.

Deposed Virginia Police Chief to Demand Explanation.

Virginia, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Former Chief of Police Richard Rice, who was deposed yesterday by the police and fire commission, said today that he would demand a rigid investigation into the charges on which he was dismissed.

"I do not care to be reinstated," said the chief, "but I want clear and specific reasons why I was discharged."

Fish Commissioner Leaves.

Tower, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—State Game and Fish Commissioner Geo. J. Bradley, who has been here for some time, looking after the taking of spawn at Pike River, returned to St. Paul yesterday to attend the monthly meeting of the commissioners to be held there next Friday. Mr. Bradley will then leave for Fall Lake to take spawn.

LAKE COUNTY TO BUILD HIGHWAY

To Call for Bids to Complete Duluth-Port Arthur Road.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The commissioners of Lake county yesterday definitely decided to complete state road No. 1 this summer and thus connect this section of the state with Cook county and Port Arthur, Ont. The county auditor was authorized to call for bids for the completion of this road which is about seven and one-half miles long and runs between Maple and Cramer in the township of Cramer. The road will be put into such shape that will make it decidedly good for automobiles. The road runs through the prettiest wooded section of the state and therefore it is expected to become a favorite with automobilists from this city and Duluth.

The auditor was also authorized to call for bids for the road already laid out between the bridge at White Iron lake and south to Farm lake.

Bids will also be received for the clearing and grubbing of a road laid out running east and west through the center of township 55, range 11. This road will connect with the county road already built and roads built in St. Louis county. This road will cross the Duluth & Iron Range railroad at Mile 44. When this section of road is completed it will connect Two Harbors with any of the range cities and will prove a valuable asset to the farmers along the road.

Let Grubbing Contract.

The contract for grubbing and grading the Drummond road was let to Fred Hagberg, the lowest of three bidders. The part of the road to be graded is six and one-half miles long and will cost approximately $6,800.

Upon the request of the general committee on Memorial day exercises, the commissioners appropriated $150.

It was decided to build a barn 42x62 on the county poor farm this spring by day labor. As the county figures on grading over thirty miles of roads this usmmer, it was decided that the county purchase a road grader. The matter was left with the committee on roads and highways with power to act.

ARRIVES FOR LUMBER.

Steamer Myron Reaches Two Harbors for First Load.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer Myron, a lumber carrier, arrived last night for a cargo of lumber, which marks the opening of the lumber shipments from this port. The Myron will clear in a couple of days with about forty-five carloads of lumber. The lumber was received here during the past few days from Cook & Ketchum Lumber company of Tower, Minn. The lumber shipments from this port are expected to be up to the average this season.

MINER SHOOTS SELF.

Gust Mattson Fires Indiscriminately and Then Gets Bullet.

Hibbing, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gust Mattson, aged 26, single, a miner living at No. 13 Finn location, a boarding house, is in the village jail recovering from a spree and the effects of a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head. He returned to his boarding house last night considerably the worse for liquor. Getting up early this morning, he dressed and grabbed up his pistol and began shooting into the air. His roommate remonstrated and the landlady appearing on the scene, began screaming. Mattson shot at her feet and as she scampered away, took a shot at himself. The bullet entered his left cheek and landed in the skull. He will probably survive. The act is believed to be a result of too much whiskey, rather than a deliberate attempt at suicide.

GILBERT TO FIGHT.

Will Resist Suit Attacking Recent Annexation Election.

Gilbert, Minn., May 6. — (Special to The Herald.)—The village council last night decided to resist the proceedings started in the supreme court by Attorney General Smith on behalf of the state of Minnesota attacking the recent election by which this village annexed a lot of adjoining territory. The papers in the case were served on the village officials yesterday. The council decided to engage W. E. Whipple and O. J. Larson of Duluth to fight the case.

The proceedings instituted before the high court allege the election was illegal because the recent annexation of lands adjacent to the village, was for the purpose of financial benefit, rather than for the benefit of the citizens and residents affected.

The complaint also declares discrimination was shown in the conduct of the election, and that persons were brought into the village and permitted to vote who could not legally do so.

LAKE VERMILION IS CLEAR OF ICE

Navigation Open and Tower Looking for Lively Tourist Season.

Tower, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lake Vermillion is now open for navigation and practically all of the ice is gone. The boats have been running to Pike river since last Saturday, but today is the first time they have attempted Big Bay. Everyone here has been looking forward for the day when the lake would open, and all the boats here have been ready for some time.

Tower looks forward for a good tourist business the coming summer, judging from the number of inquiries that are received each day by the Outing company and summer hotels, making reservations of cottages, etc., some for all summer. The Vermilion Boat & Outing company has made some improvements on its cottages, and is supplying each cottage with an icebox and garbage cans. It has also erected a new automobile garage in which to care for and make repairs on automobiles while the tourists are on the lake.

Several new boats have come and more are expected, so there will be enough launches and steamers to take care of all the business.

Parties arriving here on any train will be taken care of. If they arrive in the evening, they can either stop at one of the first-class hotels here or go up the lake. The pike season opened May 1, and everyone fishing here is returning with a good bag.

BOYS TAKE EAGLE.

Gilbert, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—James Butler, John Vronik and Joseph Yambrick, local boys while fishing near Lost lake, about three miles from here, last Sunday, captured a large bald eagle. They chased the bird along the ground for about a mile, then caught it, when its wings became fastened in the bushes. They took the eagle to M. Yimbrick's, whert it is now on exhibition.

McKinley Girl Dies.

McKinley, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Elsie Peterson, aged 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Peterson of this place, died tonight. The body was taken to Virginia, the former home of the Petersons, where the funeral will be held.

Bury Hibbing Child.

Hibbing, Minn., May 6. — (Special to The Herald.)—Willie, the 11-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lindquist, who died Sunday, after a week's illness of gastroulentin, was buried yesterday afternoon. Services were held at 3 o'clock at the family residence, 206 Lincoln street, Rev. Mr. Kortesmaki officiating.

One Hibbing Saloon Less.

Hibbing, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—A further reduction in the number of saloons in Hibbing was made by the council last evening when the application of Nestor Suomu for a license at 116 Pine street was rejected. Though no reason was assigned by the committee for their recommendation it is understood that an investigation disclosed that the previous record of the place was not of the best.

Two Eveleth Deaths.

Eveleth, Minn., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Julia Kvatenik, 3-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kvatenik, 37 Adams avenue, died here just six days after the death of a twin brother. Death was caused by enteritis.

John Simac, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Simoc, was a victim of scarlet fever.

BLOW TO "BLIND PIGS."

New Ordinance Aimed at "Speak Easies" Now in Effect.

The ordinance making it unlawful for any one to aid or abet blind pigs is now in effect.

It was passed April 6, but under the charter all ordinances must lay over thirty days before they are operative.

The ordinance was passed after it had been found impossible to secure convictions in police court of persons employed in unlicensed drinking places. The ordinance can also be construed to apply to persons or breweries delivering beer to speak easies. The maximum penalty is a fine of $100 or imprisonment for eighty-five days.

CLOUDY

Today started off well but the clouds got in their dastardly work again before the morning was well begun. Everybody expected a fine bright day when arising time arrived this morning, for at that time the sun was shining brightly. But it was not to be and now the weather man comes along and renigs on his promise made yesterday for fair weather today, saying that it will be at least partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow with probable showers.

One year ago today the weather was fair but chilly. The sun rose this morning at 4:43 and will set this evening at 7:25, giving fourteen hours and forty-two minutes of sunshine, four minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Somewhat cooler weather prevails in the Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri valleys and the Southwest. Freezing temperatures or light to killing frosts occurred this morning in the Rocky mountains and Northwestern districts. Rain fell during Tuesday or last night over Western Canada, North Dakota, the Lake Superior region, Ohio valley and Middle and North Atlantic states. Snow fell over Alberta."

General Forecasts.

RESISTANCE TO DISEASE

Why is it that one person can work all day standing in cold water, slush and snow with no harmful effect, while another with less exposure contracts colds, pneumonia, rheumatism, sciatica or something equally distressing and dangerous?

Because in the first case the body was in such perfect balance that there was "resistance" to disease. In the second there was lack of tone that invited ill health.

Keep your system toned up with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and foods that once distressed you will be harmless, exposure will bring no fears of rheumatism and neuralgia and even germ diseases need hardly be dreaded.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills assist digestion, correct the lassitude, the palpitation of the heart, shaky nerves and the pallor of face and lips that are the results of thin, impure blood.

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anaemia, rheumatsm, neuralgia, nervousness. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. Get a box from the nearest drug store and begin this treatment now.

Send to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."

WHEAT IS STILL STRONG

Wheat Advances Moderately on Higher Cables and a Strong Demand.

Flaxseed Closes Slightly Lower With Reduced Inquiry From Crushers.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 6.—The market was strong at the close.

May wheat closed ⅝c up, July ⅝c up and September ⅝c up at 88⅝c. May durum closed 1¼c up and July ½c up.

Oats ½c up at 37⅜c on the track and at 36⅜c for to arrive.

Rye closed unchanged at 56½@58½c, and barley unchanged at 54@59c for the best grade.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed at 37½c bid, and July at 37¼@37⅜c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at 90@90⅛c bid and calls at 90⅝c asked.

Wheat held firm at a fractionally higher range than yesterday during the first three hours' trading today. Strength was imparted by the congested condition of the May option at Chicago and a slight upturn at Winnipeg. Apprehensions were entertained over the continued rainy weather in Western Canada, some elevator men claiming that not more than 50 per cent of the seeding has so far been completed. Farming operations have also been unduly delayed in sections of this state and through North Dakota.

After opening slightly lower, Liverpool closed higher today on firmness of Manitoba offers and expectations of light arrivals here. Liberal purchases of old and new American wheat by foreigners are forecasted during the next few weeks in view of the sharp decreases recently reported in European stores, and the comparatively small stocks now being carried. It is contended that with a visible supply of less than 44,000,000 bu this country has little surplus above milling requirements between now and the marketing of the new crop, so that any quickening in export demand must result in a bulge in old wheat prices.

Business today was quiet, with traders showing a disposition to defer commitments until the appearance of the government crop report tomorrow. It is forecasted that it will be the most bearish in years, indicating a winter wheat yield that will set a new high record.

With the filling of contracts for grain deliveries in the East, elevator stocks here are thought likely to be reduced to a low point shortly. Supplies have been cut down 902,000 bu during the last three days, reducing them to 9,451,000 bu.

May wheat opened unchanged at 92¼@92⅜c, and gained a shade during the first three hours' trading. July opened ¼c up at 92½c and gained ¼c more. The September option opened unchanged at 88c and held there.

No business was put through in durum during the morning. For the May option 88½c was bid without anything coming out.

Flaxseed Easier.

Business in flaxseed was quiet and featureless. Upon the execution of some buying orders at the start, fractional advances were scored. Later a sagging tendency was shown in the distant futures, with the May option holding fairly steady. Final prices showed losses of ¼@⅜c.

The foreign markets were again irregular. Antwerp closing 1¼c up, while Buenos Aires closed 1¾c and London, 1⅜c down.

May flax opened ¼c up at $1.57¾, and closed ⅛c off at $1.57½ asked. July opened ¼c up at $1.59¼ and closed ⅜c off at $1.5⅜ asked. September opened ¼c up at $1.61 and closed ⅜c off at $1.60½ asked, and the October option closed ¼c off at $1.58 asked.

At Winnipeg May flax closed at $1.36¾ bid and July at $1.38½.

Foreign closing cables: Liverpool—Wheat, ⅛@½d higher; corn, ¼@⅝d lower. Paris—Wheat unchanged to ¼c higher; flour, ¼@½d higher. Berlin—Wheat, ½c lower. Budapest—Wheat, ½c lower. Antwerp—Wheat, unchanged.

Duluth grain stocks, giving changes in three days:

Wheat—Western and winter, 262,000 bu; decrease, 22,000 bu; spring, 6,473,000 bu; decrease, 699,000 bu; durum, 1,586,000 bu; decrease, 24,000 bu; bonded, 1,130,000 bu; decrease, 157,000 bu; total wheat, 9,451,000 bu; net decrease, 902,000 bu.

Coarse grains—Oats, 3,241,000 bu; decrease, 45,000 bu; rye, 163,000 bu; decrease, 101,000 bu; barley, 234,000 bu; decrease, 27,000 bu; flax, domestic, 1,427,000 bu; bonded, 514,000 bu; total flax, 1,941,000 bu; decrease, net, 100,000 bu. Total of all grains, 15,030,000 bu; net decrease, 1,175,000 bu.

Clearances reported: Wheat, 168,000 bu; flour, 75,000 bbls; together they equal 506,000 bu; corn, none; oats, 22,000 bu.

The Prussian official winter wheat condition on May 1 was given at 78 per cent, against 80 per cent on July 1 last year.

Grain stocks at Fort William and Port Arthur elevators on May 4, according to advices received by Baker today, were as follows: Wheat, 14,353,050 bu, against 16,155,121 bu last week and 10,555,192 bu last year; oats, 6,818,544 bu, against 7,840,391 bu last week and 6,136,190 bu last year; flaxseed, 3,684,011 bu, against 3,517,395 bu last week and 3,019,010 bu a year ago.

The Burlington railroad reports that the condition of winter wheat throughout Nebraska and Kansas never looked better. The soil contains sufficient moisture.

The following was received from B. W. Snow, the Chicago crop expert: "Wheat through Western Missouri is perfect. Eastern Kansas never had a better prospect than today. An occasional field is already heading out in the Kaw valley, and heading should be general in a week. There is enough moisture now to mature the crop. Corn planting is approaching completion and a little of the grain is coming up."

The Minneapolis cash market was firmer with the demand from local and outside mills good. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 2@3½c over July, and velvet chaff at 1½@2c over July. There was not much change in flour, but some improvement was noted in nearby shipments. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from 91⅛@93½c and No. 2 northern at from 89½@91½c.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Disappointing American wheat cables yesterday caused realizing at the opening here and values were ¼@⅝d lower. Following the opening, shorts covered and prices quickly advanced ⅛@⅜d with May leading. Firmness of near Manitobas and a lack of selling pressure from all exporting countries, with expectations of light arrivals here, and recent light world's shipments and free takings by the Continent, stimulated speculative buying. At 1:30 p. m. the undertone was very firm, ½d lower to ⅛d higher.

"Corn opened ⅜d lower on reports of fine weather in Argentina but later there was renewed covering and prices advanced ⅛@⅜d with strength in the near month. At 1:30 p. m., prices were ⅛d higher than the low and ⅛d under yesterday."

Price Current says: "Rains during the last week have put the plant in the Western end of the winter wheat belt in good condition. Nothing of a damaging character has developed. The abandoned acreage will barely exceed 1,000,000 acres, leaving the area for harvest the largest in the history of the winter wheat crop. Rains in the dry section of the Northwest have put the soil there in fine shape. Oats seeding is rapidly nearing completion. Corn planting is extending Northward, and will be completed on time. The acreage in the Western states should show some increase."

Duluth car inspection: Wheat—No. 1 northern, 6; No. 2 northern, 11; No. 2, 2; no grade, 1; durum, 3; winter, 2; mixed, 2; total wheat, 26; last year, 115; flax, 2; last year, 25; oats, 5; last year, 6; barley, 1; last year, 25; total of all grains, 34; last year, 171; on track, 50.

Grain receipts at Chicago in April were 5,374 cars, the lightest for that month in six years, and 2,903 cars below the figures of last year. The largest reduction was in corn, deliveries being nearly 50 per cent lighter than those of a year ago. Marketings of oats were the smallest in years. Wheat receipts came to 915 cars, compared with 982 last year and 572 cars in 1912.

The appearance of the government crop report due tomorrow is being awaited with interest by grain operators. The high condition of winter wheat given out last month as 95.6 per cent is expected to be fully maintained and possibly slightly raised. The high record by percentage for winter wheat in twenty years was the 94.1 per cent of 1901, when the bumper crop of the period was produced. At that winter wheat condition lost 6 per cent between May and the harvest.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Is Stronger Under Several Influences.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 6.—Cold and continued weather in the Northwest aided in giving strength to the wheat market at the opening here today. Higher cables, smaller receipts and a fair cash demand contributed to holding the market steady. Trading in options was inactive.

Wheat—May opened 89¼c; high, 89⅝c; low, 89¼c; closed 89½c. July opened 90c; high, 90¼c; low, 89¾c; closed 90⅛c. Cash No. 1 hard, 94¾c; No. 1 northern, 91¾@92¾c; to arrive, 91¾@92¾c; choice to arrive, 93¾c; No. 2 northern, 89¾@91c; to arrive, 90¼@91¼c; No. 3 wheat, 87¾@89¾c.

Corn—No. 3 yellow, 64½@65c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 36½@36¾c.

Flax—$1.55¼@1.57¾.

Millers reported the flour market steady today, although inquiries were somewhat more frequent. Old contracts were being filled. Prices unchanged. Shipments, 66,005 barrels.

Barley, 43½@56c; rye, 56½@58c. Bran unchanged.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

Early Weakness Followed By Recovery, But Prices Drop Again.

Speculative Activity Repressed By Absence of New Developments.

New York, May 6.—The morning's movement came to little. After the slight early decline, prices held steady for a time and subsequently hardened slowly. Early heaviness was due principally to continued realizing on a small scale. The large speculative interests held back.

In the absence of leadership or of any developments with influence on financial affairs, traders were conservative in their dealings, and the market developed no definite trend.

Some of the international shares were heavy for a time, but London did little in this market. A better demand appeared toward noon, and quotations were marked up to about a level with the preceding close.

Bonds were steady. Rock Island collaterals were bought in round amounts and advanced 2 points.

Speculation was characterized early today by growing dullness and hesitation, such as appeared in yesterday's trading. Only a nominal amount of business was transacted in the first hour. Lower prices were made all through the list but these changes were slight, and were due to absence of demand rather than to bear pressure. The market apparently had settled down for an indefinite period of waiting, pending developments in the Mexican situation.

The market closed easy. Narrow movements governed the day's operations, with speculative activity repressed by the absence of new developments. Early weakness was followed by recovery but prices again fell toward the end. Stocks were supplied more freely in the final hour. Missouri Pacific and Northern Pacific declined a point and Chesapeake & Ohio 1½.

Superior

City Buys Motorcycles.

The city commission this morning purchased two motorcycles, one of which will be used by the police department and the other by the fire department. The motorcycle policeman will run down automobile speeders.

Had Revolver in Possession.

William Jansen was displaying a new revolver and a box of cartridges while walking along Third street late yesterday afternoon. Officer Peterson discovered him and took him to the station. He was charged with carrying concealed weapons.

Prisoner Ends Life.

John Kuruc, who was wanted in Superior for the theft of $75 from Jack Hudacek and who was arrested yesterday morning at Bayfield, Wis., committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor while being confined in the Bayfield city jail. He was being held for the arrival of Deputy Sheriff Carlson, who left yesterday to bring him here for trial.

City Board Elects Officers.

W. R. Russell was re-elected president and J. C. Stewart re-elected secretary at the meeting of the board of public works held at the city hall yesterday afternoon. The reappointment of P. J. Ekstrand to the board was confirmed. Paving matters were informally discussed.

Stole an Automobile.

Harold Le Roy, who was arrested on a charge of stealing an automobile, was arraigned yesterday afternoon before Judge Charles Smith of the superior court. He pleaded guilty and sentence was deferred until the court could get further record of the man. Le Roy was arrested for stealing a machine belonging to P. Swanson valued at $500.

CHICAGO DRAINAGE HEARING IS OPENED

Judge Landis Presides Over the Case in Windy City.

Chicago, May 6. — Hearing of the government's suit against the sanitary district of Chicago to enjoin the diversion of excessive amounts of water from Lake Michigan through the drainage canal was begun today before Judge Landis in the United States district court.

The hearing covers two contentions, the first the diversion of 4,000 cubic feet of water a second through the Calumet river and second, the diversion of 4,162 cubic feet of water a second through the Chicago river. Both amounts were alleged by the government to be in violation of the restriction of the secretary of war on the quantity of water which could be diverted from Lake Michigan.

BEGIN WORK MAY 9 ON RESERVE SYSTEM

Organization Committee Announces Program It Has Adopted.

Washington, May 6.—Notice was given by the reserve bank organization committee today that expedition would be required in effecting the organization of reserve banks.

The committee, not later than May 9, will designate five banks in each reserve bank district to execute the organization certificate provided for by the law. To facilitate the incorporation of the reserve banks, the representatives of the five banks designated will meet in the reserve city of their district as soon as practicable. This done, the subscribing banks will become member banks and will at once select electors, who in turn will choose the directors of the reserve banks.

The organization committee will divide the member banks in each district into groups, the banks in each being of similar financial strength. Two of these groups will be fixed by the organization committee and the third by the Federal reserve board when it is organized.

EPWORTH LEAGUE MEET.

North Dakota Organization to Convene at Bismarck.

Bismarck, N. D., May 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual convention of the North Dakota Epworth league will open here tomorrow. About 200 delegates have been appointed by local leagues.

Saturday evening a banquet will be tendered the visitors, with Governor L. B. Hanna as the principal speaker.

Among the prominent speakers expected are Rev. J. O. Buswell of Minneapolis, S. A. Martin of Winnipeg, Rev. H. H. Rottman of Ripon, Wis., Karl Lehman of Boston, Mass., and several prominent state workers.

Robert Dutton is chairman of the local committee in charge of the arrangements.

GOLF AT SANITARIUM.

Course Planned at North Dakota Consumptive's Institution.

Leeds, N. D., May 6.—A golf course for the patients at the North Dakota sanitarium for tuberculosis will be established by the women of the Second District Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. J. W. Warren of Leeds being made head of the committee that will be in charge of this unique club movement.

The need of diversified amusement and and entertainment features at the sanitarium, and the very excellent layout for a golf course, was responsible for the action taken by the women. The women also will purchase a phonograph for the sanitarium.

The Second District federation includes Ramsey, Bottineau, Rolette, Towner, Pierce and Benson counties.

L'ANSE TEACHERS.

School Board of Upper Michigan Town Makes Selection.

POULTRY, EGGS AND BABY FOWLS ARE WANTED

There are a large number of people in Duluth and vicinity who will buy breeding stock, eggs, baby fowls or chickens for laying this season.

Some one will gladly purchase what you wish to sell.

Present advertisers say they are getting splendid results.

"Herald want ads" are the best poultry salesmen available.

Circulation Greatest— Rates Lowest

The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in Duluth. Its rates for classified advertising are less per thousand circulation than those of any other paper in Minnesota. Best results are gained from ads when definite information is given. When information is lacking the presumption is that desirable features are lacking. Information as to contract rates and the probable amount of space your ad would take gladly given.

BUY A HOME

FOR YOURSELF INSTEAD OF THE LANDLORD

$20.00 a month rent amounts to $240.00 a year, $2400.00 in ten years. You've paid the landlord full price for his house in ten years, but he still owns it; all you have is the rent receipts.

For a small payment down and $20 or less per month you can buy a home and own it, clear of all encumbrance, in less than ten years.

ACRE TRACTS.

FACTS ABOUT LAKEWOOD PARK GARDENS.

To start with, the price is $100 less per acre than is asked for other acre tracts within city limits.

No other tracts have transportation facilities like Lakewood Park Gardens. Four trains daily stop within stone's throw of tracts; auto road to every tract; phone, electric light and city water can be had. Tracts lie well, gently sloping towards the lake; good soil, easily cleared, no stone.

The Congdon boulevard, which is now a certainty (thousands of dollars having been spent to date), adjoins this property.

One acre, 2½ or 5 acres can be bought on easy terms.

SUPREME COURT MAN MAY REPRESENT U. S. BEFORE MEDIATORS

South Americans Continue Work on Mexican Problems.

O'Shaughnessy Meets Bryan, Who Hurries to White House.

Charge Denies He Has Resigned From Mexican Post.

Washington, May 7.—The South American mediators resumed their sessions at 11 o'clock today. They now are proceeding somewhat informally, the main issue before them being deferred until the formal conference begins at Niagara Falls on May 18. Meantime they are arranging the details and procedure of the conference and awaiting the designation of the delegates of the United States.

Secretary Bryan expects to name the American delegates after a further talk with the president, but the names may not be determined upon today owing to the activities in connection with the White House wedding.

Suggest John W. Foster.

It was reported in diplomatic circles that John W. Foster, former secretary of state, is being considered among others to represent this country. Mr. Foster was minister to Mexico in the late 70's.

The possibilities of the selection of a justice of the supreme court as an American delegate, similar to Justice Brewer's selection by President Cleveland in the Venezuelan controversy with Great Britain, is being discussed.

Reported Constitutionalist victories and the gradual closing in on Mexico City is having no effect on the work of the mediators, who are going steadily ahead with their branch of the work. But in official and diplomatic circles, outside of the mediators, it is recognized that confirmation of the Carranza successes and his continued elimination from the conference may present physical conditions considerably modifying the range of mediation.

O'Shaughnessy at Washington.

Nelson O'Shaughnessy, charge of the American embassy at Mexico City until United States troops seized Vera Cruz, arrived in Washington early today. With his family he was driven immediately to a hotel, and planned to confer with Secretary Bryan later.

Secretary Bryan greeted Mr. O'Shaughnessy cordially when the latter reached his office. The two were in conference only a few minutes when Mr. Bryan left and went immediately to the White House, where he consulted with President Wilson. Mr.

PRINCIPALS IN WHITE HOUSE WEDDING

WILLIAM G. M'ADOO. ELEANOR P. WILSON.

CUPID AND HYMEN DRIVE MARS AND JOVE FROM WHITE HOUSE

Mansion Is Given Over to Preparations for Evening Wedding.

Eleanor Wilson to Become Bride of Secretary McAdoo.

Washington, May 7.—The cares of state and the rumors of war were retired to the background at the White House today when Cupid and Hymen took charge of affairs in preparation for the marriage this evening of Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the president, to William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury.

Secretary McAdoo did not visit the White House until late in the day. He entertained his fellow cabinet members and Dr. Grayson, the president's aide, who will be best man at the wedding, at a club luncheon at noon.

Though the wedding was to be simple and private, the White House bustled throughout the day with preparations for the event. President Wilson canceled all appointments and did not visit the executive offices. He spent the day with the guests who were at the White House wedding, and the affair took on the appearance of a Wilson family reunion.

ILLINOIS TO LOSE OVER 1,000 SALOONS

Springfield, Ill., May 7.—The thirty days grace allowed under the laws of the state of Illinois to the more than 1,000 saloons voted out of existence in the township elections a month ago expires at midnight tonight. With the first minute after midnight bars in cities and tippling places in villages in every part of the state will close, not to open again until the people of the several communities reverse the verdict against them.

In the large towns such as Decatur, hundreds of men will be thrown out of employment and many buildings will be vacant. In other years when a dry vote was recorded the saloon properties were left vacant until another submission of the question to the voters, and it is believed that this policy will be pursued in many Illinois cities this year.

In all, more than 200 cities and villages were made saloonless and more than twenty counties, already partly dry were barred to saloons.

SURVIVORS OF SEA FIRE LAND

Men From Columbian Too Ill to Tell Experiences.

Third Boat That Left Steamer Given Up for Lost.

Boston, May 7.—When the Cunard liner Franconia from Liverpool arrived today bringing thirteen members of the crew of the burned steamer Columbian, rescued from a boat south of Sable Island, several of the survivors were suffering severely from burns and all showed the effects of exposure. The body of Chief Steward Matthews, who died from burns while in the open boat, also was brought by the Franconia.

James Dronan, the wireless operator of the Columbian, expressed the opinion that spontaneous combustion of the cargo of rags and junk caused the fire. He said he was awakened by the explosion shortly before midnight Sunday night, and when he rushed out on deck the vessel was in flames.

The saloon passengers on the Franconia assisted in giving first aid to the survivors, provided clothing for them

TEN OF AMERICAN FAMILY IN PERIL

Smiths Face Death for Killing Three Mexicans in Fight.

Washington, May 7.—Ten members of the Smith family in jail at Tonala, Chiapas, are in danger of their lives, because of Mexican resentment of their part in the recent killing of three Mexicans at San Pedro, according to a report today from Minister Leavell, in Guatemala. The Mexicans were members of a rural guard that invaded the Smith home at San Pedro to disarm the occupants. In the fight which ensued the Mexicans were worsted, but the Americans later were arrested.

CANANEA CONSULAR OFFICE REOPENED.

Washington, May 7.—American Consular Agent Montague has reopened the American consulate at Cananea, Sonora, according to a report to the state department today from Consul Simpich. He also reports that sixty American refugees have returned to Cananea and that the movement of refugees from the south has ceased.

CLAIM LAKE BOATS VIOLATED THE LAW

Immigration Officers Hold Canadian Sailors at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 7.—Nineteen Canadian silors are being detained at the Erie county jail under orders of the United States immigration officers. They are to be used as witnesses by the government in the prosecution of vessel owners who are alleged to have violated immigration laws covering the shipping of men from foreign nations on American ships.

The sailors were taken from the fleet of steamers that brought down the first cargo of wheat from the elevators at Fort William, Ont., where most of the steamers wintered. Under the law, it is said, the men should have been discharged upon their arrival here.

STRIKE PREVENTS REDUCTION IN PAY.

Connellsville, Pa., May 7.—Two hundred employes of the Connellsville Central Coal & Coke company, who struck against a reduction of wages last week, returned to work today, their cause having been won by Sheriff M. A. Kefler, who took the matter up with the company officials to such good purpose that late last night he told the men they could return to work at the old wages.

DURYEA WAIVES HIS EXAMINATION.

New York, May 7.—Attorneys for Chester B. Duryea, who shot and killed his father, Gen. Hiram Duryea, a retired millionaire starch manufacturer, early Tuesday, appeared in police court in Brooklyn today and waived examination so that the case could go immediately to the grand jury.

Duryea is now in Bellevue hospital. His family and physicians believe he is hopelessly insane.

NO CHANGE IN ARMY LINES AT VERA CRUZ; NEW REBEL VICTORY

Capture of Acaponeta and Federal Force and Supplies Confirmed.

Mazatlan Reported Surrounded By the Rebel Forces.

Washington, May 7.—While Brig.-Gen. Funston had been authorized to extend his lines at Vera Cruz for defensive purposes if that became necessary, the situation there today was reported to remain unchanged. No further reinforcements have been ordered to the Mexican port and there was no indication that Gen. Wood intended to go to the front to take supreme command of the American occupation forces.

While reports of Carranza's recent successes were discussed here today, the South American envoys went ahead with their arrangements for the beginning of the preliminaries of mediation near the Canadian border, May 18.

Carranza's declination to submit his country's internal troubles to preliminaries of mediation was based in part, at least, on rebel successes in a sweeping southward movement, Constitutionalists' representatives said here today.

Rebel Victories.

Summarized today rebel victories were:

Defeat of 3,000 Federals at Penazcos, near San Luis Potosi, with the capture of 1,800 prisoners and quantities of arms and ammunition.

Capture of Acaponeta, 1,700 men surrendered. One million rounds of ammunition and quantities of arms taken.

Capture of field guns, artillery and

ITALIANS APPROVE AMERICAN TREATY

See in It Avoidance of Trouble Over Labor Question.

Rome, May 7.—The meaning at Washington May 5 of a new peace treaty between the United States and Italy is commented upon favorably here. The Corriere d'Italia, in its issue of today, says the matter is one of great importance, particularly as Italy, among the powers of Europe, has a deep interest in the labor situation in the United States.

The marquis di San Gulliano, minister of foreign affairs, has congratulated Thomas Nelson Page, the American ambassador, on the conclusion of this convention, telling him it is a long step in the direction of Italo-American amity.

The Italian peace treaty signed last Tuesday at Washington by Secretary Bryan and the Italian ambassador provides that any question between the United States and Italy which cannot be settled by diplomacy shall be submitted for investigation to an international commission of five members. The convention follows in a general way the terms of a similar agreement negotiated with the Netherlands.

NOT YET BUT SOON.

AMERICAN AND TWO BRITONS HAVE BEEN KILLED AT MINES NEAR GUADALAJARA, MEXICO

CRITICIZES MINNESOTANS

Manahan Talks in House on Grain Standardization Bill.

Gives Pedigrees of Members of State Senate Committee.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, May 7.—In advocating the passage of the Lever bill for the standarization of grain, Representative James Manahan of Minnesota took up most of his time in analyzing the report of the state senate committee on its investigation of the grain exchanges at Minneapolis and Duluth. In doing so he attacked Senators Works, Sullivan and Victor L. Johnson, the members of the legislative committee who signed the majority report.

"Senator Works," said Manahan, "is classified in the public opinion of Minnesota as a reactionary, and his record in the senate on vital questions shows his subserviency to big business.

Sullivan and Johnson.

"Senator George H. Sullivan is a man of great ability and unquestioned personal integrity, but he is generally recognized as a man who can be depended on by the great corporations of the state to protect them from adverse legislature by the senate.

"Senator Victor Johnson is hard to classify. He tries to take both sides on every question, and to make every man think he is on his side. When the senate hearing was on and it became apparent that Senators Hanson and Lende stood with the farmers, Senator Johnson was taken to the mountain top, and the temptation was too strong."

In discussing the Lever bill, Mr. Manahan repeated many of the statements he had made in the grain inspection probe before the house committee on rules.

MEXICANS WHO BUY KHAKI ARRESTED

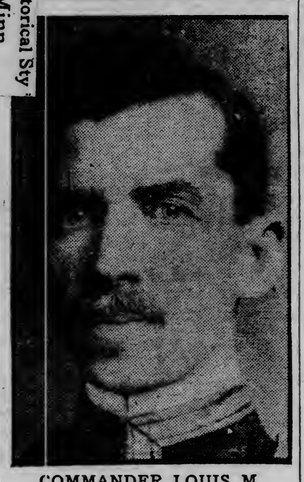
Five Are Accused of Breaking Embargo on War Supplies.

Laredo, Tex., May 7.—Col. Crane of the Ninth United States infantry today ordered the arrest of five of the rebel garrison at Nuevo Laredo who had come to the American side and purchased new uniforms of khaki. They were charged with violating the embargo on contraband of war.

Uncle Joe Is 78 Years Old.

Danville, Ill., May 7.—Joseph G. Cannon was 78 years old today, but he probably will not remember it until he reaches Danville late this afternoon from Tuscola and finds the telegrams and letters of congratulation piled high on his desk.

COMMANDING FUNERAL SHIP FROM VERA CRUZ



COMMANDER LOUIS M. NULTON.

New York, May 7.—Commander Nulton is in command of the cruiser Montana which is bringing to New York the bodies of the Americans killed in the taking of Vera Cruz. The Montana will be met by the president of the United States, and an incoming funeral procession will move from the Brooklyn navy yard with the bodies.

FEARS FEVER AT VERA CRUZ

Red Cross Chief Says Conditions There Are Only Fair.

Is Urging American Residents to Return to States.

Washington, May 7.—"Some smallpox prevails, but the city is in fair sanitary condition and fairly healthy at present," is the substance of a cable received by the Red Cross from Charles Jenkinson, its representative, who has just arrived at Vera Cruz and taken charge of the relief operations.

Mr. Jenkinson, however, is apprehensive of more sickness with the advent of the rainy season, and has cabled for large supplies of quinine, typhoid and smallpox vaccine virus. Meanwhile his urgent work is to facilitate the departure of refugees.

Later today is was learned that at the request of Admiral Badger, Mr. Jenkinson left Vera Cruz on the steamer City of Tampico for eight ports between Vera Cruz and Progreso to embark refugees, leaving Dr. A. R. Goodman, chief surgeon of the National Railways of Mexico, special Red Cross representative in tempoary charge at Vera Cruz.

Visiting Small Ports.

Mr Jenkinson will be visiting the small ports along the coast for possibly two weeks, as numerous American and other refugees apparently have congregated at such points.

With reference to the situation at Vera Cruz, Mr. Jenkinson reports that he is not encouraging Americans to stay by affording subsistence there. In accord with the desires of the army and navy high officers, he is urging Americans to depart for the United States. He expects to furnish other foreigners with food, clothing and medical attention. Resident Mexicans also are being cared for in that regard.

Gen. Funston commanded that the Red Cross purchase food supplies.

MISSOURIAN MAY LOSE HOUSE SEAT

Committee Says Dyer Holds Congressional Place Illegally.

Washington, May 7.—A house elections committee in a report filed in the house today declared that Representative Dyer of Missouri, Republican, illegally holds his seat in congress. The case was contested by L. C. Gill, Democrat.

A minority report will be filed and a strong fight made against the report unseating Dyer.

MAY REOPEN OIL FIELDS IN MEXICO

Representatives of All Interests Meet in New York City.

New York, May 7.—Representatives of practically every petroleum interest in Mexico gathered in New York today to attend a meeting called for tonight, when the Mexican situation will be discussed. It is understood that the consensus of opinion is that oil men will be permitted to return to work in the fields under such protection and guarantee as may be obtained from Federal and Constitutionalist factions in Mexico.

EIGHT MORE AT MERCY OF THE BANDITS

British Vice Consul Sends Report to Washington Embassy.

Both Federals and Rebels Threaten Foreigners at Tampico.

Refuse to Permit Renewal of Operations in Oil Fields.

Washington, May 7. — One American and two British subjects have been killed at mines in the vicinity of Guadalajara.

A Mr. Ransdell, presumably a British subject, and seven Americans are cut off by bandits in the vicinity.

This information came in a dispatch from the British vice consul at Guadalajara to the British embassy today.

The dispatch was sent in response to an inquiry about conditions at Cinco Minas mine and the safety of the Americans there. It reads:

"Bullion buried. Concentrates stored. Both safe. Americans all safe. One American and two British killed at other mines in Jalisco. All mines shut down completely. Ransdell and seven Americans cut off by bandits at Mascota and Huachinango. Only fifty Americans in Jalisco."

The dispatch did not mention the names of the American and British killed.

Bad News From Tampico.

Disquieting news also was received at the embassy from Tampico. Both Federals and Constitutionalists threatened to interfere with the British and American oil operators who were returning to the oil districts to resume operations under the promise of protection from both sides.

The Mexicans have notified the British commander that no one will be allowed to land unless all warships withdraw. Instructions have been sent to the returning operatives not to attempt a landing at any port unless instructed by the British commander on the spot.

Roosevelt Home May 20.

New York, May 7.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who sails today from Para, Brazil, on the steamer Aidan, wired his cousin, W. Emlen Roosevelt, that he would be home about May 20. His message read: "Feeling better. Home 19-20."

INCOME TAX APPEAL FILED

First Test Case Reaches Supreme Court of United States.

May Not Be Passed on for More Than a Year.

Washington, May 7.—The first case to reach the supreme court involving directly the constitutionality of the Federal income tax was docketed there today. It was an appeal from the refusal of the Federal district court in Southern New York to enjoin the Union Pacific railroad at the instance of a stockholder, Frank R. Brushaber, from paying the tax. Twenty reasons are assigned for holding the law unconstitutional.

It will be a year or two before the court in the ordinary course of business will pass upon the case. It is claimed that the tax is unconstitutional when levied on income of the Union Pacific between May 1, 1913, and Oct. 3, 1913, the date of the passage of the law, because this income had been converted into real and personal property by the time the law was passed.

Deduction at Source.

It further is alleged that the law makes collecting agencies out of corporations required to deduct the tax from bond coupons in case the bondholders have not filed exemption certificates with the corporation.

Mr. Brushaber asserts that it will cost the Union Pacific annually from $5,000 to $10,000 to keep a record of the exemptions claimed.

It also is asserted that wealth is made the basis of several arbitrary classifications in the law.

Owners of homes are said to have been given an unjust advantage by reason of the owner being able to deduct the rental value of his home from his gross income, while the renter is not permitted exemption on so much of his income as he pays for rent.

Farmers are said to enjoy an improper advantage in that they may deduct from their gross income the expenses of carrying on their business, but are not required to pay taxes on the animals born or grain raised during the year and retained for family use.

CITY DOING OWN PAVING

West Superior Street Improvement Being Made By Day Labor.

The paving of West Superior street between Fifteenth and Thirtieth avenues is one of the biggest scheduled for this season and will be done by day labor. The estimated cost is $65,000 for brick on a concrete base. The division of public works has begun work on it.

A number of the property owners recently protested to the council against doing the work this year. They asserted that the assessment is illegal and will not stand, as but three commissioners voted for the resolution ordering the work, while the charter specifies that such resolutions must be approved by four members of the council.

City Attorney Harvey Clapp informed Commissioner Murchison that in his opinion the assessment would hold and on this advice the works division has commenced its operations. Thus far no notices of appeal from the assessment have been filed with the city and no effort has been made to secure an order from the courts restraining the city from proceeding. Appeal from the assessment is the course which would be pursued should the objecting property owners take their case to the courts.

The city officials feel that the property owners are getting an unusually advantageous deal, as the assessment against each 50-foot lot is only $275. Were the full cost of the improvement assessed the cost would run about $100 over that figure. But the works division feels that a new paving will save considerable maintenance expense as well as furnish a much-needed street for traffic between the central and western portions of the city and is willing to bear a greater share of the cost than would ordinarily be the case. Some of the property owners are extremely desirous of having the improvement made and have stated that they would see those opposing it with a view to preventing complications which might delay the work or cause the city heavy expense.

James Preston, a local contractor and former member of the old board of public works, is in charge of the operations. He now has a crew of fifty men and this number will shortly be increased. Most of the connections with water, gas and sewer mains have been made and the excavating of the old pavement has begun. Preston was in conference with Commissioner Murchison and other employes of the works division this morning. The details of the Superior street job were discussed. No other matters of importance were reached at the meeting.

Optical Announcement!

MR. F. S. KINDY, after years of experience with leading optical houses of St. Paul and more recently with a local optical house, where he has become acquainted with the particular needs of Duluth, has entered into business for himself. He examines Eyes without the use of "Drugs" and grinds his lenses in his own laboratory. If you do not need glasses but the services of a physician, he will tell you so. He can duplicate any lenses without the prescription. When your eyes need glasses, remember he is a specialist in the testing of eyes.

CASHMAN LAW IS MODIFIED BY RULE

St. Paul, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Relief from hardships imposed by the Cashman distance tariff law on industries in suburban districts of Minnesota cities came today in an order issued by the state railroad and warehouse commission.

The case which brought out the order was the complaint of the Washed Sand & Gravel company of Minneapolis against the imposition of the distance schedules for a five-mile haul on its products from the company's plant, 700 feet outside the city limits on the Great Northern tracks, to points within the city.

Changed Under the Law.

Prior to Jan. 1, when the law became effective, the carriers charged a switching rate only for moving business between St. Paul, Minneapolis and the Minnesota Transfer, between Minneapolis and Hopkins, and between St. Paul and North St. Paul and South St. Paul. On the theory that the law forbade the continuance of such a set rate, the companies canceled them and applied rates fixed in the commission's schedule for all traffic between these points.

FIREMEN WILL TEST MOTORS

The two new combination motor rigs purchased by the fire department are to be tested this afternoon at Northern Pacific Dock No. 4.

Each is a chemical, hose and gasoline pump, and throws 700 gallons of water a minute. The same engine which drives the car furnishes power for pumping water, the change being made in an instant by the shifting of levers. The machines were bought from the American La France company of Elmira, N. Y. They cost $9,000 each, but the city is being allowed $3,500 for two steamers which are being traded in, which reduces the cash consideration to $14,500 for the two.

The demonstration this afternoon will be witnessed by a good-sized crowd, including several visiting fire chiefs, city officials and insurance men. If they are accepted, one will be stationed at No. 4 house, Fourteenth avenue east and First street, and the other at No. 8, Central avenue and Cody street, West Duluth. They will enable the department to cover a much wider range of territory in less time than is now possible, and also reduce the running expenses, as a number of horses will no longer be required and the number of men needed will be lessened.

CITY MAY LOSE "ANCIENT" HORSE

The health department will probably be in the market for a new horse in a few days. One of the horses used on the garbage wagon is sick and will probably be shot. The animal is 25 years old, and it is said that it will never be serviceable. It was one of the first horses bought when the city started its garbage collection in the downtown section. The new horse will probably be purchased from the fire department. If the new motor rigs pass the tests this afternoon the machines will be put into service immediately and a number of horses will be sold.

SMALLPOX CASES COME FROM WOODS

Smallpox patients are beginning to come into the city from the lumber camps. Two woodsmen were sent to the isolatian hospital yesterday and another was received there about a week ago.

The city is in excellent condition as to smallpox. Including the patients in the hospital and those under quarantine in their homes, the total cases do not exceed a dozen.

The records show sixty-nine cases of scarlet fever. Some difficulty is being encountered by German measles. Seven cases have been reported and as the outward indications of both German measles and scarlet fever are similar, a little confusion has resulted.

FORMER DULUTH MAN TELLS OF OUTRAGES BY THE MEXICANS

New Orleans, La., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hugh Riley of Duluth, Minn., a refugee here, today told of inhuman treatment given Americans, even those known by drunken soldiers and citizens of Mexico. For five years Riley has worked on the Mexico City & Isthminian railway. He knew almost every native.

Despite this, Riley says, J. W. Elliott, his engineer, and an American citizen, and with himself were taken from his train at Terre Blancha on April 21.

"We were treated something shamefully," said Riley. "The men who had their wives with them were subject to all sorts of indignities, while the women were treated like dogs. I was beaten by four drunken Mexican soldiers when I went to the assistance of a man who was trying to protect his wife from being outraged. They outraged all the women, and disfigured the men."

Riley said that after this all of the party, which consisted of nearly 100, were made prisoners in the jail at Cordova.

EX-EMPLOYE WANTS FORMER BOSS' JOB

St. Paul, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Today was the last day for candidates for state, congressional, judicial and legislative offices to file for the June primaries. The surprise of the day was the filing of O. M. Levang of Lanesboro, as a candidate for the Republican nomination for congress in First district. He will oppose Congressman Sydney Anderson. Up to a year ago Mr. Levang was Anderson's private secretary, but broke with his chief and now seeks his job.

GET SEVEN JURORS FOR BECKER TRIAL

New York, May 7.—Two more jurors were chosen this forenoon for the trial of the former police lieutenant, Charles Becker, for the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

The sixth man in the box was Dwight W. Custer, a retired printer; the seventh, Ambrose Farleye, a clerk.

The jurors in the box when the first panel was exhausted were:

F. Meredith Blagden, foreman, a bond broker and a former student at the Harvard law school.

No. 2—William B. Dalton, an advertising manager.

No. 3—James M. Faust, real estate broker.

No. 4—Thomas W. Edwards, a chemist.

No. 5—Edward E. Van Eman, a retired traveling salesman, formerly of Baltimore, Md.

Justice Seabury, before whom the trial is being held in the criminal branch of the supreme court, announced that because of the circumstances surrounding the case he felt obliged to order that the jurors selected be kept in the custody of the court.

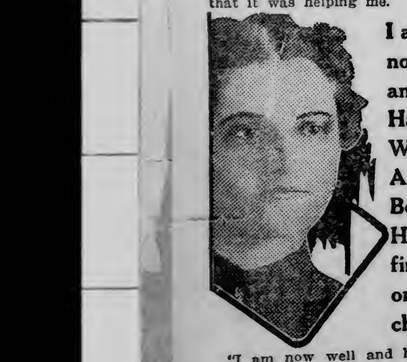
A Happy Home
(Read What Peruna Did)

Mrs. James F. Summitt, No. 1006 East Eighth St., Muscatine, Iowa, writes:

"My health was so miserable for years that I was practically an invalid. We had no family, owing to my ill health. I was induced to give Peruna a trial, and found very quickly that it was helping me.



I am now well and Happy. We have A Baby Boy He is our first and only child.

"I am now well and happy. We have a baby boy, which we believe is the direct consequence of my improved health. He is our first and only child, and if Peruna had not cured me of my ailments we should never have had him. I hope every suffering woman will give Peruna a trial, the same as I have."

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

POWER RIGHT AT THE SOO GRANTED.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 7.—The international joint commission yesterday afternoon decided to grant the application of large manufacturing interests of this city and of the Canadian Soo for permission to erect compensation works in the St. Mary's river to divert the flow of water for power purposes.

The commission, composed of representatives of Canada and the United States and having jurisdiction over the lakes and rivers between the two countries, has had the application under consideration for several months.

Certain conditions as to the construction of the proposed dam were imposed and it is understood these have been accepted by the interests concerned. The formal answer of the commission will be made at the next meeting of the commission in New York May 25.

The erection of the dam was opposed chiefly by railroad and warehouse men with property on the shores of Lake Superior, their contention being that the proposed dam would raise the level of the lake and cause great damage to their property.

FORMER HERALD NEWSBOY NOW ACTOR-MANAGER

Don M. Clark, a former Herald newsboy and later well known as an amateur actor, when he resided here several years ago, is returning to his home town next Sunday at the head of his own theatrical company, and will appear at the Empress for four days, commencing with Sunday matinee. He is appearing in the title role of "At Saratoga Springs," a tabloid musical play, which he produced himself. Mr. Clark is remembered by many Duluthians in the various minstrel shows given by the Elks and other organizations.

DOUBLY PROVEN

Duluth Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This Duluth citizen testified long ago. Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

Mrs. M. Olson, 2320 West Second St., Duluth, Minn., says: "I was troubled for quite a while by weak kidneys. I noticed in the evening paper how Duluth people told of being cured of kidney trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills, and I got some. My back was what bothered me the most, but in a short time Doan's Kidney Pills had entirely cured the trouble. They acted as a tonic to my system and when I have had any aches or pains since, a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills have fixed me up all right. You can certainly keep on publishing the recommendation I gave Doan's Kidney Pills, after I first used them."

OFFERS FOR IRON MOUNTAIN MINE

A special meeting of directors of the Iron Mountain Mining company has been called to consider two propositions for taking over and operating the mine, received from responsible Eastern parties.

The offers are said to be very favorable, assuring a substantial profit to shareholders of the company. It is said to be the intention of the parties making the propositions to strip the property, and in the meantime to mine during the present season from the shaft recently completed.

Thomas St. Germain, secretary of the company, expresses himself as gratified over the nature of the offers.

IN PROBATE COURT.

Heirs of M. J. Sheridan Will Pay $477.88 in Inheritance Tax.

Mary A. Drayer of Chicago and the estate of the late M. J. Sheridan of Chicago will each pay a tax of $238.94 on the inheritance left them by James Sheridan, a well-known Duluth mining man and explorer, who died June 15, 1912.

Sheridan left an estate of $17,729.31 to be divided equally between his brother, M. J. Sheridan, and sister, Mrs. Drayer, both of Chicago. While the estate was being probated, the brother also died. The amount of the inheritance tax was determined today.

Walter M. Thompson, who died April 14 in North Carolina leaving a widow and daughter in this city, left an estate consisting of several thousands of dollars in life insurance. A petition for letters of administration was filed in probate court today by his widow, Lillian A. Thompson.

Ivan Dasculoff today petitioned the court for letters of administration on the estate of Peter Kadree, who died Jan. 29, 1914, at Ely, aged 21. Dasculoff holds a power of attorney from the parents of the young man, who reside in Bulgaria. The estate consists of about $200.

NEARLY SOLD SQUIER.

Demonstration at Y. M. C. A. Made By Mackinaw Salesman.

One of the best sales demonstrations that has been given before the class in salesmanship at the Y. M. C. A. was made last night by R. C. Bruen, salesman for the Christensen-Mendenhall-Graham company, when he presented that concern's line of mackinaws to A. K. Squier, manager of the Columbia Clothing company.

The "sale" was brought up to the point of placing the order, but was not completed. The rest of the hour was taken up by a discussion of the sale and the probabilities as to whether the order would have been secured had the demonstration not been stopped at that time.

Next week a specialty salesman will appear before the class and give a demonstration of a sale, accompanied by a practical demonstration of his goods.

MRS. GRAN SUFFERS FROM BREAKDOWN.

Mrs. Olga Gran, recently divorced from her husband, Victor H. Gran, on the grounds of adultery, is suffering from a severe nervous breakdown at St. Mary's hospital, where she has been under the care of a physician for the last week. Her condition today was reported as improving.

On account of the precarious condition of Mrs. Gran, it is possible that the suit for alienation of affection which Victor H. Gran has against John R. Heino, his former business associate in the practice of law, and co-respondent in the divorce case, will be continued to the September term for trial.

A motion for continuance will be argued before Judge Bert Fesler Saturday.

WESTERN ROADS MAKE BEST SHOWING

Railroads operating in the Northwest are making relatively better showings in their current earnings than systems traversing other sections of the country.

Gross earnings of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway for March were reported at $280,144 as compared with $258,777 last year. Of that $79,948 was saved for net, an increase of $41,647 over the same period a year ago.

For the nine months gross earnings of the road aggregated $2,600,310, an increase of $124,181 over last year, while net earnings were $561,020, as compared with $497,261 a year ago.

With the strike over and normal conditions being rapidly restored in the Michigan Copper county it is predicted the South Shore's traffic will show substantial gains from now on and that the heavy expenditures for improvements during the last two years will be reflected in larger net operating returns.

TONE UP THE BLOOD

Hood's Sarsaparilla, a Spring Tonic-Medicine, Is Necessary.

Everybody is troubled at this season with loss of vitality, failure of appetite, that tired feeling, or with billous turns, dull headaches, indigestion and other stomach troubles, or with pimples and other eruptions on the face and body. The reason is that the blood is impure and impoverished.

Hood's Sarsaparilla relieves all these ailments. Ask your druggist for this medicine and get it today. It is the old reliable medicine that has stood the test for forty years,—that makes pure, rich blood—that strengthens every organ and builds up the whole system. It is the all-the-year-round blood-purifier and health-giver. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else is like it; so be sure to get Hood's.

Superior

Will Buy Park Site.

The city commissioners this morning authorized the purchase of ten acres of property along Clough street between Twelfth and Belknap streets to be used for park property. The greater part of this property lies low and it is believed that it can be purchased at a reasonable price.

It is proposed to make an artificial lake in this park and to beautify the property. The proposed park lies within two blocks of the Superior Central high school and nearly midway between the East and West ends of the city.

Farmer Held for Assault.

Matt Putz, the farmer who attacked his wife and son with a hoe Monday, was given a hearing in the municipal court this morning. Only his wife and son appeared against him. Putz was bound over to the superior court on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. Mrs. Putz and their son were attacked and struck with a hoe, the son having his face badly lacerated with the implement.

One Day for Each Cent.

Stephen Sawaski will have to serve in the county jail a day for each cent he stole from William Sabuskiz Tuesday night. In police court yesterday afternoon Sawaski pleaded guilty to having stolen 30 cents from his companion. He was fined $10 or thirty days in jail. In default of the payment he started last night serving his sentence.

Find Stolen Money.

Tied to the knee of John Kuruc, who committed suicide in the jail at Bayfield, Wis., was found $60, believed to be part of the $75 stolen from Jake Hudacek early this week. Kuruc was arrested for the theft by Bayfield officers and Tuesday committed suicide while waiting for Douglas county officers to bring him back to Superior. Although searched at the jail no money was found on him, but when taken to the undertakers the cash was found strapped around his knee.

REPORTERS' RIGHTS BEFORE HIGH COURT

Supreme Court Will Pass on Two Contempt Cases.

Washington, May 7.—Whether newspaper reporters and editors may be compelled to reveal the source of their information will be determined by the supreme court in a case filed with it today. It is an appeal by George Burdick and William L. Curtin of the New York Tribune, who were held in contempt of court for refusing to inform the Federal district court in Southern New York of the source of their newspaper articles about a grand jury investigation in a smuggling case.

THANKS ENGLAND FOR AID IN MEXICO.

London, May 7.—The thanks of the American government for the assistance rendered by British naval officers in getting American refugees out of Tampico were conveyed today by Ambassador Page to Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey. The British cruiser Hermoine has been at Tampico for some time past. On several occasions she sent her boats to the shore to bring Americans to safety.

E. J. KENNY FILES FOR LEGISLATURE

Former Assistant City Attorney Contestant in Fifty-Seventh District.

E. J. Kenny filed today for the nomination for the legislature in the Fifty-seventh district.

The news will be of considerable interest to residents of the city as a whole, but particularly to those who reside in the district directly affected, for Mr. Kenny established himself as a campaigner of much ability two years ago. At that time he was opposed to A. L. Warner, the present representative, who refused to run again. Mr. Kenny made a race that was rather startling against Mr. Warner and was beaten for the Republican nomination by only a few votes. This year each candidate has to file as a non-partisan, and Mr. Kenny has opposed to him William J. North and Rev. E. Hunt, pastor of the First Christian church.

Mr. Kenny had a narrow escape from being a native of Duluth. He was brought here by his parents when still an infant and is a product of the Duluth public schools. He is one of the younger generation of lawyers and has made a success of his profession. From 1908 to 1910 he was assistant city attorney and made an excellent record in that office.

RECOVER 66 PER CENT OF STOLEN PROPERTY

During the month of April the members of the detective department recovered sixty-six per cent of the property lost and stolen in Duluth, according to the monthly report submitted by Lieutenant of Detectives Terry to Chief Troyer yesterday afternoon.

The property lost or stolen during April was valued at $3,059.35, while the police recovered $2,026.85 of the amount. During the month the police made fifty-nine arrests on charges of petit larceny; twenty grand larceny; three robbery; four hold-ups, and four burglary.

West Superiorite Killed.

St. Paul, Minn., May 7.—Oscar Peterson, 37 years old of West Superior, Wis., died Tuesday afternoon at St. Joseph's hospital, as the result of injuries sustained in a fall from a new bridge being constructed at Western and Como avenues, St. Paul, Saturday noon. His skull was fractured. An operation was performed Monday morning.

MARINE NEWS

AMERICA NOT YET RELEASED

Another Tug and Scow Sent to Stranded Vessel's Relief.

The steamer America, which ran upon a rocky point about a mile and a half northeast of Two Harbors Tuesday forenoon, is still fast upon the rocks, and the tug Moose and the scow Fuller were sent out today to reinforce the Maxwell and Interstate in their efforts to dislodge the stranded vessel. Owners of the ship expect to succeed in releasing her today.

Louis P. Hogstad, local manager of the Booth line, which operates the America, left for a third trip to the vessel this afternoon. He has found the task of dislodging the boat much more difficult than was expected at the outset. The vessel has now been on the rocks for more than forty-eight hours, and it is not expected any material headway will be made until the additional scow and tug reach the scene.

Upon an inspection being made it was discovered that the hull of the America had been punctured below the boilers. The pumps have been kept at work steadily since the wreck occurred. The steamer Easton has been kept near lightering the cargo until the America can be released.

The Gen. O. M. Poe, which grounded a short distance from the America but was released shortly afterward, reached Duluth yesterday afternoon and went to the shipyards for repairs. Aside from a punctured forepeak and No. 1 tank, she was not badly damaged.

BOAT BURNED ON LAKE ERIE

Steamer City of Rome Is Total Loss By Fire.

Erie, Pa., May 7.—The wooden freight steamer City of Rome, Buffalo to Toledo, was burned to the water's edge off Ripley, N. Y., early today. The crew escaped in boats.

The fire was discovered between decks shortly after midnight by Mate John McNamara of Cleveland, and all hands were summoned to fight the flames, which gained rapid headway and soon were beyond control. After a two hours' struggle, in which the crew was hampered by the dense smoke and the heated deck plates, Capt. William Dunn gave orders to beach the vessel. Thomas Cunningham of Milwaukee, the chief engineer, remained at his post until the ship was grounded. The crew then made its way to shore.

The vessel is a total loss.

The City of Rome left Buffalo light last night for Toledo, where she was to load coal for Milwaukee. She was a wooden steamer of 3,900 gross tons, 268 feet long and carried a crew of sixteen men. The vessel was owned by James Mitchell of Cleveland.

April Lake Levels.

The United States Lake Survey reports the stages of the Great Lakes for the month of April, 1914, as follows:

Lakes—	Feet above mean sea level.
Superior	601.83
Michigan-Huron	580.06
Erie	572.10
Ontario	246.75

Lake Superior is .08 foot lower than last month, .19 foot higher than a year ago, .16 foot above the average stage of April of the last ten years, .86 foot below the high stage of April, 1860, and 1.29 feet above the low stage of April, 1911. It will probably rise .3 foot during May.

LA SALLE HAS TROUBLE.

First Boat Through Portage Lake Becomes Unmanageable.

Hancock, Mich., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The half mile railroad and team bridge across Portage lake between Houghton and Hancock are linking the Keweenaw peninsula, which is in reality an island fifty miles long and twenty-five miles wide, to the mainland of Michigan, was badly damaged on Monday when it was struck by a passing steamer, sheered against the abutment by a heavy wind. Eight years ago the bridge was knocked over off its turntable by the steamer Northern Wave and totally wrecked. It was rebuilt at a cost of $50,000 and new piers and concrete abutments put in. Again it was struck by the Northern Wave and badly damaged. This week's accident is the third. The bridge was struck by the steamer Simmons, one of the concrete abutments weighing ninety tons being shoved over eighteen inches.

The steamer La Salle, the first boat through Portage lake, caused havoc along the lake shore when her steering gear went wrong and the rudder refused to answer. The La Salle sheered into the shore, tearing away and demolishing six small boathouses and wrecking three motor boats and several other small craft to the extent of several thousand dollars. The steamer was grounded but released without damage.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We Eat too Much Meat Which Clogs Kidneys, Then the Back Hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. Agent, Wirth's Red Cross Drug Store, 13 West Sup. St.

BAKER RELEASED FROM SAWTOOTH REEF

Calumet, Mich., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Pittsburg Steamship company's 605-foot steamer, George S. Baker, which piled up on Sawtooth reef, off Keewenaw Point, Monday, was released this morning by the wrecker Favorite, completing the quickest big wrecking job in the history of the Northern lakes. The Baker is leaking badly. Her bottom plates are broken and punctured in several places. Compressed air was used to effect her release. About 3,000 tons of her cargo of 10,500 tons of iron ore was jettisoned.

After completing the salvaging of the steamer Baker the wrecker Favorite will attempt the release of the Ontario steamer Turret Chief, which is high and dry six miles east of Copper Harbor, where she was driven during the terrific storm of Nov. 8, 1913. The Turret Chief is almost leaning against the cliffs and has but four feet of water beneath her stern and none at all forward. It will be necessary to dredge and blast a channel for the Favorite into the shore through dangerous reefs, although the distance to go is short. The Turret Chief was light when wrecked. Her crew reached Calumet through forty miles of wilderness and during a fierce storm only through terrible hardships.

Steamer Ralph Strikes.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 7.—The steamer P. J. Ralph with the barges Connolly Bros. and Harold in tow, struck abreast the water works crib coming up the Niagara river from Tonawanda doing considerable damage to her hull and shoe. The Ralph will be placed in the drydock here for examination and repairs.

Lighthouse Keeper Dies.

Conneaut, Ohio, May 7—Capt. George W. Miller, for over thirty-nine years employed in the lighthouse service, died today at his home in Erie. Capt. Miller had charge of the lighthouse for fourteen years and twenty-five years ago was sent to Erie, where he has served continuously.

Charter for Grain.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 7. — Two grain charters have been reported. One of the boats will load at Duluth, the other at Port William for Buffalo at one cent. There was some talk of 1½ cents, but no charters were reported at the higher rate. On the other hand it was reported grain shippers were trying to do business at three-fourths of a cent.

CAPTAIN DIES ON BOARD VESSEL

The steamer Jacob T. Kopp, owned by the Pennsylvania Steamship company, managed by Boland & Cornelius of Buffalo, arrived at this port yesterday afternoon with her flag at half mast out of respect to her master, Capt. A. A. Forest, who died Sunday morning on board his vessel as she was steaming up St. Clair river. The cause of his death is believed to have been heart failure or apoplexy. The Kopp anchored at Marine City, and the captain was taken ashore and buried. Little is known of the dead captain here.

First Mate Elliott took charge of the vessel after the death of Capt. Forest and brought her to Duluth. The Kopp will depart for Port Arthur tonight where she will take on a cargo of grain.

Will Open Dredging Bids.

Major E. D. Peek, chief of the United States engineers here, will open bids Saturday noon for a contract for dredging at Ontonagan, Mich. The job will require the removal of 40,000 yards of material. The works has been made necessary by the washing in of debris and dirt by the various streams which has made the place dangerous to navigation.

Some Ice in Lake Yet.

Calumet, Mich., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—A few small floating icefields are being seen from time to time in the track of shipping along the Lake Superior highway, with small bergs. These constitute but small danger to shipping, however, as they are easily seen on the darkest night. Considerable small ice is reported in Keweenaw bay and off Whitefish.

Ore at Erie Docks.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 7.—Ore on Lake Erie docks May 1 was essentially the same in weight as the ore on dock May 1, 1912; 275,000 tons more than on May 1, 1913, and 1,000,000 tons less than on May 1, 1911.

April shipments to interior furnaces amounted to 1,216,521 tons as compared with 1,314,627 tons in April, 1913. The receipts in April at Lake Erie ports amounted only to 11,634 tons, which was received at Cleveland. Last year the receipts for April were 235,440 tons.

Including lake front furnaces, all furnaces receiving ore over Lake Erie docks took 38,496,000 tons of ore during the year ended May 1 as compared with 37,375,654 tons in the year ended May 1, 1913. The principal difference between conditions now and a year ago is in the stocks in furnace yards. Though there are larger reserves, the lightness of the steel business works more against the lake traffic this season than the stocks on hand.

The docks reported balances as follows:

	—May 1.— 1914.	1913.
Buffalo-Tonowanda	270,619	139,624
Erie	461,760	449,455

Skull Harder Than Brick.

Racine, Wis., May 7.—Claude Snider, who came recently from Benton Harbor, Mich., shattered a paving brick over the head of George Fleming, claiming that the man was paying undue attentions to his wife. Fleming was rendered unconscious, but his skull was harder than the brick and showed only a scalp wound. Snider gave himself up and is now in jail.

Buy Umbrellas Here Now!

Lucky for you that we bought so liberally last winter when the umbrella business was quiet—else we'd not be able to give you the following NOW when umbrellas are so needed.

Phone if you can't come for yours.

Men's and Women's Umbrellas, $1.

Uncommonly good for the money—neat mission or crook handles—some are metal trimmed—top of mercerized cloth that is both fast black and waterproof.

Women's Gloria Umbrellas, $2.00.

They roll "tight"—mighty good looking—and good wearing.

Men's and Women's Umbrellas, $2.50.

Silk-and-linen tops—just as serviceable as they are sightly—nifty handles—26 or 28-inch top, as you prefer.

Women's Umbrellas, $3.50.

Very fashionable, plain mission handles—superb silk-and-linen tops.

Colored Silk Umbrellas, $5.00.

Very aristocratic are these.

Greens, navies, reds and blacks—in a special lustrous all-silk taffeta that wear mighty well.

Fine for gifts.

Detachable Handle Umbrellas.

These have many advantages that are self apparent. Pick out any top or tops you want for your choice of handles or if you have a handle on some old umbrella—bring it in—we'll have it fitted with detachable fittings free. So you can pick out any top you want for your old handle—you can also take off handle and put the umbrella in a trunk.

"Good" Raincoats and Rain Hats

Some so-called "rain coats" are worse than useless. They are so cheaply made that they damage instead of protect the garment over which they are worn.

We don't sell that kind. They sell for less money than our rain coats can be made to sell for.

Here are women's truly good rain coats at $4.98 to $15.00, in all sizes from 16 to 46.

JUDGES BUSY LISTENING TO TALES OF UNHAPPILY MARRIED MEN AND WOMEN

May Docket Breaks All Records For Number of Divorce Cases.

Eighteen Decrees Granted With Forty-four To Be Considered.

Cruelty, Desertion, Drunkenness and Adultery the Chief Causes.

The divorce mill has started on its periodical grind in the district court. Since yesterday noon eighteen decrees have been granted and forty-four more are on the docket for trial. The grist is the largest in the history of the court.

When Mrs. Ida Hines of West Duluth took the witness stand yesterday afternoon and recited the unhappy story of her married life, she related instances of cruelty and privation which made even hardened court attaches shudder. Judge Dancer showed no hesitancy in granting her a legal separation from Richard Hines, to whom she was married at St. Paul, Sept. 2, 1890, and with whom she lived until five years ago, when she came to Duluth with her family. Mrs. Hines and her four children, Richard, 21; Margaret, 18; Ida, 16, and May, 14, reside at 5606 Grand avenue.

Blue Beard of the olden days was a kind, dutiful and loving spouse compared with her husband, if the story of the nineteen years she put in with him at St. Paul is true. Life in the Hines household was one continual round of trouble. Five years ago she picked up her belongings and left him, taking her children with her. He is now residing in St. Paul, she said. She has been residing at West Duluth.

Payday nights, declared Mrs. Hines, were nights of terror in the Hines home. Payday, whenever Hines was working, usually came on Friday and it got to be a regular habit for him to come home drunk after the saloons has closed, chase his family out into the night, place the ax, saw, hammer and a large rock beside his bed and barricade the doors.

"I always tried to have the children stay at the neighbors on Friday nights, or if I could scrape up enough money I would go downtown and get a room for myself and the youngsters for the night," she testified. She declared that she never allowed them to go to bed before their father came home and went through his usual program of ejecting everybody from the place and holding down the domicile alone for the remainder of the night.

Hines, she said, spent all of his money in the saloons. She considered herself fortunate, she stated, if he donated 50 cents a week towards the running expenses of the house. The son, Richard, and she were obliged to work in order to keep the family together.

Mrs. Hines recited numerous instances of cruelty. On one occasion, she said, her husband came home drunk one night and stood over her bed with a huge iron sword suspended over her head. She jumped at him, she said, and knocked him unconscious. At first, she said, she thought she had killed him, but he revived soon afterwards.

The Hines family lived in the "flats" in the river district at St. Paul in a three-room shack. Seven years ago, unable to withstand the treatment she and the children were receiving at his hands, she stated, she left him and took the children to an abandoned houseboat on the river front. The owner of the boat allowed her to live there without paying rent.

Things went along smoothly for a while until Hines hunted her up and promised her that he would quit drinking and brace up. She decided to give him another chance and returned with him. Things went from bad to worse and she left him a second time, but was again coaxed back. The final separation took place in 1909.

In describing the parting day, Mrs. Hines declared that her husband woke up from a drunken stupor and demanded of her the loan of "tin cints" to get an "eye opener." When she refused, he picked up a butcher knife and hurled it at her head. She dodged the missile and it whizzed by her head and stuck fast in the panel of a door. This was the last straw. She left him for the last time.

Richard Hines, son, was also called. He corroborated the testimony given by his mother as to the instances of cruelty.

John J. Leadstrand's arrogance in helping himself to all of the money which came over the counter of his wife's confectionery store while she was in the hospital and spending it on a prolonged spree, is responsible for a divorce which was granted by Judge Dancer yesterday afternoon to Caroline Leadstrand, to whom he was married sixteen years ago.

Mrs. Leadstrand told the court that while she was in the hospital recently, the affairs at the little candy store which she has been conducting at 111 East First street, were left in her husband's charge with the understanding that he was to account for all of the receipts and pay the bills as they came in.

When she came out of the hospital, she said, she found that he had appropriated all of the cash he had received over the counter to his own use and that none of the bills had been paid. She wouldn't have minded it so much, she stated, if she hadn't been supporting him for years.

Just to show his appreciation, she claimed, he struck her and threw her across the room shortly after she had returned from the hospital and then absconded with all of the funds on hand.

Mrs. Leadstrand also testified that her husband was an habitual drunkard and of an abusive nature. She declared that he hadn't drawn a sober breath in the last three years. There are no children in the family. He is 42 and she is 39.

Eugene Hanna, 39, familiarly known in police circles as the "Minnesota Chicken," is no longer the husband of Jenny Hanna, 42. In the divorce court yesterday afternoon, a little woman appeared and told a sordid story of how, not knowing of his past record of convictions in police court on charges of gambling and drunkenness, she had been hoodwinked into marrying him. Judge Dancer granted her divorce and allowed her to resume her former name, that of Saarinen.

They were married in this city May 22, 1912, and lived together for less than a year. During that time she paid all the bills, using the money she had saved and could earn by taking in washings. "He occasionally gave me a dollar," she said. Along in February, 1912, she testified, he attempted to choke her and threatened to kill her. She left him and hunted up another place to live, but he followed her, she said.

When she protested against living with him any longer, she declared, he offered to quit bothering her if she would give him $150. When she refused, he started trouble again, but she sought protection from the police. The last time they were together she said was on July 4 last.

May Rose, 18-year-old wife of Sam Rose, 19, and mother of a year-old baby, was granted a divorce on the grounds of cruelty by Judge Dancer yesterday afternoon. The young wife testified that they were married April 12, 1911, and during the month of September of the following year he abandoned her. Five months after the desertion she gave birth to a son, Eugene. The mother was awarded legal custody of the child.

* * *

Judge Fesler yesterday afternoon granted a decree of divorce to William N. Norton, 26, from Minnie Norton, 27, to whom he was married September 6, 1906. He claims that she abandoned him during the month of Febuary, 1911, and that since that time she had been going under the name of Minnie Johnson. There are no children.

* * *

When John McKenzie, 48, deserted his wife, Flora McKenzie, 45, and their three children two years ago, it was not an occasion for pining. On the contrary, Mrs. McKenzie told Judge Dancer yesterday, she breathed a sigh of relief.

During the seventeen years they lived together as man and wife, he failed to conduct himself as a husband should, she testified. She declared that he was a man of coarse language and was hopelessly addicted to the use of intoxicants.

They were married Sept. 30, 1895, and are parents of three children, J. A. McKenzie, 21; Frank, 20, and Roy, 18. The mother was granted a divorce and awarded the custody of the two minor children. She told the court that she did not care for alimony.

The McKenzies live at 18 North Third avenue west.

Three months of married life was sufficient to convince Lillian A. Jamieson, 30, that William Jamieson, 29, brakeman, employed by the Northern Pacific Railroad company, would not do as a husband. They were married Jan. 25, 1913, and lived together until April 17, when she left him.

Mrs. Jamieson told Judge Dancer that shortly after they were married he began to curse her and call her vile names, and that on more than one occasion he struck and abused her.

The court ordered findings in her favor.

George J. Goodyear, 32, was this morning granted a divorce from his wife, Grace L. Goodyear, 27, on the grounds of adultery. The action, which was tried before Judge Fesler, named Harold Rudd as co-respondent. Goodyear testified that his wife left him on July 10 last, and a month later left for Canada with Rudd. At Moose Jaw, he claimed, Mrs. Goodyear and Rudd lived as man and wife.

* * *

Maud Anderson, 23, was granted a decree from Judge Dancer this morning from Sigfrid Anderson, 26, on the grounds of desertion and cruelty. They were married at Hibbing in July, 1911, and he deserted her during the following March, she stated.

* * *

Florence Paulson, 23, was granted a divorce this morning from Louis Paulson, 26 on the grounds of cruel and inhumane treatment. Judge Fesler before whom the case was heard gave the mother the legal custody of their child.

* * *

David Linna, 27, Virginia, denied the paternity of one of the children born to his wife, Ida Linna, 27, when he testified before Judge Fesler this morning. He was granted a decree on the grounds of adultery.

* * *

John Sorsa's craving for liquor made him worthless as a husband, according to the story told Judge Fesler this morning by Ida Sorsa, who said that she had been making her livelihood for the last three years by running a boarding house near Virginia. They were married at Ironwood, Mich., Jan. 27, 1908 and are parents of two children, John, 3½, and Mary, 1½, the custody of whom the court awarded to the mother. Sorsa is 33 years old and his wife is 29.

* * *

Miina Ranta, 35, told Judge Dancer that her husband Toivo Ranta, 35, had been cruel and inconsiderate in his treatment of her during the last few years and had abused her on numerous occasions. The court granted her a divorce on this ground and awarded her the custody of the three children.

* * *

Judge Fesler yesterday ordered a decree of divorce granted to Austin Howe, 43, who came into court and swore that his wife, Anna Schulze Howe, 38, had deserted him eleven years ago, after they had been living together as man and wife for about a year.

* * *

The tie which has bound Ruby Luella Nubson, 27, to her husband, Norman Oliver Nubson, 30, for the last ten years was broken yesterday by Judge Fesler when he granted the application of Mrs. Nubson for a divorce and awarded her the custody of the two children, Ward, 8, and Wesley, 6. Mrs. Nubson said that her husband deserted her Dec. 21, 1912.

* * *

Oliver Forget, 35, forgot his marriage vows and deserted his bride, Mary Forget, 27, eighteen months after they had been married. Mary remembered the occasion, however, and recited it to Judge Fesler this morning. She obtained a divorce. They were married March 4, 1905 in this city.

* * *

William McArthur today filed an answer to the recent divorce action commenced by his wife, Sylvia May McArthur, in which he denied her allegations of cruelty and sets up a counterclaim charging that it is he, and not she, who has been abused. On Oct. 5, last, he says, she struck him in the face inflicting an injury which required medical attention. He also claims that he has often been obliged to cook his own meals and mend his own clothes. He further alleges that although he has forbidden her to keep the company of one James Seburn, she has persisted in associating with him and accepting theater engagements from him and other men. The case is scheduled for trial at this term.

* * *

Mary E. Link, 33, started suit this morning for divorce against Carl Link, 33, on the grounds of desertion. She alleges that they were married in Duluth Oct. 8, 1906, and lived together as man and wife until Sept. 1, 1909, when he deserted. She asks for her maiden name, Mary E. Jacobs. The case will be tried at this term.

KAISER GODFATHER TO AMERICAN GIRL.

Berlin, May 7.—Emperor William acted as godfather at the christening in Berlin today of the infant daughter of Lieutenant Commander Walter R. Gherardi, American naval attache.

His majesty was represented by an adjutant. He explained through Lieutenant Commander Gherardi that he desired to be the little girl's godfather because of his high regard for George Bancroft, the American historian, the child's great grandfather. The christening took place at the American embassy.

Fill out this blank and mail to the Festival Editor of The Herald before May 10. The American Exchange National bank will give a $10 prize for the best name suggested. This is a new contest and distinct from the former one which closed May 1.

The committees appointed last Monday evening for the first annual pageant and festival, to be held here during the last week in July, 1915, are meeting this week, and it was announced this morning that next Monday they would present a tentative list of officers to head the organization, an outline of the constitution and bylaws and the best names for the festival submitted to date.

The nominating committee, it was announced, has already selected a list of men and women available for most of the officers and the board of ten governors.

T. W. Hugo is chairman of the nominating committee; Judge Bert Fesler of the committee on names, and J. B. Crane on organization.

One more Duluth organization has joined with the general pageant committee, bringing the total up to thirty-eight. This is the North Shore Tennis club, which appointed Dr. Rood Taylor, Dr. W. E. Mentzer and Dr. J. W. Jesion as its representative committee.

Notice.

By mutual agreement the co-partnership of Charles H. Tanner and William M. Powers, doing business as the Duluth Oil & Grease company, has been dissolved, William M. Powers disposing of all his interests in the above to Charles H. Tanner, who will continue the business under the same name and will take care of all obligations.

UNIVERSITY CLUB PLANNED

Rooms May Be Fitted Up in Hotel for College Men.

Minnesota Alumni Will Offer Scholarship—Field Day and Picnic.

A University club, to be composed of all the college men in Duluth, Superior and the range towns; a scholarship at the University of Minnesota, application to which is open to any high school graduate in the northern part of the state; an annual field day at Fond du Lac, associated with the Wisconsin Alumni of Duluth, including a trip up St. Louis river in an excursion boat, and a luncheon the first Wednesday of each month at the Spalding hotel for the members of the Northern Minnesota Alumni association, were among the important matters proposed and discussed at the smoker and meeting of that organization in the grill room of the Spalding hotel last evening.

About twenty-five Minnesota alumni gathered at the hotel for a social evening, which included a program of music and college songs, bridge and supper, followed by a short business session before the close of the meeting. Congressman Clarence B. Miller, Minnesota alumnus, was a guest of the members toward the close of the evening, having addressed a gathering of Woodmen in the West end before coming to the meeting of the Alumni.

University Club.

The proposed University club will include every college man in this part of the state and the matter is to be taken up with the other alumni associations of Duluth by Laird Goodman, president, and Phil Ray, secretary-treasurer of the Northern Minnesota Alumni association. They will make their report at the next meeting and it is probable the club will be established in time for the fourth annual college day next August.

The University club plan was proposed by a member of the association who explained a plan of having clubrooms established in one of the larger hotels. He told the members of the association that he had conferred with hotel managers and that they are willing to make bids for the remodeling of about five or six rooms on the top floor of their hotels for a club. These would be furnished by the hotel and, if desired, the various alumni associations of Duluth, would establish college rooms, such as the Minnesota room or the Yale room, at their own expense. It would then remain for the members to pay the rent of the rooms and this, with a few minor expenses, would be all the cost involved.

The idea of establishing a university club in Duluth is not new, but the matter never took form before. Members in the past always proposed pretentious quarters and clubrooms, and for this reason the plans failed. It was the sentiment at the meeting last evening that the proposed club would meet with the approval of all the other associations in the city and that a university club would be established within a few months.

Mass Meeting.

It is planned to call a meeting of all college men in the very near future and after organizing, arrange for the clubrooms at one of the hotels. Members of the club would have cards to the other university clubs throughout the country and especially the Twin Cities, where local college men visit throughout the year.

The establishing of a scholarship at the state university for worthy students who are unable to pay their way through college, is the most worthy undertaking ever attempted by the local association. It is planned to start a subscription list at once and to raise the necessary funds from among the members of the Northern Minnesota Alumni association.

A committee, consisting of Laird Goodman, president; and Phil Ray, secretary treasurer; Walter F. Dacey, William Prior, A. B. Kapplin, Al H. Moe and W. W. Huntley, was appointed to take charge of the subscription campaign and the scholarship fund after it is established. Applications will be made to the committee through the various high school faculties in the northern part of the state and the most worthy and able student will be given the four-year scholarship at the university. The money will be given him as a loan, with the understanding that it be paid back in installments after the student has been graduated and has been out of school a year.

By raising about $1,200 the members hope to send a high school graduate to the university every fall, beginning next September. More complete plans will be formulated by the committee and announcements will then be sent out to the high school principals in Northern Minnesota.

Field Day.

According to action taken last evening, the Wisconsin graduates in Duluth and Superior will be asked to join with the Minnesota men in an annual field day this July. The plan is to go to Fond du Lac on one of the excursion steamers and there spend the day in field sports and a game of baseball between Minnesota and Wisconsin. A picnic lunch would follow, with dancing in the evening. The officers were instructed to take the matter up with the officials of the Wisconsin alumni.

A regular luncheon will be held at the Spalding on the first Wednesday of each month, according to action taken last evening. It was decided to hold the first luncheon on June 3.

LAIRD GOODMAN, President.

RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

It's Me for Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel; but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Co., Columbus, O. All druggists.

NEW MINISTER SOON WILL GO TO HAITI

State Department Says M. R. Smith Quit Voluntarily.

Washington, May 7.—Announcement was made at the state department today that Arthur Bailly-Blanchard, secretary of the American embassy at Tokio, who has been selected as minister to Haiti to succeed Madison E. Smith, resigned, will take up his new duties as soon as he can close affairs in the Orient and return to the United States.

Mr. Smith, now in Farmington, Mo., his old home, has been on leave and was in Washington a few days ago. State department officials said his resignation was voluntary and in no manner connected with circumstances culminating yesterday in the presentation of an ultimatum at Port Au Prince demanding the immediate settlement of a British claim. Officials here said it was understood he desired to return to his private pursuits. He is 64 years old.

Mr. Bailly-Blanchard, who has been in the diplomatic service in various capacities for almost thirty years, has held his present post as secretary at Tokio since February, 1912, serving as charge d'affaires after the retirement of Ambassador Charles Page Bryan.

LAST FILING DAY; SURPRISES EXPECTED

Congressman Miller Issues Statement; J. Adam Bede Files for Congress in Tenth District; Albert Schaller of Hastings Aspires to Be District Judge; Editor of Hutchinson Leader to Oppose Congressman Davis at November Election.

Now that the last day has arrived on which candidates for state offices, for congress and for the legislature may file, there will probably be considerable scurrying at the offices of the secretary of state and the various county auditors. Whether or not there will be any more filings in this county is still to be determined.

Among the filings for congress at the state capitol yesterday was that of Former Congressman J. Adams Bede, who for several years represented this district. The reapportionment of the state has put his county—Pine—in the Tenth district and it is for the Republican nomination for congressional honors in that district that he files. His opponents for the nomination will be State Senator Victor L. Johnson of Center City, and L. E. Jepson of Minneapolis. It is believed that Mr. Bede will cut into Jepson's support more than into Johnson's and it is forecasted that the latter will win. Mr. Johnson is a very able man, has made an enviable record as a state legislator and is considered exceptionally good timber for congressman. The new Tenth district comprises the Third, Fourth and Tenth wards of the city of Minneapolis and several outside counties.

Another old friend of Duluth, who aspires to a new office is Senator Albert Schaller of Hastings, who wants to be elected district judge in the First district. His opponent is W. L. Converse of South St. Paul. Charles B. Elliott of Minneapolis, has filed for the office of associate justice of the supreme court, opposing Justice Bunn.

* * *

Congressman Clarence B. Miller of Duluth, who is a candidate for renomination in the June primaries, has just issued a statement, giving his reasons why he should be renominated. His statement in full is as follows:

"I have filed for renomination on the Republican ticket and re-election to congress. There are certain reasons why I feel that my candidacy should be indorsed by the voters of this district.

"In the first place, and especially, I have served my apprenticeship, reached efficiency in congressional work, and an important district like this has need for an experienced representative. To serve as an efficient congressman is no longer a diversion or an art. It is a business requiring careful training and experience. Any one can draw the salary, but certainly not every one can do the work. Time was when a man could be a lawyer or a business man and serve as congressman on the side. Not so now. Uncle Sam's business is the greatest on earth. Some years must be devoted by a new man to learning that business and the way it is done in Washington.

"Then there are many great national questions before congress today. Some of these affect our own economic and industrial welfare, some affect our foreign affairs and our colonial possessions. These questions are all difficult and will be decided by the men who have studied them and have attained places of influence in congress.

"Your congressman, during all the time he has been in office, has devoted himself exclusively to the work. He has for years studied these questions. He has become an authority among his colleagues in certain of them, and therefore is prepared to take a leading part in their consideration.

"One does not reach a position of influence in Washington in a day, nor a year nor two or three years. It requires demonstration of capacity first, and then it requires sufficient length of service for the member to be advanced to the chairmanship of a committee or become the ranking minority member of a committee. This district has never had the chairmanship of a committee, for the simple reason that it has never retained a man in office long enough for him to be advanced to the place. If a member is not competent, or fails properly to represent his district, he should be defeated at once; but if he is of the right material, a district serves its itnerests best by keeping him in congress long enough to be serviceable to his constituents and to bring distinction to his home:

"Your congressman has advanced so that in the next congress, should he be elected, he will be chairman of either of two important committees, in case the Republicans control the house, and ranking minority member if they do not. As a consequence, I feel that during another term I can be of greater value to our people than at any time heretofore, and solicit the co-operation and support of every man who believes I have made an efficient and advancing congressman.

"The interests of this district are all important, and are more diversified than those of any other district I know of.

"I am constantly occupied with hundreds of cases in which homesteaders and settlers are interested. There are additional problems of drainage, road building and agriculture wherein I have interested our government and hope to secure important Federal assistance. To illustrate: I have now before the interior department the matter of utilizing for fuel the immense peat fields of this district, and the agricultural use of such parts as may not be good for fuel. There are immense possibilities in this development.

"Then this district has immense river and harbor interests, railroad interests, lumbering, gardening and farming. Our iron industry is known to the world. It has been my ambition to be a vital factor in the upbuilding and developing of these industries, and my best energies have been devoted to the work. It has only been after some years of constant study and experience that I have learned this district, its people, its various localities, their needs, and the best methods of work to promote their interests.

"I believe our tariff should be on a protective basis. While I have ever voted to reduce the tariff on all commodities where I thought it too high, I have always believed and do now believe that American industries should be protected against the cheaper labor of foreign countries. I believe in giving more work and better wages to our workmen rather than to build up industries abroad. The interests of our wage earners and workmen should never be lost sight of. It has been my pleasure always to think of them in matters legislative, and that will be my policy while in office.

"The people of this district have honored me with generous support, and I am deeply grateful for that confidence. I have responded in the constant endeavor to represent this district in every detail to the fullest extent possible. I trust that our cordial relations and co-operation may continue."

A congressional filing that will be of much interest to Duluthians because of the friendship of the aspirant for Duluth and many of its citizens personally, is that of Carlos Avery, editor of the Hutchinson Leader. Mr. Avery seeks the Democratic nomination for congress from the Third district. He will therefore oppose Congressman Davis and it is generally conceded that with the advent of Mr. Avery, Congressman Davis has a fight on his hands that will necessitate the figurative removal of his coat. Mr. Avery has lived in Hutchinson for thirty years and has lived in McLeod county for forty-three years, spending his boyhood on his father's farm near Hutchinson. In an impersonal way the Leader says:

"On account of the fact that the present congressman has seen fit to align himself with those who have sought to embarrass and obstruct the administration of President Wilson, and especially in the recent crisis in the Mexican trouble, those who believe that the president should be supported loyally by congress have sought a candidate whom they might advocate with the confidence that he would not misrepresent them if elected.

"Mr. Avery is not only a supporter of the president but he is an enthusiastic one. He believes that the people are with the president in a large majority and this is one of the issues on which he proposes to ask for election. He is not the possessor of a "barrel," and will be unable to hire workers or spend money otherwise in the interest of his candidacy, but he proposes to place the issues of the campaign before all the voters of the district and make a vigorous campaign for election."

E. R. Grignon, who, a few days ago, filed for the legislative nomination in the Fifty-ninth district, today withdrew his name. This leaves W. L. Bernard and E. N. Nelson alone in the field.

DULUTH "Y" BOY SUCCEEDS IN SOUTH

B. A. Shuman Builds Up Large Association in Buenos Aires.

B. A. Shuman, who has been a representative of the Y. M. C. A. in Buenos Aires, South America, for the last twelve years, is said to be making remarkable progress in the association work in that city. Beginning as a pioneer in the association field there, he has put up a large building and has all the various departments working in excellent form. Business men in Duluth raise $1,200 yearly for this work. While Mr. Shuman was successfully carrying on the work of the association in Duluthh in the old Superior street building, the call came from the International headquarters association at New York to fill this important post. As a result of his years of work he has succeeded with help from some outside sources in erecting a splendid new building, costing nearly $20,000. Besides the central building, which is in the heart of the city, a Spanish branch has been maintained with great success for more than three years. A student branch at the University of Buenos Aires, where there are 5,000 students, has nearly 300 members. As a result of the success of the work in Buenos Aires a call has come from Montevideo, Uruguay, for an association there. The association in Montevideo has just begun its fourth year with nearly 800 members.

TELLS OF WAR ON THE WHITE PLAGUE

Report on Ten Years of Work Is Made at Washington.

Washington, May 7.—The work of the National Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, which was begun just ten years ago was reviewed at the opening session of the tenth annual meeting of the association here today.

Dr. Charles J. Hatfield of Philadelphia, one of the directors, reported that after ten years' work there are over 2,500 anti-tuberculosis agencies now well established as compared with less than 150 such agencies in 1905.

The agencies today include 550 tuberculosis sanitoria and hospitals, 410 dispensaries, nearly 1,200 anti-tuberculosis associations, and 250 open air schools and fresh air classes. Besides, a considerable number of boards of health and other agencies are taking an active part in this campaign.

Comparative Finances.

"While the National association cannot lay claim to the organization of each and every individual piece of anti-tuberculosis work developed during these years," says the report, "it is probably no exaggeration to say that at least a great part of this movement has been stimulated directly by our association. It is, therefore, significant to you, who are members of the association to note that while the entire budget of the National office for this period has been only $200,000, Federal, state and local anti-tuberculosis agencies, both public and private, have expended during this same period practically $100,000,000."

Dr. Hatfield also reported upon the Red Cross Christmas Seal sale for last year and estimated that when all the returns are in, the aggregate sale will reach more than 43,000,000 seals, a gain of 10 per cent over 1912. Plans for the sale next fall have already been perfected and the printing of the seals will soon be begun. Some of the most significant developments of new work during the past year have been in the states of South Carolina, Oklahoma and South Dakota. In all of these states the new activities have been stimulated by the sale of Red Cross Seals.

$1,000,000 WING OF MUSEUM IS OPENED

King and Queen of England Officiate at London Affair.

London, May 7.—King George and Queen Mary today opened a new wing of the British Museum which has just been completed at a cost of a million dollars. It is the first part of a large scheme of extension.

In 1895 the government bought a considerable portion of the Duke of Bedford's property around the museum for $1,250,000 and a large area was cleared. The legacy of $250,000 bequeathed by Vincent Stuckey Lean gave impetus to the present extension. The bequest was intended particularly for the reading room and library, to which the testator was a frequent visitor.

The new building is in architectural harmony with the old Museum. Its facade, which is flanked by two massive towers, is of Portland stone, the outer walls and pedestals of the forecourt being of Scotch granite. The main entrance is surmounted by a balcony, the parapet of which is formed by the stone laid in June 1907 by the late King Edward. The doorway itself is formed of marble, surrounded with granite, and is closed by a bronze door, the upper panels of which are sculptured in relief.

Severely Simple.

The architectural composition of the building is severely simple. In the interior the object in view has been to deprive the extension of everything irrelevant to the main purpose, the primary idea being to make it a mere background for the exhibition of the nation's treasures.

An important feature of the new wing is the staircase which is the link between the old building and the new one. This is extremely simple in design. Its walls are covered with marble, which has been selected more for its texture as a background for antique sculptures than for its veining.

The building comprises a basement as well as a sub-ground, ground, mezzanine, and top floors.

The top floor will accommodate the print department. In the basement will be stored books or newspapers. The eastern half of the sub-ground floor will be utilized as a copyright office and for book storage, while the western half will be in part a public newspaper room.

The mezzanine floor will be largely given up to staff rooms, and it contains space for the future accommodation of music, and maps, while the Stein collection of Eastern paintings is being temporarily housed there.

INTERVENTION ONLY SOLUTION

Dr. Martin Just From Mexico, So Declares in Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two weeks out of Mexico, where he spent several months as a special agent of the United States government, Dr. Richard Martin, who is visiting local friends, maintains that complete intervention by the United States is the only solution of the Mexican problem.

"To handle the situation otherwise," says Dr. Martin, "is to encourage a series of revolutions, one after another, and a stiff upper hand is the only remedy that can be applied satisfactorily.

Villa's Attitude.

"Gen. Villa, with whom I am personally acquainted, doesn't like the United States any better than any other Mexican, but he is wise enough to see the folly of a conflict with this country, and is earnestly trying to avoid it.

"Villa's absolute indifference to danger makes him the great leader he is," continued Mr. Martin. "Huerta is not popular, even among his own followers. They are fighting for principles of the old Diaz government, which they consider he represents, rather than for him personally."

Four police officers, Gunn, Dugan, Dahl and Herrick, were removed from office, and Hager, Freeman, Viken and Treacy were appointed.

Patrolman Sullivan has been a member of the police force twenty-seven years, being the oldest member in continuous service.

RED RIVER DREDGING.

Government Will Spend $7,500 on Stream This Year.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although the Red river is no longer an avenue of commerce, the United States will spend $7,500 during the coming summer to maintain it as a navigable stream. Capt. John Hayes, commanding the government dredging opertions in the stream, will commence the annual work tomorrow.

The fact that there is a movement under way for the more extensive use of the river for navigation purposes is responsible for the action of the government in continuing the upkeep work.

SURVIVORS OF SEA FIRE LAND

and subscribed to a fund for their relief.

Unable to Tell Stories.

The survivors had not recovered sufficiently from their wounds and exhaustion to give a detailed account of their escape from the burning ship and their forty hours of exposure in an open and leaking boat. All were removed to the marine hospital at Chelsea as soon as the steamer docked.

The Columbian's fire came early Monday morning and brought all hands on deck immediately. When the order to abandon ship was given it was found that the tackle was jammed on the boat manned by the survivors. The boat hung for a few minutes by the falls, the sailors fending it away from the heated sides of the steamer until one of the men cut the rope. The drop forced a hole in the bottom, and throughout their forty hours adrift the men took turns in bailing.

When the men were rescued they were placed in the best state rooms on the Franconia and were disturbed only when it was necessary to give them nourishment.

Third Boat Given Up.

Sable Island, May 7.—The third boat, which with nineteen men put away from the burning steamer Columbian Sunday night still was missing today, and wireless advices received here said that vessels cruising in the vicinity of the disaster had given up the search.

SUPREME COURT MAN MAY REPRESENT U. S. BEFORE MEDIATORS

O'Shaughnessy remained at the state department, calling on Counselor Lansing and the assistant secretaries.

Mr. Bryan announced that because of the White House wedding he probably would not confer with Mr. O'Shaughnessy again until tomorrow. The secretary further asserted that his future status had not been considered. It was thought improbable that he would see President Wilson today.

Lost More Baggage.

Misfortune followed Mr. O'Shaughnessy even to the seat of his home government. Having lost most of his personal possessions when Mexicans looted his trunks outside of Vera Cruz after his departure from Mexico City, the American charge lost more of his personal belongings en route from New Orleans to Washington. Baggage which had been checked could not be located when Mr. O'Shaughnessy arrived here.

O'Shaughnessy's first act after reaching his hotel was to hunt a haberdasher's shop. He then was besieged by interviewers, dropped in on a few old friends at the Metropolitan club, and at 10:30 o'clock went to the state department and conferred with Secretary Bryan.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy assured inquirers that papers of the embassy and his code book were safely in his possession.

Denied He Had Resigned.

As to his own future he would make no comment, denying, however, that he had resigned or that he had heard anything officially concerning his own future in the service. Asked if he thought it possible for a compromise cabinet and a compromise president to be established in Mexico pending settlement of the difficulties there, the American charge replied in the affirmative.

He reiterated former denial of reports that he had suggested to President Wilson a list of prominent Mexicans who might be chosen to take charge of the government there pending a constitutional election.

Widespread Ill Health Caused by the Kidneys

Of all the ills humanity is heir to, nothing is more to be feared than those caused by by kidney poisoning, because such ailments invariably come on so stealthily that you are seldom aware of their presence until they have actually spread dangerous diseases throughout the body. There are, however, certain signs by which you can tell whether your kidneys are properly filtering your blood.

If you arise in the morning with dull, aching pains in the back and feel as if your night's rest had not refreshed you; if you are weak, depressed, nervous or irritable; if your head aches, spots appear before your eyes; if your appetite is poor, your complexion sallow; if you have indigestion, biliousness, rheumatic pains and have lost flesh rapidly, you may be sure kidney poisons exist in your blood, and you cannot possibly get well until they are removed. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy has a steady, persistent restoring action on the kidneys that brings perceptible relief almost immediately. It is recognized by many physicians as one of the most dependable medicines in the treatment of kidney and liver diseases. It contains no harmful ingredients. Try it and you'll get well. At all druggists in 50c and $1.00 sizes. Free sample and advice if you write Warner's Safe Remedies Co., Dept 375, Rochester, N. Y.

ammunition from fleeing column that evacuated Monterey.

The Carranza representative did not outline to what extent his forces were opposed. In many quarters here that was interpreted as indicating that the rebels encountered little resistance. No casualties on either side were mentioned.

Minister Zubaran today estimated that more than 40,000 rebel troops were now in the field.

Victory Story Confirmed.

Confirmation of the capture of the entire Federal garrison at Acaponeta, Tepic, by the Constitutionalists' forces reached the state department today in a report from Consular Agent W. J. Keyes at Rosario. The rebels, it is said, captured 1,500 prisoners, 1,000,000 rounds of rifle cartridges, 2,000 rifles, five machine guns and three cannon.

The prisoners were taken by the advance guard under Generals Blanco and Buelna.

It also is reported that the Island of Pedra off Mazatlan has been captured by rebels.

Mazatlan is reported surrounded by Constitutionalist forces.

Moving on Saltillo.

The vanguard of the Constitutionalist forces at Durango and Torreon has started on its march to begin the campaign for the capture of Saltillo and Zacatecas. This information which reached the state department today from Consul Hamm at Durango, confirms the report received yesterday from the correspondent of the Associated press at Torreon.

O'GORMAN DENOUNCES TOLLS REPEAL BILL

Washington, May 7.—Senator O'Gorman, chairman of the inter-oceanic canals committee and leader of the forces opposed to the repeal of the toll exemption clause of the Panama canal act, gave the senate today the legal, economic and political reasons for his opposition.

In a three-hour speech, the senator discussed exhaustively every phase of the subject. He discovered no ground in international law which would forbid exemption of American coastwise ships from toll payment; saw behind the repeal movement the hand of the railroads, and declared that a failure to impose a tax could not be called a subsidy.

The senator warned his Democratic colleagues that to repeal the exemption was to violate the pledges of the Baltimore platform, and to reverse the verdict of the people when they elected President Wilson last November on that platform.

Senator O'Gorman said that inasmuch as former President Roosevelt and Taft and a preceding congress agreed that coastwise vessels should be exempt, another congress should think twice before giving its approval to the repeal bill, for it in turn might find itself reversed by a congress yet to be elected.

KANSAS GAS CASE MAY BE DELAYED.

St. Paul, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorney General John Dawson of Kansas, and several other attorneys who came here yesterday in connection with the Kansas gas controversy, were prepared to appear in United States circuit court of appeals today and ask for a mandamus directing Judge McPherson of the United States district court to turn over to the state receivers $700,000 alleged assets of the Kansas Natural Gas company. The attorneys contend that Judge McPherson has not complied with the order of the court of appeals issued last November.

A crowded calendar delayed the case yesterday, and there was a possibility that it would not be reported today.

HELLSTROM GIVES HIS PLATFORM

Candidate for Democratic Nomination for North Dakota Governor.

Bismarck, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank O. Hellstrom, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of North Dakota, who was warden of the state penitentiary during the Burke administration, has issued an address to the voters, in which he invites comparison of his record in the warden's office with the previous and subsequent administrations.

"I found the twine plant funds entirely depleted, and there was a large deficit in the operating fund," he says. "Prices on binding twine had been established at much higher figures than the prevailing prices in Minnesota. When I left the institution I turned it over to the present administration fully equipped with raw material, all floating debts paid, including $96,000 of bonds, and, on April 30, 1913, a cash credit of over $116,000 in the state treasury. During the entire period that I was warden the prices on binding twine were fixed as low or lower than the prices named by the Minnesota prison, and I believe it is a fair question to ask why is it that the price on binder twine this year is so much higher at Bismarck than at Stillwater? Facts and figures either prove or disprove the claim to a business administration.

Would Stop Vicious Practice.

"If I am nominated and elected I will give my time and personal attention to the affairs of the state and its institutions. I will use all the power and influence of the governor's office to put a stop to the vicious and dangerous practice of our legislature in rushing through more than 100 bills on the last day of the session in the small hours of the night when no one is watching.

"Believing the people should have a direct voice in making all laws, I am in favor of the initiative and referendum, in order to let the people rule. I am a firm believer in the wisdom of prohibition, and if nominated and elected I will use all the power and influence of the office of governor to uphold its principle and enforce the law."

NOTICE!

All brothers of West Duluth Lodge, No. 168, I. O. O. F., are requested to meet in special session Friday night, May 8, to consider arrangements of funeral of our late brother, Emil Nygard, at 8 p. m. By order of the Noble Grand. E. G. NYLUND, Sec.

CUPID AND HYMEN DRIVE MARS AND JOVE FROM WHITE HOUSE

who would have been bridesmaids had the ceremony been more elaborate were on hand to aid in the final preparations. They were Helen Hunter of Portsmouth, Va.; Marjorie Brown of Atlanta, Ga.; Henrietta Stadelman of Wilmington, Del.; Miss Susan Fine, and Miss Elizabeth Duffield of Princeton, N. J., and Mrs. Charles Kellog of Athens, Pa.

A troop of decorators took charge of the White House, and the halls and rooms were transformed with masses of spring blossoms. The Blue Room, where the ceremony will be performed, was particularly adorned.

First Union of Its Kind.

With a plain circlet of pure gold, typical of the quiet elegance of the ceremony, Miss Eleanor Wilson will be married at 6 o'clock this evening in the White House to William Gibbs McAdoo, secretary of the treasury. Today's wedding will be unique in respect to the principals, as Miss Wilson will be the first daughter of a president of the United States to be joined in marriage to a member of the cabinet.

The simple and impressive wedding service of the Presbyterian church will be pronounced by Rev. Sylvester Beach, pastor of the church in Princeton, N. J., attended by the president and Mrs. Wilson and the family.

Small Company Present.

The ceremony, while it is to be notably elegant in all of its appointments, will be witnessed by the smallest company that ever attended so important a function in the White House. The vice president and Mrs. Marshall, the members of the cabinet and their wives, relatives of the president and Mrs. Wilson and of Secretary McAdoo and a few intimate personal friends of the bride and bridegroom comprise the list of friends.

The ceremony of this evening takes place in the historic Blue Room, the middle apart of the suite on the south side of the White House, between the East room and the state dining room.

It has been the scene of more brilliant social functions than any other room in the mansion. It is in the Blue Room that the president formally receives his guests at White House receptions. In recent years its furnishings and appointments have been changed entirely. Its oval form has been retained, but the scheme of decoration and furnishing has been modernized. The color plan is blue, but not the blue of a robin's egg as of old, but a dark shade of French blue. The walls are paneled in rich, corded silk of the same shade, affording an artistic background for the wonderful spring flower decorations which are a feature of today's wedding.

Room Recently Refurnished.

The massive furniture of days gone by has been replaced with furniture of lighter, if not more artistic design. The floral decorations of the room—in fact, of the entire mansion on the first floor, will be marvelously beautiful. Slender vases of graceful designs in cut glass and rare porcelain will be filled with cut flowers, including masses of lilies and white orchids, products of the White House conservatories. The south side will be backed with palms to form a background for great bunches of spring blossoms of cherry, peach and apple.

In the main lobby of the mansion, the Marine band orchestra of fifty pieces, under the direction of Lieut. William H. Santleman, will render a program of music especially selected by Miss Wilson.

Sallie McAdoo Flower Girl.

To the strains of Wagner's inspiring wedding march from Lohengrin, the wedding party will descend the main staircase from the apartments above. Miss Margaret Wilson and Mrs. Sayre, the bride's sisters, will be maid and matron of honor. Two charming little maids, Miss Sallie McAdoo, the 12-year-old daughter of the bridegroom, and Miss Nancy Lane, the dainty daughter of Secretary and Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, will attend the bride as flower girls. They will be attired in exquisite white frocks, exactly matching.

The bride will be escorted to the Blue room by her father, the president of the United States. At the beautiful extemporized altar of white satin and cut flowers, she will be joined by the bridegroom, Mr. McAdoo, and his best man, Dr. Cary T. Grayson, U. S. N, an intimate friend alike of the secretary and of the president.

Informal Reception.

An informal reception will follow the ceremony, after which the bridal party and assembled guests will sit down to the wedding supper to be served in the state dining room. Both the room itself and the great dining table will be superbly decorated, and the latter particularly will be a vision in sparkling cut glass, silverware and rare flowers.

Later in the evening Secretary McAdoo and his bride will leave Washington for a brief honeymoon trip. It is not expected they will remain long away from Washington, as it is known that the secretary's official duties, particularly with reference to the Federal reserve board, will demand his presence in the national capital.

The Bride's Gown.

The bride's gown is a superb creation with many yards of Empress Eugenie lace, of soft and elegant design. The gown has a sweeping train, several yards in length. The satin which softly drapes the bodice is drawn into a point below the shoulders, leaving a V-shaped opening both back and front. Soft folds of tulle finish this opening, and there is a tunic of tulle made on the new, long lines, and the sleeves, which are long, are made of tulle mousquetaired.

The lace is applied with exquisite grace. It is draped over the right shoulder and crosses the bodice in a sweeping line to the left side of the waist, where it is caught with a spray of orange blossoms. Below the waist line it falls as a border to the tulle tunic. A novel feature of the lovely costume will be the bridal wreath of orange blossoms in cap effect, from which the long tulle veil will be draped.

Her Only Ornament.

Practically the sole ornament to be worn by the bride will be a necklace of diamonds, the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Wilson will carry a wonderful shower boquet of lilies of the valley, white orchids and fern fronds.

More than a century of romantic White House history will form a fitting halo for the bridal couple in the ceremony of today. According to accepted authorities, Miss Eleanor Wilson will be the fourteenth bride to plight her troth within the historic walls of the famous mansion. In the identical room, where she today will take the husband of her choice "for better, for worse," beautiful Frances Folsom became the wife, twenty-eight years ago, of the then president of the United States, Grover Cleveland; and only a few months ago the sister of the bride of today, Miss Jessie Wilson, was united in marriage in the magnificent East room of the White House to Francis B. Sayre.

The White House is hallowed in the memory of one other May bride, beloved Nellie Grant, who forty years ago was married in the East room to an English gentleman, Algernon C. F. Sartoris.

Some Puzzle Over Costumes.

While it has been known for some time that the arrangements for the wedding were to be simple, in contrast with some of the brilliant functions of the past, this has not affected the desire of the limited few who had reason to believe they would witness the event from making early preparations for gowns suitable to a function of this character. One troublesome question has been the hour of the ceremony, 6 o'clock, midway between the usual requirements of an afternoon or an evening gown, and also raising the question of whether a hat was suitable to be worn at a 6 o'clock wedding function.

But these details have now been solved by the two-score or more matrons and maids who are to witness the marriage. Nearly all of them will wear gowns not seen here before this season, and taffetas in light shades, with cream and white laces, have been the more generally chosen materials.

Mrs. Marshall, wife of the vice president, selected a costume of white net and lace, made in the prevailing ruffled style, the skirt partly draped, with broad embroidered flounces of net and narrower ones with lace edges. The bodice has the lace and net in a soft kimono blouse effect.

Mrs. Bryan, wife of the secretary of state, will wear a very modish gown of taupe taffeta, which has a large flowered pattern of roses in deep shades all over it. The draped skirt shows a petticoat in front of embroidered old rose chiffon. The chiffon is also inserted in the softly draped waist, but a line of nearly white and very fine lace edges the v-shaped neck opening. Mrs. Bryan selected one of her small toques to wear with this dress—a becoming model in black tulle and jet.

Mrs. Houston, wife of the secretary of agriculture, will wear white—a very pretty model in lace, with touches of jet and made-over white. The sash and girdle are of old gold satin.

Mrs. Lane, wife of the secretary of the interior, has chosen from among her new frocks a stylish but simply-made one of black flowered tissue over lavender chiffon. Both these gauzy materials form the bodice, with ivory-tinted lace around the v-shaped opening at the neck.

Mrs. Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy, has chosen a becoming dress of pansy-colored charmeuse with overdraperies of blue chiffon, which is embroidered in pansies. The purple straw hat she is to wear with it is wreathed with pansies.

Mrs. Garrison, wife of the secretary of war, is to wear black and white chiffon draped over white satin, with smart touches achieved by French ribbon holding the puff of the skirt drapery and also showing on the bodice, where rhinestone buckles hold the soft lace frills around the v-shaped neck.

Mrs. Redfield, wife of the secretary of commerce, is to wear a summer silk costume, white with hair stripes in mauve. It is trimmed with silver lace.

Mrs. Wilson, wife of the secretary of labor, will wear gray crepe de chine, and Miss Agnes Hart Wilson has a blue satin costume with touches of orange velvet and lace in the trimming.

The senate's wedding gift, a bracelet of diamonds set in platinum, costing $1,000, was sent to the White House last night with a letter from Senator Martine, chairman of the committee selected to choose the present.

"My dear Miss Wilson," wrote the senator; "on behalf of the senate of the United States, I have the pleasure to present to you the accompanying gift. We tender our best wishes to you for a long and happy life."

Jewels Lead Among Gifts.

The New Jersey congressional delegation also sent to the White House its gift, a silver serving tray engraved in roses, bearing the initials "E. R. W."

Gifts for the bridal couple continued to arrive at the White House during the day and the house guests were kept busy admiring the presents. Jewelry of various and beautiful designs predominated among the gifts.

For Sallow, Wrinkled, Freckled, Pimpled Skin

If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercolized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, blackheads, moth-patches, sallowness, red or yellow blotches, or any surface eruptions. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for an ounce of mercolized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple and harmless treatment report astonishing results.

If bothered with wrinkles or crow's feet, a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel will prove remarkably effectual. Advertisement.

IS TO BE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF CANADA

PRINCE ALEXANDER OF TECK.

London, May 7.—Prince Alexander of Teck, third son of the late duke of Teck, is to succeed the duke of Connaught as governor general of Canada. Official announcement of his appointment was made today. Prince Alexander is a brother of Queen Mary. He has been regarded as one of the "royal handy men." Prince Alexander was born April 14, 1874. He married Princess Alice of Albany. They have two children.

AMERICAN PROPERTY SEIZED BY FEDERALS

Ranch Employes Tell of Northeast Mexico Conditions.

Eagle Pass, Tex., May 7.—Mexican employes of American ranchmen in Northeast Mexico have brought reports here that virtually all American property within the Federal zone of control has been confiscated. They declare horses and cattle have been driven off, stores looted and in many cases ranch houses burned. So far as known, all the Americans have reached safety in the United States.

Federal territory in Coahuila and Nuevo Leon has narrowed steadily since the rebels captured Monterey. Between Monterey and the border Monclova remains the largest stronghold of Huerta's forces. Preparations for a determined attacvk on that place are being made by rebel commanders. Gen. Murgia yesterday advanced his outposts to Sabinas, twenty-five miles north of Monclova, and sent 200 of his troops south to guard the railroad between Piedras Negras, opposite Eagle Pass, and Sabinas. Other forces are working to repair bridges and track destroyed by the Federals.

Should the Federals be routed from Monclova, rail communication will be re-established between Monterey and the border at this point. The railroad is open between Monterey and Brownsville and is expected to be opened soon between Monterey and Laredo.

Late reports from Monclova said the Federals would offer a stubborn resistance. They have concentrated in the old fort between the old and new quarters of the city.

CALLS REPEAL BILL "PAY TO ENGLAND"

Senator Bradley Declares U. S. Thus Bought Support in Mexico.

Washington, May 7.—That all nations will know that the repeal of the Panama tolls exemption law will be done to "purchase immunity for a continuation of watchful waiting in Mexico," was charged in the senate by Senator Bradley of Kentucky, opposing the repeal bill.

"If the United States is lacking influence or standing today," he said, "it is not on account of the tolls question, but because of its weak, vacillating policy of 'watchful waiting' with Mexico. If we abandon our sovereignty of the canal to Great Britain, all other nations will know that we are doing it with the purpose of purchasing immunity for a continuation of our 'watchful waiting' policy, under which we accomplished nothing and under which there can be no peace."

OBSERVERS PREDICT ANOTHER BIG CROP.

St. Paul, Minn., May 7.—That Minnesota is to have another good crop season is indicated by reports from seventeen coupntles received by Fred D. Sherman, commissioner of immigration.

Seeding is about completed in every section of the state and more corn than last year has been planted because of the record made in growing that crop during 1913.

There is a good demand for farm hands at from $30 to $40 a month, with board, and many new farmers are reported as coming into every section of the state.

FREE LECTURE ON GARDENING AT "Y."

Prof. R. S. Mackintosh, who is conducting the course in home gardening under the joint auspices of the Duluth Y. M. C. A. and the agricultural college of the University of Minnesota, will give a free lecture at 8 o'clock tonight at the association building on "Planning the Decoration of Home Grounds." The course will close tomorrow afternoon.

GAME AND FISH MEN WILL MEET.

The Northwestern Minnesota Game and Fish Protection association will meet in the Assembly room of the Commercial club at 8 o'clock tonight. Matters pertaining to various forms of hunting, fishing and game protection will be discussed. All interested in these matters are invited to attend.

FRENCH SEEK NEWS OF JOHN R. SILLIMAN

Washington, May 7.—The French government is taking active steps to obtain news and secure the safety of John R. Silliman, American vice and deputy consul at Saltillo, who disappeared while on a mission to San Luis Potosi.

French consular agents in Mexico were instructed to look out for Mr. Silliman, and the French charge d'affaires at Mexico City made representations to Gen. Huerta about him.

A dispatch received at the French embassy here from Mexico City states that President Huerta, in reply, assured the charge that orders would be given to the Federal commanders to protect Mr. Silliman in every way. The charge added, however, that telegraphic communication with Saltillo was interrupted and it was doubtful whether any news concerning Mr. Silliman could get through.

Woman's Realm

In the opinion of the Duluth delegates, who returned yesterday afternoon, one of the most interesting features of the convention of club women held at Cloquet Tuesday and yesterday was the exhibit of baby clothes made from old garments by the wife of a homesteader near Big Falls, Minn. The possessor of this unusual wardrobe is the sixth child in the family, all of them having been born on the range.

The mother of this family enjoyed some privileges in her youth and finds in the Mothers' club an inspiration. That she enjoys the club and derives benefit from it is shown by her walking two miles to attend the meetings. The delegates from the Big Falls Mothers' club urged this energetic mother to allow the garments to be exhibited. They were pinned to the piano cover in the Masonic hall for the inspection of the delegates. There were a dozen or more other articles all made of old material with the exception of a pair of yarn booties. Even the comforter had been washed and turned. The ingenuity shown and the hand work on the garments were marvelous.

Mrs. C. C. McCarthy of Grand Rapids, former district vice president, read a paper yesterday morning on county sanitaria for tubercular patients. She showed that Minnesota is very forward in this movement, due to the activity of the federated club women of the state.

She outlined the plans followed recently to combat the white plague that claims a victim every three minutes in the United States. In Minnesota in 1912 there were 2,086 deaths from tuberculosis and there are now 18,000 sufferers from the disease in the state.

Hospitals for County.

The subject of hospitals for Duluth and for the range district was taken up at the meeting yesterday. A resolution was adopted favoring a city and county hospital for Duluth and a hospital for the range district, the location for the range hospital not being named. Some of the Hibbing women have offered their support and assistance in any way possible for the efforts of the Duluth women to obtain a hospital.

Miss Margaret Culkin, the social center director of Duluth, in her talk on "Social Center Work in the Small City," pointed out that school building are the logical places for social intercourse that is lacking in most communities. According to Miss Culkin, there is just as great need for social centers in self-respecting suburbs as in the so-called poorer districts. The types of entertainment provided at the social centers must depend upon the character of the residents of the districts.

The nominations of Mrs. Peter Olesen of Cloquet for district vice president and of Mrs. T. A. Gill of Virginia, as district secretary were unanimous. These nominations will be acted upon at the state meeting in Rochester the first week in October.

DRAMA LEAGUE.

Delegate to Philadelphia Convention Tells of Meeting.

Mrs. F. A. Patrick, who was a delegate from the Duluth center to the convention of the National League of America, held in Philadelphia April 23 to 25, has just returned home.

Mrs. Patrick expressed herself as gratified at the respect commanded by the Duluth branch, especially since its project for a masque and pageant is assured. At the two preceding national conventions, Mrs. S. R. Holden's report of Duluth's desire for an affair of this kind has been applauded, and now that the masque and pageant have been scheduled for next summer, many eyes are turned to this city.

Mrs. Elmer N. Whyte of the Duluth center submitted a report to the convention.

New York, according to Mrs. Patrick, is taking the dramatic life more seriously than it has ever done before. That city is very much interested in the Drama league and its Drama center advocates the issuing of bulletins for not only dramas but also for good musical comedies, farces and even melodramas. The representatives of some of the centers opposed this innovation.

The Boston center advocates the sending out of "hurry-up" cards to bring attention to high grade attractions threatened with failure on account of lack of public interest.

Mrs. Patrick, who is one of the vice presidents of the Duluth center of the league, will report to the organization at the next meeting. At this meeting Mrs. S. R. Holden, the president, will report on the St. Louis masque and pageant of May 28 to 31.

Dahl-Martin.

Miss Inga Dahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dahl of St. Cloud, Minn., and Ray B. Martin of this city were married yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Pilgrim Congregational church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. N. Thorp. The bride was attended by Mrs. Hiram Pixley, the bridegroom by J. L. Martin. A wedding dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Martin, 4 Kimball apartments. Mr. and Mrs. Martin will make their home in Duluth.

St. Paul's Church Dinner.

The St. Paul's Episcopal church dinner will be held at the Kitchi Gammi club tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock. Those who expect to attend are asked to get their tickets before tomorrow noon in order that arrangements can be made to provide for all. Tickets may be had from the rector; F. W. Paine, Sellwood building, and Ralph Moore, Wolvin building.

Sullivan-Grover.

Miss Nellie Mae Sullivan and Arden Oren Grover, both of Duluth, were married yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the rectory of the Sacred Heart cathedral of Superior by Rev. Patrick O'Mahoney, in the presence of the immediate relatives. A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Kenny of 1811 Hammond avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Grover left for an Eastern trip. They will be at home in Duluth after July 1.

WILL OBSERVE MOTHERS' DAY

Special Services Will Be Held in Duluth Churches—Custom of Wearing Red and White Carnations.

Mothers' day, which is celebrated throughout the United States in honor of "The Best Mother on Earth," will be observed in Duluth next Sunday.

Carnations, white for the memory of a mother who is dead, and colored for one who is living, are the emblems of the day and are almost universally worn.

The day is marked by the holding of special services in the churches, while the pastors throughout the country preach sermons on "Mother," or kindred themes. It has become the custom to send a bouquet of carnations to one's mother, no matter where she is, or to present her with some gift emblematic of the day.

Tomorrow afternoon Mothers' day will be observed in the schools, while business houses as a rule celebrate the day on Saturday. The second Sunday in May has been set aside for observance and on May 10, last year, both the house and senate passed resolutions commending Mothers' day and urging its adoption throughout the land. Tomorrow evening Dr. Maurice Lefkovits will preach at Temple Emanuel on "The Loving Mother."

Since the passing of these resolutions the Nebraska legislature has passed a law making Mothers' day also the state flag day. In Pennsylvania Mothers' day is a legal holiday and special programs are given in the churches. Governor Colquitt of Texas has adopted a custom of pardoning a number of state prisoners on Mothers' day.

Mothers' day was founded by Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, who last year succeeded in organizing the Mothers' Day International association, which has for its purpose the extending of the observance of the day to all the countries of the world. Ex-Presidents Roosevelt and Taft and President Wilson are honorary officers, while the governor of each state is an honorary vice president of the association.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Most Model Husbands Are Made So By Wives.

The model husband, according to the verdict of a woman's club in New York, seems to be one who lets his wife have all her own way. His crowning virtue is amiability before breakfast. Second on the list is his willingness to allow his wife to carry and dispose of the funds, and thirdly, he rates his wife's cooking above that of his mother.

This model husband can also sew, and we are led to believe that he attends to the placing of all his buttons and does the darning of his socks. He is prompt at meal times, and is never happier than when entertaining his friends at home. Clubs are no attraction to him. His wife claims that he is a good judge of feminine beauty, which influences one to think that he has tactfully made his wife believe she is possessed of every grace and charm.

Being agreeable at all times, always prompt at meal time, and a champion of his wife's cooking, reads not a whit more like unto a model husband than one well managed, according to feminine form. And however this woman is satisfied with the result of her training, there are, I am sure, any number of women who would die of the monotony of having such a "goody-goody" about under foot all the time.

Somehow a man doesn't have to be a bread-winner and in addition be as housebred as is claimed for this husband by his proud wife, to be able to lay title to being a good husband, if not quite a model. After all there can be no model of either husband or wife for other married men and women to pattern after. For a man to be generous, appreciative and kind-hearted, are to my mind splendid traits of character for any husband, but to have him uniformly uncomplaining, prompt, and always at hand would be a sore trial to me.

The more I study the references of the above described model husband the more convinced I have become that he is a very much managed, if not an absolutely hen-pecked, individual.

All the model husbands that I have ever seen or heard told of, were mated to women who were two-thirds responsible for their being models. In other words, their wives contributed two-thirds of the tact, good sense, good cheer and hard work necessary to make them contribute the remaining third.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

Amusement Notes.

Only five more performances of vaudeville will be given at the Duluth Orpheum this season.

Saturday night the regular vaudeville season will close, and beginning Sunday motion picture feature films will be shown for the summer months. The first of these will be a picture of the Indian wars of the United States.

The most thrilling and highly colored epoch in American history, that period from 1876 to 1891 when Indian warfare on the frontier was almost continuous, has been perpetuated by means of these motion pictures. The United States government through the secretary of war, Lindley M. Garrison, and the secretary of the interior, Franklin E. Lane, has made possible the reproduction of the thrilling and tensely dramatic incidents leading up to the Custer massacre and the surrender thereafter of Sitting Bull and his braves.

The war department loaned the United States troops for the purpose of taking this picture and the interior department mobilized the Indians on the very ground and under the command of the very officers, who, because of their heroic deeds years ago, have become national figures. This page from American history has been acted again and photographed. Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, Brig. Gen. Frank B. Baldwin, Maj. Gen. James L. Lee, Brig. Gen. Marion P. Morse, Brig. Gen. Charles King, Col. W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill), and Col. H. C. Sickles have not only contributed their reserves in maneuvering the troops just as they actually were commanded during the campaign, but have also assumed the actual strategic points they occupied.

The film has only just been completed and exhibited privately to President Wilson and his cabinet, who have ordered it placed in the archives of the war and interior departments for the education of future generations.

Martin Beck has been negotiating for the display of this picture for the Orpheum circuit for some time and has succeeded in closing a contract for its use.

A new list of vaudeville acts and motion pictures will be the attraction at the Empress theater for the last half of this week. Four big acts and three splendid reels of pictures will go to make up the delightful program. The feature act is Walter Terry and his Fiji Girls in the pictous comedy of songs and dances, "Cannibal Isles." This act is one of the best now traveling on the circuit. It contains a goodly number of songs, dances and pretty girls. The girls are said to be good to look at, very graceful and good singers. The songs are all of the ragsy kind, while the comedy of the playlet is in the hands of Walter Terry. His actions and jokes are also good for hearty laughs. The piece is sure to please those who like a miniature musical comedy.

Al Abbott will make his appearance in his repertoire of songs. He is billed as the Prince of Song and from all reports he is deserving of the title. His selections range from rag to grand opera, containing many ballads and catchy pieces.

Thompson and Berri put on a high-class singing and clever talk act which is expected to "go big" in Duluth. Miss Jean Berri is said to be a charming young woman with a very engaging personality, while W. H. Thompson is an able partner. Rand's Musical Dogs will offer a new line of tricks and feats for dogs, showing how far canine training may go. The two-part story in motion pictures, "The Silent Witness," relating a story of modern business in which the dictaphone plays an important part and a single comedy reel, will complete the program.

BRANDEIS IS HOTLY SCORED

Attorney for Western States Addresses Commerce Commission.

Washington, May 7.—The interstate commerce commission had before it today a supplemental brief filed by Clifford Thorne, representing the Western railroad commissions before that body in the advance rate case, in which he bitterly arraigns Louis D. Brandeis, special counsel for the commission, who in his closing argument in the case last Friday stated that "on the whole, the net income, the net operating revenues of the carriers in official classification territory are smaller than is consistent with their assured prosperity and the welfare of the community."

Repudiates "Concession."

Mr. Thorne asserts that Mr. Brandeis commenced his argument before the commission "by conceding the position of the carriers." On behalf of those whom he represents, Mr. Thorne says that he "repudiates in unqualified terms" the concession made by Mr. Brandeis in his closing argument. He says that had he known Mr. Brandeis "was actually going to take the railroad side of the question up for discussion as to the adequacy of the railroad revenues as a whole, I should certainly have asked that he be heard along with the railroad counsel before I made my argument."

Mr. Thorne said Mr. Brandeis announced his conclusion without presenting any facts or reasons in either oral or written argument, on basic questions, necessarily involved in arriving at such a conclusion. He added that in so far as Mr. Brandeis' opinion is not supported by substantial reasons the commission should not give any weight to it.

"Unpardonable" Attack.

Mr. Thorne then refers to the "unpardonable" attack of Mr. Brandeis on the surplus he (Mr. Thorne) had allowed, and says it "was precisely the surplus adopted after careful and deliberate consideration, by the unanimous action of the commission in the former advanced rate cases. Mr. Brandeis attempts to brand that surplus as 'niggardly' without giving the slightest argument, reason or fact in support of his claim. Some of the companies are earning more than 20 per cent in dividends and surplus of their capital stock, after all other charges are paid."

Mandan, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thirty two thousand dollars is the appropriation that has been asked for the use of the Great Plains experimental station near there during the coming summer to complete new building projects, and place the farm in first class condition for experiment work.

MOYER'S TRIAL SET FOR MAY 18

Calumet, Mich., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The recent copper strike has its last echo in the trial of the conspiracy cases against prominent officers and heads of the Western Federation of Miners who were indicted to the nnumber of thirty-six for alleged conspiracy by the grand jury early in the winter and since which time President Charles H. Moyer, Vice President Mahoney, Guy Miller, J. C. Lowney and other members of the executive board of the federation have kept without the confines of the state of Michigan to escape arrest under the indictment. The trial of these cases is scheduled to come up in the Baraga county circuit court at L'Anse on May 18, a change of venue from Houghton county having been granted. The union officials have declared right along that they will return for trial.

Charges in Brief.

George E. Nicholls of Grand Rapids, appointed special prosecutor for Houghton county in the strike cases, will handle these cases. Mr. Nicholls says that as far as he knows a conspiracy charge of the sort has never been brought against the principal officer of a labor organization in the history of the United States. Stripped of legal verbiage the charge is that Moyer and other Federation officers conspired to stop the operation of the Michigan copper mines by threats, assaults and intimidations. They succeeded ed in causing a suspension of operations. It is estimated that the trials of these cases will continue six weeks and cost the county $50,000. During the trials the entire strike will be reviewed from the time of the organization of Western Federation of Miners' branches in the district, to the calling off of the strike and admitting of defeat by a vote of the men who struck. Hundreds of witnesses will be called.

Since the ending of the strike many of those strikers who have been refused work because of participating in strike violence have carried on a guerrilla warfare of reprisal against the men at work and assaults, highway robberies and holdups are frequent. Generally the perpetrators are caught and punished through the medium of the courts.

NAVY SURGEON PAYS SMALL FINE.

Annapolis, Md., May 7.—Surgeon Ralph W. McDowell, U. S. N., was acquitted last night in the circuit court here of the charge of assault with intent to kill Frank Green, Jr., of Annapolis. The jury also acquitted him of intent to maim, the second charge in the specifications against him. A technical charge of common assault and battery was sustained in the jury's finding, but this was accompanied by a recommendation for mercy, and the court imposed a nominal fine.

The case against Surgeon McDowell was the outcome of an altercation between the surgeon and Green last February.

AN UNTENABLE OPPOSITION.

The Superior folks who came over yesterday to enter their protest against the building of the Fond du Lac bridge over the St. Louis river intimated, if they did not actually say, that if Duluth will build an approach to the steel plant bridge they will withdraw their opposition to the Fond du Lac bridge.

In other words, while they profess to have serious reasons to urge against the building of the Fond du Lac bridge, these reasons are not so serious that they cannot be swallowed if the Superior folks get their way about another project.

In still other words, Superior says to Duluth: "Build that approach to the steel plant bridge, or we'll stop St. Louis county's building of the Fond du Lac bridge."

After this, there seems hardly any need of Duluth's making an appearance at this hearing, though of course it should be made anyway.

If Superior has valid reasons to offer why the Fond du Lac bridge should not be built, doubtless congress will consider them.

But doubtless congress will refuse to consider valid any reasons so trivial that they can be withdrawn and forgotten for a consideration.

St. Louis county is planning the Fond du Lac bridge as a part of a much needed highway. That is one thing.

When the approach to the steel plant bridge is built Duluth, not St. Louis county, must build it, and this is another thing. Beyond doubt Duluth will soon build that approach—when its need is shown, and when Duluth can afford the expenditure. It will hardly build it before there is a suitable highway from West Duluth to the steel plant site.

The Superior attempt to use the Fond du Lac project as a club to compel Duluth to act prematurely on the steel plant bridge approach will hardly succeed. Threats and bulldozing methods certainly will not advance the building of the approach a single day.

Another peculiarity of our language: Villa refuses to MIX with the Huertistas, but he is dead anxious to MIX IT with them.

LONG LIFE AND HAPPINESS TO YOU, SIR AND MADAM!

Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson and Mr. William Gibbs McAdoo are to be married today in Washington.

To them both, heartiest congratulations, good will and good wishes!

That they are respectively a daughter of the president of the United States and the secretary of the treasury in the president's cabinet adds merely another hue of romance to what is always a romantic and interesting event.

Apparently oil has no good effect on the troubled waters of Colorado.

THE N. M. D. A. AT THIEF RIVER FALLS.

By the way, the time draws near for the spring meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association.

It will be held this time June 3, 4 and 5 at Thief River Falls, an admirable little community in the prairie country of Northwestern Minnesota which has long coveted the honor of being host to this association, which is planning to give it a good time, and which deserves a big attendance.

And the meeting itself will be worth while. It will be almost purely agricultural along chautauqua lines; and this in itself is a sign of progress and a proof of the achievements of the N. M. D. A.

When the association was born, the problem was to get settlers. The problem still is to get settlers, but they are coming in rapidly; and there are enough of them in now so that the newer problems of how to handle the land when it is settled are to the fore. So there will be little agitation about settlement at this meeting, but much about development. The program is a good one, and full. Matters of great interest and importance will be discussed by experts, and the trip will be well worth while for everybody interested in the wooing of the soil.

Duluth should be there in force. Several Duluth speakers are on the program, and as usual Duluth and St. Louis county will have an important part in the doings.

Turn over the pages of your memorandum calendar, and make a note that you have a date to be in Thief River Falls on June 3, 4 and 5.

The rule "safety first" didn't apply to the evolution of the bicycle. Remember those things that preceded the safety?

ALL FOR ONE AND ONE FOR ALL.

Eleven neighborhood improvement associations sent representatives to a meeting with the Duluth Commercial club yesterday, and talked over plans for concerted activities.

This is good work—good for each neighborhood concerned, better for all Duluth.

While each of these clubs represents the life and activities and peculiar needs of a neighborhood, the Duluth Commercial club represents the life and activities and needs of the whole city.

At times each or all of these clubs can co-operate with the Duluth Commercial club for the common good. At all times the Duluth Commercial club, from its viewpoint of the general welfare, can co-operate with any local club on local projects that have general bearing.

Unification of community effort is good work, and deserves encouraging by all possible means.

Plumbers in Troon, Scotland, get nine dollars and a half for a week of five and a half days, says a consular report. If you have much plumbing to be done, it would pay to move your house to Troon temporarily.

THE DULUTH BOYS' EXPOSITION.

The annual Duluth boys' exposition will be held at the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow and Saturday. Success to it.

Cultivating the creative spirit in boys is good work. It's good for the boys, and it's good for the community. Society needs all the creative activity it can get, and it's bad business to let any native talents stifle for lack of encouragement and help.

And encouragement and help to the boy creative spirit are what these expositions provide. Also, they help to fill boy life with wholesome activities. Boy life is going to be filled with activities anyway. If they are not wholesome they are likely to be unwholesome. So every effort that fills the field with wholesome activities is for the good of the boy, and therefore for the good of society.

So we are interested in this boys' exposition, and wish it all possible success.

Wonder if Huerta knows that it's cool in Duluth?

THE BANKS PICKED THE RESERVE CENTERS.

A good deal of the criticism of the arrangement of the twelve reserve districts has died down, and the general public has settled down to a comfortable realization that most of it was inevitable anyway because there would have been complaint from disappointed cities no matter what the board's choice had been, and that if in practice the present arrangement proves in any way unworkable the permanent Federal reserve board can change it about at will.

The Review of Reviews, however, brings out more clearly than it has been developed before the fact that in the main the selections were made by the bankers themselves rather than by the members of the board. This is especially true of the selections that have been most widely criticized.

"More than forty cities," says the Review of Reviews, "had been presented as serious candidates for selection as Federal reserve centers. Only twelve could be chosen. The country does not fall naturally into exactly twelve banking districts. Many newspapers declare that the committee was governed by political reasons; others charge its members with acting from private and personal motives, while those of New York attack the committee from all standpoints, and particularly allege its animosity toward the banking power of the country's present financial center.

"It is our opinion, which we state with great deliberation, that a more intelligent committee could not have been selected, and that no men could have been actuated by motives more wholly disinterested. They had the benefit, for one thing, of the first, second and third choices of every bank that has been enrolled in the membership of the new system.

"The choice of Dallas, for example, as against New Orleans, was based upon the overwhelming preference of the banks which belong to the region affected. The choice of Richmond, rather than Baltimore or Washington, was due to precisely the same show of preference on the part of the banks concerned, together with many other factors entitled to consideration. And similar arguments resulted in the selection of Kansas City, even though it happens to lie on the extreme western edge of Missouri, just as St. Louis lies upon the eastern edge, so that two bank cities are in one state.

"The committee has a very difficult piece of work to perform, and if the newspaper editors and bankers who have so unsparingly denounced its decisions should listen for two hours to an explanation by Mr. Houston or Mr. McAdoo, they would withdraw all their aspersions, even though they might continue to smart from their local disappointments. Mr. McAdoo and Mr. Houston each retained his own independence of judgment, and the members of the committee did not confer until each had made his own tentative map. They found that they had arrived at the same conclusions, based upon the evidence in hand, in view of the restrictions of the law. Their comprehension of the questions involved, as a result of their exhaustive study, is far superior to that of their critics."

This is well said. Take out of the criticism all the spirit of partisanship seeking to discredit the administration for political purposes only, and all the bitterness of disappointment, and consider the fact that the critics' viewpoints are mainly local while the board's viewpoint was national, and it is easy to see why criticism has all but ceased so quickly.

Wisconsin's death rate is the highest in six years, it is said. It will be interesting to see how this is twisted about to form an argument against the eugenics law.

A NORTHERN MINNESOTA SCHOLARSHIP.

The Northern Minnesota Alumni last night decided to establish a loan scholarship at the state university.

Every year some deserving young man of Northern Minnesota will be sent to whatever college at the university he chooses, and kept there for the full course. After a year following graduation, he will be expected to repay the loan; and thus the scholarship, once established, will be a revolving fund.

This is an admirable plan, and we hope that its beneficiaries will carve names for themselves on the scroll of fame that will stand as monuments to the public spirited generosity of the Northern Minnesota Alumni.

Critics of the stringency of Wisconsin's eugenic marriage law will please take note that a girl who masqueraded as a man passed the examination for a man's marriage license in Milwaukee.

Sweden Votes Against the Czar.

Philadelphia Telegraph: Complete returns from the elections held throughout Sweden from March 27 to April 7 indicate that King Gustave has emerged from the struggle with his prestige far more secure than was anticipated.

The general election was precipitated by the king's action in advocating an increased military establishment to meet Russian aggressions without consulting the wishes of his cabinet. The Liberal ministry held this to be a violation of the national constitution.

As a curious and unexpected result of the balloting the Liberal representation in parliament has been reduced from 101 to 74 members, while the Conservatives backing the king have elected 81 members as compared with 65 in the former parliament.

The impression which might be created that Sweden is growing more conservative politically is destroyed by the notable strength shown by the Socialists, who have increased their group in parliament from 64 members to 76.

These confusing results are really not as difficult to interpret as they appear at first glance. Russia's attitude gives the key to the puzzle. Sweden fears being swallowed by Russia. King Gustave made the popular move of demanding a larger army. The anti-militaristic Liberals sought to enjoin his agitation on constitutional grounds. The Socialists, while demanding a previous expression of the popular wish, were agreed that a firm attitude toward Russia was required.

Hence the political oddity of a victory for both the king and the Socialists and a defeat for the Liberals. The Swedes voted heavily against the czar.

The Mother.

She goes about her household tasks
And rarely speaks, but sad her gaze.
You note the trembling of her hands;
You guess that in her heart she prays.

"Their father fought for four long years,
When news of Sumter stirred the land!
I've watched him old before his time,
Scarred by war's cruel, lasting brand!

"Again, on San Juan's shot-swept hill,
I pictured our first-born, most dear.
When God from peril saved our boy,
I thought I'd nothing more to fear!

"Now comes the call! The younger lad
Is with the ships! Rash, daring he!
(Yes, yes! I am a veteran's wife
And no one looks for tears from me!)

"I note my neighbors come and go,
Their husbands, sons, in peaceful trade.
(Forgive a woman, who rebels,
That Heav'n this cross on her has laid!)

"It must be so! The nation's rights
Must be upheld—some wars must be.
But, oh! have pity, God! Demand
No more such sacrifice from me!"

Supreme Court and Technicalities

Editorial in the Kansas City Star.

A man convicted of crime in the state courts of Washington went to the supreme court of the United States with the argument that the Fourteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution had been violated because he had not entered a formal plea to the second information filed by the prosecutor in the case.

The Federal supreme court held that the failure of the court record to show the man's answer to the charge against him was a purely formal error and had not deprived him of any substantial right. The court refused to set aside his conviction and ruled that the defendant's right to "due process of law" had not been invaded.

This action of the highest court looks simple enough; but it was significant for two reasons:

In the first place, the court overruled its own precedent. In an earlier, similar case it had held that the same technical error was a cause for reversal and did violate the Fourteenth amendment.

Secondly, the following language of the court's opinion was fine:

Technical objections of this character were undoubtedly given much more weight formerly than they are now. Such rulings originated in that period of English history when the accused was entitled to few rights in the presentation of his defense, when he could not be represented by counsel, nor heard upon his own oath, and when the punishment of offenses, even of a trivial character, was of a severe, and often of a shocking, nature. Under that system the courts were disposed to require that the technical forms and methods of procedure should be fully complied with. But with improved methods of procedure and greater privileges to the accused, any reason for such strict adherence to the mere formalities of trial would seem to have passed away.

Concluding, the supreme court said: "We now are constrained to hold that the technical enforcement of formal rights in criminal procedure . . . is no longer required in the prosecutions of offenses under the present systems of law."

No state supreme court is obliged to adopt the rule and reasoning of the United States supreme court. But the influence of its rules and reasoning is great. Also, the response to public revolt against technical criminal procedure is certain to be noted in state court decisions as it is evident in the federal decision.

The quoted language of the highest judges in the land constitutes a severe criticism of every such decision as that which reverses a conviction because a "the" is left out of an indictment. It is bound to have a good effect.

Held Vice-Presidency Under Borrowed Name

Kansas City Star: A New Hampshire native, christened Jeremiah Coldbaith, became, though under another name, vice president of the United States.

Oldtimers will recall this odd fact of history, and youthful doubters have to scan the biography of Henry Wilson to dispel their skepticism.

J. Jones Coldbaith as a youth found no fault with the name he had been given. That doting parents had augmented it by bestowing the Jeremiah Jones part of the cognomen did not incite him to revolt. The name was all right in the Granite state and no one even so much as snickered when at his marriage ceremony the parson queried:

"Do you, Jeremiah Jones Coldbaith, etc.," and J. J. C. timidly answered he would.

Mrs. Jeremiah Jones Coldbaith, however, was a person of discernment. Soon after the family destines had been transferred to Massachusetts the gentler component of the Coldbaith unit began to note that society matrons scarcely repressed their smiles when the Coldbaiths were announced at functions and that persons with the propensity for punning kicked the name around something awful to contemplate with regard to metes and bounds.

"My dear Jeremiah Jones," said Mrs. C., after she had given the matter much serious contemplation, "we must change our name. Jeremiah suggests lamentations; Jones is but an ordinary cognomen, and while Coldbaith might have its advantages on a British election program, you couldn't get votes for shucks in this land of the free. We've just got to be something else."

A judge a few days later listened patiently to the plea and ere J. J. left the courtroom he bore the acceptable name of Wilson with Henry tacked on.

Henry Wilson's rise was rapid and folks who formerly tittered at the very mention of his name carried in the torchlight parades great banners that were inscribed: "Vote for Henry Wilson." Citizens heeded the transparent advice and "our subject" went onward and upward—state senate—Washington as a lawmaker and, in 1872, was chosen vice president on the Republican ticket along with Gen. Grant.

Wilson was the author of numerous books along serious lines and was in the midst of his most pretentious effort when in 1875 he died.

Most Famous of All Songs.

Chamber's Journal: There cannot be the least doubt that the most famous song in the world, judged by its being known in the most lands and by the most varied nations, and by its being one of the oldest and most widely sung ditties ever known, is that which has for its first line Malbrough s'en va-t-en guerre; which, if we were to give the English version of it, would be, "Marlborough goes away to the war."

That "Marlborough" is the most famous, the most widely known, the most often sung, and has by far the most glorious traditions of all the songs of the world's many and varied countries. You have yourself unknowingly acknowledged many a time, when you have sung its splendid refrain:

For he's a jolly good fellow,
For he's a jolly good fellow,
For he's a jolly good fellow,
And so say all of us!

It is sung by Arabs in the Sahara, by wild Turks on Asiatic steppes, by Britons in every clime, by vivacious Frenchmen on every continent, by Hindus swarming on "India's coral strand," by trappers on the bleak icy plains of Labrador.

The Crusaders, when they returned from their wars for the Holy Sepulchre in the thirteenth century, brought back with them to France a tune which they had learned afar. They sang it and hummed it as they marched, till it caught the nation's fancy, and became at last one of the songs of France, whence it soon crossed the channel and delighted the English. Where the Crusaders actually got the song is a matter of much doubt. But, as the Arabs of Palestine knew the song well, and were often heard singing it by Chateaubriand and others, it is not improbable that the Crusaders actually learned it from their enemies.

This theory is negatived, however, by many authorities, who suggest that the true air and the most widely known words of the song, as we have them today, unquestionably come from the period when Louis the Fifteenth sat on the throne of France.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sir Robert Hadfield, a tall, gaunt, typical loose-collared Englishman, had been about the navy department for a day or two trying to obtain a contract for the British firm he represents that has 12 and 14-inch shells to sell.

One morning at the close of a conference with Secretary Daniels, Sir Robert paused in front of the historic silver urn that was presented by the citizens of Philadelphia to Capt. Isaac Hull after he had walloped the supreme tar out of the Guerriere with the Constitution.

"What urn is this?" asked Sir Robert of Daniels.

"'Twas a gift from the people of Philadelphia to Capt. Isaac Hull," replied Daniels, politely.

Sir Robert put on his monocle, adjusted it, leaned back and took another look at the urn.

"Hull," he repeated, "Isaac Hull. I suppose I must have heard of him. Who was he? What did he do?"

Daniels swallowed, shifted from one leg to another, looked off into space and tried to ignore the question. But Sir Robert inquired again:

"What did Hull do?"

"Well, sir," smiled Daniels, "since you force me to say it, he 'did' the English."

* * *

One of the comparatively few things that can disturb President Wilson's composure is the thought of a long conference with some one who is likely to use up a lot of language in saying nothing.

Happily, the president has a doughty Cerberus on guard in the person of young Joseph Patrick Tumulty, who is gifted in the knack of shunting off bores without giving offense.

Recently a certain man went to Tumulty and asked him to arrange to give him a thirty-minute interview with the president. A long interview was impossible that morning and impossible at any time in the case of a person who was notorious for the paucity of his thoughts as well as for the brook-like continuity of his conversation.

Tumulty put the man off, thinking he might not come again. But there was where Tumulty was greatly mistaken. The man not only came again, but again and again.

The president hearing one morning that the man was without, called Tumulty to make a personal appeal against letting him in. He looked so worried that Tumulty was greatly amused and paused to laugh merrily at his chief.

"You seem to think," said Tumulty, "that in a moment of weakness I might hand him a pocketful of cigars and invite him in to spend the forenoon with you."

The caller did get to the president, however, after a week or so. A compromise was effected by which, instead of thirty minutes, he should have two minutes. And two minutes was all. Tumulty timed him as carefully as if he had been a race horse.

Representative Edmonds of Pennsylvania pulled an extremely poor joke the other day on Representative Hamp Moore, who is also from the state that William Penn bought from the Indians for a nickle's worth of beads. It was such a subtle, complicated joke that no one got it until after Edmonds had furnished the blue prints and topographical charts, and many had difficulty even then. Moore, you must understand, has a scrappy disposition, is a specialist on the subjects of canals and waterways, and favors a large navy. Now with our props all set, we'll have Edmonds' poor joke. He propounded:

"Why is Hampy Moore our most martial congressman?"

"Because he wants to fight all the time," gayly answered one member.

Wrong.

"Because he's for two battleships a year," piped up another voice.

"No," exclaimed Edmonds, "because he runs so strongly to canals."—Mars—martial—Mars—canals on Mars, y'know.

Isn't it fine that there aren't many jokes like that!

* * *

Every once in a while one may see a well-dressed, clean-cut looking congressman walking along Pennsylvania avenue looking wistfully into the shooting galleries. He is Representative Reed, who succeeded the gigantic and picturesque "Cy" Sulloway of New Hampshire. Reed dotes on shooting at marks and can plug the bull's-eye ever and anon. His specialty is victimizing clay pigeons and shooting them into a thousand small, useless fragments. One would have to ransack New England pretty thoroughly to find many handier men with a shotgun than Reed.

It is Reed's wish that when he dies he will go at once to one of the international shooting tournaments at Monte Carlo.

Back Home.

I'd like to take a week's-end off
And get back to the farm,
With griddle cakes and sausages
And other things that charm.

I'd like to tumble in a bed
Of feathers soft and warm—
Secure beneath the old roof-tree
From trouble, fret or storm.

I'd like to hear my mother's voice
Come up the entry hall:
"It's 6 o'clock, you sleepy head!
And this is my last call."

I'd like to hear the dishes clip
Together down below,
Where she fixed up the breakfast things
Helped by Melinda Snow.

I'd like to rustle up the hair
Of my dog, Towser, now—
The best friend that a boy e'er had!
So close to me, somehow.

Through all the days that come and go,
No matter where I roam,
I'd like to hear his welcome bark
When I go drifting home.

I'd like to take a week's-end off—
And so would you; once more
Go back to lift the latch again
Upon the dear old door.

There snuggle close up to the folks
In pleasant firelight;
There hear the mother-voice again
Give you her fond "Goodnight."

Wisdom.

Washington Star: "Don't you ever change your mind?"

"Of course," replied Miss Cayenne. "It is very desirable to change your mind occasionally in order to call attention to the fact that you had any in the first place."

The State Press on the Republican Split.

A Nice Man, But—!

Brainerd Tribune: Mr. Lee seems to have had a little machine of his own in the "elimination conference." He was slated by the bosses for the gubernatorial nomination, and all the delegates had to do was to stand for it, though there was kicking upon the part of both candidates and delegates. Mr. Lee is a nice man personally, but he is a politician, and a "machine" is a valuable adjunct in politics.

Not Alluding to Manahan, of Course.

Anoka Union: The renegade Republican is one who should be shunned, and never elected to office.

How Do You Figure That Out.

Hibbing Tribune: William E. Lee, Republican conference candidate for governor, looks good—to the Democratic press.

And He's Finding It So.

Lake Crystal Union: The anti-machine politicians chose William E. Lee of Long Prairie to oppose A. O. Eberhart for the nomination for governor at the June primaries. With the Damon and Pythias attitude of the eliminated aspirants, it is going to be hard sledding for Eberhart.

No Middle Ground.

Brown's Valley Tribune: Samuel Iverson, James A. Peterson and Senator Elwell have all withdrawn from the field as candidates for governor, and since the mass convention in Minneapolis W. E. Lee of Long Prairie is the only candidate to oppose Governor Eberhart for the Republican nomination in the June primaries, and this paper will give its humble support to Mr. Lee.

It is either Eberhart and the Smith machine or Mr. Lee; there is no middle ground, and all anti-machine Republicans should get behind the candidacy of Mr. Lee and boost.

The Very Dickens for Luck.

Red Wing Eagle: Judging from indications Adolph O. Eberhart will surely have a rocky road to travel this election trip. It need surprise no one, however, if he should get there, just the same. He seems to be born that way.

Achieved the Impossible.

Ada Index: The Republican state conference at Minneapolis succeeded in its object of naming one candidate on which all anti-machine men can unite. Before the conference was held it was deemed impossible to secure the withdrawal from the race of several of the leading candidates for governor but the conference declared in favor of William E. Lee. The outcome of the conference is one that should be pleasing to every Republican. In Mr. Lee, who probably will be nominated at the primaries, we will have a candidate who stands for reforms prominently demanded, and who has the necessary experience and ability to carry them out.

Not a Tight Town

St. Paul Dispatch: It requires no election to emphasize the attitude St. Paul occupies on what may be called the personal liberty question. It has been made manifest over and over again. The people of this city, or at least a substantial majority of them, are opposed to undue restraint in the matter of their personal predilections. They do not take kindly to "blue laws." They object to being considered a "closed town." The puritanical idea does not get very far with them. It does not seem necessary to prove what is a self-evident proposition.

But we take it that the people, at the same time, do not sanction liberty carried to license. We believe they will insist upon the observance of all of the outward decencies and proprieties. If they are willing to permit the existence of certain vices they will resent the flaunting of these vices in the public face. There is a deep-seated intention of keeping, at least, the public face clean.

Extremists may be inclined to deprecate this state of affairs and to indulge in comparisons with "whited sepulchers." But we insist upon the belief that this very fairly, perhaps entirely accurately, represents the situation in St. Paul. Yesterday's election produced no result to contradict it.

A Complete Apology.

Bovey Iron News: The Iron News hereby makes a correction, acknowledging its mistake, and hereby giving prominence equally in position and importance to its original error, acknowledging that through wrong information libel by the paper has been committed and that we hereby retract our statement, eat our own words, and duly make apology therefor. That the party alleged to have been libeled, and whom the Iron News admits was libeled, was never of a quarrelsome disposition, and that the allegation of the Iron News that said first party was engaged in a broil was not in fact, that the same was a fabrication; that the party so mentioned has suffered grave humiliation, mental anguish, from said distortion, for which the Iron News with prominence equal to the original article would make amends.

Therefore, as aforesaid, we hasten to say that it was not Fred Anderson's dog that rudely, incourteously, using foul and indecent dog language, engaged itself in a common street fight in which Butch Lowe's plate glass window was broken. Not on your life. Fred's dog is peacefully inclined. He will not fight a dog larger than himself; in fact, he will not fight at all.

The character of Fred's dog has been assailed because of Judge Frantl's dog's misdemeanor, and has been held in public contempt because it was thus wrongly given prominence through the columns of the Iron News, therefore this paper acknowledges its reporter's error with the same prominence given aforementioned article according to the laws of the land when such refutation is requested.

"Our Moral Empire."

Kansas City Star: "Our Moral Empire in America" is what William Bayard Hale in the World's Work calls the policy of President Wilson toward the neighboring Latin-American republics.

The correctness of the title is evidenced by the workings of the president's Mexican policy. The president regards Huerta as an impossible head of the Mexican government. His dictatorship rests merely on a "barracks plot." His reactionary policies can only postpone the day of stability for Mexico.

It is Mr. Wilson's belief that the Huerta regime will be eliminated by the Mexicans themselves, and with far better results than by any intervention by this government. Toward this end he is working.

It is a splendid endeavor to raise the standard of international ethics in this Western hemisphere.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1894.

The shaving shed and a portion of the lumber yard of C. B. Woodruff on Garfield avenue was destroyed by fire this afternoon. The fire broke out in the shed where shavings are packed in bales, and the whole building was soon a mass of flames. The high wind carried the flames from one lumber pile to another until the whole yard was afire. Mr. Woodruff's loss is between $10,000 and $15,000, and he carried insurance of only $3,500.

Fire broke out early this morning in the C. N. Nelson Lumber company's upper yard at Cloquet, but was extinguished after about 900,000 feet of lumber was consumed. It is claimed the fire was of incendiary origin.

M. H. Johnson, formerly of the firm of Cogin & Johnson of West Duluth, has purchased twenty-eight acres of land opposite the village of Fond du Lac for a summer resort. A hotel and a dancing pavilion will be erected, boats will be purchased for the pleasure of guests, and a ferry will be used to cross the river from Fond du Lac.

P. A. Lignell, who has filled the position of drug clerk for C. F. Thorpe at West Duluth for the past two years, will leave next week for Hancock, Mich., where he has purchased a half interest in a drug store.

Rev. Mr. Keithley has accepted the call extended by the Westminster church at West Duluth and will take charge about June 1.

About 200 people gathered on London road yesterday afternoon to see the race between Belle M, owned by Walter Thompson, and W. T. Smith's flyer, Trigadore, for $200 a side, mile heats, best two in three. Trigadore won two straight heats easily. The horses were driven by their owners. Col. Petty and T. B. Hawkes were judges, and D. E. Case and W. F. Smith starters.

The board of public works today appointed E. J. McLaughlin to be street commissioner for District No. 2 and V. Wilkinson to be superintendent of street sprinklers.

Ex-Alderman Dingwall, assisted by ex-Alderman Sorenson, yesterday successfully launched his new sailing yacht, the James Dingwall.

Capt. Edward Kelley, who died at Cleveland a few days ago, was master of the first steamer put on between Buffalo and Duluth.

The Colorado Massacre.

New York World: If such an atrocity as that reported in Colorado had been chargeable to Villa or Huerta in Mexico the whole country would have been aflame at the horror of it. Whole families have been wiped out as a result of a strike war between mine guards and militiamen on one side and miners on the other. Of the dead and wounded the majority are women and children.

There could be no such massacre as this if the state of Colorado had not surrendered its government to the Rockefeller Fuel & Iron company. It has done even worse than that. Having permitted the inhabitants of a large section of its territory to carry on hostilities for months, it has openly taken sides. Instead of using its great authority to compel peace and establish justice, it has assailed the weaker of the antagonists with all the fury of the savages who once roamed its valleys.

Whatever the rights and wrongs of the quarrel between Mr. Rockefeller and his employes may be, it is the duty of the state of Colorado to enforce its laws without fear or favor. This it has not done. It has hidden in a cowardly way behind a pretense of martial law. Its own armed agents have been more intent upon serving Rockefeller than upon serving the state.

Mr. Rockefeller's son recently testified that he was willing to sink his entire investment in Colorado rather than yield to the demand of his employes that they be permitted to organize. He has not sunk and he does not intend to sink his entire investment, but he has debauched an American commonwealth, and the blood of women and children is on the hands of his barbarous agents, private and public.

"Bad Taste" Indeed.

Boston Post: Over in New York a set of self-appointed arbiters of what is good and bad taste in home decoration have been having what seems to them a deal of sport in a so-called "bad taste" exhibition, consisting of rooms fitted up in the style of the early '70s or thereabouts. They have resurrected for the purpose black walnut furniture, hair-cloth chairs, huge wooden beds, wax flowers, sea shells, plush albums, mottoes worked in worsted and many other home-made things dear to our fathers and mothers. They seem to think this a "dreffle smart" thing to do; they revel in the humor of the revelation.

But the putting on public view of such articles for the purpose of ridicule is, in itself, the extreme of bad taste. The love and devotion and simple faith that went into the making of many a "God Bless Our Home" is a dear rememberance to some of us; to have them pilloried for the laughter of fools is inexcusable.

The fittings of our old homes may have lacked something of the smartness and esthetic values of today. But they were in real homes, used by genuine and home-loving people. To hold them up to the scorn of moderns is a cheap exhibition of the exhibitor's shallowness.

A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

CORRECT ANSWER.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In answer to the question as to how many jumps it will take the frog to clear the twenty-foot log, jumping ten feet, then five feet, etc., will say that he never can clear the log. Regardless of how short the distance may become, he will always have one-half of the remaining distance to jump. Respectfully, MRS. DAN NEUMAN.

BLUEJACKETS WILL WEAR KHAKI ASHORE.

Vera Cruz, Mex., May 7.—Another step toward the complete preparedness of the American forces here to meet any emergency was taken when the fleet yesterday received 5,000 khaki uniforms for the bluejackets in case they should be called upon for service ashore.

The conspicuousness of the white uniforms worn by many of the sailors of the landing parties cost many lives during the first days of the occupation of Vera Cruz. Many of the bluejackets at that time dipped their white uniforms in coffee or muddy water in order to darken them, but this process did not avail them very much.

The organization of the sailors has now been completed, and if ordered to land they will form into three distinct regiments.

REFUGEES LAND AT SAN DIEGO.

San Diego, Cal., May 7.—With 104 men, 45 women and 37 children, nearly all Americans, the steamer Mazatlan, formerly the Jason, arrived in San Diego yesterday from Guaymas, Mexico. The Americans were gathered from along the coast between Guaymas and Mazatlan, the steamer taking 96 from Guaymas and Empalme and naval vessels picking up the balance at other ports.

DEMANDS MONEY OF CATTLE COMPANIES.

El Paso, Tex., May 7. — Unless three of the largest cattle companies operating in Northern Chihuahua paid large sums of money to Gen. Rodrigo Quevedo within twenty-four hours, he would destroy the windmills on the ranches owned by the companies, according to a threat received here yesterday.

It is estimated that the loss to the companies, should the windmills be destroyed, would be more than $1,000,000 within a week, as thousands of cattle certainly would die of thirst.

The letter from Quevedo demands that the Palomas Land & Cattle company pay $5,000 gold, that the San Pedro Cattle company pay $1,000 and that the Corralitos Cattle company produce $3,333. He demanded that the money be left at a hacienda near Nogales, Ariz.

Representations of the strongest kind will be made to Gen. Carranza and Gen. Villa, and they will be asked to send a force which will capture or destroy Quevedo's band or sweep it into the arms of the United States troops at the border.

AMERICANS "CONQUER" MEXICAN ISLAND.

San Diego, Cal., May 7.—Several wealthy men from Colorado Springs and Coronado, Cal., went out in a yacht yesterday to the Coronado islands and scaled one of them, raising the American flag on a 500-foot pinnacle. They claimed the islands "by right of conquest," and had their pictures taken before returning.

The islands are Mexican territory.

NAVY RECRUITS FROM CHICAGO.

Chicago, May 7. — Commandant Clarke of the Great Lakes Naval training station has received orders from Washington to send as many three months men as are available at the station for service aboard ship. Ordinarily no men are taken from the station under four months' training.

WILSON WRITES TO DEAD BOY'S BROTHER.

Chicago, May 7.—Meyer Meisenberg, brother of "Sammy" Meisenberg, the Chicago boy who was one of the first marines to fall when Vera Cruz was taken, has received a letter from President Wilson. The letter was in reply to the letter of the dead marine's brother in which he offered his services to the country if occasion demanded.

"My dear friend," the letter read. "Your letter of April 29 has touched me deeply. I congratulate the nation that there are enough people in the land who feel the way you do, and as did your brother Samuel, about the welfare of the nation when they are called upon to give their lives for it. I thank you most sincerely and send you my deep felt sympathy because of the death of your brother.

"Sincerely yours,

"WOODROW WILSON."

Morris Meisenberg, the father, will leave today for New York to receive the body of his son next Monday.

Preparations for an impressive funeral have been made.

"TIZ" FIXES ACHING, SWOLLEN, SORE FEET

How "Tiz" Does Comfort Tired, Sweaty, Calloused Feet and Corns.

People who are forced to stand on their feet all day know what sore, tender, sweaty, burning feet mean. They use "TIZ," and "TIZ" cures their feet right up. It keeps feet in perfect condition. "TIZ" is the only remedy in the world that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet and cause tender, sore, tired, aching feet. It instantly stops the pain in corns, callouses and bunions. It's simply glorious. Ah! how comfortable your feet feel after using "TIZ." You'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't tighten and hurt your feet.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" now from any druggist, department or general store. Just think! a whole year's foot comfort for only 25c.

A VETERAN GONE

By SAVOYARD

Washington, May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—George Alfred Townsend died the other day at the ripe old age of 73. If not the greatest writer of what might be called editorial correspondence our country has produced, he was the most voluminous, the best known, and the widest read, but he survived his fame, and to the generation now on deck "Gath" as a pseudonym is a name without meaning. He entered upon a journalistic career ere he had emerged from his teens, and his was a flowing and captivating style. He had the advantages of robust physical health and ceaseless industry. He was a student of books and his was a remarkable memory.

Born in Delaware, a slave state, he was educated in Pennsylvania, and all his long life he harbored intense animosity toward the South and everything Southern. He was a "war correspondent" as early as 1861 and wrote voluminous letters descriptive of the camp, the march and the battle of the Army of the Potomac. After the war he became a Washington correspondent and ground out volumes daily that were printed in numerous newspapers and devoured by tens of thousands of readers.

As a Washington correspondent—Washington correspondence being what it then was—I do not believe he was the equal of Joseph B. McCullagh, or Donn Piatt, or A. C. Buel, or H. V. Redfield, though his reading was more extensive and more varied than that of any one of them. When at his zenith he cultivated a discursive style that evidenced a prodigious knowledge of books, of men, of things and of events, and his letters were as delightful as they were instructive.

That method became a passion with him and degenerated into a positive vice. Indeed it became almost ridiculous. He was in Europe during the Franco-Prussian war and wrote some most readable letters descriptive of battles and sieges. His letters from our political conventions were, perhaps, the best ever written, but when he came to write about the membership and the proceedings of the two houses of congress, McCullagh and Buel left him miles in the rear. He was a partisan of the partisans and when he was correspondent of the Cleveland Leader he sought to interview old Ben Wade, a very abrupt and a very profane man, who came within one vote of being president of the United States when the impeachment trial of Andy Johnson was decided. "Bluff old Ben" roared, "The Leader is a d——d Chase paper, and I have nothing to say to it." "Gath" printed what the old fellow said and it went the rounds. Chase had been Wade's colleague in the senate, and though his pretension was ridiculous, he actually thought himself the abler man and the greater statesman.

Claim was made for Townsend that he was the originator of the newspaper interview; but my understanding is that Joseph B. McCullagh was the inventor of that feature of journalism now universally practiced in this country and adopted in Europe. Alexander H. Stephens, vice president of the Confederacy, was the first man interviewed and "Mack" was the newspaper man who secured it and wrote it. During the impeachment trial "Mack"—the pen name of McCullagh—interviewed Johnson almost daily and his letters in the Cincinnati Commercial were inimitable—perhaps the best that ever went out from this capital.

Some years after the war there was established in this town a weekly newspaper that was issued every Sunday morning. Donn Piatt and Townsend was associated in its editorship; but as was inevitable they clashed, and after the second or third issue Townsend withdrew. Piatt, like tens of thousands of others who voted for Lincoln both times he was elected president, had been a Democrat. He was a partisan of Chase, another Democrat, and as soon as the Thirteenth amendment was proclaimed abolishing slavery both Chase and Piatt scampered back into the Democratic party.

Of all the Washington correspondents, Piatt was nearest a genius. He was a poet, and his lines beginning—

"When the bloom is on the alder and the tassel's on the corn,"—rank with James Whitcomb Riley's—

"When the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock."

And then Piatt had a sense of humor that was wholly lacking in Townsend, who had none at all. Volumes have been writ to paint the character of Abraham Lincoln, mostly slush and poppycock.

I believe Donn Piatt came nearer to an accurate description of that wonderful man than any other who ever attempted to write about him or speak about him. While he made out Lincoln to be the greatest figure of the big war, he made him a human being and neither a saint nor a demigod, and that is about right.

Townsend survived all the great Washington correspondents of the old school who sent their stuff by mail. But for more than a double decade "Gath" has been little else than a memory. In his prime he was a powerful factor in American journalism.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

JOHN B. RILEY, superintendent of the state prisons of New York state, has devised a plan of employment for short term convicts, in the construction of streets and highways in and around the cities in which the state's prisons are located. The law permits the employment of convicts on highways within thirty miles of each prison. By co-operating with the city and town officials, a great deal of work has been accomplished, which was of material benefit to the men. Every convict was required to work at heavy manual labor, preferably with a pick and shovel, several months prior to his discharge, and as a result, he found no difficulty in securing employment with contractors. In fact, contractors prefer to engage discharged convicts because of this training.

Minnesota's convicts are worked inside the walls of the state penitentiary at Stillwater. The city has no jurisdiction over them. The offenders imprisoned by the city police court are sent to the work farm or the county jail. At the former they are engaged in outdoor work. The chain gang system, under which prisoners were used for cleaning streets and alleys, has been abandoned. Hereafter if they are used at any place other than the work farm it will likely by for street construction. Last year city prisoners were used with success for the building of a concrete pavement on the lower side of Second street, between Second and Third avenues east.

HAITI BORROWS AND PAYS BRITISH LOSS

Foreign Minister Loses His Job Over Peters Incident.

Port au Prince, Haiti, May 7.—The National bank last night advanced to the Haitien government $62,000, the amount of the indemnity claimed by Mr. Peters, a British subject whose sawmill had been destroyed by fire during the Leconte revolution. The payment had been demanded in an ultimatum from the British diplomatic representative. The incident is regarded as closed.

Consternation had been caused in the capital by the British ultimatum, whose time limit expired at 6 o'clock last evening, and which was supported by the presence of the British cruiser Suffolk. A joint session of the senate and congress was called immediately, but was soon dissolved owing to the inability of the legislators to reach a decision.

The cabinet was bitterly criticized for not being in a position to meet the payment, which had previously been awarded to Mr. Peters by a court of arbitration. A resolution was adopted calling on the president of the republic to demand the resignation of J. N. Leger, minister of foreign affairs, or to dismiss him from the cabinet, as he was held responsible for the incident.

Later in the evening the resignation of M. Leger was announced and this brought an abatement of the excitement.

The northern part of the republic, the partisans of the revolutionary leader, Senator Davilmar Theodore, still offer resistance to the government troops in the vicinity of Cuanminthe.

Plague in Colombia.

Bogota, Colombia, May 7.—According to reports received in Bogota, the bubonic plague has made its appearance on the Atlantic coast of Colombia. The government at once began taking active protection measures. It has not been deemed necessary to suspend travel or the movement of freight.

MEXICAN MINE PROMOTER SUICIDE.

Portland, Or., May 7.—A body found floating in the Willamette near Oregon City was identified as that of Marshall S. Dudley, mining engineer and for thirty years confidential agent of ex-Senator Jonathan Bourne, Jr. Dudley disappeared Feb. 2 last. The manner in which he met his death has not been determined.

Dudley discovered what he believed to be a fabulously rich mine in Sonora, Mex., over three years ago, and interested Portland capitalists in the property. The war has prevented its development. His friends say that if Dudley committed suicide, it was because of despondency over his Mexican property. He possessed considerable means.

MARIE GANZ GETS SIXTY-DAY TERM.

New York, May 7.—Marie Ganz, the Industrial Worker of the World speaker, who repeatedly threatened John D. Rockefeller, Jr., with bodily harm because he refused to interfere in the Colorado coal strike, was sentenced yesterday to serve sixty days in the workhouse on Blackwell's island.

Greatest Event in Woman's Life

All human experience looks back to motherhood as the wonder of wonders.

The patience, the fortitude, the sublime faith during the period of expectancy are second only to the mother love bestowed upon the most helpless but most marvelous creation—a baby.

Women are quick to learn from each other those helpful agencies that aid to comfort, and yet are perfectly safe to use and among these they recommend "Mother's Friend."

It is entirely an external application designed to lubricate the broad, flat muscles and skin that protect the abdomen. It has been in favorable use for nearly half a century and is known to mothers in almost every settled community in the United States who highly recommend it. You will find it on sale in drug stores. "Mother's Friend" is utterly harmless, contains no deadening drugs, very beneficial, very soothing and a wonderful help.

Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today at any drug store and write to us for our instructive little book to mothers. Address Bradfield Regulator Co., 312 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

THROW AWAY YOUR EYEGLASSES!

A FREE PRESCRIPTION

You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eyestrain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says after trying it: I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days, everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses. It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefitted by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optona, fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water, drop in one Optona tablet, and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you even a little take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

TRUST BILL NEXT WEEK

House May Take Up Clayton Measure Very Soon.

Senators Hear Samuel Untermyer's Views on Laws.

Washington, May 7.—With the reporting of the house "omnibus" anti-trust bill by Chairman Clayton of the judiciary committee late yesterday, leaders in the lower branch predicted early action on trust legislation. A rule to bring the Clayton measure before the house, probably the first of next week, will be taken up immediately.

The report on the house bill, which differs slightly from the senate committee measure, describes holding companies as "abominable" in certain conditions, asserts "the common director in a great many corporations" usually result to public detriment; declares the bill "is not designed to destroy or hinder business, but to help business and the whole people of the country who are related to or affected by it," and outlines the lawful scope of operations of agricultural, labor and fraternal organizations.

Supplement State Laws.

State statutes forbidding discrimination in price-cutting, the report states, "should be supplemented by additional legislation by congress."

The bill, the report states, recognizes as legal the existence and operation of fraternal, labor, consumers', agricultural or horticultural societies "for purposes of mutual help," and forbids the danger and possibility of the dissolution of such organizations by a decree of the court as unlawful combinations in restraint of trade.

The interlocking directorates provisions, the report says, "absolutely prevent directors or interlocking directors between corporations occupying relations to each other," described in the bill, "without reference to capital, surplus and undivided profits of the corporations dealing with each other."

Senators Hear Untermyer.

Samuel Untermyer, who was counsel for the house money trust investigating committee, dissected the pending anti-trust bill before the senate interstate commerce committee. He approved in general the ideas in the bill for curbing trusts, declaring that it was the best bill so far introduced at this session of congress. Many changes in phraseology were suggested, however, and in several instances Mr. Untermyer criticized the scope of the measure's provisions.

Before he concluded Mr. Untermyer made it clear that in his opinion the bill should be drawn as "tightly" as possible, and that congress should go ahead and put it through without delay. He said business was waiting for the uncertainty surrounding trust legislation to come to an end, and warned the Democrats on the committee that this feeling might be reflected in the November elections.

Permitting Mergers.

Suggesting that the day would come when competing corporations might come to the proposed interstate trade commission and be permitted to merge so that there might be regulated monopoly, Mr. Untermyer said, "this bill forces competition to the point of ruin."

Some of the contentions of the witness were that the measure should be broadened so as to prevent the use of dummy directors; that no corporation should be allowed to hold the stock of any other corporation under any conditions; that private parties should be permitted to bring dissolution suits under the anti-trust act, with the Federal government as a party to the action.

He declared the bill should be limited in operation to concerns with a capital or property of $1,000,000 or gross business or gross assets of $2,000,000.

He said the provisions in regard to issue of stock should be changed so as to permit industrial concerns to capitalize good will, and suggested that stock authorized to be issued by the commission should bear a stamp, "issued for property," or "issued for good will."

Lisbon Cannery Enlarges.

Lisbon, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local cannery here will branch out this year and add sweet corn to its other products. Contracts have just been let for 300 acres of sweet corn. Two years ago J. T. Brown and J. P. Jones started the plant on the advice of Agent Uhlhorn of the better farming movement and canned the tomatoes they raised on four or five acres of land. Last year they doubled their capacity.

TRADE GOOD FOR JOBBERS

Early Crop Outlook in West Augurs Well for Business.

Demand for Staples Good and Prices Are Firming Up.

Though the present is the usual spring waiting period in Duluth wholesale trade circles, current business is said to be mounting up into a fair aggregate in general staple lines.

The sales manager of one of the houses, who is just back from a trip over the West, averred today that the early crop outlook in Montana and North Dakota is regarded as having never been better than at the present. Seeding has been practically completed in most districts of those states and in some localities the plant is well above the ground. Collections are reported to be normal for the season, and the general business situation is regarded as exceptionally healthy.

Grocery Quotations Firm.

Satisfaction is expressed by local grocery jobbers over the volume of orders taken so far this spring.

Going into the general trend of quotations, sugars are reported stronger by the Rust-Parker-Martin company. That is in sympathy with an advance in raws made two weeks ago. The market in that product is regarded by the trade as having at last turned the corner after a lengthy period of unsettlement as a result of the tariff changes. With the preserving season approaching, a gradual increase in demand will follow.

Coffees are also firmer than in some time back, attributable to the gradual distribution of supplies that had been hanging over the market. The finer grades of coffees are now reported difficult to procure.

Canned and dried fruits are firm and predictions are made that there will be an entire cleanup of 1914 supplies. Prunes are high and stocks of apricots and other California fruits are becoming exhausted. While raisin supplies are fairly liberal, they are being firmly held by jobbers.

Drygoods Trade Steady.

Trade in general drygoods is described as steady by F. A. Patrick & Co. Many small orders are being received from country merchants, who are showing a disposition to buy for immediate requirements pending the development of the crop situation in the northwest. Advices of salesmen are to the effect that stocks of staple goods being carried are light, so that merchants are in a position to enter the market more freely when the proper moment arrives. The local house reports exceptionally good results in its selling campaign in northern woolen products begun some time ago.

Leather Market Strong.

The sales department of the Schulze Brothers' company avers that its aggregate trade in harness and collars and leather mountings for the present season, has thus far been well ahead of a year ago.

Future business is satisfactory and current orders are good. The leather market remains strong in all its branches.

Furniture Orders Pick Up.

"We have had no reason for complaint this spring," said C. E. De Witt of the De Witt-Seltz company. "Montana and North Dakota are making the best relative showings at present in the furniture orders being taken by our salesmen. That, I think, has been largely brought about through the good agricultural outlook and the influx of settlers."

Steady improvement in business originating from the Northern Michigan copper country was also commented upon by Mr. De Witt.

Shoe Dealers Conservative.

While the present is the off-season in the shoe trade, dealers are placing a fair volume of business in the aggregate made up of small orders. The company avers it is meeting with a steadily increasing proportionate demand for its distinctive factory products, and that as a result more operatives have been employed by it than during any previous season.

Hardware Lists Steadier.

Fair bookings in seasonable hardware lines were reported by the Kelley-How-Thomson company and the Marshall-Wells Hardware company. With the arrival of heavy goods at the local warehouses since the opening of navigation, the filling of spring orders has been practically completed.

Apart from a decline of three per cent in steel pipes and $2 and $3 a ton in black and galvanized sheets, list prices in iron and steel products are practically unchanged.

SUFFRAGE BEATEN IN HOUSE OF LORDS

Vote on Bill Is 60 for and 104 Against the Proposal.

London, May 7.—The woman's suffrage bill was rejected last night by the house of lords by a vote of 104 to 60.

Speeches in favor of the bill were delivered by Baron Courtney of Penwith, the earl of Lytton and Baron Willoughby de Broke, while Baron Weardale, the marquis of Crewe and Viscount St. Aldwyn spoke against it.

Viscount St. Aldwyn said the arguments for the extension of the parliamentary suffrage to woman which were based on the results obtained in those states of the United States where it had been tried, did not apply to the United Kingdom, because in those states men were in the majority, while in the British Isles they were in the minority. Consequently, he argued, the granting of the parliamentary vote to women in the British Isles would mean the handing over of the destinies of the country and of the empire to a female electorate, which was a perilous step to take.

Among those who voted for the bill were Viscount Morley of Blackburn, the archbishop of Canterbury and the bishops of London, Hereford, Bangor and St. Asaph.

Those who voted against the bill included the marquis of Lansdowne, Viscount Esher, the marquis of Salisbury, the earl of Halsbury and the duke of Northumberland.

Sore Bunions, Quick Cure Also All Kinds Sore Feet

"Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water; soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts." All pain and inflammation is drawn out instantly and the bunion soon is reduced to normal size. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off and will stay off. Sore, tender feet and smelly, sweaty feet need but a few treatments. A twenty-five cent package of Calocide is usually sufficient to put the worst feet in fine condition. Calocide is no longer confined only to doctors' use. Any druggist has it in stock or will quickly get it from his wholesale house. This will prove a welcome item to persons who have been vainly trying to cure their foot troubles with ineffectual tablets and foot powders. Calocide prepared only by Medical Formula company of Dayton, Ohio.

NAME BANK DIRECTORS.

Men Who Will Manage Federal Reserve Bank Are Selected.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 7.—A board of directors for the new Federal reserve bank were selected by a committee representing the six states comprising the Ninth district, at a meeting here yesterday. They are as follows:

Bankers—E. W. Decker, Minneapolis; Governor L. B. Hanna, North Dakota; A. C. Bassett, Webster, S. D.

Business men—F. R. Bigelow, St. Paul; F. P. Hixon, La Crosse, Wis.; Norman B. Holter, Helena, Mont.

ORGANIZE HOME LEAGUE.

Twenty Wisconsin Counties Represented at Milwaukee Meeting.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 7.—The State Home Rule and Tax Payers league was organized in Milwaukee yesterday when delegates from twenty counties in the state met here and elected the following officers: President, Charles E. Pierce, Janesville; vice president, T. C. Richmond, Madison; treasurer, Charles K. Tenney, Madison.

The secretary will be chosen by the officers named.

Members in attendance at the conference decided to hold a convention in this city at some later date, not yet decided upon, at which delegates from every county in the state will be present. The apportionment for the convention will be fixed as follows:

One delegate for each 500 population in each county and two delegates-at-large from each county. This will give a total representation of about 900 delegates.

It was further decided to select an advisory committee to meet with and advise the elected officers of the league, those being chosen one from each congressional district in the state.

Fargo Armory Work.

Fargo, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—After some months' delay, work on the Fargo armory-auditorium has been resumed. The building was pushed up beyond the second floor last fall. The first floor, designed for the armory, was used this winter for several conventions. The entire building will now be completed as soon as possible. The additional funds required for this purpose have practically been guaranteed, at least to a point where the committee can easily finance the proposition.

WONDERFUL TONIC RESTORES HEALTH

(Home Remedies)

"Winter invariably proves a hardship to the human system. The blood becomes clogged with poisonous impurities, the liver grows sluggish and as a result we have sallow, pimply skins, a loss of energy and appetite, and suddenly find ourselves all tired out and sick.

"The surest and best remedy for this condition is a tablespoonful of the following home-made tonic before meals: In ½ pint alcohol dissolve ½ cup sugar and one ounce kardene, adding hot water to make a quart. This old-fashioned remedy is unequaled for making the blood pure and giving the body tissues strength and energy. It is a remedy so good as to be almost indispensable for family use in restoring health and energy to both old and young.—Advertisement.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

Written for The Herald By Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: MAY 10.

Luke xvi, 1-13: The Unjust Steward.

CONNECTION.

This lesson follows the ones about the lost things—sheep, coin and boy—without a break. There were many things in Christ's mind to speak of and there had been questions asked and a spirit shown that required replies like these parables. In the attitude of the Pharisees toward Him there were various elements of ignorance, prejudice and viciousness and He is meeting that condition. Perhaps this parable ought to be called the Shrewd Steward as Dr. Boardman has suggested.

THE LESSON.

I.

The Parable Itself. 1-8.

"And He said also unto the disciples, There was a certain rich man, who had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he was wasting his goods. And he called him, and said unto him, What is this that I hear of thee? Render the account of thy stewardship; for thou canst be no longer steward. And the steward said within himself, What shall I do, seeing that my lord taketh away the stewardship from me? I have not strength to dig; to beg I am ashamed. I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. And calling to him each one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first, How much owest thou unto my lord? And he said, A hundred measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy bond, and sit down quickly and write fifty. Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, A hundred measures of wheat. He saith unto him, Take thy bond, and write fourscore. And his lord commended the unrighteous steward because he had done wisely: for the sons of this world are for their own generation wiser than the sons of the light."

1. MONEY.—This is one of several parables Jesus spoke about the right use of money. It was an important theme for Him to discuss, always is and was specially so just then, because the Pharisees were "lovers of money" and the disciples who were "escaped Pharisees" were not far enough away from their origin to have outlived their bias. He teaches them that they must so use their material wealth as to benefit others and thereby bring benefit to themselves through all their future. They are to become teachers of others and they must first be taught about such matters. At this day we too are in need of just such teachings, for money is still a bane or a blessing.

2. DISHONESTY.—This servant, who was not a slave, had wasted the money which he took in from the sale of products, wasted it by dissipation or carelessness till he suddenly found himself unable to square his accounts. Up to this moment he had been able to conceal his doings but it was discovered by his master and he was in a dilemma, a trilemma. Had he not played the rowdy or spendthrift he would not have been penniless when he lost his position. Now he could not escape exposure, nor punishment. No telling what the punishment would be but at the least it would be a loss of his position. That much he could count on—loss of his job. But what could he do then? He was not robust enough for unskilled day labor at digging; he could follow the way of so many poor people and beg, but he was ashamed.

3. FORESIGHT.—The problem before him was to provide for his future when his job was gone. He would have to get help from somebody else, but he had no friends who felt any interest in him and it was too late to make friends. There was nobody who felt under any obligations to him for anything he had ever done. What a wretch, never having done anybody any kindness for which that one would like to do him a good turn! Perhaps it is not too late to put somebody under obligation to him now. But how? What can he do for anybody at this late date? Then he suddenly remembers that some of the men who have been raising crops on the shares have not divided up with the master and a bright idea struck him. "What is the master's share in the oil crop which you have produced in his orchards this year?" "One hundred measures." "Well, make your statement for fifty. You'll save fifty and he will never know the difference." That looked good to the servant and he accepted the advice. He showed another how he might save twenty measures of wheat by playing a similar trick. It was not his dishonesty but his foresight and forethought in providing for his own future that his master approved. Those two men would take care of him when he lost his position by inviting him into their homes. They would do that possibly out of gratitude, also out of fear that he might expose them. Though the master lost $2,500 by one man and $100 by the other he couldn't fail to see something to admire. Even the devil's cunning and persistence are worth noting and emulating. Such is the parable. It teaches a definite lesson.

II.

Application of the Parable. 9-13.

"And I say unto you, make to yourselves friends by means of the unrighteousness, that, when it shall fail, they may receive you into the eternal tabernacles. He that is faithful in a very little is faithful in much; and he that is unrighteous in a very little is unrighteous also in much. If, therefore, you have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches? And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give you that which is your own? No servant can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or else he will hold to one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon."

In applying this parable to the disciples our Savior evidently wanted them to get certain truths and facts.

1. STEWARDS.—We own nothing absolutely. God owns us and it and therefore all we can ever accumulate. We are trustees of it to use for the highest ends and so far as used for ourselves used for our comfort of soul. He says it is "another's." That stewardship is rendered more serious by the fact that we are tempted to use it in a wrong way. The "true riches" is truth and love and righteousness and that cannot be committed to us unless we are true with this which is so often acquired by wrong means and used wrongly as to have gotten the name of "unrighteous mammon." We cannot absolutely possess anything.

2. SPIRITUALITY.—There is a spiritual quality in money and it must be so used as to extract that quality. Acquiring it with the right spirit and motive and using it for the higher ends we release that quality in blessings to our own souls as well as to others. Then if we lose all our money we shall still possess that moral value that was in it. When we make it contribute to the comfort and convenience, the health and happiness of others we turn it into character of the highest kind. When it is spent for food it becomes bone and muscle and nerves and passes on into thought and love and holy purposes. When it is put into benevolence it becomes hope and courage in fainting souls. It is steadily converted into character, good or bad.

3. TEST.—It tests us to learn its nature and be able to use it in these ways instead of for self and sin and injury to others; tests our honesty, fidelity, disinterestedness, humaneness, altruism, self control.

4. MASTERY.—He teaches that we must be the master of money and not mastered by it; rather be mastered by Christ and let Him control ourselves and our possessions. We can turn it into heavenly wealth which will be a perpetual endowment in the skies.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

God has endowed us with an ineradicable desire to accumulate. And we disobey alike our own constitution and the will of our Father when we refuse to give play to this divinely implanted impulse, or undertake to crush it out as though it were sinful. And it is right that we allow this instinct of accumulation to take the direction of pecuniary gain, provided we do this, not for the sake of the gain itself, but for the sake of what the gain may accomplish for the glory of Jesus Christ. The rich man is but the agent of Almighty God, allowed, so to speak, a salary, to meet legitimate personal expenses, but having no more right to use for his own emolument the property divinely intrusted to his management than the managers of a benevolent society have to appropriate to themselves the funds committed to them as trustees.—Boardman.

Men are more prompt to act, to shield themselves from temporal harms which threaten this life, than to think of so acting as to secure their eternal welfare, even when they profess to be devout Christians.—Lindsay.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

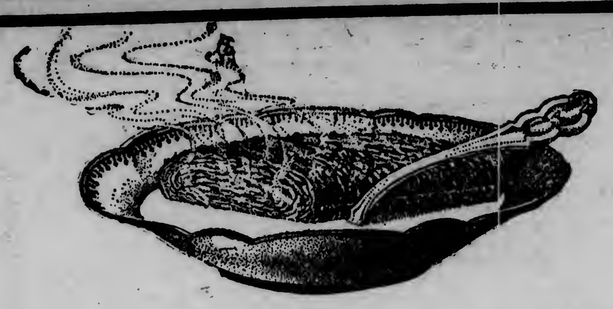
1. How may you make all the money possible without being injured?
2. Why have not more money?
3. What mistakes are you making with it?
4. What is the distinction between buying and serving with money?

AAD TEMPLE TO BE ENTERTAINED

Chattanooga Shriners Are Planning to Show Points of Interest.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 7.—Shriners of Aad temple, Duluth, and friends will spend most of next Sunday in this city on their way to Atlanta, Ga., for the annual meeting. According to information received here, the party will number sixty and is scheduled to arrive at 10 a. m. Sunday and stay until midnight. This will give them enough daylight hours here to take in some of the points of interest, choosing from Chickamauga park, Lookout mountain, Signal mountain, Missionary ridge and others.

On Sunday, Monday and Thursday Alhambra temple entertains shrine visitors with a boat excursion thirty miles down the Tennessee river, to Hale's bar, site of the $11,000,000 Brady power plant, but as the boat leaves at 8:30 on each trip it is feared the Duluth party will miss this treat unless their train schedule is changed. Local shriners and members of other organized bodies are enlisted in the work of making the visitors, during several days before and after the Atlanta meeting, have as pleasant and instructive a time as possible here. The great number of delegations to make a stop-over in this city is due to the invitations extended by Alhambra months ago to all other temples.



Sixty-Six Per Cent.

According to the last report of the Bureau of Labor Statistics the retail prices of the "principal articles of food" in forty industrial cities advanced sixty-six per cent. in fourteen years. The price of in all that time has remained the same, and it is just as satisfying, strengthening and sustaining as it was fourteen years ago—a complete, perfect food, supplying more real, body-building nutriment than meat or eggs, costing much less and much more easily digested. Your grocer sells it.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with hot milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Deliciously nourishing when eaten in combination with baked apples, stewed prunes, sliced bananas or canned or preserved fruits. Try toasted Triscuit, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon with butter, cheese or marmalade.

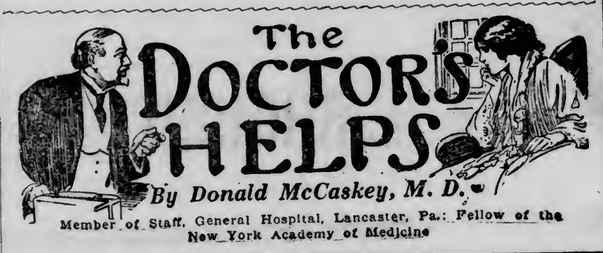
The DOCTOR'S HELPS



By Donald McCaskey, M. D.

Member of Staff, General Hospital, Lancaster, Pa.; Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine

DOES YOUR CITY CONTAIN SUCH A HIGH STANDARD OF PURITY OF ITS NON-ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES?

In Atlantic City there were some very grave disclosures made relative to impure food supplies which were being furnished that resort. The manufacturers of non-alcoholic beverages, such as soda water, ginger ale, sarsaparilla, root beer, etc., felt the sting of public censure upon their city. The idea went abroad that the supply to the Atlantic City visitor was "doped" and utterly unhygienic in every particular, just because some unscrupulous food commission merchants were discovered selling tainted supplies. The non-alcoholic beverage manufacturers who were producing the pure article got together. They were willing to stand back of their product with all their force and earnestness. So to the food commissioner, Dr. P. H. Warren of Atlantic City, they addressed the following letter:

"We, the undersigned bottlers and manufacturers of non-alcoholic beverages, among which are ginger ale, soda, lemon soda, cream soda, sarsaparilla, cola-champagne, birch beer, root beer, etc., promise and agree to only make and sell products which will comply in every particular with the Federal and state laws, and also with the Atlantic City health code, approved May 8, 1913.

"WE FURTHER PROMISE and agree that we will not sell commodities in the line of beverages made by non-resident manufacturers unless such manufacturers shall give us a written guarantee that these beverages fully comply with the Federal, state and municipal laws. We will also insist that non-resident manufacturers shall furnish us, who may purchase beverages made by individuals or firms not doing business within the jurisdiction of Atlantic City or New Jersey at large, a bond of indemnity for the mutual protection of ourselves and the public. We respectfully ask you, Dr. P. H. Warren, food commissioner of our city, to publish this agreement and distribute the same so far as may be practicable to all wholesale dealers, jobbers and retailers of soft and non-alcoholic drinks doing business in the city of Atlantic City, New Jersey.

(Signed) "ROBERT STEINMAN,
"S. O. WILLITS,
"CHARLES B. FORMAN,
"M. GOTZ."

ARE YOU SURE that the soda water, sarsaparilla, ginger ale, root beer, etc., that you drink in your city is pure? If you have any doubt, why not write to your board of health? If you have any doubt or suspicion, and can state the facts relative to any case within your knowledge of the utter disregard of good health and hygienic precautions of non-alcoholic beverages furnished in your city, why not write the board of health in your community, or if you have one, write the food commissioner and make a definite statement of the facts? The majority of people are honorable. The majority of those dealers who supply the public wish to give the latter the best within their power. If, however, there are any "black-sheep" manufacturers in your community selling non-alcoholic beverages, and you know it, present the facts as you know them to the proper authorities. Those manufacturers in your community of non-alcoholic beverages who are endeavoring to maintain a high plane of hygienic purity and respectability in their business methods will soon get together and show they are, just as did the better element of manufacturers in Atlantic City, revealing to the public their disposition to make good according to the pure food platform.

It never does any harm to any one except the crooked dealer to publicly expose filthy and unhygienic methods.

FOR DEPRESSION AND DISCOURAGEMENT.

I have an inquiry from a wife who said her husband has been sick and complaining for a month.

"He has an aching under his shoulder, around near his liver, some headache and an ugly brown coating on his tongue. Some days he feels all in. Maybe the next day he is better. Sometimes he is discouraged and depressed. Until recently we have never lived along the river, and I have been wondering if he has contracted malaria and liver trouble. He has been treated for a month and is very little better. His appetite is good and he has been careful of his diet. We moved along the river a few months ago. His kidneys are in fine shape and he has no chills or fever. He is 44 years of age. Will you please give me a diagnosis and a remedy?"

If he has no chills or fever, you can eliminate the possibility of his having contracted malaria. From your letter it looks to me as though your husband needs a good thorough period of starvation preceded by a half glassful of castor oil. Do this: go to your drug store and procure five grams of powdered calomel. Give him this dose and follow it within four hours with one-half tumblerful of castor oil. This isn't popular treatment, but it is effective and prompt. Then have him take a bath and have him drink all the water he can swallow. Put an absolute prohibition on his eating any food for the next three days. If he grows a little weak, let him lie down on the sofa. If he is not comfortable lying down, let him go to bed. The point is to give his system a thorough cleaning out. This will relieve the blood channels of much poison, likewise the starvation will give his digestive organs a little rest. My counsel to you would be that your husband adopt this treatment once a week for the next two months. If there is nothing organically wrong with him, it will certainly eradicate his depression and discouraged spirit. When the system is loaded with a lot of irritating poison it is impossible for the acutely sensitive mind not to feel its depressing effect.

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. — "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

Women Have Been Telling Women

for forty years how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It will pay you to do so. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

ATTITUDE IS "UNFAIR"

County Board Condemns Superior's Stand on the Bridge Question.

Congress Asked to Act Promptly—Ten More Contracts Let.

A resolution calling upon the national congress to promptly pass a bill which would permit the construction of the proposed bridge across the St. Louis river at Fond du Lac to connect with a direct highway into Carlton county and on to the Twin Cities, was unanimously passed by the county board at its afternoon session yesterday.

The resolution was introduced by Commissioner Kauppi. It is designed to meet the efforts of certain interests in Superior which are attempting to block the passage of the bill in congress. The move on the part of the Superior citizens is characterized as unfair, unreasonable and wholly unwarranted.

The resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas, The county of St. Louis has heretofore decided to construct and maintain a foot-and-wagon bridge across the St. Louis river from Cherokee street, in Fond du Lac, a suburb of the city of Duluth, to the terminus of the Military road on the opposite shore of said St. Louis river, and a bill has been introduced in the house of representatives and the senate of the national congress, where said bills are now pending before the proper committees of said bodies, granting permission to St. Louis county to construct said bridge, subject to the approval of the United States army engineers; and

"Whereas, Certain persons living in the city of Superior, Wis., have filed protests with said committees in congress and with the United States army engineers at Duluth, and are strongly opposing the passage of said law granting such permission to construct said bridge, and such persons have admitted in a hearing before said army engineers that such protests and opposition have been made for the purpose of compelling the city of Duluth to construct an expensive highway approach and overhead railroad crossing to the so-called 'steel plant bridge' at the Minnesota end thereof, in New Duluth;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, That in the opinion and judgment of this board of county commissioners of St. Louis county, in regular session assembled, that said action by said citizens of Superior is unreasonable, unfair and wholly unwarranted by the facts, and said opposition ought to be withdrawn.

"Be it further resolved, That this board hereby requests the house of representatives and the senate of our national congress to promptly pass such law granting St. Louis county permission to construct and maintain said bridge at Fond du Lac, and the members of the national house and senate from the state of Minnesota are hereby requested and urged to use their best efforts to obtain the passage of said law through congress, and the approval of said project by the army engineers and the secretary of war."

Ten road and bridge contracts were awarded at the afternoon session as follows:

For ditching the Miller Trunk road, Charles W. Rood Construction company, Grand Rapids, Wis., clearing right-of-way for outlets, $75 per mile; excavating ditches, 19 cents per cubic yard; furnishing and placing 48-inch galvanized culverts, $110 each.

For the construction of a reinforced concrete bridge across Pike river on the West Pike River road, to the Illinois Steel Bridge company, for $4,296.

For improving a 2¼-mile extension of Cotton road, to F. E. Beacham, Mountain Iron; for grading, $1.20 per rod; for covering muskeag, firm of earth, $1.60 per rod; corduroy, $2.50 per rod; culverts, $5 each, and outlet ditches, $1 per rod.

For a reinforced concrete bridge across Keene creek on the Getchell road, W. H. Kiltin, West Duluth, $3,200.

For constructing two miles of the Blackwood road, northwest from Mirbat, to Victor Rantila, for $2,530.

For constructing 1½ miles of Lake road, to W. A. Baune, Floodwood; for clearing and grubbing, $600 per mile; for grading firm ground, 75 cents per rod; swamp ground, 32 cents per cubic yard; culverts, $3 each; corduroy, $2 per rod; and covering muskeag with firm earth, 50 cents per cubic yard.

For improving 4.6 miles of the Harris road, to Olson & Erickson, for $2,300.

For constructing a steel bridge across the St. Louis river on the Bodas road, to the Iowa Bridge company, for $2,274.

For constructing approximately 2½ miles of the Bodas road, from Embarrass river to the Lost Lake road, to Erick Ojakangas, for $42,000, approximately.

For constructing 1½ miles of the Cotton extension road, to John Ketola, for $2.25 per rod.

The board appropriated $40,600 of the road fund alloted to Commissioner Kauppi of the Fifth district to be used in the repair and improvement of forty highways in his territory. A similar appropriation of $5,000 was made for Commissioner Fraser of the First district to be used on the improvement of three roads. The expenditure of $600 on the Maxwell road in Commissioner Tischer's district was also authorized.

* * *

W. F. McKay, assessor of unorganized townships, was given authority by the board to hire three assistants for a period of sixty days to assist in the revaluation of real estate in the unorganized territory.

* * *

The board granted the Alborn Telephone company authority to use the county highways in the Alborn district for right-of-way purposes, providing its poles were placed along the roads within ninety days.

* * *

Matt Daly, Bert N. Wheeler and R. W. Bowden appeared before the board to urge the commissioners to change their policy on the liquor license question. They declared that St. Louis county has little police protection outside of the city of Duluth, and pointed to the sale of liquor as the reason for many violent deaths which have occurred in remote sections of the county.

* * *

The board granted a liquor license to H. B. Chase and W. G. Martin in section 24, 69-21.

SEEK MANDAMUS.

Kansas Attorneys Want Order in Gas Case.

St. Paul, Minn., May 7.—John S. Dawson, attorney general of the state of Kansas, and eleven other attorneys appeared before the United States circuit court of appeals today to ask for a mandamus in the Kansas gas controversy, directing Judge Smith McPherson of the United States district court to comply with the order of the court of appeals issued last November, and to turn over to the state receivers $700,000 alleged assets of the Kansas Natural Gas company. The Kansas attorneys allege Judge McPherson has misinterpreted the order of the appellate court and that of Judge Marshall of Utah in withholding from the state receivers the property named.

"SOMNAMBULISTIC MANIA" IS HIS PLEA

Theory Is Advanced to Account for Shooting of Man.

Chicago, May 7.—Somnambulistic insanity, a form of mania, which led him while in a sort of a trance to telephone a man he believed had wronged him and then to shoot with fatal aim, was the defense outlined by counsel for William Keith on trial for the murder of Walter Paul last October.

In his opening statement before Judge Walker in the criminal court, Keith's counsel told the jury that his client's mind had been powerfully affected by the recital of his wife that she had received attentions from Paul and other men, and that she had protected their daughter from Paul.

While under the influence of emotions caused by the words of his wife, Keith, his counsel declared, had roamed the streets through an entire night, and then had telephoned to Paul; and when they met, had shot him.

Testimony of alienists was expected to figure largely in the trial.

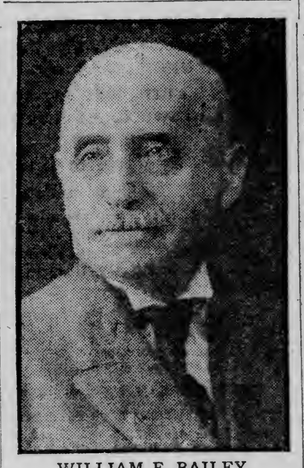
W. F. BAILEY SUMMONED

Former West Duluthian Dies at His Home in St. Paul.

William F. Bailey, 82 years old, a veteran of the Civil war and a resident of West Duluth for twenty years, died last night at his home, 2129 Como avenue, St. Paul, following an illness of a few weeks. Mr. Bailey was prominent in Duluth business life as well as in G. A. R. circles.

Mr. Bailey came to West Duluth with his family in 1892 and established the Duluth Brass foundry at Ramsey and Oneota streets. He was the active head of this company until three years ago.

Mr. Bailey served through the Civil war with Company B, Twelfth Iowa



WILLIAM F. BAILEY.

Infantry regiment. Shortly after the war he moved to St. Paul, where he resided until coming to Duluth. He was a member of J. H. Culver post, and served for two years as its commander.

Four years ago Mr. Bailey was appointed a member of the Duluth library board. He served on this board until his family moved back to St. Paul two years ago. He was a member of the Masonic lodge and held a life membership in a Blue lodge in St. Paul.

A widow and four children survive him. The daughters are: Mrs. Lewis H. Merritt, 2105 East Second street, Duluth; Misses Alice M. Bailey and Phoebe Bailey, who are living with their mother, and one son, Carl T. Bailey, of Glen Ferry, Idaho. Mrs. Merritt was at the bedside of her father at the time of death.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence on Como avenue with interment in Lakewood cemetery in Minneapolis.

ADDITION FOR MERRITT SCHOOL

An addition will be built to the Merritt school in 1915, according to announcement made last night by members of the Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club at its meeting in the schoolhouse. The report was made by a committee which recently has been interviewing school directors on this subject.

The school is now well filled and additional pupils would crowd the institution. Members of the club asked for an addition to be built on the ground that the rapid increase in population of this district would require such a step.

Members of the club complained that the circus grounds at Thirty-fifth avenue and Third street were in a filthy condition. It was claimed that the city did not take proper steps in compelling shows to clean up on leaving the city and that this refuse had been piling up for several years. Bottles, cans, filthy straw and other refuse were said to be on the grounds in large quantities. It is proposed to ask the city to take some step to have it cleaned in order that it may not be a menace to the health of the community.

The public improvement committee was requested to ask for the laying of sewers in Oneota street and in Thirty-seventh avenue west.

DEATH CLAIM IS SETTLED FOR $700.

June 13 was set by Judge Dancer as the day for the final hearing on the order of distribution of the funds collected by Rade Orlich, as administrator of the estate of Mike Zigich.

While Zigich was employed by the Zenith Furnace company at the blast furnace at West Duluth on July 16, 1913, and was trying to stop a flow from one of the furnaces an explosion occurred, which severely burned his face and ears. He was removed to a hospital where he died four days later.

The company's physician, who attended him, declared that death had been caused by delirium tremens and the company refused to pay the claim made by Orlich as administrator. Suit was brought and the matter was finally compromised when Orlich was given $700.

If all of the claims are allowed against the estate, there will be left for distribution among the dead man's parents in Austria $302.90. Among the claims are $100 administrator's expenses and $200 attorney fees.

PLAYGROUNDS AND SUMMER SCHOOLS

"Playgrounds and Open Schools During Summer" will be the subject of an address to be given before the social center at the Irving school this evening by Henry F. Burt, superintendent of the Lake Superior Mission in Superior.

A unique program has also been arranged for the evening in addition to the lecture. A Maypole dance will be introduced at which sixteen girls will take part. The dance has been rehearsed by the members of the class for some time past. The class has been under the direction of Miss Jennie Taylor, assisted by Miss Fern Brooks. The sixteen girls will appear in a special costume for the occasion. The dance is a new feature introduced in connection with the social center activities at the school.

WEST DULUTHIANS CASH BOGUS CHECKS.

Two West Duluth business men have been victimized by spurious checks within the last week, according to the police. The checks were drawn on the First National bank and were returned from that institution yesterday afternoon marked "no funds."

Both of the checks were passed late Saturday. One of them, amounting to $20, was passed on the bartender at the saloon at 324 North Central avenue, and the other for $11 was passed on S. J. Nygren. The latter check was signed by "Oscar Sundquist."

The police have only a meager description of the man who passed the checks. Both were taken while the proprietors were busy. In each case a small purchase had been made, the check being tendered in payment and the greater part given in cash.

WILL AGAIN MAKE HIS HOME IN DULUTH.

Dr. S. C. Confer, veterinary surgeon, who for a number of years lived in West Duluth, but who for about six years has been located at Verndale, Minn., returned to the city yesterday to make his home here. Dr. Confer will take up his residence at 3614 West Third street, his former home.

While in Verndale, Dr. Confer took an active part in establishing a race track and a number of other things to boom the village. He recently disposed of all of his holdings at that place to a good advantage.

Apply for License.

W. J. Fremont and J. A. Carey have filed an application with the city clerk for a saloon license at 396 Central avenue, West Duluth. M. R. Timlin was recently refused a renewal of his saloon license at that location. Fremont managed the saloon for Timlin. It is claimed that Commissioner Hicken will not oppose the granting of another license in the building.

Nygaard Funeral.

The funeral services for Emil Nygaard, 35 years old, who died Tuesday night at the Duluth hospital, will be held Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from Richter's undertaking rooms and at 2 o'clock from the Bethel Swedish Lutheran church, Fifty-third avenue and Wadena street. Interment will be in Oneota cemetery.

Surprised By Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Shellerud, 13 South Sixty-eighth avenue west, were pleasantly surprised at their home last evening in honor of their wedding anniversary. Games and music provided the entertainment. The guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames Murwald, Knudson, Berg, Myran, Nelson, Misses Semine Peterson, Annie Jones, Mary Bakke, Anna Moen, Ida Moen, Lillie Moen, Kristina Hazelfjord, Jennie Anderson, Elida Johnson, Julia Strom, Lovis Berom, Mabel Holtrud, Astrid Rud, Aster Olson, Matilda Hendriksen, Thora Jacobson and Messrs. Watch repairing. Hurst, West Duluth.

The annual meeting of the congregation of the West Duluth Baptist church, Fifty-ninth and Grand avenues, will be held in the church this evening. Officers will be elected and steps taken to extend a call to a pastor for the church.

The congregation of the Swedish Mission church, Fifty-ninth avenue and Green street, will entertain this evening at its annual spring festival. A musical program has been prepared.

Halvor Erickson of Minneapolis is spending a few days visiting relatives in this end of the city.

The committee in charge of the recent banquet given by the West Duluth Commercial club will hold a business meeting Saturday evening at the club rooms. The affairs of the recent banquet will be closed up.

NEW FOLDER OUT ADVERTISING CITY

Commercial Club Issues Neat Publication—Little Pamphlet Taking.

The publicity committee of the Commercial club met at noon today and found that Assistant Secretary George D. McCarthy has produced one of the neatest folders for the tourist season that has yet been gotten out by the club. It is entitled "Duluth, Where Summer Days Are Cool and Fair." A double-page map of the city occupies the center of the folder and numerous and effective illustrations enliven its contents. The folder is exceptionally well written and is provided with the most essential statistics so that the reader gets a good idea of Duluth's condition without having any tedious reading.

It was also reported to the committee that the little pamphlet entitled "The Progress of Duluth" recently issued, has been guaranteed a circulation of 38,000. The committee received a letter from a Chicago business man, to whom a copy of the pamphlet was sent. He asks for 500 to 1,000 copies which he agrees to distribute. He declares himself as much taken with the pamphlet and says it "sort of touches the spot."

The committee recommended to the executive committee that the information booth, which stood at the corner of Fifth avenue west and Superior street last summer, be re-established.

MACHINE UPSETS; ONE MAN KILLED

Ironwood, Mich., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Swanson of Bessemer was instantly killed this morning, when with four others, he was returning to Bessemer from Ironwood in an automobile. The car turned over and threw the occupants into the ditch. Swanson was badly cut about the face and head by the windshield, and also had his neck broken. An inquest is being held this afternoon. He was employed as meatcutter at Runds market at Bessemer.

5 times as many mothers use Nestlé's today

WHERE one mother gave her baby Nestlé's seven years ago, five give it today. And why? Simply because in the last seven years mothers have learned more about keeping their babies than ever in all the thousands of years that went before.

First they learned—these wide-awake mothers—that the babies who left them one in six—died from the wrong food—that that great terror of mothers—summer complaint—came from cow's milk.

And then they learned that many of our dairies (11 out of 12) are dirty—that one cow in three carries sickness. They learned that even if the milk came from a clean dairy and a healthy cow—no little baby stomach could digest it. Keep your baby away from the sickness and the indigestion that may cost his life. Give your baby your own milk as long as you can. Then wean him slowly on that is clean—and free from sickness, and fresh, that does not grow sour—whose curd is soft and digestible as mother's milk itself. Nestlé's is a complete food as it comes to you in its air-tight can. You add no doubtful cow's milk to prepare it, but only fresh, clear water. Give your baby Nestlé's once a day. Then twice—and gradually increase—till the baby is weaned and both you and the baby will be better and stronger.

Nestlé's brings to your baby all the good of cow's milk and none of the harm.

In Nestlé's the best cow's milk from healthy cows in sanitary dairies, is so changed that it contains just what your baby needs. The milk is so purified, and so packed, that it is free as mother's milk from germs and impurities.

BUSY SESSION IS IN PROSPECT

Important Committee Reports at West End Club Meeting.

Members of the West End Commercial club will be given reports of progress made by its garden and "white way" committees and take up considerable business at its meeting tonight at the Simonson hall, Twenty-first avenue west and Superior street. One of the matters to be taken up will be a recommendation on the part of the garden contest committee for a central exhibition of garden produce raised by the children of this end of the city.

James Maghan, chairman of the committee, has had these plans under consideration for some time. The idea is to have the exhibition following the awarding of prizes for the various gardens in the school districts. The exhibition will be open to all of the children under 15 years of age who took part in the garden contest. A number of merchants of the West end, interviewed by Mr. Maghan, have promised their support to this scheme and have offered to donate special prizes to be given these contestants.

It is expected that the club will take official action in asking the Soo railroad to build its West end passenger and freight station in the neighborhood of Twenty-first avenue instead of Twenty-fourth. Members of the club maintain that the former location is not only closer to the center of population, but will also best serve the merchants of the district.

Spring Concert.

The Epworth league of the First Norwegian Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street, has arranged a program for its annual spring concert to be given in the church tomorrow evening.

Among the well known musicians of the city who will take part will be Mrs. Ellen Bausemer Miller, violinist, until recently a member of the St. Louis Symphony orchestra; Mrs. George A. Relfsteck, reader; Miss Gladys Reynolds, soprano; Miss Isa Botten and Miss Ethel Jacobson, who will appear in piano duet numbers. Mrs. E. M. Dworshak will be accompanist.

The program follows:
"Open Secret".....Woodman
"Happy Song".....Teresa vel Riego
Miss Reynolds
A monologue—"Photographing the Baby".....
Mrs. Relfsteck
"Hungarian Dance".....Haessche
"Song Without Words".....Tschaikowski
"Marzurka de Concert".....Musen
Ellen Bausemer Miller
"I Hear a Thrush at Eve".....Cadman
"At Dawning".....Cadman
"The Land of Beginning Again".....
Mrs. Booth Tarkington
"Keep Out the Wood".....Drummond
Mrs. Relfsteck
Zephyr.....Hubay
"Arkansas Traveler and Banjo Tune" Vieuxtemps.

TEARING UP PAVEMENT.

Work of Improving West Superior Street Is Begun.

The city has begun the work of tearing up the paving on West Superior street, preparatory to paving the street between Fifteenth and Thirtieth avenues west. A large traction plow is being used in loosening the old paving.

The work began yesterday morning on the lower side of the street between Twenty-second and Twenty-third avenues. One side of the street will be completed before work is begun on the other, in order that traffic may not be delayed.

In advance of the laying of the paving, the Duluth Street Railway company has already a crew of men employed in laying pipes underground for conduits along this side of the street.

West End Briefs.

The Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Clement's church entertained last evening at a card party and social in the sodality hall. It was attended by about 150 young people.

George Murdan of Calumet, Mich., was a visitor in the West end yesterday.

Miss Thela Ericson of Minneapolis is spending a week visiting relatives in this end of the city.

The annual banquet of the Adams Alumni association will be held on June 11 at the Woodmen hall. Mayor Prince will be asked to be one of the principal speakers. Members of the eighth grade graduating class will be guests of honor.

Mrs. E. E. Churchill, 3815 West Third street, entertained yesterday afternoon for the Ladies' Aid Society of the Central Baptist church.

Rev. E. Rasmussen will speak again this evening at the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street. Wilkie Clock will have charge of the musical program.

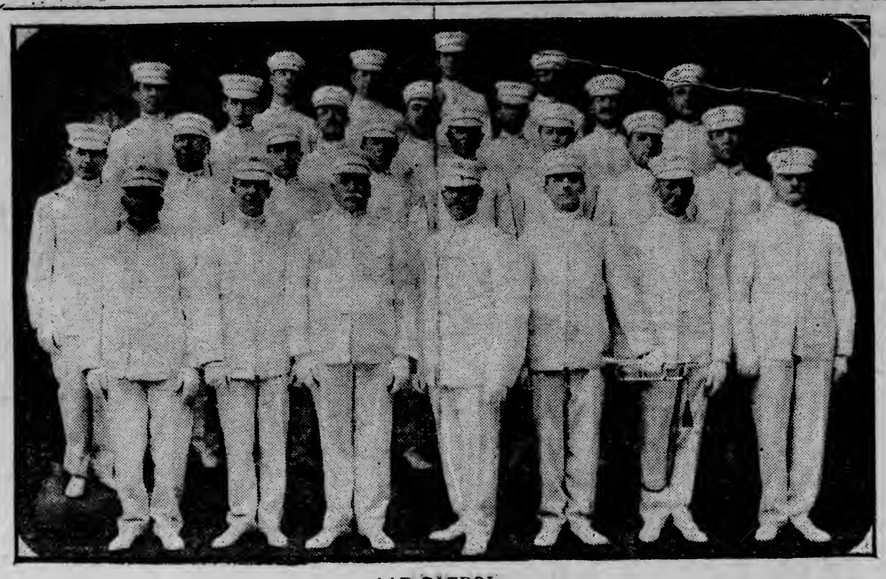
NOISY BAND OF DULUTH SHRINERS TO INVADE ATLANTA FOR CONCLAVE



AAD PATROL.

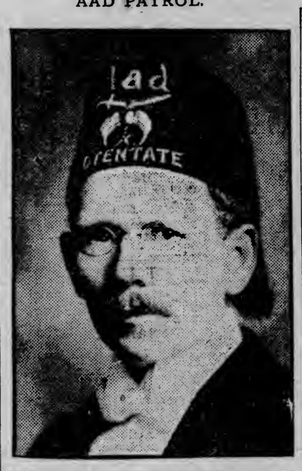
Tomorrow evening there will be the sound of trumpet and drum and the march of sand-burned feet; and then, for ten days, silence.

The occasion will be the departure of the Shriners for Atlanta, Ga., where the annual meeting of the imperial council of the order will take place, beginning next Monday. Duluth will send a fair contribution of attendants, and it is expected that Atlanta will be a scene of gaiety and even boisterousness, if the antics of the drum corps of Aad patrol are any indication. That crew makes enough noise to startle Atlanta without assistance from any of the other contributions which the Shriners of North America will send from all points.

Aad patrol, under command of Capt. A. H. Paul, was never, it is said, in better shape, and will enter the drilling competitions at the American Mecca with a first-class chance of winning the honors. It has become a crack organization, and it is believed will be a very strong contender. Capt. Paul has attempted to discipline the drum corps, but announced today that he has given up the job, for there is no chance; so Nobles Hamm, Pond, Farrell, McGinnes and McKinney will beat their drums about as they "blamed please."

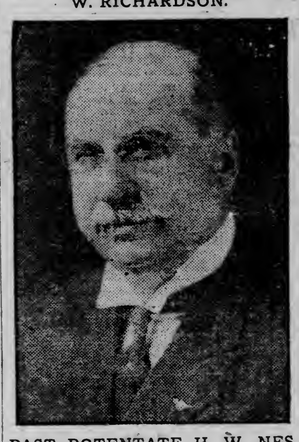
The official representatives of Aad temple to the imperial council will be Illustrious Potentate H. W. Richardson and Past Potentates T. P. Bradley, H. W. Nesbitt and Jesse Norton.

Besides these will go about sixty others. They will leave in a special train tomorrow evening over the Soo road and will go to Atlanta via Chicago, Cincinnati and Chattanooga. They will be absent about ten days.



ILLUSTRIOUS POTENTATE H. W. RICHARDSON.

PAST POTENTATE T. P. BRADLEY.



PAST POTENTATE H. W. NESBITT.

STREET CAR TRAFFIC GAINS

Gross Earnings for April Increase 7.9 Per Cent Over Last Year.

Uniform increases are being shown in the gross earnings of the Duluth-Superior Traction company, bearing evidence of the fact that the volume of general street traffic in the two cities at the Head of the Lakes is substantially heavier than a year ago.

For the month of April, earnings of the road were reported at $107,392.25, showing a gain of $7,818.56 or 7.9 per cent over the corresponding month last year.

For the four months of the current year, the road's revenue aggregated $406,722.44 a betterment of $33,460.02 over the same period of 1913 or 9.0 per cent. These figures are for gross earnings only. The heavier traffic brought measured expenses, but the net earnings will also show a slight increase. On the Toronto Stock exchange this week $64 was bid for the company's stock with only a few odd lots coming out on that basis.

The following are the road's corporate weekly April revenue figures:

	1914.	1913.	Pct. of Increase
First week	24,976.90	23,385.03	6.8
Second week	25,432.53	23,116.39	10.0
Third week	25,173.60	23,688.45	6.2
Remainder of month	31,822.22	29,383.60	8.3
Month to date	107,392.25	99,573.67	7.9
Year to date	406,722.44	373,262.42	9.0

ALLEGED SLAYER OF PATMONT FREED.

Danville, Ill., May 7.—Tony Blukas, arrested a week ago on a charge of murder in connection with the disappearance of Rev. Louis R. Patmont, was discharged from custody yesterday on motion of his attorney, who maintained that the death of Patmont had not been established.

GRAVES WARNS LUMBER BARONS.

Chicago, May 7.—A warning against monopolistic control of lumber prices and the dissipation of forest resources was sounded by Henry S. Graves, forester and chief of the forest service, United States department of agriculture. Mr. Graves spoke at a luncheon in connection with the annual convention of the national lumber manufacturers' convention, taking as his theme "Conservation and the Lumber Industry."

Mr. Graves later visited the forest products exhibition in the Coliseum.

Heads Education Board.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—P. O. Thorson was elected president of the board of education at the annual meeting when three new members took their seats, Thomas Griffith, Dr. Homer Cook and W. H. Shulze succeed A. S. Burrows, M. Norman and J. F. Bacon.

K. P. Grand Lodge.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, will be held here early in June, just ahead of the annual supreme lodge in Winnipeg.

FORTY DULUTHIANS LEAVE FOR NORWAY

Another Big Party Off for the Centennial Celebration.

With a crowd of more than 200 people to see them off for the Norwegian centennial celebration at Christiania this month, a party of forty Duluthians left yesterday afternoon on a private car over the Omaha road for New York, from where they will sail Saturday morning on the liner Olympic.

The party that left yesterday is the largest this year and marks the beginning of the end of the exodus of Norwegian residents of Duluth and Northern Minnesota for the centennial celebration at Norway, which starts on May 17. They will all visit in various parts of Norway and Sweden before returning home the latter part of this summer and fall.

But one more large party is scheduled to leave Duluth this year. On June 1 about forty more Duluthians will leave Duluth for New York, sailing on the liner Baltic. A special car has also been chartered for the excursionists.

RESINOL CLEARS PIMPLY SKINS

An Easy Way to Get a Clear Fresh and Velvety Complexion.

Pimples and blackheads, disappear, red, rough, ugly complexions become clean, clear and velvety, and hair health and beauty are promoted by the regular use of Resinol Soap and an occasional application of Resinol Ointment. These soothing, healing preparations do their work easily, quickly and at little cost, even when the most expensive cosmetics and complicated "beauty treatments" fail.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment heal eczema, tetter, ringworm, psoriasis and other skin eruptions, stop itching instantly, and are most valuable for sores, burns, boils, piles, etc. Sold by all druggists. For trial free, write to Dept. 18-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

There is nothing "just like Resinol," so refuse worthless substitutes.

CHATTEL MORTGAGE VOID

Creditors of Bankrupt Merchant Must All Share Alike.

A chattel mortgage executed by Alfred Johnson, now bankrupt, to the Christensen-Mendenhall-Graham company and Hans Christensen was held void by Judge Dancer of the district court yesterday. An order was made directing that the mortgage be cancelled and that the Christensen-Mendenhall-Graham company share on an equal basis with other creditors in the losses growing out of the failure of Johnson's business.

The suit to have the mortgage cancelled was instituted by W. H. Colvin, trustee in bankruptcy. The instrument was executed April 22, 1911 and Johnson did not become bankrupt until Jan. 29, 1913. The mortgage purported to give the company a lien on all of the property and fixtures at the Johnson store at 1911 West Superior street. The court holds that such a mortgage constituted a preferance and ordered it set aside.

MODERN WOODMEN FACTIONS SPLIT

Divided Delegations Will Go to National Meeting.

Hastings, Neb., May 7.—Administration forces of the Modern Woodmen of America, with Head Consul A. R. Talbot of Lincoln in personal command, were defeated last night on a test vote by the insurgents in the state convention on the question of electing delegates to the head camp at Toledo. Following their defeat, the administration men, headed by Thomas S. Allen of Lincoln, bolted the convention and announced their intention of holding a separate convention and electing a contesting delegation.

Minnesotans Split.

Stillwater, Minn., May 7.—The triennial state convention of Modern Woodmen split into two sections here late yesterday, the regulars and insurgents each electing a list of delegates to the national convention to be held at Toledo in June. The insurgent branch of the order had gained control of the convention earlier in the afternoon, after which the supporters of the administration left the hall and proceeded to elect their own delegates.

Iowa Insurgents Win.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, May 7.—The Modern Woodmen of America held their state convention here yesterday and the insurgent faction won out over the regulars with a large majority. Insurgents were elected state consul and state clerk and on a motion to name the national delegates from the lists prepared at senatorial district caucuses the regulars lost and, headed by John M. Mercer of Burlington, bolted.

The delegation to the national convention will go instructed to vote against every man now holding office.

Washington Regulars Win.

Bellingham, Wash., May 7.—Insurgent forces in the state camp of the Modern Woodmen of America lost in their fight for delegates and the seven delegates named carry instructions to vote for an increase in insurance rates of the order at the national camp at Toledo, Ohio.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

TRI-COUNTY SCHOOL MEET

Three North Dakota County Educators Gather at Grafton.

President of Tri-County Association Delivers Annual Address.

Grafton, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The advancement of the time in changing the interests of the school child, from the end of the eighth year to the end of the sixth year, is one of the most important factors, in the opinion of President C. F. Whitney of the Tri-County Educational association, in the development of new interest in school work. That it will solve, in a large measure, the maintainance of the interest of the child in school work, is his belief, and he cites the success already attained in the Grafton schools, where the system has been adopted.

President's Annual Address.

President Whitney made this point in his annual address as the head of the association, at the meeting which opened here this afternoon, and which is being attended by about 200 teachers.

Tomorrow all schools in Grand Forks, Walsh and Pembina counties will be dismissed to permit the teachers to attend the sessions.

Other features of this afternoon were the address of welcome by Mayor A. W. McConville, the response by J. S. Bjornson of Grand Forks, and the addresses of W. L. Stockwell and Joseph Kennedy.

TWICHELL CANDIDATE.

North Dakota Legislator Is Again Seeking Office.

Mapleton, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sentiment favoring a reduction of the membership of both branches of the legislature is strong in this section of the state and upon that platform with the added features of a better marketing system, and better roads, former Speaker Twichell of this place is again a candidate for the lower branch of the legislature. He served in the house for many years until six years ago when he was the Insurgent Republican candidate for governor. This year he was sought as a candidate for the state senate, but preferred to go back to the house, where he gained considerable statewide prominence for his ability as a solon and for his position as the presiding officer.

GETS POWER AND GAS.

Lisbon, N. D., Is Producing Both With Lignite Coal.

Lisbon, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lisbon is the only town of the state which is producing power to operate its electric plant by producing its own gas. The people here believe in using home products as far as possible and are producing gas from lignite coal and using the gas in its engines for power to produce the electricity used in this town. The average day load is twenty-five-horse power and night load sixty to seventy. To produce this only about a ton and a quarter of lignite coal is used. The residue of the coal is used for coke and is also valuable for making briquettes.

QUESTION HER MOTIVES.

Woman Suffrage Advocates Object to Miss Bronson's Anti-Campaign.

Fargo, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—As the voters of this state will vote this year a woman suffrage amendment to the constitution and the question is being freely discussed pro and con there is some interest in attacks being made upon Miss Bronson, an anti-suffrage worker sent here from the east, some claiming she is working against woman suffrage in the interest of the breweries. This she has vigorously denied and under threat of a suit brought about a retraction of the charge she advocated local option before the New Jersey legislature.

OFFICER INSPECTING.

Capt. Laubach, U. S. A., Looks Over North Dakota A. C. Battalion.

Fargo, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. Laubach of the regular army was here today for an official inspection of the two battalions at the North Dakota Agricultural college. They have been drilled by Lieut. Herron of the regular army. Maj. Drummond was in charge of the drill work during the official inspection. Both battalions made a satisfactory showing, the first being especially well drilled.

HOSPITAL AT DETROIT.

Becker County City to Have Suitable Institution.

Detroit, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. C. B. Hilton, pastor of the Baptist church here, has resigned, to take effect the first of July.

A thorough and up-to-date hospital is to be established here. The large residence formerly occupied by E. G. Holms and family, who have moved to California, has been purchased by a group of Detroit parties and will be immediately equipped as a hospital which will be open to all of the doctors of this locality for their patients on equal terms.

PROTECTION FOR EAST GRAND FORKS.

East Grand Forks, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council will strengthen the city's fire protection, and an ordinance covering the question has passed its first reading. It increases the fire district and provides new equipment. A Minneapolis company was awarded the contract for supplying 1,000 additional feet of hose.

HONOR SYSTEM CARRIES.

Aggregate of Vote in University of Minnesota Favors Idea.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 7.—At the students' election yesterday, the "honor system" was adopted in five colleges of the University of Minnesota and defeated in four. The plan was carried in the aggregate by a vote of 1,008 to 737. The colleges adopting the plan were: Science, literature and arts, law, chemistry, engineering and home economics. Those against: Medical, dentistry, pharmacy and agriculture. The plan which has been adopted at some of the Eastern universities, provides for a students' council for each college, which will try members accused of "cribbing" and other unfair means of passing in their examinations.

CRAIG AT RED WING.

Duluthian Speaks on Work of State Efficiency Commission.

Red Wing, Minn., May 7.—C. P. Craig of Duluth, chairman of the state efficiency commission, addressed the Red Wing Commercial club on the work of the commission Tuesday night. He said the body did not intend to interfere with the duties of state officials but to decide on the best way of carrying out the duties. The commission was not an expense to the state as the only employe who received pay from the state was the stenographer who received pay from the governor's contingent fund. Mr. Craig said every step of progress made by the commission has been unanimous. The work is purely a business problem. The idea is to have some one somewhere directly responsible for every one everywhere in the state government.

BIG CASE SETTLED.

Haupt vs. M. & O. Power Company Will Not Be Tried.

International Falls, Minn., May 7.—The case of Haupt vs. the M. & O. Power company involving several hundred dollars that was to have been tried here this week by Judge Roeser of St. Cloud, who was called in to sit for the judge of the district who has been disqualified, has been settled out of court. It was the most important piece of litigation ever originating here.

STATE SCHOOL FOR GIRLS' EXPENSES.

Sauk Center, Minn., May 7.—Maintenance of the local state school for girls for the last year cost the state $49,230.95, according to a report filed with the governor by Public Examiner Andrew E. Fritz. The average number of inmates was 194.3, and the net cost for each inmate was $326.39. There were 25 employes, making 5.9 inmates to each employe.

ON EMBEZZLING CHARGE.

Copper Country Man Brought From Montana Is Bound Over.

Calumet, Mich., May 7.—Jacob Pesonen, charged with embezzlement of $1,500 from the Finnish Mutual Insurance company of Calumet, who was arrested last week in Butte, Mont., and brought back to the Copper Country by Undersheriff Heikkila, was bound over to the next term of circuit court for trial by Justice William Fisher. Bonds were fixed at the sum of $1,500 and being unable to secure this amount, Pesonen was remanded to the county jail.

Nicholas Zager and William Cincich, who were arrested in connection with the alleged assault on Louis Maho, a workman recently imported into this district, who claims that in addition to beating him severely, six assailants robbed him of the sum of $37, besides taking a nickle plated watch and other personal affects, were arraigned before Justice William Fisher and entered pleas of not guilty to the charge of highway robbery. Their examination was set for May 7.

BECOMES SECRETARY.

Mill City Preacher Officer of North Dakota Baptist Conference.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. Charles E. Tingley, pastor of the Olivet Baptist church of Minneapolis, has accepted the secretaryship of the North Dakota Baptist conference, succeeding Rev. C. E. Memans, who resigned to take up the pastorate of the First Baptist church of Eau Claire, Wis. Rev. Mr. Tingley becomes general missionary director in his new position, and will make Grand Forks his headquarters.

HOUGHTON HAS $500,000 BLAZE

Carroll Foundry Destroyed; One-Half Loss Is Insured.

Houghton, Mich., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire last evening destroyed the Carroll foundry, with a loss of $500,000, covered by $250,000 insurance. It is not known how the fire started.

G. A. R. AT FARGO.

Probably Last Time North Dakota City Will Entertain Veterans.

Fargo, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargo will, perhaps for the last time, entertain the North Dakota G. A. R. May 18 and 19. These dates were fixed for the convenience of Washington Gardner, the national commander. Dr. L. T. Guild of Fargo will make the chief address. So many other towns of the state are seeking the honor of entertaining the veterans it may be many years before another encampment is held in Fargo.

QUITS FEDERAL JOB TO MANAGE PAPER.

Livingston, Mont., May 7.—The Livingston Publishing company yesterday commenced the publication of the Livingston Enterprise, having purchased and consolidated the Daily Enterprise and Daily Post.

Jerome G. Locke has resigned as surveyor general of Montana to take the management of the new paper.

Winston V. Morrow of Cincinnati is editor of the new paper.

BUTTE MESSENGER BOYS ON STRIKE.

Butte, Mont., May 7.—Messenger boys in the employ of the Western Union Tuesday struck when District Manager Levi I. Wild refused to advance their wages from $30 to $40 a month, the youngsters joining forces with the Industrial Workers of the World. The squad of the latter, sixteen strong, paraded the streets, each parader in turn taking up the cry, "Keep away from the Western Union, there's a strike there."

The boys picketed the telegraph offices and the company was compelled to use its girl employes to deliver messages, the messengers permitting them to pass, but no boys.

Wife Leaves—Kills Self.

Grand Rapids, Iowa, May 7.—Ben H. Feil, formerly proprietor of a boat livery here, killed himself with poison because, according to a note found on his body, his wife eloped with another man. He went to a pasture several miles north of town to drink the poison. His wife is said to be in Clinton, Iowa.

Middle River School Plans.

Middle River, Minn., May 7.—At a special school meeting here citizens voted a bond issue of $6,000 and the board of education will use that amount and $1,500 additional in state aid for the erection of an up-to-date addition to the school building. Four or five teachers will be employed. The old building will be remodeled and equipped with all modern conveniences.

Veterinarian Drops Dead.

Winona, Minn., May 7.—Dr. R. C. Mason, veterinarian, dropped to the floor in a dying condition on Tuesday afternoon while making a professional call, and expired in a few moments. He was 65 years old and well known in this section of the state.

Hail Adjuster Quits.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. O. Sherdahl, who has been county jail adjuster two years, yesterday resigned, and K. E. Bekkedahl was named in his stead.

Takes Grand Forks Job.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Paul Conte of Venice, Italy, will be the successor of Louis U. Rowland as director of the piano department of the Wesley conservatory of music in Grand Forks, and he takes charge next fall. Mr. Rowland goes abroad for two years, having resigned after being located here five years.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Neenah—Several farmhands saved the plant of the Bluestone Quarries company here from being dynamited. A large amount of explosive had been placed in the office building and a fuse set under a desk, where a fire had been started. The fire was put out in time to prevent an explosion. The plant has not been in operation this season.

Portage—Phillip Yaekel, widely known in Wisconsin as a moon doctor, is dead at his home in Tomah after an extended illness. Yaekel traveled throughout the state administering treatments by laying the palm of his hand on the afflicted. He had a large following and was usually awaited by large crowds. Mr. Yaekel was 55 years old.

Hudson—An unsuccessful attempt was made to wreck the sawmill of the Central Lumber company of this city, but cutting the main belt connecting the engine with the machinery so that it hung by a few shreds. It was not discovered until steam was turned on in the huge engine and the belt broke. Power was shut off instantly and the damage done was trifling.

Waukesha—Celon C. Funk, 17 years old, met a terrible death at his father's sawmill in the town of Merton. He was operating a machine and was sitting on a log which was across a carrier leading to the saw. When the log caught it threw him on the saw cutting off a leg and almost cutting his body in two. He died almost instantly.

TERRIBLE RASH ALL OVER BODY

Worse On Arms. Itched and Burned. Sores Would Fester. Suffered Day and Night. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Completely Cured.

R. F. D. No. 5, Sturgis, Mich.—"Last summer I picked cucumbers about a week before I noticed I was being poisoned. All at once I broke out with a terrible rash all over my entire body. It looked like pimples only was very much smaller. On my arms it seemed to be worse than any place else. It would itch and burn so I would scratch and make small sores that would fester. I suffered day and night for about two weeks but could find no relief.

"I used ——— and ——— and many others but they all failed to bring relief. At last I was advised to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Every two or three times a day I would wash with the Cuticura Soap and at night I would apply the Cuticura Ointment. After using them one month I was completely cured." (Signed) Miss Clara Mallory, Sept. 19, 1913.

Beef Roll

A New Way of Using Left Overs

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Every housewife finds the disposition of left overs a most perplexing problem. K C Beef Roll will go a long ways toward helping you out when the family get tired of hash and stews. You really ought to try it for supper tonight or tomorrow night at the latest. 45

Beef Roll, K C Style

Three cups flour; 1 teaspoonful salt; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; ½ cup shortening; sweet milk; 1 cup each, chipped cooked beef and ham; 1 teaspoonful mixed mustard; 2 beaten eggs; grating of onion; ¼ teaspoonful each, salt and pepper; broth or water.

Make a biscuit dough of the flour, salt, K C baking powder, shortening and milk, and roll into a sheet half an inch thick, having the ends even. Mix the other ingredients by themselves, using liquid as needed to make a paste. Spread the paste over the dough and roll like a jelly roll. Bake in a buttered pan about forty minntes. Brush over the outside with a little beaten egg left for the purpose and return to the oven to brown. Serve hot with a rich brown sauce. Other meats, such as chicken or veal, alone, or in combination, may be used. The onion and mustard may be omitted.

Ninety recipes—just think of it—by the famous cooking authority, Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, sent free upon receipt of the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans of K C Baking Powder. Send for the handsome Cook's Book today to the JAQUES MFG. CO., Chicago.

WONDERFUL STOMACH REMEDY IS FOUND IN TIME TO SAVE WOMAN

Mrs. Williams Gets on Way to Health After First Dose of Treatment.

Mrs. Peter Williams of 2749 Eighteenth street, S., Minneapolis, was desperately ill with stomach trouble. She faced the probability of an operation.

After taking Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy, discovered for her by a kind friend, she found herself on the way back to health. Mrs. Williams wrote:

"I have taken Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy for the fourth time and I am feeling like a new woman. I am entirely out of pain. I had been sick for eighteen months and four of our best doctors could do nothing for me. They all agreed that an operation was the only thing. One day a man told my husband of your remedy and that night he brought it home to me."

Mrs. Williams' letter tells an experience like many of the thousands who have taken Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy with unusual benefit. It clears the digestive tract of mucoid accretions and poisonous matter. It brings quick relief to sufferers from stomach ailments, liver and intestinal troubles. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations; many are sure it saved their lives.

The remarkable merit of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy, has caused many imitators, so be cautious. Be sure it's MAYR'S. Probably this remedy is known among your own neighbors; ask them. Go to your nearest druggist and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing—or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154-158 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you its wonderful effects.

Varicose Veins Cured

CONFINED TO HIS HOME FOR WEEKS

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits brought on Varicose veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up. My family physician told me an operation was the only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several doctors, but soon found out that all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He told me to go to the Progressive Medical Doctors at No. 1 West Superior Street. He had been cured himself by them and he knew they were square, and knew men's diseases better than other doctors. They applied their Nature Method and at first my progress was somewhat discouraging. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."—H. H.

ACTUAL FIRE DRILL WORKS

One Hundred Virginia Tots March From School When Fire Starts.

Get Out of Structure in Fifty Seconds Without Accident.

Virginia, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—One hundred children, between the ages of 5 and 12 years, left the school building in fifty seconds this morning when fire was discovered in one of the grade rooms on the first floor taught by Miss Evelyn Storm, in the first demonstration of the fire drill instructions given in the schools in a case of actual danger from fire.

The fire was communicated to one of the air shafts from an over-heated flue. The department responded to an alarm at 10:15 a. m. and before it had reached the building all of the pupils had left. The signal to vacate the building came to the teachers and pupils totally unexpected; the response was prompt and orderly and the record better than in the regular drills.

The blaze was extinguished with chemicals and the damage was slight.

LITERACY TEST TO BE DEBATED

Virginia, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The question of restricting immigration by enforcing the literacy test will be debated at the Roosevelt high school tomorrow night by teams representing the junior and senior class, as follows: Affirmative seniors—Joseph Lippman, Harry Pribnow and Chester Whiting. Negative juniors—Margaret Eaton, Ethel Wicklem and Beatrice Metcalf. The judges will be George Shea, M. E. Fanning and Rev. Henry E. Neff. Miss Susan Hohman, principal of the high school, will be in charge of the program and debate.

The following program will be given: Selection, high school orchestra; "Current Events," Lysle Bush; "Weather Forecasts," James Whitcomb Riley; "Wet Weather Talks," Ellenor Kennedy; "The Tree Toad," Ardith Preston; music, Girls' Glee club; an illustrated talk on "Roman Art," Clara Larson; "A Big Wind" (from a live quarter), Monroe Shanedling and Bernard Stickney; vocal solo, Edith Dahl.

HIBBING DESIRES CHEAPER INSURANCE

Hibbing, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The next meeting of the Commercial club will be an insurance meeting to consider reducing local exorbitant insurance rates.

A committee has been appointed by President W. L. Galloway to go into the question thoroughly, prepare facts and figures for presentation at the meeting, and it is not at all improbable that definite steps will be taken for a carefully planned revolution against the stand that the insurance companies have been taking.

If necessary, it is asserted, that an effort will be made to secure the cooperation of the range clubs so that arguments may be presented to the legislature for the need of remedial laws.

Subject Discussed.

Con Keppel brought up the subject last evening and stirring talks were delivered by Robert Stenton, T. J. Cox, D. T. Collins and Herman Antonelli, resulting in the designation of the June meeting as the time to take action.

It is expected that there will be the largest attendance at this meeting in the history of the club, as the subject is one in which all of the local business men are vitally interested.

Five applications for membership were voted on favorably.

It was decided not to take any action on the request of the Minnesota State Federation of Commercial Clubs that the club designate whether it was in favor of having the director of the regional reserve bank located in Minneapolis picked from among the bankers or the general public.

The committee appointed to investigate the legality of annexing township 59-21 by Stuntz township, reported that the question was one requiring careful study and that as it was now before the supreme court in an action started at Gilbert, that action had better be deferred.

Going to Thief River Falls.

Representatives to the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association to be held in Thief River Falls the first week in June will be appointed by President Galloway.

The question of a potato warehouse was tabled, after considerable discussion. It was generally believed that the farmers should control the warehouse if one was built and that for that reason the first move should be made by them.

Con Keppel, J. J. Cox and D. D. McEachin were appointed on a committee to appear before the village council to have the Mesaba Electric railroad stop its cars at every crossing on Third avenue and Pine street.

The rapidity with which stops are changed, stations moved and running regulations violated was given as the grounds for the action. Business men who addressed the club last evening brought out the fact that every day travelers have been compelled to wait an extra hour for a car because they waited at a corner where the car had formerly stopped.

TWO HARBORS YEOMEN TO ERECT $23,000 BUILDING

THE PROPOSED HOME.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—According to P. F. Harouff the Yeomen order of this city will erect a building here this spring. The site has not been definitely decided upon as the committee has several very favorable places in view, but it will probably be located on First avenue, just east of the North Shore building. The building will be of concrete and brick and will be modern in every way. It will be 50x115 feet, cost $23,000, have a seven-foot excavation for a basement; the basement will extend five feet above the ground. In the basement they will have pool tables, two bowling alleys, lockers for ladies and men, shower and tub baths, rooms for caretaker and family, and a large banquet room which will be used for a gym when not used for banqueting.

The ground floor will have a twenty-foot ceiling, and twenty-five feet in the front of the building will be used for a club room. A smoking room will also be provided for on the first floor. This floor will have a stage 18x30 feet. This part of the building will be used for general public use, but not to be used for lodge meetings except for the Yeomen.

A meeting has been called by the board of managers for Monday evening when the business men of the city and any one who desires will attend, to get the opinion of others as to the location, also the general opinion on other details pertaining to the building, etc.

FIXING FAIR GROUNDS.

Extensive Improvements Being Made on County Property.

Hibbing, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work on the addition to the grand stand at the St. Louis county fair grounds here was started this week and will be rushed to a rapid completion. The rear of the grand stand will be used this year for exhibits leaving the big pavilion free for public meetings and lectures during the day and a dance at night. The exhibit booths will be of glass and accommodate all of the displays that will be made. Secretary Gilfillan reports unusual interest in all of the contests that have been started, especially in those for the children.

CANNOT GRANT INCREASE.

Virginia Employes' Salaries Must Remain as at Present.

Virginia, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Salaries of city employes, including the judge of the municipal court, the clerk of the municipal court, the city clerk, assistant city clerk, street commissioner and others, which it was agreed at a recent council conference were to be substantially increased, will remain at the figures named in a resolution passed by the council at a regular meeting April 21. City Attorney Montague informed the council Tuesday night that increases could not be granted under the procedure proposed without violating the terms of the charter. A resolution was passed at Tuesday night's council meeting for the correction of the records, which leaves the salary increase matter stand as it did when the council fixed the salaries at its meeting of April 21. The only increases granted by that resolution were to the city attorney, the city clerk and the city timekeeper.

MISSABE YARD WORK.

Considerable Is Being Done at Eveleth Terminals.

Eveleth, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Considerable work is being done in the Missabe yards here this spring. The station and yards are located on property undermined by the Spruce underground workings and the ground is constantly caving and settling.

The freight depot and a number of warehouses have been moved and a spur track to the power plant is being moved because of caving. A brick freight depot has been authorized for Eveleth, Agent C. H. Thomas states, but it can not be built on ground which may settle.

Mayor Gleason has been appealed to to put an end to a practice of dumping rubbish into a pit on Monroe street on the property leased by the D. M. & N. and Mr. Thomas states that a fill will probably be made to hide the rubbish.

BUHL WOMAN DIES SUDDENLY.

Buhl, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. A. Killstrom, 35 years old, a resident of Buhl for a number of years, dropped dead on the street here yesterday while returning home from shopping. She was carried into the home of John Anderson and a physician was summoned. The doctor said she died from a stroke of apoplexy.

MEMORIAL DAY PLANS.

Hibbing Committee Names Officers to Prepare for Event.

Hibbing, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Citizens' committee in charge of the observance of Memorial day held a meeting last evening and apointed the following officers: J. L. Lewis, chairman; E. C. Junker, secretary; E. C. Booth, treasurer.

The report for last year showed that there was slight deficiency in the treasury. The usual committees will be appointed by the officers and it was decided that the same program would be followed as last year with the parade and services at the cemetery in the morning and a public gathering with an orator in the evening.

WOODSMAN CLAIMS HE LOST BIG SUM

Virginia, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The police are trying to find a mysterious stranger who John Knope, a woodsman, says "touched him" for $411 in cash last night.

According to Knope's story he had been working in the woods for a Cloquet lumber contractor and came here last evening from Eveleth on the trolley line. He said he had the money, $411 partly in gold and bills, the result of his winter's work divided about his person when he met an affable stranger, who proposed a drink. They took one which led to another and finally they became so chummy they took a room together for the night in a lodging house. Knope claims that on retiring he satisfied himself his money was all right, but when he woke up this morning the cash and his chance acquaintance were gone.

While the police are rather skeptical about the story they are making every effort to find the alleged thief.

BOYLE AT VIRGINIA.

Candidate Speaks at Moose Hall, Reviewing His Record.

Virginia, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator J. P. Boyle of Eveleth, candidate for congressman from this district, opened his campaign here last night, speaking before a large audience in Moose hall. He spoke largely along the lines of social reform and got a respectful hearing. He reviewed his record in the state senate on the workmen's compensation and other measures.

SUNDBERG'S FUNERAL.

Last Rites for Printer and News Writer Friday Afternoon.

Virginia, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Richard Sundberg, the well known range printer and news writer, who died at the McIntyre hospital late Tuesday after a long illness, will be held tomorrow afternoon from the Episcopal church at 2 o'clock with interment here.

Mr. Sundberg was 43, a native of Sweden and came to America with his parents when a child. Besides his wife and young son he is survived by a brother who is a conductor on the South Shore road running out of Marquette, and one other brother, whose whereabouts are not known.

Bovey Socialist Files.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. Enstrom of Bovey has filed for the legislature from Itasca county. Mr. Enstrom is a photographer at Bovey and is the candidate of the Socialists of the county. His only opponent is A. M. Peterson, a Coleraine lawyer.

SPECIAL MACHINERY

Hibbing, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Special machinery will be necessary for the well that is to be sunk on the land south of the village to secure a temporary water supply according to Contractor Sharpe, who is to do the work. There is but one factory in the country that makes a pipe large enough for the proposed well and no firm handles machinery for sinking it, all of the apparatus calling for special construction. Expert oil field men will be in charge of the drilling operations. The well is to go about 500 feet. Only one is to be sunk now but others will be added if the water shows up in proper quantity.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

Indigestion and the attendant discomforts of mind and body are certain to follow continued use of improper food.

Those who are still young and robust are likely to overlook the fact that, as dropping water will wear a stone away at last, so will the use of heavy, greasy, rich food, finally cause loss of appetite and indigestion.

Fortunately many are thoughtful enough to study themselves and note the principle of cause and effect in their daily food. A N. Y. young woman writes her experience thus:

"Sometime ago I had a lot of trouble from indigestion, caused by too rich food. I got so I was unable to digest scarcely anything, and medicines seemed useless.

"A friend advised me to try Grape-Nuts food, praising it highly and as a last resort, I tried it. I am thankful to say that Grape-Nuts not only relieved me of my trouble, but built me up and strengthened my digestive organs so that I can now eat anything I desire. But I stick to Grape-Nuts."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

HIBBING HOSPITAL TO BE IMPROVED.

Hibbing, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Extensive improvements are planned for the Detention hospital according to the board of health whose petition has been received by the water and light board. A porch may be added on the south side of the building for convalescing patients, a washing room will be added and all the laundry work done in the building, a new sterilizing equipment will be added, the upstairs rooms may be enameled and the outside given a fresh coat of paint. The improvements were suggested last year but at that time there was considerable agitation for a new hospital.

Eveleth vs. Virginia.

Eveleth, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Eveleth high school baseball team will open the season Saturday afternoon with a game at Virginia. The locals have games scheduled with the other range high schools nd will probably play every Saturday until the close of school.

Eveleth Minister Resigns.

Eveleth, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. E. B. Peterson, pastor of the Baptist church here for the last two years has accepted a call to Drayton, N. D., and will leave for that place next week. Rev. Mr. Johnson of Chicago will occupy the local pulpit after June 7.

The only hope in the way of weather that is held out is that the temperature will be warmer tomorrow afternoon, preceded by a slight frost tonight. Aside from that the cloudy weather will be on the job as usual.

A year ago today was cloudy and cool. The sun rose this morning at 4:42 and will set this evening at 7:26, giving fourteen hours and forty-four minutes of sunshine, two minutes more than yesterday.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The temperature changes were generally unimportant except that cooler weather prevails in Ohio valley states and Upper Michigan. Freezing temperatures continue from Wyoming northward. Light rains fell during Wednesday or last night over the Northwest, Western lake region, Mississippi and Upper Ohio valleys, Tennessee, Alabama, Arkansas, Western Kansas and Colorado."

TWO CANDIDATES GET INDORSEMENT

Nashwauk, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club Tuesday evening decided to celebrate on July 4. The following committee was appointed to have charge of the celebration: P. H. Tweed, William Hayes, Oscar Johnston, Santo Sella and George Lindsey. The Nashwauk band will furnish the music. President Shellman was instructed to write to Senator Ole Sageng and try to secure him for speaker of the day. The club will strive to make the celebration the best ever held in this village.

Attorney John C. Lewis and John H. Carlson have declared their intentions to become candidates for state and county offices, resolutions commending their candidacy were adopted as follows:

"Whereas, Our fellow citizen, Attorney John C. Lewis, is a candidate for the office of secretary of state at the coming election, and, whereas we have every confidence in his sterling qualities, integrity and ability to creditably fill the position he seeks, therefore be it

"Resolved, That the Commercial club of Nashwauk heartily commends his candidacy to the citizens of the state of Minnesota, as well worthy of their consideration and support.

"Whereas, John H. Carlson of Nashwauk has creditably served the community in various positions the past ten years and now seeks the nomination for the office of sheriff of Itasca county at the coming primaries, therefore be it

"Resolved, That we recommend his candidacy to the voters of Itasca county, feeling that if chosen for the position that he will fill the office fearlessly, impartially and to the credit of the county."

BUILDING GUTTED AT GRAND RAPIDS

Marr Block Partly Destroyed By Fire During the Night.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—An investigation of the premises after the fire in the Marr building last night disclosed a partly burned Christmas candle in the wall of the store on the ground floor, the sheathing having been pulled off and the candle inserted. This item, with the officials of the incendiary theory and the state fire marshal has been notified.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire last evening gutted the Marr building occupied by the Allen Dry Goods company and the offices of Dr. G. E. Hooper and F. A. McVicar. The origin of the fire, which started on the second floor about 10 p. m., and was blazing fiercely when discovered, is unknown. The timely arrival of the fire department prevented the total destruction of the building. The damage to the Allen Dry Goods company, which occupied all of the ground floor, is estimated at $5,000, well covered with insurance. Dr. Hooper's damages are estimated at $500, insured. Mr. McVicar, who was formerly postmaster of Grand Rapids, had just moved his office into the building and had no insurance.

"Gets-It" for Corns On Your Piggy-Wiggies!

Quit Puttering With Corns. Use This Sure New-Plan Cure.

A few drops of "GETS-IT," the biggest seller in the world today of any corn remedy, is enough to spell positive doom to the fiercest corn that ever cemented itself to a toe. It's good-bye Johnnie. You apply "GETS-IT" in two seconds—no fussing with plasters that don't stay put, with salves that make corns "pull" and make the toe beefy and raw, with knives, scissors, razors and diggers that make corns grow faster and that may cause blood poison from corn-cutting and corn-bleeding. "GETS-IT" shrivels up corns, they come right off. That's the new principle. It's just common sense. No more corn-pains. "GETS IT" is safe, and never hurts the flesh. Get rid of corns and calluses.

These little toes had "GETS-IT" — These little toes had none.

"GETS-IT" is sold at 25c a bottle by all druggists, or sent direct if you wish, from E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

ELLSBURG PROUD OF ITS NEW DEPOT

Ellsburg, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—This young town located on the Canadian Northern road fifty-two miles north of Duluth, is forging ahead. The people are proud of the fine depot the Canadian Northern has just completed here as it is one of the best in this section.

Dr. C. L. Johnson and R. P. Schyle have been looking over the business section in the townsite which has not already been sold and it is their intention to build this summer east of the railway and install a plant where cement blocks will be manufactured.

Girard & Huth have received the plans and specifications for their new hotel and general store, and work will commence at once on the buildings. The hotel building will be two story and modern in every particular, having sixteen rooms, sitting room, dining room, kitchen and lobby will take up the first floor. The store will have a forty-foot frontage and it is expected the postoffice will eventually be transfered to this block.

G. Lundgren has opened up a lumber yard.

Johnson & Wentworth expect to start moving their timber in a very short time. It is estimated at between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000 feet, and will be loaded at the hoist south of Ellsburg and taken to Cloquet, Minn., via the Canadian Northern.

Mr. Williams of Duluth is building a new barber shop on Ester street.

Settlers headed by E. G. Norberg and John Johnson have decided to build a road passing through Ellsburg a mile each way east and west, connecting with the Duluth and Virginia road.

Cameron & McKenzie will build a two-story brick building.

To Accommodate Fishermen.

Preparations are being made to accommodate the fishermen and summer tourists who come from Duluth and Minneapolis each year to fish and hunt around Lake Denham, which is only one mile from Ellsburg. It has been decided by the gun club to build summer cottages, as last year there were so many fishermen and hunters who stopped here it was impossible for them to get accommodations.

J. J. Puhropp, who has been operating a sawmill and sash and door factory at Sturgeon Lake, Wis., has changed his location, and instead of going to Central Lakes, as at first intended, has and a new sawmill erected opposite the new depot and is running full-handed. Logs are arriving daily from other points, which will keep the mill running all summer. Mr. Puhropp expects to have his planing mill installed in a very short time and in operation. This concern means much to the settlers around this part of the country, who formerly had to send their logs to Virginia, which is twenty-four miles, or to Duluth, which is fifty-two miles.

TWO HARBORS FUNERAL.

Woodmen and Machinists Attend Rites for Peter Oman.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Peter Andrew Oman, one of the old settlers of this city, who died Monday, was held today from the Swedish Methodist church, Rev. Mr. Johnson officiating, under the auspices of the Woodmen and the Order of Machinists, which attended the funeral in a body.

Two brothers, Victor and Gust, of Bingham canyon, Utah, arrived in the city last night to attend the funeral.

Mr. Oman had resided in this city for over twenty years. He owned and operated a saloon here when he first came to the city and later, after giving this business up, he was employed by the city for a number of years as chief engineer in the city water and light plant. He later entered the services of the Iron Range Railroad company in their machine shops here, where he remained until death.

Mr. Oman, besides three brothers, leaves a wife and three children.

Grand Rapids Fish Supper.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will serve a fish supper tomorrow night at which they will serve fresh Mississippi river fish, a most seasonable relish, in St. Joseph's hall in the basement of the Catholic church.

WILL MEET FRIDAY.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Parents-Teachers' club will hold its monthly meeting tomorrow at 3 p. m. at the high school auditorium.

Among other things which this meeting will take up will be consideration of the plan of continuing the work of the club in the future, as the closing of the schools the first part of next month will put a stop to the activity of the club for the summer. The following program will be given: Music, Miss Nordstrom's pupils; story telling, Miss Thoirin pupils, Miss Thompson's pupils and Miss Ely's pupils; music, kindergarten band, Miss Ely's pupils; "Responsibility in Places of Trust," Mrs. A. L. Chwing; "Teaching Regard for Promises," Mrs. James Doran; "Self-Reliance, Self-Reverence," Miss Burlingame; business; refreshments.

Thin Blood Causes Backache

Every muscle in the body needs a supply of rich, red blood in proportion to the work it does.

The muscles of the back are under heavy strain and have but little rest. When the blood is thin they lack nourishment and rebel. The result is a sensation of pain in those muscles.

The best medical authorities agree that backache seldom or never means kidney trouble. Real organic kidney disease may have progressed to a critical point without developing a pain in the back. Doctors detect its presence by the excretions of the kidneys themselves.

Pains in the back should always lead the sufferer to look to the condition of the blood. It will be found in most cases that the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to build up the blood will stop the grumbling of the ill-nourished muscles of the back. How much better it is to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the blood than to give way to unreasonable alarm about your kidneys. If you suspect your kidneys any doctor can make tests in ten minutes that will set your fears at rest or tell you the worst.

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A free book, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

SEVEN WILL GRADUATE.

Aurora, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The commencement exercises of the Aurora high school will be held Thursday evening, June 4. There will be seven members in this year's class: Esther Carlson, the salutatorian; Rhoda Olson, the valedictorian; Norman Mudge, Maude Graham, Florence Whitburn, Carl Anderson and Joe Gillach. The class address will be delivered by Rev. Dr. Yost of Duluth.

MAY RECOVER FROM INJURY.

Two Harbors, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Andrew Kizisto, the Finn who attempted suicide by slashing his throat with a razor in his room on South avenue Monday evening, is undoubtedly going to recover, although at first the doctors did not think that he could possibly recover. The cut was a bad one and partly severed his windpipe.

SAWMILL WHISTLE MUSIC TO TOWER.

Tower, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Cook & Ketchum Lumber company's sawmill here began sawing yesterday. This means much to Tower in every way and everyone here welcomes the sound of the mill whistle. The company has about 6,000,000 feet of lumber ready to be shipped. Some of this is moving now to Two Harbors to be loaded on boats. The company also has 3,000,000 or 4,000,000 feet of logs in the water near the mill ready to be sawed. The company expects to saw more this season than ever. Mr. Ketchum is here looking after the work.

MOHAWK SHIPPING.

Aurora, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Mohawk mine has commenced shipping ore and is loading cars daily for the docks at Two Harbors. The Hudson open pit is not likely to open this season.

Engine in Sink Hole.

Eveleth, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—An Iron Range switch engine, working in the west Adams yard, was derailed when the track settled into a sink hole. The engine rolled onto its side, but no one was hurt. A wrecker from Two Harbors swung the engine back onto solid ground.

Pass Examination.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 7.—Seventeen pupils passed the examination in the eighth grade work in this district as follows: Hattie Opshal, Margaret Nelson, Ethel Opshal, Agnes Hoolihan, Elsie E. Hurd, Edward Mortenson, Alice Nyberg, Philmon Goodell, Agnes Skelley, Nora Skelley, Violet Staley, Neltha Francisco, Esther Thornberg, Ida Racklund, Robert R. Dorothy, May McLean and Thomas Ingstad.

Eveleth Librarian Arrives.

Eveleth, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Margaret Hickman of Red Wing, engaged as librarian for the new city library, is here and books are being received. It is thought that the books will all be received and indexed by June 1 and the building will then be dedicated and formally opened.

Fish Not Biting.

Eveleth, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although the fishing season opened a week ago Eveleth anglers have tried the streams and lakes in the vicinity without success. The season has been backward and the water is too cold for successful fishing. Reports of dynamiting, netting and spearing with lights are still being heard.

Grand Rapids vs. Bemidji.

Grand Rapids, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Saturday there will be a baseball game between the Grand Rapids high school baseball team and the ball team of the Nemadji high school.

Special Alice Lights.

Hibbing, Minn., May 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Albert Norman, superintendent of construction for the water and light board, started today to put up two additional arc lights at Alice, petitioned for by prominent residents of that suburb and one on Mahoning street, one block west of First avenue, where the police have been informed that "gangs" were in the habit of gathering, making it unpleasant for pedestrians.

Just Between You and Me

By BRUCE

ONE of the favorite means of expressing the penultimate in the way of surprise or shocking doings, is to haul out that old expression, "like thunder out of clear sky." So then it was like the ten pins game of the gods on high Olympus that the announcement came forth yesterday that the Wisconsin state boxing commission would not sanction the holding of any open air boxing matches of any kind, the stern ukase being in line of prevention of a tent show.

This listens with extreme displeasure to a number of the sister state boxing promoters. Some of the boys had planned gladsome doing on Decoration day, the glorious Fourth and some of the other festal occasions that are liberally sprinkled through the hot and sultry days of summer.

Several enterprising promoters not so remotely situated from the place where we are penning these few well chosen words had been planning and generally shaping events with a plan of pulling something out of the ordinary in the fistic sense; and lo there falls the ultimatum from the lips of the commissioners, and the plans of men, like those of mice, crumble to nothing.

Their Names Are Missing.

SCANNING the batting averages of two of the largest leagues we find that the names of Cobb and his friend and friendly rival, Lajoie, are not among the sluggers of the elusive little pill. Cobb at the last authentic accounts was striding at the rate of progress of a wee bit over .200 and Lajoie was not as yet started on the batting clip that has for years been one of the enlivening features of the ordinary dull and featureless existence of the pitchers of the American league.

Skipping over to another column of figures representing the stalwart sluggers of the National league, it might be noticed that Hans Wagner is hitting the horse hide at the old familiar tune of .300 or thereabouts.

Age in the case of Lajoie is getting to the poignant point where it may one of these blithesome days resemble the mill stone regarding which the Bible often refers to. The once king and faithful guardian of the keystone sack is no longer a youngster. He is one of the real veterans of the game.

In the case of Cobb, wonder not; ere the brown is on the leaf and the frost even faintly whispers warning to some of the pumpkins that he would like to see make a getaway, this boy will be up where there are few.

Tyrus Raymond is around the delightful buoyant age of 27 years, where the raw edges of youth are beginning to be tempered with the philosophy of life. In the baseball sense, he is neither young nor old. He is the half and half. Cobb may never be any better, for that could not well be, but he should be almost as good as he is at the present time for several years—and this should be one of the great and memorable years in the history of the wonderful Georgian.

Again it is doubtful if the nervous, fiery Cobb, a thoroughbred in the same alert sense that there is but one thoroughbred horse in the world, which is a breed and not a type, will ever last as long and hang up the valiant record that has marked the years of service that Hans Wagner is this day handing down as one of the great after-time legends of the game.

It Will Be a Great Affair.

ELMER BLU, Judge Fesler and a few of the other loyal and never discouraged alumni of Northwestern are planning a local banquet in celebration of the winning of two games this spring. This column was apprised of the fact that it had done the college a grave injustice in not referring to the second victory. We apologize heartily and heartfully. A victory comes so seldom in the life of the athletes of the college that it is indeed with rejoicing that we refer to the fact, also make more of a passing incident of it. Victory comes so rarely at Northwestern that they found it necessary to question closely and gravely the members of winning teams as to the methods arrived at in obtaining the victory. Thus were pioneers in every field of endeavor harassed and persecuted, aye, and thwarted.

Cheering Words From Darby.

"TELL the people," writes Darby Thomas O'Brien on the best stationery of the Revere hotel, or the Hotel Revere, not to offend the officious dignity of the prop., "that I will be in the race all of the way."

We have told you, fans, and are doing our duty.

Let us hope that the burning words of augury of the Irish Orator are right, and let us haste to shoot back the word that Duluth, like dear old England of old, expects every man to do his duty no matter what the results of the poker game of the previous evening.

* * *

It Is a Grave Problem.

IT has degenerated to the stage in dear old England where it is a case of finding some man Bombardier Wells can lick. It is just another case of watchful waiting.

Just Wait and See.

ONE of the Eastern headlines is authority for the statement that the Yale crew is at the present time rowing in its old time form. It will require a defeat to sustain this prediction.

More Chance to Spend.

NOW THAT running racing is opening in several sections of this large and thriving country of ours, it will be noticed that more opportunities will be opened up for the speedy spending of large and independent fortunes that grew on the family tree.

The Time Is Passing.

TIME there was when the mere mention of the name of Samuel Adams Langford called to the appealing imagination a picture of a ferocious fighting gorilla more or less in the shape of a human; a fighting machine whose punch meant extinction from the cares of this mortal weal for a time varying from the orthodox ten seconds on to the consuming and care-attendant hours.

But that picture has faded considerably. Time is the great eraser, the great crusher of ideals, even of the low and somewhat brazen ideals of the fighting man. Langford today calls to the mind a fat and perspiring negro, squat and huge of chest and shoulders—and paunch; a man who can lick all the dubs they bring on to fatten the ring income of the declining darkey and brighten the years of the passing veteran of the ring. The question arises as to whether the fighting remains of one of the greatest of modern fighters could whip the first really good man that was brought to him.

Pirates 1; Cubs 0.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 7.—A walk to Konetchy, Vlox's sacrifice, Keating's error on Mitchell's grounder and a wild pitch by Cheney gave the locals the only run of yesterday's game. Adams pitched a remarkable game, holding the visitors to two hits, one of these a scratch by Good. Cheney held Pittsburg to four hits but walked five men and made two wild pitches, the second one costing him the game. The locals fielded in a sensational manner, Wagner, Mowrey and Kelly making fine plays with Chicago runners on bases.

BIG DULUTHS ARE WINNERS

Clothiers Beat the Ormondes in Championship Bowling Match.

The first bowling game for the championship of the city was played last evening on the Grand alleys between the Big Duluths and the Ormondes, the clothiers winning out by the score of 2,591 to 2,517. The match was for the total pins of the three games, and though the Ormondes won the first and third games of the contest, the second game saw the clothiers make a large score.

On Friday evening the Adams and the Decker-Victors will play off the tie in the Duluth-Superior league, the winner of the game securing the championship of the league.

The final of the city championship and the playoff of the tie in the Duluth-Superior league will end the bowling activities for the season.

HIBBING TO PLAY HERE

Crack Range Ball Team to Meet the Strong Woodlands.

The crack Woodlands, with Sam Meniece, Scotty Macauley, young Muggsy McGraw, who, it is believed, will be ripe for professional company at the end of the present season; Frank Summers, Frank Schaeffer and some of the best of the semi-professional players at the Head of the Lakes, will meet the fast Hibbing team at Athletic park Sunday in what will really be the first game of the season.

Coming down in the Hibbing aggregation will be Brookins, the boy Indianapolis signed up several years ago, and who was in the old Northern league; Dave Williams, the former manager of the Duluth team; Booth, Gelselman, Red Carroll, Kleffman and Burroughs, with some of the best players of the ranges.

This year the Woodlands are out for the independent championship of the Northwest and one of the hardest games of the season will come right at the very beginning of the schedule.

Manager Mitchell of the Woodlands is negotiating with a number of out-of-town teams and when his schedule is completed some of the crack ball teams of the Northwest will be lined up.

VARSITY SHOWS IMPROVEMENT.

Harvard Has Trial Race and Beats Its Second Crew.

Cambridge, Mass., May 7.—The Harvard varsity eight yesterday had its first trial race since the changes which were made after its defeat by the middies at Annapolis. It won from the second crew by half a length over a mile and seven-eights course. The time was 10 minutes 27 seconds.

The four, without a coxswain, entered for the American Henley at Philadelphia, crashed into a bridge during practice yesterday. The boat was wrecked and two of its occupants had to swim ashore. It is uncertain whether a new boat can be obtained in time for the Henley race.

The annual interclass race was won by the sophomores, who defeated the juniors and seniors in that order. The time was 10:47.

SCHEDULE CHANGES.

Tener Assigns Dates for Playing of Postponed Games.

New York, May 7.—President John K. Tener of the National league announced yesterday several changes in the playing schedule including the assigning of dates for games postponed on account of weather conditions. The revision of the schedule moves forward the Cincinnati game at St. Louis, scheduled for June 3 to May 8 and the St. Louis game at Cincinnati, scheduled for Sept. 14 to June 3. Open dates which have been utilized for the playing of postponed game are:

At Pittsburg, June 4, St. Louis; Sept. 15, Cincinnati; June 24, Chicago; Aug. 31, Chicago.

At Chicago, Sept. 14, Pittsburg.

The following contracts and releases are also approved:

Contracts: With Brooklyn, George F. Walsh; with Chicago, Jesse Barnes.

Releases: By Boston to Cleveland, (A. L.) George Beck; by Chicago, unconditionally, Harvey Utrecht; by Chicago to Birmingham, (S. A.) Charles Stewart; by Cincinnati to Dayton, (C. L.) Albert Wreckland; by Cincinnati to San Francisco, (P. C. L.) Wayne Braham; by Philadelphia to Denison (T. L.) J. C. Haislip; by Philadelphia to Harrisburg, (T. S. L.) W. M. J. O'Neill.

American Horses Win.

Paris, May 7.—American owned horses captured two firsts and one second place at La Tremblay yesterday. The Prix Citronelle was won by H. B. Duryea's Frizzle, while J. E. Widener's L'Adorable came in first in the Prix Vernuil. In the latter event August Belmont's Roxanna was second.

DULUTH WHITE SOX LOSE OPENING GAME TO WINONA

Leahy Twirls a Grand Game But Is Nosed Out in Ninth 4 to 3.

Darby's Men Exhibit Speed and Play in Mid-Season Form.

Winona, Minn., May 7.—Winona won the opening game of the season here yesterday before one of the greatest crowds that ever witnessed a baseball game in the southern section of the state by the count of 4 to 3. The game developed into a pitchers' battle between Leahy of the visitors and the youthful Toraason of the home team and the domestic heaver had slightly the better of the hill argument.

Long before play time the grandstands and bleachers were filled. A string of autos that formed a steady procession from the downtown center of the city to the ball park marked the line of progress of the two teams and the fans. When Umpire Claude Elliott walked out to brush off the plate, following the festivities that preceded the game, there was not a vacant seat in stand or bleachers and the overflow extended out in the two fields.

For three rounds the contest was air-tight. Neither Leahy nor Toraason allowed anything like a score. In the final of the fourth the home team broke through the defense of the visitors and broke the ice with the first counter of the game.

Joe Fautsch started the first rally by singling cleanly to left. Bud Croake sacrificed him along. McGovern's infield out advanced the runner to third and Osgood cracked a two-baser to center, which did the business.

Two in Fifth.

The visitors came back in the next round with two runs. Shorty Sweeley singled to start the round. Comrade Leahy sacrificed his battery pal and when the first defense cordon of the domestic brigade fumbled the ground offering of Brackett the first run of the visitors came across the pan. Mark Freer whiffed, but the gallant leader of the visitors, Darby O'Brien, came to the rescue of his team and singled past second base. Jerry Phillips two-based to left, sending Brackett across the pan, but O'Brien was relayed out at the pan.

With two hands down in the sixth McGovern walked and rounded up at third when Osgood made his second double of the matinee. Dielke hit to the fence and two runs were shagged across the plate.

Brackett singled in the seventh, advanced on Freer's sacrifice, moved to third when Connell fumbled a ground offering and scored when Osgood booted the ground offering of McGuff.

Collins and Commander Davis walked in the final of the ninth. Joe Fautsch singled, filling the paths, and Croake singled, putting the winning run over the run hopper.

Both teams played grand baseball. Both of the pitchers appeared to be in mid-season form. The visitors, in the first game, appeared to have a regular ball team. The infield worked well together and in Brackett, Freer and Phillips, O'Brien appears to have one of the best gardens in the league.

Osgood seems to be an improvement on Ewaldt, the Winona keystone guardian of last year, and Dielke in center promises to make the fans forget Baxter.

FRANK GOTCH MAY SEE BIG WRESTLING MATCH

Former World's Champion Wires That He Will Endeavor to Come to Duluth for the Westergaard-Cutler Go.

Humboldt, Iowa, May 6, 1914.

"Bruce, care Herald, Duluth, Minn.:

"I consider the match between Cutler and Westergaard to be one of the best matches in years to come. I will be there if I can.

"F. A. GOTCH."

Frank Alvin Gotch, the greatest of all champions, may be a ringside spectator of the mat battle of Tuesday evening between Charles Cutler of Chicago and Jess Westergaard of Des Moines, Iowa.

The above wire was received early today and indicates the interest of the retired champion of the world in the process of developing an exponent of the game to take his place.

Another ringside spectator of the big contest, which is attracting attention over the length of the country, promises to be J. H. Herman, manager of the Mastadonic Zbyszko, who has written that he will drop off on his way from Kansas City and take in the big mat show.

Marty Cutler, brother of the famous Charles Kid Cutler, wired Promoter Pierce that he will be on hand for his finish contest with Karl Lehto. Marty Cutler is the man who acted as wrestling partner for Jack Johnson when the black was trained for the Las Vegas affair with Jim Flynn.

It is a peculiar fact that both Cutler and Westergaard will go to Europe early this spring.

Thorson and the big Des Moines Swede have received an attractive offer to appear in Sweden and several places in Europe, while yesterday came the announcement from Chicago that Cutler was to take part in the Berlin tournament early in July, and in this series of matches will meet the best wrestlers of the other side of the pond.

"In training for the Swede, whom I am going to beat, I am using smaller training partners in connection with the big men," writes Cutler. "I discovered in the Fristensky match that speed is more effective against big men than strength. I beat Fristensky because I was so much faster than he. He never had a chance. I am one of the fastest of the big men, and it is my intention to be faster than ever for Westergaard. Just wait and see."

Big Card for Fans.

One of the best line of preliminaries that ever whetted the appetite of the fans for the big doings of the evening is being arranged.

As has been stated, there will be a finish contest between Karl Lehto and Marty Cutler, and preceding this, one of the best curtain-raisers of the season is being carded.

Interest in the big battle continues to increase. It looks as if the largest crowd that has ever watched a contest in this section of the country, with the exception of the Beell-Yokel contest, will be on hand when the two giants throw off their robes.

Choice of referee lies between Frank E. Force of the Minneapolis Tribune and Chris Person of this city, who is sojourning on his Lester river farm.

Person is a Swede, and for that reason the Cutler camp may raise some objection to his officiating. In that event Force or Ed L. Shave of the St. Paul Daily News will be the compromise candidate.

WASTING OF YERKES ESTATE CHARGED.

New York, May 7.—George W. Young, banker and husband of Mme. Lillian Nordica, wasted the estate of the late Mary Adelaide Yerkes, widow of Charles T. Yerkes, the traction man, according to allegations made in papers filed in a suit to have Young removed as attorney in fact for Mrs. Yerkes. The plaintiffs are Mrs. Anna Hurlock Sims, sister of Mrs. Yerkes; Charles Sims, husband of Mrs. Sims and M. R. Bocklus, all executors of the Yerkes estate. An accounting also is sought. Mr. Young denies the charges.

Ordinance No. 474.

By Commissioner Voss:

AN ORDINANCE CREATING A PURCHASING DEPARTMENT OF THE CITY OF DULUTH, PROVIDING FOR A STORE ROOM, PRESCRIBING REGULATIONS AND CREATING AND APPROPR

EXPORT CALL BULLS WHEAT

Market Advances on Strong Inquiry From Exporters During Session.

Flaxseed Declines Under Speculative Offerings and Lack of Support.

Duluth Board of Trade, May 7.—Wheat was slightly easier at the close though the government crop report showing a high condition of the winter crop did not appear till after trading was over. May wheat closed ⅝c up; July ⅝c up and September ⅛c up at 88⅝c. May durum closed ⅛c off and July ⅛c up.

Oats closed ⅛c off at 37¼c for on the track and at 36½c for to arrive.

Rye closed unchanged at 58½@58½c, and barley unchanged at 54@59c for the best grade.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed at 37⅛c bid and July at 37⅜c.

Puts on Minneapolis July wheat closed at 90⅝c bid, and calls at 91c bid.

The wheat market bulged sharply today on good cash demand and higher Liverpool cables. The working of over forty loads of wheat for export was reported by a Duluth exporting house which was in the market for all grades of grain to fill foreign orders. A similar bullish situation existed at Winnipeg, where a good cash demand was reported for No. 2 and No. 3 northern and the lower grades.

It was intimated from Liverpool that buyers there had failed to stock up, and that they would consequently probably be compelled to buy heavily on this side between now and the next harvest.

With the current comparatively light receipts, stocks of grain in all the American markets are being rapidly curtailed. At Minneapolis, supplies decreased 750,000 bu in the last five days, and at Duluth wheat stores show a reduction of 1,464,000 bu in the last four days, bringing them down to 8,899,000 bu. There are said to be sufficient contracts for old wheat remaining to be filled to reduce stores here to small proportions within a short time.

Arrivals here today made a better showing, 44 cars coming to hand compared with 74 a year ago, and there were 50 cars of all grains on the tracks for the day.

The recent advance in quotations is leading to more liberal marketings at Winnipeg, receipts there today amounting to 208 cars against 248 a year ago. There is said to be more grain in farmers' hands and country elevators up there than had been estimated.

May wheat opened ¾c up at 93c, and it advanced ½c more up to the final hour. July opened unchanged at 92⅜c and gained ⅝c more, and the September option opened ⅛c up at 88½c and gained ¼c more.

Business in durum was limited to one sale in the July option during the morning at 89½c, a fraction up from yesterday's close.

Break in Flaxseed.

Flaxseed quotations broke sharply during the session as a result of liberal speculative offerings and lack of interest on the part of crushers for the time being. The foreign markets were draggy, Buenos Aires closing 1c off and London and Antwerp unchanged.

Winnipeg was also weak, selling off substantially in both the May and July options.

Business put through here today was mainly in small lots. On the windup, declines of 1½@2c were recorded in the day.

May flax opened ½c off at $1.57 and closed 1½c off at $1.56. July opened unchanged at $1.58¾, and closed 1¾c off at $1.57 asked. September opened ½c off at $1.60 and closed 1⅞c off at $1.58⅝ bid, and the October option opened ¼c off at $1.57¾ and closed 2c off at $1.56 bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed at $1.34¾ bid and July at $1.37¾ bid.

The Minneapolis cash market was steady with the demand very good for local and outside mills. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at from 2 to 3½c over July, and velvet chaff at 1½@2c over. There was a little better tone in the flour trade with some mills reporting fair sales. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from 92¼@94¼c and No. 2 northern at from 90¼ to 91¼c.

Baker had the following from Lewis at Minneapolis: "I do not believe we will get anything more than a temporary break in wheat even if the government report is as bearish as anticipated. After the first decline, I look for prices to steady again. The foreign situation is too strong, and exporters have buying orders in the market this morning. There is no hot again this morning. There is no wheat for sale in Minneapolis, you have to bid the price up. Cash wheat here is all firmly held and unless hedges against the new wheat appear in the Chicago market in a larger volume, there will be no great break in prices."

Broomhall's special Russian news says: "Favorable and seasonable weather is prevailing generally and crop accounts are uniformly good. This is encouraging freer country arrivals. Arrivals at ports are still light and actual shipments disappointing. Interior stocks are larger, but holders are maintaining a firm attitude, and there is absolutely no pressure from offerings."

* * *

A. O. Slaughter & Co., Chicago, had the following Argentine cable: "Corn crop is damaged and harvesting impeded by continued rains. Receipts are retarded by country roads and the quality of the crop is poor. We expect exports to be very small. We estimate our exportable surplus at 220,000,000 bu. More rain is predicted."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Increasing scarcity of wheat of all descriptions of spot and nearby and firmer Manitoba offers, together with expectations of light world's shipments this week, stimplated shorts to cover and prices at the opening were ½d higher. Following the opening there was a further advance of ⅛d. Strength in spot, lighter Russian offers and strength in Buenos Aires is tending to offset the effect of the bearish American crop outlook. At 1:30 p. m. the undertone was firm, ⅛d to ¾d higher.

"Corn opened ¼d higher with the strength in Buenos Aires and Argentina weather. Later it declined ¾d on a private report received here stating that the weather in Argentina is clearing and shippers' offers are rather larger. At 1:30 p. m. the undertone was easier, ⅛d lower."

The Roumania crop outlook is generally favorable with the weather excellent.

* * *

An Argentina cable said: "Last night weather was still unsettled and corn is being unfavorably affected. Argentina estimate wheat shipments 1,000,000 bu and of corn 2,125,000 bu.

* * *

Movement of new wheat for export, during July and August, in the judgment of Shearson, Hammill & Co., Chicago, should tax capacity of railroads between wheat belt and the seaboard, as well as trans-Atlantic vessel capacity. Last week's sales of new crop wheat were between 5,000,000 and 8,000,000 bu for export.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Adverse Weather and Disappointing Grades Help the Wheat Bulls.

Chicago, May 7. — Adverse weather conditions Northwest threatening to delay still further the progress of seeding carried the wheat market today upgrade. The fact that a large consignment of wheat unloading here from Duluth was turning out to be of a quality not deliverable on Chicago contracts formed an additional help to the bulls. Prices opened a shade to ¼@⅜c higher and continued to advance.

Fear of a bearish crop report from Washington hindered an advance. The close was easy, a shade off to a like advance.

Slackness of cash demand weakened corn. Declines, however, were checked by reports of continued rain in Argentina. The opening was unchanged to ⅛@⅜c lower. Later some reaction took place.

Subsequently the market sagged again, as late reports said the weather in Argentina had cleared. The close was weak, ⅛c to ⅝@⅞c net lower.

Oats held steady. Offerings were only moderate.

With the exception of May pork, in which trading was light, provisions ruled firm. The chief influence was a rise in the price of hogs.

NET CHANGES ARE TRIVIAL

Stocks Swayed Alternately By Movements in Special Issues.

Trend Lower in the Late Dealings and Close Easy.

New York, May 7.—Buying was of poor quality and traders were inclined to sell on rallies. Experimental offerings brought out no large volume of long stock, but the undertone was heavy through the morning, despite occasional rallies. Advices from the steel trade were conflicting.

United States Steel was relatively firm notwithstanding the expectations that the forthcoming tonnage figures will make a poor showing. Imminence of this statement, as well as the copper and crop reports, tended to restrict speculation. Low priced shares reflected more or less weakness. Missouri Pacific in particular was sold on account of the delay in bringing forth the new financial plan.

Bonds were steady.

Although London cabled a slightly lower range of prices for American stocks, there was no corresponding depression in the home market at the opening today. Chesapeake & Ohio again was heavy, adding a point to its loss of yesterday. Canadian Pacific was the only other important stock to lose more than a small fraction. Rock Island collaterals continued to advance, selling more than 5 points above their recent low figure.

Intermittent selling continued in the afternoon and although the amount was not large quotations were forced at times under yesterday's close, only to be brought up again on covering. Selling converged on stocks which have been heavy of late, such as Northern Pacific, Missouri Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio.

The market closed easy. Movements in special stocks swayed the list alternately up and down, with the trend lower in the late dealings. Publication of the excellent government crop statistics failed to overcome the effect of a 2½-point break in Missouri Pacific and prices declined on increased selling for both accounts. Net changes were trivial.

QUIET DAY IN COPPER STOCKS

Business in mining stocks was quiet and featureless at Boston today. Quotations were, however, well maintained with small advances showing in some issues. Butte & Superior again absorbed a large proportion of the day's trading. While there were considerable of realizing sales, good support was met with, and on the net result its quotation gained 25 cents, closing at $36.75.

Alaska Gold closed unchanged at $26.87; Calumet & Arizona, 25 cents up at $66; North Butte, a shade off at $25.87; Shattuck, unchanged at $24, and Amalgamated Copper, 63 cents off at $72.12.

Greene-Cananea closed 50 cents off at $33 in spite of the fact that the directors declared the regular dividend of 50 cents a share.

Calumet & Corbin was the feature in the Duluth curb list. It advanced 10 cents to 42 cents, and then reacted to a close of 34@36 cents.

Paine, Webber & Co. had the following from New York:

"The declaration of fifty cents a share, the same amount as was declared in the two previous quarters, is taken to indicate that the usual dollar a share dividend on the stock of the Greene-Cananea copper will be declared.

"The adjourned meeting of the Greene-Cananea was scheduled for today, but owing to failure to obtain a quorum the meeting was further adjourned until next Monday when the dividend question will be discussed."

RECORD CROP IS PREDICTED

Washington, May 7.—The greatest crop of winter wheat ever grown, one-fifth again as large as the record crop grown last year and more than half again as large as that harvested in 1912, is indicated by statistics announced by the department of agriculture today, as follows:

Winter wheat—Condition, 95.9. Area remaining to be harvested, 35,387000 acres, or 1,119,000 acres less than planted last autumn, but 3,688,000 acres more than harvested last year. Indicated yield per acre, 17.8 bushels. Indicated production, 630,000,000 bushels.

Hay lands condition, 90.9 per cent of a normal. Hay on farms May 1, 7,832,000 tons; spring plowing done, 70.9 per cent; spring planting, 56.4 per cent.

EXPORTING TRADE BRISK

Ames-Brooks Sending Millions of Bushels to Foreign Ports.

The heaviest export business in wheat in years has been taking place from this market during the last three weeks.

Two weeks ago about 3,000,000 bushels of wheat had been exported by the Ames-Brooks company of Duluth, the heaviest exporters in the world. A lull followed, but the demand for old wheat is coming again and today forty bushels, were sold for export by the same company.

Julius H. Barnes of the Ames-Brooks company said this morning that the shortage of the Argentine crop is making itself felt all over the world with the result that heavy demand is being made for old wheat from all points. The Ames-Brooks company is exporting from not only Duluth, but from Chicago, Winnipeg, Minneapolis and everywhere it

ARMAMENT IS INSURANCE

Army and Navy Hold Up Property Values, Says C. B. Miller.

Commercial interests and property values in the United States would depreciate millions of dollars in value if the government were to discontinue the insurance it carries in the shape of a well equipped navy and army, according to Congressman Clarence B. Miller in an address given by him on insurance before a large gathering of members and guests at the twentieth anniversary celebration of Duluth camp, 2341, M. W. A., at the Woodmen hall last night. The congressman declared insurance had now become a business proposition with individuals, corporations and nations, and said it was the one form of protection that every man owes his family or business interests.

"We as a nation are paying insurance when we support our navy and armies," said Congressman Miller. "It is the form of protection that gives confidence to the nation. In the same way individuals at the head of great corporations as well as the other big concerns carry insurance for the protection of their business against losses."

Mr. Miller praised the various forms of insurance but said that as yet it did not go far enough. He advocated that in addition to carrying life insurance, the person with a family dependent upon him could be provided with accident insurance and health insurance. In many of the states, among which was Minnesota, he declared, the workingmen's compensation law provided for the former, and he said that this legislation might be worked out further and provide an income for the family while the man was ill from other than accidental causes.

He touched on the trouble in Mexico, saying that there were certain grievances that a government cannot stand, and that the insults heaped upon the flag of this nation as well as on its citizens in Mexico had gone beyond the limit of endurance.

C. J. Anderson was chairman of the meeting. C. E. Dice gave a short talk on "Woodcraft." The program included musical selections by the Orpheus Singing society and the M. W. A. quartet. The guests enjoyed dancing at the close of the program.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE—
To Leo Langmesser:

You are hereby notified, That default has been made in the terms and conditions of that certain land contract entered into on the 30th day of April, 1913, by and between Watson S. Moore, as party of the first part, the said Leo Langmesser as party of the second part, and C. A. Nordinson as party of the third part, wherein and whereby the said party of the first part agreed to sell, the said Leo Langmesser agreed to buy, and said party of the third part agreed to release from the lien and effect of a certain mortgage therein referred to according to those certain terms and conditions which are fully set forth in said contract, the following described premises situate in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, namely:

Lot numbered Twenty-nine (29), in Block numbered Seventeen (17), in Gary, First Division, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the Registrar of Titles in and for said St. Louis County.

You, the said Leo Langmesser, are further notified that said default consists in the failure of yourself, or anyone in your behalf, to pay those certain installments on said contract, each amounting to Ten Dollars ($10.00), which became due and payable to the said party of the first part on the 30th day of each of the months of May, June, July, August, September, October, November and December in the year 1913, and January, February and March in the year 1914, which said installments aggregate the sum of One Hundred Ten Dollars ($110.00), and in the further failure of yourself, or anyone in your behalf, to pay the semi-annual interest, amounting to Fourteen and 25-100 Dollars ($14.25), due upon said contract, which became due on the 30th day of October, 1913, on account of which said default the said party of the first part, Watson S. Moore, has a right and does now elect to terminate said contract.

Now therefore, You, the said Leo Langmesser, will please take notice that the said contract hereinabove referred to will terminate thirty (30) days after the service of this notice upon you, unless prior thereto you shall comply with the terms and conditions of said contract hereinbefore mentioned and pay the costs of this service. The amount claimed to be due upon said contract at the date hereof is the sum of One Hundred Twenty-four and 25-100 Dollars ($124.25).

This notice is given according to the provisions of Section 8081 of the General Statutes of Minnesota, for the year 1913.

Dated this 23rd day of April, 1914.
WATSON S. MOORE.

HAVE YOU EGGS OR POULTRY FOR BREEDING PURPOSES FOR SALE?

Thousands of people in and around Duluth are interested in poultry raising, and will buy stock, eggs and baby chicks. Some one will sell to them. Why not you? The Herald reaches practically all of them. Offer in the "Herald Want ad" poultry columns what you have for sale and you will find a ready market.

CIRCULATION GREATEST — RATES LOWEST

The Duluth Herald has the greatest circulation of any newspaper in Duluth. Its rates for classified advertising are less per thousand circulation than those of any other paper in Minnesota. Best results are gained from ads when definite information is given. When information is lacking the presumption is that desirable features are lacking. For information as to contract rates and the probable amount of space your ad would take, ask for a "Want" ad man who will be pleased to give the desired information.
